

This Town-- That World

THE PLAY HAS STARTED

For upwards of fifteen years now, Prestonsburg has heard talk of a community playground.

There always have been a few, too few, interested in the boys and girls of the town, in seeing them enjoy good, clean games in the outdoors, under proper supervision.

Now, a group of young men, members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, have not only been in a huddle doing some talking but have actually taken the ball and put it into play.

And now we are wondering if Prestonsburg as a whole, its business men, its citizens of means and high motives, its parents who above all should have the good of the youngsters in their minds and hearts, if these will help lug the ball forward.

At this late date there may be some who will suggest that the play should be called back, signals checked, time out called. If these could get that done, they then would probably suggest that the game be played next Tuesday or some February 29. But these are few.

Most of the people of Prestonsburg and their friends in adjacent sections don't think that way. They suffer at the thought of young boys and girls acquiring the traits of street gamins, simply because they were not taken off the streets and put to play and learning the ways of clean living.

Most of us are willing to go along with the boys, to see this game played out to the bitter finish. I, for one, am willing to take a chance with those younger fellows who are thinking in terms of the future and of the children of today and the years ahead.

As bad as I hate statistics, I shall now inflict these on any of you who have read this far. I want you to know what other communities have dared to do and what they have done.

In Mt. Sterling, $35,000 was asked for a community playground and athletic field. Mt. Sterling citizens quickly subscribed—not only $35,000 but $17,000 more.

In Pikeville a fireproof gymnasium was needed to supplant as dreary an old firetrap as could be imagined in a modern community. Folks there voted a $40,000 bond issue, and the folks who voted it will pay that $40,000 with tax monies.

Wayland, in our own county, is a notable example of progress. There, the Lions Club, young in thought and deed as the Jaycees here, started out to prepare and light a football and baseball field. We are told that the miners there worked Saturdays, and the company gave the coal they dug on those days, and that $25,000 has already been raised.

The Jaycees and those others in this community venture are not obligated to buy any certain site for this playground (which not only Prestonsburg children and schools would enjoy but which could be the scene of county field meets and other countywide activities); more than one site is being considered. Their only obligation is with their own consciences, which dictate that they do the best and the most they can.

And that is your obligation and mine, too.

REPUBLICANS TO PICK NEW COUNTY CHAIRMAN

The county caucus called last Saturday for the election of a county Republican chairman was postponed till Saturday of this week when a protest was made, contending the meeting was not properly called.

Candidacy of two men for the chairmanship, D. P. (Perk) Dingus, of Martin, and Harry R. Burke, of Bonanza, has increased interest in the scheduled convention.

ARSON HINTED IN MINE FIRE

Thealka is suspected in the destruction of the North-East Coal Company tippie at Thealka, near Paintsville, Monday, and the company Wednesday posted a reward of $2,000 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of those responsible for the fire.

Company officials, however, claimed they had no information of value. There was no estimate of the loss pending a study of insurance adjusters, but one unofficial source said that with the time employees may lose when the current shut-down in the industry ends, the total might easily be $250,000.

The wood and steel tippie, which has served—with changes—since the Thealka mine opened 35 years ago, was equipped to grade the coal into five sizes.

Thealka has no fire department and the idle miners and their families watched helplessly as the blaze destroyed the structure.

FIVE MURDER CASES, LOW

For Floyd Court Docket; Grand Jury May Escape Work of Murder Probes

Five murder cases, an all-time low in the modern history of Floyd county, are docketed for trial at the April term of circuit court which convenes here Monday morning.

And establishing another record, if violence does not develop before Monday, is the fact that the grand jury will not have a murder case to investigate when it convenes with the beginning of the court term.

The crime list, as it appears on the docket for the term, is full enough, with several cases of shooting and wounding with intent to kill, but the matter of life-and-death is strangely missing. In all, 261 cases are docketed for trial.

Of this total, 60 cases hinge upon use of deadly weapons and deeds of violence in which weapons figured—23 for carrying concealed deadly weapons, three for reckless use of weapons and 34 for attacks on others with intent to kill by striking, cutting and shooting or by shooting into dwellings.

Twenty are named for trial on charges of child desertion, and 32 are booked for breaking and entering and grand larceny.

Murder trial defendants and dates set for their trials follow: Dewey Gibson, April 12; Mrs. Betty Spears, April 14; Allen Stone, April 22; Ritter Hall and Beatrice Johnson, April 26; Harold Conn, April 27.

LEWIS DENIES HE PROMPTED COAL STRIKE

UMWA Leader Is Forced By Court Order To Make Appearance Before Board

Forced by a federal judge to appear Tuesday before a board investigating the coal strike, John L. Lewis entered a blanket denial that he caused the nation-wide walkout.

He declared that the soft coal miners left their jobs because "they found out they had been gold-bricked by the operators."

The strike started March 15, three days after Lewis told his United Mine Workers in a letter that the operators had "dishonored" their contract by failing to arrange pension payments.

But Lewis insisted the miners walked out on their own. The UMW president was compelled by the federal district court to answer questions before a presidential board investigating the strike.

The board will report its findings to President Truman. When it does, Mr. Truman can direct the Attorney General to seek a federal court injunction to stop the strike. The board is acting under the Taft-Hartley labor law.

Lewis was forced before the board after he had ignored his own subpoena Monday. Promptly the three members turned to the federal court, and in 10 minutes Tuesday morning an order was issued directing Lewis to appear at 2 a.m.

So "under compulsion," as he put it, the miners' chief gave his side of the pension dispute.

(Congress was asked meanwhile to give the government power to take over and operate the coal mines.) Rep. Harrison (D-Va.) introduced a bill to revive wartime powers of the President over coal mine operations. Under the War Labor Disputes Act now expired, the federal government had power to take control of essential industries when work stoppages occurred.

Harrison's bill would revive only the portions of the law applicable to the mining, production and marketing of coal. It would keep the act in effect until March 31, 1949.

Stony-faced, Lewis strode at the head of 20 aides into the hearing room. He sat in silence as cameramen recorded the scene. Then Federal Judge Sherman Minton, chairman of the board, asked if he would state his side of the pension dispute. Lewis sonorously replied:

"I might say I am here today under the compulsion of a decision of the United States court. I have no particular statement to make other than responding to interrogation."

He confirmed that he wants every man who reaches 60 with 20 years' mining experience to have $100 a month pension out of a fund raised through a 10-cents a ton royalty on coal. If the fund would not support $100 payments "they certainly would have to be reduced," he said.

Did he mean the pensions should go to those retired in the past and those whose companies don't pay into the welfare fund?

"Certainly, sir, because it was in behalf of those men that a pension was negotiated."

BIG CROWD HEARS BAND

Morehead College Group Here Wednesday Night On Tour of Section

A crowd which filled the grade school auditorium was delighted Wednesday evening by the superlative performance of the Morehead State Teachers College band, which is on a concert tour of this section.

Only Floyd county member of the band was Miss Evelyn Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earle Moore, of Prestonsburg, and she was singled out for introduction to the big audience. From here the collegians went to Martin high school for an appearance at 10 this morning (Thursday), and at Wayland high school at 2 p.m. Friday morning at 10, they go to Wheelwright high school.

Miss Hazel Hill entertained to dinner Saturday evening at her home on the Abbott Road, complimenting her houseguest, Miss Louise Hobson, of Jeffersonville, Ind., who spent the week-end with her. Other guests were Noah Martin, of Betsy Layne, and Henry Martin, Prestonsburg.

Begin Drive for Playground

Crippled Vet Loses All Belongings As Fire Levels Home

A crippled war veteran, his wife and their three young children lost all their belongings Monday, shortly after noon, when the home they occupied on Little Paint was destroyed by fire.

Loss in furniture, clothing and other belongings of the veteran, Tom Homer Robinson, was placed at $2,500. Neither he nor the Blackburn brothers, Bill, Joe and Tommy, owners of the building, had insurance.

The fire started, Mrs. Robinson said, in the kitchen, but cause of the blaze was not definitely determined. The flames spread so quickly that she was able only to evacuate her children to safety. Mr. Robinson was a short distance from the home. The building was a five-room structure.

Robinson lost a leg and suffered a crippled hand in World War II action.

CIVIC GROUP, CITIZENS JOIN IN CAMPAIGN

Say $30,000 Needed For Playground Plot And Athletic Field

An idea born with the Prestonsburg Junior Chamber of Commerce and attracting the interest of a large percentage of residents of Prestonsburg this week sent interested persons on a canvass of the community for funds with which to establish here the Floyd County Playground Center.

A day after funds were first sought, $2,000 had been subscribed.

Solicitation of funds began after a public meeting at the courthouse Monday night when all angles of the enterprise were discussed. First public meeting in connection with the undertaking was held Friday night.

The plan, as explained by Dr. George P. Archer at Friday's meeting, is to take children of the community off the streets, provide them an adequate playground with adult supervision and at the same time to provide for the schools here an athletic field which will be lighted.

The playground, it was emphasized, would serve not only the children and schools of Prestonsburg. County field meets and other public gatherings would be accommodated by the field, either by day or night, and softball and other sports could be enjoyed at night by church and civic groups.

The move followed years of talk pointing to the need of a safe, supervised playground for children, in addition to the necessity of an established athletic field.

Two sites have already been given consideration, and any others that may be available will be studied before a definite location is made, it was said.

Workers in the campaign have set $30,000 for their goal.

The organization will be known as The Floyd County Playground Center, Inc., and will be such that contributions to it will be deductible from income tax returns. All contributions will be held in escrow until a suitable location is made for the field.

The lighting system already planned by the City Board of Education for old Gasco Park as a football field will be transferred to the new field, it was said. The lighting set-up has been contracted by the board at a cost of around $7,000.

Explaining that the move looks to the future of youngsters now playing at risk of life and limb in Prestonsburg streets, Dr. Archer pointed out that building development here of recent years has been such that few playground sites remain, adding that further development may occupy all such sites unless action is taken immediately. The schools here could conceivably be without a football or baseball field, it was stated.

"I can't say enough in praise of the idea," commented Chalmers Frazier, superintendent of Prestonsburg schools, and W. V. Bunting, member of the Board of Education here, said, "Speaking for myself, I can promise my full cooperation."

Circuit Judge E. P. Hill was quick to laud the undertaking. "I am

MELVIN MAN LOSES $4,000

Lie Detector Exam For Three Delayed; $500 Reward Posted

An attempt to question three Floyd county men under the "scrutiny" of a lie detector in the loss by Hays Johnson, Melvin merchant, of approximately $4,000 in cash failed Wednesday morning, and Johnson posted $500 reward for the return of the money or for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who took it.

Mr. Johnson told authorities here loss of the money followed his trade, Monday of last week, of an automobile and a cash consideration to Tolbert "Ted" Gilliam for land. He said he paid Gilliam $2,100 in cash from a can he kept in his home and replaced the can containing remaining cash of $4,000 or more.

While Johnson was removing tools from the car he had traded, the merchant's young son investigated contents of the can, put the fat roll of bills in his pocket. Not until the following Wednesday did the merchant learn what had happened. Then the boy told him he became frightened, lest Johnson see the bulging roll in his pocket, and so he put the money in the car, at the end of a seat.

That night, Johnson said, the car was driven to North Carolina, returning to her home Mrs. Merlin Hall. Before it left the Johnson premises, however, according to the merchant, Cecil Newsome, a bystander, entered the car "to look it over."

Newsome, Gilliam and Lester Tackett were questioned and all denied seeing the money. Mrs. Johnson said Gilliam told her he saw a woman pick up "something" near the car.

Johnson said he was not making a definite accusation against any certain individual but indicated he would ask a grand jury investigation next Monday. The three men, he said, at first expressed willingness to submit to lie detector examination but failed to appear here Wednesday morning, the date set for the trip to Lexington for the test.

ANNOUNCE BIRTH

Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Cottrell are announcing the birth of their first child, a daughter, born March 27 at the Prestonsburg General Hospital. She has not been given a name. Mrs. Cottrell is the former Miss Madeline Boyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Boyd.

2,000 4-H Club Members By Year's End, Agents' Goal

Two thousand Floyd county girls and boys in 4-H Club work by the end of 1948—that is the goal set by Miss Rega Kincer and S. L. Isbell, county home demonstration agent and county agent, respectively.

As of last week, that goal was not too far distant, with 18 clubs organized and 2,700 youngsters enrolled under the guidance of 25 adult leaders.

In addition to these are five Homemakers clubs, with 134 women of Betsy Layne, David, Drift, Maytown and Prestonsburg taking active part in regular meetings and carrying out in their households the practical lessons learned in homemaking. Occasionally, meetings of homemakers are held at Burton, McDowell and Lancer.

During this year, Mrs. Pearl J. Haak, foods specialist from the University of Kentucky, will come to this county for a series of training schools. Two project leaders from each club will attend these training schools and teach the same lessons in their community club meetings. Following is a foods report of the results of the lessons given so far this year:

One hundred six Homemakers have learned that the planning of meals at least three days at a time saves time, aids in better nutrition and helps in having all the foods necessary in the preparation of the meal. They have found that the planning of meals for several days at

'Modeling' for 'Childhood Architects' Is Part of Floyd Education Plan

Mrs. Frankie Best and her pupils of the Cliff Model School. Art decorations on walls are the work of pupils.

Mrs. Kelsa G. Elliott and her pupils of the Dark Hollow Model School. A student says "grace" before the school-prepared lunch.

Modeling for those who are credited with being the architects in fashioning the future of children is the role of the teachers and pupils of two Floyd county schools.

The "model school" plan, instituted by Palmer L. Hall, Superintendent of Floyd county schools, and now concluding its second year, was born of necessity. Only two other counties in Kentucky have such a system, and Floyd's is the only plan of its kind in Eastern Kentucky.

Because of the loss of so many trained and qualified teachers since the beginning of the war period and the consequent use of a large number of "emergency" teachers, school administrators have had to do a lot of searching, substituting and experimenting in order to keep the schools going with the highest possible efficiency under existing handicaps. The shortage of trained principals and supervisors was no less than that for classroom teachers, and so ways of bringing the greatest possible help to the teachers who had not had the advantage of the usual college training without the help of sufficient supervisory help had to be found.

One of the methods used to overcome this lack of training on the part of teachers and the lack of supervisory personnel was the setting up of two "model" schools, one at the Cliff school (District No. 3) and the other at the Dark Hollow school (District 43).

Roughly, these schools are situated in opposite sides of the county, choice of these schools being determined partly on account of their location in regard to the distribution of rural schools throughout the county, partly because of the availability of the proper teacher and the suitability of the school itself for the purpose.

The term "model school" is somewhat misleading to one who thinks as a model being an ideal example. From the physical standpoint neither of these schools could be classed as ideal. Both buildings, in fact, are of the old type, with windows on both sides of the building providing cross ventilation and cross lighting. At the time the Dark Hollow school was selected it was hardly typical of the old type buildings in that it did not have cloak rooms. These were added by the Board of Education under the supervision of the teacher before the opening of the school in July, 1946.

In using the term "model" Superintendent Hall and his helpers were thinking of what was being done in the school with the equipment available rather than what could be done to make the physical aspects of the school ideal. It was to be a typical or average one-room school building and grounds, with a better than average teaching program which any wide-awake teacher with initiative and enthusiasm could duplicate in whole or in part in her own school.

The Superintendent and Board of Education were committed to the policy that nothing extraordinary in the way of financial expenditures would be done for these schools—nothing that they could not and would not try to do for any teacher who would convince them of her desire and readiness to use such help. Through pie socials, both schools have been able to raise some money in their communities. During the two years of their operation both have painted the building inside with color choices which the pupils helped to decide. Both have had electricity installed and each has purchased an electric record player with a number of good records which help to develop appreciation of music in their schools. Lunch rooms serving hot soups, chocolate and the like were installed. In both schools the pupils and teachers, working together, have built extra book shelves, reading tables and "personal appearance corners" which contain washpan, soap and mirror which provide practical training in health and hygiene.

The Cliff School has purchased a film strip projector with a number of good educational film strips for its own use. (The Board of Education has one of these film strip projectors and a fairly good film strip library which is loaned to rural teachers on request.) Considerable Body of Child Returned To County for Burial Body of six-year-old Joyce Ann Shepherd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Shepherd, who died in a Chelsea, Mich., hospital, was returned to West Prestonsburg where funeral rites were conducted Wednesday afternoon and burial made.

Cause of the child's death was not definitely established. She became ill after she and other children of the family had played "house," with wild greens the meal from their playhouse table.

Surviving are the bereaved parents, two brothers, Monroe and Henry, and two sisters, Margie and Martha Mae. The funeral was conducted at the Arnold Funeral Home.

Mrs. Edward Dingus, of Printer, suffered fractured vertebrae last week when a jeep she was driving on the Left Beaver highway overturned. It was said here that the wreck resulted from locked steering mechanism. Mrs. Dingus was returned home after receiving treatment at a Martin hospital.

glad to see young men taking the initiative," he said. "This is a thing not only for this generation but for generations to come."

"There should be no hesitation about going ahead," said James Donahue. He added, however, that, regardless of what site is selected, the property adjoining the grade school here should be drained and kept clean as a public health measure.

Volunteering Friday evening for work as solicitors of funds were Dr. Edward B. Leslie, Fred Francis, C. H. Smith, Chalmers H. Frazier and Marvin Music, with others added to the list later.

Marvin Music, Jaycee president, presided at the meeting.

The World's Resources— NEAR AS OUR PRESCRIPTION ROOM

YOUR physician gives you a prescription—just a little slip of paper—but to compound it correctly, our pharmacists may have to draw upon the world's resources. It is not uncommon for a prescription to require drugs and chemicals gathered from a score of countries, purified, blended and compounded as only skilled pharmacists know how, to make the medicine that exactly fits your needs. We take pride in having ample stocks to make this possible.

C. V. DeCoursey Dies At Lackey Hospital

An illness of eight days of asthma resulted Wednesday night in the death at the Stumbo Memorial hospital, Lackey, of Charles Vincent DeCoursey, 73 years old, retired miner and well-known Wayland man.

Mr. DeCoursey, a native of Pennsylvania, had resided at Wayland for the last 12 years. He was a veteran of the Spanish-American War and was a member of the Church of Christ.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Pauline Hester DeCoursey, four sons and one daughter, Mrs. Arthur Dixon, of Van Lear, Charles V. DeCoursey, Jr., Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., America, Ernest Eugene and Edgar DeCoursey, all of Wayland.

The funeral will be from the Wayland Methodist Church Saturday, the Rev. S. C. Honeycutt officiating, and burial will be made in the United Mine Workers cemetery at Northern, the Arnold Funeral Home directing.

County Barely Past Halfway Mark to Goal In Last Week of Drive

Final week of the 1948 fund drive found Red Cross contributions little more than across the halfway mark at $4,859.50, and Red Cross officials called for added help in the drive. "Now is the only time you can help the Red Cross, an organization always ready to help you in time of emergency, and now is the time that it needs your help," local Red Cross workers said. "The future of the national blood bank program and other worthy Red Cross endeavors depend solely on your efforts and donations. Give generously and give now."

This spring, aside from the routine task of guiding veterans and their families through a maze of red tape, the local chapter has aided six destitute families whose belongings were washed away by the Valentine Day floods at Garrett and Lackey. It has also aided six families whose homes were destroyed by fire at Drift, Bevinsville and Boldman.

Bus Workers, Company In Preliminary Talk Fail of Agreement

Members of Local Union 547, United Construction Workers, said here this week that preliminary negotiations for a new contract between employees and the Sparks Brothers Bus Company here were unsatisfactory to the union and that a disagreement appears imminent. The old contract expires April 15. Company officials met Friday with Bill Allen, president of the local, Chas. A. Neal, field representative, and Jesse Wallen, Jole Maynard and James Laferty, members of the negotiating committee. A member of the committee said the company offered only a 25-cent raise for five changes while on the road and to reduce to three years from five the duration of service of an employee eligible for two-week vacation.

CHILD IS VICTIM

Two-year-old Ferrell Edward Conley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sid Conley, of Wheelwright, succumbed at the Prestonsburg General Hospital Sunday, a victim of bronchitis. The babe is survived by the parents, one sister, Sylvia, and seven half-brothers and half-sisters. The funeral was conducted Wednesday by the Rev. Buell Ferguson from the graveside in the family cemetery on Jones Fork. Burial was under direction of the Arnold Funeral Home.

Miss Geneva Roberts, of Pikeville, and her Easter vacation houseguest, Miss Patricia Roberts, of Texas, visited their classmates at Lindenwood College, Misses Barbara and Polly Allen, here Saturday.

W. J. (Squire) Vaughan, who has been seriously ill at the Prestonsburg General Hospital, is now at the home on Riverside of his daughter, Mrs. R. D. Ball, and Mr. Ball. His many friends wish for him an early recovery.

Dr. J. S. Kelly was a Sunday night guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hopson, returning to his home in Lexington Monday.

Mrs. J. M. Weddington, Mrs. Ireland Staten, of Mossy Bottom, and Charles E. Friend attended the funeral of their brother, Gallia Friend, at Clintwood, Va., Sunday. Mr. Friend, who was born in Floyd county, had spent most of his life in Virginia and the Carolinas. His failing health prohibited him from visiting here for many years. B. P. Friend, a brother, was unable to attend the funeral.

Miss Avanelle Nunnery visited her sister at Harlan last week. Mrs. Greenville R. Spradlin, who is employed with the Kentucky Employment Service at Morehead, spent the week-end here with Mr. Spradlin and other relatives.

PROCLAMATION

Whereas, the million or more men and women in our army are instruments of the nation's will for security and peace, and

Whereas, free men who, throughout seventeen decades of our history, have served the United States that we might stand strong and safe among the nations of the world, and

Whereas, in the latest conflict our soldiers, on the ground and in the air, serving shoulder to shoulder with their comrades in the Navy and of the Allied Forces, carried on and enriched the traditions established by their fathers and forefathers. Serving with distinction on every battlefield, they accomplished every task and passed on to the soldiers of today the mission given to them by the American people—a secure country, and

Whereas, the President of the United States has designated the day of April 6, 1948, as "ARMY DAY"

Now, Therefore, I, E. P. Arnold, Mayor of the City of Prestonsburg, do hereby proclaim Tuesday, April 6, 1948, as "ARMY DAY" in accordance with a proclamation issued by Harry S. Truman, President of the United States, and I urge upon the people of Prestonsburg to make use of this day which is set aside to pay tribute to those gallant men and women who as members of our armed forces gave so much to insure the continued happiness of our nation and successfully defended our homes and traditions from our enemies whose ruthless schemes and diabolical designs would, if carried out, have destroyed the potential good of mankind for at least five hundred years to come.

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the City of Prestonsburg to be affixed this 24th day of March in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and forty-eight.

River Fails To Yield Body of War Veteran

Relatives and friends of Frank Bentley, 24 years old, of Robinson Creek, Pike county, and a brother of Hack Bentley, Prestonsburg, sought in vain this week along the Big Sandy river for his body.

The World War II veteran was last seen alive, late last Friday, in the river between Pikeville and Shelby Creek, it was said here. He was employed as a miner and was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Evan Bentley, of Robinson Creek.

Miss Gwendolyn Harris underwent a minor operation at the Paintsville hospital, Monday of this week.

Asks P'burg Women To Sing at Festival

Mrs. Edith F. James and Mrs. Claude P. Stephens have been invited by Sarah Gertrude Knott to sing Elizabethan ballads at the National Folk Song Festival which will be held at Kiel Auditorium, St. Louis, April 7-10.

Last year, Mrs. James took members of her Plain Song Chanters group to the festival in St. Louis, and before that she and Mrs. Stephens appeared at the festival when it was held in Philadelphia. The old songs which the Prestonsburg women are scheduled to sing are unique, in that many of the ballads were lost until discovered in this and other counties of Eastern Kentucky.

Federal Inspectors' Reports Cover 4 Mine Operations

Federal inspection reports on four Floyd coal operations have been received recently.

While commending numerous recent safety improvements at the Clear Branch mine of the Clear Branch Mining Company at Ligon, an inspection report proposes three score more. The mine employed 413 men and produced 1,350 tons of coal a day when Leslie E. Allen inspected it in December.

Inspector Allen commended instruction of all workmen in proper roof-testing methods, but said the timbering standards should be complied with by adequate temporary and permanent timbering of all working places and loose and doubtful roof should be removed or supported adequately.

The inspector commended the use of permissible explosives and some improvements in their storage and use but advised using only permissible blasting units and incombustible stemming, testing the roof and face before and after blasting where this was not done, and other precautions.

Although noting a number of ventilation improvements, Inspector Allen proposed others, including more air through some last crosscuts, replacing wooden doors with incombustible ones, precautions against short-circuiting the air currents, and installing one of the ventilating fans properly on the surface and equipping both of them with additional safety devices. To reduce fire and explosion hazards, he proposed removing accumulations of coal dust, using water or a wetting solution to allay dust during cutting, more rock-dusting in some places, a ban on smoking and providing adequate fire-fighting facilities.

Despite the substantial safety gains made recently at the Hi Hat Elkhorn Mining Company's 500-ton-a-day Clear Creek mine at Hi Hat, a re-inspection report proposes fuller compliance with a number of recognized safety standards. The development employed 100 men at the time of the December safety survey by Inspector Leslie Johnson.

Recommending a generally intensified rock-dusting program, Inspector Johnson also proposed several improvements in ventilation facilities, including wooden stoppings between the intake and return airways with fireproof stoppings, installation of doors in pairs to form adequate-size air locks, and safety devices for specified ventilating fans. He also suggested provision of unobstructed clearance along some of the haulage roads, improved maintenance of crosscuts used as shelter holes, and effective blocking of standing cars.

Improvements cited by the inspector included providing the right-sized timbers or wedges at or near the working faces, promptly replacing knocked-out safety posts, restricting men riding on the explosives trip to those necessary for its operation, suitable locations for the underground explosives magazines, improvement of the quality of the air, and wearing of safety shoes by all employees and of snug-fitting clothing by those working around moving equipment.

To help continue the safety progress made recently at the Liberty Elkhorn Mining Company's 500-ton-a-day Liberty Elkhorn mine, a more effective rock-dusting program and several other corrective measures are recommended. Near Maytown, the mine employed 74 men when re-examined in December by Inspector Leslie Johnson.

Analyses of samples collected during the current examination, Inspector Johnson disclosed, showed that the mine was inadequately rock dusted, and he recommended that all dry areas be rock dusted in full conformance with accepted coal-dust-control standards. Use of water to allay coal dust formed during cutting also was suggested.

Other major recommendations called for removal of obstructions to haulage clearance and improved blocking of standing cars, increased use of safety posts in face regions and setting of permanent timbers closer to specified working faces, construction of an air lock in the No. 2 section, offset installation and pressure-relief or explosion doors for the two main ventilating fans, and broadening of the pre-shift examinations to include all active areas.

Noting that loose haulage road work was being taken down and that work was in progress to remove all obstructions to haulage clearance, Johnson also cited such further recent improvements as instruction to workmen in approved roof-testing methods, safe location of underground explosives magazines, ample warning before blasting, prompt closing of ventilation doors, weekly tests for explosive gas in the main returns and in abandoned workings, clearing of coal dust from the roadways and the tipples, several electrical safeguards, and maintenance of adequate first-aid supplies near the working sections.

Inspector Johnson reported that the company intends to open a new mine on the property soon, and quotes the president as saying that this, which will also be known as the Turner No. 6 mine, is to be operated in full compliance with the Federal Mine Safety Code.

The inspector advised following the timbering plan by providing better protection to face workers, teaching uninformed workmen and new employees to test the roof properly, and frequent roof testing. He proposed safer transportation and use of permissible explosives. Other recommendations included more air at the working places, pre-shift examinations, using brattices, and providing permissible flame safety lamps. Adequate rock dusting and removal of accumulated coal dust also were recommended.

The inspector noted more than a score of recent safety measures. They embraced compliance with the adopted timbering standards, setting of sufficient safety posts in all working places, erection of permanent timbers reasonably close to working faces, instruction of workmen in approved roof-testing methods, prying down of loose roof along one haulage way, a water gauge for one of the five main ventilating fans, weekly test for gas and other hazards in the return airways and in the abandoned workings, several precautions against electrical hazards, surface underground telephone service, universal wearing of safety-toe shoes, and maintenance of adequate first-aid materials near the working places.

Although the Turner No. 6 mine of the Top Hat Mining Company at Orkney is expected to be worked out soon, an inspection report recommends numerous safety improvements and commends several recently-adopted safeguards. The mine employed 25 men and produced 125 tons of coal a day when Leslie Johnson inspected it in December.

OF INTEREST TO VETERANS

All World War II veterans enrolled for education or training under the G.I. Bill or Public Law 16 in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky will receive with their March subsistence checks, due in April, an explanation of the law which increases subsistence allowances to certain groups of trainees.

Veterans Administration Branch Office officials in Columbus, O., said the enclosure will explain that only veterans taking full-time courses of education in schools, colleges and universities will be entitled to the increased allowances. The new payments, effective with the periods of training on and after April 1, will be at the monthly rate of $75 for a veteran without dependents, $105 for a veteran with one dependent and $120 for a veteran with more than one dependent.

The message will explain that veterans entitled to $75 or $105 will not have to apply for the increased allowances. However, veterans entitled to $120 because they have more than one dependent must submit information about their additional dependents before payments at the new rate can be made.

The deadline for applications for vehicles at government expense under the "autos for amputees" program is June 30, 1948. Veterans Administration Branch Office in Columbus, O., emphasized this week.

VA said eligible veterans should submit their applications to VA at least 15 days prior to the deadline to allow an ample processing period.

Latest VA figures show that 2,388 seriously disabled World War II veterans in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky have received vehicles at government expense since this law was passed by Congress in August, 1946. Cost of the vehicles has been $3,796,100.

The totals include Ohio, 1,074 vehicles, $1,708,923; Michigan, 894 vehicles, $1,419,462; Kentucky, 420 vehicles, $667,715.

The law provides an automobile or other conveyance at a cost not to exceed $1,600, for any World War II veteran who lost, or lost the use of, one or both legs at or above the ankle as the result of service-incurred.

Prior authorization for "home-town" treatment of service-connected medical or dental disabilities must be obtained from the Veterans Administration, VA officials in Columbus, O., emphasized this week.

Contracts between VA and the medical and dental associations in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky provide that designated physicians and dentists may render treatment in service-connected cases when treatment is not "feasibly available."

However, some veterans are neglecting to obtain the necessary VA approval before starting treatments. VA medical officials said that with pre-approval the physicians and dentists rendering the treatment cannot be compensated for their services, nor can veterans be reimbursed if they have paid part or all of the bill.

Veterans entitled to medical or dental care for service-connected disabilities should apply for approval at their nearest VA office.

One out of every three World War II veterans has taken some form of education or training under the G.I. Bill or Public Law 16 since both laws went into effect. Veterans Administration said recently. The number of veterans in educational institutions and on-job training establishments under both laws has reached a record high of 2,801,687, VA said.

World War II veterans in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky have negotiated 142,657 home, farm and business loans in the amount of $808,495,481 under loan guaranty terms of the G.I. Bill, Veterans Administration Branch Office in Columbus, O., reported recently. The loans were made by various lending institutions, with VA guaranteeing 47 per cent of the total amount.

The loan volume by states has been: Ohio, 74,780 loans, $443,014,911; Michigan, 54,153 loans, $298,249,061; Kentucky, 13,744 loans, $67,230,709. VA said home loans accounted for 93 per cent of the total.

Ele's WARNING
TO KITE FLIERS

KITE flying is lots of fun and provides healthful exercise—so go ahead and fly your kites, boys and girls, but do it safely. The first safety rule is never to fly kites near electric wires, for when a kite or kite string gets across an electric line, it may cause all sorts of trouble. It may seriously injure you, or your playmates.

Or, it may stop the flow of electricity to your home and the homes of your friends and neighbors—cutting off the lights and all the other electrical appliances so helpful to Mothers. It may even effect the industries so important to your community and to your father's job. So, please be careful, won't you—and follow the rules for safe kite flying.

FOLLOW THESE SIMPLE RULES

2. Keep your kite string dry and never use it when wet.
3. Don't use metal or wire on any part of the kite.
4. Don't use kite string with wire in it.
5. Never climb poles to recover kites.

1946-47 FINANCIAL AUDIT CITY OF PRESTONSBURG, KY.

Prestonsburg, Ky. Feb. 16, 1948 Hon. E. P. Arnold, Mayor, and Members City Council, City of Prestonsburg, Ky.

I submit to you herewith audit made by me for the City of Prestonsburg, Ky., 1942 through 1947. This audit shows receipts and disbursements made each year, giving the total amounts received from each source, also total received for each year. The warrants are listed beginning with number 1991 through 5053; each warrant shows to whom payable, amount of warrant, also what it was for. Total amount on hand as of 12/31/47 shows $187.22, which was turned over to Wesley Campbell, City Treasurer. I have checked the amount of taxes charged out each year to the collector and the amount charged against him each year checks with the amounts turned over to the City Treasurer.

The receipts and disbursements of the Police Judge is listed separate from the City Treasurer report. I have added each fine as to each month of the year from 1942 through 1947 and find the following errors:

Table with 2 columns: Amount and Description. Includes items like 'Check shows paid City Treasurer in December, 1942 for $82.60', 'Short in report error in addition, September, 1943', 'Shows cold check given for fine of Crit Crisp, Line drawn through but erased and marked paid. Short in report, Feb. '44', etc.

According to records of Police Judge the amount of $365.10 is now due the City of Prestonsburg. I also enclose herewith letter from J. D. Harkins, Jr., together with list of small bills that he says has never been paid to him that he has paid for the City of Prestonsburg.

RUSSELL HAGEWOOD Public Accountant. PRESTONSBURG POLICE COURT City Hall Prestonsburg, Kentucky J. D. Harkins, Judge February 12, 1948

Mr. Russell Hagewood, The First National Bank, Prestonsburg, Ky. Dear Sir:

Herewith is an itemized list of expenditures I have made for and on behalf of some branch of the city government in the past for which no credit has been taken in my monthly reports. As I showed you, I have cancelled checks or receipted bills for all of these items and they were all paid at the direction of some city official or officials, according to the department or purpose for which the item was purchased as shown on the enclosed lists.

Very truly yours, J. D. HARKINS, JR.

WAYLAND

The Lackey-Garrett Woman's Club held its monthly program meeting in the home of Mrs. S. M. Martin, with Mrs. Ervin Mullins as hostess, last Thursday evening. Mrs. Fred A. Martin, club president, called the meeting to order and presented Mrs. Carlton Wrightson who conducted a program on "Safety." As an introduction, Mrs. Wrightson gave a description of the origin of various safety measures, emphasizing safety on the highway, in the home and at school. The leader also gave a resume of "Safety—a Challenge to Common Sense and Skill," from a current issue of The Saturday Evening Post. Another article from the same magazine, entitled, "Should You Be Allowed to Drive?" was reviewed by Mrs. George Evans. Immediately following the program there was a brief business session at which the following officers were unanimously elected; President, Mrs. J. C. Wells; vice-president, Mrs. Richard Vinson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Gorman Collins; recording secretary, Mrs. Carlton Wrightson, and treasurer, Mrs. Rudolph Spencer. It was announced that the club will entertain the Wheelwright Woman's Club at the Wayland high school to a dinner Saturday evening, April 17. Two new members were added to the club's membership; Mesdames Troy Webb and Ellsworth Coburn. The hostess served refreshments to the following: Mesdames Gorman Collins, M. M. Collins, Harry Sherman, George Evans, Felix Coburn, Roy Souleyrette, John Wallace, S. M. Martin, Willard Castle, Melvin Hayes, Bert Stapleton, Carlton Wrightson, J. C. Wells, Fred A. Martin, J. T. Fraley, Thomas Hatcher. Next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Harry Sherman, April 9.

HONORED ON BIRTHDAY
Mr. and Mrs. Roe Layne were hosts to a birthday dinner Easter Sunday at their home on Highland avenue, honoring their granddaughter, Ruth Ann, on her 10th birthday anniversary. A few of her schoolmates were guests. After dinner was served, the children enjoyed games and an egg hunt.

DU PONT HOUSE PAINT
CLEANS ITSELF!

Your house keeps its freshly painted look when finished with Du Pont House Paint. Dirt and grime can't become embedded—rains just wash them away!

SELF-CLEANING Du Pont House Paint is so formulated that, as time goes by, a microscopically fine white powder forms on the surface. Heavy rains wash the powder away, taking dust and dirt with it, and leaving the surface clean and white again. Excessive accumulations of dirt (particularly in sooty industrial communities or in heavily shaded locations) may delay or interfere with this process. Because this "self-cleaning" is gradual, the wearing qualities of the paint film are not abnormally affected.

SELF-CLEANING Du Pont House Paint is as durable as it is beautiful... protects against rust, rot, and decay... gives lasting beauty and protection. Costs no more than ordinary paints—saves repainting bills! Call on a reliable painter for your painting jobs, and ask him to use Du Pont House Paint!

DU PONT Super-Clear Varnish
For floors, woodwork, furniture

Court Upholds Liquor Seizure Minus Warrant

Frankfort, Ky., March 27—Kentucky's Court of Appeals declared today that when officers know that a man has bought liquor in a wet county and is taking it to a dry county, they can seize it in the dry county without a search warrant.

The ruling was made in the case of Charlie Chaplin, a taxicab driver. Testimony was given that two State Alcoholic Beverage Control Board officers watched him load his cab at a store in Warren county that sold only liquor. They trailed him into Barren county and seized the liquor.

Chaplin was convicted in Barren county court, but circuit court dismissed the charge, declaring the liquor was seized illegally.

Attorney General A. E. Funk joined in requesting the Court of Appeals to rule whether circuit court erred. But Funk explained today that under Kentucky law Chaplin cannot be re-tried.

Two years ago today
You were taken from my side;
I often sit and think of you
And of the way you died.
And that you never said good-bye
Before you closed your eyes,
The blow was hard, the shock severe
And only those who have lost can tell
The pain of parting without a farewell.
But some sweet day we'll meet again
Beyond this toil and strife,
And clasp each other's hand again
In heaven that's happy life.
The years may wipe out many things
But this they wipe out never,
The memory of those happy days
That once we spent together.
What would I give to clasp your hand,
And your dear face to see
To hear your voice, to see your smile
That meant so much to me.
Your spirit has fled, your suffering is o'er,
And at our fireside you will join us
No more.
But I know that you are happy
In the Saviour's arms above,
Growing fairer as you linger
In the sunshine of His love.
The years we spent together are ended in this life,
But I know we will see each other again
In heaven where we'll have a new life.

Mrs. Ada Patton has been suffering from tuberculosis of the spine for the past 10 months. The first five months of this time she was confined to her bed. During that time she wrote this poem in memory of her husband, Adam Patton, who died March 10, 1946. Formerly of Lackey, she now resides in Bowling Green, Ky., with her son, Jack Patton. At this time she is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Oakley Laferty, and son at Drift, Ky. (It.)

It is estimated that 3,000 cattle in Madison county will be treated for grub with a high-pressure spray outfit bought by the Farm Bureau.

TRAVEL, STUDY, LEARN A SKILL
EARN GOOD MONEY—ALL ON SAME JOB!

Here's how you can do it: If you qualify for army enlistment and sign up for three years, you may apply for a technical school course after you complete basic training. There's where you can learn a skill.

Then you can apply for service in the Far East, say with either the 6th or the 7th Infantry Divisions in historic Korea. There you can travel, in your free time, to curious shrines and points of interest far off the usual well-beaten tourist track.

At the same time, you can earn credits toward a high school diploma or college degree by studying under the U.S. Armed Forces Institute. This, too, you can do in your free time, no matter where you may be stationed. And all the time you earn full army pay—$90 a month overseas, and up! Visit the U.S. Army and U.S. Air Forces Recruiting Station, Postoffice, Prestonsburg, Ky. 3-4-5t.

VETERANS!

Your skill can win a grade for you in the U.S. Army

There's a special opportunity open to any Veteran of any of the Armed Forces who held one of certain military occupational specialties.

You can enlist in the Army today in your former specialty. You'll be doing the type of work you know. And your former service will count toward winning for you a grade as high as Technical Sergeant.

Army pay is the highest it has ever been. It's good, steady work. And it's a job that's important to your country. Find out the grade YOU are eligible for at your U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station.

THIS IS GOOD NEWS

THE TIMES is pleased to learn through an unequivocal statement of State Highway Commissioner Garrett L. Withers that there will be no board of highway commissioners.

This comes as a definite relief after the old nine highway districts had been restored to fit in to the proverbial T with the old nine-man commission.

Kentucky has no need of these political hatchmen at a cost of $45,000 a year, plus expenses, etcetera. Enough political logrolling and axing can be done by elected officials, not to mention what a group of salaried employes could do.

The engineers heading each of the nine highway districts can, and surely will, do all of a practical nature that the advisory commissioners could have done. They, theoretically at least, know roadbuilding. They will be on the scene, with full particulars at their fingertips.

This decision of Commissioner Withers, made doubtless at the suggestion of Governor Clements, will simply mean nine fewer men with political axes to grind, political scores to settle and debts to pay at the expense of the taxpayer.

The Lackey-Garrett Woman's Club held a special meeting recently in the home of Mrs. C. B. Ison. Mrs. Charles Sturgill, chairman of the Study club, conducted an interesting discussion on "The United Nations at Work." First, the leader presented a description of the structural organization of the U.N. and its membership. Several articles were also summarized by Mrs. Sturgill. Such magazines as Time, News-Week, Agenda and various current newspaper articles served as bases for these reviews which gave the methods by which the U.N. has dealt with such problems as that of Palestine, Greece and Korea. The drawback of Russia's veto power to the progress of U.N. was particularly stressed. In conclusion, definite attention to the Marshall plan was given as America's answer to the Communistic menace. Mrs. Ison served refreshments to Mesdames W. T. Hatcher, M. M. Collins, Mike Staley, Ruth Sturgill, Fred A. Martin, Felix Coburn, Ellen Hornsby, R. D. Spencer, Everett Blanton, W. H. Martin, Willard Castle, N. D. Howard, Edgar Dale, Ralph Wright, George Evans, Earl Castle, J. C. Wells, Thomas Hatcher, and Miss Marie Coburn, members. Guests for the evening were Mesdames Troy Webb, Bartee Estep, Otis Kilburn.

Next meeting of the club will be at the home of Mrs. Ervin Mullins. Mrs. George Evans will then present a program on "Better Buymanship."
