The Woman's Club of Betsy Layne held open house Thursday night, March 16, 1950, for the community, at the Methodist church. The program for the evening was on cancer. The guest speakers were Rev. R. L. Anderson, pastor of the Betsy Layne Methodist church; Miss Clara Shaw, treasurer of Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs; and Dr. Ralph Allen, head of the cancer clinic at Pikeville. Chandler, chairman of the program, introduced the guest speakers. The first speaker was the Rev. R. L. Anderson, who gave a very fine talk on "The Christian View of Spiritual Health." Mrs. Anderson then sang a very beautiful solo, "Above the Hills of Time." The next speaker was Dr. Allen, whose topic was "Cancer." Dr. Allen first gave an easily understood and helpful talk on the symptoms and treatment of cancer. Increased Activity in Knott "Sawmilling" Due to Mines

Increased activity within the past few days in "sawmilling" in Knott county, one of the last strongholds of what was once eastern Kentucky's major industry, points to a minor comeback of the "rough timber" business. Although no accurate county-wide estimate is available, it is known that at least 25 mills of various capacities are in operation in the county. The number represents several mills of the "large" type, it is reported here. Many of the mills are working a full six-day week while some are even working on Sundays.

The stepped-up production is heavily credited to the resumption of coal mining under the new two-year coal mining contract recently negotiated between the operators and miners. The Knott mills, in addition to furnishing some finished building lumber, does the biggest business in mine timbers and rough cut lumber to mines of Floyd, Perry, Letcher and in the new coal fields being developed in Knott and Letcher above Wayland and in Breathitt county.

An instance of the turnover expected in the business was the timber deal recently closed in Hindman and announced by Lewis Hayes, one of the negotiators. Hayes, acting for Goodloe Brothers, Big Stone Gap, Va., sold D. L. Brewer, of Rogers in Wolfe county, the timbering rights to a tract on Buckhorn Creek in Knott county which embraces an estimated two and one-half million board feet.

Hayes said that Brewer had purchased the Prewitt Lumber Co. mill and planned to start operations immediately. It will require, he said, five years or longer to complete removal and milling of the logs. In the meantime, the Central States Forest Experiment Station of the U. S. Forest Service, located at Columbus, Ohio, reported that Keptucky sawmills produced well over a half-billion board feet of lumber and cross ties in 1948. This represented an increase of 11 percent over the average of the previous five years and 27 percent increase over 1947 with a small mill increase of 47 percent in 12 months.

While eastern Kentucky mountain mills furnished more than half of the state production during the period reported, it was noted the small mills, typical of the majority of the Knott county operations, produced a little more than three-fourths of the total cut. The report showed that oak of various species made up nearly half of the total cut. Yellow poplar and beech were the next most important hardwoods, followed by sweetgum, maple, hickory, and minor species. Softwoods, mostly southern yellow pine, made up 10 percent. Sawn cross tie production was 47 million board feet or 8.4 percent of the total.

Members of the Floyd County Health Department attending the annual Kentucky Public Health Association last week in Louisville were M. V. Clark, sanitarian, Elizabeth Harris, public health nurse and Pauline Sparks, public health clerk. Dr. Marvin Ransdell, director and Mr. Clark were both scheduled to appear on the program but sickness prevented D. Ransdell and other members of the Department from attending. The three-day meeting was topped off by a subscription banquet at the roof garden of the Brown Hotel last Thursday night. Dr. Bruce Underwood, state health commissioner, discussed the accomplishments of the state health organization over past years, those now in the making and future plans and objectives. He said that Kentucky is now far behind most of the other states in public health work and organization but that it is the major objective of the Kentucky Public Health Association to become one of the outstanding organizations of the nation within the near future.

Realization of a long-dreamed-of plan of the sanitarians came when Dr. Underwood gave his approval for their organization to be known as the Kentucky Association of Sanitarians. The organization, to be affiliated with and officially recognized by the Kentucky Public Health Association, has as its purposes, in general, the promotion of public health, and, in particular, the improvement and practice of environmental sanitation in community life. It is also the purpose of the Association to encourage the exchange of experiences among sanitarians and to collect and make available such information and data as may be of assistance to them in their work. A constitution was adopted and officers were elected. Among the seven directors named was M. V. Clark, Floyd county sanitarian, who was elected for a two-year period.

If the appropriation is finally made, impoundment of water behind the dam is promised in June after a delay in the relocation of pipelines in the reservoir area.

These lines, however, are located in the Dick's creek area, eight to 10 miles upstream from the dam, and gas men here said last week they were convinced impoundment could be begun concurrently with the start of relocation operations and that all lines would be moved before the lake would be formed that far up Johns Creek.

Also cut by the House committee were appropriations for floodwall projects at Ashland, Louisville and other Kentucky cities. It approved a $19,080,000 appropriation for completion of the Wolf Creek reservoir but was critical of the Corps of Engineers for its steadily rising estimates.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY RECOGNIZES FLOYD COUNTY SESQUICENTENNIAL

Recognition of Floyd county's Sesquicentennial observance this year was accorded by the General Assembly, Friday, busiest day of the session, through unanimous approval by both Houses of a resolution introduced by Representatives Paul E. Hayes and Henry C. Hale and Senator Doug Hays.

The resolution which follows was written by Secretary of State George Glenn Hatcher, himself a native Floyd countian.

A concurrent resolution extending congratulations and felicitations to the citizens of Floyd County upon the celebration of the Floyd County Sesquicentennial on behalf of the people of the Commonwealth of Kentucky by the 1950 General Assembly.

WHEREAS, The King of England did issue a charter on May 23rd, 1609, to colonize the territory comprising Virginia which included the now present Commonwealth of Kentucky; and

WHEREAS, the Grand Assembly of the Colony of Virginia in the year 1623 met and divided the new colony into eight shires of James City, Henrico, Warwick, Warrior's Oak, Charles City, Elizabeth City, Charles River and Accomack, and in 1720 Spotsylvania County was created, and out of which in the year 1734 the county of Orange was created, then in 1738 Augusta county was formed, then in the year 1754 Governor Dinwiddie issued a proclamation giving George Washington authority to survey 200,000 acres of land on the Big Sandy, Guyandotte, and Kanawha rivers.

WHEREAS, most of the 200,000 acres proclaimed to be surveyed by George Washington was patented afterwards by the men of General Washington for bravery and valor for services at the battle of Great Meadows during the Revolution; and then in 1770 Bottetourt County was created, then in 1772 Fincastle County formed; on January 1st, in the year 1777 Kentucky, Washington and Montgomery counties, Virginia, were created from the county of Fincastle, which went out of existence, and Kentucky County (which included all of present day Kentucky) was divided to form in 1789 Fayette County from present Kentucky boundary line on the east to the Kentucky river on the west, and in 1781 Bourbon County was made covering all of the territory from present state line on the east to the Licking river on the west (including what is now Bourbon county on the west), and in 1787 Mason County was formed out of said territory east of the Licking river, then in 1792 Kentucky became a Commonwealth or the 15th state of the United States of America, then in 1797 Montgomery County Kentucky, was made from the lands including present Montgomery County, Kentucky, that portion of land on headwaters of the Licking river. Then in the same year 1797 Fleming County was made including the present county and lands east of Licking river and Big Sandy lands to present West Virginia line; then

WHEREAS, on June 1st, 1800, the County of Floyd was formed from parts of Mason, Montgomery and Fleming counties, which boundary on north and west were to Forks of Big Sandy at Louisa and east to what is now West Virginia line, including lands above mouth of Quicksand Creek on the Kentucky river on the west, and

WHEREAS, Floyd County is the mother county of Pike, Johnson, Martin, Letcher, Mageroff and Perry, which counties were in their entirety created out of Floyd County, and

WHEREAS, parts of the counties of Lawrence, Clay, Carter, Elliott, Breathitt, Leslie and Harlan were formed from what was originally in Floyd county, and

WHEREAS, in the year 1769 Daniel Boone came to Kentucky with John Henderson and his men to explore and trade with the Indians, and a year later was found by his brother, Squire Boone, on the waters of Kentucky river, then in 1773 he it known that Daniel Boone spent the winter in present Floyd County on the waters of Lick Fork of Middle Creek of the Big Sandy river, where he made salt while his companion went back to North Carolina for ammunition; and

WHEREAS, in the year 1795 John Graham came to what is now present day Floyd County and made the first John Preston survey in Floyd County of 800 acres of land where Prestonsburg, now county seat of Floyd county stands, which land was patented to John Graham. Thus the name "Prestonsburg" was given to the Floyd county seat in memory of John Preston, who made 182 surveys in said county. John Graham received patents on about one-half of the surveys and the rest being issued to various other persons.

Whereas, Floyd County was the hunting ground of the Indians and a refuge for the pioneers in the early days of our Commonwealth, who helped hew out the destiny of our great people, and the interesting Indian lore of the past includes the story of Jennie Wiley and her escape from the Indians in 1790 where she found an abode of safety in the Harmon Station in what is now Floyd County at the mouth of Johns Creek on the Big Sandy River; and

WHEREAS, the endurance and endeavor of the pioneers of the past and the progressiveness of the present day citizenry developed one of the greatest industrial sections of our Commonwealth. Starting with the day of the canoe, horseback and steamboat transportation into the present day where railroads and improved highways and modern conveniences have made Floyd county with its timber and mineral deposits an industrial empire, and

WHEREAS, Floyd County has an illustrious history and has produced many famous sons active in state, national and world affairs, including those who have participated in the defense of our great nation, all of which reflects credit upon this great Commonwealth, and

WHEREAS, from July 1st to the 4th, inclusive, in this the year 1950, the citizens of Kentucky will at Prestonsburg celebrate the one-hundred-fiftieth anniversary of the existence of Floyd County; and

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN:

That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky does hereby extend congratulations, and on behalf of all the counties send felicitations to the citizens of Floyd County on the occasion of their Sesquicentennial celebration.

That the Clerk of the House of Representatives be directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the Clerk of Floyd County.

That the Secretary of State, George Glenn Hatcher, a Floyd countian, be requested to engross this resolution and deliver a copy of same to a committee composed of the Honorable Doug Hays, Paul E. Hayes and Henry C. GERALD GRIFFIN

More than a hundred, representing business and civic interests of Eastern Kentucky, attended last night (Wednesday) the formal opening of The Courier-Journal news bureau established to serve the paper from this section.

Chief of the new bureau will be Gerald Griffin, veteran newspaperman, who formerly headed the C-J Lexington Bureau.

Speaker of the evening was Mark Ethridge, publisher of The Courier-Journal. Among other visiting Courier-Journal men present were James S. Pope, managing editor; Earl Ruby, sports editor; George Michler, state editor; Billy Davis, photography chief; Allan M. The war called a halt to those plans. We are happy that we can now go ahead with this program and that we can provide the bureau with as competent and well-liked man as Gerald Griffin."

PRESTONSBURG WINS THIRD STATE CROWN

Average 104.67 Points Against Top VFW Hoopster Competition

MAY REPRESENT STATE IN NATIONAL MEET

The Prestonsburg Ramblers copped their third consecutive Kentucky VFW basketball championship by clipping the wings of the Earlington Eagles, 79-63, in the Veterans of Foreign Wars annual state-wide hoop meet at Princeton, Ky., Saturday night.

The victory qualifies Prestonsburg to represent Kentucky in the national VFW tourney at Mankato, Minn., later this month.

Hailed by their Western Kentucky hosts and opposing teams as one of the best amateur independent net squads to have visited the section, the champ Ramblers hit scoring heights in breezing past opposition prior to the final test.

The triple-crowners initiated themselves into tourney competition at 3:30 p.m. Friday and promptly eliminated a willing but not capable Marion team, 119-37. They advanced to the Saturday afternoon semi-finals and continued their pace as they swamped Paducah, 116-57. The Paducah team offered some stiff competition in the first quarter which ended, 26-23, in favor of the Ramblers. The Rambler steamroller hit high gear in the second quarter and began to speed out of the reach of the Dukes.

In the final, the Earlington team led along at a respectable distance throughout the tilt and offered champions no close scoring threat.

SPORTS AFIELD

BY TED KESTING

Some fellows believe that the more you pay for a camera, the better pictures you get. They are often amazed to find that it is possible to get just as poor results with a good camera as it is with a cheap one.

Here are a few tips from Outdoor Photographer Ormal Sprungman which will help you get pictures which will do credit to your camera, no matter its price.

Stay within the shooting limits of your outfit. If your lens is rather slow, don't try filming in weak light or snapshooting indoors without a flash or photoflood. If your top shutter speed is 1/1000 second or less, don't expect to stop pheasants or ducks in flight, or leaping fish in mid-air.

The first accessory you should add is a filter, since nearly every outdoor subject in black and white is vastly improved by the use of the yellow, red or green filters. As a starter, the yellow filter should be adequate. It darkens blue skies, enhances fluffy clouds, and gives normal color correction.

The red filter over-corrects on the blues giving blacker skies and whitening red objects, often resulting in dramatic effects. Since both disks hold back a certain amount of light, it is necessary to open the lens one stop farther for the medium-yellow filter and two stops for the red. Deeper reds require even larger stops. The green filter is the landscape filter, brightening green foliage which might otherwise record in darker shades.

If your lens is not otherwise protected from sun glare, buy a lens shade. It will repay you many times over in sparkling pictures, and enable you to take those impressive silhouette pictures, which often must be shot almost directly into the sun.

There is no excuse for fuzzy, out-of-focus photographs with a ground-glass focusing reflex camera, but with less expensive outfits, don't guess at distances. Measure them. If you can't afford a pocket range finder, carry a 15-foot length of string, knotted at one-foot intervals to help determine distance.

HOSTS TO ANNUAL BENEFIT TOURNAMENT

LOUISA BEATS WAYLAND FIVE FOR EK TITLE

Floyd Team, Defending YMCA Champs, Dismiss Mayo Quintet, 69-63

Boostered by a lineup of Marshall College stars, the Louisa Independents upset the defending Eastern Kentucky YMCA basketball champions, Wayland, 69-75, in the final of the annual YMCA Independent Invitational basketball tournament at Ashland Saturday night.

Playing for Louisa were team captain and forward Bob Wright, center Norman Willey, and guards, Ivan Repass and Eddie Ball, all of this year's lineup of Marshall College. Jackie "Cougar" Stone, Wayland guard, topped the point-makers with 27 and his teammate, "Copper John" Campbell was second with 26. It was the second consecutive game that Campbell had tallied that number.

Stone hit nine of 10 two-pointer field goals attempted for a first-half total of 18 points. His scoring antics accelerated Wayland to a flying start which saw the defending champs lead, 20-12, at the end of the first quarter.

Louisa picked up second quarter momentum but the half time found Wayland still leading, 39-33. Louisa roared back to take the lead at 50-49 after five minutes of the third quarter had elapsed. The teams traded baskets on even terms and the beginning of the fourth quarter found Wayland on top, 59-57.

In the third quarter and the early minutes of the fourth the score was deadlocked eight times but with approximately five minutes left to play Louisa forged a 71-69 lead and was never headed. Wayland began to tire badly and the Louisa fast-break began to click to gradually wear down the defending champions.

The runnerup team, Wayland, received small individual trophies while the champions will be awarded jackets.

While Louisa was doing semi-final chores by disposing of Parsons, 70-50, the Wayland club set down a strong South Shore team, 67-62, on Friday night.

After South Shore had led for three quarters, 21-18, 33-32 and 54-47, Wayland turned on last minute steam and scored 20 points while

JENKINS SIGNS HALL; BOWMAN WILL MANAGE MOUNTAIN STATE NINE

Jack Ray Hall, Auxier, has been signed for the second year to play with the Jenkins team of the Mountain State League. Hall led the league in home runs last season and held down first base assignments.

Bob Bowman, former major league hurler, has been assigned to manage the Jenkins diamond dusters. It was announced at Bluefield, W. Va., last Thursday.

President Slyde E. Elliott, of the Bluefield Blue-Grays, said Bowman was given his release by Bluefield so he could take the Jenkins job.

Bowman, former pitcher for the St. Louis Cardinals, New York Giants and Chicago Cubs, was one of the mainstays of the pitching staff which helped Bluefield win the 1949 pennant in the Class D Appalachian League.

WILDCATS IN THIRD WEEK OF PRACTICE; SKEDS 6 NEW FOES

Lexington, Ky., March 22 (Spl.)—Approximately 70 University of Kentucky Wildcats football hopefuls are in the middle of their third week of spring practice. The number includes 30 lettermen but registers 16 missing lettermen from last year's Orange Bowl squad.

The 1950 schedule was completed as spring practice here March 6. Coach Paul Bryant announced that the Wildcats will open their season next fall on the night of Sept. 16 here against North Texas State, a newcomer to UK grid battles.

Six new faces appear on the 1950 lineup foes. These are North Texas State, University of Dayton (Ohio), Villanova (at Philadelphia), Georgia Tech, Mississippi State and North Dakota replacing Mississippi Southern, The Citadel, University of Miami (Fla.), Georgia, Southern Methodist and Xavier (Cin., O.).

The 1949 UK grid machine, prior to the Orange Bowl setback at Santa Clara, stacked a 11-game tally of 304 points to 53 for the opponents. The Wildcats averaged 27.6 points per game to 4.8 for the opposition for regular schedule play.

The first five games next fall will be played under lights here, L.S.U., Mississippi, Dayton and Cincinnati follow North Texas State.

TRANSY TO ENGAGE ONLY "PURE" TEAMS IN FUTURE GAMES

(Special to The Times)

Lexington, Ky., March 22—Transylvania College will engage in athletic contests only with those colleges whose teams are unsubsidized after this school year, it has been announced by Dr. Raymond F. McLain, Transylvania president, after a meeting of the executive committee of the school's board of curators.

In stating the general policy of the college, Dr. McLain pointed out that for some years the athletic program at Transylvania has been completely non-subsidized. "Athletics," he said, "like music, dramatics and journalism, is a student activity, available to all students according to their interests, abilities and needs. The college does not employ students, or bid for them through subsidies, to represent the college in these fields."

"Instead," he declared, "the college employs teachers and provides facilities so that students may be trained in such activities according to their interests, abilities and needs."

This policy, the college president reported, was affirmed by the executive committee in today's meeting, and expressed the unanimous judgment of the faculty as well as the preponderant opinion of a group of student leaders who have been discussing the situation for some time.

"The present trend in colleges and universities, with reference to athletics," Dr. McLain pointed out, "is toward professionalism, away from amateurism. More colleges are granting subsidies than formerly, the grants are larger than formerly, and a greater number of grants are being made. This favors commercialization of athletics, at the expense of good sport and good sportsmanship. It places a disproportionate value upon winning. College athletics is becoming more of a business and less of a sport."

Urge Ban On Cigarettes Minus Kentucky Stamp

Frankfort, Ky.—A bill to make it illegal to possess cigarettes that do not bear Kentucky tax stamps has been introduced in the Senate by Majority Leader R. P. Mahoney, Lexington.

The bill is designed to strengthen Kentucky's fight against individuals buying cigarettes without paying the State tax. Many individuals get cartons of cigarettes shipped by dealers in states which levy no tax. It's against Kentucky law to sell such cigarettes in Kentucky.

Dr. Hans Hass, Austrian scientist, will investigate unknown forms of deep sea life in the Red Sea, early this year, to evolve rational means of exploiting undersea resources.

"You can take the first syllable of Princeton's name, put it in its plural form and hesitate right there in your spelling to designate that community of about 4500 people because the royal treatment we received there made us feel like it is truly a 'town of Princes!'"

Not only was the hospitality extended to the extent of free meals, trade courtesies across the counter in business places, refreshments, entertainment and the use where needed, of additional uniforms offered by the Princeton team but some of the businessmen went so far as to offer the eastern Kentucky visiting participants the use of their cabin on nearby Kentucky Lake for a "vacation anytime" it was desired.

During the final game, the spectators enthusiastically cheered for the Prestonsburg team and, joined by some of the tourney participants, bemoaned the fact that Tommy Blackburn was omitted when the all-tourney selections were announced.

The champs complimented the high calibre of competition met in the meet. The Earlinton team lineup, they reported, featured players from the 1949 runnerup Madisonville team and some members of the Murray State College Ohio Valley Conference team of the past year.

First rounds of the tourney saw Prestonsburg overwhelm Marion while Paducah put away Fredonia in the upper bracket Friday afternoon and Hopkinsville turned back host-team Princeton, followed by Earlinton disposing of Charleston that night. Hoptown's victory over Princeton was a one-pointer, 49-48.

Earlington earned the right to challenge the champs in the final by defeating Hopkinsville in the Saturday afternoon semi-finals.

The Ramblers wish to express their thanks to the Prestonsburg businessmen and citizens whose financial aid made the trip to the state tourney possible. They are listed as Francis Stores, Fred Cottrell Co., A. W. Cox Department Store, The Leader, Gury's Department Store, W. A. Rose, Huttsin-piller Drug, Prestonsburg Lincoln-Mercury, Earl's Sports Center, Wm. A. Spradlin, Ralph Archer, Bob Hughes and Orville Cooley.

In its extremity," he continued, "the present trends lead to a travesty on education."

While Transylvania has maintained a policy of non-subsidization since the war (football was dropped completely in 1941), the school has played athletic teams of other colleges which do not adhere to that policy.

The result of this program has been, Dr. McLain said, a schedule in which the abilities of the contending teams has been so disproportionate as to cause less and less interest in the games as sport.

"Therefore," he asserted, "Transylvania College is continuing its policy, but modifying its practice, and henceforth will knowingly schedule intercollegiate athletic contests only with those teams that are not subsidized."

Art Contest Winners At David Announced

Winners in the Art contest held in the David grade school during the month of February have been announced by Mrs. Russell Harman, chairman of the committee of the David Woman's Club, sponsor of the contest.

The 236 entries were judged by Mrs. Charles Schindler, of Prestonsburg, who selected, as most outstanding, five drawings in crayon and colored pencil from the various grades.

Brenda Joyce Clay was winner in the first grade grouping, with a drawing of a rainbow and tinted sky showing vari-colored flowers in the foreground. Jimmy McKenzie won in the second and third grade group with a color sketch of vegetable children behind a fence responding to the influence of the sun. Helen Shepherd's drawing was of mountains and sky, trees and rocks and flowers, such as any of us can see from our windows, with a pool of water as a focal point.

An entry by Leon Hicks, of the sixth and seventh grade group, treated a conservative subject of house and tree with excellent technique. "The Opossum Chase" was the title of the eighth grade winning entry by Donald Ray Carver which showed a night scene with yellow moon and purple sky, with denuded trees through the branches of which can be seen an opossum hanging by its tail.

Prizes of art materials were distributed to the winners by Mrs. Harman. A representation of the drawings will be on exhibit at the David school. Much interest in the contest has been shown by teachers and pupils alike, and it is hoped by many that the art contest may become an annual project in the David grade school.

Kentuckians Have Paid Nearly $400,000 In Back Income Taxes To State

Kentuckians have paid nearly $400,000 in back state income taxes and penalties since last June, State Revenue Commissioner Clyde Reeves reported at Frankfort.

The state's program, started last year, of photographing federal income tax returns to find state tax delinquents may produce $1,000,000 more, the revenue commissioner added.

The Department of Revenue wrote to about 35,000 taxpayers filing 1949 state returns who had not filed for previous years, Reeves said. Of these, 10,000 owed back payments of $175,000 plus $220,000 in penalties.

COMMENTS

BY WOODROW ALLEN

It is a humiliating fate for an able-bodied man to become dependent on his children; and there is usually no reason for this to happen.

In those instances when parents are dependent on their children for support, the responsibility always falls when the expenses of rearing their own children are greatest—thereby making it an even greater burden.

Dad, when you think of your own future, before your earning power tapers off, you are giving your children one of the biggest breaks you can give them.

Now is the time to talk with me about Commonwealth Retirement Income Plan. May I see you soon?
