CIRCUIT COURT'S APRIL DOCKET LISTS 297

6 MURDER TRIALS MAY BE HEARD DURING TERM

Of the 297 cases slated for trial at the April term of the Floyd circuit court, which convenes here Monday, 10 are on murder indictments and 16 are on indictments involving attempted murders—shooting and wounding, cutting and wounding and shooting at without wounding.

Four murder case defendants are, however, not "before the court," and bench warrants have been issued. In all, 90 of the 297 defendants are not officially before the court, but a part of these may be arrested on bench warrants before the term ends.

Of the cases to be given trial during the term, 108 are the result of work of the January grand jury.

The 21 cases charging persons with the offense of carrying concealed deadly weapons is probably the largest "pistol-totin'" docket in the history of the court. The January grand jury was instructed to bear down on those guilty of this offense, and Circuit Judge Stephens recently indicated that the fight on pistols has just begun.

Also slated for trial are four men, accused of drunken driving. Trials of two men, Weaver Deskins and E. D. Fleming, charged with voluntary manslaughter as the result of fatalities while they were driving, are scheduled.

Murder trials expected to be held and the date on which each is docketed for the hearing follow:

Floyd Johnson, April 12; Walter King, April 15—Tommie Allen, April 15; Ernest Hunter, April 18; Allen Stone and Cluett Messer, April 22; Jim Hall (two cases) April 24.

The 17 cases in which murder did not occur but might have are docketed as follows:

Elva Jarvis, shooting at without wounding; Everett Collins, cutting and wounding; Shelley Johnson, cutting and wounding; Dewey Shepherd, shooting and wounding; Dennie Ward, shooting and wounding; Joe Hall, shooting and wounding; Monroe Salisbury, cutting and wounding; Andy Johnson, shooting and wounding; Tommie Allen, shooting and wounding; Maude Holt, shooting at without wounding; Madison Prater, cutting and wounding; Clyde Crisp, cutting and wounding; Jimmie Honeycutt, cutting and wounding; Tazwell Foley, shooting at without wounding; Dewey Shepherd, shooting and wounding.

AMEN, SISTER!
Unhonored, unsung in his own country, the prophet packs his duff-bag and lights out for other parts—where his brow is promptly adorned with the laurel wreath. Just look what a Louisville woman wrote of The Courier-Journal's (formerly, The Floyd County Times) Jimmy Goble:

To the Editor of The Courier-Journal:

In case anyone is interested in my personal opinion, I would like to go on record as saying that I like the human interest stories of James Goble very much. He adds a touch of fire and drama to our "Opp. Ed." page that is not only very educational, but entertaining as well.

He has an O. Henry touch, mixed with a bit of Woolcott and with a dash of Mark Twain thrown in for good measure. His tale of the sad demise of the "hot" trumpet player" a few weeks ago had all the pathos of the tale of "The Passing of the Third Floor Back." And his keen bit of word-play concerning the Fire and Snake Faith Worshipers is absolutely priceless. Of course, that is just my opinion, but after all, I'm a representative of your public, am I not? 4 Men Fined $1,000 And Sent to Prison In Counterfeit Case

Abel Hughes and Fred Bates pleaded guilty Tuesday to charges of possessing counterfeit money and Federal Judge Mac Swinford sentenced them to seven years in a federal penitentiary.

Judge Swinford sentenced George "Red" Coleman and Chester Dyer, both of Pikeville, to five year terms on the same charge. All four were fined $1,000 and sentenced to additional two-year terms on a conspiracy charge in connection with passing counterfeit money.

The trial of Daisy Hall Branham, of Prestonsburg, Creed Short and his wife on similar charges was postponed.

5 FLOYD NINES JOIN LEAGUE

P'BURG ATHLETES ASKED TO MEET SUNDAY

Five Floyd county teams lined up Tuesday night as members of the eight-team Big Sandy Baseball League at the loop's second organization meeting in Pikeville.

Allen, Prestonsburg, Clear Creek, Wayland, Wheelwright, Pikeville, Elkhorn City and Van Lear will be represented during the season's play, which begins April 21 and ends Sept. 15.

The schedule will provide for a split season, with 14 games, including two doubleheaders, in each half. Games will be played on Sundays and holidays.

Organization of the Prestonsburg club will be effected at a meeting here Friday night. Then, on Sunday, athletes interested in trying out for the team will gather at the courthouse at 3:30 p. m.

This week, strong support of Prestonsburg's team was indicated as the Prestonsburg Co-Operative Business Association at its meeting Monday evening pledged its help. Committees

DEDICATIONS ARE PLANNED

FOR MARTIN-MAYTOWN SCHOOL BUILDINGS THIS WEEK

This week three new school buildings, which cost approximately $100,000, are being dedicated at Maytown and Martin, with Dr. R. E. Jagers, of the State Board of Education, Frankfort, as the principal speaker.

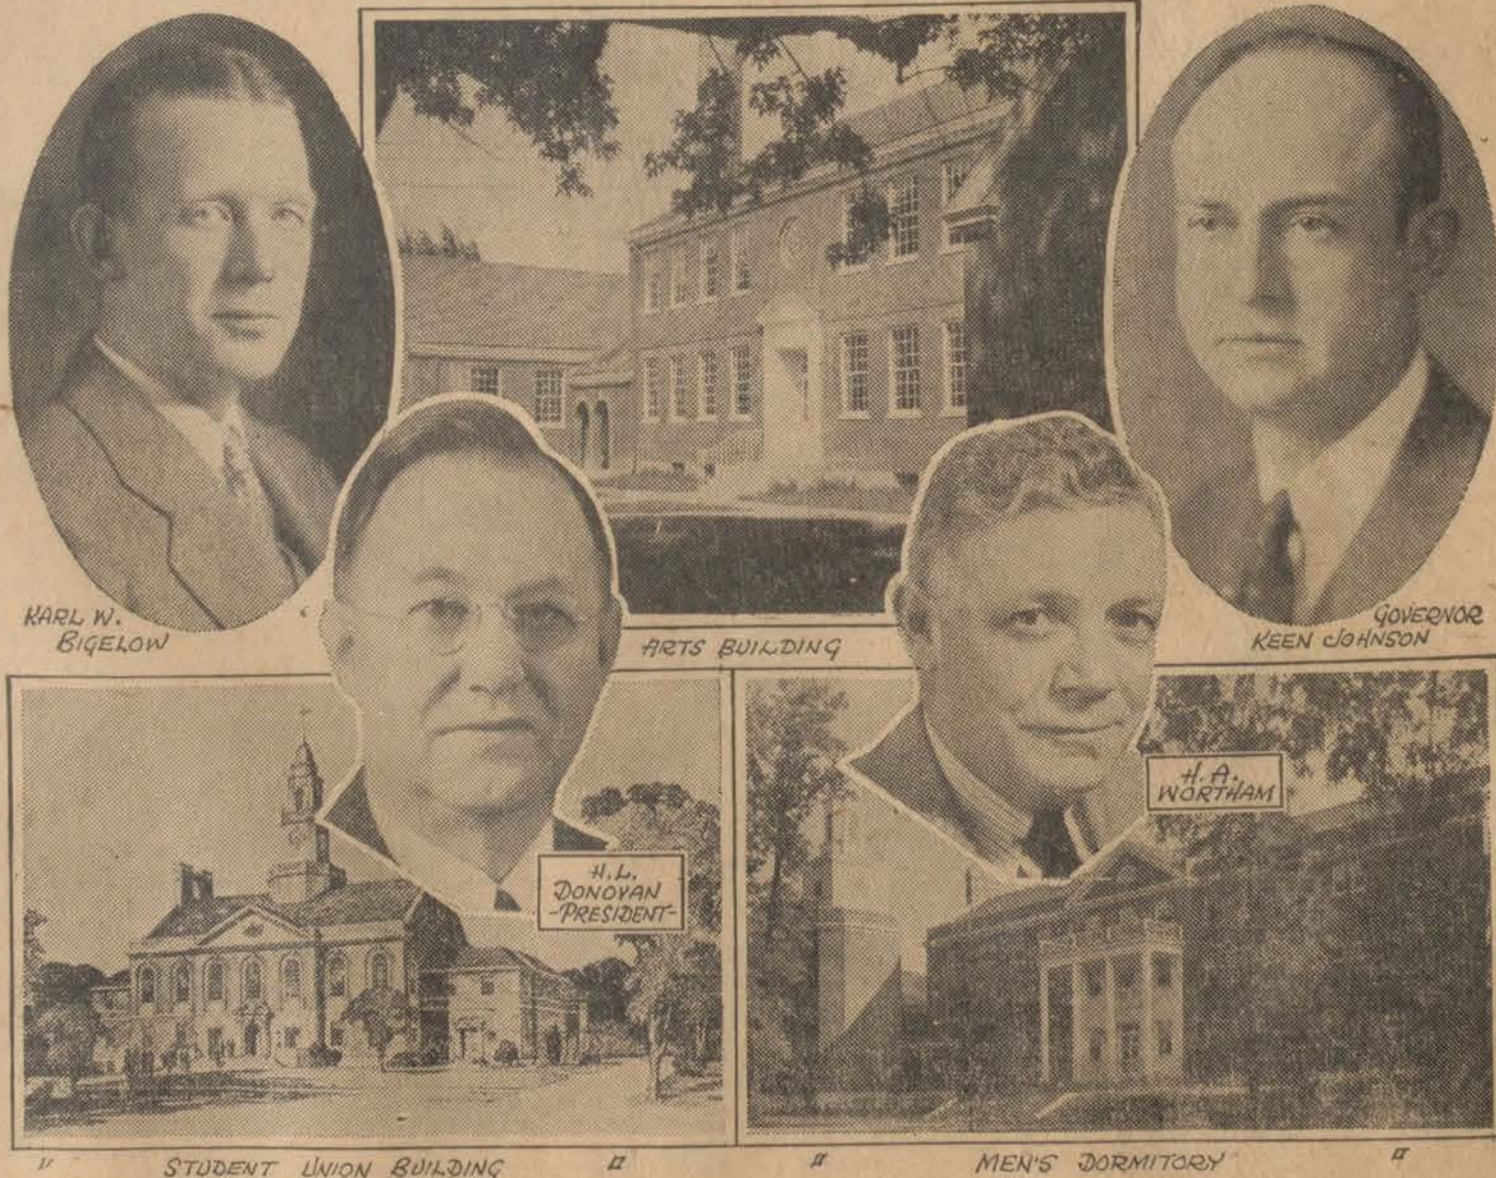

Tonight (Thursday) at Maytown the Science Building, the dedication of which was postponed last year because of the flood, and the new building which displaces the one destroyed by fire last March, will be opened formally to the public. The science building cost about $16,000 and the cost of the other was about $42,000.

Friday night the new high school building, constructed at a cost of about $41,000, at Martin, will be dedicated. This structure was completed last fall, and it was built to relieve the congestion in the old building, which is now used for grade school purposes.

The dedication program at Maytown will be opened with invocation by the Rev. C. C. Newsome, pastor of the Maytown Methodist Church. Following will be a musical selection, "A Musical Picture of Democracy," by the Maytown high school band, under the direction of Jesse Elliott. Then County Superintendent of Schools Town Hall will deliver an address, "School Progress in Floyd County." Dr. Jagers' dedicatory address will follow. V. O. Turner, principal of the Maytown school, will preside.

At Martin the program will be opened with invocation by P. M. Williams, president of the Martin P-T. A., followed by musical selections by the Martin high school band, Senior Girls' Glee Club, Junior Mixed Chorus, Pikeville College Girls' Quartet and the Pikeville College Choir. Superintendent Hall's address will precede the dedicatory address, to be delivered by Dr. Jagers. Benediction will be given by the Rev. Newsome. Principal Monroe Wicker will preside.

NEW ARTS BUILDING AT EASTERN TEACHERS COLLEGE NAMED, HONORING PRESTONSBURG MAN

STUDENT UNION BUILDING

MEN'S DORMITORY

The new Arts building at Eastern Teachers' College, which was one of the three new buildings dedicated in observance of the 34th anniversary of the founding of Eastern March 21, has been named for H. D. Fitzpatrick, of Prestonsburg, it was announced by President H. L. Donovan during the dedication ceremonies.

Mr. Fitzpatrick is senior member of the Board of Regents at Eastern, having served more than 10 years. He was present for the dedication and Founders' Day program Thursday. During the 10 years of Mr. Fitzpatrick's regency the Eastern campus has become one of the state's most beautiful.

Since 1928, the Hiram Brock Auditorium has been constructed, the Weaver Health Building has been erected, the University Building has been re-modeled, the power plant has been enlarged, a new addition to the Library has been built, a concrete road has been built through the campus and the Hanger Stadium, amphitheater, Arts Building, men's dormitory and student Union Building have been constructed. The women's dormitory, Cammack Building, Roark Building and the Administration Building have been re-decorated, and much time and effort have been given to the improvement of the appearance of the campus.

No Trouble To Prove Her Eligibility To Pension

There is no doubt about "Aunt" Rebecca Whitaker, who lives in the extreme northern tip of this county, on Jenny's Creek, being eligible for an old-age pension. She has a son who has been eligible for a year. And another of her 19 children will be 65, April 14.

Aunt Rebecca, a sister of "Aunt" Nance Fitzpatrick, of Middle Creek, was born August 5, 1854, near what is now Royalton, in what then was Floyd county but which now is Magoffin. Of the 19 children born to her marriage to the late James Whitaker, 18 lived to reach manhood and womanhood, and 15 yet are living.

Names, birth dates and addresses of her children follow:

Caleb, January 3, 1873 (killed when a horse fell upon him); Reuben, March 22, 1874, Jenny's Creek; Polly Johnson, April 14, 1875, Shelby Creek; Mitchell, October 8, 1877, state of Washington; Tom, October 22, 1878, Piketon, Ohio; Mrs. Cora Kaindle, April 15, 1880, Saginaw, Mich.; John W., May 30,

JUDGE HELPS IN RAID

RETURN PRISONER AND WHISKY TO P'BURG

County Judge E. P. Hill shed judicial robes long enough Thursday night to accompany Sheriff Dial Salisbury and Deputies Lackey Salisbury and Bill Marshall to Harold, there to confiscate 26 half-gallon fruit jars of moonshine whisky and capture one prisoner.

The Judge finished the evening's work by bringing the prisoner, Charles Fyffe, and the whisky from nearby Lancer on to Prestonsburg without aid.

Back at judicial duties Friday morning, Judge Hill said he was not cer-

SEVEN TAKEN IN DOPE RAIDS

P'BURG AND VICINITY FORM THEATRE OF PROBE

Seven Floyd county men were arrested this week by Deputy U. S. Marshal John McKenzie on dope-handling charges. The arrests followed an investigation by S. A. Lovelace, narcotics inspector.

Taken Tuesday afternoon before U. S. Commissioner L. J. May at Pikeville for preliminary hearing were Harmon Maynard and Frank Harris, of Lancer, Willie Goble and Bill Hunt, of Prestonsburg. Only Goble executed the $1,000 bond required for release, pending action of the federal grand jury at Catlettsburg May 27. The others were later taken to the federal narcotics farm at Lexington.

Warrants for their arrest accused the four of "purchasing, possessing and selling morphine not in or from original stamped packages."

Willis Ray Thompson was taken to Pikeville Wednesday by Inspector Lovelace, who, Thursday morning, added Pearl Harris, of Lancer, and "Shadow" Fraley, Prestonsburg, to the list of accused men.

A thorough investigation of doctors' prescriptions and of pharmacists handling of morphine also was made by Lovelace.

A federal officer was quoted as saying, during the investigation here, that "this dope situation in Prestonsburg is pitiful."

Arrests followed undercover work done by a man posing as a morphine addict and amateur magician, assuming the name of James M. Murphy.

FLOYD PROJECT TO EXTEND 12 MILES

Medium type surfacing of 12 miles of the Left Beaver Creek highway and concrete surfacing of approximately the same distance of the Mayo Trail's "Missing Link" in Johnson and Lawrence counties are among the 62 highway projects approved by the State Highway Commission for 1940, Commissioner of Highways J. Lyter Donaldson announced Monday.

Mr. Donaldson's check list of approved projects had no sooner hit the desk of Highway Engineer Thomas H. Cutler than he ordered preparations started to advertise for bids on the work. Contracts will be let as soon as possible, it was said, and the program is expected to be in full swing by June 1.

Floyd, Johnson, Pike, Perry, Letcher and Martin shared in the program, as outlined to date for the Seventh Congressional district.

The appropriation made for the Left Beaver road totals $46,514. The medium type surfacing referred to is believed to be black-top, and the distance of 12 miles to be surfaced will extend from the junction of the Left Beaver road near Martin with Route 80 to a point near McDowell. This would leave approximately five miles to be surfaced.

Grade, drain and high-type surfacing will be done on the Johnson county end of the Mayo Trail for a distance of 4.7 miles at a total cost of $335,000. The same type of work will be done on the Lawrence county section of the Trail, a distance of 6.2 miles, at an outlay of $400,000. State funds will pay half the expense of improving the Trail, the federal government supplying the remainder.

The 62 projects already approved provide for road work which will cost $5,500,000. Remaining jobs in the $10,000,000 highway program for 1940 have not been definitely approved, and may be announced singly as each is given final approval.

Other road work approved Monday for the Seventh district follows:

Letcher—Jeff-Blackey, low-type surface, 5.2 miles, $14,000; Martin—Inez-Louisia, low type surface, 2.1 mile, $5,-

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

Sharpening the Hoe

A lazy boy—all boys are lazy, according to their elders—likes to think of something to do to kill time when he is supposed to be working. My brother, the father of seven boys, says that a man and a boy can do nearly as much work as the man by himself; it takes the extra time to keep the boy at it. The boy, if left alone, will work twice as hard as necessary to avoid doing the thing he is supposed to be at. One of the best ways to kill time is to sharpen the hoe, or whatever tool is in use. Nearly all farms have excellent whetstones and files and other means of putting a keen edge on tools; hence, the appropriate way of killing time while seeming to be busy at something good for the farm.

At times I can remember having spent more than half of the time at this kind of task, renewing it often as the "wire edge" vanished from the hoe. Since there were likely to be a few pebbles around, it was easy to ruin a fine edge and have to re-make it. How blissful one feels while adding this fine touch to an already sharp tool! It would be almost treason to say that one rests while doing this, for boys are not supposed to get tired, that is, unless they are expected to be doing something useful.

There were several things that needed sharpening on the old-fashioned farm and its more modern successor. Axes required the grindstone. I cannot feel that turning the grindstone is at all poetic, though, for the man who bears down on the axe is actuated by base ideas of material good. If a boy had an axe to sharpen, he would have a portable grindstone moved out to the woodpile or to the woods, one that could be run by some sort of machinery, so that there would be a lot of fun and another occasion for killing time. But when a man, usually one's father, is at the other end of the grindstone and a fellow is the horse power, it is different. Axes are not such fine tools, anyway, for they can do without a whetrock or a file, the tool sharpeners designed to kill time.

Just before hog-killing time, it was almost fun to turn the grindstone while all the butcher knives were put into fine form, to be smoothed off later on the whetstocks. The reason for this was, of course, that hog-killing was a pure pleasure, a sport in which one showed the near neighbors all kinds of skill. With wire-edge knives one can cut out the joints like an old-timer and not be afraid of getting a scolding from one's pappy.

Even before the first tobacco cutting the grindstone may be poetic while the same knives or specially-prepared ones are put into shape. The tragedy about tobacco-cutting was that small boys were good only for holding the sticks, certainly not so poetic as showing one's skill by splitting the tobacco stalk just right and with a nonchalance exceeded only by the fellow who cut bands at wheat-threshing time.

When we cut wheat with a cradle, it was a tedious but thrilling job to get the blade sharp. Here was a place where genuine sharpness counted, for if the edge got dull, one had to put more weight on the handle, a thing that gets pretty tiresome on a hot early-summer day. Just what today can equal the pride that the wheat-cutter of other times showed when, cradle in hand, he literally "cut a wide swath" across the field?

Robert Foster's neighbor in New England was fond of saying, "Good fences make good neighbors." I have tried in vain to find a similar saying to describe the local pride in sharp tools, particularly the small boy's pride in keeping the edges from becoming dull by use.

Shower Honors December Bride

Estill, Ky. (Spl.)—Mrs. James Dampier, of Garrett, and Mrs. E. R. May, of Langley, were joint hostesses to a miscellaneous shower in the home of Mrs. Raymond Sexton of Estill Saturday afternoon, when they complimented Mrs. L. L. Armstrong, of Harlan, formerly Miss Marie Sexton, a bride of December. The decorations, refreshments and favors all carried out the shamrock motif of St. Patrick's Day, with a color scheme of green and yellow predominating. After a fascinating contest in which the honoree and her sister, Mrs. V. A. Hayes, were high scorers, the guests assembled in the dining room, where the table, covered with a hand-made cloth of real cluny lace, was laden with packages. The bride opened these in the presence of her friends, who were then served a salad course and cakes, with coffee, by the hostesses, with Mrs. Raymond Sexton assisting.

SHOWER FOR MRS HAYES

Mrs. Ernest Hayes, formerly Miss Dorothy Smith, Bowling Green, was the honoree of a miscellaneous shower in the home of Mrs. Earl Webb Saturday afternoon, when her many friends remembered her with lovely gifts. Mrs. Hayes acknowledged the presents very graciously. The hostess, known as one of Maytown's culinary artists, served delicious refreshments to all who attended.

HOUSE-WARMING PARTY

Mrs. Elizabeth Baker, who recently returned to her home after an absence of several years, was surprised with a house warming on Friday afternoon, when Mesdames Tom Patrick and Ed Sutton entertained in her honor. After the packages were opened, dainty refreshments were served to the following: Mesdames H. L. May, T. J. Webb, C. C. Newsome, Syd Begley, Miss Bess Ratliff, the hostess, and the honoree.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stewart and Mrs. Henry Byrd, of Malone, Ky., spent Thursday night with Mrs. Stewart's mother, Mrs. W. A. Stewart.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Akers, of Estill, spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Akers.

Mesdames Jack Ryan, Fletcher May and Miss Opal May were shopping in Paintsville Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones Moore visited Mrs. Earl Moore in Prestonsburg Saturday.

Mrs. Susan May spent Sunday with her daughter, Mrs. Earl Moore, in Prestonsburg. Mrs. Moore has just returned from the Marting hospital in Ironton, O.

Mr. and Mrs. N. L. May, of Prestonsburg, spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. May's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. May.

HOME EC GIRLS ENTERTAIN BALL GAMES

Members of the girls' and boys basketball squads of Maytown high school, with their coaches, Miss Allen and Mr. Dyer, and Mr. Turner, principal, were entertained to dinner by the home economics class in the science hall Sunday evening with Miss Opal May in charge. A delightful menu embodying the green of St. Patrick's Day with shamrocks plentiful for everyone, was served, after which the crowd motored to Martin for the evening show.

SHIKE'S POKES

The views expressed in this column are those of the writer, and not necessarily those of The Times.

Well, that limb broke off when Inez got beat—but I drew Hazel Green in the "pool."

It's one thing to introduce a bill in the Legislature and another thing to let it die in committee without attempting to get it on the floor.

What's the use of holding those perpetual primaries? F.D.R. will get more votes than all the Democrats opposing him—and, most of the time, more than the opposing Democrats and Republicans combined.

It's funny how some of our politicians vote their "prejudices" and then yell about "principle."

According to "grapevine" reports, John P. Sammons is going to get his "rib" back—else, why all the new furniture?

Johnny Allen must have some pull with the state—they hauled those ashes or "Red Dog" all the way from Wheelwright to fix his "road."

Who was the new Deputy in Drift? He didn't have a gun or a knife.

A 10½-POUND BOY

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Howard Brown at their home here Monday, March 25, a 10½-pound son. The newcomer has been named Joe Norris. Mother and babe are doing fine.

SHE BENDS 'WAY BACK TO HELP HER TEAM

Miss Jenny Hornsby, Garrett cheerleader, giving plenty of the "old college try" in spurring her school's basketball team to victory. She hasn't done badly, either—Garrett won two county tournaments this season.

Business Men Back Baseball Team Of Town

The Prestonsburg Co-Operative Business Association in its last meeting prior to its annual election of officers, April 6, Monday night pledged full support of the movement to give Prestonsburg a baseball team this year.

At the same time, it endorsed the Beaver Valley Golf Club at Allen, and it was indicated that a number of its members may join the Allen club.

A discussion of the differential in bus rates between Pikeville and Wheelwright and Prestonsburg and Wheelwright—routes of approximately the same distance—is expected to lead to early action. It was announced that a bus company official will be invited to attend the next meeting of the Association.

Big Sandy Baseball League Meets

The Big Sandy Baseball League held its initial meeting of the year at Pikeville, Tuesday evening, with the view of organization for the 1940 season.

If the interest manifested by those present can be used as a barometer, and with Prestonsburg, Pikeville and Drift interested in joining the league, all indications point to an eight-team league, which should, by all odds, make it the best season in the league's history.

Prestonsburg was represented by Wm. Hagans.

The next meeting will be held at Pikeville, Tuesday, March 26, at 8 p. m. This will be one of the most important meetings of the season and all who are interested are asked to be present.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONFERENCE

The Floyd county Freewill Baptist Sunday School conference will be held at Lackey Sunday.

Discussions will be led by Elders Marion Davis, Glo; Kelly Patton, Estill, and Julius Castle, Auxier, and all Sunday School superintendents are expected to be present.

FISH AND GAME CLUB TO MEET, APRIL 1

The Floyd County Fish and Game Club will meet at the courthouse Tuesday evening, April 2, at 7:30 o'clock. All sportsmen are urged to be present.

CONDITION IMPROVED

Physicians at St. Joseph's hospital in Lexington noted a slight improvement in the condition of Mrs. Oscar P. Bond Tuesday. Hope is being held for her recovery.

NOTICE

Because of efforts of the I. Richmond Company to collect old debts, the store, under my management, is being blamed for certain customers being "pushed" in the matter. I want to explain that these collections are the business of former owners of the store and that I have nothing whatever to do with whatever steps are being taken to collect these old bills.

Beaver Valley Hospital Notes

Ruby, Arnold and Bessie Bentley, ages 4, 6 and 11 years, children of Andy Bentley, Beaver, are now able to return home after being treated for severe burns on their faces and necks received after playing with carbide.

Mrs. Narciso Ferrari, Wheelwright, underwent a major operation last week and will soon be able to return to her home.

Miss Alpha Marsellett, 12-year-old daughter of Mack Marsellett Prestonsburg, underwent a major operation and is doing nicely.

Miss Geneva Perry, daughter of John Perry, Alphoretta, underwent a major operation this week and is doing nicely.

Mrs. Jack Robinson, Drift, is now receiving treatment at the Beaver Valley hospital, and is doing nicely.

Frances Storie, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Storie, McDowell, was admitted to the hospital last Thursday, suffering from burns on the abdomen and right thigh, and is doing as well as could be expected.

Little Betty Jo Salisbury, daughter of Sallie Salisbury, Amba, is now in the hospital in serious condition, but seems to be improving. It is reported she had a severe fall, striking the back of her head against the ground while playing "whip-crack" at school.

Mrs. Henry Stumbo, McDowell, is now receiving treatment at the Beaver Valley hospital.

BRAINARD

(Last week's correspondence) James Edward Hughes, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Hughes, has been seriously ill, but is improving.

Church services were held at the Needmore schoolhouse Sunday, conducted by the Rev. G. W. Spradlin. A large crowd attended.

Simon Cole was injured in a coal mine recently.

Mrs. Stella Williams and Haley Woods were the Sunday evening guests of Mrs. G. W. Spradlin.

Mrs. Minnie Woods and small daughter, Mildred, were visiting relatives on Abbott Creek this weekend.

Mrs. Sally Smith was the Sunday guest of Mrs. Polly Poe and family.

Mrs. Wendell Smith was called to Ivyton last week to the burial of her father, Andy Brown.

MARTIN

Miss Lucille Roberts, who is a student at Berea College, spent Easter Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Ticker Roberts.

Bob Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Evans, has returned to the University of Kentucky, after spending Easter with his parents.

Bobby Gene Dermont is spending his Easter vacation with Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Dermont.

A very instructive talk on social diseases was given Tuesday evening in the high school auditorium by Dr. Marvin Ransdell, of the Floyd county health department. Parents and high school students were urged to attend.

Our new high school building will be dedicated Friday, March 29, at 7:30 o'clock. The main speaker of the evening will be Dr. R. E. Jagers from the State Department of Education at Frankfort. All parents and citizens of Martin are urged to attend.

The senior class is now practicing on a play, "No Foolin'" which will be presented about May 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Elswick were Sunday visitors in Pikeville.

Tuesday of last week a beauty and amateur contest was held at the Martin Theater. Miss Edna Hale, of Stephens Branch, won first place. Miss Jacqueline Arrington and Miss Floria Collins, of Martin, won second and third places, respectively. Miss Jewel Smith won first place in the vocalists' contest. Little Miss Willestena Halstead won the children's contest.

SHERIFF'S SALE

Floyd Circuit Court

Lora K. Preston, Plaintiff
Vs.—NOTICE OF SALE
Hattie Osborne, Admx, of the Estate of O. H. Preston, deceased, Arthur Preston, J. C. Preston, Sarah Dingus, Hattie Osborne, Belve Preston and Bertha Allen, B. H. Preston, heirs at Law of O. H. Preston, deceased, and Estate of O. H. Preston Defendants

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of execution No. 8285, directed to me, which issued from the clerk's office of the Floyd circuit court in the above styled action and in favor of aforesaid plaintiff, and against aforesaid defendants, I, or one of my deputies will, on Monday, April 1, 1940, at or about the hour of 1 p. m., at the front door of the courthouse in the city of Prestonsburg, Ky., offer at public sale, to the highest and best bidder, on a credit of three months, with bond of approved surety, having the force and effect of a judgment, with a lien retained on the property sold to better secure the purchase price, the following described property, or so much thereof as to make the sum of $850.00, with 6 per cent interest from May 1, 1925; $2.50 cost, and $75.00 the probable cost of this sale, viz:

An undivided interest of the deceased O. H. Preston in a tract of land lying near the mouth of Spurlock, Left Beaver Creek, Floyd county, and bounded on the South by Keenas Stone; on the East by the lands of Brice Stumbo; on the West by the land of Adam Halbert; on the North by the lands formerly owned by Folia Martin, containing 350 acres more or less, and being what is commonly called the Keathley Farm, conveyed by James Akers to L. D. Keathley on January 4, 1895, recorded in deed book 8, page 465, Floyd county court clerk's office.

Also, the undivided one-sixteenth (1-16th) interest of said deceased O. H. Preston, in and to any and all gas wells drilled on said property hereinbefore described, including said interest in any and all casing, fixtures and appurtenances belonging to said wells claimed to be owned by the heirs of the said O. H. Preston, deceased.

All of which will be sold subject to the life estate of Lora K. Preston Stephens in and to all of said real estate and wells.

Laid upon as the property of the above listed defendants, this the 13th day of March, 1940.

TOWN-WORLD

tended last week's baseball meeting in Pikeville. Prestonsburg had a representation of—count 'em—ONE.

Now, the town will not slip off the map, business will not go plumb to the dogs if Prestonsburg doesn't have a baseball team this year. But it doesn't look any too good for us.

It doesn't look so "hot" for Prestonsburg, particularly when every other county seat town on the Big Sandy sponsors a baseball team. It looks downright dark to us when we recall that the little town of Allen started off in baseball without an enclosed park, has gone along enjoying the sport and now has a fence around the field—while Prestonsburg, much larger, has for years had an enclosed park but no team. At the same time at least four Floyd county towns have supported baseball teams.

Who said anything about community pride?

This week, a move was under way to sponsor a team here. Which turns us to the brighter side of the picture.

—O—

QUOTH GOPsters
 Reviewing that "crazy" story I wrote last week, with a paragraph at the end explaining that I wasn't the Norman Allen referred to, "Lige Brown cracked, "The guilty flee when no man pursueth," with Brad Boyd chiming in with a serious lingering doubt about the lunatic not being me.

These are the two gentlemen whom I, quite often, communicate my admiration of President Roosevelt. Being Republicans, they think that qualifies me for the booby hatch.

—O—

EXPERIENCE IS A DEAR TEACHER
 Home's the best place, after all. It pays to trade at home, and, if you don't think it pays to play at home, ask the Garrett and Prestonsburg basketball teams.

Net proceeds amounting to $1,042.64 were divided between Floyd county basketball teams at the conclusion of the county tournament at Garrett. Prestonsburg, playing three games, received $48.88 a game for a total of $146.64. Playing two games at the regional tournament at West Liberty, Prestonsburg's share of the spoils for both games was in the neighborhood of only $30. The competing teams participated in the division of only a little more than $200 net profit from the tourney held in Morgan.

Maybe, now, the coaches will get wise and bring next year's regional to Floyd county.

—O—

THUMBS DOWN!
 The pest that I
 Like less and less
 Is the saucy wag
 Who says: "Oh, yes?"

We'd like to squelch,
 All are agreed,
 The man who says:
 "I'm so intrigued!"

So writes Rhymester Greenville Kleiser in The Lyon County Herald. To which the Muse of Third Street, in no gentle, poetic vein, replies:

The guy I'd like
 To hand some shiners
 Is the one who writes
 These dern four-liners.

The general outlook for 1940 is based on the following figures: There is available for construction, exclusive of rural highways, $4,373,000; for rural highways, there is $2,000,000. The sum of $4,085,122 in federal aid is available, but the state is meeting only $3,000,000 of it in the immediate future. For grade separations there is an outright federal grant of $802,000, which does not have to be matched. There also is available in federal aid, $421,000 for secondary roads.

tain as to what to do about Fyffe, since the prisoner claimed that the corn found sprouting in a sack in the Fyffe home "jest naturally sprouted" and that the barrels also in the home had no connection with moonshining but had been brought there as receptacles for rain-water.

The 26 half-gallons were found in the home of Noah Newsome. The entire Newsome family, Judge Hill said, had fled and, it is believed, had taken refuge in a nearby mine.
