This Town-- That World

SUGGESTION FOR JULY 4TH

Citizens of Prestonsburg and other Floyd county towns which have no Fourth of July programs planned should join the people of Martin and Garrett in their celebration of the Fourth. The arguments of some people to the contrary, we are all Floyd countrymen. Friendly visiting and better acquaintance will do more to wipe out the utter folly of dissension and petty jealousy than any other thing we can do.

HOW TO KEEP COOL

The weather is so hot that, other means of relief failing, you might try literary cliches such as these to put yourself in the right frame of mind: "Her glance chilled him" "they received a cool reception" "her icy stare congealed his blood" "he froze in his tracks" "her presence was like a breath of cold air off a far mountain peak" and so on.

If that doesn't do any good, I suggest you trot out the old uke and to your own accompaniment begin yodeling. "Take them cold, icy fingers offa me".

INVITATION FROM THE FARM

This is the time of year when city-folks ship the children off to relatives out in the country. We heard of a guy building up a pretty good business selling a form letter to country cousins to mail to their urban kin, just to forestall such visitation. It ran something like this:

"Dear Maggie and John: I know those six darlings of yours must be stifling in that city heat. You should let them come, stay with us the remainder of the summer.

1953 BUDGET UP BY $7,000

Debt Service Fund Up, Roads Spending Reduced by $23,500

Floyd county's budget for the new fiscal year which began Wednesday provides for the expenditure of $214,908 as compared with the $207,919 actually spent during the fiscal year just ended.

Heaviest increases of expenditures on individual items will be on debt service. The budget, which has been approved by W. W. Magill, state finance officer, and which received the fiscal court's O. K. at Tuesday's meeting, provides for payment of $27,000 on debt service from the general fund, as compared with $18,000 last year, and $36,600 to be spent on road and bridge fund debt service, on which $16,150 was spent during the preceding fiscal year.

The biggest cut in expenditures was on highways, with $59,300 budgeted for that purpose. Last year actual road expenditures totaled $82,800.

Other items in the budget for the new fiscal year:

General government, $60,340; protection to person and property, $14,800; health and sanitation, $7,700; hospitals, charities and corrections, $8,500; libraries and other educational activities, $2,450; miscellaneous, $915—all this from the general fund; forestry, $2,300.

PER CAPITA, POPULATION DROP COSTS

Rate Down 30 Cents, Floyd Loses $26,266; 15 Counties Are Hit

For the school year which began Wednesday the per capita support of education by the state will be $38.10 per child, 30 cents less than last year's rate, it was announced in Frankfort.

Reason for the drop is that there are more school-age children this year than last. The total amount to be distributed will be the same.

But Floyd county, which lost a school population of 573, will receive $26,266 less than last year from this fund, which is for teachers' salaries and for no other purpose. Last year's $38.40 rate was an all-time high. The independent Prestonsburg district had a school population gain of eight, which will result in the district receiving $136.60 more in per capita funds this year than last. The total per capita fund for Prestonsburg, City Superintendent Chalmers Frazier said, will be $32,346.90.

Fifteen county school districts, including many of the coal-mining areas, will lose $10,000 or more in per capita aid because of heavy population losses.

In addition to Floyd, these counties and their losses are: Harlan $37,189, Letcher $36,907, Pike $26,513, Perry $20,975, Muhlenberg $20,564, Bell $20,312, Knox $18,994, Lincoln $15,008, Adair $14,437, McCreary $13,523, Johnson $12,282, Breathitt $12,042, Knott $10,643, and Christian $10,356.

Losses in school-age populations in these counties was: Adair 342, Bell 465, Breathitt 268, Christian 234, Harlan 830, Johnson 281, Knott 227, Knox 441, Letcher 889, Lincoln 358, McCreary 316, Muhlenberg 435, Perry 458, and Pike 509.

The $38.11 per capita was announced by Wendell P. Butler, superintendent of public instruction. Butler remarked that in one school district (Murray) the money would amount to $42.32 per child actually attending public schools, while in another district (Beechwood) it would amount to $132.42 per child actually in school.

(Murray, with 1,148 children between 6 and 18, had 1,034 or 90 percent of these children in average daily attendance last year. Beechwood, in Kenton county, has 841 census children, but fewer than a third, 242, are in average daily attendance.)

Butler emphasized that Kentucky voters in November "will have the opportunity and responsibility of changing this inequitable method of

OUSTER SUIT FILING ASKED

Attorney General Asks Combs To Seek Ouster Of Three in Martin-Co.

C. Kilmer Combs, Prestonsburg attorney, was authorized last week to file ouster proceedings against two members of the Martin county Board of Education on the grounds they were illegally appointed. He was directed by Attorney General J. D. Buckman to file the suit in the Attorney General's name against Mrs. Howard Preece and Oscar Harmon.

The Attorney General's action was based on a request by Combs and affidavits filed by three school employees—Sheldon Clark, superintendent; Delbert Kirk, attendance officer, and George Blankenship.

The affidavits said Mrs. Preece and Harmon had been appointed in violation of Martin circuit court temporary order issued June 6. The order kept two board members, Earl Marcum and Walter Branham, from acting pending outcome of charges against them before the State Board of Education.

Mrs. Preece was appointed at a special board meeting June 6 to succeed her husband. Preece had been declared ineligible to serve February 6 by the Court of Appeals.

Harmon was appointed June 11 to fill out the unexpired term of Garland Wilson, who resigned that day.

Formal charges of neglect of duty and misconduct were filed with the State Board of Education in May by Clark against Marcum, Branham, and Preece.

Floyd Family to be Host To French Exchange Youth Who Will Study Methods

A French farm youth, Gene Lambert, will spend July 7-29 in the home and on the farm of Arnold Lowe of Maytown, it was stated this week by O. E. Boggs, county agent. Lambert is one of the hundreds of farm youths being exchanged between several countries for the purpose of developing international understanding by the International Farm Youth Exchange and conducted by the National 4-H Club Foundation.

The French lad will be treated as a member of the Lowe family, will take part in their work on the farm, and will be taught something of American agriculture. He will appear on WSAZ-TV, July 10, at 12 o'clock noon with the Lowe family. After completion of his stay on the Lowe farm he will leave for Johnson county where he will be billeted with another farm family.

TIME RUNNING OUT ON BOARD

In Work of Purgation; Independents To Lose Vote at Aug. Election

The Floyd County Purgation and Registration Board will return here July 11 for the last day of its preliminary work, but it has no hope of having time to challenge the upwards of 250 voter-registrants who have no party affiliation assigned them on the registration books.

The board will not challenge these unaffiliated voters, because the voters would not have time to appear and establish their party connection, it was pointed out. Many of those who have not been assigned a party affiliation are men who became of voting age while in military service and applied for absentee ballots. The application form used in such cases has no line for party affiliation. It was said.

In the 23 precincts whose voting lists were inspected by the purgation board this week and last, there were 144 such voters. The other 87 may uncover as many more. The voting lists for the other precincts had not been copied in time for inspection this week, it was explained. The status of these voters whose cards are marked neither Republican nor Democrat will be left to the discretion of the precinct election officers at the primary, it was indicated.

The board, however, has submitted to the County Clerk the names of 153 voters who changed their party affiliation since the last general election and has asked that their registration be suspended until the November election. This action was taken on advice of the Attorney General who pointed out that voters changing parties after a general election are not eligible to vote at the following primary.

Also to be suspended until after the primary are those voters registered as Independents. The purgation board has been advised that they do not have any regular party status and so are not eligible to primary participation. The board found 12 such registered in the 23 precincts inspected.

Names of 5,301 voters were listed for purgation by the board last January. This is about half those whose registration should be challenged, a member of the board said.

A determined effort to clear the registration records next year will make the work of succeeding boards easier, it was said. The present board is composed of German Vance, chairman, Eugene Allen and S. R. Hatcher.

J. D. Fitzpatrick Dies At Home Here Monday, Heart Attack Victim

Jonathan Fitzpatrick, retired foreman for the State Highway Department and former Floyd merchant, died at his apartment here at 8:30 p.m., Monday, victim of a heart attack. He was 69 years old.

Mr. Fitzpatrick had been ill during the last few weeks but the fatal seizure was unexpected. He died before medical aid could arrive.

Widely known in this section, he was a native of Middle Creek, the son of the late Isaac and Annie Shisher Fitzpatrick. At one time he was a merchant on Beaver Creek, but for the last several years had been connected with the Highway Department. He took an active part in Democratic politics in the county, and had many friends and relatives.

He was first married to Miss Nell Short, who preceded him in death several years ago. His second wife, Mrs. Mabel Gayheart, Fitzpatrick,

PERKINS ASKS AID FOR AREA

Proposals Gain Favor Of Secretary Durkin; Labor Surplus Cited

The plea of Congressman Carl D. Perkins for action to relieve the unemployment situation in the Prestonsburg-Pikeville areas was answered last week by Secretary of Labor Dürkin with a promise to see what he could do about two proposals submitted by the Congressman.

Perkins proposed: 1. Give the two areas a Group IV labor market rating as areas having a substantial labor surplus. This Group IV rating would give the areas certain advantages in bidding on government procurement contracts.

2. Push the Labor Department's proposal to the Administration that fast tax amortization be allowed new plants built in distressed areas such as this. The rapid tax write-offs are now permitted only to new defense plants. If extended to other types of plants, it would encourage new industry to go into distressed areas.

Congressman Perkins said he found Dürkin interested "and very sympathetic". Dürkin volunteered to forward to the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce the name of any company planning expansion.

The Prestonsburg labor area includes Floyd, Johnson, Knott, Magoffin and Martin counties. The Pikeville area is restricted only to Pike county because of its extensive area.

Perkins said his proposal, if adopted, would not be a cure-all but it could easily mean a few days more work for miners.

Painting a gloomy picture of conditions in this section, the Congressman told Dürkin that there are thousands of East Kentuckians "who are victims of economic developments entirely beyond their control," that unemployment had reached alarming proportions and many miners are working only one day a week.

"This," he said, "is a distressed area equal in size and proportion to a state the size of Vermont. This condition, in a country that boasts

Florence Weddington, 65, Victim of Heart Attack At Daughter's Home, Amba

Mrs. Florence Weddington, 65, of Amba, died at the home of a daughter, Mrs. May Hall, Galveston, at 3:30 p.m., Monday. Her death was attributed to a heart attack.

Surviving sons are Jeff, Millard and Kelsa Weddington, Wyandotte, Michigan and her daughter, Mrs. May Hall, Galveston.

Funeral rites were conducted, Wednesday, at the graveside in the Salsbury cemetery on Toler Creek, the Rev. William Green Blankenship, officiating. Burial was under the direction of Hall Bros. Funeral Home.

Feud-Leader Was 'Nice, Old Man' Rev. Parsons Says of His Friend

Seldom do men of the cloth grant that Devil Anse Hatfield had any virtues at all. Most ministers consign him to a place reserved for feudists and sinners in general. But not the Rev. Henry Parsons of Betsy Layne. Rev. Parsons was an employee of Devil Anse for six years, and in the evening of the old feudist's life, when the years had mellowed him, he came to the home of the minister and ate many a meal.

"He was a clever old man, big-hearted, but high-spirited," said the Rev. Parsons, and his wife added: "He was a real nice old man."

The minister went into the feud country in 1894 to get a job in a logging camp run by Devil Anse on Beech Creek in the present Mingo county. Feud guns were not blazing wildly at that time but an armed hunt blanketed the land. No Hatfield went about without his Winchester and side-arms. Fear was not so much for the McCoy's themselves as for Frank Phillips, the Pike county deputy sheriff that made it a common practice to dash across the Tug and kidnap a wanted Hatfield for the Kentucky authorities.

Parsons got a job from Anse's son Johns, cutting timber on the Right Hand Fork of Beech Creek. In about a week Devil Anse came into the camp and requisitioned four of John's men. He called the four he wanted together and addressed them

New Court Procedure Cuts Legal Red-Tape

A divorce action was the first filed in the Floyd circuit court Wednesday under the new, streamlined Kentucky rules of court procedure, and it will be well for the defendant to be on his or her toes. For, according to this new procedure, the defendant must file answer within 20 days after summons is served. Gone are the days when you had until the next term of court to file that answer.

As Joe Hobson, Prestonsburg attorney, was filing this No. 1 case under the new court procedure, Judge Lawrence S. Grauman, a member of the Kentucky Civil Code Committee which wrote the new rules, was in the Circuit Clerk's office, and he made this comment: "A good circuit judge can do a lot of good under the new rules, and a bad one could do a lot of harm."

This power of the circuit judge for good or evil arises from the fact that the new civil rules give the judge more leeway in striking through legal red-tape to get at the nub of the matter and reach a decision.

The pre-trial conference is a case in point.

In such conferences, a judge will have authority to cut through the various pleadings and denials, question lawyers to determine the real issues, then require lawyers to settle down to their actual differences.

With issues narrowed, the judge may guide the opposing lawyers to a settlement without need for a trial. He may arbitrate a dispute. If the difference boils down to a difference on amount of damage, he may by questioning determine how far apart they are, then use the influence of his office to bring them together.

Federal judges and some circuit judges acting on their own have used these conferences effectively. Judge Grauman said another step forward is a new rule known as requests for admissions. It works this way:

Suppose you live at Wheelwright and sue a former employer in Prestonsburg, saying you worked for him 50 days at $10 a day and he

GIRL KILLED, 2 TOTS HURT

Meeting of Auto, Sled Drawn by Mule Results In Tragedy on Mud Cr.

Two ages of transportation met on the highway at Teaberry late Friday afternoon, and as a result an 18-year-old Betty Collins was fatally injured and two children were seriously hurt.

The tragedy took place when an automobile driven by Cambridge Blanton, 30, swerved on the highway to miss a mule-drawn sled.

The car hit Randall Akers, 5, son of Vernon and Love Akers, knocked him over a low embankment, then the driver cut back to "Miss Vonda, Randall's sister, who had a two-year-old child in her arms. Missing then, the auto struck the Collins girl, then rammed into the home of Alvin Newsome, setting it back off its foundation pillars and knocking the porch of the home onto Daniel, four-year-old son of the Akerses.

The porch was piled from Daniel Akers, who suffered chest and other internal injuries. His brother Randall sustained severe facial injuries. Miss Collins died at 7 p.m., an hour after the wreck, at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, of a fractured skull. The injured children are at the Prestonsburg General hospital, where their condition is fair.

The auto was almost demolished. The driver suffered a scratched nose.

He was arrested and booked at the jail here on an involuntary manslaughter charge by Deputy

The action was taken in the hope that a new bond representative may be found which can effect sale of the $445,000 bond issue necessary for the construction of a county high school building here.

The board of education met Monday and called on the court to adopt resolutions to revoke the contract. This the court did by unanimous vote the following day. Under a contract signed July 5, 1950, the board and the court employed the Louisville firm as bond representative under these conditions:

1. The company to employ a recognized bond counsel who would prepare all resolutions, leases, mortgages and other instruments needed for the sale of the bond issue.

2. The bonds to be redeemable prior to maturity at a price agreed on by the county and state board of education.

3. The W. C. Thornburgh Company to be paid for its services $10 per $1,000 worth of bonds sold, or 1%, and the company to proceed with all reasonable promptness to sell the bonds.

The board of education "attempted," the court's resolutions recite,

Hamilton Home Razed By Fire During Storm; Lightning Is Blamed

Lightning was blame for the fire during last Saturday afternoon's storm which destroyed the home and household effects of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Hamilton, of Banner. The loss was placed at $8,000, and there was no insurance.

The family was at church when the blaze was discovered by Mrs. Conn, a neighbor. Only two dresses, a quilt and a pillow were saved. The home was a six-room structure.

Flight of the Hamiltons is made doubly difficult, it was said, by condition of Mr. Hamilton who suffered a broken back last year in a fall into a well at which he was working.

TOWNS PLAN 4TH PROGRAM

Martin and Garrett Set for Celebrations; Many To Close Here

Most Prestonsburg business houses will close up for July 4, and the Floyd county Independence Day attractions will be at Martin and Garrett. Both communities have planned all-day celebrations.

At Martin business men will give away $500 in cash prizes to their customers, and the celebration will include a fireworks display sponsored by John B. Reynolds American Legion Post, a parade with one or more bands, a baseball game and other features which will continue the program from 11 a.m. till 9 p.m. Twenty-one Martin business firms have joined in sponsoring the program.

George S. Owsley Post, American Legion, is sponsoring the Fourth celebration at Garrett. A donkey baseball game, fireworks, and various contests, including fiddling, races, a beauty contest and a contest to pin on some man the dubious honor of being the ugliest, will be held on the high school grounds. A television set will be given away there during the day, and the grand finale will be a square dance Saturday night at the high school auditorium.

HORNE LOSES BALLOT SPOT

Candidacy Is Voided By Circuit Court As He Fails To Appear

Walter Horne, the West Prestonsburg man whose candidacy for Sheriff on the Democratic ticket was attacked in a recent court action, Monday lost his place on the ballot.

He failed to appear for the hearing on an injunction motion, and also failed to answer the suit asking that his candidacy be voided. Circuit Judge Hill in granting an injunction preventing County Clerk DuRan Moore from listing Horne's name for printing on the official primary ballot, commented that there was no other action to be taken.

The West Prestonsburg man's candidacy was attacked by Jailer Guy Horn, who is a Democratic candidate for Sheriff, on the grounds that Walter Horne was a "dummy candidate" who had filed to hurt the chances of the Jailer.

He also alleged that Horne's declaration papers did not bear the names of two legal voters and that appearance of one name on these papers apparently was through forgery.

Mrs. Thelma Dye, Orkney, Dies in Martin Hospital; Burial in Hall Cemetery

Mrs. Thelma Mosley Dye, 20, Orkney, died Tuesday, 9 p.m., at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, one day after the birth of her infant son.

Mrs. Dye was a daughter of the late Clabe and Josephine Moon Mosley and was married to Kenia Dye, who survives.

Surviving are, besides the husband, two children, Josie Ann and an unnamed infant. A brother, J. C. Mosley, Orkney, and a sister, Mrs. Tina Jean Caudill, AshTabula, O., survive as does a half-brother, Hermon Moore of Price.

Funeral rites were conducted today (Thursday) at 10 a.m. at Greenberry Hall cemetery, East McDowell, the Revs. Woodrow Dye and Ed Mosley, officiating. Burial was under the direction of Hall Bros. Funeral Home.

JUDGE HANDS DOWN RULINGS IN FIVE CASES

Judge Grauman Plans To Remain Here Till Hearings Completed

Despite an effort by the Floyd County Good Government Taxpayers League to "swear him off the bench," Special Judge Lawrence S. Grauman, Louisville, remained here this week for the trial of Tax League cases against Floyd county officials and appeals filed in such cases.

It was indicated he would remain here until all cases he had been designated to hear had been disposed of.

These decisions he had handed down during the first two days of the week:

1. Upheld the appeal of Commonwealth's Attorney Burnis Martin from the Floyd fiscal court order of last March setting aside the $1,200-a-year salary supplement the court voted on Sept. 13, 1951. Judge Grauman ruled that the court may not reduce, increase or change the supplemental compensation it had voted the prosecutor.

2. Sustained the general demurrer of Burnis Martin to the suit filed on behalf of Floyd county against him to recover from him funds received as supplemental salary.

3. Dismissed the petition of the Taxpayers League against Tax Commissioner Clive Akers. This was the only original Tax League suit to come to trial during the first two days of the hearings.

4. Ruled that the fiscal court could not dismiss Alex L. Davidson as county detective. Davidson was appointed by the Commonwealth's Attorney, and the court last March 30 voted to discharge him. The fiscal court did not contest Davidson's appeal from that order when the case came up for hearing Monday.

5. Dismissed the Tax League's appeal from the fiscal court's settlement with County Attorney W. W. Burchett. The dismissal was made on motion of the appellant.

Appeals of the Tax League from fiscal court settlements with Sheriff A. B. Meade, Tax Commissioner Clive Akers and County Judge Henry Stumbo were decided Thursday, the court settlement being upheld in each case.

In the case of Gorman Collins, et al. vs. Clive Akers, et al. the plaintiffs did not appear in person or by counsel, the court noted in an opinion holding that the evidence fully sustains the answer filed by the defendants and that the county had the authority to appropriate and pay for the work which was done by various persons for the maps, records and charts in the Tax Commissioner's office.

Judge Grauman last April sustained pleas of abatement and dismissed the Tax League suits against Troy B. Sturgill, A. B. Meade and DuRan Moore. His opinion in these

MUD-CR. GIRL SHOOTS SELF

Viola Adkins, Galveston, Victim of Revolver Shot From a 'Worthless' Gun

Viola Adkins, 10, Galveston, dressed in her best clothes lay down on a bed at home and shot herself early this morning with a 38-revolver. The bullet passed completely through her body and the mattress of the bed. She died almost immediately it was said. James Carter, coroner, who held an inquest, found that she came to her death by a self-inflicted wound.

Frank Crum, deputy sheriff, who investigated, was told that the girl dressed in her regular clothes and went to a neighbor's home, planning to pick berries. While there she made excuses to return for something. Upon her arrival at home she re-dressed and shot herself. It was said the revolver was an old gun in such bad condition that it was considered worthless by the family.

She was a daughter of Andy and Vic Kenney Adkins, who survive. Surviving are the following brothers and sisters: Frank, in Ohio, Quentin, Galveston, Fed. Melvin, Mrs. Florence Newsome Teaberry, and Mrs. Mercy Hall, Galveston. A half-brother, Mosey Adkins and a half-sister, Laura Adkins, at home, survive.

Funeral rites will be conducted Friday, at 10 a.m. at home, the Revs. Bill Hall and Milford Adams, officiating. Burial will follow in the family cemetery under the direction of Carter and Callahan Funeral Home.

Rev. Henry Parsons, Betsy Layne, minister of the Church of Christ, who worked for Devil Anse Hatfield several years. He is shown sitting on the lawn at home.

SPECIALIST VISITS PRESTONSBURG

John S. Gardner, specialist in vegetables, University of Kentucky, was visiting County Agent O. E. Boggs here this weekend, planning "stratagem," as he expressed it.

"Here, everything is lovely. The hottest day we've had, it was only 86 in the shade. The electric line is out and we have no fan or refrigeration, but they assure us the power will be on again in time for hog-killing and use of our deep-freeze.

"Your darling youngsters can roam here as they will, and no worry about the dangers of traffic. We have fewer snakes this year than usual. Only two rattlers have ventured into our yard all year.

"Do let the children come. Aunt Sophronia is with us, but we will make room. We'll let her come, stay with you while the children enjoy country life with us.

"The United States now is counting its wheat in the billions of bushels, with little or no storage room left. This is a case of starvation in the midst of plenty.

SOIL CONSERVATION

By L. R. JOHNSON Soil Conservation Service Inspection of the thousands of multiflora plants set out by Floyd county farmers was made this week by Soil Conservation Service and fish and game organizations.

Graham Calhoun's swamp on Middle Creek that was reclaimed by tiling this spring is now, in the words of his wife, "a lettuce bed". Just shows what tiling will do in the reclamation of wet land.

Inspection of trees set out under the supervision of the Soil Conservation Service show good survival count and good growth.

Some farmers have done a good job of harvesting sericea and it is about time for the second cutting. It has been a good sericea year but if harvesting is delayed weeds will give plenty of trouble.

John S. Petot and Company, Certified Public Accountants, of Louisville, announce the removal of their Hazard, Kentucky office to Pikeville, Kentucky; to be located at 331 Main Street.

Resident staff will include: E. R. Fletcher, Accountant-in-Charge; and Harold Taylor Rogers, L. L. B., Tax Research Department.

1, July 1953

To the Voters of Floyd County: When you elect me Sheriff I shall continue the service to the schools and churches that they received during my tenure of office—not what I might do or promise to do, but what actually was done.

At all times my deputies or myself, when called upon, and on numerous occasions at our own discretion we were present at basketball games throughout the season to assist those in charge with traffic problems or to keep order. I had my deputies to be present when requested by the ministers and teachers all over the county when they deemed it necessary and requested it.

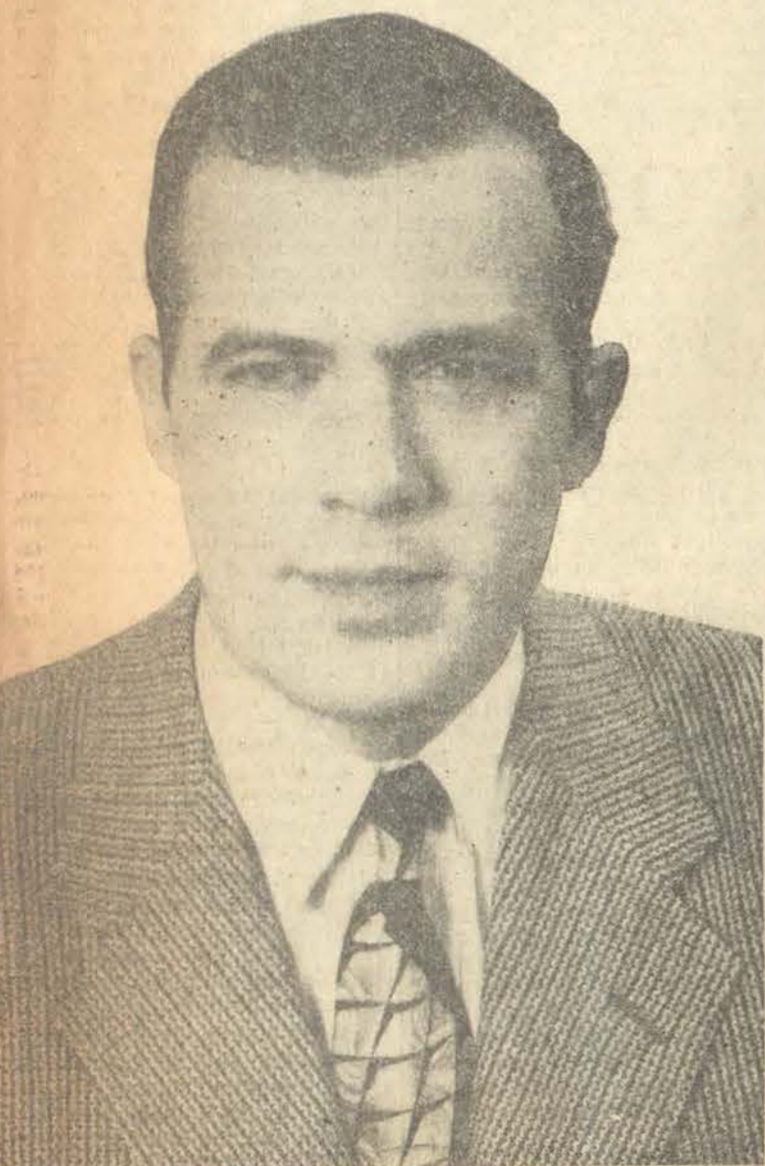

I cooperated and worked with the Truant Officers and the Board of Education at all times. We served hundreds of delinquent warrants for the Board of Education. This was at my own expense.

I never made a charge or received one penny for any of this work. I never charged Floyd county for serving any processes of any kind during my terms of office.

I shall ask the ministers of each magisterial district to select a deputy of their choice to assist me in having sober, fair, honest law enforcement, and these deputies I will place on a salary. I know selections of officers made by such men as our ministers will meet with the approval of the law-abiding citizens of this county.

HOLLIE CONLEY

For COUNTY ATTORNEY

This is to introduce to the voters of Floyd county, HOLLIE CONLEY as a Democratic Candidate for County Attorney. HOLLIE CONLEY was born and raised at Garrett, Kentucky. He is a graduate of Garrett High School.

Hollie Conley is the son of Willis and Mimia Coburn Conley, the grandson of J. M. (Morg) and Coon Coburn Conley, Andy and Victoria Gayheart Coburn. He is thereby related to the Coburns, Gayhearts, Neeleys, Pattons, Praters, Halberts, Mays, Chaffins, Manns, and many other early settlers of this county.

Hollie Conley's wife Minnie Martin is the daughter of Hoosh and Catherine Webb Martin, granddaughter of Squint and Evelyn Hall Martin and Jonah and Jimena Spencer Webb, great granddaughter of Capt. Bolen Bill Hall and Florence Jones Hall and is thereby related to Turners, Allens, Halberts, Mayos, Gearhearts, Hayes, Stones, Halls, Jones, Spradlins, Spencers, Porters, Cooleys, and many others.

Hollie Conley is making but one promise and that is that he will honestly and faithfully perform the duties of the office of County Attorney according to law.

We will always be grateful for any support that you can give him.

Yours for better government. WILLIS CONLEY HOOSH MARTIN (Pol. Adv.)

GOOD GOVERNMENT LEAGUE AND MR. TAXPAYER, DO YOU WANT TO SAVE AND PAY LESS TAXES?

Then stop the "fiddlin'" and vote for Fiddlin' Dewey Shepherd, the man who has no equal when it comes to economy; a man who can and will restore harmony among the "warriors" of the various political groups striving to conquer and devour each other by mere paper ammunition.

Rumors and reports from various sections lead us to believe a lot of "fiddlin' around" has been going on at the court house, but these are the fiddlers who have no ear for the one-gallus man who must toil by the sweat of his brow; this type of "fiddlers" is out of tune with the demands of the tax-payers, out of tune with all the people. Elect a real Fiddler who will get things back in tune and restore peace and good-will; a man who is in sympathy with the poor and humble.

I was born and reared on Open Fork of Middle Creek, am married and have eight children and have always had only the bare necessities of life; and, if elected your next Sheriff, I ask for no more from you Mr. Taxpayer. I want no riches, fine homes, city ham or fine automobiles and above all NO CONSTITUTIONAL LIMIT, as this amount is more than I could use if I had it. All I need, want or expect to receive as your next sheriff:

- 1. To serve the people of my county and make a record that will out-live me.
2. Sufficient table groceries for my family each year not to exceed $2,000.00; you can see we are not accustomed to fancy trimmings and "center cut steaks."
3. Clothing not to exceed $1,000.00 which is enough to include one good "Serge Sunday Suit" when I take prisoners to LaGrange.
4. Small sum of $17.50 estimated cost of fiddle strings and rosin, which is much better than paying for pistols and shells, as I believe a man never gets "too dangerous" to submit to music and good reason.
5. No commission for collecting school taxes. Our schools need every dime they can get and more too.
6. No deputies who carry big pistols to arrest an offender, as good treatment will command respect; if force must be used, then the Sheriff should take over.
7. Each community will be given the right to select its own deputy, whether my friend or enemy.
8. I pledge to and will turn over to the County Treasurer all funds coming into my hands over and above the amounts set out herein, which is calculated to save the Taxpayers of Floyd county the sum of $16,730.00 in four years.
9. I pledge my support to all those old pledges and slogans by all candidates that have not been fulfilled but renewed afresh every four years or any new ones that might become standard in this campaign which is for the betterment of the one-gallus man.
10. My habits, honesty and integrity, if challenged by either of my opponents, will be fully placed before the people for their decision.
If either of my opponents will pledge to save the taxpayers a like sum, I will withdraw from this race and support that candidate.

Your friend,

FIDDLIN' DEWEY SHEPHERD

owes you $500. He enters a general denial. Then, by mail, you demand that he admit certain facts: that you worked for him, that he paid you $10 a day, that he owes you for 50 days. Within 10 days, he must either specifically deny or admit each allegation under oath.

If he is proved false on any of them after you have been put to such expense as getting a lawyer and bringing in witnesses, then cost of the case will be assessed against him. Besides, he might be prosecuted for the false statement.

Under the new rule, there will be no excuse for a lawyer to be caught by surprise when a case comes to trial. The lawyer's power of discovery, or ability to learn beforehand what evidence the other side will offer, has been widened considerably.

Without leave of the court, lawyers can question by pre-trial depositions not only the persons named in a suit, as now permitted, but other persons involved, or even persons who may not be qualified witnesses themselves, but who may lead to others who could give admissible testimony. A lawyer may question under oath, an opposing attorney on any record he plans to use in a case. He may question him about his list of prospective witnesses, and then go to question those witnesses.

Here's another case cited to show how procedure has been changed:

A circuit court jury awarded damages to a man injured in an automobile accident. But to the man's dismay, he found he could not collect on the award.

In making up the pleadings before trial, his attorney had neglected to enter a denial to an allegation that the injured man shared in blame for the accident. On that technicality, the jury's award was erased. In a later settlement of his suit, he got much less.

Similar technicalities, along with a lot of "fool delays" in readying cases for trial, will be junked by the streamlined rules, patterned after federal court procedures.

The 36 new rules are relatively simple, as compared with the 400 rules of the 100-year-old Kentucky Civil Code which the new rules supplant.

More power is given judges and lawyers: to speed up preparation of cases for trial, weed out cases that should not be tried, and reduce the number of jury trials by permitting judges to decide more cases. Actual trial procedure will remain about the same.

Suits filed before Wednesday of this week will be heard under the old rules only if motion is made for such a hearing when the case is called; otherwise, the new rules will apply.

Gamma Globulin Supply Is Short, Says Drake; Asks Polio Precautions

Polio precautions are as important in 1953 as in previous years, stresses E. M. Drake, M. D., deputy commissioner, Preventive Medical Services, Kentucky State Department of Health. Kentucky State Department of Health, Kentucky has been allocated only 2400 doses of gamma globulin, the blood derivative with antibodies that gives a five-week partial immunity to poliomyelitis, Dr. Drake said, but it will be given only to family contacts under 30 and to pregnant women of any age. Family contacts are the other members of the family in which there is a diagnosed case of polio.

Dr. Drake said that since gamma globulin is so limited, parents should not depend on the possibility of obtaining it, and practice polio precautions as always:

- 1. Avoid a sudden chill or over-tiring. Both lower resistance.
2. Avoid crowds or contacts with strangers. Lead a normal life.
3. Children should swim only in approved swimming places.
4. Practice habits of cleanliness and sanitation. Wash hands regularly.

Although headache, sore throat, low fever, nausea, listlessness and pains or stiffening in the muscles may appear slight and similar to other ailments, consult your family physician immediately if these occur. If it is polio, immediate rest and immediate treatment are necessary.

Polio is serious because some cases die and some are paralyzed. Fifteen to 25 per cent are left handicapped. In 1951, however, it should be noted there were 323 reported polio cases in Kentucky, compared to 1363 cases of whooping cough, 8,891 cases of measles and 148 cases of diphtheria. The latter diseases also cause death and severe though not always obvious handicaps. In 1951, also, in the age group under 20, there were 132 deaths due to accidents which occurred in homes, and an estimated 528 home accidents which left children and youths permanently crippled. In this same age group, only 13 died of polio that year, out of 273 cases, with an estimated 55 crippled.

COUNCIL SCOUTS TO PRESENT PAGEANT AT NATIONAL CAMP

Among the Scouts who will attend the third National Boy Scout Jamboree in California this month are, left to right, front row—David Dean, Pikeville, Lon C. Hill, Jr., Raleigh Archer and Joe D. Harkins, all of Prestonsburg, and Jess Griffith of Paintsville; second row—Bob Allen, Prestonsburg, David Bogardus, Pikeville, Terry Moore, Price, Donald Collins Wheelwright, and Fred Francis, Prestonsburg; third row—John Spears, Paintsville, Carsey Kidd, Prestonsburg, H. M. Wilkinson, Wheelwright, Benjamin Hall and Tex Martin, both of Hi Hat, Burl Spurlock and Gabriel Wallace, both of Prestonsburg.

An episode from the Jenny Wiley Pageant which was staged here in 1950 as a part of the Floyd county Sesquicentennial celebration will be presented by Floyd county Boy Scouts at the National Scout Jamboree, it was announced here this week.

The pageant script, which was written by Henry P. Scalf, now of The Times staff, for the Sesquicentennial, has been adapted by Mrs. Cora Cook for Jamboree presentation. Mrs. Cook is rehearsing the Boy Scouts for the Jamboree drama, which will be presented in a period of 20 minutes. The Scouts are taking their stage props, including a log, with them.

The National Boy Scout Jamboree will be held July 17 to July 23 at the big Irvin ranch at Santa Anna, Calif., and 50,000 Scouts and leaders will be there for the week.

Lonesome Pine Council will be represented by 35 Scouts, Floyd county will send 17 Boy Scouts and leaders to the Jamboree, with Prestonsburg sending a delegation of seven, the largest in the Council.

Opening of the Jamboree on July 17 will be featured by the appearance by Cecil B. DeMille and George Murphy, topped off by the greatest fireworks spectacle shown in this country.

The Scouting program will include pageants representative of the regions represented. En route home, the Scouts will enjoy side-trips to Catalina Island, San Antonio, Texas, Juarez, Mexico, Houston, Tex., El Paso and New Orleans. They will return here July 29.

The Lonesome Pine Council delegation will leave here July 7 to spend three days in training at Camp Shawnee on Dewey Lake. On July 10 they will board a chartered pullman at Williamson, W. Va., for the three-day trip to California. En route, they will enjoy excursions in Denver, Colo., Salt Lake City, Utah and San Francisco.

The Scouts will be led by Carsey Kidd, Prestonsburg, unit leader, who will be assisted by Carson Robinson, Wise, Va., and John Spears, Jr., Paintsville. John I. Dean, Pikeville, Lonesome Pine Council Scout executive, will serve on the sectional staff at the Jamboree and also will accompany the Council's delegation.

Scouts who will make the trip are:

- From Prestonsburg—Lon Clay Hill, Burl Wells Spurlock, Raleigh Archer, Gabriel Wallace, Bob Allen, Joe Harkins, Freddy Francis; from Wheelwright—H. M. Wilkinson, Donald Collins; from Martin—Gary Martin; Hi Hat—Tex Martin and Benjamin Hall; Price—Terry Moore; Drift—Frank Sawyers; Paintsville—Jess Griffith, Jerry Archer, Johnny Spears; Pound, Va.—Wendell Jackson, Donald Varner; Norton, Va.—Alvin V. Carter; McClure, Va.—K. V. Herndon; Pikeville—David Dean, David Bogardus, Bruce Weddle; Pound, Va.—Carson Robinson; Hazard—Richard Ward, Belvin Ewers, George Benard, Harry Minnich, Andrew Tatum, Michael Leedy; Daisy, Ky.—Robert Adkins.

to accept the Louisville firm's proposal on July 4, 1950. The fiscal court's acceptance was on the following day.

The court's resolutions point out that the court advertised the $445,000 bond issue for sale on two occasions and that on both a representative of the W. C. Thornburgh Company, with the company's full consent and authority, was present and refused to make any legal bids on the bonds or to sell the bonds to another firm.

It also alleged that the Thornburgh firm had information about the bond sale but refused this information to other brokers. This, the court claims, is why no bids were received. It also contends that since the second advertising of the bond issue the company has made no effort whatever to sell the bonds and has not asked the court to re-advertise them.

The company several weeks ago, at the urging of the county board, reduced its fee from 1% to .9% but, the court resolutions point out, has since demanded that its compensation be increased from .9% to 1%, an increase which would have cost the board an additional $13,780. This increase was asked, it is claimed, with the knowledge "it was in open and flagrant violation of State Department of Education regulations."

The court resolutions added: "Since time is of the essence in the sale of the bonds, the Board of Education will suffer loss and damages in the sum of $5,000 unless the bonds are sold immediately."

Steps to break the contract were taken by the board and fiscal court on the advice of legal counsel and the State Department of Education.

of its high rate of employment, certainly deserves quick consideration."

The counties of the Prestonsburg area, he said, have 2,600 unemployed of their total population of 123,000. This is a drop of 5 percent in employment from a year ago. Mine employment was down 16 percent with 5,600 on mine payrolls. This is 40 percent below the March, 1950 employment mark. Most of the mines in the Prestonsburg area are in Floyd county.

Fike county, with a total population of 21,000, has only 12,930 employed, a drop of 18 percent from a year ago. Coal mines now employ 6,500 in Fike, and this represents a drop of 23 percent in a year.

COLLINS For REPRESENTATIVE

Vote for Ulysses S. Collins for State Representative, a man who will serve you and your children in the next General Assembly as he has served you and your children in the classroom during the past thirteen years. Wars did not keep me from serving you and your children. The lure of high wages and prosperity did not entice me to desert the youth of our country during the most critical time in American history.

May I serve you and your children, the old-aged, the crippled, the widows and orphans, miners and all other laborers of industry. Let us help the veteran who has served his country that you and I may continue to enjoy our life, liberty and property. When you vote for Collins you are voting for yourself.

Henry C. Hale Denies Rumor

During the course of any campaign at least one of the candidates will, instead of running a campaign on his own merits, try to discredit the candidacy of some other opponent in hope this will win votes. I do not believe in this kind of campaign and intend to run for the Democratic nomination for the office of County Court Clerk on my own qualifications instead of trying to slur my opponents.

I have been in practically all parts of this county since announcing my candidacy. One rumor being spread by one of my opponents that keeps coming back to me is that I am being run for the office of County Court Clerk by some person or persons at the courthouse who expect to control the office and share in the financial gain from it when I am elected. THIS IS COMPLETELY UNTRUE AND UTTERLY FALSE.

My record, as I have previously mentioned in my articles in the paper, while serving you as a member of the General Assembly is one of complete independence. I looked at every bill from the standpoint of its effects on the people of Floyd county and voted for it only if it was in their favor.

While I was a member of the Legislature, certain persons here and in Frankfort attempted to exert influence on me to the detriment of the people of Floyd county. But I can truthfully say, and the record will bear me out, that such persons were unsuccessful in trying to control me.

I want everybody to be for me in this race and if it should occur that certain persons are for me whom you do not like or approve of, I certainly hope that you will not blame this on me. For I can assure you that if I am elected your Clerk, I will serve you as honestly, courteously, and efficiently as I am capable of doing; and will run the office of County Court Clerk, without any control from any person or persons.

Sincerely,

HENRY C. HALE

BREAKS PARK IS DISCUSSED

At Meeting of Officials Of Virginia and Kentucky Conservation Depts.

Elkhorn City, Ky., June 30 — Steps toward development of a two-state park at the Breaks of Sandy were taken Tuesday by Kentucky and Virginia.

Meeting at the grassy picnic area above the Breaks with conservation and park officials of both states and with directors of the Breaks Park Association, the conservation directors of Kentucky and Virginia agreed on a proposed course of action.

The commissioners, Henry Ward of Kentucky and Raymond W. Long of Virginia, concurred that before the two states could join hands in developing the park, a two-state commission would have to be formed and an initial outlay of money appropriated.

Each state legislature, they agreed, would have to name its members to the commission and make an appropriation so that the commission could have a survey made. The survey would determine the acreage desirable, the availability of water, cost of the land, and other important factors.

Commissioner Long estimated it would cost $2,000,000 to develop the park. Commissioner Ward said he thought Virginia would have to re-route the highway from Haysi, Va., to the Kentucky line by way of the Breaks.

Kentucky has already completed an excellent highway from here to the Virginia line, but the black-top road from there on to Haysi is narrow and has sharp curves.

Ward pointed out that before a two-state commission could function it would be necessary to have Congressional approval. He said that should not be difficult to obtain. A measure providing such approval is pending in Congress.

Before anything concrete can be accomplished, Commissioner Long said, the proposed project must be studied and considered a great deal more in detail. A survey would help along that line, he said.

Tuesday's meeting resulted from action taken by Kentucky and Virginia legislatures in 1952. At that time both bodies passed resolutions directing their conservation departments to make preliminary surveys of the Breaks area to determine the feasibility of the two states joining in developing a park there.

State Senator M. M. Long, St. Paul, Va., who presided at the meeting, said, "We want a bistate park. Unless we act quickly it will get out of control. It's now or never."

Long is president of the Breaks Park Association. He said that Clinchfield Coal Company, which owns the land in the Breaks area, is sympathetic toward the park idea because the underlying coal cannot be mined profitably.

Other speakers were Kelly J. Day, Pikeville, former president of the association; Lon B. Rogers, Pikeville; Norman Chrisman, Pikeville, and D. Siddens, Haysi, all directors of the association.

Among others present were Randolph Odell, Virginia State park commissioner; Mrs. Lucy Smith, director of Kentucky State parks, and Goebel W. Newsom, Jr., Pikeville, a director in the association.

CINCINNATI — Neta Smith, Toledo, Junior Past Grand Worthy Advisor of Ohio Rainbow Girls, was crowned Rainbow Queen of Ohio at the Grand Ball which ended the organization's convention here.

Plans are being made for the Pine Mountain Community Fair to be held in Harlan on Sept. 12.

BLADES OF BLUEGRASS

By BOB FORD

LEXINGTON, Ky. — Hindsight is better than foresight because our foresight isn't always good as it should be. We cry over spilled milk when actually the milk never should have been spilled . . . a little foresight would have prevented the spilling.

In research work going on here at the University of Kentucky, we have a good example of foresight and how it can keep the milk from being spilled. In our new Dairy Center, we milk some very valuable cows. A bad farm fire could destroy those cows and destroy valuable research records, some of which have been years in the making. This was in the mind of officials and architects when the Dairy Center was planned for completion two years ago. The ground floor was built of concrete, brick and tile, with a six-inch steel and concrete ceiling, which was the floor of the hay-mow above. This haymow had a capacity of 500 tons of baled hay—quite a lot.

Fire struck in the haymow at 6:30 a.m., Sunday, May 24, probably as a result of lightning damage. The entire loft or haymow burned off, with a loss estimated at $75,000 dollars. And what became of the cows? Really almost nothing happened to them. They were driven to an adjoining field and milked by hand. Later that same afternoon they were driven back into the ground floor of their concrete barn and milked by machine as usual. The cows were safe, all records were safe. The cows gave about the normal amount of milk that evening and research work valuable to Kentucky farmers goes on as usual though of course a new haymow must be built.

On the ground floor, the construction being of steel and concrete, very little real damage was done. All the equipment for cooling and processing the milk remained intact and the cows were as good as new.

So it is that by reasonable precaution, by good planning, by the exercise of a little foresight the cows and the facilities for handling the milk were undamaged. Research goes right on and in spite of even a disastrous fire the University of Kentucky is able to continue its service to the people of the state.

Mrs. Leslie Sentenced To Eight Years in Pen For Killing of Husband

Pikeville, Ky., June 16 — Mrs. Leslie Weddington, who said she must have killed her husband while walking in her sleep, was sentenced to eight years in prison today on a voluntary manslaughter conviction. Circuit Judge Auxier ordered her confined in the Women's Prison near La Grange.

During the 42-year-old housewife's trial, two psychiatrists testified that she was emotionally unstable. Judge Auxier ordered her committed to Eastern State hospital for observation and treatment.

Two weeks ago, the hospital notified the court that she was no longer psychotic and she was returned here for sentencing.

Mrs. Weddington shot her husband, Richard Weddington, in the back while he slept at their home on nearby Johns Creek last November 1. She was convicted March 27.

ANNOUNCE BIRTH OF DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. Glennis Elliott, of East McDowell, announce the birth of their second child, a daughter, at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, Tuesday.

EDMOND HERSHELL TACKETT

Democrat for COUNTY ATTORNEY

Stumbo Points up Road Program

My opponent in his articles in The Floyd County Times has indicated that during the last 3 1/2 years of my first term as your County Judge that nothing has been done in so far as the construction and improvement of Floyd County's roads. Nothing could be farther from the truth and I take this opportunity of pointing out specifically some of the accomplishments which have been made in regard to Floyd County's Road System.

In saying that Floyd County received its proper share of roads I have made frequent trips to Frankfort in connection with the construction of new roads and improving old ones in the county. I should especially like to point out that since I have been County Judge I have helped to procure rights of way and have attempted to cooperate with the people in Floyd county and officials in Frankfort to obtain more and better roads.

During the last 3 1/2 years and under my supervision, Floyd county has spent in the neighborhood of $50,000.00 to obtain rights of way for the construction of new roads.

To name a few of the roads which have been built while I have been your County Judge:

- 1. 4 1/2 miles connecting and improving the remainder of the Harold to Ligon-Hi Hat road, or known as the Big Mud Road.
- 2. Connecting the David to Brush Creek road, 4 1/2 miles.
- 3. Mouth of Caney on Middle Creek across the hill connecting with the Stephens Branch Road.
- 4. Sizemore Branch to Wayland Road, which connects Left and Right Beaver.
- 5. Connecting Raccoon road with Salt Lick road, being part of Kentucky Highway No. 7.
- 6. Blacktopping 1 1/2 miles on Brandy Keg.
- 7. Blacktopping road through the town of Auxier.
- 8. Construction of Jacks Creek Road. Contract let on June 12, 1953.
- 9. Bull Creek Road contract let for blacktop 2.6 miles.
- 10. Abbott Creek road contract let for blacktop 5 1/2 miles.
- 11. Prater Creek to Little Mud Road is now under construction.
- 12. Turkey Creek to mouth of Stone Coal.
- 13. Sparlock road to Martin.

The two roads mentioned below HAVE BEEN APPROVED FOR CONSTRUCTION:

- 14. Constructed 2 miles of road on Little Paint.
- 15. Construction of road now in progress on Left Fork of Abbott Creek.
- 16. Constructed 1 1/2 miles of road up Sparlock on Middle Creek.
- 17. Built and improved 2 miles of road on Buekeye on Middle Creek.
- 18. Constructed 1 1/2 miles of road on Prater Fork of Brush Creek.
- 19. Constructed 1 mile of road on Salyers Branch of Salt Lick.
- 20. Constructed 1 1/2 miles of road on Mill Creek above Wayland.
- 21. Constructed bridge across Right Beaver Creek at Estill.
- 22. Built and improved 2 1/2 miles of road on Frasure's creek.
- 23. Built 1 mile of road in Buckingham Hollow.
- 24. Improved 1/2 mile of road in Branham Hollow, at Wheelwright.
- 25. Constructed bridge across Beaver at mouth of Spewing Camp.
- 26. Constructed 4 1/2 miles of road up Branham's Creek on Mind Creek.
- 27. Constructed swinging bridge across Big Sandy River at Dwale.
- 28. Built Bridge across Big Mud at Mink Branch.
- 29. Built Bridge across creek at Arkansas.

The use of the remaining funds available to the Fiscal Court have been and are being used in maintaining the Floyd County road system. These county roads are now more passable than they have ever been.

During the past 3 1/2 years Floyd county has had the greatest road program in the entire history of the county and I challenge anyone to disprove this statement.

I am sure that those persons who are interested in roads can readily see that this record in black and white completely refutes the general accusation of my opponent that nothing has been accomplished in so far as the building and improvement of roads in Floyd county is concerned.

Contrary to what anyone might say about it, the county road machinery has always been used and will be continued to be used only for the benefit of county roads and for the best interest of the public. I can positively state that the county road machinery has never been leased to anyone for private purposes nor has any county road machinery been disposed of illegally. I wish to assure you that those persons employed by the county have performed the duties as conscientiously as we expect them to.

If you feel, as I do, that the record of progress in the improvement and construction of roads in Floyd county has been greater during the 3 1/2 years that I have served as County Judge than at any other time in the history of the county, I earnestly solicit your vote and influence in re-electing me as your County Judge on the Democratic Ticket.

Sincerely,
HENRY STUMBO

Thompson-Kincheloe Vows Solemnized in Louisville

The marriage of Miss Elsie Frances Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Thompson, of Byer, Ohio, formerly of Prestonsburg, to Mr. James Donald Kincheloe, son of Mrs. Sallie Kincheloe, of Louisville, took place May 22 in Trinity Temple Methodist Church at Louisville, Dr. A. G. Stone officiating.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white dress of net with lace, giving a coat-like effect, going into a long train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was caught to a sweetheart-shaped hat of lace. She carried a white prayer book, a white orchid with purple throat, and Stephanotis surrounding the orchid with long, white streamers tied in love knots.

The altar was banked with palms and candelabrae, with white gladioli.

Mrs. R. L. Rush was matron of honor. She wore a pink net with lace ballerina-length dress, with matching head band of carnations. Maid of honor was Miss Shirley Ann Woerner. Her dress was blue net with lace, ballerina length, matching headband of carnations. Miss Charlotte Nell served as page girl. Her dress was a pastel green with matching headband of carnations.

Mr. Gordon Brown was best man. Messrs R. L. Rush, Jerry Turner and Robert Conard served as ushers.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony. After honeymooning in the Smokies, the couple are at home at 131 Seneca Trail, Louisville.

Sheriff Frank Crum, Hans Marcum and Jim Burchfield. He was released Monday under $5,000 bond. Sheriff A. B. Meade, who was called to the scene of the accident late that night, said he was told by some that Blanton was drinking, but that others said he was sober.

Mr. and Mrs. Akers were at the scene of Bert Newsome, a mile away, when the tragedy took place. Akers told The Times this week he said their first knowledge of the accident came when Chris Mitchell came into the store, carrying a child whose face was so covered by blood that Mitchell thought the tot was his own.

Victim of the accident was a daughter of the late Lily Akers, and she lived with the Vernon Akers family. She has no surviving brothers or sisters. The funeral was conducted Sunday at the graveside in the Bert Newsome cemetery by the Revs. Bert Newsome, Jonah Isaacs, Melford Adams and E. V. Hamilton.

A CHANGE For THE BETTER in the office of COUNTY ATTORNEY

Who can defeat the County Attorney now in office? This is a question many voters quite naturally are asking. The voters are determined to go about the Clean-up job through the peaceful and orderly process of the ballot. And, since there are five candidates for the office of County Attorney, they are looking for the one candidate who can win over the present office holder.

Other candidates for the office will say the same, but we submit with complete sincerity that ROBERT WELLMAN IS THE ONE CANDIDATE WHO CAN AND WILL DEFEAT THE PRESENT COUNTY ATTORNEY.

The people of Floyd county are looking for a young man who has no political scars—who, indeed, is not a politician and one who is not a candidate every four years; who has the desire to give Floyd county good, clean, honest government and wants this so much he is willing to take the lead in the fight, and one who is not bound by old political or business ties to prevent him from doing the job, without regard to where the chips may fall.

We say that Robert Wellman qualifies for that job. Every good citizen who knows him and who holds no bias will say the same.

Besides these qualifications, Robert Wellman's wide relationship which extends to every section of the county makes him the logical man to meet Courthouse organization in this campaign with a People's organization of good citizens determined to have good government and confident that Robert Wellman is the man to do that job.

Think these facts over, get behind Robert Wellman, with him in the Democratic primary—and assure the Democratic party victory in November.

WELLMAN (X)—FOR YOUR WELFARE

Honest Treatment to All Alike

as "dabblers," the name he usually applied to woodsmen.

To Parsons, he said: "Where were you raised?" Henry replied that he was reared on Big Mud Creek, in Floyd county, Kentucky. Then the old feud leader fired another question, with a grin: "Ever hear of the Hatfield-McCoy war?" "Of course," Henry said, "everybody has heard of that war". By this time Johnse came up, and viewing the evidence of his father's labor piracy, explained: "You always take my good men".

Henry was put to work at the mill, offbearing lumber. At times he fired the steam boiler or did any kind of labor necessary. He got the munificent sum of 75c per day. In three or four years Anse raised him to a dollar. Maybe it was the fact that Henry was a good hand around the farm that earned him the raise for Anse took him to his home and kept him there a year. He cut corn and helped in the sorghum making.

One Christmas Day Henry and Devil Anse went hunting for hogs. Before the turn of the last century hogs ran wild in the woods of Logan county. Each had a mark on the ear to determine ownership and ever so often it was necessary to round them up. When the two came to a gap in the mountains Anse lay down on the ground near his trusted Winchester. Henry had become ill and the lull in the hog-hunt was welcome. Squirrels played in the nearby trees and Henry shot a few. Soon Anse began to talk about the feud, and in all of the six years' association with him, Henry had never heard him talk so much about the trouble with the McCoy.

He related for Parsons the story of the internationally famous feud. One of the chief factors bringing on the fighting, Anse said, was the many wild hogs that Randolph McCoy owned in the mountains. Since Anse lived opposite the mouth of Peter Creek on the West Virginia side, and the McCoy chieftain only six miles away on Blackberry Creek, these hogs would come down to Tug river, ford across in their search for something to eat and destroy the Hatfield crops. Anse's sons put their bear dogs on them and the squealing porkers ran toward the Kentucky side with ripped hams and sides.

Hogs chased and torn by bear dogs, and the bear hunting canines kept by the Hatfields were rugged beasts, are not a matter serious enough for general shooting but it was one of the factors, Anse said, that led up to the shooting. There was a trial over the ownership of a hog between Floyd Hatfield and Randolph McCoy. Hatfield won and McCoy vowed vengeance, chiefly because a lie, he said, had been sworn. Things drifted along. Came the fatal election day battle in which the three sons of Randolph McCoy killed Ellison Hatfield. "Ellison was my choice brother", Anse told Parsons.

Anse talked on and soon his mind drifted back to Johnse's courtship with Allfair McCoy, Randolph's daughter. Some of the hogs had been killed by Johnse's dogs and when he went again on his regular visit to see the daughter of the clan leader he was refused admittance, chiefly by Mrs. McCoy.

Johnse went again to see her, this time armed with a .32 pistol. Big Jim McCoy, Allfair's brother was constable. He was one of the McCoy's that the Hatfields really feared. "He was the nerviest man I ever saw," Anse told Parsons. However when Johnse Hatfield came up to the McCoy cabin the second time after the hog killing it was Sallie McCoy, the girl's mother, that ordered him away. Big Jim stayed in the background and did not interfere.

Johnse retreated down the road and as he did so his anger flared. He began to fire the gun he carried. When he had completed the fusillade he had fired 20 times. Since the shooting was on Sunday, the McCoy's, probably at the instigation of Big Jim procured a warrant for Johnse and the constable arrested him. Johnse paid a small fine and went to jail several days. All of which didn't improve the famous temper.

The Rev. Parsons contributes some things new and many old that he had from Devil Anse as to the feud. He verifies that Valentine Hatfield or Wall as he was called, stood picket the night the three sons of Randolph McCoy were carried over to the Kentucky side, tied to paw paw bushes and riddled by Hatfield guns. He says that Anse told him that Wall heard a wagon and team coming down the road and hooted like an owl to warn the band.

Parsons discusses at great length the situation around the logging camp over which Devil Anse and his sons were lord and master. These little incidents give interesting insight into the Hatfield character. He talks of Anse's "cleverness" or hospitality. If you came by at meal-time you would have to eat. One time Parsons was put to work as an emergency cook. He went in to a big cabbage patch, procured several heads and chopped them up. Never before nor since did the minister see so much cooked cabbage. "They ate it too," he said.

Devil Anse Hatfield as he was photographed in the later years of life. He died in 1921.

One time Anse left the shanty where the men stayed and went away for the night, probably to his home, on Island Creek. Before he left he explained to Parsons that Del Simpkins, whose eyes had been injured by an accidental charge of dynamite, might come and ask for help. "I'm sorry for her," said Anse. "Don't turn her off if she comes. Give her some meat." Another charge he gave him. "If Arena Sansom comes around and wants something to eat, give it to her. Her old man, Will, ran off and left her. Don't turn her off," he enjoined.

Parsons was peeling potatoes when Mrs. Simpkins came. She asked for Anse, explained that she had picked beans and needed meat for seasoning. Parsons cut her down half a slab of bacon. When the feud leader returned he asked about her and was told of her visit and the giving of the half-slab of bacon. Anse said: "Si, did you do fer a fact?"

In the Beech Creek valley were huge forests of virgin timber. Anse, after the feud had subsided, bought it, thinking the title good. A lumber company from Ohio came in and having acquired an old patent, paid the taxes and asserted title. Anse saw his property in danger.

He summoned his 14 employees, among whom were some of the deadliest shots and most courageous men in the mountains, and supplied them with lanterns. He put them at the task of cutting the biggest poplar and oak trees. They worked all night.

When morning came and the weary axmen started for the shanty, Anse explained that he was allowed to take off what timber had been cut the prior days. "What you dabblers did tonight will get every one of you in the penitentiary," he joked.

The lumber company was pressing Anse to get his "down" timber off and he was, ostensibly, complying with their request. But Cap, the fiery son of the feud leader, represented the "pushing around". When a group of "detectives," as the Hatfields called them, came to the woods in the employ of the lumber company and began to count the stumps, the Hatfields fled to the woods and "laid out." There were 13 employed at the camp at this time and they were afraid of arrest for the night cutting.

Dinner was sent to the woods the next day for the "dabblers" that were "laying out." It was two o'clock in the afternoon when they ate the meal and Cap's anger flared. "I don't aim to lay out another night," he said. All of them went back to camp. Cap instructed Elias to write a note to the "detectives." As dictated by him it read: "You fellows get out of the hills and report what you are doing here." It was delivered by one of the employees of the camp.

Devil Anse, himself, gave each of the "dabblers" Winchesters and assignments of positions were made. Four were placed upstairs, Elias, being one of them. Downstairs were the others including the redoubtable Anse and his sons Troy and Cap. Cap was instructed by his father to stay in the house.

Sometime later in obedience to the note sent by Cap the stump-counters came riding up to the shanty of armed men. One, evidently the leader, said: "I'm looking for Anse Hatfield," to which came the reply: "I'm the man." There was a moment of embarrassed silence as no one seemed inclined to speak.

Suddenly Cap came through the shanty door with his Winchester leveled: "Stand guns down there. My name's Cap Hatfield." Down went the guns of the lumber company employees and explanations and discussion went on as to the stump-counting work. Finally Cap, exasperated by diplomacy, blurted: "You've heard of tough men. Well, we could kill every one of you from the hills. Take your guns and get out." The stump-counters went. In the litigation that ensued Devil Anse won in the courts.

Anse Hatfield had small regard for the courts, Parsons said, and was wont to submit only when the penalty was light or the overpowering exigencies of the case made it necessary. There was the time Elias whipped Doc Mounts with his fists. Dave Richardson and Elias were cronies and were usually seen together. In a fight, brought on by excessive moonshine, Elias thrashed Doc Mounts roundly. Somebody got a warrant at Thacker from Squire Lambert.

Harve Helton was given the unpleasant duty of arresting Elias Hatfield. To show how thoroughly the Hatfields were feared by even the officers of the law, Helton summoned a posse of 26 to help bring Elias, Cap and Dave to court. Even with this body of men at his disposal, Helton hesitated and procrastinated, and finally decided to send Devil Anse word that he would like to talk with him. Anse didn't come but with Cap, Dave Richardson, and Bob Simpkins, accompanied Elias to Squire Lambert's home at Thacker. While Helton waited with his marshaled posse, the Hatfields were at the magistrate's, seeking to arrange a disposition of the case.

When the Hatfields entered the squire's home Anse told them to stack their guns in the corner, which they did. He opened the preliminaries by advising the court that here were the three men he wanted and requested His Honor to show "a little mercy". To which Lambert replied: "They'll get the full extent of the law."

Anse arose in the majesty of an offended lord and thundered: "Damn your law and your judgment. Thanks for your kind attention, Squire. Get your guns boys and let's go home". Afterwards Anse delivered the three offenders to a magistrate on Ben Creek and got them off with a nominal fine.

Rev. Parsons was a witness in one of the killings that were perpetrated in the section after the feud. Elias, Troy and Cap had trouble with one Dave Kenney of Pike county who was following the logging jobs. It seems, Parsons relates, that two lewd women had been brought into camp by some of the men. Dave, it appears from the evidence, had some things against him in Kentucky, and feared the law. He susploned that the women would betray him.

Kenney threatened to whip one of the women but Cap said: "No, you don't. I'm boss when Pa's gone". Kenney reached up and jerked one of the women off the wagon, slapped her down in the snow. When he did so he stated he was the "best man that ever saw Beech Creek." Parsons relates that Cap stood up with his Winchester and in a tone, pregnant with potentialities of sudden death, said: "Take that back, Dave". Parsons was standing within a space of 40 feet of the wagon and heard Dave Kenney reply: "I won't". Cap said: "You talked too far". Suddenly the Pike county man went for his revolver as he attempted to seize Cap's Winchester. He would have made it too but at that moment, Troy Hatfield, who was standing within a few feet, fired three shots into Dave Kenney. He fell in the snow beside the wagon. In the trial, at which the Rev. Parsons was a witness, Troy was acquitted.

Parsons married Lucinda Price of Johnson county in 1899 and went to housekeeping on Beech Creek. The Parsons home was a favorite stopping place for Anse as he traveled up or down Beech. Mrs. Parsons, herself a great admirer of Anse, likes to describe him at this time.

"He carried a big leather 'shot pouch' on his side, a .44 revolver and a 45-90 Winchester. Most of the time he had another smaller revolver in the 'shot pouch', too", she said. Rev. Parsons chimed in to tell about the large hunting knife he carried also and the large amount of ammunition. The feud leader must have been a walking arsenal.

Rev. Henry Parsons started preaching in 1910 and, while he is really 76 years of age, he looks much younger. The years of service to the church have weighed lightly upon him. Today he is retired from any work except that of the ministry. He serves four churches each month, Betsy Layne, Mud Creek, Johns Creek and Arkansas Creek, and looks forward to many more years of labor for the Church of Christ.

It was this church into which the Rev. Dyke Garrett baptized Devil Anse Hatfield before he died. When the Rev. Garrett was asked to preach the feudist's funeral he replied: "I preach no man's funeral but my own". In several ways a man does preach his own funeral, by his way of life, by his devotion and service to his people and the Master. The Rev. Parsons is doing that.

COOLEY PLEDGES TEACHERS COOPERATION AT ALL TIMES

The school of the county should have and are entitled to all the cooperation from the sheriff's office that they require in the interests of a good school system. One need is for the attendance of a deputy sheriff at major sport events in the schools. The presence of an officer at these games to regulate traffic and to perform any necessary duties will relieve the school principals of a heavy responsibility. To the teachers and patrons I want to pledge my full cooperation.

CASE DISMISSED

FLOYD CIRCUIT COURT
NO. 15,983
Gorman Collins, et al. Plaintiffs
Vs. OPINION
Clive Akers, et al. Defendants

132,905, had the authority to appropriate and pay for the work which was done by the various persons for the maps and records and charts in the County Tax Commissioner's office.

The liability of all defendants, other than Clive Akers, County Tax Commissioner, is secondary; that is, unless there was a primary liability on the part of Clive Akers, County Tax Commissioner, to repay the money, or any part of the money, to Floyd county, there would be no liability on the part of the sureties, or on the part of the fiscal court (if, assuming but not conceding that the taxpayers could recover a judgment against Akers, then there might possibly be a personal liability on the part of the members of the fiscal court).

Therefore, the Court orders and directs that plaintiffs' petition be dismissed, and that the defendants have judgment for their costs; and counsel for the defendants will forthwith prepare the judgment.

LAWRENCE S. GRAUMAN
Special Judge
June 29, 1953.

At the conclusion of the testimony of the defendant, Clive Akers, the plaintiffs not appearing in person or by counsel, and not introducing any proof, the Court is of the opinion that the facts alleged in Paragraph II of the answer of the defendant Akers constitute a good defense to the cause of action sought to be alleged in the petition, and therefore orders that the demurrer of the plaintiffs to Paragraph II of the answer of Clive Akers be overruled with exceptions to the plaintiffs.

The evidence, by virtue of the testimony of Mr. Akers, the defendant, fully sustains the allegations of Paragraph II of the answer, and in accordance with the opinion of the Court of Appeals, in the case of Veith vs. Dunlap, et al., 308 Ky. 386, 214 S. W. (2d) 608, the fiscal court of Floyd county, under KRS (Adv. 1-2-24.)

'Bear' Facts—

By PAUL BRYANT
UK Football Coach

LEXINGTON, Ky. — Even a casual glance down the University of Kentucky's football schedule for the coming season is sure to give the general idea that the Wildcats are going to have their work cut out for them if they are to end up in the coveted first division of the Southeastern Conference.

Coaches always have the highest respect for the potentialities of an opponent, but the record of the SEC in sending no less than five teams to bowls last New Year's Day should be a convincing indication of danger ahead even to the average fan who does not follow the ins and outs of the game closely.

One of the three SEC bowl outfits on UK's schedule next fall is Florida. And every sign points to the Gators as one of the league's top eleven. The Gator Bowl champs should not suffer from the new limited substitution rule to roll reports on their personal situation say they are "loaded."

Heading the formidable list of 24 returning lettermen are two gridirers who give Florida perhaps the best one-two punch in the circuit—stellar guard Joe D'Agostino and powerful fullback Rick Casares. Coach Bob Woodruff also has a fine passer and quarterback to make his T-formation work in the person of talented Doug Dickey. On the receiving end there is a boy being given a lot of attention in opponents' pre-season planning — six-foot-one senior Jack O'Brien.

Florida had losses of major calibre, two fine halfbacks in J. "Papa" Hall and Buford Long, and All-America tackle Charlie LaPradd, but the slack should be taken up effectively by a host of good returnees.

When Kentucky meets the Sunshine State visitors in Lexington in the third contest of the season for both clubs, the game could take on extraordinary importance. Both teams will have two hard tilts behind them (UK will have played Texas A. & M. and Ole Miss while Florida will have met Rice and Georgia Tech) and will be pointing for a crucial victory.

Annual Statement Rule Applicable, Holifield Says To City Electric Boards

Frankfort, Ky., June 22—Electric plant boards as well as all political units—except in counties containing a first class city—must have annual financial statements published in newspapers.

M. B. Holifield, assistant attorney general, ruled that the law requiring mandatory publication, and recently upheld by the Court of Appeals, is equally applicable to municipal electric boards. The opinion, given to A. B. Crow, Franklin attorney, quotes this following section of the law as covering the question:

"Except in counties containing a city of the first class . . . every public officer of any county, graded school district, city or subdivision or district less than a county whose duty it is to collect, receive, have custody, control or disbursement of public funds shall at the expiration of each fiscal year prepare an itemized sworn statement of receipts and expenditures."

JUDGE DENIES VACATE PLEA

Grauman Opinion Says Affidavit Supporting Motion Lacking Facts

"The affidavit does not contain facts but contains only conclusions, generalities and hearsay," commented Special Judge Lawrence S. Grauman, of Louisville, in a written opinion discussing at length allegations made by four plaintiffs in an affidavit filed Monday in support of a motion to require Judge Grauman to vacate the bench in the trial of three Tax League cases here.

He overruled the motion to vacate.

The affidavit, signed by Jesse K. Lewis, attorney for the Floyd County Good Government Taxpayers League, and by four League directors, Gorman Collins, Polk Saunders, Woodrow Horne and Dr. Edw. B. Leslie, stated they did not believe the special judge would afford them a fair and impartial trial. The cases in which Grauman was asked to vacate were those of Henry Stumbo, A. B. Meade and Clive Akers.

In support of the motion the affidavit included these allegations:

That the resignation of Judge Lawrence F. Speckman, a Republican, as special judge was forced by subterfuge and that the appointment of Judge Grauman to hear the cases was effected through political connections linking Floyd county, place of the hearings, and Jefferson county, home of Judge Grauman, with Frankfort.

That Judge Speckman ignored political considerations and that after he had held a hearing here the remark was made that unless the defendants "got rid of Judge Speckman all their cases were gone;" that a letter was written the Court of Appeals to give them political relief.

That sufficient political pressure was brought on Chief Justice Sims to have him force Speckman's resignation and appoint Judge Grauman, who, the affidavit contended, was connected with the political machine in Jefferson county.

That Judge Grauman showed bias and antagonism toward plaintiffs' counsel and was seen in the company of some of the defendants and their attorneys, late at night.

Judge Grauman in his opinion rejecting the motion to vacate took up each allegation, pointing out that in no instance did the affidavit name any person involved in any of the allegations. "Knowing Judge Sims as I do," he wrote in the opinion, "I am sure that if there was any improper suggestion made by any attorney for the Chief Justice to do something contrary to recognized ethics and good principles it would have been resented by the Chief Justice, and a communication from the Chief Justice, copy of which would have been sent to Mr. Jesse K. Lewis, attorney for the appellants herein, would have been immediately forthcoming."

He also pointed out that the official transcript of the hearings, which will be filed, will show that the charge of bias toward plaintiffs' counsel is not supported by facts; that plaintiffs' counsel knows he, Judge Grauman, talked with him as well as defendants' counsel on the street here, out in the open, but not about the cases before him.

Citing several Appellate Court opinions pertaining to procedure to be taken to cause a Judge to vacate the bench, Judge Grauman quoted, among others, Judge Osco W. Stanley; "An affidavit for this purpose must state facts . . . A test of the subject matter and definiteness of the charges must be whether or not the affiant could be held guilty of false swearing if the statements are untrue . . . This demand for facts is, of course, to get away from conclusions and generalities in their presentation."

FLOYD COUNTY DEMANDS GOOD GOVERNMENT

V. WHERE DO WE GO FROM HERE?

As Floyd county approaches the primary there is more and more the realization that the people, are coming right down to the water's edge as regards good government versus a continuance of things as they are and as they have always been in this county.

Being right down at the water's edge, as the old saying has it, it is well to discuss the question of where we go from here. Do we go on, cross over into a field of good government or do we remain or turn back to a regime of old-fashioned operation of the sheriff's office with a multitude of deputies and excess fee collection, with seven cents a mile extortion and payroll padding? I think the people of this county have had enough of this thing and believe they are ripe for an honest man with new ideas in the office.

Any man asking the gift of the Sheriff's office from the people should be willing to have his record examined. Mine is an open book. If there is anything derogatory you are entitled to know. I have nothing to hide or obscure. I am sure the people are entitled to examine the records of my opponents, too. Do they have anything to hide? I trust, like myself, they do not.

In my campaign there is no attempt to "pump air", no well calculated plan of fooling the people by falsehoods or deceit. The people are entitled to nothing but the truth and if I must wage a campaign of falsehood and deceit to win I do not want the office by that method. A man holds office only a few years. He lives with his conscience and his self-respect all the years of his life.

I want to take this means of re-affirming my intention of employing deputies in whom you will have confidence. My opponents should give you the same assurance as I. What kind of deputies will they employ and how many? Will they be numerous, like the locusts of the field, voracious and hungry for fees? Will they be men who have always lived by the law themselves and are not a menace to your young sons on the highway?

I plan no nepotism, no appointment of brothers, nephews nor close in-laws. I plan only to have deputies from various sections of the county and not because they are relatives of mine.

One more matter that should be made clear is this: I was in Europe with your sons. I will have no fee hungry deputies chasing war-worn veterans for just a fee and for nothing else. I shall demand that the sheriff's office extend to the returning veteran every courtesy commensurate with the law and good government.

Upon these things I submit my candidacy.

WHAT'S WRONG WITH WORKING?

One of my opponents, in his quest for votes, is circulating the rumor that I can not be trusted because I work for a company. This is a serious charge and I welcome the opportunity to discuss it honestly and frankly.

It is true that I am employed by a company, as Purchasing Agent. It is a job of trust which I have earned by 12 years hard work. For performing this work the company pays me wages. It is an honorable way of making an honest living for my family, and I am glad the company is here at home instead of 300 or 400 miles away. We need more companies, and more industries, in Floyd county to furnish more work for our people. I don't think I need to apologize for working to support my wife and six children.

For HONEST representation in the next Legislature vote for the PROGRESSIVE candidate who will work for the interests of the men, women, and children of the 96th District.

Last Month Was $51,705, Department Announces; Needy Aged Get $22,789

Residents of Floyd county received a total of $51,705 in public assistance payments last month, according to a report from Aaron Paul, director of the Division of Public Assistance of the Department of Economic Security which administers the Old Age Assistance, Aid to Dependent Children and Aid to Needy Blind programs.

The payments were divided this way. Needy old persons, $22,789; families of dependent children, $27,152, and indigent blind, $1,764.

A total of $3,345,632 was distributed to the needy throughout the state last month, compared with $3,333,204 in April. May totals gave $1,948,202 to the aged; $1,305,303 to dependent children, and $92,227 to the blind.

Average payments remained almost unchanged from April, Paul said. The average for each aged recipient during the month was $35.16. Aid to dependent children payments averaged $64.29 for each family while the needy blind received an average check of $37.17.

WHITTEN For JAILER

After solicitation by my friends and after long deliberation I have decided to enter the race for Jailer on the Democratic ticket. It was a matter of long deliberation as I have been engaged in the restaurant business in Prestonsburg but as I was crippled in the miner and have been so for 23 years it was very hard indeed for me to be on my feet several hours each day.

To you that know me I feel sure you think I will make a good jailer. To you that do not know me I ask only that you check with my friends and neighbors. They are the best informed as to my life and character. The campaign is far advanced and I intend to do my best to see you all. It may be impossible to do so but in the meantime if I cannot do so any support you may give me will be deeply appreciated.

Thank you.
DENZIL WHITTEN

If You Remember . . .

The trio of little girls came out of the cabin and wended along the creek path with silent steps. The eldest, who was ten, carried a pail in which were lunches for three, and she paced the other two who were eight and six. They were going to school.

It was the first year for the young one in school but her sisters had gone, she thought, for years and years. She knew they had gone for years and years for they talked of mama and how she put an apple in their pail or gathered their books or sewed their clothes. That must have been years ago, the young one thought, for she had only an indistinct memory of mama. She could not recall how she looked or anything she said, only that mama was warm at night and that her lap was a place to rest.

She wondered if the teacher looked like mama but when she quizzed her father he made a short reply. He did not want to talk about mama or the things she said or did. When she asked her sisters they talked too much and said so little for the eldest said her hair was black and the other said it was brown. She herself did not know for she could not remember. She knew only her mother was warm in the wintry night when the wind blew.

Each evening the teacher sent them home before the rest for the father needed them for chores around the cabin home. They washed the plates and bowls and pans. They carried the kindling wood and placed it behind the stove or laid it on the hearthstone to dry. They washed their ankles and went with father to milk. It was always dark when they came back to the house, father entered first and struck a match. They were afraid of the dark until he struck a match.

Her sisters called her Tot and she had thought it was her name until the first day of school. She learned her real name and that her mother had not liked it but called her Tot. She asked her father and he had told her that.

When the afternoon shadows fell long and the sun dropped near the far-off hill the teacher told the three that they could go. They gathered their wraps and stood at the door. They whispered and looked at the teacher, who, seeing they were not leaving, asked them why.

"Please, teacher," said the eldest, "it is Tot. She wants to hug your neck." Some said there was a tear in the teacher's eye, but if there was, Tot did not see it. She remembered though that teacher was warm and pleasant to touch, like mama.

STRICTER ENFORCEMENT

Frankfort, Ky., June 22—Stricter steps will be taken by the State Department of Education to cause local school districts to comply with the teacher-tenure law to provide job security for teachers.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Wendell P. Butler announced copies of a Court of Appeals opinion holding it the duty of the State Board of Education to enforce these requirements has been sent local school districts. The court held the State could withhold funds from local districts to assure compliance.

OBITUARY

Ewing Galloway, the Kentuckian who died in New York a few days ago, was not known to The Times personally, but we, along with many other newspapers of the state, considered him a friend, because he dealt directly with the newspapers in his work of promoting sound thinking, business and government in Kentucky.

We did not always agree with Mr. Galloway's views as expressed in his column, Kentucky on the March, but we always admired his courage and his willingness to take a stand on any issue.

Ewing Galloway was a Kentucky farmboy who made a belated start toward success and attained it in New York City in the face of the keenest competition. Internationally known as a photographer, he could have been forgiven if he had left the state permanently for his business interests elsewhere. But he never forgot Kentucky. He returned to his native Henderson, to the soil from which he sprang, and much of his later years was devoted, without thought of profit, to publicizing those things which he considered good for other Kentuckians.

We regret that Ewing Galloway did not get to make the visit he had planned this summer to this and other newspapers to which he had been a contributor. Something of his great spirit might have rubbed off on us.

It All Depends

THIS editorial appeared in The Courier-Journal, tending to prove that it all depends on whose foot is pinched:

We never thought we'd live to see the day, but it has arrived. The Governor of Texas, suh, the biggest, richest, wildest, and woolliest of them all, the capital of the rugged individualist and the mortal enemy of "creeping socialism," has appealed to President Eisenhower for Federal aid!

Governor Shivers has a good case, and we hope the President hears him. Things are tough in Texas, all over. Heat of typical Texas intensity and the fourth successive summer of a Texas-size drought have done the damage, and not all the oil in Texas (or under the waters adjacent), nor even that "Texas viewpoint" so proudly invoked by Governor Allan Shivers and Senator Price Daniel last year can cope with it alone.

"The small farmers and ranchers of Texas, in particular," says Governor Shivers, startling many people with their first realization that there is anything small in Texas, "need all the help they can get from any quarter, in the form of credit extension and relief."

Well, as we said, we hope they get it, even if the mere size of Texas tempts some unreconstructed Yankee to gibe that the need is for galloping rather than creeping socialism. Anyway, Governor, welcome back into the Union.

The Law Can Be Enforced

THE Division of Motor Transportation has informed Paintsville authorities it will afford every possible cooperation toward controlling liquor traffic involving the use of taxicabs.

The Division will cancel the license of any cab-owner convicted of using his vehicle for such a purpose. This is as it should be. All authorities have to do to bolster law enforcement on this score is to certify to the Division of Motor Transportation the fact that a conviction has been had.

The action, of course, must be initiated from this—that is to say, the source—end. We shall watch the results in Paintsville, if any. Perhaps action there will give Floyd county some ideas on enforcement.

1953 March of Dimes Contributions Up 24%

NEW YORK, June 24 — Eighty million Americans contributed $51,500,000 to the fight against infantile paralysis in the 1953 March of Dimes. It was announced today by Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

This total, based on reports from 3,069 volunteer campaign chairmen, represents a new record, being 24% higher than the previous record total raised in 1952. Mr. O'Connor said. Last year $41,432,605 was contributed, or 27 1/2 cents per capita for the entire nation. The 1953 per capita is 34 cents. Both figures are based on the 1950 census.

"The new record shows that millions of parents and children who fight against polio realize the crucial stage of this battle has been reached," said Mr. O'Connor. "They know that recent progress in scientific research and the continuing increase year after year of polio cases make their responsibilities greater than ever before."

Mr. O'Connor paid tribute to the 2,000,000 March of Dimes volunteers who conducted the fundraising crusade in 100,000 communities throughout the nation.

"Without their unselfish efforts, the American people would not have been so acutely aware of the increasing responsibilities of the National Foundation," he declared.

"Obligations imposed by five years of heavy outbursts of the disease plus increased expenditures for new developments in the field of research have made larger sums vitally necessary for the fight against infantile paralysis.

"Despite larger public contributions each year, the National Foundation has ended the last four years with outstanding bills, mainly to hospitals, of from three and one-half to seven million dollars. Thus, for this period of time, each succeeding March of Dimes has been, in effect, mortgaged for such an amount before any new cases were reported in the new year.

"But each year, thanks to our tireless volunteers and to an awakened public, the bills have been paid, research has gone forward unhampered by financial limitations, and every polio patient who needed help was given assistance for medical and hospital care."

Mr. O'Connor added that in 1953, as in the past, the course of the disease cannot be predicted. All chapters of the National Foundation, however, are prepared to assist the unknown thousands who will need March of Dimes help this year, he said.

"The preliminary financial figures showed that all 48 states exceeded their 1952 contributions to the anti-polio fight, with the largest percentage of increase. Other large increases were reported from Minnesota, Iowa, Michigan, Nebraska and New Mexico.

Top per capita figures were recorded by Nevada, which averaged 84 cents, while Wyoming, with 69 cents, and Idaho, with 65 cents, came next in order.

Residents of New York State made the largest dollar contributions, totaling $5,098,000 for the state, while California with $4,423,000

ELECT
Hurshel Warrens
For SHERIFF

It is being talked in every part of Floyd county that "HURSHEL WARRENS IS THE BEST MAN RUNNING FOR THE OFFICE OF SHERIFF". The opposing candidates, in their efforts to minimize the effect of this fact, have been spreading the rumor that "Warrens" doesn't have a chance of being elected. That just happens to be the only way they can think of to campaign against an honest man.

I believe that the people of Floyd county are more interested than ever before in selecting the best candidates for office. Your inspection of my reputation for honesty and dependability will be most welcome. Would you rather be able to say "I voted for the best man" or "I helped elect so-an-so even though I knew he would be crooked when he got in office"?

I have no intention of mud-slinging or speaking ill of any man, but the people should judge a man by his past record and select the candidate who they know will be the best Sheriff and will protect the youth of Floyd county from bootleggers and drunken drivers.

Any candidate who promises you honesty without showing you a reputation for clean, honest living cannot be relied upon. Honesty comes from the heart; from a man's innermost thoughts, not from cheap political promises that will be forgotten as soon as the election is over.

I can make one promise that you can depend on never being broken. That is that I will never sell out under any circumstances. Win or lose I will be in the race fighting to the end and if elected NO BOOTLEGGERS IN FLOYD COUNTY WILL BE ABLE TO BUY PROTECTION FROM THE SHERIFF'S OFFICE.

Let no man tell you that "Warrens doesn't have a chance." With your help we can win this election and clean up the law enforcement mess we have had to live with in Floyd county for so many years.

Sincerely yours,

Hershel Warrens

Judge Orders Woman Home from Hospital To Face Prison Term

Mrs. Leslie Weddington, of Johns Creek, who was convicted several weeks ago of voluntary manslaughter in the death of her husband, has been ordered returned to Pikeville from Eastern State hospital, Lexington, to face sentence.

Judge Jean L. Auxier last week ordered that Mrs. Weddington, mother of five, be returned from the hospital where she was committed after she was convicted on the charge and given eight years in the penitentiary.

Judge Auxier committed Mrs. Weddington the second time to the hospital after defense attorneys, W. A. Daugherty and Charles Lowe, pleaded that the woman was not stable and did not know what she was doing when she fired the shot which killed her husband, Richard Weddington.

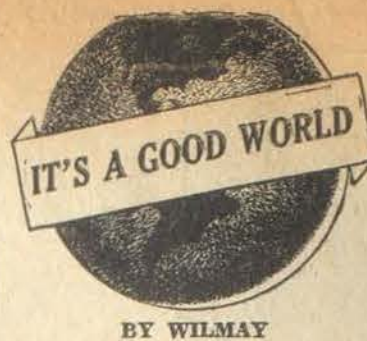

Mrs. Weddington was committed to the hospital for observation prior to her trial, and psychiatrists from the institution testified in Pike circuit court that in their opinion Mrs. Weddington was in a sleep-walking trance at the time of the shooting and did not know what she had done until after the shooting.

BY WILMAY

One of the sweetest sermons we ever heard was the Father's Day one Sunday morning by Rev. Merle Wadley. He is a young preacher in his first pastorate, but one who obviously is going places. Members of his church were happy Sunday to learn that brother Stanley, of Ashland, is slowly improving after having suffered a stroke last week. His son, Dick Stanley, one of our fine Baptist laymen, brought the report from the hospital Sunday evening.

The temperature is getting so hot even the candidates are seeking the shade.

Time was when the ladies dared not go into public with a runner in her hair. Now, with prices so outlandish, few go without one or more, many laughingly remark.

"Little pitchers have big ears." An apt remark! Quite often youngsters give away the very information adults would withhold.

Mary Wolverton, known as one of the dandiest nurses in the county, tells a cute comment made by her kid nephew. Out in the yard, he heard a terrific noise recently. When his grandmother, Mrs. Mynhier, asked what it might be, the youngster replied solemnly, "I don't know, Granny, unless it is one of those tarnation a-comin'!"

Good to note in The Times that Harriet Johnson will be back on the Wayland faculty this year. Having heard so much about her, we feel eager to make her acquaintance. She is noted as a topnotch English teacher. They say she can even get the children to read classics, a genuine achievement these days. After trying every method we know last year, we went so far as to put the cart before the horse, when several pupils showed a keen interest in Poe and Tennyson upon hearing Enoch Arden and The Gold Bug. They enjoyed an account of the life stories of the two poets to such an extent we tried reversing it and having them study the lives of several great writers, listing outstanding works of each, with the hope that more would choose serious reading. A few did, but the majority stuck to comics and lighter materials in all spare time.

E. R. and his old lady are in their second childhood. Eric Ronald, age five months, is spending a month with Poppa and Mamaw, all by his lonesome, because his mother, who works four hours nightly, while Daddy baby sits, had to shift to day for three weeks only. When he reached Morehead on the drive home from Cincinnati, Poppa said he knew the road, so the map was laid aside. Soon we wound up in Sandy Hook, of all places! The Boss asked what we had been doing, instead of noticing signs for the driver. We remarked that we were watching Eric. Just out of Prestonsburg, we turned into the David road, to come across by Stephens' Branch. You should have seen Edgar May's face when he looked up and said, "How'd we get in David?" It was Mamaw's turn to inquire what HED been doin', to miss the turning-off point to Mantion. He said, "Watchin' Eric."

It is a swell pastime, all right. We sometimes wonder if our two combined ever were this sweet. When his mother and daddy wrote they might come a week early if she got back on night shift in the hospital, as hoped, we replied they'd better stick to their part of the bargain, or some day they might have triplets, and no grandpans to do a turn with 'em! A phone call to Edith Rose must have pacified her. They did not come for Eric ahead of schedule!

Libby Ree's eyes nearly popped out of her head last Friday night, when she got home from the tour out west and found him here unexpectedly. Now the baby has three to spoil him, instead of two. So far, he sleeps all night long, without a sound. His mother is a nurse, and so particular with him, we would hate to return him less perfect than when we went for the dumplings. Mom does not average a kiss a day from the old man, since Eric appeared, and E. R. finds countless excuses to come back on the hill throughout the day, specially if Eric is not awake when he leaves for the plant.

Tell you about a new generation—it really is wonderful.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS

The program committee of the Drift Woman's Club met at the home of Miss Betty Turner, June 23, for the purpose of planning the yearbook for the coming year.

Highlighting the social calendar of the year will be the entertainment of the Mother Club which is the Martin-Allen Club, a Christmas Party honoring the men to be held December 26, an Anniversary Dinner to be held in conjunction with Installation of Officers and Convention Report in June, and a family picnic sometime next summer.

A poem contest among club members is planned to select the poem to be printed in the yearbook. All poems must be in the hands of Betty Turner or Ruby Akers by Saturday, July 11.

The club is sponsoring a Donkey Baseball Game, Sunday, July 5, at 3:00 p.m. Admission is 60c and 30c. The club is also selling advertising space at the Drift ball park to candidates for the month of July which will include the tournament to be held there that month.

Refreshments were served to the following members of the program committee: Mesdames R. W. Ankrum, C. J. Cahill, Claude Martin, and Misses Catherine Reed, Ruby Akers, and the hostess, Betty Turner.

A RETURN TO

Equal Justice under the Law

One hears constant complaints from every corner of Floyd county of justice being denied to certain persons because they are poor, uneducated, politically uninfluential, or ill-advised. One also hears constantly of the dismissal of causes of action which are just and which should be heard and FAIRLY DECIDED according to law.

It is a sad commentary on our courts when persons summoned before them go away from the "Bar of Justice" knowing that they have been wronged and have been denied one of the basic rights guaranteed by our Constitution!

The Floyd County Court is the busiest court in the county and holds regular monthly terms for the trial of cases. During recent years its case-load has been far heavier than that of the Floyd Circuit Court and it is my belief that when a man goes before the court he should be tried by a person trained in the law so that his every right might be safe-guarded, and so that the rights of our other citizens should be equally protected.

If you elect me your County Judge I solemnly promise and guarantee a return to "EQUAL JUSTICE UNDER THE LAW."

I promise that every man desiring to be heard will be heard.

I promise to maintain the dignity befitting Courts of Justice and I shall make every effort to restore the confidence of the people in the County Judge's office. Records of all activities of my office will be maintained and made available to all interested persons without question.

I shall consider it my duty to observe and protect the civil and human rights of all men. I shall not seek nor attempt to bolster the income of the office by imposing unjust fines, nor shall harsh or unjust penalties be imposed.

When I sit upon the bench as your County Judge, I shall decide the cases coming before me on the basis of the facts as governed by the law of this Commonwealth and I promise before GOD to administer at all times JUSTICE TEMPERED WITH MERCY.

Wadley Anniversary Celebrated, June 25

Rev. and Mrs. Merl Wadley, of the First Baptist Church, Martin, were honored on their second anniversary here, June 25, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. May, at Warco, following prayer service, when members and friends gave them a surprise pounding. Mrs. Claude Hagans presided during a brief program of short talks of thanks and appreciation to the Wadleys for their consecrated services on the charge, which has grown tremendously since they came to this county. A corsage was presented Mrs. Wadley, and a boutonniere to the pastor, Rev. Wadley responded graciously. Ray Flanary led the closing prayer.

The dining room was decorated in BTU colors of green and white. The color scheme was embodied in the napkins and in a huge two-tiered cake. The bottom layer represented the first year of the Wadleys here. On it the following words were written in green, B.T.U., W.M.S., Brotherhood, and D.V.B.S., organizations perfected in the local church for the first time. The top layer bore the inscriptions: Hunter Mission, Camp Trips and Association Meeting, to which Martin was hostess in April. Two white candles flanked a silver cross, while tiny white roses edged the cake at intervals. Punch was served, with Mesdames Wayne Hagans, Willie Hall, Donald Prater and others at the bowl. A large crowd enjoyed the occasion, including many from the mission at Hunter.

Fifteen acres of strawberries were set in Rowan county this spring, and indications are for a sizable increase next year.

Homer Wicker Endorsed For County Court Clerk By Dr. M. V. Wicker

I want to take this opportunity to ask my friends in Floyd county to support my brother, Homer Wicker of Prestonsburg, for County Court Clerk.

He is qualified for the position, is honest and sober, will offer the people the courteous and efficient service they are entitled to have in the Clerk's office. Any support extended him will be appreciated. Yours sincerely, DR. M. V. WICKER, Wayland, Ky.

STEPHENS for COUNTY ATTORNEY

I was born and reared in a log cabin on a rough mountain farm on the Caney Fork of Middle Creek, where I spent twenty years of my life. My father and mother were poor but they insisted we attend school. I attended our old log school house a few miles away at the mouth of Alum Lick on Caney Creek.

The children only had a few books, many of them studied from the same book, and after a few years attending the public schools, brother Jim and I, after dragging a few cross ties from the ice and selling them at a small price, I was able to secure $65.00 and one cold day in January, 1909, I packed what few clothes I had and a few books into a paper suit case, crossed the hill to Goodloe and went to Louisa where I attended school under Professor Wm. Byington, who took me in without tuition and I used the $65.00 to pay board. I received my first school through John L. Pitts as trustee and began teaching at $37.50 per month. I like to think of my school mates and the students who attended school under me. Those were happy days.

I am a life member of the Masonic Lodge and belong to the Royal Arch, Knight Templar and Shrine and also am a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and have been for forty-one years. I am also a member of the Baptist Church, not only of record but in spirit, and by my daily walks in life I am living it day by day and by the help of God I will continue to do so. I have a great number of relatives, friends and supporters and if all of them who I have aided and assisted in many ways would now go to work for me, there is no doubt about the outcome in my race for County Attorney. It has always been a pleasure to me to be of service to people and render them the best within me, day or night.

I am related by blood to the Shepherds, Hales, Howards, Wiremans, Salyers, Stones, Handshoes, Pattons, Allens, Osbornes, Crisps, Ousleys, Coburns, Davises, Heltons, Ratliffs, Mays, Conleys, Hackworths, Stanleys, Dingus, Salsburys, Fitches, Fitzpatrick, Baileys, Millers, Calhouns, Hydens, Wallens, Baldridges, Carpenters, Slones, Flannerys, Jarralls, Barnetts, Blackburns, Healds, Mosleys, Dotsons, Wrights, Hekses, Hamiltons, Justices, Thornsbury, Praters, Spradlins, Gearhearts, Johnsons, Whittakers, Bingham and many others.

The records of the Floyd Circuit Court show that I was one of the best and most efficient Clerks in the State of Kentucky and the records bear that endorsement by the State Examiner and Inspector, and they also show that I was never checked short or that I was due to pay anything.

I am not a college graduate nor did I ever attend college as all my opponents in this race have, but I am glad they were able to do so. I have learned what I know in the school of hard knocks and have absorbed more law, rules and practices than a great many lawyers ever will know. I have had a license to practice law 36 years. I claim to know as much about financial and fiscal affairs of Floyd county as anyone and you can bet that I know what is taking place all the time.

I was brought up in life the hard way. I have mined coal with Cabage Head Daniels Hughes and Sol Hunter 10 and 12 hours for 50 cents per day. When I had time away from home, I was plowing and hoeing corn, barefooted for others, the rocks rolling and skinning my shins and feet, 10 to 14 hours a day for 25c a day. Don't let anyone convince you my life has been a bed of roses. I know what it is to be hard pressed for money. I was 19 years old before I had my first suit of clothes and in these days you only received one pair shoes each year, and if they didn't last you through the winter, you did without. I have made quite a bit of money in my life and have given away to poor people more than many people have made, and now I want your help so that I may help you again.

Go and vote your sentiments and urge others to go and do likewise—only in this way can you accomplish anything. Anyone refusing to vote has no right to criticize the officials and the kind of county government you may have. I have always been able to tell my money from that of someone else.

I am definitely convinced since I have covered most of Floyd county and talking to the people and others who know how politics operate that this race is and will be between me and Woodrow Burchett and I also am convinced that this race can be won without Woodrow. Yours for an improved, greater and better Floyd county. Restore honesty in the courthouse and your tax dollars will be spent wisely.

"I've seen a lot of trouble, but most of it has never happened" . . .

In Mark Twain's day, as today, people had a tendency to worry about things that MIGHT happen, but most of the time never did! There is a good lesson to be learned from the great author . . . and from our own experience . . . many of our worries are borrowed.

It has been said that "no man ever sank under the burden of the day". When the burdens of the days YET TO COME are added the weight of living is unbearable. If we only live each hour and each moment as it comes — NOT TRYING TO MEET THE ENTIRE FUTURE — life will be so much simpler. For surely as the night follows day, the months roll on and the very situation we couldn't cope with is either softened on the horizon of memory or, if it still exists, we have learned to live with it.

We service all burial policies.

Unemployment Gains Show Downward Trend

A downward trend in unemployment claims was noted by the State Department of Economic Security as the May figure in both new and continued claims for benefits showed a substantial drop. O. B. Hannah, director of the department's Unemployment Insurance Division, said this week. This same movement toward improvement has been noted in the Prestonsburg unemployment office.

New claims for May totaled 9,351, a drop of some 18 per cent under the April figure. The decrease was well distributed throughout the state, with 17 of the 24 reporting areas showing a drop. Likewise, continued claims for benefits, totaled 81,973—nine per cent under April, with the downtrend being spread throughout the state.

Unemployment insurance benefits for the month totaled $1,552,044, approximately $98,000 below April payments but $277,000 over those for May 1952. Most of the increase was attributed to the larger benefits provided by the 1952 General Assembly, under which average payments for a week of unemployment were jumped from $13.22 to $21.29, according to Hannah.

I Don't Boast of My Record—My Record Boasts for Itself!

We hear, these days, much boasting of official and personal records by candidates for office. There isn't anything wrong about this, I suppose, but the record itself, not the man, should do the boasting.

I am not vainly proud about my record as your Jailer, but I am frank to admit that what I have been able to do for Floyd county, the people and the unfortunates who have spent time in jail gives me a great deal of satisfaction.

It is a record made through good times and bad, often under many difficulties and at other times when things were not so difficult. Whether the Jailer's office was paying me well or not, I worked hard not one year but EVERY year to do a good job—to keep the jail and courthouse clean, to feed the prisoners well, to keep the public grounds attractive, and, above all, to treat those in jail and their old fathers and mothers as I would want my boy to be treated and as I would want others to do to me.

My record, too, will show that I collected not one cent more than was due me for my work.

I think the people of Floyd county appreciate earnest effort and honesty on the part of their officials. For that reason I have dared to seek the Democratic nomination for Sheriff in the face of opposition which has the power of money behind it. I still believe in the power of the people to recognize service and to elect, without dictation, from any clique or clan, officials who can be depended upon to serve them faithfully and honestly.

In asking your vote I promise this: To enforce the law without fear or favor, with consideration for the small as well as the great where consideration is due, and to do the job well under all circumstances . . . every day, every year of my term of office.

PVT. HOWELL AT CAMP PICKETT

CAMP PICKETT, Va. — Pvt. Delmer Howell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Howell, E. McDowell, Ky., completed basic training recently at the Medical Replacement Training Center here.

At MEPTO, the Army's basic training school for medical enlisted men, he has received eight weeks of basic infantry training and eight weeks of medical training.

BILL HALL

For SHERIFF

As I travel over the county, I find that there is one thought uppermost in the minds of the people, "the deep-seated desire to restore some sort of old-fashioned honesty in our elected officials".

A public office is a public trust, and it is time that sensible, honest Christians and patriotic people become alarmed over the machine-politicians who have turned our public offices into family-affairs, the first step on the road to political dictatorship.

I am not a politician and I have no desire to be one. I have nothing to hide from any person. My campaign is wide-open. I am not sponsored by any politicians or group of politicians, and I am not interfering with any other race.

Voters, watch this campaign, and be not deceived by rumor-spreading candidates, who have been disloyal and unfaithful as to law-enforcement and common ordinary honesty in our county.

I am just an ordinary citizen who has worked hard and earned my living by the "sweat of my brow," dealing with my fellow man honestly, honorably and with a deep and abiding faith that the good people desire a "CHANGE" from family-dictatorships in Floyd county.

I have not promised deputy jobs to any one. I will leave that to you people in the community in which he may live and work. I will not spread "false-rumors" on anyone, for I intend to play the game FAIR. That's the way my Christian father and mother taught me around the "family-hearthstone" to live and treat my fellow-neighbor, and nothing short of that kind of men and women seeking public office, will clean up politics here and elsewhere, undo family-dictatorships and restore old-fashioned honesty in our county government.

People, see your neighbors, relatives and friends, talk and vote and win with BILL HALL FOR SHERIFF.

Sincerely,

Thirty-Nine Girl Scouts From Martin at Day Camp

MARTIN, Ky. — Thirty-nine Girl Scouts and Brownies from the towns of Martin, Allen and Maytown last week completed six days of day camping at the Scout camp at David.

Out-of-doors activities included cooking over an open fire, swimming, exploring, hiking, nature lore, crafts, singing, and spending the night under the stars for the intermediates and seniors. Emphasis was on camping activities that can't be done in the troop program during the winter.

Crafts under the direction of Mrs. Dortha W. Allen, home economics instructor at the Martin high school, was one of the high lights of the camp. The program was devoted to molding beads, carving, weaving, spatter painting and working in clay. Climaxing the activities were the building of an outdoor grill of cement blocks and the erection of a flagpole.

Miss A. Barbara Goddard, day camp director, gave a half-hour of swimming instruction to each group each morning in the David pool. All campers were able to do a face float by the third lesson.

The day camp committee was composed of Mrs. Carl Martin, chairman; Mrs. W. O. Huddleston, Mrs. Wanda Stith, Mrs. John P. Sammons, with Miss Goddard as day camp director. The staff included these members, who were assisted by Mrs. Edna Bailey, Maytown, Mrs. Roy Beckham, Allen, and Mrs. Dortha W. Allen and Mrs. Opal Martin, of Martin.

All campers were required to have a health examination by a physician, and the doctors of Martin did these tests without charge. A nurse was in attendance at all times, and the nurses from the Beaver Valley hospital at Martin gave their day off from the hospital to help with the girls.

The girls would like to express their thanks to the Allen-Martin Woman's Club for its interest and cooperation, the parents and others who helped with transportation, the doctors of Martin and nurses of Beaver Valley hospital, the David Scouts for the use of their camp, and to the citizens of David for the use of their playground and pool.

SEAMAN KIDD ON USS VALLEY FORGE

SAN DIEGO, Calif. — Scheduled to arrive here, June 25th aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Valley Forge after seven months of combat duty in Korean waters is Henry Kidd, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charley Kidd, of Osborn, Ky.

The veteran flat-top has completed its fourth tour of duty in the forward area.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS

The Allen-Martin Woman's Club held a call meeting, June 8, at the home of the president, Mrs. Ben Short, in Martin. Mrs. Wm. Lyon presided at the meeting.

Mrs. Wm. Lyon introduced Mrs. Richard Vinson, of the Lackey-Garrett Woman's Club, who installed the following officers: Mrs. Russell Laven, president; Mrs. John W. Hall, vice-president; Mrs. Roy L. Beckham, recording secretary; Mrs. George Lavens, corresponding secretary; Mrs. M. C. Elliott, parliamentarian; and Miss Nell Music, secretary and treasurer.

Mrs. Ben Short served the following members a salad course: Mrs. Roy L. Beckham, Fred Gross, Wm. Martin, George Lavens, Charles Marshall, T. J. Allen, Willard Kinser, Wm. Lyon, M. C. Elliott, Ann Scott, Earl B. Martin, Miss Nell Music and the guest Mrs. Richard Vinson.

The last meeting of the club year was held June 15 at the home of Mrs. Charles Marshall in Martin, with Miss Goldie Wilson, of Ashland, as guest-speaker. Mrs. Wm. Martin was in charge of the program on Education.

For COUNTY COURT CLERK

Dear Friends:

I have had to be away a few days while Kathleen was in St. Mary's Hospital recovering from an operation. We are thankful that she has gotten along well, and will soon be able to be out again.

God has been kind to us. We wish to thank you, one and all, for keeping up the good work in my campaign while I was away. I feel good toward everyone. The only unpleasant thing about an election campaign is that everyone can't win. I realize that many times it is necessary to choose between relatives and friends, but we have our duty to God and our country, and my utmost desire is that we make the best of it.

I feel good toward my opponents in this race. I don't want to hurt any of their feelings, or the feelings of their friends.

I promise to always strive to keep my mind and body clean and working to uphold the good that we have in the world, and not for the interests of those things that seek to tear down and destroy. Both in office and out, I have always tried to do all of the good that I could to as many people as I could, and to be honest and kind to everyone.

I believe that you feel that I have been a faithful servant to the people in the County Court Clerk's office. My only obligation is to the people. I will not be obligated to any politician or clique. I have always strived with all my ability to do what was fair and honest and efficient for the good people of our county. I have always felt that the good could be made better, and the better best; that is and will always be my aim.

Kathleen and I have many fine friends and relatives throughout Floyd county. We appreciate your kindness toward us. We realize that the County Court Clerk's office is more important to more people than any other office in the county. Every man and woman in the county will have some business or interest in this office during the next four years. No business could successfully operate, nor no home could be secure without this office being in clean and faithful hands. We have kept your records well and have been faithful and true to the trust that you have put in us.

I have had in my custody in the County Court Clerk's Office all records of your deeds, mortgages, contracts, automobile and truck licenses and registrations, your registration as a voter, the election boxes and ballots and tabulations, marriages and marriage licenses, sales and transfers, discharges, and various other licenses and records, and a record of all money spent by the County Fiscal Court.

You can readily see the importance of having this office in efficient hands. Every family will have some kind of interest or business in the County Court Clerk's Office in the next four years, and I want each of you to realize that only with your help will it be possible for me to continue to serve you for the next four years, and that if I am nominated and elected the office will still belong to you, yours to give and yours to take away, and so long as you put your confidence in me it will be operated for your benefit and convenience. I have tried to secure and keep the most efficient help.

You can always feel free to come into the Clerk's Office and transact business and visit with us. We will be glad to be of service to you. We have and we will continue to save your time and money.

I appreciate the kindness and the courtesy that you have shown me in the past. I am grateful to you all and will always do my very best to make you happy that you have helped me in this election.

If not obligated to someone else I will sincerely appreciate your vote and influence in this race. Please give me your kind consideration.

Your friend,
DuRAN MOORE

MAYTOWN

The Maytown Women's Club met at the home of Mrs. David Reed for its regular monthly meeting, June 18. Mrs. James Allen, president, presided over the business meeting. Following the business meeting, an interesting talk on "Romance of China" was given by Mrs. Virginia Short, of Martin. Mrs. Short also displayed several table arrangements using the different patterns in China, crystal and silver. At the conclusion of the program, Mrs. Reed served a dessert course to the following members: Mesdames John Ison, Theodore Gibson, Jones Tallent, Raymond Hopson, George Patton, James Allen, Charles Patton, Ed Stewart and guests, Mrs. Paul Borders and Mrs. Virginia Short.

The community extends its sympathy to S. J. Tallent and family in the death of his father, A. R. Tallent, who made his home here with his son, died at a hospital in Fletcher, N. C., last week. S. J. Tallent and son, Billy, were at his bedside during his short illness and attended the funeral and burial at Madisonville, Tenn., Friday. "Papa" Tallent endeared himself to the hearts of many while he made his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Crowe and son, Joe, of Ludlow, Ky., were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ed Sutton, recently. Joe is staying with his grandparents for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Patton and Marsha and Mrs. Amanda Patton have returned from a two-week vacation with relatives in Zionsville, Indiana.

Mrs. Amy Begley and Miss Bethel Gayheart are spending a month with Mr. and Mrs. Hershell Begley, of Hartford, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Northrup and Tamara and Miss Louise Robinson are spending a week's vacation motoring through the northern states. They plan to visit in Canada, also.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hayes and children, of Wheelwright, were visiting his mother, Mrs. Rebecca Hayes, last week.

Mrs. Manor Manuel is a patient in the Beaver Valley hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Crum and children are visiting relatives in Elkhorn City.

Jody Begley is spending a month with Mr. and Mrs. Joe T. Begley, at Boldman.

Mrs. Baisden Osborne and sons were visiting her sister in Lexington, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Stewart and children and Miss Anna Lou Patton are visiting relatives at Daytona Beach, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Robinson and Larry are visiting relatives in Ohio.

Congratulations to Miley Ousley and Betty Lois Gibson, who were recently married. The young couple have moved into the Sam Jones house.

Mrs. Ernest Hayes and children are visiting Mrs. Hayes' parents in Mobile, Alabama.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tingle have as their guests, Mrs. Tingle's niece, Mrs. Gary Kelly and children, of Indiana.

Clarence Slone, who is living in Detroit, was visiting his mother, Mrs. Julia Slone, this week.

Mrs. Sylvia Wright and children, of Grundy, Va., were visiting Mr. and Mrs. James Allen, last week.

Johnny Prater, who has been employed in Ohio, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Prater. Johnny will be inducted into the navy soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Reffitt are visiting relatives in McArthur, Ohio.

Ruth and Imogene Slone spent their vacation with relatives and friends in Michigan.

Dougie and Genie Coburn, of Garrett, are spending the week with their aunt, Mrs. James Allen, and family.

The Maytown F.H.A. chapter held a Play Day, June 12, at the Martin swimming pool. Mrs. Tische, the sponsor, was the chaperon. Among those girls enjoying the day were Mrs. Minerva Tische, and daughter, Rebecca, of Martin, Carol Ann Hayes, Sharon Hayes, Ernestine Bates, of Bosco, Reba Salyers, Eastern, Bethel Gayheart, Sandra Tingle, Sandra Patrick, Sydney Ratliff, Charlotte Maggard, Janette Manuel, and Bessie Fraley, Maytown.

State Places 10,000 In Farm Jobs in May

Frankfort, Ky., June 24 — Recruitment of strawberry pickers featured placement activities in the State Division of Employment Service during May, L. P. Jones, director of the division, reported today.

Hiring of pickers in several areas, notably Paducah and Bowling Green, jumped the number of agricultural jobs filled by the division from 93 in April to 10,010 last month. However, farm placements last month were only 65 per cent of the number placed for May, 1952, because of reduced strawberry acreage, especially in Mayfield and Paducah, combined with cool, rainy weather.

Non-agricultural jobs filled totaled 3,116 in May, an increase of 14 per cent above April, but nine per cent under the May 1952 figure. About one-half the gain from April to May was in the Lexington area. There were 4,546 nonfarm job openings received in the division's 24 local offices last month, and there were 38,288 active job applications on file as of May 30.

With Old Age Pensioners

HENRY C. HALE in Point 4 of HIS PROMISES FULFILLED AS STATE REPRESENTATIVE, which has been published in The Floyd County Times, says to the OLD AGE PENSIONERS, "I HAVE VOTED AGAINST and WORKED FOR DEFEAT OF THE OLD AGE LIEN LAW".

Why, Mr. Hale, do you think you can hoodwink us old people into voting for you when the record shows that you were present and did not vote against Senate Bill 101, commonly known as the Old Age Lien Law? For three terms, Mr. Hale, we sent you to Frankfort to represent us and when a Pork Barrelled Legislature drags out this vicious law to rob us old people of our meager possessions, you sit there tongue-tied and paralyzed, and you never as much as raised your voice nor lifted your little finger against this Bill, and as the Record shows you were present and would not even vote against it.

Among the aged who live in this country this law has destroyed the peace of mind that existed in the humble cottages of these old folks and cast a cloud of gloom and despair over them as they are nearing the end of the way. We old people have worked hard all our lives and have had a hard time rearing our families and have had very little opportunity to accumulate enough of this world's goods to own a little home of our own until we have just about come to the end of our lives. Then, you come along, Mr. Hale, and ask us to send you to Frankfort to represent us, which we did three times, and when this vicious bill was brought up, as stated above, you sit there and permit this bill to be passed without making a protest of any kind against it and rob us Old People of the supreme achievement of a lifetime.

Mr. Hale, with your hundreds of acres of land and wealth, it might be hard for you to understand what we old people are talking about, but you do know that we cannot eat these little homes, and in order to receive something to exist on, that we are forced to sign on the dotted line.

Yes, Mr. Hale, you think we are too old and feeble and weak in mind and body to check your record, but this has been done and you can't fool us Old People with "TRICK" affidavits. You did not vote for us when you had a chance. Now we will not vote for you. Let everyone remember your action in this matter on Election Day and help defeat Mr. Henry C. Hale and all others who did not vote against it.

"Lest we forget"

JOHN LAFERTY

"An Old Age Pensioner"

The following is a transcript from Arthur Y. Lloyd, Director of the Legislative Research Commission, which shows exactly how Mr. Henry C. Hale and others stood on this bill:

LEGISLATIVE RESEARCH COMMISSION

FRANKFORT, KENTUCKY

March 24, 1953.

Honorable Bill Adams
State Representative
District 92
Isom, Kentucky

Dear Bill:

Pursuant to your request today I am enclosing a summary of the vote on Senate Bill 101 (1952 Regular Session).

When I started to check this vote I found that we had already done so previously for a Senator, so I am enclosing a complete copy which shows both the Senate and the House of Representatives. While this is labeled "unofficial" it is unofficial in the sense that the official publication of the House Journal has not yet been printed. However, it is taken from the official Journal kept by the respective clerks in each house.

If we can be of any further service to you at any time please do not hesitate to call on us.

Sincerely yours,

ARTHUR Y. LLOYD
Director.

TROY B. STURGILL for SHERIFF

THE SAME FRIEND EVERY DAY

(Pol. Adv.)

Sec. 2, Page 8 — Floyd County Times, July 2, 1953

THE INIQUITY OF SEVEN CENTS A MILE SHOULD BE ABOLISHED!

Seven cents a mile. That iniquity in the sheriff's office began when the Sheriff's Association of Kentucky went down to the Legislature and procured the passage of a law to give the sheriff seven cents a mile to serve court processes. I want to show you how it operates to enrich a sheriff and how it keeps a poor man from going into court to get a wrong righted.

If you live at Wheelwright and have a warrant of arrest for a man who has committed a misdemeanor or if you are engaged in a civil action and need an attachment for a witness, it will cost you seven cents a mile to get the sheriff to come and serve the papers.

What I propose to do is to have the sheriff in the magisterial district in which you reside serve the papers and not charge this seven cents. It is just one of the many little fees that go to build up a big pot for the sheriff at the little man's expense. I'm going to do away with it as one of my first official acts.

SPORTS AFIELD

In plug casting the reel is much the most important piece of equipment. It may be taken as axiomatic that the best reel for any given purpose is the one having the lightest spool that will not prove too fragile for it. We can take it as a second axiom that a spool works most efficiently when it has the most line that it will hold without brushing the pillars.

However, when choosing a reel theories must be modified by that most unpredictable of all factors, "the personal education." Manual dexterity, including the ability to learn delicate thumbing, varies greatly with individuals. Some anglers get much more practice than others. And no one can learn to cast with perfect, machine-like efficiency.

In practice the ordinary angler would find that with the reel theoretically most perfect he could do nothing but backlash; it would be too fast for him. He must slow it down. So, for those who don't get to fish a great deal there has been developed the antibacklash, which greatly reduces and sometimes almost eliminates the tendency to backlash.

The man who fishes a good deal or who is long on manual dexterity should learn to cast without this device to get greatest accuracy, distance and ease in casting; he should learn to use a free-running reel. (According to Jason Lucas, a free-running reel does not mean a free-spool but a regular one with the antibacklash device not in operation and the end caps so loose that one can feel a slight click when the spool is shaken sidewise.)

The average angler who doesn't get to fish nearly as much as he'd like to should by all means use his antibacklash. But he should realize before buying a reel that the less the total-spool-and-crank-weight, the lighter he can set the antibacklash to counteract inertia—so the more accuracy, the farther, and with the least effort he can cast.

The usual way to set an antibacklash is first to tighten it, and then to loosen it gradually until the plug slides down slowly from the tip with the rod held about horizontal, and perhaps shaken a trifle. For one who casts roughly or jerkily, the setting must be tighter; as smoothness increases with practice, it can be lighter. These settings can be determined only by experimenting—but remember that if you never backlash, the setting is too heavy and will hinder your casting.

GARDEN NOTES

BY O. E. BOGGS
County Agent

Some gardeners have been wondering whether a mulch spread after the topsoil has become dry is effective. It is, for the reason that deep in the soil there is moisture, whose tendency is to rise to the surface, then evaporate. Such evaporation is prevented by a mulch, the moisture being held just below the root zone, on which the vegetables can thrive surprisingly well.

There is another benefit worth repeating that comes from mulching. Plowed under mulch material goes for toward replacing the rotted-down bedding of stable manure that is now in some places, not to be had for love or money. Unless humus of some nature is joined with the soil when only commercial fertilizer is used, it literally "burns out;" such a garden may suffer acutely in even moderately dry times.

Now is late-potato planting time, and if they can be found, (ask your county agent) it would be fine to try at least a few Kennebecs, an excellent potato in every way, and resistant to blight. Failing utterly to find Kennebec, there are still Sequoia and Katahdin varieties.

As to blight, by this time the tomatoes will have been sprayed five times, and such a patch may be considered fairly well protected for the season, provided there is only normal rainfall, and the nights are warm. On the other hand, if the average of "last night's low" and "today's expected high" is below 60, and if more than one inch of rain falls in a week, that is blight-developing weather, and spraying should continue, 10 days apart, until at least September 15 to make sure that there will be tomatoes until frost. Even though there is no blight weather, it pays to give as many as four more sprayings after the scheduled five have been given; five is a minimum.

Willard Stephens of Floyd county plans to start construction of a 150-ton trench silo.

Law Enforcement

The Sheriff of your county is the chief law enforcement officer. He holds the most powerful office within the gift of the people. He has the authority to summon every citizen in his county, if he deems it necessary, to assist him in enforcing the law.

When you are deciding for whom you should cast your vote for this very important office, you should deeply realize the grave and serious duty you are about to perform. You should look for these three most important qualifications.

1. SOBRIETY. No person should be given this great responsibility and authority if he is not a sober man. He, after having been elected to this office should appoint only a person as a deputy who is a sober, trustworthy gentleman. I have not taken a drink of anything intoxicating for more than 12 years. I shall never take one. I sincerely promise you that no person will be appointed as a deputy sheriff who is not a sober, respectable citizen in your community. A drunk officer has no right to arrest your son who may become intoxicated. The officer is a greater violator of the law than the person upon whom he is making the arrest. You will have 4 years of sober law enforcement when I am elected your Sheriff.

2. TEMPERAMENT. With the unlimited authority and responsibility that is granted the Sheriff, he must be reasonable, even tempered and certainly not a "hot head". He must have as his deputies men of these same characteristics. You never know when your son or my son will fall in the path of an arresting officer and it will be the duty of the officer to make an arrest. You most certainly do not want your son abused and beaten by a "hot head", clothed with the uniform of an officer.

It has always been my idea that kindness instead of abuse, justice tempered with mercy will make your son and mine a better citizen in the future.

3. DETERMINATION. The Sheriff and his deputies must enforce the laws of our state and country. Every person in this county will agree we must have law enforcement. Our schools, churches and homes must be protected. But you want sober, fair and determined officers to do this job. Only by casting your votes for a man who has done this job, can you be sure you will have this kind of law enforcement.

It was said of me on the first Monday in January, 1950 to a crowded courtroom in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, "You can say one thing about Sheriff Sturgill, he treated them all alike". My family and myself appreciated this very much, whether it was intended as a compliment or criticism. We knew that it was the truth. I promise the people 4 more years of the same treatment. I direct the following statement to the God fearing Mothers and Fathers of this county realizing that I shall answer and be held responsible to my Master for this statement, that during my six years of service as Sheriff, I never failed to perform my duties as I saw it and to the best of my ability. I had served every warrant of any kind, upon any person, for any crime. I made no difference in creed, color or standing in life. My office force and myself assisted in every way possible with my time and money, in every investigation of crime committed during my term of office.

I have never during my life had an indictment returned against me or a warrant issued for me, upon any charge. I have never been arraigned before 12 of my citizens to be tried for any crime. Decide from the truth, facts and records, not from misleading, false, smearing gossip.

I shall discuss this more fully later, in the campaign. I want you to know my record and it is your duty to inquire into all candidates' records and you, the VOTERS, are entitled to have it.

I hope to see most of my friends during the next 30 days.

Your Friend,

TROY B. STURGILL

(Pol. Adv.)
