

HALL VICTIM AT BOLDMAN ROADHOUSE

Deputy Sheriff Conn Says He Fired When His Life Threatened

Arthur Hall, 33-year-old miner, was shot and instantly killed at a roadhouse near Boldman, shortly after midnight Saturday when he was said to have resisted arrest and to have threatened an officer.

Deputy Sheriff Harold Conn, whose two bullets killed Hall, said he fired in self-defense while attempting to arrest him on a warrant.

The officer returned to Prestonsburg following the shooting and executed $5,000 bond to answer to any possible court action.

The shooting, officers said, followed an attempt by Hall and his brother, Frank, to take from the custody of Deputy Sheriffs Conn and Hillard Mitchell a man named Dameron whom the officers had arrested as drunk at the roadhouse of B. H. Toier. This attempt, they said, was thwarted and the deputies, falling to the ground, drove toward Prestonsburg to lodge their prisoner in jail. They were followed, they said, until they suddenly stopped at the roadside near Betsy Layne, by a car in which the Hall brothers were passengers. There Mrs. Zella Salisbury Porter asked the officers to release Dameron to her custody but was told they could not unless directed to do so by a Magistrate or Judge, this version of the happenings of the night continues.

From that point the officers drove on to Prestonsburg unpursued. Here, they jailed Dameron and procured from County Judge Davidson warrants for the brothers, charging them with confederating and interfering with officers. Because of the number of drunks seen near Boldman, they said, they arrested the aid of Capt. Ford Hall of the State Highway Patrol, and other officers and returned to Boldman.

Again at the Toier place, they arrested Frank Hall while others rounded up four drunks. Arthur Hall was not seen until he suddenly stepped onto the porch, profanely inquiring what was going on, they related. Armed with the warrant, Conn said he advanced toward Hall, at the same time noticing that others inside the building were fleeing from a rear door. Meanwhile, he said, he had lost sight of Hall and as he stepped inside the door Hall rammed a revolver against him.

Conn declared he fired only when he thought Hall was about to shoot him. Deputy Sheriff Mitchell said Hall snapped on one cartridge in an attempt to shoot Conn and the cap of one cartridge found in Hall's pistol was denied.

One of the officer's bullets struck Hall in his throat, the other in the left side of his abdomen.

Conn said he later went to where Hall lay after he had been told the other should be taken to a hospital. Hall was dead, however, when he reached him and his revolver lay beneath his body, the officer said.

A statement from relatives of the victim was not available.

The victim was a son of Henry (Hen) Hall, well-known resident of the Mud Creek section. Surviving are his parents, Mrs. Bessie Berne, his widow, Mrs. Berne, his three children, Betty Jean and Gertrude, four brothers and one sister, Frank, Riley and Reuben Hall, all of Harold, Archie Hall, of Beaver, and Mrs. Albert Trick, of Harold.

Funeral rites were conducted at Beaver Tuesday and burial made in the family cemetery there under direction of the Ryan Funeral Home.

YOUTH ADMITS HALL MURDER

Says Shotgun Slaying Of Ernest Hall Result Of Card Game Fight

Bee Mullins, 18-year-old Topmost, Knott county youth, was reported this week to have confessed to Knott county Sheriff Elmore Watts that he fired the shotgun blasts which killed Ernest Hall at the mouth of Dry Creek last Thursday afternoon.

Body of Hall, a youth of about 18 and adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. Tait Hall, was found by two schoolboys, 300 yards from the highway and at a spot distant from any residence. He had been shot five or six times at close range in the back and head with a shotgun. Nearby lay six empty 12-gauge shotgun shells. The victim, it was learned, was unarmed.

Officers suspected Mullins when it was learned he and Hall had been seen shortly after noon Thursday, playing cards in an outdoor toilet. Later, they were told, Mullins was seen with a shotgun, walking in the direction of the spot where the body was found.

As Hindman the youthful slayer was quoted as telling officers he and Hall engaged in a fist fight over a card game and that Hall was "besting" him.

Funeral of the victim was held Friday, the Rev. E. V. Hopkins officiating, and burial was made in the Hall family cemetery.

BABE IS VICTIM Larry Gene, day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Salisbury, of Allen, died at the Beaver Valley hospital last Thursday. Funeral services were conducted Friday by the Rev. S. B. Rucker and burial made at Ivel under direction of the Ryan Funeral Home. The parents and one brother, Vernon, Jr., survive.

CUBBING DOWN WITH A COBE

If I wrote this column as I feel, it would sound like this: As I cub up the street I could feel the cobe cubbin on. I sneezed and sneezed till my nose run in streams. My breath cub in short gasps. If I don't get bedder I thig this thig will get me down.

MAKING AIR TRAVEL SAFE

Now that Congress has decided to investigate all these airplane crashes, confidence in air travel surely will be restored. Another wise move would be the filing of an involuntary manslaughter charge against the pilot of an airliner which crashed with fatal results. While they were about it, why didn't they also charge the pilot with an attempt at involuntary suicide?

GIVE—BROTHER, SISTER!

This column is pleased to learn that Coach Leslie has ordered uniforms for the high school baseball team. Last year's team, one of the best in Kentucky, presented the uniform spectacle afield, some in uniform, some not, no two uniforms the same.

And how we learn of a move to get uniforms for the school band here—an undertaking which we all, surely, will join in making a success. The boys and girls will sell sandwiches during the tournament here next week. Prior to that, they will canvass Prestonsburg homes, asking contributions of food or cash. The proceeds will be used in buying uniforms.

Clothes may not make the man, but they make him look and feel a darned sight better, and any community with pride will not be satisfied to see representative groups such as its ball team and band looking like a composite of Joseph's coat.

INFORMATION WANTED

The Division of Game & Fish writes to inform us that the musseling season opens in Kentucky Feb. 1. What we want to know, though, is: When is the muscling in season out?

REPORT ON JOE

For the benefit of some of the folks who have been solicitous about my friend and star contributor, Joe, he to whom orthography is as simple as Einstein's theory of relativity, I give the following:

One of Joe's contributions arrived for publication, week after Christmas. It was written, he said, on Christmas Day, a day that was as balmy as he, and Joe expounded on the theory that the "attnckum bum had shuck the ertk south, ennyways hit had shuck Kaintucky in that direxion, which, he explained, accounted for the lack of winter weather.

The masterpiece was converted into type and was all ready for publication in our edition of Jan. 2, a day that looked like a Christmas card scene, all white and snowy. There came reports to us of mysterious smoke signals having been seen over a distant hilltop. Finally they were interpreted. They read: "STOP! HURRY! JOE!"

So Joe did not appear in print.

But if this weather keeps up we expect the go-ahead signal from Joe, any day now.

DOTY

Names of streams in this and nearby counties usually have a story few of which have been told. Dr. M. M. Collins, of Lackey, traces the naming of Big Doty in this county and Little Doty in Knott, thusly: "Little Doty empties about one mile above the mouth of Caney Creek, east side of the creek. Big Doty empties into Left Beaver, west side of Beaver Creek, about one-half mile below Frazier's. Little Doty is little more than a mile long. The dividing ridge between Left Beaver and Right Beaver is the head of the two creeks. At this point there is a deep gap which is known as Doty Gap. Near this gap there are two objects which are well known to the older citizens of this section. Two black sugar trees stand, not very far from Doty Gap.

There were two brothers by the name of Owens. Andy lived in West Virginia and Reece lived on Ball Fork, now a portion of Knott county. Reece made a visit to see his brother in West Virginia, planning to stay a week; but, the second day there, his brother changed clothes, planning to go to the field to work, leaving $400 in currency in his pocket. His brother Reece took this money and started for home. When Andy returned at noon he found his money missing, and his brother gone.

JURY IS TOLD MRS. BENTLEY IN DEATH CAR

Former Allen Woman Named in Indictment In Death of Osborne

Mrs. Nora Bentley, 50-year-old wife of Thomas Jefferson Bentley, former Allen man, now a resident of Ohio, was named in a murder indictment returned last Thursday by the grand jury here in connection with the death of Allen Osborne, 42, Prestonsburg, whose decomposed body was found in Beaver Creek at Martin August 16, last.

The case, shrouded in mystery which defied penetration despite questioning of numerous witnesses, was broken by the grand jury on evidence supplied by John Wes Mullins, of Stephens Branch. Prior to that, County Attorney W. W. Burchett's investigation of the case had uncovered hints that the Prestonsburg man had been killed at a former roadhouse, a few miles from where the body was found, but findings were not considered conclusive enough to justify a murder warrant.

Mullins told the grand jury that he saw a taxicab stop in Martin on the night of July 24 when Osborne was last seen alive and that the door was partially open. When he reached the spot where the cab was parked, he continued, he saw "a dead human body" lying by the road where the taxicab had stopped. "I recognized a woman in the taxi as being Nora Bentley," his testimony before the grand jury concluded.

License number of the taxicab was given by Mullins as 109-500, Floyd

HIGH TRIBUNAL HAS UMW CASE

Decision Not Expected For Some Time; Justice Chides Legal Counsel

The last word was said Tuesday in the hearing of the case which is expected to result in one of the momentous decisions in the history of the Supreme Court.

As opposing counsel concluded their arguments the tribunal had the important job of deciding upon the legality of the contempt fines assessed of John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers of America by Federal Judge Goldsborough. The decision may be made in a matter of weeks, or it may be months before the opinion is announced.

A tart suggestion from Justice Jackson that the Supreme Court is trying to psychoanalyze Congress rather than interpret the law climaxed the historic contempt case. The flare-up came after Attorney General Tom Clark told the court that Lewis' scorning of a federal court order, designed to head off last November's coal strike, was an insult to the United States and an invitation to "mob rule."

It similarly followed a retort from attorneys for the United Mine Workers' chief that Clark's argument "might better have been sounded in a political arena."

As the proceedings drew toward a close, Assistant Attorney General John F. Sonnett was arguing that federal district court was right in slapping the $3,500,000 contempt fines on Lewis and the United Mine Workers.

The little white light on the rostrum before Sonnett flashed, signaling he had only five minutes to complete his argument. Justice Jackson broke in and told the harassed, striped-trousered government lawyer that he should devote some argument to what would happen if the courts lacked jurisdiction to issue an injunction in a case like the coal dispute.

Sonnett said he was trying to get to that.

"Well, you better get on it," Jackson said good naturedly to Sonnett, "and not devote any further time to the psychoanalyzing of members of Congress because your light is on."

"I'm not saying it was your fault. You were led into it by the court, which has likewise found itself spending much of its time in psychoanalysis of Congress."

At this point Justice Frankfurter, in apparent annoyance, grabbed a wad of documents, swiveled around in his high back Supreme Court chair and flopped them onto the floor with a thud.

In comparatively milder stages of the argument Welly K. Hopkins, of Lewis' legal staff, snapped that by the Union's November actions "no defiance was given or intended."

HABEAS WRIT FREES YOUTH

Action Barely in Time To Thwart Execution Of 1-Year Sentence

A writ of habeas corpus petition, filed barely in time to prevent execution of the one-year state reformatory sentence against him, wound up this week with the return of 17-year-old Ransom Marcum, Jr., to the home of his parents at Gio.

Young Marcum was convicted on a breaking and entering charge at the September term of circuit court and had remained in jail here, pending action on motion and grounds seeking a new trial. A trip to the reformatory at LaGrange loomed near when Atty. Edward L. Allen filed for him a petition for writ of habeas corpus.

The petition set out that Marcum now is only 17 years old and was only 15 at the time of the alleged offense; that he was never, prior to returning of an indictment against him or to his trial, given a juvenile hearing as provided by law, and that his conviction, therefore, was null and void.

Circuit Judge Hill sustained the petition and the case reverted to the jurisdiction of County Judge Alex L. Davidson.

And Judge Davidson Monday probed the youthful prisoner to his parents. Marcum's attorney insisted there is strong doubt as to his guilt in the case.

Burns Suffered Last Wednesday When Her Clothing Ignited From an Open Grate at the Home of Her Parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Watson, of Dana, Resulted in the Death of the Following Day of Two-Year-Old Eugendia Watson.

It was said that the mother, washing outside the house, heard the child's screams and rushed to the rescue but not in time to prevent the burns from extending over a large portion of the body. The babe died at the Gearheart hospital, Martin.

Surviving, besides the parents, are five brothers and sisters, Shadry, Frankie, Anita Jean, Grady and Bonnie. Funeral rites were conducted at the Watson residence Friday and burial made in the family cemetery under direction of the Ryan Funeral Home.

Four Men Held Here After Man Slugged And Left in Water

Thomas Reed, of the Jack's Creek section, who is in jail here this week on a drunk charge, "woke up" Saturday night to find himself in the waters of Jack's Creek, badly beaten and apparently left there for dead.

Booked at the jail on drunk charges and for investigation are Dilgo Stone, Elmer and Ernest Hall and Hershel Harris, who have been questioned in connection with the beating of Reed. County Attorney W. W. Burchett said Stone and the Halls claimed Harris beat Reed about the head, Harris, the official said, established an alibi, showing that he was at Martin at the time Reed was struck. Some of the men, it was said, are known to have engaged in a fight with Reed at Corbett's Osborne's place Saturday night.

The four men will be arraigned later in the week, Burchett said.

James Stidham Dies At Wayland Saturday

James Stidham, 76 years old, died Saturday at the home of his stepson, W. R. Middleton, of Wayland, after a four-year illness of cancer and heart disease.

Mr. Stidham was a native of Elliott, county and resided in Rowan county before coming to this county, several years ago. He is survived by his widow, Elizabeth Patton Stidham, his stepson, and two brothers, Albert and Jason Stidham, both of Morehead. He was a devout member of the Regular Baptist Church.

The body was prepared for burial by the Ryan Funeral Home and taken Monday to Morehead where funeral rites were conducted. Burial was made in the family cemetery.

Mussman Questioned In Booze Hijacking

Questioned last week at Paintsville by a Federal Bureau of Investigation agent was Kenneth Mussman, 26, of Paintsville, who was said to have been in hiding for a time in Indianapolis, Ind., following the hijacking of a truck carrying 600 cases of whiskey out of Cincinnati several weeks ago.

Mussman later was arraigned before the U.S. Commissioner at Lexington. Six others are implicated in the case, THE TIMES was told last week.

WALLACE CHIDES SPORTSMEN ON FAILURE TO AID SPORTS POLIO FUND; STATES COST OF BOX OF SHELLS PER HUNTER WOULD DO

Director Earl Wallace of the Division of Game & Fish this week appealed to the outdoor sportsmen of Kentucky—the hunters and fishermen—to rally to the support of the current Sports Polio Fund, which ends March 1.

"When I learned that hunters and fishermen of our state contributed but the paltry sum of $130 toward a $37,000 Sports Polio Benevolence fund last year, I felt genuinely ashamed of their small part in this worthy charity," Wallace said.

"Sportsmen should remember that their contributions, however small, may ultimately enable some young polio sufferer to enjoy the same sport and recreation that they themselves enjoy—hunting and fishing," he continued. Noting the goal of $40,000 set up this year, Wallace pointed out that if each sportsman would contribute to the fund the

FLOYD ASSESSMENT TOTAL STANDS AT $15,000,000

Tentative recapitulation by Tax Commissioner Glive Akers of the 1946 tax assessment for Floyd county shows a total property evaluation of more than $15,000,000—an increase of around $4,000,000 over the previous year's assessment.

When the Board of Supervisors meets early next month, there will be some howling done, Mr. Akers foresees, for assessment increases hit almost exclusively coal, oil and gas interests and a few other large industrial taxpayers.

The Tax Commissioner this week pointed out that the Board of Supervisors no longer is, primarily, a board to raise or lower assessments. Rather, it is a board of judges to determine upon appeal by the taxpayer if the assessment as made by the Commissioner is equitable.

Under the present law, Mr. Akers pointed out, any taxpayer who has reason to suspect that he or she has been improperly listed must inspect the list before the Board of Supervisors meets, then file notice of appeal, if an appeal is found necessary, at least seven days before meeting of the board.

Burchett Installs 1947 Kiwanis Club Officers Last Week

Installation of 1947 officers of the Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club was conducted last Thursday evening by W. W. Burchett, lieutenant-governor of the Kentucky district and a member of the Prestonsburg club. Officers installed were:

Palmer L. Hall, president; Fred G. Francis, vice-president; Darwin Patton, treasurer; Dr. O. G. Pennington, secretary.

The new board of directors installed at the same time is composed of R. D. Francis, Estill McKinney, James Donohue, J. B. Clarke, W. A. Rose, Leroy Combs, C. H. Corbin and C. L. Hutsinpiiler, immediate past president.

Three new members, the Rev. Everett L. Branham, W. O. Gobie and Marvin Music, were received into the club. Commonwealth's Attorney John Chris Cornell and Charles Blaine, president of the Pikeville Key club, were guests.

Club singing was led by Franklin Moore.

Cain To Be Here To Aid Veterans

Roy M. Cain, field secretary, Disabled Ex-Servicemen's Board, will be here Wednesday, Jan. 22, at the office of Joe E. Wickett to aid all veterans in filing claims and to advise them as to other benefits to which they may be entitled, Tom James, commander of Floyd Post, American Legion, announced this week.

Mr. Cain said here recently that it is to the benefit of every veteran to contact him during his visit to Prestonsburg.

Scrap for Conference Title To Start Here Monday Night

The greatest number of basketball teams ever to participate in an Eastern Kentucky tournament will trot out their best plays during the Big Sandy Conference meet which begins in Prestonsburg gymnasium Monday night.

The shooting starts Monday evening at 8 with Pikeville high school's Panthers pitted against Whitesburg hi. All other teams draw first-round byes. Before the championship is reached Saturday night, 17 teams will have seen action at least one time during the tournament.

David B. Leslie, Prestonsburg coach and tournament manager, and Malcolm Garber, assistant manager, announced this week that close of the tournament will be marked by the presentation of trophies which have been contributed by Floyd county business firms, as follows:

Championship trophy, by The First National Bank; runners-up award, the Bank Josephine; Sportsmanship cup, Hughes Motor Company, Allen; miniature gold basketballs to all-tournament team, Carter & Collins' Academy of Podology; silver basketballs to all-tournament second team, Sandy Valley Hardware, Allen;

What's in a Name?— Trouble, Sometimes

A mix-up in Prestonsburg police records has upset Tom Preston, Paintsville taxicab owner, no end. Police here recently arrested Clyde Preston, also a Paintsville cab owner, while in possession of an illegal amount of spirits. They said he gave his name as Tom Preston. On this authority THE TIMES published a story to the effect that Mr. and Mrs. Tom Preston paid fines of $100 each, plus costs.

Upshot of the affair: Tom Preston lost his taxi license—and now, he says, his wife has left him.

Police Judge J. D. Harkin, Jr., said Tuesday the man held here told him his name was Clyde—but that wasn't the way the arresting officers heard it when questioning their prisoner.

All concerned regret the mix-up, and local authorities this week were extending to the injured party all possible assistance in getting his taxi license restored.

Mrs. Bayes in Jail Awaiting Her Trial Scheduled Saturday

As the Floyd circuit court today (Thursday) was midway the second week of its term, its first murder case apparently was ready for trial.

This was the case of Mack Lewis, former deputy sheriff, now doing a life term at LaGrange for the slaying of his wife near here last year, who is charged with the murder, while acting as a deputy, of Casey Newsome at Drift.

Last week, when the case of Mrs. Laura Bayes, charged with the murder of her husband, William Bayes, at West Prestonsburg last August, was called, the defendant failed to appear and her bond was ordered forfeited. Next day, she appeared in court and it was explained by counsel that her physical condition was such that she could not undergo trial. Her bondsmen were relieved of the $8,000 indemnity required for her presence, she was remanded to jail and Dr. George Archer was appointed to ascertain her physical condition. Her trial is slated for Saturday.

Stricken by paralysis while she slept, Mrs. Albert Childers, 65 years old, was found dead in bed at her home in West Prestonsburg early last Thursday morning by her husband.

Mrs. Childers had suffered a partial stroke, some time before her passing. She was a native of Virginia and a daughter of the late Willie and Sarah Auxier Reed.

She was first married to Green Wells, of the Johns Creek section, and of the two children born to this union one son, Albert Wells, survives. After Mr. Wells' death, she was married to Mr. Childers and to them was born one child who preceded her in death. Mrs. Childers was a devout christian and was known as one of her community's best women.

Funeral rites were conducted Saturday from the Assembly of God Church, West Prestonsburg, the pastor, the Rev. G. B. Fannin, officiating. Burial at Auxier was under direction of the Arnold Funeral Home.

LIQUOR SALE DEADLINE SET AT FEBRUARY 1

Wets To Ask Extension Of Time; Plan Appeal From Decision Here

Floyd county's Dry vote of Sept. 30 stands, Circuit Judge Edward P. Hill ruled this morning (Thursday) in dismissing the contest action of Bill Hall, Prestonsburg liquor store owner.

At the same time Judge Hill extended the effective date of prohibition till February 1.

J. W. McKenzie, Ashland, and Edward L. Allen, Prestonsburg, counsel for the contestant, announced that they will ask the Court of Appeals to extend the effective date of prohibition beyond February 1 until a final decision is made by the Appellate Court.

Judge Hill announced his decision, soon after conclusion of arguments by contestants' counsel and Joe Hobson, representing Sheriff Troy B. Sturgill, Floyd county and the county election commission as defendants.

Contestants' counsel argued that uncontradicted testimony contained in the voluminous record amassed during several weeks of taking depositions shows that there was "a total failure to post notices in nine precincts of the county" two weeks before the election, as the law provides. These precincts were listed as Lee Hall, Wheelwright, Melvin, Weeksburg, Hen Hall, Buffalo, Antioch, Ligor and Jack Allen. Some notices were not posted until Sept. 17, 13 days before the election, they claimed the undisputed testimony shows, and that other testimony claimed notices were not posted in some precincts till eight days before election day.

Opinion of Appellate Judge Thomas in a similar case, holding that no time short of the minimum period for posting notices could be considered substantial compliance with the law, was cited. Butler and Martin county cases in which failure to post notices according to law resulted in the Court of Appeals declaring no election figured prominently in the arguments of contestants' attorneys.

Mr. Hobson attacked the good faith of the contestant in filing the suit and argued that strict compliance with the 14-day posting limit is not necessary. Substantial compliance with the law was made, he contended, with only a matter of a few hours existing between the deadline for posting and the time when the notices were posted. He also pointed to newspaper advertising and other means by which the electorate was acquainted with the election.

If all nine of the precincts in question were thrown out, Mr. Hobson continued, the vote thus discarded would not be 20 per cent of the total number of votes cast in the election. This 20 per cent of the total vote, he claimed, has been previously used by the Court of Appeals as a yardstick in determining validity of elections.

Contestant has 30 days in which to submit his appeal to the Appellate Court.

Announcement

In order to avoid any misunderstanding in the next election for county officials, I hereby announce my intention to enter the race for Magistrate, District No. 1, Floyd county, subject to the action of the Democratic party. This may seem unusual as the race does not occur until the fall of 1948, but I do this with full respect to the would-be candidates for the same office and in fairness to the voters.

In the eyes of professional politicians this office may be considered small but I feel that the office of the Magistrate and the duties of said office are of the very gravest importance and justify plenty of time for the voters' consideration.

Your consideration, your influence and your votes will be deeply appreciated by one who will endeavor to his utmost to serve your best interests. I remain,

Your servant,

FOR STATE SENATOR

In announcing my candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Senator from the 29th Senatorial district (Floyd, Knott and Martin counties), I ask the support of the people of these three counties upon my record.

During the term I have served you as your State Senator I have never missed a Senate rollcall at either the 1944 or 1946 sessions of the Legislature. I introduced and helped to enact the compulsory Workmen's Compensation bill for protection and aid of thousands hitherto enjoying no such benefits; and, in all school matters, I voted 100 per cent for all beneficial school legislation.

I have served the people as best I could and gladly submit my record for your investigation. I will appreciate the support of you all. (Pol. adv.) DOUG HAYS

Floyd County Times

OFFICIAL ORGAN FOR FLOYD COUNTY, KY.

Published Every Thursday by PRESTONSBURG PUBLISHING CO.
Entered as second class matter June 18, 1927, at the postoffice at Prestonsburg, Ky., under the act of March 3, 1879.

THIS IS WORTH A TRIAL

NONE has made so bold as to venture an estimate of the annual damage created in Floyd county by forest fires. And no responsible person will, for there are too many imponderables that enter into the matter.

What happens over the 176,348 acres of timberland in this county as fire sweeps the hillsides is a story that cannot be told. For it is as much a thing of the future as of the present. The observer can easily see that valuable timber is being destroyed, that wildlife is being burned alive or harried from native shelters, that the "scorched earth policy" is one of intense destruction. But none can estimate the damage that will remain over the years from such destruction—the lasting damage to soil through erosion and flood or the continuing loss of vegetation by death in the flames or by retarded growth.

As vastly unguessable as all this is, however, there now is presented to the fiscal court of Floyd county this one fact from which guess-work has been extracted:

At a cost not to exceed $1763.48 per year, or one cent for each acre of timberland in the county, real and effective fire protection may be had.

Senate Bill No. 144, enacted at the 1942 session of the State Legislature, enables any county to co-operate in this way with the Division of Forestry.

Such co-operation, already effective in some counties of the state, is proving, we are told, a very real deterrent to forest destruction by fire. In this county it would mean that a fulltime fire warden would be appointed at an adequate salary, fire towers would be built at strategic points, modern firefighting equipment would be made available and firefighting units would be established over the county and the men who compose these units paid for the time spent in fighting woodland blazes.

To this $1763.48 Floyd county would contribute the federal government would add twice as much—and state and national funds in addition would supply whatever other sum is needed each year to do the job right.

This, we are assured, would in no wise smack of the pitiful mockery of fire protection that was made a few years ago, when a forest district comprising a small portion of the county was established, then, to all intents and purposes, forgotten. This plan provides for the fulltime employment of a fire warden whose sole business it will be to stop forest fires.

The subject of forest fires quite appropriately claimed an important part of Circuit Judge E. P. Hill's instructions to the grand jury here recently. Judge Hill, a conservationist with thought to the future of the county, expressed concern for youngsters now in school who are to live and draw their sustenance from these hills, years hence.

This is a subject the fiscal court can as appropriately, and more effectively than any other group of citizens, give attention.

The fiscal court spends the county's money on roads and bridges and other necessities of community life. Its members consider their respective districts' needs in spending this money as wisely as possible. Heretofore, they have not spent money in this work of conservation, a work that vitally concerns every district of the county, because no effective plan has been presented to them.

Now, with such benefits offered at low cost, let us hope the court adds forest fire protection to the county-sponsored projects intended for the benefit of all citizens.

The least that can be said for such a measure is—it is worth a trial.

With some of his neighbors, he started in pursuit of his brother. They overtook him in what is known as Doty Gap. Reece discovered his pursuers, and seeing his inability to escape, sat down behind a large hollow tree, apparently to rest, and pushed the money up in the doxy, or rotten, part of the tree. He denied any knowledge of the money when searched by his brother, but his brother, having seen him sit by the tree, found the money in the doxy of the tree. Andy did not mistreat his brother, but reprimanded him in a nice way. Forever after, these creeks have been known as Big and Little Doty."

WE'RE IN THE CLEAR
Prestonsburg's schools last week read without the least bit of dismay of a Sturgis, Ky., pastor raising the well-known roof because the schools there are aiding and abetting lotteries through school children.

For Prestonsburg's schools have quit all that, they say.

Time was when this description by the Sturgis minister of conditions there applied here:

"The students sell chances on school premises and from house to house on every conceivable item from pies, cakes and candies to turkeys . . ."

The people down Sturgis-way, we are told, are not taking the minister's complaints seriously. So what! is their reaction. It's been done for 40 years, the money thus raised has been spent for the schools and could not have been raised otherwise. And, besides, there isn't a case on record of anybody taking up gambling as a result of selling chances.

THE TIMES has never been right clear on this matter. It hasn't developed any definite ideas about this business of taking a chance. Since Biblical days folks have been gambling in some form or another. The old game of casting lots is mentioned back then, and folks have been laying their chances, their money or their ambitions on the line ever since.

One thing we are clear about and that is this:

If it is illegal to gamble, in a game of chance or otherwise, in one fashion, it should be illegal in any other.

We develop a slow "burn" when we hear of some one-galhis guy being fined or jailed for winning a quarter or so in a penny-ante game while the big boys get by while winning and losing hundreds, even thousands. We feel like echoing the age-old yelp, "There ain't no justice," when we see the law cracking down on the boys at home, then permitting street carnivals to operate with impunity every skin game the ingenuity of man has conceived.

And why, may we ask, is it unlawful to operate a slot machine, one-armed bandit that it is, while a punch board that will shadow-box you dizzy is persona gratis? You don't have to be any older to take a punch at the elusive lucky number than to pull the bandit's "arm."

Oh, well . . . This gambling business is one that takes you 'way back. If you want to get down to the hair-splitting stage, you can call every man in business, in politics, in the professions a gambler. Even life itself, they tell us, is a gamble. Besides, "taking a chance" was getting unpopular with some of us whose luck seems to have played out.

NEWS FOR THE FARMER

To aid farmers in maintaining the fertility of Kentucky soil, $7,451,000 of the proposed 1947 Agricultural Conservation Program funds have been allocated to the state this year. M. D. Royse, State Director of the Production and Marketing Administration, announced this week.

As in past years, these funds will be used to repay a part of the farmers' costs for approved conservation practices on their farms during the year or to furnish certain materials, such as lime and phosphate, used in carrying out these practices.

Soil conserving and soil building practices for which the funds may be used were selected from among those recommended by elected farmer-committeemen in the counties.

Practices approved in this statewide conservation program for 1947 include spreading of ground limestone on farm land; applying phosphate to eligible grasses and legumes; applying potash to grasses and legumes; seeding winter cover crops; turning under green manure crops; establishing or improving permanent pasture; constructing stockwater dams and ponds; planting row crops on the contour; terracing and ditching land to reduce erosion and conserve moisture; draining wet land; planting forest trees, and harvesting needed legume seeds.

Each farmer in Kentucky will be able to qualify for assistance in carrying out any of these approved practices needed on his farm. To insure an equitable distribution of the funds, a farm allowance is set up for each farm in the state. This allowance is based on the cropland and non-crop pasture in the farm.

Specifications for each approved practice and maximum rates of payment for 1947 have already been determined and may be obtained from county ACP officers.

While farmers have carried out many soil conserving practices in the conservation programs of recent years, only a start has been made in the total job that needs to be done. According to recent estimates of soil conservationists, the following are some of Kentucky's most urgent conservation needs:

(1) A basic application of 16 million tons of lime to approximately three million acres of farm land. Even after this basic application, farmers would need to spread one and a half million tons of lime annually to maintain soil fertility in the state. Of the state's entire cropland acreage, all but about two million acres need lime.

(2) Application of 183,000 tons of phosphate annually. In terms of 20 percent phosphate material, this would mean an annual application of nearly a million tons.

(3) Application of approximately 90,000 tons of potash annually.

(4) Seeding of winter cover crops on approximately 2.5 million acres planted each year to cultivated crops and on about three million acres of lespedeza sod.

(5) Improvement of four million acres of pasture land by treatments such as fertilizer applications and additional seedings; and establishment of 2.5 million acres of new pasture.

(6) Construction of 180,000 farm stockwater ponds.

(7) Contour planting of more than two million acres of row crops annually.

THERE'S A GREAT DAY COMING HERE

There's EXTRA SAFETY in the Tire that OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES

While many postwar products are still in the dream stage, one is not... the new postwar B.F. Goodrich Silvertown that OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES.

It's been produced... and what is more... in the past twelve months it's been delivered to car owners in greater quantities than any tire in B. F. Goodrich history.

Of course, many car owners have heard about the thousands of extra miles of service from the broader, flatter tread that covers more road area and gives greater protection against skidding. They know about the 35% stronger cord body that gives better resistance to road shocks and bruising. It's no wonder the factory's outstanding production has been taxed keeping up with this extra demand.

But this is one product you can take out of your dream book... it's here. If you'll be needing new tires soon... check with us today for the tire that's worth much more but costs no more—the B.F. Goodrich Silvertown that OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES.

This was in reply to Clark's contention that in the recent coal mine strike, Lewis and the UMW had persisted in the policy of "continued defiance toward the law, the courts and the rights of the people of the United States."

Justice Frankfurter broke in the argument at one point to say that it was "important" to determine whether, assuming that Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough had no right to issue a restraining order, the union could "flout such an order" after it was issued.

Joseph A. Padway, counsel for the American Federation of Labor, said the union contended that Judge Goldsborough's court lacked jurisdiction to entertain the government's request for the restraining order.

When Frankfurter asked for more argument on the point he raised, Padway said he had not had time to present further argument on this phase.

Hopkins argued for the union with finger-shaking gestures, that the government erred in citing the defendants for both criminal and civil contempt. He further declared it was not until Dec. 4, the date Judge Goldsborough imposed the fines, that the defendants were told the specific charges against them.
