

THURSDAY

This Town-- That World

Then there was the case of the girl-wife who at the age of 14 gave birth to a bouncing boy and who was about to be visited at the hospital by proud hubby. "Don't you want to pretty yourself up?" asked the nurse. "Use my lipstick if you like." But the girl declined the offer. "I'm too young for stuff like that," she explained.

Which could bring up, but will not, the story of the 90-year-old curmudgeon who got peeved at a neighbor and vowed he'd get even with that So-and-So if it took him a hundred years.

You wouldn't think it, but omission of quotation marks can cause trouble, no end. For instance, last week we failed to "quote" the Methodist minister's Sunday morning sermon topic. So the line read: Church Closed—No Heat. With the weather being a bit on the cool side, and that announcement standing as it was, there were complications which left nobody, including us, supremely happy.

Forgive us our sins—and our errors.

Speaking of churches, The Courier-Journal recently did a feature on church gardens which struck us as a wonderful idea. The yarn told of churches having these plots, some large, some small, with flowers growing, a seat or two—all making a cloistered spot of quiet beauty for unpretentious meditation. I wouldn't presume to suggest to any church what to do about a thing like this, but the word, "garden," has powerful associations.

MILT STANLEY NEW MEMBER

Of Floyd Fiscal Court, Succeeding J. E. Harris; Purgation Expenses Paid

The Floyd fiscal court last week acquired a new member upon the resignation of J. E. "Speed" Harris as Magistrate in District No. 1 and the appointment by Gov. Lawrence W. Wetherby of Mil Stanley, Bonanza Democrat, to fill the vacancy. Mr. Stanley, well-known Abbott Creek farmer, took the oath of office before County Judge Henry Stumbo and attended Monday his first fiscal court session as a member.

Mr. Harris had considered resigning the office for several months but had delayed doing so at the request of friends. More recently, business interests in Southeastern Kentucky kept him outside the county much of the time, resulting in his resignation.

One of the items of expense paid by the court at Monday's meeting was the bill for vote purgation which amounted to $896.11, exclusive of printing. Although the purgation board failed to remove any names from the voting lists, it was explained this week that most of the work had been done toward the removal of upwards of 4,000 names.

German Vance, chairman of the purgation board, said the need for purgation is recognized by all, but that the appearance of several persons from one precinct who had been billed for purgation and who asked transfer of their registration to their new precincts deterred action. "It did not seem fair to remove these names from the voting lists after the registration books had been closed, and then have a large number of good citizens appear to change their precincts only to be told that nothing could be done for them because the books were closed," he explained.

The work done is not lost, it was pointed out. The cards prepared for mailing and supplies ready for

HIGHER COSTS OF OPERATION TO HURT COAL

Under New Contract, Is Operator's View; Pay Increase, $1.90

Floyd county coal operators took a dim view of the wage contract agreed to by the Southern Coal Producers Association, Tuesday, but all except one company had signed the pact, it was learned here Wednesday afternoon.

The Reed interest, it was said, had not signed but are expected to do so soon.

"Every increase in expense increases the differential already hurting us," one operator explained in discussing effect of the contract on this section. He expressed the fear that many small mines, particularly truck operations, will not be able to work.

Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Coal Producers Association, signed with Lewis on the same terms which the U.M.W. leader succeeded in getting from the rest of the bituminous industry.

The agreement calls, among other things, for a pay increase of $1.90 a day.

Moody said a few individual companies in his association were holding out, "but in my opinion most of them will be straightened out within the next few days."

Lewis, too, said he hoped and expected the Dixie holdouts to sign soon. The union boss said they would be spared from a strike for "the next day or two" while the owners make up their minds.

The Southern group had faced an old dilemma. Once again Lewis had won an agreement from Northern and Western producers that the Southerners felt was too costly. But they had little choice—it was to take the same terms, or face an almost certain strike.

The contract terms, which Lewis won from the North and handed the Dixie producers on a take-it-or-leave-it basis, also called for a 10-cent-a-ton increase in the owner-paid royalty financing the union's welfare fund. The royalty now amounts to 40 cents a ton and the daily basic wage $13.25.

Most miners earn more than the basic daily wage, but some of them don't work a full five-day week. Lately the men have been averaging not quite four days' work a week. The industry has said that the new labor costs will mean a coal-price increase.

LAKE TESTING IS BEING MADE

For Third Time; Clark Says Impoundment Is Not Suited to Smallmouth

Tests were made Wednesday afternoon and today on Dewey Lake by biologists of the Department of Fish & Wildlife Resources for the third time this season to determine the proportion of game fish in the impoundment to rough fish.

These latest tests are being made in the short Burchett Branch arm of the lake a short distance above Big Branch, and is between the points on the lake previously tested this year.

Minor Clark, director of the department's Division of Fisheries, repeated last week in a letter to George W. Newman, president of the Floyd County Fish and Game Club, the assurances he had a few days earlier given E. R. Burke, supervisor of the Seventh conservation district. He referred to the report that the lake is low in bass as pure rumor, averred that species is holding its own and declared he sees no reason for alarm.

To Mr. Newman's suggestion that smallmouth bass be added to the lake, Mr. Clark replied that most reservoirs of this type are unsuited for that species, that they tend to disappear after the formation of the reservoirs. "Had Dewey been suited to smallmouth in the first place," he wrote, "a larger proportion of the present bass population would now be made up of that species." He based this theory on his knowledge that Johns Creek before its impoundment had a liberal supply of smallmouth.

Clark added that the condition in which silt remains in suspension in the lake for a considerable period of time is of concern and expressed the hope this condition may correct itself.

Farming in the headwaters of Johns Creek will probably make such correction impossible, however.

Induction Call Oct. 9 For 13 Men, Board Says

The induction call for Oct. 9 will be for 13 men, according to a list released by Local Board No. 25, this week. Two of these were called previously but did not report, it was said.

WINSTON FORD HAS LOW BID

On Prater Creek Road; Bull Creek and Abbott Work Will Be Delayed

The Winston Ford Company of Prestonsburg was low bidder on the 7.59 miles of high way construction on the Prater Creek-Mare Creek road, he was notified after the State Highway Department opened bids on the project last Friday. The firm's bid was $174,609.08.

Work on which bids were submitted includes grade, drain and traffic-bound surfacing. Mr. Ford said here he will begin work on the route this fall.

Another contractor, George Beachel, owner of the Independence Contracting Company, has informed B. T. Monahan, Commissioner of Rural Highways, that he will not be able to begin work this year on two road contracts his firm has in this county. These are the Bull Creek road and Abbott Creek route which were advertised for black-topping.

Beachel explained that he will be unable to get slag for use on the two routes before November 1, and that is the latest date in the season this type of surfacing is permitted.

Officials here expressed confidence the work on the two roads will begin early next spring.

SAFETY STEPS ARE OFFERED

By Bureau of Mines To Prevent Blasts; Nine Steps Listed

The Bureau of Mines this week recommended nine safety steps to be followed in ventilating coal mines to reduce explosion hazards.

The bureau in an information circular, said modern equipment will not necessarily prevent or localize mine explosions—as demonstrated by such disasters as those at Centralia, Ill., in 1947, where 111 miners died, and at West Frankfort, Ill., in December, 1951, where 119 were killed.

On the contrary, the circular said, "mechanical operations present many definite problems that, if not understood and corrected, may lead to further disasters."

Modern ventilation, the circular said, "necessitates a departure from previous concepts, which prescribed the quantity of air on the sole basis of men and animals employed, and gave little thought to ventilating worked-out areas, the number of section safely permitted on a split (of air), the difference between intake or return air, and isolating ignition sources."

The recommendations are:

1. A split system of ventilation should be provided for operation of not more than two—preferably not more than one—mechanized unit on each split of air.
2. The air in each split should be circulated to each active working place and all dead ends on the split. After this, it may be used to ventilate abandoned worked-out areas or the edges of the roof before passing into the main return.
3. A system of bleeder openings and air courses provided for the continuous movement of air through abandoned or caved areas should be established.
4. Worked-out, abandoned areas should be either ventilated or sealed.
5. The ventilation system should be designed so that air will circulate to the working faces without interruption.
6. No electrical equipment other than that approved as permissible by the Bureau should be taken into or operated in other than pure-intake air.
7. All power connections for face electrical equipment should be made in pure-intake air unless such con-

EILAND TELLS TV PROBLEMS

WSAZ Program Director Sees Better Reception With Columbus Change

Columbus should switch to Channel 5 next month and leave set-owners in this section with only the minor irritations of T-V, was the belief expressed Thursday evening by Ted Eiland, program director of WSAZ-TV, Huntington, W. Va., in a talk before the Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club.

Discussing television problems as they affect this section, Eiland said "Viewers here have two pictures and two sound tracks fighting for a place on the screen as a result of the switch of WSAZ to Channel 3 and the failure of Columbus to leave that channel and go to Channel 5 to which it has been assigned."

He predicted a clearer picture and better sound when Columbus makes its proposed change. Otherwise, the speaker discussed programming, which he described as a major television station problem. Noting that all the people can't be pleased all the time, he added that his station is doing its best to improve its programs. Mr. Eiland urged the Kiwanis Club to use the facilities of WSAZ-TV for promotion of its programs and projects.

A question-and-answer period followed his talk.

IKE INVITES MAYOR CLARK

On Cincinnati Trip; Republican Candidate In Campaign Opening

Personal endorsement by Dwight D. Eisenhower for Curtis Clark, Republican candidate for Congress from Kentucky's 7th Congressional District, was indicated by the invitation extended to the Prestonsburg Mayor to be a member of the reception committee for the Republican presidential candidate in Huntington, Wednesday of last week.

One of the largest crowds in Huntington's history was on hand at the Baltimore, Ohio Railroad station to see and hear the General continue his attack on the present administration's handling of the "police action" in Korea, alleged corruption in government and "ruinous taxation." An additional quarter million persons is estimated to have seen and heard the General's off-the-cuff remarks on television over WSAZ-TV.

This marked the second time last week Mayor Clark was honored by Eisenhower. On Monday, Mayor Clark, along with Republican Senatorial candidate John Sherman Cooper, traveled aboard the General's special train from Louisville to Cincinnati, where Eisenhower made a major address.

During the train trip Mrs. Curtis Clark presented Mrs. Eisenhower with a Floyd County Sesqui-Centennial plaque sold here at the celebration in 1950. Mrs. Eisenhower expressed interest and made notes on Floyd history.

There was no indication whether Cooper and Clark discussed East

Hill Lived the Life Many Dream Of, But It Wasn't All Pure Enjoyment

According to the calendar, the summer is spent—and what did you do about enjoying it?

Aside from all the commonplace joys of the season, did you ever wish for the silence of woods and wilderness streams and that different thing of the age—life under more primitive conditions?

Although it was all in the line of duty, one Prestonsburg resident, Edward P. Hill, Jr., spent almost all the summer on Alaskan streams protecting sockeye salmon runs and counting the fish for the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service. Set down in the wild muskeg country, 25 miles by water from the nearest town, Wrangell, Alaska, this eldest son of Circuit Judge and Mrs. Edw. P. Hill, who is a student at Oregon State College, Corvallis, Ore., lived amid surroundings which most visit only vicariously by map and magazine story. Most of the time he was alone, only his "uke" for company. Occasionally, a Service boat called but these visits were seldom. "The fishing was 'out of this world,'" the land was weirdly beautiful; it was a sportsman's paradise. For all that, his letters expressed a longing for something more.

Worldwide Communion Day Is Next Sunday

Worldwide Communion Day will be observed here and throughout the Christian world Sunday, each church conducting its own Communion rites. The day has been described as a gathering of "members of His body in spirit with Christians of many colors, races and nations to be enfolded by Christ's unfeeling love, all assembling at His request, 'This do in remembrance of me.'"

JOHN A. HICKS VICTIM AT 75

Garrett Resident Was Magistrate in Knott And Floyd Counties

John A. Hicks, who held the distinction of having served both Floyd and Knott counties as a member of their fiscal courts, died at 12:35 p.m., Sunday, at his home at Garrett, a victim of paralysis. He was 75 years old.

The former Magistrate was stricken last June 27 but rallied from his illness until little more than a week before his passing. News of his death was received with deep regret by hundreds of friends in the two counties.

A son of Jim and Frankie Mosley Hicks, he was born near Mousie, Knott county. A Republican, he was elected Magistrate in heavily Democratic section of both counties—in Knott county in 1912, and from Magistrate District 2 of this county in 1940. He became a member of the Regular Baptist Church 50 years ago.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Gunnells Hicks, and the following sons and daughters: Joe and Robert Hicks, of Wayland, Richard Hicks, Garrett, Mrs. Olga Trusty, Mrs. May Lewis and Mrs. Jay Wise, all of Garrett, Mrs. Alpha Bussey, of David, and Mrs. Nova Scheel, Forest Park, Illinois. A brother, Jonah Hicks, and one sister, Mrs. Rosa Belle Wicker, both of Mousie, 32 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren also survive.

An estimated 1,000 friends and relatives attended the funeral, which was conducted Wednesday from the

Legless Man in Wreck Says Fault Not His; Cites Driving Record

A legless Floyd county motorist had his first accident in 24 years of driving last Thursday—and even then it wasn't his fault, he claims. Earl Stone, of Prestonsburg, who lost his legs in a railway accident years ago, and who emerged with head injuries from a collision in front of the home of Dr. T. J. Chandler at Betsy Layne, said this week the wreck resulted when James Leach, a salesman, pulled around another auto and met the Stone car, head-on. Leach could not be reached for a statement.

Persons attracted to the scene of the crash said they found Stone with his artificial leg strapped to the brake and other operative mechanism of his auto. Mrs. Stone suffered fractured ribs; their daughter, Irene, 13, an injured arm, and another daughter, Zetta, 17, a knee injury.

Underwood will speak at Prestonsburg, Oct. 25, it was announced here this week.

DEEPER LAKE TALKS HELD

Kentucky Lawmakers At Capital Hearing Held by Engineers

Congressman Carl D. Perkins was joined Wednesday by Senators Thomas R. Underwood and Earle S. Clements in a hearing arranged by Perkins before the U.S. Corps of Engineers in Washington on the question of deepening Dewey Lake.

The move for deepening the lake was begun in this county several months ago, with Congressman Perkins urging the Corps of Engineers to add water to the impoundment during the dry season of the year, possibly five feet.

The engineers have maintained the cost of easements on gas company property where damage might occur is prohibitive.

Wednesday's hearing was designed to produce testimony to the effect that dry-season deepening of the lake would cause no material damage, would not affect its flood control value and would benefit recreation facilities at the lake.

The lake has fallen during the current drought from its pool elevation of 645 feet and as of Wednesday morning was .32 of a foot below normal level.

On his return today from Washington Senator Underwood reiterated that one of the most satisfying moments of the campaign was when his opponent called him an "errand boy." "I consider it an honor to run errands for the people of Kentucky," Underwood said. "When they need an errand like the one I have just completed in Washington, I am proud I can be of service."

Underwood will speak at Prestonsburg, Oct. 25, it was announced here this week.

DAVID TEAMS ARE WINNERS

With Jenkins Group Dominate Safety Day Contest at Pikeville

The Princess Elkhorn Coal Company at David and Mine 204 of the Consolidation Coal Company at Jenkins sent teams to the safety day meet in Pikeville last week-end which dominated the competition.

The white men's team from the No. 1 mine of Princess Elkhorn won in that division and the Explorer Scouts of Troop 143 at David won top spot in the boys' division. A second Boy Scout team from David, composed of younger boys, won fourth place, although in competition for the first time.

Consolidation Mine 204 teams won the mines-rescue apparatus and the negro first-aid contest. The Girls' first-aid contest was won by a team from the Inland Steel Company, Wheelwright, by forfeit, having no opposition.

The Princess Elkhorn men's team was composed of Garland Hall, captain, Fred Mollett, Walter Arrowood, Johnny Prater, Marcus Patton, Howard Hamilton and Willard DeBord. In addition to the team trophy, the men split $150 in prize money and each was awarded a sterling silver ring.

The winning boys' team from David is composed of Lowell Hager, captain, Roger Marshall, Joe Marshall, Randall Honeycutt, Tommy Castle and Rex Music. They divided $48 in prize money and were awarded a trophy.

JURY DECIDES PRATER TRIAL IN 5 MINUTES

Acquittal Is Voted In Slaying of Hicks; Civil Term Is Next

A jury of the Floyd circuit court required about five minutes Saturday to decide a murder case, the trial of which had consumed three days.

It voted in near-record time that Miley Prater, Middle Creek truck mine operator, was not guilty of murder in the slaying of his brother-in-law, Grover Hicks, at the mine tippie which is located near the homes of the two men.

Testimony developed during the trial followed that produced at the examining trial here. This evidence claimed Hicks had previously threatened Prater with a knife and at the time of the shooting was in the act of throwing a piece of coal at Prater.

The "hung" jury in the trial of Former Prestonsburg Policeman Bill Kaeze, charged with shooting at Elmer Blackburn without wounding, ended the September court term, Saturday. A second trial of Kaeze was docketed for Nov. 24.

Other cases decided within the week:

Bub Marsillett, assault and battery, fined $50, same charge against Mack and Tom Marsillett dismissed; Willie Hall, reckless use of deadly weapon, $50 fine, same charge dismissed as to Garnis Hall; Luther Wright, a one-year pen term on his plea of guilty to a charge of chicken-stealing; Berry Akers, blocking a public passway, fined $10.

The charge of intent to extort lodged against Albert Hall was dismissed for lack of prosecution.

The civil term of court will convene Monday. Jurors for this term are:

T. J. Allen, Martin; Ruth Weddington, Emma; Mrs. Ella Boyd, Prestonsburg; Bob Campbell, Garrett; Polk Saunders, Cliff; Nellie Carey, Dwale; Harry Baldrige, East Point; Mrs. G. R. Fannin, West Prestonsburg; Wayne Allen, Langley; Ed Music, Prestonsburg; Bartee Estep, Garrett; Henry Moore, Sr., Harold; Harold Emsinger, Prestonsburg; O. C. Hays, Lackey; B. G. ROY CHILDERS SHOT VICTIM

Former Garrett Man Slain in Breathitt; 'Friend' Is Jailed

Roy Childers, 56 years old, former Garrett man, was shot and instantly killed at Evanston, Breathitt county, at 1 a.m. Sunday, and in jail at Jackson is Dan Cyrus, charged with his slaying.

An official report of the shooting was lacking here. It was said Cyrus, who was drinking, suddenly seized Childers' shotgun and at a distance less than five feet fired a charge into his face. The two, it was said, had been close friends.

Childers, a boom operator at the Evanston mining operations, was a native of Breathitt county and was a son of Boone and Mary Childers. He is survived by his mother, two daughters, Mrs. Arnold Williams, Sharples, W.Va., and Mrs. Lyle Bennett, South Bend, Ind., and three brothers, Cecil Childers, of Dwarf, Bill Childers, Duane, Ky., and Carl Childers, of Wisconsin.

Funeral rites were conducted Tuesday from the graveside in the Whit cemetery at Evanston by the Revs. Ed Howard, Stewart Howard and Henry Mullins. Burial was directed by the Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Judge Pruitt ruled Wallen will remain under probationary sentence until the girl reaches 18 next year. However, said the judge, should Wallen interfere, the kidnapping charge will be pressed.

Anderson Is Speaker At Community Service, Traces Bible History

"The Word of Life in Living Language" was the theme of the Rev. Robert L. Anderson's address Tuesday evening at the Community service here commemorating the publication of the Revised Standard Version of the Bible. Thirty-two scholars have worked 12 years on this translation. Divine inspiration did not end with the first writing of Scriptures, but has been present in every revision and translation, Rev. Anderson said.

The Rev. Anderson is director of the Upper Big Sandy Parish and chairman of the Town and County Commission of the Methodist Church.

There have been from 150 to 200 different translations of the Bible, the speaker said. John Wycliffe made the first English translation. In 1535 Miles Cubberdale published the first completely printed Bible, using the translation of William Tyndale, who was later put to death for his work with this translation.

The beloved King James Version was published in 1611. The purpose of the King James Version as stated in its preface is also the purpose of the Revised Standard Version, stated Mr. Anderson—not to replace a poor translation, but to make a good one better. Behind the Bible is the passion of God to reveal Himself to man, and the hope of this and all previous translations, is and has been that "God will step out of the framework of Scripture into the life of man."

The speaker also brought humor into his learned discussion. He told how one unenlightened person said, "If the King James Version (printed in 1611) was good enough for Paul, it is good enough for me."

Five outstanding Christian laymen were awarded Bibles by Dr. Gerstle M. Haggard, who presided: Dr. C. L. Hutsiniller, A. C. Harlowe, Dan Nesler, Ray Howard and Sam Hale.

ASCD Association Meet Hears Dr. Lyman Ginger; O. D. Spurlock Attends

A central agency as a clearing house for educational information in Kentucky was proposed by Dr. Lyman Ginger, KEA president, in an address at the closing session of the Kentucky ASCD conference at Morehead State College, Saturday.

Actions of KEA, State Department of Education, principal groups, and classroom teacher groups should all be channeled into a central place where every other group can hear of it, Ginger said. He advocated a unified profession of teaching in order that teachers, pupils, and public might receive greatest benefit.

Dr. R. L. Mills, State Department of Education, closed the conference with an address on the development of local plans for improving education in Kentucky.

The annual conference of the Kentucky ASCD (association for Supervision and Curricular Development) held Sept. 25 to 27 was attended by almost 200 teachers, supervisors, and superintendents of Kentucky school systems.

Attending the conference from Floyd county was Otis D. Spurlock, supervisor of Floyd county schools.

The tot probably suffered a skull fracture, but his condition was much improved this afternoon.

Why Must Our People Leave Home To Get Jobs?

We have two of the richest valleys in the U. S. right here in the Big Sandy and Kentucky River sections. Yet thousands of our people have had to leave here and go to Michigan, Indiana and Ohio to get work. Why? We must attract factories to Eastern Kentucky if we expect to survive economically. How can we do this? The U.S. Government has loaned billions of dollars to build factories elsewhere, so why weren't any of these built in Eastern Kentucky, where there is such an abundance of good labor? Could it be that we haven't had representation in Washington? What happened to our canalization of the Big Sandy and Kentucky River programs that would have "boomed" our coal mining and would have brought lots of factories to the valley?

Let's wake up and send a man to Washington to represent us who WILL FIGHT to get our rivers canalized and bring factories to Eastern Kentucky to furnish jobs for our people.

That man is CURTIS CLARK, candidate for Congress. A FLOYD COUNTY MAN.

If you will work for me to be elected, I will work for you after I am elected.

Sometimes I jot down things here, and after they're printed I begin wondering if I hadn't said that before. Did I tell you of the Flying Dutchman of Dewey Lake?

Well, returning homeward up the lake, late at night recently, I saw him or it. Another boat, well-lighted, was anchored off the point opposite Big Branch and I cut inshore to avoid it. As I drew opposite the boat, there between me and the shore, went another boat, full speed, no light, the man at the motor hunched forward. Between caustic comments on a fool who would race around without lights in the dark, I slowed down to a walk, fearing a collision. Then I braced myself for his backwash. But I rounded the point without feeling any wave action or seeing the boat again.

Then, after several minutes' thought, it dawned on me what this apparition was. You've guessed it. Yes, it was the shadow of my boat cast by the light of the fishing boat I was passing.

FOR MEN—ABOUT BOYS
A woman who has taken a leading part locally in the Scout movement came the other day to inquire what could be done to get somebody interested enough to take on the duties of a Cubmaster. "We have a lot of youngsters here who want to be Cub Scouts," she said, "But I feel that a man can do this work best."

Naturally, I didn't know what to suggest. So she fished out of a well-loaded pocketbook a clipping. This piece is entitled, "What is a Boy?" and if it doesn't bring somebody around to do this Cubmaster job, which means so much to so many boys, we give up. It reads:

Between the innocence of babyhood and the dignity of manhood we find a delightful creature called a boy. Boys come in assorted sizes, weights and colors, but all boys have the same creed: To enjoy every second of every minute of every hour of every day and to protest with noise (their only weapon) when their last minute is finished and the adult males pack them off to bed at night.

Boys are found everywhere—on top of, underneath, inside of, climbing around, or jumping to. Mothers love them, adults ignore them, and Heaven protects them. A boy is truth with dirt on his face. Beauty with a cut on his finger. Wisdom with bubble gum in his hair, and the hope of the future with a frog in his pockets.

When you are busy, a boy is an inconsiderate, bothersome, intruding jangle of noise. When you want him to make a good impression, his brain turns to jelly or else he becomes a savage, sadistic, jungle creature bent on destroying the world and himself with it.

A boy is a composite—he has the appetite of a horse, the digestion of a sword swallower, the energy of a pocket-size atomic bomb, the curiosity of a cat, the lungs of a dictator, the imagination of Paul Bunyan, the shyness of a violet, the audacity of a steel trap, the enthusiasm of a fire cracker, and when he makes something he has five thumbs on each hand.

He likes ice cream, knives, saws, Christmas comic books, the boy across the street, woods, water, (in its natural habitat), large animals, Dad, trains, Saturday mornings and fire engines. He is not much for Sunday School, company, books without pictures, music lessons, neckties, barbers, girls, overcoats, adults or bedtime.

Nobody else is so early to rise, or so late to supper. Nobody else can get so much fun out of trees, dogs and breezes. Nobody else can cram into one pocket a rusty knife, a half-eaten apple, 3 feet of string, an empty Bull Durham sack, 2 gum drops, 6 cents, a sling shot, a chunk of unknown substance, and a genuine super-sonic code ring with a secret compartment.

A boy is a magical creature—you can lock him out of your work shop, but you can't lock him out of your heart. You can get him out of your study, but you can't get him out of your mind. Might as well give up—he is your captor, your jailor, your boss, and your master—a freckled-face, pint-sized, cat-chasing bundle of noise. But when you come home at night with only the shattered pieces of your hopes and dreams, he can mend them like new with the two magic words—"Hi, Dad."

Girl Scout Dist. Board In Meeting Last Week

The Prestonsburg district board of Girl Scouts held a meeting at the Prestonsburg church here, Thursday, Sept. 25.

Sue May was elected secretary treasurer of the district and Narcie Burchett, board member-at-large. New troop leaders reported at the meeting and advised of progress but said there was still a shortage of committee members that are filled by mothers of Girl Scouts.

Among various things discussed and reported at the meeting were that Girl Scouts would act as voter aids at the coming election and the Rally Day to be held at Wheelwright, Oct. 11. It was said that each troop will be responsible for its own transportation, all girls to have written permission and a number of mothers should go to assist the scouts.

The scouts will participate in a number of competitive skills and games that to be judged on the point system. A prize is offered for the troop having the highest percentage of representatives.

"Senior Girl Scouts", Mrs. Ray Howard said "will be asked to help conduct the days' activities. This is a grand opportunity for Girl Scouts in making new friends".

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Floyd County Times:

Mud-slinging in the national political campaign is reaching its climax in severity. Religious principles are excluded, moral standards are ignored. Slander, defamation, warnings, false promises, threats—these are familiar words in the political lexicon.

Leaders in each major party are resorting to transgressions, because to defame one's character by accusation of dishonesty and slander transgresses the moral code—God's commandments. They seem to be dissected from the maxim of moral order, conducting a political campaign on a non-spiritual basis. A scandalous anomaly evolves around those who pay lip service to their Creator but exclude Him in their daily lives.

The Republicans, in magniloquent, bombastic voices, are attacking the New and Fair Deals with venomous virulence. The Democrats blame the Hoover depression on Republican do-nothingness, and warning if they get executive control a greater one will ensue. This vituperation will not cease until after the election.

Some politicians claim that in politics "anything goes." They are grossly wrong in this respect. Those who subscribe to this belief do not feel a personal obligation to the voter, and are minus that sense of public trust which is so essential to an office holder, and which gives dignity to political life. In politics, as in all things else, moral ethics should not be excluded.

way, so I dumped the remainder. JULY (day of month not stated).—Yesterday I hiked back into the muskeg about four miles. It is real weird, and the fishing is out of this world. I stopped at a small ripple about four feet wide and caught eight 15-inch cutthroat. I didn't see any bear, but there were lots of tracks.

JULY 20.—Today was beautiful; not a cloud anywhere. I watched an osprey dive into the bay and catch fish. He came up with one and when he was about a hundred feet above the water a bald eagle came darting at the osprey. Being smaller, the osprey dropped the fish and fled. Then the eagle caught the fish before it had dropped to the water again. I shot two seals. Both bubbled and sank before I could get them.

JULY 25.—I have been moved to a new location on the north shore of the Bradford Canal, also near the Harding river. There are a few people in this area; two fish biologists and another stream guard about seven miles away, and an old hermit 70 years old. He traps in the winter and seal hunts. I am on an island again, so I'll escape the grizzly worries. You should see the paths they have worn around the edge of the bays. If you have ever heard the expression, "Crazy as a loon," and could hear some of their cries, you would understand what it means. I have never heard such moans, cries and screams. You just take it for granted no one is dying.

(The old hermit happened to be a Kentuckian, Hill wrote later, and was something of a character, it seems.)

JULY 31.—The old Kentucky hermit down the way has quite a library and he keeps me well-stocked in reading matter. Even though it's old, it's good. I sure feel sorry for this old-timer. He is 70 but quite frisky and deaf. In true Kentucky fashion he made me take a quart of his best huckleberry wine, and he is always talking about his dead partner and the wolves. I guess I'll keep the wine for a souvenir.

AUG. 3.—I saw a grizzly with her three nearly grown cubs yesterday. Haven't seen the oldtimer any more. I am going to make one more trip down to get some pictures of him before I leave. He said he was going back to Kentucky if he made any money prospecting. Wish I had a motion picture camera. I could have some fabulous wildlife and fish shots.

AUG. 8.—I have been moved to another location to the west of Wrangell. It is on the south shore of a big island. The bay is Totem Bay. It has two streams, both of which have dog salmon. I watched from the bridge of a commercial fishing boat while they made a haul. It was very interesting; took about 45 minutes and they got 125 dog salmon. I can hear the honkers going over. They fly back and forth from their nests to a bar where they get grit each morning and night.

AUG. 14.—The salmon run is very poor this year as compared to past years. I didn't get a picture of the oldtimer. He was from around Danville. He doesn't need any books—you should see his library. I have quit fishing except for food. Last time I went, I lost a lure in a chum salmon. He gave me a battle for a few seconds before breaking the line. Probably weighed 12 pounds. Four ravens are in the trees above me. Really a weird bird.

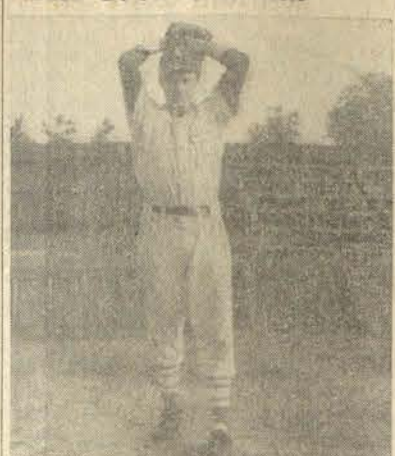

AUG. 16.—I have seen more bear here than elsewhere, but they are all blacks. Tried all day yesterday to get a seal, but didn't. I found two herds numbering about 10 each. I rowed too close before shooting. They lie out on the rocks islands and when they see something they wriggle into the sea. I found out that there is another hermit, about 80, who lives five miles further up the Bradford. He isn't too friendly, though, because he thinks everyone is the Hammers, a family in Wrangell, who shot his dog.

AUG. 22.—Had one heck of a storm last Saturday night. Wind and rain. Breakers on the bay filled the boat half full. Tried to move the boat up on the beach. It filled with water and gravel to the extent I couldn't move it. So the only thing I could do was stand by and keep a tight line while the tide brought it in, which took about four hours. One boy left his stream unguarded while he took a little vacation in some village. I learned yesterday that the stream was robbed of 18,000 salmon during this two-day period. I have been making a slingshot this morning. brings back old memories.

AUG. 25.—I have caught (mashed) 15 mice in my deadfall trap. I used one of those Figure 4 triggers. I don't remember who showed me how to make it, but it was some one like Dan Collins or Jailer Halbert who used to buy me pop. (The fishing was great and the scenery beautiful. But...)

SEPT. 1.—The Black Bear came to Totem Bay to pick me up yesterday and I am now in Wrangell. It is great to hear music again. Today I heard a car horn—what a wonderful sound!

Hinchman Booked For Oakland Team After 1952 Stardom

"Lefty" Joe Hinchman, former Drift mound ace, is on his way up the baseball ladder, news that he has been sold by the Albuquerque team of the West Texas-New Mexico league to Oakland of the Pacific Coast loop would indicate.

Folks down Texas-way are betting the husky Tram portside makes the big jump from Class D to AAA ball without undue trouble, difficult as the feat is. They are recalling his mound work during the past season for Albuquerque Dukes with whom he posted a 16-12 won-lost record and made the league's all-star team.

A curve-ball specialist with good control, Hinchman won seven games in a row in one stretch of mound work returned in close to a league record by hurling 33 innings before yielding an earned run.

His first professional baseball experience was in 1951 when he signed with the Enterprise, Ala., team of the Alabama-Florida league. There he pitched 11 victories while losing the same number for a last place team. His effectiveness was such, however, that he made the all-star team of that loop, also.

Hinchman, who is looking on as Floyd county's best bit for major league representation, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Hinchman, of Tram.

Prestonsburg high school remained this week one of the two Kentucky high school teams whose goals are uncrossed for the current football campaign, but if they are to maintain this superlative record after Friday night they will have to be at their peak defensively, was the view taken here this week as they prepared to tackle the undefeated Jenkins high school team here.

Jenkins' record is not spotless, having been forced to settle with Paintsville's Tigers for a 13-13 tie, but that team has won all its other games this year.

At Elkhorn City last Friday evening the Black Cats had easy sailing in scoring a 11-0 victory, but at that the losers reached the Cats' one-yard line late in the game against slugs. Coach Doc Ferrell had to rush back into the fray his regulars to stem the threat.

Delmer Hughes was the big gun of the offensive at Elkhorn City. The Prestonsburg quarterback threw four touchdown passes and scored two markers himself on runs. Johnny Hill caught two of his tosses for touchdowns, Paul Ousley and D. Caudill one each. Longest touchdown scored by the Cats was by Shepherd on a run.

The entire Prestonsburg team looked good against comparatively weak opposition, but the improvement of "Big Tom" Spradlin in the line was most marked.

After Friday night's game with Jenkins, the Cats are hosts to the Pikeville Panthers on the following Friday evening for Homecoming.

Eight Floyd Countians Report for Basketball At Pikeville Jr. College

Pikeville, Ky., Sept. 29 (Sp.)—Eight Floyd county high school athletes are among the 22 men who reported for opening basketball practice at Pikeville Junior College last week, according to Coach Walter Hambrick, of the Pikeville Bears.

Coyet Bolen, of Garrett, and Paul Hager, of Auxier, are two of the five lettermen from last year around whom Hambrick will build the 1952-1953 Bear squad. The other second-year men are Wendell Wallen, of Williamsport, John Williams and Doug Hinkle, both of Inez.

The Floyd countians who are out for their first college basketball experience include three former members of the Betsy Layne Bobcats, Benny Joe Fannin, Jack Hopkins and Tommy May; Richard Lyons and Darrell Rice, of the Garrett Black Devils; Earl G. Branham, of the Wayland Wasps; Douglas C. Jones, of the McDowell Daredevils, and Bob Taylor, of the Martin Purple Flash.

The group includes nine prospects for forward posts, two centers and 11 guards, Hambrick said. Other first-year men represent Carr Creek, Inez, Pikeville, Wolfe County and Williamson, W. Va., high schools and Pikeville College Academy.

The Bears will open their season against the Mayo State Vocational School Pirates here Nov. 17, it was said. Remainder of their schedule will be announced later.

Harold Woman Hurt
As One Is Killed,
Four Others Injured

Bobby Blackburn, 19, of Peach Orchard section of Pikeville, waived extradition Tuesday and was returned to Pike county from Princeton, W. Va. in connection with the hit-and-run death of Mrs. Alice Boggs, 47, of Pikeville, and injuring of others including a resident of Harold, this county.

Blackburn who was apprehended Monday at Princeton was returned here on two warrants by Trooper Bob Snapp of the Kentucky State Police and City Police Chief Buford Johnson. Princeton officers arrested him on a tip from Snapp.

The youth, employed by a coal operator, is "charged with manslaughter and failure to stop and render aid after an accident, officers said. Date of an examining trial probably will be announced today. Blackburn at present is held without bond.

Mrs. Boggs, one of six persons struck by a vehicle Friday-night on the Ferguson Creek road about a quarter of a mile east of Pikeville, died Saturday at the Pikeville Methodist hospital.

Two other victims of the accident were in improved condition last night at the hospital. They are Mrs. Boggs' son, Eugene, 19, of Pikeville, and Mrs. Emily Gibson, 65, of Harold. Three other persons who were injured in the mishap were treated and released from the hospital. The injured were walking along the road when struck by a car.

County Attorney L. D. May said additional charges against Blackburn will be determined by the recovery of the hospitalized persons.

PLANT VISITS TO BE MADE

By 50 Representatives
Of Eastern Kentucky
Seeking New Business

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 26 (Sp.)—How to develop and locate industry in Eastern Kentucky—that is the concern of businessmen and civic officials of the state's eastern corridor. Fifty representatives of that area will make a close study of this problem when they visit plants in the Central Kentucky area on October 8 and 9.

Known as the Kentucky Industrial Development Tour, this program was developed by the Industrial Development Committee of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce, which recognizes the need for a stimulus to Eastern Kentucky's unbalanced economy. Acquainting leaders in those communities desiring new industry with the methods and responsibilities attendant to locating industrial plants in the community is set forth as the purpose of this tour by KCC President David F. Cocks, Louisville.

The tour, under the direction of Joseph A. Getzow, Harrodsburg, president of Sportleigh Hall, Inc., and regional vice-president of the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce, will visit seven plants in the Bluegrass area. "We have selected plants which produce a variety of products," Getzow said. "The Eastern Kentucky representatives will have an opportunity to observe operations in plants making apparel, shoes, rubber parts, light bulbs, pencils, refrigerator parts, and radiators. We feel that any of these manufacturing operations that we will visit could effectively operate and be welcome additions to an Eastern Kentucky community."

The tour will leave Lexington at 8 a.m. Wednesday, Oct. 8 for Lebanon where the group will visit the Lebanon Manufacturing Company, producers of ladies' wearing apparel. From there the tour will head for Danville and a visit to the General Shoe Corp. The Berea Rubber Co., Berea, and Westinghouse Electric Corp., Richmond, are scheduled for afternoon tours. On the morning of the second day the group will be conducted through Mallard Pencil Co., Georgetown, and the Kawneer Co., plant at Cynthiana, which manufactures parts and metal fabrications for government sub-contracts. The last plant on the tour's itinerary is that of the Electric Steam Radiator Corp., Paris, which manufactures radiators, electric bottle warmers, and similar heating apparatus.

"We are interested in helping those people who desire help," Getzow said, explaining that a tour of the plant facilities is but a small part of the program outlined by the Kentucky Chamber. "We want the business and development leaders of Eastern Kentucky to talk with the top management of these plants so that they might gather first-hand information on what an industry looks for in a community in which it would like to locate and operate a plant."

"Of equal importance," Getzow continued, "is the opportunity these leaders will have to discuss what a community must do to prepare for industry. The men who can best give them this information are the business and civic leaders of the communities who have successfully located industry." Time has been allotted each city on the tour for these discussions.

State Chamber officials indicate that the two-day trek will be made by chartered bus. R. M. Watt, Lexington, president of the Kentucky Utilities Company, is chairman of the State Chamber's Industrial Development Committee, under whose direct supervision the tour is being conducted.

TO THE PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY:

Prestonsburg, Ky.,
Sept. 24, 1952

John E. Campbell, of Garrett, Ky., Dr. W. D. Osborne, of Bypro, Ky., and John M. Stumbo, Jr., of Harold, Ky., are candidates for members of the Floyd County Board of Education at the general election to be held on November 4th. Mr. Campbell and Dr. Osborne are now members of the Board of Education and have conscientiously and diligently performed their duties as such members. They are committed to the present school program of this county which is just now beginning, and are promising the voters of Floyd county that the school system of this county will be carried on in an efficient way and without political consideration. The same assurance and promise has been given the people by Mr. Stumbo. It is my intention as Superintendent to so operate the school system so as to make it entirely free from politics, and these three men are in full accord with this program and this determination. They are actively supporting the program which I have just started, and while I have the highest respect for their opponents, I feel it is my duty, as Superintendent, to let all the people know that John E. Campbell, Dr. W. D. Osborne and John M. Stumbo, are behind me in my efforts to so operate the schools of Floyd county without any political consideration. For that reason, I have given them my unqualified support.

WOMAN'S CLUB NOTES

The Lackey-Garrett Woman's Club met in the home of Mrs. Gorman Collins, with Mrs. D. C. Baldwin, co-hostess, Thursday evening, Sept. 25, for the first program meeting of the new club year. Mrs. Willard Castle, recording secretary, assumed charge of the meeting in the absence of both the president and vice-president. The flag salute was repeated in unison. Mrs. J. C. Wells read the Club Collect. The program topic, "American History and Our Political Heritage," was presented by Mrs. Castle, program leader, who reviewed several articles which emphasized the political and cultural progress in the one hundred seventy years of our national existence. Mrs. Castle compared the vast difference in America's interest in exercising the power to vote with other democratic nations of the world. Surprisingly, America ranked at the bottom of the list. "Groups from all walks of life should stimulate discussions of the principles that made America great," said Mrs. Castle.

The GFWC is urging its five million clubwomen to aid in getting out the vote in November. Each member is responsible for seeing that 10 persons get to the polls.

During the brief business session it was decided that the committee on Community Health and Welfare investigate the needs of several persons in the Garrett-Wayland area, and make a detailed report at the next meeting.

Those who make up this committee are Mesdames S. C. Berkeley and J. C. Wells, of Wayland, and Mesdames C. B. Ison and Felix Coburn, of Garrett.

A dessert course was served to 16 members and a guest, Mrs. Gordon Collins.

Next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Willard Castle with Miss Thelma Daniels, co-hostess, Oct. 9.

SONG OF MEMORY FOR MOTHER

Go bury me above the beeches,
Up on the old lonesome hill.
There I will be a-sleeping
For the love of Blaine, Bert and Bill.

There I have worried and wondered
With hope that can't be filled.
The love of my three sons in the army
Is Blaine and Bert and Will.

Go bury me above the beeches,
Up on the old lonesome hill.
There is where we all have worked together
With our blessed Lord's will.

Go bury me above the beeches,
Up on the old lonesome hill.
There is where I will be sleeping
Over the loss of Blaine, Bert and Will.

I have planned and worked to raise my boys
By the blessed Lord's good will.
There we all built our home at the foot
Of the old, lonesome hill.

Go bury me above the old beech tree,
For that is where I'll be sleeping
Over the loss of my sons and liberty.

I will go to the spot up on the old, lonesome hill.
I get down on my poor knees,
I will hold my prayers with the love and hope
For my three sons, Blaine, Bert and
Will.

Please trust the Lord and don't forget to pray.
For it will help you do your part in the good, old U.S.A.

Go bury me above the beeches,
Beneath Blaine, Bert and Will.
For there is where we were happy and gay,
At the foot of the old, lonesome
hill.

Perkins Deserves Our Support

May we, first of all, assure the public that we are Democrats with all our traditional loyalties, firm in our belief that ours is the party of the people and that, year in and year out, generation after generation, the principles and works of the Democratic party justify our loyalty to it.

If we were inclined to be disloyal—and we certainly are not so inclined—we would not go all the way. We still would give our full support to Carl D. Perkins in his race for re-election to Congress, and we have strong reasons for our loyalty to him.

1. Carl Perkins remains plain Carl Perkins, at home or in the nation's capital—still the country boy who lives plainly and who believes in honesty and hard work.

2. The reputation of Drew Pearson, Washington columnist, for being exacting of public servants and probing into their weaknesses is known by most of you. This same Drew Pearson has stated that Carl Perkins is one of the hardest workers in the Congress.

3. Congressman Perkins has led the fight for federal aid to education and is recognized by educators over the country as the steadfast, militant friend upon whom the schools, their teachers and pupils can depend in Congress. Mrs. Perkins herself is a teacher in the District of Columbia schools.

4. He has been the staunch friend of veterans. He himself is one—a veteran of World War II.

5. His friendship for the men and women who earn their livelihood by the work of their own hands is known by all and hated by some.

6. Regardless of the social class you represent, Carl Perkins knows you, understands your problems, and when you call on him for service in any worthwhile cause, he does not refer you elsewhere, nor does he wait till next week or next month. He attends to the matter himself—and at once. Many thousands of his grateful constituents know this to be true.

We do not presume to present Congressman Perkins as the solution to your every problem or the answer to your every need. He has not always succeeded in his efforts in our behalf, but when present emergencies pass and leave the way open once again for such improvements he will be leading the fight which again will be waged and some day won.

Some of our less loyal friends have suggested that a change would help. We had a change, a few years ago. A Republican Congressman was elected from this district. What did he do for you? Was that change a monumental success? The answer lies in the fact that he lasted only one term.

Could a change to an inexperienced man be a success now? Floyd county has on several occasions elected Republicans. Were those changes successful? We ask you.

Some of our less loyal friends have even suggested that our Congressman has something to do with the present Public Assistance law in Kentucky. They attack this law because of the lien—not the deed, as reported—which is required on land owned by recipients. Whatever the merits or faults of the law, let's get the record straight.

Your Congressman has nothing to do with it. That is a state law, not a federal law.

Carl Perkins is our friend. He has gained in experience and political sature while serving us. So it is that he will in the future be able to serve us better than ever before. Without rancor in any degree toward the young man who opposes him, we urge you to support Congressman Perkins at the polls, November 4.

LOYAL DEMOCRATS FOR PERKINS

(Pol. Adv.)

GAY NINETIES OR PRESENT PROSPERITY

An Address delivered recently by Wm. Meade of Weebury to a Democratic organization meeting.

Mr. Chairman:

Ladies and Gentlemen, I wish at this time, to try to answer some of the things of the Republican platform, in this presidential campaign. I notice Mr. Ike says "give free government back to the people." Lets take a look at what he means by that statement.

Back in the "Gay ninties," called so because before the days of radio, the only means of communication were through the press and capitalist owned the press. They also owned all money in circulation. The laboring class of people worked for capitalist for any where from fifty cents, to one dollar per day, meaning from day-light until dark. While the laboring class were working for that wage, going bare and half starving, the capitalist were giving big balls in New York, and Washington and various other places—having a wonderful time.

Ladies and gentlemen, I speak with authority on these things, because I have made inquiries of older people who knew about the "Gay ninties" and don't forget that was free-enterprise, under a Republican administration.

Today under a Democratic government, the United Mine Workers of America, have a contract calling for eighteen dollars and twenty-five cents, ($18.25) for eight hours work per day.

Now, dear friends, I am not pressing at these figures, they are exact, and since we have an article in our Constitution, that reads like this, "This government shall be, of the people," and since we know the people, by the people, and for the laboring class is in the majority, we have what we want, and we are going to keep what we want by electing the distinguished governor from Illinois President of the United States—Adlai Stephens.

Ladies and gentlemen, there is one other thing I would like to refer to before I close.

To the "Mess" in Washington. That Mr. Eisenhower repeatedly, refers makes me wonder, who was responsible for the mess in the bulge; where thousands of American soldiers lost their lives because of plain ignorance of those who were in charge of military operations, at the aforesaid time and place? Now I wonder if he can speak in terms of needless dead men. (Pol. advertisement)

And it still is, even when the pot calls the kettle black, as in the case of the recent exposures concerning public figures. Mr. Allen made a dandy good point in his editorial last week, and another is that we not lapse into the habit of saying, "Oh, well, they all do it, so what harm can there be?" It is not a question of who does it but rather of whether or not it is right or wrong.

One need only read an article in a copy of LOOK several weeks ago to see that our lawmakers have managed to take splendid care of themselves in recent years, via the taxpayers' pocketbook. Little remains that they can do for themselves for expenses, and extras. And then we wonder why taxes are so outrageous. We need only read what Lamar Caudle said about the strings attached to Washington cocktails to see why so much corruption exists in our capital city, long since called the modern Ninevah by the outstanding evangelist of this century.

It is not often that a new Christian is chosen to serve as the superintendent of a Sunday School, when more experienced men are available. But that happened to Brownie James, who is the superintendent of the First Baptist Church Sunday School in Martin, only five months after he professed Christ. Everyone rejoices in the choice and a successful year for this new believer, who has grown rapidly in the things that count.

And another good one turns over the reins to him—G. C. Sargeant—who has been most faithful for two years.

A friend remarked recently that she and her husband plan to send their kiddies to Pikeville to college and that they did wish it were a four-year college. She went further to state that we who reside in Eastern Kentucky should make it possible. We fully agree. We are not Presbyterian by any means, but we do believe it would be worthwhile to our section if religious and civic organizations would help make this school full-term. Many parents dread to see their children go so far that they see them seldom, for these are troublesome times, when countless youths are led astray.

The only thing the seventh-grader objected to about my reference to him last week was that his name was not included!

We stand corrected. Mr. Palmer L. Hall is not studying medicine, as reported by a very good friend of his. He is working for his Ph.D. degree in Education at U.K. Evidently the false report occurred when someone said he was attending school for his doctorate. We retract and apologize for the error, and know the acquaintance who furnished the information had been misinformed.

It is encouraging to note Mr. Turner states that he is selecting board members as candidates who want to get our schools out of politics. This situation has been inherited by each administration for years seemingly. Only those in power can deal a death-blow to the practice, which makes our children political pawns, innocent victims, the major sufferers, till the county has lost good teachers in the profession.

A cousin has been principal of the Stevenson school in Meridian, Miss., for years. They, too, have hot races and campaigns, but no one ever knows or cares how a teacher votes. We also have a brother-in-law who has been a principal in the largest county in the state for years. Once E. R. inquired how he manages to "keep in," since that county is less magnanimous than the Meridian schools. Brownie laughingly said, "When my side loses I always swap sides the day after election." The truth of the matter is that he is a well-known sportsman, whom the men want in the community, regardless of how he votes.

If you have not heard the David Youth Group sing you have a treat in store, for those boys and girls can really sing. There may be many who equal them but obviously few who surpass them.

TO MY FRIENDS, THE PEOPLE OF THE 5th EDUCATION DIVISION:

In a recent article submitted to The Times our County Superintendent while disavowing any political ties took it upon himself to, nevertheless, offer his unqualified support of my opponent. Does this gesture contain any political connection? If there is no politics in this move when are we to assume that Mr. Turner is completely satisfied with the present political policies that the members he is supporting, are following? Let us look over a few of these policies and see whether they are policies for our students' welfare and determine whether they are satisfactory or not:

According to Mr. Turner's article, as I see it, the County Board members are resolved to allow our schools to remain "run-down," continue to offer salaries to teachers that result in our having to accept "emergency teachers" year after year (never offering these teachers enough to make it possible for them to go back to school and finish their educational training.) And in spite of this emergency situation we do not have shop teachers at Garrett or Wayland. Teachers are paid after they have worked their full month, gotten their monthly reports in and after: THE COUNTY BOARD MEETS ON THE FIRST TUESDAY, or some other day they choose, IN THE FOLLOWING month. In addition to this practice the teachers are not given their checks. Instead the present practice is to deposit their checks in some bank because it is feared the teacher will keep their checks and not cash them in a hurry. This supposition is that the teachers get enough to live on from month to month when everybody knows THEY DO NOT. Some schools have dire cases of fire hazards that remain in the same condition year after year and as far as I can ascertain they are going to remain that way until the people raise their voices and demand improvements. Seldom, if ever, do the County Board members take it upon themselves to visit our schools and survey the needs that are so sorely needed. These neglects have been "conscientiously and diligently" performed by the members that Mr. Turner has extended his unqualified support to.

Personally, I have no quarrel with any member of the present administration. I have nevertheless, decided to seek a position on the School Board because I am willing to set down in black and white the things I will truly work for, and for which I shall pursue relentlessly because the people want their children, and I want my children, to have the things that they are entitled to, and for which we are paying our taxes.

It is time for all of us to cease talking in generalities and get down to the job at hand. Year after year we hear of the needs and the improvements that are coming but with each passing year the conditions remain as they are. We have said, "Someday we shall have better schools and finer citizens." If that day is to come it should be soon and now.

1. I shall offer as my Platform the following proposals:
 1. County Board meetings open to the public.
 2. School buildings in A-1 condition.
 3. Teachers' pay according to that prescribed by leading educational leaders.
 4. Teachers paid upon completion of their school month and by check to the teachers themselves.
 5. Immediate erection of fire escapes wherever they are needed.
 6. School bus schedules that will get the children to and from school quickly and safely.
 7. Cooperative planning for the creation of a centralized vocational center to which we can send our youth that usually drop out of school before they have received their diplomas. Many of our young people are unable to go on to college and need to learn some trade that will enable them to make a living after they leave school and are ready to begin their life's work.
 8. Promote better health and safeguards in our schools.

Furthermore, I shall seek information from you, the voters, on what you think our schools need and together we can gain all the objectives that can only be gotten through sincerity and determined efforts.

I am happy to say to you that I owe no one anything for support in this attempt to put myself in the services of the people of Floyd county. I have a son in the public schools and would have him, together with your children, get the fullest measure of our combined efforts to prepare our youth for the future that lies before them.

YOU CAN BE SURE THAT a vote for me is a vote for the future of all the children in our county.

BETSY LAYNE

The Betsy Layne Woman's Club held its regular monthly meeting Thursday night, Sept. 18, at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Prichard. Mrs. Beecher Hardwick, program leader, had her program scheduled in the Fine Arts department, Music division. Mrs. Hardwick presented the guest artists of the Evening, Mrs. Edith Fitzpatrick James, speaker and accompanist, and Miss Laura Virginia Roberts, soloist.

Mrs. James first discussed the history and meaning of folk music and brought out the fact that folk songs are handed down orally. Miss Roberts was joined by Mrs. James in singing a typical western song, "Home on the Range," with the group joining in the chorus. Stephen Foster's folk songs were illustrated by "Beautiful Dreamer," sung by Miss Roberts, accompanied by Mrs. James. Mrs. James next pointed out that our own Kentucky mountain music is pure Elizabethan balladry and this was illustrated by the presentation of the following numbers: "Oh, Brother, Will You Meet Me There," "Wayfaring Stranger," "Down in the Valley" and "Lonesome Valley." The club members expressed their appreciation for such an outstanding program.

Mrs. Hardwick presided at the short business session. It was voted to resume the weekly sewing meetings for the purpose of raising funds for the clubs various projects for the new club year.

At the close of the business session a salad course was served to the following: Mesdames C. H. Dickerson, W. P. Howell, Beecher Hardwick, Edward Lykins, Alex Davis, T. J. Chandler, Jesse Elliott, Glenn Blackburn, R. L. Anderson; guests, Mrs. James and Miss Roberts, of Prestonsburg; Mrs. J. C. Dickerson, Salt Lick, Ky.; Mrs. Ed Cecil, Harold, and the hostess, Mrs. Prichard.

The next regular monthly meeting will be Thursday night, Oct. 16, at the home of Mrs. Albert Greenwald, Betsy Layne.
