This Town— That World

April Fool's Day. A very appropriate occasion for the writing of this column.

WE SPARE YOU

Newspapers sometimes get real cute on this day. They've been known to throw a big, black headline on Page 1, announcing some event to scare the daylight out of readers, then print the fact that it's all a joke, son, somewhere else in small type.

But we haven't the heart to tell some whopper such as that— something to the effect that Martians have been seen in Floyd county, or that this section is to be turned into a H-bomb proving ground. One thing that stays our hand is the knowledge that most folks wouldn't believe it, anyway.

So we'll confine our pukeish bent to sending somebody out after a tube of striped ink or to a hardware store after a scoop for this week's edition.

FIGHT THIS RATE BOOST

That's no April Fool joke, the Southern Bell's announcement it's asking again for a rate increase. It ain't funny, either. And it ain't news. It isn't (or ain't) news, because there's nothing new about it; these requests for rate boosts come too often and regularly to be news.

This new one is the sixth request to be filed by Southern Bell with the Public Service Commission since 1946. When will this stop? And how much can the traffic bear?

We, like most others, know little or nothing of the telephone company's problems. It has them, naturally. But so do the company's subscribers.

The city of Louisville, planning a fight on the phone rate request, will employ rate experts to argue the case. Which is fine. For only a rate expert can fathom what is meant by this mass of technical verbiage, mixed with figures.

Without any prejudice whatsoever against the telephone company, we suggest that Floyd county vigorously protest these proposed higher rates.

Advising us by telegram of the Army Corps of Engineers' decision last Friday to raise the conservation pool of Dewey Lake Senator Clements and Congressman Perkins opened with this greeting: "Good news for fishermen!". Verily!

White Bass Added to Lake, Beach Improvement Is Made

Besides getting more water, Dewey Lake is getting a new kind of fish and various other improvements, The Times learned this week.

The Department of Fish & Wildlife Resources last Thursday introduced to its waters a new species of game fish when it released 41 adult white bass there.

At the same time the Burchett Trucking Company was employed by the Division of Parks to make a fill at the Stratton Branch picnic grounds and to make a 150-foot beach there. Seven carloads of sand were unloaded for the beach.

Conservation Commissioner Henry Ward visited the state-owned Brandy Keg boat dock last week, and it was said here later that the dock will be moved up the cove to the present boating launching site. A new launching site is being made where the old road ends with the site of the former bridge across Johns Creek.

Plans also have been discussed for work on the dock itself. One job

IMPOUNDING ADDED DEWEY DEPTH BEGUN

Friday Marks Winning Climax of Move Begun In County 2 Years Ago

Sportsmen over the area who are interested in Dewey Lake this week saw another of their hopes realized as waters of the impoundment rose toward a new level five feet higher than the 645-foot elevation.

Celsus Meek, dam-tender, said impounding of the additional depth of water began at 4:45 p.m., Friday. At 3:30 p.m., Wednesday, the water had risen 2.6 feet toward the peak conservation pool to be maintained on a seasonal basis.

Although this week's rainfall accelerated the rate of impoundment, the water still rose in 8 1/2 hours Wednesday only 3 foot.

(The closing of the gates to impound the additional water came only two days after Col. Derby, head of the Huntington district office, U. S. Corps of Engineers, had expressed the fear impoundment would not begin till April 6. Assurances from Pike county of waivers against damages, however, apparently, led to the decision to start impoundment Friday.)

The drive for a deeper lake continued over a period of two years and gained impetus last year when several thousands of petitions printed in this and other newspapers went into the Huntington office of the Engineers, asking this improvement from a recreational standpoint.

This was followed by strong support from the Department of Fish & Wildlife Resources, Senator Clements and Cooper and Congressman Perkins with being "instrumental from the start in getting the engineers interested in the project as desired by this Department and the Floyd County Fish & Game

CANCER KILLS 30 IN COUNTY

1953 Death Toll Cited As Fund Drive Begins; Miss Powers, Chairman

Thirty Floyd countians died of cancer last year, it was recalled this week as the work of raising funds to continue the fight on one of the most dreaded of human afflictions was ready to begin.

Actually, the fund drive began today (Thursday). Miss Mary Elizabeth Powers, of Prestonsburg, is chairman of the campaign.

The American Cancer Society pointed out these additional facts:

Between Sept. 1, 1952 and August 31 last year, 140 patients from this county received diagnosis or treatment, or both, and 66 persons received the same attention between last September 1 and Feb. 1 this year. Hospitalization paid from April 1, 1953 through Feb. 1, 1954 cost $745. Not included in this report were the cost of transporting patients, tissue biopsy services, radon seed and other services supplied this county.

The American Cancer Society, which heads the educational and research work in the fight on cancer, combines with its appeal for funds information given the public the latest facts on the disease. Floyd county's goal this year has not been set. Last year, the goal was $1,662.50, and of this amount only $934.03 was subscribed.

"In accepting this appointment," Miss Powers said, "I am deeply aware of the important responsibility it entails. Cancer now ranks second among America's killers and the annual death toll from the disease is on the increase.

"Increased cancer incidence calls for a step-up in the tempo of the nationwide crusade, spearheaded by the American Cancer Society, to effect an increased number of cures possible with present treatment methods until such time as the re-

MAY ACQUIRES CINCY PLANT

P'burg Sign Service Adds to Local Plant Neon Sign Equipment

The May Sign Service last week acquired the entire plant of the Queen City Advertising Company, Cincinnati, it was announced Monday by Russell May, owner of the Prestonsburg firm.

The Cincinnati plant, which already has been moved here, includes office equipment, machinery for bending neon tubing and the paraphernalia of a complete five-man neon plant as well as contracts of the Queen City firm for work.

One of these contracts is with Carley's Black Label beer and it, when first negotiated, provides for $30,000 worth of work.

With the purchase of the new equipment, Mr. May employed Ralph Delph, of Hazard, as foreman of his shop. This brings to six the number employed by May Sign Service. The owner said two more men may be added to his payroll later.

Mr. May returned to Prestonsburg, his former home, from Portsmouth, O., two and a half years ago. Since that time he has rapidly expanded his advertising and sign business, and last December he purchased from his father, L. T. May, the May Paint & Wallpaper Company which is in the same building occupied by the sign service. He is presently doing work for customers at the Ohio A-plant and Charlottesville, Va., as well as for business firms in this section of Kentucky.

PUPILS HERE RATED HIGHLY

Eight P'burg Students Win "Superiors," Four "Excellent" in Speech

Eight Prestonsburg high school speech students were rated "superior" and four "excellent" in the Pikeville regional speech festival last week.

A total of 38 "superiors" and 48 "excellents" was awarded in the 13-school festival at Pikeville Junior College, Friday and Saturday. Prestonsburg's eight top-rated contestants are outnumbered only by nine from Hazard high school. Hazard, however, won only two "excellent" rankings.

All entrants, rated "superior" are eligible for the state speech festival at Lexington, April 12-14, as is Hazard's debate team, undefeated in four rounds of debate in the regional meet.

Judges were Dr. R. D. Johnson, assistant director, extension division, the University of Kentucky; Robert F. Howerton, James Harris and Robert I. Adams, Lexington.

Prestonsburg "superiors" were won by Peggy Crum and Betty Sizemore in poetry reading, Jackie Hensley in oratory, Anna McComas in dramatic reading, Darlene Fleming and Cloyd Johnson in extemporaneous speaking, and Linda Sue Stephens and Sally Hill in humorous monologue. "Excellent" ratings went to Rebecca Conley in oratory, Doris Dammron in dramatic reading, Dorothy Rowe in expository-prose reading, and Edith Cook in junior-high poetry reading.

Wheelwright Man Jailed For Assault and Robbery; Two Held for Knott-Co.

Russell Lee Hall, of Wheelwright, was jailed here Tuesday by Wheelwright Policeman D. E. Blackburn on a charge of assault and robbery. He was accused of assaulting Paul Derick, of the same community, and of taking from Derick a pocket-book containing $20.

Edd Moore was returned here last Wednesday by Deputy Sheriff Amos Gray to answer to two counts, one of which is breaking and entering. Held for Knott county authorities are Chester and Homer Thomas, who were arrested by Deputy Sheriffs Obe Onley and W. B. Boyd on grand larceny charges. Others jailed within the week on major offenses:

Hassell Tackett and Jim Nobel, possessing moonshine whiskey, arrested by Deputies Willie Johnson

Processing Plant Owner Plans Future Investment

W. W. Grimm has faith in the economy of Floyd county and the surrounding area, and evidence of that faith is found in his plan to erect a packing plant here when his son returns from the navy in a few months. Owner and operator of the W. W. Grimm Wholesale Meat Company in Prestonsburg, he has had faith in the section a long time. That was why he came here in 1949 and invested a sizeable sum in his present plant on Third avenue.

"Small businesses will make this country," he says. "The coal business is on the decline but will recover to a great extent. Small business will help us until canalization comes along." Having so stated, he begins to point out the many small business ventures that would succeed here. He mentions a paper mill, a brick plant and others.

Bill Grimm was born in Prestonsburg in 1909 but his parents moved away to Van Lear, in Johnson county, where his father was employed as a mine foreman. There was another move or two, and the

DEATH CLAIMS TWO AT DAVID

Music Death, Result Of Heart Attack; One Killed by Rockfall

Sudden death struck twice within little more than 24 hours this week to claim employes of the Princess Elkhorn Coal Company at David.

Claude O'Dell Music, 28, of Auxier, an electrician for the company, died suddenly while working on a mine car at 4:30 a.m., Tuesday, and for a time it was believed he had been electrocuted. Later, the belief was expressed he died of a heart attack.

At 7:45 the following morning Arlie Wayne Adams, 39, of Blue River, machine operator, was instantly killed by a rock fall in the No. 1 mine of the company.

An autopsy was performed Tuesday on the body of the first victim. Dr. John P. Darling, pathologist at the Methodist hospital, Pikeville, told Coroner James J. Carter Wednesday afternoon that he had not completed microscopic analysis detail but that gross analysis indicated a heart seizure caused Music's death. He added that the victim's heart was enlarged.

The rock fall which killed Adams fractured his skull and was comparatively small. Surviving Music are his parents, Claude and Agnes Stewart Music, his widow, Mrs. Janice Wells Music, one son, Doyle, and three brothers, Ralph, Forest and Jerome Music, all of Auxier. His funeral will be conducted Friday afternoon from the Auxier Methodist Church by the Rev. S. C. Honeycutt, and burial will be made in the family cemetery there under direction of the Jones & Preston Funeral Home.

The Adams funeral arrangements had not been completed Wednesday afternoon, it was said at the Moore Funeral Home here. He is survived by his father, Daniel Adams, his widow, Mrs. Oma Marsfield Adams, and six children, Josephine, Jimmy, Alma, Julia Ann, Sally Ann and Elaine Yvonne, all of Blue River. He also leaves three sisters

Kiwanians To Start Sale of Brooms Here

The Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club this year will be urging a spring clean-up more urgently than ever for starting Monday, its members will begin the house-to-house job of selling 1,200 brooms.

The brooms, in two sizes, are being sold to augment the club's fund for underprivileged children and to pay its obligation on the Girl Scout camp at Dewey Lake.

TOP WINNERS IN COUNTY SPELLING BEE

BONNIE SUE RAY Courier-Journal Winner

MADGE HOWELL Herald-Dispatch Winner

Two 13-year-old girls from the same school, McDowell, shared the spelling championships of the Floyd county school system which were decided in the Herald-Dispatch and Courier-Journal bees here Saturday.

Madge Rubel Howell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Granville Howell, won the Herald-Dispatch bee and the right to represent the county in the regional spelling finals at Huntington, April 24. Rodney Bussey, speller from David school, also will go to Huntington as runner-up to Miss Howell. The McDowell winner of this bee is taught by Shirley Vanderpool.

Bonnie Sue Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Reynolds, won the Courier-Journal bee and was awarded a $10 cash prize and a dictionary by the Floyd County Board of Education. Her teacher is Madeline Heinisch.

The Huntington regional bee will be televised over WHAS-TV, beginning about 9:45 a.m. The winner there will go to Washington, D. C. for a shot at the national spelling title.

Judges for the two contests held here were L. B. Rice, Boone Hall, Crawford Bradley and Carl Horn. Both bees were staged by Clem Martin, director.

Wade Sloan's Clear Creek school, a regular contributor of county spelling champions, produced a winner only indirectly this year. Both McDowell girls received their early spelling training in his school, it was said.

Miss Howell won the Herald-Dispatch bee when Rodney Bussey stumbled on the word, "soul". She spelled that word and the next, "sense". Her schoolmate, Miss Rey-

SIX SCHOOLS IN FESTIVAL

Floyd Representation In Three-Day Meeting At Pikeville, Large

Music students from half a dozen Floyd county high schools are entered in the Pikeville Regional Music Festival, being held today (Thursday) through Saturday at Pikeville Junior College.

About 1000 junior-high and high-school musicians will perform both singly and in groups in 50 different vocal, piano and other instrumental events. The festival will get under way simultaneously in two halls Thursday morning, with piano performers in Wickham Chapel and baton-twirling and snare-drum events in the college gymnasium.

"In keeping with state-festival policy, no ratings will be placed on performances this year," Dr. A. A. Page, college president, said. "Instead, judges will make detailed criticism of each performance, and designate those who merit participation in the state festival."

The meet will continue with instrumental solos and small groups Thursday afternoon and evening in the chapel. Small vocal ensembles Friday morning, and choruses that afternoon, also will sing in Wickham Chapel, as instrumental solos move to the Pikeville College Academy building.

Vocal solos will be heard in the chapel Saturday morning, and the 11 bands which are entered will play in the Pikeville high school auditorium.

The festival will be climaxed with the traditional All-Festival Chorus concert in Wickham Chapel, immediately after the All-Festival Band concert on the college campus at 6:30 p.m. Saturday.

Judges for the events will be Rolf E. Hovey, head of Berea College's music department, for vocal performances; Helen Greim, teacher of piano at Morehead State College, for piano solos and duets; and J. William Worrell, of the University of Kentucky, instrumental solos and ensembles.

Floyd county schools represented on the official program are, in baton twirling, McDowell, Wheelwright, Wayland, Prestonsburg and Martin; snare drum, Prestonsburg; piano, Prestonsburg; flute solo, Prestonsburg; oboe solo, Prestonsburg; clarinet solo, Maytown, McDowell, Prestonsburg, Martin, Wheelwright, coronet trio, Martin; French horn quartet, Prestonsburg; brass quartet, McDowell, Prestonsburg; brass quintet, Prestonsburg; brass sextet, McDowell, Prestonsburg; male trio, Prestonsburg; girls' trio, Maytown, Martin, Prestonsburg; male quartet, Martin, Prestonsburg; girls' quartet, Prestonsburg; mixed quartet, Martin, Prestonsburg, Wheelwright; saxophone solo, Martin, Prestonsburg, Maytown; flute duet, Wayland; saxophone trio, Wheelwright; clarinet trio, McDowell; clarinet quartet, Martin, Prestonsburg;

Area's Strategic Spot As Possible Plane Route Told Civilian Observers

This section of Kentucky is between Oak Ridge and Portsmouth, O., two of the nation's top atomic centers, and is vitally important to the Civilian Air Defense, an Air Force sergeant told 25 members of the Civilian Observers Corps here Monday evening.

"The importance of tracking down planes flying over this area cannot be over-stressed, he said. U. S. fighter pilots are sleeping beside their planes, and are ready to be in the air within a minutes notice, he added. To prove that this is no laughing matter, he showed the group a film of the A-bombing of Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

The observation lookout post here is subject to call on a 24-hour basis, Tom James, post leader, said.

P'burg Man's Brother Is Victim in Minnesota

Ray O. Fraley, 45 years old, Morehead merchant and a brother of Vester Fraley, of Prestonsburg, died Friday while undergoing a heart operation at the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minnesota.

Mr. Fraley was a member of the Baptist Church, and was well-known in the Rowan-Elliott county area. He is survived by his widow, one daughter, his mother, Mrs. Missouri Fraley, of Fannin, Ky., and six brothers. Funeral rites were conducted Monday from the Morehead Baptist Church, and burial was made there.

Jaycees Here To Honor Outstanding Jr. Citizen

The Prestonsburg Junior Chamber of Commerce announced, following its Monday evening meeting, plans to conduct a Jaycee Junior Citizenship Award project, an annual program designed to turn the publicity spotlight on the young people of Floyd county whose achievements, deeds and service are above and beyond those ordinarily expected by society.

According to Milford Wells, chairman of the project, all youths from the ages of 10 to 17 are eligible for nomination by their teachers, school principals, ministers, church leaders, or youth organization leaders. Each youngster will receive consideration for age limitations, and the 10-year-old will not necessarily be competing with a 17-year-old's record.

The search for Floyd county's "outstanding junior citizen" is being carried on through schools, churches and youth organization, Wells said.

"America's future depends on its young people, and it may be said that in promoting the outstanding junior citizens of Floyd county, we

BOND ISSUE SCORES EASY VICTORY HERE

Search for Location For Gym-Auditorium Demands Attention

Voters of the Prestonsburg independent school district which embraces seven voting precincts last Friday approved by an unexpectedly wide margin the proposed $155,000 bond issue for the construction of an auditorium-gymnasium in connection with the high school here.

With the hot election fight over, local school officials have next on their hands the matter of gaining State Department of Education approval of a site for the proposed 3,000 seat structure.

A site on the grounds of the new county high school building has been, and is still being, sought, but it will not be known if this is available until after next Tuesday's meeting of the Floyd County Board of Education. Another site near the new school has also been considered, along with two sites near the grade school building here.

In addition to the $155,000 bond issue which would be amortized over a 25-year period by a tax levy of 5c to 35c per $100 property assessment, $71,000 will be paid on the proposed building from other local school board revenues.

The election campaign here was bitter but mercifully short, and the surprising ease with which bond issue proponents won was quickly determined as the vote was counted within an hour after the close of the polls. The issue carried in all seven precincts, polling a majority of 318 votes out of 1,230 cast. These were the results by precincts:

BELL ASKING RATE BOOST

Phone Company Claims Inflation Cuts Profits In State to Near 4 Pct.

Declaring that increased costs of providing service have sharply reduced the company's Kentucky earning and endangered its construction program in the state, Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company today (Thursday) asked the Public Service Commission for authority to raise rates.

The additional revenues sought will average less than two cents a day per residence customer, C. Hunter Green, Kentucky manager, said. Of the total of $4,418,000 being requested, the company would get $2,947,000, the remaining $2,371,000 going for taxes.

Green said the increased revenue is needed to offset high costs that

Financial Publication

Law Cited in Response To Inquiry by Hopkins

Any school district having control of the collection or disbursement of public money is required by law to publish an itemized statement in the paper having the greatest circulation, according to a letter received, March 23, by Ernest Hopkins from W. Owen Keller, assistant attorney-general.

Question posed by Mr. Hopkins to the Attorney-General's office was: "Does the law require the school board in an independent school district to have published in a local newspaper a financial statement of all monies received and spent during the fiscal year?"

Keller, in reply, wrote Mr. Hopkins: "We believe this matter is covered by K.R.S. 61.290 which reads in part as follows:

"Every public official of any county, graded school district, city or sub-division or district less than a county whose duty it is to collect, receive, have the custody, control or disbursement of public funds shall at the expiration of each fiscal year prepare an itemized sworn statement of the funds collected, received, held or disbursed by him during the fiscal year just closed."

NOW DON'T IT!

The old mountaineer was opposed to the young man his daughter had chosen for her husband. Chief objection seemed to be the prospective son-in-law had evinced little inclination to work steady and long. Yet the young lady had her way and acquired a husband. Result: the old guy quit speaking to his daughter and son-in-law.

The young couple went to Michigan, got an apartment and eventually had a visit from the stork. Correspondence passed between the young mother and her mother. Reconciliation was planned. The couple brought the baby home, and it was proudly shown to the old mountaineer.

At first the old man was strongly affected by the chubby babe's family likeness and winning smile, but, regaining at last his native stubbornness, he turned away, snorting:

"Humph, anybody can start a family but it takes a man to raise one."

Girl Scout Camp Named By Elizabeth Archer May; Formal Dedication Set

Camp Chatterawha was the name chosen by the Pikeville office of the Girl Scouts as the official designation of the organization's camp in the Dewey Lake area, it was announced this week. Several persons submitted the name but Elizabeth Archer May, Intermediate Scout of Troop No. 2, Prestonsburg, was first to submit it. The name is Indian, said by some historians to be a corruption of Tottery or Totteroi, name of an Indian tribe that early inhabited Big Sandy. The name means "River of Sand Bars."

A formal dedication of the camp is planned for Saturday, May 15, at the camp site, at 2 p.m. This date on the Girl Scout calendar is Rally Day. The day's ceremonies, preceding the dedication affair, will feature several prominent Kentuckians, staff personnel of the national Scout office and the Sandy Valley Council. WSAZ-TV Huntington, radio stations from here, Pikeville and Paintsville are being asked to record the program. A tree planting ceremony will be one of the feature attractions of the meet.

Polio Fund Drive Goal Is Near, Elliott Says

The March of Dimes drive stood just $121.32 short of the goal of $6,000 this week, according to a compilation of figures by Jesse Elliott, county drive chairman. This year's goal was the same as last year.

The Prestonsburg drive for polio funds was somewhat better than last year according to Ray Howard, fund drive chairman. The Mother's March on the night of Jan. 29, which was sponsored by the Kiwanians here, netted $516.53. This was the biggest collection of the Prestonsburg drive. Second largest contributor was the Kiwanis Club with $349. Total of Prestonsburg contributions was $1,364.45, Mr. Howard said.

Two, Convicted Here On Booze Charges, File for Appeals

When T. A. Bates failed Saturday for the second time during the week to appear for trial in quarterly court here on a second charge of possessing beer for sale, County Judge Henry Stumbo directed that trial proceed despite his absence, and Bates was fined $100 and given a 30-day jail term.

The decision to hold the hearing followed a telephone call by Judge Stumbo to a Whitesburg hospital, where Bates was reported to be a patient, with the result that he learned the defendant had not been admitted to the hospital, although he had been seen there. He also had been seen here during the week. A few minutes after the phone call by the judge, Bates called to say he had only left the hospital to go to a nearby barber shop. He was told the trial was under way.

Mrs. Dora Johnson, also of the head of Left Beaver section, was fined $30 and given a 30-day jail term, the same day, on a charge of possessing liquor.

Both defendants appealed the verdicts to the Floyd circuit court. The quarterly court order directed that each be required to execute $1,000 peace bond for a period of six months.

Charges of possessing whiskey lodged against Jack Howard, of Manton, and Clyde Jones, of Marver were dismissed because of a recent Attorney General's opinion that search warrants such as those under which officers searched their premises were invalid. The search warrants were issued by police judges who do not have jurisdiction in the towns where the defendants reside.

Marion Hinkle, James L. Hinkle and Rhodes Diles were fined $15 and costs, each, Saturday on charges of illegal fishing.

Results of quarterly court hearings held earlier last week follow:

Charlie Duncan, cold check, $5 fine and costs; Shirley J. Hayden, reckless driving, $65 and costs; Milton Johnson, waived a breaking and entering charge to the grand jury and was jailed when he failed to execute bond on a peace warrant; F. W. Gardner, $10 fine, for drunkenness and $25 fine, plus $10.50 costs for refusing to pay a taxicab bill of $6; Johnnie Allen, false pretenses, waived to grand jury; Henry Sparks, cold check, set for grand jury action; Clyde Vaughn and Charlie Bayes, drunkenness, $10 and costs.

Ruth Spurlock, child desertion, $1,000 bond set when she waived case to the grand jury; Ernest Reynolds, permitting stock to run at large, $5; Edas Paul Cantrell, drunk driving, $100 and costs; Banner Hall, waived to grand jury false pretenses charge; Atlas Vaughn, drunk, $10 and costs; Clayton Calhoun, cutting and wounding, dismissed; Chester Stone, waived to grand jury charge of possessing stolen property.

Training School Held For County's Mid-Wives Hears Dr. L. R. Mezera

Fifteen Floyd county midwives attended the training school for midwives conducted here Monday in the conference room of the Floyd County Board of Education by Dr. L. R. Mezera, head of the Division of Maternal and Child Health, State Department of Health.

Three such schools a year are planned for the county.

License to practise will later be issued those who have had 10 years' experience, who attended the school and can meet certain qualifications. Moral and physical standards must be met, and each met must be vouched for by two reputable citizens. Others will be required to submit to examinations before being licensed.

One midwife attending the training school delivered 30 babies last year, which is one-third the number of all babies known to have been delivered by midwives in the county over that period.

Twenty-seven midwives are known to be practising in this county and 300 in Kentucky. Under present law no person under 20 or more than 55 years of age may begin practise. ecocvhexminialOthPMSbyye ETA

By: ROGER TURNER

"Few things are impossible to persistence and skill" . . .

When one approaches a task, whether it be physical or spiritual, with dread in one's heart, then that task becomes almost a mental impossibility. However, when one strongly feels that everything in life is subject to comparison, then that attitude will ultimately make every task an easier one.

We do know through immediate knowledge, or knowledge acquired through others experience, that most everything that we have, or will, encounter in life, was accomplished by others. We also KNOW that these others who have succeeded in tackling every emergency that has arisen were just ordinary mortals the same as we.

Thus, with that approach each day, each worry, each problem, each task, is taken in stride and the challenge to one's resourcefulness and one's ability to conquer is received with relish and with faith and knowledge that the job can, will and MUST be done.

KENTUCKY—NOT SOUTHEASTERN KENTUCKY—HAD 50,653 JOB INCREASE IN THREE YEARS

Kentucky had an increase of 50,653 new jobs from June, 1950 to June, 1953 but Southeastern Kentucky received no comfort from this increase. The section lost 11,560 jobs covered by unemployment insurance, according to the January issue of the Statistical Journal of Economic Security.

The area represented by Leslie, Harlan and Bell counties lost the great number of jobs, the total rising to 5,549 or a percentage decrease of 24.4. The next largest decrease in jobs covered by insured unemployment was the Floyd, Magoffin-Martin area. This area lost 2,022 jobs, or a decrease in jobs of 21.6 per cent.

Pike county lost 1,442 jobs, or 13 per cent, and the Breathitt-Perry-Knott-Letcher area lost 2,418 jobs or 16.7 per cent. Employment increase began in the counties adjacent to Boyd. This area had an increase of 1,910 jobs or an increase of 14.7 per cent.

Pike county, in January this year, had 2,804 insured unemployed, or a total of 30.2 per cent of the insured employees. Pike was exceeded, though, by the Bath-Rowan-Elliott-Morgan-Menifee area where the percentage was 39.9. However the number of insured employed was small, due to the agricultural aspect of the section.

The Prestonsburg area, according to the statistical report, has a potential labor supply of 25,000. Only two other sections in the state, the Hazard and Louisville areas, have a larger labor supply potential. "The labor supply potential" was described as the number of persons becoming 18 years of age in the next ten years.

Speaking of this growing labor supply potential in Kentucky, the Department of Economic Security, through its report, says:

"The labor force is constantly growing as young people growing old enough to work overbalance withdrawals because of such factors as death and age. This is a major Kentucky problem as increase in employment opportunities has not kept pace with the increases in those of working age. The result has been heavy outmigration of young people from this state representing a tremendous economic and social loss. During the next ten years, 292,600 boys and 282,900 girls will age into the eighteen year bracket in Kentucky. It is probably safe to assume that 80 per cent or about 230,000 boys and 40 per cent or 110,000 girls will want jobs. This will mean a constant replenishment of the state's labor supply and undoubtedly continuing outmigration unless job opportunities multiply."

Martin Music Festival Is Rehearsal Prelude To Pikeville Regional

The music festival held at Martin, last Thursday was a rehearsal for the regional festival to be held at Pikeville, April 1, 2 and 3, according to Jesse Elliott, director of music instruction in Floyd county schools. have cut the company's earning in the state to about 4%, a figure less than the average in the depression years. The trend is still downward, he said.

"Money to build new facilities comes from investors and not from customers," Mr. Green declared. "We are therefore concerned that our low earnings are unfairly penalizing the telephone investor and are weakening our ability to secure the funds to improve and expand service in keeping with public demand."

"Inflation is still hitting us hard. Since 1939 the price of poles has gone up 134%; cable 88%; cross arms 173%; and copper wire 145%. Increases in other material prices have been correspondingly large."

"The investment cost of adding a telephone in Kentucky today is more than four times greater than in 1946. It has jumped from $122 to $527."

The conservation pool peak is expected to be reached next week.

The final installation necessary to this additional impoundment is the bulkhead now going in, in front of the No. 2 gate at the dam.

They really "GO" together

The new I-block Six-Fordomatic Drive combination is available in any of Ford's 14 body styles. Illustrated is the Customline Six Fordor Sedan.

Ford Six and Fordomatic

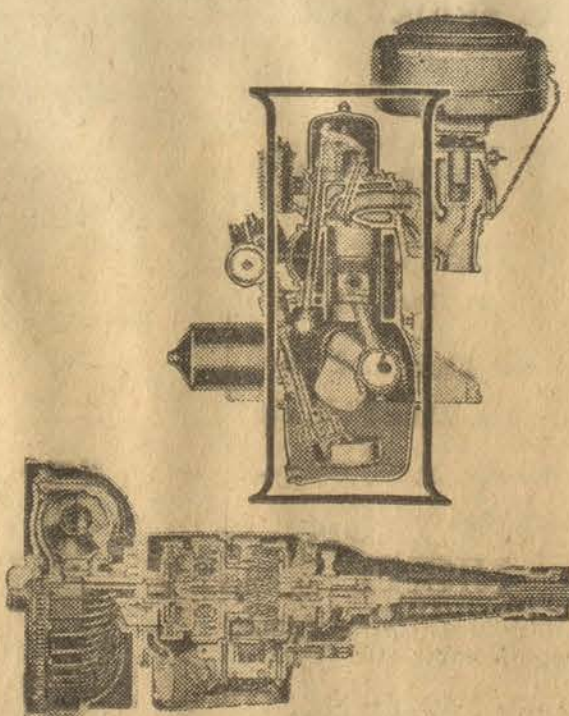

The new Ford 115-h.p. I-block Six whisks you along silently, smoothly, economically. Its deep-block build provides rigid crankshaft support for smoother, quieter operation. Low-friction design and high-turbulence combustion chambers mean more miles from less gas. And, thanks to the Six's higher compression and increased displacement, you get extra "GO" power at all speeds!

Fordomatic Drive shifts for you more smoothly than you could do it yourself. It's the only "automatic" in Ford's field to combine a fluid torque converter and an automatic intermediate gear. Should you ever need an extra burst of speed for passing or hill-climbing Fordomatic's intermediate gear takes over automatically when you step down on the accelerator.

You get a double-value power package when you buy a '54 Ford with the new I-block Six and versatile Fordomatic Drive. This brilliant Ford engine-transmission combination brings you all the smoothness and flexibility of the finest no-shift driving combined with the extra economy that's built into the industry's most modern, short-stroke, overhead-valve Six. And, of course, you get the smooth, level riding comfort, the easier handling of Ford's Ball-Joint Front Suspension, a feature exclusive to Ford in its field.

Remember, too, a Ford Six with Fordomatic Drive is automatically worth more when it comes time for you to sell!

A FORDOMATIC FORD IS AUTOMATICALLY WORTH MORE WHEN YOU BUY IT ... WHEN YOU SELL IT, TOO!

market in Ashland. He sold out to his partner and came here with ample experience.

He employs eight besides himself and his wife in his Third avenue establishment. His wife, the former Claudine Smith, of Ashland, is the bookkeeper. He met her while working for A & P. Walter Snavey, his foreman, has been with him five years. Marvin Johnson, another old employe, is the route foreman. His job is to see to the eight cars and trucks that run over a 70-mile radius in Eastern Kentucky. There are two salesmen on the road.

Those trucks routed by Johnson carry meat products of nearly every description manufactured by Grimm in his small plant. These meats carry the brand "W. W. Grimm." Bill is proud of that brand name. Not just Grimm. He adds the two W's just like he adds the extra quality of his product. Mention his brand name and he starts to talk of quality. To him they are synonymous.

The son whose return Mr. Grimm awaits to start his packing plant is William L. 23, who is serving as storekeeper in the naval service. The youngster was graduated from the University of Kentucky in 1950. Grimm looks forward to the packing plant and his son's return, knowing the two events are going to be big ones for him. Asked if the installation of the packing plant will draw stiff competition from the big packers, he replies that he is competing with them now and that his prices are as low or lower than the "big fellers". I know how to compete with them. I've done it and I've made a living.

"Made a living," he has, and furnished employment to others so they could make a living. The packing plant will employ others and more will make a living here. All of which, after all, is a result of any businessman's sound faith in his business and section.

Cadillac

"Dream Car" of Twenty-five Million!

You've heard and read a lot about various "dream cars" in recent months—but here's the "dream car" of them all!

Research among motorists would seem to indicate that literally tens of millions of people dream of owning this car—and would take steps to change their dreams into realities if they felt their economic situations justified them in doing so.

It is—as you undoubtedly know—a Cadillac.

What can there be about a motor car to make it stand so eloquently apart from all other products of its kind?

The reasons are not far to seek or difficult to evaluate. They are simply the fruition of a fifty-year policy of strictest adherence to the highest possible ideals in engineering, manufacturing and service.

Not once in all this time has Cadillac deviated from its policy of building as fine a motor car as it is practical to produce.

Today, Cadillac has become an international symbol of all that is good and desirable in the automotive world—the special favorite of the most discriminating motorists to be found anywhere.

Small wonder that so many millions who have never driven a Cadillac have it so high on their dream list of wonderful things to own. The truth of its incomparable goodness is obvious to everyone.

The 1954 Cadillac is the greatest Cadillac of them all—more beautiful, more distinguished—and with the finest performance of all time.

Come in and see it. Whether you expect to buy a Cadillac or not, you are welcome to see and inspect the new Standard of the World.

SPRING GRID DRILLS BEGIN WITH 45 ATHLETES REPORTING

Forty-five candidates reported for spring football practice at Prestonsburg high school Monday afternoon. Included in the group were 15 lettermen from last season's squad that won seven games and lost three.

Coach Doc Ferrell's teams won the Eastern Mountain Conference in 1951 and 1952 and finished fourth in the race last fall.

Nucleus of the '54 unit will be sophomore quarterback Lowell Hughes, one of seven returning regulars, and all-conference halfback Clifford Goble, along with handyman Kendall Alexander and speedster Ronnie Goble.

Lost by graduation will be six-letterman tackle Tom Spradlin, fullback Johnny Thompson, guard Bucky Burchett and end Paul Ousley.

Ferrell, who has a five-year record of 40 wins and 15 losses, plans to shift tackle Randall Wells to the fullback spot, since he is the best blocker on the squad and one of the fastest.

Other returning lettermen are end Dee Caldwell, 6-foot-2, 130-pound junior; tackle Ed Ousley, 200-pound junior; Chester Shepherd, 175-pound junior halfback; guard Charles Salyers, tackle Don Reutherford, and center Joe Tackett.

The Blackcats have an open date September 10th, and hope to fill it before the season opens.

The Prestonsburg football schedule: Sept. 3, Whitesburg, away; Sept. 10, Open; Sept. 17, Morgan County, away; Sept. 24, Elkhorn City, away; Oct. 1, Jenkins, home; Oct. 8, Pikeville, home; Oct. 15, Louisa, home; Oct. 22, Belfry, away; Oct. 29, Wayland, away; Nov. 5, Paintsville, home.

(All are conference games except the Louisa and Morgan County engagements.)

Appreciation Week Honors Teachers

Frankfort, Ky., March 25—Governor Lawrence W. Wetherby has proclaimed the week of April 11 to 17 as "Teacher Appreciation Week" in the State and asked that appropriate steps be taken by citizens and organizations "to show their appreciation by appropriate programs and activities honoring our teachers.

"The need for greater public recognition of the excellent services our teachers are rendering is recognized by the Kentucky School Boards Association and boards are urged to increase salaries of teachers as much as possible with funds available, considering other necessary services and facilities that must be provided."

The Governor's proclamation recognized the growing shortage of qualified teachers in Kentucky, and declared that, as a result of a "continuous decrease in the number of young men and women in training for teaching and an increase in the school population, the shortage will become more acute unless immediate attention is given to the problem."

The cancer death rate would drop 40 per cent if every practicing physician this year discovered only one early curable case of cancer, the American Cancer Society points out.

By GORDON MOORE

Sure signs of spring are the local fishermen cleaning and repairing fishing tackle rather than sharpening the hoes and rakes for garden and planting chores.

To those ardent trollers we offer various hints that have been passed down from generations of staunch Isaac Walton Club members.

Copper-blade spinners tarnish easily and should be polished frequently if their effectiveness is to be preserved. This can be done easily with salt and vinegar. Sprinkle a little table salt on a cloth previously moistened with vinegar, and with this scour the blades vigorously. Doing this will bring back the old-time luster of copper spinners.

Spinners having nickel blades can be polished by scouring briskly with any good nickel polish.

When fly-rod fishing for bass, the artificial fly should not be too large. On bright days and with clear or low water, the fly should be quite small and of subdued dark or neutral tints. When the day is cloudy and the water turbid and high, large and brighter flies should be used. On dark days or from sunset until dark, or on moonlight evenings, use gray or whitish flies of fairly large size.

If hooks used for bass and other fish are dulled against submerged rocks, pebbles, and are coated with rust, just rub the hook points across the scratching surface of a book of matches. This abrasive surface will restore the points quickly.

The best method of stringing fish is to string them through both lips, and not through the gills. The fish will live longer as it is permitted to open and close its mouth at will. A fish will soon drown if compelled to hold its mouth open, especially when a stringer has been forced through its gills.

All of us in the excitement of landing a fish, often drop some article of tackle overboard. In the event this happens, open all the hooks on a fish stringer, the type with large safety pin snaps, and tie the stringer to a rope or strong fishing line, then lower it to the bottom and use it as a drag hook. It will work very effectively on any article which can be hooked. This has saved many dollars of tackle when no other device for retrieving was available.

LOOK WHAT BLACK CATS WILL BE FACING IN FUTURE GRID PLAY WITH PAINTSVILLE!

Paintsville high school athletic officials are in dire need of a size 15 D football shoe.

The difficulty all arose last Tuesday when Freddy Wells reported for football practice. Coach Jim Wheeler told all football candidates to report to the gym for equipment. When the six-foot-three-inch, 16-year-old, 250-pound Wells dressed he asked for a size 13 shoe, but none was to be found.

Principal Oran Teetor wrote Clarence Underwood, assistant University of Kentucky football mentor for a used size 13 shoe. Two days later, in came a new pair of shoes, but Freddy couldn't squeeze his feet in them.

Coach Wheeler and Teetor promptly hustled the eighth-grader to a Paintsville shoe store where his correct foot measurement hit size 15 D.

Previously Freddy earned a letter on the junior varsity team by playing in tennis shoes, but he wants better protection for his feet, now that he is a candidate for the varsity.

Sporting goods stores are in sympathy, but do not have shoes available in that size, leaving Paintsville officials to wring their hands while Freddy, a better than average student, practices in undersize street shoes.

Big Haul, Lands Two In Hands of Law

Frankfort, Ky., March 23 (Sp)—Two men who had netted 218 pounds of fish from Cumberland River, one and one-half mile below Wolf Creek Dam, have been fined a total of $50 each on two separate charges. The men, Alvin Flannigan and Floyd Carnes, were arrested a few days ago after conservation officers had watched them raise two 90 foot gill net from the river. Included in their take were 18 wall-eyes, the largest of which weighed 16 pounds; 17 red horses; one buffalo; one white perch and one high fin sucker.

Officers Clay Farmer, Oral Bertram, James Shepherd, James Haze, Jack Jenkins and Wildlife Supervisor William Buchanan watched the men raise their nets from a cliff high above the water. When they had placed the fish in the boat the officers crept nearer the edge of the bluff and Bertram jumped into the boat. Their arrest followed. When hauled into court they pleaded guilty.

FLOYD COUNTY MEN FIND WORK IN OHIO WITH MAN WHO MARRIED FLOYD-CO. GIRL; FALBO INTERESTED IN COAL PRODUCTION

The Falbo Construction Company, Lorain, O., has used Floyd county men in its employment since the company was formed 15 years ago. Sam Falbo, president of the company, is married to a Floyd county girl, and has been interested in the people of Kentucky since his first visit here.

Falbo Construction Company does a variety of jobs, but specializes in sewerage, road building and tunneling. The largest contract for any one job was tunneling under Black River, which empties into Lake Erie. This job was in the harbor of Lake Erie.

The shaft down to the tunnel was 73 feet long, the tunnel under the river was 23 feet beneath it and was 620 feet long. This tunnel that slammed its way under the river was the first of its kind for the Falbo Construction and Mr. Falbo and his gang of Floyd countians say "they hope it is the last." It was started in April, 1952 and with a few last-minute details will be finished this summer. It is for the Riverside disposal plant connecting the east and west side of Lorain.

Supervisors of this job were George Spears, Butler Salisbury and Vanidan Ferrell, all of Harold. Their experience in mining came in handy on this one job as men with this kind of training were what was needed. The other employees of Falbo Construction are mostly men from this area. Two-thirds of the men who work for this company are from here. He has employed them since the company started. Some of the late employees from Floyd county are: Berry Akers and Joe Hall, of Gretna, Freeman Branham, Jerry Branham, Clyde Branham, Shadrick Hall, Jerry Hall, Johnnie Hunter, Hursnell Akers and others from Harold and other Floyd communities. They are in the hundreds over a period of years.

Mr. Falbo says, "The people of Kentucky are the best workers I have found anywhere." He is deeply interested in the coal mining industry, and has bought mineral rights on Branham's Creek. He plans on building tunnels and mining coal there in the next few months. That will require a dock also, and will increase the employment of more men here. He will ship this coal to Lorain where he is building a dock, so he can load the coal onto the big boats on the Great Lakes. This will require more men. He says he will hire Kentuckians for it.

Besides all these projects, he is interested in Mr. Falbo is building a concrete mixing plant, is already laying the foundation and getting a railroad spur out to it.

ASK CONGRESS FOR APPROVAL

Of Two-State Compact To Create Interstate Park In Breaks Area

The U.S. Congress has been asked to approve a compact between the state of Kentucky and Virginia which would create a Breaks Interstate park. Conservation Commissioner Henry Ward told the Pikeville Kiwanis Club in an address at Pikeville last Thursday.

The compact document was drafted by Ward and was approved by the state legislatures of Kentucky and Virginia at sessions just concluded. It would create a six-man commission—three members from each state—with authority to establish an interstate park at the famed Breaks of Sandy on the Kentucky-Virginia border.

Certified copies of the compact acts have been sent to Congress by authorities of both states, Ward told the Kiwanians, and it is anticipated that Congressional approval will be voted without controversy.

The Virginia legislature also passed an act appropriating $25,000 a year for the support of the Breaks Interstate Park, Ward added. The Kentucky act gives the State Property and Buildings authority to make grants to the park.

"Approval of the compact provides a firm basis for effective promotion of a park at the Breaks of Sandy," Ward said. "Under the U.S. Constitution, the two states could not act jointly except through a compact approved by Congress."

"The creation of a bi-state commission to develop and operate the proposed park gives the project an agency which can maintain continuing and official interest in it. This is the most important step that has been taken."

Members of the commission will be named by the Governor of each state after approval of the compact by Congress. They will be appointed for staggered terms. The commissioners will receive no salaries, but are authorized to employ personnel for management of the proposed park.

CONTRACTS AWARDED
Frankfort, Ky., March 26—The State Department of Highways awarded contracts for improvement of 59.325 miles of road in Carlisle, Knott, Lee, Meade, Pike, Calloway, Campbell, Union, Clark, Fleming, Boyle, Caldwell, Casey, Lincoln, Green, Taylor, Hancock, Jackson, Pulaski and Trigg counties to cost $1,670,783.70.

CANCER STILL INCREASING
The annual death rate from cancer in the U. S. since 1900 has increased from 64 to 145 per hundred thousand population. The American Cancer Society attributes this increase mostly to a longer potential life span which results in larger population in the older age bracket where cancer is most prevalent.

Lake Water Level To Be Discussed

Frankfort, Ky., March 26 (Sp)—The problem of the annual draw-down of the water in Lake Cumberland will be discussed at a meeting to be held April 5 at Lake Cumberland State Park, Conservation Commissioner Henry Ward announced here today.

Ward reported that Governor Wetherby has agreed that the state of Kentucky should take a strong position in urging the federal government to maintain a more consistent level of water in the lake.

Col. G. M. Dorland, district engineer of the Nashville district of the U. S. Corps of Engineers, and other officials of the district will attend the meetings and explain the position of that agency, Ward said. He added that officials of the Lake Cumberland and Wolf Creek Dam Development Association and operators of boat docks on the lake have been invited to the meeting.

The discussions will be preceded by a dinner at 6:30 p. m. in the lodge at Lake Cumberland State Park, which is near Jamestown.

"The lake has been dropped more than 40 feet each year from its normal level," Ward said. This has had a serious adverse effect on recreational use of the lake including fishing, boating and swimming. As contrasted with this, the normal level of Kentucky Lake never drops more than five feet during the period of use for recreational purposes.

"Recreation is an important economic factor in the Lake Cumberland area, and can mean much more in the future if there can be assurances that more effective controls of the draw-down can be put into operation," Ward continued.

"We recognize that the droughts of the past two summers have had their bearing on the problem, and that production of power is essential at Wolf Creek dam, but we also feel that the federal government should recognize that recreational uses of the lake also are important and constitute something of real economic value to the area."

COUNTY BIRTH RATE FELL TO NEW LOW IN 1952, BUT '53 SHOWED SLIGHT RISE

Floyd county's number of live births plummeted to a low never before recorded in the Health Department here in 1952, when the figure was 1,085, but last year it rose to 1,250.

Even with the increased figure for 1953 it would be necessary to go back 17 years, to 1936, to find a lower number when only 1,103 births were recorded.

Records in the Health Department on live births go back to 1935 when 1,138 children were born in this county. The number rose slightly, year after year until 1944, when it stood at 1,542. It dropped considerably the next year when only 1,358 were recorded. No explanation for this sudden dip in 1945 is attempted, except the war had something to do with it.

The years 1946 to 1948, inclusive, saw sudden rises in births. In 1946 there were 1,671, next year, 1,855, the largest on record, but 1948 dropped to 1,782, still a high birth rate.

These high figures are accounted for by the return of the war veterans in 1945 and the resulting high marriage rate. Result was the increased number of births for these three high years. The decline in 1949 was attributed by some to the high number of couples of child-bearing age moving to other sections.

The decline started in 1949, continued through the following years when the record low was recorded in 1952.

Students of population trends in this county seek to find some indication from live-birth figures as to the present population of the county. If a ratio between the live births of 1940 and 1950 is calculated against the decennial census figures, it is found one birth occurred in this county for each 34 persons. Taking 1,252, the number of 1953 live births, and multiplying this figure by 34, a population of 42,568 is calculated. This population figure agrees with a study made by the local county extension office. Floyd's population, according to the 1950 census was 53,500 and the estimated figure, calculated by the live birth ratio, would represent a decrease of 10,932 persons.

Evidence that this method may be unreliable is found by taking the 1952 number, 1,085, and multiplying it by 34.

The population of Floyd county for that period would stand at 36,990, which is obviously too low. Some explain the low number of live births in 1952 by the great percentage of child-bearing couples emigrating to other sections or other states. These child-bearing couples have returned in great numbers, thereby raising the birth rate for last year.

The record of live births in Floyd county since 1935 follows: 1935, 1,138; 1936, 1,103; 1937, 1,401; 1938, 1,333; 1939, 1,415; 1940, 1,560; 1941, 1,424; 1942, 1,483; 1943, 1,512; 1944, 1,542; 1945, 1,358; 1946, 1,671; 1947, 1,855; 1948, 1,782; 1949, 1,470; 1950, 1,571; 1951, 1,530; 1952, 1,085; 1953, 1,252.

WHEELWRIGHT

PARENT-TEACHER GROUP MEETS
The P.-T.A. of Wheelwright met at 7 p. m., March 25, at the grade school cafeteria.

Reports from committees included an account by the Finance chairman, of a Marionette show, "Hansel and Gretel," which was presented March 25. Also that roller skating is still in session at the regular time and price.

Joe Perrino, P.-T.A. president, gave a report of the progress of the school improvement project. The cafeteria and six classrooms are in the process of being remodeled since the earlier completion of three rooms. Color dynamics experts have surveyed the buildings and planned colors to be used in the decorating. There has been a slight delay in delivery of part of the materials to be used. It is expected that all materials will be available soon.

Committees have been appointed to study by-laws and to nominate officers for the coming year.

Following the business session, Ralph Banks, program chairman, presented a film, entitled, "Lessons in Living," which showed a community working on the improvement of its school, much as is being done at Wheelwright.

Mrs. Sam Maggard and Mrs. Dewey McKnight, representing the Daughters of America, presented seven Bibles and eleven American flags to be used in classrooms not already possessing them.

Ruth Rainey's first grade room won the $2.00 prize for having the most parents present.

The refreshment committee, headed by Mrs. Herbert Gillis, served coffee and cookies during the social hour at the close of the meeting.

MARTIN

MISS GODDARD IS SPEAKER
The Allen-Martin Woman's Club met March 15 at the Sea Cafe in Martin. Mrs. Lloyd Crum was hostess for the meeting.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Russell Laven, president. This was a program meeting on Youth Conservation, with Mrs. John Snodgrass as chairman. Mrs. Snodgrass introduced the speaker, Miss Barbara Goddard, Girl Scout executive in the Sandy Valley Council.

Miss Goddard stressed teaching youth to think clearly, search for the facts, and to act wisely in preparation for adult life. She explained how scouting strives to build better citizens through badges, international projects and a camping program. Miss Goddard also answered questions about the day camp to be operated at Dewey Lake this summer.

Refreshments were served to the following members: Mesdames John Snodgrass, Belford Reitz, John P. Sammons, William Martin, Lewis Warren, Russell Laven, George Laven, Mock Elliott, Walter Frasure, Boone Hall, Mrs. Huddleston, John West Hall, Charles Marshall Lloyd Crum and guest Miss Barbara Goddard.

HOUSE VOTES FINANCIAL AID

Fund Would Finance Planning of 2 Dams Affecting This Area

The high-lift dam at Greenup, the Buckhorn reservoir and the cut-off of the oxbow-loop in the Kentucky river near Jackson are three of four Kentucky projects for which funds were voted by the lower house of Congress recently.

To provide for advance engineering and design on these projects and a dam at Markland, Ky., a total of $2,200,000 was voted. The bill is now in the Senate.

Congressman Carl D. Perkins said this week he is hopeful of an early hearing on a bill introduced by him to provide for construction of Haysi reservoir in the headwaters of the Russell Fork of the Big Sandy.

"The chairman of the Public Works committee has not been very enthusiastic about such a hearing," he said, "but I have prevailed on him on several occasions. At least I am hopeful that I will be able to get the whole economic picture before the committee this spring."

Adding that he is hopeful "we can convince the Army Engineers and the Congress of the necessity of making the Big Sandy river navigable," Perkins said the hearings that took place before the Senate Public Works committee last year have not yet been printed, and he understands the hearings are still open.

Of the 100,000 orphans in the U. S. today, 26,000 of them lost at least one parent to cancer, the American Cancer Society says.

BURKE NAMED

Frankfort, Ky., March 26— Governor Wetherby named Robert T. Burke, Jr., Louisville attorney, as Jefferson County Judge to replace the Governor's brother, George S. GROW CANCER IN MICE

Scientists are now able to transplant some types of human cancer into small laboratory animals, mice or guinea pigs, the American Cancer Society says. This provides an important avenue for cancer experiments to test new chemicals and study how cancer starts.

URGE ANNUAL CHECK-UPS

Because early diagnosis and proper treatment are essential in curing cancer, the American Cancer Society recommends that every adult have a physical examination at least once a year, women over 35 semi-annual check-ups and men over 45, chest x-rays twice a year.
