This, as you surely have already decided, is the "election" edition. We sympathize with the reader this week; for the next 51 weeks, you readers might try sympathizing with us.

ARGUMENT FOR ADVERTISING
This edition does prove one thing which we devoutly hope our merchants will consider: The men in politics who are close to the public pulse, who probably know more about how the people feel than any others, know the value of advertising. They know that, if they have something to say in which the people are interested, they can "get the message across" by using the columns of this newspaper.

SCHOOL DAZE
Special via our leased wire—the grapevine:
A small boy approached Ishmael Triplett, Superintendent of Prestonsburg schools (sometimes known as the "Principal"), one morning

QUALIFIED, HONEST NEEDED BY THE PEOPLE

JUDGE EDW. P. HILL, JR.

Based upon his record, Floyd county needs the able services of Judge Edward P. Hill for another term. He has looked after our tax money and kept down graft. He has substantially reduced our heavy county debt. We all have confidence in his honesty, and know he is well-qualified and we feel safe, knowing the business of the county and our personal business will be conducted properly by him as our County Judge. You will always find him courteous, sober and able to handle all your legal questions. He is fair in the trial of cases before him.

By good management of the limited county funds, he has sponsored the W.P.A. program so that we have many miles of road and a number of bridges we did not have when he came into office. He is better qualified to carry this program through.

All the county roads could not be built in his past term of office. During his next term we will see the completion of practically every important road in the county. He has assured us he will direct most of his efforts toward road building.

His opponents cannot successfully accuse him of a single act of crookedness. A splendid record. They have, for selfish reasons, tried hard to contest him out and he has been busy and worried all fall defending himself. Let us all rally to his cause. He is our cause. He will win by a tremendous majority. He has worked hard for us. We will work hard for him next Tuesday.

University-trained, FRIENDLY and UNSELFISH, Harrison Elliott is a son of M. B. Elliott, of Martin. He has taught in the schools of Wheelwright, Glo, Estill, Stamper's Branch, and Garrett, is now teaching in the school at Allen.

With love and admiration for all our plain people, he awaits the day that says, "Go, young man, do your dead level best. Make a GOOD REPRESENTATIVE."

BURKE MAKES FINAL APPEAL TO VOTERS

HARRY R. BURKE

This is my final appeal to Floyd county citizens to vote for me as your County Attorney for the next four years. I was born and reared on Abbott Creek. My father was Dr. I. M. Burke and my mother was Lula Webb. My grandfather on the maternal side was Alexander (Pig) Webb and my grandmother was Martha Wells. My grandmother on the paternal side was Melvina Jones. I married a Floyd county girl and the sister of Forrest D. Short.

I grew from boyhood to manhood in Floyd county and came along life's pathway with Forrest D. Short. We attended the grades, high school and law school together. We graduated from law school and began the practice of law in October, 1926. We were reared in the same common way, and tackled life's problems in the same way and manner. Coming from the common people, we understood their common needs. In life as boys we grew; thereafter, as men, we fought for those who needed most.

I have met most every man, woman and child in this county. I have never turned a deaf ear to anyone. I am making my race your race. My defeat will mean your defeat. Those few who oppose me do so BECAUSE they know they can not BOSS me. I feel that the rank and file of the miners, farmers, merchants, doctors, lawyers and every other citizen will march to the polls on Nov. 4, and there in the square opposite my name place an X. For that I shall ever be grateful, and with continued health I make a SOLEMN COVENANT AND PLEDGE (my only one in this campaign) that the RIGHTS, LIBERTIES, AND PRIVILEGES OF THE PEOPLE SHALL BE PRESERVED. LAW AND ORDER WILL PREVAIL, and I shall ever be at the POST OF DUTY, ready and willing to serve at your beckoning. The DOOR of the County Attorney's office will be open to its citizens and it will not cost you anything to get in, nor will you have to see anyone to get permission to come in.

I am on the REPUBLICAN TICKET, but have always been liberal minded. You can elect me on that ticket the same as if I were on the other. MINERS, you have a duty to perform in behalf of the one who has for 15 years been loyal and true. This is your fight and it will be your victory. Let no one LEAD YOU ASTRAY. MERCHANTS, your interest is at stake as taxpayers. You are entitled to equal consideration and that you will get when HARRY R. BURKE IS ELECTED. DOCTORS, you all know me and you know that I have the HIGHEST personal admiration for the profession. Your profession is one of the highest calling and through economy in government can receive the GREATEST PROTECTION. LAWYERS, you want an equal chance, don't you? Then it is HIGH TIME you went all the way for me. It is unwise to make a difference with fellow brothers in the profession, but that happens, and is HIGHLY PROBABLE when THOSE who have the power wield the big hammer and make the demands. It is better to be safe than sorry.

I hope and trust that last minute political propaganda and lies will not be told, but if so, do not let them swerve you from voting for me—your friend.

I PLEDGE you all the same kind of an administration in the OFFICE OF COUNTY ATTORNEY as the past eight preceding years. Having highly resolved to ever walk in the straight and narrow way, I make this as a COVENANT for which none can say they were sorry for having so voted. I believe in a government of the people, by the people and for the people, with economy as the watchword. PROTECT Floyd county and its FISCAL AFFAIRS by voting opposite the name of HARRY R. BURKE, and to THEE and THINE I shall ever be grateful and become thy servant.

POLL OFFICIAL CHANGES HERE UNDER FIRE

INJUNCTION ASKED BY CANDIDATES FOR COUNCIL

Prestonsburg's super-heated municipal election boiled over into the courts this week as members of the Rising Sun ticket asked the Floyd circuit court for an injunction to restrain two substitute election officers in Wards 1 and 2 here from serving at the polls on Nov. 4 and to enjoin the board of election commissioners to name these substitutes from the eight men listed by the Republican precinct committee for prospective poll duty in each ward.

The court action resulted from the appointment in Ward 2 here of Dr. Martin J. Leete as an election officer to succeed Byron Nunney, who, after his appointment as a poll official, representing the Republican party, became a candidate for City Council; and from the appointment of W. B. (Brad) Boyd to succeed Curtis Clark, who likewise became a Council candidate in Ward 1.

The petition, filed against Sheriff Dial Salisbury, J. O. Webb and B. L. Sturgill, members of the board of election commissioners, and against the substitute election board appointees, claims that in both instances the commissioners went outside the list of names certified for probable election officer service to name Dr. Leete and Mr. Boyd.

Excluding all that court action, the scrap is hot enough, with both tickets disagreeing, at least temporarily, over the number of ballots to be printed for the election.

IN LOUISVILLE

Miss Mildred J. Tackett spent the week-end in Louisville, visiting with relatives, and attending the races.

Robert Lee Frazier Succumbs Friday At Martin

Robert Lee Frazier, 76 years old, member of a well-known Floyd county family, died Friday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frank Crisp, of Martin, a victim of diabetes from which he had suffered for some time.

Mr. Frazier was a son of the late William and Cynthia Frazier, and was born and reared in the vicinity of the place of his death. He was of a quiet, unassuming nature and had many friends in this section.

Surviving are his daughter, four sisters and three brothers: Mrs. Ben Baldrige and Mrs. Lee Baldrige, Clearfield, Ky.; Mrs. Sarah Sammons and Mrs. Cassie Click, Luther and Melvin Frazier, all of Cracker; Elbert Frazier, of Rice, Ky.

Funeral rites were conducted Sunday morning from the Crisp residence, the Reverend Inman officiating. Burial was made at Martin under the direction of the Ryan Funeral Home.

CHILDERS DIES UNDER SLATE

BULL CREEK MINER, VICTIM FRIDAY AT AGE OF 45

Crushed beneath a fall of rock and slate in the mine of the Sandy Valley Coal Company at Water Gap, near here, Ballard Childers, 45 years old, of Emma, was instantly killed Friday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock.

Weight of the fall crushed his body from his chest down, it was said here at the Arnold Funeral Home, where the body was prepared for burial.

DAM REPORT IS FILED

U.S. ENGINEERS TO RELEASE DATA SOON

Capt. P. V. Kiefer, executive officer of the Huntington district, United States Engineers, said that a report on the economic feasibility of constructing a new system of dams and locks for the Big Sandy in Kentucky was forwarded Monday to the Ohio River Division engineer's office at Cincinnati.

The executive officer said that contents of the report, which embraces data compiled in a survey started last spring, will probably not be made public until after it is forwarded to the United States engineers' office in Washington.

Coal interests are supporting the canalization project for cheap transportation of coal from Eastern Kentucky and adjacent West Virginia mines.

Deserters Sought In County; Two Are Held Here

An extensive search for U. S. army deserters was being made in the county this week by federal authorities following the arrest Wednesday in Prestonsburg of Den Joseph and Tom Taylor, army volunteers accused of being deserters.

Arrests of Taylor and Joseph were made Wednesday by Deputy Sheriff Tommy Salisbury. The two are to be returned to Ft. Knox for future service. An army military policeman arrived Wednesday to act as guard of the prisoners.

GEORGE CRUM DIES AT CLIFF

WELL-KNOWN MAN, SUDDEN ATTACK VICTIM

George Crum, well-known farmer, died Oct. 23, his 68th birthday, at his home at Cliff of a heart attack. Mr. Crum, retiring in apparent good health after spending a part of the preceding day here, was stricken at 1 a. m., and died at 3:30. His passing came as a shock to hundreds of friends and relatives in this section.

A son of the late Mike Crum, he was born and reared in this county, where he was an influential citizen. He had been a member of the Methodist Church since 1903 and was a member of Prestonsburg lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Nellie Spradlin Crum, three daughters and four sons: Mrs. Eula Branham and Mrs. Susan Weems, Prestonsburg; Mrs. Mary Alice Wright, Cliff; Charles Crum, of Martin; Woodson Crum, of Jenkins, Andrew, of Prestonsburg, and Carl, at home. He also leaves three brothers and five sisters: Wilson Crum, West Prestonsburg; Gabe Crum, Ivel; Malcolm Crum, Dwayne; Mrs. Lee Sammons, West Prestonsburg; Miss Sally Crum, Cliff; Mrs. Sam Vaughan, Cliff; Mrs. George Woods, of Allen, and Mrs. Mary May, Pikeville.

Why I Am Running For County Court Clerk

I am qualified for the office I seek, and really and truly need the office. I want to serve the people of Floyd county one term, and at the end of my term I will step aside and give some other deserving boy or girl an opportunity to hold the office.

I am one of you and believe that I should have a chance to serve and prove to you that I am worthy of your vote and support. I will not keep all the money that is paid me in fees, but will truly account and pay over to the County Treasurer all over my $5,000 constitutional limit I earn. The office has been paying $8,000 to $9,000 per year, and not one cent has been refunded your county treasurer by my opponent, during this entire TWELVE YEARS in the clerk's office.

Banner has held the office Three Terms, or Twelve Years, and now he asks you to elect him for the FOURTH TERM. I only ask you for one term and will not be selfish enough to come out and ask you to elect me to this office or any other office, nor will I have a "pet" candidate in the field for the office.

Banner has said that "since I got into this election, I wish I hadn't, because it costs me as much to be elected as the office pays." He further said that his pride was at stake and for this reason he MUST win. Now, Fellow Citizens, what do you think of this? Does Banner's pride merit your vote? I say NO, a thousand times! He says, in effect, "I do not need the office; but my pride must be satisfied."

And remember, pride goeth before a fall.
VOTERS, think this over.
Sincerely,
RALPH ALLEN

FARM DEFENSE BOARD NAMED FOR COUNTY

INCREASED OUTPUT TO BE SOUGHT FROM FARMS

Floyd county's Agricultural Defense Board, a part of a nation-wide organization designed to wage war in behalf of the democracies against Hitler, et al., was formed last week in a meeting conducted by Jesse Robinson, a representative of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, at the postoffice building here.

Goals set for Floyd farm production in the nation's effort to aid its allies overseas are:

Eleven percent increase in milk and butter fats, 10 percent increase in poultry and eggs, 4 percent increase in hogs and beef cattle.

Increases sought, it was pointed out by County Agent S. L. Isbell this week, is not that of numbers but, rather, that of quality through better feeding and care.

The Floyd County Agricultural Defense Board is composed of James Stephens, Cliff, chairman; Milt Stanley, Bonanza, representing the Rural Electrification Administration in the county; Sam Hale, Blue River, of the Production Credit Association; Smith B. Jones, Pikeville, of the Farm Security Administration; Edward Price, district forester, and County Agent S. L. Isbell.

Mr. Stephens, as chairman of the board, and also the Floyd County AAA chairman, will direct the work of procuring pledges of quotas from farmers. County Agent Isbell's work will be that of helping farmers to attain their quotas. At the same time, the REA representative will help in affording modernized farm facilities for planned increased production, and Mr. Hale, as Production Credit representative, will have the task of affording credit to those farmers needing financial aid in the increased production program.

VOTE STRAIGHT

(You folks may have seen the posters of the Democratic ticket, advising you to vote "straight." This is to give you plain, honest advice.)

Vote Straight—but NOT straight for any political party, regardless of the merit of its candidates, forgetful of the worthlessness of some, and the actual worse than worthlessness of others—BUT STRAIGHT for your county, your friends, your homes.

This is not to assail the integrity of the Democratic party. Rather, it is an appeal to honest voters to exercise their native intelligence and their inherent honesty in electing to office in Floyd county at the polls Nov. 4 MEN who are STRAIGHT, officials whose service will transcend party lines and will be a credit to us ALL. That is voting STRAIGHT. There is no other way to vote. This is the principle of our DEMOCRATIC WAY OF LIFE.

The voters of Floyd county have been "HOODWINKED" too often and too long by the ANCIENT CRY, "Stick to the Party." They have at last learned that GOOD FAITH, kept between voter and official, honesty practiced by county officials handling the affairs and fortunes of the people—they, at this late date, have learned that these mean more than all "STRAIGHT" party ties when "PARTY MEN ARE CROOKED" and can't be straightened.

The men who work in the mines, as well as those of the farm, are being harangued by imported speakers who praise to the skies certain candidates. Since when did Floyd county's voters who work for a living need advice from such outsiders as to how and for whom they should vote? Do they know more about the candidates than do the voters here at home? If they do, just who gave them all their INFORMATION? Instead of sending to the Blue Grass to get speakers to come here and praise their record as officials, why don't they send down there and get some of your TAX MONEY WHICH THEY HAVE KEPT OVER AND ABOVE THEIR LEGAL SALARIES? No, THEY, THE COURTHOUSE GANG, ARE ASKING THE TAXPAYERS TO PUT THEM IN OFFICE AGAIN SO THEY CAN CONTINUE TO EMBEZZLE MORE OF THE TAXPAYERS' MONEY.

You voters, you men and women who have spent all your lives, or many years, in this county, need no recommendation of any candidate by visiting speakers. You know the faults and virtues of all the candidates as individuals—and that should be enough information for any voter honestly seeking better government and a better county.

VOTERS, "GET WISE." Turn deaf ears to the siren call now again being sounded! That siren call is, "Vote the Straight Democratic Ticket"—and it will lure you and your county, as it did ULYSSES OF OLD, onto the rocks.

Lespedeza Praised
By Lee County Man

Korean Lespedeza again has proved a life saver for livestock owners in Lee county, according to County Agent T. H. Jones. "The largest hay crop ever harvested was saved," in most cases without rain. Pastures have held up under severe drouth conditions much better where Korean Lespedeza was included in the pasture mixture.

"Some of the tallest and finest Lespedeza we have ever seen was produced on the farms of the Rev. George Botner near Idamay and H. H. Hensley near Heidelberg. Some of it was 37 inches high. The land was treated with two to three tons of limestone and 200 pounds of 47 percent superphosphate to the acre. Mr. Botner has a field of 20 acres, and when asked what he planned to do with it replied, 'Let it fall back on the land. I now have more hay than I can do anything with.'"

Kentucky Farmers
Are Being Pulled
Out of Mud Fast

Kentucky farmers are being pulled out of the mud at a rapid rate by the golden flow of automotive tax dollars now being collected from state motorists at a record high level, Herbert L. Clay, secretary of the Kentucky Petroleum Industries Committee, said this week.

"The 1940 census of the federal government shows that 40.5 per cent of the farms of this state are located on unimproved dirt roads, as compared with 47.6 per cent in 1930. That certainly shows remarkable progress during the past decade in pulling the farmers of this state out of the mud," Mr. Clay said.

"Striking progress also was made in extending hard-surfaced highways into all sections of the state. In 1940, the census showed, 18.4 per cent of all the farms in this state were situated on hard-surfaced roads, as compared with only 15.2 per cent in 1930. Most of the farms in Kentucky are now either located on good roads or are within comparative short distances of such highways."

Women Told How To Meet Rising
Cost of Living

Farm women, and the women of America generally, are confronted by several things vitally affecting their "way of life." Among them may be listed the following factors:

Food prices (for foods bought at stores) are much higher than they were even a year ago—15 per cent or more increase during a two-year period.

Rent on property may be increased. Credit for installment buying has been curtailed.

Clothing costs are up. Taxes are higher now, and probably will go up, not down.

Money should be saved—despite all these other factors—for buying to national defense and a patriotic defense bonds and stamps, as a help duty.

Summing up, home economists at the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics say two things stand out clearly: (1) running the household will take more money, and (2) in some cases farm women will be in position to keep costs down somewhat.

For increased expenses, such as taxes, etc., more money must be kept available. The only area in which women can cut down is that of buying. In other words, by producing the bulk (or all) of their food for home consumption on the farm, the actual cash outlay may be reduced and the money used for other things.

Other than that, women may by astute buying cut clothing costs or at least keep them at their present total figure. This will involve getting maximum service from the clothes on hand, by prompt repair, drycleaning or washing, longer use, etc.

It is desirable at this time to avoid debt. With costs high, it will take longer to get out of debt than it would in a period of relatively low costs. If income is larger from higher prices for farm products, use the money to pay off any existing mortgages or notes or unpaid bills.

TIMES WANT ADS PAY

NINE-EIGHTHS OF ANYTHING PROMISED EQUALS NOTHING FOR THE PUBLIC

Because there are only EIGHT EIGHTHS in any one thing, great or small. There are only eight eighths in even the Jailer's office, and we are told that Guy Horn, the Democratic nominee, has promised parts of his office, if he is elected, to others up to and including that mythical ninth eighth. All this resolves itself into this realization we all must reach, what with Mr. Horn showering promises of office division right and left, fore and aft.

Will Halbert, the present Jailer, will continue to be Jailer.

And if the said Will Halbert is to be Jailer under such a division of the spoils, or if Guy Horn is to divert his office into the hands of others not elected or voted for by the people—well, under such conditions, it will be SAFER TO BE OUT OF JAIL THAN IN JAIL.

Guy Horn, through administration of W.P.A. commodities, is seeking to control indirectly the votes of Floyd county's poor and unfortunate by placing his campaign literature in packages delivered to them. But he nor none other acting in his behalf, I know, can throw the fear of Horn into your hearts by threatening shorter food rations if you don't DELIVER. The Federal Government is behind that food-rationing, and the Federal Government also is back of you in your free use of the ballot as free men and women. You all know what has happened to others in the past by misapplication of commodities and funds of Uncle Sam.

Let's forget "hoss-swoppin'" on public offices, fear of "Little Men in High Places." Let's have supreme faith in our rights as free voters and citizens of a free land.

LET'S VOTE FOR

W. F. [WILLIE] CLARK for JAILER

(Pol. Adv.) who has not promised nine-eighths of his office.

Winter Crop Seedings, Big in Floyd County

Farmers in Floyd county would have sown 120,000 pounds of vetch and rye grass seed, if it had been available, says S. L. Isbell, county agent. As it was, 234 farmers sowed 9,000 pounds of rye grass seed and 9 farmers sowed an equal amount of vetch seed secured as a grant of aid through the Agricultural Conservation program. Rye and barley also were sown for feed and cover crops.

MAROONS LICK ST. CHARLES

Final Period Score Wins for W'wright; To Meet 'Cats

By OWEN RICKARD

Wheelwright, Ky., Oct. 27 (Spl.)—Embarrassed somewhat by the 33-7 defeat handed them by Coach Hatcher's potent Pikeville Panther eleven, Coach Walter Price's Wheelwright grid machine journeyed into the hills of southwestern Virginia Friday afternoon on the trail of the St. Charles eleven to take the Virginians' scalps, but it took four gruelling quarters of "give and take" football before they succeeded. After the battle was over, the score read, 7-0.

For three periods of play the Virginians, headed by Garrett, "half-pint" quarterback, and a couple of dash men in Ely and Campbell, refused to have their goal-line crossed. The Pricemen threatened late in the second quarter on completed pass plays from Captain Bill Skiles to Jim Bowe, Maroon back, and runs by Ormond King and Jess Ratliff and the whistle at the half found the pigskin on the St. Charles 11-yard stripe.

The third period saw the Virginians stalled twice deep in Maroon territory. Early in the fourth quarter the Maroons, after Lewis Vaughan's recovery of a St. Charles fumble, carried the ball to the hosts' 19-yard line. Ratliff swept right end, lateralled to Skiles, who went over for the only score of the game. Seconds later, Jim Bowe converted and the Maroons were ahead, 7-0. The game ended a few minutes later with St. Charles threatening on the Maroon 21-yard line.

For the Wheelwright gridgers the victory was their third of the season and for St. Charles their fifth straight setback of the season.

The Maroons this coming Saturday travel to the Floyd county seat to tangle with Coach Hyden's Prestonsburg Blackcat aggregation.

PERSONALS

Miss Marie Parsons, of Ashland, is visiting her sister, Mrs. H. L. May, and Mr. May.

Mrs. John Amburgy is seriously ill at her home.

Miss Frieda Cassidy, Austin Cassidy and Clovis Ferguson, all students at Pikeville College, spent the week-end with their parents here.

Henry Frasure, of Pippapass, visited his mother, Mrs. Monie Frasure, this week-end.

Humbert Hayes and small son, of Drift, were visitors in Maytown Sunday.

Mrs. H. L. May was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Parsons, in Ashland over the week-end.

Miss Peggy Jo Allen, who is a senior at the University of Kentucky, was home Saturday and Sunday.

Ogden Stewart motored to Berea for the week-end. He was accompanied by his sister, Mrs. A. J. Tallant, a recent bride. Mrs. Tallant visited Miss Virginia Lee Newsome, in West Irvin.

MEASLES THREATENS

Maytown is threatened with an epidemic of measles of the regular kind. Among the youngsters who have been confined with the disease this week are Billy Arnold Cooley, Bobbie Akers, and Paul Kelly, Connie Sue May and Winnie Sue Cooley.

HALLOWEEN CARNIVAL, THIS WEEK

The annual Halloween carnival of the Maytown school, sponsored by the P.-T. A., will be given on Thursday evening in the three school buildings, G. E. Allen, P.-T.A. president, serving as general chairman. Numerous committees are busy with preparations for the event, which is one of the biggest affairs held each year. A huge crowd is expected.

CHURCH AND SUNDAY SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

Attendance of the Maytown Sunday School has doubled in the past month, under the leadership of Carl Stewart, who began his duties as superintendent recently. Mr. Stewart and his teachers are doing everything possible to increase attendance and to promote new interest. V. O. Turner, principal of the Maytown school, and his faculty are helping in the campaign. Mr. Turner is again the teacher of the adult Bible class, and large crowds are coming to hear him each Sunday.

The annual program for Thanksgiving, to be given in the church, is under the direction of Mrs. Carl Ferguson, whose versatility and originality promise entertainment above the ordinary. A large number of children will take part in the pantomime, playlet, songs and recitations for the occasion. Mrs. Ferguson will be assisted by Mrs. Thomas Patrick, church pianist, one of the outstanding musicians in Eastern Kentucky, and by her daughter, Miss Marjorie Ferguson, one of Maytown's most talented young girls.

Mesdames W. A. Stewart and Carl Ferguson, teachers of the Beginner and Primary classes in the Sunday School, were hostesses to a Halloween social for their classes in the upstairs of the church on Sunday morning, when a large crowd of the children enjoyed their hospitality. Mrs. Stewart's class has won the attendance banner, offered by the superintendent, for the past three Sundays. The banner becomes the permanent property of any class that wins four consecutive Sundays.

The parsonage, which is the property of the Beaver Valley circuit, has been raised to "higher ground," all four churches sharing in the expense. The dwelling is in need of further repairs badly, and work on it will continue for several weeks. Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Hahn and children, formerly of West Irvin, now occupy the parsonage.

HOW TO SAVE MONEY ON YOUR CAR

Starting the car shift from first to second speed at 10 miles per hour, and from second to third speed at 20 miles per hour. When climbing a hill always go in second speed when the machine slows down to 20 miles per hour, and to first speed should it slow down to 10. It is safer and more economical to shift into second or even first gear when descending a hill. If your engine has enough compression to take you up a hill, it has enough braking power to hold the machine back. This is not hard on the engine, and it does save brake lining, which is very expensive.

When possible avoid driving on busy streets, especially when stop and go signals are at intersections. This not only helps to prevent traffic congestion, but it also saves your gasoline, to say nothing of the brakes and tires. Your motor will consume enough gas while shifting gears to propel your car for a mile.

A good driver does not take chances, and never flirts with danger. He is always careful and keeps as far away from seeming danger as possible.

NO PROSECUTION WANTED

LAST WEEK, Dave Shepherd, of Middle Creek, lay critically wounded in the Prestonsburg General hospital. His son had shot him. And Dave, according to his brother, had asked that his son not be prosecuted, whether the shot proved fatal or otherwise.

The son has not been arrested. Now that Dave Shepherd appears to be recovering, this newspaper wonders if his death would have caused "the law" of Floyd county to become even a trifle more interested in the case.

Or would the law have obeyed the victim? Would it have taken the justice-be-damned attitude and permitted Dave Shepherd's word to be the law of the county in the case?

That, in many instances, has been the reaction of officials in those cases where in the victim had time before his last breath to ask that the slayer not be prosecuted. If the victim wasn't offended, this reasoning obviously, almost palpably, has been—well, who is offended?

But the fact remains that a man was shot or killed, that the law was violated, that the forces of orderly government have been challenged. And the law is of greater importance to the whole than the wishes of any individual.

The case cited here is mentioned merely as an illustration of the law bowing supinely to the wishes of one or a few individuals. There have been many such cases over the years; there have been many cases in which prosecution of slayers has been stopped after it had reached the courts, upon the request of the relatives of the victim.

What THE TIMES would ask is, Why should Floyd county's authorities hang their duties on the lips of a wounded or dying man or on the wishes of relatives forgetful of their duty to the county as well as to the departed?

OUR HOPE IS OUR ABILITY TO LEARN

If there is one thing on which all thoughtful people agree, it is this: the kind of world Hitler is trying to impose will never be beaten by an effort to return to the old ways, the old order. The one thing the anti-Hitler forces have to offer which Hitler cannot offer, is hope.

There is no hope in a return to a brutal sub-medievalism, a "civilization" in which de-personalized millions are made into animated work units under a Nazi overlordship.

The hope that lies in a return to the old ways, however, is not good enough, not strong enough, to fight this thing. It takes a hope in a better world to come, a world better than we have known, to rally men to defeat the Nazi menace.

We who have known freedom, who have been born in freedom, knowing only freedom all our lives, are secure in our conviction that only under freedom can those new goals be achieved. There is not yet a plausible blue-print of just how they may be achieved, nor even of exactly what they are. But given freedom, we know the course is forward.

Every free man and woman bears his or her share in dreaming this dream, holding fast to faith in it, achieving it in action. There are hopeful

SHIKE'S POKES

(Views expressed in this column are those of the writer and not necessarily those of The Times)

We feel sure that everyone in this section believes in "free speech" and I would scrap to see that it is upheld. However, we are of the opinion that such "dumb klucks" as Lindbergh and Senator Wheeler are not using free speech to build up this great country of ours, but to make a legal loophole to tear it down.

Senator Pepper sez sink two Nazi ships for every American ship. I say, sink every damn Nazi ship caught in the North Atlantic waters—and, every time one is sighted, "blow it out of the water. We'll all argue about it. A few years from now, The Commander-in-chief, F.D.R., has given the "shoot on sight" order—so what are we waiting for?

Those Congressmen who are against repeal of the Neutrality Law—they must be members of the Bund or Nazi Bund sympathizers. I am sure that our Congressman, A. J. May, chairman of the Military Affairs committee, knows that we are fully behind the job he is doing. We're leaving politics out of it. There's a job to be done and we signs that a new spirit is being born. Out of the dreary years of depression, out of the whirlwind of World War II, it is coming.

A sense of social responsibility is the key. Scientists who formerly labored without a thought of what was to be the use of their inventions and developments are beginning to ask those questions. Professional men are beginning to realize that they do not live in a vacuum sealed away from the world, but that they are a functioning part of it. Organized labor, nearing triumphs of power, is only now beginning to see that its power of itself is nothing, that unless it is fitted into a social scheme offering a chance for all, it defeats itself. Business men will never again be the utterly self-centered operators of the early twenties, for they have seen with discerning clarity that there is no welfare for business separate from the welfare of working and middle-class people. New relationships between government as representing the common welfare of all, and business, regional, industrial and labor groups representing the welfare of fractions, are in the making, not clearly understood as yet, but gropingly forming.

Were we incapable of learning, of adjusting ourselves to the new, of creating institutions as need for them arises, all would be hopeless. But we are learning, and in that lies our hope.—Ashland Daily Independent.

THERE'S NO TIME TO INDULGE MR. LEWIS

IT IS the misfortune of the country but even more it is the misfortune of the United Mine Workers that they have as their leader at this time a man out of sympathy with the foreign policy of the United States and therefore out of sympathy with the world resistance to Fascism, which is the arch-enemy of labor unionism and the rights of the workingman.

John L. Lewis believes that the American part in that resistance should go no farther than our seaboard. He holds that the Axis is not now, and will never be, "in a position to threaten the independence of any part of this hemisphere if our defenses are properly prepared." He thinks that the Administration has gone far beyond what is necessary for proper preparation.

These were his sentiments as expressed in a joint statement he signed last summer with Alfred M. Landon, Herbert Hoover and other isolationist Republicans. Believing this, Mr. Lewis can perhaps with a clear conscience stop work in the captive mines, that is, steel company-owned mines, which provide the fuel for the production of the greater part of the country's vitally needed steel. Holding his views, Mr. Lewis can refuse to see that he has struck a blow for Hitler and against the hope for a world in which justice for the worker might prevail.

The issue of a closed shop in the captive mines right now, granted without further negotiation or thought of compromise, transcends everything else in Mr. Lewis' scheme, and his co-signers of last summer—Mr. Hoover, Mr. Landon and the others—are in no position to disagree with him. If the nation's peril is as distant as they have been saying, then there is time to indulge Mr. Lewis' dictatorial proclivities, his prejudices against the Administration and Sidney Hillman and his disposition to defy the President.

But as a matter of fact there is no time for all this, and there is no excuse for it. The Defense Mediation Board has not been indifferent to the interests of Mr. Lewis' union. It has, in fact, been repeatedly accused of coddling that union. The board's panel which has been considering the dispute over the captive mines contract proposed entirely reasonable methods for the settlement of the controversy, the President's requests to Mr. Lewis have been fair and Mr. Roosevelt cannot, of course, permit the defense effort to be challenged or long interrupted by the union leader's determined opposition to it.

Mr. Lewis has created an interlude, an interlude which gives Hitler an advantage for the moment but which the people of the United States will not endure patiently. There have been many signs of a rising opposition in the United States to the organized labor movement. Thus, to see the mine workers following a leader whose self-willed course can only fan the flames of that opposition at home and give cheer to labor's foes abroad becomes doubly sad and doubly ironic.—The Courier-Journal.

Americans can and will do it. Vance seems to be having trouble with his "weasel farm." One of the "weasels" bit him and he almost had blood poisoning.

Henry S. has the patch off his eye now—and we need that "blind bridle."

We saw the "Chub's" Pontiac last week-end. We don't know what it had been into—but it looked like the "Vine-covered Shack."

Somebody suggested naming the Left Beaver road, "The Shikepoke Trail." But I object. I may be long and lean, but I am not that rough and knotty.

While on the subject, just why cannot the Left Beaver road be black-topped? The Highway Department has a large surplus and a revised estimate issued last week raised the surplus a lot more. "Happy" promised us the road. He failed us—and right now he couldn't get a jury up here. What about Gov. Johnson? Will he make the same mistake that Happy did? The Highway Department should remember that in the recent primary—with state support—the administration candidate for Representative ran third. Mr. Donaldson, if you ever intend to be a candidate for a state-wide office—you'll have to start housecleaning in Floyd county—to carry it. And, just to be sure about it, here's hoping you run for the Senate. We people up here in Eastern Kentucky are tired of just having one Senator.

Kentucky, 18; West Virginia, 6. I seem to recall reading an article, a few days ago, in which Governor Neeley, of West Virginia, demanded that the West Virginia football team win some games. I am a great admirer of Governor Neeley. But it seems that, if West Virginia University is to have a long winning streak, it'll have to leave Kentucky off its schedule.

Kiwanis To Join In Election Fight For Amendment
 The Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club will take an active part in the election, it was announced here this week by its president, C. H. Smith. Its "political" activities, however, will be in what is considered a non-political cause—Constitutional Amendment No. 1.
 Addressing the Kiwanis Club at its meeting last week, County Superintendent Town Hall warned against indifference of voters on this question.

 Mesdames Minnie Cox and Elizabeth Booker and Miss Irene Owens, of Lexington, were guests of Miss Day last week.

DRIFT WOMAN IS VICTIM

OF ACCIDENTAL SHOT AT HER HOME SATURDAY

Mrs. Isabel Burchwell, 52-year-old mother of 15, was instantly killed at her home at Drift late Saturday afternoon when a shotgun was accidentally discharged as her husband, John E. Burchwell, handed the weapon to her.

Full charge of the gun struck Mrs. Burchwell near the right eye. Her husband had been shooting at rats, and was handing the gun to Mrs. Burchwell to store it inside the house when the tragedy occurred.

The victim was a native of Morgan county but had resided in Floyd for several years. Besides her husband, she leaves the following children:

Con Burchwell, Fed; Mrs. Millard Blanton, Drift; Abra Burchwell, Cincinnati, O.; Mrs. Winford Sluss, Cranston, Ky.; Mrs. Ova Sparks, Dingus, Ky.; Pvt. Ray Burchwell, Ft. Bragg, N. C.; Victor Burchwell, of Melvin; Mrs. Ward Tackett, Otis, Stella, Plura, Thelma, Dorothy, Dillard and Willard Burchwell, all of Drift.

The funeral was conducted Sunday from the United Baptist Church at Fed, the Rev. Sam Rice officiating. Burial was made in the family cemetery under the direction of the Ryan Funeral Home.

Garrett High School Graduate Dies Friday

Miss Gwendolyn Martin, 21-year-old daughter of Leck and Katie Martin, of Garrett, died Friday morning, after a protracted illness. She had spent 18 months in the West, seeking to recover her health. Although her death had been expected for days, her passing was the occasion of deep sorrow.

Miss Martin was graduated from Garrett high school three years ago. She was a member of the Methodist Church and was deeply interested in church and school work.

She leaves, besides her father and mother, one brother, Hite Martin, Garrett, and three sisters: Mrs. Lida Kilburn, Garrett; Mrs. Stella Cur-nutte, of Martin; Miss Mary Nevelle Martin, Garrett.

The funeral was conducted Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the church, the Rev. J. B. Hahn, of the Methodist Church, and the Rev. G. B. Allen, of the Church of God, officiating. Burial was made in the Martin cemetery under the direction of the Arnold Funeral Home.

BIRTH ANNIVERSARY
 Roy Lyn Bingham celebrated his fifth birthday Saturday at the home of his mother, Mrs. Hazel Bingham, of Lancer, entertaining more than 30 of his little friends.

MY FRIEND
 George Crum's body has forever gone. It didn't stay with us so very long; Death with silence deep and somber came— We are glad it left us his good name.

Above the skies his spirit winged its way, We fondly cherish, to a more brilliant day; Still his many friends are left to mourn; Glad hearts will meet on some happy morn.

He was a loving father, kind and true, A faithful husband we all so well knew; As a good neighbor he was always ready to aid, Without any reward his help was kindly laid.

His daily friendly smiles did never fade, Such his love and kindness was ever made; Ever faithful and true to his many friends— Nay, none had a cause for any reproaches.

Always ready to speak against wrong and evil, He always stood for right, good, the civil; His body has been taken to its resting place, But none can bury his noble life of grace.

His kind and friendly deeds are in our hearts, They were many traits, his living parts; To those he loved, he left a good reputation, Such a life he lived for their admiration.

New Yorkers Are Talking About:

Babe Ruth's price ($25,000) for his services in the Gehrig film, which Goldwyn screams is too much. He will probably pay it, though, as Ruth is a "must" in any biography of Gehrig. . . . Jimmy Walker, the former Mayor, who is being considered as the head of a new racetrack to be built in N. Y. The backers being very wealthy French refugees, wondering where to invest their coin. . . . MGM's planned film version of the town's big hit, "Best Foot Forward" . . . For Mickey and Judy. . . . The Nice-Work Dept.: One of Life's editors who was ordered to spend at least two weeks with Ginger Rogers—for a profile piece. . . . The way ex-Warden Lawes has added twenty pounds since "getting out" of Sing Sing Prison.

The way the British radio pounds away at Italy's slipping morale with eight daily broadcasts urging the country to unlash itself from Berlin. . . . Rome's reply probably is: "Why speak to us? Take it up with the Warden!" . . . The several society lads, on the verge of being drafted, who flew to California, shifting residences there at the same time. So that when their numbers come up they'll go to a camp in sunny Cal. . . . Dumb, huh? . . . The new bootlegging racket in England, where more bootlegging goes on in the clothing field than in food. And in men's attire!

The book, "I Paid Hitler," by Fritz Thyssen, the industrialist who first helped the Nazis in Germany. . . . Jimmy Wong Howe, the Chinese cameraman, and Rabbi Edgar Mag-nin, who made speeches for a short time to raise funds for Irish Relief. . . . The depressing news about Hendrik Willem Van Loon, whose docs have ordered him to stop all activity for the next six months. . . . The Rev. Jardine, who came to the aid of Wally and the Duke. His letters are now ignored.

The way some of the pro-Nazi over here outsarted themselves. The coin they saved on postage by having their hymns of hate franked through the mails doesn't begin to cover the costs of lawyers and bail. . . . Jimmy Dorsey's check for $40,000 from Decca, as his royalties for the first half of 1941. In short, he hit the jukebox.

Notes of an Innocent Bystander:

The Story Tellers: Clifton Fadiman will have you know that he's a book-reviewer, not a literary critic. He points out the big difference in "The Reviewing Business," in Harper's. "Literary criticism is an art," he says, "like the writing of tragedies or the making of love and, similarly, does not pay. Book reviewing is a device for earning a living" . . . Charles Poore also takes a box-office slant at the prose racket in The Times mag, in his definition of the Pulitzer Prize. The value of the prize, he says, is "a thousand dollars in cash to those who accept it and ten thousand dollars in publicity for those who refuse it".

The Front Pages: An editorial in the Herald Tribune epigrams the spot the Bolo armies have put the Huns in. "The Russians," the daily points out, "have only to survive somehow in order to win; Hitler has to win in order to survive" . . . You can spot the Fascists' weariness for the war in their weakening propaganda bragging. Recently they claimed only to have damaged the British plane carrier, Ark Royal. In all previous naval scraps, both the Heines and the Fascists have begun with the sinking of that vessel.

Broadway Is Like This:

Broadway is where after you've reached the top—at least a dozen acquaintances claim having played a big part in it. . . . But when you fall—everybody blames you. . . . And you blame the "breaks" instead of looking for a job where your talent will be respected—such as waiting on tables or being president of a bank. . . . No matter how nice you are there will always be others who will knock you—from sheer force of habit. . . . A fellow who is considered more important than Roosevelt or Willkie is one who can pick at least one winner out of seven races. . . . If you don't talk about yourself—then you run the risk of being bored stiff listening to others gab about themselves. . . . The Broadway lights have done more to make the street famous than any of the famed folk on it.

Broadway is still the zippiest street of them all. . . . Remember when some people wrote articles alleging it was dead a few years back? . . . Many visitors come to The Big Town to see the shows when the best show is New York itself. . . . The Bowery, where many people are starving, is full of restaurants. . . . The best way to disillusion your daughter who is stage-struck is to point out the chorus girls staggering into subway kiosks. . . . No playboys or sables—just yawns and smelly subway stations, sister.

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

By GORDON WILSON, Ph.D.
 Western Kentucky Teachers' College Bowling Green, Ky.

NOTHING NEW UNDER THE SUN

ONE of the janitors of our school, with whom I exchange all the funny stories I hear, told me an old, old yarn a few days ago and then remarked, "Who makes up such things? I have heard thousands of yarns but never knew anybody who had made one." Then we discussed various kinds of age-old stories, and I told him how I had read in medieval Latin, German and French many of the very funny things that appear almost daily on comic radio programs. Like him I wonder who made them up. Of course, there are always local touches added by each spinner of the yarn, but the motif goes away back into the early history of the race. A six-volume work on folk tale motifs which I recently reviewed lists thousands of incidents that appear in stories told all over the world. Cinderella, Little Red Riding Hood, the successful younger brother, the wicked step-mother, the faithful pet—all are citizens of the world. And the nameless heroes or villains of the short jokes are just as much a part of human knowledge, whether people are savages or civilized beings.

All teachers are credited with loving to tell jokes. It is an accusation that I shall not attempt to deny. Some years ago it occurred to me that I could get the best laughs by telling only the jokes that were old when I could first remember. To my students, twenty to thirty years younger, these old gags seem bright and fresh, or, at least, they laugh. The only difficulty I have in telling such old stories is that I have to use a step-down transformer on many of them, since I could hardly "Gift them to others as they were gun to me," as Uncle Remus says. I am convinced that probably the old story is always the best, chiefly because it has long been in human consciousness. These old-timers are folklore at its most primitive. A number of my friends have spent their graduate research time on folktales, with astonishing results. One comes to feel somehow, after long association with these elemental yarns that they probably represent the earliest stratum of our cultural ideas next to our fears and superstitions.

A very big percentage of the yarns at the store were and are from this unwritten but traditional stock. Some of the tales have been told so many times at the expense of some local person that probably everybody believes them as authentic history. I have often had to force myself to laugh heartily at some local story told with all the trappings of history, when I had the same story told me equally plausibly in ten or fifteen other places. The characteristic of folk yarns that makes them most fascinating is their adaptability; in this way they take on local flavor and may be as variable as Joseph's coat of many colors.

I would like to ask, as did my janitor friend, where these yarns started. If we are as intelligent as we think ourselves to be, why do we not make up brand-new yarns, as distinctive as these old ones we have inherited? Is yarn-spinning or motif-making like word-creation, another art that is almost lost? With thousands of new things to say, fall back on the basic words of the language, created when our ancestors were the most primitive savages. When I camp under a cliff or beside a spring or near a cave and exchange with my partner some choice folk tales, I wonder whether the unknown people who have lived in these same regions and whose flint workings I find everywhere did not entertain each other at their camp with some of the same yarns that we are spinning, colored only slightly by the time and the sophistication of the yarn-spinner.

THE TEACHING BAROMETER

By R. D. JUDD, Ph.D.
 Head, Department of Education,
 Morehead State Teachers' College

IT was just after I had lectured for an hour to one of my classes in education that I had stepped over to the cafeteria for a cup of coffee. On the way over I was telling myself that I had failed largely to "put across" the idea which I had tried to develop. As I sat there alone I began to turn the issues over in my mind. This is what we call in educational parlance, "introspection." It is a good experience for one to have a self-examination once in a while so as to check-up on the real cause of events. No teacher can lay all of the blame for his failures at the feet of the students. David Perkins Page is attributed with saying, "As the schoolmaster, so is the school." When a teacher reflects upon this statement, it is calculated to make him shift his point of attack if he is not getting results in his work.

While I sat there alone, ruminating upon my performance in classroom, one of the students of this same class came up to the desk and said, "May I sit down?" She opened the conversation by telling me how much she enjoyed the lecture of the last hour. This came a complete surprise to me, and had the effect of a refreshing shower under a hot and dry summer day. Since then I have been thinking about what we as teachers need to do is to get a different perspective on our teaching. Perhaps we need to approach the teaching problem attempting to gauge what the student has learned, rather than be baffled at his apparent colossal ignorance about some of our pet theories. In other words, our barometer has been scaled to read the ignorance of the student rather than what he has actually learned during that particular performance. If we begin to look at our teaching after this manner then we are beginning to measure our teaching in terms of post-accomplishments rather than in terms of what the student doesn't know which, in all cases, outweighs what he does know.

Appellate Court Rules Knott Men Entitled to Jobs

The Court of Appeals this week ordered that the Knott county board of education employ a bus driver and two teachers whose legal actions against the board had been appealed from the Knott circuit court. At the same time, however, the appellate court directed that any damages awarded the driver and teachers in the Knott circuit court for loss of work should be merely nominal.

It said the bus driver, George Risner, had not been shown to have suffered from loss of employment and that the teachers, Bartram Draughn and Harry Stone, had declined other similar positions.

The three said their names were on a list of employe recommendations submitted to the board by the county superintendent in May. The high court reiterated a previous view that school boards must accept employe recommendations made by superintendents unless they refuse certain ones for cause.

Teacher Conference
in Floyd
ends Friday

Eighth and last of the teacher conferences conducted in rural schools of the county in which rural teachers saw the teaching art demonstrated by college instructors was held Friday, last week.

All except two rural teachers, who were ill, attended at least one of the conferences at which the college instructors taught classes for half a day. The teaching demonstrations were then followed by discussions of the work.

"It was the best type of program we have ever had," said Palmer L. Hall, rural school supervisor. He added that the teachers not only saw modern methods in actual practice but that, as a result of the conferences, the college representatives gained valuable knowledge of the training needed by teachers. Conducting the eight conferences were Miss Mary Hansen and Laura Katherine Evans, of Eastern State Teachers' College; Miss Edna Neal, Morehead Teachers' College; Mrs. Laella M. Ater, Caney Junior College; Miss Elizabeth North, Miss Harmon and Miss Wade, of Pikeville College.

FISH AND GAME NEWS

By E. R. BURKE
District Conservation Officer

There has not been a great deal going on since our annual fish fry and wildlife display at the County Fair, except the conversation everywhere about the shooting of the Topperweins. This was the greatest act every staged for the sportsmen of Eastern Kentucky. One of the superintendents of a Floyd county mine was asked if he saw the shoot, and his reply was that he regretted that he had not, for he had heard nothing else since. Another old gentleman said that, if any one had told him that any one could shoot like that, he would not have believed him, and it was the first time that he had ever attended a performance of this kind that was advertised FREE without someone begging for money for something, but that he had enjoyed the Game Club's program and had not spent a cent.

Paul Jarrell, J. E. Burchett, Winkie Burke and I motored over to Harlan Sunday to see the Topperweins' last shooting exhibition this year. This famous couple had been on tour since the first of April. Mrs. Topperwein joined our party about noon and Dr. D. T. McQuoid, superintendent of the CCC camp, invited us to eat dinner at their mess hall with them. We accepted, and the five of us were greeted by Sgt. Bill Lee, in charge of the mess hall, and were taken through their fine kitchen and food storage rooms. After being escorted to the officers' dining room, we were served a wonderful meal. After dinner, we went over to view the shooting by the Topperweins, and I want to say that they were at their best. "Ad" said, to prove that they really do take aim at their targets, he would pitch a loaded .32 cartridge into the air and shoot the lead ball off the end of it with a high-powered rifle. This he did and gave this cartridge to the writer, and I have it in my pocket for any one to see. The Topperweins live in San Antonio, Texas, and in their local paper (The San Antonio Light) was an article on their tour of Kentucky. In it was the following:

"Shooting in the beautiful, little town of Prestonsburg, Ky., was witnessed by a crowd estimated at over four thousand people."

After the Harlan exhibition they packed for home and in saying, "Good-bye," this grand, old couple said they loved Kentucky and that they wanted to come back to Floyd county and shoot for us at our 1942 annual fish fry. It has been one of my greatest pleasures in meeting the Topperweins. They are indeed wonderful people, our kind of people, and I hope we can have them back with us next year. What do you say, Floyd county sportsmen? Let's write now to the Winchester Repeating Arms Company and ask for the Topperweins back for our fish fry next year.

BIG SANDY LEAGUE
TEAM HUMBLER
"FASTER" LOOP

Drift came back Sunday in its last game of the season to even the score with Lynch of the Eastern Kentucky league, giving the Big Sandy league representatives a 2-1 margin in post-season competition with teams from the allegedly "faster" loop.

Buck Stumbo hurled superlative ball, holding the visitors to six hits and clearly outpitching Burpo, the Cincinnati Reds' hopeful. Two home runs netted Lynch its only runs. All runs scored by Lynch during the two-game series resulted from homers, a third-inning four-baser in the first tilt defeating Drift's veteran Kit Stumbo, 1-0.

Burpo meanwhile was pitching creditable ball in his second series start, allowing only seven singles, and with better support might have made the contest more interesting for the Floyd countians. Teddy Stumbo led the Drift team at bat. Calhoun was Lynch's big gun with two hits, one of which was for the circuit.

Floyd county's Red Cross quota this year is 3,075 members, it was announced this week by Miss Ella Noel White, executive secretary, Floyd County Chapter, as she and Miss Annette McClaran, Red Cross field representative, began a tour of the county to contact community workers.

Aside from all usual domestic services the organization may render, Chalmers H. The Junior Red Cross rollcall for schoolchildren will be held concurrently with the regular rollcall.

Begley
Arithmetic

Taylor Begley, in a recent handbill, says I reduced the assessed valuation of four gas companies a total of $249,000.00. He says the road taxes due the County, on this reduction alone, amounts to $74,700.00. It actually amounts to $498.00. He has made a mistake of exactly $74,202.00. He must have had Amos and Andy to do his calculating. You can figure it out for yourself, at a 20c rate per $100 valuation for road purposes. He has attempted to mislead the people.

I am wondering, by what means or method he arrived at such stupendous, outrageous figures. He must have had one of Roop's rapid calculators. If he cannot take plain, simple figures and do better than this, I wonder what he would do with the important financial affairs of Floyd County. I sure would not want him to figure costs against me, by this means of calculation.

To the people who can figure simple arithmetic, Mr. Begley has disgraced himself.

The people know it has been necessary, due to improper assessments, for me to give many exonerations. The law provided therefor, and without exception. I have inquired into the valuations involved, in order to be fair with each taxpayer. I have made at least fifty times more exonerations for the "little fellow" than for the gas companies. I refer you to the County Court Clerk's office, where every one of them will be found on record.

Taylor Begley should be ashamed for such wilful, careless misrepresentations to the taxpayers.

You do not want to elect a man to public office who is careless, or will mislead you. Beware of such candidates.

Yours for equal taxation, and for the wise and honest use of the taxpayers' money.

HOW MANY JOBS IN
KENTUCKY'S BEER INDUSTRY?

A.: More than 15,000 people hold jobs in this state's legal beer industry!

Q.: What does that amount to in dollars and cents?

A.: $10,000,000 every year.

Q.: What does this mean to Kentucky's workers?

A.: Steady jobs, good pay, food and clothing, comfort and security—for about 50,000 Kentuckians.

Q.: What is the beer industry doing to protect these benefits?

A.: This committee cooperates with law enforcement officials to keep retail beer outlets wholesome. We do not and will not tolerate law violations by a few undesirable beer retailers.

Q.: Is this program getting results?

A.: Here they are for the past two years:

- 23 retail licenses revoked
- 7 beer licenses suspended
- 2 places padlocked forever
- 2 license applications refused

This record of action resulted from our recommendations to law enforcement officers.

YOU CAN HELP by buying your beer in law-abiding, orderly places, and by boycotting beer dealers who break the law.

BEGLEY SMOKE SCREEN

My defeated opponent, Taylor Begley, in an effort to mislead and confuse the voters, has issued a handbill in which he says I have made a lot of exonerations of the taxes of persons, and of three gas companies.

This is true. I am not ashamed of having done so, but, on the other hand, I am proud of it, because I have acted honestly, in trying to give all the people EQUAL TAXATION.

Many of you know the taxes of many persons and of many companies has been raised without their knowledge or consent. In trying to give all assessments, it has therefore been necessary that I issue a lot of exonerations.

I invite Taylor Begley and all other citizens to come in and inspect the records. I honestly do not believe I have given a single exonerations, to which the party was not entitled. Why does Mr. Begley not give you the facts behind these exonerations? Because he only gives conclusions is ample proof that he is undertaking to mislead. He does not say in his handbills that these persons and companies were not entitled to these exonerations.

Do not be misled by last-minute handbills, put out after it is too late for me to give you the facts. The citizens of Floyd county know that I have been honest with their business and affairs, and I have nothing to conceal. Mr. Begley realizes his defeat, and is grasping at a straw. Inquire of Begley's qualifications.

Yours for Equal Justice to All,
EDW. P. HILL

Washington, D. C.
AN INSIDE STORY

Word trickling back to the diplomatic corps from Germany indicates that Hitler is beginning to realize that the United States means business, and that he made a tragic mistake in not accepting the advice of his more conservative diplomats who warned him of this in the first place.

In fact, the inside story, which now can be told, is one of the most tragic of the war. Possibly it had not been for overweening personal jealousies the war might even have been prevented.

What happened was that when Hans Dieckhoff, German ambassador to Washington, returned to Berlin in 1938, he brought back a strong report that the United States would enter the war eventually if Germany became the aggressor. He was ready to warn that Germany faced a repetition of 1917-18. But Foreign Minister Von Ribbentrop would not let him see Hitler.

Ribbentrop, probably the most ambitious man around der Fuehrer and a great friend of Himmler, wanted to be the funnel for all advice going to Hitler. Also he was feeding him his own kind of aggressive advice, not the cooling caution of Ambassador Dieckhoff.

In the same cautious school with the ambassador were Baron Von Neurath, recently ousted as governor of Czechoslovakia because of his moderate views; Hjalmar Schacht, governor of the Reichsbank, now in virtual retirement; and Capt. Fritz Wiedemann, Hitler's former commander and more recently consul general at San Francisco. Even Field Marshal Goering was much more moderate than Von Ribbentrop.

Czech Putsch Delayed.
It was Captain Wiedemann, who, around May, 1938, chiefly persuaded Hitler not to invade Czechoslovakia. He was then Hitler's military aide and attended a meeting of der Fuehrer's inner advisers at which general staff advised caution. Finally Hitler, exasperated, threw up his arms and ordered them all out of the room. But Wiedemann stayed behind, and finally persuaded his chief to delay the march into Czechoslovakia at least until the fall of 1938—which was done.

Later, it was Wiedemann and his moderates who persuaded Hitler to receive Chamberlain and Daladier at Munich. But by this time it was too late for Ambassador Dieckhoff to tell his story.

Ribbentrop never forgave Wiedemann for this. Also his vaunting ambition would permit no rival close to Hitler. So, shortly thereafter, he got Wiedemann transferred to a distant and relatively unimportant German consulate in the U.S.A. Later when Wiedemann was deported from this country, it is significant that Ribbentrop once again transferred him as far as possible from Berlin—this time to Tientsin, China.

The foreign minister of Germany wants no moderates around.

ANYTHING CAN HAPPEN

Don't be surprised if a U. S. warship disembarks a load of Nazi sailors and turns them over to the justice department to be tried on charges of "piracy."

It is even possible that in the "haul" may be an armed Nazi raider or two that had been operating down Brazil way.

Anything may happen these eventful days since the President enunciated U. S. determination to maintain freedom of the seas, and branded Nazi submarines and surface raiders in American waters as "pirates." Armed Nazi ships are prowling American waters and the U. S. navy has its orders.

It can be revealed that neither the justice nor war department would be surprised if they had some "pirate" seamen and "pirate" craft to deal with soon. Both have been quietly studying for a week the law and precedents concerning such an eventuality.

The war department enters the picture because under the law all war prisoners landed on U. S. soil come under custody of the army. However, the U. S. is not at war, so there is doubt over the army's jurisdiction.

No final decision has been reached, but the consensus of the legal experts is that any such "pirates" should be turned over to the justice department.

One suggested procedure is that the Nazis be landed at a U. S. port and then jailed by the justice department as aliens without passports. But most of the legal authorities contend that the Nazis should be dealt with squarely as buccaners.

Man Arrested On 20-Year-Old Murder Warrant

Jackson, Ky., Oct. 27—Shafter Dodson, 39, Sassafras, Knott county, is in Breathitt county jail on a 20-year-old murder warrant. Officers arrested him at his home.

Deputy Sheriff Rufus Hudson said the charge is in the shotgun murder of Kelly Manns, who was 42 at the time. He said Dodson was arrested in Breathitt county September 12, 1921, after Manns and Geo. Clemmons, 42, were killed by a shotgun as they prepared to go on a squirrel hunt with Dodson.

The deputy said Dodson was indicted separately in both deaths, and in March, 1922, was found guilty in the Clemmons death and was sentenced to life imprisonment. He was released seven years later, Hudson said, but never was tried on the warrant issued in connection with Manns' death.

To make up for losses of clover, etc., due to drouth, Clark county farmers seeded heavily of winter cover crops.

Bands of both schools will play at the half.

Mrs. Kathryn Frazier, director of the Prestonsburg band, announced this week that money enough to purchase an alto horn was earned at the county fair. The band also was given a trombone by Dr. M. J. Leet.

Denying that he had told her anything, Mr. Triplett wanted to know why the bopped moppet thought he had been telling tales out of school. Came the reply: "Mother said she was whipping me on general principles, so I figured you had something to do with it."

GIVE THE SCHOOL CHILD IN THE POOR MOUNTAIN COUNTY THE SAME CHANCE AS THE BLUE GRASS CHILD

Vote YES on Amendment No. 1

LET'S MAKE FLOYD COUNTY 100 PCT. "YES"

A FINAL MESSAGE TO ALL VOTERS FROM THE Democrats for DINGUS CLUB

Each week since Aug. 28 we have advertised in The Floyd County Times our reasons for asking you to vote against Dr. W. L. Stumbo and to give your vote FOR D. P. (PERK) DINGUS for Sheriff. We now repeat and again ask you to consider some of those reasons so that on Tuesday you—as a good citizen of this free democracy—may know you are right in voting against this power-lustful man.

THINK UPON THESE THINGS:

Including the bribed and stolen ballots, only 3,226 votes were counted for Dr. Stumbo and 6,193 good Democrats voted against him.

His public record for honesty and integrity did not receive as much as 35 per cent of the Democratic vote cast, and that same record dooms him to defeat in this general election.

His private and personal business is so pressing and profitable and enriching that he could not and would not personally fill the office. This charge has been repeated and no person has denied it, not even the candidate.

He seeks the office only for its POWER AND PROFIT to him.

To LABOR, we say that you workers who live here know better your candidates for county office than do some down-state or out-of-state employed speakers. You have mind enough to govern yourselves and we know you have the COURAGE to speak your mind through your votes! That is the AMERICAN WAY OF LIFE, for which America now prepares to fight. A real American says by his vote for each man, "UPON MY HONOR I DO BELIEVE AND THEREFORE CHOOSE THIS MAN TO BE A MORE USEFUL PUBLIC SERV-

VANT." Mr. Working Man, you know that Dr. Stumbo will not serve the public as Sheriff. You know that D. P. (PERK) DINGUS will serve in person. You know that neither Dingus nor his deputies will harass you with repeated arrests or threats because you refuse to authorize your company or employer to cut your pay-check and pay it over to him or his business. Not one cent of TRIBUTE will be demanded by Dingus. After Jan. 1, 1942 he will have but one business, and that will be to SERVE AS YOUR SHERIFF.

DINGUS never did and never will rob or steal from the money of the poor. DINGUS NEVER DID and never will conspire with others to so rob the poor. DINGUS HAS LIVED WITHIN THE LAW. He will enforce, not violate, the law.

Dr. Stumbo (and those begging for him) boast of charity to the poor. READ THIS: We have charged, and it is not denied because the records prove it, that FOR THAT CHARITY he now claims and has been allowed from the public money more than six hundred ($600.00) dollars for each and every one of the last seventy-five (75) months! Your money pays dearly for that CHARITY! Now he wants a RAISE.

Should we gamble the lives of the sick and suffering in his hospitals by burdening his hands with the consuming demands of this responsible office?

Should we gamble our own peace and safety, and that of our families, by electing to this important office one whose hands are far too busy now to forsake their toil for personal gain to protect us?

Should we gamble our tax money by having it sifted through the fingers of the—

GREEDY HAND

Voters, remember on election day that a corrupt and GREEDY HAND is reaching out to clutch its grasp again on the public money. This same GREEDY HAND also seeks to fasten its talons on the lives and safety and peace and order of the people of our county.

This is the SAME GREEDY HAND that has shown its corruption by cruelly damming and diverting the flow of relief money which was so wisely furnished and intended for the poor and needy by our great President in Washington. That great President has steadfastly resisted the strongest political efforts to get him to say—by granting a pardon—that this GREEDY HAND was wrongly or mistakenly shackled by the strong arm of the law of the United States. Our great President does not and would not now ask the citizens of our county to repose in this GREEDY HAND the public honor and trust of the responsible office it seeks.

It is NOT undemocratic to vote AGAINST this GREEDY HAND which, because of divided opposition and unlawful primary election day stealing and buying, so thwarted the majority will of the Democratic party and secured its nomination.

It IS democratic and 100 PER CENT AMERICAN to vote FOR a man who is personally and privately and publicly HONEST and HONORABLE. HONESTY is not a policy; it is a PRINCIPLE. In the name of honesty and freedom and in the name of all the principles of humanity and good government YOU ARE ASKED TO UNITE AND ELECT

D. P. (PERK) DINGUS SHERIFF

For your support, influence and contributions, we thank you. We have fought a victorious fight and the victory is not ours alone. It swells the bosoms of all FREE PEOPLE.
