According to reports received here, all three former Floyd countians were slain by single blasts from Duncan's shotgun. After the slayings, the Wright home was destroyed by fire but Duncan denied knowledge of the blaze.

Coroner W. W. Lynd, of Ironton, said Duncan talked freely of the killings. The slayer was quoted as saying he saw Wright in a field looking for a cow and that he shot him, killing him instantly. He claimed he feared Wright would shoot him.

ON JURY LIST

24 Grand Jurors, 30 Petit Jurors Listed For April Term Here

Five women were named on the list of grand and petit jurors rolled from the jury wheel by Circuit Judge E. P. Hill, Jr., for service at the April term of the Floyd circuit court, Cir-cuit Clerk W. W. Cooley announced Tuesday. Three women are listed Tuesday. Three women are listed among the 24 grand jurors and two on the roster of 30 petit jurors. The court term, a criminal session, will convene Monday, April 1.

New Procedure But Legal

As the names of jurors were rolled from the jury wheel during open court of the February term, Circuit Judge Hill announced the names of those to serve at the April term. Thus was created an innovation to the Floyd circuit court and doubt was expressed that Judge Hill's public announcement of jurors for the coming term was correct procedure.

This week, however, it was found that Section 29.130, Ken-tucky statutes, provides for such public pronouncement of jurors'

Although the drive had been slated to end Friday of this week, some communities had planned benefit events for later dates and most leaders in the drive had not reported, making it advisable to continue the campaign through the month.

Contributions to date are "not too encouraging," it was said. Reports are lacking, however, from the rural districts as well as from the mining centers of the county, and these are expected to make a big dent in the county quota of $14,500.

INSURANCE

LIFE—FIRE—CASUALTY—BONDS

"Easy does it"

Yes, "easy does it" when loading, unloading or handling livestock.

Bruises, crippling and death losses cost American stockmen 12 million dollars each year-equivalent to the value of a single file of market hogs stretching all the way from St. Louis to Chicago.

And the producers do pay those losses; directly through deaths and excessive shrink caused by bad loading and shipping practices . . . indirectly through bruises (we find them in over 20% of all livestock slaughtered!) which reduce the value of otherwise good carcasses. Yet a great part of those losses can be prevented with a little extra care when loading, unloading and handling.

So, that's why we suggest "easy does it"-and that you keep these six "loss-stoppers" in mind: (1) Never beat animals with whips or clubs. Use canvas slappers or electric prods...(2) Inspect chutes, trucks and cars for nails, splinters, etc. . . . (3) Furnish good footing; bed properly. For hogs, cover dry sand with straw for winter shipping; use wet sand in summer . . . (4) Cover floors of loading or unloading chutes with straw...(5) Do not overload. Partition mixed loads . . . (6) Easy does it when trucking. Avoid sudden starts and stops. Check your load frequently for crowding.

We'll be glad to mail you instructive Agricultural Research Bulletin No. 20, "Preventing Losses in Handling Livestock." Address request to Department BB, Swift & Company, Chicago 9, Ill.

There's an old story about a downstate cattle feeder who brought a lead of steers to Chicago to be sold. He turned them over to his commission man, then wandered around the Yards, for it was his first trip to Chicago. Soon he was back, all excited—"Sell those steers right away for whatever you can get. There's not enough people in the world to eat all the cattle I've seen here!

ple in the world to eat all the cattle I've seen here!"

The salesman managed to calm him down and sent him downtown to see the city. He landed in the heart of Chicago, took one look at the crowd of people, and dashed into a drugstore to 'phone his salesman. "Hold those steers of mine for the highest price. There's not enough meat in the world to feed all these people!"

This old story makes a good point. All of you know the price we can pay for your livestock is governed by what we can get for the meat and by-products. Also you know that what we can get for the meat and the by-products is greatly affected by the supply of livestock and the demand for meats. The ever-present problem among producers and meat packers is the matching of the supply with the demand, wherever the supply and demand with the demand, wherever the supply and demand may be. The job of nation-wide meat packers is to balance the supply of meat with the demand by ficient distribution of the meat to the places ere people want to buy it.

ROUND WORMS, one of the greatest hog enemies, can be controlled. The following practices are used by successful hog raisers:

- 1. Thoroughly clean, then scrub the farrowing pens with boiling lye water (1 pound of lye to 10 gallons of water).
- 2. Wash the sow's sides and udder with warm soapsuds before putting her in the farrowing pen.
- 3. Keep pigs out of old hog lots. 4. Haul sows and pigs to pasture when ready. Do not drive them over contaminated ground.

LEGUME-GRASS MIXTURES PROVE WORTHY

By Dr. G. O. MOTT, Purdue University

Preliminary results of tests at Purdue University showed that legumegrass pasture mixtures produce more beef per acre than bluegrass alone.
A mixture of birdsfoot trefoil-bluegrass proved the most efficient tried so far.

grass proved the most efficient tried so far.

The best bluegrass pastures averaged 196 pounds of beef per acre during the period 1941-44, the poorest of legume-grass mixtures produced 185 pounds during the drought year of 1944, while birdsfoot trefoil-bluegrass produced 214 pounds. Birdsfoot trefoil put gains on cattle all through the grazing season, from May 11 to September 14, equalling early season gains made on other mixtures, and continued making gains while cattle on other mixtures lost weight during August and September. Compared to 214 pounds of gain for cattle on birdsfoot trefoil, alfalfa-timothy produced 203 pounds, alfalfa-bromegrass 194 pounds, and Ladino clover-bromegrass 185 pounds of beef per acre during the first grazing season.

Tests also indicated that rotation grazing is necessary to keep cattle from killing alfalfa by selective grazing. With rotation grazing, good stands of alfalfa persisted during the two years they were grazed.

YOU RAISE 'EM-HE SELLS 'EM

It is a far cry—an average of over 1,000 miles—from live-stock on the Western range to meat on the kitchen range. Ollie E. Jones is the man who, perhaps more than any other, helps bridge that gap.

Ollie Jones, born on a farm in central Illinois, has never lost his interest in agriculture. He now produces and feeds livestock on his 500-acre farm in Illinois.

acre farm in Illinois. Taking a beginner's job with Swift & Company, he learned the business literally "from the ground up." He advanced steadily through many divisions of the Company, to become vice president in charge of sales, advertising and merchandising. The nationwide sales departments which he heads market more of the products of American farms and ranches than any other organization in the country. That's why we say at the start of this story, "You raise 'em—he sells 'em."

INTERESTING NEW MOVIES

We have a new and interesting movie named "BY-PRODUCTS" telling of the by-products of cattle, hogs and lambs. We will gladly send it to you for group meetings. All you pay is the postage one way. This film is in great demand, so there may be a two-week delay, or longer, in getting it to you. Other films available to you on the same basis are: "Livestock and Meat," "A Nation's Meat," "Cows and Chickens . . . U.S.A." Write to Dept. 10A . .

They need your Red Cross todayand for many tomorrows!

THEY lie in hospitals, thousands of our finest-sick, A cruelly maimed. Who is to write their letters, hear their troubles, answer when they call for "Mom"? Mom can't be there. But your Red Cross can, and must be there. Many thousands more Americans, still overseas, must count on the Red Cross for comfort and cheer. So won't you give to the Red Cross? This is your chance to say, "Thanks, Soldier, for all you've done!"

LET'S STOP NO PARENTAL DINE (CHEER)

You know what happens ...

When you continue to spend more than you make and ...

Keep on borrowing to make up the difference!

You know too, that a big chunk of every dollar you earn and every dollar you spend goes to pay the cost of government.

That's why it's important for you to take a good look at the way the government spends your dollars.

Government should begin now to live within its means

During the war government necessarily spent huge sums of money. Yet, with the war over, the government plans to spend four times as much in the coming year as it spent in the highest pre-war year.

Most thoughtful people believe that government expenditures are now far greater than they need be.

They believe that government, like a family, should live within its means . . . that it should not spend more than it takes in . . . that it should not keep on going deeper into debt.

Yet that is exactly what's happening today. Our government is spending billions more than it takes in. And it continues to borrow to make up the difference.

This is the kind of money-handling that causes inflation.

Economy in government means money in your pocket

If the American people - through Congress - will reduce government spending and take steps to encourage production, inflation will be stopped . . . and this is the only way it can be stopped.

Write your representatives in Congress today.

Urge them to cut the cost of government, eliminating all waste . . . all unnecessary services . . . and postponing all expenditures that can be put off until our war bills have been paid.

Urge them to make the government start living within its means . . . at a level that you and your neighbors can afford to pay.

You'll see the results soon in the cost of everything that you buy . . . food, clothing and everything else. And you'll be doing your country a real service.

YOUR DOLLARS . . . a postcard to the National Association of Manufacturers, 14 West 49th Street, New York 20, N. Y., will bring your copy of this informative booklet on government spending—a subject which is all-important to you.

RIDS HERSELF OF RINGWORM ...

Ringworm rules my complexion, disposition, and joy in living. I was practically a confirmed old maid, when a friend whispered, "Try I-ODORAL for that unsightly external skin trouble." I tried I-ODORAL with only faint hope, because I had been disappointed by other products so many times. But in two weeks I was amazed—rid of ringworm, conscious of my beauty, full of life and confidence. Now Bob and I are headed for the altar. I-ODORAL ought to be my bridesmaid.
