IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our dear loving daughter and sister, Mary Nevelle Martin, who died of a ruptured appendix in Martin General hospital Jan. 27, 1943:

That lonesome month is here again, It is the month of January in which our loved one Departed from us—the one we will always long remember.

Now the home is so sad and lonely since you have gone away, But I pray to God in heaven that we will meet again some day.

With tears in my eyes I'm always looking at your picture that sits on the stand, those dimples and that sweet smile. With kindly deeds you filled the years, then, smilingly, you slipped away. Oh, how empty did our lives become four years ago—that is when you went away, what happy days we once enjoyed when we were all together. But, oh, how changed it all is now since you have gone forever. Some day I'm going to meet you, just how long I cannot tell. Though we travel slow I too will claim eternity and find my way to you. Taken so quickly, why should it be? But God doeth all things well.

Sadly missed by one and all and family, Father and Mother, MR. AND MRS. LECK MARTIN (It.)

PRESTONSBURG NATIVE LISTED IN DISTINGUISHED FAMILIES

A native Prestonsburg woman is listed in a new volume called "Burke's Distinguished Families of America" which, according to an Associated Press dispatch, made its appearance in London, England, recently, "minus the names of such families as the Trumans, Roosevelts and Elsenhowers."

The book listed Mrs. John Randolph Clarke, of St. Albans, W. Va., and said "she is definitely of the same family" as the Earl of Beauchamp (pronounced Beech'amp), whose family name is Lygon.

Mrs. Clarke, daughter of Mrs. Osa Fitzpatrick Lygon, Prestonsburg, and the late C. Y. Lygon, said that her family had adopted the American spelling of Lygon, and that she is eighth in the descent from Lt. Col. Thomas Lygon, a younger son of the family, who settled in Virginia sometime between 1620 and 1640 and was a member of the House of Burgesses in 1655 while a resident of Henrico county in which the city of Richmond is situated.

The line of descent is through his son Richard, also of Henrico; Matthew, who married a girl from Goochland county, Va.; Richard of Chesterfield county, Va.; Joseph of Louisa county, Va.; Dr. Lattisberry Lygon, who moved to Nelson county, Va.; Dr. John Lygon, born at Lovington, Nelson county, and moved to Pocahontas county, W. Va., and Charles Yancey Lygon, father of Mrs. Clarke, who was born at Prestonsburg, Ky., and christened Sallie Gatewood Lygon. She was named for her paternal grandmother, Sallie Gatewood Warwick, a descendant of Jacob Warwick, who fought in the battle of Point Pleasant.

Mrs. Clarke said the first international reunion of the Lygon-Lygon family was held in 1937 in the Jefferson hotel, Richmond, Va. The reunion was attended by the seventh Earl of Beauchamp, Knight of the Order of the Garter, who has received various decorations and honors.

To America's Producers, America's Thanks!

As this new year begins, America's ranchers and farmers are busy with their winter work—feeding and caring for their livestock. And all America is again properly grateful to you who produce the food to keep us the world's best fed people. To you who ride the range from Montana to Texas... whose teams and tractors till the nation's fertile acres... who have labored hard, long hours... who, with soil and seed, sunshine and rain, grass and grain, have achieved miracle after miracle of food production—to you America gives thanks! Thanks for the part you have had in all-time record crops of wheat and corn... for bumper yields of small grains... for livestock numbers at high levels... for soaring dairy and poultry production. This abundance of food which you have produced means better nutrition for millions of families—because good nutrition is just good food that's good for you. Vital as it is, production is only part of the nutritional job. Food must be processed. It has to be transported from surplus-producing areas to the markets where there are great numbers of people to eat it. Here is where Swift & Company comes into the picture. It's our job to provide many of the services required in bringing the foods which you produce to the dinner tables of the nation. Together we are in a vitally important industry. Because nutrition is our business and yours, together we can help build a stronger, healthier America.

Meat Packers' Risks Meat is perishable. It cannot be held for prices to go up. Like all meat packers, Swift & Company must sell, within a few days, this perishable product for what it will bring—no matter what price we paid for it. We take risks in both buying and selling. In buying livestock the meat packer must pay the price established by competitive bidding of over 26,000 slaughterers. If the meat packer overestimates the quality of an animal, or the amount of meat the animal will produce, or the market demand for the meat, he will lose money. Hidden bruises, wounds, or other defects can create losses on any animal. In selling, the meat packer must also follow the market trends established by those who buy the meats. He stands the risk that meat demand will fall off and prices decline between the day he buys the livestock and the day he sells the meat—also the risk of accidents and delays in transit which can wash out his profit. An average profit of less than 2% on sales is a small return for taking these substantial business risks. F.M. Simpson, Agricultural Research Department

Things are NOT always as they seem But this big country consumes about 50,000,000 pounds of meat every day. So when you figure it out, this reserve supply in commercial storage is only enough to last 12 days. Yes, some meat is frozen during months of peak production and stored until months of low production. But practically all of the beef, veal and lamb that is in storage is the kind preferred for meat loaves, sausage, prepared meats—not the kind that goes over the butcher's block as steaks, roasts, chops, etc. Also, the amount frozen is relatively small, as it has never exceeded 1.9% of the annual beef production, 9.10 of 1% of the lamb, less than 6% of the pork.

Soda Bill Sez: ...that labor saved is money made. ...speak well of your enemies—you made them. He Puts the NEW in Nutrition We'd like you to meet a Swift scientist, Dr. H. W. Schultz. He is head of the nutrition division of our research laboratories. The work of Dr. Schultz and his associates is mighty important to all of us in the livestock-meat industry. They develop new products which open new markets for meats. This widens outlets for your livestock. Dr. Schultz is the father of three children. As a scientist he knew growing children needed the body-building proteins of meat. As a father he knew the trouble of scraping and straining meats for the baby and dicing meat for the older children. An idea was born: perhaps Swift & Company could discover a way to prepare canned meats suitable for babies. A research project was undertaken. The scientists went to work! The research took more than two years. The Swift people consulted with leading doctors, child specialists. They agreed that special meats for babies would be a good thing. Many methods of preparing various kinds of meats were tried. Hundreds of feeding tests were made by families with small children. Finally, six kinds of meat were approved by the doctors, nutritionists, mothers, and the babies themselves. Placed on the market in test cities, these products won immediate acceptance. They are now being sold in many cities, and facilities for their manufacture are being expanded. These new products—strained and diced meats for babies—create a big new market for meats. There are millions of baby appetites to satisfy.

Know—Don't guess—in 1947 by Tyrus R. Timm Texas A. & M. College An adequate record book is an extremely useful and valuable tool. It usually pays good dividends for the few minutes it takes out of the day's work to keep it up to date. Specifically, a record book helps a farmer or rancher: Operate in a businesslike way. Learn more about the details of his business than ever before. Know exactly how much he is making from his land and his work. Find out the weak spots in his enterprises. Tell whether or not his operations are working out as planned. Prepare a plan for future operations. Itemize investments, receipts, and expenses. Figure the efficiency of his production methods. Provide a record of all business transactions. Keep track of bills owed by or to the farm or ranch. Establish a sound basis for credit. Comply with government programs. Prepare income tax returns. There are farm and ranch record books especially prepared for each state which can help you save time and money. Write to your state agricultural college and obtain one. Properly used, it will give you a better understanding of your business and may open the way to increased profits.

Announcement

In order to avoid any misunderstanding in the next election for county officials, I hereby announce my intention to enter the race for Magistrate, District No. 1, Floyd county, subject to the action of the Democratic party. This may seem unusual as the race does not occur until the fall of 1948, but I do this with full respect to the would-be candidates for the same office and in fairness to the voters.

In the eyes of professional politicians this office may be considered small but I feel that the office of the Magistrate and the duties of said office are of the very gravest importance and justify plenty of time for the voters' consideration.

Your consideration, your influence and your votes will be deeply appreciated by one who will endeavor to his utmost to serve your best interests. I remain,

Your servant,

Floyd-co. Red Cross Chapter Delegates Attend Berea

Delegates from Floyd County Chapter, American Red Cross, returned Thursday from the all-day round-table discussion held at Berea, where organization procedures for the March Red Cross Fund drive were discussed with representatives of 25 other chapters from Eastern and Central Kentucky.

Centered around the 1947 fund-raising theme, "The Red Cross Carries On," the conference had as its primary objective an exchange of ideas pertaining to the planning and operational phases of fund raising, so that every adult would be approached and asked to share the responsibilities for the maintenance of Red Cross services to their communities and to members of the armed forces, wherever they are. Emphasis was placed upon solicitation, information for volunteer workers, campaign reporting, and publicity.

Representing the Floyd County Chapter were Mrs. F. L. Heinze, chairman, and Miss Ella Noel C. White, executive secretary.

Says Business Is Not Roadhouse or Beer Joint

Editor of The Times:

On the night of January 11, 1947, at about 12:15 o'clock, Deputy Sheriff Harold Conn and a bunch of other laws came to my store and restaurant at Boldman, Ky., and forcibly entered without my consent and arrested Frank Hall, a neighbor boy, who was behaving himself perfectly. In just a few seconds Arthur Hall, a brother of Frank Hall, ran in at the store door and Deputy Conn charged in after him without my consent, which could have happened in your home of place of business. Arthur Hall hadn't been seen in my place for an hour and a half or more before he came in at my store door. A man dodging the law and running into the officers in front of any man's place or even a man's home would have run in at the first open door he came to.

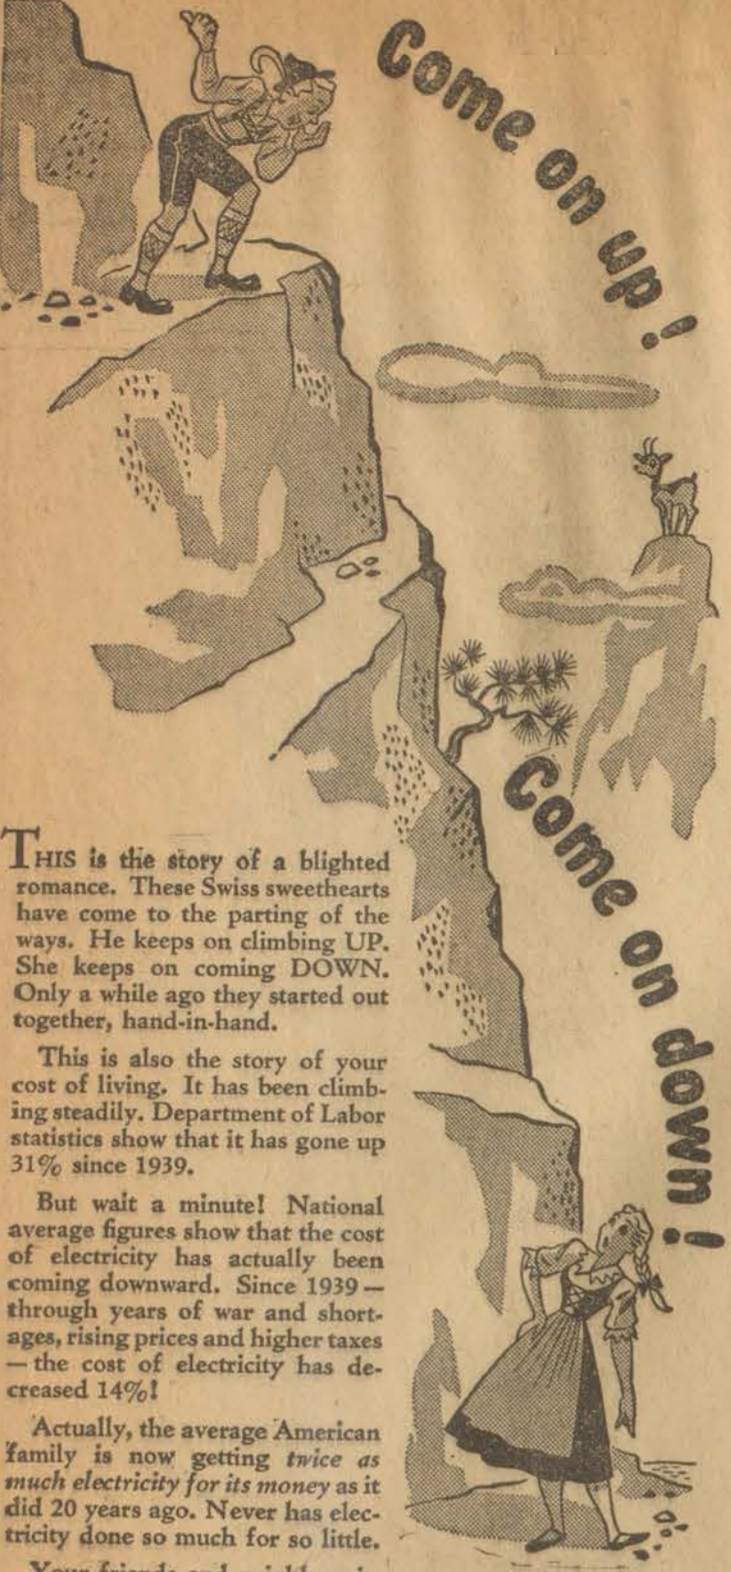

I want the citizens of Floyd county to know I am not running a roadhouse. My license from this county seat calls for a grocery store and the signs on the windows are plain—"Toler's General Merchandise." That's where the event happened. We have a piccolo machine in the store and restaurant which is all in the same room. I have a 21-room house which is rented for the purpose of living quarters. My renters are all of good character and are named as follows: Jim Ham, Ceely Robinson and her father, Whitsel Blair, Albert Tibbs, A. Womack and Milroy Damron.

I want the law to call on all of my renters and question them under oath as to what goes on around my place of business. Also the law is requested by me to question every citizen and all drunks if they ever bought or heard of any one buying liquor or beer from me or any one in my premises. Furthermore, if any of my renters are running a game of any kind in my premises, it is beyond my knowledge. I am between two liquor and two beer joints. Their trade comes to my place for eats. They have always been nice for drunk men. I do not approve of liquor or beer in any way. And while a drunk man comes around me I have it well understood that they respect me and my business.

I am not in the bed with no political clique or any outlaw clique. I am here as a business man, to make a legal and honest living.

I ask the law or whoever wrote the article in The Floyd County Times Thursday the 16th to correct that part of their statement describing my place as a roadhouse, or I will proceed with such legal steps as necessary for any damage to me. This is not a roadhouse and is as decent as any man's home.

For nearly two years I have scraped the country from state to state for food the people who have come from an area of 20 miles around to get scarcities to feed their families on. I am still at the people's service. The public is cordially invited to keep calling on me. No changes—just the law forced in against my will. B. H. TOLER

THIS is the story of a blighted romance. These Swiss sweethearts have come to the parting of the ways. He keeps on climbing UP. She keeps on coming DOWN. Only a while ago they started out together, hand-in-hand.

This is also the story of your cost of living. It has been climbing steadily. Department of Labor statistics show that it has gone up 31% since 1939.

But wait a minute! National average figures show that the cost of electricity has actually been coming downward. Since 1939—through years of war and shortages, rising prices and higher taxes—the cost of electricity has decreased 14%!

Actually, the average American family is now getting twice as much electricity for its money as it did 20 years ago. Never has electricity done so much for so little.

Your friends and neighbors in this company—under sound business management—made this possible. Your own increased use helped.

Messer-Robbins Wedding Solemnized December 21 At Pikeville Church

The wedding of Miss Harriet Elizabeth Messer, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Roscoe H. Messer of Garrett, and John T. Robbins, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Robbins of Boswell, Ind., was solemnized at 11 a. m. Saturday, Dec. 21, in the First Christian Church, Pikeville. The Rev. Mr. Haven officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin. Her double-tiered veil of illusion was held by a coronet of orange blossoms and extended the length of the train. She carried a colonial nosegay of white lilies and baby breath.

Miss Anna Mae Bailey was the maid of honor and wore a blue gown. The bridesmaids were Miss Joy Rastick, Garrett, Ky., and Miss Marie Villevik, Louisville. Their gowns were red. They all carried colonial nosegays of white carnations.

Additional Safeguards Suggested for Koppers

Several supplementary safeguards for life and property have been prescribed by a federal coal mine inspector for the 1,200-ton-a-day Weeksbury mine, near Weeksbury, the Bureau of Mines announced this week. Operated by the Koppers Coal Division of Eastern Gas and Fuel Associates, the mine employs 326 men. The property was inspected in October by Matthew J. Duncan in accordance with the Krug-Lewis agreement of May 29, 1946.

Although commending the removal of the blower fan and tubing from the mine and the installation of doors on main entries in pairs to form air-locks, the inspector said a similar air-lock should be provided at the 7 left booster fan installation, more air should be circulated in certain specified entries, crosscuts should be driven promptly and pre-shift fireboss examinations should be instituted. Each section foreman carried a permissible flame safety lamp and tested for gas in places visited, the safety report disclosed.

Since a previous inspection, mining machines have been frame grounded, Duncan stated in suggesting this protection for pumps. He also recommended the elimination of risky haulage practices, provision for unobstructed clearance and clean shelter areas along main haulageways and at main line track switches, use of permissible blasting units and incombustible stemming with explosives, prompt attention to unsafe roof in several locations, control of coal dust in the lipple and more extensive rock-dusting underground, additional guards for trolley wires and improved installation of a positive personal-checking plan.

of James E. McGlothen, who was killed on Jan. 27, 1945 in the service of his country:

We think of you in silence,
No eye may see us weep,
But many silent tears are shed
While others are asleep.

We are sad within our memory,
Lonely are our hearts today,
For the one we loved so dearly
Has been forever called away.

And we think of you in silence,
And your name we often recall,
There is nothing left to answer,
But your picture on the wall.

No one knows the many heartaches,
Only those who have lost can tell,
Of my grief that I keep in silence,
Of one I love so well.

We miss thy kind and willing hand,
Thy fond and earnest care,
Our home is dark without you,
We miss you everywhere.

We so lonely feel without you,
But it was God's blessed will,
While we loved you, oh, so dearly,
God loved you better still.

You did the task that was given you,
To make a better world,
You paid the supreme sacrifice, the message told,
So your star of blue was turned to gold.

Your cheerful ways, your smiling face,
Our pleasure to recall,
You had a kindly word for each,
And died for all.

Sadly missed by his mother,
(1) MRS. KATE MCGLOTHEN

All FORD Car Prices Reduced

As Much As $50 On Some Models

Ford Dealers hail the recent announcement of the Ford Motor Company, "We are reducing prices of all Ford cars—as much as $50 on some models," as the most important postwar step taken by the automobile industry.

In making this precedent-shattering move—another "Ford First"—the Company, with which we are proudly associated, is making a "down payment" toward a continued high level of production and employment in the months ahead.

We are proud too, that the Ford Motor Company was the only automobile manufacturer which did not increase prices of cars after decontrol last Fall.

Like the Ford Motor Company we have decided that now is the time for us to make an investment in the future.

As Ford Dealers we pledge ourselves to cooperate with Ford and with our customers to do everything within our power to hasten the return of the economic pattern which has helped to make America great.

Since war's end we have delivered many new Fords to waiting customers. We hope it will not be too long until all who have Fords on order will have their new cars.

FOR STATE SENATOR

In announcing my candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Senator from the 29th Senatorial district (Floyd, Knott and Martin counties), I ask the support of the people of these three counties upon my record.

During the term I have served you as your State Senator I have never missed a Senate rollcall at either the 1944 or 1946 sessions of the Legislature. I introduced and helped to enact the compulsory Workmen's Compensation bill for protection and aid of thousands hitherto enjoying no such benefits; and, in all school matters, I voted 100 per cent for all beneficial school legislation.

I have served the people as best I could, and gladly submit my record for your investigation. I will appreciate the support of you all.

RESOLUTION
Whereas, the practice of open betting or remarks pertaining thereto, and the display of money therefor is becoming very prevalent at all of our sports events and at our high school basketball games in particular, and

Whereas, such a practice, in our candid judgment, seems subversive to the real objectives of competitive school sports and contrary to the principles that our public schools are expected to teach, and

Whereas, to attempt to do nothing to correct this growing practice would in no small measure be a mark of discredit to our schools,

Be it therefore resolved: (1) That all the schools of the county through their principals and coaches and other important officials hereby express disfavor of such continued practice; (2) That we appeal to the public for its co-operation in this important matter; (3) That the public shall not misconstrue our real intentions as intruding upon its private liberties (for we do appreciate the patronage and the splendid co-operation the entire public gives our athletic program and we do respect the private rights of individuals); (4) That the text of this resolution be caused to be published through The Floyd County Times and a copy of same be posted at all times in each place where our sports events are conducted; and, finally (5) If there should be continued, pronounced disregard of this appeal, legal resort shall be used to eliminate such practice.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Willie Goes to School at 23

Everybody's joshing Willie Wells about going back to school. They remember when Willie would hide out in the woodshed—scared to bring his report card home to Pa.

But under the G.I. Bill of Rights, Willie (who has a wife and baby) is getting a free education at the Agricultural College. And Uncle Sam is giving him a fine report: "Department, excellent; Progress, above average."

That goes for all those undergraduate veterans. Like Willie, they appreciate an education more than ever now. They're industrious and well-behaved—their favorite beverage is milk, or a temperate glass of beer. For them the "three R's" seem to mean: Responsibility, Resourcefulness, Restraint.

From where I sit, cynical folks who thought veterans wouldn't want to return to school—wouldn't stick to steady habits of work and moderation—have their answer in "undergraduates" like Willie.

Ford Cuts Prices On Cars $15 to $50

The Ford Motor Company, Jan. 15, in a move to halt the spiral of mounting costs and prices, reduced the price of every Ford car from $15 to $50.

In making the announcement Henry Ford II, president, said, "Although more than one million of our customers are waiting for delivery of their cars at present prices, we are immediately reducing the price of every Ford car—some models as much as $50. This is a down payment toward a continued high level of production and employment in the months ahead. We believe that the shock treatment of prompt action is needed to halt the insane spiral of mounting costs and rising prices and to restore a sound base for the hopeful period of post-war production we are now entering."

The price reduction was disclosed in a press conference at Dearborn in which the entire policy committee of the Ford Motor Company participated. The new price scale was wired simultaneously to Ford dealers throughout the nation.

Mr. Ford said the company had made a modest profit for the last three months of 1946, and intended to continue to operate in the black. He said that the millions of dollars lost since V-J day had been accepted as "an item of the cost of a great and victorious war."

"Because they must build up depleted cash reserves or because they are still losing money, many businesses may not be able to follow suit," he said, "but we hope that our suppliers, our employees and our other economic partners will back, each to his own ability, our attempt to return to the economic pattern which has helped to make America great, the principle that high wages and a higher standard of living for us all depend upon lower costs and lower prices through increasingly efficient large scale production."
