

This Town-- That World

ALL--CLAY PIPES! As of now, general committee members of the Floyd County Sesquicentennial Celebration can put it in their pipe and smoke it.

For now they have the pipes--regular honest-to-the-hills-o'-Kentucky clay pipes.

At the last meeting of the committee each member was handed a reed-stemmed baked clay pipe, the real old-fashioned kind by Jack C. York, the Sesquicentennial Celebration's public relations and press representative.

The pipes are manufactured by John F. Rist, former Kentucky business man and a relative of York's. Mr. Rist, who resides at Ironton, O., makes the pipes purely as a hobby. Since bringing the pipes to Prestonsburg, York has been swamped with gentle hints. Sorry, he says, he has no more at this time, but will try to obtain additional ones.

Of course, The Times editorial department is puffing away on clay pipes.

But the sight we want to see is a few of Mrs. Winnie F. Johns, a Sesquicentennial vice-president, and Mrs. Lucille Herndon, corresponding secretary for the celebration, sitting down for a long cool drag at their new clay pipes.

FORE ABOUT NAMES-- DARN 'EM!

Names make news, any newspaper tyro will blithely chirp. They also make for headaches.

Last week, this column had no more than completed explaining that its conductor and another Prestonsburg man had been unjustly credited through a similarity of names with an assortment of offenses committed by others than more name trouble cropped up. In the list of suits filed, there was one in which Floyd Goble sued Sally Baker, et al. The copy submitted to the linotype operator said Sally Baker, too, but he associated the first names, Floyd and Sally, together--and it came out, "Floyd Goble vs. Sally Goble." Thereafter, Floyd's wife, Sally, had numerous calls from folks wanting to know how come she and Floyd "fell out."

And so it goes. The latest is from the Pikeville Daily news from which a clipping was carefully brought me to show that Norman Allen had been thrown in the clink, up there, for child desertion.

LAYNE DENIES STILL WAS HIS

60-Gallon Outfit Found By Raiding Party; Three Beaver Cr. Men Taken

A 60-gallon moonshine still, its alleged operator and three charged with liquor possession represented the results of the week, as of Tuesday noon, in the battle on the county's illegal liquor business, officers reported.

Lawrence Layne was arrested last Thursday on Middle Creek, approximately seven miles from here by Deputy Sheriffs C. B. Meadows, Frank Crum, Frank Parsons, Jim Burchwell and Scott Compton after the officers had found the still, approximately 100 yards from the Layne home, and a sack of malt corn in a branch running through Layne's garden. The officers also found a gallon of moonshine whiskey within 40 feet of the Layne kitchen door, they said.

Layne pleaded guilty to a possession charge, for which he was fined $50 and sentenced to jail for 30 days, but he denied the still operation allegation.

At Melvin, Friday night, Deputy Sheriff Willie Johnson and Constable Johnny Caudill found 30 half-pints

DAVID MINERS IN WALKOUT

Approximately 300 Idle After 3 Men Are Laid Off, Says Co. Spokesman

Approximately 300 employees of the Princess Elkhorn Coal Company's No. 1 mine at David walked out at the end of the day shift, Wednesday, after three tippie men had been laid off work.

Today (Thursday), it was said, the C. & O. Railway Company was pulling all empties off the yard at David, indicating continued idleness for the mine. Lay-off of the three men apparently was the only reason for the walk-out, the company official said.

Union officials at David issued no statement.

"The reason for the three men being laid off," the spokesman said, "was because the No. 1 mine was not producing sufficient tonnage to warrant the continuance of all the labor which had been assigned to the tippie."

"The miners," he added, "could not have picked a more opportune time to strike, because the recent railroad strike had embargoed so much tonnage to Great Lakes ports it has been difficult to run fulltime, anyway. Besides, retailers aren't buying much coal this month, since most of the yards were filled to capacity last month."

Princess Elkhorn, he added, "could not find it 'very easy' to take care of contract customers by shipping substitute coal from its affiliated company or by purchasing coal from other producers who are not running fulltime.

CHANGE SEEN IN ANNEXATION

One Part Sought, Is Out; Higher Water, Gas Rates Asked for All Outside

Annexation of outlying territory to Prestonsburg apparently had narrowed down to two sectors this week, and the third, territory around West Prestonsburg, apparently out of the picture.

Mayor Curtis Clark said Tuesday that the upper section sought for annexation, including the territory between the upper city limits and Ball Alley, is being added without opposition. He added that there is a possibility an agreement will be reached soon which would result in annexation of the section at the northern city limits.

The compromise plan under consideration for that section would include in the city all the land lying on the west side of the highway to the Cliff bridge but ending the city limits on the east side, in the vicinity of the Jesse Lumber Company.

At the same time Mayor Clark said the City Council has recommended to the City Water & Gas Commission new and higher rates on water and gas supplied homes and business houses outside the city limits. The demand for these utilities already is straining the facilities of the city-owned gas and water system and is making necessary the laying of larger lines to these outlying consumers.

The rates proposed are a minimum of $4.50 per month for water and $3.50 for gas, with rates for quantities used in excess of the minimum commensurately higher than those charged residents of the city.

ONE KILLED, THREE HURT

In Gas Field Accidents; Tree Crushes Thornton To Death Wednesday

One man was killed this week and three others were injured, one perhaps fatally, in accidents connected directly or indirectly with the section's gas industry.

Lester Thornton, 37 years old, Prestonsburg, bulldozer operator for the Burchett Trucking Company here, was instantly killed Wednesday afternoon on the Stepp Branch of Johns Creek when his head was crushed by a fallig tree.

Grant (Chub) Horn, Hueysville, rig-builder, is in St. Mary's hospital, Lexington, in a critical condition after having been struck by a timber which dropped 80 feet from a gas rig in Pike county, Tuesday.

Burned in the explosion of a United Carbon Company meter house Tuesday, two miles north of Pikeville, were Don Bush, of Harold, and Jack Vanhoose, Pikeville. Condition of Vanhoose, the more seriously burned of the two men, was described as "satisfactory."

THURSDAY

NEWEST LAKE IN KENTUCKY NOW FORMING

Gates of Dewey Dam Are Closed, Monday; Pool Stage Sought

The flip of an electric switch by Reservoir Manager Roy Moore set into motion at 5 p.m., Monday, the mechanism which closed the 14-ton gates of the Dewey dam, a month more than five years after work on the flood control project was begun.

Only a few witnessed the beginning of the impoundment which will convert a large part of the Johns Creek valley into a lake and a mecca for sportsmen and vacationists of the area. The exact time for closing of the gates was not widely known, and heavy rains over the week-end had created doubt that impoundment actually would be begun as scheduled.

Mr. Moore, a veteran federal government employe, would not venture a guess as to how soon the reservoir will fill to conservation stage. Factors such as rainfall, seepage and evaporation will affect impoundment, favorably or unfavorably, he said. At any rate, U.S. engineers have decided, impoundment will not be so rapid that it will interfere with the work now under way to relocate pipe lines in the reservoir area.

The conservation pool will cover approximately 860 acres and extend up Johns Creek a distance of about 17 miles. At flood pool the dam would reach into Pike county, approximately 30 miles from the dam at Dewey, and would inundate 3,125 acres.

E. R. Burke, Seventh district supervisor, State Division of Game and Fish, said the Division will release, probably next week, 5,000 crappie in the impounded waters. This number of Kentucky bass was released in Johns Creek last year, and this year's allotment of game fish is expected to include both smallmouth and largemouth bass.

'Chips on the Table' Promised for Meeting Of Valley Association

"The chips will be laid on the table at this meeting," Dr. O. W. Thompson, president of the Big Sandy Valley Association, declared here this week in announcing the Association meeting to be held here Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The Pikeville leader of the canallization movement indicated the public will learn at this meeting exactly why Congress has failed to authorize the Big Sandy project while granting authorization to others of less value. The public is invited to hear the discussions.

Association officers also will be elected at the meeting.

CORBIN QUILTS CITY COUNCIL

City Votes 'White Way,' Discussion of Expense Cause of Council Rift

A rather stormy session of the City Council was punctuated Monday evening by the resignation of Carl H. Corbin, Councilman from Ward No. 1.

Mr. Corbin's resignation followed a disagreement over the town's ability to incur the extra expense of a "White Way" and was made during a talk by Councilman Wade Hall in protest of the Council's recent resolution asking that Leon Cook be retained as principal of Prestonsburg high school. Mr. Corbin said he sponsored the resolution supporting Mr. Cook because he felt his retention was for the benefit of the students who will attend the school.

Councilman Hall argued the Council should work to promote harmony between the County and City Boards of Education.

Mayor Curtis Clark said Tuesday the resignation had not been officially accepted and that he had delayed doing so, hoping that Corbin would reconsider his action.

Moles Trial in Fourth Day

DANIELS DIES OF INJURIES

Suffered in Collision Near Here Last Week; Interment at Louisa

Injuries suffered last Wednesday morning when his auto and a coal company truck collided on Abbott mountain, near here, resulted Sunday in the death of the Prestonsburg General Hospital of Flem Charles Daniels, Jr., 24 years old, Pikeville, auditor for the Coal Operators Casualty Company.

He died of a basal skull fracture sustained when the bed of the truck sheared away the top of his auto. Dr. Ralph Anglucci, Lexington brain specialist, flew here to perform a delicate operation in an effort to save Daniels' life. Daniels died without regaining consciousness.

Authorities here said there had been no complaint filed against the driver of the truck, and they indicated the crash was unavoidable as the truck skidded on slippery black-top patching of U.S. 23 while the two vehicles were passing each other on the north side of the mountain. The truck was said to have been the property of the Turner-Elkhorn Coal Company.

Mr. Daniels, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Flem Charles Daniels, Sr., had resided in Pikeville for only a few weeks prior to his injury. He was a graduate of Louisa high school where he edited the school paper and was prominent in athletics and was graduated from the University of Kentucky, last year. He was a war veteran, a member of the Freewill Baptist Church and of the O.W. Johnson American Legion Post, Louisa.

His widow, Mrs. Katherine Pauline Daniels, the parents and one sister, Miss Aileen Daniels, survive. Funeral services were conducted, Wednesday afternoon, from the Louisa Freewill Baptist Church, and burial was made in Pine Hill cemetery, Louisa.

Lions Elect Nesler President at Meet Held, Tuesday Eve

The Prestonsburg Lions Club elected D. S. Nesler its president for 1950-51 at the regular semi-monthly meeting held Tuesday evening at the Brown hotel. Mr. Nesler succeeds R. V. May. Other officers elected:

J. R. Hurt, first vice-president; Belvard Friend, second vice-president; W. R. Callihan, third vice-president; Clifford Wright, secretary; Wesley Campbell, treasurer; W. M. Cury, tail-twister; Woodrow Allen, lion tamer; Burl Spurlock and Milt Cyrus were elected directors to work with Charles Schindler and Clabe Bingham, hold-over members of the board.

OFFICIALS AID SESQUI EVENT

By Signatures on Loan; Feel Floyd Should Back Fete Which Bears Name

Certainly Floyd county should support the Sesquicentennial Celebration which bears its name, reasoned county officials Tuesday when petitioned by Franklin W. Moore, general chairman of the event, and Max Burns to aid the cause in a financial way.

But Floyd county has no funds in its treasury with which to do this, and will not have until after the Sesquicentennial opens, July 1.

So county officials took steps. They solved the problem simply by making out a note for $1,000, with each official as co-signer, borrowed that amount from a local bank and placed it to the credit of the Floyd County Sesquicentennial Committee.

Later, if Floyd county has the funds to make this contribution to the Sesquicentennial, it will pay off the note. Otherwise, each of these men stand good for their prospective part.

County Judge Henry Stumbo, County Attorney W. W. Burchett, County Clerk DuRan Moore, Tax Commissioner Clive Akers, Jaller Guy Horn, Sheriff A. B. Meade, Magistrates J. E. Harris, M. C. Wright, Ellis Martin and Edgar Howell.

Otherwise, Tuesday's meeting of the fiscal court was without event. Last Friday's meeting, however, saw the court direct County Judge Stumbo, County Attorney Burchett and Magistrate Harris to procure, by purchase or by condemnation, if necessary, rights-of-way for the Caney Creek-Stephens Branch road from the following landowners:

Albert Marshall, Henry May, Dave Hale, Robert Clegg, James Clegg, John W. Ballard, Mary, Willard, Mont, Oscar and B. H. Ousley, Polkie Prater, Steve Hamilton, Tilden and Aggie Allen, Sam, Edgar and Henry Hale and Herbert Bradley.

First Medical Meet Here Draws Group's Largest Gathering

First of the annual meetings of the Eastern Kentucky Medical Association ever to be held in Prestonsburg attracted Saturday the largest gathering of physicians and surgeons in Association history. Dr. George P. Archer, secretary-treasurer, said this week. Sixty-five medical men were present.

The meeting, held at the Brown hotel, was marked by the presentation of technical papers by Louisville and Huntington doctors and by the election of officers.

Named president to succeed Dr. John G. Archer, Prestonsburg, was Dr. Wendell Lyon, Ashland Dr. C. Wayne Franz, also of Ashland, was elected secretary-treasurer to succeed Dr. George P. Archer. The 1951 meeting of the Association will be held in Ashland.

Here for Saturday's meeting were these doctors:

Smithfield Keffer and J. W. Stovall, both of Grayson; Proctor Sparks, Ashland; John G. Archer, Prestonsburg; Ray Sanders, Dorton; Claude Allen, Martin; M. V. Wicker, Wayland; B. C. Bach and Owen Pigman, both of Whitesburg; L. H. Walman, Ashland; Carl Pigman.

Two Held Here Sunday In Montgomery Case

Two men booked at the county jail as William Wooten and Luther Hall were held Sunday for Montgomery county authorities as suspects in the serious injury of a man who was run down by a car, earlier in the day. The two were arrested at the traffic light here by state police.

Bill Stone and Bill Clark, who were fined $100 and costs each on liquor-selling charges, were released under bond after filing appeals to circuit court.

Judge Rules Ray Fraley Out; County School Board Members Are Pitted Two Against Two

Special Judge Jean L. Auxier, Pikeville, ruled here, Wednesday afternoon, that the resignation of Ray Fraley from the Floyd County Board of Education constituted abandonment of his office.

Thus was the make-up of the Board again rearranged, and this time it is left with only four members, two of whom are allied with the Administration, with the other two in open opposition.

Judge Auxier's opinion in the case is almost certain to be the subject of an Appellate Court ruling, and until this higher court decision is made the Board will remain in deadlock, with Fraley enjoined from participating as a member.

Joe Hobson, attorney for Dr. J. H. Allen and James Green, anti-Administration Board members, expressed the belief that, if the Court of Appeals affirms Judge Auxier's decision and the four remaining members cannot agree within 90 days on the fifth member, appointment will be made by the State Department of Education.

Mr. Fraley and his attorney, C. Kilmer Combs, contend that he resigned from the Board in good faith and left the Board meeting in the belief that the appointment of his

Floyd Countywide Commencement Is Planned Outdoors, Under Lights

If the rains which have plagued Eastern Kentucky this month will desist, Floyd county's 14th annual countywide graduation of high school seniors will be held under the lights of the playground here, next Wednesday evening.

This became certain Tuesday morning when Superintendent Palmer L. Hall expressed a preference for an outdoor graduation and as the City Board announced it was extending an invitation to the schools of the county to use the playground for that purpose.

All agreed the spacious playground will make it possible for all parents, relatives and friends of the county's 317 high school seniors to see them receive their diplomas in the colorful mass graduation. The outdoors also will eliminate the heat and other discomforts found in the gymnasium here which has hitherto been used, and which in the event of bad weather will of necessity be used again.

Charles Vettiner, director of recreation, Jefferson county schools, will deliver the commencement address to this, the largest graduating class in the history of Floyd county education. Other details of the program, which follow the lines of other

STATE CALLS 11 WITNESSES IN SINGLE DAY

Verdict Not Expected In Sensational Trial Before End of Week

The Commonwealth began in the Pike circuit court this week the tedious task of weaving a web of circumstantial evidence to prove that Lon S. Moles, 60, well-known Prestonsburg man, is guilty of the mystery-slaying here, on the night of last June 27, of pretty Muriel Baldridge, Prestonsburg high school girl.

On this trial, many believe, rests the possibility of a solution of the mystery. If the Commonwealth fails to prove its case, these hold, the murderer may be written off as another of the nation's unsolved crimes.

Trial of E. K. Dotson, formerly of Prestonsburg, now a resident of Ohio, who was indicted along with Moles in the slaying, will be heard at a later court term.

Hearing of evidence began, Wednesday noon. First two days of the week were consumed in the selection of a jury, with Commonwealth's Attorney J. A. Runyon of Pike county questioning the veniremen if they could inflict the death penalty on sufficient evidence of guilt. Ten men and two women were finally accepted after 103 veniremen had been examined for jury service.

The first witness, George Baldridge, father of the slain girl, was heard at 1 p.m. Wednesday. Before court adjourned that afternoon, 11 Commonwealth's witnesses had testified. End of the trial, one of the most interesting in Eastern Kentucky legal history, is not expected before Saturday.

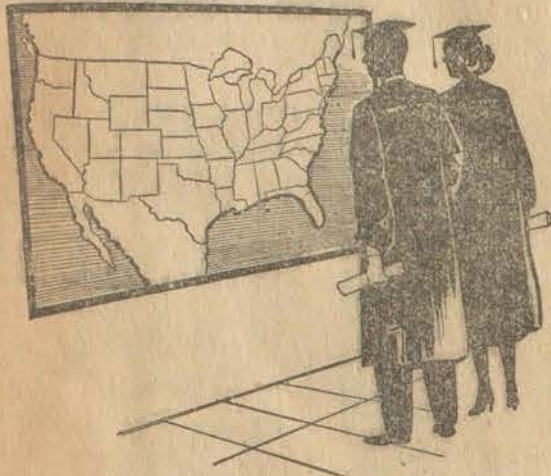

These were Wednesday's courtroom developments, as reported from

Services Held Tuesday For Beverly "Bev" Hall Who Succumbed Monday

A large crowd attended the funeral services held at 10 a.m. Tuesday at the McDowell Freewill Baptist Church for Beverly "Bev" Hall, 44, of McDowell, who died at 4 a.m. Monday in the Paintsville hospital. He was a victim of high blood pressure and a kidney ailment after becoming seriously ill about two months ago.

He was a miner employed by the Hi Hat Elkhorn Coal Company, at Hi Hat. A native of the McDowell vicinity, he was the son of Willard and Georgia Hollifield Hall, both of whom survive.

Other survivors include his widow, Nellie Newsome Hall; five sons, Hezlie, of McDowell, Oak, Howard, Sherrill and Edgel Hall, all at home; five daughters, Claudette, Madge, Martha Faye, Laura and Glenda Gay Hall, all at home; two brothers, Clyde Hall, of McDowell, and Ode Hall, of Brownsville, Jr.; six sisters, Mrs. Madge Blake, of Waynesburg, Pa., Mrs. Burnette Newsome, of McDowell, Mrs. May Hall, of Ashtabula, O., Mrs. Hazel Hall, of Greenup, and Mrs. Marie F. Newsome, of Flemingsburg, and Judy Hall, address unknown.

Burial honors were accorded by the Hi Hat local of the United Mine Workers of America. Officiating at the funeral services were the Reverends Sherman Crum, Troy Nickles and McKinley Moore. Burial in the Greenbury Hall cemetery was under direction of the Arnold & Hall Funeral Home.

Miss Kay Hopson has returned to Louisville after a brief visit here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hopson.

GAS COMPANY REORGANIZED

Change Told Here By Beecher, Conover At Dinner Meeting

A reorganization of the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company, one of the industry's leaders in this section, was announced by D. B. Beecher, Ashland, vice-president and general manager to employees at a dinner held at the Prestonsburg grade school cafeteria Friday evening.

At the same time, Mr. Beecher introduced to the approximately 100 supervisory and clerical workers A. W. Conover, the new president of Kentucky West Virginia, who added details of the reorganization move.

Mr. Beecher explained that the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company no longer is a part of the Standard Gas & Electric Company because of the recent order of the Securities Exchange Commission which required the Philadelphia company to dispose of its gas properties. Instead, he announced, Kentucky West Virginia will be a subsidiary and a part of the Equitable Gas Company system which operates in Pittsburgh and western Pennsylvania and which also includes the Pittsburgh & West Virginia Gas Company in West Virginia.

All of the common stock of Equitable was sold during the latter part of March to a group of investment companies which, in turn, have sold the stock to the public.

There are no present plans, the officials said, to make any substantial changes in operation of the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company in Eastern Kentucky.

Mr. Conover, who has figured prominently in the natural gas industry in Illinois, Oklahoma, Ohio and Virginia, was, prior to his election to his new post, president of the North Shore Gas Company, Waukegan, Ill. He is a veteran of World War I and during the recent war acted as gas consultant for the industry on the War Production Board for the mid-west.

Also present at the dinner meeting here were those executives of companies in the Equitable system:

D. P. Hartson, vice-president and general manager of the Equitable system;

D. P. Hartson, vice-president and general manager of the Equitable and Pittsburgh & West Virginia Gas Companies; H. H. Pigott, vice-president in charge of engineering, and companies; F. N. Wolf, vice-president in charge of engineering, and C. J. Mulholland, vice-president and treasurer of Kentucky West Virginia, Equitable and Pittsburgh & West Virginia Gas Companies.

Day following the dinner meeting, the official group made an inspection trip covering major portion of properties of the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company in Eastern Kentucky.

The dinner was served by the Prestonsburg Band Mothers.

Eight-Year Illness Of Cancer Is Fatal To Mrs. Johnson, 52

An eight year illness ascribed to cancer resulted Friday morning in the death at the Paintsville hospital of Mrs. Dora Ellen Johnson, 52 years old, wife of Cecil Johnson, Wayland. Native of Hindman and a daughter of the late James Nickles, Mrs. Johnson had resided at Wayland the last 30 years. She had been a member of the Freewill Baptist Church for a number of years.

Surviving are her husband, her mother, a son by a previous marriage, James Edward Huff, Wayland, two daughters, Mrs. Georgia Lee Huff, Wayland, and Mrs. Ralph Wolfe, Logan, W. Va. She also leaves three brothers and one sister, Austin and Herbert Nickle, both of Mousie, K. E. Nickles and Mrs. Della Nalle, both of Mt. Sterling.

The funeral was conducted Monday from the Martin Branch Baptist Church, the Revs. Ray Fannin and Green Boyd officiating. Burial in the Turner Campbell cemetery at Mousie was under direction of the Ryan Funeral Home.

Funeral Services Held For William F. Smith Who Died at Martin

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. Monday at the home for William Franklin Smith, 76, Martin, retired miner who died at 4 a.m. Saturday at the Martin home of his daughter, Mrs. Ballard Stephens. Death was attributed to a heart ailment.

Son of the late Sam and Ann Smith, he was a native of Johnson county and had been a member of the Church of God for the past 40 years. A miner for more than 25 years, he lived at Glo 20 years before moving to Martin about four years ago.

The deceased is survived by his widow, Suzie Davis Smith; one son, Talbert Smith, of Euleshis, Ky.; two daughters, Mrs. Maggie S. Boyd, of Manton, and Mrs. Ballard Stephens, of Martin; three brothers, Tom, of Paintsville, Jim, of Wabash, Ind., and Ike Smith, of Prestonsburg; and two sisters, Mrs. Suzie Dunnington, of Ashland, and Mrs. Rhoda Ratcliff, of Lackey.

Officiating at the services were the Revs. Henry Griffith, Doug Burkett and Green Boyd. Burial was made in the May cemetery, near Manton, with the Arnold & Hall Funeral Home directing.

brother, Fred, as his successor was valid. He returned to withdraw his resignation later, it was explained, to protect his office when the appointment of Fred Fraley was questioned and the allegation made that a quorum was not present at the meeting.

Fraley claimed he later attended the April meeting of the Board as a member. Mr. Hobson countered with the argument that he was present at the meeting but only as a bystander.

Tuesday, day before the decision was made declaring Fraley had abandoned his office, Fraley attended the meeting of the Board of Education here and took part in the proceedings as a member. Dr. Allen and Mr. Green were not present.

At this meeting the Board awarded to Akers & Akers, Banner contractors, the contract for construction of a gymnasium-auditorium at David on which the Princess Elkhorn Coal Company is giving financial assistance. Their bid, lowest of four offered, was $24,453.98.

The David structure will be of concrete blocks, 50 by 80 feet, with a 38x70-foot floor space. The contract includes heating, wiring and plumbing.

HERE'S A PREVIEW OF ATTRACTIONS PLANNED FOR SESQUICENTENNIAL

Shows and dances... contests for beauty and contests for beards... amusement rides... an historical pageant... horse and mule swappings... a huge Religious Singing Jubilee... speakers galore...
 That's but a taste and a sample of all the big times which will feature the Floyd County Sesquicentennial Celebration to be held here July 1, 2, 3, and 4. Truly, visitors to and residents of the 15 counties which make up the original Floyd County will have plenty of places to go and things to do to celebrate the 150th anniversary of the founding of this vast area.

Celebration to help finance the project. When fiscal court funds allow, the court will take over payment of the note.
 "This is the finest civic gesture made to date," declared General Chairman Moore. "The county officials who have expressed themselves as wholeheartedly behind the Sesquicentennial Celebration through this financing matter have shown themselves to be truly representative of the patriotic feeling which will make our celebration a huge success."

At a meeting held this week, presided over by Franklin Moore, general chairman of the Sesquicentennial Celebration, the committee in charge either launched plans or made definite arrangements for a great number of entertainments.

County officials are planning a general meeting of all powers—that is, of the 15 counties involved in the Original Floyd, which meeting will be held in Prestonsburg on the Celebration's opening day, July 1. It will commemorate the first meeting held by fiscal court and other county officials 150 years ago.

Those attending the committee meeting, with General Chairman Moore, were: Mayor Curtis Clark, Mrs. Winnie F. Johns, Mrs. Lucille Herndon, Miss Sara Clay Stephens, Miss Marian Salisbury, the latter two representing the Prestonsburg Junior Woman's Club; Glenn Anderson, Clifford Wright, D. S. Nesler, N. M. White, Jr., William Biggers, Clay Daniels, Rev. Hugh Smith, Bernard Capell of the Metropolitan Play and Decorating Co., and Jack C. York, the Sesquicentennial Celebration's publicity and press representative.

At that meeting will be county officials from Breathitt, Elliott, Floyd, Johnson, Knott, Lawrence, Letcher, Magoffin, Martin, Menifee, Morgan, Perry, Pike, Rowan and Wolfe counties.

Also attending was Jimmie Hetzer of the Hetzer Theatrical Booking Agency, Huntington, W. Va., with whom was discussed details of dance bands for the Coronation Ball which will be held the night of July 1, proposed free acts, shows, amusement rides, and similar matters.

Mrs. J. R. Hurt and Mrs. Betty Jean Allen were appointed to work with the committee which is handling a proposed Beard Growing Contest. Because of the widespread popularity of such a beard contest, it was decided to give women celebrants an opportunity to "get back" at whisker-growing menfolk. Mrs. Hurt and Mrs. Allen will handle details of a plan to issue special permits to women who insist upon wearing cosmetics prior to and during the celebration.

It was also decided to stage a mammoth dance on the Fourth of July. Both that affair and the Coronation Ball for the crowning of the winner of the 15-county-wide Beauty Contest, will be held at the Eagles' clubrooms, east of Prestonsburg. The Junior Woman's Club will have charge of all details, including decoration of the clubrooms and sale of tickets, the committee decided.

Later, the City Council will issue injunctions against shaving by men and the wearing of cosmetics by the ladies. Those men who shave must obtain "Shaving Permits" and those women who use powder, rouge and lipstick must exhibit "Cosmetic Permits."

Another outstanding feature definitely decided upon at the meeting will be a huge horse swapping, mules included, naturally, to be held throughout the four-day celebration. Judge Edward P. Hill, Jr., was appointed chairman of the committee handling this, assisted by Henry P. Scalf and Clay Daniels.

William Biggers was placed in sole charge by the committee of staging a huge merchants and wholesale exhibit, to be staged inside an enormous tent to be placed on the Prestonsburg high school campus.

The committee unanimously agreed upon a standing vote of thanks to Floyd county officials who personally signed a note for $1,000, which sum was donated to the Sesquicentennial

The committee heard and accepted a report made by their publicity and press representative, Jack C. York, who pointed out that numerous stories have appeared in newspapers in and surrounding the original Floyd county area, and that some news has been broadcast via the trunk wires of various news wire services.

The press department has several thousands of blotters, appropriately advertising the Floyd County Sesquicentennial Celebration, suitable for inclusion in business or personal mail. These are available at Sesquicentennial Celebration headquarters on Court street.

Next regular meeting of the committee will be Tuesday, May 23, at a place to be announced later.

Misses Geraldine and Corinne Allen and Mrs. Joyce Allen entertained to dinner their parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Allen and several of their friends, on Mother's Day at their home. Their sister, Mrs. Leo Carter, was unable to join the family group due to the illness of her daughter, Barbara Ann, who was a patient at the Prestonsburg General hospital. Those enjoying their hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Webb, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tingle and Sandra, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Webb, Jr., Linda and Tommy, Misses Sue and Ann Preston, Mr. Octavia Combs, Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. Combs and children, Volney Allen and Brent.

Full use of the reservoir for flood control, recreation and conservation purposes may not be realized, it was said by the engineers recently, until an additional appropriation of $600,000 is made by Congress. This leaves operation of the reservoir, as presently planned, on a limited scale. The House last week failed to include the appropriation in the omnibus rivers and harbors bill, but it stands a good chance in the Senate, it was said this week.

Originally planned as a $4,000,000 project, the reservoir has cost, to date, $6,246,800, with some of the lands which would be inundated by the flood stage yet to be acquired.

The number of milk cows in Israel is rapidly growing, 3,900 head having recently arrived from the United States, and 2,000 are expected from Latin America.

The dam, begun in April, 1945, was completed by the Ryan Construction Company last July. But impoundment was delayed by relocation of roads and graves. For construction of the 120-foot-high barrier across the Johns Creek valley, 700,000 cubic yards of earth were moved. The dam is 900 feet long and 700 feet thick at its base.

BARRED
 Kenya has barred the use of helicopters for photographing wild game.

Recreation facilities, including bathing areas, boat docks, Dewey Park, an area near the dam itself which will be devoted to recreation, remain to be installed.

Moving stairways, automatically-controlled "indoor climate," and built-in color television all are in prospect for the home of the future, according to Westinghouse engineering executives.

Just Imagine It's Yours!

You say you have never driven a Cadillac?

Well, it's a lovely day—and there are beautiful roads to travel down and interesting places to visit—and a little dreaming never hurt a soul... so just slide over behind the wheel. It's yours!

First, you'll just want to sit for awhile, with your hand on the slender, obedient wheel—and get a close-up view of the ingrained goodness that makes this car so unmistakably... the Standard of the World.

And then you turn the key, touch the soft-throated engine into action—and you're away.

The steering wheel all but reads your mind! The brakes are as soft as velvet, and immediate in their response! The road has become a boulevard—and the turns and lights seem so very close together!

And the soft, easy quietness of it all! You just sit and relax—in complete contentment—and the miles go by—and the miles go by... "Oh, how I wish this car were mine!"

Well, it's time, we think, to stop dreaming—and lend an ear to this: the lowest-priced Cadillac costs less to buy than certain models of numerous other makes of cars; it is so enduring that it will give a lifetime of service; and it is so economical that it actually approaches the low-priced popular cars in gasoline mileage.

Yes, it's time to go into action—and to make this car your own!

Hospital Project Executive Due To Occupy Pulpit Here, Sunday

O. W. Yates, executive secretary of the $3,000,000 hospital under construction in Lexington to serve Central and Eastern Kentucky, will occupy the pulpit of Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church here, Sunday, May 21, it was announced this week by the pastor, the Rev. L. W. Benedict.

While the hospital (shown above) will be owned and operated by the Missionary Baptist Church, it will be open to all patients without regard to religious belief. It will be operated on a non-profit basis.

The Reverend Benedict said Baptists in and around Lexington are trying to raise $12 per member this year toward the cost of construction of the hospital but that churches farther away have set a goal of only $1 per member. The drive for funds is being intensified this month.

Mr. Yates will occupy the pulpit at both services, May 21, in the absence of the pastor.

TOWN-WORLD is a column without ambitions. It has never attempted to shoulder the cares of the world or to solve any of the problems which have annoyed the old sphere. It hasn't even had a fling at those esoteric matters which, perplexing riggerunners, clothoppers and their like, find their way into Allen Trout's column.

Now comes, however, a contribution which belongs to one category or another, and so this column deviates from the even tenor of its way to give one man's views on why dogs walk straight but run with their hind legs slewed slantwise. Remarkable that this is a natural phenomenon which has baffled many great thinkers, our contributor dopes it out this way:

"A dog's hind legs are longer and faster than the front legs. When a dog starts chasing a rabbit the hind legs get impatient with the legs up front and try to cut wide around them to get to the rabbit first. An old hound was mighty nigh ruined when he took out after a rabbit one afternoon. The first thing you knew, there his hind legs were out in front and he was almost breaking his neck looking over his shoulder to see where he was going. His hind legs caught up with the rabbit first and there was nothing he could do but grab it with his tail and choke it to death."

THIS IS A SERIOUS MATTER

Once upon a time, when I was at the most impressionable age, I was served restaurant-made cornbread which had sugar in it, and to this day I eschew cawnpone at public eating places. It just goes to show what you can do to a young fellow by making a terrible mistake like that. I have always maintained that corn-meal wasn't intended to be used for cake-mix and that anybody who'd adulterate it with sugar might be all right as a concrete-mixer, or might get by temporarily as a moon-shiner, but certainly is not qualified to prepare food for human consumption.

For a more serious discussion of this grave offense, I refer you to the burning indignance of Henry Watterson, famous editor of The Courier-Journal. Wrote Marse Henry, in part:

"Cornbread with sugar was an idea born of the devil, planted in New England and sent South by our enemies. It is threatening the life of real cornbread right in the land of its birth. It makes men trifling and women frivolous. It is impossible for most of the murders, suicides and divorces. It is the mother of Bolshevism and the daddy of anarchy. It weakens the brains, infuriates the liver and makes people pot-bellied. It makes the nose shiny and the skin purple.

"It drives husbands down town of nights. It creates an appetite for moonshine.

"It emboldens man to refuse his wife's request for money. But for sugar in cornbread there would be no war, no flies or mosquitoes, no ants or roaches, no I.W.W., no Republican party. . ."

Sometimes glue can be removed by soaking the stain in warm water. White vinegar also may be used.

of the bulldozer but the 18-inch trunk smashed onto him, pinning his head against the track of the machine. Three miles from other company employes, Strickland alone extricated the body from beneath the tree, then notified other workmen. The tragedy occurred at 5:30 p.m., but the body was not brought to the Arnold Funeral home until around 9 o'clock Wednesday night. Scene of Thornton's death is approximately 10 miles from Prestonsburg, and could not be reached by ambulance.

It was said here that Horn was injured when a fellow-worker, atop a drilling rig, dropped a 2x4 timber which struck the Hueysville man on his head. He was taken to the Methodist hospital, Pikeville, with the timber still in his head and was taken to Lexington without an operation or an effort to remove the timber, it was reported here.

Horn's recovery is extremely doubtful, a relative here said he had been told.

Victim of the Johns Creek accident was a native of Hazelhurst, Ga., and he had resided here since working in the Johns Creek reservoir area with the Wyoming Valley Nursery Company in clearing work. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Tina Stoulet, his mother, Mrs. E. H. Thornton, and three children by a previous marriage.

The funeral arrangements are incomplete, it was said by the Arnold Funeral Home this morning.

FORD F-5

outsells every other truck in the 1 1/2 ton field!

The first choice of smart truckers who use 1 1/2 ton trucks is the Ford F-5. National registration figures prove this heavy duty truck has outsold every other make in its class — but none — in the postwar period. Since the war it has outsold the next leading make by a ratio of 5 to 3. Cash in on the experience of men who know trucks. Switch to Ford and feel the difference — in your pocketbook.

FOR EVEN BIGGER LOADS, GREATER POWER — THE FORD F-6

Choose Ford F-6, rated up to 16,000 lbs. G.V.W., on 8.25-20 duals. You get a choice of V-8 or Six in three great engines, including the new 110-h.p. Six.

FIRST IN VALUE!

TEN WAYS BETTER than the 4 other leading makes in the 1 1/2 ton field!

Ford is first in sales because it is first in value. The F-5 offers these 10 advantages over the next four leading makes. (1) Up to 1,720 lbs. more payload capacity. (2) Up to 1,500 lbs. higher G.V.W. (3) Up to 310 lbs. less chassis dead weight. (4) Widest (3 1/2-inch) rear brake shoe lining. (5) Highest compression ratio. (6) Only choice of V-8 or Six engines. (7) Oil Filter at no extra cost. (8) One quart oil bath air cleaner at no extra cost. (9) Biggest clutch lining area. (10) Only Ford has worm and dual row needle bearing roller steering.

In the 1 1/2 ton field and in over 175 other models, Ford is America's No. 1 Truck Value. See your Ford Dealer today.

JOHN GRAHAM CHAPTER ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

Mrs. Homer Salisbury and Mrs. David Herndon were co-hostesses on Sunday evening to the members of John Graham Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, at the home of Mrs. Salisbury on Second street. The vice-regent, Mrs. M. J. Lee, presided. Following the ritualistic service conducted by the chaplain, Mrs. Herbert Salisbury, a business session was conducted. Contributions were made to D.A.R. approved schools, Hindman Settlement School and Carr Creek School, also to the cancer drive. Mrs. Everett H. Sowards gave a report on the silver tea given by the Pikeville Chapter, D.A.R., in February and the state conference at Louisville in March. Miss Maureen Mayo, who was a delegate from the chapter to the 59th Continental Congress, sent her report with clippings of the national meeting to be put in the scrap book. She reported in detail the furnishings of the "Kentucky Room" in Constitution Hall. Mrs. Claude P. Stephens reported that a collection of dolls of Miss Mary Stone, deceased, and a family chart of Miss Stone were among the treasures of Duncan Tavern at Paris, Ky. The "Flag Day" picnic was postponed until September due to Sesquicentennial plans. The chapter will have a page in the Sesquicentennial history book honoring John Graham for whom the chapter is named. John Graham was the county's first judge and surveyor and gave the courthouse site on First avenue where a marker was erected to his memory by the chapter many years ago.

The following officers for the next two years were elected:
 Regent, Mrs. M. J. Lee; first vice-regent, Mrs. Gwynn Ford; second vice-regent, Miss Minerva Friend; recording secretary, Mrs. Lon S. Moles; corresponding secretary, Mrs. C. P. Stephens; treasurer, Miss Alice Harris; historian, Mrs. Edward L. Allen; chaplain, Miss Frances Jones; registrar, Mrs. G. R. Francis; assistant registrar, Mrs. Earl A. Stumbo; librarian, Mrs. John W. Hensley. These officers will be installed at a call meeting in June. The hostesses served a salad course to Mesdames M. J. Lee, Joe Hobson, Claude P. Stephens, Everett H. Sowards, Herbert Salisbury, A. C. Harlowe, Jo M. Davidson, Edward L. Allen, Gwynn Ford, Grace D. Ford, O. T. Stephens, Osa F. Ligon, Lida D. Spradlin, Winnie F. Johns, Henry D. Fitzpatrick, E. R. Burke, David Herndon, Homer Salisbury and Misses Marian Mayo Salisbury and Charlotte Salisbury.

Rites for Mrs. Hager, Victim at Age of 83, Conducted Saturday

Funeral rites for Mrs. Josephine A. Hager, 83 years old, who died last Thursday morning at her home on Little Paint Creek, near East Point, were conducted Saturday afternoon from the residence. Mrs. Hager succumbed to an illness of several months.

A daughter of Charles and Lora Stratton Ekins, she was a native of the community in which she died and where she spent her entire life. She was the widow of Calvin Hager, who died 18 years ago.

Mrs. Hager had been a member of the Methodist Church for many years, and was one of the most deeply revered women in her community. She is survived by five sons, Malcolm, Chauncey, Harry and Charles Hager, all of East Point, and John Hager, of Prestonsburg, one daughter, Mrs. Oma E. Badgett, Rush, Ky., and one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Greer, of East Point.

Officiating at the funeral was the Rev. Moses Kitchen. Burial in the family cemetery was directed by the Jones Funeral Home.

Mrs. Mary Conn, 68, Dies Tuesday at Home; Services Are Held Today

Mrs. Mary Conn, 68, of Arkansas Creek, near Martin, died at 6 p.m., Tuesday, a victim of heart dropsy after an illness of some time. She was the widow of Levie Conn.

A daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Tom Robinson, she was a native of the section in which she lived and was a member of the Church of Christ for 35 years.

She is survived by two sons, Isiah Conn, Monroe Conn, both of Martin; three daughters, Mrs. Ollie Robinson, Mrs. Alonzo Crum and Myra Conn, all of Martin; four sisters, Mrs. Gladys Davidson, of Virginia, Mrs. Sue Fleming, Mrs. Rhoda Crisp, both of Martin, and Mrs. Nannie Boyd, of Harold; and three brothers, Sol Robinson, of McDowell, Carl Robinson, of Banner, and Talmadge Robinson, of Printer.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. today (Thursday) at the home with Rev. Roy Hall officiating. Burial, under the direction of the Arnold and Hall Funeral Home, was made in the Crum cemetery on Arkansas Creek.

Pikeville by Gerald Griffin, of the Courier-Journal:

The girl's father said she had left home the night of June 27 with some other girls to attend a ball game. There also was a carnival in town that night and she told him she might go there after the game.

He was just sitting down to breakfast about 6:30 the next morning, he said, when some girls came up on the porch and told him there was a dead girl nearby on the bank of Middle Creek and they believed it was Muriel. It was.

Wearing a blue sun suit, the girl had received fatal wounds about the head. There was blood throughout her blond hair, the father said. The body apparently had been dragged some 75 feet from the direction of the bridge, he added.

He said his home is only about 100 feet from the railroad station where Moles, freight agent and School Board member, has his office. Muriel frequently went to the station to use the telephone.

Another witness, Green Haywood, Prestonsburg, told of accompanying Moles and E. K. Dotson to the home of a bootlegger the day after the murder to find out who sold a certain brand of whisky. He said Moles wanted that information because a bottle bearing that brand had been found near the bridge.

They got some whisky there, he testified, and Moles said, "I'm going to get drunk. This thing is killing me. This poor little girl never will sit on my desk and joke and laugh with me any more."

The admitted bootlegger, Clyde M. Godsey, testified late Wednesday, that Moles came to his place at 4 a.m. on the day following the murder, bought a pint of whisky, and asked him if anyone else had bought a certain brand besides himself. Informed that no one else had, he said, "Remember, I wasn't here last night," Godsey declared.

One of the girls with Muriel the night she was killed, Mrs. Sybil McKenzie Moore, was the day's final witness. She told of going to the Baldrige home where she met Muriel. They then went to the ball game and carnival.

As they walked home, she said, a car pulled up almost to a stop and someone in the car asked the girls if they wanted a ride. When they declined, the car drove on. She and another girl with them left Muriel near a garage about a block from the bridge, she said, and that was the last time she saw the cheerleader alive.

The Commonwealth apparently will rely on circumstantial evidence backed by the testimony of the bootlegger in its efforts to get a death sentence for Moles. And the defense has indicated it will attempt to prove that Ep Lafferty, Prestonsburg police chief, attempted to influence a witness, offering him $1,000 and a house for evidence enough to convict Moles.

This was brought out Tuesday morning in the opening statements by Commonwealth's Attorney J. A. Runyon, and the chief defense counsel, W. A. Daugherty, Pikeville.

Moles' lawyers will attempt to prove that he was at home in bed asleep at the time the girl was killed.

In his opening address, Daugherty referred to the $1,700 reward offered for the capture of Muriel's slayer as a "slush fund." He called it a "very dangerous thing that may cause somebody to come here and swear something that is not the truth."

The prosecution is banking heavily on an empty whisky bottle, a bloodstained shirt, shoe prints near the scene of the crime, and scratches on Moles' arms. The shirt is one Moles is said to have had on at midnight, perhaps a couple of hours after the murder. And the prosecution contends the prints fit Moles' shoes.

The Commonwealth also will attempt to prove that a man answering Moles' description got out of a car, similar to his, near the bridge a short time before Muriel's death screams were heard.

Evidence will be introduced, Runyon said, to show that Moles went to the ball game on the night of the murder and that he was drinking. When he returned to the bootlegger's at midnight, according to the prosecutor, he paid for his whisky with a $20 bill but said, "Don't turn the light on."

However the bootlegger's wife did turn on the light to see how to make change and saw the bloodstains on the front of Moles' shirt, Runyon declared.

Commencement Week Card Here Announced

SCHOOL NEWS

A school evaluation committee paid a recent visit to our school. It was composed of Boone Hall, county school supervisor; Russell Harman, representing the parents of the David school district; Herbert Prater and Paris Conley, county attendance officers; Montaine Clark, of the county health department, and Otis Spurlock, principal of the Allen consolidated school.

Class night exercises for the eighth grade graduates will be held Friday evening, May 19, in the Community Church here. The eighth grade class will be in charge of the program. Music will be furnished by the sixth and seventh grades, directed by Mrs. Hartley and Mrs. Hager. Graduation exercises will be on Monday evening, May 22, with G. J. Stalling and David L. Francis as speakers.

The school recently received 40 new books for the school library. Mrs. Leona Hager, sixth and seventh grade teacher, spent the week-end with her parents at Cliff.

The P-T.A. will present 40 silver dollars to the 40 boys and girls who have not been absent from school this school year. These will be presented Monday, May 22.

The school is very busy with final examinations, checking books, etc.

Mrs. Viola May, fourth and fifth grade teacher, was absent from school Monday due to an abscessed tooth.

Plane, En Route Here, Crashes, Burns in Ohio; Pilot and Hodges Hurt

Two of four men were injured in the crash of a light plane which attempted a forced landing and burned near Alliance, O., Saturday, while en route from Lancaster, O., to Prestonsburg.

One of the injured was George Hodges, Philadelphia, Pa., of the Metropolitan Flag & Decorating Company, which has the contract for decorations and floats for the Floyd County Sesquicentennial celebration here, July 1-4. Abraham I. Greenspon, president of the company, escaped injury.

The plane, a four-place Sinton "station wagon," was a total loss and in the blaze which destroyed it were advertising materials Greenspon and Hodges were bringing here for Sesquicentennial use.

The other injured man was Carl Kaufman, pilot. He suffered back injuries. Hodges' injuries consisted of cuts and bruises.

Sturgill Named President Of Intermediate Lawyers At Washington and Lee

Climaxing a warm campus election which drew top student interest at Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va., Barkley Sturgill, son of Ex-Sheriff and Mrs. Troy B. Sturgill, Prestonsburg, was recently named president of the Intermediate Lawyers.

According to the school paper, young Sturgill, who is a law student and a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity, and his fellow independent candidates almost made a clean sweep of the elections.

"1950 EDITION OF WILDCATS IS QUESTION," BRYANT SAYS

PROMISES ANSWER BY MIDDLE OF NOVEMBER

Lexington, Ky., May 9—(Spl.)—The 1950 edition of the Kentucky Wildcats is a big question, and the answer will not be known before the middle of November. Coach Paul Bryant stated in a message to the football fans released concurrently with the University Athletic Association ticket sale announcement currently being sent to nearly 30,000 former season ticket holders and alumni.

"As usual, we have the maximum number of problems, the most important of which is how to replace the 16 lettermen lost from last year's Orange Bowl team. We can't help remembering that those men contributed greatly to winning 29 games over a four-year span," he said.

"As I see it," he continued, "Our only possibility to enjoy a good season in the face of the tough eleven-game schedule, is an increased determination on the part of all of us to do whatever is necessary to field a winning combination."

He closed by saying that he felt optimistic in the knowledge of the enthusiastic support of the fans.

Ticket Sale Begun

Season tickets for the seven-game portion of the UK 1950 football schedule went on sale Monday, May 1, to priority groups and the general public may be able to obtain the books beginning July 15, the announcement stated.

Home games find the Wildcats facing North Texas State, Sept. 16 (Opening game); Louisiana State University, Sept. 23; Univ. of

PRESTONSBURG WINS TWO-MAN SHOOT TITLE

Hazard Wins In 2 Events; 10-County District Rifle Matches Held Saturday

High school riflemen of the 10-county Seventh Conservation District held their annual shooting eliminations Saturday, May 6, at Sugar Loaf, six miles south of Prestonsburg, and declared winners in the classifications of one-man, two-men and four-men teams, announced Bernard Baldrige, Floyd county conservation officer, who conducted the shoot.

The Prestonsburg two-men team, Bill and Darvin Scutehfield, won the championship by shooting a combined 247 and beat the Hazard team, Dana Combs and Fullen Campbell, who shot a target total of 228.

The Hazard four-man team of Dana Snyder, Bob Larkey, Wally McDaniel and Dwight Gross shot a combined 392 to beat the Prestonsburg team of John Gordon Goble, John Keenor, Kenneth Wright and Donald Workman who tallied a 381 total.

Closest competition seen was in the one-man classification. Roger Johnson, Hazard, won first place honors with a 107 and nosed out Wendell Ensminger, Prestonsburg, who shot a 106.

Counties represented by their champion high school marksmen were Floyd, Perry, Knott, Pike and Magoffin. Letcher, Leslie, Breathitt, Martin and Johnson counties, although county matches were held in each to determine a representative title holder to enter the district meet, were not represented.

The district champions, in addition to the honors won, also earned the right to advance to the state rifle matches.

SPORTS AFIELD

By TED KESTING

Just what does a trout see? The easiest way to explain that is by comparing his eye with a man's.

The human eye has sensitive elements of two kinds: rods and cones. The cones seem chiefly concerned with seeing an object clearly in good light. The rods, most abundant at the sides, give only a vague image but they are very sensitive to movement and light. You may know the trick of looking in a very dim light far to one side of an object; this throws its image on the rods which see it well enough for identification, when direct vision (with cones) would not see it at all.

The retina of a fish's eye consists almost entirely of rods; also, there is behind it a reflecting membrane that helps it see still better in a dim light. Since he has mainly rod vision he can see something almost at right angles to his pupil about as well as if it were directly in front. He is very sensitive to movement in a wide range; and he can see in dim light.

Too, because of the laws of refraction, the more overhead a man is the more he and his movements are magnified; the closer he is to the surface the less a trout can see him and the smaller he appears.

So Jason Lucas, our favorite angling authority, says all this means that in stalking a trout in the open you should crouch as low as possible, sometimes to the extent of crawling up and casting while lying on your side.

Where creeping up is impractical try proceeding very slowly directly toward the trout, avoiding side movements when possible. Then the vague image that he sees is getting larger so gradually that he may not notice it. When you are close, a long frozen pause may lull any suspicions that you're not a bush moving slightly in the wind.

It is best to cast with wrist movement only, the hands directly between you and the fish, so as not to show arm movement against the sky. A cagey trout might overlook the slender moving rod.

Eight Floyd, Johnson Teams Scheduled for First Rounds Yesterday; Martin Favored

Eight Eastern Kentucky high school teams from Floyd and Johnson counties were slated to get the KHSSA district baseball tournament under way here at 9 a.m. yesterday (Wednesday) with a game between Inez and Betsy Layne, it became known after a second drawing for positions and opponents was held here last week.

The second drawing became necessary, school officials said, after Wheelwright, which had been certified to play here, notified tourney manager Leon Cook that it would participate in the Letcher district meet at Jenkins. This notification was not made until after the first drawing was held here on the previous Saturday.

All games will be of the KHSSA regulation length of seven innings. A ruling, used in the regional at Grayson last year, which calls for a game to be automatically terminated at the end of the fifth inning if a team is behind 10 runs, was adopted for the meet here. Milt Cyrus and Tommy Blackburn were named of-ficial umpires.

Opening Rounds Set

Opening rounds for the eight teams will see four games on Wednesday. Following the Inez-Betsy Layne tilt, Martin and McDowell take to the diamond at 11 a.m. Wayland and Meade Memorial clash at 1 p.m. and Paintsville and Prestonsburg test the timber swinging efforts of each other at 3 p.m.

Wednesday morning's upper bracket winners are scheduled to meet in their semi-final try at 1 p.m. Thursday. The lower bracket winners from Wednesday afternoon will take the field at 3 p.m. Thursday. The finals, for the district championship and the right to enter the regional at Grayson, will take place at 3 p.m. Friday.

Martin Favored

Although little is known of some of the teams entered and most of the schoolboy nines provide a big question mark as to the probable outcome of the meet, a number of observers pick Martin as a pre-tourney favorite.

Quite a bit of this opinion is based on the showing this year, thus far, of the Purple Flash in the face of the team's two losses. The Flash has defeated Wayland, 13-1; McDowell, 14-1 and 6-1; and Prestonsburg, 13-1. The Martin losses were to Wayland with a 7 to 5 win and Belfry with a 6 to 3 triumph.

Martin is the defending 1949 champ.

MASTER COMMISSIONER'S SALE

FLOYD CIRCUIT COURT The Bank Josephine, Plaintiff vs: NOTICE OF SALE Fred Bingham and Hazel Bingham, Defendants

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court rendered and entered at the January term, 1949, in the above styled cause I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on the 22nd day of May, 1950, at 1 o'clock, p.m., same being the first day of the regular term of the Floyd County Court, upon a credit of six months, the following described property, to-wit:

Cretnan real estate situated in Prestonsburg, Floyd county, Kentucky, on the waters of Big Sandy River and being the same land conveyed to Fred Bingham and Hazel Bingham by Lida Cotrell (widow), Mary M. Webb and J. O. Webb, her husband, Inez R. Hereford and Thomas Hereford, her husband and Joe Hobson, Attorney-in-fact, by deed bearing date September 15, 1945, which is duly recorded in Deed Book 128, page 48, Floyd County Court Clerk's Office, Kentucky, containing lots 53, 54, 55, 56 and 57 in Block No. 9, as shown on map of Richmond Sub-Division No. 2 to the City of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, now on file in the office of the Clerk of Floyd County Court, to which map reference is made for a more particular description of said lots, and said deed is hereby referred to and made a part hereof for more details concerning the transfer.

Said property will be sold to satisfy a mortgage debt for the sum of $700.00 with interest thereon from the 23rd day of September, 1949, and the cost of this action. For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or sureties, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

Given under my hand, this 1 day of April, 1950. J. B. CLARKE, Master Commissioner, Floyd Circuit Court. Cost of advertising $14.25

BETSY LAYNE

Misses Bobbie Jean and Loucetta Blanton were Thursday visitors at Drift where they saw many of their friends and relatives. They also visited the school which Bobby Jean formerly attended.

Bud Blanton and son, Billie, of Betsy Layne, Bill Hunt, of Hi Hat, and Oscar Robinson, of Allen, were fishing in Tennessee over the weekend.

Bill Hunt visited his sister, Mrs. Bud Blanton, and Mr. Blanton at Betsy Layne this week.

Mrs. Bud Blanton and Mrs. J. W. Johnson and many other mothers attended a Mother's Day program given by Mrs. Ruby Martin and the sixth grade room. Refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Layne entertained visitors from Indiana last week-end.

The senior boys of Betsy Layne high school went to Price, Saturday, to tour through the mines. Every one of them wants a job after school is out.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Hunt, of Drift, called on his sister at Betsy Layne Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Blanton and Mrs. Josie Blanton attended church services Sunday at Bartell, Ky.

KENTUCKY ON THE MARCH

BY EWING GALLOWAY

If stories of community projects as good as the achievement of Mt. Sterling come along every now and then, I'll keep on running this column until the undertaker calls.

This is the third installment of a letter written on request by James S. Gatewood, chairman of the Montgomery Recreational Association. If you were unfortunate enough to miss the first two parts of the Mt. Sterling copy, go to the office of this newspaper and get them.

I doubt if civic leaders in any conservative old town ever did a better all-round job than the small group headed by Mr. Gatewood. The costliest item in the seven-acre self-sustaining park is a swimming pool.

"Oh, yes," says Mr. Gatewood, "we are going to have a beautiful wading pool, too. A local contractor is going to build that at cost and wait for his money besides. We have a five-man board who serve without pay and no member of our families can work at the park. All employees will be paid, no volunteer services at the park—too undependable. We keep all concessions too. Free access to the pool will be provided at regular intervals for under-privileged children, but in the main we must charge admission to defray operating costs and plan for expansion.

"Eventually the committee hopes to erect a community center building on our park and provide year-around recreation, but for the present we will have to settle for such activities as horseshoe pitching, swings, slides, badminton, tennis, croquet, basketball, outdoor ovens, games, wading and swimming. The garden club is going to landscape our grounds and plant it full of flowers.

"We are simply investing in the future of our children and are confident that it will pay dividends in less juvenile delinquency and finer citizens."

The Mt. Sterling achievement is abundant proof that it is better to tackle one civic job at a time.

I like to quote a line from a letter Robert Moses, New York's park commissioner, wrote in answer to an invitation to address a big meeting of the Committee for Kentucky three years ago. Because Moses had established more recreation facilities than any other civic leader in the last half century we wanted him to tell his story to Kentuckians. He could not accept, but he relayed to committee leaders a fine bit of advice. He said:

"Pick out one or two realizable objectives and keep hammering away until you get them."

Mt. Sterling did just that.

KENTUCKY'S
Flying CLASSROOM
 by George Yates

Lucerne, Switzerland — For our party to come directly from the Communist hotbed of Milan, Italy into democratic and tolerant Switzerland gave us a clear picture of the operation of the two ideologies.

At Milan the "iron curtain" was lowered and we were denied entry to a plant which our party was scheduled to visit. This denial was made in the face of a threat from Communist workers at the plant that they would strike if any of our party entered the grounds.

Finally, a group of business men did participate in a conference with some of us, but the meeting was closely guarded by police and the business men were careful to avoid discussion of either economic or social conditions. In fact, none of the group was permitted to know the name of the plant to which we were denied admission.

Earlier, we visited the International Trades and Industrial Fair at Milan where manufacturers from all over Europe and the world display their products. From the quality and type of products one would not think a world war was just fought in which all industry in the warring nations was devoted to war materials.

The political turmoil, domestic unrest and general inefficiency of the Italians in what I would call at least a quasi-police state was pointed up by our observations in Switzerland.

As opposed to the apparent Italian resentment to our presence, the Swiss staged a wonderful reception for our Flying Classroom and had the American flag flying and a band played our national anthem. I don't believe any nation could improve on the Swiss hospitality.

The Swiss are prosperous, and although they play a game of armed neutrality they want us to understand that they are keenly interested in the problems and troubles of their European neighbors. They do not participate in the Marshall Plan, but Swiss spokesmen cite that while the ECA costs the American taxpayer about $37 per person they made a voluntary contribution of $60 a person to assist. In a conference with Senator Sitwell, an important figure in Switzerland, we were told the Swiss feel America is producing too much and we are getting rid of our surpluses in Europe, but he added that it is a blessing for Europe.

The Swiss labor unions are very peaceful—few strikes and practically no communists. The Swiss do not believe very much in nationalization of industries, having nationalized only the railroads, postal service and some electrical services.

The importance of local village and canton, or state, is of great significance. In the canton rests the sovereign power. The national government is not nearly so centralized or powerful as in our own country and most other nations.

The Swiss impress me as a very tolerant nation. For example, they are about 58 per cent Protestant and 42 per cent Catholic, and it is quite common for both Protestants and Catholics to hold services in the same church. The fact that they also speak four languages causes no difficulty whatever which is indicative of their respect and tolerance for one another.

If all the nations of Europe could adopt the Swiss attitude of tolerance and respect for the individual all of their troubles would be over.

THE RAINS CAME, AND AS A WELCOME RELIEF TO HARASSED FIGHTERS OF FOREST FIRES

To none in this section have recent rains brought deeper sighs of relief than to the Division of Forestry's firefighters, Palmer Crum, Floyd Unit ranger, said last week.

Till the rains came, the forest firefighters were having their toughest season since the county began its participation in the state's forest conservation program. From Jan. 1 till May 1, 62 forest fires had been reported to Crum, as compared with 66 for all last year. Crum estimated that 1,200 acres of woodland had been burned this year. "There probably was more, for we had so many fires we couldn't get men on them all," he added.

Three-fourths of the fires, he said, were caused by persons burning off pasture fields and newly cleared hill

WE CONGRATULATE

Our congratulations to the more than 300 youngsters who have stuck to the job until now they have finished high school and are ready for the bigger job ahead. And may we add a congratulatory word to the parents of these boys and girls, without whose encouragement and assistance their fine achievement might never have been realized. Theirs has been no small task, and they have met the challenge splendidly.

Our graduates . . . stepping forth, joyously, with outspread, eager arms into the stream of life. Our beloved, young graduates with your illusions untarnished, your hopes unshattered, your dreams unbroken. America welcomes you into experience, young men and young women! You can uphold our cherished traditions . . . you can mold our greater future! Come into our stores, our factories, our professions . . . into the vast, teeming, working world of this nation. Come . . . share with us your courage and faith in the goodness and greatness of life. You are YOUTH, unafraid. Yours can be the broader vision . . . the higher inspiration. All America offers you the warm handclasp of welcome and congratulation!

Congratulations and Best Wishes for the Future---
We'll Be Glad To Help You in the Future!

WE ARE PROUD

We join all Floyd county in expressing justifiable pride in such boys and girls as those whose names appear on this page. With their parents, relatives and friends we shall watch their progress in the years ahead. When we "point with pride" to our industries, our natural resources and material blessings, let us not forget the finer things represented by such as these.

Jest Among Us

Almost any Kentucky boy or girl with a reasonable amount of gumption and ability can work his or her way through college.

Students attending the University of Kentucky work at everything from playing phonograph records for the blind to playing Santa Claus for department stores. Hundreds of them work on and off campus, earning part or all of their expenses. Last year the employment bureau of the campus YMCA got part-time and odd jobs for 748 men students, and the Dean of Womens office placed many girls in part-time jobs.

What kind of work do U.K. students do? Well, the boys work as store clerks, service station attendants, linoleum layers, farm helpers, icemen, and many other things. The girls mostly do office work, though some serve as baby sitters or as "mothers' helpers," the latter for their room and board. An art student paints family crests and coats-of-arms which she sells.

Pay ranges from 50 cents an hour for baby sitters to as high as $1.94 an hour for a plumber's assistant with some experience. Several boys tend furnace for their room. Over a thousand different odd jobs were provided by the YMCA office last year, including window washing, wallpaper cleaning, and the like.

For 21 years Miss Martha Huber of the YMCA has helped get jobs for men students enrolled in the University, and she is mighty proud of her "boys." A good many of them turned out pretty well, too, after they left college. There's Bob Stewart, Dean of Law at Tufts College; Clyde Reeves, State Commissioner of Revenue; Tom Scott, nationally known singer; and Henry Hornsby, author of the popular novel, "Lonesome Valley." Working their way through college seems to have been no hindrance to them.

Doing the necessary school work is, of course, the big job of every student. Students are advised not to do outside work that will interfere with their studies, but even a few dollars a week may mean the difference between remaining in school and having to drop out.

High school seniors who plan to enter U.K. next fall and who will need part-time employment should write now to Miss Huber at the "Y" or to the Dean of Women.

Mississippi, Sept. 30; Univ. of Dayton, Oct. 7; Univ. of Cincinnati, Oct. 14; Univ. of Florida, Nov. 4; and Univ. of North Dakota, Nov. 18. The Wildcats have only four games away from home this year.

Mail orders will be accepted during the first priority period, May 1 through May 31, from members of the University faculty and staff who held season tickets in 1949; other 1949 season ticket purchasers; donors to the 1945 financial campaign who contributed $50 or more; original contributors to the stadium fund; active members of the Lexington Salesmen's Club; and K-men in football school officials said.

The second priority period, June 1 through June 30, will cover paid up members of the UK Alumni Association; financial campaign donors who contributed $10 to $50; and members of the University faculty-staff not covered in first priority.

The general ticket sale for season and individual games will start July 15, both through the mail and by direct sale at the University football ticket office.

Schoolchildren Special
 As an innovation in the University's athletic ticket policy this year, Ticket Sales Manager Harvey Hodges announced that grade and high school students will be offered a reserved bleacher season ticket at a reduced rate of $7. Orders must be placed through the student's school principal and will be accepted immediately.

Season tickets for both priority groups and the general public will be located in the concrete stands. The established price, including tax, for a reserved season seat is $23.60 and box season tickets will sell at $30.40 each. Only mail orders will be received prior to July 15 and each order must include an additional 25 cents to cover mailing and registration fees, Hodges said.
