SPEAKING OF AND FOR FLOYD COUNTY
PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY

APRIL 11, 1946

We wouldn't suggest that you start smoking just to help out, but we who do smoke can atone for a bad habit, in a fashion, by saving those little red strips that are pulled off to open Lucky Strike packs. Frank Stamper, a blind man here, is collecting them. When he gets 100,000 he will receive as a prize one of the very finest that can ever hope to receive—a Seeing-eye dog. So light up—and help him. Bring or mail them to THE TIMES, and we will see that he gets them.

FISHING REPORT
Wilson Stepp, Arnold Workman and Hays Salyers fished last week end on Norris Lake. Their catch was end on Norris Lake. Their catch was end on Norris Lake. Their catch was end on Norris Lake.

WEATHER REPORT
In the manner of TIME magazine: The Marcher was not as wild as the Aprilion.

WIDE, OPEN SPACES
CROWDED
Some sort of record or other must be that of Ex-Magistrate W. A. Willis and family who drove from Prestonsburg to Mexico and back without spending a night in bed. No rooms. Mr. Willis, if you plan hitting the trail, hit it in a trailer.

A MOOT QUESTION
During the Thursday morning "last round-up" of news, I called Dr. John G. Archer at the Prestonsburg General hospital, inquired if there was any news thereabouts, such as accidents, etcetera. "Well," replied the doctor, "we've had a couple babies this week. But I wouldn't know whether you'd call them accidents or not."

DIZZY
These real estate prices around here have us slightly dizzy. This week, "Brad" refused to sell his property for a five-figure price because the would-be buyer insisted on the kitchen sink going along with the house. Two days later, the same Mr. Boyd announced he had decided he would sell for $3,000 more and throw in the sink. (If Mr. Boyd will pay us two cents a word, we'll make an ad out of this and throw in the price he asked.)

TO KEEP FRIENDLY RELATIONS
We knew something was going to happen to Russia's Gromyko when he was a bigger attraction than Sinatra, the other night. His Uncle Joe took him home and sent an older man over as the Soviet representative.

SANCTUARY
The atomic bomb may render them obsolete but for the usual type of bomb or other projectile used in any war, I'd ask no better shelter than any ordinary five-cent punch board. I've never seen one hit hard yet.

SPRING'S SWEET PERFUMES
Smelled watermelon yet, even though it's not time for 'em? Pass any new-smown lawn and you will.

THE CLASS WILL COME TO ORDER
An exchange discusses some of the varieties of the English language, launching the theme with comment on Winston Churchill's classic, "This is me," and noting that some authorities have defended the great stylist's misuse of the personal pronoun. Well, whether it was me, I or Joe Doakes, it is a matter of no great consequence to me, for the purpose of this item is a hard-to-digest column. A subsequent paragraph about "reach" and "teach" is what caught my eye. Quoting this source:
"The past tense of 'reach' in one phrase of our language was formed in the same way as that of 'teach,'"

OFFICIALS GET ROAD PLEDGES AT FRANKFORT

State May Accept Five Floyd Routes; Surfacing Promised

Although advising citizens not to expect everything to be accomplished immediately, members of the Floyd fiscal court upon their return here Tuesday were obviously elated by pledges given them at Frankfort by the State Highway Department of road construction in Floyd county. These promises include:
Maintenance and bituminous surfacing of the road from Bosco up Salt Lick into Knott county.
Maintenance-construction work and future "black-topping" of the road up Brush Creek to connect with the road leading up Middle Creek to David.
All five routes, it was indicated, will be constructed and maintained by the state, not as a part of the county's rural highway program which is to be set up within a few weeks. Thus, the county's rural highway allotment of more than $72,000 will not be touched by the expense incurred in improving these routes.
It is possible, officials said, that the Salt Lick road and the route from Brush Creek to Middle Creek will not receive bituminous surface this year.
Highway Commissioner J. S. Watkins explained his ideas of road improvement in Kentucky as a departure from old highway-building practices. "The old idea was to make improved roads better," he told the Floyd county delegation. "My idea is to improve roads where the people have hitherto had no roads."

METER ORDER MADE BY CITY

Survey To Determine Number of Parking Meters Necessary

The City Council Wednesday night in a special meeting voted the purchase of parking meters for Prestonsburg.
The meters, purchased from the R. H. Rhodes Company, Hartford, Conn., manufacturers of the "Mark Time" meter, will be delivered within 30 days after a survey is made to determine the number needed. Meanwhile, the order stood at "100, more or less."
Frank H. Layne who, with two other members of the Council, O. H. Smith and Herbert Salisbury, investigated the various types of meters in use, said the "Mark Time" meters cost $58 each, installed, as compared with a cost of $80 for the next cheapest meter on the market, adding that the committee's investigation also revealed that it is the most satisfactory. The purchase is made without cash outlay to the city, inasmuch as the manufacturer collects half the "take" of the meters till the purchase price is paid. It is estimated that the meters will thus pay for themselves within eight to 18 months.
The meters will be installed throughout the business district, particularly in the Court street section of town.
At the Wednesday evening meeting of the Council an acre of land on Middle Creek was leased for a five-year period for a garbage dump. The Council authorized a bulldozer to excavate the site and periodically to cover refuse dumped there.

FIRST CHURCH BUS SERVICE

In County To Start From Allen Sunday; Schedule Announced

Floyd county's first church bus will go into service next Sunday morning, its owner, the Allen Baptist Church, announced this week.
The bus, of 48-passenger capacity and costing approximately $3,000, arrived at Allen last Saturday night but not in time to transport Sunday School and church-goers to last Sunday's services.
In announcing this service to residents of sections in a radius of several miles from Allen, a church worker said, "Our church felt it could not go out and do efficient missionary work at home in other ways, but we do hope now to reach the people who would like to go to church and Sunday School and who deserve such service."
From Allen the bus will operate, both Sunday morning and evening, up Right Beaver Creek to Maytown and on the Mayo Trail north as far as Lancer, approximately three miles from Prestonsburg. Mornings, it will leave Maytown at 8:45 and Lancer at 9:30. Evening departures from the two points will be at 5:15 from Lancer and at 5:40 from Maytown. Stops will be made between these points.
Transportation in church-owned buses has been afforded residents of rural sections in various parts of the county for several years but it is relatively new in Eastern Kentucky, it was said.
Ben Westfall, of Allen, will drive the bus.

Express Hope Tax Boost Forestalled, Result of Hearing

Proposed blanket increases of assessments on Floyd county town lots and farm lands and their improvements were protested before the Kentucky Tax Commission at Frankfort this week by County Judge Alex L. Davidson, County Attorney W. W. Burchett, Tax Commissioner Clive Akers and Magistrates Glenn Burchett, John May, Henry Stumbo and Dewey Roberts.
Members of the court were hopeful their explanation of Floyd county's tax situation will cause the commission to rescind the increase order.
Increases proposed are 10 per cent on both types of property.

$25,000 FIRE AT W'WRIGHT

Night Blaze Razes 2-Story Structure; Origin Is Unknown

The blaze destroyed a two-story brick building owned by Lee Hall and its entire contents, owned by Add Thacker. First floor of the structure houses Thacker's store; the second floor, his living quarters and stored furniture.
Residents of the community said the fire apparently started near the top of the building. The blaze was discovered around 1 a. m., and the Pikeville fire department, making a 39-minute run to the scene, arrived too late to save either the building or its contents as its pump, brought into play to throw water from the nearby stream, failed.
Amount of insurance on the loss was not available.
At David Friday night a residence owned by the Princess Elkhorn Coal Company and occupied by the family of James P. Hamilton burned, with only the family washing machine being saved. Wiring was blamed for loss of the four-room home. Included in the loss were belongings of George Patrick, Jr., a discharged navy veteran, and his wife, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton.

LIFE IS TERM FOR TRIPLETT

On His Guilty Plea; Martin Gets 2 Years In 5th Trial of Case

Shelby Triplett Thursday afternoon entered a plea of guilty to the charge of murder and, by agreement, was given a life penitentiary term.
Earlier in the day, Sam Henwood, accused of the rape of a girl under 12 years of age, was fined $100.
Fifth trial of Wesley N. Martin, Allen farmer, for the slaying in May, 1942, of Billie Martin, Jr., ended here this morning with a Knott county jury adjudging him guilty and fixing his penitentiary term at two years.
It was said, soon after the verdict was made, that Martin will appeal.
The case was called for trial Monday morning but an out-of-county restraint was asked and Circuit Judge E. P. Hill, Jr., directed that veniremen from Knott be summoned for service Tuesday morning. The panel was completed by noon Tuesday and hearing of Commonwealth testimony began. This evidence claimed that young Martin was fatally shot while unarmed and offering no offense.
Edith Martin, sister of the victim, testified that from and her brother had been to Laven's garage, near the Allen "Y" where the shooting took place, to get their dog and pups and that on their return they followed the road toward Allen rather than pass the defendant's home. The defendant, she testified, crossed in front of them and their dog started after him. As her brother reached to restrain the dog, she said, the shot was fired.
The accused man claimed he was en route to the home of a neighbor to telephone for a physician to see his sick baby, that he was pursued by young Martin who hit him with a rock. Dazed, he fired over his shoulder, he said. He also told of having been beaten, a few days earlier, by the youth and of the latter, looping in front of his home on the afternoon of the shooting and threatening his life. His version of events preceding the shooting was corroborated by his wife and Mrs. Lucretia Spurlock, and Mrs. Martin told of seeing the youth picking up rocks.
The case went to the jury late Wednesday night following arguments by Commonwealth's Attorney John Chris Cornett, Grover Allen and John Allen for the prosecution and by Atty. Joe Hobson and Dan Martin for the defense.
In other trials since last Thursday Tilt Hall was fined $50 and disfranchised for two years upon his conviction of carrying a concealed deadly weapon, and John Milford Hamilton was placed under $1,000 peace bond after having been fined $100 for drunkenness.
Judge Hill bore down on witnesses for failure to appear in court when summoned, assessing $10 fines from Johnnie Steagall and Policemen Gus Little and Earl Blackburn, of Wheelwright, whom he cited for contempt on their failure to appear.

Rivers and Harbors Committee To Hear Waterway Argued May 6

Big Sandy Delegation Attends Mississippi Valley Meet Mar. 25

J. J. Mansfield, chairman of the Rivers and Harbors Committee of Congress, has announced that his committee will conduct a public hearing on the Big Sandy waterway project in Washington May 6 and 7. This will be the final round before the project goes to the floor of Congress.
Substantial delays have occurred since the final hearings before the United States Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors last November in order that the board might formulate its favorable report and transmit its comments to the Governors of Kentucky, West Virginia and Virginia for their consideration and comments. The Governors are allowed 90 days in which to investigate and transmit their comments to the chief of engineers. This 90 days expires on April 25. The Governor of Kentucky concurs with the board in recommending the project. The Governor of West Virginia has stated to representatives of the Big Sandy Valley Association that he will remain neutral. The decision of the Governor of Virginia is not yet known. Proponents and opponents meet the Governor of Virginia at Richmond April 9. Congressman A. J. May was one of the speakers for the Big Sandy canalization program.

Legion To Ask Memorial Arch Be Erected Near Battle Scene

Deed for Right-of-Way To U.S. 23 Specified This Work, Is Claim

The State Highway Commission soon will be asked by Floyd Post, American Legion, to erect an arch across the Mayo Trail near Ivel in commemoration of the Civil War battle fought there—a work promised almost 18 years ago by the Commission to the late James Hatcher, of Pikeville, as a consideration for his deed to 60-foot-wide right-of-way through his farm for the Trail.
Dr. Earl T. Arnett, Post vice-commander, this week had a certified copy of the deed executed by Mr. Hatcher on Aug. 30, 1928 to the Commission in return for a promise of the Ivel memorial.
"We feel that the highway department, even at this late date, will not attempt to evade its pledge given in consideration for right-of-way that otherwise would have cost a lot of money," Dr. Arnett said.
The deed accepted by the department specified that:
"The party of the first part, being desirous of perpetuating the historic memory of the battle of Ivy mountain, for the sole consideration of the agreement and undertaking of the party of the second part, to construct, complete and maintain a concrete arch over the Mayo Trail upon the strip of land hereinbefore described in Floyd county, Ky., at or near the mouth of Ivy Creek on the lands of the party of the first part, soon after completion of said highway, said arch to contain thereon two bronze plates or markers, one on the east side and the other on the west side of said arch, embracing the following wording:
"Confederates in charge of Capt. A. J. May under Col. John S. Williams, Federal soldiers under General Nelson, 3rd Ohio regiment, a Kentucky regiment under Col. Charles A. Marshall two sections of artillery, Confederates' loss, 7 Federal soldiers, 6 and 24 wounded. Erected by Ed Hill, County Judge, J. N. Hamilton, County Attorney, Fiscal Court; Malcolm Hubbard, J. J. Reffett, Cain James, W. J. Reynolds, John Scott, F. E. Damron, M. C. Wright, T. R. Prater Donated by James Hatcher, Pikeville, Ky."
Since date of the deed, these members of the fiscal court have died: Malcolm Hubbard, Cain James, John Scott, F. E. Damron.

CHURCH FOLK HERE PLAN OBSERVANCE OF HOLY WEEK; CLUBS TO CO-OPERATE

Prestonsburg churches, with two civic clubs co-operating, were completing this week plans for the observance through worship of Holy Week, with a community sunrise service on Easter morning the climax.
Maundy Thursday, the annual commemoration of Jesus' Last Supper with his disciples, will be observed on the evening of April 18, at 7:30, when a communion service will be held at the Methodist Church, with every person, regardless of church affiliation, invited to participate in the service.
The Good Friday service at the Methodist Church will be from 2 till 3 p. m. All owners of business houses are being asked to close their doors for this service. "It is time permits," longings W. B. Garritt, pastor of the church, said, "we would like to present, as in the past, a paper for each business man to sign, pledging himself to close his place of business but this may be impossible. However, we urge all to show this mark of reverence, whether asked in person to do so or not." The first bell for the Good Friday worship hour will ring at 1:30 p. m.; the second, at 2.
The sunrise community service on Easter will be at 7 a. m., with worshippers gathered on the first avenue side of the high school campus, the Rev. M. Robert Regan, chairman of the committee of the Kiwanis Club, sponsor of the service, announced this week. Co-operating in making the occasion community-wide is the Prestonsburg Woman's Club. The Rev. Wm. F. Stevens, with other pastors of the community taking part in the order of service. The Prestonsburg high school glee club, directed by Mrs. Palmer L. Hall, will render appropriate hymns.

Prestonsburg Wins Practise Tilt, 11-6

Prestonsburg defeated Drift here Sunday in an exhibition game, 11 to 6, mainly on the strength of Clifton's prodigious clouting.
Hitting a homer with the bases loaded, Clifton drove in seven of the winners' 11 runs. May, new Prestonsburg first baseman, also hit a home run.
Three pitchers worked three innings each for both teams. Patton of Prestonsburg was the only hurler unscathed upon his successors, Rice and Bradley, each allowing three runs. B. Stumbo started for Drift, allowing three runs. Lloyd Stumbo allowed six runs and Kit Stumbo was scored upon twice.
The same teams meet Sunday at Drift.

2 COUSINS DIE, 3 SHOT

In Magoffin Battle; Wrestling Bout Ends With Six Joining Fray

A sanguinary tale of battle with gun and knife, featuring three cousins, two of whom are now dead and three of whom are wounded, comes this week from Magoffin county.
The dead are Thurman Howard, 36, his cousin Bill Williams, 34, both of the Logville section of Magoffin. Wounded are Hassell and Claude Howard, brothers of Thurman, and Charlie Williams, brother of Bill Williams.
The wounded men are in the Paintsville hospital where they are expected to recover, though their wounds are serious.
The affray took place at an auction at Logville Saturday afternoon while 100 or more persons watched. Thurman Howard and Bill Williams were wrestling, according to the story received here, when Howard suddenly drew a knife and stabbed Williams near the heart. Thereupon Charlie Williams, armed with a revolver, entered the fight and was cut by Thurman Howard, Williams in turn cutting Howard, this version of the fight continues.
Brother Hassell and Claude Howard, brothers of Thurman Howard, had been wounded, Earsel Howard disarmed Charlie Williams, shot Charlie and fatally wounded Bill Williams who was on the ground from the knife wound that began the fray, witnesses said.
Bill Williams died at the hospital Saturday night. His brother Charlie's throat was cut, he was cut on the chest and he also suffered one bullet wound. Earsel Howard, one of the four Howard brothers, was the only individual of the group involved to escape unscathed.

JUDGE DENIES BOND FOR 2

Columbus Compton, Collins at Liberty; Hearing Held Friday

Charlie and Basil Compton, brothers, charged with wilful murder in the death near Betsy Layne Tuesday night, April 2, of Mrs. Sylvia Helen Parsons, 21, were denied bond by Circuit Judge E. P. Hill, Jr., Friday following a hearing of their petition for bail.
At the same time their brother, Columbus Compton, former Floyd county teacher, was released under bonds totaling $11,000 and their brother-in-law, Dan Collins, was at liberty under aggregate bond of $2,500. The four were indicted on charges of wilful murder, shooting and wounding and shooting at without warning. Basil was also named in an indictment charging striking and wounding.
The defense did not offer testimony.
Following his release from jail, Columbus Compton was sought on a peace warrant sworn out by a Wright boy of Betsy Layne who claimed that Compton threatened him. The youth, officials said, was witness to the shooting at the Parsons home.
Homer Parsons, 42 years old, husband of the woman for whose slaying the four were indicted, is recovering from a bullet wound in his side.
At the hearing Friday, D. M. Parsons and Homer Parsons, 19-year-old son of Homer Parsons by a previous marriage, offered the Commonwealth testimony. D. M. Parsons told of Basil Compton and Collins stopping their auto in front of Salsbury's service station, near that of the Parsons couple, after some children had frightened them with an April Fool's Day dummy. Parsons said he and Dan Collins were fighting while Compton and McKinley Cecil were likewise engaged and that Basil Compton left Collins lying where he had fallen on the highway. After offering Collins assistance, he said, he and Cecil left.

Workmen Clearing Site As Machinery Arriving in County

First actual work by the Ryan Construction Company toward construction of the Dewey dam on Johns Creek was done Wednesday morning with the beginning at the dam site of clearing operations by a work crew.
A day earlier, first equipment to be used in the big undertaking arrived at East Point by rail and from there it was taken via the Mayo Trail to the Prestonsburg-Auxier road, thence to site of the dam. This route will probably be used for transporting a large part of the company's equipment to the scene of operations, but some heavier machinery which the highway bridge at Cliff with its 30-ton load limit will not bear will be unloaded from rail cars at Van Lear and from there taken via Daniel's Creek to the site.
H. B. Gladheart, Ryan Construction Company superintendent, arrived at Van Lear Monday and other key personnel was moving in, it was said this week.
The equipment taken to Dewey Tuesday consisted of a power shovel, two bulldozers and an air compressor. A patrol grader was expected to arrive Wednesday.
First employment of workers locally was made Tuesday when seven were hired for clearing operations.
All is ready for the contracting firm to go ahead with work, it was said this week by Herbert W. Witte, resident engineer here representing the federal government in the construction of the dam. Appraisal of the surface of tracts of land in the construction area has been completed. Appraisal of land values in the entire reservoir area will be made later, as will the appraisal of mineral values.

FILES ACTION FOR OLD JOB

Hi Hat Man's Suit For Pre-War Work Is First in District

First suit to be filed in U. S. district court from the eastern district of Kentucky to compel an employer to restore to his pre-war job a World War II veteran is that of Orby Newman, of Hi Hat, this county.
The action, naming the Hi Hat Elkhorn Mining Company as defendant, was filed by Eric M. McGuffey, assistant United States district attorney.
The petition, which seeks enforcement of the veteran's rights under an act of September 16, 1940, stated that Newman was employed by the company from April 1, 1942, to October 10, 1942, at a salary of $87.5 a day. He left the company, the suit stated, to enter military service, from which he was discharged December 12, 1945.
On January 16, 1946, the petition continued, Newman applied for his former position with the mining company, but was refused employment in the capacity in which he had worked before entering service. Instead, according to the suit, the company offered him a job "not of like seniority status or pay."
The petition asked that the company be required to hire Newman for a job similar to the one he formerly held and at a salary equal to that he was receiving when he entered military service.

REJECT BIDS ON 9 SCHOOLS

Board Orders Work Re-Advertised; All Bids Held Exorbitant

Bids ranging from $2,900 to $4,300 for construction of each of nine school for one-room rural schools advertised for letting to contract were considered exorbitant by the Floyd County Board of Education at its meeting last week, and County Superintendent Town Hall was directed to re-advertise the structures for re-letting May 2.
The $3,600 bid of B. J. Caudill, of Luckey, on the two-room school at Buckeye was accepted by the board but Caudill later withdrew the bid. Pre-war bids on one-room schools of the same type construction were about $900, Superintendent Hall said, adding that the board had not anticipated bids of more than twice that figure.
The board named L. C. Leslie trustee of the Emma sub-district to succeed Thomas Patton, deceased, while Charles Jones and Bert Newsome were named alternate trustees to fill the vacancy created in Sub-District 62, Mud Creek, by the death of Malone Hall.
Rural school work planned, if suitable bids are received, includes the two-room Buckeye building, a one-room addition to the Tink Fork school and one-room buildings at Bush Creek, Spewing Camp, Cold Spring, Lancer, Lick Fork, Buck's Branch, Ivy and Clear Creek.

Part of the playground equipment has finally arrived for the Drift school which was ordered in November by the former Drift P. T. A. The P. T. WATCH YOUNG FORD!

Motor Company Head Thinks First of Men—Then of Machines

When Henry Ford II was chosen "Outstanding Young Man of the Year" by the national organization of the Junior Chambers of Commerce, many people, some of them high in industry, wondered why. Yet, these are the "knows" realized that it was because young Ford thinks first of men, and then of machines.

For several years before the war brought an end to automobile production for civilians, the Ford Motor Company had lost its place in the sun. At one time selling as much as 60 per cent of the industry's production, the Ford Company was delivering only 20 per cent of newly manufactured cars in 1941. The fault was largely due, says Jules Demonet in the May issue of MARCH OF PROGRESS Magazine—to the failure of the Ford organization to develop a well-rounded internal organization. Practically all of the decisions were left to the judgment of one man, the elder Henry Ford. He delegated little or no authority, and made moves puzzling to dealers. The senior Ford shunned advertising for many years, regarding it as "unnecessary," and almost an evil. Today, with young Ford at the helm, there is organization in the Ford Company, specifically assigned responsibilities, properly delegated authority and as good employees as can be found in high-tension, dynamite-packed Detroit. Henry II, knowing his grandfather's love of "firsts," saw to it that Ford produced the first postwar car. In the advertising his grandfather shunned, Henry has shrewdly accentuated the "Famous Ford Firsts"—an excellent example of his use of native tact and diplomacy in departing from his grandfather's policies.

Behind all this is young Henry Ford's belief in people. He is the first tycoon of industry to plead for renewed attention to the "human element," so long subordinate in big business, and an element in the mounting discontent of corporate employees. In an address to the Society of Automotive Engineers, Ford states: "Mass production is achieved by both machines and men... and while we have gone a long way toward perfection of our mechanical operations, we have not successfully written into our equations whatever complex factor represents man, the human element... try to take into account the human factor (for by so doing we can make as much progress toward lower costs in the next 10 years as we have made during the past 25 years in the development of mass production.)"

Henry's belief in men was further exemplified in the tours he made, visiting Ford dealers, and asking them to "help him to help them." He has extensive plans for reaching his employees, his dealers and his customers through the printed word, in publications designed to promote goodwill and understanding of each other's problems, objectives and accomplishments.

In his strong emphasis on the human element, Henry II is not only thinking of the worker of today. He has thought, too, of the worker of tomorrow, and proved it when he said: "This is the greatest time in our country's history for young men and women to be coming of age."

"In order to satisfy the great pent-up demand for things that add to our comfort of living, many problems will have to be solved. It will not be just enough to return to our old ways though we will want to preserve all that is best in them. There are problems of organization and production, problems of research and labor relations and distribution that call for fresh viewpoints. And it will be in solving these present-day problems that industry will offer great opportunities to young Americans in the next few years."

When a young man exhibits this maturity of thought and ability to act at the comparatively tender age of 28, it is easy to understand why the national organization of the Junior Chambers of Commerce voted him "Outstanding Young Man of the Year." (Paid advertisement)

Archie Parsons said Collins was taken to the porch of his father's place of business where the Parsons couple had prepared water for the injured man to wash his head. The couple, the youth testified, had no part in the first altercation. While Collins was on the porch, he alleged, the three Compton brothers returned and immediately opened fire.

Mrs. Parsons fell first, shot through the head and dying without speaking, Archie Parsons claimed. Another bullet struck her husband, who fell to the floor but dragged himself into the kitchen where he procured a shotgun and returned the fire. Meanwhile, the younger Parsons testified, he himself took refuge behind a refrigerator while he was a target for several shots.

Predicts Floyd County Home Owners To Spend $1,070,000 for Repairs

Expenditures totaling more than $1,070,000 will be made in the next few years by home owners on farms and in small communities of Floyd county to improve present electric service and home plumbing.

These outlays will mean additional income to practically every local business and will finance additional wiring, bathroom improvements and new electrical equipment for the county's 4,765 farm and rural homes already served with electricity, according to a study released by the The Council of America.

Introduction of running water, installation of tiled bathrooms and replacement of outmoded plumbing fixtures head the list of the most wanted farm home features, D. P. Forst, chairman of the Council's Residential Construction Committee, revealed. One in five families thru-out the nation plan bathroom improvements, he said.

Additional wiring is needed in practically every farm home with electricity, according to the study. A huge market likewise exists for milking machines, quick freezing units, electric motors, baby chick brooders and other equipment.

Our Policy on NEW CAR ORDERS

IN ACCORDANCE WITH FAIR PROCEDURE

We are now accepting orders for earliest possible delivery of new cars and trucks on a new system set up by Joe H. Cooley. However, as you know, there are not enough of either for all who want them. Therefore, we want to make a clear statement of our policy... so that everyone will know exactly how we are handling orders for and delivery of new cars during the current shortage period.

- 1 We intend to fill orders for new cars in the order in which they are received. There are two exceptions to this basic rule—
- 2 We will definitely reserve a percentage of our cars for those who have served in the Armed forces. We feel sure that all our customers will agree with the justice of this exception.
- 3 If definite need for a new car is a factor, we will, in the public interest, determine such cases on the basis of the now abolished, but publicly accepted, OPA priority lists.
- 4 We would welcome a trade-in on a new car and will offer top market prices for your used car.

This policy is in your interest. We are following it because we want to serve you fairly and well today as in the past. The Ford Motor Company and we ourselves are making every effort to deliver your new car promptly and honestly.

Flying Octanes

Ashland

GASOLINE

Your power-packed ride with "ASHLAND" Gasoline's Flying Octanes starts in one of America's most modern refineries. This superior motor fuel containing catalytic and aviation gasoline components is the result of many separate refinings plus careful balancing and blending. Nothing is taken for granted. Test after test... check after check... is the order of the day and night. Sensitive electrical instruments of rare precision record the result of each progressive step in refining. Far more than the usual standard measuring tests are employed to evaluate "ASHLAND" Gasoline... to verify its superiority.

"ASHLAND" Gasoline gives you that instant starting and responsive power which make for merrier miles. It's a mileage-stretcher, too. The Ashland Oil dealers in your motoring area will gladly introduce you to Flying Octanes, those air-minded helpers that'll give you the grandest co-operation ever received from a gasoline.

ASHLAND OIL & REFINING COMPANY INCORPORATED

Gasoline Went to War

"I want the best aviation gasoline ever made," Uncle Sam told us. Using the facilities of one of America's most modern refineries, Ashland Oil gave our air warriors 100-octane-plus aviation gasoline.

Every "Crack" a Boost

This gasoline is "cracked" many times to improve its octane rating, to give it that instant starting, that quick pick-up, that soothing smoothness which spell perfect performance in any engine.

Why It's Tops

The blending of special catalytic gasoline and aviation components with an already fine gasoline gives "ASHLAND" a definite superiority over ordinary gasolines—a fact which you can easily prove.

Now Available For You

Those same war-trained Flying Octanes are down to earth in "ASHLAND" Gasoline, bringing to your car that thrilling zip over the highways that they gave our war-planes over the skyways.

Crop, Feed Loans Offered Farmers By Farm Credit

Van H. Renuau, field supervisor of the emergency crop and feed loan division of the Farm Credit Administration for Floyd county, announces that loans are available for eligible farmers who are unable to secure credit from banks, PCA, or other local lending agencies on reasonable terms and sufficient to meet their production needs.

Crop loans may be made for the actual production costs of such crops as corn, soybeans, oats, cotton, hay, fruits, potatoes, tomatoes, beans, and other truck crops grown for market. The money may be used for such production costs as seed, feed, fertilizer, fuel or oil for tractors, spray material, minor repairs, and planting and harvesting expenses.

Feed loans are made for the purchase of such feeds as are usually fed to commercial stock, such as hogs, beef cattle, brooding stock or livestock, the product of which will be sold, such as dairy cattle, sheep being maintained for the sale of wool or lambs, or for the production of feeds such as hay, oats, corn, ensilage, or other popular feed crops.

Poultry loans may be secured by farmers who have facilities, such as houses, brooder stoves, watering and feeding equipment sufficient to care for the poultry. The money may be used for the purchase of feed, medicinal care and incidental supplies, for feeding young chicks or turkeys being grown for the market, or the purchase of feed and incidental supplies for a flock kept for the production of eggs.

Security for loans is a first mortgage on all crops to be grown or stock and poultry to be fed. Crop, feed, or poultry loans become due and payable upon the sale of the crops, livestock, poultry or eggs, or upon Oct. 31, 1946, whichever comes first. Interest rate on all loans is 4 pct. and is deducted in advance to Oct. 31, 1946.

Applications for all loans in this county are being taken by Mrs. Dortha Derossert at the County Agent's office, Prestonsburg. If further information or personal interview is desired, write to Mr. Renuau, field supervisor, at Box 606, Paintsville.

but 'taught' alone has survived, because it was recorded in the manuscripts of scholars whose contemporaries were saying both 'reached' and 'taught'.

To which we would add this bit of lore: We quite often have heard the past of "retch" called just plain "retch," as in, "He jest retch out and grabbed it."
