MEREDITH CHOSEN BY DISTRICT VETS AS LEGION LEADER

Two-Day District Convention Here Attended By 4,000 Persons

APPROXIMATELY 4,000 ARE PRESENT SATURDAY

Drum, Bugle Corps Present From Paintsville, Pikeville, Jenkins and Hazard

Arch Meredith, Jenkins, was elected 10th district American Legion commander here Sunday, culminating a two-day district convention which attracted approximately 4,000 persons to Prestonsburg in spite of intermittent showers.

Meredith, also newly-elected commander of the Jenkins Bradley Burkhart post, succeeds Paul Calvert, Salyersville.

The election of the new commander followed a day of parades Saturday, when Legionnaires from posts throughout the district's 10 counties marched in review through the streets decorated in red, white and blue. They were led by drum and bugle corps from Jenkins, Pikeville, Hazard and Paintsville.

Highlights of the convention's first day were a banquet at the Auxier hotel and the Commander's Ball at the Club Rustique, rented for the occasion by Legion officials here.

Local Legionnaires said they were pleased with the attendance here, although it was less than expected because of the rain and the absence of Governor B. Chandler, who, they claimed, promised he would attempt to be here.

This Town-- That World

(By JAMES B. GOBLE)

WE'RE GETTIN' HIGH HAT

One of America's top-flight magazines, the American Mercury, this month in its Americana division, reworded-for-word a recent handwritten letter by Sheriff Dial Salisbury, in his campaign for Sheriff, that was printed in The TIMES as an advertisement. One mistake occurred in the reprinting, however, in county, Indiana, rather than in county, Kentucky, was referred to as the source of the "literary."

SALE

When there's the gentleman who goes into Clark's drug store and the youthful star salesman, Branham, to see the proprietor. He scratched his head, found Curtis, the drug store owner, in the back end, and asked, "Curtis, do we have any proprietors?"

RIDE "THUMBER"

JAILED HERE UNDER NEW STATE LAW; RELEASED WITHOUT FINE

Charged on jail records with "thumping a ride," Alex Frazier, about 45 years old, World War veteran, was jailed by Deputy Constable Lonnie Hall Sunday, probably being the first man in the state arrested under Kentucky's new law prohibiting hitch-hiking. The law went into effect June 1.

Following the arrest made on the Mayo Trail near Betsy Layne, Frazier was dismissed without a fine by Magistrate Daniel Akers.

RURAL SCHOOLS TO OPEN JULY 5

One Suit Filed By Unhired Rural Teacher Dropped, Says Hall

Superintendent Town Hall announced this week that opening date for Floyd county's rural schools had been set for July 5 by the Board of Education. School supplies, including free text books, are now being received at the Superintendent's office.

This year's opening date, as was last year's, is two weeks earlier than usual, cutting from the rural school year two weeks of wintry weather for the benefit of rural pupils, and to reduce fuel costs, the Superintendent said.

He announced that a meeting of rural teachers would be held in the gymnasium here July 1. The program will have as its theme rural school progress.

The Superintendent also announced that one of the suits filed against him and the Board of Education by five unhired rural teachers had been dropped "without prejudice." The suit dropped was that filed by Walter Price.

CROPS DAMAGED BY HEAVY RAINS

Wayland, Glo Report Dwellings Flooded By Ram-paging Waters

Crop damage running into thousands of dollars was caused by streams which overran their banks as heavy rains fell throughout the county over the week-end.

At Wayland and Glo several houses were flooded during Sunday night's downpour, and all down the valleys of both Right and Left Beaver Creeks corn crops suffered heavily.

Up the smaller creeks rampaging streams inflicted particularly heavy damages in the bottom lands, corn past the second and third "hoing" being either entirely washed out of the ground or laid flat and covered by mud.

From the Mud Creek section, Toler Creek in particular, come reports of unprecedented waters. Sunday's rain here almost nullified proceedings of the American Legion convention.

PIANO RECITAL

Mrs. Oscar P. Bond announces that a piano recital will be given by her pupils at 8:15 o'clock on the evening of July 1 at the Baptist Church.

Ryan Motors To West, Brings "Cyclone" Home

G. D. Ryan, Martin, returning from the Shriners' convention in Los Angeles, Calif., a few days ago, brought a Cyclone home with him. (As what married man has not?)

While motoring through Texas, he missed by only a few miles one of the most destructive tornadoes that state had ever experienced. Hours later, passing through the devastated area, he saw an "orphan of the storm"—a little dog.

The dog was promptly taken into his car, brought home. As promptly, he named the derelict "Cyclone."

APPROXIMATELY 125 WARFIELD EMPLOYEES ATTEND BANQUET HERE; RECEIVE MEDALS FROM COMPANY BASED UPON YEARS OF SERVICE

Approximately 125 employees and officials of the Warfield Natural Gas Company were present at the Auxier hotel here last Friday evening for an "Emblem Presentation" dinner as medals, based upon years of service to the company, were presented employees.

With Congressman A. J. May as toastmaster, the program featured additional picture, page 8 talks by J. P. Chenoweth, Charleston, Warfield public relations commissioner; R. A. Robinson, Charleston, assistant treasurer; R. C. Rowan, division superintendent; Roy Leard, head of the local office; E. P. Arnold, J. W. Howard, H. M. Baker, Charleston official; and Circuit Judge John W. Caudill.

Arranged by R. C. Leard, a musical program featured Mrs. Fanny Jarrell's Happy Hollow Hot Shots. At the piano Mrs. J. D. Thomas rendered the accompaniment for vocal selections. After the banquet the medals were presented by Mr. Chenoweth to the company's various superintendents, who in turn, presented them to the employees. The medals were based on the number of years the employees had served the company, ranging from five to 25 years or more.

Those receiving medals: 25 Years Service or More Harrison Booth, Warfield; W. W. Compton, Prestonsburg; Joe Cumpston, Warfield; R. C. Leard, Prestonsburg.

CORNETT PASSES IN TENN., SUNDAY

Prominent Local Man Dies In Memphis Hospital, Rites In Kansas

A. D. Cornett, 54 years old, prominent Prestonsburg citizen, succumbed Sunday at 5:50 p. m., in the Baptist Memorial hospital, Memphis, Tenn., the victim of a stomach tumor after several years of ill health. He was a native of St. Paul, Neb.

Mr. Cornett, who came here from Oklahoma in 1927, was superintendent of compressor stations for the Kentucky and West Virginia Gas Company. He started working with the gas company's parent organization, the Byllesby interests, in 1917. Prior to his death he had been off duty two months.

A member of the Baptist Church and a Mason, he and his wife, who survives, became well liked and prominent in local affairs immediately after they moved here. They had no children.

Among those from Prestonsburg attending the funeral at Independence, Kansas, were Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Kishpaugh, Everett Lemaster, F. C. White and J. E. Allen.

Congressman and Mrs. A. J. May, Mrs. C. B. Latta and son, Cliff, Jr., arrived home from Washington last week upon the adjournment of Congress.

"Jesse James" Is Jailed--- Had Appeared At Martin

"Jesse James" is jailed. He was arrested on a tip by Boyd County Sheriff E. K. Rose who remembered that a man who styled himself thusly had made a personal appearance at an Ashland theater and others in this section, among them the Martin theater, this count-

ty. Sheriff Rose received a telegram stating that "Jesse James," alias John James, was an Illinois penitentiary parole violator and was wanted.

The Sheriff remembered advertisements billing the wanted man as "Jesse James, the notorious Missouri outlaw," so he "saddled his steed" and "with a six-shooter in each hand" hid himself from Catlettsburg to Ashland only to find that the "outlaw" had left town.

The Sheriff traced him to Huntington, W. Va., then to Logan. Surmising that his next stop would be Charleston, the Sheriff notified officers that he might be found there—and he was.

The Sheriff received a telegram Monday stating that "Jesse James" had been captured, asking him to forward the warrant for James' arrest to the West Virginia capital.

Paroled from Illinois penitentiary in 1927, James has been touring the smaller theaters posing as the noted outlaw, and since January 1929, when his arrest as a parole violator was sought, kept "one jump ahead" of the law until he reached Charleston.

P'BURG MAN

LEARNS TO MAKE PIES, CAKES AND SALADS AT STATE COLLEGE

C. C. C. camp cookery will improve if Theodore Burchett, Prestonsburg, has anything to do with it.

A member of the Morehead camp, No. 1559, he is attending a 12-day school at Morehead State Teachers' college listening to lectures on the finer points of making cakes, pies, and salads, a press release from the college states.

The college is cooperating with the Morehead camp, sponsors of the school, by donating the use of their home economics kitchen and the services of the departmental director, Myrtis W. Hall.

Burchett and 16 other enrollees from eastern Kentucky camps listen daily to one-hour lectures, then practice cooking for a two-hour period.

Frankfort, Ky., June 13—It is mandatory that county budgets approved by the fiscal courts be published for public information, Guy H. Herdman, assistant Attorney General, said today in a memorandum to Grant County Judge Ernest N. Chipman, Williamstown.

ROBINETTE DIES IN FIELD NEAR HOME

Jury Claims Heart Failure Fatal To Aged Harold Farmer

Death by heart failure was the verdict of the jury empaneled by Magistrate Daniel Akers Sunday morning to investigate the death of E. S. Robinette, 78, Harold, found lying in his garden with a hoe handle across his chest. Alone at the time death struck, the aged man was discovered about 7:30 a. m.

Funeral services were held from his home Tuesday at 2 p. m., with burial being made in a cemetery nearby.

Mr. Robinette was one of the section's most widely related men, and was highly esteemed.

In addition to his wife, Betty, he is survived by the following sons and daughters: Watt, Pikeville; and George, Will, Charles, King, and Fred, all of Harold. Daughters are Mrs. Martha Martin, Minnie; Mrs. Sarah Martin, Drift; Mrs. Sis Turner, Drift; Mrs. Elizabeth Evans, Hunter; and Mrs. Verdie Smith, Betsy Layne.

RANSELL NAMED FOR MASON UNIT

Floyd Health Chief Elected To Outstanding Health Department

While the Floyd county health department still is faced with suspension July 1 due to the fiscal court's refusal to appropriate necessary funds, it became known this week that the department's chief, Dr. Marvin Ransdell, has been elected to a similar position with the Mason county department, one of the outstanding departments in Kentucky.

Dr. Ransdell, now at the University of Kentucky working for his master's degree in public health, which when received will be the first ever conferred by the University, said that he had "not yet made up his mind to accept the Mason county appointment as he was re-elected director of the Floyd health department." ## SHEEP RAISING IS PLANNED TO BE LAUNCHED ANEW

County Agent Plans To Stock 75 Farms This Summer

BENEFITS OF SHEEP RELATED BY ISBELL

Six Farmers Promise Cooperation And Will Be First To Stock Farms

With cooperation promised by Floyd county farmers, County Agent S. L. Isbell announced this week that a sheep raising program would be launched in Floyd this summer, with the starting goal, an expected stocking of 75 farms with approximately 500 sheep.

Farmers who have already promised cooperation and who will be among the first to stock their farms are, Malcolm Hubbard, Dock; Jim Harmon, Bonanza; Ottis Conley, Bonanza; Dan Prater, Hueysville; R. C. Elliott, Orkney; and Willie Music, East Point.

Agent Isbell said that the program would attempt to make sheep raising one of the county's greatest occupations as it was in former years when sheep outnumbered all other Floyd livestock.

"Sheep raising now has a chance to come back," he added, "because of the county's increased acreage in grass."

Citing the benefits of sheep for the farmer, he explained that two incomes would be received annually, one from lambs, the other from wool. He said that sheep would also aid fertility, and would destroy brush and weeds.

The County Agent's announcement followed a "Mountain Sheep Day Program" at Paintsville last week. Most of the farmers who have promised cooperation were present at the program with Mr. Isbell.

The program: The Place for Sheep on Eastern Kentucky Farms—Richard C. Miller, sheep specialist, University of Kentucky's College of Agriculture.

Types of Western Ewes—R. F. Cox, Kansas State College.

Financing a Sheep Project—Dr. Lloyd Meade.

Hays, Pastures and Cover Crops—S. C. Jones, University of Kentucky's College of Agriculture.

A Safe Agricultural Program—R. H. Lickert, assistant State agent.

Following the program there was an exhibition and discussion of sheep by delegations of farmers present from the following counties: Floyd, Johnson, Pike, Magoffin, Morgan, Elliott, Boyd and Martin.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

AMERICA'S CHALLENGE

It is a CHALLENGING CONTRADICTION that America, with the fruits of the earth in abundance, has hunger, poverty, fear and crime also in abundance. Why should there be hunger in a land of PLENTY? Why should there be FEAR in a country consecrated to the principles of security and freedom? Why should there be crime in a society that honors its people for their virtues and rewards them for industry, honesty and thrift? Certainly we have not MADE THE MOST of our opportunities in a rich and bountiful and FREE country. Hungry and impoverished and unemployed people indict and CHALLENGE us. But they DO NOT CHALLENGE AMERICAN PRINCIPLES. They do not challenge the inspired vision of a prosperous and happy country which the founders of America sought to make a REALITY. They do not challenge the REALITY ITSELF. America has in the past achieved prosperity and happiness BEYOND ALL HUMAN DREAMS. It has brought the fruits of the earth to greater masses of people than has ever before been true in all history. America has pursued no delusion. It has come closer to universal enjoyment of the abundant blessings the earth affords than any other land. Its people have been blessed by greater assurance of security and freedom than any other people. American principles have ENDURED. The American system has WORKED. Never should we lose sight of this FACT. Nowhere in all this world are human affairs being conducted in a better way than the time-proven AMERICAN WAY. Nowhere else have men conceived principles and ideals more worthy than American principles and ideals, more sure of guiding humanity toward its age-old goal of a world free of poverty and crime.

Of course we have not applied American principles to our lives and country as fully as we might have done. The continuing prevalence of hunger and fear and poverty and CRIME attest this failure. But it is OUR failure. The fault is not with the profound and eternal principles of JUSTICE and TOLERANCE and LIBERTY, which are the indestructible AMERICAN FOUNDATION. The fault belongs to those of us who have not LIVED UP to American ideals. The RIGHT ROAD, the RIGHT DIRECTION and the RIGHT GOAL means nothing to the man who loiters by the wayside or strays from the path. They mean nothing to the man who, having the way to universal prosperity and peace and happiness pointed out to them and MADE CLEAR for them, fail to GO THAT WAY. America, throughout its amazing and progressive history, has been on the RIGHT ROAD. America has been going in the RIGHT DIRECTION. America has been headed for the RIGHT GOAL. But it is up to the American people to achieve and EARN the happy destiny that they may so surely attain. Their failure to come closer to it than they have already done is the fault of WEAK POLITICIANS and FOREIGN MINDED theorists. Hunger and fear and crime are the RICE of their folly. If ever the abundant fruits of the earth, which are inexhaustible in America, are to bless us ALL, the living of American life according to American principles, must be accepted as the OBLIGATION of all. We need discover no NEW principles. We need borrow neither ideas nor systems from other countries. The American way is the RIGHT WAY to go forward toward eventual banishment of the fear and poverty that blights so many of our people. And AMERICANISM is the light that will guide us to that attainable AMERICAN GOAL.

Between 70 and 80 "new" Old-Age pensioners will go on the payroll in this county July 1, Harry T. Hill, of the Floyd County Old Age Assistance office, said last week.

Twenty-nine Floyd pensioners were removed from the old-age eligibility list last December. There are now approximately 400 persons receiving this assistance, and Mr. Hill said Floyd county's future maximum will not greatly exceed that figure.

The new recipients of assistance will go on the payroll July 1, when the Legislature's $50,000 appropriation of additional funds becomes available.

The Floyd office force is composed of Mr. Hill, Miss Katherine Stratton and German Vance. Persons desiring an interview with the workers are requested to come to the office in the Odd Fellows' building here on Wednesdays.

FLOYD HEALTH NEWS

By DR. MARVIN RANSELL

THE "TEENS"

By the time our young men and women reach the "teens," they think they have outgrown the necessity of foods that "are good for them." The urge for self expression sometimes manifests itself in queer hours, queer meal times, and queer fads of diet.

Milk is as always the complete food for any age, young or old, and if milk as an essential of the diet has become a habit during childhood and early school days we do not need to fear for the health and well being of our young people who rush off from school or play with such energy.

During the high school period, growth both physical and mental is very rapid and the body needs as always those foods which contain the best and most essential building materials.

School work, social activities and athletics can not be sustained by an inadequate diet. Dangers of malnutrition are ever near when food is unwisely chosen.

A simple but sure rule of healthful diet is: eat anything your fancy chooses as long as you include fresh fruits, vegetables and plenty of dairy products.

A merry sparkle in the eye, happiness that comes from perfect health—the wholesome growth that comes from hardy, well nourished systems—all these we may have if milk is our daily food in sufficient quantity. Use grade "A" milk.

ROUND 'N' ABOUT BONANZA

(BY DOCIA BALDRIDGE)

Attempting a stab at "local news" for the first time in several weeks makes me feel as desperate as the Irishman who purchased a pair of boots and, after making an effort to get into them, finally cried: "I'm going to have to throw these boots two or three weeks before I can get them on!"

The condition of Mr. Bill Merritt, who has been seriously ill for the past three weeks, remains unimproved. James Short and Milt Stanley have recently been appointed road supervisors here.

MOTORISTS' SAFETY RULES

Statistics have shown that most motor accidents occur in clear weather, on paved dry highways, and that often they involve those who are experienced, physically fit and sober and consider themselves careful drivers.

The first great essential is to have control of your car and the next is to see that it is always in road-worthy condition. AND at all times observe the rules of the road.

These rules are reasonable. Even in cases where one or two may seem extreme, it is always better to observe them on the principle that it is better to be safe than sorry.

- 1. I will drive more carefully. 2. I will not pass a car unless I have 300 yards of clear vision ahead. 3. I will not pass a car until I have looked in my rear vision mirror to be sure no car is bearing down from behind. 4. I will not jump traffic lights nor drive through red lights while the signal is changing.

MINERS MAY NOT GET COMPENSATION JAN. 1, IF NUMBERS NOT HAD

Frankfort, Ky., June 11—Workers who fail to obtain social security account numbers may discover, when benefits for unemployment become payable January 1, that their failure has cost them their benefit rights, Jack Wert, chief accountant for the Kentucky Unemployment Compensation Commission, declared today.

The Commission, Wert explained, must keep a wage record for each worker. The worker's right to receive benefits, his weekly benefit amount and the duration of his benefits are all governed by the amount of wages received over certain periods of time.

"In order that a worker's wages may be properly credited to his record, it is necessary that he obtain an account number," Wert said. "The name of the worker, alone, is not sufficient to enable the Commission to keep the accurate record necessary for payment of benefits. In numerous cases the same name will appear hundreds of times on the Commissioner's records. Without the account number the Commission would be unable to determine which record was applicable to the particular case."

Wert revealed that wage reports of workers for the first three quarters of 1937 showed approximately 70 per cent of the total number of workers had failed to obtain account numbers. Casual labor, employed for a few days after the flood last year, accounted for a large part of this number, Wert said.

Wage reports for the last quarter of 1937 and the first quarter of 1938, now being received, show a general improvement in the situation, but there are still many workers who should obtain numbers, Wert declared.

$1.50 Per Year Payable In Advance

NORMAN ALLEN, Editor
JAMES B. GOBLE, Associate Editor

Entered as second class matter June 18, 1927, at the postoffice at Prestonsburg, Ky., under the Act of March 3, 1879.

THE TIMES ENDORSES

1. Floyd county for Floyd countians.
2. Immediate completion of the Left Beaver and Johns Creek road.
3. Completion of all Farm-to-Market roads, by W. P. A. labor if possible, maintenance of these routes by the state rural road fund.
4. A trade-at-home policy followed by merchants and customers alike.
5. Full co-operation with all county and city officials, insisting that lawmakers and enforcement officers themselves obey the law to the letter.
6. Continuance of the Floyd county health department and county agricultural agent work.

REMOVE THE CAUSE

As THE TIMES has previously stated, Prestonsburg should not be a trap for every bar-fly in Floyd county.

This statement is made without any intention, implied or otherwise, of criticising the officers of the law.

The officers have one job—to preserve the peace, to enforce the law; we have another—to set down in type, as accurately as possible, the record as it stands, without bias or malice. From one source THE TIMES hears only recriminations of officers; from another comes plausible excuses for their actions. For these reasons THE TIMES hesitates to judge of the movements of these peace officers.

It is a matter of common knowledge, however, that Prestonsburg is in ill repute over a wide territory because of activities of officers in and about the town. It is known that many of this trade area give the county seat a wide berth, either because they have already been dealt with sternly or because they fear future arrest and imprisonment.

As soon as possible, Prestonsburg's citizens should be whisky out. Under the present set-up, it is as legal to sell whisky here as it is for distillers to make it elsewhere; ergo, it must be legal to drink it. What follows causes the trouble, and the town, its business and its future should not be obliged to suffer the blighting consequences.

THE TIMES does not assume the role of reformer in advising this. From the economic angle, from the standpoint of protecting the town and its future against the dreaded "Black-list," do away with legal whisky.

Let other places take the blame then. We cannot afford to attract people here, sell them whisky in the name of the law, then have them leave cursing the place—whether justly or unjustly—because they were arrested and convicted of drunkenness, in the name of the law.

A CUSTOMER BOILS OVER

In a Brooklyn, N. Y., restaurant recently a customer ate his meal placidly, drank his coffee, then suddenly arose and shot the proprietor dead. He claimed that the coffee tasted like poison. Although the man was obviously deranged, and the proprietor unfortunately unable to appreciate the joke, the episode provided an opportunity for countless wits to observe that "the punishment fitted the crime." Even the staid New York Herald-Tribune, usually devoted to more important events, ran an editorial on the episode in which it was pointed out that "even some of the best eating places in New York serve coffee that would offend a famished cowpuncher at breakfast."

While it is agreed that shooting the proprietor is somewhat drastic punishment for a poor cup of coffee, most of us will agree that many restaurant owners come perilously near the edge of justification. The situation is such that throughout the country, particularly on the Washington avenues that house the embassies of our Latin-American neighbors, eyes are turned hopefully on the educational coffee campaign to be staged by six Latin-American republics.

First step in the campaign, it appears, will be Iced Coffee Week, to be staged during the week of June 27. Already a tremendous amount of educational material has been distributed, instructing housewives on the proper method of preparing this cooling summer beverage.

It is an important first step. If the housewife—and eventually that calloused individual, the coffee-careless restaurant owner—can be taught to make iced coffee that is not wishy-washy with melted ice, and that hasn't lost most of the delicate flavor nature put in the coffee bean, then perhaps eventually the standards of hot coffee, as served in the restaurant and in the home, can be raised to the place it should be. That accomplished, we can sit back and really pay attention to what is happening in Washington and throughout the nation.

If the effort fails, then—restaurant proprietors beware! That man in Brooklyn man turn out to be the beginning of a Trend!—Industries News Service.

WE ADMIRE

The TIMES sincerely admires Dr.

Marvin Ransdell's attitude.

Offered a position as the director of the Mason county health unit, one of the most outstanding in Kentucky, he has not yet accepted it.

After 10 years spent among the suffering of Floyd county,—10 years spent in making a home with strangers, years in building a superior health unit here,—the Doctor is one of us. This is where he belongs as an adopted son.

And, as an adopted son should rightly feel the Doctor has not yet accepted the Mason county appointment. He is waiting to see whether the Floyd fiscal court will make the long-postponed appropriation to continue the work of the local department.

Never in the fiscal court's squabble with the health department has Dr. Ransdell's work as a public servant been impugned. Although the court seeks a replacement for the position of sanitary inspector, the controversy over which has caused its refusal of an appropriation, never has it for an instant doubted the great worth of his service to destitute, suffering humanity.

The court too, The TIMES is sure, will appreciate Dr. Ransdell's attitude in not considering the Mason county appointment until it becomes absolutely necessary for him to do so.

At the same time, the court should in no way doubt the honor this appointment means, as the Mason county department is picked by the University of Kentucky and the United States Public Health service as a center to train other health officers. That appointment is recognition of the Doctor's worth by the state in a most practical way.

The TIMES hopes that the fiscal court, too, will show its appreciation of the Doctor's worth to us here in the county.

FIGHTING WORDS

In this "enlightened" age one may on occasion with impunity call another a lie-swearer, may even refer to another's ancestry as being somewhat on the doubtful side without suffering a sudden attack of lead poisoning. But never, never let anybody call you a dog-poisoner.

That's a fighting name in any language wherever real men live.

Yet Prestonsburg has one!

THE TIMES this week was glad to learn of County Agent Isbell's new plan for the restocking of Floyd county farms with sheep—few of which are now seen on the county's farms.

Floyd farmers should gladly co-operate with the County Agent in bringing his new program to a quick success, reaping the benefits of sheep.

whose fathers have passed on, only memory can do them honor this day. And in girding ourselves for this tender task the words of Mr. Rice go home to us especially strong and significantly. In my own case it is now a little less than two full turns of the calendar since my fine old father answered the summons that all men must obey. He had labored beyond his four score years. These decades had been lived as he died—with a smile on his face and a song in his heart. He worshiped God and he loved his fellow men. For the erring ones he would fervently pray, binding his appeal with these words, "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do."

Through these long, lonesome two years, since father went away, how I have felt the need of his wise guidance and that wholesome companionship that only a boy and his dad are permitted to share. Never really knew how much he meant to me till the curtain of death has separated us for a little while.

And now that the appeal has come to all of us to remember our sires in some substantial way on Father's Day, I am resorting to the printed word for my contribution not only to the memory of my own father, but to all fathers whose sons and daughters are now potential America. May they not weaken in these days of stress and strain.

A few weeks ago we wore carnations in the lapels of our coats in honoring the name and memory of Mother. Now may we all straighten up, and brush back the hair on our foreheads, that on a manly brow, may be exhibited some of the characteristic traits of father and his lineage. Yes, and may the man behind that manly brow never dishonor the name he bears. A family name is a sacred inheritance. It should be well-guarded, carefully perpetuated and endowed; and, above all, should be exploited only for home, country and God.

This word father is so common that it seldom challenges any analysis into its subtle significances.

A reporter last week at the Barkley speaking, who has been covering the political speakings in this campaign summed up the situation very concisely, we think, when he said the only difference between a Barkley speaking and a Chandler speaking was three 000. That Chandler spoke in millions and Barkley in billions.

FOR FATHER'S DAY

W. B. WARD
(Silver Grove, Ky.)

(Editor's note: Sent the Times too late for publication last week is this tribute written for Father's day.)

Note these well chosen words by Wallace Rice in the book, "To My Dad:"

"Let this be said of fathers. All our thought of God, Creator, heavenly Friend and tender, is surely based, since time began, upon the human fathers here below; and His all-knowing justice, quick to smile upon our goodness, slow to punishment however much deserved, is founded deep upon our knowledge of the kindly men who are our sires, and still our surest friends in all this troubled world. Within their hearts our lives had been, from profoundest love rising within their souls our younger souls took birth, upon our babyhood their eyes rested with gentleness, our stormy youth passed its slow hours with sympathetic light from their lost little days to give it guidance. Their toil, their weariness, their upward flight were all for us, and on this faithful duty performed so well is reared the edifice of our civilization and the dome of state."

How true and how beautifully said! Any father should be proud of a tribute like this. He should feel a shoulder higher and take a new grip on his devotion to life's ideals. Our world will be just about what our fathers make it. To us the coming primary, Gov. Chandler made a state-wide radio address to the voters and threatened to call another special session of the legislature to make the bill effective. The Court of Appeals mandate made this action unnecessary.

A friendly suit was filed last week to see if it was legal to group the various bridge debts into one fund, and pay for them out of one fund secured by combining the revenue from all toll bridges. The highway department, it seems, is still planning on buying the two toll bridges in northern Kentucky at an exorbitant price.

Governor A. B. Chandler declared last week he would join the President's train when it came to Kentucky. It is claimed the President's trip is planned to aid the re-election of Senator Barkley. Regardless of this, the Governor chose the wisest course of action. As Governor of Kentucky, he met the President before and accompanied him to Hodgenville. If he failed to meet him this time the people of Kentucky might resent his action, and on the other hand his presence on the train may prevent the President from making speeches for Barkley in the primary race.

RANDOM SHOTS

John Y. Brown, in introducing Senator Barkley, last week at the Trotting Horse Breeders' track at Lexington, stated the race was between a stake horse and a selling plater. We believe its between two spirited thoroughbreds and will be as exciting to watch as any match race yet run.

Kentucky has its Congressional delegation up for re-election. The House members planning early campaign openings are, Gregory and Vincent, serving their first terms; Creal and O'Neal, who have served two terms; May and Spence, four terms; and Chapman, who has served seven; and Robison, a Republican, who has served eight.

CAPITOL COMMENTS

Senator Barkley opened his campaign in Lexington last week at the "Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' Association" track, in a driving rain that cut the attendance, but did not dampen the ardor of his audience, who greeted his numerous references to President Roosevelt with much applause. His speech of more than an hour took up the phases of agriculture, industry, home mortgages, bank failures, labor and business and the New Deal's treatment of their ailments. He spoke of the Social Security program and its benefits to the aged. He told of the time he rode over the President's veto and voted for the Adjusted Compensation Law for war veterans. He stated that in the last five years, the policies of the New Deal had doubled the income of agriculture and has added perhaps twenty billions a year to the net income of the American people. He announced that he had guided the New Deal program through the Senate for the last twelve months and that if the people approved of its program, to vote for his return to the United States Senate in the August primary.

This column is still your reserve seat for the platform battles of the two candidates and next week we will bring you a blow by blow account of Chandler's opening at Hopkinsville.

The Registration and Purgation Law will be enforced in Louisville and Jefferson county, one hour after the Court of Appeals had departed from the code of practice and issued a mandate, making operative the 1938 law. The law, it is claimed, was dimed primarily at the machine controlled vote in Louisville and Jefferson county, and when it seemed that through technicalities reported in a previous column, that this law would not be effective in Jefferson county for Usually it is just another word with a little more meaning at meal time and on circus days. Now since we are all re-defining father on this father's day, let us take a few minutes out in our study and see just how many wholesome connotations we can read into that common word, FATHER. These old hearts of ours have a habit of hiding away in their minute recesses little meanings that we know not of till a stirring challenge brings them forth in gratitude, song and story. Possibly many who read these lines are themselves fathers. Yes, and maybe, grandfathers, even. Let that be as it may, it goes without proof that very few of us have ever sat down and tried to break up that concept into all of its subtle significances and primal elements so illusive that they baffle the scalpel, the microscope or the prism. About the only way to capture these sly and subtle connotations is to turn on them the floodlights of the soul and capture them unawares by that spiritual screen that only good hearts and devoted sons and daughters know.

If this Father's Day Memorialization does nothing more to cause us to evaluate home and father in their true relations to this day and generation in terms of those finer sentiments always sleeping in our better natures, but, somehow reluctant to flow into acts or words, the occasion will have been very much worth while; and, in the long run, will pay dividends into the spiritual coffers of America, stamped with heart throbs instead of dollar marks.

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

SHOW YO' RAISIN'

The best sermon I ever heard was not intended as such, but, by accident, it was given by a preacher, to be more exact, a colored preacher some 40 years ago. It was summer in the Fidelity neighborhood. For weeks a protracted meeting had been going on at Mt. Zion, where the numerous negroes that worked in Marse Jeffy's tobacco factory and the other farm hands belonged. Several visiting preachers aided the regular minister, and some 36 additions to the church rewarded their efforts. Since Mt. Zion is true to its name and stands on a high, dry hill, it was necessary to bring the converts to the creek in our neighborhood for the baptizing. All the colored people for miles around and fully as many white people were there; the colored ones on the side where there was a sand-bar and hence easy access to the water the whites on the steep bank among the trees. Just why all the white people went I cannot recall, for it was not often that so many would steal away to negro meetings.

Since so many converts were to be baptized, it took some planning, in order not to rush things but still give dignity to the whole event. One preacher stood in the middle of the creek and performed the rites, another stood half-way to the sand-bar, and another stood at the edge of the water to pass the candidates for baptism in and out. Massed on the sand-bar stood the others, led in song by Bill Palmer, a local preacher and exhorter. Bill would line the hymns in the old fashion often inserting lines of his own coining. For example, when a particularly large girl gave a shout just as she reached the sand-bar and fell with a flop, Bill appropriately intoned, "And heal my broken bones."

Sounds of suppressed laughter came from the steep bank, laughter reproved by glances from the older people. Curt, the colored boy who worked on the farm next to ours, pretended to be afraid of the water, in spite of the fact that he had been in a-washing in that hole every day since early spring. He apparently tried to climb the preacher. Actual laughing broke out at this, but the singing and shouting continued unchecked. One funny thing followed another until the whole group of white people, young and old, were actually laughing without any restraint. Then came the sermon. The preacher out in the middle of the stream held up a long, bony finger and in the deep-voiced tones of one of the major prophets said, "Show yo' raisin', white folks, show yo' raisin'."

And then the noise on the bank subsided. If there had been anything to drop a pin on one could have heard it. The people on the other bank, unruffled by the rudeness of the visitors, kept on their way, singing, moaning, shouting, gesticulating, clapping their hands, until all the 36 candidates had been properly inducted into the rites of the church. From then on we who were there have remembered the unexpected sermon of the colored preacher, a sermon that we have wanted to hear many times when so-called superior actors acting in a very inferior way have repeated Brother Marse Jeffy's sermon to hundreds of favored students in college, having that stinging words might find lodgment and make a part of the impression that we of old Fidelity experienced on that summer day in the woods by the creek.

ADVICE TO CORRESPONDENTS

CARS MUST STOP FOR HORSE OR MULE

There is an ordinance on the books of the city of Morehead, which specifies that "automobiles when meeting a horse, mule, any carriage or wagon or pedestrian, must come to a full stop until they have passed." This ordinance was passed when there were a hundred horses to every car in Rowan county and has never been repealed. The penalty prescribed is a $5 fine and one to 10 days in jail.—Rowan County News.

YOU WRITE

(See Town-World)
In copying an article we ran recently regarding the fiscal court ordering Jailer Isaac to remove the small boxed building he was intending to use for a restaurant from county property, the Floyd County Times headed the article "HOW ABOUT A POPCORN CHINE?"

Evidently the head-writer of The Times had been in our neighborhood during the past few weeks, and noticed the popcorn and soft drink stand being operated on the courthouse corner by Harry Francis Patrick. We think his point, although probably made in a sarcastic mood, is well-taken, and that if the county lot is to be commercialized, Jailer Isaac should have at least an equal opportunity to use it.

And our contemporaries of the press may also ask, "HOW ABOUT WATERMELON VENDORS?" and "HOW ABOUT PATENT MEDICINE FAKERS?" Let's be consistent—let 'em all operate, or let 'em all off county property.—Shelby Independent.

ment at the last meeting of the Board of Health."

He added that the fiscal court's failure to appropriate funds for the continuance of the health department here after July 1 may make it necessary for him to accept the new appointment, which he considered, a great promotion.

He said that the Mason county department located at Maysville, was among the top-ranking four in the state, being used as a training center by the University of Kentucky and the United States Public Health service for training officers, nurses, and sanitary inspectors.

A Peculiar Swimming Hazard---

While it is true that swimming is a healthful exercise, yet under certain conditions it causes hazards other than drowning and which are avoidable.

A group of physicians who have made a study of swimming hygiene have issued the following warning:

"Persons with colds, head infections, running nose and ears and catarrh are warned that swimming and diving tend to force the infection into sinuses or ears and result in serious, if not fatal, complications."

If trouble of any kind develops as a result of swimming, or from any cause, you will do well to go to a physician promptly.

If prescriptions are to be filled remember that you should choose your druggist as carefully as your physician. We are prescription specialists.

NO-HITTER TOSSED BY BUCK STUMBO

Weeksbury Held Hitless At Pikeville By Former Drift Hurler

"Buck" Stumbo, former Drift hurler, pitched a no-hit, no-run game for the Pikeville Redlegs Sunday as Weeksbury was downed, 4-0. In the second game of the scheduled doubleheader, Weeksbury got five hits, but dropped the game for their second straight shut-out, 5-0.

The no-hit game was Stumbo's fourth win of the season. According to the boxscore, only 30 men faced him. One went to first when hit by a pitched ball, the other four reaching first on errors. Stumbo did not walk a man. He struck out two.

The second game was stopped after seven innings, the Redlegs winning, 5-0, as Stumbo's team-mate, Webb, held Weeksbury to five hits while Pikeville was collecting nine.

BASEBALL SCORE HITS PEAK, 7,777 TO 7,775

Superior, Wis.—The softball game between the Superior and Minong chapters of the Mystic Knights of the Blue Ox, was by all accounts, quite a battle. Certified public accountants have revealed the score to be 7,777 for Minong and 7,775 for Superior.

The Mystic Knights of the Blue Ox is sort of a perpetual adoration society for Paul Bunyan, mightiest lumberjack of them all. The game was on a big scale, as is everything which concerns mythical Paul. It went 73 innings.

The final Superior run was made by Augie Holmberg, who circled the bases on crutches in four hours and 15 minutes, stopping at third base for lunch. After the game the meat of 16 cows and three acres of potatoes was whipped up into a snack for the Bunyan disciples.

LOCAL D. A. R. CHAPTER CELEBRATES FLAG DAY WITH ANNUAL PICNIC

Celebrating Flag Day here June 14, the John Graham chapter of the D. A. R., held their annual picnic on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Harlowe. Approximately 75 persons present heard an appropriate program and witnessed the installation of officers:

The officers: Kitty S. Sandige, regent; Virginia Ann Stephens, first vice-regent; Elizabeth L. Stephens, second vice-regent; Mrs. Lucy G. Jones, recording secretary; Elizabeth G. Goble, corresponding secretary; Sally Dingus, treasurer; Mrs. R. G. Francis, registrar; and Mrs. A. C. Harlowe, chaplain.

The officers were installed by the retiring regent, Mrs. Ruth Sowards, newly-appointed chairman of the sixth Kentucky district of the D. A. R., chapters. She announced that a joint meeting of districts five and six would be held at Ashland September 23.

The program also featured a display of clothing made by the local W. P. A., Sewing Circle under the supervision of Mrs. Winnie F. Johns.

Method of Obtaining Federal Projects Related

Now that the new relief and public works appropriation bill has been passed and soon will be signed by President Roosevelt, communities and public officials throughout Kentucky and other states of the nation are interested to know how to proceed in order to get their projects considered and acted on promptly.

In the first place, it is necessary to keep in mind the difference between the Public Works Administration and the Works Progress Administration. The Public Works Administration is administered by the Secretary of the Interior, Harold L. Ickes. The WPA is not a part of the Interior Department, but because President Roosevelt appointed Mr. Ickes as the PWA administrator, he placed this agency in the Interior Department building.

During the life of the PWA, each state had a state director, but when the PWA activities ceased about a year ago and no more grants or loans were made, the state directors were discontinued. There is, therefore, no PWA director in Kentucky.

Since the discontinuance of the state directors, the activities of the PWA have been directed by regional directors having jurisdiction of several states. Kentucky is in the region of which Atlanta, Ga., is headquarters. All applications for new projects and all correspondence concerning old and new projects should be addressed to the regional director of Public Works Administration, Atlanta, Ga.

It is planned that loans and grants under the WPA will continue on a 45-55 per cent basis. That is, grants will be made up to 45 per cent of the cost of the project and loans will be made up to 55 per cent of the cost of the projects approved. Grants may be made without loans, and loans may be made without grants.

A large number of projects are on file in Washington which were approved by the state director, but were not acted on finally in Washington. Some of these will undoubtedly be taken up and approved, because work can be started on them without delay. But opportunity will be given for the consideration of new projects not heretofore filed. However, inasmuch as the new act provides that no projects will be eligible that cannot be started within six months and completed in 18 months, it is advisable that new applications contemplated should be filed with as little delay as possible in order to come within the time limit.

There will be $606,000,000 available for old and new Public Works projects.

The Works Progress Administration is under the direction of Harry L. Hopkins, Washington, D. C., Geo. H. Goodman with headquarters at Ninth and Broadway, Louisville, is the Kentucky director.

WPA projects are required to be locally sponsored, but the local contribution may depend on the circumstances. It is not based on a rigid per centage. The same time limitation on projects applies under the WPA. That is, they must be started within six months and completed in 18 months.

HOW ABOUT NO HEAD AT ALL?

We've been chuckling all week over an item we recently reprinted from the Salyersville Independent in our "Round Kaintuck" column, where we put humorous items and gems of Kentuckiana. The item told of the Magoffin county fiscal court ordering the jailer to remove the restaurant he was building from county property. And in keeping with the column we attempted in our own vague style to write an appropriate head, "How About a Pop-Corn Machine?"

Our chuckles began when this week we learned from the Salyersville Independent that on the courthouse lot there, a popcorn machine was really being operated, and that our head gave a decidedly sarcastic outlook to the whole thing. The Salyersville editor naturally surmised that we had seen the pop-corn machine and had asked a sarcastic question in the headline. But the news that a pop-corn machine was actually there was a surprise to us.

However, the Salyersville editor said the point was well-taken. In his last week's paper he editorialized, saying that the pop-corn machine should be removed or the jailer should be allowed to complete the building of his restaurant. "Treat 'em all alike," he adds. We reprinted his complete article in "Round O" Kaintuck" again this week.

CONVENTION SIDE-LIGHTS

There were many blue-faced Legionnaires in the parades Saturday. Some of them looked mighty peevish. Those blue, crepe paper caps they wore began to fade as they perspired giving not only their faces and hair a bluish tinge, but their shirts and coats as well. . . . According to what everyone says, the Jenkins Drum and Bugle corp took the town. And the town took their pretty drum major. One old lady was heard to say, "Well, if she aint the cutest thing in Prestonsburg. . . . James Morell said that when she led the Jenkins corp past his store, Lenny Moore, who had been waiting on a customer stood on a nail keg to see the procession and rang up $100 on the cash register for a 10c sale. . . . Personally we wondered why on earth Prestonsburg citizens lining all parade routes didn't applaud when the four different drum

Law For Fish, Squirrels Explained By Commission

Minnow Seine Measurements Told By Conservation Department

Frankfort, Ky., June 23—Now that the state's season on all species of fish is open, anglers are urged to know all state regulations pertaining to minnow seining that they do not run afoul of the game and fish laws and know how best to protect the live bait supply.

Kentucky's fishing regulations are specific in their jurisdiction over minnows. The seines used must not be more than 10 feet long and four feet in width or height, with mesh not larger than one-quarter inch. Any fish other than minnows and minnows too small for bait must be returned uninjured to the water. The definition for "minnows" as set out in the new Game and Fish Code bill means: "All small fish used for bait for angling except black bass, trout, crappie and rock bass or 'goggle-eye,' jack salmon or wall-eyed pike, or striped bass."

It is good conservation to handle your minnow supply carefully so that losses are low. If minnow buckets are not supplied with air pumps water should be changed frequently or the bucket placed in a stream or lake. A minnow bucket should not be towed behind a rapidly moving boat. All remaining minnows should be carefully dumped into the water at the end of a fishing trip.

A minnow is not just a small fish but is a distinct species of fish and should not be confused with small Kentucky game fish. Usually minnows do not exceed three inches in length.

It is as important to conserve minnows for food supplies for game fish as it is the game fish themselves. The Division of Game and Fish urges everyone to learn the law and avoid violation.

and bugle corps maneuvered by. Seems that was the least they could do since it was the corps who did most to make the convention a success.

TOO LOW

Winchell pulled this one: A California gentleman had been speeding when a motorcycle cop caught him. Calmly he asked, "Was I driving too fast, officer?" "Oh, no, buddy," the officer grunted, "just flying too low."

Six Is Squirrel Limit, Season Starts July 1, and Ends October 1

Frankfort, Ky., June 23—The state hunting laws in regard to squirrels are few and simple but the responsibility of the hunter toward this or any other game in Kentucky is even more important, Major James Brown, director of the Division of Game and Fish, states.

With a season extending from July 1 to October 1—these dates being put into effect by the new Game and Fish Code Bill—and a daily bag limit of 6 squirrels allowed by the new law, it is the duty of every hunter to observe closely the laws and regulations, and see that others observe the rules and practice sportsmanship at all times.

Squirrels, which were born early this year, are now of a size most desired by hunters and within the next several weeks a second litter will make its appearance. With females soon to bear another litter these squirrels may spend much time within their nests. Squirrel nests, therefore, should not be disturbed and under no circumstances should nests be shot into in hope of knocking one of the animals from its retreat.

Squirrels apparently migrate and population reports from various sections of the state vary from year to year. The fox squirrel is most common in Kentucky, being found in all parts of the state while the greys are observed in heavier timbered areas. It is believed that young squirrels produce two litters of from two to four young annually while the greys have two litters of from three to five.

Perry Co., Woman, 78, Slays Daughter-In-Law, Then Hitch-Hikes To Jail

A grandmother of 78, shot and fatally wounded her daughter-in-law Wednesday afternoon following an alleged quarrel over some chickens.

The grandmother, Mrs. Rachel Engle, wife of the late Alfred Engle, who lives just across Troublesome creek from the home of her son, Andrew Engle, a former magistrate, took a pistol, went across the creek and shot her daughter-in-law in the heart.

The son was working in a field nearby when the shooting occurred. Mrs. Engle then caught a ride with Robert Cornett, state highway workman, and gave herself up to the Perry county jailer.

Brainard's "Second" Weed Crop Is Falling Fast

With the "second weeds" falling thick and fast, local farmers will soon have another corn crop cultivated. A good yield seems certain if present weather conditions continue.

Thomas B. Stone, who has been a patient in the State Tuberculosis Sanatorium, Louisville, for some time, has continued to improve and soon expects to finish recovery at home. He writes of remarkable results of sanatorium treatment and reports that there is one other Floyd countyman who is a patient there.

Brainard residents are happier with every scoop of work on the new Middle Creek road project. It is the most talked about project at present.

With the opening of school but a month away and berry pickin' time ahead, our local youngsters expect little rest until late winter, but they are even glad about that. There is something about a country school that makes it a joy instead of a task.

Junior Woods, who is getting to be quite a young man, is working hard these days. He "kills" weeds as if he were killing snakes.

Mrs. Tom Adams, after some visits to a Paintsville hospital, is somewhat improved. We are hopeful of her early recovery.

All of "Uncle" Jeff Sizemore's friends here are wishing him an enjoyable trip east and a happy reunion with his fellow veterans.

CONSOLIDATION OF REGISTRARS SEEN

One Vital Statistics Registrar To Be Located With Health Unit

One registrar of vital statistics, located in the county's health department, will supplant the many registrars now located in various sections throughout the counties of the state, it was announced by the Floyd county health department this week.

Under the new plan, which becomes effective July 1 with the expiration of the present registrar's commissions, all hospitals, physician, midwives, or any person present at a birth or death, will be required to notify the county health department. Birth certificates and burial permits will be issued by the health department with the charge of 25c per certificate remaining effective.

In asking the cooperation of hospitals, physicians and midwives, the Floyd county health department announced that, after the new plan began operating, the county's vital statistics each week would be sent to the Floyd County Times for publication.

Details of the plan of consolidation are being arranged by Dr. P. E. Blackerby, director of the State Bureau of Vital Statistics, Louisville.

5c BEER

SALESMAN SOUGHT AS RESTAURANT REPORTS NINE CASES STOLEN

Deputy Sheriff Tom James this week said that efforts of a youthful salesman, Troy Conley, 14, who tried to sell bottled beer in Prestonsburg at 5 cents per bottle, later resulted in a search for him when the theft of nine cases of beer was reported at Conley's restaurant. There is no relation between the youth and restaurant owner.

The officer said that the youth, probated in his mother's custody after a recent trial here for stealing pipe-fittings at the Bank Josephine, was alleged to have carried the nine cases of beer from the restaurant to the vacant room in the building formerly occupied by Ball's restaurant before beginning his brief career as salesman.

The youth, whose home is on Town Branch across the river, has not been seen since he attempted to sell the beer, James said.
