These men have been assigned 20 counties each, and they will assist in perfecting the paper salvage in all communities now at work and to establish a paper salvage in those communities that have not undertaken this vital war enterprise. They have been instructed to bring together all forces in the community in an effort to stop the burning of every bit of paper and see that this paper is sold to a dealer. E. B. ## A President is Born

TE is so small and helpless. So dependent on you for his life and well-being. And yet you are able to look at him and say-

"Someday he may be President."

Put it down as foolish sentiment. Put it down as parental pride. But where else in the world could you envision for your child the possibility of his attaining, one day, the highest office in the land?

Maybe your child won't make it. But one child, very much like him, will. One child out of the three million babies born this year-or the next-or the year after.

Whether or not he attains this high position is not so important. What matters is that here, in America, he is born with that opportunity. He is born in the stubborn tradition of free men-men who felt that in government, the wisdom of the many is preferable to the ambition of the few. He is born in a tradition of selfreliance-where he may succeed or fail, win or lose, rise or fall, according to his own efforts.

Because of that, you will train him to think for himself, to fight his own battles, to make his own way.

You will teach him that responsibility is inseparable from freedom. And that if he joins with other men in an enterprise he should demand the same responsibility and freedom for his business that marks his birthright as an individual.

Someday he may hear, as you have heard, voices that say, "Surrender your opportunity for the certainty that you shall always have bread"-as if man lived by bread alone. As if the country were better served by limiting all to mediocrity -instead of assuring to all, under law, an equal chance to rise by their own efforts, conscious of their obligations to others.

What that son of yours learns at your knee will decide whether or not he will ever have to bend his knee before dictation and tyranny.

And because of what you teach him, he too may one day look with that same foolish pride on his own son to say, "Someday he may be President-"

Jack is head-over-heels! He has just met the one-the only -the most beautiful girl on earth. And when he isn't telling her so face-to-face, he's using the telephone to express his sentiments at length.

Yes, Jack, love's a grand feeling! Yet if you're using a party line, none of your telephone neighbors can talk while you are courting. A tied-up line also helps cause congestion in the central office. It puts an added burden on equipment through which war calls must pass. This equipment can't be expanded to handle all demands, for telephone material is going to battle instead.

So please, Jack, help keep the lines clear-for your party line neighbors, the folks of your community, and the people that can't wait. Go to see the lady, and avoid telephoning her. If you do call, please be brief; she'll understand when you tell her why.
