Cash Triplett Victim Shooting Affair Sunday

IRVING, CASTLE JAILED; BOTH DENIED BOND

Occurred On Second Floor of Hospital; Many Rumors Regarding Affair

The story of a friendship between three residents of Right Beaver was culminated Saturday afternoon with the death of one, Cash Triplett, aged 26 years, and the jailing of two others, Irvin Castle and Fred Bates. Cash Triplett, of Wayland, was fatally wounded with five gunshots entering his body, according to information received here, in the left chest, one in the abdomen, and one went through the neck, and another entered the left shoulder blade. Triplett lived but a few minutes after the shooting took place at the head of the stairs on the second floor of the Stumbo Memorial hospital located just beyond county line in Knott county. Triplett was at the hospital during the operation on his leg, which was performed a few minutes before the shooting took place. It was here.

It is stated here at the county jail Sunday night that Irvin Castle went to the hospital to procure an overcoat. Castle had left there on a previous visit. Castle was reported to have said at the time that "it was either him or me."

It is understood that Cash Triplett did not fire a shot in the fracas. The reason for the trouble or any definite information seemed lacking regarding it. It is said that all three were apparently the best of friends. There are many rumors regarding the cause, some say a blackjacking, some say an overcoat and others say nothing but nothing definite has been established.

Re Employment Service Places 347 In Employment

The Eleventh District office of the National Reemployment Service located in Pikeville placed 347 persons in employment during October, according to the monthly report released by Myer Freyman, state director. Of this number 240 were placed on public works jobs and 107 in private employment. The jobs were filled by 337 men of which 16 were veterans; and 10 women were placed.

During the month the Pikeville office accepted 492 new applications and recorded 1,361 renewals. The active file numbered 21,925 as of October 31 as compared to 27,204 on the corresponding date of last year.

Placements in private industry consisted of 87 construction laborers; 10 finish carpenters and 2 carpenter helpers; 3 finish plasterers; 3 truck drivers, and 1 mule driver; 8 personal interviewers; 10 clerical workers including one legal stenographer.

THREE FLOYD CO. TEACHERS INJURED IN CAR WRECK

Returning From EKEA. Steering Gear Locked; Cars Almost Demolished

Seven people, three of whom were Floyd county men, figured in an almost head-on collision near Toddle Inn, 13 miles north of Paintsville, Friday night at about seven o'clock. Robert Harlowe, V. C. Wilson and Edgar Bingham, teachers at Wheelwright, were returning home from the EKEA meeting at Ashland and were rounding a curve when the steering gear on the Harlowe car locked and the car could not be turned. An oncoming car, occupied by W. L. Daniels, his wife and two sons, struck the teachers' car near the right front wheel and the impact almost demolished both cars. The two cars could not be separated until the arrival of wreckers.

The teachers were removed to the Paintsville hospital. Wilson, who suffered a cut over the right eye and head injuries did not recover consciousness until admitted to the hospital. Robert Harlowe, son of Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Harlowe of this city, was the most seriously injured, and is in the hospital suffering from a broken nose and a crushed right knee cap. Messrs. Wilson and Bingham were released from the hospital Saturday morning. Bingham received only slight injuries beyond minor bruises.

CHURCH TRAINING COURSE OPENS SUN.

For Christian Workers; To Last Four Days—Union Worship Planned

Opportunity for Christian workers to receive accredited training from recognized instructors is being given in a four day course at the M. E. Church South, beginning Sunday, Nov. 22.

Three different courses are being offered in the training school, which is being conducted for Methodist churches of Prestonsburg, Prestonsburg circuit, Wayland, Allen and Pikeville, and churches of other denominations desiring to affiliate. The courses of worship are: Worship, Teaching, and Educational Work of the Church.

The first session of the school will be at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, extending for two hours; the next three on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights from 7:30 to 9:30. There is no enrollment fee.

The Rev. S. W. Funk of the M. E. Church South, of Louisville, will teach the course in worship, using as a textbook Martin's "Worship in the Sunday School." Mrs. E. L. Ludwig of Ashland, will be instructor for the teaching course, with "What Is Teaching?" by Mc Lester for a textbook. For the treatment of the educational work of the church, the Rev. C. C. Porter, of Charleston, W. Va., extension secretary of the West Virginia Conference, will be in charge.

Union Thanksgiving worship will be held at 10 o'clock on Thanksgiving Day morning in the Prestonsburg Presbyterian Church, with Rev. H. F. King, pastor of the Methodist Church, in the pulpit.

There will be music appropriate to the occasion. All persons in the community are invited to join in thanksgiving to God for wondrous blessings at this service.

As is the custom, the offering on this occasion will go to the Floyd county chapter of the American Red Cross.

Visits Relatives Here

Herbert R. Dyer, son of C. H. Dyer, returned here Wednesday, Nov. 18, after having spent 10 years in the U. S. navy. After spending three or four days here with relatives, he will go on to Baltimore with his brothers, Romeyn C. and Joseph Dyer, where he will make his future home.

Refuse Proffered Dime; Youngsters Must Labor

They say it's news if a man bites a dog—but if a child refuses a dime, just given to him for no effort at all, we know it's news! Here is how it came about:

"Hey, we wanna go to work!" was the greeting by way of the office door of two graded school youngsters who bore down upon us as we were preparing your "weekly wahoo." They were so persistent in letting us know they "just had to work." So we enquired the reason of their emphatic demands.

"We gotta earn a dime!" "Why, sonny, why not just give you a dime?" "Nope," the second replied "we gotta earn it by working or by doing without something to join the Junior Red Cross. Don't want it given to us." (Rare words from youngsters.) Needless to say, the young

BLACKCATS FACE PIKEVILLE SAT.

Conference Championship at Stake; Jinx Beats Blackcats at Hazard. 33 0

The cream of the Sandy Valley Conference of high school football players are expected to be gathered for a "howdown" of who is "it" and who is "aint" when the Blackcats play host to the undefeated "Ishmael team" from Pikeville with the conference championship presumably at stake. Both teams are undefeated in conference play. They meet here at the ball park next Saturday at 2 p. m.

This game promises to be the best of the season. Last year they met in Pikeville and Pikeville Panthers won by a touchdown margin with the outcome of that game being questioned by the local players it is understood here. The Blackcats have lost two non-conference games, one last week to Hazard, 33 0 both games being due to bad breaks. Observers at the game in Hazard state that the size of the score does not indicate the actual strength and ability of the two teams. The local boys, back on their home field, expect to throw off the jinx of the last two games and keep the visitors busy during their one and one half hour stay at the local port of "footballania."

Pikeville comes to display the wares of Ishmael, back field ace and constant scoring threat who last year, won fame in Eastern Kentucky for his prowess at pigskin manipulating.

Stomach Trouble Claims Child

Claudette Fern, 17 months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Wotring, passed away Thursday night after an illness of only three days. Death was due to stomach trouble.

The body was taken to Mrs. Wotring's home on Indian Creek, Pike county, and burial was made on the John Ray farm, under the direction of E. P. Arnold.

Mr. Wotring came to Prestonsburg some time ago, as painter and body repairman for Howard Motor Co.

YOUNG PEOPLE INVITED TO SPECIAL SERVICES

2,800 TEACHERS ATTEND CLOSING MEET SATURDAY

All young people of the community are invited to attend the special young people's services to be held Friday night at 7:30 o'clock in the Prestonsburg Presbyterian Church evangelistic series.

"Behold, the Man!" is to be the theme of the message by the Rev. Robert A. Potter, minister, who is conducting the services, with considerable assistance from the two other resident ministers, the Rev. Harry F. King of the Methodist Church, and the Rev. Lawrence Steele, of the Pilgrim Holiness. The sermon is to treat of the person and appeal of Jesus Christ.

Special music is to mark the service. The High School Glee Club, under the direction of Miss Kathryn Stumbo, will sing; and Miss Jane Hamilton Clarke is to give a violin solo.

In addition to the night services at the church, extending through Sunday night Nov. 22, there are being held each afternoon cottage prayer services at 2 o'clock; and a meeting for boys and girls at 4 o'clock. The theme of this service is "Joining Christ and His Church."

A good spirit of Christian fellowship is being shown at the various services.

Mr. Haney Well Known Here; Relative of Prominent Floyd Citizen

A meeting of Eastern Kentucky's teachers, about 2,800 all told, was held in Ashland for three days, Nov. 12, 13 and 14. Teachers who attended hailed this year's session as one of the greatest held in years. Approximately 30 teachers from this county attended.

Ova O. Haney, superintendent of Morgan county schools, West Liberty, was elected president of the association for the coming year. Mr. Haney is a son in law of Dr. M. V. Wicker, of Wayland, and is very favorably known around here. He succeeds David Morris, of Louisa, who is superintendent of schools of Lawrence county schools.

Mr. Haney was opposed for the presidency by C. F. Farley, supt. of the Pike county schools.

Other officers elected at the closing session were: First vice president, Herman Horton, supt. of Carter county schools; Grayson, William Cheek, second vice president; and Harry Davis and Henry Evans were named as directors, succeeding Shelby Kash and Ishmael Triplett.

Mr. Triplett is supt. of Prestonsburg city schools, and is noted for his distinguished service in behalf of education. The new officers were installed following the announcement of the results of the election.

RED CROSS DRIVE WELL UNDER WAY

Half Way Mark Reached; Edgemont Company Exceeds Quota

Edgemont Fuel Corporation, Minnie, Ky., is first community to report exceeding its quota of 75.85 being enrolled to date. Sandy Valley Co. a Water Gap, has practically reached its quota of 50 with 48 reported to date. Encouraging reports are coming in from all over the county.

A number of communities are responding this year which have fallen down in the past.

Julius Castle is chairman of Auxier roll call this year and reports increased interest in that section. The Red Cross thermometer for Prestonsburg shows our goal of 300 members at the halfway point, with a week to go.

Have your dollar ready when called upon, and if workers fail to contact you, look them up and volunteer as they are doing. The workers are devoting a bit of their time to make the roll call a success. Let every one do his bit.

Following is a list of Prestonsburg contributions to date:

RULING GIVEN ON PIN-BALL GAMES

Court of Appeals Holds Pin Ball Games are Gambling Devices

The Court of Appeals held this week that pinball machines are gambling devices, and persons operating same are subject to fine and imprisonment.

The court's opinion reversed the Ousley circuit court which had dismissed a case against Andy Bowman for operating a machine.

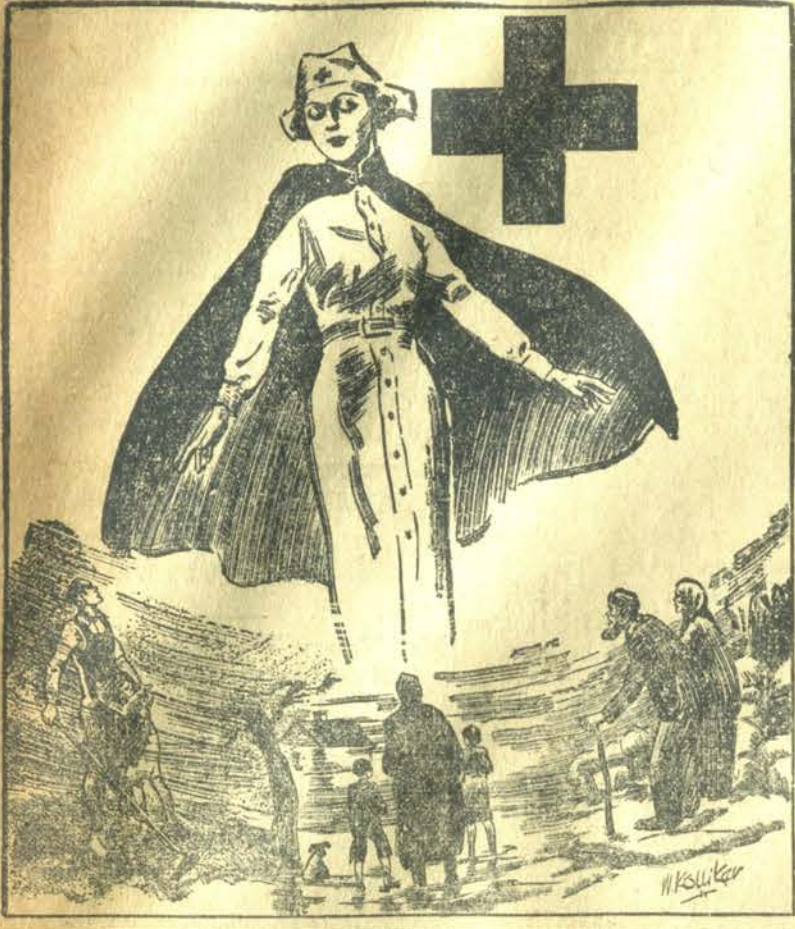

The commonwealth contended the machines were gambling devices, while the defense contended the machines were games of skill, as prizes were awarded for an exhibition of skill.

TODAY'S TAXOGRAM

One student of the tax problem recently estimated that out of a weekly pay check of $25, as spent by an ordinary American family, about $5.38 goes for taxes. He estimates that hidden taxes force the ticket agent to charge $10 for $7 worth of railroad transportation. More than $6.75 of the annual telephone bill goes to pay concealed taxes. When you buy a dollar's worth of gasoline, an average of 28 cents goes to the tax collector.

The business man who says that system has never helped him has never followed the system.

MARAMAN ELECTED ASSOCIATION HEAD

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 9—Conrad Maraman, of Shepherdsville, was elected president of the Kentucky Retail Merchants Association for the coming year at a meeting of the Association held at the Brown Hotel in Louisville on Nov. 5. Other officers elected at the meeting were: Bernie Ellerman, Covington, president; Shirley E. Haas, Louisville, treasurer; James W.

Smith, Campbellville, first vice president; Uncas Peacock, Louisville, secretary; and Mrs. Ruth Gilbert, Louisville, field secretary. In addition to the above elected officers, several directors and one vice president were named in each of Kentucky's nine districts. The Association went on record as opposing, and favoring the immediate repeal of the Omnibus tax law in the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted: "Whereas the Kentucky

Retail Merchants Association in meeting assembled at the Brown Hotel in Louisville on November 5, 1936, unanimously resolve that the Omnibus Tax Law, passed by the recent session of the Kentucky Legislature and signed by the Governor, works a hardship on both consumers and retail merchants alike; and

"Whereas, it places an unbearable burden of competition on Kentucky merchants and favors to a large extent all out of state distributors such as mail order houses and retailers in bordering states and cities.

"Therefore, Be it Resolved that we, the Kentucky Retail Merchants Association, request the Governor and members of the Legislature to repeal this unfair tax at the earliest opportunity.

"Be It Further Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be sent to Governor A. B. Chandler.

Dr. C. H. Parsons, Ashland, vice president of the Association, addressed the meeting regarding the advisability of the University of Kentucky adding to its curriculum a course in retailing. Dr. Parsons expressed the belief that such a course would be very welcome to many students, and at the same time would be of immeasurable value to the merchants of Kentucky and other states.

Vice presidents of the Association in the Seventh District include:

- John A. Webb, Whitesburg;
- R. G. Wells, Pikeville;
- James H. Nunnery, Prestonsburg;
- L. H. Stiles, Hazard.

Children

The paramount interest of every true mother's life centers about her children, from the day that she knows they are coming into the world, until she lays her earthly burdens down, and goes to her long home.

During the formative years, she should make their welfare her chief consideration. She should study not only to understand them, but should gain control over her own nerves and emotions in order that she may guide them along the road of life.

Mothers should endeavor to cooperate with those who teach their children. If her child is lazy, mischievous, impudent and dull, she should endeavor in every possible way to get at the cause of the trouble. Maybe his eyesight or hearing is defective, maybe he is undernourished.

No mother should be content to scan a child's unsatisfactory card each week, without finding out why he is lagging behind in his work. Perhaps she herself is to blame. Maybe she has permitted him to fall into bad habits. All children require about 10 hours of sleep, and should be required to go to bed early and get up in time to bathe, dress and eat a nourishing breakfast before leaving for school in the morning.

Children should not be allowed to go to moving picture shows during the week. It has been found by actual experience that they do not sleep as well as usual after attending a picture show. When permitted to go to a picture, it should be in the afternoon.

Some mothers begin to criticize the teacher as soon as their children fail in school. Nothing could be more unfair or shortsighted. It is often the fault of the mother, herself. She indulges in ill temper, vituperation or abuse of a teacher and child when she should blame herself. She should ask herself has the child been encouraged and helped at home in the pursuit of his studies?

Has she allowed him to poison himself on tea or coffee? Has he had a sufficient amount of sleep each night, has he gone to school after a proper breakfast? Has she seen that lunch was wholesome? If lunch is served at school, does she know that the money she gave him was spent for milk or fruit, soup or vegetables and bread and butter? Did she find out that he wasn't loading up his system at lunch time on candies and sweets to the neglect of wholesome foods? She must see to it that he is kept in as good physical condition as possible. Then his intellectual and spiritual training will not prove so difficult.

HAYS RECEIVES THANKS OF CHAIRMAN FARLEY

Col. Douglas Hays, of McDowell, this county, is in receipt of the following telegram from James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, in appreciation of the functioning of the Floyd county organization:

"Please accept my most sincere and grateful thanks for the effort put forth by you on election day. I received the returns from your county very promptly and they were most encouraging to me at headquarters. Every county chairman in the nation performed his task faithfully and well. I want to thank you personally and I wish you would express my thanks to all the men and women who are members of your organization."

SUGGESTS VARIETY IN THANKSGIVING DINNER

While Kentucky's traditional Thanksgiving dinner is famous and scarcely to be improved upon, Miss Laura Deephouse of the University of Kentucky home economics department suggests that squash with buttered asparagus, broccoli with Hollandaise sauce, and pumpkin cake may be welcome.

Select a large Hubbard squash, remove the seeds and steam until tender. Remove from skin, season well with salt, butter and a little cream. Place in a buttered mold and just before serving reheat. Place on a chop plate and surround with asparagus tips over which have been poured brown butter.

The broccoli should be washed and dried leaves removed. Cook in an uncovered pan in boiling water 25 to 30 minutes. Drain carefully, as it breaks easily, and dress with Hollandaise Sauce. Make the sauce by creaming 1 1/2 cup butter with yolks of 2 eggs, adding eggs one at a time and beating well. Season with 1 teaspoon salt, a dash of pepper, a grain or two of cayenne. Add slowly 12 cup of boiling water, stirring constantly. Simmer over hot water until thick. Remove from fire, and add two tablespoons lemon juice. If the sauce begins to curdle, beat with a rotary beater and it will become smooth again.

Ingredients for the pumpkin cake are as follows:

- 1 cup light brown sugar
 - 1 1/2 cup granulated sugar
 - 1 1/2 cup fat
 - Yolks of 2 eggs
 - 3/4 cup sifted pumpkin
 - 1 1/2 cup sour milk
 - 2 tablespoons caramel (may be omitted)
 - 1 1/4 teaspoon soda
 - 4 teaspoons baking powder
 - 1 1/4 teaspoon salt
 - 2 cups flour
 - 3 cups chopped floured walnuts or raisins.
- Cream the sugar and fat, add other ingredients in the order given. Bake in a loaf pan in a moderate oven. When cool cut in half; spread between and cover all over with a frosting made of 3 egg whites, 1 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar, 1 and 1/2 cups of granulated sugar, 1 1/2 cup boiling water. Cook the sugar, water and cream of tartar until syrup spins a thread three to five inches long. Pour on stiffly beaten whites and when cool add 1 teaspoon of vanilla.

THE FARM AND HOME

(Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station)

Dairy farmers know that the lack of protein in clean, bright nonlegume hay can be compensated for by adding a little cottonseed meal or soybean meal to the ration. Protein is said to be relatively cheap in these feeds at present prices.

Fats are the most concentrated body fuels and contain more energy than sweets and starches. For this reason children need butter every day, in addition to a pint or a quart of milk. Both can be used in soups and other dishes.

Erosion and leaching are said to account for two fifths of the annual loss of humus from the soil, crops accounting for little more than fourth. Nature requires 400 to 1,000 years to make an inch of topsoil which may be lost in a year on steep, cultivated land.

If no milk is available, dry mash containing animal protein is necessary for high egg production, especially in winter, when egg prices are high. Many farmers make a fifth of the mash a good grade of tankage by weight.

When an individual gets very important, you might as well pass him up.

ROAD SAFETY

Every citizen, especially the automobile driver, should give serious consideration to the need for more caution on the public highways. The death toll mounts annually causing loss of valuable lives and untold suffering. Much property is destroyed in the process, all because drivers refuse to obey a few simple rules as to the manner in which they operate their automobiles.

Safe driving is not a matter of great intricacy. To regulate the speed of the car so as to have it constantly within the management of the driver in case of emergency is not terribly difficult. To watch side roads to ascertain if careless drivers are about to enter without sufficient looking can be done. To exercise patience in order to save his own life would be difficult if the driver kept this fact in mind.

The pity about the increasing number of wrecks is that very often careful, considerate drivers are wrecked by careless, reckless drivers. A man going around a curve on his own side of the road can be killed by a fool who is hugging the "inside" regardless of the right of way. A driver well over to the right of the road can be maimed and injured by a fool trying to pass another car around a curve or near the brow of a hill.

Drivers who violate simple rules of safety should be arrested, regardless of whether there is an accident or not. Drivers generally should practice courtesy, as most of them do, such as dimming lights when approaching cars in the night time. Signals indicating that the car is going to turn off the road are easy to make, and are due the driver of the car following you. If you stop your car get entirely off the pavement; if you leave two wheels on you make it impossible for two cars meeting at that place to pass safely.

The only way to decrease the heavy toll of auto accidents is to make drivers more careful. Safe drivers should have some way in which to report careless driving on the roadways so that by punishing the heedless driver an example may be made to deter others from endangering human life. There are entirely too many accidents. Too many fine lives are being obliterated, all for the sake of a few less minutes time in traveling.

Speed is not, necessarily, in itself dangerous. It becomes deadly when it coincides with some unusual event, or if some defect in the car or the road suddenly develops. Therefore, to guard against such unforeseen happening a driver can not speed too fast. Most people overestimate the time saved by running at 60 miles an hour as against 45, for example. If you make the comparison, even on a comparatively long run, you'll find that the time saved is not enough for the increased risk of accident and death assumed.

EDUCATION SHOULD BE PROFITABLE

The people of this county have been liberal in their attitude toward taxation intended to support the public school system. They have been convinced for years that money expended for education returns attractive dividends in later years. This long continued faith on the part of taxpayers, however, can be lost if the schools fail to deliver the goods.

Such a conclusion may shock those citizens who are inclined to worship education as an end in itself. Intelligence, while desirable can, under some circumstances, be a curse to the individual. It should be the function of our schools not only to make students more intelligent but also to make certain the reasonable success of the person educated.

With this in mind, many of the schools of the country have inclined their courses of study toward practical development of the talents of the student. While there is room for the classics in our school system, they no longer dominate the educational field as in years past. In their place are courses plainly designed to assist boys and girls toward an economic success in subsequent life.

The literary education of the individual is not to be denied but, just as important, it should not be regarded as a necessity for every student. High schools and colleges should not bend pupils to exacting standards, but, on the other hand, should more properly unbend to promote the development of the individual pupil to assist him or her to become a coordinating unit of society in all phases of human life.

This does not necessarily mean the scrapping of tested principles of education, although it implies efforts in directions not comprehended along classical or literary lines. Nor does it always follow that the school with broadest curriculum is the institution meeting the new trends in education. Back of physical plants and technical arrangements the successful training of students depends upon personnel to a degree that goes farther than mere mechanical preparation to teach.

LABOR SHOULD HAVE PEACE

There is no way for us to tell whether there is a fair chance for the warring factions of organized labor to settle their differences and work together in the interest of workers but the establishment of peace between the Lewis and Green factions is much to be desired.

While labor unions have not always enjoyed the complete confidence of the public and, occasionally, as almost every one admits, there have been excesses committed in the zeal for unionism, the average citizen is sympathetic with the idea of labor with well organized unions, with an effective machine to protect the interests of the laboring class. Leaders of labor unions have not always been sensitive to their duty as good citizens. Sometimes they seem impressed only with the immediate goal of labor and determine to reach it immediately regardless of consequences to others.

Even admitting this much, it is not implied that there is a lack of faith in the value of labor unions to workers. Surely, Americans can confidently expect labor leaders in the future to measure up to the same patriotism which one expects of the leaders of other organized groups. With this faith, no citizen should withhold his sympathetic support from the better type of labor leaders in their efforts to wisely guide the direction of labor movement in the United States.

 fired, and returned to the hall to arrest Castle after being requested to do so, and then started for Prestonsburg. He said he could not understand why he was arrested.

Sunday night within a few hours after the shooting at fair, Sheriff Henry Sturgill, Judge Ernest Moore and County Attorney Jimmy Burnette, of Knott county, transferred Castle and Bates to the county jail at Hindman after presenting to Floyd county officials a warrant for the men. Examining trial was held this week and it is reported to The Times that both were indicted and held without bond. Two .45 calibre bullets that passed through Triplett's body, so it is said, were recovered from the wall where they were imbedded and are, allegedly from Bates' gun, a .4g. The other three bullets, of .32 20 calibre, are said to have come from Castle's gun.

Funeral services for Cashie Triplett, who has been staying at the home of a sister, Mrs. Ada Collins, of Wayland, was held at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday. Rev. Alex Coburn and two other ministers, whose names were not available, officiated. An unusually large crowd was in attendance to pay their respects. Mr. Triplett was a member of a prominent family of this section. He was a relative of Mr. Ishmael Triplett, supt. of Prestonsburg city schools.

Burial took place in the Triplett cemetery on Jones Fork under the direction of G. D. Ryan.

He is survived by his father, Press Triplett; six brothers: Chester, Chillicothe, O.; Maryland, Dayton, O.; Marvin, Morgantown, Ky.; Lindsay, Melvin and Clint Triplett, of Wayland; six sisters: Mrs. Rhoda Fowler, Ray, O.; Tressie Triplett, Dayton, O.; Pearl Collins, Ada Collins, Crystal and Jessie Triplett, of Wayland.

Announcing THE FORD V-8 FOR 1937

The Quality Car in the Low-price Field

V-8
85 HORSEPOWER
Maximum Performance with Good Economy
Bore, 3.062 in. Stroke, 3.75 in. Displacement, 221 cu. in.

V-8
60 HORSEPOWER
Good Performance with Maximum Economy
Bore, 2.6 in. Stroke, 3.2 in. Displacement, 136 cu. in.

Two Engine Sizes - One Wheelbase
AND A NEW LOW PRICE

THE New Ford V-8 for 1937 is the most beautiful Ford car ever offered. It is built in only one size—one standard of roomy comfort and modern appearance. But you may have either the improved 85-horsepower V-8 engine for maximum performance—or the new 60-horsepower V-8 engine for maximum economy. The smaller engine makes possible a lighter car—lower operating costs—and a lower price.

When you drive the 1937 Ford with the 85-horsepower V-8 engine, you are master of a power plant that gives everything you can possibly demand in speed and acceleration. Today, improved carburetion enables it to deliver its thrilling performance with unusually low gasoline consumption.

The new 60-horsepower V-type 8-cylinder engine delivers V-8 smoothness and quietness—even at speeds up to 70 miles an hour—with gasoline mileage so high that it creates an entirely new standard of economy in modern motor car operation.

We invite you to see this new Ford car, and arrange to drive one equipped with the engine that fits your needs.

FEATURES
APPEARANCE—A newly designed car. Headlamps recessed in fender aprons. Modern hood hinged at the back. Larger luggage space. Spare tire enclosed within body. Completely new interiors. Slanting V-type windshield opens in all closed cars.
COMFORT AND QUIET—A big, roomy car. Extra space is in the body, not taken up by the engine under the hood. Comfort of the Center-Poise Ride further increased by smoother action of the long-tapering springs, with new pressure lubrication. New methods of mounting body and engine make this a quieter car.
SAFETY
BRAKES—New Easy-Action Safety Brakes, of the cable and conduit control type. "The safety of steel from pedal to wheel." Self-energizing—car momentum is used to help apply the brakes. Tests show that about one-third less pedal pressure is required to stop the car.
BODY—Not an ounce of wood used for structural strength. Frame structure all steel, sheathed with steel panels—top, sides and floor. All are welded into a single steel unit of great strength. Safety Glass all around at no extra charge.

Coaches Realizing Grid Fundamentals Will Pay Dividends

RECENTLY it was noted here that the professors of football were becoming more and more inclined to devote themselves to enlightened expositions of the game's fundamental practices.

Such evidence of progress after an overlong period of blatant confusion has led to some examination of the causes immediately preceding the return to sanity.

They are: 1. The increasing total of last period triumphs during the past five years. 2. The innumerable touchdowns scored standing up. Let us consider them in the order in which they are set down here.

Formerly the less pretentious colleges were so venal that they fairly gibbered in their eagerness to be sacrificed behind the Yale Bowl turnstiles at some early season date.

Now, though, the great universities have deprived the little fellows of most of their crumbs.

Obviously this matching of big time teams and of the big time bank rolls with which the teams are obtained, should produce better football. I think it does.

Reduced still further this becomes the A B C of football—viz—the proper application of brawn will win games.

When men are well matched in weight, speed, intuition and experience and are equally well coached—as is the case among most of today's pennant contenders—two factors sway the results of their contests.

The touchdowns that come standing up are similar. Perhaps a fresh back is in the game. Perhaps a jaded boy shakes loose by some chance and is spurred by the victory urge.

HEARD IN THE HUDDLE:

Coach Jock Sutherland played in only one losing game during his four years of varsity football at Pitt.

South Benders are wailing about how Notre Dame's scholastic requirements have been tightened since the days of Rockne.

Household Questions

To clean fireplace bricks, cover them with a paste made of powdered pumice and household ammonia. Let it dry for an hour, then scrub with warm soapy water.

After removing the tough portion of the center of a grapefruit and separating the pulp, place an after-dinner mint in the center of each half and chill. The mint gives the grapefruit a delicious flavor.

To braise roasts, steaks or chops first brown the meat, then put in a tightly covered utensil with very little water either on the top of stove or in oven and continue cooking slowly until meat is tender.

Cooked prunes stuffed with celery and nuts make a tempting salad. Stuffed prunes can also be used as a garnish for chops, roasts or steaks.

When "battered" crumbs are called for, the best way is to melt butter, add crumbs and mix well and then sprinkle over the top of food. If butter is merely "dotted" over the top it does not evenly mix with the crumbs.

Handle doughnut dough as little as possible. When frying, doughnuts should quickly come to the top, browned on under side, and they can then be easily turned to brown upper side.

Baking soda is excellent for cleaning fish aquariums. Rub the inside with a wet cloth dipped in the soda, rinse and dry. It will remove all traces of scum and evaporation marks, as well as deodorize.

Place a frame of boards around the rose bed and fill in spaces between the bushes with leaves to protect them during the winter. A few evergreen boughs placed on top of leaves will keep them from blowing away.

CANEY COTTAGE SERVES FLOYD COUNTIANS AS AN UNIQUE DWELING

(By James Goble)

Living at the Caney Cottage, one of the most uniquely managed dwelling houses in Lexington, five Floyd countians, all graduates of the Caney Junior College, are attending the University of Kentucky as they, with masculine hands help manage all the details of housekeeping and achieve the comforts of home at a low individual expenditure.

The Floyd countians are: Palmer Hall, of Prestonsburg, former Floyd county supt. of schools, who is enrolled in the College of Law; Marcus Owens, of Lackey, enrolled in the College of Education; Charles Clark, of Alpharetta, enrolled in the College of Education; Oscar Belcher, of Garrett, enrolled in the University Training School; Mrs. Oscar Belcher, of Garrett, the group's purchasing agent and supervisor enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences.

Founded three years ago by the Caney Creek Community Center of Pippapass, Ky., the Caney Cottage serves as living quarters for selected graduates of the Caney Junior College who desire to complete their professional training at the University of Kentucky.

A total of 13 Caney graduates from the counties of Floyd, Knott, Perry, Letcher and Breathitt are living at the Cottage while attending the University. The professions of law, medicine, engineering and teaching are represented.

Admission to the Cottage is based upon conduct, attitude and scholastic standing maintained by the cottagers while students at Caney Junior College. When desired and need, or scholarships to the University of Kentucky are included with admission to the Cottage. By this system the Caney Creek Community Center returns to Eastern Kentucky's hill counties educated men in various professions.

Among other Floyd countians previously admitted to the Cottage while attending the University were: Towne Hall, present Floyd county supt. of schools, and Mr. Towne Hall; Wayne Ratliff, principal of Wheelwright high school; Mrs. Wayne Ratliff, Wheelwright high school teacher; Boone Hall, principal of Weeksburg high school.

FLOYD STUDENTS RANK HIGH AT UNIVERSITY

Inez C. Baisden, of Betsy Layne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Baisden, is a junior this year in the home economics department of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture. She is specializing in home economics education. A member of Phi Upsilon Omicron, national professional home economics fraternity, she has been a leader in campus activities, together with high scholastic standing. She also belongs to the Home Economics club and the Pitkin club.

Mary Elizabeth Curtis, Liberty, daughter of Mrs. Rhodes C. Curtis is also a third year student in home economics. She belongs to Delta Zeta social sorority, and the Home Economics club.

Astor K. Akers, Amba, is a senior in the agricultural school. He belongs to the 4 H club, the Agricultural Society, Block and Bridle, and Alpha Gamma Rho social fraternity. He takes part in University athletics, and is intramural manager.

LOCAL CONTROL PLAN FOR WCMI STATION

Morehead State Teachers College will have a remote control radio station through WCMI within a comparatively short time, if present plans culminate in results.

For some months the college has had under advisement the placing of this station to broadcast at least one program a week, besides possibly some of the athletic contests and leading social functions at the institution.

The music room in the basement of Fields hall will probably be used for the broadcasting room if the station is put in. This room is already practically sound proof.

Last fall WCMI carried a number of Morehead programs but it was necessary that a trip be made to the Ashland studios for each appearance. Under the plan that may be adopted the broadcast would go over telephone lines into radio block at Ashland where WCMI studios are located. This is the same manner in which this station, last Saturday, carried the play by play account of the Morehead Tennessee football game.

Officials of WCMI which is the radiophone of the Ashland Daily Independent have always desired to carry the Morehead programs. The college officials have always been aware of the great amount of publicity the remote control station would afford at an expense that is not exceptionally high.

The complete plan is somewhat indefinite, except that it is known that President Babb is considering the matter, and it is believed that the plan will be adopted some time during the present school year.

The power of WCMI has recently been increased to 600 watts and may be found at 1310 kilocycles. — Morehead Independent.

GREATEST GAS FIELD IN THE WORLD

(Paintsville Herald)

Eastern Kentucky is fast becoming the greatest natural gas field in the world. This is admitted by gas men and geologists throughout the country. Drilling tests show that the field is far flung and that this natural resource is found in varying quantities from 100,000 cubic feet capacity to several million feet daily.

This territory, of which the Big Sandy valley is practically the center, is one vast reservoir of oil or natural gas. With shallow drilling enormous reservoirs have been tapped and vast fortunes are being made by the exploiters of the territory.

Notice is hereby given to all persons indebted to the estate of Mary M. Elliott, deceased, to settle with the undersigned executor at his home at Osborne, Ky. before January 1, 1937, and all persons having claims against said estate are notified to file such claims, properly proven, before said date.

W. T. OSBORNE, Exec. 11 6 36 Osborne, Ky.

ARE YOU PROUD OF YOUR HOME TOWN?

Are you proud of your home town? Of course you are, and you think it is the best town in America. That's the spirit which makes the nation so full of good towns. It is the spirit which keeps Americans up and doing things. It is the spirit back of that purpose in the Preamble to the Constitution of the American Legion which reads: "To inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community, state and nation."

Someone in the past must be responsible for the success of the Community Service program. Post commanders should immediately appoint a Post Community Service Chairman, and after this leadership has been provided, a committee of red blooded wide awake Legionnaires should be appointed to look around and find out what the community needs.

While a 15 page leaflet, listing and describing a multitude of Community Service activities that a post can interest itself in, can be procured by writing Department Headquarters, the best way to find out what is needed in the way of community betterment projects is to conduct a survey of the needs of the community. This can be best accomplished by asking the local newspaper editor to publish a story telling of the Legion's desire to help make the home town a better place in which to live. Members of the Community Service committee can then study the suggestions and report their recommendations to the next meeting of the post. Membership Offensive for District Leaders

The advance 1937 membership enrollment program is showing remarkable progress. It will be recalled that we first suggested that we climax the first phase of the program on Armistice Day. The record to date shows that Department Headquarters is having fine cooperation from the posts in its effort to bring about a record enrollment.

National headquarters is launching a 50 day offensive from Nov. 11 to Dec. 31, taking into consideration work of the district commander and district adjutant. We are asking all posts to give us their cooperation in this membership effort to the end that we may have every district over the top by Dec. 31. National Commander Harry W. Colmery will award a pocket size citation card made of golden bronze and engraved with the winner's name to each district commander and district adjutant who has put his district over the top in membership by December 31. The card may be carried in a post bag and will attest the leader's distinguished service in this record breaking membership program for 1937.

QUILTS

What Mrs. W. A. Obenchain several years ago for home woven coverlet in "Handbook of Home Woven Coverlets" ought to be one for the equally valuable and much more widely distributed quilt. Quilts go back far into the past so far that no one I know of has yet traced them to their origin. One reason for their existence is simple: cloth of any kind was expensive, hard to make or to buy. Scraps left from making garments had to be saved. These were easily combined into coverlets which, with cotton batting and a lining, became quilts. This saving of pieces quite outlived its usefulness, as I have seen many a yard of goods bought to be sent up into quilt pieces.

Bigger than all efforts to save even scraps of cloth however, is the universal desire of humanity for beauty. By combining scraps of different colors in certain patterns, our ancestresses found a way to express artistry. Opportunities for aesthetic enjoyment were poor enough in those days. Only the exceptional houses had musical instruments; painting and sculpture were virtually unknown; and the very desire for beauty was denounced by most of the religionists. By combining the useful and beautiful, these mothers of ours were able to satisfy the soul while providing for the comfort of the body. A few women in each neighborhood dared also to embroider a quilt made of silk scraps for a covering for the bed in the parlor, or front room. This was a dangerous proceeding in some instances, as it might have drawn down on the maker the thunders of the church for such worldliness.

Quilts, like all other human institutions, had degrees of respectability. There were quilts that were used only when company came. There were others that were a part of "Mother's room." Jeans quilts made purely for warmth and not for show, made their way into the "office" or the attic or wherever the boys slept. And as quilts began to wear out, they went through a whole gamut of respectability, just as did the scraps of a homemade rag carpet. A quilt that had in its brand new life, been honored by a place in the front room came in its old age to be used to cover a load of tobacco, or to make a saddle blanket, or to provide a bed for the dog or the cat. Mrs. Obenchain tells how some of her most famous coverlets were bought right off a load of tobacco.

I wish I knew the names of all the patterns that delighted our ancestors from "Nine Patch" the simplest of them, all and the one on which most quilt makers started, to some thing as elaborate as the "Lone Star," which might have taken all the time of a seamstress for a whole season. But the standardized names are passing away.

Associated in memory with the quilt is the quilting, one of the numerous customs people had of making work seem a form of entertainment. A whole book might be written on ways of quilting, not to mention the "putting in" of the quilt and the shaking of the cat when the quilt was taken out. If the quilting ended with a party, so much the better. This was almost as good as a party following a log rolling or a house raising, where men were in the foreground as women were at the quilting.

Comforters bought at the store or from the mail order houses, even lamb's wool comforters, those aristocrats of coverings, have about routed the old homemade quilts. Before they are entirely gone, let us hope that some anti-quarian will give them a belated justice for their part in the life of the days before our age.
