STATE SEEKS PLAN FOUR NEW ROADS VENUE CHANGE IN FLOYD CASE

After Compton Trial Here Ends with Jury 'Hung'; Hearing Set

Trial of Charlie Compton, charged such that, returning to the shelter of my own roof, I am greeted at the door by the entire family. Forming a razzing section, these, my own, sing out in unison, "Where's the fish?"—apparently limiting their expectations to a catch of not more than one. (If you know a snappy answer to that question, let me know not later than June 1.) And upon one occasion when I did have a locky few hours of it, sundry snide marks had me ready to call in a hotary and affix my hand and seal to an affidavit stating that I did NOT buy those fish.

I bare this part of my past, that you may understand why I sympalize so strongly with those Wheel-wright fishermen who on a recent afternoon gave two young men a ride home from Pike county. Those disciples of Walton were in expansive mood. They had fish to take home. (Where's your fish? Right here, ye deriders!) What if their passengers were "under the influence"—wasn't life good, hadn't it been a wonderful day?

But, alas! every Eden has its serpent. When the anglers arrived in Wheelwright and their passengers had wended their way elsewhere, so officers say, the sportsmen took a peek—and their fish were gone.

Their passengers, we are told, had iterally taken the day's catch to their bosoms. Yes, sir—put those fish right inside their shirts and toddled off.

The two are in jall here, charged with petty larceny.

I address this to the judge who will hear the trial; Your honor, I cannot serve on your jury. I have formed, and I express, an opinion. Fact is, I'm plumb bitter about the whole affair.

My own self-esteem went up a few points this week when I learned that a reader of THE TIMES in Williamson, W. Va., had even more trouble with last week's problem submitted through this column than I did. He writes:

Asks Improvements In Courthouse, Jail; Woman Named Rapist

Questioning of 89 persons during the nine days of its session resulted in 42 indictments being returned by the grand jury of the Floyd circuit court, the final report to Circuit Judge E P. Hill last week stated.

The indictments covered a wide range of offenses—from wilful murder, rape of a boy by a woman, to the common offense of drunkenness.

The jury's final report, signed by Walter King, foreman, discussed in the main condition of public properties here and needs for improvements. In recommending improvements at the jail and in the courthouse, the jury noted:

"It (the grand jury) makes these findings with the knowledge that it has been hard to obtain bedding and plumbing supplies, and express the opinion that the Jailer has done the best he could with the things he had to work with ..."

Yes, she's back at her old job of home-makingthat 24-hour-a-day job with no overtime pay.

Mom learned a lot about electric service during the war. She found that stitching up a cruiser and stitching up a curtain are both done more easily and quickly when electricity lends a hand.

And when home-making had to be sandwiched in after war-plant hours, Mom learned that the touch of a finger-tip brought her a dozen willing servants for the cost of a candy bar.

Mom's back in the kitchen. And electric service-always ready, dependable and cheap-is there with her, making her tasks easier, her life more comfortable. Service like that just doesn't happen. It takes hard work and good business management. The men and women in Mom's electric company - and yours, too - make it possible.

shooting. Prosecuting witnesses said shooting. Prosecuting witnesses said earlier that all the Compton brothers were armed when they arrived at the Parsons home on the night of April 2 after an altercation in which Collins sustained a head laceration. Charlie Compton said that when he, Basil and Columbus Compton arrived at the Parsons home, Homer Parsons, who was treating Collins. Parsons, who was treating Collins' wound, ordered him to get back into his car, and that he obeyed. He said he saw Basil make a move at Parsons, who went into the house and returned with a shotgun.

Basil testified that Parsons fired one shot from the gun and when it "looked like all of us were going to get killed" he and Columbus ran across the yard to take cover.

A few minutes later, Basil told the court, Parsons again came out of the house, a pistol in each hand, "blazing away at us."

Basil Compton said he then fired three shots at Parsons, but did not know at the time that Mrs. Parsons was killed. Collins testified that he heard Parsons fire two shots, one of which sounded like a shotgun and the other a revolver.

Columbus Compton said when the shooting began he ran up the high-

Republican Candidate For

From The

SEVENTH DISTRICT

1. He is Progressive and has no use for Reactionary Ideas.

2. He has done much toward the advancement of Education through the fights he has helped to lead in the Senate for higher teacher salaries, Eight months Rural School Terms and for the Tenure Act, or Civil Service of

3. He has done much toward improvement of public Health, through the Senate fight he led more than any other for the five new Tubercular Hospitals now under construction.

4. He has done much toward improvement of our Rural Highway program through the Sen-ate fight he has helped to lead for larger Rural Highway Funds —each Seventh District county will receive nearly three times the amount of funds during each of the next two years than in any previous year in Kentucky's his-

5. He has done much toward the Conservation of our Wildlife and Natural Resources through the Senate Bills which he sponsored and fought for in reorgan-izing the Fish and Game Comder Civil Service, so that they will no longer be political pawns. And for his toil in working for more funds and a broader program to combat forest fires so that our War burdened mountain forest may have a chance through Nature's healing to grow vigorously strong again.

6. He has done much toward honest elections in Kentucky through the Bills he sponsored and led through to final adoption for Precinct Registration and Precinct Purgation Recommendations.

7. He is from a Geographical location most important in winning a November Election. If Judge O'Rear could have broken even in Pike County in 1911 he would have been Republican Governor by nearly 900 majority; if Edwin P. Morrow could have broken even in Pike County in 1915 he would have been Governor of Kentucky four years earlier by nearly 1300 majority and if Dr. Elmer E. Gabbard, could have broken even in Pike County in 1942 he would have gone to Congress by 993 majority. The incumbent Congressman carried Pike County 4618 in 1932, 2264 in 1934, 2919 in 1936, 2016 in 1938, 3191 in 1940, 1533 in 1942 and 1317 in 1944.

In each of the Presidential years of 1932, 1936 and 1940 the incumbent Congressman carried Pike County by an average of 3576 majority. The Presidential year of 1944 the incumbent re-ceived only 1317 majority in Pike as Gabbard's campaign was fought hard, and the campaign was managed by Charles F. Trivette.

In 1939 Charles F. Trivette as Republican Nominee for Secretary of State running against a Democrat whose many relatives were mostly from Pike and whose wife was a Native Pike Countian and from an outstanding Republican family, Trivette still carried Pike County by a majority of 421. In 1943 as Governor Willis' campaign Trivette was elected to the State Senate by a majority of 538 over a very popular former member of the Kentucky General Assembly.

8. Charles F. Trivette is a good campaigner, a good speaker and a great handshaker. He is a very successful businessman and labor likes him. His mind is well informed on World events, his ideas are for firmness yet for Progressive Unity. He is a crusader and gets things done.

We invite your support and welcome each and all of you to join the crusade for his nomination and Election to Congress. -Committee for CHARLES F TRIVETTE for CONGRESS.
