

GUNSHOT CHARGE INSTANT DEATH TO BOY, 11 YEARS OLD

Victim's Chest Shattered at Close Range; Son Of Honaker Postmaster

Apparently not trying to conceal any possible guilt on the part of his son, Will Leedy, miner, of Honaker, this county, on Little Mud Creek told officers the two versions he had obtained regarding the fatal wounding of Milford Case, age 11 years son of Sid Case. Postmaster at Honaker. The Case boy died instantly from the effects of a single barrel 12-gauge shotgun charge, the full blast shattered the boy's chest at close range.

The tragedy occurred in a hillside cornfield near the boys' homes at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Officers brought Orville Leedy, 14 years old, to Prestonsburg Tuesday night in company with his father to hold in connection with the Case boy's death.

Accident Claimed
Mr. Leedy, who remained at his home to finish nailing up some weatherboarding said that he had sent his two sons, Orville and Arnold, on ahead of him to the cornfield with a sack of seed corn, a corn planter and shotgun that the boys took along to kill ground squirrels.

He quoted his sons as saying that they were joined by the Case boy and Reese Dameron, 20 years old, from a nearby cornfield to play "Fox and Dog," a game of "hide and seek." According to this version the boys leaped the shotgun against a log, all four sat down on the same log, and the gun fell over, discharged into the body of the little victim and tumbled down the hill a short distance before lodging.

Continuing the story, he said that Orville grabbed the boy in his arms in an effort to render any possible aid, and while doing so, some of the older folks who had gathered at the scene, hollered that the boy's father was approaching and the two Leedy boys became scared and fled home.

Another Version
The father of the boy in custody related another version of the affair secured from the Dameron boy. He quoted the youth as telling him that one of the Leedy brothers cursed and said, "I'm going to kill you!" whereupon he leveled the gun and fired.

TREES AND SHRUBS BEING PLANTED BY NYA EMPLOYEES HERE

Prestonsburg is being beautified by a group of NYA employees, who are planting trees and shrubs on the highways and school grounds, in cooperation with a committee from the Woman's Club of which Mrs. W. P. Mayo is chairman, the planting is being done under the supervision of T. J. Samons, project supervisor, with the assistance of County Agent Sam Isbell and an employe of the highway department.

The plants, furnished by the national Youth Administration are of a good size and splendid quality. The largest number being planted is the Lombardy poplar, others are sycamore and hard maple. Shrubs to be planted are juniper phytizers and spirea.

The Lombardy poplars that have died or that have been destroyed in the group planted by the Woman's Club and D. A. R. some years ago in the Porter Addition, are ...

OURBACKER VISITS LOCAL EMPLOYERS

Advice Given On Social Security in Delinquent Tax Returns

S. H. Ourbacker, field representative in charge of the Ashland district office of the Social Security Board which covers the Eastern half of Kentucky and part of Ohio, was in Prestonsburg Tuesday in consultation with Postmistress May regarding Social Security account numbers in and around Prestonsburg. He also visited several and it was found, so Mr. Ourbacker stated, that a number of employers in Prestonsburg had not paid their federal taxes under Social Security due to lack of information as to how to proceed.

He stated that taxes for the month of January, February and March are due. He pointed out that an employer should write the Collector of Internal Revenue at Louisville who is in charge of the responsibilities of the tax provision of the Act and obtain SS-1 tax return forms for each of the months so far this year and when returning them with check or money order they should send along a sworn statement stating why they are delinquent. He believes that if this is done, immediately the collector will be lenient in the imposition of penalties.
Mr. Ourbacker also stressed ...

CITIZENS CREATE OWN ROAD FUND

Middle Creek Road of Four Miles Graded to Be Ditched

The citizens of nearby Middle Creek lifted themselves by their own "bootstraps" or purse strings would be more appropriate out of the rut, so a report says.

Heavy trucks, wagons, etc. during the winter months had wrought havoc with the surface of the road. When spring arrived, the Middle Creek citizenry, a number of them owning automobiles, found their outlet almost impassable due to deep ruts and holes.

It, probably, would take quite a while to get aid from the county, so the folks put their heads together and put their hands in their pockets.

The result:
About $73 was pooled. A Prestonsburg man with grader and tractor was employed three days at $20 per day to grade the four-mile stretch from Middle Creek bridge to Hillsdale. The remaining $13 of the citizens' road fund, R. C. Dyer, treasurer, said would be applied to ditching and draining.

The list of contributors as given by Mr. Dyer follows:
C. M. Bower, $5; Romeyn C. Dyer, $5; Willard Hicks, $5; Conway Pigman, $5; Harry Hackworth, $5; Pen Fitzpatrick, $5; Amos Dotson, $2; J. F. STUMBO-FRAZIER VOWS SOLEMNIZED

A wedding of unusual interest to their many friends and relatives in this section was that of Miss Genevieve Kathryn Stumbo of this city and Mr. Chalmer Haynes Frazier, of Martin which was solemnized at 6:30 o'clock Wednesday evening, April 14, at the M. E. Church, South, with the Rev. Harry F. King officiating, the double ring ceremony being used.

An organ recital rendered by Mrs. James Archer, of Paintsville, and a solo, "I Love Thee" sung by Mr. Jack Allen, of Prestonsburg, preceded the ceremony.

The church was beautifully decorated with ferns and white spring flowers banked behind the altar which was lighted by candelabras holding long white tapers. This formed a beautiful background for the lovely bride who was most becomingly gowned in a wedding dress of white satin made on peasant lines, wearing a small white satin halo finished with a spray of orange blossoms and carrying an arm bouquet of gardenias and white roses with a spray of sweet peas held with satin ribbons.

To the strains of "The Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin the bride entered the church on the arm of her father, who gave her away.

COUNTY DEMOCRATS HONOR JEFFERSON

Dinner Under Joint Sponsorship Well Attended Here Tuesday

Approximately 100 Floyd county Democrats gathered at the banquet hall of the Auxier hotel Tuesday night at 7 o'clock to honor the party's traditional founder, Thomas Jefferson. The dinner was one of the similar celebrations held in each county of the state.

The cost of the function was taken care of by party leaders and admissich was "free gratis," E. P. Arnold, Prestonsburg, long recognized as very capable as a master of ceremonies, was toastmaster on the occasion. He was introduced by James Hale, Goddick, Ky. county chairman.

Mr. Arnold introduced a number of speakers who told of party expectations and predicted a successful campaign year in the coming county elections. Those who addressed the aggregation were: Judge John W. Caudill, County Attorney Forrest D. Shurt, Attorney C. P. Stephens and E. P. Arnold.

FARMERS PURCHASE T. V. A. PHOSPHATE

500 County Farmers Have Signed 1937 Soil Conservation Contracts

County Agent S. L. Esbell announced this week that 27 Floyd farmers have recently ordered 23 tons of TVA 43 per cent phosphate, under the soil conservation program and 15 more of the county farmers have placed their orders to be applied on another parcel to be ordered this month.

This phosphate may be obtained, it was stated by the county agent, by farmers who sign the work sheets of the soil conservation program and cooperate in this program. These farmers are required to pay only the freight and handling charges which are equivalent to approximately $6 per ton. The phosphate is available for application to Korean clover, grasses and red clover pasture lands.

There are 500 Floyd county farmers who have signed up in the soil program and I am expecting the majority of this number to use phosphate," Mr. Esbell said. "There are many more Floyd farmers," he continued, "who should be in the program and anyone by calling at the county agent's office here in the postoffice building, may still enter their applications or work sheets for soil conservation."

Under the 1936 program the farmers of the county have received 150 checks and are expecting about 125 more. These checks average $100 ...

FLOYD COUNTY'S OWN BEAUTY CONTEST TO BE STAGED APRIL 27

On Tuesday night, April 27, Harrison Elliott will stage what he terms "the most colorful production this county has ever seen." Elliott has called his show The Parade of Beauty. The Parade of Beauty will be staged at the Abigail Theatre with beauty queens from each consolidated school in the county parading. She will receive the title, "Miss Floyd County," and will be given state wide publicity.

All consolidated schools hope to elect their beauty representative this week. Miss Josephine Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Collins, has been named representative of Lackey consolidated school and will enter the Parade of Beauty as "Miss Lackey."

CCC REQUIREMENT FILLED THURSDAY

Two Quotas Totaling 230
Floyd Youths Are En Route

The period of time over this week and last finds a total of 230 Floyd county youths of the 260 enlisted here on the way to the CCC throughout the county.

Green R. Allen, county WPA certifying agent, during Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week received applications of 120 boys, the number asked for this week. This week's enrollees go to Pikeville Monday for physical examinations. The ones who pass will be ordered to Fort Knox, near Louisville, and from there to the various points of 140 registered last week, approximately 110, who passed at Pikeville and sent to Fort Knox, left there this week. "From the best information I have," Mr. Allen said Thursday, "they were entrained for California."

Both groups were classified as "junior white selectees" and no alternates or cooks were permitted in the enrollment for the first time in the history of CCC enlistments here, he stated.
No more calls for registrations are expected until July, if not then, possibly a call will be issued in September. These calls are based, he explained, on the discharge of boys from the state at large in the service and are evenly distributed among the counties.

The Floyd youths, now on their way to the forest service, fulfill the requirements of the last two calls.

5-YEAR SENTENCE WEDNESDAY METED FLOYD MERCHANT

"Blacklegs" Probated; Second Week if Court In Usual Routine

At the close of Wednesday afternoon's session of the circuit court here, a Floyd county jury returned a verdict meting Eugene Maynard five years in the state reformatory. Maynard, 23 year old Mud Creek merchant, was on trial in connection with the slaying of Taylor Thompson on the night of Dec. 23.

One feature of the case, according to information disclosed by attorneys connected with it, was jurisdiction of the court and general recognition of "Little Floyd." This is a tract of land, they say, that belongs to Floyd county proper, although surrounded by Pike county land.

Maynard was indicted in both counties of Pike and Floyd as a result of the dispute. Attorneys said that after trial here the Pike indictment would be dismissed.

Maynard's attorneys filed an appeal and he was released on a $5,000 bond pending the appeal.

Probate "Blacklegs"

Three who pleaded guilty to charges in connection with the activities of a "blackleg" gang Troy Cole 23, Newt Cole, 31 and Albert Marshall 23, were probated this week John W. Caudill upon the recommendation of R. W. Chilton, probate officer. These fellows named ...
Hall as being the instigator of the Blacklegs in a signed statement on the probate papers. Hall was acquitted here last week.

In the routine of court, from Thursday to Tuesday, about nine charges were dismissed. Homer Bentley received six months in jail for jailbreaking. Emmet Tarkett was fined $100 for selling liquor to a minor. Will Grey was fined $125 for possessing liquor.

James Sturgill, of Auxier was given one year on a seduction Saturday. Wilburn Ross, one of the bunch of boys jailed as a result of store robberies near Garrett and Lackey, was given a sentence of one year Monday.

Indictments

On Saturday the grand jury reported 36 true bills and Friday listed 22 indicted. Among Friday's indictments, a number of road-houses was named on charges of keeping disorderly houses, etc.

Judge Caudill instructed the ...

24 Year Old Skull Marks - - Reveal Murder Of Long Ago

Twenty-four years ago, in Martin county, the family of A. J. Waterson, prominent timberman, Harvard graduate and reputedly a distant member of the Waterson family of newspaper fame, was notified that he had been found dead in bed. The discovery was made, it was said, at his shack in the coal camp.

At that time death was attributed to heart trouble. A few days ago, a woman according to the story reached here, who knew of the incident, broke a long silence and revealed that Waterson had been murdered. She said where the bullet would be found!
The Martin county coroner conducted an ...
The old grave

opened, the skull was closely examined and the bullet hole was just exactly as described! A bullet had entered the skull just below the nose and emerged at the back of the head, it is said.

According to the story, Waterson had a heavy mustache and heavy hair, thus the wound was not detected at the time of death.

The first report of the alleged murder is lacking in detail as it reaches here. But the grand jury at Inez last week returned an indictment charging murder against Harvey Hardin and officers in Colorado were requested to arrest Hardin. He is a nephew of Martin County Judge Tom Hardin, the report states.

Propose County-Wide Track And Field Day Meet Here

"It is designed to give boys of the county high schools, not having the opportunity to compete on school basketball and football teams a chance to show their mettle in athletic competition," thus Coach Greenwell spoke of his proposed plan to hold a county-wide track and field day meet here on "May Day."

The purpose of the meet, he says, would be to pick a team to represent Floyd county in the field day exercises at Lexington in May where state champion runners, jumpers, field day athletes, etc., will be selected.

"I believe Floyd county has a number of boys who are of championship calibre along these lines of sports activities," he says. Floyd county mit the plans to the county has never been represented at Lexington in the annual track and field day meets.

Contests Listed

The events would embrace dashes of 100 yards, 220 yards, 440 yards and 880 yards; distance runs of mile, 2 miles and the cross-country field day contests of discus and javelin throws, shot put, relay teams, etc. Thus, thru cooperation of the high schools and those interested, it is possible to stage Floyd county's own olympics.

Will Submit Plan

Coach Greenwell is contacting the various high school coaches in the county and some of them have ...

What Irvin S. Cobb Thinks about

The Origin of Sitdowns.
SANTA MONICA, CALIF. — With the Barnum show there once was an elderly lady elephant named Helen. Now, Helen had wearied of traipsing to and fro in the land.

Probably she figured she'd seen everything anyhow. So each fall, when the season ended, she went rejoicing back home to Bridgeport, Conn.

Nobody ever knew the date of departure the next spring. There was no more bustle about winter-quarters on that morning than for weeks past.

But always, when the handlers entered the "bull barn" to lead forth the herd, they found Helen hunkered down on her voluminous haunches, which, under that vast weight, spread out like cake batter on a hot griddle. She would be uttering shrill sobs of defiance. And neither prodding nor honeyed words could budge her.

So they'd wrap chains around her and two of her mates would hitch on and drag her bodily, she still on her rubbery flanks, aboard a waiting car. She'd quit weeping then and wipe her snout and accept what fate sent her.

So please don't come telling me that the sit-down strike is a new notion or that somebody in Europe first thought it up. Thirty years ago I saw my lady elephant friend, Helen, putting on one, all by her four-ton self.

Uncle Phil Says:

Haste Versus Hurry
 There is a distinction between haste and hurry—hurry adding to rapidly the element of confusion.

Good deeds are scarcer than bad ones, but one evil act will keep people talking longer than a hundred good ones.

A trained mind deserves the companionship of a cultured heart.

Peace, to any of the great powers, seems to involve its own domination over the others.

You can't make dreams come true by remaining asleep.

Mothers used to tell their children that the bears would get them. Now they say automobiles.

Unsatisfying Retribution

Observant men have made up their minds to this: Retribution is seldom adequate.

A man of culture is respected for it. Don't be afraid of acquiring it, only be sure of getting enough.

The eager expectancy of youth is the source of so much enthusiasm for a better world.

Most envy, says the old-timer, is based on the fact that he failed to see the chance the other fellow took.

Time cures grief and fortunately, anger, too.

There seems to be a conspiracy of incidents to keep you from being on time.

When a mar, is a failure, he seldom wants advice. That's what he's always had.

Taxes and More Taxes.

JUST when everybody is taking comfort from the yodelled promises of that happy optimist, Chairman Harrison of the senate finance committee, that the government will be able to get by for 1937 without asking this congress to boost taxes, what happens?

Why, in a most annoying way, Governor Eccles of the federal reserve board keeps proclaiming that, to make treasury receipts come anywhere near meeting treasury disbursements throughout the year, he's afraid it's going to be necessary to raise the rates on incomes and profits higher than ever.

And meanwhile state governors and civic authorities scream with agony at the bare prospect of any reductions in Uncle Sam's allotments for local projects.

A balanced budget would seem to be like Santa Claus, something everybody talks about but nobody ever expects to see.

Self-Determination.

FORMERLY the states jealously guarded their sovereign prerogatives. Once—but that was so long ago many have almost forgotten it—they fought among themselves one of the bloodiest civil wars in history over the issue of states' rights.

Now we see them complacently surrendering to federal bureaus those ancient privileges—and maybe, after all, that's the proper thing to do, if in centralized authority lies the hope of preserving a republican form of government.

Still, one wonders what Englishmen would do under like circumstances, since Englishmen are fussy about their inheritance of self-determination. Perhaps the distinction is this:

In democracies there exists the false theory that all men are born free and equal. So the Englishman insists on having his freedom, which is a concrete thing, and laughs at the idea of equality. Whereas, the American abandons his individual freedom provided he may cling to the fetish of equality.

Yankee tweedledee and British tweedledum may be brothers under the skin, but they have different skin diseases.

The Parole Racket.

IT IS astonishing but seemingly true that, of five young gangsters recently caught red-handed in a criminal operation, not a single one was a convict out on parole. Is there no way to bar rank amateurs from a profession calling for prior experience and proper background? And can it be that the various parole boards over the union are not turning loose qualified practitioners fast enough to keep up with the demand? Maybe we need self-opening jails.

Those sentimentalists who abhor the idea that a chronic offender be required to serve out his latest sentence should take steps right away to correct this thing before it goes too far. Our parole system must be vindicated if it costs the lives and property of ten times as many innocent citizens as at present.

OF INTEREST TO THE HOUSEWIFE

A Mirror Brightens—Many housekeepers have found that a hanging mirror will often brighten up a dark corner.

Useful Velvet—If you are making anything of velvet do not throw away the pieces of material left over. Save them for using as polishers for your black-leaded stoves and for your shoes. You'll get a real mirror-like shine on both if you rub them with velvet after the usual polish has been applied.

Removing Grease Stains—Grease stains can be removed from cement walks and porches with a poultice made by dissolving four ounces of trisodium phosphate in a gallon of water and mixing in whiting until a paste the consistency of mortar is obtained and plastering a layer of this over the stained area. When dry remove with a trowel or putty knife.

A Supper Special—One cup leftover cooked vegetables, four eggs, half-teaspoonful salt, dash of pepper, half-cup grated cheese. Break the eggs and beat the yolks and whites together. Stir in the vegetables. Add pepper and salt. Put in greased baking dish. Cover with grated cheese and bake in hot oven ten minutes.

Use Baking Sheets—Baking powder biscuits and cookies rise better and brown more evenly on baking sheets than they do in pans.

To Remove a Tight Lid—Tie a piece of string round the tin two or three times, just below the lid; then push a pencil between the string and the tin, twist the pencil over, and the resulting pressure will release the lid.

Why Firestone GROUND GRIP TIRES GIVE MORE TRACTION

THE patented scientific arrangement and spacing of the deep, rugged bars of the tread make this tire self-cleaning. It will not clog or ball up, thus providing clean traction with every turn of the wheel. The deep rugged tread is held inseparably to the cord body because every cotton fiber in every cord has been soaked in pure liquid rubber by the Firestone Patented Process of Gum-Dipping. This gives the tire much greater strength to resist the strains of the extra "pull."

Ground Grip Tires save 25 per cent in time and 25 per cent in fuel. They give more traction and drawbar pull—ride easier and cut down repair bills. You can save time and money by equipping your tractors, trucks and farm implements with Ground Grip Tires. Golden Text: "At the last it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder."—Prov. 22:32.

While we will have the story of Abraham in a few weeks, our first reference describes conditions in the city of Sodom toward which Lot pitched his tent after exercising his choice of pasture offered by Abraham. At that time, Lot had every reason to believe that he had received the best of the bargain as the fields were luxuriant with grass for his herds and there was plenty of water. He had failed to consider the temptations which result from association with wickedness.

Later, however, Lot realized the fact that his choice had not been so wise and, in order to escape the destruction which God was to bring to the sinful city Lot, with his family, fled from Sodom and went to Zoar. We recall the fate of Lot's wife, who looked back, perhaps with longingly eyes at things she had left behind and, as a punishment for her disobedience of God's command not to do this, was turned into a pillar of salt.

Here is an instance of where sin and wickedness brought destruction. This was thousands of years ago but the results are the same today. Sinfulness and wickedness just as surely destroy individuals and nations today as they did in Lot's time.

In Proverbs 23:29-32 we are given a realistic picture of the woes and sorrows which come to those in the clutch of the alcohol habit. Anyone who has come into contact with a drunken man or woman can testify to the accuracy of the picture drawn. The writer then proceeds to answer his own question, when he says: "They that tarry long at the wine; they that go to seek out mixed wine."

Warning of the consequences of partaking of such beverages the writer says: "Look not thou upon the wine when it is red (in the last stages of fermentation), when it sparkleth in the cup, when it goeth down smoothly," "for at the last it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder." Wine and similar intoxicating beverages may delight the palate and lighten the feelings for a while but the pleasure and delight are short lived.

In his book entitled "Alcohol, Its Effects on Man," Professor Haven Emerson states that there is general agreement among students, teachers, doctors and scientists on the following points:

1. Alcohol is a narcotic, which, by depressing the higher centers, removes inhibitions.

2. Outside of the nervous system and the digestive tract alcohol used as beverage has little demonstrable effect.

3. It is a food, utilizable as a source of energy and a sparer of protein, but it is such only to a limited extent.

4. The therapeutic usefulness and value of alcohol are slight.

5. It may be a comfort and a psychological aid to the aged.

6. It does not increase and it does sometimes decrease, the body's resistance to infection.

7. By releasing inhibitions it makes for social ease and leisure, and herein lies one of its greatest dangers.

8. Its effects are best studied by charges of conduct.

9. It impairs reason, will, self control, judgment, physical skill, and endurance.

10. It may produce situations from which crime and social lapses react.

11. It is a frequent destroyer of health, happiness, and mental stability.

12. Its use commonly lowers longevity and increases mortality.

One of the questions which is causing grave concern in this country today is the effect which alcohol has on the driver of a motor vehicle. On this subject Dr. Walter R. Miles, professor of psychology at Yale University, has this to say: "In general, quite aside from the difficulties of voluntary muscular control, the slightly alcoholized person driving on the highway resembles, in his tendencies, the absent minded, much introverted individual, found by tests to be accident-prone. A feeling of remoteness from the outside world, and the sense of being cozily wrapped up in their pleasant thoughts are not ideal subjective states for drivers who mingle in the traffic with other drivers. Under alcohol, an individual not infrequently observes himself to do odd things, he feels no special responsibility for these irregularities in behavior, and he may even find amusement in observing them. Coupled with these conditions, there is stability and limpness of the knees and lower limbs, especially evident in standing or walking. Thus the effect of alcohol is greater on the legs than on the arms. In many situations where an accident can be avoided or made less serious by sudden realization and promptly coordinated action, the driver with alcohol in his blood and brain is certainly at a disadvantage, and others on the road with him, most unfortunately share in this disadvantage."

HOW TO REDUCE SAFELY

Article No. 2—

Alas, there is no royal road to slenderness. If you keep your overweight it does unutterable things to you. It ruins your figure, spoils your posture, ages you in appearance and finally shortens your life.

Listen to this blast from modern medicine: "The posture syndrom, is gradual, symptomless and almost innumerable in its development; but after the patient has passed thru the smiling stages of rotundity to a condition of corpulence, a wide variety of annoying symptoms may be traced to the pendulous abdomen and its accumulation of fat."

The most damaging effect of protuberant fat-weighted abdomen are strain on the spinal axis, which causes a deformity of the spine and irritation of the spinal nerves. The stomach cannot churn and digest the food properly on account of the apron of fat that lies over it. The heart is also embarrassed by the pads of fat that surround it, and it becomes at times so hampered in its functions that the patient finds breathing difficult. Interference with the circulation gives rise to unpleasant and sometimes alarming symptoms. If the patient is a sufferer from hardening of the arteries and high blood pressure, his difficulties are greatly increased.

If he is to be benefitted it is essential to reduce the weight and improve the posture.

It is an established fact that fat people are very fond of the pleasures of the table. They also crave fattening foods. Some of them show

The funeral was held from the funeral home of Owens and Barth at Charleston, the Rev. Charles Harrington, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, officiating. Interment was made in the family burial plot near St. Albans.

Mrs. Walker is survived by two sons and two daughters: Roy B. Walker of Charleston, and W. C. Walker of Florida; Mrs. T. W. Smith, of Prestonsburg, and Mrs. Inez Smith of Charleston; a brother, J. W. Holland of Lawndale, Calif., and a sister, Mrs. A. J. Rutledge, of Crowell, Texas.

CIRCUS COMING

Everywhere you look, you see big attractively colored posters bearing the date of Friday, April 23, announcing the coming of the big Dan Rice Three Ring Circus at Prestonsburg on ball park show grounds, for two performances at 2 and 8 p. m., on that date, and lots of interest is being shown, for this is the first real big circus to be seen in a long time and the Dan Rice Circus is one of the few real big circuses that show some of the smaller cities and now on its 85th triumphant tour. It will be a real pleasure to witness a performance of this circus, for no other show will give such a fine performance for so little money as presented by the Dan Rice Three Ring Circus.

Among the many features of the performance, which lasts over two hours, will be the Ad-Zac herd of performing elephants, that were features of a number of Shrine Circuses the past winter; Marvelous Mary Miller, the queen of the air; "Andy Colno," the chimpanzee with the human brain and a remarkable example of animal intelligence; the original Gentry dogs and ponies; the Olympian troupe of gymnasts; Ling Chung Fu, Chinese acrobat, Danny McPride and a whole troupe of funny clowns and many others that make up a program of rare excellence.

School children under 14, cut coupon from the Circus advertisement and be admitted for the afternoon performance for 15 cents.

Tickets may be secured, in advance the day of the circus at drug store, at the same price charged at the show grounds.

Comets Are Bulkiest and Lightest of Sun's Family

Comets are the bulkiest and lightest members of the sun's family of satellites and seemingly the most erratic. The more that is learned about them, however, the less erratic they appear. They have been considered mysterious objects by all peoples since the earliest times and have been observed with awesome fear, asserts a writer in the New York Herald Tribune.

Comets have lost their status as bearers of dire forebodings of catastrophes among the educated classes, but they still retain a mystical significance for all classes that is easily understood by any one who has seen their flaming tails spread across the heavens. They are fascinating objects even to the astronomers who have found them useful in unraveling some of the mysteries of the heavens. They find in them many mysteries awaiting solution.

The head of a comet has a peculiar structure. It is not a solid body like the planets, but is an aggregation of very small bodies. It is a clump of meteors with a total diameter between 150 and 750 miles. What holds these masses together is a good deal of a mystery. The gravitational attraction which the particles exert on each other seems to be very inadequate and a more powerful cohesive force is required.

Tails that stream out behind the comet as they approach the sun and usually point away from the sun supply another mystery. The explanation that has sufficed in the past is that gases in the metal particles in the head of the comet are forced out by the increasing heat and that the pressure of light forces these gases away from the sun. Some tails are almost at right angles to the line joining the comet and the sun instead of falling directly on this line.

GUNSHOT CHARGE CAUSE OF DEATH

Continued from page one Short Wednesday morning filed a petition and notice of juvenile proceedings against the accused boy, meanwhile a warrant was issued from the county judge's office setting a $3,000 bond. The county attorney stated the case would be tried in a juvenile session of county court on April 26. The boy is under the guardianship of his father until the trial date. The proceedings name the Leedy boy as an infant defendant.

Football Schedule

Coach Greenwell released a tentative schedule for the Blackcats' 1937 season. St. Xavier, of Louisville, Hazard, Barboursville, and Russell are listed as already contracted. There are two open dates and Richmond High and Shelbyville are considered, though negotiations are not closed for Nov. 6 and 13. The planned schedule is as follows: Van Lear—here—Sept. 13. St. Xavier—away—Sept. 25. Bellary—here—Oct. 1. Russell—away—Oct. 9. Barboursville—here—Oct. 16. Whitesburg—away—Oct. 23. Hazard—here—Oct. 30. Open—here—Nov. 6.

Open—away—Nov. 13. Pikeville—away—Nov. 20. Paintsville—away—Nov. 25.

TREES AND SHRUBS PLANTED BY NYA

Continued from page one being replaced and a number will be planted on the highway leading to Pikeville.

It is hoped that all citizens in appreciation of this beautification program of which our town is so badly in need, will help in every way to preserve and protect these plants. The trees planted by the clubs have in some cases been treated badly—the protecting frames were destroyed and in some cases crows were tied to the young trees. Each citizen should appoint himself a committee of one to see that this is not repeated and in this way help to make Prestonsburg a City Beautiful.

OURBACKER VISITS LOCAL EMPLOYEES

Continued from page one of the importance of keeping an accurate record of the account numbers, names and wages paid to all employees whether working part or full time. He said this is necessary in order that employers can make the first detailed wage record return in July of this year and quarterly thereafter. It is from this quarterly return that the Social Security Board is expecting to obtain the necessary record in order to determine the benefit the worker will receive since the monthly tax return does not give any information as to the individual wages.

Employers are encouraged to consult the Ashland office on their problems regarding Social Security and answers to any questions will be promptly given.

You might think that now that Lucille Manners has "arrived" in a top spot in the radio firmament, she would take it easy and rest on her laurels. But the ambitious young soprano is studying harder than ever to retain her present enviable niche—she takes French, Spanish and German lessons once each week.

Charlie McCarthy, mute partner of Ventriquist Edgar Bergen, is probably the only dummy in the world who gets fan mail. Writes a six-year-old feminine admirer: "My mommy lets me stay up one night a week on Thursday to listen to you. I love you! If you will send me your picture, I will send you mine."

The informality which is half the charm of Bing Crosby's Thursday night NBC program would lose its appeal if it were studied and rehearsed. The performers read the lines over beforehand, but the informality itself springs from Crosby's own personality. The great concert pianist, Mischa Levitski, was seen slipping his suspenders off his shoulders while playing in the Crosby Music Hall, and Rose Bampton recently found Bing moving a piano when she arrived for rehearsal.

Most of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt's broadcasts will come from Washington. It has now been decided that her talks will be heard on Wednesdays over the NBC blue network from 7:15 to 7:30 p. m., E. S. T.

Though Francis White possesses a thorough training and background of musical experience, the young singer could scarcely be said to have started at the bottom rung of the ladder of fame. Francis made her professional debut at the Philharmonic Auditorium in Los Angeles, the ultimate goal of many west coast artists.

Radio Row is calling M. H. H.

Joseph, author and director of "Your Unseen Friend," the "Belasco of radio" because he has given so many unknown actors and actresses their first chance.

The unusual thing about radio's top masters of ceremonies is that the stand-outs made their reputations as singers. Outstanding examples are Rudy Vallee and Bing Crosby. Now comes James Melton, long famous as a tenor soloist, who is now making a hit as emcee of the Saturday Night Party on NBC. He continues to sing, however.

Ed East and Ralph Dumke have written two new songs which a poll of musicians indicates will be among the season's hits. The boys are also back on a New York station in their original roles of "The Sisters of the Skillet."

James Melton

In recent weeks, fan mail to "Pepper Young's Family" has reached a new high. It's partly because in recent episodes of the popular serial, Mrs. Young has had her claims to a $25,000 inheritance menaced by a mysterious stranger. More than three hundred dialers have written to Mrs. Young—in private life, Marian Barney—offering suggestions for proving Mrs. Young's claim correct.

Don Wilson is California's one-man chamber of commerce. The jovial master of ceremonies on the Jack Benny program was the happiest man in the world when his New York broadcasts came to an end.

Joe Cook gets his guest stars for that Saturday night show on the spur of the moment. Recently he learned that Stu Erwin was in the studio next to his at Radio City so Joe popped over, had Erwin call Hollywood for permission, then got his signature to a contract. That night Stu watched Joe perform from the control room, and he was on the bill.

Sarah Ann's Cooking Class

There are many ways of serving lamb, which makes it a very satisfactory meat for the housekeeper to serve. Slices from the shoulder or leg are good either served cold or heated in gravy. Lamb en casserole, lamb souffle or lamb mousse are a few of the ways of using left-overs.

Stuffed Shoulder of Lamb
 Select a tender young roast and have the butcher bone it for you. Make a filling by mixing 1-2 cup of finely chopped raw ham, 1-2 cups of soft bread crumbs, 2 tablespoons of fat pork, 1-4 cup of rich milk, a grating of nutmeg, 1 teaspoon of onion juice, pepper and salt to taste. Chop the salt pork fine and cook it until crisp; add the other ingredients and mix well. Stuff the cavity neatly and fasten securely. Rub the outer surface of the meat with butter and lemon juice a little sugar and about 1 teaspoon of cream. Sprinkle with pepper and salt. Place in a hot oven to sear nicely; then lower heat and continue cooking until done, allowing from 2 to 2 1-2 hours. Baste occasionally with the juice in the pan to keep the roast tender and moist. Do not add water unless the meat is very dry.

Baked Lamb Chops
 6 lamb chops, 1 in. thick
 1 cup sliced onion
 3 tablespoons shortening
 4 cups sliced potatoes
 3 cups sliced cucumbers
 2 teaspoons salt
 1-2 teaspoon pepper
 2 cups canned tomatoes
 Sauté the lamb chops on both sides and when brown place in bottom of greased baking pan. Pour the drippings over the chops. Sauté the onions in the shortening until soft and mix them with the potatoes and cucumbers. Season with salt and pepper. Cover the lamb chops with the vegetables and pour the tomatoes over them. Place the cover on the pan and bake 2 hours in an oven 400 degrees.

Curried Lamb
 1 slice onion
 1-2 tablespoons butter
 1-2 tablespoons flour
 3-4 cup lamb stock
 1 teaspoon curry powder
 Salt and pepper
 Cooked lamb
 Cooked peas
 Steamed rice, parsley
 Cook onion, chopped fine, with butter until tender. Add flour and lamb stock, stir until thick. Flavor to taste with curry powder, salt and pepper. Add lamb cut in slices free from fat and let stand in sauce until heated through. Do not allow to boil, as meat will become tough. Put a row of peas in the bottom of a greased ring and fill with cooked rice, mixed with chopped parsley. Unmold on hot platter and fill the center with curried lamb. Garnish with peas and sprigs of parsley.

Lamb Souffle
 Pour 2 cups hot medium white sauce over 3 beaten egg yolks, stirring constantly. Cool and then add 2 cups minced lamb, 1-2 teaspoon minced parsley, 1-2 teaspoon minced onion. Fold in 3 beaten egg whites. Pour into a greased casserole, set in pan of hot water and bake in oven 375 degrees for 45 minutes.

Lamb Mousse
 1 cup hot lamb broth
 3 egg yolks
 1-4 teaspoon paprika
 1 cup cooked lamb finely chopped
 1 tablespoon cold water
 2-3 cup evaporated milk
 Few grains cayenne
 1 tablespoon gelatin
 Beat egg yolks slightly, add salt and paprika. Stir constantly, while gradually adding lamb broth. Cook over hot water until mixture thickens. Add gelatin which has been softened in cold water. Stir until dissolved. Add lamb. Season highly with salt and cayenne. Chill until mixture thickens. Whip evaporated milk—which has been heated and thoroughly chilled—until stiff. Fold into mixture. Pour into a ring mold which has been lined in cold water. Chill until firm. Unmold and fill center with finely shredded cabbage, minced green pepper and minced pimento which have been marinated in French dressing one half hour. Garnish with mound of shredded carrots, turnips and beets.

THE FARM AND HOME

(Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station)
 Herjaches, backaches and nervous troubles are sometimes caused by improperly fitted or the wrong kind of shoes. It is especially important that properly fitted shoes be worn during the growing years, if the feet are to be free from aches and pains in adult life.

Lack of good water helps to reduce livestock profits on many farms. Where at all possible, water should be piped from springs, streams or wells to concrete tanks, so that a clean, fresh supply will be available at all times.

For 24 hours after farrowing, give the sow nothing but clean water. Then begin with a thin slop, gradually increasing the feed until she is on full feed in a week or 10 days, which will be about 4 pounds of grain a day to 100 pounds of weight.

To screen the house well use No. 16 mesh screen wire. This will keep out mosquitoes as well as flies. Full-length screens hung on hinges at the top, and with close fitting frames which hook at the bottom, are most satisfactory.

If a commercial starter is used for baby chicks do not give milk, but use water instead, since commercial feeds usually contain sufficient protein. County agents know how to make good home mixtures for poultry.

A septic tank is the best disposal, as it is water tight and the overflow is passed out through the soil where bacteria, air and sunlight purify it. The system should be installed with care, if later trouble is to be avoided.

Watch Your Kidneys!
 Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste
 Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.
 Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder may be burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
 There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

DOANS PILLS

Your worst enemy won't do you nearly as much harm as you might do yourself.

"HOUSECLEAN YOUR SKIN!"

Don't be satisfied to give it merely a lick-and-a-promise. Half-way cleansing measures are responsible for many blemishes, such as enlarged pores, blackheads, dry and scaly skin. When you clean your skin—"houseclean" it.
 What you want is a penetrating face cream such as Lady Esther Face Cream is. Lady Esther Face Cream actually penetrates the pores and does it in a gentle and soothing manner. It goes to work on the imbedded waxy matter—breaks it up—dissolves it—and makes it easily removable. When your skin is really clean it resumes its natural softness, smoothness and fineness.
 As Lady Esther Face Cream cleanses the skin, it also lubricates it. It resupplies it with a fine oil that keeps it soft, smooth and supple. Try Lady Esther Face Cream today and see how your skin responds.

"Not tonight. I won't let you." "I can't stay here." "Yes, you can. Let us talk things over quietly—decide what is best to be done."

The roots of habit and of home are mighty in their strength, sturdy in resisting an attempt to break away. But he could not occupy the bed so close to her, knowing—

"Not Tonight. I Won't Let You."
in his eyes and dropped her own. A disturbance urgent as the vibration from a humming wire ran up the inner part of her arm.

Joan rose to go, extended his hand. "Good-by, nice of you to be home." "Wasn't it? I'm that way—nice," she said carelessly.

He kissed her. It was not the hasty self-conscious kiss of a bumpkin, yielding to a furtive desire, but a deftly slow meeting of his lips with hers.

They had both laughed with soft understanding and self-excuse—a kiss?—what was a kiss between friends? She rebuked herself afterward for her response.

He brought her an illustrated weekly. The others were near by. "This is the advertisement I told you about. Pretty clever, eh?"

She was in a dull mood that January day when Cun called. "Hello, how do you like this blizzard? . . . Don't you need a man who is out-of-work to clean off your sidewalks?"

She gave her consent. After all it was a kind thing to do—even Hugh would approve. Cun was feeling down. No job—poor fellow!

Fluvanna puzzled her at first. She was not the traditional mother-in-law. Could anyone so generous, so wisely kind, so free from envy or criticism exist?

When she met the Whitneys, she had found in them a congenial couple for bridge, conversation, or an outing. Joan was clever; Cun couldn't talk of books or plays or music, and swept away the idea of their having significance for anyone else with a magnificent ridicule.

Cun was always decorous in his manner toward her, but secretly she recognized a quality that moved her. "You're my own kind!"

One December day Cun had dropped by with a silver tray which Joan had borrowed, and lingered to talk by the crackling fire.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are an effective laxative. Sugar coated. Children like them. Buy now!—Adv.
