KY. WESLEYAN PREXY TO SPEAK AT CHURCH HERE SUNDAY MORNING

Nov. 19 is Roll Call Sunday for Kentucky Methodists, and the church in Prestonsburg will have as its morning preacher Dr. John F. Baggett, newly elected president of Kentucky Wesleyan College.

The Roll Call Sunday program is a newly inaugurated day of emphasis, substituting for several other days, chief of which was College Day. But the main urge is to have all families at least represented at the morning worship service.

The minister of the Methodist Church here, Dr. Gerstle M. Haggard, said that there would be a committee which would check the actual roll of the church, since time would not permit the calling of names, even by families.

Dr. Baggett comes to Kentucky Wesleyan College out of a varied and rich experience in the pastorate and district superintendency in Kentucky and Tennessee. All alumni and friends of Kentucky Wesleyan are cordially invited to come and hear him Sunday morning at 10:55.

Cats Win Year's 'Big Game'

P'BURG TEAM LICKS TIGERS BY 7-0 EDGE

Great Line Play Marks Traditional Grid Game Here Last Friday Night

Whatever the record books say about forfeited games and such, few of the estimated 3,000 persons who saw the Prestonsburg-Pointsville football game here last Friday night have any doubt as to the team which should be, and on the basis of performance in actual games played is, the Big Sandy Conference champion for 1950.

These saw a Prestonsburg line rise to the heights to hold a powerful Paintsville team scoreless through a grueling four quarters of clean, hard football. They saw the Black Cats make three stands in the shadows of their goal posts and hold the hard-running Tiger backs who had ripped Pikeville's line to shreds.

And, to add an offensive feature to the team's dogged defensive play, they saw the Cats' passing ace, quarterback Delmar Hughes, cut to the side and shoot a 45-yard aerial into the arms of end Johnny Hill for the game's only touchdown.

This aerial thrust came with 45 seconds remaining in the first half. Hughes himself added the extra point with a line plunge as the half ended.

Prestonsburg faced its first big test right at the start when Paintsville recovered a Cat fumble on the Prestonsburg 18. But the Cats held for downs and took over on their eight.

Paintsville relied mainly on a ground attack. The Tigers attempted only four passes and two of these were intercepted by Mayo, Cat halfback. Mayo ran back one of these interceptions 50 yards before being pulled down on the Paintsville five.

The soggy field hampered both teams making the pass an unreliable weapon and slowing down jaunts afoot, but in no wise detracted from the all-round play of the two well-matched elevens.

"The finest team play I've seen here all year," was the comment of Coach "Doc" Ferrell of Prestonsburg. "I said before the game that if our guards and tackles played well we would win. They did."

Coach Ferrell, who took over as coach here only last year to do a superb rebuilding job, made special mention of the fine work of his ends in the traditional tussle with Paintsville.

The game was marked by fine sportsmanship on the part of players and followers of both teams. Although the play was marked by the dash and drive characteristic of Prestonsburg-Pointsville athletic contests, not a roughing penalty was called. And after the contest students and alumni of the two schools fraternized at the homecoming dance held at the Prestonsburg high school gymnasium.

Forty farmers in Jackson county are carrying the Green Pastures program.

In Owen county, 116 4-H club members carried tobacco projects this year.

CATS IN RECREATION BOWL ON MT. STERLING FIELD

Victory last Friday night in their annual gridiron tussle with the Paintsville Tigers won for the Prestonsburg high school Black Cats their second post-season Bowl game, and tonight (Thursday) they are playing the undefeated Highlands team of Ft. Thomas in the Recreation Bowl at Mt. Sterling.

The team and coaches, "Doc" Ferrell and Garnis Martin, left for Mt. Sterling Wednesday afternoon and were joined there today by a large part of the population of Prestonsburg.

In Highlands the Cats meet a foe which is ranked fourth in the state and which holds a victory over the Ashland Tom Cats. Despite this reputation and the fact that they are out-weighted and out-manned, the undefeated Black Cats hope to give a good account of themselves and are praying for a dry field on which they can bring into action their most effective assault weapon, the pass.

In their one previous Bowl appearance the Black Cats defeated Pikeville in the Flood Bowl, three years ago.

Tonight's game will be the last high school football contest for four Prestonsburg seniors, Claude Hopson, Sid Ball, Clyde Laferty and Glenn Dixon.

FLASH!--THEY FINALLY DID

After 22 Years' Effort, Martin Net Five Defeats Hindman on Knott Floor

The undefeated Purple Flash of Martin high school achieved something last Friday night which no other Martin basketball team has succeeded in doing in 22 years.

It defeated Hindman high school's net team on the Hindman floor—an achievement Martin teams have essayed annually without success. The win was chalked up only after a spirited game in which Hindman held a lead of two points at the end of each quarter until the Flash edged ahead by four points as the game ended. The score: Martin, 41; Hindman, 37. Tackett, at forward and Grigsby at guard position led the winners' attack with 14 and 16 points, respectively. The Hindman scoring was well-distributed among the team's five starters.

The following night, Martin, at home, made it four straight by easily trouncing Wheelwright's Maroons, 60 to 39. Martin used 12 men in the game, and Wheelwright employed the services of 10. Taylor, Tackett and Grigsby, with 18, 11 and 11 markers, respectively, led the Martin assault on the basket. Osborne and King, with seven and eight points, led the Wheelwright scoring.

Martin will attempt to make it six in a row in games this week—end— at Betsy Layne against the Bobcats Friday night and at home Saturday night against Garret.

Floyd County Historical Notes

By HENRY P. SCALF

In March, 1789 the Shawnees descended upon the helpless family of James Roark in Roark's Gap of the Dry Fork of Tug River, while the father and two sons were away, leaving a horrible massacre in their wake. As related in a preceding article, James Roark and his son John, later died in defense of the Harmon Blockhouse at the mouth of Johns Creek. Of the one son of James Roark, name unknown, who survived the fight at Blockhouse Bottom, nothing is known, but research in regard to this survivor of the fierce border struggle unearthed the story of his sister, Sallie Roark. With her begins a genealogical pattern so extensive, so interwoven with first families of the Big Sandy, that the writer hesitates at any serious attempt at completeness or portrayal of the full picture. The story has many by-paths leading to Indian fights, accidental border deaths, marriage and intermarriage between prominent and early settlers. This article will confine itself to the maze of the genealogical pattern.

In March, 1789, Sallie Roark was married to Deskins and lived with her husband at the time of the massacre further east in Tazewell county. She and Deskins had a son, John named for the brother who was later killed at Harmon's Station. Her husband died soon after the birth of John and she next married a Brewer. Here again the writer has failed to recover Brewer's first name as he failed to learn the Christian name of her first husband. Brewer was of English stock. Two Brewer brothers had come to America with General Braddock in the 1750's. One of these was killed at Fort Duquesne, July 9, 1755, but the remaining Brewer survived the Colonial and Indian Wars. He settled somewhere in Southwest Virginia, rearing a large family. One of his sons, after service in the Revolution, married Sallie Roark Deskins, the widow.

To this union of Brewer and Sallie Roark was born one son, Isaac. This second husband of hers did not long survive on the fierce border, but whether his death was due to the Shawnees or the result of natural causes we do not know. Sallie Roark was not long a widow. She was married, the third and last time, to Emile Millard. Here we digress to learn of the Millard family.

Emile Millard was a Frenchman who enlisted under General Lafayette to serve in America. After the Revolutionary War ended he lived in Newcastle county, Virginia, but after his marriage to the widowed Sallie they moved to the Tug River valley and founded the present Nolan, W. Va. Emile Millard, who was now Anglicizing his name to Miller, was rearing the two sons of his wife, John Deskins and Isaac Brewer. This settlement of Nolan was made in 1792. Emile had a brother Charles who was married and they were ever in search of new land or roaming the Big Sandy wilderness in quest of adventure. Of the latter, fate decreed a plentitude. Charles was drowned on Johns Creek at the mouth of what is now called in his name Miller's Creek.

This was in 1792, the same year his brother, Emile, had founded Nolan. There had been a brush with Indians and a wild deer chase. Charles attempted to swim the stream here but the flooded waters carried his body away. It was never recovered. Of this fight with Indians history leaves a few clues and tradition is varied. Whether the fight with the Indians immediately preceding Charles' death and the other almost legendary battle in which Emile was said to have battled ten Indians, single-handedly were one and the same or different occasions, we have no way of knowing. It is agreed that the fight occurred eight miles below Pikeville.

Now the Indians had an encampment in the early days of Big Sandy settlement near the mouth of Cow Pen Creek. The Battle of Ten-to-One may have occurred near there or—which is more probable—at the mouth of Miller's Creek over in the valley of Johns Creek. Emile killed one, scalped him as the redskins had taught the border men to do, and escaped.

Settlers were fast moving into the Sandy. William Robert Leslie had settled over a year before Charles Millard's death at the present Glunare and his cabins were already known as the Leslie settlement. The place where Millard was drowned was part of the vast Leslie barony. Seven other families now came to the present Pike county and most of these families selected Johns Creek as their place of abode. These were the families of John Williamson, Barney Johnson, Joseph Bevins (who we learned in a preceding article had come over from Ireland in 1774 to serve in the Revolutionary War), Aaron Pinson, Thomas Scott, Zachariah Phillips, Thomas McCally (McCoy?) and Emile Millard. Emile and Sallie had three children: Timothy, who married Polly Baramon; Rebecca, who married Arter White; and Rachel, who married James Starr. James Starr (1795-1886) lived to be 91 years of age and became one of Tug River's important men. He built the first Methodist Church in Tug valley. At his death he left the legacy of a good name but no descendants.

The descendants of Timothy Millard and Polly Baramon are living yet on Tug River, on Johns Creek

Special State Taxes From Motorists May Jump by $5,000,000

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 7 (Sp.)—Special state taxes collected each year from Kentucky motorists will jump by at least $5,415,000 because of the 1950 increase in motor vehicle ownership, Herbert L. Clay, executive secretary of the Kentucky Petroleum Industries Committee, said today.

His computation is based on preliminary estimates of 1950 car, bus and truck registrations recently released by the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads.

"Without any increase in present tax rates, the increase in vehicle ownership expected during 1950 should mean an 11 per cent increase in registration fee collections and a minimum increase of $3,870,000 in gasoline tax revenues to Kentucky. Increased use of motor vehicles and new registrations in future years will further increase state highway-user tax collections," he said.

The Bureau of Public Roads estimated that Kentucky will have 761,000 registered motor vehicles at the beginning of 1951, compared with 683,582 at the start of 1950.

"In the course of this year, the Kentucky motorist will pay an average of about $98 in state and federal levies just because he owns and operates a car or truck. And government receives more and more each year in motorists' taxes as motor vehicle ownership increases and each vehicle travels more miles with the passing of years," he said.

WORLD BEATER

Every Dad thinks his son is going to be a "world-beater." He's not counting on his youngster to floor the Champ for a count of ten, but he dreams of the day his boy will triumph over every obstacle to happiness and success.

"World-beater" is a pretty descriptive name for what Dad envisions. The world is full of forces that destroy the best in a man. To make your life count for anything these days you have to vanquish those forces.

It takes courage and stamina to win the struggle . . . a very special kind of courage that is more spiritual than physical . . . a very special kind of stamina that is more moral than muscular.

Sunday morning is a good time to begin. Weekly training in the Church can help father and son to gain the courage and stamina that will win every bout in life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

VICTOR, LOSER FIGHTING MAD

Is Report from Capital, But Many Believe Both Should Feel Pleased

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 11—Kentucky's victor and runner-up came out of the United States Senate race disappointed and fighting mad. But a lot of people believe each of them has some reasons for feeling good.

Governor Earle Clements' 56,000 majority was more than enough to buck a nationwide Republican trend that washed out such Senators as Lucas of Illinois and Tydings of Maryland.

But Republican former Judge Charles I. Dawson cut the victor's majority to 32,000 votes below Kentucky's average for the past 12 years, and made the Democrats extend themselves to the last. The big 600,000 off-year total vote helped show that.

What the political leaders of both parties are concerned about is the effect the result will have on next year's races for Governor and the Legislature. And that's not only in the election itself, but in both party primaries.

The Democrats would like to know whether Clements' victory was big enough to keep the Administration organization welded together to defeat anti-Administration Democrats next year.

The Republicans would like to know whether Dawson's showing will prove a real inspiration to Republicans and will gather in some independents and recalcitrant Democrats. Another question is whether Dawson will dominate his party next year, and if so, would he back John Sherman Cooper to run for Governor next year, and hope he will give up his highly paid United Nations post for that.

Clements generally is believed to favor as next year's candidate for Governor, Lieutenant Governor Lawrence Wetherby, of Louisville. Wetherby will become Governor as soon as Clements takes his seat later this month to fill out the rest of an unexpired term. Then on January 3 Clements will take the seat for the full six-year term to which he was elected over Dawson.

That gives Wetherby a year in which to make a favorable impression on the voters and the Democratic political leaders.

Anti-Clements forces include Representative Joe E. Bates of Kentucky's Eighth Congressional district; Harry Lee Waterfield, whom Clements defeated in the 1947 Democratic gubernatorial primary; Ben Kilgore, former executive secretary of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation, and several others.

Wetherby can claim a lot of credit for helping Clements give the state some healthy boosts along the path of prosperity. They include raising the gasoline tax 2 cents to build country roads, giving the counties a way to bring their property-tax assessments to something near actual value, encouraging industry to come into the state, and improving the state parks to a point where some of them have national reputations.

But the Clements administration made enemies in putting through much of that program, in refusing to jump the school-aid grant, and in many lesser ways. Wetherby bears the scars of those fights, as well as any medals he may have earned in the Administration's battles.

FUNK ASKS ROAD FACTS

To Back Up Meredith Suit Charging Keck Collected 'Kickbacks'

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 6.—Attorney General A. E. Funk made a demand today for facts to back up charges of crookedness in the State Highway Department.

Funk declared that if the facts were refused, he might ask for a special grand jury to make Hubert Meredith disclose the basis for the charges made in suits filed in circuit court here Saturday.

The suits, filed by the former attorney general in the names of Arthur T. Iler and Irvin Hendrix, charged that Highway Commissioner John A. Keck collected "kickbacks" from contractors for giving them Highway Department business.

Funk made public a letter addressed jointly to Meredith, Iler, and Hendrix, saying Governor Earle C. Clements has offered any sum necessary from his emergency funds "to employ investigators, including accountants or detectives" to disclose any irregularities in the Highway Department or in any other state agency.

Funk also quoted the Governor as saying that if Meredith had furnished information he had, Clements could have made available then any necessary funds to investigate the charges. In making public the letter to Meredith, Iler and Hendrix, Funk told a reporter:

"If this is nothing more than a political attempt to smear someone, the Attorney General ought to know it.

"If there is any real foundation for the charges, it is even more important that the Attorney General know it.

"The charges made are criminal charges, and ought to be handled in that way. If they (Meredith, Iler, and Hendrix) don't disclose whatever basis they have for the suits, I may ask Circuit Judge W. B. Ardery to call a special grand jury and make them do so."

Funk also declared he would prosecute Commissioner Keck if there was any foundation for the charges Meredith filed. "I couldn't defend any state official under those circumstances," Funk added. "It is the duty of the attorney general to prosecute such cases."

Keck issued a denial of the charges yesterday, terming them "fantastic and untrue." H. C. Adams, Lexington, president of the Kentucky Highway Contractors Association, termed them "unfair and irresponsible." Twenty-five contractors signed affidavits denying them.

In his letter to Meredith, Iler and Hendrix, Funk declared if they lacked faith in him, Funk, he would be willing for them to give whatever facts they may have to Assistant Attorney General M. B. Hollfield. Funk pointed out Hollfield served seven years under Meredith, and added:

"I know that you agree with me as to his honesty, integrity, and ability, and I offer his services to you and your clients, if the attorney general and the other members of his staff are not satisfactory."

Funk also took exception to claims made in the suits that since he and his staff are legal advisers to Keck they "knew or should have known of the unlawful diversion of the highway funds," and "had neglected to take any steps whatsoever to correct said wrongs or to recover the money."

Funk wrote Meredith that as a former attorney general, Meredith knew the attorney general had no funds to investigate any state officials or employees, or anyone dealing with the state. Funk added that the first he, or any member of his staff, knew of the charges was when they read them in the Sunday newspapers.

Funk also declared that if Meredith or his "clients, or these two nominal plaintiffs (Iler and Hendrix) in these petitions," have any information to substantiate the charges, it is their "duty as good citizens" to furnish it to the attorney general.

Now it can be told. This clean-lined, smart-stepping 1950 version is the most popular Buick ever built.

Ever since early in the present year, a value-wise public has been taking them away from us as fast as—or faster than—the great Buick factories could roll them out. Within recent weeks, production and sales have set an all-time record.

Count off the distinguished and time-tried features of this winner and you'll know why.

It has a Very Exclusive Motor—Buick's own high-compression Fireball—which gets its driving power from a combustion chamber found in no other car in the world.

It has Dynaflo Drive*—which ushered in a whole new concept of effortless travel.

It has a brilliant styling which sets it apart from every other car on the road.

And it has prices which say "buy me" to any motorist who's looking for maximum money's worth.

Isn't it sensible, while these great cars are still coming off the line, to check with your Buick dealer about getting one to call your own?

"Better Buy Buick"

Only Buick has Dynaflo—and with it goes:

Ky. Chamber of Commerce To Expand Its Program; To Select 'Test' Cities

Jest Among Us . . .
By Jack Wild

The Kentucky Chamber of Commerce will expand its community development program by the selection of four "test cities," it was announced last week by Norman A. Chrisman, Pikeville, president of the State Chamber. The identity of the cities will be disclosed at Community Development clinics, which will be held in each of the Chamber's four geographic regions.

The test cities were selected in anonymity on the basis of extensive reports made by John H. Given, field director of the Bureau of Community Service of the University of Kentucky. Qualifications considered in the selection of the towns for the chamber's program were local interest, community cooperation, availability of leadership to carry out the program, progressiveness of the community, need for improvement and quantity of resources.

The first clinic will be held at Dawson Springs on November 9, followed by similar meetings at Elizabethtown on November 10, Paris on November 20, and Corbin on November 21. Test cities for the region will be announced at each clinic.

The clinics, sponsored by the Chamber's Industrial Development Committee, will be attended by business leaders, civic workers, and city and county officials from leading communities in each of the regions. The program will include talks and discussions on civic improvement, tourist promotion, agricultural development, and the methods of organizing a local community development association.

The chamber's new community development guide, based on the experience gained from the organization and execution of the London Test City Program, will be distributed at the clinics. This 38-page publication will be the source of information to communities in the planning and organization of the four test city projects.

The Industrial Development Committee of the Chamber will work with the cities in setting up a development board and the organization to carry out the projects.

Mrs. Leo Carter and Barbara Ann, of Prestonsburg, and Miss Sandra Tingle, of Maytown, were the weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Allen.

Friends and relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Volney Allen Saturday afternoon to celebrate Volney Brent's first birthday. Many gifts were noisily accepted. Luncheon was served to the following: Mrs. Jones Tallent and Mike, Mrs. Ed Stewart and Eddie, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Allen, Corinne Allen, Geraldine Allen, Mrs. Leo Carter and Barbara Ann, Mrs. V. O. Turner and Justin, Rhoda Patton, Anna Mae Patton, Mrs. Charles Tingle and Sandra.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Robinson and Larry and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Robinson were shopping in Prestonsburg Saturday.

Clarence Robinson and his daughter, Reba, were honored with a birthday dinner at their home Sunday. Those present were Mrs. Clarence Robinson, Donnie, Ballard and Buster, Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Robinson and Larry, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Robinson.

Mrs. Manda Turner, of Northern, as the week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tingle.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Davidson and Donna Jean Patton, of Zionsville, Indiana, spent the week-end with Mrs. Lucy Patton.

Mrs. Charles Tingle had as dinner guests Sunday Mrs. Sue Ward, Anne Preston and Jimmy Ward, of Warco, and Mrs. Manda Turner, of Northern.

The Methodist Church had Don Rollins, of Louisville, as evangelistic singer during the revival. Mr. Rollins has been an inspiration to all who have attended the services. In addition to the revival, he has worked with the children in the afternoon and with the young people each evening prior to the night services.

Many teachers from Maytown attended E.K.E.A. at Ashland last Thursday and Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Vaughn spent the week-end in Ashland visiting friends and relatives.

Harriet Allen, of Hindman, was visiting her parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Allen, over the week-end.

Electrically charged wires along building ledges have been successfully used to keep pigeons away.

Mrs. Victoria Virginia Davidson Arnold, wife of Ex-Mayor E. P. Arnold, died Monday evening, Nov. 6, at her home on Second avenue here following an illness which had its inception in April of this year. She was 65 years old.

Although Mrs. Arnold's life had been despaired of weeks ago and her death had been expected, news of her passing was received with deep regret by hundreds of relatives and friends in this and neighboring counties.

Member of one of the county's oldest and best-known families and sharing in local activities with her husband, who for several terms was police judge and later mayor here, she was perhaps known by more Prestonsburg residents than any other local woman. She had been a member of the Methodist Church since girlhood, and her visits to the sick and needy as well as her social and civic works brought her into contact with practically every person in the community.

Mrs. Arnold, the youngest of the children of the late Greenville and Laura Cooley Davidson, was a native of Prestonsburg and spent her life here. In addition to her church work she was a member of club and political circles for years, having been woman's Democratic chairman, president of the Prestonsburg Woman's Club, worthy matron of Adah chapter, Order of Eastern Star, president of Greenville Davidson chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, and regent of John Graham chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. She was a member of the Daughters of American Colonists, Daughters of Colonial Wars, the Daughters of 1812 and Miriam Rebekah lodge. During her last illness she was made an honorary member of the Kiwanianes, woman's auxiliary of the Kiwanis Club.

Surviving are her husband, two sisters, Mrs. Mary D. Allen and Mrs. Lida D. Spradlin, both of Prestonsburg, and hundreds of relatives and friends.

The profusion of floral offerings at the home and at the Methodist Church, where funeral rites were held Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 8, at 2, bespoke the high esteem in which she was held. The Rev. Gerstle M. Haggard, pastor of the church, officiated at the rites and burial was made in the family lot of the Mayo cemetery near here.

Palbearers at Mrs. Arnold's funeral and burial were her nephews, William Arnold Spradlin, G. R. Spradlin, Joe A. Spradlin, John W. Hensley, Dr. C. L. Huttsinpiiler, Colonel May, all of Prestonsburg, J. P. Ribble, Washington, D. C., M. G. Nicholls, Webster Springs, W. Va., and Floyd Arnold Mann, Lexington, (It.)

to buy residence telephone service today than it did 10 years ago . . .

If you paid your telephone bill with bituminous coal, residence telephone service would cost you less today than it did in 1940. In spite of the moderate increase in telephone rates, the average charge for a month's residence telephone service in Kentucky would now amount to only 800 pounds of coal as compared to 1,200 pounds in 1940.

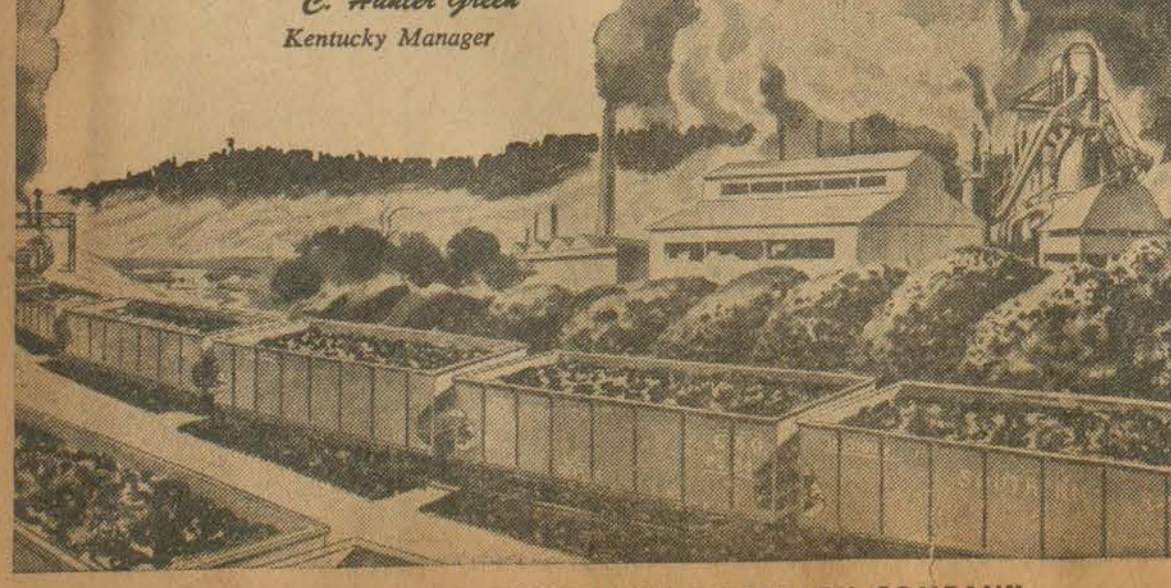

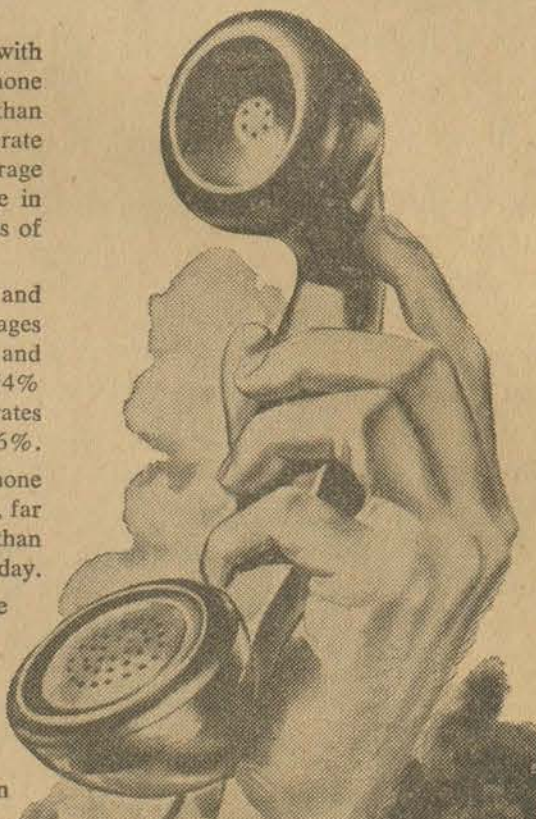

Compare telephone service also with wages and the cost of living. In the past ten years, hourly wages in manufacturing plants have more than doubled and the overall cost of living has gone up about 74% while, in this same period, residence telephone rates in Kentucky have advanced on the average only 46%.

In other words the price you pay for telephone service has gone up far less than the price of coal, far less than wages and family income and far less than most commodities and services you buy every day.

Meanwhile, the amount of telephone service available at your local service rate has increased immensely. Today throughout most of Kentucky you can call and be called from about twice as many local telephones as you could ten years ago.

Yes, telephone service is today a bigger bargain and a smaller item in the family budget than it was 10 years ago.
