$20,000 FLOOD ROAD FUNDS FOR FLOYD COUNTY

Funds To Be Available July 1, and Bids to Be Received After April 1

Frankfort, Ky., March 11.—That rural highway construction in Kentucky would be at a maximum and the fiscal year, starting April 1, would be a banner one, was indicated with the announcement today by Rural Highway Commissioner Cecil Williams, that the counties in the state not only would have approximately the same amount as allotted in the 1936-1937 program, but in 31 counties there would be available extra money in the amount of $437,369.96, the remainder of a federal flood relief appropriation made in 1927.

With the much broader program in mind, engineers and supervisors from the rural highway department are now conferring with officials in each of the state's 120 counties, preparing projects, Commissioner Williams declared that work would start in all sections immediately after April 1, and before mid-summer it will be at its height.

Floyd county is to receive approximately $20,682.96 of the flood road funds, County Attorney Forrest D. Short stated this week. Mr. Short returned from Frankfort Friday with the resolutions regarding the distribution of the funds to one or more of eight projects listed.

The resolution was brought here for the signature of the county judge and county clerk. Mr. Short said that the resolution named the same roads as did a recent fiscal order (name and location of the roads were not obtained as we go to press) composed of two selections from each of the four magistrates. This court order was in regards to $20,000 rural highway fund.

MODERN DRUG IS DAMAGED BY FIRE

Defective Wiring Given As Cause; Extent of Damage Not Learned

Early Friday morning, a blaze gutted the Modern Drug Store here. It was discovered at 4 a. m.

The rear of the store was completely destroyed and a stock of merchandise and drugs were ruined. Origin of the fire was in the rear of the building.

Policeman Arthur Blackburn gave the cause of the fire as defective wiring. He stated that the building that houses the Modern Drug Shop was condemned some time ago by the state fire marshal. Blackburn said that a number of other Prestonsburg business houses were under the same condemnation. No figure on the estimated damage from the Friday morning blaze could be learned.

The "Modern" has been in operation for a number of years and is considered one of the city's landmarks. It was not learned whether or not the present proprietor, Mr. Curtis Clark, will rebuild the interior and re-open the shop.

Rimmer has returned to her home last week with influenza.

TROPHIES AWARDED AT LACKEY TOURNAMENT

The 58th district all-county tournament team (and who is the coach that wouldn't like to have those boys under his wing?) selected at Lackey is composed of Craft, Tackett, Patton, of Prestonsburg; Conley and Cains, of Garrett; Stewart, of Maytown; Terry, of Lackey; Griffith and Mantz of Martin, and Layne, of Betsy Layne. Craft, six-foot and two inch Blackcat center, was designated as captain.

Craft received two of the three individual trophies awarded, one as most valuable player to his team and the other as tournament high scorer. He scored 56 points, lacking only 13 points scoring as much as the combined opposition in the Lackey meet. Cecil Sublett, of Lackey, received the trophy for best individual sportsmanship. Betsy Layne was awarded the team sportsmanship trophy.

Maytown received the winners' trophy and Prestonsburg was awarded the trophy for runner-up.

ALLEN STREET PAVING SUBMITTED

390 NYA Youths Certified for Floyd County Within Past Thirty Days

Word from S. A. Ballinger, WPA area engineer, located here, Thursday carries the announcement that a project has been submitted for approval in Washington recently, embracing the concrete paving of Main, Railroad, Beaver, Bridge and Oak streets in Allen, this county.

The proposed paving is estimated to cost about $15,000. Mr. Ballinger said, "I imagine that it will be approved in about six weeks, the time usually consumed in the consideration of a project."

Regarding a report circulated last week that WPA work on the Brandy Keg road had started, Mr. Ballinger stated that this was not true. No men are available at present, he said, and it will be some time before this project could be started, a branch leading into the main Brandy Keg road. The main road is a part of the state highway system and cannot be touched by a project through the local office, he explained.

Betsy Layne streets, surfaced with crushed stone on a napped stone base, are to be finished by March 19. Men on this job will be transferred to the Laynesville project, comprising one-half mile of crushed stone street surfacing, slated to start March 22. The Laynesville work will last about six weeks, cost approximately $5,000 and employ 40 men.

Green Allen, certifying agent, reported that 390 youths have been certified in 30 days for NYA, leaving about that many yet to be certified to reach a lacking quota of near 800 for Floyd county. 187 WPA workers have been certified since Jan. 15, also 11 emergency teachers and one library worker.

The culvert on Highland avenue near the gymnasium is being finished this week.

TWO NEW STORES INLAND GAS CO. PREPARE OPENING

Prestonsburg Bidding Fair to Become Shopping Center of Region

Activities, to mark the entrance of new life in the business interests in Prestonsburg and vicinity and in preparation to the opening of two more new stores here, are in full swing this week. This makes four retail dry goods and ready-to-wear houses to begin business here within the past six months.

"Prestonsburg was highly recommended," says Mr. George Cohen, manager of The Leader. The Leader is the name selected for the store going into the room formerly occupied by the Midland Store. This store is backed by Louisville interests and a number of years, by the organization, in the merchandizing business. The Leader, specializing in ladies', gents' and children's ready-to-wear, will be open to the public some time next week.

Present plans indicate that Saturday will mark the formal opening of The People's Store under the management of Mr. Walter Seb, former store manager for the Midland Stores at Louisa. The People's Store will be located in the Harlowe building next to the Bank Josephine on First avenue. It will specialize in men's, women's and children's ready-to-wear, but will handle no shoes. Mr. Seb stated this week. Mr. Seb has had 43 years' experience in merchandizing, he said.

Mr. Howard Frail, proprietor of Frail's Store in Paintsville, is backing The People's Store here. Mr. Frail is well-known throughout this section.

The managers of both stores are firm believers in advertising as a medium for informing potential buyers of the quality of merchandise they have to offer and the exact

15th Regional Tournament Underway Thursday Night

Thursday night, Maytown fell victim to a fast-moving Paintsville team, 40-19. Scrap as they did, Maytown could not overtake an early lead. The second game saw Frenchburg down Dorton by a score of 40-21. The smaller Dorton team fought hard but was no match for the tall boys from Menifee county.

The cream of the Eastern Kentucky basketball teams, comprising the winners and runners-up of four district tournaments held last weekend, and their supporters will descend upon the Prestonsburg high gymnasium for the 15th regional tournament to be held this week, March 11, 12, 13. This year marks the fourth consecutive time the annual regional has been awarded to Prestonsburg.

Maytown, one of the fastest improving teams in this section, won the 58th district title with Prestonsburg as the runner-up. Maytown, in the semi-finals, defeated the powerful Garrett five by one point, 22 to 21. Saturday night they downed the P'burg team, 25 to 22 for the mythical crown. In the semi-finals, Prestonsburg beat McDowell, 38-19.

INLAND GAS CO. GRANTED WRIT

Court Order Restraining Interference in Laying Pipe Line in Knott

Warning those enjoined that any violation of the court order would be punished to the fullest extent of the law, Federal Judge H. Church Ford Saturday at Lexington granted an injunction restraining five men from interfering with the construction of a gas pipe line from Lackey to Hindman.

The construction work on the line, employing about 300 men, was started some time ago and halted after a few days work due to labor trouble. W. E. Lockhart, trustee in bankruptcy for the Inland Gas Corporation, sought an injunction in an effort to guarantee no further trouble during future work on the line destined to last approximately 90 days.

The trouble started, it is said, when the company began using a caterpillar tractor and winch to haul pipe and other supplies for the job up steep portions of the Jones Fork mountain instead of using teams. Company officials said that teams could not be used at this point. Certain individuals of the community objected to use of the tractor, it was stated, and it was blown up a few nights later. The company immediately stopped work and a Federal investigation ensued.

According to reports received here, those named in the injunction were Hiram Adams, Bethel Adams, Ermine Watts, Ray Pridemore and Mose Johnson, who were teamsters on the job.

Joe Lockhart, field superintendent for the company, stated while here Tuesday night that construction of the line is progressing "very nicely."

Mrs. Wm. Dingus has been very sick for the past week at her home here.

DOC WOODS PASSES AT AGE OF 53 YEARS

Doc Woods, 53 years old, died Monday, March 8, at the Kentucky State Hospital at Lexington, where he had been a patient for several months. His body was returned Tuesday to his home at Allen, Ky., and burial will be made Wednesday in the family cemetery above Allen, under the direction of E. P. Arnold Funeral Home. Funeral will be conducted from the home Wednesday with Rev. Isaac Stratton in charge.

Mr. Woods is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lizzie Woods and five children: Maxie, 12, Bill, 10, Trent, 9, Luke 8 and Fay, 5, all at home. He is also survived by four sisters, Mrs. Theop Sammons, Mrs. Wm. Bentley, Mrs. Kendall Beverly, all of Allen, and Mrs. Charles Bateman, of Franklin, O., and two brothers, George and Joe Woods, of Allen.

PROGRAMME ON CITIZENSHIP GIVEN

Mrs. S. A. Combs in Charge of Interesting Meeting On March 5

At the home of Mrs. H. C. Francis on Thursday evening, March 4, a program of intense interest was given by the Prestonsburg Woman's Club, Mrs. S. A. Combs, state chairman of American citizenship being in charge. Mrs. J. D. Thomas presented a summary of Aims and Objectives of American Citizenship, outlining the various phases of law observance, treatment of the foreigner wherein he may be taught American citizenship, and the study of the constitution and various phases of study of the government.

Preliminary to a poll on the President's plan for the Supreme Court, Mrs. Combs presented facts for and against the question, the resulting poll being 14 to three against the President's proposal.

The Kentucky Women's Decalogue of American Citizenship as compiled by Mrs. Combs was read by Mrs. J. D. Mayo, after which all members endorsed the same by their signatures.

The following resolution was adopted by the club, a copy of which is in the hands of the state committee on resolutions preliminary to its introduction at the state convention in May:

Whereas, there are local officials in all communities who neglect their duties, and whereas, there are local ordinances which are not enforced; and whereas, local courts issue sentences not on the merits of the case but on the place held by the offender in the political machine; and whereas, if these negligences and practices are known, public sentiment may duly correct them:

Be it resolved, that the club women of Kentucky make a specific effort to investigate and make known such practices, and urge the enforcement of laws and justice.

Mrs. Katherine Langley, president of the Pikeville Club, acting as general chairman of arrangements for the meeting of the State Federation of Women's Clubs in May, gave a detailed summary of the plans of each club of the district who are acting as joint hostesses to the convention.

Mrs. J. D. Mayo, chairman of Public Welfare, told of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

FEDERAL COURT ACTION IS ASKED AGAINST CITY

Involves Title Purchase in 1922: County, Also Sues the City

Announcing this week that he had received a letter from the Ashland, Ky., law firm of Dysard and Tinsley, representing the Clay Products Company, Mayor A. C. Carter said that the city of Prestonsburg was notified that legal action would be taken against the local citizenry by that firm. It was stated that they had asked the clerk of the federal court to issue an execution against the city of Prestonsburg.

The threatened litigation involves the purchase of sewer tile for city streets in 1922 previous to the paving of city streets.

Mayor Carter also stated that Floyd county has instituted a suit also against the city for the debt on the city hall site. The city hall occupies the lot which was the original location of the county jail. In this matter, the mayor stated that the city council has made a levy of 10 per cent to pay this and that most of the taxpayers have been cooperative, while some have been loudly dissentive and refused to aid in caring for the obligation.

Mayor Carter, in revealing the attitude of some of the taxpayers, in a letter to The Times, asks, "Why should people rather pay court costs than to be good citizens and aid in relieving our indebtedness?"

He said that through court action, both debts will have to be paid and that the amount of a court levy is, as yet, undetermined.

DENTAL SOCIETY CONVENES HERE

Business Session Held; Ten Counties Represented; Next Meeting in Whitesburg

A business meeting and banquet of the Kentucky Mountain Dental Society was held at the Auxier hotel here at 7 o'clock Saturday night, March 6. Seventeen dentists from 10 counties attended.

Among business transacted was the election of officers for the ensuing year and the selection of the next meeting site. It was decided to hold the next meeting at Whitesburg on June 5.

Dr. R. H. Messer, Garrett, Ky., retiring president, appointed Dr. Hughes and Dr. Ratliff, of Pikeville, and Dr. J. S. Kelly, of Prestonsburg, as a nominating committee.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Dr. Saunders, Hepler, Ky.; vice-president, Dr. Sloane, Whitesburg; secretary and treasurer, Dr. Ratliff, Pikeville; trustee, Dr. Vaughn of Jenkins.

Committee chairman for publicity and golf, Dr. Hughes of Pikeville; for trap shoot, Dr. R. H. Messer, Garrett. Dr. J. S. Kelly and Dr. C. R. Slone, of Prestonsburg, are members of the society.

Good-Natured Man Is a Constant Benefactor

Optimism is contagious. Cheerfulness promotes health and prolongs life. There is sunshine of mind that defies and destroys doubt, disappointment, and discouragement. Good humor is a mind and body tonic. Laughter is medicine for the soul. The intelligent optimist diffuses hope, courage, and confidence. The world needs all the help you can give by way of cheerful, optimistic, inspiring thought and personal example. Avail yourself of every opportunity to say a kind word, give an assuring smile, or extend practical help that will make someone hopeful and happy.—Grenville Kleiser.

Still Coughing?

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with anything less than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble to aid nature to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled. Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, your druggist is authorized to guarantee Creomulsion and to refund your money if you are not satisfied with results from the very first bottle. Get Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)

Inspired Accomplishment

Art makes a rock garden; an uninspired taste, a pile of rocks.

Before you go to bed, rub your chest and throat with Penetro; then apply hot cloth. Relief quickly follows because Penetro is stronger. It contains 113% to 227% more medication than any other nationally sold cold salve.

And because Penetro has a base of mutton suet, it conserves and concentrates body heat to enable this strong medication to warm the skin, help break up congestion and bring comfort and relaxation. In addition, the aromatic vapors of Penetro are inhaled into nasal passages to relieve the stuffiness and soothe the inflamed area.

Ask your druggist now for Penetro to give you relief at once, bring you rest tonight, and make you feel better tomorrow.

Penetro is stainless and snow-white. 25c, 35c, 50c and $1 a jar. For free sample, write Penetro, Dept. S-86, Memphis, Tennessee.

Training Camps of Other Seasons Leave Memories

TRAINING camp memories:

The small town Chamber of Commerce orator whose ears probably are burning still. Because—at a dinner given in honor of the Giants—he referred to their manager as "the man very properly known to all the world as Muggsy." . . . The second, and even better, outburst several training seasons later. When John McGraw discovered that a former star, now no longer with the club, had inspired the orator to use the hated name. The year when Shanty Hogan reported thirty or forty pounds overweight and immediately was sentenced to hard labor and a diet containing no starchy foods. The Irish eloquence which Shanty used to persuade waitresses to bring him large orders of mashed potatoes and mark it on the check—always inspected by McGraw—as "Spinach."

Playing golf with Eddie Brannick. Wondering how a guy who could not putt and who continually drove in the rough whenever he managed to get the ball off the tee was managing to get pars on those far-flung San Antonio courses. The belated discovery that the tall grass was the Giants' secretary's best friend. Whenever he got into it he picked up the ball, wound up and hurled it onto the green. . . . Listening to Hughie Critz tell about the annual spring floods in his native Mississippi. And about the cabin which came floating by on the crest of the waters one day. While inside the cabin a screechy phonograph kept playing "River, Stay Away From My Door."

Babe Ruth's courteous co-operation with the press during a long series of one-day stands while the Yankees were knocking off the minor league teams of Texas and Oklahoma. The Yankees were world champions then, as now, but the Babe was the real attraction. After a day or two of monotonous, long dragged out, one-sided victories the reporters whispered to him. Promptly thereafter at the end of the seventh inning Ruth started signing autographs for fans who had overflowed the outfield. Naturally that brought the rest of the fans out of the grand stand on the run. Just as naturally it broke up the ball game and assured practically everybody, save the Babe and the fans, an early dinner.

The year when, with several training weeks left, a Baltimore paper ordered me to come home and cover the races. The discovery, after a thirty-six hour train trip, that the paper had changed ownership overnight. And that I had to take the next train back to the Orioles. . . . A talk late one night of that same spring with a native who lounged in front of a small Carolina town pool room. Wondering how the fellow, who otherwise looked, talked and acted like a hundred thousand other Crackers seen that spring, knew so many intimate things about baseball. The quite accidental discovery that this was Shoeless Joe Jackson, who only recently had been retired from organized baseball.

Early evening in St. Augustine when even the ancient ladies who inhabited the Ponce De Leon, the Alcazar and other Brahmin hotels abandoned their knitting. To come to the windows and listen for hours. While Bill Terry, Freddy Lindstrom, Joeek Conlon and a flock of others serenaded the town with close harmony. . . . Ox Eckhardt's genuine anguish when a storm hit Clearwater and he had to sit in the comfortable hotel. Wondering what was happening to the great dog, which he loved and which he had been forced to tie up in the flimsy Dodgers' clubhouse.

A before breakfast glimpse of a thick-chested youngster in the earnest midst of trying to persuade a hotel clerk that in spite of his stubbled beard and wrinkled clothes he belonged in the Cardinals' training quarters. The breakfast discovery that the youngster had lost his travel money and had ridden the rods on trains to get to camp on time. The belief, voiced in conjunction with several other early risers that, at some not very distant day, the National league was going to be very proud of this determined youngster. Seeing Pepper Martin play, for the first time, several hours later and being sure of it. . . . The—but this is another year.

NOT IN THE BOX SCORE:
NEIGHBORS insist that Bill McKechnie is tired of managing the Boston Bees and would like to be elected tax collector in Wilkesburg, Pa. Bill, by the way, ran for the job years ago and missed. . . . Joe Louis' best baseball hero is Gerald Walker, Mississippi's delegate to the Detroit Tigers. . . . Eddie Mayo, the infielder traded to Boston by the Giants last fall, runs a milk route in his Clifton, N. J., home town. . . . One of the best three-game scores ever turned in by any bowler anywhere was achieved by Frankie Ratchford, a Lackawanna railroad blacksmith, two years ago. He totaled 854 pins.

Walter E. O'Hara, head man at the place, shortly will announce that, henceforth all unclaimed wagers at Narragansett Park will be turned over to charity. That is contrary to the custom at most tracks, where charity begins, and ends, in dividends or flamingoes. . . . In spite of strong rumors that Branch Rickey is the heir apparent to Judge Landis' $50,000 throne, friends of the Cardinal V. P. insist that he would spurn the job. They do say, though, he is mighty anxious to grab that Brooklyn club. But please don't write in to say that recent trades make it look like he already has it—as a St. Louis farm.

Six North Carolina State football players are reported by the Washington and Lee student paper to have gone on strike—because they were not sufficiently remunerated for their gridiron services. George Engle, who managed Frank Klaus and Harry Greb to middleweight championships, is writing a flock of entertaining boxing reminiscences for a Pittsburgh paper.

Bun Cook, who started the season as regular left wing for Boston, was demoted in a recent shakeup of the Bruin forwards. He became the fifteenth, or odd, man. Anyhow, Art Ross, who is planning to convert Defense Man Flash Hollet into a forward, will not farm Bun to Providence. Just doesn't believe the former Ranger would have much interest in performing in the minors. . . . Joe Minsavage, Syracuse end who will be graduated in June, recently had an operation performed on a gridiron-damaged nose. The result is that a Grecian model has replaced his well-known semi-flattened schnozzola. . . . Jockey Wayne Wright is a southpaw, which probably accounts for a lot of things. . . . While seeking a replacement for Roy Worters at goal Red Dutton would make no mistake in peeping at Mike Brimsek of the Pittsburgh amateur hockey Yellow Jackets.

what Irvin S. Cobb thinks about:

Privacy for the Windsors.
SANTA MONICA, CALIF.—"In order to live quietly and escape as much public attention as possible—" I'm quoting the dispatch—"the duke of Windsor and Mrs. Simpson, following their marriage, will seek a secluded residence in the United States."

The idea is not new. Hoping to kill Stanford White in some very remote secret nook, Harry Thaw picked out a New York roof garden on the first night of a big musical comedy. And only lately one of our movie queens, striving to get away from it all, put on all her portable jewelry and went to the Broadway preview of one of those colossal, titanic, gigantic, mastodontic superscreen epics, only to come forth complaining that one could never flee to the most private of hiding places without being annoyed by crowds.

So America is certainly the right place for the newlyweds' honeymoon—where nobody will stare at them, or follow them, or yell at them or ask for autographs or photographs or interviews or try to tear their clothes off for souvenirs.

Why, just off-hand, I can think of fully three spots where famous folks may enjoy such immunity—Mount McKinley in the winter, Death Valley in the summer and Alcatraz island all the year round.

Giving Up Earl Browder.
FOR years it has been my regular custom to give up something during Lent. Last year I gave up boiled turnips—I never eat boiled turnips, anyhow—and jokes about Mae West.

The year before, I gave up "Anthony Adverse" (at page 2,749) and nearly all Little Theater movements. The year before I gave up Upton Sinclair as my spiritual guide in matters political.

For this year I decided to give up Mr. Earl Browder. I don't quarrel with his sincerity. He happens, though, to be the outstanding exponent in America of the communist movement, which has done so much for human happiness and human progress in the countries that tried it, such as Russia.

Victory Dinners.
WHO says New Dealers aren't smart business men? That $100 victory dinner means a clear profit of $94.70, figuring the food at $5 a head and the combined speeches at 30 cents, which, even if they average up to most after-dinner speeches, is indeed a high valuation.

Back in Andy Jackson's day you could pay off a campaign deficit with hoop poles and con pelts. And in Thomas Jefferson's time the strongest pack mule in Virginia couldn't tote $100 worth of vittles. So, naturally Jeffersonian simplicity and Jacksonian thrift will be extolled.

Presumably the Republicans will follow suit with a nonvictory dinner or donation shower for John Hamilton's hope chest. Needy guests will wear Liberty Leaguers' old clothes, while the idea of having Canada annex Maine and Vermont will be strongly opposed.

Congressman Ham Fish will speak—such being his habit—unless, for economy's sake, they switch his name around hind part before and serve him as two courses.

Signs of Spring.
OUT here the first sign of spring is not the birds coming back. Mainly, our birds don't fly away. They go mute awhile, being practically the only residents that even temporarily refrain from bragging about the climate, or, in case of a cold snap, explaining that this is very unusual.

With us the herald of spring is the surf-bather—that hardy adventurer who plunges in and comes forth as blue as an Easter egg and as deflated-looking as a toy balloon on the morning after circus day. Because the Pacific is never what you'd call a real cozy ocean and especially it isn't following a chill-some winter.

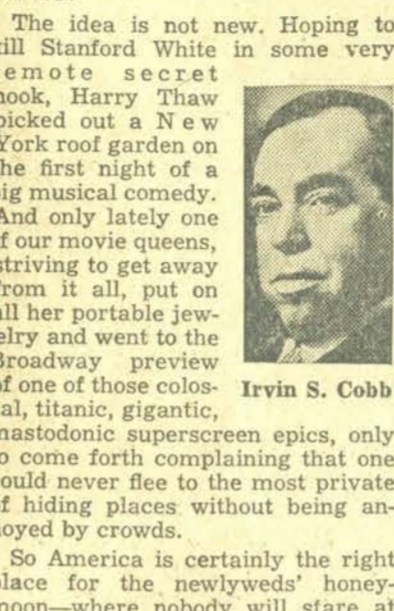

We make fun of the bathing suits our mothers wore. But middle-aged persons of both sexes sporting on the beach in the modern skimpies present a morbid, not to say gruesome, spectacle, except to students of the adult human leg, including the slabby-shanked, the full-calfed, the bowed, the double-jointed, the buckled, the knock-kneed, the spavined, the ankle-sprung, the heavy-hocked, the varicose-veined, the fur-bearing, etc., etc.

Sometimes a fellow gets to thinking that right young babies and raw oysters are almost the only things that should ever be exhibited on the half-shell.

Well-Dressed at Little Cost

IT WAS some job, Ladies of The Sewing Circle, to get these three lovelies together to pose for the camera this week. They're under the strict tutelage of Dame Fashion just now, learning the latest lessons on how to be well turned out this Spring without benefit of a private mint. You can understand, then, why the co-ed above, center, sort of jumped the gun, so to speak, and was already on her way when the camera clicked.

A Frock That Clicks.
Speaking of things clicking, don't think that new princess gown she's wearing isn't doing it in a big way. Can't you see from where you're sitting that it is simple to sew besides being a figure-flatterer of the first order? The buttons half way and a neat little collar in contrast are all its lively lines need to complete the perfect balance—chic vs. simplicity. Take a tip from this stylish student and figure it out for yourself in cashmere or velveteen. The style is 1202 and it can be had in sizes 12-20 (30-33). Size 14 requires 4 3/4 yards of 39 inch material plus 3/4 yard contrasting.

Go Print for Spring.
The charming young lady above, left, has chosen to model a very dainty and rather picturesque little frock for she believes you'll be interested in this style as a fitting gesture to Springtime. The skirt is bias-cut, and the circles of contrast aid and abet its gracefulness. Let yourself go print then, come Spring. Style 1257 is designed in sizes 12-20 (30-40 bust). Size 14 requires 4 1/2 yards of 39 inch material. Eleven yards of bias binding is required for trimming as pictured.

Gay House or Street Frock.
The trim-looking young lady above, right, wants you to concentrate now on her new gingham gown. Not an ordinary bread-and-butter cotton version, but a beautifully cut, carefully planned dress for general service. The linked button front is enough to give it first place on your Spring sewing list if Sew-Your-Own designers know their clients as well as they think. However, there's more to recommend it: a young becoming collar, a simple yoke-and-sleeve-in-one construction, and a slender action-built skirt. Put them all together they spell CHIC—that little word with a vast meaning. Style 1267 is for sizes 34-48. Size 36 requires 4 yards of 35 inch material plus 1 1/4 yards contrasting.

When cream will not whip, add the white of one egg and thoroughly chill before whipping.

One gallon of coffee will serve 25 medium sized cups. The size that would accompany a dessert after a dinner.

A couple tablespoons of molasses will make beans brown nicely.

Chocolate stains may be removed by washing in cold water or by soaking in boiling water to which borax or a little glycerin has been added.

Dishes that have contained sugar or greasy articles should be soaked in hot water before washing.

Jumps From Hotel Roof; Is Rescued in Midair

New York.—The life of Miss Marie Alperowitz, twenty-five years old, was saved after she plunged from the roof of a thirteen story hotel. Her leg caught in the metal clasp of a drain pipe at the ninth floor where a rescuer drew her to safety.

Guests of the hotel watched in horror as the young woman dangled, head down, her leg imprisoned by the metal band.

Frank Loftus, assistant hotel manager, seized her clothing as it hung over the ledge of a window, freed the imprisoned leg.

Miss Alperowitz said she had sufficient leverage to save herself very hazardous.

At a hospital it was the sudden halt of the broken her leg and injuries.

Sunday School Lesson

JESUS PRAYING FOR HIS DISCIPLES

International Sunday School Lesson for March 14, 1937

Golden Text: "That they may be one, even as we are one."—John 17:22.

After impressing the fact of his imminent departure on the minds of his disciples and seeking to comfort them in their sorrow, Jesus turns, in prayer, to his Father and utters his farewell prayer, which is his only recorded prayer. What we know of as "The Lord's Prayer," was a model prayer given by the Master to his disciples and be more correctly called "The Disciples' Prayer." The prayer of Jesus as recorded by John in chapter 17, is in fact "The Lord's Prayer."

Jesus opens his prayer with words concerning himself, verses 1-5. He has finished the task which his Father had assigned him, asking God to "glorify" him in order that God himself might be glorified. Everything which Christ did on earth had the ultimate purpose in view of "glorifying" the Father. How well might we adopt the same aim! Such an aim would certainly inspire us to greater service in his name and would also cause us to consider more thoughtfully our actions each day.

Jesus lovingly brings to the Father his beloved band of followers who are in the world and whom he has so carefully kept and guarded and from whom he was soon to be parted. He does not ask that God take them out of the world but that, in the world and a part of the world about them, they may be kept from the temptations of the "evil" one. "The Lord gives no countenance to the life of the ascetic. Our sanctification is not to be gained by withdrawal and retreat. Our Lord purposes a holiness which shall wear white robes in the streets, and keep itself chivalrous and stately in the common fellowships of men."—J. H. Jowett.

Knowing that his disciples are to be the instruments through which the world is to learn of him, Jesus asks that they be sanctified in the truth: for God's word is truth. He wanted them separated, or set apart, for the high and holy purpose of giving the gospel of salvation to the world, of witnessing to the truth which he had revealed unto them. He desired that they be consecrated, ready to do the will of God.

"And for their sakes, I sanctify myself, that they themselves also may be sanctified in truth, so spake the Son of God. 'For their sakes' may be taken as the motto of the Lord's whole life. 'Others' was the great consideration which inspired all his service and sacrifice."—J. Stuart Holden. Francis G. Peabody says: "Remember the great words of Jesus, 'For their sakes I sanctify myself, and sanctify myself not for your own sake but for others. You cannot save your own soul alone; you must save it by making it of use. The only safe goodness is a serviceable goodness. Thing each day, not of what the world can do for you, but what you can do for the world, and be sure that the best that can ever be said of any man is that which was said of Jesus Christ, 'He saved others, himself he cannot save.'"

Jesus then turned his thoughts away from this little band of followers to the greater multitude of believers who were to accept him thru the witnessing of his disciples and asked the Father's blessing on them, "that they may be one, even as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be in us." Are we believers in Christ one? The answer might well be "No" and "Yes." They are not one in uniformity but they have the same Saviour. The Christian unity most needed today is not unity in opinion or in worship, but unity in action. Lyman Abbott states it thus: "The message of the Christian church is one: that God is not only a righteous God who demands righteousness of his children and demands nothing else; not only a merciful God who pardons and absolves all who truly repent and unfeignedly accept his holy gospel; but a seeking God who comes after men in their sins and whose goodness calls them to repentance. It is the one transcendent message of the Christian Church in all its branches.

Jesus closed his prayer with the request of his Father that his disciples would some day be "with me where I am that they may behold my glory, which thou hast given me: for thou lovest me before the foundation of the world that the love wherewith thou lovedst me may be in them, and I in them." The keynote of Christ's ministry in the world was love. Could it be possible that the inefficiency of our service today may be traced to our evident lack of Christian love?

QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Concerning the Kentucky Unemployment Compensation Law, Issued February, 1937, by Robert E. Hatton, Executive Director

Q. What is the relation between the Federal Social Security Act and the Kentucky Unemployment Compensation Act?

A. Title IX of the Federal Social Security Act imposes a uniform tax on all employers of eight or more individuals, certain types of employment being exempted. However, since Kentucky has passed an Unemployment Compensation law approved by the Social Security Board of the United States, each such employer may deduct from the Federal tax an amount not to exceed 90 per cent thereof and not to exceed the amount of his contribution to the state unemployment fund.

Q. What records and reports may be required of an employer under the Kentucky Act?
A. The Unemployment Com-

pensation Commission may require any employer of one or more persons to furnish to it from time to time information concerning the total amount of wages paid, total number of persons employed, the individual record of each employe, and any other related matters which the commission may deem necessary to the effective administration of the Act.

Q. Will the reports of contributors be open to public inspection?
A. No.

Q. If an employer sells his business, will his reserve account be returned to him, or will it automatically be transferred to the new owner?
A. In the event that an employer sells his business his reserve account, if any, will be transferred to the new owner who takes the same subject to all of its liabilities.

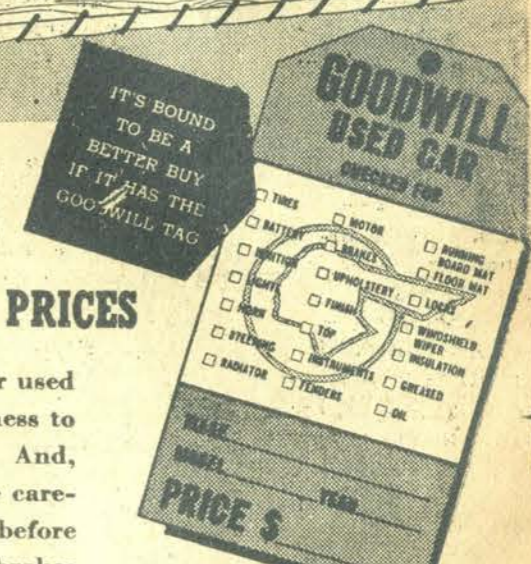

Q. Who is eligible for unemployment benefits?
A. Those unemployed persons who:

(a) Have had at least 20 weeks of employment within the past 52 consecutive weeks preceding the close of his most recent weeks of employment;

(b) Are available and mentally and physically able to work;
(c) Are unemployed thru no fault of their own;
(d) Have registered for work at the employment office at such place and time and manner as the commission may prescribe;
(e) Has been totally unemployed for a waiting period of at least three weeks prior to the week in which he claims benefits (such three weeks of total unemployment need not be consecutive, but shall be accumulated over a period of 26 consecutive weeks preceding any week in which he claimed benefits).

Q. Does the Unemployment Compensation Act fulfill any other purpose than receiving contributions and paying benefits?

A. Yes. Great effort will be put forth by the Unemployment Commission and director, Kentucky State Employment Service, with the advice and aid of the Advisory Councils, in an endeavor to stabilize employment; to encourage and assist in the adoption of practical methods of vocational training, retaining and vocational guidance; to investigate and recommend, advise and assist in the establishment and operation by municipalities, counties, school districts, and the state, of reserves for public works to be used in times of business depression and unemployment; to promote re-employment of unemployed workers throughout the state in every other way that may be feasible and to these ends to carry on and publish the results of investigation and research studies.

Q. How large are the benefits to 50 per cent of the unemployed worker's former full time weekly wage; however, it cannot exceed $15.00 per week and not less than $5.00 per week, or three-fourths of his former full time weekly wage, whichever is the lesser.

For example, A, B, C, and D are working for X.

A makes $50 per week; B makes $7 per week; C makes $27 per week and D makes $6 per week. They all become unemployed and each is able to qualify for benefits.

A's weekly wage was $50; he will receive $15 as a benefit (he cannot receive 50 per cent of his weekly wage as A. The benefit payable can $15 is the largest benefit payable under the Act); B's weekly wage was $7, he will receive $5 as a weekly benefit (the least he can receive is $5 or 3-4 of his weekly wage, whichever is the lesser, $5 is less than 3-4 of $7). C's weekly wage was $27, he will receive $13.50 for his weekly benefit (50 per cent of his weekly wage). D's weekly wage was $6, he will receive $4.50 for his weekly benefit (3-4 of $6, this amount being the lesser of 3-4 and $5).

SAFETY CONTEST PRIZES AWARDED

At the high school Wednesday morning at 11:15, Mayor A. C. Carter presented prize ribbons to the winners of the essay contest sponsored by the Woman's Club and aided by the other civic organizations of Prestonsburg. After a brief talk on the value of safety is our present day of living, Professor Triplett introduced Mrs. J. D. Mayo, district chairman of safety, who, in turn, told the students that, although the prizes were being awarded for the safety contest, the campaign was just beginning. The students were asked to continue thinking and acting safely and aiding the adults in making the entire community safety conscious, that traffic accidents may be greatly reduced.

After promising the pupils his hearty co-operation in bringing about better traffic signs, and more attention to traffic offenders, Mayor Carter presented the following pupils with prize ribbons:

The honors for first prize in the division safety on the highway, Sue Martha Ransdell and William Baldrige; first prize topic, Safety on the Farm, to Hazel Branham, second prize to Gertrude Horn; Safety in the Home, first prize to Mamam G. Leslie, second to Linda Stephens.

Thursday and Friday mornings the awards were made to junior high students in the graded school for the slogan contest, division safety on the road, first prize to Ruth Blackburn, second to Cassie Patrick.

Division Safety in the Streets, first prize to Myra G. Hill, second to Beatrice Sturgill.

Division Safety in the Home, first to Lois Stiles, second to Elizabeth May Ford. For the poster contest in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades, in division Safety on the Road, first prize to Ellen Marie Wells; second to Winston Fife. Division Safety in Play, first to Thelma Jean Isaacs, second to Ethe' Elaine Clark. Division Safety in the Home, first to Helen Triplett, second to Bernice Boyd.

For the first, second and third grades, Division Safety on the Road, Betty Alice Fife first prize, and Laura V. Robinson first prize in Streets, first second.

Mary Katherine Mayo, first prize, and Johnnie M. Benjie, second.

Division Safety in Play, Katherine M. Parker, first prize, and Mary Lou Howard, second.

$20,000 FLOOD FUND FOR FLOYD COUNTY

Continued from page one set up for the county and the amount was to have been matched dollar for dollar with federal aid.

Congress has appropriated to the state of Kentucky the amount of $469,000 for each of the federal fiscal years of 1938 and 1939 for use on secondary highways.

The rules and regulations of the United States Department of Agriculture permit approximately 8-17 of this amount to be spent on the state highway system and the remainder, or $248,000 per year, on the secondary highways. This means that the Division of Rural Highways must arrange to meet this amount during the next two fiscal years, with funds appropriated for use on roads not now being maintained or constructed by the department of highways.

No part of this money is to be spent on any of the federal or state highway systems, that is, on any road that has been accepted by the department of highways for maintenance, or is being constructed or reconstructed by the department of highways.

These federal funds will be available July 1, 1937, and bids may be taken as soon as after April 1, 1937, as plans and estimates are available.

These funds cannot be widely scattered in the counties and necessarily will have to be expended on good projects.

Nearby counties to receive flood road funds are Johnson, $14,272.61; Pike, $31,150.96; and Knott, $13,691.48.

ELLIOTT'S SONGS TO APPEAR IN "DIXIANA"

All of the songs, ballads and arias from Harrison Elliott's opera, "Call of the Cumberland lands," will appear in the April issue of Dixiana Magazine. A special section of the magazine will carry the way system. This means that the Division of Rural Highways must arrange to meet this amount during the next two fiscal years, with funds appropriated for use on roads not now being maintained or constructed by the department of highways.

"Call of the Cumberland lands," the final aria from Elliott's opera of the same name, has been selected by Edward Uhlman to appear in the 1937 Crown Anthology of Verse, which will come from the press in New York this spring.

TWO NEW STORES OPEN HERE

Final alterations and decorations in both stores are now finished and both firms are receiving complete stocks of goods. A visit to these and other stores here, before Easter, should be worthwhile to purchasers seeking quality merchandise at bargain prices. It is generally conceded, merchants in business here say, that merchandise, from drugs to dry goods, can be purchased cheaper in Prestonsburg and elsewhere in this vicinity, at present.

All Prestonsburg merchants extend an invitation to Floyd county buyers to pay them a visit, at least, before making a purchase elsewhere. Prestonsburg now has a number of up-to-date stores and others are locating here in order to give the would-be purchaser choice merchandise at choice prices, it is stated.

BIG SANDY TEACHERS MEET IN SAYERSVILLE

A number of Floyd county teachers attended the March meeting of the Big Sandy teachers' executive club at Sayersville Tuesday night. The meeting was held in the new school building.

Those attending from Prestonsburg were Prof. Ishmael Triplett, Floyd county superintendent; Town Hall Clay, Stephens, Jack Allen, and John Stephens. Approximately 150 Big Sandy teachers attended the meet.

the clinics in other states and gave a very impressive description of the case that Margaret Sanger attended as a nurse in New York which through failure of the nurse or doctors to give birth control information, caused the woman's death, leaving several small children motherless. Since that time, Mrs. Sanger has devoted her life to saving other mothers by proper knowledge of birth control, through scientifically managed clinics. The following members were present: Mesdames Jo M. Davidson, S. C. Ferguson, Cora Hubbard, Merle Wilson, S. A. Ballinger, Grace D. Ford, W. P. Mayo, J. D. Mayo, F. L. Heinze, Ansel Culbertson, S. A. It's farther between filling stations in the Ford "60"

THE 60-horsepower Ford V-8 engine was first developed for Europe, where fuel costs are high. Two years' usage there proved its unusual economy. When the "60" came to this country this year, the Ford Motor Company made no mileage claims—waited for facts, written on American roads by American drivers.

Now Ford "60" owners are reporting averages of 22 to 27 miles on a gallon of gasoline. That makes it the most economical Ford car ever built!

One of the most popular American desserts is cake; it is one of the foods every housekeeper is anxious to make correctly. The entire success of a cake depends greatly upon the frosting. To have a perfect frosting, these are the qualities to look for: first, the flavor of the frosting must blend with that of the cake; second, it must hold its shape, have a glossy surface and at the same time remain moist on standing and feel fine grained and creamy to the tongue.

Cream Filling

5 tablespoons flour
3/4 cup sugar
3/4 cup boiling water
1 tablespoon butter
2 egg yolks
1 1/2 squares chocolate
1 tablespoon gelatin
1/2 cup cream
Mix the flour and sugar and add the mixture to the boiling water in the top of double boiler. Stir constantly, cook for 15 minutes, add the butter and chocolate and continue cooking until the chocolate is melted. Pour over the beaten egg yolks and return to double boiler just long enough to cook the egg yolks. Stir in the gelatin (dissolved in 1 tablespoon water). Cool. Add cream, stiffly beaten, and chill in refrigerator for about 1 hour. Use between layers of white or Chocolate cake.

White Frosting

2 cups sugar
1 tablespoon corn syrup
Few grains salt
6 tablespoons water
2 egg whites
1 teaspoon vanilla
Cook together the sugar, corn syrup, salt and water. Cook until syrup spins a thin thread about six inches from spoon. Beat egg whites stiff but not too dry. Pour hot syrup over egg whites in a steady fine stream, beating continuously. Use a wire whisk for this heavier mixture and when the syrup is entirely added, stir in the flavoring, beating again until just right for spreading.

Orange Chocolate Icing

3 cups confectioners sugar
2 tablespoons orange juice
Grated rind of orange
3 squares of chocolate
1 egg white

Cream butter, add sugar, orange juice and rind. Beat until smooth. Fold in well-beaten egg white. Spread on top layer, sprinkle with 1-2 square of grated chocolate. To remaining icing, add 2 1-2 squares of chocolate which has been melted. Spread on bottom layer of the cake.

Cream Icing

1 2-3 cups brown sugar
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup egg whites
1/2 cup finely chopped nut meats.
1-8 teaspoon cream of tartar.

Combine water, sugar and cream of tartar. Stir until smooth. Cook without stirring until a hard ball is formed when dropped into cold water. If crystals appear on inside of pan, wipe with damp cloth. When cooked pour over stiffly beaten egg whites. Beat until mixture leaves spoon almost clean or pulls away from side of bowl. Add nuts and spread.

White Icing

In the upper part of a double boiler place 2 unbeaten egg whites, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon cream of tartar and 1-2 cup of water and 2 cups of granulated sugar. Place this over boiling water and beat for 10 minutes with a rotary egg beater. Remove the upper part of the double boiler, pour the hot water from the lower part of the double boiler and fill it 1-3 full of cold water. Replace upper part and let stand five minutes. Flavor with 2 teaspoons vanilla. Spread on cake.

Minute Fudge Icing

1-2 cup cocoa
1/4 cup butter
1/4 cup milk
1 cup sugar
Pinch of salt
Combine ingredients and boil 1 minute. Remove from fire and beat until creamy enough to spread. Makes sufficient to top 1 cake.

Uncooked Mocha Icing

4 tablespoons butter
2 cups confectioners sugar
1-2 square unsweetened chocolate
1-4 teaspoon vanilla
1-4 cup cold strong coffee
Cream butter until very soft. Then add confectioners sugar gradually, blending thoroughly. Add the melted chocolate, vanilla and strong coffee with the mixture until right consistency to spread. Spread between cake layers and on top.

Uncooked Pineapple Icing

4 slices pineapple
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 tablespoons butter
2 1-2 cups confectioners sugar
1 egg white
Shred the pineapple and allow to stand in lemon juice. Cream the butter, well, add

NOSE PORES

A Real Test of Your Cleansing Methods
Your nose pores are the largest on your body and the first to show signs of clogging. If your nose pores are enlarged or conspicuous, it's a sign your cleansing method is inefficient.
What you want is a penetrating face cream — not one that just lies on the surface of your skin. Lady Esther Face Cream is a notably penetrating face cream. Gently and soothingly it penetrates the little openings. It takes hold of the imbedded waxy matter — breaks it up — dissolves it — and makes it easily removable. Thus, your clogged pores function freely again and reduce themselves to their natural invisible size.
As Lady Esther Face Cream cleanses the skin, it also lubricates it. It supplies it with a fine oil that keeps it soft and supple. Get Lady Esther Face Cream today and put it to the test. You will be surprised the difference one cleansing makes in your skin.

THE LINEN DUSTER

A few weeks ago a colleague of mine celebrated the marriage of her son by giving an infare, in the style of long ago. Many of the guests came dressed in old-fashioned clothing, but the one who received most attention was an elderly gentleman who wore a linen duster and carried a cane. The whole afternoon there flitted before my eyes visions of other men in linen dusters. Formerly all sorts of people wore linen dusters to protect their Sunday-go-to-meeting clothes, but by my time only preachers wore them. We children had not seen any priests in robes, but the linen duster took the place in our minds of all such regalia. We stood in awe of this robe, probably regarding it as the badge of sanctity. One retired preacher I looked entirely patriarchal in his linen duster, for he stood over six feet tall and had a long, flowing white beard like those of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob in the big family Bible that was never read but did form a decoration for the marble-topped center table and was useful for holding pressed leaves and flowers. When the presiding elder came, he was sure to be wearing a duster, too; and he needed one, for the roads in summer or winter were likely to be dangerous to the spotlessness of any kind of dress-up clothes. I recall still the shock I felt when the presiding elder, after an unusual denunciation of the Baptists, rather hurried out of the church and lit a strong smelling pipe, to acquire a little more energy for the afternoon. It was quite the thing for the country doctor and everybody else who represented the world, the flesh, and that other fellow to pull on a cob pipe, but I failed to find any of the patriarchs in the Bible pictures so engaged.

square miles in extent had practically disappeared before I could remember, but the holders of county charges still had some of the ways and illustrations of Lorenzo Dow and other famous wandering preachers. I suppose there were fat preachers, but I seem to remember only tall, angular ones with flowing beards and piercing eyes. No wonder the wicked trembled when they spoke of the worm that dieth not! We hear much of having faith, but no group of people we ever had depended more on faith than those traveling clergymen, who hardly knew a day ahead where they would be or what they would eat or what they would put on. They deserve some lasting memorial for the arduous work they did, often in rough pioneer settlements, where it was hardly safe to champion the right. Many a back-over six feet tall and had a long, flowing white beard like those of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob in the big family Bible that was never read but did form a decoration for the marble-topped center table and was useful for holding pressed leaves and flowers. When the presiding elder came, he was sure to be wearing a duster, too; and he needed one, for the roads in summer or winter were likely to be dangerous to the spotlessness of any kind of dress-up clothes. Martin Johnson's Camera Snaps Wife In Housekeeping Mood on Last Safari

Martin Johnson's life that ended so tragically as the result of an airplane crash on a lonely snow-covered mountainside near Los Angeles on Jan. 12, though full of adventure was an extremely happy one because of the enjoyment he and his wife derived from their experiences while making motion pictures of wild life in the tropics. One of Mrs. Johnson's functions on these trips was to make life home-like and comfortable no matter how far away from civilization their camp might be.

The above photograph, taken by Mr. Johnson toward the end of the expedition in Borneo, where they spent most of last year in the jungles, shows Mrs. Johnson in a characteristic scene. The Johnsons lived on a bamboo raft that was moved up and down the Kinabatangan River, where the climate is said to be the hottest in the world. Strange as it may seem, modern refrigeration played a big role in the Borneo expedition. Two Servel Electrolix refrigerators (operated with kerosene) were part of the scientific equipment of the expedition. One of these was installed on the back veranda of the raft. Without the refrigerators, the Johnsons could not have withstood the heat of the jungles, they stated upon their return from Borneo.

Mrs. Johnson is telling the little jungle maiden what they do with fruit and vegetables in America and how good the big pineapple will be when it gets cold. The small native boy is laughing at Mr. Johnson's antics in manipulating his motion picture camera.

SYNOPSIS

Kezia Marsh, pretty, selfish and twenty, arrives home in Corinth from school and is met by her older brother, Hugh. He drives her to the Marsh home where her widowed mother, Fluvanna, a warm-hearted, self-sacrificing and understanding soul, welcomes her. Kezia's sister, Margery, plump and matronly with the care of three children, is at lunch with them. Hugh's wife, Dorrie, has pleaded a previous engagement. On the way back to his job at the steel plant founded by one of his forefathers, Hugh passes Doc Miller, a boyhood friend whom he no longer sees frequently because of Dorrie's antipathy. Fluvanna Marsh wakens the next morning from a dream about her late husband, Jim, whose unstable character she fears Kezia has inherited. Ellen Pendleton comes over. She is an artistically inclined girl who is a distant niece of Fluvanna's and a favorite of Hugh's. She happily tells Fluvanna she has become engaged to Jerry Purdue. Ellen fears that her father and mother, Gavin and Lizzie, will not approve the match. Hugh and Dorrie go out to the Freeland Farms to dance with their friends, Cun and Joan Whitney. Whitney, who has been out of work, announces that he has a new position. Cun and Dorrie dance together and then disappear for a while. Dancing with Joan, Hugh is amazed to find her in tears. Apparently she has some secret worry over her husband, Cun. When Ellen and Jerry speak about their engagement to Ellen's parents, Lizzie is disagreeable until Jerry sympathizes with her imagined ailments. The matter is left pending. Unexpectedly Hugh has to visit a neighboring city on business. Returning home to ask Dorrie to accompany him he finds her telephoning. In confusion she quickly hangs up without saying good-by. After hesitating about Hugh's invitation, she finally agrees to accompany him. They spend a delightful day and Hugh is happy. At a family party, Kezia encounters Jerry. Ellen, who is cheerful when Jerry is absorbed by Kezia, Kezia goes out of her way to charm Jerry.

"Of course, dear. Eric is polishing the car but I think he'll have it finished soon."
"Oh, he's working on it?" Margery hesitated. "Could they play around the yard if the car isn't available? . . . I hate to ask you—they were there so much last week . . ."

"Of course. Bring them on your way to Millie's."
Kezia, coming down the stairs, said, "Margery want the car? What's the matter with her own?"
"She wants to see Millie Jennings and has asked me to take the boys out."

"Do we have to have those little devils again today? The baby is better, isn't she? They were here yesterday and all last week. Margery imposes on you!"

"They can play around the yard if Eric isn't ready. It's not much to do for Margery. She's worn out, and it will be good for her to get away for a couple hours. And they're not little devils—just a couple of healthy normal boys."
"Other people are worn out too," muttered Kezia under her breath. Fluvanna smiled. "You, my dear?"

"Last night I was trying to come in quietly so I wouldn't waken you and I stumbled over a scooter in the hall. Barked my shin—look at it!"

"Last night? Kezzie, whom did you go out with last night? I don't believe you mentioned it—and I didn't recognize the car."
Kezia's face became bland and innocent. "Didn't I tell you? A crowd of us went to Emmy Markham's. Bees Snyder is as funny as a clown! You should hear him take off Lem Potter and Mrs. Lem Potter! And we had a swell supper. Went to the kitchen about twelve-thirty and cooked bacon and eggs, ate watermelon. No mail for me? . . . I think I'll go up and write some letters. I owe everyone I know."

She was disappearing up the stairs when Fluvanna said: "Was Ellen Pendleton at Emmie's?"
"No," Kezia answered, carelessly.

Fluvanna thought she had heard Jerry's voice from the drive under her window when Kezia came in. She must have been mistaken. Perhaps it had been Bees Snyder. Certainly not Jerry if Ellen had not been there . . . She remembered that Kezia hadn't really told her who had called for her. Not that it mattered. It only illustrated the secrecy which was one of her traits, that fierce guarding of unimportant trifles, that resentment of being questioned or called to account—even by implication.

Kezia reminded her of her husband. Her thoughts flew away to him. He had hated questioning so. Yet he could be loquacious on occasion, expansive, humorous, wistful, flattering, a man of many moods. She remembered how well he had dressed. He wore a cut-away coat on Sunday, the silk hat and the winged collar which were the fashion of the time. His bearing had an alien elegance which spelled romance to her. Generous too. Once he gave a cripple the contents of his purse—then borrowed money from Fluvanna to pay for their dinner at the hotel. When he received change from a purchase, he always put it in his pocket without counting it.

That house on Lincoln street in which they went to housekeeping, five old-fashioned rooms and the bath downstairs . . . the big elm which drooped before the door . . . the enchantment, laughter, tears of early married life. Jim had loved horses and attended every race meet within a radius of 50 miles. Jovial sometimes when he came home—sometimes discontented. He also liked cards. Late for dinner, late for engagements; a card game had detained him.

The memories became a moving picture screen reproducing scenes in flashes, scenes impervious to the assault of time. Friends, parties, the birth of Hugh, financial pressure, disagreements and the sweet toll of reconciliation. Jim, gay, hopeful, magnetic; Jim, silent, somber, silent. He always dominated the picture with that positive driving force of his, perverse, ill-considered, but a power, nevertheless. She thought sadly that it was human nature to love those persons best who had a streak of perversity in their make-up. Or perhaps one is only more aware of that love—they test it so.

Several times he had been forced to borrow from her father to meet various demands, but was never able to repay the loans.

After the death of her mother and his losses in the stock market, Jim's habit of drinking increased. He did not use soft words when he drank. Some inner demon spoke in cruel, vindictive phrases. When she saw him after one of those nights when he had come in with stumbling, uncertain steps, his handsome face puffy, his hand trembling so he could scarcely hold the coffee cup, she was amazed at the conflict of love and hate which struggled in her. He reminded her of bleary old Tom Gaveney who took away the rubbish . . . But it was really Jim, her husband, to whom she was bound for life. Their three children, Margery, Hugh and Kezia were at school and might come home any time. No one must know—no one at all. Draw the blinds. Send the maid to the laundry. Telephone the office that he wasn't well. Head up; smile at friends and strangers. The banner of pride must float bravely while the craft is sinking.

And then that day. The freshly ironed shirts and children's garments lay on the bed. Put this pile in Hugh's room; sew the lace on Margery's dress; socks of varying sizes, colors must be sorted, mended; a stitch here, a button there . . .

She had never been able to put away freshly laundered clothes since without a leaden feeling, for suddenly she looked up and saw Jim.

He was standing by the chiffonier, one elbow on it, watching her. "Jim? You home? Haven't you had your lunch?"

He did not answer at once. His gaze was somber but not unkind. He sat down in a chair and motioned for her to take one.

A foreboding gripped her. She watched his hands, lean, restless, clutching the arm of the chair until they were white at the knuckles. An odd ring on his little finger—a ring which he had inherited from his father—was raised into prominence.

"I'm in a bad way, Fluvanna."
"Sick?"

He shook his head. Her glance hardened. "Money again? I—Jim, you know—"

"Yes, I know what you're going to say. You've done a lot. Helped me out a dozen times. But this time—this time—he struck the arm of the chair with his fist—"you must! Must, I say!"

She rose without a word, went over to the bed, gathered up some of the garments and put them in a drawer. She wouldn't . . . she wouldn't. Draining away everything she had. She had been too easy. She had to think of her children, their education, future—

"I must have $15,000."
"Fifteen thousand dollars!" The sum startled her. For what? . . . "I haven't it. You know I haven't."

His eyes swept the room, came back to her. "Sell something. Put a mortgage on the house."
"I won't. Nothing can make me."

"Won't, eh?" His lips curled in a hateful smile. "You'd rather see your husband go to the penitentiary, I suppose."
The penitentiary? His words sounded like the echo of waves, and the blood seemed to slip quietly away from her body, leaving only flesh and nerves. The penitentiary!

"I don't believe you," she said faintly.

He did not reply. Then scarcely knowing what she was doing, she went into the adjoining room where Kezia slept. Kezia had left a legless doll on the floor. Mechanically she picked it up and put it into the closet.

Then Jim was in the doorway. He was holding a revolver idly in his hand. Horror froze in her. Was he going to kill himself—before her? . . . But he pointed it at her.

"Jim, you wouldn't. Don't try to be funny," she gasped.

"I must have it before four o'clock."
She smelled the odor of whiskey. "Stop waving that revolver around! You know it's loaded."
"So it is."

She backed away from him, out into the hall. She wanted to call him a coward and a bully, but she was too terrified. There was something brooding and insane in his look.

"You say you won't?"
"I can't. How can you threaten me this way? What if the children should see you?"
"You could borrow it on your steel stock."

Experiences of Life—

Their Significant Interest and Some Ways to Meet Them

By Lydia Le Baron Walker.

THE journey through life is filled with experiences from the time we are born to the day we die. Without them life would be dull and uninteresting. The more experiences are crowded into our lives the fuller and more interesting they become.

When we are in the midst of events that have elements of danger or when they are of momentous proportions with matters at stake that may be disastrous, should things turn out differently from our wishes, the mind is too excited or too much engrossed with results to grasp anything but the immediate moment.

Reviewing Experiences.

However, on looking back over the past, we discover what thrilling times we went through, and how the experiences stand out as dramatic and of significant interest. Often we find ludicrous features entered into the experience but we had no eyes to see them at the time.

Since life is so full of experiences some of which turn out felicitously, and others not so satisfactorily, there must be a good reason for our having to go through the events. I remember when I was a little girl and there was something which, to me, seemed very important to decide rightly, how I envied grown-ups. They always knew just what to do! The fallacy of this assumption we all know, but we do not all appreciate how dull life would be if it were true, and how development would be retarded. There is no age limit to the series of experiences.

The benefits of our life experiences come through our way of taking them, and on our wisdom of decisions when these require our consideration. If we think of ourselves only become selfish, hard, and difficult. If we decide with a larger vision of results, and of the best good to others as well as to ourselves, we become fine and strong characters. By the exercise of good judgment and by making the best of things we learn to develop well by experiences.
