Vases of yellow roses with bows

of yellow satin ribbon, bearing greetings from their many friends throughout the state, were artistically arranged in the reception rooms, hallways and dining room. Candelabrae holding yellow candles gave a cheerful glow of warmth and beauty to each room. Mrs. C. L. Hutsinpiller, niece of Mr. Davidson, escorted the guests to the dining room for refreshments consisting of delicious punch, individual yellow iced cakes with tiny rosebuds, nuts and yellow mints of many designs symbolic of golden weddings. The table covering of imported Italian gold satin damask, with heavy fringe touching the floor from all corners, made a perfect setting for the low gold china candelabrae holding tall white tapers on the table, the centerpiece being a tall gold cornucopia vase holding a bouquet of yellow roses and ferns. Large crystal plates held the mints and individual cakes, and nuts were served from a low gold dish, a gift to Mr. and Mrs. Davidson.

Presiding at the punch bowl was Mrs. Mark G. Nicholls, Webster Springs, W. Va., niece of Mr. Davidson. The golden decorations in the dining room were artistically arranged. Three seven-tier candelabrae bearing yellow candles were used on the sideboard while duocrystal candlesticks holding yellow candles were placed on the mantle. THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Guess we're pretty lucky in our town. Judge, that we don't have the youth problem you read about in other places." "Don't know as you can call it lucky.

Harold...we saw it coming with the war and we did something about it before it hit us. We gave our 'teen age youngsters the recreational facilities they needed and really wanted. Those familiar with this wartime problem know that young folks go to places they shouldn't only when the proper places are not provided for them. Young people always want to be with others of their own age... want their own type of entertainment. Town after town has found out that once these simple wants are met, the problem is well on its way to being licked.

"Guess I didn't really know how larsighted our town really is, Judge. If we hadn't looked ahead we wouldn't have had anybody or anything to blame but ourselves. would we?"

Rocking Chair Churn

Thirty years ago, a citizen of Maine patented this ingenious device for churning butter. Mounted on a platform at the side of a rocking chair to which it is attached, the churn is revolved by a ratchet device while Grandma rocks and does her knitting.

and Tomorrow N a "Yesterday" thirty years ago, the patent illustrated was intended to save time on the farm. The flip of a switch today puts an electric churn to work and makes 20 pounds of butter at a cost of less than a penny, at our low rates.

In the years B.E. (Before Electricity), most inventions were designed to save labor for men and women. Today. because of American inventive genius, little electric motors do much of the work in farm and home for a few cents a day. They are helping to produce the food that will help bring Victory.

When the war is over, look forward to devices for elimination of labor by electricity.
