This Town— That World

Our front windows underwent a bit of washing this week. All absent-minded birds will please take notice.

The papers record a new painless (?) dental device which, they say, makes drilling the old bicuspid nothing to sweat about at all. Claim the drill vibrates 29,000 times a second, thus creating sound waves too high-pitched for the human ear to hear. These sound waves are transmitted through space to a cutting paste applied to the tooth beforehand, the paste particles do the cutting—and so the operation is noiseless and painless. Now if they can devise sound waves strong enough to knock 'em out painlessly...

Then there was the stomach specialist who decided his patient's ulcer was caused by undigested fingernails.

Winter's not too far away. Must not forget to look up those old seed catalogs and get ready for my January crop.

Places to go: The Floyd County Fair, the Maytown Flower Show, Kentucky REA Day—and church on Sunday.

PURE FANTASY

(Reprinted by request from a "This Town-That World" column of about 10 years ago.)

I have just returned from a place that has me feeling as if I have just walked out of the pages of a Graustark novel. The place is beautifully unbelievable and romantic.

It isn't one valley, but some call it "The Valley of Dogwoods". If you want to be sentimental about it—and who doesn't after seeing the place?—you can with a surer touch of euphony call it "Memory Lane." Even though, as I have noted here, it isn't one valley or lane; it's one big valley with half a hundred back-country coves and shady, half-forgotten lanes a part of it.

The springtime is the season of the year when I was there, and when you must go there some day, if you go. The dogwoods are in bloom then, you see. Do this, and when you enter the valley, just watch. Watch for the white dogwoods that are native to those hills. And, tragically often, you'll

COW CR. JOB TO CONSERVE SOIL PLANNED

Application Is Filed For First Floyd Work In Watershed Control

If plans of the Soil Conservation Service mature the Cow Creek section will have its face lifted. Soil erosion will be stopped, streams straightened, a blanket of adapted vegetation will cover the farms, and wildlife conditions will be improved.

And the work planned there may be a forerunner of wider conservation measures of the same nature elsewhere in the county.

Five weeks after the passage of an act by the Congress to provide for watershed soil conservation, projects, the Floyd County Soil Conservation supervisors petitioned the U. S. Soil Conservation Service to approve Cow Creek as this county's first project. Many other valleys were considered by the supervisors, but the final selection was made upon the basis of accessibility, need and many other factors. Cow Creek has an area of 6,450 acres.

MARTIN CITES RECORD NEEDS

Says Law Requires Fines And Forfeitures Receipts To Be Made in Triplicate

Commonwealth's Attorney Burnis Martin called the attention of the County Judge and Magistrates to the law requiring receipt books showing fines and forfeitures in their courts to be in triplicate with the name and postoffice of the defendant and the amounts collected. A copy of the receipt, Martin says, should go to the defendant, State Auditor and Clerk of the Circuit Court in the case of the Judge of the Quarterly Court and in the Justice's court, a copy should go to the defendant and to Circuit Court when the fine is reported.

"May I also call to your attention the law requiring the County Attorney and the Commonwealth's Attorneys to collect on all unsatisfied judgments or money due the state," Martin wrote. "I understand that perhaps you do not realize that time spent in jail does not do away with the fines imposed in your courts and that a large amount of money is still due the state on same."

"Please be advised that since time spent in jail does not do away with the fine owed the state, I therefore respectfully suggest that you so advise the defendant when he makes payment and that you will see fit to cooperate with the attorney for the Commonwealth in the collection of same by advising each defendant that he may pay the full amount due and thereby avoid execution and costs in the collection thereof," Martin continued.

"If you so desire," Martin concluded his letter, "in the case of magistrates, you may allow time spent in jail out of your own costs but not out of the portion due the state."

PHONE STRIKE HINTED HERE

Midnight of Sept. 29 Set As Deadline; Pact Negotiations Under Way

No progress has been made in the attempt to write a new contract between Southern Bell Telephone Company and the Communication Workers of America, was the report received here this week. The bargaining is being done at Atlanta.

The contract between the employer and employe group expired Aug. 23, but was extended by mutual agreement while the snagged negotiations were in progress.

Spokesmen for the union state their proposals include nine major demands but that a counter-proposal of Bell to outlaw strikes has completely stymied the negotiations. Freddie James, president of Local 3317 of the CWA covering the eastern part of Kentucky, said the chief difference is the proposed "no strike clause." James said the workers voted unanimously Sept. 3, to strike at midnight Sept. 29 if the present negotiations are unproductive of a contract. Bargaining has been going on since July 19.

"I think there may be a strike," James said. "We have not had one since 1947 but rather than surrender our strike weapon we would resort to another. We don't believe in striking unless it is the last resort, but this time it may be our only weapon."

COMBS, VICTIM AT AGE OF 64

Veteran Attorney Here Succumbs at Lexington After Illness of Year

Anthony Burnam Combs, prominent Prestonsburg attorney, died at 7:30 a. m., Tuesday at St. Joseph's hospital, Lexington, of a cerebral hemorrhage. He was 64 years old.

Mr. Combs' death followed by a year the onset of his illness, since which time he had been critically ill.

A native of Smithsboro, Knott county, and a son of the late John and Clementine Cody Combs, he had practiced law here about 35 years and was recognized as one of the ablest attorneys in Eastern Kentucky, particularly in the field of corporation law.

Mr. Combs received his early education at the Hindman Settlement School and his A. B. degree from Transylvania University in 1913. He was graduated from the University of Kentucky College of Law, June 1, 1916, and shortly after was admitted to practice. He was first associated with Commonwealth's Attorney John D. Smith at Hindman and later in Prestonsburg. This partnership was dissolved when Mr. Smith moved from Prestonsburg, and Mr. Combs formed with his brother, B. F. Combs, the law firm of Combs & Combs.

At the time of his death, Mr. Combs was chairman of the board of directors of the First National Bank here and vice-president and member of the board of directors of the First Guaranty Bank at Martin.

He was married on March 11, 1923 to Miss Hazel Gardner, who preceded him in death on Aug. 9, last year. Of this union two sons and a daughter survive: Cleon Kilmer Combs, Prestonsburg attorney, Gardner Kent Combs, Los Angeles, Calif., and Miss Vyvyan Combs, University of Kentucky student. He also leaves two brothers and two sisters, Monroe Combs, of Garrett, Dr. Josiah H. Combs, Fredericksburg, Va., Mrs. Allie Daniel and Mrs. Dora Holcomb, both of St. Louis, Missouri, and three grandsons.

Funeral rites were conducted this afternoon (Thursday) at 2 from the Methodist Church here, the Rev. Harold W. Dorsey officiating, and burial was made in the Mayo cemetery under direction of the Carter & Callihan Funeral Home.

Oct. 15 Is Deadline In Homemaker Contest

The last day for nominations as Floyd County's Most Successful Homemaker is Oct. 15. The nominations will be acted upon by the judges, headed by Miss Hazel Hill, immediately after the deadline date. The county winner of the contest, sponsored locally by The Times, will receive a $25 award offered by the newspaper and a winner will enter the national contest that carries a $2,500 award. All organizations and individuals are urged to submit nominations.

JUDGE WARNS ON SPENDING

As Relief Clients Paid; Court Still Struggling Under Financial Strain

The Fiscal court met Monday afternoon and began wrestling with the financial business of the county. Evidence of a lack of money was not so apparent, however, as claims were being paid from undepleted budget funds.

As usual a number of applicants for relief were present and were given assistance. In agreeing to a payment to a relief client, Judge Stumbo indicated the economy-mindedness of the court when he said: "We will have to go slow on this fund," he told the magistrates. "This fund has to last nine months."

Besides paying various bills rendered against the county, the court approved the leasing of an air compressor from the Wayne Supply Company for two months. Terms of the leases were $412 per month with an option extended the county to buy and apply 90% of the rental on the purchase price. Motion to lease the equipment was made by Magistrate John May.

Discussion was entered into by the court on the amount to be paid Mrs. Gwendolyn Dingus, clerk of the Registration and Purgation Board. Mrs. Dingus' account for services rendered was approved at the old rate of $150 per hour, but the court thought the amount should be reduced from $12 to $8 per day. However, no formal order was made reducing Mrs. Dingus' pay.

Other bills paid at Monday's session were H. B. Ranier, $80 for welding on the county grader, and Marvin Music, diesel oil, etc., $212.40. Submitting bills for services rendered and paid were John T. Wells, Olive Akers for clerical hire, Sam Leslie, Kendall Martin, Elza Gearheart, German Vance and Arrowood Hardware Company.

REA Day Celebration Set Friday at Home of Ex-POW

Told that he is the 200,000th Kentuckian to become a REA member and that he and his bride of a few months are to receive gifts worth a thousand dollars or more at ceremonies to be held Friday at his new home on the Middle Creek road, Forrest Montgomery said, "I can't believe it. I never had anything but bad luck."

Little more than a year ago, he doubtless would have said, "You're crazy." For at that time he was Master Sergeant Forrest Montgomery and a prisoner of war in Korea, with freedom far away and even survival doubtful.

This same youngster had already been wounded twice in the fighting against the Reds. He was hungry and far from hopeful. Good luck was like the rainbow's pot of gold.

But this week it became certain that the 24-year-old Montgomery's fortunes had taken a turn for the better. Perhaps it would be more

WRECK KILLS 2 FLOYD MEN

Soldier on Furlough And His Uncle Killed In Motorcycle Wreck

A McDowell soldier, arrived home on furlough only a few hours earlier, was killed shortly before noon today (Thursday) near Orkney in a motorcycle wreck which also claimed the life of his uncle.

Instantly killed were Pvt. John Melvin Anderson, 19, and his uncle, George Anderson, 26.

The tragedy resulted when the motorcycle the two were riding on the Left Beaver highway skidded as it left a curve opposite the Tip Top Coal Company tippie, between Orkney and McDowell, and plunged over a 15-foot embankment into a tree. Both men suffered broken necks. George Anderson, who was thrown into the tree which the 'cycle hit, also sustained a skull fracture and broken arms and legs.

George Anderson was a son of the late Melvin Anderson. His mother and several brothers and sisters survive. The other victim was a son of Burr and Maude Patton Anderson.

Funerals of the two victims are expected to be held Sunday, it was said at the Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

DAVID CLUB BACKS BOARD

Resolutions Adopted Endorsing Purgation; Ask Citizens to Help

The David Woman's Club this week endorsed resolutions adopted Sept. 10 which endorse the action of Floyd County Registration Board and which urge citizens of the county to lend the board assistance in the performance of its official duties.

The resolution points out that before the Purgation Board began an intensive effort to clean up the voter-registration rolls the lists contained names of thousands of persons who were deceased, moved away or who were otherwise ineligible as legal voters. Because the lists had not been purged of these names, the resolutions point out, there was danger of vote-padding. But, the statement continues, the Registration and Purgation Board composed of Eugene Allen, German Vance and S. R. Hatcher has now purged the registration lists of thousands of dead and ineligible voters.

The club sent a copy of its resolutions to the fiscal court and to The Floyd County Times.

Aid for Retarded Children To Be Subject of Meeting

The move initiated a few weeks ago by the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Martin, of Martin, to do something for retarded children gained headway this week as at least nine Floyd countians accepted membership on the Floyd County Council for Retarded Children to work toward their training and treatment.

At the same time John T. Parker, general manager of the Inland Steel Company's properties at Wheelwright and Price, announced he would send a representative to join members of the Council in a conference next Monday noon at the Methodist hospital, Pikeville, with Dr. Leet, Lexington psychiatrist.

Plans for work with the retarded will be discussed at this meeting, and it is hoped a clinic may be set up here.

The county's Council for Retarded Children is composed of County Superintendent V. O. Turner, Prestonsburg; Mrs. A. H. Mandt, Mantion; William Crawford, David; R. V. May, representing the Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club; Mrs. J. H. Keenon of the Prestonsburg Women's Club; Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Draughn, Garrett; Miss Elsie Stephens, Prestonsburg; Mrs. M. M. Collins, Lackey; Mrs. N. D. Howard, of the Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club; Dr. R. M. Sirkle and Norman Allen, both of Prestonsburg.

In their appeal to Floyd countians to do something for retarded children, the Martins have pointed out that these are the youngsters for whom little or nothing helpful is ever done.

Hi Hat Coal Firm Being Re-Organized

Reorganization of the Hi Hat Elkhorn Coal Co., which has principal offices in Ashland and production facilities at Hi Hat, this county, was revealed a few days ago with issuance of a new charter by the Secretary of State.

Capitalization of the concern was given as $25,000.

Incorporators are G. H. Baber, 1023 Eleventh Avenue, Huntington, and R. D. and Margery B. Davis, both of Ashland.

Clear Branch Mining Company at Hi Hat suspended operation months ago, and applied for receivership as a means of working out its financial straits.

REA Day will be observed at the home, beginning at 10 a. m. and continuing till 2 p. m. Congressman Carl D. Perkins, County Judge Henry Stumbo and possibly Lieutenant-Governor Beauchamp will speak. Odey Crabtree and his group from WSAB-TV, Huntington, W. Va., will provide music. A trailer loaded with food and soft drinks will be on the ground to serve all visitors, and movies of the day's proceedings will be taken. And the Montgomerys will be busy acknowledging the congratulations of friends.

But Forrest Montgomery, ex-prisoner-of-war and No. 200,000 on the list of REA members in the Commonwealth, still has a worry or so. He's wondering if he will get that new house roofed and painted before Friday morning.

OUSLEY DIES AFTER FIGHT WITH RAIDERS

Bullet Wound Kills Middle Creek Man; Whiskey Is Found

A shot from the revolver of one of two U. S. deputy marshals who had searched his premises for moonshine whiskey resulted Saturday morning in the death of George Ousley, 58 years old, of the Pitts Fork of Middle Creek, near Pyramid.

The two officers involved in an exchange of shots with Ousley were Wince Trimble, of Paintsville, and Ralph Reimer, of Pikeville. Assisting in the search of the Ousley home and premises but reportedly having no part in the shooting were Deputy Marshal Noah Friend, of Pikeville, and Floyd Deputy Sheriff Walker Hall, of the Mud Creek section.

Ousley was hit in the abdomen by a single bullet. He died in the officers' car while en route to the Prestonsburg General hospital. The shooting took place about 10:30 a. m., in front of the three-room Ousley home.

A jury empaneled by Coroner James J. Carter gave its opinion that Ousley died of a "gunshot wound from federal officers who found moonshine whiskey on his property. We feel that resisting the officers brought about his death."

This version of the shooting was given by the officers at the inquest, according to Deputy Coroner W. R. Callihan.

The officers had served a search warrant on Mrs. Ousley, in the absence of her husband, had searched the house and surrounding area, and had found nine half-gallon jars of moonshine whiskey about 250 yards from the house. Trimble and Reimer returned to the house. Deputy Sheriff Hall was told to go to the barn, some distance away and get a paper carton and take it to the car. Friend was up a hollow, and so he and Hall were removed from the action that followed.

Ousley rode up a slight rise in front of the house, and Trimble stepped onto the porch and spoke to him. Ousley warned him not to move, wheeled his horse as if to ride away, then jumped to the ground and began firing as Reimer walked onto the porch.

Trimble said he fired two shots. There were two empty shells in his revolver. Reimer had reloaded his gun, and he said he did not know how many shots he fired. He said that when Ousley's automatic pistol was picked up and handed him it was cocked. He added that he removed the magazine containing other loaded cartridges and fired the cartridge in the barrel into the ground.

Although Mrs. Grace Ousley, widow of the slain man, was quoted by neighbors as saying the officers fired on her husband before he offered resistance, she was quoted as having said at the in-

FAIR PROGRAM STARTS TODAY

Judging of Exhibits To End Today; Show Drawing Big Crowds

All was hurry and bustle at the site of the second annual Floyd County Fair today (Thursday) as exhibitors assembled their wares and products for a late display.

The belated showing of exhibits was due to the delayed arrival of tents, Wednesday. However, certain exhibits, like the PFA 4-H club, open class canned goods, flower arrangements and the school booth were open to the public. Judging started Wednesday evening and was for all practical purposes completed.

Exhibits were being received this morning in the poultry and live-

Child's Doll-House, Built Here To Help Raise Funds for Fight on Polio, Will Be Exhibited and Given Away at Floyd Fair

Some little girl will receive this week just about the finest doll-house ever built.

The house has been built by the Mountain Perma-Stone Company here and donated to the Floyd County Chapter, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis as a means of raising money for the polio emergency fund. It is 5 1/2 feet long, 3 1/2 feet wide and 5 feet high. The exterior is of Perma-Stone. It has aluminum doors and windows, its walls are plastered and the floor is covered with inlaid linoleum.

Tickets on the house are now on sale here, and the miniature doll palace will be on display this week at the Floyd County Fair. It will be given away at 7 p. m. Saturday.

Cooperating with the drive to raise emergency polio funds, the following businesses are giving tickets on the doll-house with each purchase of $5 worth of merchandise: Francis Stores, Sandy Valley Tire Service, Hutsinpler Drug, Bell Franklin Store, The Leader Store, Wright Bros. Jewelry, Bob Francis, Apparel, Perry's Grocery and the Thomas Hereford Company.

An important addition to the emergency polio fund was made Saturday night when the benefit dance sponsored by the Dewey Lake Association netted for that purpose $100.

The David Woman's Club will conduct a bake sale at the Fair Friday, the proceeds to go to the polio fund.

Plan All-Day Meeting
At Church of God Here

An all-day meeting, which will start Saturday night at 7:30 and last through the day Sunday, will be held at the First Church of God on U. S. 23 here. It is announced by the pastor, the Rev. Moses Kitchen. The program will include preaching, special singers and a basket dinner. The public is cordially invited.

CONVICT HUFF
ON 3 COUNTS

Ashland Man Given
Year in Jail, Fined
$1,950 in Car Wreck

June Frederick Huff, of Boyd county, was fined $650 and given four months in jail on each of three counts of assault and battery with an auto on his wife and two children when he failed Wednesday to appear in circuit court here to answer for trial.

The jury wrote identical verdicts on each of the three warrants. He was accused of using his auto in injuring his wife, Ada, and his children, Billie Jean and Mary Lee. The three were hurt in a wreck near Betsy Layne which resulted in Huff's indictment on the contention the wreck was intentional.

The grand jury minutes were read by the jury. These related Mrs. Huff's story to the grand jury in which she said she and her husband had executed to each other deeds to their $28,000 Ashland home, the deeds to be effective on the death of either. She alleged her husband rammed his car into a jeep in an effort to kill her.

There was no questioning of witnesses here Wednesday, but one witness was quoted as having later said here that Huff lost control of the car.

Eight others were convicted during the week, and the penalties demanded of them ranged from a pen term of three years to a fine of one cent and costs.

The one-cent fine was assessed of Helen Risher on an assault and battery charge. She was said to have hit a man on the heel with a rock.

The three-year term was given Willard Niece on his conviction of child desertion. Two-year pen terms were given Hollie Castle for child desertion, and Willie Harris and Guy Bates for grand larceny. The charge against Steve Smith, who was indicted jointly with Harris and Bates, was dismissed.

Fines resulted from other convictions, which were:

Everett Stone, plea of guilty to assault and battery charge, $400 (the cutting and wounding indictment against him was dismissed); Bennie Parsons, shooting on public highway, $50; Tommy Salisbury, drunkenness, $50.

Juries failed to agree in the trials of John L. Lemaster, charged with drunk driving, and Pauline Mullins Little, who was accused of bigamy. Mrs. Little's second trial was docketed for Nov. 23. Willie Collins was cleared of a rape charge.

Circuit Judge Hill probated the remaining 22 days of the 30-day jail term given Buck Stumbo for possession of alcoholic beverages. The court pointed out that the charge was the first against the defendant, that he is blacksmith for several small truck mines, that his son needs his father's help to raise money for tuition at Pikeville College which he planned to enter Tuesday, and that Stumbo was totally unable to work at the time he began violating the liquor laws. Stumbo's probation is for a period of five years, on the condition that he execute $1,000 bond not to engage in the traffic, possession or transportation of alcoholic beverages for that period.

GEORGE P. ARCHER

George P. Archer was born on October 10, 1866, died on August 1, 1954, and was buried in the Harkins cemetery, Prestonsburg, Kentucky, on August 3, 1954.

He was the second employee of The Bank Josephine after it began business, having been employed on June 4, 1891. At that time he and the late A. J. Davidson were the only employees of the Bank. Mr. Davidson being Cashier at that time.

On February 8, 1892, he was elected Assistant Cashier and on June 20, 1904 he assumed the position of Cashier, which position he resigned on June 30, 1912 and on July 23, 1912 was reelected to the same position.

He was a member of the Board of Directors from April 1, 1895 to June 20, 1912 and from May 7, 1930 until January 7, 1954.

On June 5, 1947 he resigned as Cashier but continued to hold the office of President until his election as Chairman Emeritus of the Board of Directors. On June 5, 1947 W. J. May was selected to succeed him as Cashier.

On May 7, 1930, he was elected President of the Bank and held this office continuously from that date until January 7, 1954. Upon the death of J. D. Harkins, Sr., on January 3, 1954, he was elected Chairman Emeritus of the Board, which position he held until his death.

Mr. Archer's chief interest in life other than his devotion to his family was in the Bank Josephine. At many directors meeting he would make the statement that the interest of the Bank should come first regardless of what effect it might have on the individual directors and this motto prevailed with him throughout his whole life. He attended all meetings of the Board of Directors when he was physically able to do so. One of Mr. Archer's strong beliefs was that each of his friends should start the habit of saving money. Illustrating this principle he had printed on each counter check of the Bank Josephine the following language:

"Joseph in Egypt in the seven years of plenty had saved much corn. In the seven years of scarcity Joseph had corn plenty for his father and all his brethren."

At frequent meetings of the Board of Directors he would inquire how much payment had been made on a note and would again demonstrate how important it was that depositors begin the habit of saving money, and this principle he steadfastly maintained throughout his whole life. When his son and grandson completed the magnificent hospital which they have constructed on First Avenue, Mr. Archer upon inspecting it is said to have remarked: "This is very nice but do you have it paid for?" again demonstrating his frugality.

In over sixty years experience as a banker, Mr. Archer did not make an unsound loan and the records of the Bank will so show. He was uniformly regarded as a sound banker and the banking policies which he adopted have resulted in the great growth of the Bank Josephine. The Bank has lost a painstaking executive and a faithful friend. We mourn his loss and extend to his children, grandchildren and all his relatives our deepest sympathy in their bereavement.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED: FIRST, that a page be set apart upon the records of this board whereon shall be recorded these Resolutions.

SECOND, that no further minutes be hereafter entered upon the original book of this Board subsequent to the minutes of the meeting at which these Resolutions are adopted and entered.

THIRD, that a copy of these Resolutions be furnished to the family and to the Floyd County Times for publication.

JURY INDICTS
BLANKENSHIP

Pike Countian Named
In Manslaughter Bill
For Death of Woman

A voluntary manslaughter indictment was lodged by the Floyd circuit court grand jury before its temporary adjournment Tuesday against Henry Edward Blankenship, of McCombs, in the death at Dewey Lake a few weeks ago of Mrs. Alonzo Napier, of Garrett. Mrs. Napier was fatally injured when a truck driven by Blankenship crashed into an auto occupied by Mrs. Napier, her daughter and granddaughter.

His bond was set at $10,000 and trial is scheduled for Nov. 9.

The grand jury will return Sept. 22 to complete its full nine-day session.

Among the indictments returned since last Thursday was one accusing James Gordon Moore and Martin James Goodman of the robbery of Martin's Service Station at Bosco. The two were arrested after the owner of the station, the Rev. Banner Manns, Baptist minister, gave chase without taking time to don his trousers. Their trial was docketed for Sept. 23.

Other major indictments returned follow:
Curt Slone, knowingly receiving stolen property; Eugene Yates, larceny; Charlie Bayes, chicken stealing; Riley R. Payne, forgery, accused of signing the name of W. A. Payne to a $45 check; William Edward Gibson, breaking and entering the O. C. Hays store at Lackey; Ishmael Little and Junior Butcher, breaking and entering, accused of a series of breaks in the vicinity of Bypro which included entering a church, a service station and the drug store of Dr. W. D. Osborne, and finally of a school where the loot allegedly was divided; Johnnie Allen, carrying a concealed deadly weapon; Lenna Adams and Lawrence Brown, each accused of reckless use of a deadly weapon.

Wallace Slone, pandering, his wife, Audrey, listed as a witness against him; Audrey Slone and Junior Scott, adultery; the same charge against Mrs. Slone and George Hughes; Bernard Hall, seduction under promise of marriage; Tom Smith and William Edward Gibson, banding and confederating to take goods from O. C. Hays' store; Joe Baker Wallen, defrauding a hotel-keeper; Deputy Sheriffs Lonzo Patton and Solie Holbrook, reckless shooting into the motor vehicle of Earl Prater; R. M. Bryant, Kingsport, Tenn., selling mortgaged property; a Lincoln automobile; Raymond Ward, Claude Marshall, Kenneth Yates, Virgil Jacobs, Ironton Vance, Walter Thomas Riddle, Jr., Samuel Gibson, each charged with child desertion.

George Gray, having illicit still in his possession; Bill (Billy) Vaughan, resisting arrest; Eugene Yates and Chester Stone, breaking and entering Stephens Elkhorn Fuel Company property; Forrest Sturgill, Mabrey Sturgill and James Hatfield, grand larceny, theft of copper wire from the Glo Valley Coal Co.; Earl Wallace and Troy Conley, grand larceny, theft of 926 pounds of copper wire; Willard and Granville Howard, knowingly receiving stolen property; Carl Collier, breaking and entering; Homer J. Thacker, cold check; Mack and Marvin Johnson, drunk driving.

Kermit Bud Hamilton, assault and battery with an auto; Tom Shepherd, false personation of an officer, accused of posing as an officer and attempting to arrest Glen Moore; John P. Schroeder, forgery, accused of signing the name of his wife, Lois, to a divorce waiver and the names of Richard Wolfe and Lizzie Ous-ley to the same document; Haller Conn, false pretense; Jona Mullins, reckless use of deadly weapon; Harliss Slone, reckless use of deadly weapon; Ballard Little, shooting and wounding Thelma Bates; Gene and Ted Burchett, damaging motor vehicle; Berry Gentery, unlawful traffic in alcoholic beverages; Fred Newsom, possession of alcoholic beverages.

George E. Evans, Sr.,
Dies at Oakhill, W. Va.,
After Two-Week Illness

George E. Evans, Sr., 68 years old, former resident of this county, and father of George E. Evans, Jr., well-known Floyd coal operator, died at 5:30 a.m. Wednesday at an Oakhill, W. Va. hospital, victim of a third heart attack suffered within the last two weeks.

A native of Rendville, O., Mr. Evans moved to West Virginia in 1910, and came to Estill, this county, in 1939. At Estill he was superintendent of a coal mining operation for the late John Mandt. He left this county about 12 years ago, going to Oakhill where he owned the Canyon Top Coal Company at the time of his death. Mr. Evans was by profession a mining engineer.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Nell Harrington Evans, his son, George E. Evans, Jr., two sisters and two brothers, Mrs. Edith Evans, Niles, O., Mrs. Edwin Mills, Athens, O., Griffith Evans, Boston, Mass., and Llewellyn Evans, of Ohio.
The funeral will be held at 10:30 a.m. Friday from St. Peter and Paul Catholic Church, Scarbro, W. Va. Father Eugene Klug officiating, and burial will be made in High Lawn Memorial Park, Oakhill.

CATHOLIC SCHOOL OPENS

St. Juliana's Catholic school opened here Tuesday, September 7, with 23 students, Catholic and non-Catholic. Sisters of Divine Providence of Melbourne, Ky. are teaching. Sister Frances Grace, C. D. P., is the principal; Sister Marita, C. D. P., is the other teacher. Rev. George W. Nerbonne teaches the religion class for the Catholic students. This is the first Catholic school to be opened in Floyd county. The following children were enrolled, Tuesday: Michael Newsome, James Raymond Crisp, Sheila Everage, Robert Everage, John Collins, Theresa Dermont, Mary Jo Evars, Pamela Collins, James Gearheart, Charles Collins, Diane Everage, Charles William Hunter, Jimmy Wallen, Jerome Sherman, Sue Sherman, Michael Short, Joseph Everage, Tony Keathley, Wayne Dingus, Roger Howell, Mary Catherine Collins, Patricia Evans, Ronald Mayo.

The following persons gave a back-to-school household shower Wednesday night, at the new Mormon church for Mrs. Pete Grigsby, Jr.: Blanche Dingus, Myrtle Spears, Granny Stamper, Wanda Elkins, Willa Mae Bentley, Anethe Newsome, Lovina Miller, Virginia Short, Maxine Rietz, Jewell H. Evans, Jane Allen, Mrs. P. C. Hayes, Betty Hutchinson, Cea Biliter, Hazel Adams. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion. The guests enjoyed an evening of games, and refreshments. Some over 150 persons were invited. Mrs. Grigsby received many useful gifts.

Mrs. L. L. Lynch, Pauline Workman, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McDavid and daughter, Virginia Sue, were the Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Dingus, of Hite. Mrs. John Plaskie and children have moved to Atlanta, Georgia, where her husband has been working for sometime. The Plaskies have lived here in Martin a few years, and made many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Mandt and son, Jack Mandt, have returned home after spending a vacation in New York with their daughter, Barbara.

Sister Mary Edgar, C. D. P., who has been Sister Superior in Our Lady of the Way hospital here for several years, has been transferred to Sharon Heights hospital in Jenkins. Sister Jeanette, C. D. P., of Jenkin, has been sent to Our Lady of the Way hospital to take her place.

Ken Hill has returned from his vacation spent with his sisters, Mrs. L. M. Hayes, of New Castle, Ind., and Mrs. Luther Jackson, of Muncie, Ind., and his niece, Mrs. B. E. Mullins, also of Muncie, Ind.

Mrs. James E. Malloy, the former Miss Goldia Pratt, of Martin, is now living in Albany, N. Y. and has two children, James, 8, and Coleen, 6. Mrs. Malloy is an avid reader of The Floyd County Times, this being her means of keeping up with the people back home. Her husband is from Hartford, Conn.

William Gary Martin entered college as a freshman, Sept. 7, at Greenbrier Military School, Lewisburg, W. Va. Mr. and Mrs. William Martin, his parents, took him to school.

Other boys leaving for school this week-end were Jack Mandt and Randy Flannery, of the University of Kentucky, Lexington. Bill and Dick Brashier to a military school in Gainesville, Georgia.

Willard Barnett is receiving treatment at the Beaver Valley hospital after having just returned from St. Mary's hospital in Huntington, W. Va. He had a cast taken off his leg.

Hogan Biliter, of Pikeville, was the Sunday guest of his cousin, Florence Biliter.

Mrs. Epp Lafferty, of Prestonsburg spent Sunday here with her sister, Mrs. Belle Rice, and Sunday night they attended the Mormon church. Her husband motored here to take her home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Skeans and daughter, Linda Kay, were visiting his parents at Hi Hat, Sunday.

Mrs. Jennie Osborne, of Clarksville, O., is the guest here of her sisters, Mrs. G. J. Roberts, Mrs. A. B. Flannery and Mrs. W. J. Reynolds, Sr., and other relatives and friends.

Gordon (Squirt) McCarty, late of the U. S. Navy, has enrolled in school at Morehead.

Denzil Van Hoose, who has been serving with the U. S. Army in Paris, France, is now home, having been discharged from service.

Pvt. J. R. Key, of the army, is now stationed in Paris, France. He writes his father, Roy Key: "I had a real nice time this week-end. I looked for someone I knew and I found Billy Skaggs. When I went to see him he was asleep and I shook him to wake him up. He looked up and then his eyes flew open and he said, 'Am I seeing things?' We spent the whole week-end together. Really enjoyed it. I like it here."

Reggie Hayes, who has been working in Michigan, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mabry Hayes. He was to enter college Monday at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor. His parents presented him with a new 1954 Chevrolet for a back-to-school gift.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Skaggs, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Reynolds, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Chad Calton attended the Skaggs family reunion in Louisa, Sunday.

Mrs. Sadie Hayes and Exilee Stamper were fishing at Dewey Lake this week-end.

Mrs. Granville Combs, of Dayton, Ohio, has been the guests here recently of her sister, Exilee Stamper. While she was here the two of them visited other relatives in Perry county. Exilee also had the following company recently: her two cousins, Charles and Herbert Stamper, of Hindman, who were en route to Cleveland, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Skaggs and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Reynolds, Jr., and children made a sentimental journey, during the week-end to Hollier, Edgewater and vicinity, where Mr. Skaggs used to work. They enjoyed seeing a lot of people they hadn't seen in years.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Osborne, Jr. and son, of Charlottesville, Va., were the recent guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Osborne, Sr. Mr. Osborne, Jr., is the superintendent of the University of Virginia state hospital.

Capt. and Mrs. John Homer Goodin and son, Michael Blake, and daughter, Kathy Jan, have been the recent guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Goodin. Capt. Goodin and his family have just returned from a three-year hitch in Puerto Rico.

Association Resolutions
Ask Park Name Changed To Honor Jenny Wiley

It will be Jenny Wiley State Park instead of Dewey Lake Park if the Dewey Lake Association has its wish. The Association, Tuesday evening, unanimously passed a resolution asking the Division of Parks to change the name and honor Eastern Kentucky's famous frontier heroine.

The suggested change in name was made recently by Gerald Griffin, of the Courier-Journal, and the proposal has met with wide acceptance here.

Henry Ward, Commissioner of Conservation has accepted an invitation to speak at the Association's meeting on Sept. 21. At that time, it is thought, the lake group will discuss its move to change the park's name. No connection exists, an Association spokesman said, between Ward's presence here and the move to change the park name.

MAYTOWN

FOURTH ANNUAL FLOWER SHOW

The Maytown Woman's Club will present its fourth annual Flower Show, Saturday. Flowers can be brought as early as 8:30 a.m. for entry. An arranging table, ample water, scissors, etc., will be provided for the convenience of exhibitors.

This year's classes are:
1. "As You Like It"—Any kind of flower in any kind of container, arranged any way you like.

2. "Variety is the Spice of Life"—Mixed flowers.

3. "Wee Ones"—Miniature bouquets.

4. "Bold Venture in Color"—large bouquets suitable for public gatherings.

5. "Potted Panoramia"—cacti, dish gardens and African violets.

6. Children's entries.

To these have been added gourds and dried arrangements. The Flower Show will be open to the public at 10 a.m. Judging will be at 11 a.m. Lunch will be served in the school lunchroom, proceeds going to the P.-T. A.

At 1:30 p.m., Mrs. Edith James, of Prestonsburg, will present her group in the first part of the music program. Mrs. Elsie Patrick will present the second part of the program. At the conclusion of the music program a loving cup will be awarded the outstanding arrangement in the show.

The club again extends an invitation to all flower growers and flower lovers to attend this show.

The millionth ton—a record—of cleaned metallurgical surface mined coal was shipped recently by an Oklahoma coal mine to a Texas steel company.

Baptist Church Here
To Establish Seventh
Mission Next Sunday

The congregation of the Irene Cole Memorial Baptist church is going afield with another mission Sunday school which is to be located at the Upper Cow Creek school. The first classes will be conducted Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock with J. B. Clarke, deacon in the sponsoring church, as superintendent and teacher of the adults. There will also be classes for boys and girls from the beginner age through 16 years.

The pastor, Rev. Ira McMillen, Jr., stated this week that this is the seventh branch Sunday school sponsored by the local church, the fourth to be organized since January of this year.

All who live in the vicinity of the Upper Cow Creek school are invited to be present for the first meeting Sunday.

Bookmobile Service Ready—Almost

Floyd county's Bookmobile, for which so many worked, will be on display at the County Fair this week, and soon will be taking out to the people the reading matter they so badly need.

Thus we from year to year make progress, draw more closely in step with other progressive counties and communities.

A driver-librarian has been employed by the County Board of Education, and the Floyd fiscal court has made an appropriation to cover the expense of operating and maintaining the Bookmobile.

Yet something is lacking. Prestonsburg has been selected as headquarters for this library project, and no suitable place has been provided for the storage of books.

Somewhere in Prestonsburg there surely is some sizeable room on the street level which can be used for this purpose.

Come To The Fair

The Floyd County Fair, now well on its way toward becoming an established institution, opens in Prestonsburg as this newspaper is published, and we would be remiss, did we not congratulate all whose work has made its success this year possible.

These congratulations extend not only to those who have planned and worked to stage the Fair itself; they go also to all those tillers of the soil and others who have produced the exhibits without which there could be no such season-ending display of the fruits of worthy labors.

Floyd countians should take, and express, pride in their Fair. It is proof of what women and men can do working as individuals and then joining together in common cause.

Floyd county means all of us. Then there is no real need for a welcome to be extended to any Floyd countian to attend his or her own Fair, yet there may be a need for an earnest urging of us all to become a real part of this county event.

Length of time tentatively set to complete the renovation of the soil situation on the Cow Creek watershed is three years, although L. R. Johnson, district conservationist here, thinks it may take longer.

The first allocations of planning funds will be made Oct. 1 by the Soil Conservation Service at Washington, Henry Ward, Kentucky Conservation Commissioner, said.

Work envisioned under the Watershed Protection and Flood Control Act are reduction of flood water damage by mechanical and vegetative means, proper land use by growing of adapted grasses and legumes, reduction of erosion, improvement of drainage, prevention of stream pollution and improvement of conditions for fish and wildlife.

"In selecting only one community to do the work in under the recent act, we did so with the thought that we could do a better job on one community than we could on two," Soil Conservationist Johnson said.

"The first allocations of planning funds will be made October 1 by the Soil Conservation Service at Washington," Ward added.

If You Remember . . .

By HENRY P. SCALF

It wasn't the battle Mrs. Wright remembered. Historians, writing the day down as Nov. 6, 1863, called the events of those tragic hours the Battle of Droop Mountain.

She and her husband, Elisha married only a few years before the Civil War, had moved to Pocahontas county, West Virginia, in the Droop Mountain vicinity.

She heard from home only occasionally, learned though that James, her brother, had joined the Confederate army. She talked little to Elisha about her brother.

Neither of them could recall where the guns began to fire under the shadow of the mountain. Gen. W. W. Averill's Unionists had been assembling in the section all morning and sometime later in the day, Gen. John Echols' Confederates collided with them.

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

By GORDON WILSON, Ph.D. Western Kentucky Teachers' College Bowling Green, Ky.

Though profanity was practically unknown at Fidelity, even in the fields, obscenity was very much alive. In fact, obscenity was a sort of second language to most men and some women. To an outsider it would have seemed that the people I knew were coarse and uncouth; in reality this rough talk was merely a left-over of more primitive times or a substitute for profanity.

There was still enough of Scotch Presbyterianism among our Scotch-Irish people to prevent profanity; the wrath of God was threatened to anyone who used it. And it was a very brave man who "made the air blue" with words that involved the four choice subjects of profanity: God, Jesus, hell, and damn.

So seldom did I hear actual profanity that I believe I could count on the fingers of one hand the mouth-filling oaths that were used in my presence before I was eighteen years old and left Fidelity.

Some years ago I discussed this very absence of profanity in the Jackson Purchase and was pleased to find that an older observer, who, like me, had gone elsewhere, had long ago made the same observation. It is not, then, a mere peculiarity of the Fidelity section alone.

Through the years I have found many others who, perfectly independently had found this rather odd custom to be widely observed in the Purchase. The code of this newspaper and the others that use this article will not permit me to set down what we said instead of swearing, but those of you who know can read between the lines.

For terms of abuse there were miscellaneous references to well-known and objectionable animals and the age-old insult of casting aspersions on one's parents, one's mother, particularly. Some of these metaphors were as picturesque as they are dirty. In many instances, I know, the true nature of the comparison was hardly understood by the user.

Obscenity, like by-words, became standardized and was often much more innocent than its literal words would indicate. Miscellaneous crude references to parts of the body or to bodily functions made up a large part of the vocabulary of obscenity. Poetic persons often embroidered these until the flat dirty words disappeared in a mist of descriptive adjectives.

When obscenity was used in abuse, it became even more picturesque, so much so that dainty ladies would laugh at some sudden outburst of it. As a small boy, the proverbial little pitcher with big ears, I heard a number of priceless echoes of this kind of talk, but I did not then realize my knowledge of it and had better keep silence after much more than half a century. I went on making mud pies or riding stick horses while cooking an ear to hear what was so funny to the women folks, especially the visitors.

Some of our modern novelists, who seem determined to sell as many tons of dirt as possible, make the grave mistake of assuming that primitive people used very filthy language in the presence of women.

In our primitive little world that was certainly not true. No matter how dirty the language of a man might be, he dropped every indecent word or suggestion when he was talking in the presence of women. If he had not done so, other men would have literally beaten him up. Even if some women had local reputations that were not particularly saintly, still no mere man was permitted to say ugly words in her presence. Dirt was man's language; it did not degrade a man among the other men, but it must be hushed up before small boys and all women. Fortunately, not all the men I knew were dirty-mouthed, but the percentage of those who talked filth as a matter of course was very high. Some of our folklorists have kept, very privately, a collection of indecencies in files—not for publication, at least now. They are words that reveal a whole side of people that even the rankest realists have never used very fully.

HEALTH NOTES

By Floyd County Health Department

REST AND TUBERCULOSIS

With all the new drugs that have been found in recent years to cure man's ills, we sometimes forget that what drugs do, basically, is help the body's natural healing powers. They do not replace those healing powers but sometimes they do give a very strong assist.

Before drugs were found that could be used in treating tuberculosis, the basic treatment for the disease was rest. Today, with the new drug, rest is still recommended for most tuberculosis patients. When the patient is lying quiet, his body has a better chance to fight the invading tubercle bacilli. His breathing is slower, so that the damaged areas in his lungs are less disturbed. That helps to keep the infection from spreading.

When we have a broken bone, it hurts if we move it, and so we are not tempted to exercise it and thereby interfere with its healing. Tuberculosis in the lungs is not usually felt in this way, so that the patient must be quiet without the reminder of pain simply because he knows it will help him to get well.

How completely any tuberculosis patient should rest—whether he should stay in bed all the time, or be allowed to be up and about to some extent—is something his own doctor has to decide. Tuberculosis affects everyone who has it in a different way, depending upon such things as where the infection is located in the lung and how his body resists it. The doctor, taking these things into consideration, recommends a "custom tailored" regimen for his patient, not only of medicine, but of rest as well. His object is to put together the best possible combination of treatment and natural healing powers to overcome the disease.

OPEN THE GATE! TO HOME-HAPPINESS-SECURITY... HIRE THE HANDICAPPED

BY WILMA Y

(The views expressed herein do not necessarily reflect the views of The Times.)

And the article about "Aunt" Alice Scalf is a great story of a wonderful woman by a fine son, who can be proud of such a heritage. The world needs people who appreciate the good in their families.

Warcoans are happy to learn that Beryl and Paul Jarrell have just been baptized. They are favorites here. Their baby girl, Glina, was the first to be converted several years ago. She did not stop witnessing till all four in the family surrendered.

Teachers are busy listing objects in teaching. A friend, who is as witty as she is smart, laughingly said she has just one: Shorter hours and more pay.

When "Miss Biddie" Collins entertained the Maytown grade school faculties Thursday, everyone was ready to say that the chicken dumplings made by Mrs. Perch Moore are like those Mrs. Viola Stewart makes annually for the Maytown Fall Flower Show.

People agree that the Flower Show and County Fair are both too important to have conflicting dates again. The Flower Show has been held on the third Saturday in September since starting four years ago. Some think the Fair should be in October to give schools time to prepare good exhibits.

Maytown Homecoming at the church Sunday was a great occasion all say, if only because Mr. A. J. May and "Miss" Sallie Webb returned. It is home to Mr. May, a home town boy, who rose high in the world. And "Miss Sallie" is beloved and remembered as the teacher who started many years ago along the road to learning and character, which she has exemplified and emphasized all her life.

Some of us were at the lake not long ago and agreed that the condition of the restrooms we saw was worse than deplorable. Several in the party were natives! No word can describe the restrooms. Tourists who come will have little desire to return. Sanitation is a necessity, not a luxury.

Dr. Adron Doran, president of Morehead State College, gave a splendid address before the teachers week before last. And by now it is obvious, even to some of his opponents, that Morehead is going to go places under his leadership. Students from this section say he and Mrs. Doran have been warmly received. Dr. Doran paid high tribute to the county superintendent of Floyd.

The talk delivered on the same date by Mr. Turner was one of the best ever heard. He was frank to state what the public has a right to expect of teachers, and if some of his suggestions are followed everywhere, public relations will improve. Once teaching was more than a profession. It was a calling. All of us need to take frequent inventory lest we be partially responsible for the disrepute into which it has fallen.

Who ever saw anything more appropriate than the cross of white lilies woven into the ivy background of the arch used in the Conley-Wells wedding in Prestonsburg or the fifth? Franklin and Bonnie Jean give credit for the original idea to Rebecca Sue, Franklin's sister. It was just perfect, and beautiful beyond description.

Many wonder if the President is responsible for the addition of the words, UNDER GOD, to the flag salute. At any rate, it is a worthy improvement.

In Wayland grade school last year a youngster was leading the flag salute, and he said quite distinctly, "I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America, and to the Republicans for which I stand."

On another day when a faculty meeting was scheduled and Mrs. Nickles in the third grade announced we would dismiss early, one kiddie asked, "You havin' another one of them factory meetin's?"

FOSSIL FILLED ROCK STRATUM NAMED FOR DR. G. T. KENDRICK

Few persons have received the distinction of having a geological formation named for them. Certainly no Floyd countian other than the late Dr. G. T. Kendrick, of Cow Creek, has received the honor.

Outcroppings near the site of his old homeplace, there is a shale formation filled with fossilized specimens of ancient marine life. By all the geological knowledge extant at the time of its discovery, it shouldn't have been there. But it was there, anyway.

Dr. Willard Rouse Jillson found it in August, 1913. He named it the Kendrick Shale.

Just why the shale was there was a geological story that began back in what the students of rocks call the Pennsylvanian Period of the Paleozoic world. That was, they say, 300,000,000 years ago. There was no Cow Creek then, no Floyd county, no America. There was an ancient continent geologists call Appalachia on roughly what is the eastern part of the United States and on the western part of America was another land called Casadia.

Marine waters extended to us far north and east as Pennsylvania and into Eastern Kentucky. This inland sea was prolific with the forms of life incident to the time. Jillson says: Such a fauna necessarily lived under peculiar, shallow, semimarine conditions. He is surprised that there were forms of life in what he called "this semi-isolated pocket . . . for these hardy pioneering faunas were continually subject and suffered from total extinction" due to the rhythmic process of sedimentation. But survive these forms of life did and millions of specimens were fossilized in the shale.

Dr. Jillson was engaged in doing oil and gas structural geology in Kentucky when he made the discovery, just above Bear Branch on the head of Cow Creek. It takes a geologist to express, as he did, his immediate reaction: "A rapid reconnaissance of the typical outcrop in this locality led to immediate conclusions that the horizon presented features of paleontologic value worthy of more extended study." That means in everyday language that he took a look, decided he would look some more.

Dr. G. T. Kendrick (1853-1916) mentioned in this story was doctor, surveyor and minister. He lived and died on Cow Creek.

He found the fossils were new and unmatched as a collection either inside or outside Kentucky. Prof. Charles Schuchert, curator of Peabody Museum, identified the specimens. There were corals, crinoids, brachiopods, cephalopods and many other specimens of ancient sea life. Cleveland Kendrick, son of the old doctor, collected a few specimens for Jillson. One of these specimens was a large "cone-in-cone" nodule weighing several pounds. He shipped it to Jillson who pictures it in one of his publications.

Dr. Jillson read a paper on this unique geological find before the Kentucky Academy of Science, May 3, 1919. Later he published the paper in expanded form in "Contributions to Kentucky Geology" issued in 1920. So the Kendrick Shale is in the books on geology, will remain there for a long time.

BIBLE QUIZ

By A. F. BARKER (593 Euclid Ave., Bristol, Va.)

Jesus was on earth 40 days after the resurrection. Can you lay down your paper and tell something about his ten separate appearances. If so, a grade of 100 is excellent; 70 or less is poor.

1. To Mary Magdalene, out of whom he had cast seven devils. (Mark 6:9).

2. To the women who ran to tell the disciples. "They held him by his feet and worshipped him." (Matthew 28:9).

3. To Peter, who ran into the sepulchre—wondering in himself at that which he had come to pass. (Luke 24:12).

4. To the two disciples on the road to Emmaus, who invited him to stop with them, but didn't know him until he sat around the table. (Luke 24:13-31).

5. To the ten disciples without Thomas, when the doors were shut where they were assembled and he appeared in their midst. (John 20:19).

6. To the disciples with Thomas, who refused to believe until he had put his hands upon Jesus. (John 20:26-28).

7. To the seven who were fishing in the Sea of Galilee when Peter jumped overboard and came to Jesus on the shore. (John 21:1-14).

8. To more than five hundred brethren at one time on a mountain in Galilee. (First Corinthians 15:6).

9. Then after that he was seen of James, then all of the apostles. (First Corinthians 15:7).

10. To the Apostle Paul. "And last of all he was seen of me, also as one born out of due time." (First Corinthians 15:8).

Lees Junior College Opens for 70th Year

Lees Junior College opened its 70th year with orientation activities for freshmen and transfer students, Monday. Applications for admission are still being accepted. Business people, housewives and others who are unable to attend full time may enroll for one or more week-day courses as well as the special Saturday morning classes.

Although enrollment will be at least 40 per cent higher than last year, Lees will continue to stress personal attention to each student and small classes, President Landolt said.

BULLETS AS MEDICINE

Judge Tommy Hamilton, back when he was younger and judicially active, liked to gather a bunch of the fellows around him, on the courthouse steps or street corners, and talk of the oddities of olden times. I have always been fond of Judge Tommy and I was usually one of the gang who congregated to hear him talk.

I remember the day that he came out of his office, with his books under his arm. He stood on the steps alone, stroking his long, greying whiskers but not for long; the crowd soon moved in on him.

"I was just sitting in there, thinking," he said, sort of shifting his law book under his arm, "about bullets."

"About bullets!" The exclamation was from a half a dozen at the same time.

"Yes," he said, his voice slow, as always, even when the most exciting case is before him, "about bullets. Just plain old lead bullets."

"Well," said one of his audience. "Well," said another; then another and another, until about everybody present had said "Well."

"You know," the Judge went on, giving his whiskers another stroke, "lead bullets have been used for lots of things besides shooting out of guns."

"I've heard them tell about the time when an old fellow named Neece, over on Camp Branch, I believe it was, would have died sure if it hadn't been for a bullet. The old fellow's intestines were obstructed and the doctor had given him up. Then someone said a bullet would unlock them every time. So they got him to swallow a rifle bullet and he was all right in no time.

"Then there was the case of Parthena Jones. Parthena got it in her head that her old man was a witch because he had ordered a book on hypnosis. She quit sleeping with him. She even got so she wouldn't sleep in the same room with him. They said she carried a fence rail into her room and would bar the door to keep him from getting in. They lived that way for years.

"Finally, one morning Parthena didn't come out of her room. They called her, but she didn't answer. At last they had to chop down the door to get in and when they did there she lay as dead as a doornail and right over her heart was a lead bullet beat; out flat and fastened to her breast with some sort of glue. Loked as if it had been there for years. And on top of her head, they found a silver dollar, fastened there in the same way.

"It's a common practice among the old people to carry a bullet in their pocket or strung around their neck. You can ask them about it and they will tell you they do it to keep from having the headache, but it's to keep of the witches."

Plans for Safety Day At Pikeville, Sept. 25, Announced by Mosgrove

The annual safety day program of this area will be held at Pikeville, Sept. 25, and will feature mine rescue and first aid contests, it was announced by J. H. Mosgrove, secretary of the Big Sandy-Elkhorn Coal Mining Institute. The rescue events will be staged in the forenoon and the first aid contests in the afternoon.

Official headquarters and place of registration will be the James Hatcher hotel. The first event of the day will be a mine rescue contest at the City Park, at 8:30 a.m. Registration of judges, teams and officials will take place between 2 and 4 p.m. From 6 to 7 p.m., all teams and officials will report to the Pikeville College gymnasium. The first aid contest will be held at 7 p.m. Awarding of team trophies and prizes will follow immediately after the contest at the college gym. These trophies and awards are being presented by several casualty companies, coal operators' associations, Mayo State Vocational school and the United Mine Workers. The safety program is sponsored by the Big Sandy-Elkhorn Coal Operators Association, United Mine Workers, Kentucky Department of Mines and Minerals and the United States Bureau of Mines.

see pink dogwoods. All in beautiful, luxuriant bloom, come sunshine or storm. All forming avenues of Nature's white, pink-dotted against the green of a rugged mountainside backdrop. What enchanted me about the place is the story behind it. That, as much as the hidden-dell romance of the place enthralled me. The story is:

Sometime ago when folks were thinking of memorials, living and otherwise, to those who fought, and lived or died in the war, somebody caused these folks—not a few but all of them—to plant dogwoods which today are growing and each spring blooming to keep the memory of their "boys" beautifully bright. And so, as you drive along these quiet bypaths of the world you see the result: dogwoods in white bloom for those who served and returned; pink dogwoods for those who fought and stayed on the battlefields they won.

If you care to, as I did, you can stop in front of a farmyard gate and see at the base of each tree, representing the war service rendered from that particular family, a plate bearing the name of the veteran, his age, his period of service.

And then you must stop with the folks, somewhere along the way. Late in the evening is the magic hour for such visiting. Lead them up to the subject gently, then hear an old man or an old woman, with the calm that belongs to the old of the hills, tell the legend of the dogwood, how the Cross of Calvary was fashioned from it, and because of which the dogwood's petals are marked by spots that represent the Saviour's blood.

I sat with one such, and when he had finished the old, old legend, he remarked as a sort of afterthought: "There are different kinds of crosses and my boy carried one for us all."

(Note: As the title of this article indicates, it is pure fantasy. But it could be written, doubtless with more finesse, and quite truthfully, years from now by some newspaper or magazine writer after a visit to this section of Kentucky—if we now cooperate with Mrs. Winnie Johns and her organization, The Dogwood Trail Association, and plant the dogwoods to grow, as has been suggested, as memorials to the boys who served Floyd county and their country so nobly during the last World War.)

A GOOD DOG'S HARD TO FIND

Writes Clennie Hollon, the Williba (Ky.) sage: "Many of you who have visited clinics, hospitals and doctors' offices have seldom seen the "shots" given by the practicing physician no doubt. It is usually given by a nurse or a medical attendant. This causes you to think that maybe a person other than a veterinarian could give a shot to a dog; but you must remember that a good dog is hard to find and you don't want to take no undue chances upon him."

STILL UNDECIDED

Veterans of the Normandy invasion have long memories—some about the barbed-wire entanglements at the beachhead; others of the terrific shelling and fierce resistance of the Germans when they regained their balance. But Robert Wellman, Prestonsburg attorney, likes to reminisce about a piece of sheet iron about a foot wide and somewhat longer.

He had got ashore, pushed inland a little with the rest of the GI's, had dug a fox hole and got into it before it was deep enough to shelter his lengthy frame. The falling flack worried him, so he picked up the piece of sheet iron lying nearby, held it over his head. Lying there, he began to think about his exposed stomach. Perhaps a wound in the stomach would be worse than one in the head. He moved the sheet iron to cover that part of his anatomy. A few moments later he changed his mind decided a head wound was worse than one in the stomach. He moved the sheet iron again.

The flack continued to fall. Wellman continued to alternate the protective sheet iron over his stomach and head. And to this day he is still trying to determine which would be worse—a piece of flack in the stomach or in the head.

Mrs. Harkins Named Seal Drive Chairman

Mrs. Walter S. Harkins, Prestonsburg, has been named chairman of the 1954 Christmas Seal Sale in Floyd county.

In announcing the appointment, E. R. Gernert, M. D., president of the Kentucky Tuberculosis Association, said the campaign will open November 22 and continue through December. Christmas Seal funds are used to fight tuberculosis through promotion of case-finding, health education, rehabilitation and research.

"This year marks the 50th anniversary of the first Seal Sale in the world held in Denmark in 1904," Dr. Gernert said. "In this half century, the Christmas Seal has played a vital part in the fight to control tuberculosis throughout the world."

D. A. E. MEETS

The John Graham Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met Sept. 14, at the home of the Regent, Mrs. Winnie F. Johns, with Mrs. Herbert Salisburg as co-hostess. Mrs. Johns conducted the ritualistic services, assisted by the chaplain, Mrs. Gwynn Ford. Mrs. O. T. Stephens, co-chairman of the program committee, read the list of patriotic programs for the next two years.

The Treasurer reported that two members, who were unable to attend the meetings, had sent in their resignation from the Society. Mrs. Greenville Spradlin was accepted as a new member on the Revolutionary War services of John Fitzpatrick. Mrs. John Walker, of Tulsa, Okla., sent in a contribution which was placed in the marker fund. Letters from District Chairmen in regard to the 4th and 6th district meeting to be held October 1 at Cumberland Falls, were read. Reservations must be made for rooms and banquet with the lodge at the Falls, and Mrs. Yearly at Corbin.

Miss Alice Harris presented the Chapter a small silk American Flag to be used at the meeting. Mrs. Johns graciously accepted it in behalf of the Chapter. Mrs. Johns gave the history of the "Dogwood Trail", planned as a living memorial to our war dead, from the Revolutionary War to the Korean conflict, along the state highway on route 23. A letter from Gov. Lawrence Wetherby to her, stated that the State Highway Dept. would help in anyway to beautify the highways and commended her, and her co-workers in the county, and the John Graham Chapter, D. A. R., for its loyalty to the war dead.

The Corresponding Secretary was instructed to send a note of condolence to the family of A. B. Combs, who died Tuesday in Lexington.

"Constitution Day" Sept. 17, will be observed by the Chapter on WPRT. A salad course was served by the hostess to Mesdames Greenville R. Spradlin, David Herndon, H. L. Mayo, Jo M. Davidson, Lida D. Spradlin, Ed May, Grace D. Ford, Edward L. Allen, Claude P. Stephens, M. J. Leete, Tom James, Gwynn Ford, Osa F. Ligon, Everett H. Sowards, O. T. Stephens, Herbert Salisburg, Winnie F. Johns, Miss Alice Harris. The October meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Lon S. Moles.

TALENT TEST SET TUESDAY

Round-Up Contest Will Name Local Competitor For District Contest

A Farm Talent Round-Up contest, election of local board and Farm Home Advisory committee members and reports on cooperative service and operations for the year will be among the features of the annual Southern States Membership meeting for the Prestonsburg area to be held at 7:00 p.m. next Tuesday in the school auditorium here. Door prizes will be given.

The Farm Talent Round-Up Contest which is open to amateurs 12 years of age and over will offer an opportunity to the winning act at the local meeting to try out for the Original Amateur Hour television show in New York. The contest is open to amateurs who are members of the immediate families of all farm people and all Southern States patrons. Employees of Cooperative Service Agencies and Southern States Cooperatives and their immediate families are not eligible. The number of persons in any one act is limited to six.

The contest will be sponsored jointly by Prestonsburg Farm & Home Store and Southern States Cooperative with the Original Amateur Hour cooperating. About 450 similar contests will be held throughout the six-state operating territory of Southern States Cooperative within the next few months.

The winning local act will be given an all-expense paid trip to a district elimination contest in October where it will compete with winning acts from other communities. It will also receive a $5.00 award and a blue ribbon. The second place winner at the local level will receive a $3.00 award and a red ribbon, while the third place act will be given a $1.00 prize and a white ribbon.

The two winners at each of nine district elimination contests will be given an all-expense paid trip to Southern States 31st annual stockholders meeting in Richmond, Va., November 11, to compete in the final contest.

The winning act at Richmond will be given an all-expense paid trip to New York where the act will appear with Ted Mack on the Original Amateur Hour Television Show, and $100,000 in cash and a blue ribbon. A second prize will be a $300.00 cash prize and a red ribbon, third prize a $100.00 cash award and a white ribbon.

Homer Neeley, of Prestonsburg, will serve as chairman of the local meeting. Rev. Alex Stephens, of Cliff, will give the invocation.

A report on local operations and services will be given by Ogden Stewart, manager of the Prestonsburg Farm & Home Store. Southern States District Manager, Tommy Combs, will report on over-all Southern States operations for the year ended last June 30.

Nominees for the local Southern States advisory board for the Prestonsburg area are: Ernest Hicks, Goodloe, Verlin Johnson, Water Gap; Joe Hunter, Cliff; Larcy Goble, Emma, and Floyd Harris Lancer.

Nominees for the Farm Home Advisory committee are: Mrs. Larcy Goble, Emma; Mrs. Lewis Burchett, Woods; Mrs. Joe Arnett, West Prestonsburg, and Mrs. Betty Stephens, Prestonsburg.

Other nominations may be made from the floor.

Members of the advisory board whose terms expire this year are Billie Merritt and Wallace Calhoun. Members of the Farm Home Advisory committee whose terms expire this year are Mrs. G. G. Leslie and Mrs. Earl Moore.

Members of the general committees assisting with the meeting are: Farm Talent Round-Up Committee—Mrs. G. G. Leslie, chairman and Ogden Stewart, both of Prestonsburg; and Mrs. Virginia Wright, West Prestonsburg; Ushering committee—Billie Merritt, chairman, Bonanza; Ushers—Gene Wright and Ballard Wright, both of West Prestonsburg; Miss Maudie Hunter and Miss Wanda Lou Hunter, both of Cliff; Refreshments—Mrs. Virginia Wright, chairman, West Prestonsburg; Ollie Wallen, Conard Prater and Clifford Calhoun, all of Prestonsburg; Lucky Number Ticket committee—Mrs. Homer Neeley, chairman, Prestonsburg; Mrs. Alex Stephens, Cliff, and John Wallen, Water Gap.

CARD OF THANKS

We deeply and gratefully appreciate the many kind expressions of sympathy shown during the illness and upon the death of Viola Moore. Again we want to thank all who called at the hospital, the nurses and, the doctor at Our Lady of the Way hospital, the ministers, all who sent floral offerings and the Hall Brothers Funeral Home for its efficient services.

stock divisions of the fair and judging of these entries will be done this evening. It was under the "big top" that displays of exhibitors were complete and judged as of this morning. The tent, 40x80 feet in size, housed FFA, 4-H, open class canned goods, antiques and flowers. Nearby was being set up the booth of the Irene Cole Baptist Church at which Mrs. Edward P. Hill and the pastor, the Rev. Ira McMillen, were busy.

E. F. Fitzpatrick, Social Security Administration representative, was setting up charts and tables in his display on social security. One in particular was pointed out. "Over 2,000 persons in this county will be affected by the new law graphically depicted here," he said.

The miniature doll house constructed of Perma-Stone was being arranged by Franklin Moore, Woodrow Stephens and E. R. Burke. Under the same top were the school exhibits which were complete. Here are maps, manuscripts, graphs and other exhibits galore.

A major Fair attraction will be the county's new Bookmobile, fresh from the big Bookmobile parade at the State Fair in Louisville.

The James H. Drew Shows, providing rides for the public, under the auspices of the entertainment committee headed by Franklin Moore, has been going every evening this week. One feature of the Drew Shows is a Crazy Ole Krazy House, from which at show time are emitted "screams and giggles." One Fair worker, discussing the tardiness of exhibitors and the pressure under which the Fair was being set up, pointed to the towering sign of the Crazy House and said: "It is a crazy place all right, but we're getting the fair going."

FORD'S THE LEADER

(and looks it!)

In fine-car feature after feature, Ford's far out front in its field. Only Ford gives you styling that will stay in style . . . new Ball-Joint ride and handling . . . high-spirited V-8 "Go"

It's no wonder so many people are swinging over to Ford! Ford offers more fine-car features than any other low-priced car.

You can see Ford's the leader in "looks." With its long, low, clean-cut lines, Ford's the acknowledged trend-setter in the industry. And Ford has interior luxury to match, with the latest in modern fabrics . . . the handsomest in trim.

And Ford acts the leader, too. Riding and handling are always smoother, easier because of Ford's revolutionary Ball-Joint Front Suspension (exclusive to Ford in its field) that cushions the bumps of even the roughest roads and helps keep that new-car "feel" far longer.

Ford is the only car in its field with a V-8 engine, the 130-h.p. Y-block V-8. And Ford offers this V-8 "Go" today!

You may choose from three great transmissions: Fordomatic Drive, Overdrive, or Conventional Drive. For still greater driving ease and pleasure, you may make your Ford as automatic as you like with power assists . . . Power Steering, Power Brakes, Power Windows (both front and back), and a 4-Way Power Front Seat.

And with Ford's many, many other fine-car features such as suspended clutch and brake pedals, Center-Fill Fueling and the new Astra-Dial Control Panel, Ford is worth more when you sell. It's a proven fact that Ford returns more of its original cost, at resale, than any other car in the low-price field! Come in . . . Test Drive a Ford today, and see why.

DOG INCREASE

The nation's dog population has been increasing faster than the human population for 30 years, soaring 200%, while for humans the increase has been only 50%. The canines, 22,000,000 strong, now consume $200,000,000 worth of dog food annually and use an additional $3,000,000,000 worth of clothing, shelter, training and medical attention.

Rites Are Held Today For John G. Burns, Sr., Prominent Lawrence Man

John G. Burns, Sr., 80, of Louisa, former two-term Louisa mayor and two-term sheriff of Lawrence county, died Tuesday at his home.
Funeral services were conducted at 2:30 today (Thursday) at the Louisa Methodist Church by the Rev. Charles Perry and the Rev. Sylvester Ball.

Mr. Burns was a retired farmer, and a member of the Louisa Methodist Church. He served two terms as city clerk of Louisa. He was born April 28, 1874, at Louisa, a son of the late Roland Tierman and Caroline Hatcher Burns.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Davis Burns; two daughters, Mrs. John Ross, of Charlottesville, Va., and Mrs. Ray Meek, of Catlettsburg; two sons, R. T. and John G. Burns, Jr., of Louisa, and eight grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

He had numerous Floyd county relatives and had frequently visited in Prestonsburg.

His first experience with sheep, Harvey Kelly of Fleming county sold 37 lambs from 24 ewes.

quest here, which was closed to the public, that she ran when she saw her husband jump from his horse and did not know who fired the first shot. She said that when she heard her husband riding down the branch toward the house she gave the warning, "Hoo—ce."

"He knew what it meant," she was quoted as saying.
Mrs. Ousley said, according to this version of the shooting, that the next she heard was her husband calling to her to get his gun, saying, "They've killed me—don't let them shoot me again."

The victim was a son of the late Tommy and Mary Meade Ousley and was a native of the Brush Creek section of Right Beaver Creek. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Grace Borgett Ousley, three sons by a previous marriage, Herbert Ousley, of Langley, Lawrence Ousley, Charleston, W. Va., and George Ousley, Jr., McGuffey, O. He also leaves two brothers, Robert and John Ousley, and one sister, Miss Betty Ousley, all of Eastern.

His funeral was conducted Monday from the residence of Robert Ousley on Goose Creek by the Revs. M. C. Wright, Banner Manns and W. S. Akers. Burial was made in the Briar Hill cemetery under direction of the Carter and Callihan Funeral Home.

Mother Offers To Set Dogwoods, Honoring Son

An offer to set the Dogwood Trail through the Mayo farm south of town was tendered by Mrs. Reba Mayo, of Prestonsburg, at last Thursday's meeting of those interested in the memorial to the county's war dead. Mrs. Mayo is the mother of Dick Irvin Mayo who was killed while in training for the Air Force in California, and the trees would be set in his memory. The trail through the Mayo farm would be set at no cost to the Dogwood Trail Association, it was said.

ECONOMIC SECURITY IN EASTERN KENTUCKY LESS SECURE THAN ELSEWHERE IN STATE; 36% OF AGED IN FLOYD GET ASSISTANCE

Economic insecurity in Kentucky has fallen heaviest on Eastern Kentucky, if figures released on old-age assistance payments as of December 1953 is any criterion.

Seventeen counties in the extreme eastern part of the state, excepting Pike and Floyd, are in the category of having 40 per cent or more of those age 65 or older on Old-Age Assistance. The counties are concentrated from Elliott southward to Letcher and from there west to Rockcastle. Only four other counties of the state outside this area have as high a percentage of its aged on the assistance rolls. They are McCreary, Clinton, Cumberland and Butler.

The state average is 23.7%. In Eastern Kentucky, Elliott reaches a figure of 61.3 with Knott second at 57.3% and Leslie standing at 57%. Only Floyd and Pike escape this over-40-per cent category. Floyd's percentage of those 65 or above receiving assistance is 36.4%. The figure for Pike is a little lower, being 31.1%.

It is in that tier of counties opposite Cincinnati and on the Ohio River where the aged seem to be in the best economic position. Boone has 10.5% of those above 65 on the assistance rolls, while the figures for Kenton and Campbell stand at 8.3 and 5.4, respectively. Campbell's is the lowest figure in the state.

In Floyd county there are 2,041 persons aged 65 or older. Thirty-six per cent of these, or a total of 743, receive assistance. The payments were, last December, $23,171. Johnson county has a total of 1,492 persons in this age group, with 599 receiving assistance. Knott has 894 persons 65 or older and 512 are on the assistance lists. Lawrence county has 1,313 in the age group with 563 being assisted. For Magoffin the number of old persons is 821 with 377 being aided. Martin county's aged in line 65 or older group stands at 548 with 244 receiving assistance checks. Pike has the highest number of aged, totaling 3,223. Persons in Pike receiving old-age assistance total 1,002.

Highest percentage of aid to children under 18 goes to Knott county where 12.4% receive aid. Figures for other counties adjacent to or on the Big Sandy are: Floyd, 3.5; Johnson, 10.6; Martin, 9.3; Lawrence, 8.1; Magoffin, 5 and Pike 3.6.

State T.B. Hospitals Report on Condition

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 13 (Sp)—Kentucky's six tuberculosis hospitals, with a maximum bed capacity of 770, closed the last fiscal year with 741 patients, three more than a year ago. Joe D. Miller, executive director of the State Tuberculosis Sanatoria Commission, has reported.

During the year there were 1,381 admissions, and 1,378 discharges from the hospitals. The average period of hospitalization was 208 days for each patient. In addition, there were 10,907 out-patient visits from the various hospitals.

The state spent $1,874,969.33, both from state appropriations and private funds, for operation of the hospitals. The average daily cost of keeping patients was $7.03.

MAYTOWN

MRS ALLEN, HOSTESS

Mrs. James Allen was hostess to the Maytown W. S. C. S. at her home, Sept. 2, with Mrs. M. G. Halbert as co-hostess. Mrs. Johnson was program leader for the program, "Because Jesus Cared". Those on the program were Mesdames Charles Patton, Thomas Patrick, George Patton and Miss Charlotte Maggard. Guest speaker was Mrs. C. H. Prater, of Fort Valley, Georgia, who gave an inspiring talk on "The Greatest Gift God Has Given Us." Following the program, Mrs. Patrick presided over the business meeting. The hostesses served refreshments to the 21 members present. The October meeting will be at the home of Mrs. George Patton with Mrs. Elizabeth Allen, co-hostess, and Mrs. Charles Patton, program leader.

Misses Sandra Sue Patrick, Charlotte Maggard, Mary Lou Hicks, Kay Francis Hagans, Wanda Faye Hicks and Billy Ray Hayes left Sunday to enter Morehead College.

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Allen and Peggy Sue were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Vaughn in Oak Ridge, Tenn., this week. They were accompanied by Glen Kitchins, who was here for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jones were visiting relatives here, Sunday.

Mrs. Mary Clifton and Mrs. Bessie Laird, of Spokane, Wash., were overnight guests, Friday, of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Patrick. Mesdames Clifton and Laird are making a tour of the United States.

Mrs. Elizabeth Baker had as her guests to a buffet supper, Thursday evening, Misses Sandra Sue Patrick, Peggy Sue Allen, Sandra Tingle, Justin Turner, Glen Kitchins and Richard Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ned May and children, of Detroit, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. May.

Mrs. C. H. Prater, of Fort Valley, Georgia, is making an extended visit with her sister, Mrs. Thomas Patrick, and brother, Sam Jones, of Grundy, Va.

Harold Fraley, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Fraley, left recently for school in Nashville, Tenn.

Miss Mildred Manuel, who is employed in Columbus, Ohio, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Manor Manuel. She was accompanied here by a friend, Miss Janet Malott.

Mrs. Viola Stewart spent a few days with her son, Carl Stewart, and family at Malone, Ky., last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee May, of Columbus, and Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Patrick, of Dayton, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Patrick, recently.

Miss Gwendolyn Gibson left last week to enter nursing school at St. Joseph's hospital, Lexington.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stewart and children spent the week-end with Mrs. Stewart's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dial Salisbury, of Lucasville, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Arms and son, Andrew, of Fredericksburg, Md., were visiting his sister, Mrs. Manor Manuel, and family here recently.

Sincere sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Tony Hall, of Hippo, whose daughter, Lona, passed away Saturday morning. The Hall children are all former students of the Maytown school.

Miss Elizabeth Boughton, who is employed at Oak Ridge, Tenn., spent the week-end at home recently.

Christening services were held during the morning church services, Sunday, at the Methodist Church. Babies christened were Patrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jones Tallent; James Wade, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stewart, and James Edward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Robinson.

The homecoming held at the Maytown Methodist Church, Sunday, was thoroughly enjoyed by the good number of persons attending. Following church and christening services, dinner was served, buffet style, in the recently completed recreation room of the church. Visitors were from Prestonsburg, Martin, Garrett and Salisbury.

Drouth Killing Trees Over State; Varieties Of Oak Are Suffering

Forest trees have begun to die as a result of the drouth, it was pointed out this week by the State Forest Service. Western Kentucky seems to be hardest hit, but Eastern Kentucky trees, particularly locust and a few varieties of oak, have begun the shedding of leaves to conserve moisture. Several oak varieties are dying, with lesser damage occurring to the locusts.

The Forest Service pointed out that dying trees were more prevalent on the south slopes where exposure to the sun is greatest. "Leaf shedding is nature's way of conserving moisture," County Agent O. E. Boggs, of this county, says. "The less leaf area of a tree, the less is the evaporation," he added. "Many buckeyes are dying from drouth but their value isn't great. The farmers can sell them for pulpwood next year, anyway."

Drouth conditions over the state have been relieved by scattered showers, particularly in the Eastern part but fire hazards have increased in Western Kentucky when there has not been near the average of rainfall for months, Harry Nadler, assistant state forester, stated at Frankfort this week.

Rains, generous for August, have come too late to save a great number of trees. But they are helping to slow down the destruction Nadler said.

Dying and dead trees have caused serious fire hazards that rains so far have not countered. Nadler, who is in charge of forest management, stressed the need for vigilance to prevent further destruction by forest fires.

Drought destruction added to loss of trees by pests and unwise cutting is creating a serious problem for Kentucky.

"Without trees, there would be no state," Nadler said.

Some of the best trees of the state have been destroyed by disease. Nadler named the American chestnut as an example.

Man is just about at the end of his resources in preserving trees in so far as the drought is concerned. Nadler said there was hope that nature might come to the rescue with drought-resistant trees to take the place of those blighted.

It's the big Success today

You can read it in the sales figures—Buick's the car that's climbing to a phenomenal public preference. For Buick today is outselling all other cars in America—regardless of price class—except two of the so-called "low-price three." And every month strengthens Buick's new leadership position. It's the "hot" car for style, for power, for performance—and, most emphatically, for value.

It's the Beautiful Buy right now

Any way you look at it, Buick's the buy of the year, hands down. For Buick prices start close to the lowest—just a few dollars above those of the "low-price three." But those few more dollars you pay for a Buick buy you a lot more power, room, comfort, style, ride steadiness. And get this: with our tremendous sales volume right now, we can offer you a really top allowance on your present car. That's the added bonus you get from our big volume.

It's the "High Resale" car for years from now

No Wonder—
Buick Sales are Soaring!

With Buick's year-ahead beauty today, you'll be driving a car that's right up front in the style parade of tomorrow. And when you're ready to resell your Buick, it will still be fresh and new-looking, with the modern features the others will adopt in the coming years. And that means you're bound to get a higher resale price when you do trade it in. Drop in and see this beautiful buy right now.

to have the honor of connecting its electric service on that day for the 200,000th REA Co-Op member in the state.

THIS 200,000th MEMBER IS

MR. FORREST MONTGOMERY

Whose home is on the Prestonsburg-Salyersville road, 7 miles from Prestonsburg. Because of this fortunate circumstance, the KENTUCKY REA DAY CELEBRATION will be held at the Montgomery residence, and the event will be marked by ceremonies to be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Friday, Sept. 17.

The REA DAY CELEBRATION program will include . . .

- Actual installation of free electrical appliances and equipment which are gifts to Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery.
- Addresses by local, state and national speakers.
- Music by Odey Crabtree from WSAZ-TV, Huntington, W. Va.
- Free food and soft drinks for all, served from a trailer on the grounds.

Movies of the day's proceedings will be filmed for later showing.

THE
INVITED

Friday, Sept. 17, will be a big day in the history of REA in Kentucky, and a happy day for Mr. Montgomery, an ex-P.O.W. in Korea, and his bride of a few months. Your presence during the ceremonies will make the occasion all the happier.

Gulf Introducing New Super-Refined Gasoline

A completely new and different gasoline, super-refined to meet the demands of today's high-compression engines, is being introduced by Gulf Refining Company. The new product became available Wednesday, September 15, both here and throughout Gulf's entire territory.

By refining out the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline—more than a cupful to every gallon—Gulf has been able to produce an unusually clean-burning gasoline that provides thousands of extra miles of full engine power.

Final road testing of the new product—call Super-Refined Gulf No. Nox—was made in the Gulf Test Caravans which were in this area recently, according to Marvin Music, Gulf's Prestonsburg distributor. "Conducting road tests in the areas where the fuel actually will be used is the only way to accurately determine its performance characteristics," Mr. Music added.

Throughout the entire trip, on which the caravans accumulated a quarter of a million miles, none of the cars experienced even a single instance of carbon knock or pre-ignition, even on the steepest mountain grades. At the end of the test, every car was performing better than new, according to the company's supervising engineers.

BRIDGE SURVEY PLANNED

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 13—Commissioner of Highways W. P. Curlin announced a survey would be undertaken to determine feasibility of toll bridges to replace some of the State's 18 intrastate ferries, all privately owned.

Describing ferry operations generally as unsatisfactory, Curlin declared that replacing the ferries with bridges would enable the handling of heavier traffic.

MEADOWS PROMOTED

5th Div., Germany—Joe W. Meadows, Jr., whose father lives in Prestonsburg, Ky., was recently promoted to corporal in Germany while serving with the 5th Infantry Division.

The "Red Diamond" division is receiving intensive training in southern Germany as part of the U. S. Seventh Army.

Corporal Meadows, a patrolman in Headquarters Company of the division's 3d Battalion, entered the army in February 1952 and was stationed at Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md., before arriving overseas the following August.

The Prestonsburg soldier reenlisted in the Army for 3 years.

HACKWORTH AWARDED WINGS OF AIR FORCE PILOT

Webb AFB, Tex. — 2-Lt. Robie Hackworth, of West Prestonsburg, Kentucky, was awarded the silver wings of a United Air Force pilot in ceremonies marking the graduation of Jet-Pilot Class 54-Q at this West Texas flying school.

The young officer will be assigned to a Crew Training Air Force Base to learn to fly and fight in combat-type aircraft. Following this last period of pilot training, he will enter a tour of active duty as an Air Force pilot.

Lt. Hackworth attended Prestonsburg high school and the University of Kentucky, prior to entering the Air Force in 1953.

Gulf announces a completely new and different gasoline!

► Now—Gulf refines out the “dirty-burning tail-end” of gasoline—the No. 1 trouble-maker in high-compression engines. Result:

a cleaner-burning super-fuel that gives you thousands of extra miles of full engine power ... free from knock or pre-ignition.

This lamp is burning the “DIRTY-BURNING TAIL-END” of gasoline which GULF refines out

This lamp is burning NEW SUPER-REFINED GULF NO-NOX, the cleaner-burning super-fuel

Proof:

Instead of trying to fight trouble-making deposits with so-called “miracle-additives”—inside your engine—Gulf believes in preventing them from forming in the first place. That’s why Gulf, in making new Super-Refined NO-NOX, refines out the carbon-forming, “dirty-burning tail-end”—more than a cupful in every gallon. Just look at the plates the Gulf scientist is holding in the unretouched photo above and see what a difference Gulf super refining makes!

Starting with your first tankful, this new, super-refined, super-powered fuel will give you these immediate and lasting benefits:

- More complete engine protection than so-called “miracle-additive” gasolines. Why? Because Gulf refines out the “dirty-burning tail-end” of gasoline, the No. 1 troublemaker in high-compression engines—and then treats this new Super-Refined NO-NOX to give it a complete range of protective properties. It protects every part it touches against harmful deposits—carbon, rust, gum.
- Extra gas mileage. Why? Because new NO-NOX is specially blended for the short-trip, stop-and-go driving you do most.
- No knock, no pre-ignition—even in today’s super-compression engines. Why? Because the anti-knock power of new Gulf NO-NOX has been stepped up to an all-time high.
- Stall-proof smoothness—no more worries about carburetor icing in chilly weather, or vapor lock on warm days. Instant starts, too—and fast, fuel-saving warm-up.

That’s why new Super-Refined Gulf NO-NOX gives your engine more power-with-protection than you’ve ever known. See proof below . . .

Road tests show: New Gulf No-Nox actually makes cars perform better than new . . . even after 15,000 miles!

TRUE! Under all conditions—Gulf test cars showed: Higher-than-new horsepower! Better-than-new on gasoline mileage! And not a single trace of carbon knock or pre-ignition at any time, even on the steepest mountain grades!

COMPLETELY NEW! SUPER-REFINED

New Gulf No-Nox

Black Cats Pull Big Upset In Win over Atherton

Page 6, Sec. 2 — Floyd County Times, Sept. 16, 1954

The Prestonsburg Black Cats, sparked by the strong right arm of quarterback Lowell Hughes, whipped Louisville Atherton, 39-13, last Saturday night for their second victory in as many starts.

Hughes scored two touchdowns, was on the throwing end of two others and booted three extra points as the Cats scored the big upset of the dope bucket in easy fashion. Prestonsburg zoomed into a 12-0 lead in the first quarter and added three touchdowns in the third to make it a cinch.

Atherton's Rebels, for all their size and numbers, were no match for the light but speedy and well-drilled Cats, and could do little with the versatile Hughes.

Prestonsburg stopped an Atherton surge on its 21 early in the first quarter and then went to work. On second down Hughes nailed halfback Clifford "Punkin" Goble with a pass on the Atherton 30 and the fleet-footed Goble raced unmolested into the end zone. Hughes' attempt for the extra point was blocked.

A minute later, Bill Young fumbled and Donald Puckett recovered for Prestonsburg on the Maroon 21. On the Cats' third play, Ronnie Goble bounced over from six yards out. Hughes' pass for the extra point failed to find a target.

Midway in the second frame, Atherton hammered 61 yards in 14 plays to register. A third of the yardage was furnished by fullback Bob Blocker on two power runs. Quarterback Vernon Rothenberger set up the tally with a keep play to the one and Neal McFerran bulldozed over from there. McFerran's try for the point was wide.

The Rebels probably got a lucky break in the touchdown. The timer stopped the clock mistakenly, giving them seconds which otherwise would have been lost. Only four seconds showed when Atherton tallied.

Distributed by the thinness of that 12-8 margin, Prestonsburg opened up at the start of the third quarter with a 64-yard march. Two Hughes pass kept the drive moving and fullback "Jeep" Alexander climaxed it with a plunge from the two. Hughes' boot made it 19-6. Two plays later, Hughes swiped a Rothenberger aerial on the Blackcats' 37 and went all the way. He kicked the point for a 26-6 bulge.

Less than two minutes later, Blocker fumbled on the Atherton 12 and Thurman Lafferty grabbed it.

The Cats scored in two plays, Hughes throwing to end Bert Dixon for the counter. His placement upped it to 33-6.

Midway in the fourth Hughes picked off another Rothenberger toss and sped 60 yards to score. Atherton, a team which last season defeated Manual, was a heavy favorite to win the game, but was badly outclassed.

SPORTS CHATTER

By Gordon Moore

Lowell Hughes, versatile Prestonsburg quarterback, and stellar lineman, Donald Puckett, shared the Black Cat Player-of-the-Week award last week in leading their mates to a 39-13 conquest over Louisville Atherton. In the contest sponsored by Francis Stores, Hughes was the committee's backfield choice after scoring two touchdowns, kicking three extra points and passing for two additional six-pointers. Puckett played most of the game in the Atherton backfield.

STAMINA

It will take a pretty good fish story to top that of Fred Krugel, Clinton, Iowa. A northern pike broke his leg. Krugel hooked the northern while fishing from a dock. He reeled in vigorously, fell and broke a leg. Crouching in pain, Krugel continued his reeling and landed the fish. He went to a hospital later.

HOOKS TWO-POUNDER

Mrs. W. M. Fly caught a nice 2-pounder on the way back from a fishing trip. Mrs. Fly left her fishing pole on the car, with bait on it, on the trip home. When she got home she found she'd caught a two-pound chicken.

Wheelwright's semi-pro baseball team is now battling Portsmouth in a three-game play-off series for the championship of the Tri-State Baseball League.

Highlights of the University of Kentucky's intra-squad game last Saturday, which the Whites (first stringers) won over the Reds (second team), 20-14, was the play of Pikeville's fullback Bobby Phillips who raced 40 yards for one t.d. and set up another. Quarterback John Delmar Hughes, of Prestonsburg, kicked both Red extra points and received top praise from Coach Collier, as did tackle Billy Wheeler, of Pikeville.

The Whitesburg-Pointsville football game last Friday night ended in a free-for-all after the Yellowjackets won, 19-6. The third period was played in a driving rainstorm.

Dave Adams, former Wayland high school football coach, is now teaching in Hamilton, Ohio.

Two Grid Game Dates Set Up During October

Coach Doc Ferrell, of the Prestonsburg Black Cats, announced this week that his team will play Pikeville here on Thursday, Oct. 7, instead of Oct. 8 as originally scheduled, and that the game here with Louisa has been changed from Oct. 15 to Oct. 14.

These changes were made, it was explained, so there would be no conflict with Paintsville games. Change of the dates here will enable Paintsville fans to see both games here, and also give Prestonsburg grid followers an opportunity to see the games at Paintsville on the Friday nights following the games in Prestonsburg.

Fannin, Mates Enroll At U. of So. Carolina

Pikeville, Ky., Sept. 15 (SpI)—Benny Fannin, of Betsy Layne, and the other four first-string sophomores on last year's state- and regional-champion Pikeville Junior College Bears will take their basketball talents to the University of South Carolina this fall.

Graduated from Pikeville last June, they have been assigned Atlantic Coast Conference grants-in-aid at the Columbia, S. C. school, Pikeville Coach Walter Hambrick said. The five formed the nucleus of the Bears squad which brought home both Kentucky and Southeastern junior-college conference crowns last spring.

Conservation Clubs Complete Color Film

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 13 (SpI)—The activities of Kentucky's Junior Conservation Clubs is the subject of a new color film recently completed by the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources.

Other movies now in production by the Department's personnel include a color film covering the operation of the state Fish and Game Farm near Frankfort and one on the work of the Fisheries Division scheduled for release in the spring.

All of the films will be available for public showing, in addition to those now on file and may be requested from the Department's office here.
