Not Only Murder Is Shocking

THE murder of two Prestonsburg policemen was a crime that shocked the sensibilities of the community, a deed of violence revolting to every instinct of Perceable citizens.

But almost, if not quite, as shocking to his newspaper was something else connected with the apparently ruthless killing of two men who wore the uniform of law officers. This was created by the veiled hints that some citizens were glad the two had thus met their deaths.

Another disturbing factor throughout Floyd county is the readiness of men and women who are considered good citizens to believe the worst always of officers of the law. Not unlike the too-doting mother who rises to arms upon hearing one of these highly-colored teacher-whip-baby stories, they discourage law-enforcement by siding with those opposing the forces of law and order.

Certainly, this county and its towns have had some bad officers; doubtless, it still has some who are no nonpareils. But what other class or profession can prove sans peur, sans reproche?

Officers of the law are human, like the rest of us. They make mistakes. They become provoked. They have all the weaknesses, and the strength, too, of the ordinary citizen. They have a big job to do and good citizens want to see them do it, as efficiently and as peacefully as

The Big Sandy Waterway is a pro-

Congress has been authorizing and appropriating government funds for he improvement of rivers and harbors, and this means that our state taxes will not necessarily be in-creased but rather that the greater part of the money will be provided through federal taxes. Then why try to halt this great opportunity which is being offered us?

The entire region will be helped by this great water system. The cost of hauling coal from the mines to the industrial centers will be decreased. When coal is hauled by barges the freight rate charged per ton will be only about half the rate charged per ton when the product is hauled by rail. This means that our mines can supply the markets with a greater amount of coal, which will mean an increase in other industries. With the development of other industries in our own region a better means of transportation will be needed even high cost of railroad freight transportation. Kentucky has a great deal f bituminous coal yet to be mined. Why not have cheaper freight rates and get this coal to a market?

The constructing of the locks and dams will give employment to thousands of men for a period of at least two or three years. The men who once depended upon the W.P.A. for their employment will now have jobs with good pay, and returning veterans will have employment.

There are billions of tons of coal which could be transported over this waterway with the saving of millions of dollars. As Representative A. J. May has told the U. S. army engineers, the river canal would provide cheap transportation into rich coal fields containing world's highest grades of coal. Water transportation is available to other coal-producing regions, so think we should have it in ours. As it is, the railroads have a monopoly and have charged exorbitant rates which have kept many small-producing mines from being developed.

The Big Sandy valley is rich in folklore and there are many historic spots of interest here. With means of transportation improved and the streams beautified, with fishing, boating, and pools for swimming as additional attractions, there should be a continuous stream of visitors to the region. This in turn will bring more money to our valley With more money in circulation we The property values in the coun- should be able to have better schools ties near the Big Sandy river will in- and be able to have many other community activities.

To the farmers along the river banks, the lock and dam system will mean a saving on their crops. Many thousands of dollars have been lost in the destruction of crops by floods, but with the coming of more industries, farmers would try to produce more since they would find a ready market for their products among increased population.

There will be better sanitation in the Big Sandy region, for the river will be kept at a certain stage and thousands of people will choose these valley for their permanent residences. There are some who have said that the railroad taxes will be lowered if the waterway project goes through, and that the schools will lose that tax money; but this is untrue, for in Kanawha county, W. Va.,

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

ART: "Saw you at the movies last night, Judge. That was quite a weekend that alcoholic went through, wasn't it?'

OLD JUDGE: "Sure was, but I'm afraid most people won't really understand it." ART: "What do you mean, Judge?"

OLD JUDGE: "Simply this. That poor chap was really a sick man...not just a drunk. Studies by famous psychiatrists and the medical profession show that alcoholism is not caused by a craving for alcohol . . . it is usually the result of some deep-rooted social, physical or emotional condition. If that fellow had not turned to alcohol for escape, he would have turned to something else."

ART: "Are there many that get in that condition, Judge?'

OLD JUDGE: "Fortunately not, Art. Scientists at a great university have stated that approximately 95% of the people who drink do so sensibly. Only 5% are immoderate at times. In that 5% is the small number known as alcoholics. And the beverage distilling industry which does not want a single person to use its product immoderately, is cooperating fully in the solution of this problem."

Straight Creek Coal Company for its safety practices, but, according to their records at Frankfort, the last report of inspection of the above-mentioned mine showed about ev-erything in the book wrong with the mine, even charging gross neglect of ordinary safety rules. So just how can the department defend the Straight Creek Company? Did they make another inspection and are they afraid to make the records public? It would be an awfully shortsighted person to try and defend the company on the basis of the last report made public. If the company is going to stand the responsibility and pay the widows and orphans for the deaths of their breadwinners, why all the clamor for public donations? I'll tell you why—all the widows and orphans of that disaster will get is what the people of Kentucky donate to them. Now, according to the last report available of the last inspec-tion of the Straight Creek mine, it wasn't rock-dusted; the "hot" trolley wire was against the top and brattices, which in itself is a fire hazard; gas was detected in "sixth left" and the company was using a booster fan, which is just inviting an explosion; the electrical equipment was not up to standard; the air course was blocked with slate-falls 11 months before the disaster. The above were just a few of the things in the inspection report—yet the State Department of Mines and Minerals tries to defend the com-pany for safety practices. Every miner in Kentucky knows that the Straight Creek hole was just a death trap and it's not the only one. There are a lot more in Kentucky and they ought to be closed down. Isn't the death of 24 men just about enough to get the Department of Mines and Minerals to close some of the "graveyard" mines before they are killed?

GOSH, ONLY A PENNY!

Once a penny was a fortune to a six-year-old. It could buy yards of licorice shoestrings, an all-day sucker, or a syrupsmothered scoop of shaved ice. A penny would pay for marbles, a tin whistle, or even a little lead soldier. It was the ceiling price for a new top-string.

Nowadays, a penny won't buy much for a little boy. But it purchases a lot of labor-saving electricity.

Sonny may sniff at a penny for running an errand-yet that same penny will (at average household rates) do any of these jobs-

- Run a sewing machine all afternoon
- Keep a refrigerator cold for 4 hours
- · Vacuum clean 10 large rugs
- · Light a 50-watt bulb for 6 hours
- Run the washer for 6 tubs of clothes · Give you the correct time for 7 days
- Keep a radio playing for 3 hours

Yes, a penny is still big money-electrically. Actually, the average family gets just about twice as much electricity for its money as it did 15 years ago. Keeping electric service cheap, friendly and dependable - even all through the war is a tribute to the careful business management of your electric company, and to the hard work and experience of all the men and women in it.

Floyd, 53 Other Counties Form U.-K. Booster Clubs

Work of organizing University of Kentucky Booster Clubs in every Kentucky county is now under way in 54 counties, with prospects of more groups being organized in the near future, according to an announcement made jointly this week the University of Kentucky Alumni Association and the City Salesmen's Club of Lexington, joint organizers of the booster groups.

Response to the appeal to University alumni throughout the state, to assist in the organization of these clubs to foster and promote athletics at the state university has been highly encouraging, and a compilation shows that groups have already been organized in Floyd, Anderson, Bell, Barren, Bourbon, Boyd, Breathitt, Bullitt, Campbell, Carter, Clark, Caldwell, Daviess, Fleming, Franklin, Grant, Grayson, Hardin, Harlan, Harrison, Henry, Hopkins, Jefferson, Jessamine, Kenton, Let-cher, Laurel, Lincoln, Livingston, Logan, McLean, Magoffin, Mason Marion, Morgan, Mercer, Nelson, Nicholas, Ohio, Owen, Perry, Pike, Phone 4062 Pulaski, Rockcastle, Rowan, Scott, Spencer, Simpson, Taylor, Washngton, Wolfe, Woodford and Fay-

The Boosters' Clubs are not confined to former students of the University, but any interested citizen, who has the University's athletic program at heart, is urged to join with University alumni in making the county clubs permanent organ-
