Ag Teacher Here Named Commander By Legionnaires

R. L. Shepherd, Prestonsburg high school Agriculture teacher, was elected commander of Floyd Post, American Legion, at the Post's annual election of officers Friday evening.

Other officers elected at the meeting: Carl Comstock, of Allen, first vice-commander; Alvin Taylor, Prestonsburg, second vice-commander; Henry Martin, Prestonsburg, adjutant; Ed May, Prestonsburg, finance officer; Daniel S. Nessler, Prestonsburg, chaplain; James H. Trimble, Ivel, historian; Sam Hatcher, Prestonsburg, sergeant-at-arms.

The Post has changed its meeting dates to the second and fourth Fridays.

SECTION DOES NOT BENEFIT

From Freight Rate Reduction; We Are In Northern Area

Floyd county and the remainder of Eastern Kentucky are not "deep South" enough to benefit from the 10 per cent rail freight rate reduction approved by the Supreme Court this week.

Ashland and points along the Big Sandy, as well as Louisville and Ohio river towns, in the "official" area described by the Interstate Commerce Commission are in the "north" and so they do not benefit from the rate cut.

The reduction doesn't affect coal, anyway. It applies mainly to manufactured items.

Shipments of certain types of goods from the South to points in this section will bear 10 per cent less freight, once the court ruling is made final and the order is issued by the ICC.

Similar shipments from the north to points in this section will be 10 per cent higher.

P'BURG DOWNS ALLAIS, 39-6

Scorers Work Overtime At 'Track Meet' Here; Pikeville, W' Wright Win

A shortage of adding machine rolls threatened Prestonsburg Sunday as a corps of scorers rolled up their shirtsleeves and started totting up hits, runs, etcetera amassed during the afternoon's baseball game here between Prestonsburg and Allais of the Eastern Kentucky League.

Some idea of the scorers' task may be gained from the score: Prestonsburg, 39; Allais, 6.

Because of the paper shortage, no attempt is made here to deal with details of this track meet.

It is enough to say that Prestonsburg batters teed off on a trio of Allais fingers for four triples, seven doubles and 20 singles, meanwhile stealing 12 bases, taking advantage of eight Allais errors and scoring at will in this fashion: eight runs in the second inning, seven in the third, five in the fifth, five in the examination here for the $300-a-year scholarship offered by Pikeville College to a Floyd high school graduate.

The two seniors attaining the highest rating in each of the three counties favored by Inland Steel will later go to Lexington as the company's guests to enter a final examination which will narrow the list of competitors to three as scholarship recipients.

Princess Ekhorn this year will award four-year University of Kentucky scholarships to two boys-graduates, two-year Pikeville College scholarships to two girls and high school scholarships to two boys and two girls at Stewart-Robinson.

TWO BLAZES CAUSE LOSS OF $15,000

Fire Monday Razes 4 Emma Buildings; Blaze Ruins Cars

Work of a bucket brigade and absence of wind perhaps saved greater part of the town of Emma, eight miles from here, from destruction Monday afternoon as fire swept through a residence, store, garage and barn.

The loss ranged from $10,000 to $12,000, it was estimated. Owners of the razed buildings had no insurance, it was said.

The fire started from a cook stove in the kitchen of the Billy Hunt home, near the north end of the bridge spanning Big Sandy, then spread to the adjoining store of Larcy Goble. Across the street, the private garage of Lon Childers took fire and was destroyed.

Quilts and blankets soaked with water sheltered the walls of nearby frame buildings from the flames.

At Auxier Saturday night, two camp cars of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company burned and a third was badly damaged, with the total loss being placed at $5,000.

While work on all three new operations has already been started or will be started during 1947, a period of two years will be required to finish the installations and obtain full production.

PATROL BEGINS SAFETY CHECK

To Order Correction Of Defects in Autos; Gilliam Cites Record

A highway traffic safety check including brakes, lights, tires, windshield wipers and horns covering all highways of Kentucky was inaugurated today (Thursday) by the Kentucky Highway Patrol in cooperation with adjoining states.

"Today's cars are old cars," Colonel Hayward Gilliam, director of the Patrol, said in announcing the check-up.

"Highway traffic accidents in Kentucky killed 424 people in 1943. In 1946 there were 700 killed. Many of these accidents were traced to faulty brakes or lights; in many cases other minor defects, quickly and easily adjusted by competent mechanics, might have saved a life.

Floyd, Pike School Teams To Draw Here For Tourney Matches

Representatives of Floyd and Pike county high school baseball teams will draw here Saturday morning at 11 o'clock for position in the district baseball tournament to be held here May 29-31, David B. Leslie, Prestonsburg coach and tournament manager, said Tuesday.

There are 20 high school teams in the two counties, and Mr. Leslie expects most of them to participate in the three-day tournament. The winner will represent this district in the regional tourney at Morehead, playing for a berth in the state meet at Louisville. The regional will be held June 6-7.

Winner of the district championship will receive a cup from the Bank Josephine and the runner-up cup award will be made by the First National Bank.

First Services in New Structure To Be Held Sunday Morning, Eve

Although the new building of Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church on First avenue is not expected to be completed before mid-July, the pastor, the Rev. Everett L. Branham, announced this week that both morning and evening church services will be held in the basement of the new structure Sunday, with the morning service at 11 and the evening service at 7:30.

The Baptist Sunday School will continue to be held in the Presbyterian Church, however, until further progress on the new building is made.

Even though completion of the church building is believed only two months away, the problem of seating remains, it was said, and this may delay dedication of the edifice for some time after it is completed.

CONSOL PLANS 3 NEW MINES

To Honor Three Men, Including "Bad John" Wright, Announcement

Plans of the Consolidation Coal Company to open three new coal mines were announced last week by S. M. Cassidy, president of Consolidation (Ky.) at his Jenkins headquarters.

While work on all three new operations has already been started or will be started during 1947, a period of two years will be required to finish the installations and obtain full production.

The Hendrix mine is named for Arthur Ray Hendrix, a paratrooper hero of World War II, who was the first Consol mine employee to lose his life, which occurred on the second day of the Sicilian invasion.

The Hendrix mine in the No. 3 Elkhorn seam will be served by both the L. & N. and C. & O. railroads.

Consolidation will invest approximately $2,000,000 in the Hendrix mine.

PEACH CROP LOSS HEAVY

Frost Kills Garden Plants, But Apples Are Little Damaged

Plant and seed dealers are probably in for their biggest year in this section, with last week's heavy frost making re-planting necessary in almost every garden.

Tomatoes and beans, excepting in a few spots along the river, were wiped out by the frost.

But an irreplaceable loss was suffered when the "white plague" destroyed greater part of what appeared to be the county's heaviest peach crop in years.

Peaches that appear to be unhurt may later fall, Mr. Isbell said. He explained a method of testing damage, which consists of slicing the peach across and examining the heart of the young fruit.

Some early sweet corn was hurt by the frost. Potatoes were hurt, Mr. Isbell said, but will come back, as will most grapes. Cherries escaped heavy damage along with apples, he added.

"I am more convinced than ever," Mr. Isbell said, "that an old agriculture bulletin I have is right. It places the safe planting date for beans, tomatoes and the like in Floyd county at May 10. Last week's frost proves that date is better than Good Friday."

Floyd Group Recognized as Singers Of Chants Akin to Ancient Rome's

(Editor's note: For an interesting appraisal of Floyd County's Plain Song Chanters from the fresh and refreshing viewpoint of the "outsider" The Times publishes the following story released by the National Folk Festival.)

By LILLIAN WRIGHT LIOSNOFF

A dozen men, and a woman in a linsley-woolsey dress, stand silhouetted against the hills of the Kentucky mountains one spring day, when the dogwood is blooming, and solemn and clear on the Sabbath air sounds a hill song so akin to the ancient Gregorian Chant of early Rome that the centuries fade out as one listens to the fervent voices, and the feeling comes that this modern world is the dream, and the sixth century, the reality.

The singers are the Plain Song Chanters of Prestonsburg, Ky., and their friend and neighbor, Edith Fitzpatrick James, who is bringing them to take part in the National Folk Festival, May 21-22 inclusive, at Kiel Auditorium Opera House, St. Louis. The Festival which will bring together groups from 25 states and Canada, is sponsored by the Associated Retailers of St. Louis.

The Twentieth century is all around the Chanters but it doesn't affect them. The voices of the men are untrained, their words are harsh, but the style of their singing is as

Betsy Layne, Allen, Maytown Girls Win In Demonstrations

Rally day for Floyd county 4-H Clubs drew to Prestonsburg last Wednesday 178 4-H'ers, club leaders and friends of the farm youth movement.

Nine demonstrations featured the day-long program, with Miss Lydia Sutherland, of the University of Kentucky, and field agent in club work, judging the style show, team and individual demonstrations.

Winning the team demonstration competition were Misses Yvonne Bryant and Emogene Moore, of the Betsy Layne club, who demonstrated "Good Moves for Any Girl."

All club girls taking sewing as a project entered the style show which was won by Miss Janet Sue Collins, of Maytown, with the project, "Making a School Dress."

The four girls winning in demonstration contests will be given a free trip to Junior Week at Lexington as a reward for their achievements at rally day here.

RESUME WORK ON JOHNS CR.

Ryan Mobilizing Forces for Season; Reagan, New Super

Actual work on the Dewey dam was resumed last week after a shutdown for the winter months.

As labor forces of the Ryan Construction Company are being mobilized for the year's work on the reservoir project, activities at the dam during these first few days after resumption of work have included cleaning up the tunnel, excavation at the lower outlet works and excavation for the spillway.

Earl Reagan is the new superintendent of the construction company on the project.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sandige and little daughter, Harriet, spent Sunday with relatives here.

natural to them as living and breathing, for it's the way they sing at their church meetings up the hills.

It's the way they might sing as they nail shingles on a corn-crib, or while attending a hillside burying or plowing a field.

One day she heard a boys' choir chanting and it sounded so much like the tunes she had heard in up-hollow schoolhouse-churches back home, that she was impressed.

Thrilled by the belief that she had discovered the origin of the peculiar manner of chanting songs at home, she took a special course in the Plain Song. When she returned home from the conservatory, she commenced to collect the old tunes and ballads.

Mrs. James did more and more investigating, and finally music authorities agreed that she was correct in her belief that the Gregorian chanting style of singing had been preserved in the Kentucky mountains where it was brought by pioneer settlers whose heritage of song had come with them from their European homes.

She began to record the songs for the Library of Congress, and organizing a group of singers to work with her.

Her group includes preachers, farmers, carpenters and a deputy sheriff, her husband. There are also women members whose hand-woven coverlets, hand-made rugs, home-spun curtain cloth, and hand-made antimacassars decorate Mrs. James' own home.

As you listen to them you will hear voices singing tunes of the Sixteenth Century England in a Sixth Century manner. Maybe it will be the old ballad, "Hangman," or "Barbara Allen," that Samuel Pepys mentions in his diary, songs one could term "modern" in comparison to the manner in which they are sung.

There are various types of ballads found in the Kentucky mountains. (See Story No. 2, Page 4)

PRICE, TEACHERS' ASS'N PRESIDENT, ASKS LEGISLATORS TO GUARANTEE GOVERNOR THEY WILL STICK TO SPECIAL SESSION PURPOSE

Walter C. Price, Morehead high school principal and president of the Rowan County Teachers Association, recently called on Governor Simeon S. Willis to convene a special session of the Legislature for the purpose of making a $10,500,000 appropriation to raise the pay of Kentucky teachers.

In letters addressed to the state senator and representative from the Rowan district, the Association said: "It has been rumored . . . that Governor Willis has refused to call a special session of the Legislature because he fears the legislators might take advantage of the situation."

"It has been further rumored" the Association wrote, "that the Governor might call the special session if enough legislators would commit themselves to consider only school legislation and then adjourn."

The Association asked its legislators if they are willing to make such commitments.

(It was pointed out here this week that no such threat of legislators "taking advantage of the situation"

Government Concludes Hearing Of Testimony in May Case

The three-weeks-long effort of the federal government to prove that Ex-Congressman A. J. May, of Prestonsburg, is guilty of accepting $55,000 to help the Garsson interests build a giant wartime munitions combine ended in Washington Wednesday.

Mr. May's defense will require as long, it is believed, and end of the trial is not expected before June.

Evidence to be marshalled by the defense will seek to show that the Prestonsburg man did not benefit financially or otherwise from his activities while chairman of the House Military Affairs Committee and that all money handled by the defendant was spent for the Garsson in an effort to expedite production of timber needed in the war effort.

The trial from day to day, as reported by the daily press: THURSDAY, May 8—Robert May testified today at the war fraud trial of his father, Andrew J. May, that two checks for $1,000 cashed by the elder May in 1944 were "political contributions."

MUD CR. MAN IN JAIL HERE FOR SLAYING

Drink Blamed in Death Of Harold Hamilton By Blast of Shotgun

Wilburn Johnson, 24-year-old miner, of Beaver, is held in the county jail here, awaiting examining trial Saturday for the shotgun slaying of his neighbor, Harold Hamilton, 29, and also a miner.

Hamilton died at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, at 1:35 a. m., Tuesday, of gangrene and other effects of the blast which was fired into his right arm, near the shoulder, at close range late Saturday afternoon. The arm was amputated in an effort to save his life.

According to information gathered by Sheriff Troy B. Sturgill and deputies, the two men were drinking while en route to Mud Creek from Pike county where they had been working together. On Tinker Fork they engaged in a fight, with Hamilton checking Johnson. After this encounter, officials said they were told, Johnson went to his home, procured his shotgun and, returning, fired the shot into Hamilton's body.

Sheriff Sturgill quoted a brother of the victim as saying that when Johnson leveled the shotgun at him, Hamilton begged for his life, offering the other a drink of whiskey, if he wouldn't shoot. Then, this version of the shooting continues, when Johnson continued to hold his gun in firing position, Hamilton dived at him as the shot was fired.

Johnson declined to comment on the shooting when questioned at the jail Wednesday afternoon.

Hamilton, a son of the late Thomas Hamilton, is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ethel Hamilton, five children, Thomas, Rebecca Jane, Pauline, Beulah and an infant son, his mother, Mrs. Liza Jane Hamilton, five brothers and three sisters, Andy, John D., Hillard, Homer and Henry Hamilton, Mrs. John Cross, Mrs. Alfred Reynolds, and Mrs. Mack Hamilton, all of the Beaver section.

Funeral rites were conducted Wednesday from the Hamilton residence, the Rev. John B. Hamilton officiating. Burial in the family cemetery was directed by the Ryan Funeral Home.

Batavia plant, once an explanation of a reduction in a contract for army truck bodies. Somerville could not recall ever having received similar requests from May for any other contractor.
Brig. Gen. Miles Reber, wartime chief of the Legislative Liaison Service of the War Department, told of being called into conference with May about S/Sgt. Albert Freeman, son of Joseph Freeman. Reber said he was unable to help in bringing young Freeman home from Guam after Freeman's return.

After Freeman's return, however, Reber agreed to arrange for his admission to Walter Reed hospital for a physical check-up to determine whether he was fit for further overseas service or whether he should be transferred to non-combatant duty with the Chemical Warfare Service.

On cross-examination of the witness, Austin Canfield, Freeman's attorney, made it clear the defense will try to prove young Freeman sought help to stay in the army when he was faced with medical discharge. General Reber could not remember conversations tending to prove this assertion, but admitted they might have been held.

Col. Hgrold E. Brooks, personnel director of the Chemical Warfare Service, told of the effort made by May in behalf of Capt. Joseph Garsson, Murray's son, who was court-martialed in France in 1945. Freeman brought him a letter addressed to General Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Warren Magee, attorney for the 72-year-old Kentuckian, produced a written list of Congressmen he said had intervened with the War Department.
The list came up during testimony by Col. Clarence J. Haddock, Jr., army liaison man for the House Military Committee, which May headed for years.

Hauk identified it as a record of the names of House members for whom he wrote letters "taking action on requests regarding army personnel." The list covers the period from Feb. 1944, to date.
Magee told a reporter he will offer it in evidence when the defense begins presenting its case.

Hauk testified yesterday that May, Freeman and Murray Garsson talked to him on 15 or 20 different occasions about deferments or other special treatment for 40 to 45 individuals either in army service or eligible for induction.
The name of General Eisenhower came up in Hauk's testimony on the court-martial matter. Hauk in an envelope bearing May's frank. Brooks gave the letter to Maj. Gen. Alden Walt, chief of C.W.S., who took it to Europe and delivered it.

In an attempt to avoid calling General Eisenhower, Paisley tried to get the letter into the record at that point, but defense objections made it virtually certain the chief of staff will have to take the stand to identify it.

The record shows that Garsson was found guilty of refusing to place his mortar company in a dangerous position which he considered tactically suicidal. In this opinion he was supported by most of the witnesses at the court-martial and the entire court that found him guilty recommended that sentence be suspended. This was done.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, army chief of staff, has been subpoenaed as a defense witness in the trial.

Counsel for May disclosed this today but indicated to reporters that Eisenhower would not be called to the stand until the defense begins presentation of its case.

Secretary of State Marshall, former chief of staff, was subpoenaed last Monday, but the court excused him until the defense is actually ready to call him to the stand.

The defense counsel have promised to show that May was not the only Congressman who asked special treatment for certain soldiers during the war.

Warren Magee, attorney for the 72-year-old Kentuckian, produced a written list of Congressmen he said had intervened with the War Department.

The list came up during testimony by Col. Clarence J. Haddock, Jr., army liaison man for the House Military Committee, which May headed for years.

said he advised May to write direct to Eisenhower, then Allied commander in Europe. He said May did so.

An initial attempt by Magee to go into alleged instances of intervention by other Congressmen was cut off by Justice Henry A. Schweinhaut. The court ruled that those cases had nothing to do with May's trial.

TUESDAY—A New York banker said today war contractor Murray Garsson paid off an overdue $5,000 debt for former Kentucky Congressman May.

Secretary of War Patterson said that on three occasions May asked him for help for munitions firms in which Murray Garsson was interested.

These two pieces of evidence virtually ended the government's three-week-long case.

The banker was Harry G. Barber, executive vice-president of the National Bronx Bank of New York.

He said that on June 4, 1942 his bank had among its assets four notes for $1,250 each, signed by Andrew J. May and deposited by the Wiltour Corporation, a New York realty firm controlled by Representative Charles Buckley, Democrat, of the Bronx.

On that day, he said Joseph Freeman presented a check for $10,000 drawn by R. I. Kern on the Royal Bank of Canada in the favor of Murray Garsson. The check was endorsed by Garsson.

He was told that Garsson was unable to appear in person because of illness. Other bank officers vouched for Murray's signature on the endorsement, he said, so he cashed the check and delivered the May notes (amounting to $5,261.24 with interest) and $4,738.76 change to Freeman.

Defense attorneys have indicated that they will explain away some $55,000 of other funds deposited to May's accounts by the Garssons. They have promised to show that equal amounts were checked out for legitimate purposes in furtherance of the Garssons' interests, not May's. Secretary Patterson followed to the stand a score of lesser lights in the War Department who have testified to favors sought by May for the Garssons and Freeman. Patterson was undersecretary at the time of the transactions.

On March 1, 1943, he said, May called to ask about a reduction of a War Department contract with the Batavia Metal Products Company, a Garsson firm.

Two years later, Patterson said, May called again, on March 24, 1945, to ask about an Army-Navy "E" award for the Batavia Company.

In September, 1945, May called Patterson to his office and introduced him to "two officials of the Erie Basin Metal Products Company," another Garsson firm. The officials whom he could not identify, protested the War Department's action in withholding about $800,000 funds from the company pending renegotiation proceedings. He referred them to another War Department officer and left, he said.

Asked whether May ever called on behalf of any other contractors, Patterson replied "probably he did, but I can't be specific about it."

On cross-examination, he admitted that he received "many" calls from other congressmen which he handled in the same way. May never asked him to do anything improper, he said.

The Fayette County Garden Club helped organize a men's garden club at the Veterans' hospital, Lexington.

sixth, 12 in the seventh. Any other runs necessary to make the total of 39 were made in odd innings while the runners were catching their breath.

Charlie Patton, starting his first game of the year, allowed five runs in the second and third innings. After that, he had the losers well in hand and showed flashes of his last year's form.

Next Sunday, Prestonsburg goes to Wheelwright. Big test of the young season for Prestonsburg comes on the following Sunday when Pikeville comes here.

AND WE'RE IN THE SIXTH!

IT IS encouraging to note that the Kentucky Highway Department and the Highway Patrol are committed to a policy of prosecuting persons guilty of dumping garbage and other refuse on state highway right-of-way.

The state's road right-of-way covers a lot of Kentucky territory that should be protected from abuse by persons who have little regard for either the state, its scenery or its inhabitants. And it is apparent that if state authority takes no action, none will be taken by any other source.

Three persons already have been fined $15 and costs, each, at Ashland for this offense. District Highway Engineer Kenneth G. Frye has stated similar action

H. B. Patrick was a business visitor in Lexington Tuesday, returning home Wednesday.

Mrs. C. L. Hutsinpiller and Mrs. E. P. Arnold spent Sunday in Huntington.

Dr. and Mrs. Marvin Ransdell, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Stansifer and Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Feller attended the funeral of Mrs. Ransdell's brother, Lt. Col. Lebus Johnson, in Owenton Sunday.

will be taken throughout the Sixth district.

For which reason The Times is glad Floyd county is in the Sixth district.

GIVE THEM CREDIT

THOSE who carry a chip on their shoulder for every industrialist are especially invited to consider the work the Princess Elkhorn Coal Company and the Inland Steel Company are doing as freewill contributions to the future of Floyd and adjoining counties.

We refer, in particular, to the investments these two companies are making in the education of young women and men of this section. Nobody asked them to set up scholarship funds to provide college educations for these youngsters. It was their idea, this investment. It is evident that the men with authority in the two firms believe in Eastern Kentucky and its youth and that they value the present and future of both above mere cash in the treasury.

You say, anybody with the resources of these companies could do as much as they? They could, but few do. Some firms with equal or greater financial strength do little or nothing that does not directly benefit them, even as a large percentage of individuals do.

It is a splendid thing Inland Steel, the veteran, and Princess Elkhorn, a comparative newcomer to this section, are doing. Give them full credit.

Inland Scholarship Students Are Cited At U.K. Honors Day

Nearly 800 outstanding University of Kentucky students, representing virtually every county in the state, were cited Wednesday for academic achievements, named winners of special awards and prizes on the basis of leadership, and announced as members of campus honor societies in the third observance of Honors Day at the University.

Dr. Raymond F. McLain, president of Transylvania College, addressed the special convocation called to honor the students on the subject, "The Fruit of the Tree." U.K. President Herman L. Donovan presided and Dr. Leo M. Chamberlain, vice-president of the University recognized the honor groups.

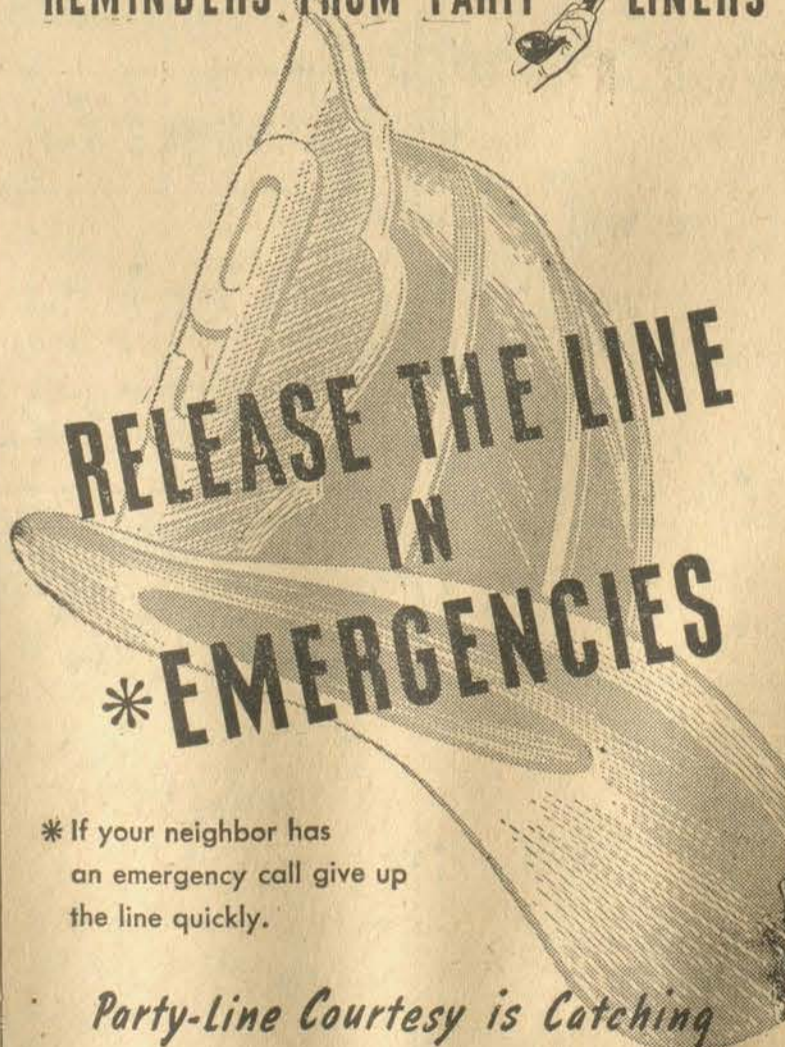

Included in the honor citations was: Inland Steel Company scholarships of two $400 awards to high school graduates of Floyd, Knott and Pike counties on the basis of competitive examinations to L. C. McCloud, Jr., Martin, and Edward L. Maggard, Hindman.

mine. All mining operations will be mechanized and all coal will be washed. Much of this equipment is already on order.

A second new mine will be in the No. 4 Elkhorn coal seam at Dunham on the C. & O. railroad and will be named for the late John Wesley Wright, known far and wide as "Uncle John," "Bad John" of the Cumberlands, "Devil John" and "The Tall Sycamore of the Elkhorn." John Wright's home for many years was where the main office building of Consolidation is now located at Jenkins. From the time of his service in the Confederate army until his death in 1931, his name was known throughout the mountains as a scourge to law-breakers. It was only to such law-breakers and feudists that the names "Devil" and "Bad" applied.

The third new operation will be known as Hill Mine, named for the late Robert C. Hill, first chairman of the board of the Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Company and for many years prior to the merger in the same capacity with the former Consolidation Coal Company. Hill mine is due to start production this year in the No. 3 Elkhorn coal with an ultimate output of 1,500 tons daily. An extension of one mile by the C. & O. railroad will be needed to serve its new tipple.

Installation of these three mines is not to increase production of the company as a whole, but mainly to replace tonnage that will shortly be lost due to gradual working out of the present Consol Mines No. 204, 206, 207 and 214. Of these, Mine 206 will finish this year, it was said.

All of the three new mines will have newest types of machinery and will be planned for the safest possible working conditions. Bathhouses and other facilities for the employees are so planned as to set new standards for the district. No houses will be built by the coal company, with good roads making all three mines readily accessible from surrounding towns.

PERSONALS

Alvin Taylor was a business visitor in Louisville, the first of the week.

Mrs. Jo M. Davidson and Mrs. Everett H. Sowards are in Ashland, guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Lay and Mr. and Mrs. John E. Layne. Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Kendrick, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Harris and children, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Harris and children, Mr. and Mrs. Bascom Harris and children, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Conn and children enjoyed a family dinner Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Harris, Jr., at Lancer.

Chester Meade, who has been receiving medical treatment in Louisville for several months, is spending the week here with his family. His condition is much improved.

Mrs. Norman Martin returned last week from a vacation spent in Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kelly visited his mother, Mrs. Mary Kelly, on Mother's Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ensminger. Another son, Arnold Kelly, of the Vocational School, Paintsville, also visited her.

Mrs. Harold Ensminger and mother, Mrs. Mary Kelly, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hager to Wheelwright where they attended services at the Freewill Baptist Church Sunday night.

Mrs. Sam Wells, at her Eighth street residence, received last week a new Cable Console Spinnet Piano, purchased from Brown's Piano Store, Prestonsburg, E. B. Brown, owner, Phone 5493.

Bill Darby, of The Times force, was a visitor here Wednesday after spending the last four months in Veterans hospital, Huntington, W. Va. Mr. Darby is now at his home near Emma and expects to return to work here about June 1.

Danville, Boyle county, again is making available a 7½-acre plot as a city garden project.

Approximately 1,600 cows have been signed up in the artificial breeding program in Graves county.

his coal-oil lantern in his hand. When we listen to them as they sing at the National Folk Festival, Mrs. George Cohen, of Mt. Vernon, was the guest, the latter part of the week, of Mrs. R. W. Feller and Mr. Feller.

"Dark and thorny was the desert Through which pilgrims make their way, Yet beyond this vale of sorrow Lies the fields of endless day . . ."

In remembrance we shall see the Chanters silhouetted against the Kentucky hills one Sabbath morning when the dogwood was in bloom.

Deputy Sheriff Harold Conn and Chief of Police Epp Laferty left Sunday to return Charlie DeLong from Orlando, Fla., for trial on a breaking and entering charge.

"When Jesus Christ was here below, He taught His people what to do, And if we would His precepts keep, We must descend to washing feet."

The Chanters have never received a fee for their singing. But they are becoming famous. They appeared in programs at the World's Fair in New York City. Most of them had never been further than Louisville, and some had not gone beyond Prestonsburg, New York City overpowered them. One asked to be baptized before going up to the top of the Empire State Building.

But when they sang in the Temple of Religion at the Fair, their manner was one of ease, for these were the songs they had always sung, "You've Got To Walk That Lonesome Valley," carried them back to their Kentucky hill homes, and it was the audience which was moved, not the Chanters.

When they appeared on the program at the National Folk Festival at Washington, Congressman Andrew J. May, of Prestonsburg, took the group to a night club dinner. During the floor show the Chanters stood up to get a better look. Sakes-a-mighty! Such carrying-on!

When it came time to start to the Festival at Washington, one of the Chanters who lives up Buffalo, 12 miles distant from Prestonsburg, had not shown up. There was no telephone and not much of a road. It was raining and the night was black as soot. Hours passed and dawn was near. They were to start by bus early that morning. Mrs. James was standing watching the road from a window. Down the road a light was bobbing. It was the missing Chanter slushing along with

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

By GORDON WILSON, Ph.D.
Western Kentucky Teachers' College Bowling Green, Ky.

THE PATH

WE hear little about paths now, especially since roads have become better and cars can take us "over the hills and far away." There was a time when paths were one of our chief means of getting anywhere. The roads themselves were little more than trails and were muddy in winter and dusty in summer. Besides, roads were relatively few in number, and we needed to cut across fields and woods when we started anywhere and did not want to exhaust ourselves merely by walking.

The path I remember best was the school path. We went up through one of our fields, by the tobacco barn, climbed the fence, and then set out through a half-mile of woods to the schoolhouse. Every day along this path was an adventure, for the trees, the wild flowers, the birds and the four-footed creatures were a part of that half-mile. The path was in no sense a direct line; it wobbled up through the woods, over the crest of a small divide, down another slant, across a brook, and finally up the last hill to the one-room schoolhouse. In the brook, or branch, were bright pebbles, good for sling-shots and also good to take to school to learn how to count. Along the path grew hickory and pawpaw, which make the best whistles and bark whips in the world. And the path had two branch paths that brought many other children, from further up the creek. Child love affairs and jealousies or even feuds often made the path as representative of human faults as great water courses or caravan routes of olden times.

Another path led across the field to our second-nearest neighbor's. Sometimes this path was plowed up, when the field was in corn or tobacco, and we had to find our way through the growing plants. By harvest time the path was always hard-patted-down and looked as if it had not been disturbed by the plow. Part of this path led across another small branch, where marsh plants grew, and where frogs croaked in spring and queer-looking ice spicules formed in winter. In this little branch bottom we found tracks of wild animals in the mud in summer or in the snow in winter, showing that the wildest creatures imaginable came almost to our very doors in their nightly prowling. Sometimes this little hollow could be mighty dark when we had been to spend the afternoon at Mr. Bob's and had stayed rather late. An occasional owl would greet us there and make our hair stand on end. Part of this was a sort of primitive fear that all of us had for anything in the wild; part of it was symbolical of the parental scolding that we expected when we had got home, because of our staying over time.

A path I very much liked wound around the hills to the home of my best boy friend. It started out from the school path just beyond the tobacco barn and looped around the hills, sometimes in the woods, sometimes at the edge of the fields. At one place it touched the bank of the creek, where the stream had washed out a cut in the edge of the hill. There is where I used to find the eels in spring, building their nests in the cold, clear water on the gravelly shallows. The hills by the path seemed tall, but now I know they were only steep. On their tops were hundreds of chestnut trees, always inviting in October after frosts had loosened the nuts from the burs. Again there was a chance of seeing wild creatures right in their own haunts, unforgettable glimpses of impressive facts about nature. I love the memory of that path because it was the one along which I walked when I first found the writings of Henry David Thoreau, in a book that my friend's sister had lent me. She was a school teacher and had lots of books, lots so far as our little world was concerned. In one of these I read as I went home late one Sunday afternoon the vivid account of the battle of the ants, which Thoreau witnessed as he lived at Walden Pond. Henceforth that range of hills became for me the very ones that surround Walden. And the little old path, long in disuse, was a way out to strange lands beyond the hills, lands perennially new because touched by the pens of writers who know no death.

CITY-OWNED UTILITIES PAY

Barbourville Water And Power Systems Clear in 8 Years

With a city-owned utilities system such as Prestonsburg's ownership of the gas and water companies serving the town, Barbourville, county seat of Knox county, has within the last eight years retired the last of $170,000 bonded indebtedness incurred in the purchase of water and electric systems operating in the town.

Immediately after retirement of this debt was made, it was announced that (1) there will be a reduction of approximately 12½ per cent in charges to power consumers, effective immediately; (2) the town plans additional street and sidewalk paving; (3) whiteway street lights will be installed as soon as possible; (4) the town plans to reduce its tax rate from 75 cents per $100 assessed valuation to 35 cents, giving Barbourville the lowest tax rate of any fourth-class city in Kentucky; and (5) residents of the town to receive free garbage collection and disposal service.

The utilities purchase, as in Prestonsburg, was financed by the issuance of revenue bonds, without any obligation on the part of the city. The bonds were to run for 18 years. Earnings of the electric and water plants within eight years, in addition to meeting the full retirement of bonds, have been sufficient to carry out improvements as required.

Payment of the city's last bonded indebtedness, which totaled about $50,000 when the city bought the utilities, was made possible by funds contributed by the utilities. Bonds retired, totaling approximately $28,000, were in addition to revenue bonds issued to buy the utilities.

The tax-rate reduction is planned in expectation that payment from the utilities to the city will make up the loss in revenue from the proposed 40-cent cut.

Barbourville's outstanding success in municipal ownership of public utilities is attributed to careful planning. No politics is involved, no wasteful practices tolerated, and a three-man commission, serving without compensation, has been in complete charge since the plants were taken over.

Mrs. Charles Chunley, of West Liberty, was the Saturday guest of Mrs. Martin Lee May and family.

SUGAR STAMP NO. 12 BECOMES VALID JUNE 1

The government Tuesday moved up the cash-in date of the next sugar-ration stamp from July 1 to June 1, but said it must last for five months. The stamp, spare No. 12, will be good for 10 pounds.

An Agriculture Department announcement said it must last until October 31, when rationing and price controls expire unless extended by Congress.

The action was taken, the Department said, to speed sugar into consumer channels before the heavy movement of wheat and other commodities this summer burdens transportation facilities.

Supplies from a big Cuban crop are piling up in Eastern refinery centers to create a "temporary surplus," partly because consumers have been slow to cash in spare stamp No. 11 which became valid April 1 for 10 pounds.

The government has promised individual consumers 35 pounds this year, compared with 25 pounds last year. Officials say it is too early to know definitely whether there will be any change.

Fewer Streams in State Are Closed to Fishermen

Fewer streams and other public waters will be closed this year to May fishing than at any time since game and fish laws were enacted to control angling during the spawning season.

Quaffing this statement, Earl Wallace, director of the Division of Game and Fish, pointed out that the closed season, extending from May 1 to May 29, affects primarily the non-navigable streams of the state. The game and fish laws prohibit fishing above the last lock and dam upstream of navigable streams as well as in all waters of non-navigable streams. All private waters are open, but Wallace reminded anglers that they must have licenses to fish at any time in any stream, lake, pond or other waters, private or otherwise.

Kentucky, Herrington, Dale Hollow and Carpenter Lakes are open, as are the lakes in the three state parks—Pennyrite in Christian county, Audubon Memorial near Henderson, and Butler Memorial near Carrollton.

Contrary to a previous announcement authorizing fishing in Dawson Springs state park, the small lake in that city will be closed at least until next year, according to Parks Commissioner Russell Dyche. He explained that this lake was stocked last year and, since the fish are not yet of legal size, it would be disastrous to future fishing to open such waters this season.

Due to numerous inquiries concerning Herrington, it was explained that fishing is permissible in all of the lake proper and in Dix river up to the Danville-Lancaster bridge. Fishing is prohibited in Dix river below Dix dam, however.

The Mississippi river is open to fishing to the thread, or middle of the stream where it bounds the state; the Ohio is open the full length of the state and to the opposite bank; the Tennessee within Kentucky is open. The Green, Cumberland, Barren, Kentucky and Big Sandy rivers are open—but not above the last lock and dam upstream. The Tug and Levisa forks of the Big Sandy are open up to the one lock and dam that is located in each stream. Kentucky law, however, governs fishing only to the middle of the Big Sandy and Tug fork which come as state boundaries.

David Hurlers Blank Boldman in First Tilt; Bartley, Attack Leader

David opened its baseball season Sunday with an easy 12-0 victory over Boldman, three David twirlers holding the visiting team to three hits. Bartley starred for the winners, slamming out a triple and two doubles in addition to catching a good game. Hubbard had a triple in one time at bat and Dotson collected the other extra-base blow for David with a double.

Hornets Roll Over Garrett Black Devils

The Auxier Hornets swamped Garrett Sunday, 19 to 3, to remain the only undefeated high school nine in Floyd county. The Hornets have won seven straight against no losses.

In winning over Garrett, Coach Music used every boy on the squad. Gilbert started for Auxier but had difficulty finding the plate, and allowed all three of Garrett's runs. John Pergren, an eighth grader, took over starting the fourth and finished the game, allowing only two hits and no runs.

Jack Wells set something of a record when he clouted two home runs in the first inning. Thompson also hit for the circuit.

NEWS FOR THE VETERAN

ADVISES VETS AGAINST EXCESSIVE G.I. LOANS
 World War II veterans should seriously consider their present and estimated future incomes and expenses before negotiating G.I. loans, George C. Sturgeon, loan guaranty officer for the Veterans Branch Office in Columbus, O., advised recently.

"Before a veteran decides on a definite home, farm or business property, he should know something about the amount of loan he will be permitted to obtain under the G. I. Bill and the approximate monthly payments he will have to make," Mr. Sturgeon said.

He explained that "the accepted standard used by many lending institutions is that no loan should exceed a figure two and one-half times a veteran's annual income. In other words, if a veteran's annual income is $3,000, the maximum loan should be about $7,500. Another standard is that a veteran's monthly loan payment should not exceed his income for one week. In this case, he should pay no more than $50 monthly on his loan with a weekly wage salary of $50.

"In addition to loan interest, taxes and insurance, veterans also should remember that they often may have other expenses connected with the property for repairs and general upkeep," Mr. Sturgeon concluded.

REMINDE VETS OF SEPT. 1 DEADLINE ON LEAVE PAY
 Officials of the Veterans Administration Branch Office, Columbus, O., reminds World War II veterans of the Sept. 1, 1947 deadline for filing claims for settlement of unused military leave.

All veterans who have not applied for their terminal leave payments are advised to act immediately to avoid delays which might result from an increased number of applications just prior to the deadline date. Application for unused terminal leave should be made to the branch of service concerned and not to VA.

SPECIAL VA COUNSELING OFFERED STUDENT VETS
 The Veterans Administration this week called attention to special counseling service available to World War II veterans who have special problems which interfere with their education or vocational training.

Officials at the VA's Branch Office in Columbus, O., said specially trained counselors are assigned to VA regional offices in Detroit, Cleveland, Cincinnati and Louisville to help veteran-trainees solve their personal problems and difficulties.

Many veterans are directed to the counselors before starting school or on-the-job training.

When difficulties arise while a veteran is enrolled in school or is in training on-the-job, it is expected that VA's training officers, who follow up on ex-servicemen and women in both types of programs, will discover problems and encourage the veteran to seek personal counseling.

VA HIRES CADET NURSES PENDING REGISTRATION
 It is the policy of the Veterans Administration to employ cadet nurses and other graduate nurses pending their registration as registered nurses, Miss Frances Hallman, chief of the Nursing Division for VA's Ohio-Michigan-Kentucky Branch Office in Columbus, O., said recently.

"It is the practice of members of the nursing profession to become affiliated with a hospital or other institution during the period between graduation and registration," Miss Hellman said. "The VA will employ graduate nurses who have satisfactorily completed a basic course and are graduates of approved schools of nursing for a period not to exceed 90 days pending their registration."

Nurses must meet the qualifications for probational appointment in the VA's Department of Medicine and Surgery, must have completed a basic course in nursing and must submit evidence of having applied for registration. Salaries of VA nurses employed under the pre-registration provision is based on $2,644 annually.

Auxier Hornets Trounce Paintsville, 8 to 4

Auxier, Ky., May 7 (Spl.)—A 2/3-inning scoreless pitching duel between Minix of the Paintsville Tigers and Litteral of the Auxier Hornets was shattered in the last of the fifth inning Tuesday as the bats of the Hornets exploded for eight runs.

After two men were out in the bottom of the fifth, B. Curnutte drew a base on balls and promptly stole second. O. Curnutte sent a long double to left scoring Brother Bob and the rout was under way. O. Curnutte stole third base, Patton grabbed a free trip to first, Sparks was purposely passed, and Hubbard then cleared the bases with a long double to right-center, making the score 4-0. Wells then singled, Waugh doubled and Litteral homered to make it 8 to 0.

Paintsville scored its lone tally in the sixth on two Hornet errors. Litteral, Auxier pitcher, had a field day. He allowed only two Paintsville hits, no walks and struck out seven Tigers while clouting a homer in the big Auxier fifth.

WAGE SCALE, MACHINE AGE REDUCE FARM POPULATION

Only 19 per cent of the people of the United States now live on farms, church workers were told at the Rural Leadership Institute at the University of Kentucky Experiment Station. The war was not wholly to blame for the movement of youth to cities, it was brought out. Between 1930 and 1940, about 1,200,000 young men and women left farms.

Big wages in cities and the use of more machinery on farms were blamed for youth quitting the farm. Tractors and other machinery make it possible for fewer people to do the farming.

The relation of soil fertility to community and church welfare received consideration at the institute. Where the soil is good, communities prosper and the church is well supported. Where fertility is exhausted, communities run down and churches disappear.

Report on a church survey showed that there are about 7,000 churches in Kentucky, or one for every 400 persons. Some speakers thought there are too many churches in some communities. As a result all of them are weak.

There are between 2,500 and 3,000 ministers in Kentucky. Sixty per cent of them get a salary of $1,000 or more a year, in the state as a whole. In the eastern counties only 30 per cent get that much money.

Between 45 and 50 per cent of the

A HOUSE DIVIDED COSTS YOU MORE!

GO ALL-ELECTRIC SAVE TIME, WORK AND MONEY

A HOUSE divided between electricity and old-fashioned methods costs you more because it's less efficient.

Completely electrified homes using low-cost easy-to-operate, time and labor-saving electrical conveniences, mean better living, easier work and lower cost.

Cook, Refrigerate, Heat Water, Launder, Clean and Entertain in the home the superlative way — the Electric Way.

An Electric Range will answer, beyond your fondest expectations, all your pent-up wishes for freedom from cooking drudgery... for happiness that comes from the carefree confidence your meals will be delicious... for nutritious food with all the vitamins, minerals and flavorful juices cooked right in—not out, to go down the drain. It's Clean... Safe... Automatic. We know you'll love it.

Job for job, use for use, Electricity is best. Don't use two or more services in your home. Use the one that does more for less—Electricity.

Those attending were Marcus Owens and family, Arnold Fouts, Devert Owens and family, Loren Fite and family, Avery Wiley and daughter, Phyllis Ann, Ollie T. Owens, Veneda and Reginald Owens and Maurice Sword, of Jackson, Ohio.
 Miss Edna Conley has resumed work in her beauty shop.
 Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hall and Patty Jo were shopping in Hazard Saturday.
 Mr. and Mrs. Ishmael Sturgill, of Ashland, visited Mrs. Bee Hall last week-end.
 Mr. and Mrs. Mike Staley, Misses Ruth and Edna Martin, Miss Ollie M. Johnson, of Covington, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart, of Lexington, Sunday.
 Mr. and Mrs. Hawley Martin have gone to Niagara Falls, N.Y., for a short vacation.
 Mr. and Mrs. Jack Slone were guests of Mrs. Irvin Meade Sunday.
 Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Messer visited in Lexington over the week-end.

KENTUCKY ON THE MARCH
 By EWING GALLOWAY
 If my weekly pieces didn't have a stereotyped heading I would call this one INNOCENTS ABROAD "WAY DOWN SOUTH."
 In the last six days Mrs. G. and I have been gawking around quite a lot in Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi, seeing and learning a lot of things that interest us, and I am passing some of our impressions on to fellow Kentuckians.
 Our first stop was in Nashville to see B. T. Gregory, publicity director for the Tennessee Department of Conservation. I drop in on Gregory every year or two to look over his recent collections of photographs and pick out what I'd like for my file in New York. In the last five years I have given Tennessee tens of thousands of dollars worth of publicity that didn't cost the Conservation Department a cent. Mr. Gregory has had photographs taken of nearly everything worth while. He keeps two capable photographers busy all the time. The state is spending some money to publicize everything it has that would interest people all over the nation, and the effort is paying big dividends.
 Mr. Gregory handed me a new booklet on sport fishing that had just come off the press. It contains a state dotted all over with lake, river and creek fishing places, and the booklet contains all the directions anybody could want. This booklet is sent to anglers in all neighboring states as well as Tennesseeans. The Conservation Department operates a chain of fish hatcheries. It even imports big game to breed and distribute in the mountain counties. You can hunt wild bear in Tennessee.
 Speaking of animals, I believe I have discovered one of the most important reasons why Kentucky and Missouri mules are popular among sharecroppers in the Cotton Belt. Coutour plowing, which Dean Thomas Cooper is teaching to Kentucky farmers through his Experiment Station field men and county agents, is practised by all hill farmers in the Deep South. Sometimes one sees half a dozen cotton or corn patches in one field, all contoured separately to conform with the lay of the land. A horse probably would require a couple of years to learn how to run off the short, crooked rows without making a mess of the job. But a mule? Why, he catches on in 10 minutes. He makes a perfect job of running off winding rows on undulating hillsides, and of following the rows with a degree of accuracy that could be expected of no animal but a mule. We have two smart mules to use when one of Dean Cooper's men comes to the Galloway farm to teach us contour farming.

 I was in the cotton country 30 years ago, and contour farming was so old then that farmers I talked with could not remember when it was started. But we will learn. Kentucky is marching on.
 Since your reporter wrote early last year about practical forestry, two landowners in Henderson county have thinned their trees and cut out all the underbrush. In the last three days we have driven 500 miles in Georgia and Alabama and I do not recall a minute outside cities and towns that we were not looking at re-planted or thinned trees. If Kentucky has 10,000 acres of well-kept forest, Georgia and Alabama have 10,000,000 acres. The explanation is simple. The Deep South long since realized that lumber was one of its major cash products and set out to restore and conserve that resource. We Kentuckians have taken our timber for granted, with little thought to really working at conserving it.
 As for Southern states, I don't think anybody could fail to marvel at the progress of such places as Chattanooga, Atlanta, Macon, Columbus, Jackson (Tenn.), and Montgomery. They are clean, lively and beautiful. North of what a Southern newspaper humorist calls Smith and Wesson's Line, there are no medium sized cities that surpass the six in the foregoing list.

Rebekahs Here Observe Friendship Night, May 6
 At its regular session Tuesday of last week, Miriam Rebekah Lodge celebrated Friendship Night, having Paintsville lodge as guest. An interesting program was rendered, at the close of which refreshments were served. At the next regular session of the lodge, the Rebekah degree will be conferred on two candidates.
 William Kaufman, of McCracken county, sold $1,377 worth of registered Duroc hogs since he got his first gilt as a 4-H project in 1943.

MINNIE
 Several enjoyed a Mother's Day dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Collins Sunday, all their 10 children being present for the first time in a few years. One son, Pfc. Edward Collins, has been with the army 4 1/2 years and returned from Germany April 10. Also present were their 12 grandchildren.

Name Miss Barrett; Girl Scout Training Courses To Be Given

Miss Fae Lou Barrett, for many years a teacher in Pikeville city schools, will assume the duties of executive director of the Sandy Valley Girl Scout Council, Inc., May 19.

The Council serves Floyd, Pike and Letcher counties, in which there are five main districts, Prestonsburg, Pikeville, Wheelwright, David and Jenkins.

Miss Barrett is a native of Pike county and has spent most of her life in Pikeville. She is a graduate of both Pikeville high school and Pikeville College and received her Bachelor of Arts degree from Eastern State Teachers College. She has done additional work at Peabody College, Morehead Teachers College and Georgetown College.

The position which Miss Barrett is taking has been vacant since last fall when Miss Ruth Harmon resigned to become a member of the regional Girl Scout staff.

Pikeville will be host May 19-24 to adult Girl Scout workers from all of Region IV, which includes Kentucky, Ohio and West Virginia.

National training courses will be offered for leaders, board members and volunteer trainers. These courses will be held at Wright Hall where out-of-town leaders will have their rooms and meals. Courses will start at 10:30 Monday morning, continuing through the week until 4 o'clock Friday.

Adult workers from the area served by the Sandy Valley Girl Scout Council are expected to attend.

College Lets Contract On Airplane-Hangar Gym

Construction has been started on a three-room classroom building for Pikeville College Academy and the contract has also been let for completion of the college's airplane-hangar gymnasium which will seat 2,000 spectators, President A. A. Page announced this week.

Both contracts have been awarded to Joe Justice, of Pikeville, the work being under the Federal Works Agency.

The two structures are to be finished by September, Mr. Page said. The Academy building will be completely modern and fully equipped, at an estimated cost of $40,000. The lower stories at the back will be used for apartments and garages.

Farmers in Lawrence county have bought about 20,000 feet of drain tile in the past two months, more than half being installed.
