'WILDCAT' WELL MAKES NEWS

IN QUIET WEEK ON OIL, GAS FRONT

Although no gas well completions were reported in this county last week, the drilling in of a "wildcat" well in Johnson county, possibly heralding a new gas field, held the spotlight.

Attention has been sharply directed to Johnson county with the completion of a well by S. C. Allen on the Albert Horn land at a total depth of 2319 feet. Before tubing was run and the well closed in, it was making better than 300,000 feet of gas at the bottom of corniferous.

There has been a general leasing campaign in Johnson county for the last few weeks but the drilling in of this "wildcat" well has brought a decided spurt in leasing activities. Most of the leases in the immediate vicinity of the well four miles west of Paintsville, have been taken up, and the present leasing is directed at tracts further away.

There has been no commercial production of gas in this immediate vicinity before and bringing in this well is certain to be followed by drilling of others, according to authoritative sources here. The ease of developing a new gas field in this area is stressed by the fact that the Allen well is within a mile and a half of one major firm's pipe line and within two and a half miles of a second large pipe line.

In Floyd county the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company is down 1235 feet in sand in well No. 601, Crit Mitchell, on Mud Creek, and is drilling at the 1800 foot level in big lime in well No. 5280, Samuel Justice, on Justice Branch of Left Beaver Creek. The same company is setting machinery at well No. 603, W. J. Hunter, on Cow Creek, and also setting machinery at well No. 604, James Howell, on Prater Creek.

The Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company has reached the 1985 foot level in well No. 5281, Joel Stumbo, on Branham's Creek, and is drilling at the 980 mark in sand in well No. 5285, A. J. Sturgill, on Toler Creek. The same concern is idle at well No. 5276, Anderson C. Stratton, on Mare Creek.

The Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company has completed well No. 5282, on the Benjamin Smith land on Four-Mile Branch of Jones Fork in Knott county with the well reaching a total depth of 2685 feet in shale. It is producing 189,000 feet of gas, 13 hours, with rock pressure of 240 pounds.

Hybrid corn yields in McCracken county ranged from 66 to 75 bushels to the acre.

Grass and hay production will occupy a major place in the farm program in Christian county this year.

The Cost of Personal Appearance—$1,383,000,000. A YEAR*

CONTRIBUTING to the witchery and charm of American women and the smart appearance of American men are barbers and beauty shops, cosmetics and perfumes, and other lifts to looks, that cost the Nation over a billion dollars yearly, or almost twice as much as domestic electricity. Of the total amount spent annually for "personal appearance," cosmetics alone mount up to $229,000,000.

Well worth it, you say... Consider, then, how worth while are the services of ELECTricity at such relatively small cost.

Sportsmen May Get Single-County Licenses

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 8.—S. A. Wakefield, director of the Division of Game and Fish, calls the attention of County Court Clerks and sportsmen to the fact that the single-county hunting license has been printed with the name of the county, designated by the hunter, to be filled in by the county clerk.

Wakefield stated that this enables the applicant to purchase his $1.00 county hunting license in any county but that he can request that the name of the county in which he is to hunt be printed on the license. The license will be good only in the county named by the hunter.

The Division again urges all sportsmen to buy their licenses immediately and particularly the $3 state-wide license for 1941, as the number of quail to be purchased and released this spring will greatly depend on the number of licenses sold between now and January 9, when the hunting season ends. The licenses are good for the entire year of 1941.

The division has received reports from hunters over the state within the past few days which indicate that quail are being found more plentiful at the present time than earlier in the season. The reports point to the fact that quail are coming out of the woods, hills and thickets to more open cover.

Wayland Boy Scout Work, Distinctive During 1940

Wayland, Ky., Jan. 14 (Spl.)—Registered only last year, Wayland's Boy Scout organization has increased its membership from 24 to 34 within the last few months and otherwise has achieved a splendid Scout record, Doyle G. Baird, Neighborhood Commissioner, Lonesome Pine Council, said this week.

Last May the Wayland Troop won second place in the Merit Badge Show held at Pikeville. The Troop also sponsored its own Troop Jamboree which included as events, Archery, Tent Pitching, Athletics, Aviation, Fire-Building, Water Boiling and First-aid. Scouts winning medals for highest points at the jamboree were Ford Carver, first, Teamus Bowling, second, and Jack Rollins, third. The events were under the supervision of H. S. Williamson, Pikeville.

Next of the Troop's achievements came when 24 members attended Camp Arrowhead, took part in all events and won first place in the Camp Jamboree. The Wayland Troop later was awarded a plaque for having made the most improvements to camp during the summer.

To conclude a year's work of earnest effort, the Scouts handled the packing and delivering of approximately 800 Christmas gifts to children of this community.

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

WATCHMEN ON THE WALLS ON ZION

Many, many years ago I was visiting between terms at the home of my roommate. On Sunday we went to a small country church near his home and heard a preacher of a sect now almost vanished, like so many of the institutions that I have chronicled in these three hundred articles. The sermon was not impressive to us beginning-to-be-sophisticated college boys, but the manner of its presentation and the honesty of it have lasted thru all the intervening years. Recently I drove by the same shabby little church, which evidently has been innocent of paint all the 30 years since I first saw it. But it brought again to my mind that preacher and his fast-disappearing type.

They are in the Bible, but for some reason I had never seen the words, "Watchmen on the walls of Zion." I suppose that this phrase was the preacher's text, for he said it over and over in nearly every species of tune, a characteristic of his vanishing sect. What else he said I do not know, but those sonorous and poetic words stuck. All the rest of that day I repeated them, fascinated with their poetry, little thinking what future significance they would have. Long ago the rather ignorant but sincere preacher passed away, and it is highly doubtful whether his grave is marked in any fashion. "Watchmen on the walls of Zion" these preachers were, literally. Probably having little or no formal education and compelled, as this preacher was, to make their living by farm work, they had yet caught a vision somewhat above that of their parishioners and were willing to brave storms and floods to carry their message to the less fortunate. "Where there is no vision, the people perish." Very perversely I recall that the collection that day amounted to the munificent sum of a dollar and a quarter; I remember hearing the preacher say that this would pay the man he hired to work in his tobacco crop while the preacher rode horseback across a whole big county to keep his appointment the next day at his little church.

Monuments, tablets, institutions, and churches bear produly the names of great benefactors to mankind. You can hardly drive your car safely for trying to read the inscriptions by the roadside, especially in the older parts of Kentucky and all of Virginia and New England. But who has erected a tablet of the simplest nature to these humble "watchman on the walls of Zion," who gave as generously of what they had as any millionaire who has blessed us with his wealth. Many of these preachers were not ordained in any strict sense, any more than some of the faithful old-time doctors were graduates of medical colleges. They felt a call and followed it, led by no hope of financial rewards here but believing firmly that the laborer is worthy of his hire sometime, somewhere. Enough of these faithful souls are left to be familiar to most of the people who will read this, but long ago they sank into insignificance in numbers and have largely been crowded into the remotest parts of the state, where they carry on still their quaint but sincere preaching of the gospel as they understand it.

Woman's Club Sews For Red Cross Overseas

Along with the whole program of assistance to Great Britain and her allies, the Prestonsburg Woman's Club has planned to sew one day each week.

The materials are furnished, already cut and prepared for sewing. The number of articles ready is very large, so all the members of the club and non-members are urged to attend the first all-day meeting at the home of Mrs. Ambrose Mandt. The sewing will start at 10 o'clock Wednesday, Jan. 15. Each attendant is to bring a covered dish of her favorite food, to be shared by all.

The next meeting will be shared at the home of Mrs. J. D. Thomas on Wednesday, Jan. 22. Any woman who wants to help in this worthy cause is invited to take articles home to sew on. For those who cannot sew well, there will be simple hemming to do.

DOES FORD PAY GOOD WAGES?

HERE ARE SOME FACTS about Ford Labor.

During the year ended November 30th, 1940, the Ford Payroll throughout the United States averaged 113,628 hourly wage earners, not including office employees, students, or executives. They were paid $185,105,639.12. On this basis, the average annual wage was $1,629.05.

According to the latest available government figures, the annual average wage of all workers in employment covered by old age insurance law was $841.00.

If the 45,000,000 workers of this country received the same average wage as Ford employees, they would have had additional wages of more than $35,000,000,000, thus increasing the national income about 50%. Think what such an increase would mean to the workers of this country and to the American farmer, whose prices are based on the national income.

Wage scales in the Ford Rouge plants are divided into three classifications:

- Unskilled... Minimum hiring wage . 75c per hour
Semi-skilled... Minimum hiring wage . 80c per hour
Skilled... Minimum hiring wage . 90c per hour
Higher wages are in consideration of ability and years of service.

Minimum wage scales for unskilled labor at the Rouge plant are the highest in the industry. Top wages for skilled labor compare favorably with, or are higher than, wages in other automobile plants.

Now some facts on Ford labor conditions:

Not only are sanitation and other health conditions the best in the industry, but Ford also leads in safety devices for the protection of employees. Proof of this is found in the following comparison of compensation insurance costs:

The national average rate in automotive manufacturing plants as computed by the National Association of Underwriters is in excess of $1.50 premium on each $100 payroll. The Ford cost of workmen's compensation is less than 50c.

This indicates that the chance of injury in a Ford plant is much less than in the average automobile plant.

The Ford Motor Company has no age limit for labor, and in fact deliberately attempts to keep older workers working. The average age of Ford workers at the Rouge and nearby plants is 38.7.

A recent check-up shows that nearly one-half the workers at these Ford plants were 40 or over, falling into these age groups:

- 25,819 between 40 and 50
14,731 between 50 and 60
3,377 between 60 and 70
417 between 70 and 80
12 between 80 and 90

In addition to the so-called regular employes, the Ford Motor Company has hired, and now has on the payroll, at the same regular hourly wage, thousands of workers who are blind, crippled or otherwise incapacitated for normal productive work. They are not selected for their ability to build cars or to maintain the plant. They are on the payroll because of Henry Ford's belief that the responsibility of a large company to labor goes beyond the point at which the unfortunate worker can no longer produce profitably.

The above are facts. They are open to anyone who really wants to deal in facts. Anyone who wants to get a job... buy a car... or place a national defense contract on the basis of fair labor treatment must place Ford at the top of his eligible list.
