This Town— That World

NO PAIN-KILLER

Friend of mine who had lost the horny part of his finger was explaining the whole deal—how it happened, what he did, about winding up at the hospital and what they did there.

"Trouble these days is," he concluded, "Doctors don't know much. They deadened my finger with a shot and took the nail off—and didn't say a word about me maybe needing half a pint to pull me through."

BUY A POPPY!

Saturday is Poppy Day. Buy one, wear it proudly in your lapel. Poppy Day developed from soldiers' memories of the poppies of Flanders Fields; possibly from the poignant verses of the now-long-dead soldier-poet of World War I who wrote of "the crosses, row on row." The crosses are still there, and more will be added.

FOR THE GRADUATES

I'd like to say something here that would let each of the youngsters who is leaving high school via graduation know how important he or she is in our adult scheme of things. But the effort would require more words than you'd care to read. Let's just say, then, that I envy every one of them—their youth, first of all, and after that the opportunity each has ahead for high achievement. Not every one of them can be a financial wizard, a captain of industry, a great creative artist or an inventive genius. But in his or her own way each can be a great person—learning to become in this era of striving for world mastery to become master of self; in the future with all its strife to know peace of the soul; in this age of scientific miracles to find the greater alchemy of transmuted the conflicting ingredients of his or her thinking into the pure gold of kindness and tolerance toward others.

Yes, Commencement is just the beginning.

A KEEPER

Somehow—wonder why?—this column keeps reverting to fishing. We're reminded of the guy who brazenly admitted bringing home a six-inch bass. Later amended the story to make it read, six inches between the eyes.

Seven Pay Fines In Forest Blazes,

Five Floyd countians were fined $10 and $15.50 costs in quarterly court here this week upon pleading guilty to charges of violating state forest fire laws when they permitted woodland blazes to get out of control. All five entered pleas of guilty, and a sixth won an acquittal from a jury.

Pleading guilty were Frank Scutchfield, Dock Harmon, Albert Dixon, L. C. Tuttle, and Paul Branham. Ben Maynard was acquitted.

Cases of two others, Jay Stratton and Bill Darby, were settled out of court.

Explaining that his prosecution of citizens for forest fire violations was being made without favor to any one, Forest Burchett, district forest ranger, said there are other investigations to be made and other prosecutions possible to follow.

"Any time a fire is caused by failure to take necessary precautions, it is a violation of the law, and I expect to prosecute every case. This loss of timber to fires must stop," Burchett said.

RELIEF LOAD OVER-HEAVY, JUDGE SAYS

Stumbo Says County Unable To Finance Home Visit Expense

The number on direct food relief in Floyd county—14,490 as of last Saturday—is out of proportion to the actual need, County Judge Henry Stumbo said here Wednesday.

But, he added, the job of reducing the figure to what it should be would require the employing of other workers who would go out into the county, make home visits and so determine who is or is not in need. And that would add to the financial burden already incurred by the county, which cannot bear additional expense, he explained.

The county already is paying the salaries of five workers, and with some state help is carrying out the distribution of foodstuffs. The case-load is now more than 6,000 above the total on relief in this county during the Depression of the 1930's, and the five working at the commodity office here are hard put to take care of registration of applicants, packaging and distributing the foodstuffs.

"I think the state or federal governments should help the counties with this job of trying to get food to those who need it and to prevent those not in need from getting help they don't deserve," Judge Stumbo said.

Knott county is a case emphasizing a top heavy relief load. A few weeks ago, that county, with 20,320 as of the 1950 census, had 15,000 relief recipients. "Of course there aren't that many," Knott County Judge Dennis Sturgill said.

HOLD DAMRON IN PIKE CASE

Boldman Man Accused Of Torso Murder, Says Not Guilty of Charge

Willard "Catfish" Damron, 28, operator of a restaurant and poolroom at Boldman, a few yards inside Pike county, was named in a murder warrant this week which accuses him as the slayer in the Pike county torso case.

The warrant was served on Damron Wednesday, a day before the 90-day term he was serving on a liquor charge would have expired. He will be held without bond until a preliminary hearing is held. The Pike circuit court grand jury will convene June 7.

State Police Captain Vernon Sanders said other arrests are expected to be made in the slaying.

Although the body of the male victim—without hands, feet or head—never has been positively identified, the warrant served on Damron in a cell at the Pike county jail says:

"On or about August 15, 1953, he did willfully and maliciously murder Clyde Jack Clements by striking him or by other manner calculated to produce death."

The torso was uncovered from a shallow grave on Caney Fork, of Johns Creek, 12 miles from Pikeville, last March 31 by a farmer's dog.

Coroner John George Call said the man, whose body was badly decomposed, had been dead about six months when found.

A brown double-breasted suit found on the torso served as the apparent key to Clements' identity. Billy Delaney, now serving a sentence at LaGrange Reformatory on a bad check charge, identified the suit as one he had traded Clements when both were in the county jail here one year ago.

Clements disappeared from the jail May 25, 1953, while awaiting court action on a charge of possession of burglary tools. He has not been heard from since—either by local authorities or known relatives.

Parking Lot Operator Injured in Auto Mishap

Clyde Spurlock, parking lot operator here, suffered fractured ribs early Saturday morning when his auto was struck by another as his wife was backing the car from where it was parked in front of their home onto the highway. Mrs. Spurlock was unhurt. Their auto, a Studebaker, is almost a total wreck.

The other car figuring in the collision was driven by C. W. Yotter, Fremont, Pa.

Veterans To Conduct Memorial Day Service

Annual Memorial Day service of Walter Karr Bowling Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday on the lawn of the Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church. Dr. Jack D. Salisbury, commander of the Post, has asked all members to be present, and the public is invited to attend.

The Post's clubhouse will be open between 11:30 and 12:30 Memorial Day.

DRIFT WOMAN DRINKS POISON

Burial of Victim Held While Husband in Jail; Family Row Is Blamed

Mrs. Myrtle Smallwood Burke, 52-year-old Drift woman, who ended her life Monday by drinking poison, was buried Wednesday in the family cemetery on Abner Fork while her husband, Enoch, remained in jail here on two warrants she had procured for his arrest.

Mrs. Burke died at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, at 10:40 a.m. Monday, half an hour after her arrival. She was discovered by a neighbor shortly after she had quaffed an insecticide. "I did it," was the only statement attributed to the dying woman.

In piecing together the web of circumstances leading up to the tragedy, officials said Mrs. Burke, who were childless, had been separated and that they fought at their home last week. Mrs. Burke then swore out warrants for her husband, accusing him of reckless use of a deadly weapon and also demanding of him bond to keep the peace. He was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Willie Johnson and brought to jail here Sunday.

Burke had filed a divorce action against his wife, last week.

One statement received by authorities said Mrs. Burke told her husband she would drop the charges if he would return home but he refused. The husband told Jailer Prock Hayes that he did not touch his wife, that she fell when he wrestled a broomstick from her.

There were several bruises on the woman's body.

The victim was a daughter of the late L. D. and Janet Smallwood and was a native of the Abner Fork section of the county. Besides her husband, she is survived by six brothers, Perry and Virgil Smallwood, both of Bevinville, Rush Smallwood of McDowell, Tommy Smallwood, Dehue, W. Va., and Hassell Smallwood, Greenup, Ky.

Funeral rites were conducted by the Revs. Herschell Huff and Mack McCloud. Burial was under direction of the Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

FLOYD FARMS NOW LARGER

Fewer and Larger Trend Noted in Census Figures But Total Acreage Drops

Most farms in this county are getting larger, it was disclosed recently when agricultural figures of the 1950 census were released.

A comparison of the 1945 estimates and calculations as against the actual census figures at the last census reveal significant developments in agriculture here. Farms increased from an average of 37.3 acres to 46, and the number of farms decreased from 4,380 in 1945 to 2,994 in 1950, or 1,386 fewer farms in five years.

Land in farms decreased, too. In 1945 there were 163,472 acres in Floyd farms but it lessened to 137,740 in 1950. This can be explained by either a removal from actual cultivation or a realistic approach to enumeration when the last census was taken. Many acres of farms in this county are woodland, not even being used for pasture. There also was the loss of all farmland in the Dewey reservoir area.

There are no farms in this county over 1,000 acres but five are listed as between 500 and 999. Listed are 39 farms in the 260-499 acre range.

Farm tenancy decreased here in the five-year period considered by the census report. In 1950 there were only 493 tenants but five years before there were 1,315. The livestock census on the county's farms decreased to a marked extent in the five-year period. While the decrease in

STATE STARTS BEACH WORK

Building of Bathhouse Begun at Stratton Br.; Camping Now Curtailed

Construction of a 60-20-foot bathhouse at the Stratton Branch beach of the Dewey Lake State Park is expected to be completed within two weeks, it was said here. Foundation work was being finished Wednesday.

The bathhouse at the beachfront will include two dressing rooms and a concession stand. Its opening is sought by Sunday, June 6. Now being prepared are plans for marking the swimming area for the protection of bathers.

While this work is under way the Stratton Branch area is closed to campers. Picnicking privileges also have been curtailed there, but it is hoped the area will be reopened for this purpose next Sunday. With its reopening new picnic tables will have been added, making a total of 25 available.

Present plans call for moving of the Dewey Lake State Park dock from its present site in Brandy Keg Cove to the former boat-launching site near the head of the cove. This is expected to be done as soon as the bathhouse at the beach is completed, Tom Clark dock manager, said.

Minister Files Suit For $35,600 Against C. & O. Railway Co.

A railway crossing near-tragedy last November resulted Tuesday in the filing in circuit court here of a suit seeking to recover from the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company $35,000 damages.

The complaint, filed for the Rev. Stewart Howard, of Estill, by Atty. Cordell H. Martin, asks $35,000 personal damages and $600 for the loss of his pickup truck. Negligent and careless operation of the train is alleged.

Listed are the minister's injuries were nine broken ribs with injuries to his lungs, cuts and bruises about the head, face and legs.

'Ernie' Compton May See Wife, Son for First Time

Mrs. Ernest Compton and her 17-year-old son Ben are keeping their fingers crossed these days.

Their husband and father, who has never seen either of them, underwent an operation in New York City, Tuesday, which they hope will restore partial sight in one eye.

Compton, who has operated a newsstand on Louisa's Main Street for many years, was blinded by the explosion of a dynamite cap the night that Warren G. Harding was elected president, November 4, 1920.

The blast tore off his right arm. The right eye was destroyed, and he was blinded in the left eye.

Compton was 15 at that time. He is now 49.

Mrs. Compton, the former Ethel Wallace, of Louisa, had not known her husband before he was injured. They were married 21 years ago.

Tick, Rat Are Blamed As Rare Diseases Hit Floyd Child and Man

Two residents of the county were hospitalized this week by ailments rare to this section.

Four-year-old Donna Ray Boyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Boyd, Jr., of Estill, is in the Stumbo Memorial hospital, Lackey, suffering from Rocky Mountain spotted fever, and Hassell Hamilton, 30, of Ivel, is a patient at the Prestonsburg General hospital, suffering from Wiles disease.

Spotted fever is caused by the bite of a tick, and Wiles disease is rat-borne. Dr. C. M. Aker, head of the Lackey hospital, reported illness of the child dated from May 19.

Wiles disease, health authorities say, is usually caused by pollution of water or food by rat urine and the result is a jaundiced condition. About 7% of the cases are fatal.

STUMBO PICKS 5 FOR BOARD

Library Board To Guide Operation of Bookmobile Beginning in September

County Judge Henry Stumbo announced Wednesday that he had named a Floyd County Library Board of five members to administer the bookmobile which will be placed in service in the county next fall.

The members and the terms of office to which they were appointed are:

Lon C. Hill, Prestonsburg, three years; Rev. Orville Pearson, Prestonsburg, and Mrs. J. C. Wells, Wayland, two years each; Mrs. Lloyd Stumbo, McDowell, and County Superintendent Virgil O. Turner, four years each.

At a meeting Wednesday of these five and Carl H. Corbin, who had been considered as a sixth member until it was noted the law limits membership to five, Mr. Turner was named permanent chairman; the Rev. Mr. Pearson, vice-chairman; Mrs. Wells, secretary-treasurer.

The board this week asked for applications of persons who can qualify as operator of the bookmobile. The applicant must have a teacher's certificate, with library experience and training.

AND DOG DAYS FOLLOW SOON AFTER...

July 1 Is Deadline for Doing A Lot of Things about Canines

There's a lot to be done in Floyd county within the next five weeks if we're to comply with a new state law.

The deadline is July 1 for action to be taken, and some of the things to be done under provisions of this law are:

1. The fiscal court must by that date employ and fix the salary of a dog warden.
2. Each dog owner must have his dog vaccinated against rabies by July 1 and each year thereafter unless a new vaccine makes such frequent treatment unnecessary.
3. Each dog owner must pay the dog warden a $1.50 license fee for each dog he owns, or buy a kennel license at a cost of $10 for 10 dogs or less and $15 for more than 10 dogs.

That's enough to get started on a busy season. How much can be effected by that July 1 deadline remains to be seen.

Enforcement of the anti-rabies section of the new law rests exclusively with the county health department. M. V. Clark, Floyd County Health Department administrator, said this week that this county

THREE KILLED IN TRUCK-CAR ROAD MISHAPS

Floyd County Drivers Figure in Two Wrecks; Webb Slightly Injured

Floyd countians last week figured in two highway tragedies which claimed the lives of three persons.

Drexel Bartram, 44, Wayne, W. Va. contractor, was instantly killed on U. S. 52, near the Huntington Police Recreation Center, last Thursday when his truck was hit by the auto of Ben Webb, of Allen, which was driven by his wife, Mrs. Minnie Webb.

James T. Tackett, 30, and his 10-year-old daughter, Geneva, of Columbus, O., were killed Saturday morning when the Tackett family auto hit a truck of the Horn Brothers Junk Company, of Prestonsburg, on U. S. 23, two miles south of Louisa.

In neither tragedy were the Floyd residents seriously hurt. Mr. Webb suffered a hand injury but his wife escaped unscathed except for shock. In the Louisa wreck Arvel and Sam Nelson, brothers, and J. C. Whitaker, occupants of the Horn truck, were unhurt, although impact of the speeding auto knocked the rear wheels of the truck into Lick Creek, approximately 100 feet away, and strewn the truck's load of scrap metal over the highway.

Tackett was killed outright when his car rammed into the left rear wheels of the truck on a curve near the intersection of the road to the Free Will Baptist Orphanage with U. S. 23. His daughter died in the Louisa General hospital. His wife, Mildred, and children, Jackie, 8, Eisel, 4, and Patricia, 2, were taken to the Louisa hospital but were believed recovering this week.

The Tacketts were en route to their former home in the Shelby section of Pike county, it was said. Mr. and Mrs. Webb were en route to Huntington to visit a doctor when

COURT ANNALS JURY VERDICTS

For $25,000 Damages In Death of Child, 7; New Trial Is Directed

The Court of Appeals last Friday overruled a Floyd circuit court judgment awarding $25,000 to Mrs. Violet Friend, mother of Robert Perry Friend, 7, who was killed here when hit by a truck owned by the United Fuel Gas Company.

The case was reversed on the grounds that the jury instructions were faulty. A. J. May, an attorney for Mrs. Friend, said this week the opinion leaves the case open on all other points, however.

Mrs. Friend contended that her son was killed as a result of negligence on the part of the company and its driver, Milton Martin. The case is returned to the Floyd circuit court for retrial.

Enforcement of the anti-rabies section of the new law rests exclusively with the county health department. M. V. Clark, Floyd County Health Department administrator, said this week that this county does not have a person officially authorized by the state to administer the anti-rabies serum, and that this situation, unless changed, will work a hardship on dog-owners and enforcement officials. Unless the serum is administered by an authorized veterinarian, the official vaccination tag cannot be issued to be attached, as required by law, to the collar or harness of the dog.

Mr. Clark said Dr. Rose, state veterinarian, will conduct another anti-rabies clinic in the county, the week of June 20, and another in July. He added that a new anti-rabies serum which immunizes the dog three years instead of one will be used at these clinics. This serum is not available to private veterinarians at this time, it was said.

At mass immunizations of dogs such as the clinics planned in this county the vaccination fee may not exceed $1.50 per dog.

By July 1 next year, the county will be required to establish a county dog pound.

The new law also includes these provisions:

All dogs must be confined between sunset and sunrise, except when hunting under reasonable control of the owner or handler.

Local Boards of Health may order all dogs confined or vaccinated where danger of the spread of rabies is found to exist.

Physicians shall report to the local health department within 12 hours all persons bitten by dogs or other animals.

The State Department of Agriculture shall:

1. Enforce all provisions of the act which protect persons and livestock from damage by dogs.

2. Administer the livestock fund from which will be paid the expenses of enforcing the livestock protection provisions and claims for livestock destroyed or persons injured by dogs.

3. Prescribe and supply a dog license form and metal tag.

4. Prescribe and supply a kennel license form.

5. Credit 50c of each dog license fee to the county to meet the expenses of its dog warden and dog pound.

6. Prescribe and supply a form

Floyd County Historical Notes

By HENRY P. SCALF

Received from R. J. Fleetwood, Socorro, New Mexico, is this abbreviated history of the early Fleetwoods.

The few facts so far accumulated regarding the Fleetwood family in this country and Canada, indicates that there are several, probably not closely related branches. It is definitely known that among the settlers at Jamestown was the name of Edward Fleetwood, gentleman, and that he had descendants living in Virginia and North Carolina.

It is not known when the first pioneer bearing the Fleetwood name entered Kentucky. The Federal census of 1790 for Kentucky was destroyed when Washington was burned by the British in the War of 1812. The earliest document that approximates a census was a list of taxpayers in Kentucky for 1798. No Fleetwoods are listed, however there must have been families bearing this surname in the state shortly afterwards as the Federal census of 1850 for Monroe, Brown, Lawrence and Jackson counties Indiana, gives Kentucky as the birthplace of five Fleetwoods, namely: James Thomas born in 1795, Solomon, 1805, Jesse born 1815, James born 1818 and Hiram born 1819. That there were families living in Kentucky soon after its admission as a state is further borne out by the marriage records on file in the clerk's office at the court house in Manchester, Kentucky. This record includes that of John Fleetwood who married Sylvia Greesby, daughter of Thomas Greesby, June 8, 1812, William Cornett was the bondsman.

The next earliest record of a marriage bond is that of Thomas Fleetwood and Katy Todd at Prestonsburg, Floyd county, Kentucky, October 5, 1816, the ceremony was performed by Electus Thompson. It is believed that Thomas Fleetwood and his wife migrated to Monroe county, Indiana before 1820 as there is recorded in the Auditor's office at Bloomington, a deed for 80 acres of land dated October 12, 1820. He was also a party to another deed for 40 acres of land made October 12, 1826. On file in the Auditor's office in the court house at Bedford, Indiana is an indenture made this 18th day of February in 1832 between Thomas Fleetwood and Kathrine Fleetwood, his wife of the county of Monroe, and state of Indiana, of the first part, and Thomas Todd and Easter Todd, his wife, of the county of Lawrence, and state of Indiana, all that certain tract or parcel of land situated lying and being in the township of Pleasant Run in the county of Lawrence, and state of Indiana, containing about 80 acres.

Another early marriage record at Prestonsburg to which a Fleetwood was a party, was that of Isaac Fleetwood who married Sally Brown, August 26, 1819, the ceremony was performed by William J. Mayo, J. P. To the best of my knowledge, Isaac Fleetwood was born about 1732, probably in Virginia. He served as a private in Company 5 of the 11th Virginia Regiment, Continental Line. The company was commanded by Capt. William Smith and he was discharged May 21, 1777.

Soon after the discharge he entered the Virginia State Navy, Jan. 16, 1778 and was assigned to the ship "Dragon" under Capt. Eleaser Callender. He was discharged or paid January 20, 1779. Senate Document Pension Roll 1st Session of 23 Congress 1833-34 Volume XIV listed Isaac Fleetwood as a private with an annual allowance of $96.00 and that he received $856.54 for service in the Virginia Line, was placed on the pension roll January 27, 1824 with pension starting October 1823, age 83. Transferred from Floyd county, Kentucky to the Indiana rolls. It seems that the application for the pension was made from Pike county, Kentucky, then the next letter with reference to the pension was from Prestonsburg, Floyd county, Kentucky, between 1818-1823, age 75. His family consisted of a wife age about 45 and three small children. Sometime between 1823 and 1828 he must have moved to Indiana as he wrote again from Bedford about pension with reference to being transferred to the Indiana Roll. Gave age 96, Census of 1830 gave age as 109 or over. Transferred March 7, 1828. Sent in care of H. Z. Livingston, Bedford, Indiana. Last pension check paid to Isaac Fleetwood, relationship not stated, October 9, 1832, and his grave is in Pleasant Run cemetery near Bedford, Indiana.

The summer of 1932 I looked for the grave, but was unable to find it as the burial ground was overrun with weed and vines. Pension Abstracts of Revolutionary War Soldiers, Floyd county, Kentucky, page 166 contains this notation, "Isaac Fleetwood, old Revolutionary war soldier about 82 years old, stated that he was well acquainted with John Smith. That he knew him as an enlisted soldier in the Revolutionary war. He knew of his services upwards of 10 months, then they were parted and put in separate detachments. He knew him in the battle of Monmouth and they were then separated. John Smith, of Floyd county, Kentucky who served in the Virginia Line for four years was inscribed on the roll of Kentucky to commence March 25, 1823. Certificate of the pension was issued June 10, 1924." In the book, "Old Kentucky Entries and Deeds" under Military Warrants, page 331 is land warrant 2430 issued to Isaac Fleetwood for 100 acres of land for three years seaman in the Virginia Navy dated February 9, 1784.

There is no record that he ever received 100 acres of land but there is a record in the office of the Secretary of State at Frankfort, that shows 50 acres of land in Floyd county, was given to Isaac Fleetwood by Governor Joseph Desha and recorded as Land Grant No. 10914, 50 acres in Floyd county, issued to Isaac Fleetwood, June 1826 and recorded in Kentucky Land Warrant Book T, page 49. The original land grant is as follows: "Joseph Desha, Esq., Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky. To all to whom these presents shall come greeting know ye that by virtue and consideration of a Kentucky Land Office Warrant No. 13354 there is granted by the said Commonwealth unto Isaac Fleetwood a free of T. W. Graham who was a free of James Honaker, also a certain tract or parcel of land containing fifty acres by survey bearing date the 15th day of February 1825, lying and being in the county of Floyd on Jenny's Creek. (Now Johnson county).

Another marriage in Kentucky was that of Adam Fleetwood who married Jenny Pritchett at Prestonsburg, Feb. 21, 1820, John Brown performed the ceremony. The Federal census for Salt Creek township Jackson county, Indiana listed an Adam Fleetwood who had four children, none of which were over ten years of age and it is my belief that this is the same party that was married in Prestonsburg in 1820. The last Fleetwood to be married at Prestonsburg was James Fleetwood who married Betsy Cantrell, May 16, 1882. The ceremony was performed by Thomas C. Brown, Justice of the Peace. There was a James Fleetwood with five children, none over 8 years old, listed on the Federal census of 1830 for Salt Creek township, Jackson county, Indiana, and it is assumed that he migrated from Floyd county to Indiana between 1822 and 1830.

The only Fleetwood girl that I have any record of as being married in Floyd county was Notley Barnett in 1823. Would like to her from any descendants of the marriage.

Very little is known of the youth of my great-grandfather, Jesse Fleetwood except that he was born in Kentucky in 1815. It is believed that his brothers were Solomon, James, Isaac, Hiram and Thomas. He married Cynthia Stewart, also born in Kentucky, at Brownstown, Indiana, March 27, 1834. It is told that she bet a keg of whiskey that she could swim across the Ohio river. Jesse and Cynthia had six girls and four boys all of whom grew into womanhood and manhood in Salt Creek Township in Jackson County, Indiana. All the boys were successful farmers and each lived to be eighty or over, all the children are dead.

Over in the western part of the state, Hardy Fleetwood, a resident of Hickman county, Kentucky, age 55, birthplace North Carolina, married Mary D. Hobbs, a resident of the same county, age 47, birthplace Tennessee, July 17, 1860. It was the second marriage for both.

On lot number 169, Section 6, of the old part of the Maysville, Kentucky Cemetery, lies James A. Fleetwood, who died in 1863. His resting place is the only thing known about him.

No doubt there were Fleetwood families living in other counties of Kentucky at the beginning of the nineteenth century and any information about these families will be appreciated. Descendants of these early families have been traced throughout the northwestern states.

STATE'S IDLE RATE HIGHEST

And Not All the Woes Are Loaded on Mining, Recent Report Shows

Kentucky has the highest unemployment rate in industries covered by insured employment of any state, it was announced in a recent issue of the Statistical Journal of Economic Security. And it is not all in the coal mining industry, it was pointed out.

Increase in unemployment for the last year was the largest in the construction business, 6,845 workers losing their jobs. Mining came second with 5,005 persons losing employment. "Mining unemployment reflects the very depressed state in that industry and has skyrocketed during the past few months," the Journal noted.

Five areas in the state are shown to have current unemployment spread of 30 percent or more, Prestonsburg being fifth in the group. The areas listed as having this high rate of unemployment are Morehead, 57.3%, Pikeville, 37.7%, Somerset, 37.6%, Corbin 36.3% and Prestonsburg, 30.1.

"Coal mining was in relatively good shape in 1950 as indicated by a rate of 44 unemployed for each 100 workers at that time. However, since 1950 employment has moved downward from 58,624 to 36,078 and unemployment has steadily gained," the report explained. "The problem in this industry is certainly one of depression size."

"An additional six areas had rates of 20 to 29: Bowling Green, Hazard, Hopkinsville, Madisonville, Mayfield, and Winchester. These areas of relatively high unemployment do not include any of the state's larger cities and exclude only one coal mining area, Harlan, where the coal situation has been better than most of the coal fields."

Taking March of last year as a base, the Journal shows that 3,712 miners were unemployed at that time. March of this year, 8,717 were out of work.

Reports of the Big-Sandy Elkhorn Coal Operators Association reveal some upward trend in the mining industry in the area represented by the Association. Cars of 50 tons each loaded the week ending May 15 numbered 4,033.6, an increase of 466.8 cars over the preceding week. This production, though, was still 72,150 tons lower than the production for the corresponding period last year.

Lowest production this year of the mines represented by the Association was 2,714.8 cars loaded the week ending April 13. That was the bottom of a decline that had been going on for weeks. Production has continued to rise until this week's high figure was reached. Normal production of the Association in good times is about 5,800 cars weekly.

Coal production loss in the Association field now stands at 24 plus percent decrease over last year, the report points out, or a loss of 1,078,430 tons from the corresponding period.

Demonstrations Made On Strawberry Culture; Specialists Offer Aid

A strawberry picking and grading demonstration for the benefit of Floyd and Johnson county farmers was held at the Wendell Vanhoose farm, Tutor Key, Johnson county, Tuesday afternoon. Fifteen Floyd county farmers attended with O. E. Boggs, county agent.

Heading the demonstrations was W. W. McGill, specialist of the Extension Service. He talked on soil fertility, fertilization and general production problems of strawberry farmers. Three fields of strawberries were shown on the Vanhoose farm, one set this year, another being picked for the second time and a third being picked for the third time. A demonstration of Captain was put on, showing how to prevent berry rot.

The demonstrations in strawberry culture were continued into Wednesday when a meeting was held on the Virgil Smith farm at Allen. Present there besides the local farmers were C. A. Mahan, state agent, and McGill. The field of berries, set this year, is not in production yet. Beans set between the rows were part of the field exhibit.

In Breckinridge county, 315 4-H club members studied safe driving and riding of automobiles and bicycles the past month.

Prominent Resident Of Little Paint Creek Victim of Long Illness

their car collided with the Bartram truck.

West Virginia state police gave these details of the Wayne county wreck:

A truck driven by Mr. Bartram, hauling a bulldozer, was traveling north on U. S. 52 near the Huntington Police Recreation Center. A car driven by Mrs. Webb attempted to pass the truck. The car side-swiped the truck at the front bumper, and the truck went over a steep embankment. The bulldozer careened at an angle and lurched forward, crushed Mr. Bartram to death inside the truck cab and trapped Mr. Webb inside the car. Both Mrs. Webb and Mr. Bartram's partner, Noah Adkins, escaped from the respective vehicles unhurt. An hour elapsed before it was possible to remove Mr. Webb from the car.

Mrs. Webb posted bond of $1,000 before Magistrate Lindsey Queen, of Wayne, after waiving preliminary hearing and being ordered held for grand jury action.

Bartram recently sold a dairy farm south of Wayne, moved into the town and entered the contracting business.

Eight of the 10 homemakers clubs in Trimble county had International Day programs to further understanding of other nations.

BY WILMAY
(The views expressed herein do not necessarily reflect the views of The Times.)

And a busy one when a commencement and vacation time roll around each year. The Wayland banquet this year was beautiful, with its Hawaiian Island inspiration, hula dancers as servicing girls etc. It was a special treat for youngsters whose parents came all the way back from Ohio to be present for the occasion, as did Mr. and Mrs. John Wallace. Each senior invited his or her parents or some other member of the family. A nice gesture.

E. R. was determined to sit by a pretty woman that night and got his wish on one side, in the person of Virginia Turner, whose poems the Wayland youngsters enjoy immensely.

Some of Mr. Spencer's sixth-grade boys just completed painting Mrs. Branham's pretty room, which she herself touched off with a robin's-egg blue, leaving the top in yellow. The attractive rock walk, built out back by Mrs. Hatler Turner's fifth-grade boys, in an interesting design, is not sinking as former ones have.

The Girl's Club has had two speakers recently: Mrs. Merle Wadley, of Martin, gave a splendid talk on Love, the finest of human emotions; Mrs. Noah Howard of Wayland spoke on Four Dares, challenging the children to rise high in the world. She scored tobacco and comics.

We hope every parent reads last month's Reader's Digest article against the comics, by an outstanding psychiatrist. Just last week a friend mentioned that his small nephew was reading little else. Sometime ago he suggested to the child's mother that she subscribe to some good children's magazines. She did, and now the child is reading material that is worthwhile, and enjoying it, too!

Mrs. J. D. Mayo, county T. B. nurse, spoke a few weeks ago before the Boy's and Girl's Clubs of Wayland, giving her famous lecture on Tobacco. The children were much impressed with it, and many voluntarily asked questions at the close of the fine message.

Annual trips by classes in school each spring are highly educational, even for little folks who cannot go far. An indoor picnic because of bad weather does not dampen their enthusiasm, while trips to distant points are worth a year in college.

While en route to Georgetown Saturday, we ran into the Wayland Juniors at the bus station at West Liberty. When asked where E. R. and the missus were going we explained to the good looking chaperones, Mrs. Tom Hatcher, Thelma Daniels and Betty Stephens, that we had come to chaperone the chaperones, a privilege only age could command.

Edgar May used the fire escape at Georgetown, to load his car with Libby Ree's accumulation of four years in school. He saw the beautiful new cafeteria for the first time and kept raving about it. Since we had lunch in Lexington, we wondered what about the outside of any cafeteria could be so extraordinary. With his typical wit he said the flat roof was a sun porch for girls from four floors of Rucker Hall, and ninety-nine percent of them seemed to be making the most of the first sunshine in two weeks! Next time grandma will help do the moving.

We hope to discuss Segregation next. We are leaving soon for Cincinnati to get the baby, whom we shall take with us south, to meet his great-grandparents there for the first time. In a secret corner we are hoping his mother and daddy decides he needs Kentucky sunshine all summer. Ronnie says he cannot wait till Eric Ronald grows up, and has a family, so he and Edith can have just half as much fun being grandparents as we do. The baby is sixteen months old and stays with his parents in his own class in Sunday School. When informed of this his granddad quipped: "Just like Boppa. If there're pretty girls around he's not going to leave!"

Rowan county 4-H club members made about 100 pairs of copper-covered book ends one month, with the assistance of UK Home Agent Evelyn Sinclair.

Miss Snyder, Betsy Layne, Awarded D.A.R. Medal For Good Citizenship

Special to The Times
Pikeville, Ky., May 24 — Alice Snyder, of Betsy Layne, was awarded a D.A.R. Good Citizenship Medal given annually to a girl in Pikeville College Academy's graduation class, at the Pikeville Junior College and Academy commencement exercises Sunday.

The medal was presented by Mrs. A. H. Wellman, newly installed regent of the Pikeville Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. The corresponding award to a boy in the Academy class went to Gary Wright, Pikeville.

The greatest of man's freedoms is his freedom to work as hard, as late, and as long as he likes, graduating classes of the college and Academy were told.

"The things that made America great were the Founding Fathers' faith in God and in themselves, and their freedom to use their talents without restraint," Ian Stuart, the schools' commencement speaker, said. Stuart, public relations director for the Southern States Industrial Council, was addressing 48 college sophomores and 13 seniors in the Academy.

Saluting the graduates for the "aristocracy of achievement" which lay behind them, Stuart quoted from George Washington, "I want an American character"; and from Abraham Lincoln, "You can't build character by taking away a man's initiative, and by doing for a man what he could and should do for himself."

The college's prizes for general scholarship, and the Bible given for highest grades in Bible study, will be awarded after the close of final examinations this week. Dr. A. A. Page, college president, announced. The Dr. W. C. Condit prize of a gold watch goes to the highest-ranking college graduate, and the Margaret E. Record prize, a $30 cash award, to the runner-up.

Live wire that really looks it

(One reason why Buick is such a big success this year!)

Its sports-car lines tell you there's lift and spirit here enough for any man.

Even standing still this glamor car looks alive.

And that look-of-tomorrow styling that's part and parcel of every new Buick — that sweeping panoramic windshield with the dream-car slant — all that says there's action here, and plenty of it.

But just note the name "CENTURY" emblazoned on its rear fender, and you can take it as gospel that this is a performance car of the very first water.

It's the livest of the live wires — the highest-voltage Buick in the line.

It is instant on getaway, a joy in cruising, a breeze on hills — and a honey of a friend in the added safety of its plenty reserve power always on hand for sudden needs.

It is, in fact, a 200-horsepower performance car, and priced far below it — the highest-powered car at its price in the land.

With this great-powered good-looker setting the pace — and with equally impressive SPECIALS, SUPERS and ROADMASTERS adding to the excitement — is it any wonder Buick today is outselling every other car in America except two of the so-called "low-price three"? Come in and try one of these gorgeous new Buicks. With the prices we're quoting, you can make the buy of the year this very week.

But Knott county faces the same problem that Floyd has. Who's to pay the bill for getting the facts?

A check of the relief lists by officials or by a board composed of citizens has been studied as one solution to the problem.

G. R. Spradlin, commodity distribution supervisor, said this week he believes the maximum case-load has probably been reached. A few have voluntarily dropped their names as applicants, and a few names are being removed from the lists, he said.

All six of the items offered as relief foods are being distributed in the county now. These are potatoes, cheese, butter, beef and gravy, powdered milk and beans. The distribution work this week was being made on Big Mud and the Beaver Creeks. Sixty bags of beans arrived Wednesday, and volunteer help will be needed next week for the packaging of the beans in smaller quantities before distribution.

Virginia Power Company built a 44,000 volt line from its Sprigg plant to Betsy Layne. The company bought the Sandy Valley Light and Power Company in Pikeville in 1923.

The Eikhorn City Electric Com-pany was purchased in 1924. That same year, the distribution system at Martin was bought from the Samoset Fuel Company. The Prestonsburg Power and Light Company and the Paintsville Power and Light Company were acquired in 1925.

The electric system in Salyersville was purchased from the Federal Public Service Company in 1936 and West Liberty became a part of the Kentucky Company in 1939.

Other community electric systems were acquired and the Pikeville district of the Kentucky Power Company was formed as a result of these purchases.

In 1926, when American Gas and Electric formed Appalachian Electric Power Company the area served by the Kentucky and West Virginia Power Company in West Virginia became a part of Appalachian. It was in that same year that the Boyd County Electric Company, serving Ashland, became a part of the Ken-tucky and West Virginia Company.

Kentucky Power Company, which serves 89,000 customers in 292 coun-ties along 6,523 miles of line in Eastern Kentucky, is one of seven operating companies forming the American Gas and Electric system. It is interconnected with two of its sister companies, Appalachian and The Ohio Power Company.

Patsy Teen-Agers Now Going International, To Appear in Canada

Making their first appearance in another country, 19 Patsy-Teen-Agers will leave here Sunday for Niagara, Ontario where they have been invited to sing by the Cana-dian Retail Coal Merchants Asso-ciation, Tuesday, June 1. Mrs. Wil-liam Crawford, Mrs. Kathryn Frazier, director of the group, and her daughters, Kay Ann and Eliza-beth Lynne will accompany the group.

The group will arrive Monday in Niagara, where they will stay at the Foxhead Hotel. Tuesday, they sing before a ladies' luncheon meeting and that evening will appear at a banquet at the General Brock Hotel. They will start their return trip Wednesday afternoon, after sight-seeing around the famous falls.

The Teen-Agers have been asked to appear before a meeting of the American Retail Dealers Associa-tion sometime in June. Last year they sang at the Association's meet-ing in Detroit.

Their most recent appearance was in Frenchlick, Ind., at a meet-ing of the Indiana Retail Coal Merchants Association, May, 17.

REVIVAL TO BEGIN

A revival will begin Sunday, May 30, at the Cliff Freewill Baptist Church, with the Rev. Walter Daniels the evangelist. Services will be held daily at 7 p.m., and the public is invited.

Hazard Plant Co-Owner Loses Life in Flaming Cabin Near Jamestown

Charley Johnson, Sr., 47-year-old co-owner of the Coca-Cola bottling works at Hazard, and uncle of Mrs. Edward O. Ray, of Prestons-burg, burned to death Sunday at his cabin at Cumberland Lake near Jamestown, Ky.

The death came about a week be-fore he was to have seen his only son, Charley, Jr., graduated from Hazard high school.

Details of the fire were meager. But an official of the Engle Funeral Home at Hazard said Johnson was outside the cabin when the fire started but went back inside in an attempt to save some of the fix-tures.

County Agent Robert W. White sent suggestions for preventing wildfire to every tobacco grower in Pendleton county.

BUDDY POPPIES SYMBOL OF A NATION'S DEVOTION

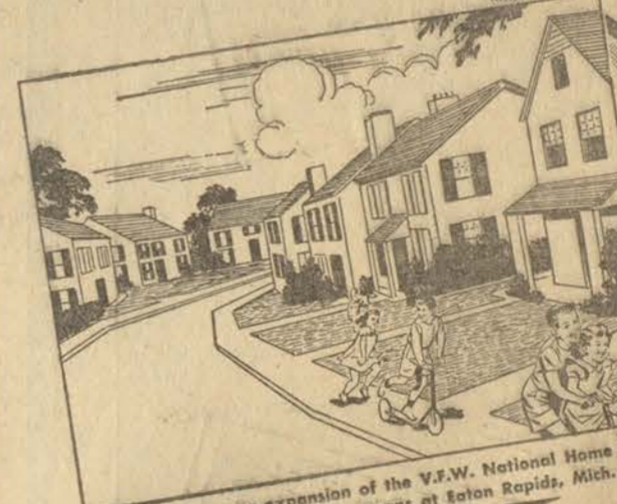

For the aid, relief and comfort of disabled and needy veterans, their dependents, or their widows and orphans.

For hospital entertainment, for needy veterans and service patients.

For rehabilitation, welfare and service work, including liaison service with the Veterans Administration.

For maintenance or expansion of the V.F.W. National Home for widows and orphans of veterans at Eaton Rapids, Mich.

For necessary expenses for military funerals of deceased veterans.

For acquisition, improvement and maintenance of burial plots and the decoration of graves of veterans and servicemen.

Emblem of the dead and dying on the fields of Flanders in 1918, the V.F.W. Buddy Poppy has been glorified by the American people as their "Flower of Remembrance."

Down through the years, ever since 1922 to be exact, the V.F.W. Buddy Poppy has given to all patriotic citizens—rich and poor alike—their chance to honor the dead by helping the living.

The annual sale of Buddy Poppies serves two great purposes. It fosters the beautiful custom of wearing these little flowers, once each year, in mute salute to the memory of America's honored dead; it provides the funds that are required to serve the daily personal needs of the nation's disabled and needy veterans, and their dependents.

There are millions of unfortunate veterans—as well as widows and orphans and dependent parents—who are unable to qualify for government aid.

Why? Mainly because the government itself—in time of war—has never been able to maintain accurate records on the physical welfare of each individual in uniform.

Through no fault of their own, these veterans—many of them the victims of the lingering effects of exposure, shock and malnutrition—are unable to qualify for help from their government because their service records fail to confirm the origin of their ailments.

Your support of the annual sale of Buddy Poppies makes it possible for the Veterans of Foreign Wars to maintain its great, nationwide program of free rehabilitation service to the millions of needy veterans.

Every dime or dollar which you may give in exchange for a Buddy Poppy goes into a special sacred fund—one that will be spent for nothing but the relief and rehabilitation of America's disabled veterans, and their needy loved ones.

Remember the dead who are buried near the battlefields where they died, or in our cemeteries here at home. Let's do them honor by helping the living!

INCURABLE DISEASE IS ALSO DURABLE

Waterbury, Conn.—In 1921 a Scovill Manufacturing Company employee was retired because he suffered an "incurable" disease.

Thirty-three years later the employee, who had been collecting a pension, died at age 93.

Hardin county homemakers contributed $85 to the county 4-H Club Council to be used in its various activities.

The Court of Appeals also ruled that R. A. Justice school principal in Pike county, was entitled to the difference between salary paid him for the 1951-52 school year and the amount he would have earned had he not been transferred to a school with a lower rate of pay.

The appellate opinion related: Justice was transferred from Feds Creek high and grade school, where he had served as principal, to be principal of Millard grade school for the year 1951-52. He asked Pike circuit court to order the County Board of Education to award him the salary difference of $50 a month and interest for the years 1952-53.

The Pike court held in favor of Justice and the board appealed. The appellate court upheld the judgment for the year 1951-52, but reversed that for 1952-53.

The decision to deny the latter claim was based on the Education Board's contention it had a right to set Justice's salary at the lower rate for that year as the contract under which he had been employed at the higher rate had expired. The appellate court upheld the 1951-52 claim on the basis that Justice's contract called for the higher pay for that year.

Skilled Workers Needed By Health Survey Here

Three professional workers are needed by the Cumberland Field Station of the U. S. Public Health Service here, it was said this week by Glenn S. This Year—Not Next

The Times has never been noted for political astuteness, and it thinks it sometimes detects the same weakness in others whose business is politics. Thus it qualifies itself for advisory service to politicians.

For instance, we would advise those who have public works improvements within their power to get work started before election year, if possible. There is a growing tendency on the part of voters to resent crude attempts to effect shifts of sentiment through improvements within a matter of weeks of an election. Weed-cutting, road-scraping and such-like measures on the local level typify the activities to which we refer.

Next year will see the election of a Kentucky Governor. Both political parties will, of course, bring their heaviest guns to bear. But the record of achievement in the years preceding that election year will determine if the election-year barrage is effective, and neither party has a right to expect the voters to endorse it simply because it suddenly becomes active in the building of roads and bridges and in other projects of public interest.

In no critical mood, then, we urge work now—at a time when it is badly needed. Floyd county needs plenty done, and next year is not the time to start it. The Dewey State Park should be started this year. So should the Prestonsburg-Auxier-Dewey Dam-Van Lear road (as a complete project, not as merely a segment to benefit one county, Johnson). And the David-Howard Branch road and others.

Floyd county has been a name too often missing from the lists of counties where the State Department of Highways is awarding road contracts. The time for help from that source is already late.

Mau Maus Are Human Beings

The morning newspaper headline says, "42 Mau Maus Slain by British," and we blithely read the brief but gory details. Some will think little of a trivial matter like taking the lives of 42 human beings; others will put it down as the elimination of only so many more savage blacks whose murderous attacks on the whites have shocked a great part of the world.

It is natural, perhaps, that sympathies of white Americans turn strongly to their white kinsmen in Africa, but we should not forget that these Mau Maus are in much the same position as the American Indian was in pioneer days when he fought with tomahawk, scalping knife and torch the encroachment of the whites on his hunting grounds. The truth is, the blacks submitted to white supremacy more peaceably than the redskin did, but now, years later, they are rebelling against conditions they consider unjust. The Mau Mau cannot be written off as just another "black devil who deserves killing." After all, he is a human being.

It may be that Communism figures somewhere in the background of this tragic double-spot. The Reds may be inciting the blacks to war in the British settlers, magnifying injustices the African tribesmen have suffered, and thus causing bloody outbreaks.

Whatever the full story, this part of it is known: The whites are not above reproach. The black tribesmen have been placed at the hardest tasks. They are treated as humans born to servitude, and their opportunities for advancement are not too far beyond those offered the American Negro in slavery days.

There is no issue between the British and the Mau Maus that the simple practice of the principles of Christianity would not remove.

But the same could be said of every other crisis between nations or races—or even individuals.

GOVERNOR APPOINTS CHINN TO HEAD STRIP-MINE WORK

Frankfort, Ky., May 27—Orville W. Chinn will be the director of the new Strip Mining and Reclamation Commission, Governor Lawrence W. Wetherby announced here today.

Chinn has been director of the Division of Flood Control and Water Usage since 1949. He will be succeeded in that position by Stephen A. Wakefield, of Shelbyville, who has been associated director of the division since 1948, Wetherby said.

The director of the Strip Mining and Reclamation Commission will be the chief executive officer and a member of the commission, which will supervise reclamation of land disturbed by the strip mining of coal. Other members of the commission will be Henry Ward, Commissioner of Conservation, who will be chairman, and A. D. Sisk, chief of the Department of Mines and Minerals.

The commission was created by the 1954 General Assembly. All persons who produce coal by strip mining after July 1 this year must have a permit from this commission, and must carry out a reclamation program on the land affected prescribed by the commission.

Chinn is a native of Beaver Dam, Ohio county, Kentucky. He was graduated as an engineer from the University of Kentucky in 1933, and has had 20 years of engineering experience, most of it relating to soil erosion and water controls. He has been employed by the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, the U. S. Forest Service, the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers and by private construction companies, and operated his own fleet of earth-moving equipment.

He is chairman of the watershed management committee of the Soil Conservation Society of America and a member of the land and water policy committee of the National Water Conservation Conference. He is married, has three children and now makes his home in Frankfort.

The Strip Mining and Reclamation Commission will be attached to the Department of Conservation for purposes of administration and will have offices in that department on the third floor of the Capitol Annex Building.

In addition to the Frankfort office, the commission will establish regional offices in western and eastern Kentucky, Wetherby said. Each will be headed by a field representative familiar with the problems related to that area. This plan was decided upon because the problems connected with strip mining in western Kentucky are quite different from those in eastern Kentucky, the governor added.

Applications should be mailed to Mr. Pearson at Prestonsburg before June 10, the date of the Board's next meeting.

Formal request for a Bookmobile has been made, and it is expected to be placed in operation with the opening of schools in September. A book distribution center is to be established in a central location. The Floyd County Board of Education and the Floyd fiscal court will be asked to share expenses incident to operation of the unit, including hire of driver-librarian.

Book drives conducted at various points in the county have netted approximately 2,500 volumes. To these will be added the 2,500 books with which the Bookmobile unit is stocked before coming here.

At Wednesday's meeting it was voted that no relative of any Board member nearer than second cousin will be employed as driver-librarian and that all meetings of the Board will be open to the public.

The Rev. and Mrs. McMillen will leave Friday for St. Louis, where they will attend the Southern Baptist convention. They will return here June 5.

Page, Vice-Chairman Of Scout Fund Drive

The appointment of Dr. Page was made by F. I. Fairman, vice-president of Kentucky Utilities Company, Lexington, who is chairman of the drive, upon recommendation of the presidents and executives of the two Scout councils.

THE ANSWER

The non-segregation decision probably reminded Ex-Congressman A. J. May of the story. Anyway, it had to do with a colored gentleman down in Nashville, Tenn., who had the temerity, years ago, to apply for a ballot. The "boys inside the house" knew his politics and were opposed to his voting, so they trotted out the technicalities. They demanded he quote for them the Preamble of the U. S. Constitution, and he did. After that, he waded through the Preamble to the Tennessee Constitution without a bobble, and was well along in the Declaration of Independence when one of the election officers perceived that something had to be done, and quickly. "Answer this, Mose, and you can have your ballot," he said. "What is a writ of certiorari?"

The Negro scratched his head, and finally gave answer: "Best I can figger, boss, it's something to keep a nigger from voting!"

'STERRIBLE!

That isn't fish you smell at Dewey Lake. It's the fishin'.

UNLUCKY ME!

Well, I suppose I'm sunk. I've broken the charm, and it says here that that can mean only bad luck. Had I gone ahead and sent the letter and four copies to others within 24 hours after receiving it, all would have been well. But this desk being as it is, it was lost in the shuffle and from my mind till this morning. (Who can I ask if a guy can't be excused under the circumstances?)

Anyway, here's what the letter said (I'm sending out 4,000 copies of it this way, you see, in a belated effort to make amends): "The original of this came from the Netherlands. Read Matthew 17: 20 in the Bible. The luck of it has been sent to you. It has been around the world four times by the N. D. officers. The one T that breaks the charm will have bad luck. It is limited to Masons only."

"Please copy this and see what happens to you in four days after you receive it. Do not send money and do not keep this copy. Send this copy and four others to those to whom you wish good luck. It must leave your home 24 hours after you receive it. General Austin received $6,000, only to lose it after breaking the charm. You are to have good luck four days after you receive it. This is no joke. You'll receive it by mail. Put your name at the bottom and remove the top one."

If you see me walking along, tossing salt over my shoulder while pawing the air and muttering incantations, don't bother about the butterfly net. I'll just be trying to repair my occult fences.

About 200 Mercer county farmers plan to sow Sudan grass this year.

KENTUCKY POWER COMPANY

We're changing our Name...

Starting June 1, your electric company will have a new name. It's a shorter, easier name, and one that better describes the area we serve. The new name is Kentucky Power Company.

Our old name, you see, dates way back to the early days of electricity along the Kentucky-West Virginia border, when we served customers in both states. Today we serve a great many more, but now (as for some time, in fact) they're all in Kentucky.

Everything else about your electric company remains the same—our corporate structure, our personnel, our policies, and our efforts to give you the best electric service possible. The name change has no effect on obligations or agreements entered into under the former company name.

We continue, of course, to be a part of the American Gas and Electric System, bringing to our 89,000 customers the advantages of interconnection with the 7-state AGE power network.

In short, under the new name, the same people will continue to provide you with the same dependable electric service they've brought you for years as the Kentucky and West Virginia Power Company, Inc.

Law Seeks To Regulate Pest Control Industry; Adams Sets Hearing

Commissioner of Agriculture Ben S. Adams has set 10:00 a.m. (CST) June 2, as the date a public hearing will be held in Frankfort regarding the new law to administer and regulate the termite and pest control industry. This hearing is mandatory by law.

The Act, which was enacted by the recent session of the Legislature, is designed solely to bring about a guarantee of performance and a liability protection to those Kentucky homes and business establishments requiring the services of a termite and pest control agency. The Kentucky Legislature felt that a small number of the more than one hundred such pest control services operating in the State were of such an irresponsible nature that regulation of the entire industry was necessary in order to eliminate such unsatisfactory service. The new law requires that each termite control establishment must pay a $100 annual license fee, post performance and public liability bonds, meet set standards of application and workmanship, and employ service personnel that can show evidence that they are capable of using the required chemicals and know the operation procedures.

The responsibility for the licensing of the termite operators and the administration of the Act is charged to the Kentucky Department of Agriculture.

WHEELWRIGHT

The Wheelwright Parent-Teacher Association met for the last general meeting of the year, last Wednesday. A buffet supper was served by the social committee, honoring the men who had so generously given their time to the remodeling project. The business session followed.

The president, Joe Perrino, said in his report that the project is well on its way to completion. This summer the project will be completed with the possible exception of the North building, which will be one of next year's projects. He expressed appreciation on behalf of the P.-T.A. to the men for their donations of labor which included: installation of windows to replace damaged sections, new locks on windows, window panes replaced, sash cords installed, shelves built in closets where needed, knobs and locks put on closet doors, coat hooks installed, plaster repaired, holes and cracks in plaster repaired, cork over chalk boards, chalk boards painted, Book shelves built, floors sanded and varnished in some rooms, walls, ceiling and all woodwork painted, heaters painted, new doors to rooms where needed, tables repaired, frame around boards repaired or replaced, proper lighting installed with outlets in each room for convenient use of projector, etc., and bulletin board put in each room.

Expression of appreciation also went to organizations which donated money or materials to the project. These groups were: the Foremen's Club, $300.00 and labor; United Mine Workers, $375.00; D. of A.; flag and Bible in each grade school room; Woman's Club $125.00; Foster Thornberg, 10 gallon paint; Sterling Hardware, 10 gallon paint; Emmons-Hawkins, 10 gallon paint (instead of $10.00 worth of paint reported last month), and the Floyd County Board of Education.

The amendment which had been presented at the previous meeting was voted on and passed.

The P.-T.A. attendance prize went to Mrs. Ratliff's 6th grade room and to Mr. Bradley's home room for the high school.

Mr. Perrino expressed his appreciation to officers and P.-T.A. membership for their fine cooperation in making this a successful year. New officers for the coming year were installed. The new president, Ralph Banks, told the organization he hoped for the same cooperation and fine work next year that has featured the program this year.

Southern Bell Begins New Speed-Up Method On Long-Distance Calls

The Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Company announced this week that about June 1 a new method of completing delayed long distance person-to-person calls will be placed in effect.

When the called party is ready to talk, the present practice requires him to reach his local long distance operator and give her the necessary information. For example, "This is Mr. Brown at 5432; I have request to call operator at 100 at Atlanta and ask for Mr. Jones at Elmwood 4500".

About June 1, when the new procedure is placed in effect, the local operator will not have to delay the call to get all this information. The called party need only say, "I have a call from operator 100 at Atlanta". That is all the information the local long distance operator will have to get. She will connect the party with the operator at the city where the call originated. The called party will then inform the distant operator of the details, such as "I was called by Mr. Jones at Elmwood 4500". The call will then be completed in the usual manner.

Jr. Conservation Clubs Totaling 5,000 to Camp At Two Kentucky Sites

Frankfort, Ky., May 12 (Sp)— Kentucky Junior Conservation Club members, approximately 5,000 strong, converged on Camp Earl Wallace on Lake Cumberland and Camp John Currie, on Kentucky Lake, Monday. These two camps, which will continue in operation through the second week in August.

Both camps were in readiness for the youngsters, who are permitted to spend one week at one of the camps. The camps have been enlarged in many respects since last year's Camping, and Camp Wallace is able to accommodate 260 boys per week while the capacity at Camp Currie is 160 per week.

The dining room and kitchen at Camp Currie has been enlarged and an additional cabin has been constructed. Another cabin has been built at Camp Wallace and other improvements have been made.

In addition to the regular courses offered at both these camps, a new one has been added this year. Safety has been the watchword at both camps and not one youngster has suffered a major accident since the camps were inaugurated. With this in mind the camp personnel hopes to give the youngsters something that they can appreciate while not at camp. The "hunter's safety" course has been added. In this the youngsters will go through all the ten commandments of safety for handling guns. In this manner they will be able to cope with any situation of safety that they may encounter in the fields.

The boys are housed 25 to a cabin at both these camps and will be under strict supervision of camp personnel and counselors. They will take courses in boat safety, tree identification, rifle shooting and all other phases of outdoor life. At all times they will be under direct supervision of personnel in charge.

This is the ninth year for the camps and during that time more than 20,000 youngsters have visited them. Only those boys who are members of Junior Conservation Clubs and have met requirements laid down for the camp are eligible.

Property Recovered Is Worth $677,990

Frankfort, Ky.,— Kentucky State Police recovered $677,990 worth of stolen property during 1953 and was one of the nation's top state police units in stolen cars recovered with 745.

This was revealed in a report issued today by Police Commissioner Charles C. Oldham, which also shows that property worth $931,377 was impounded last year. Impounded property consists of wrecked cars held for their own and similar property.

According to the report, property recovered during the first three months of 1954 was ahead of that for a similar period last year. The figure for this year was $183,876, a gain of $14,812 over the first three months of 1953.

Motor vehicles impounded during the period was valued at $310,450, or $110,000 more than for the similar 1953 period.

Cadillac

A year ago, the man you see in the picture above had no idea that he would be taking title to a new Cadillac car in 1954.

He had planned, almost as a matter of habit, to purchase the product of another motor car manufacturer—a make which he had owned and driven for many years.

But then he made a truly wonderful and surprising discovery!

He learned, much to his delight and amazement, that the lowest-priced Cadillac would actually cost him less than the model of the car he had originally intended to buy.

He discovered, too, that a Cadillac will travel farther on a gallon of gasoline . . . and that its cost of maintenance and upkeep is actually more modest.

And then he found out that a Cadillac traditionally returns a greater share of its original cost at resale than any other automobile built in America.

And so he decided to economize—and make the move to Cadillac!

And what a happy, happy man he is as he takes the keys, slips behind the wheel, and starts off on his first wonderful journey.

It's a great personal thrill to sit in the driver's seat—here where the world's most distinguished motorists sit—and find yourself a subject of admiration wherever you travel.

And, if there is anything as rewarding as owning a Cadillac, it's driving a Cadillac. The car rides so smoothly and quietly and effortlessly, and holds you in such buoyant comfort, that an hour behind its wheel is an hour of relaxation.

In short, a Cadillac makes a man feel good. It's a lift to his spirit . . . a rest for his body . . . and a compliment to his person.

Why not come in and see for yourself? You'll be welcome at any time.

WARRANT NOT JUSTIFIED SAYS ATTORNEY GENERAL

Frankfort, Ky., May 27 — Mere possession of a federal whiskey tax stamp is not sufficient in itself to justify the issuance of a warrant charging a person with violation of the state's local option laws.

The ruling, made by Assistant Attorney General William F. Simpson and given to Taylor County Attorney Fuller Harding, held that possession of the stamp would not be sufficient "probable cause" to justify issuance of an affidavit and warrant.

"A person could purchase and possess a federal stamp at a time when he did intend to sell liquor but thereafter change his mind and probably never traffic in liquor at any time after receiving the stamp or, if he did so, perhaps the time of making sales would be too remote from the making of the affidavit," wrote Simpson.

Tax Collections To Be Intensified

Frankfort, Ky., State Revenue Commissioner Robert H. Allphin, announced today that his agency will intensify its efforts to collect outstanding tax bills during the next few weeks.

He outlined a threefold purpose behind the program. Overall tax collections have been lagging slightly and the collection of outstanding bills will help fill the gap. The Department of Revenue wants to put tax collections on a current basis along with the pay-as-you-go income tax beginning July 1. Fair treatment for all taxpayers requires that tax bills be paid within the required period of time.

During the current campaign approximately 5,000 taxpayers owing a total of more than $300,000 will be personally contacted by personnel of the department's Investigation Division. In addition, the department expects to receive tax payments from approximately 3,000 taxpayers who filed 1953 income tax returns indicating tax due but who failed to pay.

All tax bills may be paid at the Department of Revenue, Frankfort, Kentucky, or its district offices in Ashland, Covington, Lexington, Louisville and Paducah. Checks or money orders should be made payable to the Kentucky State Treasurer.

The Lazy Kids' Ranch, Exclusive for Children, To Open Soon in Texas

Dallas, Texas, May 21—The first ranch in the world, designed, built and maintained exclusively for children was announced today by Ber Jack Cage, Texas industrialist.

The ranch, on which construction is to start immediately, is The Lazy C Kids' Ranch and will be built on several acres of Mr. Cage's sprawling horse and cattle ranch in Sugarland, Texas, 23 miles southwest of Houston. It will be immediately adjacent to the famous single acre of land being sold to the public in two-square-inch plots, at 25 cents a plot.

In announcing the plans, Mr. Cage said "The fascination which a ranch holds for children is well known. But too often the adult-size operation rule out participation by young people. The Lazy C Kids' Ranch will be for children only, and they can participate to their heart's content."

The ranch will be open year round and children whose parents hold a deed to one of the two-square-inch plot will be admitted free. An exact reproduction of the full-sized Lazy C Ranch, the kids' ranch will be used for raising miniature horses, cattle and certain other small varieties of animals. The working techniques will be those of the adult Lazy C Ranch. Hence, children will have the opportunity to inspect ranch life on their own level, to learn from it, to work and play on it, and to benefit from the knowledge of ranch life and operation that can be gained only from first hand experience.

The children's ranch house, stables and corral will be approximately two-thirds the size of ordinary ranch buildings. Mr. Cage also announced plans to use the small buildings for annual rodeos and stock shows for children. Only animals raised by children will be ridden or exhibited and in the case of the stock shows, animals bought and sold will be priced on a child's allowance level.

Recently, acting on the theory that people would like to own a small portion of Texas land, primarily to assure themselves Texas bragging privileges, Cage offered a single acre of his Lazy C Ranch for sale in two-square-inch plots at 25 cents each. Buyers receive legal warranty deed to their property and may, if they choose, have it registered. The deeds are being sold in over 100,000 outlets throughout the country, and will serve as admission tickets for children to The Lazy C Kids' Ranch.

President and honorary foreman of the Lazy C and The Lazy C Kids' Ranch is Capt. M. T. (Lone Wolf) Zonzaulas, of Texas Ranger fame. Working foreman is veteran cowhand Jim Luman. One of the last links with the days when the gun was law, Zonzaulas' ability with a pistol earned for him the respect and fear of outlaws, against whom he often fought alone, unwilling as he was to endanger his colleagues. Thus, he came to be known as Lone Wolf.

STATUES 'CONFUSING'

Frankfort, Ky., May 27 — Zoning laws of the State, particularly those applicable in areas such as Jefferson County, are in a state of "considerable confusion."

Assistant Attorney General Walter C. Herdman held that one statute apparently gives to fifth class cities in such areas the right to zone and assume jurisdiction over the subdivision of all lands located within its limits and for five miles beyond—while another attempts to vest such control in the Louisville and Jefferson County Planning and Zoning Commission—and each.

Perkins Gives Caney Valuable Publications

The library of Caney Junior College at Pippapass has just received a collection of 55 publications of the U. S. House of Representatives, valued at approximately $200, furnished by Congressman Carl D. Perkins, a former student at Caney Creek.

These publications consist of foreign relations documents pertaining to the Paris Peace Conferences, and the affairs leading to the Second World War; also, domestic government statutes are included to the year 1953.

Other volumes include the annual reports of the American Historical Association and a handsome publication of the Constitution with Jefferson's Manual and the House Rules of Order, the 1952 publication of U. S. treaties and other international agreements. Most inspiring are the small books containing the prayers of the House chaplain, the Rev. James S. Montgomery and the Senate Chaplain, the late Peter Peter Marshall.

AREA SENIORS STUDY MINING

Eight Floyd Schools Represented at Deane In Annual Senior Day

One hundred thirty-seven boys from 14 high schools of this area, including eight Floyd county schools, attended the seventh annual Seniors Day program recently at Deane, Letcher county, where the Consolidation Coal Company was host.

A first-hand insight into the various phases of modern mining methods was given the seniors during the day. The program was under direction of the Big Sandy-Elkhorn Mining Institute, with the cooperation of the Mayo Vocational School, Paintsville, and the Big Sandy-Elkhorn Coal Operators Association.

J. H. Mosgrove, secretary of the mining institute, listed the students as representing Prestonsburg, Garrett, Wayland, Martin, Wheelwright, Betsy Layne, McDowell and Maytown in this county, Mayo State Vocational, Jenkins, Stuart-Robinson, Dorton, Elkhorn City, Van Lear and Johns Creek schools.

Thirty-seven men representing other coal mining companies, the Kentucky Department of Mines & Minerals and the U. S. Bureau of Mines assisted with transportation of seniors and teachers and with details of the program. The day's story was covered for Coal Age, nationally known coal trade publication, by its associate editor, J. H. Edwards.

In Bath county, 771 boys and girls are enrolled in 4-H club work.

Thirty-five out of 37 members of the Dunbar Negro 4-H Club in Trigg county completed their clothing projects.

Pineville School Names Dr. Aldridge President To Succeed Its Founder

The Rev. D. M. Aldridge, president of Magoffin Baptist Institute, has been elected president of the Clear Creek Mountain Preachers Bible School, Pineville, Ky., to succeed the retiring president, Dr. L. C. Kelley. It was announced here this week.

The Rev. L. W. Benedict, former pastor of Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church here, who is secretary of the Magoffin Baptist Institute board of trustees, said a successor to Aldridge has not been named.

Aldridge, who served as professor of missions and church history at Clear Creek before going to Magoffin Institute, will assume his new duties at Clear Creek June 15. Clear Creek, a three year Bible school for preachers, was founded in 1923 by Dr. Kelley. The institution serves Baptist preachers from several states. It has property valued at approximately $2,000,000.

For the past four years Mr. Aldridge has served as president of Magoffin Baptist Institute in Breathitt county. During that time two major constructions, a home economics building and a boys' dormitory, have been erected. A combination administration and classroom building, now under construction, is expected to be in use with the opening of the fall term.

Magoffin County Native To Receive L.L.D. Degree From Marietta College

Ben Moore, Magoffin county native, and federal district judge for the Southern District of West Virginia, will be awarded an honorary degree of doctor of laws by Marietta College, Marietta, Ohio, at the school's commencement exercises June 7. Judge Moore resides at Charleston, W. Va. He is a brother of Albert Moore, editor and publisher of The Salyersville Independent.

Judge Moore received his early education at the old Magoffin Institute at Salyersville, being one of the first graduates of that institution. He was serving as common-pleas judge of Kanawha Circuit Court in Charleston when appointed to the federal bench in 1940.

Since December, Judge Moore has been off the bench, recuperating from a heart attack. He expects to resume his judicial duties in June.

The annual rally day in Ohio county was attended by more than 400 4-H club members, leaders and parents.

Only Accredited Vets Competent to Make Tests, State Vet Writes Boggs

Bang's disease or brucellosis diagnosis in this county prompted L. L. Breck, state veterinarian of the Kentucky Department of Agriculture, to write County Agent Ellis Boggs last week, that only a graduate accredited veterinarian can make official Bang's and TB tests and that these men must be trained, even if they are graduates, to properly complete the tests.

"This department, in cooperation with the Agricultural Research Service will make these tests in your county at no cost to the owner as soon as personnel is available. The owners need only to give you their names, location of their cattle and number of cattle to be tested," Breck writes.

"We have extra personnel starting to work around June 15. We will have someone in your county for Bang's testing shortly thereafter," he added.

Boggs says application to have the veterinarian visit Floyd county farms and make the tests are being taken now by the local extension office. When all the applications are in, scheduled stops may be made out.

Six cows in this county have been found to have a positive reaction to Bang's disease tests, it was disclosed this week when Dr. W. G. Irvin, assistant state veterinarian, returned here to brand those previously tested and diagnosed as positive reactors. Since the first 120 head of cattle disclosed the presence of the disease here, further tests were made, making a total of 145 head tested. County Agent Boggs and Dr. Irvin indicated concern over the presence of the disease here. It causes abortion and loss of milk production as well as causing undulant fever in human who drink the infected milk.

Frankfort, Ky., May 27 — Cities may not require taxicab operators to consent to the search of their taxicabs without warrants for the privilege of operating, Assistant General Walter C. The City of Glasgow had proposed an ordinance requiring such permission be given in return for the city's permission to operate.

Fairchild testified the three men demanded the keys to the garage, but he refused. He said Baker hit him on the head while the other two men were in the front of the car.

The night watchman said he finally was able to free himself from the men and open the car door and flee.

The other men, listed as James "Baldy" Arms, about 20, and Elmer Davis, about 22, both of the Paintsville area, were sentenced to life in prison, April 23 for other activities the night of December 22.

They were found guilty of armed robbery of Douglas Green, Flat Gap, who said they posed as sheriff's deputies, forced him into their car and robbed him of $16, a watch, and a cigarette lighter.

Arms and Davis were witnesses at Baker's trial.

WHEELWRIGHT AGAIN WINS WAY TO KY. BASEBALL MEET

Wheelwright high school will represent this region in the state high school baseball tournament at Parkway Field, Louisville, this week.

Adrian Hall's Maroons captured their second successive regional crown by whipping Breckinridge Training of Morehead, 7-3, in the regional finals at Grayson last week. The defeat was the first in 11 games for Sonny Allen's Eagles. Wheelwright has a 10-1 record.

The Floyd county school entered the finals by eliminating Catlettsburg, 5-4, in the semi-finals. Breckinridge advanced to the championship game with a 5-3 conquest of Van Lear and a 3-1 decision over Owingsville.

Behind 3-0, Wheelwright won the title game on the 5-hit pitching of left-hander Gilbert Little, although the champs were limited to five safe hits by Dale Fair and Bill Carter. The Maroons broke a 3-3 deadlock in the fourth inning and catcher

Homer Osborne slammed the only roundtripper of the tournament to cinch the victory.

In the semi-final fray with Catlettsburg, righthander Jim Sword stopped Catlettsburg with four hits and whiffed 12 while he and his mates reached Don Eddy for six safeties.

After trailing 3-2 going into the sixth inning, Wheelwright broke loose for three runs and Catlettsburg picked up one in the top of the seventh.

Sword, a six-foot-one-inch senior swiffler, has a 5-0 record for the season and is considered one of the brightest high school prospects in the state. Little is a six-foot southpaw. He relied on a good curve for his 4-0 slate.

Seven of the 12-man squad are hitting over 300. Third baseman Oakie Newsome is the top man with an average of .429, followed by holdover shortstop Bobby Blevins with a .375. Others over the .300 mark are outfielders Grover Hall and P. G. Little, first baseman David Chaffins and Sword. The squad is comprised mostly of sophomores and juniors. Second baseman Bob Hall and pitchers Sword and Little are the only seniors.

Wheelwright lost to Newport Catholic, in the first round of the state high tournament last season.

AREA CAMPING TO BE STUDIED

Regional 4-H Camp Seen As Discussion Subject At June 15 Meet Here

The 4-H camping needs of Eastern Kentucky will be one of the principal subjects for discussion June 15 when representatives of the clubs and the Extension Service meet here.

Eastern Kentucky has 24,000 4-H Club members, nearly half the state total. Two other regional camps in the state are inadequate to care for the club's growing number of members, leaders say.

Sponsorship of the regional camp idea was voted recently at a meeting of the Big Sandy 4-H district council at West Liberty. Four or five district camps serve the section now, it was noted. A district camp at Fish Trap, Johnson county, is attended by Floyd county 4-Hers and members from adjacent counties. W. G. Ratliff, West Liberty banker, presided at the meeting there.

Reporting at the meeting here in June will be W. G. Ratliff and Rebekah Harless, secretary of the Martin county 4-H council. They will have taken, as instructed by the West Liberty meet, the sense of the various groups interested in 4-H camping. Charlie Dixon, Morgan county agent, said at last Monday's meet the proposed camp should include such things as adequate housing, boating and swimming facilities and playgrounds, parking space, caretaker and a plan for training 4-H leaders.

Meeting at West Liberty to discuss the proposed regional camp were Curte Ferguson, assistant Floyd county agent, J. W. Whitehouse of the University of Kentucky; Julia Rice, Sandy Hook; Charles Mason Falcon; Edna Peters, Inez; Ann Stevens, West Liberty; Ned Gillum, Falcon; Fred Conley, Falcon; J. P. Moore, county agent, Louisa; M. B. Arnett, county agent, Pikeville; W. Coffee, county agent, Frenchburg; Bernard E. Whitt, West Liberty; T. W. Ball, Louisa; C. K. Benson, Frenchburg; Carl Stewart, Malone; Hazel Steele, Malone; Mrs. L. M. Newsom, Robinson Creek; Thelma Wheeler, Louisa; E. D. Rice, Sandy Hook; Sara Rice, Louisa, and Edna Nickell, Pikeville.

RIFLE MARKSMANSHIP POPULAR AT BOY SCOUT CAMP SHAWNEE

One of the more popular activities at Camp Shawnee, the Boy Scout Camp of the Lonesome Pine Council, is the rifle range. In the background Scout Bob Auxier, of Pikeville, is teaching a group of Scouts the correct method of using a rifle. Auxier holds a certificate from the National Rifle Association as a qualified instructor. He teaches the Scouts general knowledge of guns and ammunition, proper handling of fire arms, knowledge of responsibilities of sportsmen and target shooting. A special National Rifle Association Hunter Safety Course will also be taught this year. Camp will open on June 20 and will be open for five weeks. Scouts and leaders should make their reservations to attend camp through the Boy Scout office in Pikeville.

New driver comfort!
New driving ease!

New Chevrolet Trucks... do more work per day... more work per dollar!

You save time in traffic. New truck Hydra-Matic transmission gets you off to smooth, time-saving starts without shifting or clutching. Imagine how easy this makes driving in traffic and on delivery routes! It's optional at extra cost on 1/2-, 3/4- and 1-ton models.

You save time on the highway. New high-compression power gets you up to highway speeds from a standing start in less time, and saves you time on hills, too. You make trips faster—and the new Comfortmaster cab makes them seem shorter. It's got everything!

You save extra trips, too. That's because of the extra load space you get in the new Advance-Design bodies. New pickup bodies are deeper... new stake and platform bodies are wider and longer. Also, they're set lower to the ground for easier loading.

You save on operating costs. High-compression power saves you money! The "Thriftmaster 235" engine, the "Loadmaster 235," and the "Jobmaster 261" (optional on 2-ton models at extra cost), deliver greater horsepower plus increased operating economy.

You save with lower upkeep. New Chevrolet trucks are built stronger to last longer and save you money on maintenance. There are heavier axle shafts in two-ton models... bigger clutches in light- and heavy-duty models... stronger frames in all models.

And your savings start the day you buy. In fact, they start with the low price you pay—and they never stop. Chevrolet, you know, is America's lowest-priced line of trucks. And it's also the truck that has a traditionally high trade-in value.

Come in and see how much you're ahead with America's number one truck. You'll like the way we're talking business!
