

Well, after Tuesday's election results, I wouldn't blink an eye if I looked out the window this minute and saw Chick Howard walking the water.

The Gallup poll, besides being no good otherwise, isn't worth a penny for use in poling your way up Salt River.

Think I shall sue one Dr. George Gallup. He has done me wrong. He led me astray. He prevented me from retiring, with never a financial cloud the remainder of my days. But for him I would have cleaned up a young fortune from the boys, here and about.

THE CROWNING INSULT

Listen, fellows! Lay off Brad Boyd. He has suffered enough. More than you know. Didn't know that some scalawag at John Ant precinct wrote Brad's name in on the Democratic side of the ballot and voted for him, b'gosh, for Judge of the Court of Appeals, did you?

I flinched visibly when I was reminded this week that the picture-taking season in the schools is at hand.

Any day now, the boys and girls will be trotting out their whole repertoire of stiff smiles, grins, and grimaces. Guys who have slumped like a sack of shelled corn all their lives will freeze, ramrod straight and gals who are models of grace and poise will begin tripping over their toes in a manner positively alarming.

All because they are being stood up to face that silent, awesome thing known as a camera.

But maybe I'm misjudging these youngsters. It's altogether possible I'm thinking too much of my own unhappy jousts with the magician who tells you to watch the birdie, never produces the feathered friend and who, in my case, always turned up with what is politely known as a "study" which looked like something the cat had dragged in, in one of her more absent-minded moments.

I am thinking back, you see, to the time when I "sat" for a photograph for a college annual known as "The Kentuckian." (I hastily digress to explain that I never did learn just what became of that particular number—I didn't stay in school long enough.) My appointment for this date with the firing squad was, appropriately enough, 8 a.m., which in the wintertime is around sunrise. The condemned man man skipped the hearty breakfast and appeared at the studio. Was seated. Was twisted, this way and that. Was told to lift the head, the eyes; figuratively, to perk up the ears.

Was told to smile. Bravely I tried. I froze like a bird-dog at point.

There elapsed what could not have been more than a minute but which seemed like ten. Then the saturnine individual at the camera emerged from beneath the black cloth. A perfect Mephistopheles, he fixed a glittering eye on me and blandly, too blandly, inquired, "You feeling well, young man?"

My Adam's apple jerked out the information that I was.

"Nobody dead in your family?"

I unfroze enough to shake my head.

"Sure of this, son?"

I was. Then he roared:

"Well, then, why in the hell do you look like that?"

Reynolds, Jap Prison Victim, To Be Buried At Martin Saturday

An urn containing the ashes of Cpl. John Bud Reynolds, starvation victim of a Jap prison camp, arrived at the Ryan Funeral Home, Martin, Wednesday morning and from there was taken to the home of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Reynolds, near there.

He died at the age of 33 on Honshu Island, Feb. 16, 1945 of malnutrition after falling a prisoner in the battle of Bataan, surviving the sinking of the USS Intrepid and the sinking of two ships in which he and other prisoners were being transported from the Philippines to Japan. His wartime service was in the Medical Corps with the 192nd tank battalion.

Born and reared in Martin, he was well-known in this county and had many relatives and friends. Surviving, besides his parents, are three brothers and three sisters, Parker, Ralph and W. J. Reynolds, Jr., all of Martin, Mrs. H. H. Vincent, Huntington, W. Va., Mrs. John Allen, Prestonsburg, and Miss Daris Reynolds, of Martin.

Funeral rites will be conducted Saturday afternoon at 1:30 from the auditorium of Martin high school, the Revs. John Mostoller and S. C. Honeycutt officiating. Veterans of Foreign Wars will accord military honors. Burial in the family cemetery will be directed by the Ryan Funeral Home.

NEGRO JAILED FOR SHOOTING

Victim To Recover, Will Not Prosecute, Authorities Assured

Bond of $3,000 is being asked for the release of Fleming Banks, Wheelwright negro, charged with the shotgun wounding Saturday evening of George Smith, colored.

Authorities here were told Smith, though wounded in the back and side, is recovering and that he does not want to prosecute Banks.

Mrs. Banks said here that Smith was intoxicated when he came to her restaurant, that he struck her daughter and threatened her husband. Banks was brought to jail here Sunday by Deputy Sheriff Andy Little.

Another Martin liquor raid resulted Saturday in the arrest of Herb McGlothen by Deputy Sheriff Hillard Mitchell and Levy Rice. A small quantity of whiskey was taken. Bill Stone was jailed Sunday on a liquor possession charge.

Election Day, Jack D. Hays was arrested on a drunk driving charge, and Leonard Anderson was booked for the same offense and also for transporting liquor. Bill Burchett was jailed Wednesday on a liquor possession charge.

Richard and Billie Wallen were jailed Wednesday by Policeman Tavis Flanery, of Martin, on a charge of breaking and entering.

JOHNSON, SON DIE IN PLANE

Floyd Residents' Kin Victims Last Sunday In Ashland Tragedy

Walter Rice Johnson, 33 years old, of Pikeville, and his 11-year-old son, Walter Rice, Jr., were instantly killed Sunday morning at 11:30 a.m., when Johnson's Cub plane plunged into the Ohio river at Ashland.

Relatives in this county said Johnson, possessor of a private pilot license, had flown from Pikeville with his son Sunday morning to receive his commercial pilot's license in Ashland. Weather conditions during the morning became such that they doubted they would be able to fly back to Pikeville and they had gone aloft to investigate extent of the fog overhanging the airport.

Suddenly the plane nosed over and plummeted to the river.

The elder Johnson died of skull and internal injuries and a broken neck. Part of an instrument in the plane penetrated his son's eye and entered the brain. The bodies were removed after the plane had been towed to shore by an auto wrecker. The boy was Mr. and Mrs. Johnson's only child.

Johnson was a veteran of World War II and a brother of Major Ralph A. Johnson, noted wartime fighter pilot. He was a son of John M. Johnson, Pike county treasurer, and Cora Roberts Johnson. His widow is June Porter Johnson, a daughter of Ferd Porter and a niece of B. L. Porter, of Emma.

Surviving, besides his widow and his parents, are five brothers, Russell C. Johnson, Dayton, O., Jack O. Johnson, Ashland, J. Buford Johnson, Ashland, Robert B. Johnson, Pikeville bank official, and Major Johnson, U.S. Army, Fort Meade, Md., Clemons, Michigan.

The bodies were returned to Pikeville.

Leads by 5,696 Votes; Majority of Perkins Over Meade, 5,895

Floyd county was more solidly Democratic Tuesday than ever before in a modern-day Presidential election, a review of vote tabulations dating back to Franklin D. Roosevelt's first New Deal campaign shows.

President Truman's majority over Governor Dewey, with a total of 11,950 votes cast, was 5,696. And that exceeded the lead of even FDR in his landslide victory over the late Wendell Willkie in 1936 when his majority in this county was 5,389. That year, the county polled probably its greatest vote, however, with a total of 12,811.

Along with Mr. Truman every other Democratic candidate was swept to victory not only in this county but over the Seventh Congressional district.

Carl D. Perkins, Hindman Democrat, actually topped the Truman majority in this county, polling 8,731 votes to 2,836 by W. Howes Meade, Paintsville, Republican incumbent. Over the district by Wednesday afternoon Mr. Perkins had piled up a majority of 9,000 and his victory was considered certain. The Democratic candidate polled 2,300 votes in heavily Republican Johnson, home county of Congressman Meade, and held the Meade majority there to 1,503 votes. In Martin county, even more solidly Republican, he polled 888 votes to Meade's 1,787. In Pike county, with only 16 precincts counted, he had a lead exceeding 900 votes and it was predicted there that early margin had established a trend for the entire county.

The Perkins final majority is expected to mount upwards of 15,000 votes.

Perkins had the support of organized labor in the district, but not so Virgil Chapman, Paris Democrat, who unseated U.S. Senator John Sherman Cooper, of Somerset. Chapman ran far back of both the Truman-Barkley ticket and Perkins in this county with 6,703 votes to 4,553 for Cooper.

Roy Helm, Hazard attorney, apparently has defeated Judge Eugene Siler, Republican, for the Appellate Court seat. Floyd county voters gave him 7,963 votes to 2,873 for Siler.

Other Presidential candidates, as expected, received little attention from Floyd county. Henry Wallace received a total of 28 votes; J. Strom Thurmond, 19, and Norman Thomas, an even dozen.

Ferguson committee investigators arrived in the district two days before the election to keep an eye on the polls, and no irregularities have been reported. The voting was orderly throughout this county, with school board races contributing to voter-interest and the heavy balloting.

Tabulation of the vote was completed here at Wednesday noon. This detailed precinct report will be published by The Times next week.

HOLD CASTLE WAS SLAIN

Body of Missing Man Found in Big Sandy, Near Paintsville

Paintsville, Ky., Oct. 30—A two-week mystery over the disappearance of Vernon B. Castle was solved last night with recovery of his body from the Big Sandy river.

Johnson county authorities indicated he had been slain.

Castle, 22, was last seen October 16 at a drinking party in a night spot at the mouth of Buffalo Creek.

County Judge Rexford Trimble said that equipment was not available here to determine whether Castle had been drowned. He directed that the body be taken to Huntington, W. Va., where tests will be made.

Mr. and Mrs. Bozier Castle had offered a small reward for word of their son's whereabouts after his mysterious disappearance. The state police radio network carried a broadcast three days ago in the effort to find him.

Sheriff Wiley Hall said the body was found near Buffalo Shoal, about two miles from here.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cook, of Topmost, three brothers, Raymond Cook, Winchester, Ky., Elgin and Jellin Cook, Topmost, and five sisters, Mrs. Tilden Jones, Bevinville, Mrs. Alvin Morgan, Misses Emmalee, Emmarine and Aster Cook, all of Topmost.

The funeral was conducted by the Revs. Sherman Stone, Ellis Hopkins and Clabe Mosley and burial in the family cemetery was made under direction of the Ryan Funeral Home.

JACK HOWARD IS MENTIONED

To Succeed Barkley As Observers Guess Choice for Senator

Election of Kentucky's Alben B. Barkley to the Vice-Presidency will make necessary the filling of the Senate vacancy by appointment and among those considered as possible appointees was J. W. (Jack) Howard, former State Senator and Prestonsburg attorney.

Mr. Howard, mentioned in Frankfort speculation as to Barkley's successor, is a former classmate of Governor Clements'. Until his name was mentioned in a radio newscast Wednesday evening Mr. Howard had not considered the possibility.

One guess was that Clements might resign and be appointed to the Senate by Lt. Gov. Lawrence Wetherby—as Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler did in 1939.

But that guess was swamped by the guesses as to whom Clements would name, if he didn't want it himself.

The Governor made it plain he wasn't going to say anything now, but he gave the impression that he sees no reason to rush things. As for other leading questions, the Democratic chief executive just laughed and countered, "You oughtn't to ask me that."

As for other possibilities, Frankfort observers speculated on State Senator Louis Cox, Frankfort, and Stanley Hoffman, Henderson; Former Governor Keen Johnson, Joseph J. Leary, Frankfort attorney; Lt. Governor Wetherby and State Highway Commissioner Garrett L. Withers.—to name a few.

One observer advised that right now any list of possible choices should be arranged alphabetically. That was his way of saying he doubted that Clements had any favorite yet.

Another observer in making his guess, added, "But the Governor has a way of surprising you—sometimes he'll pick a man you never even heard of."

The successor appointed in place of Barkley will serve until after a special election in November next year. Then in 1950 there will be the regular election to fill the post for the full six years beginning in January, 1951. Barkley has held the seat since January, 1927.

Clements could name some one who would agree not to run in 1950, leaving the field clear for the Governor, whose term will end in December, 1951.

If Clements should take the post now by resigning and having incoming Wetherby appoint him, then there would be a special election for Governor on 30 days' notice.

Administration Wins All Three Positions At Stake in County

Administration forces retained control of both the Prestonsburg and County Boards of Education after Tuesday's election in which two City Board members were elected and three for the County Board.

In Educational Division No. 3 Alonzo Stratton, of Betsy Layne, administration-supported candidate for the County Board of Education, won in a three-man race. Dr. W.D. Osborne, of Bypro, was re-elected in Division No. 5, and in Division 2 Ray Fraley, of Wayland, was unopposed.

Dr. O. T. Stephens, present member of the City Board, led a four-man field for the two posts to be filled, but Ray Stephens defeated his running-mate, Lon S. Moles, incumbent, by four votes. Ray Stephens' running mate was Harry Ranier.

In the hard-fought election here it was nip and tuck all the way, with 1,134 votes cast in the Board race in Prestonsburg, West Prestonsburg and Cliff precincts.

The County Board totals: Division No. 3—Alonzo Stratton, 1,180; Andy L. Tackett, 888; Glenn H. Blackburn, 426. Division 5—Dr. Osborne, 1,529; Homer Tackett, 628.

Burnis Martin, attorney for James Dials, said new evidence will be presented in Dials' second trial. Dials, Harlan Salyers and Joe Cook were granted new trials when Circuit Judge Edward P. Hill became aware of erroneous instructions given the trial jury.

The new evidence will be based on an affidavit jointly signed by Salyers and Cook, each of whom drew two-year terms but who gained new trials also. This affidavit

Never-Say-Die Fight Upsets GOP at Polls

Truman-Barkley Sweep Claims For Democrats Both Senate And House; Perkins Wins

The little guy who would not be licked was re-elected President of the United States Tuesday in the nation's most startling political upset.

The winner of the Presidency—winner by a combination of sheer determination and political miracle—is Harry S. Truman.

His election was conceded at 11:15 a.m., Wednesday by Thomas E. Dewey, Republican standard-bearer, the man every public opinion poll had declared without equivocation to be the next occupant of the White House.

As of Wednesday night, Harry S. Truman had safely tucked away 302 electoral votes and a popular lead over Dewey approximating a million and a half votes.

The astonishing upset which was hailed jubilantly by Democrats and ruefully, though good-humoredly, by Republicans stole a march on a large part of the country. As President Truman showed apparent early strength his supporters as well as Dr. Gallup, Mr. Roper, et al, discounted the possibility of an upset. Many retired early on election night to fortify themselves for the bitter news of the morrow by a good night's sleep. Others stuck to their radios to hear, detail by detail, the story of the GOP conquest.

Those who retired awoke Wednesday morning to hear that Truman was well along toward sensational victory. A few hours later, as Ohio and Illinois fell into the Truman column, victory became official with Governor Dewey extending congratulations.

With Truman and Vice-President-elect Alben W. Barkley, of Kentucky, were swept into office Democratic majorities in both houses of Congress.

Thus were the tables turned, almost at the eleventh hour, by the man who would not admit defeat or be licked. He won his party's nomination at Philadelphia only after facing bitter opposition. The State's Rights group headed by J. Strom Thurmond split the traditionally loyal segment of the Democratic party. Henry Wallace took with him thousands of votes hitherto in the Democratic ranks. The party itself was lethargic, leaders sensing certain defeat. One state of the "Solid South"—Alabama— even denied Truman a place on its ballot.

But the Missourian took to the road. He called on the voters to "give 'em hell." His running-mate, the veteran Barkley, toured the country by helicopter. Except for these two, and the lowly precinct worker, little apparently was being done for the Democratic ticket.

Meanwhile, Governor Dewey, lulled into a sense of false security by the pollsters, was conducting a comparatively leisurely campaign in which he avoided definite issues, stuck to generalities and argued for "unity" and "teamwork."

On the basis of incomplete returns Wednesday the Truman-Barkley ticket had gathered its 302 electoral votes from the states of Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Illinois, Kentucky, Iowa, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, North Carolina, Ohio, Oklahoma, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Virginia, Texas, Utah, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

The Dewey-Warren slate at that time was leading in Connecticut, Delaware, Indiana, Kansas, Maine, Maryland, Michigan, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New York, New Jersey, North Dakota, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Dakota and Vermont.

Thurmond was ahead in Alabama, Mississippi, South Carolina and Louisiana. Wallace was ahead in none.

Even before the startling Truman victory dawned on the nation it became apparent that the Congress had made a big shift to the Democratic party. The indicated Congressional line-up now is: 54 Democrats and 42 Republicans in the Senate, 246 Democrats, 188 Republicans in the House.

In Kentucky Virgil Chapman, Democrat, defeated John Sherman Cooper, Republican incumbent, for the Senate seat.

Hurt's Neck Broken As Car Misses Span On Road Near Melvin

A broken neck sustained in a car wreck on the Melvin-Weeks road Friday resulted in the death on the following day at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, of 55-year-old Ben Hurt, retired Weeksburg miner.

The car, which was driven by the victim's nephew, Simpson Delong, left the highway at a bridge abutment, dropping a short distance into the creek. Bascom Hurt, of Nero, Ky., a brother of the victim, suffered a broken arm. Driver of the car escaped unhurt.

Hurt was a native of Johnson county and was a son of the late Joseph Hurt. Ill health had forced his retirement from mine work, some time ago. Among his survivors are five brothers, Thomas, Richard, Garland and Frank Hurt, all of Weeksburg, Bascom Hurt, of Nero, and a sister, Mrs. K. S. Delong, of Nero.

The body was taken by the Ryan Funeral Home to the residence of Mrs. Delong where funeral rites were conducted Wednesday, the Rev. S. C. Honeycutt officiating. Burial was made in the family cemetery there.

Hi-Ho, Mister!

You want to know how to get rich easy? I don't know. Want to know how to cure a cold? I don't know. But I know how to bake biscuits. Good biscuits, that is. Most important thing is to use Silver Mist Flour. That's the way to bake biscuits with flavor, honest-to-goodness flavor that'd make a bullfrog sing soprano and rabbits chase round dogs. Specially when those Silver Mist biscuits are floating around in ham gravy. Or cream gravy. Or sorghum. Or even left over cold, wrapped around sausages. Sure, because the folks who mill Silver Mist Flour (they been at it since 1776) manage somehow to get all the flavor of the wheat into the flour itself. The Missus tells me they enrich it, too, so you get something called 6-way nourishment, which I reckon is good for what ails you. Anyhow, for good-tasting biscuits, buy Silver Mist Flour.

One of the best ideas for helping curb the rising toll of hunting accidents that we have heard comes from Outdoor Writer George X. Sand. Oh, he agrees with those who say that better training of youngsters in handling firearms, stricter hunting laws and greater safety programs are needed. But that is not enough. With added thousands of hunters going afield each season, many more deaths and maimings can be expected—unless we act quickly to stop it now.

If we knew how gun mishaps occurred, we could study how they might have been prevented and then do something to prevent future accidents. Sand suggests that if each state kept a complete and accurate file of all hunting accidents, we would have a foundation for building a nation-wide accident-prevention program.

How many states keep such a record? Results of a survey are discouraging. Almost one-half of the states fail to keep even such a simple record as the number of fatal and serious non-fatal accidents occurring within their borders. Over 25 per cent of the states keep no record at all!

Those states which have made an extra effort to reduce hunting hazards, and which keep data on all accidents, have some of the best safety records in the country.

If all states compiled accident information, and exchanged it freely in a national safety program, the number of hunting accidents could be greatly reduced.

It is, of course, indisputable that hunting safety is a state problem. Nevertheless, state safety committees by analyzing the causes of gun mishaps and coordinating their efforts should be able to bring considerable improvement to the national hunting accident picture.

But the individual hunter must do his part by taking greater precautions than ever. Remember that carelessness is the greatest killer of all. (For example, in Colorado 90 per cent of the accidents were caused by careless handling of weapons in or near automobiles—not in the field.) Be sure that what you shoot is game, not your hunting partner. Leave your bottle home.

Cattle, a Good Bet

THE Courier-Journal aptly points out that beef cattle should flourish in Eastern Kentucky.

They do flourish wherever given a chance. And those who have turned from the traditional hillside corn crop with all its toil and disappointments to the growing of beef quality cattle have profited.

Generally speaking, corn is not a paying crop in this section. It cannot be produced in quantity sufficient to be sold at a profit, nor can enough be produced as feed for hogs which is the big livestock by-product of corn-growing sections.

The terrain is not suited to corn-growing, nor is the soil except on limited level acreage.

The same hillsides which are not adaptable to corn, however, could become rich pastureland. Thus could be grown beef cattle with less labor and more profit, and at the same time a barrier built against erosion, Eastern Kentucky's particular scourge. And one or two acres of alfalfa, fed to cattle, will give greater financial returns than the same acreage planted to corn.

The hill-man will not surrender his dogs without bitterness or worse, and so sheep-raising, another industry which could be profitable in Eastern Kentucky, is a thing of the distant future. But dogs and cattle can both roam the range together, without injury to either. So cattle is our best bet.

Let One Board Handle It

THIS is written on Election eve. Whatever the results of Prestonsburg's City Board of Education election, we hold that the situation will be unchanged.

So the Times suggests that the partnership between the City and County Boards of Education be terminated, to the end that Prestonsburg receive the physical equipment, including more classrooms, necessary to the growth, even the life, of the school.

Only a Board of Education looking to Prestonsburg voters for support will be able to consider residents of the town their constituents. As matters now stand, with the City Board elected by the voters here, and the County Board elected by persons living outside Prestonsburg, the school system here is something of a step-child to the County Board.

For this unfortunate state of affairs the County Board members do not deserve all the censure Prestonsburg residents may be inclined to voice. Their failure to meet Prestonsburg's needs while attending to those of other schools is quite natural and very human. Men dependent upon votes to retain their position must work where the votes are, it must be conceded, if we view the matter from the standpoint of expediency or politics.

So the only solution is a final dissolution of the unhappy partnership between the two Boards. Either the City Board should throw the whole thing into the lap of the County Board and cease to exist, or it should acquire the county's interest in the high school here and operate the entire system itself.

This latter alternative presents many difficulties, particularly financial difficulties. So it would appear that Prestonsburg's soundest move is to join the county school system and with its votes demand and get what is needed.

It is better to proceed and err than to remain stagnantly pleased.—Rudolph A. Sacco.

Says Lawrence County
Officials Punishable
For Failure of Duty
Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 1—If Lawrence county officers won't enforce the laws, they can be punished. Assistant Attorney General John M.
Kinnaird declared today.
Dr. R. C. Moore, Louisa veterinarian and former state legislator, charged the county judge, sheriff and other officials with failure to break up gambling. Dr. Moore's letter also charged there was no investigation of the death of a man killed by a speeding taxicab.
Kinnaird pointed out officials who fail to carry out their duties can be indicted and convicted. Conviction automatically removes them from office. Kinnaird added there are other statutory provisions to punish failure to perform official duties.

FEDERAL RESERVE RESEARCHERS SEE TRADE RECORDS BROKEN

If a Governor vacates his post after having served half his term, the Lieutenant Governor takes his place for the remainder of the term. But if he vacates prior to serving two years, a special election must be called by the Chief Justice of the Court of Appeals on 30 days' notice.

The Lieutenant Governor meanwhile acts as Governor until after that election. Then he becomes Lieutenant Governor again, unless he should run and be elected chief executive.

(Prepared by the Research Staff of the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland, broadcast by Merle Hostetter, over WGAR, Cleveland.)

According to present indications, retail trade is going to break all former records this year. It is true that holiday shopping has scarcely started and that the remaining eight weeks are very important ones for many a retail business. Some merchants may have set their sights too high and may be disappointed with their share of Christmas trade. But others will do more business in a single week than they did in an entire month in the off season.

In many instances this tendency can be explained by price increases. For example, people are paying more for coal and gasoline, so that sales of those products at retail have increased almost automatically because consumers find it difficult to reduce consumption. More money is also being spent for automobiles and for automobile repairs, for hardware, for household appliances and furniture.

The new records being established this year can be explained on several grounds. Many individuals in the labor force today never had to face involuntary unemployment. They are perhaps more inclined, than an earlier generation was, to think of their current income as being more or less permanent, and to use that income more liberally than do those who still have vivid memories of lay-offs and pay cuts.

Other individuals, by sheer force of circumstances or because of reluctance to adjust their living standards, supplement their current expenditures by dipping into savings, and by using their credit more extensively. In this connection, it might be mentioned, however, that here in the Fourth Federal Reserve District, about 50 per cent of all purchases at department stores are regular charge account sales. Back in 1941, and earlier, the proportion of credit sales was slightly larger than it is today.

Some of these increased expenditures are a direct result of the high level of new home construction, and some are attributable to the wearing out of existing equipment and home furnishings. It is hardly likely, however, that many television sets are being purchased to replace worn-out units. As a matter of fact, it is a moot question as to just how much of today's buying is really necessary buying. Some part of it undoubtedly is merely a reflection of a record level of personal income and a disposition to use more of that income than ever before for current purchases.

This inclination toward increased expenditures is not being felt equally among all types of retail business. The florist trade, for example, is experiencing relatively slack business, for reasons which may be known only to customers who do not buy. Jewelry store sales have been lagging for over two years. In fact, they were among the first to feel consumer resistance—or indifference. Books and stationery stores find it difficult to keep up with the sales record of last year. Less money is being spent at eating and drinking places, and at liquor stores than was true at this time last year.

Another reason for the high level of sales is the fact that for a large number of people the monthly bill is absorbing a considerably smaller portion of personal income than was the case in previous times, which leaves that much more to be spent in other ways.

One of the pronounced characteristics of this year's retail business is the changes that have occurred in consumer preferences over the past year. Some kinds of merchandise have pried a considerably larger portion out of consumers' pocketbooks than was the case last year.

Men's clothing is moving out of the stores less rapidly than in the same months of 1947, and men's shoes are selling more slowly. On the other hand, sales of women's ready-to-wear apparel and accessories are running noticeably ahead of last year. No doubt each member of the listening audience will readily venture his or her own interpretation of this particular divergence of consumer preferences. In all fairness it should be explained that a year ago at this time, the new look in feminine apparel was encountering some degree of consumer resistance, while men's apparel stores and departments had not yet completed replenishing the clothes closets of those who had been in military service. This year male shoppers for one reason or another are deferring some purchases while the feminine contingent is less reluctant to bring its wardrobe more nearly up to date.

A second feature of trade this year is the conservative inventory policy pursued by merchants. Shoppers frequently complain regarding the lack of selectivity in merchandise available and sometimes it is necessary to call at several stores to find the desired article. Although most stores carry a greater variety than a year or two ago, the fact remains that retail trade in general takes a warning from what happened after World War I. The 1920 collapse in sales found many storekeepers unprepared, and now their successors are adopting a precautionary attitude and would rather lose a few sales than risk a substantial loss through markdowns. This question of inventory policy will be discussed in greater detail in a future broadcast in this series.

I should like to mention one additional thought in connection with the record volume of business that has been attained in retail trade and that is the difference between dollar volume and unit sales.

The number of packages carried out of stores, or delivered by stores is not much larger than a year ago. In some lines it is smaller. A mere increase in price does not create more jobs unless it is accompanied by a gain in the number of pieces sold. That gain has been relatively moderate in recent years.

County Grid Championship At Stake Saturday Night

The football championship of Floyd county is at stake Saturday night when the county's only representatives of the sport, Wayland and Prestonsburg, meet on Lions Field, Wayland—and one of the biggest crowds to gather for a grid tussle in this section this year is expected to be on hand to see who emerges the winner.

Although the game has no bearing on the Big Sandy Conference championship, it holds local interest approaching the years-old rivalry between the Prestonsburg Black Cats and the Paintsville Tigers. Wayland is determined to win this one. Prestonsburg is equally determined that the Wasps shall not. As for season records, those go out the window—what the two elevens do in this game is what will be counted.

The Black Cats lost their first Conference game Friday night to Belfry, 7 to 0, almost as the timekeeper was drawn his six-shooter to end the fray. Coach Ted Benedict's boys, minus the regulars, pushed his brother Bill's Pirates around considerably during the course of the evening but could not summon that extra power needed when pay dirt was in sight.

Some time around two minutes before game's end, the Cats took the long gamble to prevent a tie. They decided to pass, and did, but the high, wobbly toss fell into a Belfry player's arms. And that was that.

Gene Boyd, the Cats' speedster, did not make the trip to Belfry. He has been out with a severely injured foot since the Louisa game here and is still favoring the foot this week. Others whom Coach Benedict had despaired of turning in the game they are capable of were also among those missing.

At Wayland, meanwhile, the Wasps were having a big evening of it at the expense of Elkhorn City. With Castle, Wasp captain, contributing three touchdowns, Wayland won, 33 to 0. The winners used their reserves freely as the score mounted and not till the third quarter were they obliged to punt out of danger, and then on only two occasions.

Longest run of the game was Evans' 35-yard dash after intercepting an Elkhorn City pass. All Wayland's markers were scored on line smashes and end runs. The fifth touchdown was scored by Haywood, fullback.

The losers' passing combination threatened at times, but most of their aerial gains were short. The nearest they came to the Wayland goal was the 30-yard line after the Wasps had been penalized 15 yards.

For those who like their comparative scores, it may be added that Belfry, earlier in the season, defeated Wayland, 25 to 14. Captain Castle, however, was out of the Wayland line-up, that evening, and the Pirates scored their markers in the first quarter.

Saturday night's game—then the season's climax here with Paintsville's winless Tigers, Friday night, Nov. 12.

Martin Alumni Plans Homecoming Net Game And Other Festivities

Martin high school's alumni association will be re-organized at a luncheon in the school lunch room Nov. 13, Denzil Halbert, coach of the Martin basketball team, announced this week. All alumni of the school have been invited to attend and have been asked to make reservations for the event at once.

The luncheon itself, however, will be a tame affair, compared to what is to follow. Immediately after the alumni meeting, the Martin Purple Flash and the Maytown Wildcats, old-time net rivals, will meet in a homecoming basketball game at the Martin gym.

A parade will start the homecoming ceremonies, with floats of the various Martin school clubs competing for prizes. Miss Barbara Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Allen, of Allen, will be invested as Miss Purple Flash, 1948-49, the players, coaches, cheerleaders, managers and officials of the two schools will be presented, and the combined bands of the two schools will play during the pre-game ceremonies and at the halftime intermission.

4 FROM FLOYD ON PIKE TEAM

Bears Expect Boys' Height To Increase Cage Team's Power

Four Floyd county boys are on the Pikeville College basketball squad for the current year. Coach Bill Houchin announced this week. Of the 17 members, 12 are six feet or taller, which makes this the tallest group Pikeville has had for seven years. All the Floyd county members are six feet or over.

Jack Wells, letterman from last year's team, plays forward or center. He measures 6 feet 1 1/2 inches and graduated from Auxier high, where he also played basketball, in 1947. Wells served a year in the army and was on the first team last year.

Bob Estep, another sophomore, also plays forward or center. Bob's home is now in Garrett, but while in high school at Hindman he went out for basketball, baseball, and track. He also played a year on the Oak Ridge, Tenn., team, and his specialty is one-handed crisp shots. He measures 6 feet, 2

Al Snyder, Betsy Layne, and Hubbard Francis, Prestonsburg, are freshman members of the squad and both look good. Al was graduated from Morristown (Tenn.) high school last year. He plays forward or center and is just six feet tall. Hubbard graduated from Kentucky Military Institute, where he went out for basketball, football, and track. He also plays forward or center, and is 6 feet, 1 1/2 inches.

Other returning men are Bill Ray, Inez; Roger Roberts, Pikeville; and Arthur Adams, Fleming. Newcomers include Clarence Mills, Inez; Tommy Hill, Belfry; Rudy Rutherford, Pikeville Academy star; Bob Scott, Pikeville; Tommy Elswick, Pike high; Vernon Syck, Pikeville Academy star; Andy Renick, Bowling Green; Jim Booth, Warfield; Warren Stapleton, Elkhorn City; William B. Hall, Dorton.

With the tallest and largest squad in recent years, the Pikeville College Bears hope to wrest the state junior college championship from Cumberland College. Twenty-two games have already been carded, and Coach Houchin is looking for two more games with either the Morehead or Western State freshmen, or with Berea or Georgetown. The schedule follows:

Martin Net Team Features Four Pairs of Brothers

Coach Denzil Halbert's 21-man Martin high basketball squad has something of the earmarks of one big family this year, and there's a reason.

There are four sets of brothers on the squad, with four brothers on the first team. And among the two blondes, two brunettes and one red-head who are cheerleaders there is a set of sisters.

The first-team brothers are Elmer, Charles, Douglas and Donald Laferty, sons of the late Bill Laferty, of Allen. Other brother combinations on the squad are: the Taylor brothers, Bob and Bill; the Webbs, Cecil and Bob, and the Grigsbys, Charles and Pete, Jr.

Eight players are returning lettermen. Other squad members are: Gordon McCarty, Burtis Campbell, Hugh Stumbo, Vance Porter, Jr., Ezra Clink, Ronald Tackett, Billy Dings, J. B. Carr, James D. Sallsbury, John Ike Laferty, Dean Peters.

Halbert said this week he has scheduled 22 games, with dates with Wayland and Virgie later to be set. The schedule follows:

- Nov. 3, Maytown, home; Nov. 19, open; Nov. 20, Hindman, home; Nov. 26, Betsy Layne, away; Nov. 27, open; Dec. 3, Garrett, home; Dec. 4, open; Dec. 10, McDowell, away; Dec. 11, Elkhorn City, home; Dec. 14, Paintsville, home; Dec. 17, open; Dec. 18, Prestonsburg, away; Dec. 30, Hindman, away; Dec. 31, open; Jan. 7, Garrett, away; Jan. 8, open; Jan. 13, Belfry, away; Jan. 14, Auxier, away; Jan. 15, open; Jan. 21, Wheelwright, away; Jan. 22, Maytown, away; Jan. 24 to 29, Big Sandy Conference Tourney; Feb. 4, McDowell, home; Feb. 5, Betsy Layne, home; Feb. 11, Viper, home; Feb. 12, Wheelwright, home; Feb. 16, Belfry, home; Feb. 19, Prestonsburg, home; Feb. 25, Auxier, home; Feb. 26, Elkhorn City, away; March 3, 4, 5, 58th district tourney; March 24, 25, 26, post-season tourney at Mart'n.

HARMON NETS RECORD FISH

Former Floyd Countian Misses $1,500 Jackpot By a Matter of Weeks

Florida is a long way to go for the fisherman's report, but when the fisherman is a native of Floyd county and he catches the biggest fish landed on the Florida coast in years—then distance doesn't stand too much against the yarn.

The fisherman is C. O. Harmon, of Tampa, a brother of Lee Harmon, of Prestonsburg. The fish was a tarpon—all 171 pounds of him.

And Harmon had witnesses—Sol Fleischman, Tampa Daily Times writer, and Joe Sherman, publicist, who drove up while the fish was being landed. Wrote Fleischman of the catch:

"... Seeing a large shape roll near the draw of the Bay, the angler baited a large hook with a small live catfish. He dangled the catfish several feet below the salt water surface and the tarpon smacked his lips and dug in."

"For one hour Harmon had a struggle that you seldom see . . . Five times the huge silver king leaped clear of Tampa's green water and five times Harmon played his unexpected guest like a champion . . . Harmon had to drag his prize along the water for several hundred yards and beach him on the south sands of the Causeway . . ."

"As far as actual records are concerned, this is the largest game fish landed successfully from a pier or bridge on Florida's west coast. Certainly it is the largest tarpon landed in these waters in a decade."

One tragic note concludes this yarn:

The fishing contest sponsored in Florida, with St. Petersburg awarding a prize of $1,000 and Tampa another $500, ended six weeks before the former Floyd countian landed his tarpon. And his fish outweighed the winner by almost 30 pounds.

Gear Shift Control In Outboard Motors

A new outboard motor featuring neutral, forward and reverse, accomplished by gear shift control, was disclosed last week by Johnson Motors, outboard manufacturer, to their local dealer, C. H. Smith Motor Co., Prestonsburg.

The new motor, known as the Johnson Model QD, develops 10.0-OBC certified brake horsepower at 4,000 revolutions per minute and weighs only 56 pounds (without the separate fuel tank). The QD is said to be not only a brand new motor but a new kind of motor in that it gives the owner control and performance not previously available in this field.

It has been customary to carry fuel in an integral tank holding about an hour's supply. This has added 10 to 12 or more pounds to the motor weight. An auxiliary supply in a separate can has been essential for a satisfactory cruising range. Now, in the new QD motor, the 5-gallon Mile-Master tank is separate from the motor, making possible the two-hand carry, motor in one hand, fuel supply in the other. A 12-foot flexible fuel line is equipped with a self-seal connector which plugs in to the motor like connecting a toaster. Thus, what has been an extra fuel supply now becomes the regular supply, ample for hours of full throttle operation.

With the new QD, absolute and complete boat control is provided. Start in neutral at the dock; shift into reverse and back out under full control; shift again and the boat is on its way with "hold-your-hat" acceleration.

Those are only the two most unusual QD features. There are numerous others such as one lever speed control, automatic speed limitation in neutral and reverse, the new vari-volume pump for cooling, slow consistent trolling speed, quiet underwater exhaust gas diversion in reverse to prevent cavitation, rubber floated propeller and many others. (1.)

Fifth Air Force, Itami, Japan—Sergeant Joe J. Taylor, son of Mrs. Tommy Robinson, Betsy Layne, Ky., presently serving with the Far East Air Forces in Japan, will play as a member of the Itami Air Force Base football team at the position of guard during the 1948 season. It was announced here recently by Colonel Preston P. Fender, commanding officer of the 38th Bombardment Wing, Itami, Japan.

Two months ago, when the call for volunteers was made, over 100 men from this air force station answered the call, and after six weeks of intensive training, practices and scrimmages, the team has been narrowed down to a traveling squad of 33 men. Of this number Sgt. Taylor and 10 other players are veterans of the 1947 squad which lost the Fifth Air Force championship by the slim margin of one-half game, and only had one touchdown scored against them on their home grounds during the entire season.

Sergeant Taylor enlisted in the Air Force at Paintsville, Ky., on Sept. 6, 1946 and following completion of basic training remained on duty in the United States until alerted for movement to the Pacific Theater of Operations in December, 1946.

One look!... One ride!... You'll know it's... the modern design for '49 new Hudson

Come in, see the car that's years ahead—drive the New Hudson—experience the amazing roadability, comfort and safety of the only car you step down into!

Here's your chance to get the thrill of a real discovery—to see and feel what one of the great advances in motor-car history offers you.

You'll see a Hudson of distinguished, streamlined beauty and low-built silhouette that is instantly recognizable because it is the natural result of a basically new design principle—a principle that puts this car so far ahead it is a protected investment in motor-car value!

The key to this new design principle is a recessed floor. The New Hudson is the only car you step down into!

By using a "step-down" zone in an exclusive, all steel Monobilt Body-and-frame, Hudson achieves the lowest car on the highway—only five feet from ground to top—while maintaining more head room than in any mass-produced car built today!

But no amount of looking at this amazing car—beautiful as it is—can equal the thrill of a Hudson ride! And you are invited to enjoy that ride today! Hudson has a smooth, hug-the-road way of going in cross-winds and on every conceivable kind of highway. When you see the way it takes even the sharpest curves, you'll know once again that this car has "The modern design for '49"—and for years to come!

Hudson's remarkable ride is largely due to the fact that its "step-down" design provides the lowest center of gravity in any American stock car—yet road clearance is ample! It is a widely recognized fact that the lower to the ground a car can be built, the more stability it will have and the safer it will be.

You sense a delightful conformity to the road the minute you begin your ride, and this stability, plus the protection of riding encircled by a sturdy box-section steel frame, is a grand experience in serene, safe well-being.

This grand feeling is further heightened by the remarkable ease with which this car is controlled. You enjoy this generous roominess in complete relaxation as the New Hudson glides smoothly along.

We cordially invite you to see and drive the New Hudson, to thoroughly enjoy the ride that comes only with "The modern design for '49!"

The only car you step down into

OF INTEREST TO VETERANS

World War II veterans taking on-the-job training under the G.I. Bill and their employers must cooperate in keeping monthly training reports for submission to Veterans Administration or the veterans will lose their subsistence allowances. VA warned recently. VA said on-job training reports for the month of October are due November 1. Sub-sistence payments will be suspended in all cases where the reports are not received by Nov. 10, VA said.

Since direct VA supervision of veterans training under the G.I. Bill ceased early this year, there has been an increasing number of delinquent reports each month. In order to prevent payment of subsistence allowances to which veterans may not be entitled, it is necessary for VA to receive the monthly training reports promptly. VA said the reports must be maintained by the veteran-trainees and submitted to their employers. VA said on-job trainees under the G.I. Bill total approximately 20,000 in Ohio, 10,000 in Michigan and 7,000 in Kentucky.

VA said subsistence payments will be suspended for every trainee for whom a report is not received by the 10th of each month. If the report is received within 60 days after it is due, subsistence payments will be made retroactive to cover the period of suspension. Trainees for whom reports are not received in 60 days will be removed from VA rolls.

Deadline for reports does not affect disabled veterans training under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act, farm trainees or veterans in schools of higher learning, VA explained.

A. Funeral expenses, up to $150, will be paid by the government in the death of any World War I veteran discharged under conditions other than dishonorable.

Vaccination Issue Before Kentucky Appeals Court

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 22—Whether vaccination of school children can be required by law was argued before the Court of Appeals today.

The first Kentucky test of the long standing law was brought here by two Glasgow chiropractors, D. H. Mosier and W.V.M. Stuart, after Barren circuit court had upheld the law.

Their counsel contended enforcement of the regulation, or barring children from school violates rights guaranteed under state and federal constitutions.

In addition, it was claimed vaccination for smallpox would endanger the health of the Mosier and Stuart children and that there is no danger of smallpox in Barren county. In behalf of Stuart, it was asserted, vaccination was against his religious belief.

Counsel for Glasgow's Board of Education argued there are always some smallpox cases in the county and that one case in Glasgow might start an epidemic. Soldiers returning from foreign lands might bring in a case any time, it was added. Glasgow is the seat of Barren county.

The Board's counsel also stated that Stuart is a Baptist, that there is nothing in the Baptist faith that makes vaccination repugnant, and that "a person can not use his religion as a cloak to enable him to endanger his neighbors."

It was added that the United States Supreme Court approved compulsory vaccination regulations in a test case from Massachusetts.

Dayton—Overloading schools with responsibilities formerly assumed by the home is the chief hindrance to education in America today, Dr. Bernard Bell, author and lecturer, told Central Ohio teachers.

Adams School Gives

Hallow'en Party
Mrs. Elsie Prater, of Adams school, and her pupils gave a Hallow'en program Friday afternoon. The room was attractively decorated with Hallow'en symbols which made a beautiful and suitable background for the play given in which every child had a part. Following the play, interesting talks were made by Paris Conley, attendance officer, and Callie S. Branham, health coordinator, concerning attendance and health conditions in the schools of Floyd county.

Many parents were present. After the program, the pupils, the teacher, parents and visitors joined in a game of old-fashioned "round town" ball. Everyone enjoyed the afternoon.

LaViers To Represent Section of New Board

Kentucky's new Agricultural and Industrial Development Board will co-operate with private industry-seeking groups such as chambers of commerce and boards of trade, as well as avail itself of all research facilities, Earl R. Muir, Louisville, chairman of the newly-named board, said last week.

"It will be the function of the Board, commonly known as the A. & I. Board, to produce the factual tools of agriculture and industrial development, and that of local civic bodies to close the deal and to keep new industry satisfied by helping solve problems of procurement and the like," Mr. Muir said.

"We do not expect to perform miracles and guarantee every community a factory overnight," said Muir. "We do expect to have a thorough study of Kentucky's agricultural and industrial potential made, and when all the facts are available to make them available to all interested groups. We expect through a program of advertising to call attention of the outside world to our advantages."

Harry LaViers, Paintsville, is the member of the Board from this section of the state.
