

SUGGESTION
Suggested name for the new Middle Creek passenger train: "The Briar Buck Special."

YARNS I'D LIKE TO WRITE
A well-meaning friend writes: "You told of 'Mr. Bob' last week and I enjoyed it. He's all right. But why not stay closer home when writing such bits?"

O.K., my friend. I always did like home, and I'll tell you some of the fellows, here at home, I'd like to write a feature yarn about. They're J. M. (Bartee) Weddington, Ishmael H. Triplett and H. F. (Henry) Patton.

The trouble with operating a weekly newspaper, as we who know most of the angles see it, is, there's too much small-town squeamishness about publicity before it happens and too much resultant "two-bit" jealousy after it happens.

THE TWIN MEET
When Joe Cooley, of Draft Board 44, and Earl Martin, whose army enlistment was accredited to that Board, met in THE TIMES office Monday morning, it was soon evident which branch of the service is stronger. Earl's handshake had Joe's knees buckling.

THE REAL DO TILL ELEC GETS THERE
A Prestonsburg taxi-driver tells of his passenger who, upon being asked if he (or she) had electricity, replied, "No, but we've got the R.E.A."

POST-ELECTION STATEMENT
From an outlying precinct comes the following epistle:
"Sir, I didnt go to th lection so you neednt blaim me i n yore papper about the votes sold and stole in our presint.

"To tell you the fact i dont see wher i helped maters any stayin away, the boys are costin rigte on ennyhow no matter wether i voted and went home sold or bought, m aybe some other peepil that did sell and buy didnt stay at home, maybe thats why it didnt help.

"my children thats oid enuf went to vote and if they didnt sell id like to know why that -- got all but nine votes in our presint, unless somebody voted the youngest three aginst their wishes.
"Ennywa im in the cleir so let em counte if they want i say.
"say you didnt say in the paper last week when the grand jury sets, i mite have gone to lection if id knowed it wouldnt be settin quick whils everybuddy was mad."

THOUGHT IT WAS WARMER OUTSIDE
The following from Pat Hays, Franklin Furnace, O., we like for two reasons--(1) the good word he has for THE TIMES; (2) what he has to say about old times:

"Thank you so much for the paper. It gives so much news about my old home country. I can't see why every family in the Big Sandy valley doesn't take it.

"I can read in it about my old friends; makes me think about old Turkey Creek where I was born. Yes, I remember the old log house. It was a big, one-room house with board roof. Not one nail in the roof. The boards had a good lap and on every lap a small log or pole was laid to hold the roof on. The doors were made of boards and hung on the outside. I remember one cold night when the old dog was trying to get out and got his head hung between the door and the wall. My granddad had to get up and take the door down and let him out. I always thought that that poor old dog got cold in the house and wanted out to run and warm up a little; for we sure didn't need any windows in that house.

"In that old house I ate more squirrel and fish than Floyd county had candidates this primary. But those good, old days are past. I have been Ohio 12 years, ate one squirrel and three fish--and my old woman had to watch for the game warden while I got them.

"Tell Doug Hays to come down and we will row the boat up the Ohio river and be ready to take one of the boys who got the nomination up Salt river in November."

DYSENTERY VICTIM

Franklin Eugene, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Barnett, died Friday, a victim of dysentery, at the Barnett home here. Surviving are the parents and five brothers and sisters, Evan, Andrew, Jr., Greely, Florence and Beckley. Funeral was conducted Saturday afternoon from the home of Mrs. Martha Smith, West Prestonsburg, the Rev. G. R. Fannin officiating. Burial was made in West Prestonsburg cemetery under the direction of the Arnold Funeral Home.

4 DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS, CONTESTED

'CHAIN' BALLOTING, BRIBERY ALLEGED BY CONTESTANTS

Contest suits filed in the Floyd circuit court by defeated Democratic candidates in the August primary charge that their victorious opponents and other candidates who ran ahead of them are guilty of committing a variety of crimes including bribery and operation of the "chain ballot."

The contest actions are those of Joe P. Tackett vs. W. W. Burchett, Dr. Orris Gearheart vs. E. P. Hill, Jr., J. M. Clarke vs. E. P. Hill, Jr., M. B. (Thumper) Hale vs. Dewey Roberts, H. H. Butcher vs. Guy Horn, Roe Turner, W. J. Reynolds, Silas Scott, Charlie Preston, Bill Shepherd, J. W. Hamilton, Walter Martin, Jim Crager, Jack Allen and Sill Hill.

Tackett's suit, prepared by the Pikeville law firm of Burke & Sanders, alleges that more than $4,000 was spent in vote-buying by Burchett, his friends and relatives, and that "in excess of 100 official primary ballots" were procured by the defendant and his supporters and used in operating the "chain system" in various precincts to win for Burchett the nomination for County Attorney. More than 500 votes were "chained" into the ballot boxes, he claims.

Dr. Gearheart alleges that County Judge Hill and his supporters spent $5,000 and that their operation

Dingus Thanks Voters For Their Support In Recent Primary

Since I have the same reactions to friendship and good turns from others that you other voters of Floyd county have, I know that you will fully realize how thankful I am to you for your honest support that made my nomination for Sheriff on the Republican ticket possible.

I know that neither I nor any of my friends attempted in any way to coerce you in casting your votes. I believe that my opponents, whom I found to be gentlemen and good sportsmen, left the suffrage of the people, as I did, free to be an honest expression of the voters' will. Upon that proposition of honesty in government, to which, I think, we all subscribed, I congratulate the voters who took part in our primary election.

And now I ask you all--all of you who believe in honest government, of, for and by the people--to join me in the coming November election in the work that will transcend and cross all old, outworn party lines and result in the election of a Sheriff who will conduct the office and himself toward every individual, black or white, Democrat or Republican, so that the honest taxpayer will know, in the end, that his tax money has been spent in the payment of the salary of a Sheriff who has nothing of prejudice, ill-will or "big-time" politics to dictate his policies in dealing with the people.

Sincerely,
DINGUS

TOTAL OF 14 MURDER CASES

ON DOCKET HERE BUT ONLY TEN 'BEFORE COURT'

Of the 14 murder cases on the Floyd circuit court's docket for the term beginning Monday, Sept. 1, four are not officially "before the court," being fugitives.

In addition to these 14 murder cases, there are 10 other cases in which deadly weapons are alleged to have been used in unsuccessful attempts to kill. Seven of the attempts were made with gun or revolver; three, with knives.

Only an even dozen "pistol totin'" cases are docketed, but this number is expected to be increased by work of the grand jury. Three Floyd countians are scheduled for trial on charges of reckless use of a deadly weapon.

Three voluntary manslaughter cases are docketed, and one of the three defendants is a fugitive.

As prevalent as any other offense in the county the docket indicates, is that of child desertion, 21 of the 95 cases listed being on that charge. The complete docket appears elsewhere in this edition of THE TIMES.

Constable Willie R. Johnson, who brought Cole to jail here, said he was told that both men were drinking and that Newsom intervened when Mr. and Mrs. Cole disputed. Cole's second shot struck Newsom in his leg but was fired at some distance and did not cause a serious wound. Cole waived examining trial, to await grand jury action next month.

If month-old Hattie Rose Wells, of Auxier, isn't the grandest baby in the world, as her parents will certainly assure you she is, it isn't because she lacks living grandparents, great-grandparents and great-great-grandparents to swear to it.

In fact, Hattie Rose has an even dozen grand, great-grand and great-great-grandparents. Living branches of her family tree are believed to be the most spreading in the nation. To start with, her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Chester Wells, aged 17 and 18, respectively. Now for her

TWO FLOYD COAL FIRMS LOSE CODE MEMBERSHIP

Washington, Aug. 20--The Bituminous Coal Division announced Wednesday it had ordered suspension of the registration of the Elmer Miller Coal Company, Toledo, Ohio, a distributor, for 90 days and revocation of the code membership of three affiliated producers for violations under the Coal Act and regulations.

The producers, all with principal offices at Toledo, were listed as the Clear Branch Mining Company, with mines at Ligon, Floyd county, Ky.; Kenmont Coal Company, Mines at Jeff, Perry county, Ky., and Beaver Coal Mining Company, with operations at Drift, Floyd county, Ky.

The announcement said that the Elmer Miller Company owned controlling interest in the producing companies and acted as their sales agent in the transactions on which the violations occurred. The producers were required by the division, as a condition to having their code membership restored, to pay the Internal Revenue Bureau taxes as follows: Clear Branch Mining Company, $3,169; Kenmont Coal Company, $566, and the Beaver Coal Mining Company, $4,651.

EXPECT SUBS ON FACULTY

DEFENSE POSITIONS, MILITARY SERVICE MAY MAKE CALLS

Although Prestonsburg high school's faculty was named, several weeks ago, by the Floyd county board of education, and is believed to be acceptable to the city board of education some substitutions may be necessary in the list of teachers, Ishmael H. Triplett, superintendent of city schools, said this week.

The changes, if any, will be created through acceptance by teachers of other and more lucrative positions and by the demands of the U. S. army and navy on young male teachers.

The faculty set-up, as it now stands, follows:
Clayborne Stephens, principal; Joe Taylor Hyden, athletic coach and Science teacher; Minnie Grace Harris, librarian; Jane R. Combs, Social Studies and Latin; Naomi Goble, English; Katherine Frazier, Music; May K. Roberts, Science and Mathematics; James Goble, Social Studies; Gerald Leslie, Mathematics; Ellis Hale, Science and Mathematics; Grace Francis, Commerce; Margaret Pezzarossi, Home Economics.

David, which, six months ago, was not even a very wide place in the road, is gaining cultural as well as industrial advantages, what with the organization of a Woman's Club there.

The Middle Creek mining town's club was formed five weeks ago. Working under a temporary organization, the members immediately launched a school playground enterprise and club representatives were here this week soliciting funds with which to purchase playground equipment. Election of permanent officers was held Wednesday evening, this week, in a meeting at the home of Mrs. Lon Hill. Proceeds of a bingo party to be given August 22 will go to the benefit of the playground.

Officers elected are:
Mrs. John Cecil, Jr., president; Mrs. Lon Hill, vice-president; Mrs. Otis Bussey, secretary; Mrs. Virgil Warrick, treasurer; Mrs. Ora Howard, librarian; Mrs. Russell Harmon, parliamentary.

FLOYD MAN, CRASH VICTIM

AMBULANCE DRIVER DIES, ASSISTANT IS INJURED

George Stanley, 55 years old, ambulance driver for the Koppers Coal Company at Weeksbury, was killed near midnight Monday and his assistant, Carl Johnson, suffered serious injuries when their ambulance and a truck loaded with lumber collided at Dunlow, near Wayne, W. Va.

Trooper Lloyd Haynes, of the Wayne State Police Detachment, said Johnson told him they were returning to Weeksbury after driving a patient to a Huntington hospital. Johnson was returned to the hospital where an attache said he had suffered a broken arm, head injuries and bruises.

Haynes said one of the ambulance wheels was "sheared off." The truck was upset, but the driver, whom the trooper did not identify, was uninjured.

To the Democratic Voters Of Floyd County:

I thank you for the assistance that you gave me in the August primary. I hold no malice against anybody for the way they fought or voted in the recent primary.

A Democratic primary election is, more or less, like a ball game; it makes no difference who wins. I feel that we ought to support our nominees this fall and all be together. In union is our strength.

C. & O. Starts Newest Passenger Service On Middle Cr.

The Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company's newest passenger train service began at 2:30 o'clock Monday morning connecting West Prestonsburg and David, the Princess Elkhorn Coal Company mining center on the Left Fork of Middle Creek.

The second run from West Prestonsburg begins at 6:15 a. m.; the third, at 3:20 p. m.; and the fourth at 6:15 p. m. A half-hour is the time required between West Prestonsburg and David on each run.

On Saturdays the train's three departures from West Prestonsburg will be at 2:30, 7:30 and 11:30 a. m. This schedule may soon be revised, however, it was said.

TIMES TO AID IN TELLING OF NAVY

TRAINING FOR FUTURE AND GOOD PAY ARE OFFERED

At the suggestion of Secretary of Navy Knox, the editor of the Floyd County Times has been made Navy Editor, to help the Navy in giving ambitious local young men information about the opportunities the "Two-Ocean Navy" offers them for technical training and advancement as they serve their country in its emergency.

According to an announcement made public in Washington, a limited number of additional men between the ages of 17 and 50 will be given a chance, by enlistment in the Navy or Naval Reserve, to get to the top, with big pay, in jobs which by their aptitude and for which by examination they show themselves fitted, from among nearly 50 different trades and vocations. These include such callings as aviation machinist, dental technician, photographer, diesel engineers, radio technician, electrician, welder, storekeeper and baker. Enlisted men may also qualify for commissions as officers.

Beginning this week the Navy plans for a limited time to accept new qualified men for training. These men will be sent to one of four Naval Training Stations and may have a chance to go to a Navy Trade School even before assignment to the fleet. During this period they will be given regular navy pay and the Navy's free schooling is valued at hundreds of dollars.

"Never in the history of the United States has there been greater opportunity for loyal young Americans to serve their country and build their futures than right now," said Secretary Knox.

In outlining the many advantages offered by enlistment in the United States navy, it is pointed out that:

It is possible for a bright young man to increase his pay seven times during his first enlistment and he can earn as much as $125 a month. This monthly figure is actually worth much more when it is remembered that the man has few living expenses and is provided with the finest of medical and dental care.

New State License For Hunters Facing Initial Test

The first real test of the new $3 state-wide hunting license came with the opening of the squirrel season August 15, according to a statement issued by S. A. Wakefield, Director of the Division of Game and Fish.

In the past, sportsmen have been permitted to hunt game anywhere in the state by purchasing a $1 annual hunting license. The 1940 Kentucky Legislature, however, passed an amendment to the Game and Fish laws which now requires a $3 license if the hunter seeks his game on a state-wide basis.

Hunters will find that the $3 state-wide license is far more convenient and if, upon short notice, they have an opportunity to make a hunting trip to other counties outside of their regular hunting territory, they have nothing to worry about concerning their license as the state-wide license insures against such happenings. However, if the hunter has purchased a $1 single-county license and then gets the opportunity to hunt elsewhere, he then must purchase a $1 single-county license for the county in which he is planning to hunt or else decide to buy the $3 state-wide license.

SYMPHONY OF WAR

It looks like a xylophone but it's a row of Bren gun barrels being gauged in a Toronto munitions plant. Canada which made no weapons of this kind before the war now possesses a factory that has the largest output of any automatic gun plant in the world. Many of the workers in the plant are women and they have proved themselves to be adept in this kind of employment. All the requirements of the Canadian armed forces are being met by this one factory and large numbers of Bren guns are being supplied to Great Britain. For these guns and many other munitions required by Great Britain, Canada is finding much of the money. During Canada's present fiscal year, the Dominion expects to finance British war purchases in Canada to the extent of $1,500,000,000, which is equal to $23,000,000,000 in terms of American population and income. The Canadian taxpayers are providing the cash.

It did one's soul good to hear Miss Sallie as she shook first one hand and then another, saying: "I had you in the second grade and you in the first." And then to hear the replies, "This can't be MISS Sallie!" It was, and we all want Miss Sallie to come again, and hope that next year more of her former pupils will be back to greet her. TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

CONTRADICTORY SUPERSTITIONS

ONE of the oddities of superstitions is that they are often contradictory, even in the same neighborhood or the same family. Take the matter of finding a pin. For instance. Some people say that if the point is toward you, it is a sign of good luck; others declare that it is a sign of bad luck. Some people whom I have seen would not dare to pick up a pin with the point toward them but would walk around to the side or the head.

One of my former students, now an agriculture teacher in one of the mountain counties, has sent me a list of contradictory superstitions that he has observed, chiefly in the mountains. Here are some of them: 1. When a cat is tossed in a new quilt, it is good luck, say some, bad luck, according to others, for it to jump out by a young lady. 2. If your shoestring becomes untied, your sweetheart is thinking of you, or, conversely, you are thinking of her. 3. If your shoestring becomes untied, your sweetheart loves you, or hates you. 4. If your eyebrows meet, you will be rich, or you cannot be trusted, or you have a fiendish disposition, or you have a jealous nature. Apparently, it is pretty risky to have abundant eyebrows, unless you happen to be the one who thereby acquires wealth. 5. If your right hand itches, you will shake hands with a stranger or an old friend. 6. If you sneeze three times before breakfast on Sunday morning, three of the family will die before the week is out, or else you will have good luck. 7. When you move into a new house do not take salt in first. Another group hold that salt should be the very first thing moved. Some people further believe that the woman must be the first one to enter the new house and must carry the salt cellar. 8. Lightning in the north portends rain within 24 hours; it is also a sign of dry weather. Probably it is

"TELLING KENTUCKIANS OF KENTUCKY" SERIES

ABOVE: View of Kentucky Press Association dinner three years ago in Snowball Dining Room 267 feet underground in Mammoth Cave. The Kentucky Press Association held its 1941 convention at Mammoth Cave June 5-6-7. Snowball Dining Room is one of the showplaces of the cave.

(This is one of a series of articles sponsored by the Kentucky Press Association which in 1941 would tell Kentuckians of Kentucky as Kentucky should tell the world in 1942—Southeastern Year. Other articles of this nature will appear in newspapers of Kentucky from time to time.)

BY JOE RICHARDSON Of The Glasgow Times

Mammoth Cave was accepted July 1, 1941, by the federal government as the 26th National Park. And inasmuch as it lies within overnight ride of more than half of the country's population, it is expected to be one of the greatest and most popular parks in the national park system.

One of the seven wonders of the new world, Mammoth Cave has been attracting visitors in ever-increasing numbers for more than 125 years. Mammoth Cave was discovered 142 years ago. From the beginning Mammoth Cave has had important part in the history of these United States. During the War of 1812 saltpetre was leached from the petre-dirt in the cave and was used in the manufacture of gun powder. Historians believe that had the saltpetre mines of Mammoth Cave not been worked the battle of New Orleans would have been lost. The old vaults and workings in the cave are now on exhibit.

Drive For National Park

Mammoth Cave National Park was begun in earnest in 1926, although there was a move to make it a national park many years earlier. Lands for the park have been acquired by the State of Kentucky through the Kentucky National Park Commission by donations, and by direct purchase by the federal government, using therefor donated funds and the funds derived from the operation of the caves and hotels of the area. The total expenditures to date on the park amount to more than $9,000,000. This includes all the funds made available from each of sources mentioned above. Approximately 51,000 acres of the proposed 71,000 acres have been acquired for the minimum bound-dary of this great national park.

Area Is Well Protected

The Civilian Conservation Corps has played a large part in the development of Mammoth Cave National Park. Since establishment of the first of three camps in the park area May 22, 1933, the Corps has greatly advanced conservation of flora and fauna in the area many years by the construction of 65 miles of all-weather truck trails which provide the park rangers means of effectively patrolling the entire park area, thereby greatly increasing the protection of wildlife, as well as the detection and suppression of one of our greatest menaces — forest fires. In addition to the protection of these natural features, and in order to provide for the health, sanitation and fire protection of the visiting public, a new water system and sewerage system, second to none, have been completed by these CCC boys under the supervision of the National Park Service and public health officials. More than $200,000 was expended on these two new improvements.

2,900,000 Seedlings Planted

No CCC camp could boast of a well rounded work program without expending great effort to stop soil erosion. In this endeavor, CCC enrollees have planted over 2,900,000 tree seedlings for gully control of over 3,000,000 square yards. In connection with the tree planting, approximately 8,000 temporary check dams have been constructed to suppress erosion.

The area is protected by one of the best detection systems in the National Park Service. Four big lookout towers have been erected at advantageous points, which enable lookouts to have a complete coverage of the park. This tower observation is augmented by an up-to-date automatic dial phone system which consists of more than 60 miles of copper wire telephone line that is used in connections with the hotel, the caves, the offices and all parts of the park.

Many Improvements Noted

Recent improvements include six dwellings for park personnel and two under construction for others. Stone structures housing the machine shop, the new pumping station, the chlorinating unit, the incinerator, two warehouses, and the comfort station in the big picnic area, all attest to the fine work of the CCC in the park.

Nature trails of from two to eight miles along the picturesque Green river have been constructed, and all trails within the camp itself, have been improved. An amphitheatre has been provided for public meetings; shuffle board and tennis courts have been provided, and a camping and picnic area, with table and bench combinations sufficient to accommodate 1,200 persons, has been recently completed. This picnic area is provided with water fountains and sanitary comfort station. Provision has also been made for boating and bathing in beautiful Green river which runs through the park for a great many miles.

200,000 Visitors In 1940

Mammoth Cave has two main entrances, one natural, known as the Old, or Historic Entrance, and the other, man-made, known as the Frozen Niagara Entrance. There are four routes in the cave and trips are made every hour on the hour. The caves and hotel are open every day in the year for the visitors who come from every state in the union, and from many foreign countries. More than 200,000 visitors were registered in the park area last year. The National Park Service maintains an Entrance Station at the eastern entrance to the park on highway 70 west from Cave City. All roads leading into the cave area are main paved highways. Cave is 100 miles south of Louisville, 85 miles north of Nashville, by either U. S. 31 E or U. S. 31 W. Mammoth Cave Hotel is open the year around. In addition to the hotel, with excellent accommodations, there are 36 cabins and cottages available. The fine dining room service, the coffee shop and out-of-doors eating place are at your service at all hours.

9. If you dream or cats, you will have bad luck or else find money. All of these remind me of the difficulty of living on the folk level. There are so many things to keep in mind, things that have not been written down, that it makes one miserable for fear that he will forget some of the traditional knowledge. Poets and dreamers often picture the folk as carefree, happy people and then dream as only poets can of the ideal existence that the rest of us have departed from by becoming sophisticated or civilized. It is obvious to everybody except poets that the folk live lives of fear and dread. There are so many unseen forces always at work in the world that the folk can never relax. Everything is a sign; not to know the meaning of the sign is to lay yourself open to constant danger. Too know the sign gives you the inside track on the other fellow who does not know it, unless, perchance, he knows some powerful sign or talisman. Natural happenings hold prophecies of good or bad to the folk, and one is constantly fearful that he may miss his sign and become a victim to the unseen forces. Science may be cold-blooded and matter-of-fact; at least, those who believe in it and trust to its efficiency can sleep better than those who fear some occult sign may go unheeded and therefore bring distress.

Local Poet Wins Place In Important Volume

Mrs. Flora Laferty Gray, of Allen, is one of the authors whose poems are included in THE BOOK OF MEMORY POETRY, 1941 (The America Forever Edition), an 800-page volume just published. More than 12,000 writers living in every part of the United States and Canada competed for a place in this important volume; only a small percentage of these were found to write poetry of sufficient merit to be accorded a place in the book. The volume contains the work of little-known authors as well as that of writers who have been published in many magazine and books.

FEDERAL AND STATE
GASOLINE TAXES DIFFER IN PRINCIPLE

Gasoline taxes were inaugurated by the state to provide funds for better roads, but the federal gasoline levy is collected to provide functions of government, Congressman Thomas F. Ford of California points out in a statement in the "Congressional Record" opposing proposals to increase the federal gasoline tax.

"Ability to pay should be the guiding principle in selecting new levies for national defense purposes," says Mr. Ford adding that "if the ability to pay factor had been accorded its just importance, it is probable that the federal gasoline tax never would have been levied.

"Studies by the federal government itself disclose that the average vehicle owner earns between $20 and $30 weekly. Experts point out that one-quarter of all gasoline consuming vehicles are owned on farms, and most certainly no person will seriously contend that the meager income enjoyed by farmers can be stretched to support a heavy tax bill.

"The state gasoline tax, severe penalty though it is, partially may be justified on the grounds that the revenue therefrom is expected for the highways which the worker uses." "Nevertheless," continues Ford, "the tax obviously costs the worker far more than would a tax payment warranted by his small income.

"But no justification can be found for the federal gasoline tax, which is not a road tax, but is levied solely to provide revenue to finance the general functions of the government and which bears no relation to the taxpayers' income. Current proposals to increase the levy rapidly will be abandoned if proper weight is given to the ability to pay factor. This factor, in all fairness, should be a paramount consideration in assessing the costs of general government which should be borne by all citizens alike."

Floyd Farmers See
'Latest' On Visit
At Quicksand

Accompanying County Agent S. L. Isbell to the Quicksand Experiment Station Friday for the Agricultural field day were James Harmon, Bonanza; Albert Whitaker, Middle Creek; J. B. Bays, Bonanza; Walker Spears and E. L. line, Jr. of Edgar; Earl Hays, Smith-Hughes teacher, and Clyde Blackburn, both of Betsy Layne.

Farmers from 26 counties attended and made a tour of experimental fields at the station. Hybrid seed corn tests and different varieties of sorghum were examined. A steep hillside on which no other type or grass or plant would grow had kudzu vines in abundance. These vines, the farmers were told, make splendid pasturage for livestock.

The Floyd group also studied a pasture on which an application of limestone and superphosphate had been applied and on which a mixture containing five grasses and three legumes was sowed in 1938. This pasture, County Agent Isbell said, is the equal of any pasture in the Blue Grass, a section noted for fine pastures. Poultry flocks and the dairy herd were also visited, results of proper sanitation and feeding practices being observed.

"Find" of the day was the Turner two-wheel economy trailer thresher in operation at the station. The machine can be hauled, hitched to a passenger car, from farm to farm and will remove seed from Korean, orchard grass, oats, soy beans or any kind of farm crop, Mr. Isbell said. Its operation enables the farmer to produce seed at home and save a large annual seed bill. The Farm Security Administration will loan money to a group of farmers in this county to buy such a machine, and County Agent Isbell said he hopes to have one of the threshers in the county for next year's use.

Nominations Contested

of the chain ballot resulted in 3,000 illegal votes having been polled for Hill for County Judge. Francis M. Burke, Pikeville attorney, filed Dr. Gearheart's action.

J. M. Clarke, who polled 176 votes in seeking the Democratic nomination for County Judge, filed only against Judge Hill, though two other opponents, Doug Hays and Dr. Gearheart, polled more votes than he. He alleged that both money and whisky were used in influencing voters. Clarke is represented by E. J. Picklesimer, Pikeville.

Twelfth man in the Democratic Jailor's race, H. H. Butcher filed not only against Guy Horn, the nominee, but also against 10 other opponents who had received more votes than he. Each of these 11 opponents and their supporters spent $2,000, the action claims, alleging that each of the 11 received more than 100 votes through the ballot "chain gang." His suit was prepared by Burke & Sanders.

In Magisterial District No. 4 the Democratic nomination of Dewey Roberts for Magistrate is contested on the claim of the contestant, M. B. Hale, that Roberts and his supporters spent $3,000 in buying votes and used 50 official ballots in operating the chain ballot on election day. More than 150 of Roberts' votes, it is contended, were gained by the chain ballot method. Edward L. Allen represents Hale.

SUIT SEEN AS MOVE TO EMBARRASS
CONGRESSMAN

Washington, Aug. 19—Congressman A. J. May, Prestonsburg, Ky., replying to a $12,567 suit filed by a Washington department store sales-woman against him and four others charging they sold her worthless stock in a West Virginia manganese mine, said:

He personally had lost "several thousand dollars" in the corporation and "I am persuaded that it is an effort to embarrass me because of my position." May is chairman of the House Military Affairs Committee.

The suit, filed Monday in the United States District Court by Mrs. Louise B. Gove, in addition to May named as defendants Mrs. Julia G. May, wife of the Representative; M. A. Martin and Walter E. Blount of Washington, and A. J. E. Mullen of Baltimore. All were described as officers of the Greenbrier Mining Corporation.

Mrs. Gove contended she paid $2,000 for 800 shares of the corporation's stock in 1938 and also loaned the firm $567. In addition to her money and interest she seeks $10,000 for alleged failure of the company to renew a lease on 7,000 acres in West Virginia.

She contended that when she purchased the stock it was represented to her that 5,000 tons of ore had been mined and that it was valued at $33 a ton. Actually, she said, such an amount had not been mined and at present the mine was not actively operated.

May said Mrs. Gove's charges were "wholly unjustified and absolutely untrue and there was no basis in fact for any such charges."

KIRWAN HINTS THAT WEAKNESS OF WILDCATS MAY ONLY BE OF PAPER VARIETY

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 15—Kentucky is weaker on paper this fall, but football games aren't played on paper.

That's what Ab Kirwan, classical ringmaster of Kentucky's Wildcats says of his team's chances for the 1941 season.

Speaking more specifically, the youthful coach has a three-fold problem: ends, guards and blocking backs.

"I've got a dozen kids to fill these positions, but they are all untried. They have the natural ability, but I don't know how they will operate under varsity bombardment."

In his forthright manner, Kirwan frankly admits his team has possibilities for a good season.

"Maybe they'll do as well as the '39 team which won six games, lost two, and tied one."

"Our ends are new and plenty green, but I believe they have the ability. The guards, like the ends, are green and not very big. This is probably our weakest spot. In the backfield we're fine except for the blocking quarterback — and here again we have the boys who have the ability but are untried.

"We're strong in the middle of the line with Sam 'Preacher' Hulet and Charley Bill Walker alternating at the center posts."

Kentucky appears to be stronger at the tackle slot than at any other spot. The South's best sophomore tackle, Clark Wood, a 210-pound Huntington, W. Va., product, returns as a junior this fall. Clyde "Big Stoop" Johnson, the South's largest footballer with his six-foot six-inch frame, will operate from the other side of the line.

"The guards are our question marks," Coach Kirwan points out. Lee Preston, a Louisville sophomore, and Jack Casner, from Fort Thomas, will probably be the starting guards.

its territorial possessions. Only men are eligible and marriage is no bar.

While men are also eligible, women serve the FBI in clerical capacities and must be as capable in their field as the special agent is in his. Their character and ability are examined just as closely. Stenographic applicants are required to take a dictation test at the rate of 120 words per minute and qualify as typists, and typist applicants must pass a typing test at the rate of 45 words per minute. The FBI also seeks applicants for the position of clerk-messenger. Young men between the ages of 18 and 25 who have at least a high school education are eligible for this position. According to Mr. Moss most of the men appointed to this position by the FBI continue their college education in the Washington schools with the hope of ultimately qualifying for the position of special agent. Entrance salaries for the positions of stenographer, typist and clerk are $1,620 per annum, $1,400 per annum and $1,260 per annum respectively.

In view of the wide scope of the FBI's responsibilities, it also has positions available to men between the ages of 23 and 35 who possess college degrees in various sciences. With a starting salary of $2,000 per year and the prospect of promotion to higher positions those with scientific educations may apply for such positions as junior analytical chemist in geology, metallurgy, toxicology and serology; junior cryptographer; junior document identification specialist; junior electrical engineer; junior firearms identification specialist; and junior physician. Successful applicants are assigned to the technical school laboratory of the FBI in Washington, which is the foremost criminological laboratory in the world.

AGENCY'S MANIFOLD DUTIES ACQUIRE BIG PERSONNEL

With its responsibilities and volume of work constantly increasing as a result of the national emergency, the Federal Bureau of Investigation is seeking qualified personnel for many different types of positions, according to an announcement made by H. K. Moss, special agent in charge of the FBI's Louisville field division.

"Since the outbreak of the war in Europe and the designation of the FBI by the President to co-ordinate the investigations of all espionage, counter-espionage, sabotage and related matters the FBI personnel has been more than doubled," Mr. Moss stated. "We have not, however, lowered the previous high standards established in 1924 when John Edgar Hoover became director of the FBI. Applicants for our various positions must still pass rigid tests, be in excellent physical condition and survive a thorough investigation as to loyalty, integrity and ability. Appointments are based on personal qualifications and merit," he added.

The best known and most sought position offered by the FBI is that of special agent. In order to qualify for this position with its starting salary of $3,200 per year and become a member of the famed corps of "G-Men," the applicant must be between the ages of 23 and 35, a graduate lawyer or accountant or possess a college degree combined with investigative experience or a working knowledge of a foreign language. The accountants must in addition to their college degree have three years' practical auditing or accounting experience. All special agents must be free of physical defects and must be willing to serve any place in the United States or

FISH, GAME NEWS OF FLOYD COUNTY

By E. R. BURKE
District Conservation Officer

Numerous catches of large and small mouth bass and large pike have been taken from the streams of Floyd county recently, some of these bass weighing as high as four pounds. I have insisted to the sportsmen that there are plenty of big fish in our streams, and this has been proven by several of the recent catches. Young Robert Bunting and Denzil Lee Lester came to my front door Wednesday to show their catch of rough fish. They had seven catfish weighing 13 pounds, caught on trot line and fishing with live minnows, the largest being a blue cat weighing six pounds.

The nimrods are reporting limit kills of squirrels in the county. Two hunters (we will not mention any names) from Warco plant at Maytown, and two other fellows (no names) went down in Fleming county hunting squirrels for two days and brought back three squirrels. On Saturday some of the other fellows from this plant went up on the hill in sight of the plant and killed 17 squirrels. Irby Hensley reports that he got his limit of six on one tree and was not out over two hours.

Many Barren county farmers, adding up the year's lamb profits, find that they doubled their money.

Vetch and rye grass has been extensively seeded in Floyd county.

Last month Todd county farmers had 1,200 feet of terraces laid out, and work on them has begun.

Robert Eddleman, Hopkins county, bought a purebred ram from a Washington county farmer.

Coal Research Agencies Report Progress In New Uses for Coal

(By NCA Press Service) Washington — Directors of the leading coal research laboratories throughout the country recently held the first of a series of conferences at Battelle Memorial Institute at Columbus, Ohio. They met at the invitation of Howard E. Eavenson, president of Bituminous Coal Research, Inc., an agency affiliated with the National Coal Association.

Co-operating among the organizations conducting research in bituminous coal has become a reality. Represented at this initial conference were Purdue University, Pennsylvania State College, Armour Research Foundation, University of Illinois, West Virginia University, Illinois Geological Survey, Carnegie Institute of Technology, U. S. Bureau of Mines and other similar groups.

Although the market for coal as a chemical raw material was of negligible proportions in 1930 when the Coal Research Laboratory was organized at Carnegie Institute of Technology, H. H. Lowry, director, and his co-workers foresaw a greater future for this market and during their 11 years of work have carried on an extensive investigation of the chemical nature of coal and of methods of chemical treatment of coal to obtain new products.

That their vision was correct is shown by the fact that with the field still scarcely scratched, one single plant of the du Pont Co. at Belle, W. Va., uses 1,500 tons of coal per day or nearly half a million tons per year for purely chemical production. A recent release of the U. S. Tariff Commission shows that of the 213 million pounds of synthetic resins produced in 1939, 179 million pounds or 84 per cent, were of coal tar origin. This required the distillation products of 2 to 3 million tons of coal and the production of these resins continues to increase.

More Cover Crops Needed in State

Lack of cover crops continues to be the principal factor contributing to the loss of soil and plant food on Kentucky farms, says a statement from the State College of Agriculture and Home Economics. It is estimated that more than three-fourths of the land devoted to cultivated crops lies bare in winter and thereby is subject to erosion and leaching.

Wheat is listed as the most important cover crop in Kentucky. Rye also is extensively used. Especially has Balbo rye been giving outstanding results in early growth, pasture and seed production.

The barley acreage in Kentucky has increased from 5,000 in 1929 to 125,000 in 1940. Winter oats are grown in some sections. A relatively new crop that is attracting attention is rye grass.

Vetch and crimson clover are extensively used as cover crops in Kentucky. Several million pounds of vetch seed has been requested in the agricultural conservation program this year.

County Agents and the College of Agriculture have supervised a large number of cover crop tests over the state. Among some of the facts learned are:

That most cover crops should be seeded early for best results.

For late seeding, wheat or rye is most satisfactory.

The use of lime and phosphate is beneficial on most soils and essential on some of the most satisfactory growth of cover crops.

Balbo rye produces more pasture and affords better protection than common rye.

Winter oats are in general the least dependable of winter grains. The Fulwin variety appears more winter resistant than local varieties.

Red clover threshed in Madison county far exceeds last year's supply, it is estimated.

LAWRENCE OFFICIALS PROBE SLAYING OF MAYO STUDENT

Lawrence county authorities had a murder mystery on their hands this week, with the finding of the body of Dan J. Brown, Jr., on the Levisa river road beside his automobile early Tuesday morning.

Brown a student at the Mayo State Industrial School in Paintsville, had been shot in the neck and shoulders with a shotgun, the charge severing the jugular vein.

At the inquest conducted by Justice of the Peace O. C. Adkins, assisted by County Attorney M. J. See and Sheriff Proctor Fyffe, Reil Price truck driver for the F. S. Vanhoush Lumber Company, of Louisa, testified he found Brown's body as he was en route to work about 5 a. m.

The youth a resident of near Richardson, Lawrence county, had been attending night classes in defense training at Mayo State and traveled back and forth with Dick Akers, 22, also enrolled at the school.

Akerstestified at the inquest that Brown left him at his home at about 1:30 a. m., the return trip from Paintsville being a little later than usual because of automobile trouble. Akers said he did not hear any shots. Brown's father, Dan J. Brown, Sr., testified that as far as he knew, his son had no enemies.

Justice of the Peace Adkins said that investigation disclosed from marks that a dead peach tree had been thrown across the road and presumed that Brown stopped his car to remove the tree, and had started around the back of the machine when he was shot from the side of the road.

A number of shotgun pellets were found in the rear of the car, in addition to three shotgun waddings. A .38 pistol ball was also found on the front seat having pierced the back of the car.

Price testified that he found the car and young Brown's body about one and one-half miles from Akers' home and about two and one-half miles from the Brown residence on the River road.

The investigation was being continued Wednesday.
