

This Town--
That World

You know, I miss a lot of human interest stories through my habit of skimming through newspapers. This week I was told of a months-old girl of the appearance in New York of Frank Sinatra, of the bobby-oxers' hysterical greeting of him. While the teen-agers were shrieking and clamoring for a glance of their "hero," a war veteran was found standing nearby, looking on, stifling his sobs. You write your own story from there.

One-word description of a pretty girl: Petty-ish. (Who was it said, they're full of vim, vigor and Varga?)

The Republicans are predicting they'll win easily in Louisville.

A BIG MAN AND A GREAT SOLDIER
General Wainwright surely is one of the truly big men of the world. His story of punishment and starvation at the hands of the Japs is one that stirs the reader to hot anger. But the General greatly admires against such treatment for the Japs.

TRANSITION
The hills, these days, are bravely flaunting their last beautiful colors of the year before lying bare and uninviting through the winter. Just long enough to sharpen our appreciation of all the beauty in which they'll be clothed next spring.

SOME MAY--SOME WILL NOT
"FLOYD COUNTY RETURNS TO PEACE" is the headline we have, after much brooding, conjured up to announce the list of discharges in contradistinction to the headline we have been using for many months to tell the story of those at war which read, "FLOYD COUNTY GOES TO WAR." Some of the boys now back home may like the fine points in our play on words, but I know enough of disappointment to realize those boys overseas, awaiting any sort of conveyance home other than ox-wagon, will not care a thing about such stuff.

CATS' FUR S DAMPENED
During Rainstorm While Batling Pike Panthers
Playing in a downpour of rain, and before a crowd that melted as the game progressed into the darkness of convenient shelters, Prestonsburg struggled in the mud of Pikeville's football field last Friday night to hold the strong Pikeville Panthers to a 25-0 victory.

Blair scored twice in the first half for Pikeville and Caldwell one time in the second half. Prestonsburg's offense stiffened and only Blair was able to tote the ball across. The extra point was added for this last touchdown.

The Prestonsburg line-up: Hill, r.e.; D. Crain, r.t.; Conley, l.g.; Hall, c.; C. Crain, l.g.; Stumbo, l.t.; Moore, l.e.; Tackett, q.b.; Porter and Hyden, halfbacks; Bradley, f.b. Substitutes: Weddington, Harmon, Branham.

An all-day Thanksgiving Fellowship meeting will be held at the Assembly of God Church, West Prestonsburg, Nov. 22, the pastor, the Rev. G. R. Fannin, announces. One of several speakers will be the Rev. Theodore E. Gannon, Lexington, district superintendent.

TOWN'S GAS, WATER FIRMS SHOW PROFIT

Municipally-Owned Utilities Build Up Cash and Reserves

Prestonsburg's venture in public ownership of two utilities serving citizens of the town is working out quite profitably, an audit recently completed by Elder Goble, Prestonsburg, indicates.

The Prestonsburg Gas Company, the audit shows, began operation July 1, 1943 with $573.08 cash on hand, and between that date and Sept. 30, this year, had set up a bond and interest account of $8,866.76, purchased $2,500 worth of U.S. bonds as a reserve and had in the bank Sept. 30, $5,146.02.

The gas company's twin, the Prestonsburg Water System, meanwhile, had increased its cash on hand surplus from a bare $118.01 on March 1, 1943 to $2,560 on Sept. 30, this year, had applied on its bond and interest account a total of $18,660.35, purchased $2,500 in government bonds as a reserve, set up a reserve for contingencies amounting to $603.31 and a depreciation fund for water line improvements and extensions totaling $2,249.90.

Water commissioners said this week inspection of the audit in detail may be had upon request from any citizen. At the same time they directed publication only of a recapitulation of the two companies' affairs.

By submitting the audit to Mayor E. P. Arnold and the commissioners for the two municipal utilities, Goble noted that the water system now has 625 customers with "a favorable outlook for an increase during the post-war period." The water line from the corner of Third avenue and Graham street to Highland avenue needs to be replaced, he added.

The gas company Goble noted a substantial increase in the number of consumers--707 as of Sept. 30--and the fact that the firm is in sound condition.

An invalid for 25 years, Mrs. Pansy Roberts Worland, 55 years old, wife of J. R. Worland, died at her home on Friend street Sunday at 12:10 p.m.

Mrs. Worland was a native of Rockwood, Tenn., the daughter of the late Emanuel and Rachel Roberts, but she and her husband had resided in this county for the last seven years. She was a member of the Missionary Baptist Church for years and was respected by all who knew her.

Besides her husband, she is survived by three sons, Eddie Worland, Prestonsburg, Jack Worland, Dearborn, Mich., and Barney Worland, of the army in Germany. She also leaves two sisters and one brother: Mrs. Emma Scalf and Mrs. Ruby Buckland, both of Beckley, W. Va., and John Roberts, Greenfield, Massachusetts.

Funeral rites were conducted Wednesday afternoon from the Freewill Baptist Church here, the Revs. M. Robert Regan, Adrian Davis and W. B. Garriott officiating. Burial in the Banner May cemetery near Emma was under direction of the Arnold Funeral Home.

MEET PLANNED FOR TB FIGHT

County Association Formation Planned For Meeting Here

Dr. Marvin Ransdell, director of the Floyd County Health Department, announced Tuesday that a meeting will be held at the courthouse here Thursday morning, Nov. 15, at 10 a.m., for the organization of a tuberculosis association on a county-wide scale.

Dr. L. E. Smith, of the Kentucky Tuberculosis Association, will be the principal speaker and will conduct the group's formal organization. His talk will be accompanied by films depicting the ravages of tuberculosis.

In announcing plans for the organization to fight tuberculosis Dr. Ransdell said no accurate figures are available as to the number of sufferers in the county from the disease. "We know there are many, but often our first knowledge of the disease in a family is the report of a death. It is one of the major health problems facing us," he added.

ALLEN RACES ARE TIGHTEST CAUDILL DIES OF INJURIES

Victory Ticket Here Elects Full Council At Tuesday's Polling
Prestonsburg Man One of 2 Caught By Slatfall

Although Prestonsburg's city election possibly engendered the most heat, the voting at Allen for Police Judge and Board of Trustees resulted in the tightest races staged in the county Tuesday.

Here, the Victory ticket swept all three wards, rolling up better than three votes to the opposition's one. At Allen, Theop Salmons was re-elected Police Judge over James W. Laferty by a scant three votes. The old Board of Trustees then elected three of its candidates and two others of that ticket tied with one member of the opposition ticket.

Returns in municipal elections:
Ward 1: (Victory ticket)--Roe Layne, 376, Frank Layne, 365, Herbert Salisbury, 387, Clabe Bingham, 371; (Progressive ticket) Mrs. Cynthia Crabtree 54, Mrs. Flora Sizemore, 64.

Ward 2: (Victory ticket)--C. H. Smith 144, Willie Clark 147; (Progressive ticket) Dewey Conley 81. West Prestonsburg: (Victory ticket) --Burl Spurlock 97, Bill Fitzpatrick 91; (Bee Hive ticket) Goble Branham 50, Henry B. Wright 45. Mayor E. P. Arnold was unopposed for re-election.

Wayland
For Police Judge--Tom Kane 202, Leonard Parrigan 143, Clarence Turner 24.
For Board of Trustees: Open Book ticket--Albert Webb 216, J. C. Finney 210, Joe Terry 215, Wm. Hopper 217, J. C. Wells 208; Pick and Shovel ticket--Alvin Hines 135, Freddie Franklin 127, Raymond Meade 130, Anthony Hobbs 135, Robert Mosely 125.

Martin
For Police Judge--Kessie Akers, 146; Dennis Martin, 106. The Board of Trustees ticket composed of Jack Ryan, Demra Taylor, Ted Salisbury, James Skeans and Lawrence Keathley was unopposed.

Robert Moscrip was unopposed for Police Judge at Wheelwright, neither was there any opposition to K. B. Deal, H. M. Wilkinson, Sr., J. W. Bailey, Tom Layne and C. B. Hanger for Board of Trustees.

501 Hours Over 'Hump' Wins 1st Lt. Howard, Pilot, Coveted D.F.C.

Accumulating 501 hours of flying time as pilot of an unarmed air transport flying over the "Hump," the Himalayan air route which is considered the most hazardous in the world, 1st Lt. Walter D. Howard, son of Mrs. Walter F. van Landingham, Miami, Fla., formerly of Prestonsburg, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross on recommendation of his commanding officer, Lieutenant Colonel Frederick H. Foerster, Jr.

The DFC followed the Air Medal, which was awarded Lieut. Howard last May after he had flown 27 tactical missions totaling 156 hours over the same route which traverses Upper Assam, Burma and China.

Recommending the Distinguished Flying Cross, Lt. Col. Foerster commented: "While performing duties as pilot in unarmed transport on frequent and regular flights over the 'Hump' and the dangerous mountain terrain of China, often through extremely adverse weather conditions and over combat territory where enemy interceptors and attacks are probable and expected, 1st Lt. Howard has accumulated five hundred and one hours of flying time with outstanding efficiency and devotion to duty. In his complete willingness to fly at all times when and where directed through the adverse weather conditions which exist over the 'Hump' and along the difficult navigational routes of China, thorough schooling in the principles of aircraft operation, plus possession of excellent flying ability, has enabled Lt. Howard to maintain an exemplary record. Flying at night as well as by day, at high altitudes over impassable mountainous terrain, he has courageously faced the hazards of long and tiring periods of aircraft operation, mechanical difficulties, severe icing conditions and the extreme turbulence often encountered over the 'Hump'; all of which required courageous and superior performance of duty to overcome. The successful completion of these missions reflects great credit upon himself and the Army Air Forces of the United States."

ONLY 1 RACE IS BELIEVED IN BALANCES

Roberts-Conn Race In District No. 4 Considered Closest

Late today (Thursday), as THE TIMES went to press, the Floyd county vote tabulation was completed, revealing that only one Republican candidate in the entire county was elected. This successful candidate was John B. Porter, for Constable in Magisterial District No. 4 where the torrid campaign for Magistrate was waged between Dewey Roberts and Mollie Conn. Sheriff Sturgill's majority for re-election was above 2,500.

With 23 of the county's 54 voting precincts tabulated at the end of Wednesday's vote-counting, a sweeping Democratic victory was indicated, with only one race in doubt.

Every county office apparently had been easily won by the Democratic ticket.

Remaining to be tabulated today are all precincts in No. 4 Magisterial district and most of the vote in Magisterial district 3. A few precincts in Magisterial district No. 2 remained uncounted this morning.

Republican hopes of salvaging something from the election in this county were almost entirely pinned on Mollie Conn's chances of defeating Dewey Roberts for the District 4 Magistrate's post now held by Roberts. The result there, both parties agree, will be close.

In that district the only reported election irregularity occurred. Early election morning, poll officials in Toler precinct discovered that more than 200 of the ballots in the poll book had been voted for Conn, the Republican candidate for Magistrate. The ballots were re-printed, however, and voting was resumed around 1 p.m.

In the Sheriff's race which many political prognosticators had envisioned as a "hoss-race" clear down to the finish, Troy B. Sturgill, seeking re-election, had a lead of around 1,600 votes over his Republican opponent, Ed Salisbury. Other county-wide Democratic candidates had even larger leads over their opponents.

Election day broke clear and fair and passed without any serious disorder. Heaviest vote was polled in towns of the county where hot races were waged for Police Judge and Council posts. Tabulated returns of the election will appear in The Times next week.

WAKE UP—FLOYD COUNTY!

“WAKE UP, KENTUCKY”—a program dedicated by WHAS, Louisville, to helping Kentucky regain her true greatness—have you heard it?

WHAS, the radio station of The Courier-Journal and Louisville Times, recently inaugurated this feature to present a dramatic review of facts as reported by the Committee for Kentucky. Yes, we agree, it is entertaining and worthwhile, particularly to worthwhile Kentuckians.

But did you know that in Floyd county a movement of the same type—though, unhappily, with little financial support, was conceived here at home and started, though with less of the dramatic about it, weeks before the WHAS program was begun? The Floyd County Club is that idea conceived and now being perpetuated by a relatively few public-spirited citizens.

The skeptical among us have been wondering, What is this Floyd County Club and what is it for? Why not ask, what is behind this “Wake Up, Kentucky” program? Verily, a prophet is not without honor in his own country.

Not suspicious of every move or organization, THE TIMES has an idea that The Floyd County Club merely wants to help Floyd county—merely to live up to its name. Some suspect that it has its foundations in politics, that it is a build-up for a big push for Prohibition. Some express other fears.

Why such fears? If they are well-grounded, why are all Floyd county citizens invited to attend the club's meetings, to join and work with the club? There are no stated qualifications for membership, other than that you be a resident or a former resident of Floyd county and that you are interested in the county's advancement, educationally, morally and industrially.

THE TIMES would not give a line of space to any group it thought seeking by subterfuge to force an issue on the people of this county other than the indisputable truth that Floyd county is one of the finest sections of Kentucky, that its people are among the best of a great state and that they and their county should wake up, along with all Kentucky.

Further Particulars, Please!

OPPONENTS of locks and dams for the Big Sandy seek to sway public sentiment in their direction with the argument that canalization will increase the danger of flood if a nine-foot stage is maintained in the river.

Now, THE TIMES, which is an advocate of river improvement with little knowledge of engineering problems, would question the truth of such propaganda.

Correct us if we're wrong, but we've always understood that these dams could be opened and closed at will. For all our paucity of technical knowledge about engineering, we are reasonably certain there must be some way of permitting a boat to get through a lock to the stage below or above.

Then is it possible for a flash flood, such as described to terrify our good citizens, to be so flashy as to overrun the men who would be charged with the duty of opening the dams when necessary? The Big Sandy in Floyd county has never risen so fast as to be in “flash-flood.”

In this county we have our flash floods, but these affect the smaller streams. And we presume the same condition prevails in other counties. The headwaters of Right and Left Beaver Creeks in particular are sometimes hard hit, but the crisis has never arisen from these sources that could not be prepared for ere the waters flow a matter of twenty-three miles down into our Levisa Fork of the Big Sandy.

And, furthermore—would it not seem reasonable to believe that the army engineers who have approved canalization of the stream and who have had nationwide experience in flood control, would have considered such a dire exigency?

If we are wrong, we shall appreciate further particulars of the impending disaster.

Raymond Russell Layne
Poisoned Whiskey Victim

Williamson, W. Va., Nov. 7—A man identified from papers in his pockets as Raymond Russell Layne, 35, of Harmon, W. Va., died, police Chief H. H. Davis said today, after drinking whiskey into which a poison had been mixed.

Layne collapsed in the Williamson bus station, and became unconscious before police, who found a bottle of the poison in his pocket, could question him.

Davis said that money order receipts found in Layne's pockets showed he had sent sums of money to a Mrs. Ruth Layne of Pikeville, Kentucky.

The body was unclaimed at a Williamson mortuary tonight.

Once Before They Were Within 260 Miles of Japan And Now They're There

ABOARD THE USS BENHAM
Tokyo Bay (Delayed)—Two Floyd county Ky., navy men, veterans of 19 months on Pacific battlefronts, are among the thousands of sailors now sight-seeing in the devastated cities of Tokyo and Yokohama.

They are Fedy Prater, 26, seaman first class, and James K. Osborne, 20, seaman first class, of McDowell.

Both participated in the invasion of the Marianas, Palau, Philippines, Iwo Jima and Okinawa. Their ship operated with fast carrier task forces in the first Philippines strikes last September, the January sweep of the China Sea and the first raids on Tokyo in February.

During the December raids on Okinawa the Benham approached to within 260 miles of Japan while operating singly on a rescue mission. This was a new record for surface ships at that time.

Prater and Osborne wear the American theatre ribbon, the Asiatic-Pacific ribbon with seven stars, and the Philippine Liberation ribbon with two stars.

Osborne was employed by the Turner Coal Mining Co., Drift, Ky., before joining the navy July 30, 1943.

Prater, son of John H. Prater, of Hippo, was formerly employed by the Cleveland Electro-Metal Co., and plans to return to his former position when he leaves the navy. He enlisted Aug. 20, 1943.

Burchett Designated Personality of Week

The Cooke Clarion, service newspaper published at Camp Cooke, Ill., thus recently featured C. O. Burchett, former Prestonsburg man, as the "Personality of the Week". He's been working on the railroads since 1909, and Clyde O. Burchett is making use of those 36 years of experience in his position of Administrative Assistant in Rail transportation.

Clyde was born in Kentucky in 1892. At the age of 17 he was teaching all eight grades in a little country schoolhouse.

In 1909 he started to work for the railroads as a clerk. When World War I broke out, he served as chief Yeoman in the navy—a sailor who never got any further to sea than the yards in Norfolk, Virginia. For the navy made use of his prior experience by placing him at the head of the inbound carload section.

After three years service with the navy, he went back to the railroads, as yardmaster, and then to Texas to serve as traffic manager for oil companies. Mr. Burchett remained in the Lone Star state until Pearl Harbor.

At that time he took a Civil Service examination, and the Commission placed the "old sailor" to work for the army, at Ft. Mason.

Clyde has the distinctive honor of being a bona fide Kentucky Admiral—a degree awarded him by Governor A. B. "Happy" Chandler in 1930. He was appointed Admiral instead of Colonel of Green River, Ky., because of his navy background.

Mr. Burchett's primary job here is the receiving of army freight, via both railroads and trucks. He takes a daily yard check showing the location, contents, and company of every car in the post. Besides signing transportation requests and performing duties as administrative assistant, he is also unit fire marshal and safety inspector.

Clyde has three sons who followed in their father's footsteps by joining the navy. One, Clyde Owen Burchett (not a junior) is a veteran employed at Camp Cooke as a brakeman.

Mr. Burchett's newest activity is as Rail Transportation's representative to the Civilian Employees' Council. His hobbies are baseball and reading detective stories.

EX-SERVICE MEN'S NEWS

By CLAUDE S. SPROWLS, Exec. Secy. Disabled Ex-Servicemen's Board, 209 Walton Building, Lexington, Ky.

HOME STUDY COURSES UNDER THE G.I. BILL

A veteran may pursue correspondence courses provided the school offers resident courses which require regular attendance as well as correspondence courses, and is on the Veterans Administration list of approved schools.

A resident school is one which offers courses requiring regular attendance in the school by trainees. A resident school which also offers correspondence courses may be enrolled in by veterans whether or not the veteran attends the school for residence courses.

Subsistence allowance will be paid to a veteran incident to his pursuing a correspondence or home study course. The Veterans Administration will pay the cost of correspondence courses on the basis of the school's contractual agreement with the Veterans Administration.

A veteran may write to the correspondence school of his choice to obtain this information or to the Disabled Ex-Servicemen's Board in Lexington, Ky.

ON-THE-FARM TRAINING UNDER THE G.I. BILL

In meeting the needs of a very large number of veterans a well defined aim was shown for those desiring farm training. The general aim in this particular vocation is to rehabilitate World War II veterans in farming on such a scale as to establish them in the vocation of farming on a profitable and progressive basis.

In order to be properly rehabilitated into farming the veteran must develop his abilities and cause him to deal successfully with problems arising out of (1) Producing crops; (2) Producing livestock; (3) Conserving soil and other natural resources; (4) Establishing and maintaining a farm home and its surroundings; (5) Providing a farm and home with supplies and equipment; (6) Marketing farm activities for the common good.

Two plans of training have been devised and put into action at the present time. Under the first plan the veteran is in training on his employer's farm, where he does on-the-job training, plus a minimum of 200 hours of institutional training, which includes 48 hours of time the Vocational Agriculture teacher will use in visiting the veteran and farm-trainer for purpose of co-ordinating the institutional instruction and its application with training the veteran is receiving from the farmer and doing the various farm operations.

Under the second plan a veteran will be expected to take at least 1,326 hours of on-the-job training on his own or rented farm, plus 200 hours of institutional training in addition to 48 hours of institutional instruction which will be given by the Vocational Agriculture teacher on the instructional trips, made two per month. A veteran with limited or no farm background should start with on-the-job training as outlined under the first plan and when sufficient progress has been made, shift to the second plan, in which case training on a self-proprietorship basis should be realized.

The Veterans Administration allows $90 to be used for shop equipment; $60 the first year and $30 the second year; $10 per year is spent on shop supplies. Purchases of books in the amount of $20 is also provided. In addition to these amounts the veteran will receive the subsistence allowance provided by the G.I. Bill; $50 for a veteran without dependents and $75 for a veteran with dependents.

Application for this training under the G.I. Bill may be made through the Disabled Ex-Servicemen's Board.

"IS THAT IN THE RULE BOOK?"

Whether it's football or business, Americans expect fair play all down the line.

In football, the referee is there to see that the game is played according to the rules. But he's not supposed to run with the ball. In business, the referee is the government, which establishes regulations for fair practices.

But when government goes into business and competes with its own citizens, the American tradition of fair play is set aside. The referee then becomes a player, and he enjoys advantages that are denied to all the other players in the game.

Take government-owned electric power systems, for example. They pay little or no taxes. When they need money, they call on the U. S. Treasury and get it at little or no interest. If they have losses, why worry? You taxpayers take care of that.

Business-managed power systems, on the other hand, do not have these special privileges. They pay their full share of taxes, pay fair interest on any loans.

Fortunately for you and your tax bill, over 80% of all the electric power in this country is produced by tax-paying, self-supporting electric companies, owned and operated by several million folks like you.

And how well are these companies doing their job? Electricity is still available at low pre-war prices. There was enough to meet even the gigantic demands of war. And there will be plenty to give you greater comfort and convenience in the electric living of the post-war world.

Veteran Says Prayer Our Greatest Weapon
U.S.S. McClelland
October 11, 1945
Tokyo Bay
Yokosuka Harbor
Pilgrim Holiness Church
Prestonsburg, Ky.
Dear Friends:

Well, it has been upon my mind for quite some time that I should express some of the thanks that I owe all of you.

At present we are sitting here in Tokyo Bay. Yesterday we received something that our crew has longed for so long. We got our orders to go back home. I feel with all my heart that this is the happiest group of boys I have ever seen in all my life.

My reason for writing is to tell you something that happened. Quite a while ago I received from you a letter and inside I also found a white handkerchief. You asked me to keep it close or with me as much as possible. Well, I think it was just a short time after I, along with many other boys aboard with me, was forced to go into the most destructive and most horrible battle the Pacific has ever known—Okinawa. After we were attacked by Japanese planes the first day then I thought of that handkerchief. I got it and kept it with me for the other 70 days we were there. It seemed as if God was with us every day and night we were there. I don't think there was a single day passed by but what there were enemy planes over us, sticking and throwing torpedoes and trying to sink us any way they could. But we came through without a single guy getting killed on our ship. Although it wasn't anything surprising to see our men and our enemy floating around in the water. Yes, I saw plenty of that. I guess I was the only one on my ship that received a handkerchief from you but I feel that the one I had helped all of us. I still have it and I hope I can keep it forever.

Since I've been away from the U.S., I have won four battle stars and ribbons, but without the prayers you Christians said for us back there I know we couldn't have gone thru the greatest weapons of this war. Our guns didn't win it alone. Now we are sitting here waiting for the ending of this typhoon we're in right now. As soon as it is over we'll be starting for the U.S. I want all of you to know how happy I am to be able to come back home again in good health. I really appreciate all your prayers that you've said for us and I'm sure they're the reason we are coming back. I'll close for now hoping to be back in the States soon.

A happy veteran of the Pacific war,
WALLACE FRAZIER,

Miss Layne, Mr. Trimble Wed at Betsy Layne
Miss Gwendolyn P. Layne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Layne, and Gump's Mate Joseph C. Trimble, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Trimble, were married Friday evening, Nov. 2, at 7:45 o'clock.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Bruce B. Pinson, of Pikeville, who wore a white dress with black accessories and a shoulder bouquet of red roses. Mr. Jack Trimble, brother of the groom, served as best man.

The bride wore a white jersey dress, embroidered with gold stars, and she wore a bouquet of orchids at her waist-line.

Home—happiness—and a job! That's the peacetime hope of our men in uniform. To make it a reality, America must get down to peacetime business—and plenty of it.

For the Telephone Company, this means the largest expansion program in the history of the telephone in Kentucky.

It's a big order calling for the expenditure of millions of dollars to provide telephones for all who have been waiting for them. This is one of our first jobs! A greatly expanded telephone program for our farmer friends is also in process. Expansion of long distance service is being scheduled too. It will include the installation of coaxial cables to handle more calls with speed and convenience for you, and provide more facilities for that exciting visual art—television. A mass of construction is to be done and a new service to motor vehicles is also in the offing.

These expansion plans are being translated into reality as fast as materials become available. There will be work. And work means payrolls. And payrolls mean prosperity. The benefits reach everybody, the advantages make themselves felt in every home, in every family. For it's that friendly partnership between Kentucky and the 3,326 men and women of the Telephone Company, working together for the advancement of their state.

There's every reason for confidence. What Kentucky and the telephone people did in war, they can do in peace. There will be a marshalling of Men, Money and Materials, to build a more prosperous future for our state. J. M. McALISTER, Kentucky Manager
