

JOHNSON, BROWN EXPRESS APPEALS TO FLOYD VOTERS

Brown Assails Administration, Promises House-Cleaning, if Elected

JOHN Y. HERE FRIDAY; KEEN SPEAKS MONDAY

Johnson Attacks CIO Leaders As "Communitistic"; Cites Own Labor Record of the primary campaign two of Kentucky's candidates to Floyd County, John Young Brown to Preston and Wheelwright, Thursday last week, and Keen Johnson Monday.

attacking the state administration, Brown charged that although he had $100,000,000 for road-building purposes, its building program has been practically nil. "I'll buy any kind of a new hat if you'll find in this state 20 miles of concrete road built in one stretch by the present administration," he challenged.

"Back when Happy was running for Governor, and I was for him," the speaker continued, "he liked the miners mighty well. When he learned that union labor had endorsed him, he pounded my knee till it was sore, yelling, 'We've got 'em, John—we've got 'em.' But now, when the same men are for me, he's calling them Communists."

"Johnson has declared that he will drive all labor agitators out of the state," Mr. Brown continued. "Before the N.R.A., no labor leader could come into the state, and, if he did, he would be arrested for no other reason than that he was a union man. Keen means he would like to return to the days of 1932 when a man couldn't belong to a union unless he went to jail, where he would be blacklisted so he couldn't get a job. He would like for you to return to the days when you got 75 cents and worked unlimited hours, when your wives were in rags and your children emaciated."

Mr. Brown said Mr. Johnson hadn't obtained the endorsement of a single local union in the state. "The laboring people do not want the candidate of an Administration which uses tanks, tear gas, bullets, bayonets and blood to break a union," he asserted.

INJURIES INFLICTED BY PASSENGER TRAIN CLAIM ALLEN CHILD

Injuries which were sustained when she was struck by a C. & O. passenger train at Allen three weeks ago proved fatal Tuesday at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, to Catherine Edwards, 10-year-old daughter of Mrs. Georgia Caudill, of Allen.

The accident occurred near the railroad turn-table at Allen, as the afternoon train was en route to Martin. When the child was struck, serious head and chest wounds were inflicted.

Surviving, besides the mother, are one sister, one half-brother and one half-sister, all at home.

Funeral services were conducted from the graveside Wednesday, with the Rev. Isaac Stratton officiating. Burial was made in the Mayo cemetery, near Allen, under the direction of the Arnold Funeral Home.

WPA TO RELEASE 752 FROM ROLLS

In Floyd County During August, State Adm. Goodman Announces

Compulsory reduction of relief rolls of the Works Projects Administration in Kentucky to comply with the 1939 Appropriation Act, passed recently by Congress, will be materially felt during August in Floyd county, according to information received this week from George H. Goodman, administrator.

The 1939 act requires that all persons who have received employment on WPA projects for 18 consecutive months, excepting veterans, be released and that their certification be cancelled. In Floyd county 1,389 persons are employed on WPA rolls. In all 752 persons fall within the meaning of the act and must be released before August 1.

The act provides all persons released may re-apply to their local agent for re-certification. All of these re-certified will then be placed in the "awaiting assignment file." Mr. Goodman said. The act, it is said, presumes that persons severed from relief rolls shall find private employment during the thirty days between the time of layoff and the time they become eligible for application for re-certification.

$53,000 DAMAGES ASKED BY PATTON

Johnson Firm Named in Action Filed Here Late Last Week

A $53,000 damage suit was filed in the Floyd circuit court this week for Jack Patton by his father, Adam Patton, against the Kentucky Packers, Inc., Paintsville firm, whose driver is accused of reckless driving and negligence in striking and seriously injuring young Patton at Lackey last October.

At the same time Loren Wolverton, young Patton's playmate, was fatally injured by the truck. He died almost four months later. The Patton boy suffered compound fractures of the legs and arms, and his right leg was amputated.

Weaver Deskins was indicted by the grand jury of the Floyd circuit court last April and was charged with voluntary manslaughter. He claimed that he had been held up, on the night of the tragedy, by two men on the top of the mountain between Jones Fork and Troublesome Creek and that the highwaymen drove off in his truck.

The petition filed for young Patton states that expenses exceeding $3,000 have piled up at two hospitals where he has been a patient. The suit was filed by J. C. Burnette and D. H. Hall, Hindman attorneys.

Democrats In Wrangle Over Poll Challengers

Special Judge Hannah Named To Hear Brown-Johnson Argument Here—Caudill Vacates Bench As Chandler Forces Take Action

Judge Caudill later vacated the bench, and Judge J. B. Hannah, Ashland, was named special judge to hear the case Wednesday afternoon.

Appellate Judge Gus Thomas temporarily enjoined Circuit Judge John W. Caudill late Monday from passing on a Floyd county controversy over challengers for the August 5 primary and set a hearing for Wednesday morning.

The temporary injunction was issued on petition of Jonathan D. Fitzpatrick, chairman of the Floyd County Democratic Committee. It stated 25 candidates, including John Young Brown, had petitioned Judge Caudill to certify their challengers, and Fitzpatrick contended that since Caudill was running for renomination and was "deeply interested" in the primary, he could not give a "fair and impartial" hearing. He said Judge Caudill had refused a request that he vacate the bench.

Those named in Fitzpatrick's petition as defendants in addition to Judge Caudill and Brown, were R. T. Allen, secretary of the county Democratic committee; D. A. Logan, Murray L. Brown, Russell E. Fryman, R. D. Thornbury, Ed B. Dishman, William H. May, Mrs. Floella Smith McDonough, Zeb A. Stewart, H. N. Jones, Garnett Dean, Robert J. Breckinridge, Harry G. Fielder, Miss Ora L. Adams.

KELLY BENTLEY, PIKE CAR VICTIM

Former Hueysville Resident, 28, Struck By Auto At Coal Run

Kelly Bentley, 28 years old, formerly of Hueysville, succumbed at the Methodist hospital, Pikeville, last Thursday, to injuries sustained the preceding Sunday when he was struck by a car, driven by T. H. Williams, Pikeville, at Coal Run.

The driver of the automobile stated shortly after the mishap that Bentley started across the road as he drew near him and ran into the right front door of his machine. The impact, Williams stated, spun him around and the handle on the door of the machine struck him in the back. A fractured rib punctured the victim's lung. Williams picked up the injured man and rushed him to the hospital here for medical attention.

Sol Bentley, father of the victim, stated that his son had difficulty in walking and was struck by a truck on Beaver Creek about a year ago. He stated his son was en route to Floyd county when the fatal accident occurred.

Bentley was born at Hueysville in Floyd county on January 6, 1911, and was the son of Sol and the late Lydia Justice Bentley. Surviving are his father, five brothers and one sister. The body was taken to Hueysville for burial Friday.

PRATER IS KILLED BY P'BURG TRUCK

Brush Creek Tragedy Prostrates Driver, Held Under $2,000 Bond

Sam Prater, 37-year-old Brush Creek man, was instantly killed shortly before noon Tuesday by a Gulf Refining Company truck driven by Virgil Layne, Prestonsburg youth.

Prater was disemboweled and his skull fractured as wheels of the truck passed over his body.

A jury empaneled by Coroner Elliott Prater rendered the following verdict: "We, the jury, agree and find his death was caused by being killed being run over by truck driven by Virgil Layne running at too fast a speed belonging to Gulf Refining Company."

Though no statement was available from young Layne, who was extremely nervous following the tragedy, it was said his truck was en route up Right Beaver and was on the right side of the highway when Prater, walking from the truck of Alka Davis, parked on the opposite side of the road and headed down-Beaver, opposite the garage, stepped into or near the path of the truck. The oil company's truck stopped, a few yards away, after hitting Prater.

The driver was taken to the Gearheart hospital, Martin, unconscious from shock. He later was charged with voluntary manslaughter and executed $2,000 bond.

Drs. Preston and Allen In Charge of Gearheart Hospital

STUMBO NEGOTIATING FOR B.-V. PURCHASE

Beaver Valley Deal Consummation Expected Hourly, Report Says

Changes in the management of Martin's two hospitals were seen this week as one was leased and negotiations were under way for the purchase of the other.

The Gearheart hospital was leased for a period of six years by Dr. Jay Preston, Pikeville, and Dr. Ralph Allen, Northern.

Sale of the Beaver Valley hospital back to its co-founder, Dr. W. L. Stumbo, was considered Wednesday as a matter of only a few hours away.

Dr. Orris Gearheart, founder of the Gearheart hospital, leased the institution because of ill health. Dr. Gearheart was quoted this week as saying that, after taking treatment at the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn., he will specialize in surgery if his recovery is complete.

The hospital will be under the direct management of Dr. Allen as resident physician, while Dr. Preston, a surgeon of years of experience, will devote a portion of his time to surgical work there. Dr. Preston announced Wednesday morning that he and his associate plan to make the hospital one of the best in Eastern Kentucky.

Though purchase of the Beaver Valley hospital by Dr. Stumbo had not been consummated Wednesday morning, only minor details remained to be worked out, it was said here.

If the deal is completed, an end may be written to long litigation between Dr. and Mrs. Stumbo and the group of Pikeville physicians who bought the

AT LAST--THE THIRD REASON

After all these years, at last comes a third reason—equally as important as the other two—why, for all-round usefulness, you can't beat a weekly newspaper.

It seems that up Right Beaver way a young couple were, for the first time, recipients of a visit from an honored and welcome guest—one Sir York.

Then several days later the proud papa, after numerous razzings from pals because he didn't know, or couldn't remember the little stranger's name, naively confessed: "I didn't know his name until I read it in the paper."

BROTHERS UNDER THE SKIN

Those dear, dear folks who dote on items in the daily newspapers and at the same time, as proof of their sophistication, scorn the same items in the weekly—no, we don't mean "weekly"—papers as not amounting to much—are hereby asked to take notice.

The Cincinnati Enquirer, one of the better dailies of the nation, within the week published the following "social" item:

"John Mackle, former superintendent of The Enquirer composing room, and for many years a printer on this newspaper, is visiting his old haunts and friends in Cincinnati. Mr. Markle has made

AMERICAN BOY MAGAZINE COMPANION TO THOUSANDS

Hundreds of thousands of boys and young men read THE AMERICAN BOY Magazine every month and consider it more as a living companion than as a magazine.

"It's as much a buddy to me as my neighborhood chum," writes one high school senior. "THE AMERICAN BOY seems to understand a boy's problems and considers them in such a sympathetic and helpful way. It gives advice and entertaining reading on every subject in which a young fellow is interested. It is particularly helpful in sports. I made our school basketball team because of playing tips I read in THE AMERICAN BOY."

Many famous athletes in all sports credit much of their success to helpful suggestions received from sports articles carried in THE AMERICAN BOY Magazine. Virtually every issue offers advice from a famous coach or player. Football, basketball, track, tennis, in fact every major sport is covered in fiction and fact articles.

Teachers, librarians, parents and leaders of boys' clubs also recommend THE AMERICAN BOY enthusiastically. They have found that as a general rule regular readers of THE AMERICAN BOY advance more rapidly and develop more worthwhile characteristics than do boys who do not read it.

Trained writers and artists, famous coaches and athletes, explorers, scientists and men successful in business and industry join with an experienced staff to produce in THE AMERICAN BOY, the sort of reading matter boys like best.

WHAS to Broadcast 'Tales of Troublesome' Series Featuring Knott, Breathitt

The stories of how some of the oddest-named geographical features of Eastern Kentucky acquired those names, will be related in a series of eight dramatized broadcasts from the University of Kentucky studios of WHAS, Louisville, to be heard at weekly intervals on Thursdays, at 1:45 p. m., starting August 3.

The title of the series—"Tales of Troublesome"—received its name from the first program of the series which will be the story of Betty Troublesome. The geographical feature, Troublesome Creek, is well known in Eastern Kentucky, being formed by the confluence of two forks at Hindman, Knott county. The creek flows west and southwest through Knott, Perry and Breathitt counties to the point where it joins the north fork of the Kentucky river, a few miles south of Quicksand.

A week after the broadcast on "Betty Troublesome," the program will be devoted to "The Battle of Defeated Creek." Corsia Whitaker, the broadcast's supervisor of its mountain listening center system, has collected the information that will form the basis for these broadcasts.

BAD POLITICS

One day last week a group of small boys seined Left Beaver with a home-made burlap seine. Returning with their "catch," they were halted by a high county official and his candidate in one of the local races. The official looked at the "haul," which included about 50 suckers, catfish, bass and hog-mollies, and laughingly remarked that the whole lot wouldn't make a good "mess," and drove on.

Thirteen 6-inch bass would have afforded fine sport for several Floyd county fishermen, had they been left alone, or put back in the creek for a year or two.

Pity the poor fellow near Emma who ate so many gov't grapefruit (hull, et. al.) that he was overcome with sickness.

Let's all pause a moment now, with the election nearing a climax, and note what a grand old game our politics is compared to the totalitarian methods of the dictator-countries. We have the privilege of voting our own sentiments in a private booth. Our sight will not be dimmed by the shadow or a storm trooper, nor our ribs be gouged by the sharp point of a bayonet.

Yep, politics is a great game—and the "party lines" are our salvation. So let's let up long enough to give a little credit to that grand old man who makes these things possible—our Uncle Sam.

They aren't so bad now, but after the election those "special assessments" for July and August will look mighty large on that Saturday "statement."

The first unsuccessful candidate who permits his brain to spout the spiteful spleen of revenge by filing a contest suit will show the voters by his action that he is a poor sport. "can't take it," and is hereby eternally branded by B.B. as a nigger-tart-baby.

CATFISH SWALLOWS MONKEY WRENCH

Louisa—Ripley should copy this one for his "Believe It Or Not": Tad Hanners, of Louisa, not only caught a 39-pound catfish in Big Sandy river below the locks here Saturday morning but he found a monkey wrench in its stomach when he prepared it for table consumption. The wrench, 8 1/2 inches long and weighing 15 ounces, is the type commonly furnished in kits of auto tools. How or why the fish swallowed the wrench is the subject of much conjecture. Mr. Hanners took the big fish out of his net in "The Narrows" below Louisa Saturday morning. He displays the wrench as proof of the incredible story and avers that his wife and Cecil and Robert Patton were present when he removed it from the fish's stomach.

MRS. WM. WARD

To The Working Men of Floyd and Knott Counties:

Who is my Friend?

That is a question every working-man should demand the answer to before he votes next Saturday.

And that answer is not to be found in promises. To get the truth, to learn who has been your friend, who has stood by your friends and who you may expect to be your friends in the future, recall the fact. For every candidate is vowing undying friendship, and it is up to you to learn the truth.

I ask you to consider these facts— Since President Roosevelt became a candidate, I have been his humble follower. To organized Labor and the WPA I have always been a friend. When Senator Barkley was opposed last year for U. S. Senator by Governor Chandler—when the Democratic party was at stake in Kentucky and when the fortunes of organized labor and the WPA hung in the balance—I was secretary of the Barkley committee in Floyd county.

Where were my major opponents last year?

Mr. Clarke at that time certainly was not on your side. His office was Chandler headquarters in Prestonsburg. At that time (and for three years altogether) he held under Governor Chandler an $1,800-a-year job.

If he is not for Keen Johnson now, he is very ungrateful, in view of the easy, lucrative job Governor Chandler gave him.

We all recall that, six years ago, he was the Republican nominee for the office of Commonwealth's Attorney—the same office he now seeks under the Democratic banner. He changed his politics during the Chandler administration, and is but half-Democrat, half-Republican.

Where was Mr. Tackett in the Chandler-Barkley race?

Recently, in his speech at Wayland, he admitted that he went to Ligon on election day—taking with him fifty dollars to be spent for Chandler. He was openly for Chandler—as we who fought for Barkley, remember all too well!

And does not Mr. Tackett's brother-in-law hold a position to this good day with the Chandler administration?

That is where my two major opponents were when you and the marching hosts of workers who needed Senator Barkley back in Washington, and when I was fighting with you, not against you.

Of Mr. Smith, who boasts of clinging to the Jeffersonian principles of the Democratic party, remember that he bolted Congressman A. J. May last year and made a precinct fight for the Republican nominee. If this is the actions of a Jeffersonian Democrat, Mr. Smith must have sole possession of a missing page of the history of Thomas Jefferson.

Mr. Smith regards his strength in Knott county over-optimistically. Ask those who know the situation there—they'll tell you he cannot hope to poll at the very most over 1,500 votes.

Don't take promises, friends—don't listen to the blandishments of politicians. Think the thing through and through for yourselves. Then you'll vote for—

PRESTONSBURG PUBLISHING CO.

OFFICIAL ORGAN FOR FLOYD COUNTY, KY.
$1.50 Per Year Payable in Advance

NORMAN ALLEN Editor

Entered as second class matter June 18, 1927, at the postoffice at Prestonsburg, Ky., under the Act of March 3, 1879.

THE TIMES ENDORSES

1. Floyd county for Floyd countians.
2. Immediate completion of the Left Beaver and Johns Creek road.
3. Completion of all Farm-to-Market roads, by W. P. A. labor if possible, maintenance of these routes by the state rural road fund.
4. A trade-at-home policy followed by merchants and customers alike.
5. Full co-operation with all county and city officials, insisting that lawmakers and enforcement officers themselves obey the law to the letter.
6. Continuance of the Floyd county health department and county agricultural agent work.

IT'S STILL A GAME

Just a word of counsel to those who are inclined to forget the amenities, incur enmities and cultivate grudges during the last heated days of this torrid political campaign.

Remember that there are other days and years, and that men will aspire to high position in the future and will need friends to bring success to their later endeavors as much as they need them for their present undertakings.

Remember that you will have to live with your neighbors after the election as well as before, and that good neighbors and fast friendships will mean a lot even after many of the present crop of candidates are dead.

It is good to see men and women fight for principle, if by principle they are motivated; it is well that they are loyal to their friends and are glad to fight for them. But the fight should be clean, the fighter should be a "good sport."

Then, after it is all over, let Reason regain her pedestal. It is not a feud; it is a game, is politics. If you lose, reckon the score and accept the loss in good humor; if you win, and deserve to win, you will be gracious, humble, thankful to your friends and will be merciful to your erstwhile foe.

The Floyd County Times has seen many the political campaign come and go; has seen politics destroy fine friendships and, at the same time, make some strange bedfellows. After all, we have decided, politics is a necessary evil and is not to be regarded as a life-and-death matter.

To those who, during this and past campaigns, have favored this newspaper with their printing and their confidences, we want to say that we are honored by your trust.

The Times has played fair with you all, and, when the scrap is all over, it will harbor no bitterness for anybody—a sentiment in which it hopes all its readers will join.

JOE—THE BUILDER

My opponent, Joe P. Tackett has, from time to time, boasted of being a builder of the Democratic party in Floyd county. Do you Democrats recall that ill-fated year when Joe Tackett contested the Democratic nominee for County Attorney, admittedly caring not what happened, just so that the Democratic nominee didn't get the office? And do you remember that, as a result, a REPUBLICAN was elected COUNTY ATTORNEY? Is that what Joe calls "building up the party"? (Pol. adv.)

TRIP SPONSORED BY BUSINESS MEN

P.C.B.A. Plans Excursion to New York World's Fair This Month

Through special arrangements effected with the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company by the Prestonsburg Co-Operative Business Association, residents of Floyd and other Big Sandy counties may make the trip to the New York World's Fair for only $22.50, it was announced Tuesday.

The special rate procured by the local business organization includes railroad fare, hotel accommodations two days and one night and tickets to the Fair. Meals are not included.

Leaving August 25, the train will return August 27, the schedule affording those making the trip a stay of 40 hours in New York.

Already scores of requests for tickets have been received, it was said this week, and necessity for prompt action on the part of those interested in making the trip was stressed, since the demand for accommodations is expected to exceed the supply. Ticket inquiries should be directed to any member of the Association's World's Fair committee—Frank H. Layne, Dr. M. J. Leete, S. R. Auxier and John Warrix, all of Prestonsburg, August 15 is the last date on which tickets may be procured.

Town Hall, superintendent of Floyd county schools, this week said that he would permit teachers to dismiss school in order to make the trip. "I think a visit to the Fair will be beneficial to you in your school work as well as to the children in the several schools," he added. Teachers desiring to make the trip were asked to communicate with Superintendent Hall at once.

Democrats in Wrangle

O. E. Eaton, Joseph G. Thornbury, Mrs. B. M. Smith, Robert C. Ford, Jr., Joe P. Tackett, Riley Hall, J. B. Clarke, Bill Biggers, Manis Conley, George W. Allen, T. B. Sturgill and Mervyn Hamilton. Final action on the injunction will be taken by the Court of Appeals Wednesday morning and the case will be disposed of by Thursday, it was said here.

TO FLOYD COUNTY DEMOCRATS:

As this is the last issue of your county paper before the primary on Saturday, I wish to say at this time that I am very grateful to all of you in this county for the courtesy that I have received during this campaign. I have met and talked with a great number of the good citizens of the county and have been exceedingly pleased with the response that I have received in the interest of my candidacy. I have been unable to get in touch with all my relatives here as there is a multitude of them. I am related to all the Martins in this county, as my grandmother was Josephine Martin, whom all of the older citizens of this county well knew. I am related also to the Halls and Turners and I am very appreciative of what they have done and will continue to do for me in this campaign.

I am exceedingly pleased to learn that the people of this county have awakened to the fact that all of the Democrats of Knott county are supporting me in this campaign as they have definitely decided to support their county man.

I have no desire to sling mud or say anything disrespectful about my opponents, as I have never had my hands muddy in the political game, and intend to always refrain from same. I want the Democrats of this county to look at the record. Doesn't Bascom Clarke have a job under Chandler? Don't close relatives of John Allen have jobs under Chandler? Doesn't Joe P. Tackett's brother-in-law, Frank Hall, hold a job under Chandler, and isn't he very active in the campaign for Keen Johnson? How can these gentlemen be such friends to LABOR when they are in bed with their opponents? I am hopeful that the good Democrats of this county will join me in my effort to rid this district of enemies of the laboring man.

I again ask the Democrats of this county to go to the polls on Saturday and vote and work for me as I am going to be your Commonwealth's Attorney.

Thanking you in advance for your loyal support, I am,

Very sincerely yours,
AFTON M. SMITH

HONEYMOON COTTAGE VACANT

Once again the doors of "Honey-moon Cottage" creak and groan as they are blown back and forth on rusty hinges. With empty, mournful sounds they bang to, while over it all hangs a lonely air. But not for long will the little cottage be deserted. One citizen said, "Why, they move in and out so fast I thought it was the same couple having a "fire-drill!"

JOHN W. CAUDILL For CIRCUIT JUDGE

VOTERS:

Is it not time to stop, read and then think? Especially before you cast your vote for any man to hold the important office of Circuit Judge.

In the last issue of this paper Claude P. Stephens tells you why Henry Stephens is not legally qualified to be Circuit Judge. In the same issue Henry Stephens, Jr., gives you many reasons why you should not vote for Claude P. Stephens. I am now asking you to vote for me.

With no intention of mud slinging or of criticism I wish to make the following statements in my own behalf: I was born in a one-room log house on the head of Jack's Creek in Floyd county. Three months later my father moved to the head of Hollybush, in Knott county, where he lived and raised a family of 11 children. He was always poor but honest. He never was under the influence of liquor in his life, nor was he ever indicted for any offense. My boyhood days were spent on this mountain farm, where I split rails, made cross-ties, staves, and ran a saw-mill. My early education was in a log building on a dirt floor, with split pole benches for seats. I later attended school under Professor Clark at Hindman, Professor Byington and others at Prestonsburg, Cherry Brothers' School at Bowling Green, Ky., and Transylvania University, Lexington, Kentucky. I taught school seven years, had two years training in law, practiced law 23 years, and have been your Circuit Judge for the past 5 1/2 years, and I now stand on the record I have made as a teacher, as a citizen, and as a servant of the people in public office. There are other qualifications that I feel should be considered before casting your vote for any candidate for this important office. To be a juror the law requires a man to be SOBER, SENSIBLE AND DISCREET. Why not apply this same qualification to a CIRCUIT JUDGE?

I can say for myself that I am 55 years old, I have never been indicted, have never been drunk, and have always given freely of my time, talent and money in helping build churches, schools, and in helping boys and girls to obtain an education. I have personally helped more than 400 boys and girls from Floyd county to obtain an education. What have either of my opponents to say along this line?

Upon this I submit to you my cause, and ask your vote and support at the polls on August 5, as a Democratic candidate for Circuit Judge.

Very truly yours,
JOHN W. CAUDILL.

1933
J. B. (Bascom) Clarke
REPUBLICAN NOMINEE
—FOR—
COMMONWEALTH'S ATTORNEY

In 1933 I was defeated by the late O. C. Hall for the Democratic nomination for Commonwealth's Attorney. Did I contest? No—what did I do in the 1933 November election? I spent my time and money as CAMPAIGN MANAGER for O. C. Hall and the entire Democratic ticket, fighting for them and against J. Bascom Clarke and the other Republican candidates. Now, six years later, the Democrats are to select a nominee for this same office and I'm again seeking that honor. Am I entitled to it as against Mr. Clarke? Or can he in the 1933 election run as a Republican and then in 1939 step over and "horn" a life-long Democrat like me out and take charge of my party? Friends of democracy! Friends of the memory of our late lamented and beloved O. C. Hall! Will you reward me for a lifetime of faithful service to the Democratic party and an earnest and sincere management six years ago of Mr. Hall's campaign, after he had defeated me in the primary? I appeal to you that you nominate me as your standard-bearer in November and see if my opponents will be sports enough to manage my campaign in November like I did for Mr. Hall.

On August 1, 1936, John Allen registered as a Democrat and the records in Banner Meade's office show this. So that he, like Mr. Clarke, is not now entitled to so soon take full charge of our party and kick a Democrat like me into oblivion. They do not deserve the fruits of Democratic victory attained by the many loyal political fights I have made for my party while they fought against us. Our Democratic party has won in spite of their opposition and they do not now deserve the fruits of our many years' struggle for our party.

If you nominate either of them over me, you say by that, that he is a better Democrat than I. How could he be with a lifetime of service to the Republican party until August, 1936, or October, 1936, the date Mr. Clarke registered as a Democrat?

Now, as for Mr. Afton Smith, no one hardly ever heard of him even being a lawyer until he started in this race. His neighbors say it's a joke to even think of him as a Commonwealth's Attorney, but he hopes to ease in by us dividing the Floyd votes, but when he can't even get the support of his neighborhood, he is in no wise likely to be a winner. Floyd county voters, don't waste your vote on him.

In conclusion, I beg leave to urge,

J. B. (Bascom) Clarke
DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE
—FOR—
COMMONWEALTH'S ATTORNEY

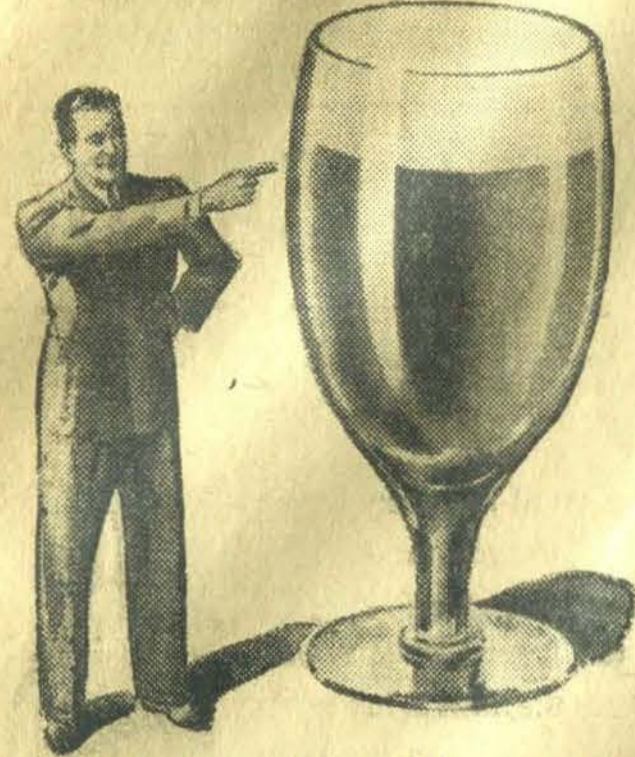

by all rules of the game, I am entitled to this nomination. My loyalty to the party, my ever readiness to go to battle for it, my record as a public official, elected to office by it, my personal service to the soldiers, their widows and children; my securing of an increase of $787,781.84 for the school teachers; my securing of an increase of $250,000.00 for free textbooks and my securing of the passage of many sound and constructive pieces of legislation all bear witness to my ability and merit, and with this last appeal: "Mom," the kids and I rest with you our fate next Saturday.

Faithfully yours,
JOE P. TACKETT.

John Allen registered as a Democrat Aug. 1, 1936. He is a THREE year old Democrat (See Banner Meade's office records). Joe P. Tackett has always been a true blue Democrat. Let's all vote for—

It Isn't Polite to Point..

But Pointing Out These Facts May Add to Your Enjoyment of Beer!

If you take intelligent care about what you eat or drink, then we think you'll be happy to know these facts:

Nothing but natural beer ingredients go into Sterling Pilsner. Step by step in the brewing process true beer flavor is developed and calorie content kept low. In fact, an 8-ounce glass of Sterling is actually lower in calories than the juice of a good-sized orange. And each taste confirms your opinion that only natural grains could have produced it. For Sterling is always refreshing—never sweet or heavy. Brewed as much for your peace of mind as your pleasure.

BONANZA

BONANZA IN A NUTSHELL

The suggestion someone made recently about describing our home town appealed to me, because, for a long time, I've been "hankering" to "tell the world" how Bonanza looks.

There's exactly a dozen dwelling houses, a lawyer, a preacher, a postmaster, a merchant, an ex-merchant, a deputy sheriff, a mixture of farmers, WPA workers, and six teachers (one a TIMES correspondent)!

There's a four-room brick school building, with three teachers, a United Baptist Church, a store and grist mill. A WPA road is "bringing the world to Bonanza," and it has been said that "anyone who drinks water from Bonanza will always come back."

CHEERIO!

New neighbors are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Hill and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Laven. (I tried to warn Mildred against becoming "citified" but, the day after they arrived, she was calling lightning bugs "fireflies")

"PROFS"

Teacher placements took this form: Mildred, Hazel and Paris are at Bonanza, Irene at Jack's Creek, Grace at Bee Fork, Tommy at Big Branch, Tom at Needmore, Josephine at State Road Fork, and the last I knew, I was at Tram.

NOTE TO CANDIDATES:

If you visit our school this year, we're going to have some tickets for you to buy, and please bring some extra cards for we "ran short" on flash cards last year.

Don't look now, but that was Palmer Hall on the Republican ticket for circuit clerk; he placed his first picture on Riverside Drive.

AMONG THOSE PRESENT

Bonanza was nearly as big as Prestonsburg Sunday with the footwashing which lasted till around 4 p. m. in session. I never saw so many automobiles in my "born days." Among the ones attending from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Burke and baby, of Riceville; Mr. and Mrs. Warnie Conley and son, Huntington; Mrs. Josephine Leake, East Point; Miss Marie Spradlin, Miss Catherine Leake, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stephens and son, Mrs. Mary Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Hatcher, Mrs. G. A. Culbertson, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Stepp, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stephens, all of Prestonsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Otto Baldrige, Paintsville;

WEST VIRGINIA SPEED TRAP AND DRIVER'S LICENSE

In spite of the many warnings given, there will be those who will be tardy in obtaining their driver's license. With the speed traps in full swing in West Virginia, what better excuse could one of these constables have for arresting a Kentucky motorist driving with an expired license? And the heavy fine which no doubt could be imposed in this instance would be legal. 1938-39 licenses expire at midnight July 31 and an unlicensed driver after that time is subject to a fine of $25 to $500 or six months' imprisonment, or both. Cost of the license is $1 and can be secured from the circuit court clerk.

Every effort has been expended to warn Kentucky motorists to use every caution possible when driving through Wayne county, W. Va., as the constables in this county have been using every pretext known to arrest Kentucky licensed cars; a driver with an expired driver's license is most certainly driving at a great risk, whether he be driving in West Virginia, Kentucky, or any other state.

If you have not renewed your license, or if you drive a car at all and have never had a license, we suggest that you make your application with the circuit court clerk without another day's delay. We also suggest you still be on the alert when driving into Huntington either by US. 60 or US. 52.

THE GARDEN

By JOHN S. GARNER,
 Kentucky College of Agriculture

DROUGHT INSURANCE

As this is being written, the environs of Lexington have been 11 days without rain. Whether this condition prevails generally throughout Kentucky, the writer is not sure. Whether this rainless interval portends a general drought to come, nobody at all can know, but it is part of a sensible pessimist's program so to conduct his garden that if dry times do come, he will be found not unprepared. Paradoxically, the same practices that fend off the effects of dry weather would stand the gardener in good stead in time of abundant moisture.

Insurance against drought should have begun when the soil was first prepared, this spring. It could have begun even before that, for a cover crop sown last fall, or a coat of grass or soybeans under which this year's garden "rested" last summer, and plowed under this spring, would have played an important part in the garden's behavior this season, dry or wet. In lieu of a "manure crop," just described, a generous coat of stable manure turned under this spring, would have served.

Apart from whatever vegetable matter is turned under, the depth of plowing is important. The deeper the breaking, the deeper a seed-bed may be made, and the deeper the seed-bed, the greater moisture reservoir there is. It is quite understandable that moisture stored from rains early in the season may become an exceedingly valuable reserve upon which the garden crops may draw to bridge over the dry spells the late summer almost always brings.

Another kind of drought insurance is proper cultivation. So many gardeners still continue to "hill up" their vegetable rows, or "mound up" about individual plants. In the spring, when the soil moisture level lay shallow, there was advantage in sowing seed in ridged rows, but as soon as possible, this practice should be stopped, and level sowing done. Likewise, in the spring, it may be practicable to smother weeds under soil drawn to the rows, but the later weeds, notably crab-grass and fox-tail, cannot be so controlled. Much better, is to pull the weeds or keep them out off at the ground line, and keep the garden surface level. Hills and ridges present increased evaporation surface, their making may entail enough lowering of the water table between the rows to put the moisture out of reach of the vegetables' roots, and besides, is a waste of energy of the gardener who makes them. But the last reason should be warrant enough not to make ridges.

Still another kind of drought insurance is keeping crops unhampered by insects and by disease. Leaves that are punctured by insects cannot keep the vegetable plants thrifty, but they succumb all the more quickly to any untoward circumstance, as a dry time is. As for the diseases, particularly those that cause leaf-spotting and later defoliation, the same is true; leaf disturbance of any sort reflects on the well-being of the plant, no matter what the season. Bordeaux is the recognized control for all foliage diseases on vegetables, but besides keeping the leaves intact, the effect of Bordeaux spraying has been observed to be that of a tonic that holds the vegetable tops green and thrifty and turgid during dry times when unsprayed crops perished.

Accordingly, drought need hold less terror for a careful gardener than for one not so fore-handed.

HOGS CONTINUE TO BE MONEY-MAKERS

Hogs continue to be one of the best friends of Kentucky farmers, declares Grady Sellards, of the Kentucky College of Agriculture. Efficient consumers of feed, they return profits most years, especially when consideration is given to balanced rations and the use of pasture. In fact, good pasture, he says, gives hog raisers in Kentucky an advantage over farmers in some other states.

To encourage good practices in hog raising, Sellards uses the ton-litter method. Farmers over the state cooperate with him in demonstrating that it pays to feed well, to push pigs through to market condition, to use good pasture.

Take the case of C. P. Blackney, of Marshall county. His 12 cross-bred pigs averaged 43 pounds when eight weeks old, and 220 pounds when sold at the age of 165 days. They brought $9.25 a hundred, or $236.60. That was last year. The net profit above feed, pasture and labor was $113.10.

Sellards pointed out that this litter was farrowed February 4, early enough to be ready for market when prices were near the peak. The pigs received a variety of feeds, including corn, commercial feed, tankage, skimmilk, linseed meal, and good Korean lespedeza pasture, which insured a balanced ration. The result was rapid gain, good finish, and marketing at an early age.

Johnson, Brown Speak Here

"If you want house-cleaning at Frankfort I'll give it to you," Mr. Brown continued. "If you want four more years of Happy, vote for Keen; if you want four more years of Dan, vote for Keen; if you want four more years of Clifford Smith, and Lyter Donaldson, vote for Keen; if you want a continuation of the $8 a month old-age pension, vote for Keen; if you want four more years of neglect of the blind, vote for Keen, he'll give it to you."

Assailing the C.I.O. leadership as "Communist," but stoutly asserting his friendship for the rank and file of labor, Lieutenant-Governor Johnson told his hearers that John L. Lewis, C.I.O. president, had threatened "to come to Kentucky and take charge of things."

In this organized labor stronghold, Mr. Johnson cited his own labor record, which included during his administration, passage of part of the Workmen's Compensation Law and creation of a Department of Labor, which, he said, has settled forty-seven strikes in the state.

"That level-headed organization, the American Federation of Labor, has checked the records of both candidates and it has been found that my opponent has made three races, in none of which it found that his record justified its indorsement," Mr. Johnson said. "As for his loyalty to labor, I could afford to get awfully hot for them at $10,000 a year."

Continuing his attack on Mr. Brown's labor record, the speaker declared that during Mr. Brown's tenure as Speaker of the House of Representatives and as Congressman his opponent did nothing for labor. "In four chances as Congressman," Lieutenant-Governor Johnson declared, "John voted against labor, and William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, certifies to his record. After a delegation from Western Kentucky had gone to Washington in behalf of the Guffey Coal Bill, an act in which the United Mine Workers of America were much interested, a member of the delegation told me, 'you can't imagine how amazed I was to find him (Mr. Brown) lobbying against the Guffey Coal Bill.'"

Mr. Johnson promised a sane, sound administration of Kentucky's financial affairs, at the same time branding Mr. Brown's promise of finding the money with which to pay old-age pensioners $30 a month "where the money is" as a "foolish, flippant answer."

To The Democrats Of Floyd and Knott Counties:

Don't listen to last minute hooey from desperate, defeated candidates. I have been a practicing attorney for The First National Bank in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, for compensation for over fifteen years and during all that time I have practiced law constantly for the people without charge and without price to every one who needed it and demanded my services. A man does not have to be in the courthouse screaming in the judge's face to be practicing law. He can practice law without going into a courthouse, and the courts of this state have so decided.

C. P. Stephens is anxious to get rid of me. Why hasn't he filed the injunction suit he talks about to keep me off the primary ballot? He has the same right now that he says Judge C. B. Wheeler or Edward L. Allen would have just before the November election, if I am nominated. So you can readily see that his argument falls flat because he has no law to back his statement in that respect.

I am legally eligible and qualified to hold the office of Circuit Judge—and he knows it! And he knows that he would lose any suit he filed to keep me off the ballot. He also knows that I have this nomination won. The people intend to have a change.

They intend to vote for me this time!

Don't listen to last minute hooey from desperate candidates, who are mad and defeated. Hope you all will remember me this time and do your best. I hope every friend, relative and supporter I have will get behind me and put this election over in a big way. It is your fight as well as mine. I intend to see that better government prevails. I am all right, regardless of what you may hear. I will be your nominee and don't you doubt it.

REMEMBER, I AM IN THIS RACE TO THE FINISH. SO DON'T BE MISLED BY FALSE STATEMENTS.

I am, your friend, in or out of office,

Henry Stephens, Jr.

(Pol. adv.)

To the Democratic Voters of Floyd County:

RILEY HALL

Beware of any rumor or propaganda that I am quitting this race. I want you to keep in mind that I am in this race to the finish and that I am going to win. I don't want you to be misled by false reports, which it has been the custom of some to circulate near the election day when it is too late and is impossible for one to successfully refute. It takes time to cover this county and a man can't do it in one or two days.

I have been a working man all my life. I have worked in the mines for years and for the past nine years have worked for a gas company. I belong to the UNION, stand for labor and practice what I stand for. Don't be misled or deceived and vote for some one that is against labor's interests. I am running my own race and will win. With the support of you all I will win by a large majority. I am second from the bottom on the ballot.

Since it is impossible for me to see each and all of you in person, I trust you will accept this as though I had seen you. It is through no fault of mine and I wanted to see everybody but it has been impossible. Remember me and I will you. Let it never be said, that Riley Hall ever forgot a friend. Rally to your precincts and the polls and vote 100 per cent for Riley Hall for Circuit Court Clerk.

Sincerely yours,

RILEY HALL

Pol. Adv.

Martin Hospital Deals

hospital from them in 1935. The contract, executed when the hospital was sold provided that Dr. Stumbo was not to operate a hospital in Floyd county for a period of 10 years. At the same time, he was to have access to the facilities of the hospital for his private patients. He alleged that this clause of the contract was violated, and himself built a hospital, the Stumbo Memorial, near Lackey, in Knott county, but near enough to the Floyd county line to be charged with violating the contract. He lost in both the lower and higher courts and was enjoined from operating the hospital until January 30, 1945. A few months ago, he announced the sale of his hospital to a Floyd group, but remained at the hospital.

Dr. Stumbo could not be reached by THE TIMES for a statement Wednesday.

Town-World

his home in San Diego, Calif., since his retirement from The Enquirer several years ago. He is 84 years old and is enjoying the best of health at the Southern California seaside resort."

Now, let us all agree, The Enquirer big-city paper that it is, had a perfect right to print this "purely personal" item, even if it was of no interest to anybody except the old printer, his family and those of The Enquirer who revere him. But let it also be said that, had not the said John Mackle been a former Enquirer employe, and a good one evidently, the "it-em" would never have been printed. If you or I, ordinary run-of-the-mine citizens like John Mackle is, were to visit The Enquirer office, do you think that newspaper would donate—and we do not mean "accord" —us one line? It would not—and it would be right again.

The whole thing bites itself down to this—that we are all human and brothers under the skin, that the daily is but a weekly grown up and that we all have our "feelings."

Ninety-nine and ninety-nine hundredths percent of The Enquirer's readers cared not a hang if John Mackle visited in Cincinnati the rest of his days, but The Enquirer did—and we like the paper the better therefor.

So there, you folks who poke fun at those "personals" in the weekly sheets!
