STASSEN SAYS 'U.S. SOLDIER ON LONG LIMB'

After Secret Parleys 'Frittered Away Peace'; Asks Support for G.O.P.

Arguing that for the future of America a change should be made in the White House, Harold E. Stassen, three-time Governor of Minnesota and now president of the University of Pennsylvania, declared in an address here Monday afternoon that American forces were "pulled back from ground in Germany they had fought for and won and so was the peace frittered away."

The Potsdam conference, he declared, "placed the American soldier in Berlin today on a long limb."

The Minnesotan, who was a powerful contender for the GOP Presidential nomination, told a large gathering composed of men and women of both political parties and several hundred school children that the re-election of U.S. Senator John Sherman Cooper and Congressman W. H. Humes Meade is important in his party's plans for the future of the country.

He listed two questions as being of gravest concern to the nation:

1. Will America in the years ahead have peace with honor and justice?
2. Will America develop its resources to the end that full employment be had and good living conditions assured its people?

"In the secret conferences after the end of the war," he charged, "the things we fought for were lost."

The speaker described Senator Cooper as "an outstanding, forward-looking, progressive son of Kentucky." Of Congressman Meade he said, "I report that you, two years ago, sent down to Washington an able, hard-working, fighting Congressman in Howsie Meade."

Mr. Stassen was introduced by Atty. Edward L. Allen, of Prestonsburg, who referred to him as "a man who not only is big enough to be, but who in the minds of millions of Americans should be, the President of the United States."

The Big Sandy tour of Ex-Governor Stassen was the official opening of Congressman Meade's campaign for re-election. Orville Howard, a veteran, spoke on behalf of Congressman Meade to whom he referred as "the veteran's best friend."

Congressman Meade himself appealed for support on the grounds that he had set in motion the machinery toward realization of Big Sandy canalization as a guarantee to continued prosperity of the Big Sandy valley. Prefacing his remarks on the subject with the statement that every Congressional candidate for years has used the canalization project as a platform plank, he pointed out that he has caused both Congressman Muhlenberg, chairman of the Rivers and Harbors committee of the House, and Senator Maloney, chairman of the Senate subcommittee, to visit this section and see its potentialities; that these visits have resulted in pledges from both men of their support, and that the way is thus being cleared toward overcoming the "false propaganda machine" working in Washington against the project.

"Both Congressman Muhlenberg and Senator Malone agreed," he declared "that Big Sandy canalization is not only needed for Big Sandy's prosperity but also for the defense of the nation."

Congressman Meade paid tribute to the work of his predecessor, A. J. May, in getting U.S. army engineers interested in the Big Sandy project. "In Washington," he added, "I found what Jack May had been going up against. . . . It was not Mr. May's fault—he did all he could."

From here the Stassen-Meade party went to Pikeville, Hazard and Whitesburg. Earlier in the day, they had spoken at Paintsville and Salyersville.

Burchett, Wife Burned In Booster Station Fire

Lewis Burchett is recovering at the Prestonsburg General hospital from burns suffered Saturday afternoon when gas at a small booster station near his home on Cow Creek ignited. He suffered burns on his face, arms and hands, and his wife was slightly burned on her back.

Mrs. Burchett noted an unusual noise in the engine at the station, called her husband's attention to it, and while he was attempting to stop the engine the gas ignited.

Campbell and Roope Among First U.M.W. To Draw Pensions

Pension payments to eligible bituminous coal miners have started in the Eastern Kentucky coal fields. Among the first U.M.W. members to receive their $100-a-month checks from the U.M.W. welfare and retirement fund are: George Barnes, 64, Hardburly; Lon Phelps, 63, Meally; Anderson Roope, 74, Gio; A. C. Reece, 72, Heller; Harris Campbell, 64, Water Gap; Henry Wesley Golluhue, 62, Hitchens; Wesley Cosby, 66, McRoberts; Zack Fugate, 64, Hardburly, and William T. Scott, 66, Paintsville.

BRING SLAYER TO JAIL HERE

Webb Admits Murder Of Martin Countian; Captured at Kermit

Held in the Floyd county jail for safekeeping is 40-year-old Columbus Webb, West Virginia ex-convict who is charged with the murder of Lige Davis, 40, and the beating of Mrs. Davis last Wednesday at the Davis home in the isolated Wolf Creek section of Martin county.

Webb was arrested at East Kermit, W. Va., last Wednesday night and was brought here the following day. Sheriff James Horn said he confessed to the slaying and also to making away with his victim's wallet containing $420.

Sheriff Horn gave this account of the slaying:

Mrs. Lige Davis was confronted at the door of her cabin in a hollow near the West Virginia border by Webb, who, she said, demanded her husband's pistol.

The man threw water in her face and twisted her arm when she resisted, and beat her until she gave up the weapon. Then she was dragged some distance up the hollow. Leaving his victim, Webb continued on up the hollow to where Davis was cutting timber.

Davis answered Webb's demand for money by saying he had only about a dollar with him. Davis was forced to fight and was getting the better of his assailant until Webb drew back and shot him three times, in the back, shoulder and leg.

Quoting from the confession, the sheriff said Webb then covered Davis, who was still alive, with leaves and underbrush behind a heavy log. Davis was found dead by a posse some six hours later.

No trace of Webb was found until Wednesday night when Buster Evans, a cabdriver in Kermit, W. Va., received a call from a certain residence. He knew Webb was acquainted with persons living there. He notified Mingo county, W. Va., Deputy Sheriff Dave Johnson, who hid himself in the cab. They drove to the house.

When Webb came out, Johnson confronted him with a pistol. The former convict surrendered, saying: "You got me foul."

Mingo county authorities said (See Story No. 3, Page 4)

21-YEAR TERM IN 9 MINUTES

Is Record of Jury Here In Trial of Hamilton; Woman Gets 2 Years

A jury of the Floyd circuit court deliberated exactly nine minutes Saturday before returning a guilty verdict carrying a penitentiary sentence of 21 years for Jarvey Hamilton, of Mud Creek, in the shotgun slaying this year of his neighbor, Monroe Bryant.

The murder charge against Hamilton's son, Estill, was later dismissed.

The Commonwealth produced evidence claiming that Hamilton shot Bryant while the latter was standing in the county road offering no threat to the other. Circumstances preceding the killing included, it was stated, Bryant's attempt to repair the road so as to be traversable by a car or truck—an action to which Hamilton objected.

Defense testimony contended Hamilton fired only after Bryant had hurled a rock at him and had thrust his hand into his pocket as if possessing a revolver.

Another murder case, that of Beatrice Johnson in the slaying of Polly Johnson, resulted in an agreed verdict of two years. The defendant's mother, Mrs. Ritter Hall, who fired the shot which killed Mrs. Johnson, drew a five-year term at the preceding court term. A bench warrant was issued this week for Mrs. Hall, who has been at liberty under bond pending her proposed appeal.

Boyd Barnett was convicted last Thursday of a house-breaking charge and was given a two-year term. The one-year term given Milford Blackburn was later probated, as was the two-year term given Lee Hamilton for cutting and wounding. This sentence also was voided by the granting of a new trial after which Hamilton was fined $100 by Circuit Judge Hill.

Johnie Robinson, of Martin, was acquitted of a whiskey-selling charge on his appeal from county court. He has another similar case docketed for trial Oct. 12.

Jurors for the current mixed civil-and-criminal term are:

- Missouri Holbrook, Mrs. T.P. Carleton, Mrs. I. A. Smiley, Callie Howell, Mae Cecil, C. C. Martin, Sadie Price, Linnie Akers, Bill Brown, Jerry Richardson, Alice Meade, Nelsia Crum, Jack Jarrell, Anna Hinton, Jeff May, Mrs. Elza Akers, Noah Harris, Campbell Holbrook, John Jarrell.

BABE, PNEUMONIA VICTIM

Ruther, eight-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Smith, Jr., of Prestonsburg, died Monday at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, a victim of pneumonia. Funeral rites were conducted here Wednesday from the home of the child's grandfather, Bill Smith, Sr., the Revs. Isaac Stratton and Ted Green officiating. Burial in the Richmond cemetery was directed by the Arnold Funeral Home.

GAS WORKERS MAY STRIKE

If United Fuel Fails To Grant Wage Boosts, Report Received Here

The possibility exists, it was indicated this week, that the approximately 1,300 union employees of the United Fuel Gas Company and five affiliated companies may resort to the strike weapon unless the companies agree to what workers consider a reasonable wage scale.

A representative of Local Union 372, Oil Workers International Union, reported Locals 372, 418, 573 and 581 had sent representatives to four meetings in Charleston, W. Va., in an effort to agree on wages and that talks were at stalemate, with no further meetings scheduled. The talks were held under a provision in the existing contract providing for re-negotiation of the wage scale.

Asked if there would be a strike, he said, "That is entirely up to the company."

The present contract is effective till October 1, 1949.

Affiliated with United Fuel are the Central Kentucky Natural Gas Company, the Amer Gas Utilities Co., Atlantic Seaboard Corp., Virginia Gas Transmission Co., and Virginian Gasoline & Oil Company. Representing Local 372, the organized United Fuel group of workers in this and neighboring counties, were Fred Gearheart, of Boldman, Jack Turner, Langley, Homer Irons and Boyd Jarrell, president and secretary-treasurer, respectively, of the local.

Company spokesmen in the fourth contract meeting suggested a 7-cent wage increase. "That leaves us quite a distance apart," was the workers' comment. The minimum hourly pay to United Fuel workers in this area, it was said, is 87 cents an hour, with machinists at the top receiving $1.58.

Another gas company, the Kentucky West Virginia, has over the last few weeks negotiated unsuccessfully with its employees on a new contract, but some progress has been made toward an amicable settlement, it was said last week.

Company spokesmen argued, it was said, that wage increases made by the company have been ahead of the rise in the cost of living. To this union representatives countered with the claim that the company's base pay before wage increases were granted was so low that the pay boosts have failed to provide an adequate wage.

BOARDS TALK LOCAL NEEDS

County School Board Awaits November Meet To Give Definite Reply

Not until the November meeting of the Floyd County Board of Education will its official reaction to Prestonsburg's plea for help toward enlarging its high school be known.

Three members of the Board, with County Superintendent Palmer Hall and City Superintendent Chalmer H. Frazier, conferred on building needs Tuesday with City Board members. After Mr. Frazier had explained the urgent necessity of more room the three county members present, Dr. J. H. Allen, Jimmy Green and Ray Fraley, indicated an interest in the predicament of the school here, but formal action was withheld until the November meeting. For that session Mr. Hall said he hopes to have all five board members present.

Members of the City Board of Education attending the meeting were W. V. Bunting, Dr. O. T. Stephens and Lon S. Moles.

Miss Martin, Treasurer Of Pikeville College Club

Miss Thelma Jean Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Martin, of McDowell, was named treasurer of the Rafinesque Club at the organization meeting held last week at Pikeville College. Miss Martin, a 1947 graduate of McDowell high school, is now starting her sophomore year at Pikeville College.

The Rafinesque Club, named for the Kentucky naturalist, Constantine Rafinesque, who taught at Transylvania University more than a hundred years ago, has as its purpose opening the eyes of students to the beauties of nature. The group is sponsored by Miss Mary I. Spilman, head of the college biology department for the past 30 years.

Weeksbury Woman Dies After Illness of Year

Mrs. Priscilla Jordan, 74 years old, wife of William Jordan, succumbed Friday at her home at Weeksbury to an illness of a year.

Mrs. Jordan was a member of the Freewill Baptist Church and was one of her community's best women. She is survived, in addition to her husband, by two sons, Harry Jordan, Eleanor, W. Va., and Jimmy Jordan, Norfolk, Va., and three daughters, Mrs. A. B. Davis, Ironton, O., Mrs. John Dutton, Weeksbury, and Mrs. Jeff Collins, Kermit, W. Va.

The funeral was conducted Monday from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Dutton, the Revs. E. E. Collins and Raymond Adkins officiating. Burial was made at Weeksbury, the Ryan Funeral Home directing.

FLOYD CRIME 'REALLY BAD'

In Spots, Grand Jury Says in Final Report; Names 2 for Murder

"We find that crime is increasing and that in some sections of the county conditions are really bad," commented the grand jury Saturday in its final and formal report to Circuit Judge Edw. P. Hill, Jr.

The report pointed out that the jury had in its nine days of work examined 162 witnesses and had returned, as a result, 131 true bills. The ratio of indictments to the number of witnesses examined was higher than usual, a court attache commented.

"We have endeavored to find out," the report continued, "the perpetrators of crime in the county but have been handicapped by not getting process on witnesses sought."

The report, signed by Den Fairchild, foreman, stated that the county jail is in good condition but that it is in need of plumbing and that the courthouse roof should be repaired.

Among the indictments returned by the grand jury during its last three days' work last week were murder bills against Bertee Hall and Isie Smothers. The indictment charged Hall with killing John Frasure on Mud Creek by "striking, beating and stomping with a chair, feet and arms." Smothers, a negro, was charged with the fatal shooting of John Johnson in the colored clubhouse at Wheelwright.

Hall remains in jail here without bond. His transfer to another jail still is being considered.

One indictment charged Omer Crisp with malfeasance in office. Charlie Newman told the grand jury that Crisp, while acting as an officer at Martin, collected $16.65 from him for speeding and failed to account for the fine to the Police Judge.

Among the major indictments were those charging James Branham and James Arthur Sanders with attempting to rape a girl under the age of 12. Other major indictments made last week:

Bobby Gene Newsome, Silas Combs, Hillard Mitchell, Ironton Vance, all for child desertion; Carl Hall, Ray Meade and Jimmie Keathley, charged with shooting and wounding J. C. Moore; Sylvester Blackburn, cutting and wounding Henry Chaney; Azza Newsom, Arnould Sallsbury, named in separate indictments for detaining a woman; Eugene Hicks, breaking into store of Elk Horn Coal Corporation; Roby Harmon and James Price, Jr., breaking into the Arrowwood Hardware here; Ova Johnson, robbery, accused of taking $66 from Manda Edwards; Ahdy Mitchell, deserting pregnant wife; Will Colbert, selling liquor; Woodrow Stone and Bee Scott, carrying concealed deadly weapons; Bee Scott, striking and wounding Eunice Marie Hall; Orville Bentley and Childers Newsome, drunk driving; Hubert Pennington, selling liquor; Mrs. H. F. Johnson, forgery, accused of forging name of Charlie Newman to $21.35 contract or letter of credit; Dora Johnson, selling liquor; Cleveland Stephens and Lou Bradley, adultery; Everett Smith, adultery; Alexis Ousley, obtaining goods by false pretense, accused by Melvin Imes of posing as a truck owner and procuring on credit gasoline and other goods valued at $273.76; Martin Case, violation of Sunday law; James I. and Joe Cook and Harlan Salyers, and larceny and the alleged theft of James Wooten's auto and on a breaking and entering charge in connection with the robbery of the Inland S. Company store at Wheelwright.

Prestonsburg's City Council named a board of supervisors Monday night in a continuation of its tax reform program.

Named to review the assessment just completed by Chas. E. Friend were George D. Brown, Burl Spurlock and Otis Cooley. Mr. Friend was named clerk of the board.

The first assessment recap showed a total valuation on Prestonsburg real estate and personal property of approximately $2,650,000. Work of the supervisors, it was explained, will be made in an attempt to equalize the assessment, not necessarily to raise it.

Paintsville's assessment of approximately the same figure was recently raised under an assessment made by a representative of the State Revenue Department to $9,000,000, it was reported here this week.

Roe Layne, who was recently appointed fire chief, resigned and Arthur Blackburn was re-appointed to the post. Adrian Blackburn remains as assistant fire chief.

Westminster was designated a one-way street. George Harris was employed as street cleaner.

COURT TO SET SPECIAL FUND FOR JOHNS CR.

$225,000 Estimated Cost of Re-locating Reservoir Area Roads

The Floyd fiscal court by resolutions adopted at its meeting Saturday took the first step toward entering into a contract with the federal government whereby the court will receive $225,000 for the re-location and construction of approximately nine miles of road in the Johns Creek reservoir area.

The resolution directed the relocation of the roads, subject to conditions and terms of the contract later to be entered into with the federal government.

The $225,000 sum agreed upon as payment for the county to do the required work in the area was reached through a study of the work by District Highway Engineer Parker. One provision of the resolution specified that the sum is to be reserved in a special fund "which shall be used only on such roads as are to be constructed."

The county is expected to let the work to contract on the basis of competitive bids.

The Martin bridge was designated by the court as Project No. 1 on which the county's share of the 2-cent gasoline tax fund will be spent. The court, in unanimously approving County Judge Alex L. Davidson's written request for construction of the span by the state out of this fund, asked speedy action.

Project No. 2 was set up as a blacktopping project on one mile of the Steele's Creek road at Wayland. At Saturday's meeting the court directed County Attorney W. W. Burchett to ask bids on construction of a bridge across Beaver Creek on the Melvin-Weeksbury road and for 2 A frames for the swinging bridge at Ivel. Bids will be accepted till Oct. 18.

Sectors of highway to be relocated in the Johns Creek area are:

- 1.23 miles of new road from Hager Gap road to Goble Branch; 1.56 miles of new road from Brandy Keg like to Stratton Fork; 1.65 miles new road from Corn Fork to Sanders Creek; .77 mile of county road on Johns Creek near Copperas Creek; 2.85 miles county road from German to Thomas, and 34 mile of county road on Buffalo, near German.

Bidding jointly, the Bank Josephine and the First National Bank were adjudged highest bidders on the court's issue of $58,000 worth of bonds to assure construction of the Betsy Layne grade school building.

COUNCIL PICKS 3 SUPERVISORS

In Move To Equalize P'burg Assessment; Rehires Fire Chief

Prestonsburg's City Council named a board of supervisors Monday night in a continuation of its tax reform program.

Named to review the assessment just completed by Chas. E. Friend were George D. Brown, Burl Spurlock and Otis Cooley. Mr. Friend was named clerk of the board.

The first assessment recap showed a total valuation on Prestonsburg real estate and personal property of approximately $2,650,000. Work of the supervisors, it was explained, will be made in an attempt to equalize the assessment, not necessarily to raise it.

Paintsville's assessment of approximately the same figure was recently raised under an assessment made by a representative of the State Revenue Department to $9,000,000, it was reported here this week.

Roe Layne, who was recently appointed fire chief, resigned and Arthur Blackburn was re-appointed to the post. Adrian Blackburn remains as assistant fire chief.

Westminster was designated a one-way street.

George Harris was employed as street cleaner.

SECOND TWIN DIES

Arnold, second of the twin babies and Mr. and Mrs. Marion Martin, Wayland, to die within the fortnight, succumbed last Thursday. Burial was made Friday at Wayland under direction of the Ryan Funeral Home.

EMPLOY THE HANDICAPPED
President Truman, Governor Clements and, presumably, all the governors of the other states have issued proclamations declaring this week National Employ the Handicapped Week. It should not be, but is, necessary for the American people to be reminded that it is their duty, wherever possible, to provide employment for the handicapped. Thousands of young men were crippled and maimed during the recent war. Their handicaps were incurred in the line of duty, not from choice. Certainly to these, even more than the pitifully handicapped among our civilian population, we owe a chance to be self-sustaining, independent American citizens.

So heavy was the fall beneath which Mr. Castle was trapped that help from the outside was necessary before the body could be removed.

The victim was a native of Thealka, Johnson county, the son of the late Ross Castle. He had resided in this county for years and was highly regarded. Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Lillian Frisby Castle, of Wayland, several children and his mother, Mrs. Lavada Music Castle, of Paintsville.

Funeral rites were conducted Sunday from the Methodist Church at Wayland, the Revs. Chas. Bentley and Don Fraley officiating. Burial was made in the Thealka cemetery under direction of the Jones Funeral Home and under auspices of the Masonic order.

VET'S MOTHER TRUCK VICTIM

Mrs. Rosa Smith, 62, Dies Hour After Hit At Mousie Wednesday

Mrs. Rosa Sturgill Smith, 62 years old, wife of John B. Smith, died at the Stumbo Memorial hospital, Lackey, Wednesday afternoon, an hour after she had been struck by a truck used in re-surfacing of the Lackey-Hindman highway.

Mrs. Smith was hit on the highway, near her home at Mousie. It was reported here that she had dodged one truck before a second, loaded with gravel, bore down upon her. Her chest was crushed, it was said at the Ryan Funeral Home, Martin.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete, pending return today (Thursday) of the victim's husband from a Lexington hospital where he recently submitted to an operation. Her death followed by two weeks the burial of her son, Pfc. Charles Smith, who was returned from overseas for interment.

Surviving, besides her husband, are 10 sons and daughters: Arvel Smith, Richmond, Va.; Arnold Smith, Leburn, John B. Smith, Jr., Detroit, Mich.; Robert Justin Smith, Dayton, O.; Mrs. Marion Jacobs and Mrs. Carlos Jacobs, both of Pippaspass, Mrs. Alfred Marcum, of Lexington, Mrs. Fleming Godman, Fayetteville, N. C.; Mrs. Win Tuttle, of Oregon, and Miss Emogene Smith, of Mousie. Four brothers and six sisters also survive: John Sturgill, of Lackey, William Sturgill, of Boldman, Pearl and Beckham Sturgill, both of Mousie, Mrs. Margaret Gibson and Mrs. Leck Gibson, both of Mousie, Mrs. Susie Triplett, of Lackey, Mrs. Farris Hays, of Mousie, and Mrs. Redden Joseph, Great Falls, Montana.

ACCUSE YOUTH IN ARSON CASE

Bloodhound Trails Rose Who Maintains Innocence in Blaze

Sixteen-year-old George Washington Rose, Jr., of Mud Creek, was released here Wednesday under $1,000 bond after an examining trial on an arson charge before County Judge Alex L. Davidson.

He was arrested Monday morning by Deputy Sheriffs Epp Laferty and Harold Conn, accused of burning the barn of Earl and James L. Honaker, Jr., near his home, early Sunday night.

A bloodhound brought from Lexington trailed the youth from the scene of the fire, across the hill to his home and from there to the home of a neighbor, James Clark. Officers said young Rose was at the scene of the fire when they arrived but that he quickly left after Deputy Sheriff Laferty's statement he could lay his hand on the guilty person was followed by the appearance of the bloodhound.

The barn destroyed was a large structure and lost with it were an air compressor, some farm machinery, some hay and a calf.

Rose claimed he had been at the home of James Honaker, Jr., near which the barn was located, and that he left en route to his home up the branch and across a gap in the hill. He stated he did not see the blaze, but his brother-in-law, who came down the branch at the same time, testified he did not meet Rose. Ill-feeling toward the Honakers resulted from the fact, it was said, that electric power passing through Honaker's meter had been cut off from the home of Green Lawson, father of Rose's brother-in-law.

When officers asked the accused youth why he left on appearance of the bloodhound, he replied, "I don't like a d—dog."

TRIP IN ADVERTISING?
Specimens of the ads can be admirably cute. For instance, this one: POLITES ALL MIXED UP? In some families, these days, the husband is Republican, the wife a Democrat, the baby Wet, the cow Dry—and the maid Independent.

THE OX WASN'T MENTIONED
That Sunday law indictment against a Garrett soft drink dealer and confectioner is the first to be returned in years by a grand jury here. And the wording of the indictment, required by the statutes, indicates how old the law is. The jury's bill of complaint alleged that the said Case did sell soda water, candy and soft drinks, which was not a necessity, on Sunday . . . and kept open said place for business and engaged in work as aforesaid, and said operation of said soda fountain and keeping open of said confectionery and store and the sale of merchandise and soda water and soft drinks and candy therein was not a work of necessity or charity or required in the maintenance of a ferry, skiff or steamboat or steam street railway and said Martin Case was not then and there a member of a religious society who observed as a Sabbath any day other day in the week than Sunday."

GOSH!—Gee!
Speaking of the courts, crime and such, we are reminded that Acting Governor Nathan Gordon of Arkansas recently justified his re-creation of an Amos Wilson's second degree murder sentence by explaining with some degree of profundity: "During the time he has been in the penitentiary he has been a law-abiding citizen."

OF INTEREST TO VETERANS

Veterans who fail to keep their beneficiary designations up-to-date are, in most instances, missing the true intent of their G.I. insurance, VA insurance officials at Columbus, O., branch office declared this week. Many G.I. policies still list original beneficiary designations, although the veteran's dependent status has since changed, VA said, thereby denying insurance protection to those for whom it was intended. In addition, many veterans fail to list contingent beneficiaries or change the designation where the original beneficiary is now deceased.

Former restrictions as to the naming of beneficiaries have long since been removed, VA officials added, thus affording veterans the widest latitude in their choice. All that is necessary to bring beneficiary designations up-to-date is a visit to the nearest VA office or a letter to the Branch Office Insurance Service over the insured's signature.

Veterans assigned "C" (claims) numbers by Veterans Administration are urged to memorize them or at least keep them available for ready reference when they write or call VA about their benefits. Use of "C" numbers speed up service to veterans, VA said.

A number is issued to each veteran applying for compensation, pension, schooling, on-the-job training or other VA-administered benefits. The number, appearing on his case folder, will identify him in VA records the rest of his life, and may be used by dependents after his death.

"C" numbers often are the only means by which VA can distinguish one veteran from another. With some 24,000,000 veterans' names in VA's files, many names are duplicated thousands of times over.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Q. I would like to change the beneficiary on my National Service Life Insurance without letting the old beneficiary know about it. May I do this?
A. Yes, a veteran may change the beneficiary or beneficiaries of his National Service Life Insurance at any time without their knowledge or consent.

Q. One of my arms was amputated because of injuries received while I was in the armed services during World War II. May I select the type of artificial arm and the firm I want to buy it from?
A. Yes, you will be permitted to select the artificial limb of your choice, but it must be purchased from an approved prosthetic appliance manufacturer under contract with Veterans Administration.

Mayor's Proclamation Sets Oil Progress Day
"Prestonsburg and Floyd County Oil Progress Day" was proclaimed as October 14 this week by Mayor E. P. Arnold.
The Mayor's proclamation directed "the attention of our citizens to the contribution and service the oil men who live among us, and their industry, make to the public, social, business and private life."
The proclamation of Mayor Arnold said that "whereas citizens of Prestonsburg and Floyd county who are engaged in the oil business have stated their desire to report on the progress the oil industry has made in serving the best interests of the public, and whereas it is believed that by informing our community of how free, competitive enterprise, typified by the oil industry, supplies Americans with the good things of life, the public welfare will be benefited, now, therefore, I, E. P. Arnold, Mayor of Prestonsburg, Ky., do hereby proclaim October 14 as 'Prestonsburg and Floyd County Oil Progress Day.'" The proclamation then directed attention to the contribution that oil men make to the life of the county.

Marvin Music, who is in charge of the Floyd County Oil Progress Day program, said that banners, pamphlets and meetings will mark the observance on that day.

"Competition is keen among oil companies to meet the public's growing needs," said Mr. Music. "Expansion of facilities to serve the unprecedented public demand this year has been rapid. This expansion has been financed entirely by the companies. Since prewar 1941 the oil industry has increased the volume of its products delivered to consumers at a rate twice the average of all industry."

Floyd District Scouters Hold Cook-Out Tuesday At Allen Golf Course

The Floyd district Scout committee met at the Country Club at Allen Tuesday and cooked their own dinner, using a new method of outdoor cooking. Each member prepared steak, potatoes, carrots, onions, baked apple and hot biscuits. The entire meal was cooked in 20 minutes, and the demonstration was explained by George Bingham, Scout field executive.

Following the meal, a picture was shown explaining duties of the three main scoutmasters' assistants. J. T. Parker, district chairman, presided at the meeting following the picture and it was decided to have another "cook-out" on Monday, Oct. 25, at the country club for all adult Scouters, Scoutmasters, assistants and patrol leaders of the Scout troops in Floyd county.

It was announced a Lonesome Pine Council meeting will be held at Hazard, Oct. 14, at which time the new officers will be elected and standing committee chairmen will be named for the coming year.

Next district meeting will be held at Betsy Layne on Nov. 19, when new officers will be nominated.

To The Children Of Prestonsburg:

We became candidates for the Prestonsburg Board of Education with only one thought in mind—to give you the sort of schools you deserve.

Some changes must be made, and you and your parents know what these changes are. Our purpose will be to make such changes as are necessary, without fear or favor, in the interest of your children.

We will work to lift the standards of our schools to a level with those of schools in other towns where several of your young friends have gone this year because they and their parents were forced to decide they could not get the same "deserved" training in the schools here at home. Whatever changes are made, we assure you none will be made with any teacher who performs his or her duties satisfactorily—AND NOBODY WILL BE SUPPLANTED BY A RELATIVE OF OURS.

This is your fight more than it is ours. We have nothing personally to gain. But surely you must admit that something must be done, and that something we are pledged to do if given the opportunity.

Miss May Attains Centre's 'Dean's List'

Danville, Ky., Oct. 5 (Sp.)—Miss Barbara May, of Prestonsburg, has been honored at Centre College, Danville, by being placed on the school's "Dean's List" for making a final grade of B or better in each of her academic courses last semester. Only 11 of 49 junior and senior women students are on the list this fall at the 129-year-old institution. Students so honored are not subject to absence rules except for chapels and convocations so long as they maintain such a standing.

Miss May, a daughter of Mrs. Bess S. May, is a popular leader in many organizations on the Centre campus.

BIRTH ANNOUNCED

Born to Mr. and Mrs. John M. Caudill, of the Auxier road, on Sept. 25 at the Prestonsburg General hospital, a son—Mennard Bruce.

APPLIES LESSON TO IMPROVING HER HOME

Mrs. Joe Melbrain of Rowan county believes in putting to use the information given in the Sharkey Homemakers Club, of which she is a member. Since she has had the lessons on home furnishings, she filled floor cracks with a mixture of sawdust and glue, then finished the floor with two coats of shellac. Having selected wallpaper for her living room according to suggestions received, she papered the room and finished the woodwork.

For her kitchen she bought a new electric stove and refrigerator, and Mr. Melbrain made built-in cabinets and installed a sink. All of the equipment in this room was placed for convenience and to save steps.

NEWS NOTES
Our church Boy Scout troop is getting under way with Mr. Carver as Scoutmaster. Enrollment will be limited to 24 boys. They will meet every Monday night at 7 at the church.

Lawrence Ketterbagen was elected to teach boys and Woodrow Burchett was elected to teach the young men's class in our Bible school.
Our faithful and efficient building committee, composed of J.B. Clarke, Dr. Marvin Ransdell, Mrs. E. P. Hill and Mrs. R. W. Peller, was thanked and dismissed after long and faithful service ending in the dedication of the completed church last Sunday.

October 24 has been set as Rally Day for our Sunday School. We want an attendance equal to or surpassing our enrollment on that day. Plan to come Oct. 24 if you have ever attended the Baptist Sunday School.

NO FUTURE HERE

When Deputy Sheriffs Epp Laferty and Harold Conn took Jackie Hall, Walter England and Boyd Barnett to the penitentiary at LaGrange last Thursday, Hall, going for a life term he hopes will last no longer than eight years, was in another of his expansive moods. He boasted of the places he had looted during his long career. "I've got enough laid up to do me the rest of my life—I got nothing to worry about when I get out," he boasted.

"But," he added, "when I do get out I'm never going back to Floyd county."
"Don't blame you," commented England. "You've stole every d— thing in the county already."

OR IS THERE ANY ARGUMENT?
Just in case the forensic league hasn't decided on a topic for school debates to discuss this year, we submit this as a lulu:

Cats Home for Jenkins Game After 46-0 Loss to St. Xavier

Overmatched and facing a steady stream of opposition reserves, the Prestonsburg Black Cats were defeated last Friday night by St. Xavier of Louisville, 46 to 0, before 5,000 fans in Manual Stadium.

Although the Cats drew in their claws after St. X rolled to two quick touchdowns in opening minutes of play, the Louisville school's reserves were unable to score. Only the first-string Xavier backs were able to cross the Prestonsburg goal-line.

"Disgusted with the schedule calling for his team to meet such opposition and also with his boys' performance, Coach Benedett looked this week to Friday night's Big Sandy Conference game here with Jenkins, a team which held Everts to a lower score than did his Cats. Benedett said only Gene Boyd, Prestonsburg halfback, showed anything in the Xavier fiasco.

"The boys have the ability, and from here on out can win—if they want to badly enough," Coach Benedett said, adding: "It's all up to them."

Physically, the team emerged from the Louisville game in good condition. Loss of "Set" Branham, back-field ace, has been a severe blow to Prestonsburg but not a fatal one.

St. X's Coach Baer used every substitute on the bench, and Benedett almost did the same, overlooking only three boys. The winners scored immediately after the opening kickoff on a clever lateral and within six minutes had a second marker on a Prestonsburg fumble deep in its own territory. Before the quarter ended St. X had another marker and the score stood, 20 to 0.

The Cats held Xavier through the second quarter and permitted only one touchdown in the third. With his subs stymied, Baer sent his regulars back into the fray in the last stanza, and again they rolled up 20 points.

Connie Westerfield, Xavier's quarterback, was the winners' big gun with three touchdowns, one on a 61-yard punt return. Joe Thorp, regular at half, scored two touchdowns, and Co-Captain Haner one. The only touchdown made by a Xavier substitute was by Jack Bell from the one-yard line after Fultz, a first-stringer, had carried the ball to that point in two plays after recovering a fumble on the Cat 20.

Prestonsburg made six first downs to Xavier's 12. The Cats gained 45 yards by rushing to 342 yards by the Tigers. Xavier drew 92 yards in penalties while Prestonsburg went without penalty.

Adkins Edges Fraley On 23rd Hole To Win Beaver Valley Title

Willard (Freight) Adkins, the ex-caddy, won the Beaver Valley Golf & Country Club's championship Sunday in a marathon struggle with Ray Fraley, of Wayland. The match went to the 23rd hole before Adkins won out. Fraley held medal honors in the Allen club's tournament which started last month.

Finals of the second and third flights will be played Sunday, with S. C. Berkeley and Carl Ray Fraley, both of Wayland, meeting in one match and W. A. Malone, of Allen, and A. H. Mandt, of Manton, in the other.

Floyd County Times, Oct. 7, 1948 — Sec. 2, Page 1

Suspicion Grows That P'burg Defeated Loop's Best Eleven

The suspicion grows hereabouts that the Prestonsburg Black Cats in their very first game of the season defeated just about the best football team in the Big Sandy Conference.

The loser in this game, as you will recall, was Whitesburg, a fast, never-say-die eleven, with a veteran lineup. The Cats were "on" for that contest; otherwise, Prestonsburg might not as of this date stand undefeated in the Conference.

Since that time, Whitesburg has soundly trounced both Paintsville and Pikeville, and last week-end the Letcher countians defeated Cumberland, 26 to 13.

Paintsville lost to Louisa last week, 36 to 0, to remain outside the victory column. West Liberty defeated Pikeville, 25 to 20, and Belfry downed Wayland, 25 to 14.

Wayland's comparatively green team is developing a scoring punch as the season progresses, and those who have seen the eleven say the Beaver Creek boys are capable of causing any team in the loop trouble no end if they continue to develop.

If Big Sandy coaches think they are having their woes, they should love Coach "Bear" Bryant, of the University of Kentucky. He was good company for misery after Kentucky's 20 to 7 loss Saturday night to Mississippi.

KENTUCKY ON THE MARCH

By EWING GALLOWAY

Tom Gregory, managing editor of the weekly Central Record, furnishes me with the text for this week's little piece, which is about Lancaster's method of inviting a second small factory needed to absorb its surplus male labor. I like the Lancaster invitation because it is both candid and honest.

The Garrard County Board of Commerce got a work clothing plant for the county seat town, but 95 per cent of the 250 employes are women. So the next move was for a factory employing men. The clothing manufacturing concern, with approximately 100 applications of men in its files, cooperated with the Board of Commerce in making a survey.

Cards were mailed all over the county and a thorough canvass was made in Lancaster. A check-up showed there were easily 150 male laborers available.

In its general statement the Board of Commerce gives its own census figures, based on a house-to-house canvass. The population is 2,327. No exaggerated claim. No empty boasting. A new county hospital is under construction, and the town has good schools and active service clubs.

I'll lay you a ten-to-one Lancaster gets the factory it wants.

In recent years, boards of trade in Kentucky towns and small cities have learned a lot about bidding for new industries. One of the first things they do nowadays is to ascertain their labor resources. Electricity comes second, maybe. Then schools, hospitals and recreational facilities. After which they try to publicize what they have to offer—make their message reach possible factory-builders.

When I was a newspaper reporter in Henderson 40 years ago, the methods of a board of trade were quite different. Every now and then local business men would work themselves into a lather. Their enthusiasm was admirable but their procedure was pitiable. They were eloquent in praise of their city. They chartered trains and went on booster tours. Maybe they would get 100 miles from home. The crowd had a good time, of course. But they reached nobody who would even think of building factories in their town. Naturally, nothing happened. Enthusiasm would sag and in all probability the board of trade would fade out completely. Then in two or three years a bunch of business men would organize under another name and repeat the performance. The trouble was that these men didn't know how to put their message across. That, however, was a long time ago. Today Henderson is a rapidly growing city.

Ten years ago I urged a board of trade manager to write the industrial advantages of his city in a 60-word classified advertisement and run it in a magazine like Business Week, or some other periodical reaching industrialists. A periodical with 125,000 circulation would reach 50,000 industrial executives. If the advertisement cost $50, that would mean reaching possible factory builders at a cost of $1 per thousand. The suggestion is as good now as when I first made it.

The 100 or more Kentucky cities and towns seeking new industrial plants must make themselves heard beyond their county lines. The Kentucky Chamber of Commerce will help these towns be heard.

Boyd Farmers See Up-to-Date Place

When Boyd county farmers in the vicinity of England Hill visited the farm of Wade Bryant recently, they not only saw results of good farming methods, but other practices worthy of note, said Farm Agent John L. Rowland, senior assistant county agent. They were particularly interested in seeing Mr. Wade's completely equipped farm shop, tool shop and storage spaces for machinery and the like. They also saw his well-planned and thriving garden, where most of the food is grown for the family. Mr. Bryant raises all of his dairy feed, grinding it and mixing it on the farm.

The Proposal Unthinkable

A Courier-Journal writer recently proposed that Kentucky go all-out after tourist trade and build permanent trunk-line highways instead of resorting to the important expediency of "getting Kentucky out of the mud."

For those sections of Kentucky which already have good roads that argument will have an undoubted appeal. But to the people as a whole it is unacceptable, almost unthinkable.

The people who pay Kentucky's taxes are those for whom roads should be built, and those taxpayers are not from California or New York or Florida.

A sound economy in Kentucky is not predicated on the money spent by transients, but on an integrated system of traffic by highway, with all sections linked together by year-round roads, with the farmer able to get his produce to market in all weathers, the laborer able to travel in his own car to and from work, the business man or firm connected by highway with outside sources of market and supply.

We shall be longer, true, in getting built those desired permanent-type highways while trying to reach the fellow in the outlying precincts; but by getting out of the mud first all Kentucky will be a part of a better Kentucky.

North Carolina is a state visited annually by thousands of tourists. It is a great vacation-land. But super-highways are not what made it so. The roads of that state are far from the ideal mentioned in The Courier-Journal article. Thus, it would appear, the roads Kentucky has and which it can build without neglecting the bigger task of building for all, are sufficient to attract a great tourist trade—if the state makes its "mousetrap" good enough.

A section such as the Smokies in North Carolina—beautifully wooded mountains abounding with game, brawling mountain streams stocked with trout, unpolluted lakes, a variety of outdoor sports, a combination of the pristine and the luxurious—will attract the visitor within our borders. The roads we have and those we shall build will not repel him.

And, meanwhile, we Kentuckians will not be forced to ride out on our mules to the highway to watch the tourist whiz past.

Kentucky's Disgrace

Kentucky's Forgotten People are those who languish and suffer in the state's mental hospitals. The state's neglect of these human beings who are sick in mind, even as you or I could be, is a public disgrace.

Dr. Louis Foltz recently emphasized this shame when he pointed out that Kentucky spends a hundred times more on its convicts in penitentiaries than it does for those whose crime is nothing more than becoming sick in mind and having not the resources to finance private and expensive treatment.

Less than a dollar a day is spent on the care and treatment of these, our Forgotten. On that pittance they cannot be properly fed, not to mention the cost of providing the special treatment, care and nursing their condition demands.

As a result of the lack of money to provide trained attendants for the mentally unbalanced, patients in mental hospitals have been killed by other inmates. The deranged killers are unaccountable, but Kentucky is.

The word, "asylum," connotes, literally speaking, a retreat. In Kentucky it means not retreat or sanctuary but incarceration in a horror-house.

Poor unfortunates deserve better than that. And the people of Kentucky surely will demand better than that for them.

Lt. Col. Stanley Hays Weds Miss Mary Barber

In a quiet, candlelight ceremony on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 28, at 4 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Barber, on the Russellville road, Bowling Green, Ky., their daughter, Miss Mary Barber, became the bride of Stanley Hays, son of Senator Douglas Hays, of McDowell, Ky. The Rev. R. C. Patterson officiated in the presence of the family.

The vows were exchanged before an improvised altar of ferns, southern smilax, white roses and gladioli with branched candelabrae on either side. Dennis Lilly, vocalist, sang "For You Alone" and "Because" and Mrs. Wade R. Eakins, pianist, played Schubert's "Serenade" and "Liebestraum" during the ceremony, and "The Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin for the entrance of the bride and her father, by whom she was given in marriage.

Miss Virginia Barber, sister of the bride, and Harris Walker, of Maysville, were the only attendants.

The bride wore a white satin gown for her going-away costume, a gray gaberdine suit with gray hat and accessories and orchid corsage.

Mrs. Hays is a graduate of College high school and attended the University of Kentucky, residing with her aunt, Miss Mary Frances Haner, while in Lexington. She is a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority and the Bowling Green Girls' Cotillion Club.

Mr. Hays is a graduate of the University of Kentucky and a member of Delta Tau Delta and Phi Delta fraternities. He served with the 10th Infantry regiment of the 6th Division for 47 months overseas and was discharged with the rank of lieutenant-colonel. Mr. and Mrs. Hays are at home at the Command and General Staff college, Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas.

"Rich man's toy!"

That's what "wise guys" of the 1880's called the newfangled electric service. And that's all it might be today — IF ...

IF people hadn't risked their savings to start electric companies such as yours, and to keep them growing.

IF others, often against expert advice, hadn't poured out their energy and time — to extend the wires farther and farther, make the service better and better, bring the rates lower and lower.

They took the risks — they developed the skills — and everybody benefits. That's the way the American business system works.

Rich man's toy? Today, electricity is everyman's good right arm!

DAIRYING FAVORED IN MORGAN COUNTY

Many farmers as well as businessmen in Morgan county are recognizing that dairying is one of the most promising farm enterprises in the county, stated Farm Agent Charles Dixon. As a result, 80 farmers are selling milk and 100 farmers, cream.

Mrs. Arnold Cox, who has three grade Jersey cows, received $82 for milk sold over a five-week period this summer. That left an income of $62 above feed costs for that time, plus all the milk her family of five used.

Another example cited was that of Dockie Murphy, who received a net income above feed costs of $152 in one month from six grade Jersey cows. Mr. Murphy figures that this income of $5 per day for less than two hours' work, done with the aid of his small son, is the easiest money he makes.

As a result of lessons in sewing, Hart county homemakers tailored 1,322 garments this year and remodeled 837 pieces.

Every member of the Zion Home-makers Club in Todd county has an electric or gas kitchen range.

Foster Tolliver, of Bess county, who has an apple orchard of 100 trees, estimates that he will harvest from 800 to 1,000 bushels this fall.

ORDINANCE

An ordinance granting to Kentucky & West Virginia Power Company, Incorporated, its successors and assigns, the right, privilege, franchise and authority to acquire, construct, maintain and operate in the streets, alleys and public places of the Town of Wayland, Floyd County, Kentucky, and its successors, lines for the distribution of electric energy to the town of Wayland and the inhabitants thereof, and persons or corporations beyond the limits thereof, for light, heat, power and any other purpose, and for the transmission of same within, through or across said town.

The Board of Trustees of the Town of Wayland, Floyd County, Kentucky, do ordain as follows:

Section One: There is hereby granted to Kentucky & West Virginia Power Company, Incorporated (its successors and assigns hereinafter called grantees) the right, privilege, franchise and authority to acquire, maintain, construct, and operate, in, above, under, across and along the streets, thoroughfares, alleys, bridges and public places (as the same now exist or may hereafter be laid out), of the Town of Wayland, Floyd County, Kentucky, lines, poles and equipment for the distribution of electric energy, whether by means of overhead or underground conductors, with all the necessary or desirable appurtenances for the purpose of supplying electric energy to said town and the inhabitants thereof, and persons or corporations beyond the limits thereof, for light, heat, power, or any other purpose or purposes for which electric energy is now or may hereafter be used and for the transmission of the same within, through or across said town.

Section Two: Said lines and appurtenances shall be constructed so as to interfere as little as possible with the traveling public in its use of the streets, thoroughfares, alleys, bridges and public places. The location of all poles or conduits shall be made under the supervision of the proper board of committee of the town government.

Section Three: The right, privilege and franchise shall be in full force and effect for a period of twenty (20) years from the date of the passage of this ordinance.

Section Four: The grantee of this franchise shall save the town harmless from any and all liability arising in any way from negligence in the erection, maintenance or operation of said lines and appurtenances.

Section Five: Whenever the grantee of this franchise shall begin the erection of any lines or other equipment it shall promptly and diligently prosecute the work to completion and leave the streets, thoroughfares, alleys, bridges and public places where such work is done in as good condition of repair as before such work was commenced.

Section Six: Wherever in this franchise, either the Town of Wayland, or the grantee of this franchise is referred to, it shall be deemed to include the respective successors, or assigns or either, and all rights, privileges, and obligations contained in such franchise shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the respective successors and assigns of said town, or said grantee, whether so expressed or not.

Section Seven: The grantee of this franchise may make such rules and regulations covering the furnishing of said electric energy as may be fair and reasonable and consistent with the standard practice of the grantee. Said grantee may charge such rates for electrical energy as shall be fair and reasonable. The said grantee shall render service under said franchise of like quality, that is, adequate, efficient and reasonable to that customarily rendered to towns of the class in question.

Woman's Society Approves Chance-Selling Ban

During the business meeting Monday night, the Woman's Society of Christian Service decided to meet hereafter in homes of members. Co-hostesses will provide a light refreshment and there will be a period of fellowship following the business and devotional meeting.

Mrs. J. D. Mayo, Spiritual Life chairman, announced plans for a week of prayer and self-denial with a day of special observance by WSCS members and Wesleyan Service Guild members on Saturday, October 10.

The Society gave a vote of approval to the P-T.A. plan of a birth-date calendar instead of chance-selling as a means to raise money and voted to subscribe to the calendar for meeting dates for the year.

Mrs. J. D. Mayo presented the devotional program with the aid of Mrs. Dove Vaughan and Mrs. M. C. Yates. Mrs. Harry Ranier gave a talk and led a discussion to acquaint members with the new plan and changes set forth by the Society. Those attending the meeting were Mesdames Richard Spurlock, Carl Horn, Thomas Hereford, Jr., M. L. May, Paul Francis, Claybourne Stephens, H. D. Fitzpatrick, G. R. Allen, M. C. Yates, J. D. Mayo, Dove Vaughan, Eddie Worland, Denzil Whitten, Harry Ranier, Frank Layne and N. L. May.

Due to crown borer damage in strawberries on the farm of R. B. Lamb in Simpson county, the income from 14 acres decreased this year $5,000 to $7,000.
