

This Town-- That World

OUR STOCK CURRENTLY UP

The Somerset Journal, pleading editorially for a playground there, reprinted last week an editorial from the Bardstown Standard which told of the city of Bardstown providing a free swimming pool for residents of the community, and The Floyd County Times' news-story telling of the work here toward a playground center.

"Do we think as much," asks The Journal, "of our children as the people of Prestonsburg and Bardstown do of theirs? . . . In a few days, the people of Prestonsburg subscribed $6,000 for a playground." What we have tried to do here has brought us good repute among the readers of the Somerset paper. But if we do no more than already has been done, and if the move should, after all, fail, our stock will drop there. For The Times and The Journal exchange papers each week, and they will get the story of our success or failure.

Which is as it should be—for we ourselves by our own generosity or stinginess, our industry or slothfulness, will write the story.

THIS IS OUR STORY

I never have cared about my name being "in the paper," especially in my own paper, but it's in there this week. And in none too complimentary fashion.

I'm in that list of Prestonsburg taxpayers, and the figures would indicate that I'm a No. 1 liar.

This isn't true, of course. All of us whose assessments are so ridiculously low that they belie the true worth of our property are not liars; I wouldn't say any of us are willful, malicious liars. We simply live in Prestonsburg where it has been the rule, the accepted thing, to set our property values down as low as the Board of Supervisors would accept them. Practically all those property values were set 15 or 20 years ago when real estate was as cheap as everything else and when municipal expenses were at their lowest. Nobody kicked, so we all were willing to have the City Assessor each year merely copy our assessments from the previous year's records.

That's enough all-bi-ling. Except to say that, since death and taxes are two things certain, it's human nature to avoid both.

But none of this is an excuse for

FIRE SPRAYS BOY'S BODY

Match Used Cleaning Bicycle Accidentally Sets Fire to Gasoline

Gasoline with which 12-year-old Eddie Lee Watts and his brother were cleaning a bicycle burst into flame in an open pan, spraying his body with liquid fire Tuesday morning at Mousie, and at 7 a. m., the following day the boy died in the Stumbo Memorial hospital, Lackey. The brother, Elmer Ray, escaped with minor hand burns.

A match used in probing oil holes was accidentally ignited, causing the tragedy, it was said.

Surviving the victim are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hager Watts, and six brothers and sisters, Elmer Ray, William, Reba, Minnie, Thelma and Dennis. Funeral rites were conducted this morning (Thursday) from the graveside in the Watts cemetery at Garner, the Revs. E. H. Howard, M. C. Wright and Alex Coburn officiating. Burial was under direction of the Ryan Funeral Home.

BOARD OPENS SCHOOL BIDS

Preston-Hall Figure Adjusted Low; Work Contract Is Delayed

Although the Floyd County Board of Education at its Tuesday meeting opened bids for three contracting firms on completion of the Betsy Layne school building, formal awarding of a contract was not made, pending final arrangements to finance the project.

Low bidder on the Betsy Layne building was the firm of Mitchell Preston and Town Hall, whose net bid was $120,965.81.

The contract is expected to be awarded Saturday.

Net bids of the other contractors submitting offers on the project were:

Hale & Hunter, of Betsy Layne, $125,207.52; Shepherd & Dyer, Prestonsburg, $127,350.

The Board named the Bank Josephine depository of its funds for the next two-year period on the bank's bid offering to pay 1 pct. interest on monthly balances. Adrian Collins, of the Bank Josephine, was named treasurer of the Board.

Contract for supplying tires, oil and grease for school buses was awarded the Standard Oil Company.

SUIT PLANNED TO CONDEMN

For Playground Area; $7,000 Fund Raised, Deeds Being Readied

Titles of all properties to be purchased for the playground project here, except one, are being abstracted this week and deeds being prepared against their early purchase.

Dr. George P. Archer, president of the Floyd Playground Center, Inc., said Wednesday afternoon.

These steps toward making the dream of a playground a reality were started after more than $7,000 had been subscribed by Prestonsburg citizens and business firms and deposited in a local bank and after pledges of $500 to $600 more had been made.

The one tract on which negotiations for purchase have completely failed is a part of the lot of U. S. District Attorney C. P. Stephens lying between Friend street and the school property. The City Board of Education was scheduled to meet Wednesday night to consider a request to institute condemnation proceedings.

Pipe for drainage of the area to comprise the playground has been located and is ready for shipment, it was said.

PROOF TAKEN FOR HEARING

In Redistricting Case; Special Judge Is Asked For Trial Next Week

In preparation for the court hearing here on the constitutionality of the 1948 General Assembly act which changed judicial district boundary lines in this section, depositions were being taken, pro and con, this week at the office here of Joe Hobson, one of the attorneys representing Commonwealth's Attorney John Chris Cornett and other officials who attacked the legislation in a recent suit.

An interested bystander during the taking of evidence was Ervin Turner, the Jackson man for whose benefit, foes of the legislation charge, the act was voted at the behest of the State Administration. The act, besides separating Floyd and Knott counties, severs Magoffin county, an anti-Turner section, from Breathitt and Wolfe, and will result, it is predicted, in Turner's appointment as Circuit Judge of the new district and his election for the full term.

The case, in which Circuit Judge E. P. Hill disqualified, has been certified to the Court of Appeals for a special judge. An attempt is being made to have the hearing held next week, ahead of the effective date of the act.

Bus Dispute Unsettled, School Buses To Bring Teachers Here Monday

With the Sparks Brothers Bus Company dispute still unsettled, school buses will run Monday to bring Floyd county teachers here for the five-week summer school sponsored by Eastern Teachers College, Palmer L. Hall, Superintendent of county schools, said today.

The buses will run from Mud Creek, McDowell and Wayland. Continuation of this service will depend upon the number of students from these areas.

Mrs. Greenville Spradlin, who is located in Ashland with the Kentucky Employment Service, spent Memorial Day here with relatives.

INJUNCTION RULING SET FOR FRIDAY

Jurist Deeply Stirred By Prospect of Strike, Issues Grave Warning

Federal Judge Alan Goldsborough, the jurist who has twice earlier cracked down on John L. Lewis, has set Friday as the day when he will decide if he shall issue an injunction forcing Lewis and the United Mine Workers to bargain with the Southern Coal Producers Association along with other producers' groups.

Hearing arguments by Lewis' attorneys and government counsel in the government's request for an injunction, Judge Goldsborough was deeply stirred by the prospect of a soft coal strike.

"The country's distracted," Goldsborough exclaimed at the hearing.

"The country's got to do something about it. The people of this country won't stand for having society disintegrated by movements of this kind."

He said a strike when the present soft-coal contract expires June 30 would be a "national tragedy" and warned that if it occurs, "Congress is going to act, and it may be unfortunate for both labor and management."

So the bald, peppery federal judge, who was a Congressman from Maryland for 19 years, called an immediate conference in his chambers between the lawyers for the union and the Southern Association.

He said they should be able to reconcile their differences before Friday. The meeting was brief and broke up with no announcement.

Lewis wasn't in court.

B. F. COMBS VICTIM AT 70

Prominent Attorney Is Called by Death At C. & O. Hospital

B. F. Combs, prominent Prestonsburg attorney, died at C. & O. hospital, Huntington, W. Va., Saturday at 5:15 p. m., following an illness of two years' duration. He was 70 years old.

News of Mr. Combs' passing was received with deep regret by hundreds of friends, relatives and associates throughout this and other sections of Kentucky and neighboring states.

Ballard French Combs was born Sept. 29, 1877 on Irishman Creek, Knott county, the son of John W. and Clementine Combs. He was educated in the Knott public schools and advanced so rapidly in his studies that he passed the county teachers' examination at the age of 15. Later he attended Kentucky Wesleyan College, Winchester, and studied law at Washington & Lee University, Lexington, Va., graduating from both schools in less than the customary time.

He was married in 1907 to Armita Perkins, daughter of Emery and Lucinda Perkins, of Knott county. He practiced law at Hindman for several years, moving in Prestonsburg in 1910. In a few years he established himself as an outstanding member of the Floyd county bar.

In later years he became quite prominent over the state, both in the state and federal courts, as an able, aggressive and successful advocate. He represented persons and industrial interests over a wide area in Kentucky, as well as in other states. He was a member of the American Bar Association, as well as the local and state bars.

28-Year-Old Mother Dies as 4th Babe Born

Mrs. Belle Tuttle, 28 years old, wife of Virgil Tuttle, died at her home at Minnie Sunday in the birth of her fourth child.

She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kidd, and had many friends in the county. Besides her husband, she is survived by three children, three brothers and three sisters, Henry, Mrs. Daisy Tuttle and Mrs. Alex Noble, all of Minnie. Mrs. I. B. Tuttle, Newman and Dewell King, all of Ohio.

Funeral rites were conducted Tuesday from the home of Buck Stumbo at Minnie, the Revs. Willie Collins, Troy Nickles, Tom Mosley, Hawk Moore, Matt Moore and Mitchell Chaffins officiating. Burial in the family cemetery near Wayland was directed by the Ryan Funeral Home.

FLIER GAINS LIBERTY AFTER AGENT SAYS PLANE'S CONTENTS WERE NOT NARCOTICS

Perhaps Officers Sammons and Hamilton would prefer to hear no more about it. But those little packages with the white stuff in them looked suspiciously like—well, maybe what is known to "the trade" as "snow"—and those leaves—now, they could have been marijuana.

And, besides the stuff was cached in a plane flown to the airfield here across country from Mexico. And South of the Border, one never knows what goes—until it's gone.

So the officers arrested the pilot who was listed at the county jail here as one Maurice H. Roshel and who gave his home address as York, Pennsylvania. That happened Saturday, and Mr. Roshel was the county's guest until Sunday.

Then a narcotics agent arrived here, took more than a fleeting glance at the powdery stuff and the leaves. And this guy knew his herbs—they weren't dope.

And so Mr. Roshel, with his plane, and his powder and leaves—and with 39 alligator hides as part of his cargo—left, apparently in good humor, and, avowedly, for York, Pennsylvania.

TOWN'S PARK LIGHTING NEAR

Lions Club There Says In Review of Its Work; Group Elects Sherman

Harry J. Sherman was named president of the Wayland Lions Club at its annual election of officers last Thursday evening.

Mr. Sherman succeeds F. E. Harmon under whose leadership the Club, a review of the Lions' work shows, made a record of high achievement during the last year. Other officers elected are: J. W. Paull, first vice-president; Edgar Dale, second vice-president; George E. Evans, Jr., third vice-president; J. C. Wells, secretary-treasurer; Ralph D. Wright, lion tamer; John W. Wallace, tail twister. The new directors are A. N. Cooley, Willard Castle, F. E. Harmon and S. C. Berkeley.

The Lions' Item No. 1 on an ambitious program was moving close to realization this week, it was said, as several truckloads of equipment to light the athletic field at Wayland for both baseball and football arrived, with the 80-foot towers due this week. Night baseball is expected to be played before the end of the current season.

An athletic association has been formed at Wayland as a result of Lions Club initiative, and teams representing the community will be afforded the most modern equipment and the best available coaching.

"Copper John" Campbell is expected to coach the basketball team again this coming season, and a fulltime football coach is being employed.

To accommodate larger basketball crowds, the Wayland gym will undergo a re-arrangement of seating, the Lions announce. Plans are now being drawn to provide for the seating of several hundred additional spectators. The plans will provide for moving dressing rooms to the rear and reconstructing them to house necessary lockers, showers and other conveniences. For this project the County Board of Education has promised to supply materials.

F. E. Harmon and J. C. Wells were named delegates to the Lions convention in Louisville, June 13-15, with S. C. Berkeley and A. C. Hickerson as alternates.

Mrs. W. B. Garriott, of Covington, arrived, the latter part of the week, for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George P. Archer.

LAST 'OASIS' IS NOW ARID

Pike County Prohibition Becomes Effective June 1; Dealers Run Stock Low

Prohibition forces, after years of fighting, completed a grand slam in all Eastern Kentucky at the stroke of midnight Monday.

At that hour liquor sales became illegal in Pike county, last oasis in the district. It was the 93rd of the 120 counties in the state to become dry.

The dispensaries closed—to stay closed—for the first time since national repeal in the early days of the New Deal.

Prospective liquor buyers looking for bargains were disappointed. Stocks at most of the six stores in Pikeville and a half dozen or more out in the county were virtually depleted, except for off-brands and special concoctions. By law the liquor dealers were required to dispose of their goods by the effective hour of prohibition.

The return of prohibition marked the end of a fight by dry forces that began in the county with a local-option election in September, 1946. Five of the eight districts in the county voted dry in the ballots, but the election was set aside by the Court of Appeals, which upheld a claim by anti-prohibitionists that there had been widespread irregularities.

They charged that there had been "fraud, intimidation, 'table voting', and that many persons not registered had voted."

The court nullified the election last June 13.

Less than a month later another petition for a local-option election, bearing more than 9,000 signatures, was presented to the county court, and Judge J. D. Pruitt, since retired, set last October 4 for a county-wide election. The drys won by a big majority.

By law, prohibition would have returned January 3, this year, but anti-prohibitionists at once filed notice of intention to contest the outcome.

Subsequently the wet and dry forces compromised, agreeing on June 1 for the effective date, after which liquor sales would be banned.

Under the ban, Eastern Kentuckians with a thirst now must cross the Big Sandy into West Virginia, the Ohio river into Ohio, or Pine Mountain into Virginia if they want to buy legally.

FLOYD RAISE 10 PER CENT

On Farm Land, Mineral; Johnson County Is Told Two Tax Alternatives

The Kentucky Tax Commission announced Saturday that it had made effective a blanket increase on Floyd county assessments along with those of 34 other counties.

The Floyd raise was on farm lands and mineral rights, 10 per cent on each.

Johnson county was told Tuesday that it had till next Tuesday to make this decision:

To raise its assessments 30 per cent in order to receive $19,000 state aid to schools; or

To do without school aid whatsoever and still accept a raise of 10 per cent.

Next year, officials here said, every county will be required to have its assessments up to the state average if it is to benefit from the equalization fund. This year's state average, it was said unofficially, was more than 52 per cent of actual value, while Floyd county's was only 40-odd percent.

Clyde Reeves, chairman of the State Tax Commission, speaking for himself and his associates, Jesse B. Thomas and Richard P. Slack, declared:

"In keeping with the policy announced at the beginning of the commission's work on the property-tax rolls, blanket raises have been kept to a minimum consistent with the duties imposed on the commission by the statutes.

"Property assessments are in a deplorable condition. The commission could ride down the main street of the average Kentucky town at a speed permitted by traffic laws and make a more equitable and proper assessment than that made under the present system.

"The commission is convinced that without a major overhaul of the tax assessment system the property tax will continue to disintegrate as a reliable source of revenue for schools and local government."

Body of Floyd Youth, Michigan Auto Victim, Returned to Craynor

Eighteen-year-old Wilburn D. Hamilton, of Craynor, who saw brief under-age army service during World War II, was fatally injured in an automobile wreck at Wyandotte, Mich., last Tuesday, dying Saturday of a fractured skull.

The auto in which he was a passenger collided with another car, and three occupants of the two vehicles met death, according to a report received here.

Surviving him are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Hamilton, of Craynor, and nine brothers and sisters, Lurla, Verla, Betty, Pauline, Lorene, Jack, John, Earl and Ray.

The body was returned to Craynor where funeral rites were conducted Wednesday from the parents' home, the Revs. Bill Martin, Jonah Isaacs, Evan Hamilton and Milford Adams officiating. Burial in the family cemetery was directed by the Ryan Funeral Home.

Princess Elkhorn Makes Notable Gift Of History Films, Books to Schools

COLLECTION CONSISTS OF 47 REELS, 1,000 SLIDES, 870 BOOKS

The Princess Elkhorn Coal Company, of David, through its president, David L. Francis, has made an outright gift of a notable collection of American historical motion pictures, lantern slides and books prepared by the Yale University Press to Floyd county's schools and community groups.

Announcement of the company's gift was made public here last Thursday evening by Max Burns, Princess Elkhorn personnel director, at a meeting of the Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club. Presentation of the deed for the collection was made by Mr. Burns to Palmer L. Hall, Superintendent of Floyd county schools.

The collection thus made the property of Floyd county's schools is the same as that presented several months ago by the Huntington Publishing Company to the Huntington

(W. Va.) school system and is recognized as one of the most effective programs ever prepared to provide a new and effective method in the teaching of American history and in promoting in children and adults alike a clearer understanding and appreciation of American traditions and heritage.

"It is the conviction of Mr. Francis and the management of the Princess Elkhorn Coal Company," Mr. Burns explained, "that we must do everything possible to assist our schools and youth organizations in developing in our future citizens a true appreciation of our heritage of freedom, that we must contrast to the satisfaction of our young people the philosophies of democracy versus the practices of dictatorship, and that we must help to inspire in them a zeal to do their full part in safeguarding and expanding our progress as a liberty-loving nation. To these ends, the gift has been dedicated."

The coal company's gift consists of 47 reels of educational films known as "The Chronicles of America Photoplays," a remarkable collection of 1,000 "Pageants of America" lantern slides, together with 870 volumes comprising sets of the famous

"Chronicles of America" and "The Pageant of America," upon which the films and slides are based.

County Superintendent Palmer L. Hall and Superintendent Chalmers Frazier, of Prestonsburg, have welcomed this gift with enthusiasm and are formulating plans for the widespread and effective use of the various materials upon the reopening of school next autumn. The films and slides are to be lodged by Princess Elkhorn with the County Superintendent's office from which point they will be available for free educational use by all the schools and community groups of the county. Complete teacher's manuals have been made available in order that a standard method of procedure may be followed to obtain maximum results from these visual aids.

Sets of "The Chronicles of America" and "The Pageant of America" are to be placed for systematic and continuous use in the schools of 18 communities in Floyd county and

Housing Situation Now Most Critical

An influx of workers for the Williams Construction Company, contractors on relocation of the United Fuel Company 20-inch gas line in the Dewey reservoir area, has resulted in the months-long housing shortage here becoming even more critical. Junior Chamber of Commerce officials said this week. At least a dozen families are without rooms and despite their willingness to accept almost any type of lodging, they still are unable to find living quarters.

To assist these, Hughes Drug Store and the Patton & Shepherd Service Station have agreed to act as centers where owners of vacant rooms, apartments or homes may leave their addresses and contact tenants. The telephone numbers are 3002 and 6141.

ESTILL MAN AMONG DEAD

Of Holiday Week-End; Two Others Victims, Result of Wrecks

Three persons, one a resident of Estill, this county, were killed in motor wrecks in Johnson and Lawrence counties over the holiday week-end.

The victim from this county was 23-year-old Harold Rose, store employee of the Central Elkhorn Coal Company at Estill, who died of a skull fracture after the auto in which he and two others were riding overturned near the George's Creek bridge, Lawrence county, at 5 a. m., Sunday.

W. H. Amburgy, said to have been the driver of the car, and the other passenger, Johnny Green, escaped serious injury.

Other victims were:

Frank Basum, 40, Louisville, killed Saturday when his truck, loaded with cattle from the Paintsville market, plunged over an embankment near the Barnett's Creek bridge, a few miles from Paintsville.

Mrs. Polly Skaggs, 58, wife of Herb Skaggs, killed near Louisa in a collision with an auto occupied by Russell Haskins and Jerry Stacy, of Salersville.

Fifteen calves were killed in the wreck of the Louisville truck.

Rose, a veteran of World War II, was a son of the late Albert Rose and of Mrs. Nora Rose Decker, of Estill, and was well-known in the county. Besides his mother, he is survived by a brother, Francis, and one sister.

His funeral was conducted Wednesday afternoon at Estill, with Wayland American Legion Post according military honors. Burial was made under direction of the Jones Funeral Home.

SIX WAR DEAD ON WAY HOME

Floyd-co. Soldiers Among 96 from State Returned from Pacific

Six of the 96 bodies of Kentucky war dead being returned to this country from the Pacific by army transport are from Floyd county, it was learned here Monday.

The 96 are soldiers buried in temporary military cemeteries in New Guinea and the Philippines. The Floyd dead and their next-of-kin are:

Pfc. Charles Arms, Elgie Arms, East Point; Pvt. Lee Baker, Mrs. Ella Baker, Bonanza; Pvt. Charles E. Clevenger, C. E. Clevenger, Allen; Pvt. Watt Keathley, Bert Keathley, Harold; Pfc. Ashland P. Stephens, Grover C. Stephens, Hueysville, and Sgt. Bill Stephens, Henry C. Stephens, Risher.

The Left Beaver road, declared in the worst condition of any heavily traveled route of this section, has not been mentioned officially for improvement.

BEGINNINGS OF LAKE TO BE SEEN SOON AS STREAM TO BE DIVERTED AT DEWEY

Although a full Dewey reservoir is a matter of several months distant, the diversion of Johns Creek through the outlet works tunnel to permit actual damming of the stream will within a few days create a miniature lake which will extend over bottom land on the R. L. Spradlin farm in the vicinity of the dam site, it was learned this week.

Materials from this low-lying area are now being moved in preparation for the diversion phase of the work. The Spradlin home was razed 10 days or more ago. The ditch to accommodate the stream in a sharp

COUNTY BOARD EMPLOYS 200 FOR SCHOOLS

Teacher List Yet Shy Of Full Complement; All Hired, Certified

More than 200 teachers were employed by the Floyd County Board of Education, Tuesday, for the 1948-49 school term but yet to be hired are more than 100 before the full teaching corps is assembled.

Only certified teachers, or those who will be certified by the opening of the term, were employed. Most of the existing vacancies will be filled by the hiring of emergency teachers but none of these may be given contracts earlier than two weeks before the opening of school.

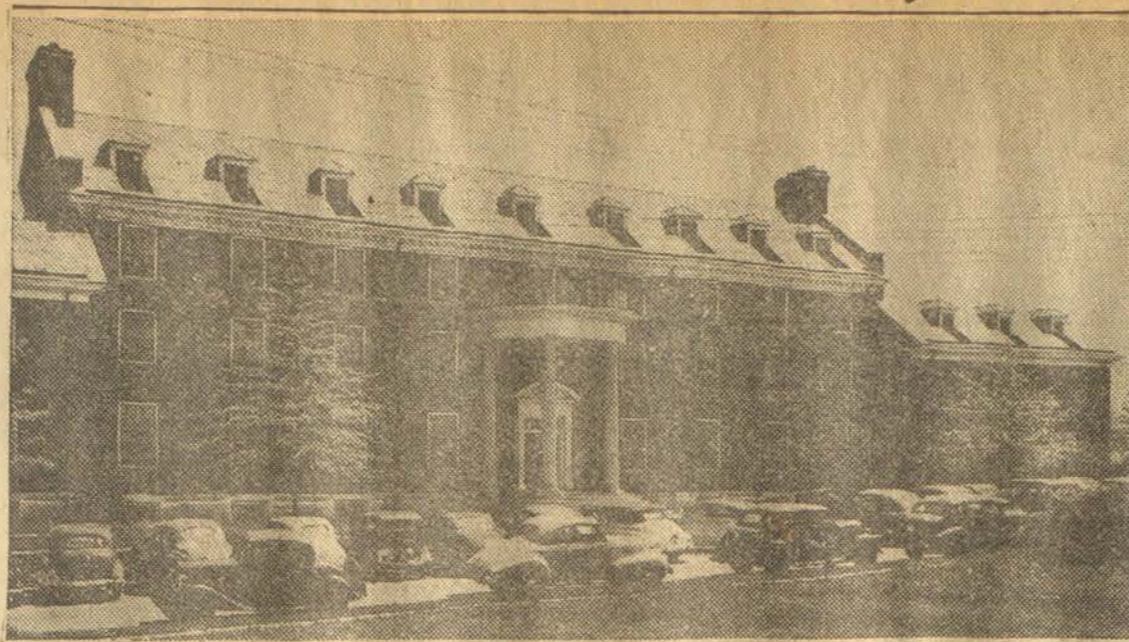

Greater number of vacancies exist in the rural schools, though there are yet a dozen or more places to be filled in the consolidated schools.

The Prestonsburg and Floyd County high school faculty was not named by the county board Tuesday, since this is a function performed jointly by the county and city boards.

KENTUCKY ON THE MARCH

By EWING GALLOWAY
"You would berate a penitent because he came to the mourners' bench several years late," I told an old neighbor who, upon hearing that the organized bankers of Kentucky have an agricultural promotion program, was panning them for their do-little policy in the past. He said the Kentucky Bankers Association had been neglecting a wonderful opportunity during 15 years the Extension Service and the Farm Bureau Federation had been leading a statewide campaign to erase gullies and make 75 bushels of corn grow where twenty bushels used to grow.

"A revolution in agricultural methods was going on right under the eyes of our bankers, yet they did next to nothing to help the movement," my friend went on to say. "They seldom went out of their way to extend credit to farmers. The production credit cooperatives came to our rescue with 5 per cent money when the banks were reluctant to lend money on livestock at all. And as for getting up out of their swivel chairs and going out to visit farmers and encourage them—well, they just sat in their easy chairs, daily increasing the gloss on the seats of their pants."

"Yes, that may be true," I countered, "but you are locking the door when a penitent comes to church. Maybe 'penitent' does not fit some of our bankers. Perhaps they are just waiting for the KBA as an organization to wake up. Anyway, I think it is up to us farmers to welcome them wholeheartedly. They have a chance to do a wonderful lot of good!"

The KBA's program is closely patterned after that of the Farm Bureau Federation and Extension Service. Nobody can find fault with it. Its bulletins are well written, convincing. The association has a full-time field agent. But in my humble opinion it would be better if the KBA did its promotional work almost exclusively thru agencies already functioning. Duplication is a waste of energy and money. It sometimes breeds friction.

As a farmer working with the help of the Extension Service and our local Farm Bureau for 11 years, I would suggest that the KBA have its field agent give most of his time to working with member bankers, persuading and encouraging them to leave their swivel chairs several hours each week and go out in the country and really prove they are interested in what farmers are doing. Bill Bailey, the Clarksville banker, made himself a national celebrity by doing just that. Starting from scratch, with some ragged farms tossed in his lap by the big depression, Bailey started a sheep raising industry in a district which now has over 60,000 ewes. Bailey and two assistants are still spending most of their afternoons visiting farms and promoting better agriculture on the spot.

Gentlemen of the Kentucky Bankers Association, you have a grand and glorious opportunity. Go to it!

Bascom Coffey, of Russell county, set out 400 fruit trees this spring in his long-time orchard program.

WEATHERBOARDED OVER

THIS morning I walked down town with an older citizen who has watched for more than 60 years the growth of our town. As we passed various houses, he told interesting things that have happened to them. One had part of its roof taken off by a Civil War cannonball; another once stood two blocks away and, though brick, was slowly moved to the place where I have always seen it; several of the finer houses, he said, are basically log but have been weatherboarded over. I was surprised to learn this, for I had assumed that there are very few remaining log houses in my town. Thus those ancient ones have lasted until they are again fashionable, and it would not be surprising if some owner of such an antique were to remove the weatherboarding and recreate the old log house. On my return journey from down town I passed a lot where a genuine old log house is being put up, an elaborate old thing that will be distinctive in our town for ages to come. And thus goes the style of building.

This experience has given me food for thought and moralizing. How many of our present-day customs are weatherboarded over! Outward styles have changed, but underneath the same old virtues or even vices remain. High-falutin' younger generations object to Grandpa's tastes but are not able to eradicate them completely. They resort to weatherboarding or whitewash or varnish or paint. Take antique furniture, for instance, with its layers of paint and varnish that have to be taken off before the genuine wood is reached. Probably we have covered up more customs and manners than we have covered logs and antique furniture.

There have been so many social changes within my own lifetime that I marvel at our capacity for change. In education, for instance, I know college graduates whose parents could not read and write; as I have said several times in this column, Ph.D. degrees are commoner today than high school diplomas were when I left Fidelity 40 years ago. In no sense am I belittling the backgrounds of my own generation when I say these things, for it has been a joy to see the growth of education on all levels. But something should be said for the sound old logs that often hide behind the modern weatherboarding. Many an educated person whom I have known grew up in a home that had little education, but there was always present an appreciation for learning, an eagerness to know. The young man who drove me home from down town today, when we passed the old log house that is going up again, is leaving in a few days for a great graduate school to complete the last lap for his Ph.D. He has grown up in this town, with every advantage known. His father is not a college graduate but has seen to it that his four sons and daughters have had a college education. A successful business man, hampered in his earlier days by lack of opportunity for education, he has shown how permanent is the core of his household, maybe sound old logs of another time. Whenever I go out to remote places to speak at commencements, I am always impressed with the seriousness of the parents, who through trying times like these have put their children through school years beyond what they have had themselves.

Reformers who would like to wipe out all evidence of our past and start all over again are foolishly trying to do what is against nature itself. The true reformer begins, as he must, with what he finds. This is not always promising and may be discouraging. But human nature being what it is, capable of growth, there is enough encouragement about it to challenge any one who seriously wants to make humanity better. Who knows how excellent a core of sound building material may lie behind the modern exterior, good or bad, of your neighbor's son or daughter?

Approximately 1,000 acres of Ky. Seven 4-H club boys in Franklin county have staked out 5,750 feet of contour lines on 44.5 acres.

Long Illness Claims Miss Cooley Friday; Funeral Held Sunday

An illness of 12 years of tuberculosis ended Friday in the death at Eastern of Miss Ruth Cooley, 41, daughter of the late Harry Cooley and of Mrs. Amanda Turner Cooley, and a member of a prominent Floyd county family.

Miss Cooley was a native of the community in which she died and she had many relatives and friends throughout this section. She had been a member of the Baptist Church for several years.

Surviving, besides her mother, are five brothers and four sisters: Circuit Clerk W. W. Cooley, Prestonsburg, J. C. Cooley, of Eastern, Joe H. Cooley, Prestonsburg, Savage Cooley, of Eastern, Orville Cooley, Prestonsburg, Mrs. Chester Allen, Haysville, Mrs. Johnny Gearheart, of Ohio, Mrs. Mabel Hensley, of Warco, and Mrs. Blanche Castle, Prestonsburg.

Funeral rites were conducted Sunday at Eastern, the Revs. Bennett Adams and Willard S. Akers officiating. Burial in the family cemetery was under direction of the Arnold Funeral Home.

WLW To Broadcast Folk Song Festival

The American Folk Song Festival which is to be revived Sunday, June 13 at Traip's Woman cabin on the Mayo Trail, U.S. 23, about 14 miles south of Catlettsburg, will be covered this year by WLW's mobile broadcasting unit, it was announced last week.

Many Big Sandy residents will participate in the festival, among them Bud McCoy, formerly a resident of Ft. Gay, W. Va., Frankie Jane McCoy and Sid Hatfield, well-known fiddler.

Mrs. Earl Mathie, nationally-known sculptor, will arrive in advance of the festival in order to make preliminary arrangements to do busts of Rosanna McCoy and Jack Hatfield, "the Romeo and Juliet of the Mountains." Mrs. Mathie has exhibited her work, including "The Mountain Madonna," in the Cleveland show, in Akron, Washington, D. C., and New York City.

WESTMINSTER FELLOWSHIP GROUP PRESENTS PLAY

Mrs. Ernest Osborne and Mrs. James E. Goble were co-hostesses to the Woman's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian Church Tuesday evening in the church parlors on Third avenue. Mrs. Osborne, who is director of the Junior Westminster Fellowship group, presented an interesting play, "Pictures from Benito." The interpreter, Mrs. Osborne, presented the cast, A Missionary to Africa: Jessica Smiley, her daughter, Judy Smiley, "Zam," a young Christian mother, Jane Carol Ford; native women, Mary Ann Daniels, Alice Cury; native child, Virginia Ann Allen.

This playlet portrayed life in Benito and showed much talent on the part of the entire cast. The 23rd Psalm with posters illustrating the verses were given by Mary Ann Daniels, George Cury, Jane Carol Ford, William Osborne, David Black and Jessica Smiley; 50 questions of the Children's Catechism were recited by David Black, Jessica Smiley and William Osborne. Salutes to the American and Christian flags and the Holy Bible were given by the group. The flags were held by Virginia Ann Allen, James Osborne and Judy Smiley. The Junior Group gave $10 to missionary work in Africa staking a claim for which they received pictures and literature depicting the work of missionaries in that field of Foullassi Africa. They will soon be ready to stake a claim in another field.

The hostesses served refreshments of tea cakes and punch from a beautifully decorated table covered with white linen with a centerpiece of red roses, accompanied by crystal candlesticks holding white candles. Those attending the playlet were Mesdames J. C. Spurlin, W. C. Rimmer, Richard Webb, Jr., Roy Heden, E. R. Burke, J. B. Ford, Everett Sowards, Kenneth Allen, Winston Ford, C. H. Smith, W. V. Army Air Forces Offers Education, Training to Grads

"Young men graduating from high school this year can continue their education and training without interruption despite crowded conditions in colleges and universities and, at the same time, look forward to earning a good income," T/4 Charles James of the U.S. Army and U.S. Army Recruiting Station in Prestonsburg, said recently.

Service with the U.S. Air Force offers qualified high school graduates the technical training in technical skills without cost, a chance to continue their general education and excellent opportunities for advancement and increases in pay.

Under the USAF Education Career Plan, men 18 to 34 years of age who have finished high school and are in good health, may decide for themselves the technical training courses in which they would like to be enrolled, and they then enlist only after they have qualified for the training.

Once in the air force, the new airman may look forward to specialized advanced technical courses which will increase his proficiency in his chosen skill, and he also will be eligible for enrollment in the United States Armed Forces Institute, which offers general educational and technical subjects up to and including the college level. The student may prepare himself to qualify for an officer's commission under the Aviation Cadet Pilot Training program, or the Officer Candidate program for non-flying officers.

Career specialists under the Air Force plan are eligible for promotion to private first class, after four months of service, with pay, benefits and allowances which have been estimated to approximate civilian pay of more than $60 a week. If he wishes to make a career of the Air Force, a high school graduate is assured of pay increases of five per cent for each three years of service, and a substantial retirement income after 20 to 30 years of service.

Aviation cadet pilot training, which is open to men 20 to 26½ years of age who have completed two years of college training or the equivalent, offers the chance to fly the Air Force's new fast jet planes, and successful graduates of the training program are commissioned second lieutenants in the Air Force Reserve, given the aeronautical rating of pilot, and assigned to active flying duty with the Air Force. After one year of training, the new pilot officer receives a starting salary of $330 a month.

Under a new pre-selected school plan, qualified young men with high school diplomas can also pick their own fields of specialization in army technical schools before enlistment and then be assured of assignment to schools of teaching their preferred occupations following completion of basic training, Sgt. James announced.

Some 60 fields are open to graduates who can meet the high enlistment standards, Sgt. James explained. Among them are: radar, meteorology, photography, electricity, drafting, cryptography, engineering, re-

OF INTEREST TO VETERANS

Veterans Administration this week cautioned veterans, builders and lenders against the consequences of making or accepting so-called "side payments" in the sale of home properties to veterans with the aid of G.I. loans.

VA said such side payments—usually made for the purpose of evading the prohibition against sales to veterans in excess of appraised "reasonable value"—are a direct violation of law and subject offenders to possible federal prosecution.

Many cases have been reported in which veterans have been induced to pay the builder or seller an amount over and above the sale price shown on the loan report submitted to VA, and upon which the government loan guarantee is based.

Veterans who knowingly conspire to evade the law by making such side payments risk loss of their rights under all veterans' laws, VA warned.

VA said that any lender who submits a loan to VA for guaranty while possessing knowledge of a side payment in connection with the sale—even though the payment was made to a third party other than the lender—will be suspended from further participation in the G.I. loan program. Also, any guaranty issued in connection with the transaction will be invalidated.

Veterans Administration and the Veterans' Hospital Camp Shows have re-established the Hospital Sketching Program originally instituted by the USO-Camp Shows, VA announced recently.

The program will draw on a pool of 150 volunteers, all professional artists, sending them out for a week at a time to sketch portraits of hospitalized men who receive the finished likeness as a gift.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. How many veterans suffered speech impairment during World War II and what is being done to aid them to overcome the handicap?

A. Approximately 100,000 World War II veterans suffered speech impairment in service. Special restorative training has been established by VA to help eligible veterans overcome the handicap.

Q. Is it necessary that a child, in custody of a veteran's widow, file a separate claim for compensation?

A. No.

A Gift to Floyd County Children

IT IS doubtful if any school subject is so important as History to the youngster in his preparation for life as a citizen of understanding heart and mind.

Properly taught, History affords a view in retrospect of how humans like us acted during momentous events and how society reacted to the rollings of the tide of destiny.

The study of history as a matter of rote, with the dry data of dates and mere places stressed, is another matter and reduces the subject to little more than a memory exercise. American history, for all its comparative newness, thus is often made a dry, lifeless thing without appeal to the imagination, and with only such myths as the Cherry Tree episode the only memorable passages left to the student.

In this age when youth is restless, sated, critical of their America, and for lack of perspective unappreciative of the freedoms they enjoy because men and women worked and fought heroically and lived dangerously in the past, there is an especial need for the full picture, the thrilling saga of this nation, its founders and defenders, to be presented to the young mind in the most striking fashion.

Fuller understanding of the real America will make better Americans.

To that end, the Princess Elkhorn Coal Company has purchased and made to the Floyd county school system an outright gift of a notable collection of American historical pictures, lantern slides and books prepared by the Yale University Press. This will provide forty-seven reels of educational films, known as The Chronicles of America, a collection of one thousand pageant of America lantern slides, together with almost nine hundred volumes of history.

Thus is provided visual history education, events and personages on the screen, as well as the lore of books. There is an old truism that runs to the effect that a picture is worth a thousand words, and this fixes the worth of this collection of films and slides presenting in the most graphic manner the great events and personages of American history.

This gift to Floyd county schools and school children, made at no inconsiderable expense to the donor, is a lasting gift and one which will be appreciated more as time passes.

The donor richly deserves the thanks of the people of the county. And officials of the company have earned congratulations for the idea and ideals back of their gift.

THE Courier-Journal reported the following in a Page One story, a few days ago:

Slot machines are out in the open again in Jefferson county.

Though loud enough to be heard outside many a highway cafe, they haven't caught the ears of the county police yet. Maybe it's because police motorcycles are too noisy.

But in a recent, seven-hour check, a reporter and a photographer found 19 slots in 10 establishments. They found an ample number of players, too. The "one-armed bandits" are doing as well with one arm as Jesse James did with two.

To play the devices, you don't have to walk into a fake rent room and whisper "Joe sent me" through a sliding panel. They're right out in the open, in some instances next to the pinball games.

The slots are the same, unmistakable, three-wheel type Daddy used to tell about. For only a quarter or a nickel, you can see liberty bells, bars, and four varieties of fruit, particularly lemons, spin before you and come to a stop.

It's slightly profitable to hit three fruits all of the same kind, but usually you end up with a combination salad.

Now, according to some folks' reasoning, those two newspapermen belong behind the bars if they refuse to name names and places in court.

We say, the guys deserve a medal and the thanks of all who believe in law enforcement for the service they have already rendered, whether they "sing" or not—and we predict they will not.

The service they have performed lies in showing what two lowly newspapermen, armed with nothing more potent than a camera and pencil and paper, could find during a "casual 7-hour check" that the county police, for all their organization and vaunted zeal for law and order, had not found, or reported as found.

All the lawbreakers are not underground. And it doesn't require an Argus to find them.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

IN RECOGNITION OF DEVOTION

Editor, The Times:

Few families could or did do more for a patient and loved one than the entire Cooley family did for their beloved sister, Ruth, whose death last week was mourned by all knowing her. While every member of her family did all possible to relieve her suffering, to make her comfortable and to provide for her in every way, any one of the others would be quick to accord major credit to Jobey Cooley and his wife, who lived beside Ruth for years during her long, lingering illness.

No one wishes to minimize or to detract from the credit due these loyal brothers and sisters and the devoted mother, but the unique and high tribute Ruth herself paid Jobey Cooley shortly before her death deserves publication and in a small way shows her feelings for those kindnesses and ministrations which so touched her loving heart.

When asked not long before she passed away if she had any last wishes she said, "Only one." As dear ones waited breathlessly to hear what it might be, ready to accord her every request, she quietly said: "It might not seem right, and perhaps you cannot do it, but I want to be buried so Jobey can be beside me. If that's unfair to his wife, forget my request."

Mr. Cooley quickly replied, "I have two sides, honey. You can have one side, and Myrtle can rest beside me on the other."

How sweet to know those loved and served are so grateful!

Widow's Suit Asks Damages of $25,000 In Husband's Death

Alleging that negligence and carelessness resulted last June 8 in a train smashing into a truck occupied by her husband at the Salisbury railroad crossing and killing him, Mrs. Lexie Allen, administratrix of the estate of Virgil Allen, of Printer, filed suit Friday against the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company for $25,000 damages.

The suit also named Charlie Caudill and Helton Hall, engineer and freeman, respectively, of the railway company, as co-defendants.

Another suit in which Mrs. Allen and Elmer B. Wolverton are plaintiffs seeks to recover $1,200 for the truck smashed by the train. Allen and Wolverton were joint-owners of the truck.

Both suits were filed for the plaintiffs by Atty. Edward L. Allen.

continued aberrance from our duty as citizens. Prestonsburg should and must be self-supporting. It must not depend upon the visiting public to help toward its support by paying to parking meters. It can't depend upon charity. And there are things that too long have been left undone, and these things require money.
This bit of publicity we are all getting this week is not for the purpose of "showing up" anybody, for all of us are pretty much in the same boat. It is the start toward getting a fair and just assessment on property, and, consequently, to raise more revenue, with each taxpayer contributing according to his holdings. This published list is to let all who care know how their assessments compare with those of others. Later, the results of the new attempt at equalization are to be published for the same purpose.
Well, anyway, we all know where we stand. Wish I could buy the town on its present assessment and sell it at 50 per cent of prevailing prices, don't you?
TOO BUSY, ALL OF US
I've felt a little guilty, ever since I spent several days fishing at Dale Hollow Lake and passed the birthplace of Cordell Hull a dozen or more times without stopping to make pilgrimage to the home of one of the nation's great men.
But I did make inquiry about the place. I found, first of all, that no-body lives in the old house, that the Hull family no longer even owns 't. A neighbor who lives across the road, the Cordell Hull highway, owns it. We were told none of the Hulls were thereabouts.
This plain home set in surroundings as poor as the poorest in this section looks very lonely, there beside a heavily traveled road, all quiet, deserted, as vacationists and fisherfolk hurry on to the lake, a few miles away. The only concession to modernity I saw about the place was that the house had a tin roof. Oldest thing I saw about the premises was a careening log structure which I took to be an ancient smoke-house.
All the time I was there, I planned to look inside the rooms where young Cordell Hull lived, ate and slept and shared the joys and sorrows of his father and mother, his brothers and sisters. I thought to walk about the place where the youngster had walked, many years before he became, or dreamed of becoming, a national or world figure, I thought of having somebody guide me to the nearby gorge in a cave of which his father was said to have done a bit of moonshining.
For some reason I like to go to places like this, to dwell in the imagination with the things made intangible by time.
But we are all too busy, these days, to do what we would like to do. And I, ridiculously enough, was too busy fishing.

I wonder if Cordell Hull, now old and broken in health, would like to find time to go back to the old place once again.

Prestonsburg Assessments

The following figures are taken from the 1947 City of Prestonsburg tax books to provide a basis for an effective equalization of property assessments in the city. Later, when the Board of Supervisors has attempted a new equalization of assessments, the figures again will be published, only for the purpose of giving each property-owner the opportunity to compare his assessment with his neighbors.

The space required for this assessment list is a contribution of The Floyd County Times in the interest of community progress.

three sets of "The Pageant of America" are to be circulated by Mr. Hall among the one to three-room public schools.

Each high school and Palmer-Dunbar (colored) school at Wheelwright will receive a set of the Chronicles and the Pageant, and sets of the latter will also go to Lackey, David, Allen, Bosco, Weeksburg, Drift, Clear Creek, Harold, Ligon and Prestonsburg grade schools.

The Chronicles of America Photographs, consisting of 15 individual pictures are unique and authentic historical film documents which recreate events of outstanding importance from the voyage of Columbus to the meeting of Lee and Grant at Appomattox. The historical personages, the costumes, architecture, settings and all of the minutia of motion picture production are reproduced with scrupulous regard for historical accuracy. The stories of the first two films, "Columbus" and "Jamestown," are told in four reels each. The other 13, in three reels each, cover the Pilgrims and the Puritans in New England, the Dutch colony of New Amsterdam, the struggles between the French and English, the beginning and end of the Revolution, westward expansion as depicted by George Rogers Clark and Daniel Boone, Washington's first administration, and a final film dealing with the War Between the States from the standpoint of the civilian South.

The second phase of the coal company's gift is a set of The Pageant of America Lantern Slides which represent a careful selection of 1,000 of the most significant pictures which appear in the 15 Pageant of America volumes. Of this number, 625 have been edited and classified into 24 convenient teaching units which provide organized and complete treatments of each topic, such as "The Story of the Indian," "The Thirteen Colonies and Their Settlement," "The Constitution and the New Government," "The Story of Lumber and Paper," "The Story of Art," etc. The remaining 375 slides constitute supplementary groups organized under such headings as "Maps," "Cartoons," "Portraits," and "Papers and Documents." These, it is explained, enable the teacher to place special emphasis on the various subjects under discussion. The Pageant of America Lantern Slides is reputed to be the most original, authentic and serviceable collection ever assembled as a teaching aid not only in the field of American history but in economics, American literature, art and other courses of study.

The third and fourth phase of this extensive program consist of the books from which the films and slides have been adapted, the 51

Chronicles of America volumes and the 15 Pageant of America volumes. The Chronicles of America is a series of narratives telling the story of America from the days when men roamed the wilderness. Each volume is written by an author eminently qualified for treating the subject to which that particular book is devoted. The 50 readable titles of the Chronicles volumes fall into eight topical sequences, each with a dominant theme of its own. The first of these, "The Morning of America," covers the period from 1492 to 1763 and comprises 10 volumes relating to the struggle of nations for possession of the new world, with the mariners of Spain, Portugal, France and England competing. "The Winning of Independence," 1763-1815, in seven volumes and covers the rebellion by Englishmen in the new world against political dictation from the King and Parliament of England. "The Vision of the West," 1750-1800, is told in nine volumes. It is the story of the American frontier, the conquest of the continent from the Alleghenies to the Pacific ocean, and includes an account of the greatest migrations in history. "The Storm of Secession," 1830-1876, in six volumes, has for its theme the preservation of the Union which carries with it the extermination of slavery. "The Intellectual Life," in two volumes, follows on the higher national life, telling of the nation's greatest teachers and interpreters. "The Epic of Commerce and Industry," in eight volumes, is devoted to the romance of industry and business, with the dominant theme the transformation caused by the inflow of immigrants and the development and utilization of mechanics on a great scale. "The Era of World Power," in six volumes, carries the story of government and diplomacy and political expansion from the reconstruction in 1876 to the present day. "Our Neighbors," in two volumes, rounds out the story of the continent, returning to the Hispanic peoples on the south and the Canadians on the north. The final volume is the Yale Course of Home Study.

The Pageant of America in 15 volumes is a unique, authentic pictorial history which covers all important phases of our national development. The series contains 11,500 rare and interesting pictures, drawings, charts, maps and photographs assembled after nine years of diligent research and representing, as the name implies, a veritable pageant of pictorial Americana. The illustrations are linked together to present a complete story by an accompanying text of one and one-quarter million words prepared by 29 of the foremost historians of the United States.

These four methods of presenting American history to the nation's youth represent a program which is considered peculiarly significant at this critical time when the schools of America are being called upon as never before to give to youth a clear understanding of the essential elements of the democratic way of life.

Floyd Countians Gave Short of Three Cents Each to Dimes March

The 1948 March of Dimes held last January brought the best net results of any previous campaign in Kentucky, according to H. St. G. T. Carmichael, state campaign chairman.

The people of Floyd county, however, contributed a total of only $1,211.52, or a fraction more than 2 cents per person in the county. Total net receipts over the state were $240,970.63.

Mr. Carmichael said receipts of this campaign came at a time when they are most needed by the Kentucky Chapter. During the past year expenses in the care of polio patients have completely exhausted the chapter's funds so that the money raised in the 1948 March of Dimes will be used immediately to provide care during the coming months.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Dimick, of Huntington, visited Mayor and Mrs. E. P. Arnold Monday and Tuesday.

Look, Kids!—Carnival Days at Cox's Store!

Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week are Carnival Days at the Cox Department Store here, and the atmosphere of the entire store is one to give the youngsters that carnival feeling.

The storewide bargains are for the older folk.

Sawdust on the floor, balloons galore, perhaps a clown to do his funny acts, are among the attractions for these three days.

And during the same time the store is conducting a Monkey-Naming contest. You get your card at the store—no purchase necessary—and write three names on the card which you return to the store. First prize is $20; second, $10, and third, $5. If your names are best, the prizes will be awarded you, whether you are present at the end of the contest or not.

Booklet Lists Ways To Save Food, Money

Ways to save both food and money are suggested in a new menu and recipe booklet, "Money-Saving Main Dishes," according to Mrs. Pearl Haak, food specialist at the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky.

Prepared by Washington home economists, the 48-page food guide contains more than 150 recipes, with suggestions for well-rounded menus. The recipes are economical, yet healthful, for they suggest uses of plentiful, cheaper foods, high in nutritional value. Copies of the booklet may be had from offices of county or home agents, or from the college, Lexington.

Floyd County Sports

TO OPEN PARK TO NIGHT BALL

Lights To Flash On At W Wright Field, Thursday, June 10th

Wheelwright, Floyd county's entry in the Mountain Baseball League, will open its park to play under the lights, Thursday and Friday nights of next week, with Pikeville the opposition in both contests, it was announced this week.

The Wheelwright lighting system is said to be one of the best in Eastern Kentucky, and its installation leaves Pikeville the only park in the league where night baseball cannot be played.

The Floyd team is running well up with the leaders in the race, with Wohlford, former Martin boy, bellwether of the mound staff.

FISH AND GAME NOTES

A total of 1,187 farm ponds in Kentucky have been stocked with bream and bass so far this spring with only ponds in a few more counties remaining to be visited by the distribution truck, the Fisheries Department of the Division of Game and Fish has announced. Approximately 90,000 bass fry has been placed in these ponds with the number expected to reach over 100,000 before the work is concluded. Farmers wishing to have their ponds stocked may obtain fingerlings during the fall providing they make application with the conservation officer in their area in the near future, the Division has announced. Fingerling distribution will begin during August. The fry and fingerlings are obtained from the fish hatcheries at Glasgow and Williamstown.

Fines totaling $750 were assessed Monday at Frankfort against the Old Taylor and Old Crow Distilleries branches of the National Distillers Products Corp., after pleas of guilty were entered on three charges of water pollution. The branches were cited in indictments in March, April and October of 1947, charging material from the distilleries polluted waters in Glenn Creek, Woodford county effluent of the Kentucky river. The corporation paid $250 each on three counts after pleading guilty following a conference with Circuit Judge W. B. Ardery before whom the cases were scheduled to be tried. The guilty pleas were accompanied by statements that the firm is taking steps to remedy the pollution source.

Wet Grounds Cancel Two Big Sandy Tilts Slated Last Sunday

Wet grounds slowed up action in the Big Sandy Baseball League Sunday, eliminating two scheduled doubleheaders and hampering the teams which did play.

The Garrett-Wayland setto was canceled, as was the Weeksbury-Pikeville game.

Prestonsburg dropped a doubleheader at Elkhorn City, 14 to 1 and 12-3, but Harold gave Paintsville a twin drubbing, 12-3 and 3-1. In the third doubleheader of the day Van Lear emerged victor in both games over Clear Creek.

Prestonsburg presented a makeshift lineup against the league-leading Elkhorn City team and was never a threat. Box scores for all games were unavailable.

SPORTS AFIELD

By TED KESTING
Louis Bromfield, noted American author, in his new book, "Malabar Farm," points out that abundant fish and game are linked directly to good agricultural practices, and that there is no greater beneficiary of good agriculture and proper land use than the sportsman.

A fact frequently overlooked by sportsmen and farmers is that game animals and birds will not stay on eroded and depleted land, nor will fish live in silt-filled streams.

Writing about farm-game restoration problems, Bromfield discusses the program of the Ohio Conservation Commission which has developed a policy based primarily, not upon artificial propagation, but upon natural habitat and food.

This Ohio program depends for its success upon proper land use by farmers, upon proper disposal of industrial and city sewage wastes, upon maintaining suitable parks, sanctuaries and game propagation areas, and upon the establishment of headwater lakes as fishbreeding areas.

The Muskingum Valley Flood Control project is an excellent example of how this program works. Set up after the disastrous flood of 1913, it resulted in the establishment of 12 lakes for impounding flood waters and for setting aside of lands surrounding the lakes for recreational areas and for development into state forests.

The project was revolutionary for it sought to control floods at their source rather than by expensive and futile dams, levees and other means at the bottom of rivers. The dams and lakes constructed along the Muskingum river served to impound flood waters absolutely and in a year or two virtually paid for themselves in preventing losses.

The efficiency of a joint federal, state and local watershed development, managed autonomously by a local control board, was proved in a score of ways. Within the area principles of good land use are followed and enforced. The imposition of these rules has greatly increased the fish and wildlife population of the area. So besides proving a great economical asset, the district has proved a paradise for sportsmen.

It is unfortunate that the effectiveness of the district has had little publicity, for it is a pattern which could well be followed with great benefit by most of the secondary watersheds of every state in the nation.

Notice to Taxpayers

A Taxpayers League is being proposed, whereby it is hoped the people will be saved many thousands of dollars. The writer had an occasion not long ago to check into the payment of a fine and it seemed that the charge had been changed and the fine reduced from $100, and $4.50 costs, and reported as a $50 fine and kept $54.50 as costs in the case. If every man and woman who has been fined in Floyd county within the last five years will report his name to the secretary of the Taxpayers League it will be investigated free. Give your name, when and whom you were tried by. To put this league on its feet, a small assessment of from 50c to $1 will be made and when an excess is reached no further assessment will be made. You may pay $1 and thereby save $40 or more.

A few weeks ago one or two assistant examiners examined the County Court Clerk's office, and the clerk thereupon demanded a full and complete audit, which was not done, and it is now proposed to take the matter up with the Chief Examiner, and if no action, then a request to the Governor. There is plenty to be found and when the books and pages are given you will be astounded.

A CITIZEN AND TAXPAYER WHO IS INTERESTED (Adv.)

TO LEAD TEAM IN TOURNEY

Cats Are Slated Against Ft. Knox Next Wednesday

Coach John R. Eibner, of the Prestonsburg Black Cats, was expected to return to Prestonsburg this week in time to put his high school regional champs through their final tuning-up drills before the state tournament in Louisville next Wednesday and Thursday.

Eibner left two weeks ago for a navy reserve Caribbean cruise. His team won the regional title during his absence.

Prestonsburg in the state tourney will play Ft. Knox Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Parkway Field in the second game of the meet. The opening game at 10 a.m., Wednesday will be between Central City and Lee county. Heath will meet Louisville Manual at 4 p.m., and Newport Catholic is pitted against Irvine at 8 p.m.

You Get More for Your Money when you get a UNIVERSAL Jeep

YOU GET 4-WHEEL DRIVE for steady-pulling traction in the field. Used as a tractor, the Universal "Jeep" operates plows, discs, harrows and other implements at tractor speeds of 2½ to 7 m.p.h. It's easier on the driver, too.

YOU CAN HAUL AND TOW on and off the road—when you get a Universal "Jeep". It carries up to 1200 pounds, tows a braked load of 5500 pounds—on or off the road. In addition, you also get the comfort and convenience features shown below.

Driver's Seat of spring and cushion construction, with full back, means more comfort with less fatigue from field work. Fenders help protect the driver from dust and mud.

For Night Field Work and highway driving, the "Jeep" has powerful 7-inch sealed-beam headlights—same size lights as used on passenger cars—plus parking lights and tail light.

Easy to Drive as a car. Full instrument panel, self-starter, conventional pedals and accelerator. Change from 2 to 4 wheel drive is made by merely shifting transfer-case lever.

With Power Take-Off the "Jeep" has 30 h.p. for operating all types of belt and shaft driven equipment. You can't beat a "Jeep" for versatility and year 'round usefulness.

'49 Ford Exceeds Expectations, Say Cooley and Stumbo

We saw the '49 Ford in a Preview in Detroit last week-end, and we assure you it is more in beauty, roominess, power and general sturdiness than any picture will indicate. We expected a lot, we had heard so much about this new Ford. But the actual results of these months of preparation, engineering skill and Ford ingenuity were much more than we had dreamed they would be. You'll understand what we are talking about when you see it. And don't miss seeing it—SOON—at the Cooley Motor Company, Prestonsburg. JOE H. COOLEY ELLSWORTH H. STUMBO (Adv.)

Again We Say—"There Is Gold in the Hills"

This gold is in the form of medical plants, roots and herbs used in the manufacture of medicines for man and beast.

The hills of Floyd and adjoining counties are covered with many plants that will bring you Big Money. We pay spot cash for slippery elm bark, May apple, blood root, wild lettuce, chick weed, wahoo bark, ginseng, yellow root and many others. Over 100 species of plants now growing wild are saleable. Many of our customers make good wages just working on rainy days when it is too wet to farm. We need large quantities of slippery elm and May apple. No shipment too large or too small for us to handle promptly. See us for price list.

All plants and roots must be well dried.

MASTER COMMISSIONER'S SALE

FLOYD CIRCUIT COURT
No. 12,695

Roland Reynolds, Et AL... Plaintiffs

vs.—NOTICE OF MASTER COMMISSIONER'S SALE

Conley Tackett, Et AL... Defendants

By virtue of an order of sale made and entered in the above styled action at the May term, 1948, of the Floyd Circuit Court, the undersigned Master Commissioner will on Saturday, June 19, 1948, at the front door of the courthouse in Prestonsburg, Floyd County, Ky., between the hours of 10 a.m., and 1:30 p.m., or as soon thereafter as practical, upon a credit of three months for personal property and six months for real estate, sell at public auction to the highest and best bidder the property described in said order and ordered to be sold in this action, to-wit:

- (1) One 1945 Dodge one and one-half-ton truck.
- (2) One 1946 Chevrolet pick-up truck.
- (3) The interest of Conley Tackett, Lacey Tackett and Comos Tackett in the mine and lease known and operated as the L.C. Coal Company at or near the head of Big Mud Creek, in Floyd County, Ky.
- (4) The switches, ties and other steel located at and used in connection with said mine.
- (5) One electric mine fan, motor and wire.
- (6) Six mining cars.
- (7) Two mules and one horse.
- (8) One water pump.
- (9) Two electric drills and bits.
- (10) 17 pieces of sheet iron.
- (11) One coal chute.
- (12) 35 tons of coal.

The purchaser will be required to execute bond for the purchase price, with approved surety, bearing interest at the rate of six per cent per annum from the day of sale until paid, payable to the undersigned commissioner, and a lien shall be retained upon the property as additional security. The purchaser may pay cash and stop interest if he so desires.

The sum to be raised by the sale of said property is $1,170.91, with six per cent interest thereon from March 12, 1948, until paid, and the cost of this action.

CLIFF

(Last week's correspondence)
Mrs. Sam George and daughter, Norma Jean, have returned home after a week's visit with her daughter, Mrs. Lemuel Williams, in Albion, Michigan. They also visited relatives at Tecumseh, Michigan. On their return home they were accompanied as far as Toledo, Ohio, by Mr. and Mrs. Bill McKenzie.

Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay May were Mr. and Mrs. Orion May, Mrs. Herschell Warrens and daughter, Patsy Ruth, all of Wayland, and Mr. and Mrs. Billy May and son, of Pyramid.

The revival at the Cliff school is still in progress with the Rev. Ted Greene occupying the pulpit.

Albert Dotson attended the funeral of Seldon Horn at the national cemetery at Nicholasville, Ky., Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Stephens spent last Sunday with her brothers, Earl and Fred Blackburn, of Wheelwright.

Mrs. Jessie May Bartley, of Ashland, is spending a few days here with her mother, Mrs. Wanda Horn.

WARCO

Miss Tiny Hyden accompanied her sister, Miss Ann Hyden, to Nashville, Tenn., Monday for a visit there where Miss Ann Hyden is employed.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. May motored to Georgetown Friday for their son, Ronnie, who will spend the summer vacation at home before returning to Georgetown College in the fall.

Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Felty, Jr., and children, of Ashland, were guests of friends in Warco at intervals during the past week while he conducted a revival at Elkhorn City. The Felty's spent a portion of their visit with Mr. and Mrs. H. Hagans and Miss Rose Hagans, the remainder in the E. R. May home.

Mr. and Mrs. George Baldrige and daughter, Mrs. Irene Clark, of Prestonsburg, were guests of Warco relatives, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Baldrige, and Mrs. Melda Preston, Sunday, visiting the graves of loved ones on Decoration Day.

Mrs. Topsy Butler spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Willie Hall, and Mr. Hall. Mrs. Butler was formerly a student in the Maytown school.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Flanery and children motored to Elkhorn City Wednesday to attend the revival in the Baptist Church there.

Warco citizens sympathize with Mrs. Charlie Hensley in the death of her sister, Miss Ruth Cooley, who was well-known and deeply beloved here, where she often visited before ill health confined her.

Among those attending the funeral of Miss Ruth Cooley at Northern Sunday afternoon at the family residence were Mesdames Charlie Hensley and Paul Jarrell, Mr. and Mrs. James Hyden, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar May, J. R. Baldrige, Misses Billa Jarrell and Anne Hyden, and Savage Cooley, brother of the deceased.

J. R. Allen was a patient in the Beaver Valley hospital for a short time this past week.

Harry Banks, of Morehead Teachers College, is a frequent visitor in Warco.

Miss Lynda June May, of Maytown, was the guest of her cousin, Miss Glimma Jarrell, early last week while her mother, Mrs. Fletcher May, was shopping in Prestonsburg.

Miss Rose Hagans attended revival services in Elkhorn City Thursday night.

Mrs. Ollie May and daughter, Mrs. David Watkins, of Dinwood, called on the Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Felty during their recent stay in Warco.

Hansel Holmes, of Prestonsburg, delivered the sermon for the Warco Sunday School Sunday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Melda Preston, Mr. Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Slusher, Gay Price and Miss Boots Chinn, of Ashland, were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. May Sunday following the services.

Progress continues on Warco playgrounds. The basketball court was disked by Tommy Ray Flanery this week and is now complete. It will also serve as the croquet court. Croquet sets and basketball are on hand, thanks to interested citizens. Seesaw seats, and sandpile are ready for the tots, while seesaw and merry-go-round have been constructed for the junior age. Work starts soon on the tennis court, where apparatus for older children will be erected. Children in the vicinity are welcome to come and enjoy clean fun and sports.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Flanery complimented their daughter, Miss Gloria Mae, with a birthday party Saturday night on her fourteenth birth anniversary. A large group of young friends enjoyed games and contests, after which they were served refreshments by the hostess and her sister, Mrs. Herman Halbert, of Maytown. Miss Flanery received many beautiful gifts which she graciously acknowledged.

MARTIN

Marion J. Mayo, of St. Louis, and Allene Fairchild, of Allen, were calling on Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Mayo here Thursday.

Mrs. Otto Fannin was shopping in Martin Saturday.

Perry Osborne, who has been very ill, is able to be out again.

Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Mayo had as dinner guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hobgood, of Huntington, W. Va., Mrs. Anna and Betty Sue Gibson, of Minnie, and Doll Salisbury, of Hunter.

Mr. and Mrs. James P. Francis, of Deland, Florida, are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Woodrow Allen, and Mr. Allen.
