

MOTHER, CHILDREN BURNED TO DEATH AT CATLETTSBURG

Mrs. Rose Vaughan, Native of Garrett, and Four Children Perish

FAULTY GAS HOSE IS BLAMED FOR TRAGEDY

Joint Funeral Services For Victims Are Held At Catlettsburg Saturday

Trapped by fire in their home at Catlettsburg early last Thursday night, Mrs. Rose Stone Vaughan, 28, formerly of Garrett, and her four small children were burned to death...

The husband and father of the victims, Earl Vaughan, 48-year-old WPA worker, was at a nearby restaurant at the time of the fire. Hearing the fire alarm he dashed toward the burning building but was pulled back to safety...

Firemen received two alarms and when they arrived at the scene the dwelling was completely enveloped in flames.

Reconstructing the scene in the home when the blaze was discovered, investigating officers assumed that Mrs. Vaughan had gone upstairs before the children and had perhaps fallen asleep. There was no evidence to indicate whether the children had gone upstairs before or after the blaze started.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Vaughan is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Stone, Garrett, two sisters and four brothers.

Joint funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at Catlettsburg and burial was made in the Catlettsburg cemetery.

LOCK-OUT OR LOOK-OUT?
Floyd county's mine shut-down of early this year was called a "lock-out." Wonder what a-body should call that street revival which has been held at Martin outside a church closed by two padlocks?

SANE SAYIN' OF THE WEEK:
Judge John W. Caudill, in discussing the Martin church fiasco with litigants, "It has been my experience that where there's a little more prayin' there's a lot less lawin'."

REV. LAKIN ACCEPTS ASST. PASTORATE AT CADLE TABERNACLE

En route to Indianapolis, Ind., to begin his work as associate pastor of Cadle tabernacle was the Rev. B. R. Lakin, former pastor of Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church, Prestonsburg, and until two weeks ago, pastor of the Euclid Avenue Baptist Church, Bristol, Va.

Falling health of E. Howard Cadle, famous radio preacher and head of Cadle tabernacle, resulted in the Reverend Lakin, who has achieved an outstanding success as an evangelist and pastor, being called to assist in the manifold duties of the Cadle ministerial undertakings.

On the Cadle estate, near Indianapolis, the former Prestonsburg pastor will reside, and to pulpits he will be transported in a private airplane piloted by the Reverend Cadle's son, Buford. The regular Sunday services broadcast via WLW from the tabernacle will be conducted by

FLOYD PORTIA

Miss Bond, Third Member of Family To Enter Law Practise Here

Admitted to the Floyd county bar Saturday morning, Miss Dixie Anne Bond, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles F. Bond, Prestonsburg, became the first woman attorney to become a full-fledged member of the local bar association in its long history.

The third member of her family to become a member of the legal fraternity, Miss Bond took the oath before Circuit Judge John W. Caudill in the same courtroom where her brothers, Oscar P. Bond and J. D. Bond, were inducted to Floyd county practise.

After achieving an outstanding scholastic record at the University of Louisville College of Law, Miss Bond took the examination for admittance to the bar last June.

MOTORMAN DIES IN MINE MISHAP

Cecil Stone, 25, Garrett, Succumbs To Injuries Tuesday Evening

His lower body crushed and badly mangled when he was run over by a motor in the Elk Horn Coal Corporation mine No. 27 at Garrett late Tuesday afternoon, Cecil Stone, 25 years old, motorman, died soon after his arrival at the Stumbo Memorial hospital, Lackey.

The accident occurred as the victim was on duty. Fire started in the starting box of the motor which he was running, and, in an attempt to leap to safety, he landed in front of the motor. His injuries were confined mostly to the lower portion of his body, with both legs being badly broken.

Surviving are his mother, Mrs. Dicie Stone, of Garrett; his widow, Mrs. Edna Clark Stone, and one small child, also of Garrett. His father, the late C. L. Stone, died several years ago.

Funeral services will be conducted from the home Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock, with the Rev. Yoncie Meade officiating. Burial will be made in the West, Garrett cemetery, under the direction of the Ryan Funeral Home.

MRS. ELIZA HOLBROOK DIES SUNDAY MORNING

Mrs. Eliza Holbrook, wife of Jake Holbrook, well-known Myrtle farmer, died at the Holbrook home Sunday morning at 1 o'clock. She was one of the county's best women, and had many friends and relatives throughout this section.

Surviving her are her husband and several children, among whom is one son, Jesse Holbrook, of Allen. Funeral rites were conducted Monday, and burial was made in the family cemetery under the direction of the Arnold Funeral Home.

CANDIDATE IS SHOT ON ELECTION 'EVE'

Unknown Assailant Fires Upon Damron, Circuit Clerk Nominee

An election "eve" sensation was sprung in Floyd county with the reported shooting at the mouth of Arkansas Creek early Monday of Fred E. Damron, Republican candidate for Circuit Court Clerk.

It was said at the Sheriff's office here that Mr. Damron had been received at the Martin General hospital, suffering from a bullet wound in his thigh. The bullet inflicted only a flesh wound, it was stated.

The wounded man was quoted as saying that he was shot while cleaning the windshield of his car, parked on the roadside near the Arkansas curve, around 5 o'clock Monday morning. This report said Mr. Damron told of a car, following him as he drove toward Martin from Prestonsburg, pulling alongside him, a window being lowered and of two shots being fired. The gunman remains unidentified but an investigation of the case is expected this week.

It was said that the wounded man then re-entered his car and drove on to Martin.

Blackcats Down Whitesburg, 7-0, In Non-Conference Tilt

(By WALTER PRICE)

With Layne and Hunter carrying the brunt of the attack, the Prestonsburg Blackcat eleven employed a 75-yard sustained power drive early in the second quarter to hand the Whitesburg gridders their fourth defeat, 7-0, Saturday afternoon, on the local field in a non-conference tilt.

The successful drive for a score came after Whitesburg, presenting a small but shifty team, had blocked a Prestonsburg punt in Blackcat territory. The visitors reeled off a first down on two thrusts through the line before their offense bogged down and the 'Cats took the ball on downs on their own 25-yard line. Hunter hit tackle for five yards and on the next play Layne skirted right end for 25 yards, the longest Blackcat run of the afternoon. On the next five plays Layne and Hunter alternated carrying the ball, making two first downs and placing the ball on Whitesburg's 15. In three stabs at the line Hunter made another first down on the visitors' one-yard stripe, from where he

Democratic Nominees Win; Administration Loses Here

ARNOLD ELECTED AS PROGRESSIVES WIN SIX PLACES

Two Prestonsburg Wards Elect Progressive Candidates to Council

ALLEN IS RE-ELECTED ON BEEHIVE PLATFORM

Fitzpatrick, Open Book Winner, Rounds Out New Council

City administration forces elected a Mayor and one Councilman at Tuesday's election here, but met with stunning defeats in seven other Council races, dropping six members of the Council to the Rising Sun ticket and yet another to the Open Book entry.

E. P. Arnold, former Prestonsburg police judge, led his opponent, Joe Harkins, Jr., in all three wards to win the Mayoralty race. Judge Arnold ran on the Beehive ticket; his opponent on the Progressive.

In Wards 1 and 2 here the Progressive ticket made a clean sweep of the Council races, electing its six candidates. West Prestonsburg (Ward 3) gave the administration its only Councilman by the re-election of R. T. Allen. Bill Fitzpatrick, a candidate for Council on the Open Book ticket in that ward, also was elected, running one vote ahead of Allen.

The line-ups in the city election: Rising Sun (Progressive) ticket—For Mayor, Joe Harkins, Jr.; for Council, Ward 1—J. H. Nunney, Joe Layne, Dr. J. G. Archer, W. A. Rose; Ward 2—Leroy Combs, Bob Harlowe; Ward 3—Burl Spurlock, Don Childers. Beehive ticket—For Mayor, E. P. Arnold; for Council, Ward 1—W. V. Bunting, J. M. Weddington, T. J. May; Ward 2—J. P. May, Joe Jarrell; Ward 3—R. T. Allen, John Osborne. Open Book ticket, Ward 3—Joe Hyden, Bill Fitzpatrick.

Results, by wards, of the city election here, one of the most heated in years, follow:

	FOR MAYOR
	W. 1	W. 2	W. 3
Harkins	205	134	32
Arnold	284	165	95
FOR CITY COUNCIL, WARD 1
Bunting	232
Weddington	226
May	223
Nunney	260
Layne	273
Archer	259
Rose	240

CHURCH 'LOCK-OUT' DISPUTE AT MARTIN RESULTS IN ACTION

To adjust a dispute in church matters which have arisen at Martin, Circuit Judge John W. Caudill will conduct a hearing Friday on an injunction action designed to prevent the Rev. Julian Hunt from using the church.

Two padlocks were placed on the new church there, it is claimed, when the Reverend Hunt returned to Martin to conduct a revival. Services were conducted in the street outside the church.

Later, complaints were filed against the Rev. A. E. Harper, pastor of the church, and Charles Caudill, a lay member.

Followed the injunction action against the Reverend Hunt.

Somebody Was Wrong About Prestonsburg Being Without Wholesale Grocery

Despite THE TIMES' report last week to the effect that the Williams Grocery Company, new owners of the Central Wholesale Grocery, which operated here for several months, was moving stock of the local firm to Paintsville, it now develops that new stock is being added to the store and that it will continue in business in Prestonsburg as long as business justifies.

Five truckloads of grocery items were added to the stock here last week. "We see no reason why Prestonsburg and Floyd county cannot afford business enough for one wholesale grocery firm," an official of the Williams Grocery Company said Monday.

GUNSHOT WOUND FATAL TO NEGRO

Ted Scott, Wheelwright, Dies Two Weeks After Shooting

Following an autopsy conducted at the Ryan Funeral Home Wednesday, last week, a coroner's jury empaneled by Coroner Elliott Prater held that Ted Scott, Wheelwright negro, had died of a gunshot wound which had caused "the rupture of the heart into the pericardium," and that he was killed by Lee Hayes, negro, also of Wheelwright.

Hayes had not been captured this week.

Scott died suddenly October 31 while playing pool at Wheelwright. About two weeks earlier, he had been shot but had returned home from the hospital, believed to be fully recovered.

Dr. W. L. Stumbo and Dr. Ison, who performed the autopsy at the direction of Coroner Prater, are said to have found "two or three" shotgun pellets partially imbedded in the negro's heart. The inquest verdict was signed by Kendall Moore, foreman Willard Lykins, Homer Walker, Talmadge Rogers, Ray Dingus, Ival Salsbury.

HEMORRHAGE CLAIMS WHEELWRIGHT WOMAN

Mrs. Mary Buckner, 39 years old, wife of Ernest Buckner, Wheelwright, succumbed at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, early Tuesday morning, after suffering a cerebral hemorrhage.

Surviving, beside her husband, is a daughter, Mrs. Martha May, of Wheelwright. The body was prepared by the Ryan Funeral Home and shipped to Murfreesboro, Tenn., where burial will be made Saturday.

JOHNSON'S LEAD IS NEAR 90,000; AHEAD IN FLOYD

Partial Returns Indicate Entire Democratic County, Dist. Ticket Elected

20 PRECINCTS COUNTED BY FLOYD TABULATORS

Unofficial Figures Given For Floyd, Knott; Election Peaceful

With 20 of Floyd county's 52 precincts tabulated, trend of Tuesday's voting indicated that the entire county and district Democratic ticket has been elected.

Partial returns showing Governor Keen Johnson leading his Republican opponent, Judge King Swope, by 89,000 votes brought the Democratic state ticket victory to landslide proportions.

In the district election, Knott county added materially to the Democratic margin, though only 12 precincts of the county had been tabulated Wednesday night, it was said.

Unofficial figures on the Floyd and Knott county voting follow:

Floyd (20 precincts)—For Governor: Keen Johnson, 2383; Swope, 1936.

For Circuit Judge—Henry Stephens, Jr., 2407; Edward L. Allen, 1438.

For Commonwealth's Attorney—John Allen, 2629; Wm. Dingus, 1290.

For Circuit Clerk—Bill Cooley, 2550; Fred E. Damron, 1603.

For Senator—E. D. Stephenson, 3428 S. C. Ferguson, 1319.

For Representative—Edward B. Leslie, 2683; Wade Hall, 1276.

An unofficial report from Knott county after 12 precincts had been counted placed Henry Stephens' lead at 1054, and John Allen's at 1495.

The election in this county was unmarred by serious violence, though one man was reported as having been stabbed in a free-for-all at Buckeye precinct.

The tabulation in this county may be completed tonight (Thursday).

Miss Daphne Dyer, who underwent a tonsillectomy at the Beaver Valley hospital, is improving nicely.

The Martin consolidated school held its annual Hallowe'en Carnival in the gymnasium Tuesday evening, October 31. The building was attractively decorated with Jack-O-Lanterns and orange and black streamers. There was a gypsy fortune teller, a bingo table, a wishing well, a sea food inn, where sandwiches, pop, ice cream, candy and peanuts were sold, a ghostland, and a booth where Hallowe'en toys could be purchased. The main event of the evening was the crowning of the King and Queen, and the Prince and Princess. Bobby Jene Dermont and Juanita Hays were voted King and Queen. Jackie Keathley and Georgianne Adams were voted Prince and Princess.

Then came the grand march and the judging of the best and funniest costume. Marilee Coleman won the prize for the best costume, with her drum major outfit. Mrs. Stacey, dressed as a tramp, won the prize for the funniest costume. Mrs. Wicker and Mrs. Dortha Allen were the judges.

Later, several contests were held, with the following results:

Hog-calling contest, won by Mrs. Troy Allen, of Salisbury; cracker eating contest, won by Louise Frazier; apple eating contest, won by Billy Stith; 3-legged race for girls, won by Pauline Davis and Virginia Collins; 3-legged race for boys, won by J. R. Key, Chester Kiser; balloon bursting contest, won by Virginia Frazier; sack race for girls, won by Pauline Davis; sack race for boys, won by Wiley Elliott.

Glenn Dingus installed his public address system in the gymnasium. This allowed all to hear what was going on and was very much appreciated by all present.

We wish to thank all the places of business and friends of our school who helped so much to make the carnival a success.

The same night, a dance was held in the auditorium. The carnival and dance netted the school around $300.

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

SINGING ROUND THE ORGAN

Not every home could afford an organ in the old days, just as not every home has a piano or radio now, but every organ was a community instrument, anyway, and could be used whenever it was so desired. Sunday afternoon was the official time to gather at some place where there was an organ and sing until it was time to go home and feed the stock.

It was not necessary for a real musician to play the accompaniment to the songs we sang. Some good chords would do, if one did not know how to read the soprano and then make up the bass. Most organists, though, could do pretty well for their training. Some other person did the leading most of the people, male or female, singing the air. Of course, there was the neighborhood alto, such as are rarely found now, but they were rare.

Most homes would not tolerate anything but sacred songs on Sundays. That meant that we must resist the temptation to sing "Darling, I Am Growing Old," "Maggie," and dozens of other more worldly things that could be sung on any other day, with or without the accompaniment of the organ, the fiddle, or any other combination of musical instruments. Occasionally we broke over, anyway, and were scolded only mildly, for the heads of the house had to confide to a joy in hearing us, in spite of the harm done on Sunday. Most of us knew this and acted accordingly.

There is something very appealing to me yet in seeing people gather around an organ to sing. There is a neighborliness in it all, which Seth Parker, in his radio programs, has perpetuated in our sophisticated time. Old people, with broken voices, often joined in with us, moved by the spell of other times and places.

A word should be said for the organ, for most organs were worthy of notice, both for what they could and for what they could not do. Seldom did an organ keep its true tone for more than a few years. If there were mechanics who could help them, I never met any such. Sometimes a key would get stuck and carry its tone right through the whole piece. Still more often the octave stop would get out of order, so that a note might be a mile too high. But people around the organ, singing lustily because life was sweet, did not pay much attention to such minor things as a note's being obstreperous.

Very rarely we opened the front room on other days besides Sunday. Then anything was appropriate, even fast melodies. Select company sometimes came on off days and could play the organ in any way they chose. Comic songs thus sometimes got to us, songs that we clung to ever afterward. Many times the one who played the organ on such occasions sang the song himself, doing what we all admired as something skillful, both playing and singing.

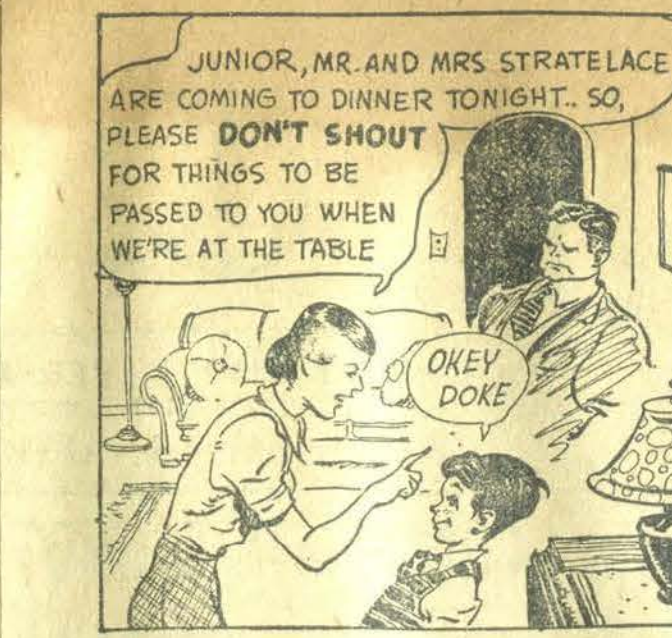

The radio brings us great things things I enjoy as much as any one, I am sure. But sometimes I long for a full-voiced group of amateurs around the organ or, now, the piano, a group that takes seriously the responsibility of providing its own entertainment.

APPLICATIONS FOR ACP PAYMENTS ARE READY FOR SIGNING

Applications for payments to farmers co-operating in the Agricultural Conservation Program are ready for the farmers' signatures, according to letters being mailed to co-operating members by County Agent S. L. Isbell and Chairman James Stephens.

For the convenience of those wishing to sign, a series of 14 meetings are scheduled throughout the county, each of which will be attended by Mr. Isbell and a clerk from his office. Those who do not sign at the community meetings may call at the Association office at the county agent's headquarters at Prestonsburg and sign their applications.

MAY DECLINES TO HELP REDS CELEBRATE

Washington, Nov. 3—With the observation that he preferred to do his celebrating on July 4, Chairman May, (D., Ky.) of the House Military Affairs Committee said today he had declined an invitation to attend an anniversary party here next Tuesday at the Russian Embassy.

The party will celebrate "the twenty-second anniversary of the great October Socialist revolution" that ended the rule of the Czars.

"I am not going to attend," the Kentuckian said. "I am going to wait until the Fourth of July for my celebration."

Four tons of Italian rye grass seed were sold by one merchant in Owsley county this fall. Rye grass was sowed in many cornfields, and nearly all tobacco patches were sowed with crimson clover. A thousand pounds of vetch seed were sold, compared with 200 pounds a year ago. County Agent Guy F. Boyd believes three-fourths of the cultivated land in the county will be sowed to cover crops in 1940. To avoid missing an issue of THE TIMES, renew your subscription now.

Army Discharges Kentuckian So He Can Support Family

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 27—The United States Army has agreed to let a Kentucky soldier return from Honolulu and take his father's place on the farm.

August W. Mauer, 24 joined the army last June 1 and was sent to join the Sixth Pursuit Squadron of the air corps at Wheeler Field in the Hawaiian Islands.

Four weeks ago his father, Eric Mauer, was killed in a fall from his barn loft, leaving no one to run his Franklin county dairy farm and support his widow and four children under 16. There were some older brothers and sisters, but they had married and moved away, and another brother, Paul, 19, drowned in April at Cumberland Falls.

The widow appealed to County Judge Boone Hamilton. The Judge wrote Kentucky's new Senator A. B. Chandler. Chandler told the War Department of the plight of the family, living on a mortgaged farm.

Today Judge Hamilton received word Adjt.-Gen. E. S. Adams had sent a radiogram to far-away Honolulu for Mauer to be discharged and sent home to support his family.

The new proposed route would start at Paintsville at the intersection of the Paintsville-Inez road and the Thealka road, up Muddy Branch and down Whipporwill Branch to Lowmansville. An order has been given for a survey of this route.

This action is taken, it is said, because of inability to secure right-of-way at a reasonable price where changes are to be made along the unfinished portion of Route 23 between Paintsville and Louisa.

The unfinished section of the Mayo Trail between Paintsville and Louisa, known as the "missing link" is the only unpaved section of the highway in the Big Sandy valley.

AMERICAN BOY MAGAZINE COMPANION TO THOUSANDS
Hundreds of thousands of boys and young men read THE AMERICAN BOY Magazine every month and consider it more as a living companion than as a magazine.

"It's as much a buddy to me as my neighborhood chum," writes one high school senior. "THE AMERICAN BOY seems to understand a boy's problems and considers them in such a sympathetic and helpful way. It gives advice and entertaining reading on every subject in which a young fellow is interested. It is particularly helpful in sports. I made our school basketball team because of playing tips I read in THE AMERICAN BOY."

Many famous athletes in all sports credit much of their success to helpful suggestions received from sports articles carried in THE AMERICAN BOY Magazine. Virtually every issue offers advice from a famous coach or player. Football, basketball, track, tennis, in fact every major sport is covered in fiction and fact articles.

Teachers, librarians, parents and leaders of boys' clubs also recommend THE AMERICAN BOY enthusiastically. They have found that as a general rule regular readers of THE AMERICAN BOY advance more rapidly and develop more worthwhile characteristics than do boys who do not read it.

Trained writers and artists, famous coaches and athletes, explorers, scientists and men successful in business and industry join with an experienced staff to produce in THE AMERICAN BOY the sort of reading matter boys like best.

THEATER SLAYING REMAINS MYSTERY

Hazard Girl Is Killed While Attending Movies Saturday

Hazard Ky., Nov. 5—A new element of mystery was injected late today into the strange circumstances surrounding the pistol slaying last night of Miss Clara Roberts, 20, in the Virginia theater when a revolver, which possibly was the death gun, was turned over to authorities.

Fred Bailey, advertising manager for the Virginia Company which operates the Virginia and the Family theaters here, turned over the weapon, a .38 calibre, to Policeman Cleon Begley and Bert Feltner, saying he found it in one of the moving picture show places.

The policemen took the gun, which had been fired three times and contained two unexploded cartridges, to Perry county Sheriff Justus Begley.

Efforts to locate Bailey to learn more definite details concerning the finding of the weapon were unsuccessful early tonight.

"I'm innocent," declared Crussie Collins, 30-year-old father of six who lives across the Kentucky river from Hazard in Bluegrass Hollow and is the motion picture operator at the Family theater, just a few blocks away from the scene of the slaying.

Collins, who, held in connection with the fatal shooting and the slugging of Miss Roberts' escort, said "Yes, she was my girl friend, I'm sorry it happened. There must have been some mistake."

He also asked a deputy sheriff if it could be arranged so that he could attend the services for Miss Roberts which will be held at 2 p. m. Monday in the Duane Baptist Church.

Patrons of the Virginia Theater, seated in nearby mezzanine seats, were so engrossed in the Western horse opera, "Six-Gun Rhythm," that there were no actual witnesses of the shooting police said.

Mrs. Crussie Collins, wife of the prisoner, could provide no explanation. She said her husband had left home after breakfast Saturday morning and hadn't returned all day.

The Rev. Dan Roberts, father of the victim and pastor of the Duane Baptist Church, however, admitted his daughter had been keeping company with Collins for about two years.

"She didn't know Collins was married until about two months ago," he said, "and after that she tried to break up with him and he threatened her several times."

Deputy Sheriff Wash Combs said he trailed Collins from the Virginia Theater down Main street, across the Kentucky river bridge and back down Main street again and arrested him in the projection room of the Family Theater.

Guy Madden, defeated candidate for Hazard City Commissioner in the recent primary election, declared he encountered Collins on the bridge where, he said, Collins asked him what time it was.

"Well, I've got to be moving on—the law is looking for me because I just killed a girl," Madden quoted Collins as saying.

Queried at the county jail where he was transferred by Police Judge Ralph Peters, Collins first said he remembered meeting Madden, then denied having seen him.

DWALE

One of Dwale's boys, who is now in the U. S. Navy, has sailed for Manila, P. I. Archie Akers, who has been stationed at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, since last December, has been assigned to the U.S.S. Tarpon as radioman third class, and sailed for Manila last week to be with the Asiatic fleet of Uncle Sam's navy. They will stop at different ports in China en route.

Mr. and Mrs. Vance Porter motored to Martin Sunday afternoon.

Creed Atkins spent the week-end with his parents at Mossy Bottom. He is attending school here.

Mrs. Carrie Porter and daughter, Adelpha, returned to their home here Sunday. They have been visiting Oliver Porter at Wheelwright.

The young people of Dwale have organized a Bible study, meeting every Sunday night. Johnnie Nelson is instructor.

Church was held at the Methodist Church here Sunday night, with Rev. Watson officiating.

PRIVATE EMPLOYERS UTILIZE FACILITIES OF EMPLOYMENT SERVICE

Since October 1, 1938, when the Kentucky State Employment Service first began operation on a state-wide basis, private employers have made use of the facilities of the organization in hiring 15,992 workers, according to a report furnished R. F. Fields, manager of the Pikeville office of this job placement service. This total is particularly favorable as it represents a 75.6 per cent increase over the number of private placements during the corresponding period of 1937-38. Employment Service applicants were hired for 13,852 public jobs, as compared with 12,067 for the previous corresponding period. This results in total placements of 29,844 workers for the 12 months, a 39 per cent increase over the same period of 1937-38. Of interest is the fact that public placements tended to approximate the number of workers placed on public jobs last year, and that the increase in total workers placed is made up entirely of jobs in private industry. Fields pointed out.

During the period, interviewers of the Employment Service took applications of 126,481 workers who for the first time sought jobs through the Employment Service. The importance of this figure is emphasized since it represents a 137.3 per cent increase over the number of new registrations during the 1937-38 corresponding period. The increase is due chiefly to the requirement of the Unemployment Insurance Law that workers be registered with the Employment Service to be eligible for benefits, the manager explained.

Members of the Employment Service made 10,285 visits to employers during the 12 months to point out the availability of the Service to the employers and to obtain information concerning possible job opportunities. This, too, represents increased activity of the service, Mr. Fields added.

An idea of the volume of activity which was carried on by the 13 local offices of the organization is indicated by the number of people calling upon the Employment Service for some type of assistance. "During the period of this report," Fields said, "1,029,754 visits were received from applicants, employers, and other people seeking information from the service."

KENTUCKY CENSUS HEADS APPOINTED

Washington, Nov. 2—Kentucky Congressmen today announced appointment of census supervisors in several districts.

Representative Noble Gregory said Joe Ely, Benton, had been appointed supervisor for the Mayfield district and Mrs. Roy C. Evans, Mayfield, assistant.

Representative Brent Spence said E. W. Boland, Fort Thomas, had been appointed Fifth district supervisor, with John Messingslaughter, Covington, assistant.

Representative A. J. May announced appointment of Kash Holbrook, Salyersville, Seventh district supervisor, and J. E. Sanders, Pikeville, as assistant.

WPA TO CO-OPERATE WITH SUPPRESSION OF STATE FOREST FIRES

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 1—Full use of WPA workers in suppressing forest fires in Kentucky, was announced today by George H. Goodman, administrator. Every project employe, Mr. Goodman said, is expected to cooperate fully with the Kentucky Division of Forestry and the United States Forest Service.

Any request for assistance in fighting forest fires shall be made by an authorized representative of one of the above mentioned agencies direct to the nearest WPA project supervisor who shall immediately release all able-bodied workers required. Compensation for such work, Mr. Goodman said, will be the responsibility of the Forest Service, state or federal, making the request for assistance and WPA workers will not be permitted to make up the time lost from their projects.

Mr. Goodman said disciplinary action would follow swiftly for any WPA employe refusing to assist in suppressing forest fires when officially requested to do so.

Want to Feel like a Big Shot?

WHAT we mean is, how'd you like to feel like you used to think a big shot must feel, cruising along in his big brawny Buick, envy of every youngster in town?

gentle lap of Foamtex-cushioned luxury—shift gears with a finger-flick, take bumps in BuCoil Springing's "full float" comfort, even signal your turns by a touch on a lever.

Fact is, a big brawny Buick—this year's beauty of a Buick—is within your reach right now.

And what do you pay for all this—budget-bursting prices?

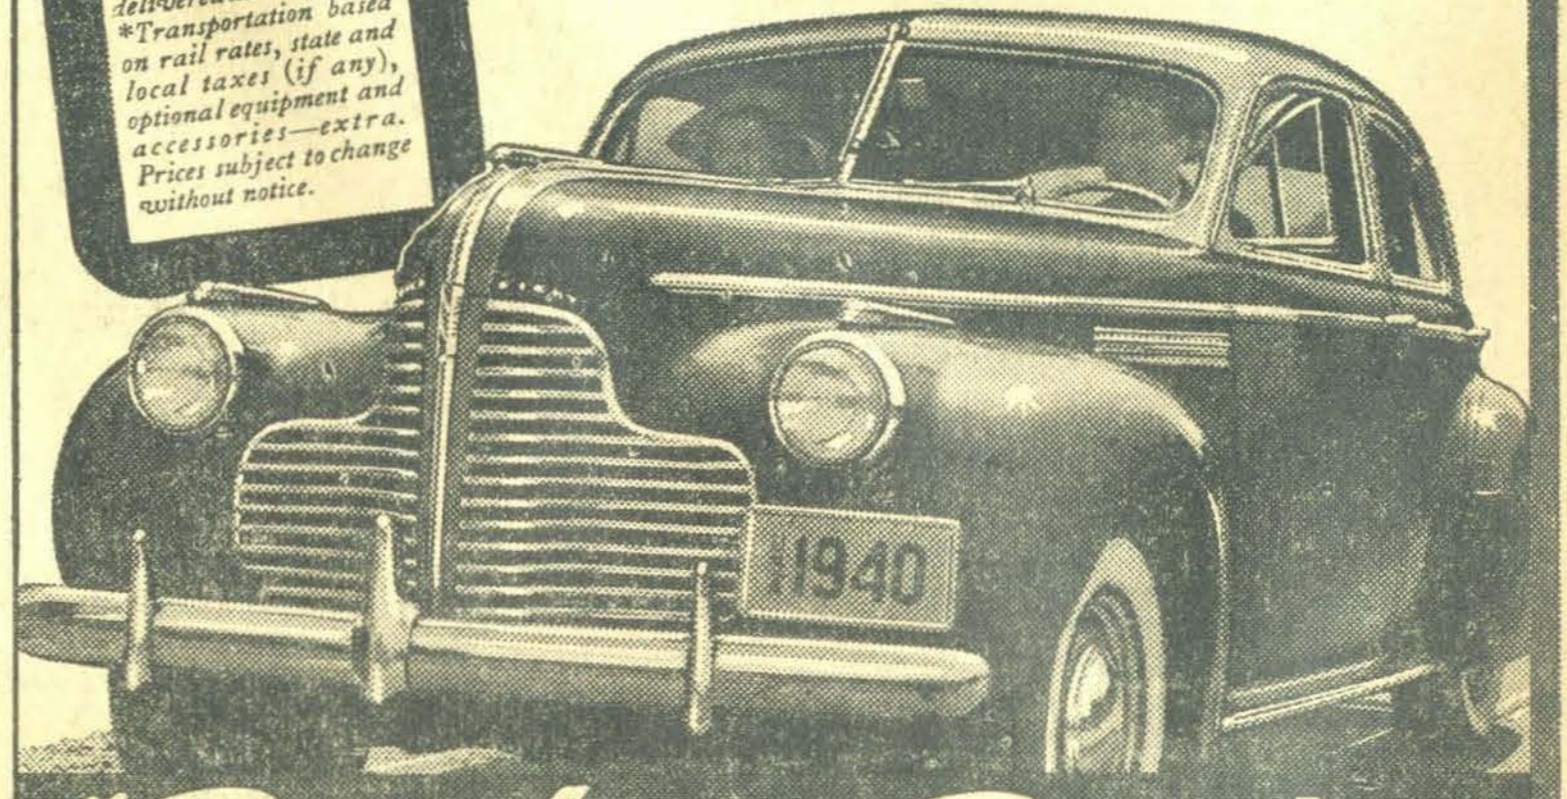

A husky headlong 107-horsepowered giant valve-in-head straight-eight can be yours to command—you can roll around town in the staunch and steady carriage that's sure big, beautiful and a bearcat in action when its boss gives the word!

Ix-nay! On the contrary, you can buy a Buick for less than some sixes! And you'll find when you look into what's included in these prices that they cover many an item that you will be asked to pay extra for elsewhere.

So lift your sights. This year, go after the car you really want—which means talking with your nearest Buick dealer—right now!

Not a six but an EIGHT for $895 and up delivered at Flint, Mich. *Transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), optional equipment and accessories—extra. Prices subject to change without notice.

The model illustrated is the BUICK SUPER model 51 four-door touring sedan $1109 delivered at Flint, Mich. White sidewall tires additional. No extra charge for the two-tone finish shown.*

WORK EFFICIENCY ORDERED BY WPA

Responsibility For Project Operations Placed Upon Foremen

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 1—Responsibility for efficient operation of all WPA projects in Kentucky and the efficient industry of each workman has been placed squarely upon the shoulders of project superintendents and foremen, according to a letter forwarded today from the office of E. A. Marye, director of the Division of Operations, to area engineers. Contents of the letter are as follows:

"Reports received during the past few weeks indicate a marked decrease in project efficiency throughout the state resulting from failure of the workers to deliver a fair day's work in return for wages received.

"Hourly rates and wages paid workmen employed on WPA projects in Kentucky equal or closely parallel wages paid for similar work by other employers within the community; general working conditions, including precautions taken to safeguard WPA workers certainly compares favorably with jobs conducted by other public or private agencies. Yet, apparently some workers and supervisors have the erroneous belief that less effort should be required from workmen employed by WPA.

"Please advise all superintendents and foremen that each is directly responsible for the efficient operation of his project or project unit, and that failure to require and exact a fair day's work from each individual worker will result in suspension or dismissal of the responsible supervisor."

MAKES SPREADER FROM CAR

In an effort to reduce the cost of spreading limestone, and thereby encourage its use, a spreader was constructed in Wayne county from the rear wheels, axle and drive shaft of a Model T Ford. Such a spreader can be made by any farmer with the assistance of a blacksmith for $4 to $5, according to C. H. Flanery, assistant county agent. The spreader is kept on display at the county agent's office.

TEACHERS' MEETING TO FEATURE SPEECH BY NOTED EDUCATOR

Morehead, Ky., Oct. 31—One of the high-lights of the E.K.E.A. sessions scheduled to open in Ashland November 10 will be the address of Albert Edward Wiggam, nationally known educator, at the Morehead State Teachers' College dinner scheduled for Friday, November 10, at 5:45 p. m., in the ballroom of the Henry Clay hotel.

Dr. Wiggam enjoys a national reputation and is the author of many widely-read books, most popular of which is his "The Marks of an Educated Man." Others include "The New Decalogue of Science," "The Next Age of Man," and "Exploring Your Mind."

Tickets for the banquet will be on sale in the lobby of the hotel in Ashland Thursday and Friday, November 9 and 10, according to Dr. J. D. Falls in charge of banquet arrangements.

An invitation to attend the banquet has been extended to all former students and friends of the college by H. A. Babb, president.

OFFICIAL ORGAN FOR FLOYD COUNTY, KY.
$1.50 Per Year Payable In Advance

NORMAN ALLEN Editor

Entered as second class matter June 18, 1927, at the postoffice at Prestonsburg, Ky., under the Act of March 3, 1879.

THE TIMES ENDORSES

1. Floyd county for Floyd countians.
2. Immediate completion of the Left Beaver and Johns Creek road.
3. Completion of all Farm-to-Market roads, by W. P. A. labor if possible, maintenance of these routes by the state rural road fund.
4. A trade-at-home policy followed by merchants and customers alike.
5. Full co-operation with all county and city officials, insisting that lawmakers and enforcement officers themselves obey the law to the letter.
6. Continuance of the Floyd county health department and county agricultural agent work.

THE BIG QUESTION

It happened again.
The boys, Floyd county boys, were sent to C.C.C. camps in Johnson and Pike counties.

Why? Because there was no Floyd county C.C.C. camp.
Why has Floyd county no C.C.C. headquarters? Don't ask us. We've pondered this question for a long while now, have delayed asking the whys and wherefores of the matter for many months while other counties of Eastern Kentucky were favored by the federal government in this respect while we remained outside in the cold.

The C.C.C. (Citizens' Conservation Corps) is, on the admission of all political parties one feature of the New Deal administration to which no legitimate objection can be made. All right, it is a good thing. Floyd county has lost, by wanton destruction of forest and soil, as much as any county in Eastern Kentucky. Therefore, Floyd county needs all the forces of conservation that it can beg, borrow or steal. Floyd county, it is to be presumed at least, pays taxes in proportion to Pike and Johnson and Leslie and all those other favored counties. Its support, then, of this federal work is as important as that of its neighbors.

Then may we be favored with an answer, at somebody's earliest convenience, stating just why, in the name of justice, common-sense or conservation, Floyd county has no C.C.C.?

TO ABIDE BY THE LAW—READ . . .

For the benefit of those who do not know, or who may have some doubt as to, the proper legal procedure in the publication of financial reports of those entrusted with the spending of public monies, THE TIMES respectfully calls attention to Chapter 83, Kentucky Statutes, Acts of 1926.

Also to be consulted is a recent edition of The Somerset Journal, Somerset, Ky., containing the report of the Pulaski County Board of Education for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1939. Just in case you don't get around to see it, permit us to tell you that it is no mere "re-cap" of how much we got and how much we spent, without the reader being let in on the details.

This Pulaski statement takes up, first of all, the receipts in brief, then, month by month, lists, line by line, the name of the person to whom money was paid, the service for which the money was spent, when—and the amount paid each person.

Thus the reader has before him, in black and white, the full record in detail. The account therefore has no resemblance to the one in which one partner tells another upon his return to their place of business, "Well, I took in $50 today and spent $49. As you can see, I have a dollar left in the cash register." Accounting made otherwise to the people is of little more effect than this pitiful example of stewardship.

Public officials who object to making stark revelation of their transactions in the use of public funds sometimes contend that the newspapers are interested in the matter merely for their own aggrandizement. But public officials who have no hesitation in telling the full story of their stewardship—they tell it without grimacing.

The law, you know, is made in what the common people regard, or once regarded, as high places. Then the same people expect the guardians and exponents of the law to begin obeying it themselves before telling the one-gallus guy in the streets to walk "the straight and narrow."

Points By Other Editors

IT CAN'T HAPPEN HERE?

A year ago, with war clouds hanging ominously low over Europe, Premier Daladier of France, with dictatorial power, decreed a forty-eight-hour working week in place of the forty-four-hour working week that had been established by the Socialistic Blum regime. He proclaimed publicly that Italy, starting from scratch with France, could build a battleship 13 months quicker than France, and moreover, that Mussolini's minions were actually doing it. And French workmen had no alternative except to go to work. As a matter of fact, most of them liked the change, and the added increment of the payroll envelope was hailed with joy by French housewives almost without exception.

In Italy 60 or more hours a week constitute the stint of her working population, and there are no idlers in Mussolini's domain. The walking delegate or business agent have been interned permanently. It is true, too, that the wage workers receive is pitifully small compared even with federal relief wages paid in the United States.

No Nazi dares quibble either about the almost indeterminate hours he works nor about the meager wages received from which a substantial amount is deducted for taxes. The German workman plods doggedly on with limited rationed food because he must. Rebellion or even remonstrance means the concentration camp, where there are neither idlers nor wages of any kind.

Of conditions in Russia the least that can be said is that they are unspeakable. Year after year famine sweeps the land and starvation destroys more lives than all other diseases, with the exception of recurring purges and firing squads that are calculated to keep the working man in the place the Comintern has fixed for him. Nowhere in the world is life as helpless and hopeless for the masses as in the vast Soviet dictatorship.

In the face of conditions in Europe, here in our own blessed America there are those who continue agitation for shorter working hours and even higher wages. At the moment in the automotive industry radical leadership, in an effort to control and dictate production, is depriving thousands of workmen of the right to work. Business enterprises strangled by governmental regulation and repression faces the dictatorship of unreasoning labor radicals who, unwittingly or not, are destroying business initiative and hope. God forbid that out of these conditions there should arise in America a dictatorship that would enmesh the masses of our countrymen in the thralldom of slavery to an autocrat.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

THUS IT WAS AND WILL BE

Soon the moon will be shining on the harvest wane, the frost will be on the pumpkin and the tangy odor of burning leaves will scent the air.

Come what may, here or abroad, nature goes on with her art. Already the paints are mixing and from her brush will come a masterpiece entitled, "Autumn."

Gradually the green of the leaves will turn to rust, then red and gold, the various shades of each lingering between. Finally the woods will seem to have been splashed with all the hues of a rainbow spilling from the sky, a last blaze of color before the long winter sleep.

The nights will become clear and sharply etched with the cornstalks gleaming row on row like an army of peaked ghosts standing at attention in the moonlight. The air will grow crisp. The bear will begin hunting a hollow log. A hint of snow will come down from the north.

And thus nature will move serenely from Summer to Autumn to Winter, her miraculous schedule unaffected by the disruption of other things.

All of this is good to contemplate, not only for the gorgeous spectacle that Autumn is, but for the proof it gives again that some things are certain and predictable in this unpredictable world of uncertainty. It is like seeing the light of a familiar beacon in the midst of a storm.—Glasgow Times.

VICTIM OF STYLE

The spectacle of Miss Sally Rand in bankruptcy court—fan, bubble, and all—is one that jolts the mind's eye. There must be, one hastens to assure oneself, more to this than greets the eye, albeit not Sally's custom to conceal anything.

However, facts are facts, and life requires that they be faced, even when their significance is as dispiriting as the apparent financial downfall of the nation's No. 1 fan and bubble dancer. It seemed a fitting and proper phase of the great American picture that Miss Rand, reputedly a good business-woman in her own right, should be worth gobs of money.

It was Sally who fanned the Chicago Century of Progress into flame as a financial venture, making her fan dance a come-hither symbol which has not been improved upon even since the erection of the Trylon and Perisphere on Flushing Meadows. In between fairs Miss Rand developed her bubble dance and addressed luncheon clubs. She turned impresario with the opening of the Golden Gate Exposition, and proceeded to regale customers with an assortment of young women attired in boots, holsters and western bandanna handkerchiefs, presented under the billing of "Sally Rand's D-nude Ranch."

The apparent lack of profit from this and other of Miss Rand's recent entertainment ventures can hardly be taken to indicate a basic change in human nature. More likely, Miss Rand merely is the victim of a change in style. But how, we wonder, is a girl to do a bubble dance in a wasp-waisted corset?—Cincinnati Enquirer.

WHEN WILL THE AIR ARM STRIKE?

No question of the war has so captured the popular imagination as "When will the air arm strike?" The delay in massed air attack has created a sort of second "battle of nerves," with much of the world fearful, yet curious and morbidly anxious to know what its large-scale results will be. The answer to the question, it is conceded, is probably known only to Hitler, if, indeed, he knows himself.

If the German fuhrer is convinced his efforts to avoid a "war in earnest" have failed and that time is on the side of the Allies and their blockading activities, then he is likely to lose his warbirds, especially if he is confident their power is as terrible as the world has been led to believe and that he will be able to destroy the resistance of his enemies quickly.

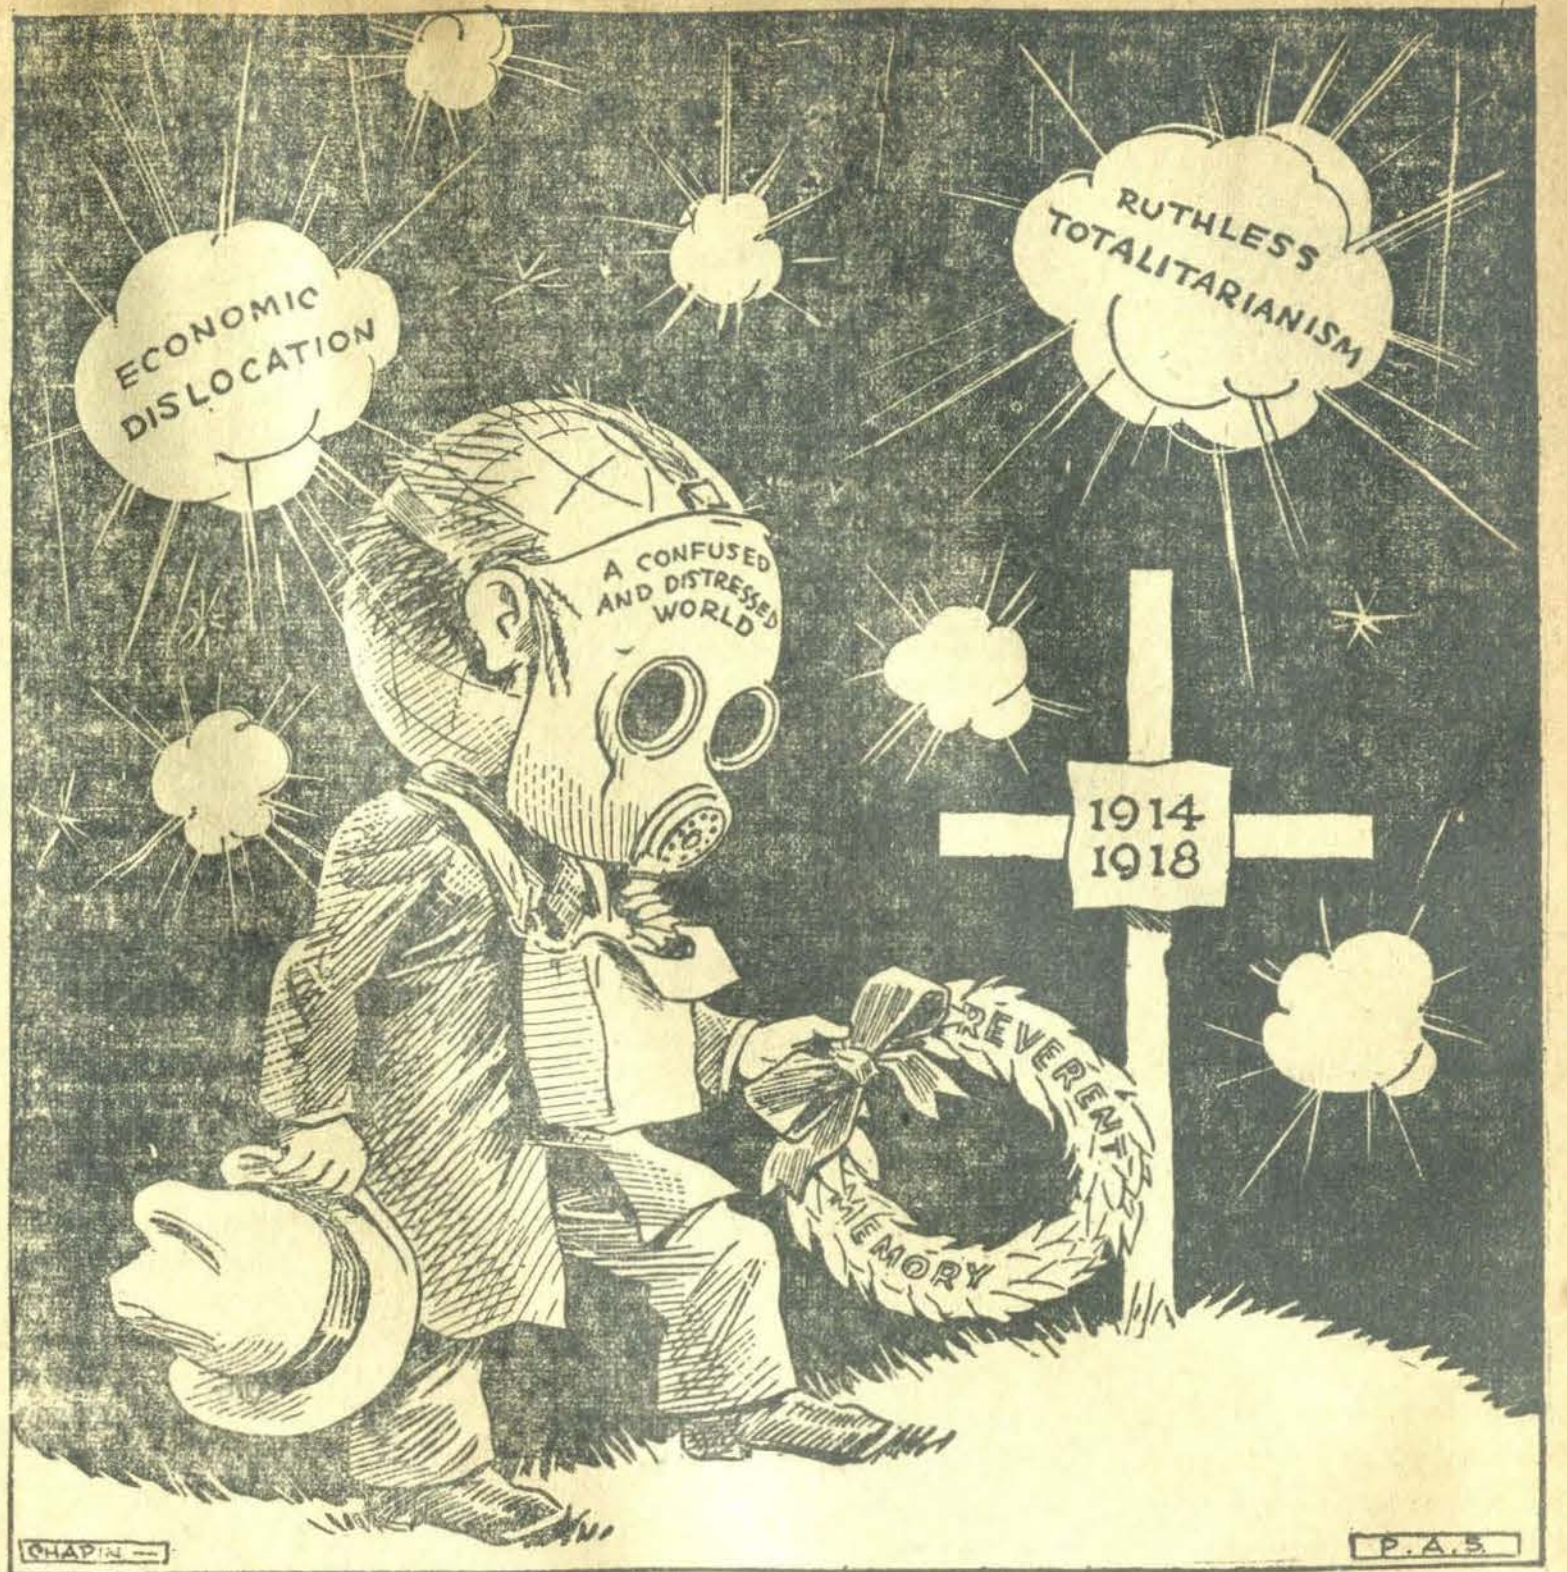

That he has not already ordered the "bloodbath" may well be due to his conviction the air force will not be the deciding factor and that, even if it is, a war on the grand scale is likely to leave Germany physically and economically wrecked and to topple him and his government into the debris.

Desperation is the most plausible reason Hitler would have for opening an unrestricted aerial campaign, the realization that the chips are down and he must gamble everything on his ace in the hole.

Signs point to just such a growing feeling of desperation. The Russian pact has apparently boomeranged; Italy no longer seems to be unqualifiedly back of the fuhrer; winter, with its attendant hardships, is nearing; hopes for "peace on my terms" are fast dwindling.

Paducah Sun-Democrat.

Armistice Day, 1939

Dale Carnegie

Author of "How to Win Friends and Influence People."

AMERICA'S GREATEST MERCHANT

One day a farm boy 17 years old went into a "general store" in Pittsfield, Mass., and said that he would like to get a job. Abner Davis, the proprietor, looked him over, said that he had found that most clerks were triflin' and lazy and not much good, but that he would give him a try.

The boy asked how much he would pay, and Davis said, "I'll pay $4 a week, but I don't expect you'll be worth it."

The boy was delighted! Here was a start. But the $4 would not keep him, so he asked Davis if he could give him a place to sleep. The proprietor said he could sleep in the back of the store, where the stock was kept. Then he added, "But I don't expect you'll be much good keepin' watch of it."

The boy worked hard, sometimes fourteen hours a day. He tried to please the fault-finding old storekeeper in every way, but the man never had any words of praise, let alone approval. Molasses was kept in the back of the store, and one day the boy tracked some of it into the store. Davis criticized him sharply, and finally took 25c out of his week's wages.

The boy worked there for five years, and during that time received hardly a word of appreciation. At last, the boy told Davis he was leaving and was going to Chicago to see if he couldn't bet a better job. Davis said, "I hope you have luck, but I doubt it."

Well, that young man went to Chicago and was Marshall Field.

He got a job as clerk at $400 a year, and saved exactly half his salary. In eight years he rose from that $400 a year to become the head of the firm.

When he died he left the longest will ever written. It had almost exactly the same number of words as the book, "Good-bye, Mr. Chips." Twenty-two thousand words. The will has never been broken.

His daughter married an earl. Her husband won the famous naval battle of Jutland.

He became the greatest merchant America has ever known. As young Field was skyrocketing up, a man from near Pittsfield visited Field in Chicago, and when he returned, he told Davis about the phenomenal stride Field had made.

"Well," said Davis, who was still running his general store, "I can't see how he got ahead so fast there. He didn't amount to much around here." And perhaps one reason why he never amounted to anything in Pittsfield was because he got nothing but criticism—no appreciation.

Appreciation! What a rare virtue it is. And how little there is of it in the world. You employers—why don't you say a few words of appreciation to your help! It will buoy them up. And it won't cost anything. Why put it off? Do it today before they go home.

HEALTH NEWS

Three cases of typhoid were reported from the Auxier community last week. Ira Delong, Venice Collins and Robert Montgomery all are patients in the Paintsville hospital and doing well with exception of Venice Collins. It is reported to be near death. These cases were visited by members of the health department and measures taken to prevent further spread.

The regular child health conference and pre-natal clinics were held at Wayland Monday and Wednesday. The child health conference has grown so large that it has become necessary to divide this clinic and hold it two days, on Monday and Tuesday of the second week in each month. At Monday's clinic 106 children attended and several went home without examinations.

No new cases of infantile paralysis has been reported this week. Two cases were reported during the latter part of last week. These cases have all been visited by me and the usual instructions as to the prevention and spread were instituted. Children who have been crippled by the disease have been listed as crippled children and will be taken care of through the Kentucky Crippled Children Commission.

Green Howard, 3, son of Mrs. Edith Howard, Brainard, returned from the Crippled Children's hospital, Ashland, Monday night. He was unable to walk when admitted to the hospital on July 26, and was fitted with braces. He is able to walk since the application of braces to his legs.

NAMES OMITTED

Omitted unintentionally from the list of honorary pallbearers at the funeral of F. H. Cottrell, published in The Times last week, were the following names:

J. D. Haskins, Sr., J. O. Webb, Thomas Hereford, W. J. May, E. D. Roberts, W. A. Spradlin, John W. Hensley, Charles Hughes, T. E. Dimick.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our relatives, friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness and sympathy shown us in our recent bereavement in the loss of our dear husband and father. We especially thank the ministers, the ones who sat up, the choir, pallbearers and the donors of floral tributes.

HONORS MRS. BROCK
One of the pretty parties of the season was the personal shower given in honor of Mrs. Hiram M. Brock, Jr., (nee, Eula Mae Nunnery) Friday evening at the apartment of Miss Dona Bailey. The house was decorated throughout with beautiful autumn flowers.

A delicious dessert course was served at the beginning of the evening, followed by bridge, with Joan Williamson winning high score and the traveling prize, and Mrs. Emma Endicott, second high.

Following the bridge, the honoree acknowledged most graciously the many lovely gifts.

Miss Vivian Hatcher was co-hostess with Miss Bailey for the occasion. Those enjoying their hospitality were: Mesdames Norman Sharp, Sam Hatcher, Robert Day Francis, J. S. Kelly, Willie Mellon, Adrian Collins, Joe A. Spradlin, Eddie Worland, Emma Endicott, Lyda Preston, A. J. May, Jr., Charles Hughes, Gwenn Ford, Carl Riffe, Hiram M. #### THANKS

We of the Progressive ticket for Mayor and Council of Prestonsburg desire to take this opportunity of expressing our sincere gratitude to our fellow-citizens of Prestonsburg for their fine expression of confidence in us, as manifested on election day. We further thank those good people, who by their good words spoken of us during the course of the campaign, were an inspiring source of encouragement and strength.

Our constant endeavor will be to justify the people's faith in us.

To those of the Beehive and Open Book tickets with whom we will be associated in our new tasks we offer our hearty co-operation.

To those of the opposition who were not so fortunate as us we offer our hand in friendship and invite you to help us in the worthy task of building a bigger city, and realizing a NEW DAY for Prestonsburg.

Situating, lying and being in the town of Martin, Floyd County, Kentucky, on the waters of Beaver Creek and more particularly bounded and described as follows: Being Lots No. 1 and 2 of Block I in the New Martin Addition to the town of Martin as shown by plat filed in the Floyd County Clerk's office in Deed Book No. 62, page 223, to which reference is made, and being a part of the same land conveyed by Townsel Combs et ux to J. P. Akers, by deed bearing date October 7, 1922 and recorded in Deed Book 62, page 328, records of Floyd county.

Also all the timber now on the following described tract of land:

Lying and being in Floyd county, Ky., on the waters of Left Beaver Creek and more particularly bounded as described as follows: Bounded on the north at the lower end thereof, by the lands of Frank Martin and Anna Martin and the lands of Mousie Halbert and her children. Bounded on the upper end by lands belonging to the heirs of J. P. Salisbury and Chattie Salisbury, William Salisbury and Rasser Martin. On the east by the top of the ridge between the waters of main Left Beaver Creek and Kershaw Branch of same, and on the west by the top of the ridge between the waters of Left Beaver Creek and the waters of Right Beaver Creek, containing between five and six hundred acres.

And if the sums of money set out hereinafter are not made from the sale of said property at Martin and said timber, then the above described tract of land shall be offered.

Or sufficient amount thereof to produce the following sums of money ordered to be made:

$888.00 with six per cent interest from November 18, 1913; $46.07 without interest; $600.00 with six per cent interest from June 15, 1924, subject to a credit of $100.00 on June 15, 1934, and a credit of $300.00 on July 6, 1935; $34.60 without interest; $506.87 with six per cent interest from January 1, 1938; $270.00 with six per cent interest from January 1, 1937; $502.00 with six per cent interest from October 22, 1931, subject to a credit of $200.00 on August 8, 1932; $36.65 without interest; $200.00 with interest from May 15, 1934; $32.45 with six per cent interest from February 6, 1933; $350.00 with six per cent interest from July 10, 1937; $20.00 with six per cent interest from March 4, 1939; $75.40 with six per cent interest from March 4, 1939; $218.62 with six per cent interest from June 27, 1937; $223.81 with six per cent interest from May 23, 1938; $12.00 without interest; $19.50 without interest; $37.80 without interest; $435.20 without interest and an additional sum of $300.00 probable court cost.

For the purchase price, the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or sureties, bearing interest from date of sale until paid, having the force and effect of a judgment. W. W. BURCHETT, Special Commissioner

COURT REMOVES DEPUTY CONSTABLE FROM OFFICE

The Floyd county court this week ordered Isaac Flannery, deputy constable in magisterial district No. 4, removed from office, after he had entered a plea of guilty on a public drunkenness charge. A fine on the charge was paid Saturday.

IS QUEEN'S ATTENDANT

Miss Mary Jane Elam, granddaughter of Judge and Mrs. A. T. Patrick, was named as one of the attendants to Miss Marjorie Weaver, movie star, who was chosen Queen of the Lexington Tobacco Carnival.

Have You or Your Friends Been Flood-Sufferers?

Have any of you who may read this, or have any of your kinsmen or friends, been victims of disaster in its manifold forms?

THEN REMEMBER THE RED CROSS AS IT DID YOU.

OUR WAR DEAD SPEAK!

"We who are dead, greet you, who soon must die. Dust unto dust . . . and unto dust . . . to lie.

Hark! Hear the drums! We heard them too, and so, Singing, we marched away to face the foe.

We were so young—and who was there would not sing?
We knew not then what the gray dawns would bring,

Nor the black nights of trench raids and patrols, Offshoots of hell, that were to wreck men's souls.

By Meuse and Aisne, where fields of golden wheat Gave us of steel, instead of bread to eat.

Though through it all we kept our faith—and pride— Always the worms ate those of us who died.

Always this message from our land afar, 'This is war . . . forever to end war!'

But we are dead. War comes . . . and you must die! Dust unto dust . . . and under dust. But why?"

FRED S. WERTENBACH
(Sergeant 111th Inf., A.E.F.)

Quick War Relief Given by Red Cross

Shipwrecked American Citizens, Wounded Poles, Refugees, Repatriates Aided

Washington.—The American Red Cross moved quickly at the onset of hostilities in Europe to organize relief for war sufferers and give aid to American citizens stranded in danger zones or rescued from sea-warfare catastrophe.

Red Cross officials pointed out that following contact of German-Polish forces on September 1, the organization made available medical relief for civilians and armies of Poland; provided aid for Americans repatriating from Europe as they landed in the United States ports; granted medical and maintenance assistance to American survivors of the "Athenia," first sea casualty of the war; gave financial aid to the American Hospital in Paris, France; and developed a comprehensive communications system to allay the fears of distraught relatives.

Norman H. Davis, chairman, cabled the International Red Cross Committee in Geneva on September 1 asking what relief would be needed from the American Red Cross. In a first step in consolidating Red Cross relief forces throughout the nation, 3,700 Red Cross chapters were authorized to begin producing refugee garments and to accept contributions for war relief.

A quick response from the Polish Red Cross to Chairman Davis' cable to the International Committee resulted in an American Red Cross appropriation of $50,000 for the purchase of 45 items of medicines, and for army blankets and a quantity of large hospital tents capable of housing 50 stretcher cases each.

COAL PRODUCTION SHOWS INCREASE

Eastern Kentucky Output Is Almost Doubled in Last Six Weeks

Eastern Kentucky coal industry has almost doubled production in this area during the past six weeks, it was pointed out by R. F. Fields, manager, Kentucky State Unemployment Service, Pikeville, in a report made this week. "The work of this office in the selection and referral of miners of all types to local coal operators in this and nearby counties has likewise increased in proportion," Mr. Fields said, "and although Pikeville, due to its geographical location, has not seen the heavy upturn in receipts of local business as have some other towns, conditions are reported to be much better than they were a month ago." The Employment Service has had a part in finding jobs for many hundreds of workers.

There remains, however, need for good miners and other workmen.

Due to rigid methods of classifying and selecting workers for private employers, the Service cannot assure anyone in advance that it can find work for them, but it does promise proper registration of all physically fit persons who file application for work, and those who meet the employers' requirements will doubtless be placed.

Those in need of any type of work—sales, clerical, domestic or odd jobs—call 69, Pikeville.

My pots and pans are unbelievably clean because I cook ELECTRICALLY

FLAMELESS!... NO SOOT—NO FUMES

A WOMAN who uses an old-fashioned cook stove has not only all the wear and tear on her disposition caused by standing for hours over a hot cook stove, but also the wear and tear on cooking utensils, blackened by flaming fuels.

Today, all the bright cleanliness of a shiny pan is retained throughout its life and needless scrubbing is no more, when ELECTRIC Cookery is used... Clean... Quick... Economical.

MOUNTAIN MUSIC!

A local sager took his gal to a 2c show here recently but, once inside, couldn't agree on a seating place. She preferred two empty seats in the rear of the theater, but he wanted to sit up front. He pulled forward, and she balked.

Finally, thinking she would follow, he started walking on down the aisle. The independent lady chose one of the empty seats in the back and sat down. After an impatient wait among the little 'uns, the fellow decided to give in and go back to his love.

On reaching the two seats, he found a man already occupying the one beside his sweetie. He thereupon demanded that she pay back the twenty-seven cents. The embarrassed female tried to chase him away but he stood pat, loudly demanding his money. She fumbled in her purse and brought out three dimes, which she handed to him. Our gallant hero didn't have the 3c change she asked for, nor did it worry him. He simply pocketed the 30c and stalked back to his place among the kiddies.

GOOD ENOUGH FOR 'EM

On reading that two West Virginia youths were given life, and 30-year sentences for forgery, I instinctively felt that the terms were outrageously severe. Reading further and learning the amount of the forgeries totaled only about 45 dollars, I became certain it was too much!

But now, after due consideration of the subject, I've changed my mind. If crime-doers have not the gumption to do their "business" in Floyd county, Ky., where even murderers get nothing, they ought to be imprisoned!

Farmer: How many children do you have, sir?

Salesman: Well, I have two girls, two boys and five other children.

The best thing about "Happy" Chandler being U. S. Senator: Kentucky doesn't have to pay his traveling expenses.

By the time you read this the election will be over, Keen Johnson will have been elected to succeed himself, and Perry Osborne will have lost his five box.

King Swope is like Al Smith—he makes a good candidate but is too closely associated with the "Big Boys" to be a winner.

MAYTOWN

Mrs. Forrest Mosier and small son, Keith Stanley of Austin, Ind., are visiting relatives here this week. Mrs. Mosier is remembered as Miss Pearl Stephens, formerly of Maytown.

Misses Violet and Rose Hagans are recuperating after minor injuries sustained in a motor accident last Saturday night. Miss Rose Hagans has returned to Pikeville, where she is a senior student in Pikeville College. Miss Violet Hagans has returned home following a short stay in the Martin General hospital.

Savage Cooley had the misfortune to lose his car by fire last week-end. The car went over an embankment, and Mr. Cooley went for assistance to get it out. Upon his return to the scene he found the car in flames.

Mrs. Fletcher May, of Bull Creek, spent the week-end here and was accompanied to Pikeville Saturday by Miss Opal May.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Patrick were in Prestonsburg Saturday.

Miss Ruby Elizabeth Sutton is ill this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. May and children were Sunday night supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Allen, Martin.

Rev. C. C. Newsome was in Allen on business Monday.

CLUB WILL MEET

The Maytown Woman's Club will be entertained to a social in the home of Mrs. Raymond Sexton at Estill Tuesday, November 14, at 7 p. m. Members are reminded to bring their dues for the year.

NEW BUILDING ENTERED

The new school building will be occupied some time this week, according to reports. Seven teachers with their respective classes will move from the gym and from the church to the major building, recently completed.

HALLOWEEN PARTY FOR SENIOR CLASS

Members of the senior class enjoyed a Halloween frolic in the science hall Monday evening, chaperoned by several of the high school teachers. Henry Frasure is president of the class this year.

HOME EC SOCIAL

The home economics girls, under the leadership of their instructor, Miss Opal May, held a social on Tuesday of last week, with decorations, games and refreshments in keeping with the Halloween season.

SCHOOL DISMISSES FOR E.K.E.A.

The school will close for E.K.E.A. the latter part of the week and various teachers will attend the meeting in Ashland.

P.-T.A. TO MEET

Dr. Crooks president of Pikeville Junior College, will address the Maytown P.-T. A. in the science hall Wednesday, November 15, 7 p. m. His subject is: "How Parents May Assist Their Children in Choosing Vocations." Everyone is urged to attend and hear him. The P.-T. A. year year books will be distributed at this meeting.

MAYTOWN NETTERS BOW TO McDOWELL FRIDAY NIGHT, 23-17

McDowell, Ky.—The McDowell high school basketball team won its second game of the season Friday night by defeating the Maytown Wildcats, 23-17 on the local floor. In their only other start, of the current season they nosed out the Blue Diamond hoopsters, 14-13, on the previous Friday night.

Both teams presented a strong defense during the first half, with Maytown leading at the end of the first quarter, 2-0, after Martin, Maytown forward, sunk a long shot. In the second quarter McDowell knotted the count, with McCoy working for a crisp. Maytown went into the lead when Patton cashed in on a free toss. McDowell went out in front for the first time of the game when I. Hall got loose under the goal, and held the lead for the rest of the game. The score at the half stood 6-5.

McDowell outplayed the visitors by a wide margin during the second half, and led at the end of the third quarter, 16-8. Maytown rallied briefly in the closing minutes of the final quarter, but was unable to overcome the lead.

Ira Hall contributed 14 of his team's 23 points to capture high scoring honors. Hays, Maytown guard, came through with two field goals and a free toss to lead his mates in scoring. In the first two preliminary games the McDowell second team edged out the Maytown reserves, 6-5; the McDowell girls won the other, 5-4.

The line-up: McDowell (23) Pos. Maytown (17) I. Hall (14) F. Martin (4) Elswick F. Bingham McCoy (2) C. Allen (3) Myers (2) G. Patton (3) Tackett (3) G. Hays (5) Substitutions: McDowell—J. Hall (2), Maytown—Webb 2, Referee—Vincent (Western).

BAND ON MOTORCADE

Twenty-two members of the Prestonsburg high school band, under the direction of Jesse Elliott, represented the school on the P.C.B.A. motorcade to the Right and Left Beaver sections Wednesday, last week. Transportation was furnished the group by Sparks Bros. Bus Company.

Harold Taylor, Bosco, was visiting Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hughes, Hippo.

37,925 TONS OF PHOSPHATE USED IN FARM PROGRAM

Approximately 50,000 Kentucky farmers took triple superphosphate instead of cash payments in the agricultural conservation program this year, it is announced from the Agricultural Adjustment Administration office at Lexington. They ordered a total of 37,925 tons, or 4,661 tons more than last year.

Graves county again was in the lead, with 1,088 tons of phosphate ordered this year. Other counties where farmers ordered large amounts of triple superphosphate in lieu of cash payments, include Barren, Ohio Henry, Hardin, Logan Hart, Bourbon Caldwell, Calloway, Christian, Daviess, Hopkins, Jefferson, Madison and Pulaski.

Leslie county farmers, who ordered no phosphate last year, this year took 28 tons.

Figures are not yet available as to how farmers used the phosphate this year. Last year, 40,577 farmers used 33,263 tons on 435,608 acres, principally on alfalfa, bluegrass, lespedeza clovers and grass mixtures.

According to records in the state agricultural conservation program office, the 50,000 Kentucky farmers who ordered triple superphosphate as a grant of aid this year are earning an average of 49 per cent of their soil-building allowances by the practice of applying phosphate to soil-conserving crops.

Your Cold Cough Goes Quick When You Get Mentho-Mulsion

Most coughs spread infection for thirty feet, which is one reason why colds quickly spread to every member of the family and through entire office organizations. Mentho-Mulsion contains seven soothing, healing oils and unguents that relieve that stuffed-up feeling and stops coughing within a few seconds. Mentho-Mulsion also contains vitamins A and D to build up cold resistance, and genuine beechwood croosote for penetration. Its base of genuine California fig syrup gives Mentho-Mulsion a taste you will like and makes it cling to your membranes so its soothing, healing ingredients act quicker, better. If Mentho-Mulsion does not stop your coughing at once, and get you entirely over your cold cough quicker than any medicine you ever tried, ask for your money back. A well known druggist's wife recently stated: "I took Mentho-Mulsion for a bad cold cough, and my cough disappeared so quickly we now keep Mentho-Mulsion at home all the time ready to take at the first sign of a cold or cough." Mentho-Mulsion is endorsed by your neighbors and guaranteed by leading druggists everywhere—adv.

WINTER WARNINGS

Now that cold weather is just around the corner, you will be driving with your windows closed. You are asked to remember two things: With windows closed it is more difficult to hear horns, train whistles and warning bells. And a car without ventilation exposes its occupants to the danger of carbon monoxide. Check over your automobile for leaks in the exhaust system. Open the cowl ventilator to circulate air, because open windows create a suction in the car which draws exhaust gases through the floorboards. There are two ways of committing suicide with gas. One is by stepping on it. The other is by warming a motor in a closed garage.

Another precaution against deadly carbon monoxide fumes is keeping your garage doors propped open when the motor of your car is running. Don't let carelessness put you on the spot.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS FORM BRANCH CLUB

Martin, Ky., Nov. 3 (Spl.)—Floyd county's Young Democratic Club met in the school building here last night and organized a branch club to serve as the local unit of the county's official Democratic youth organization. Lon C. Hill, vice-president, presided at the meeting and outlined the club's major objectives of (1) abolishing politics from the school system by allotting the teachers' jobs on a merit basis; (2) urging the selection of law enforcement officers with preference given to character and reputation, and (3) the abolishment of vote-selling and vote-buying within the county.

The branch officials elected for the Martin vicinity were: Forrest Ha'bert, president; Otto Elam, vice-president, and Ann Patrovah, secretary and treasurer. The local organization will join forces with the parent club in the various membership-drives meetings to be held throughout the county.

Meeting at the school building Monday night, Maytown's young Democrats were formed into a branch unit of the county's political youth organization. Local members selected as their leaders: Roy Turner, president; Joe Dyer, vice-president; Hildred Baldrige, secretary; Ed Sutton, treasurer.

Osmer C. Turner, superintendent of Maytown schools, talked briefly of the possibilities which lay ahead of the organization, and urged the members to work toward worthwhile goals. Lon Hill, vice-president of the county club, presided at the meeting.

The next meeting will be held at Martin, November 13, for a business session. The following night (Tuesday) beginning at 6 o'clock, the Young Democrats plan to form a "local" at Garrett. On leaving that place the group will go directly to Wayland where still another set of branch officials will be installed. All meetings will be held in the high school buildings of the respective towns.

CAPITOL COMMENTS

The Federal Wage Hour Administration entered into its second year of control over wages and hours last week. Under provisions of the Wage Hour Law the minimum wage, enforced the first year, was 25c an hour, which was increased to 30c an hour the second year and will stay at 30c for six years, after which it will be increased to 40c.

The maximum work week dropped from 44 hours to 42 hours and will be reduced to 40 hours next year. Any time over the maximum set must be paid for at the rate of time and one-half.

This law affects only those employed by firm engaged in inter-state commerce, and although it applies to more than 181,000 Kentuckians, most of them are already receiving as much or more than the law requires. More than 13,500 people, however, will receive wage increases, and 28,000 will work less hours, under the new requirements.

This law should not be confused with the state law applying and women and children.

Many small brush fires have been burning all over the state and in numerous cases disastrous forest fires have been narrowly averted.

A tree takes many years to grow but fire can destroy it in a few minutes. Please don't throw matches or cigarettes away without first snuffing them out. This caution may save thousands of dollars, myriads of small animals and birds, and possibly human lives.

At a state meeting of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, delegates were requested to urge the Governor and the Legislature to increase the pension of the remaining veterans and widows that they may receive benefits they sorely need.

More than 45,000 aged persons have received a total of $389,693.50 for September old-age assistance, Dr. A. Y. Lloyd, director of Old-Age Assistance, announced last week.

Next meetings of state employees in Frankfort are being held to help organize and co-ordinate the work for the election.

Such meetings were held before the primary and had a tremendous influence on the results of the election, as one of the best organizers in the state had charge of this work.

At a state meeting of the Democratic Women's Clubs of Kentucky, it was announced that 110 counties had organizations. Mrs. Emma Guy Cromwell deserves much credit for this.

AUTOMOBILE USED AS WEAPON

Glasgow—Alleged use of an automobile as a weapon in a fight between Park City and Cave City in Barren county put two men in the hospital at Glasgow, one with a dislocated shoulder, and the other with a fractured skull and fractured right leg. Dave Estes, 58, and his son, Otis, 30, were the victims. They are believed to have been struck by a car driven by L. L. Lyons, who, with his son, James had an altercation with Estes and his son. The elder Lyons claimed the car ended the brawl by accident when he became excited, ran over Estes and his son, and James Lyons, as the trio lay sprawled on the ground fighting.

nished by Jimmie Sammons and his orchestra.

THIRTY-SIX AUTOS JOIN MOTORCADE

Right and Left Beaver Towns Visited During P.C.B.A. Goodwill Tour

Thirty-six automobiles bearing 126 persons participated last Wednesday in the goodwill motorcade of the Prestonsburg Co-Operative Business Association to Left and Right Beaver towns.

Visited during the day were Allen, Martin, Drift, Wheelwright, Weeksberry, Maytown, Garrett, Lackey and Wayland.

At each stop a brief program was given and souvenirs distributed by merchants and other business men of Prestonsburg. The Rev. Campbell Jeffries, pastor of Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church, bore the brunt of the speaking duties.

On behalf of the business association J. J. Hatcher, president, expressed appreciation of the cordial welcome with which the motorcade was received at the various stops and for the co-operation of those who made the tour a success. He also lauded Towns Hall, superintendent of Floyd county schools, for permitting principals of the several schools near which programs were given to disburse classes so that the students could attend.

THE TIDE'S OUT

Whether Alabama's football team should be called the Red Elephants or the Pink Elephants might be a matter for argument, but we're inclined to believe they are of the less radical hue, since one radical we know in Prestonsburg had a nightmare in which he saw "pink elephants on the wall" after the 'Bama-Kentucky football game last Saturday.

Blackcats Win, 7-0

threat came in the fourth quarter when the visitors unleashed an aerial attack that carried them from their own 19-yard line to the Blackcat eight, featured by a pass, Tolliver to Cook, good for 30 yards. With a first down on the Prestonsburg eight-yard line Pigman threw a pass which was knocked down in the Blackcat zone. His next attempt was caught out of bounds and the ball went over to the Blackcats on the Whitesburg 20 on the touch-back.

As the game ended Coach Harlowe's boys were in possession of the ball on the visitors' five-yard line.

137 X-RAY PICTURES MADE DURING ANNUAL TUBERCULOSIS CLINIC

At the annual tuberculosis X-ray clinic conducted Friday and Saturday in the office of the Floyd county health department here by Dr. John B. Floyd, assisted by the Prestonsburg Woman's Club, 137 X-ray pictures were made of persons reacting to the tuberculin tests and of those having personal contact histories.

As is customary, the pupils of two of the county's consolidated schools were tuberculin tested in preparation for this clinic. This year pupils of the Prestonsburg and Weeksbury high schools were tested, with the reactions of about 20 per cent of the 500 tested showing positive. X-ray pictures were made of most of the positive reactors.

Forty pupils from the Weeksbury consolidated school were brought to Prestonsburg in a school bus. Several members of the Prestonsburg Woman's Club assisted in the clinic, which is made possible each year by the Christmas seal sale conducted by the club.

RARE OPERATION PERFORMED UPON CHILD

Glasgow—Suffering with a stomach ailment and unable to retain nourishment for several days, a six-year-old Cumberland county girl was admitted to the Samson Community hospital here last week for observation. Upon examining the child, it was revealed there was something in her stomach thought to be a tumor.

The child's condition necessitated an immediate operation to remove the obstruction, and upon opening the stomach a "hair ball" about the size of a large banana and eight inches in length was found. The specimen was described as larger than half the size of the child's stomach of that age.

It developed that the child had been of a nervous nature from infancy and would pull out her hair and oftentimes swallow it. Therefore, a hair ball formed in her stomach and gradually matted and became larger as she continued to swallow her hair. The finding of the hair ball was described by hospital attendants as the most unusual operation of the some 15,000 that have been performed at the Samson Community hospital since it was opened 10 years ago. The little girl is reported doing fine, and soon will be able to return home.—Glasgow Times.

WOMAN'S CLUB IN REGULAR MEETING

Local Group Holds Meet at Home of Mrs. Mandt Thursday

(By MRS. J. D. MAYO)

Regular meeting of the Prestonsburg Woman's Club was held in the home of Mrs. A. H. Mandt Thursday night with Mrs. J. D. Thomas, president, presiding.

Mrs. Thomas exhibited a chart outlining all work to be done and committees in charge, this chart being inspired by the K.F.W.C. slogan for this year, "Follow Vision With Service." In the chart background is a proposed club house surrounded by trees; in the foreground is the welfare, health and cultural program.

A brief report of the state president's talk given at the district meeting here last week was made by Mrs. J. D. Mayo.

Aids appointed for the tuberculosis clinic to be held by the health department here were Mrs. E. P. Hill, Mrs. A. C. Harlowe, Mrs. G. C. Sturgill and Mrs. A. H. Mandt. The club voted to sponsor the sale of Christmas seals, Mrs. A. C. Harlowe in charge.

New members accepted were Mrs. Richard Spurlock, Mrs. Wall Hamilton, Mrs. Maddox, Misses Alice Harris, Virginia Murrill, Anna Martin and Carlos Hale.

Miss Vera P'Pool, field nurse for the Crippled Children's Commission, gave an account of the infantile paralysis situation in Floyd county, also the symptoms and known methods of control of the disease.

Miss Alice Harris, teacher of domestic science, gave a talk on colors and their effect in interior decoration of the home.

Mrs. W. P. Mayo told about picture arrangements in the home and illustrated her talk by showing several copies of old masterpieces in color.

Mrs. E. P. Hill read several poems by Ogden Nash, one of America's foremost humorists.
Co-hostesses Mrs. C. P. Stephens,

Mrs. G. C. Curgill, Mrs. R. H. Koch and Mrs. W. W. Burchett served a tempting dessert course to the following guests and members:

The Misses Vera P'Pool, Carlos Hale and Alice Harris, Mesdames J. D. Thomas, W. P. Mayo, A. C. Harlowe, H. C. Francis, W. C. Rimmer, E. P. Hill, J. D. Mayo, J. Bascom Clarke, Grover Lowe, Ralph Davis, Dick Roberts, C. F. Walters, Dennis Vanhoush, John Hale, Misses Minnie G. Harris and Ella Noel White.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. J. D. Thomas.
