

SCALF FILES AS CANDIDATE

Against Gordon Moore; Morgan-co. Man To Run For State Treasurer

W. D. "Bill" Scalf, of Barbourville, filed for the Democratic nomination for Third District Railroad Commissioner last Friday. He will oppose Gordon Moore, of Prestonsburg. The office is now held by Pleas Mobley, Republican of Manchester.

Scalf, an unsuccessful candidate against Mitchell Fannin for the Democratic nomination for Congress last year, was the Democratic nominee two years ago for Congress but was defeated by Representative Golden.

Henry H. Carter, 51, of West Liberty, commissioner of banking since 1948, also announced last Friday his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for State Treasurer.

Carter, who is expected to have Administration support, is a native of Morgan county. He was graduated from West Liberty high school and Bowling Green Business University.

Carter worked for Commercial Bank at West Liberty from 1920 to 1933. Then he became an examiner for the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation for eight years. Next, he was cashier of the Peoples State Bank at Winchester until he was appointed banking commissioner in May, 1948, by former Governor Earle C. Clements. He was reappointed by Governor Wetherby in 1950.

Final Induction Takes Eight From Floyd Area

Local board 25 of Prestonsburg announced that eight men left Monday for final induction. The eight include Douglas Cleon Jones, of Drift; Daniel Campbell, Martin; George Van Harless, Auxier; John Little, Jr., Melvin, transferred to Local Board 3, Seattle, Washington and Frank Jesse Cooper, Wheelwright, transferred of Local Board 32, Greenville, Tenn.

There will be no pre-induction for April. Three will leave from this area for final induction April 20.

ing he was on his way to work when he learned there was a violent man on the street.

Rice said he came upon a crowd and there was Whicker. The scene was at the Dairy Queen here.

Whicker had bolted from Deputy Sheriff Frank Blackburn and Deputy Jailer V. A. Hayes while they were leading him from the sanity hearing. He had just been told he would "have to be taken away" in handcuffs, Hayes testified earlier.

Rice said he alighted from his car with a sawed-off shotgun loaded with six shells filled with buckshots. The gun belonged to Frank Parker, a friend, he said.

Rice said he ordered Whicker to stop. He backed up against his car as Whicker continued toward him. He quoted Whicker as saying:

"Shoot you — You haven't got the nerve."

Rice said he fired when Whicker advanced and struck the shotgun with his left hand. The blast hit Whicker in the face.

The defendant contradicted another statement entered as state's evidence. John Forsythe, of Pike county, who said he was parked near the shooting scene, had quoted Rice as saying:

"Any — that can't be subdued or arrested ought to be dead." The deputy said he made no such remark.

Hayes and Blackburn had told earlier how Whicker tried to get a ride out of town with a motorist who had stopped at a red light. The motorist, Grant Walters, of near Prestonsburg, was one of the defense's 13 witnesses.

Walters said Whicker opened a door to his car and asked for a ride. The two officers motioned to Walters not to comply. Walters said he then told Whicker he was only going a short way. He said Whicker slammed the door and cursed him.

The blind operator of a concession stand in the courthouse here, Grover C. Deskins, also was a defense witness. Deskins said he recognized, as that of Deputy Blackburn, the voice of a man who called for help, apparently when Whicker bolted from the officers on the stairway.

Commonwealth's Detective Alex L. Davidson told of trying to reason with Whicker in a parking lot near the courthouse. One blow by Whicker bounced off his shoulder to his head, laid him out cold, Davidson said.

Under cross examination Rice was asked why he killed Whicker. He replied:

"I shot to save my life and others. There were six shells in that gun."

He referred to the shotgun he held. His inference was that if Whicker had overpowered him and gained possession of the weapon, the situation would have really been "out of hand."

Dead Man Thought To Be Former Garrett Resident; Sheriff Asks Information

Sheriff Gorman Collins this week was attempting to contact relatives of Donald Thomas, 30, whose body is at Marshalltown, Iowa funeral home.

The sheriff said nobody at Garrett, where Thomas is reported to have formerly resided, knows him. The funeral home supplied the Garrett address, also the information that Thomas was a veteran and itinerant laborer. The body is at the Purcell Davis Funeral Home in Marshalltown.

Beauchamp-Clements organization and Foster developed after the Administration leaders turned down Foster's suggestion that one of four First district men—one of them Taylor—be the Administration choice for Governor.

At Louisa, where he was campaigning Tuesday, Combs said he was "extremely delighted" that Taylor had affiliated himself "with my campaign to maintain good government in Kentucky."

"I feel that under Mr. Taylor's guidance, my campaign will reach to all the people in the state who desire to see a high level of governmental service at the most economical cost . . ."

"Mr. Taylor's interest in government is well known to all Kentuckians," Combs added. "His particular interest in the advancement of education is known to everyone who has been connected with education in Kentucky during the past 25 years."

Taylor's acceptance of the Combs campaign chairmanship came just three days after Harry Lee Waterfield announced he had turned down a similar offer and was running for Lieutenant Governor as a running-mate of A. B. "Happy" Chandler.

Judge Combs visited briefly in Prestonsburg Tuesday after addressing the Beaver Valley Kiwanis Club at Wheelwright, the preceding evening.

WRIGHT SAYS HE VOTED "NO"

In answer to a report in The Courier-Journal which accuses me of being responsible for the excess fees claimed to have been received by Woodrow Burchett, I wish to state that as far as I know if Mr. Burchett ever received anything except a small claim a few times through the fiscal court, it is beyond my knowledge in my four years of service. After it came to us, the fiscal court, that the ex-officers had failed to make a report, the fiscal court hired the Cotton Audit Company to audit all the offices, and the audit showed all of them were behind, and in trying to settle, you citizens come and see who voted, NO.

If you will notice, each debtor filed $1,200 for each year for car expenses and I voted against it. Woodrow settled with the rest of the court. I think you will also notice the County Attorney receives his money from the State Treasurer. I did not know who received in excess of his salary. I tried my best to serve honestly. I hope the good citizens ask all the court and the good citizens about me. I pray God for the man who accused me wrongfully. Please, before you accuse look at your record book.

Sincerely,
 M. C. WRIGHT

Belew Conducts Revival

The Rev. M. Wendell Belew, of Mt. Vernon, Ky., will be the evangelist in revival services beginning Sunday, at the Irene Cole Baptist Church March 27, and continuing through April 2, nightly at 7 o'clock. Rev. Belew was pastor of the First Baptist church of Mt. Vernon prior to his present position as field worker for Baptists in Eastern Kentucky. In addition to preaching each night, the evangelist will also make chalk drawings to illustrate his sermons. The congregational singing and special music will be under the direction of the pastor, the Rev. Vernon Perkins, who came to David in September when the Irene Cole Memorial Baptist church assumed responsibility for the church work there. Rev. Perkins extends a cordial invitation to everyone to attend the revival services.

All the injured except Mr. and Mrs. Davis were occupants of the car in which Mrs. Neal was a passenger.

The wreck occurred about a mile west of the Northern Belt Line on the road to Winchester. The Davises were en route to Prestonsburg. Cars driven by Warren Neal and his son, Buford Neal, approached him, driving toward Lexington.

Chandler issued a statement Monday saying he was "delighted" to have Waterfield as his running-mate.

Prior to that he served a year as projects secretary of the National Conference of Methodist Youth and editor of Concern, bi-weekly news-magazine for Methodist youth.

He was director of the National Convocation of Methodist Youth which 5,000 young people attended at Purdue University in August 1951.

In 1952 he was a delegate to the World Conference of Christian Youth, held in Travancore, India, and he traveled around the world visiting missions, churches and youth leaders.

EASTER SEALS ARE MAILED

Sales Will Finance Crippled Children Aid; 67 Assisted Last Year

Forty million Easter Seals were mailed in Kentucky starting Monday to finance help for crippled children in every county, it was announced today.

Easter Seal funds last year financed medical care and treatment for a total of 67 crippled children in Floyd county, through the combined services of the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children and the Kentucky Crippled Children Commission. Five were patients at Cardinal Hill hospital, an Easter Seal facility. Two of these suffered from polio, two from cerebral palsy and one from spastic quadriplegia. Easter Seal funds supplement the Commission's funds for medical treatment and hospitalization. In addition, the Easter Seal Society furnishes volunteer clinic workers, takes children to and from clinics, buys hearing aids, wheel chairs, hospital equipment and medicines and also carries on state-wide education and rehabilitation programs. The Kentucky Society for Crippled Children is Kentucky's Easter Seal agency. Talton K. Stone, state Easter Seal chairman, said Cardinal Hill hospital, Lexington, cared for crippled children from 56 counties last year. The hospital is owned and operated by the Kentucky Society, and dealt with crippling caused by many types of disease, deformity and accidents. Stone said the Kentucky Society is the only one among the private fund-raising agencies with a broad enough program to give all kinds of service to children crippled by all causes. Appeal letters will be mailed to approximately 400,000 Kentuckians in every county in the state. The Kentucky Society's Easter Seal appeal will continue through April 10.

Plans Change Approved For State Fair Stalls

Frankfort, Ky., March 21 —The State Property and Buildings Commission approved a change in plans for the State Fair properties in Louisville so as to provide separate stalls for show horses out from under the proposed stadium as had been originally proposed. The revision calls for 200 stalls. Spokesman for show horse exhibitors had complained the original stall plans were unsatisfactory, and did not provide proper ventilation.

SAD STATE OF EDUCATION IN KENTUCKY IS DESCRIBED.

(Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of articles by the Department of Classroom Teachers of the Kentucky Education Association.)

"If a nation expects to be ignorant and free in a state of civilization it expects what never was and never will be . . .", Thomas Jefferson said.

As a freedom-loving people we are concerned with retaining the freedoms we possess. We cannot afford to overlook the fact that our power to hold freedom depends upon the extent of our education. We have learned more than once that preparedness is important in a world where freedom is forever threatened by tyranny. But somehow we have not learned that an educated public must be a necessary part of our preparedness.

The popular idea is that power to overcome the forces which threaten our freedom lies in guns, planes, bombs, and all the mechanical gadgets which accompany modern warfare. Therefore, to strengthen our defenses, we concentrate on building these.

These are the things we will need for the defense of our freedoms. But are they all we need? Are we not neglecting education—the greatest weapon of all?

Examine Jefferson's statement again, and then note these facts about Kentucky's education picture:

1. Of every 100 schools in Kentucky, 54 are one-room schools attended by 15 per cent of Kentucky's pupils.
 2. Kentucky has approximately 2400 teachers whose qualifications are below legal standards.
 3. Of every 100 pupils who enter the first grade in Kentucky, only 14 graduate from high school.
 4. The level of white adult education in Kentucky is the lowest in the nation.
 5. The average salary of classroom teachers in Kentucky is $2,280 a year, while the national average is $3605.
- It is not a very pretty picture, is it? When we are taking inventory of our defenses, how can we neglect the cause of education?

What will the most powerful bombs or the greatest battleships profit us if our children grow up with no opportunity to learn the significance of atomic energy or the principles which it has ceased to understand through neglect of careful teaching and an intensive educational program?

In a world of splitting atoms and clashing ideas, the uneducated citizen is doomed to slavery. Education is a process of producing citizens who are capable of building bombs and battleships and using them if necessary. At the same time it is a process of developing thinking, tolerant human beings who constantly strive to eliminate the necessity for bombs and battleships.

But as the preceding facts indicate, we are failing in our first line of defense by not keeping up with progress educationally.

What is the solution to the problem? First of all comes the laying of a foundation and a drawing up of plans. Secondly it is a matter of financing those plans. If our battleships and planes were left on the drafting board our defense would be inadequate.

After the planning we must then fulfill those plans. In Kentucky education we already have made the plans and laid the foundation. Now, the next step is to carry out these plans through pay for the construction of a better school system.

In education, like everything else, we get only what we pay for. We are willing to pay for the battleships, the bombs, the planes, but we are unwilling to pay for schools and for the education of our children. Our reluctance to spend money for education is a strange thing.

Whether or not a community or a nation prospers depends on how it tries to educate itself. Education means a higher standard of living in all areas for everyone concerned. In the long run, education doesn't really cost; it pays.

Building up our defenses through better education is the only way to preserve freedom and our democratic way of life.

Scouts To Stage Circus At Pikeville, May 14

Approximately 1,000 Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts from 50 Scout units in three Big Sandy districts of the Lonesome Fine Council including Pike, Jenny Wiley and Letcher districts will participate in a huge Scouting Circus which will be held in Pikeville, Saturday, May 14. Meetings have been held for more than a year and attended by Scout leaders to make plans for the show. George Evans, Jr., of Wayland, and Jarrett Wood, of Pikeville, are acting as chairman and co-chairman for the circus.

At a meeting held in Prestonsburg, Tuesday of last week and attended by twenty-four Scout leaders, program plans were described in detail by Jim Owens who is working as advisor to the program committee composed of Henry Scaff, Prestonsburg, and Redford Dammron, of Pikeville.

Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts will sell tickets to the circus to parents, friends of Scouting, and the public at large. Physical Arrangement committee are Jack Pake, Dr. R. W. Allen, and B. P. Bogardus. The attendance and ticket sales committee chairmen are Thurman Hibbitts and Jack Branham; unit participation committee chairmen are Bob Weddie, of Pikeville, and Jesse Elliott of Betsy Layne. The show directors are Harry Wait, of Pikeville, and Jim Owens, of Prestonsburg.

BETSY LAYNE

CLUB TALKS YOUTH PROBLEMS

The Betsy Layne Woman's Club held its regular monthly meeting, last Thursday night, at the home of Mrs. T. J. Chandler. This was a dinner meeting, with the hostess serving at 6 p.m. Covers were laid for the following: Mesdames O. J. Williams, T. S. Salisbury, Glenn Blackburn, Albert Greenwald, Flora Prater, C. H. Dickenson, W. P. Howell, Edward Lykins, Beecher Hardwick, E. P. Davis, Miss Alice Williams and the hostess Mrs. Chandler.

The regular business and program meeting followed dinner with Mrs. O. J. Williams, program leader, presenting a program in the Youth Conservation department. Mrs. Williams' topic was, "Children in Trouble" with a panel discussion featuring the following conditions: babies in institutions, innocent boys locked in jails, and the many children who have no homes and no one to care what happens to them. Mrs. Williams reviewed the Ladies Home Journal forum on this subject and as each question was read, club members gave their opinions and then Mrs. Williams read the answers of the participants in the Journal forum. Among the many facts brought out in this discussion was that there should be enough good foster homes and cottages-type institutions so that dependent children can be placed according to their needs; that a detention home and not a jail should be used for children awaiting a hearing before a court; that parks and playgrounds with a definite recreational program should be established; and that a Health and Welfare Council be alert to the children's needs.

Miss Alice Williams then discussed "Can 'Nice' Children be Delinquents?" by Fritz Redl of the National Institute of Mental Health. This resume brought out the symptoms of disturbances that cause delinquent behavior and concluded with the fact that most children are expected to be subjected to conflicts and problems during their growing up period and one misdeed is not apt to start a child on the road to delinquency if the problem is wisely handled.

Mrs. Edward Lykins, president, was presiding officer at the business session. The club voted to send a cash contribution to "The Cross" project, to help build a Cross over 50 stories high, located at the center of population, to strengthen our faith, to strengthen our children's and the nation's faith. It was also voted to contribute to the Red Cross drive, with a donation from the club and each individual club member contributing.

Mrs. Beecher Hardwick, club chairman for the Salk vaccine program, presented pertinent facts concerning this great program: that if the Salk vaccine is licensed all children in all communities who are enrolled in the first and second grades of public, private and parochial schools as of spring, 1955, will receive the vaccine. First and second grade school children were selected because of the high polio incidence in this age group and because their accessibility in schools would facilitate completion of the vaccination program. Mrs. Hardwick brought out the fact that plans must be made, and understood and accepted before the vaccine is licensed, in order for the communities to be ready if it is, as it takes from two or four months to make and distribute this vaccine. Mrs. Hardwick asked for volunteer workers among the club members, to assist the health officials in the program. Volunteer workers will be needed to assist in the clinics and to aid the health workers in any way possible. Mrs. Hardwick stressed that this projected vaccine program will not be another test, but it will be the first use of a newly established preventive measure. The following members volunteered their assistance at the clinic to be held at Betsy Layne: Mesdames E. P. Davis, O. J. Williams, Edward Lykins, T. S. Salisbury, Laura Chandler, Miss Alice Williams.

Mrs. Lykins read a card announcing the presentation of Mrs. George Cohen of the Mt. Sterling Civic Club, for the office of Recording secretary, Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs 1955-57, and a card from the Women's Club of St. Matthews presenting Mrs. W. C. Cruse, Jr., for the office of Third Vice-President, KFWC, 1955-57.

Officers for the new club year beginning September 1, 1955 were elected as follows: president, Miss Alice Williams, vice-president Mrs. E. P. Davis, and secretary and treasurer Mrs. Beecher Hardwick.

The regular April meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. E. P. Davis, with a program in the American History department.

FAMOUS DISASTERS!

SAN FRANCISCO FIRE AND EARTHQUAKE

Property loss from the famous San Francisco earthquake and fire in 1906 amounted to more than $350 million. An area of several square miles including most of the downtown area was destroyed.

"BLACK TOM" EXPLOSION

The tremendous "Black Tom" munitions dump explosion in Jersey City in 1916 razed many city blocks of property with damage estimated at $40 million.

CHICAGO FIRE

Mrs. O'Leary's cow started a fire that destroyed the entire heart of Chicago in 1871 with the loss estimated at $196 million.

1954 FOREST FIRES

Last year alone, there were 155,000 forest fires in the U. S.—over 400 a day! They burned 10 million acres of valuable timber, an area larger than Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island combined. Cost of these fires was one billion dollars, three times that of the famous San Francisco destruction.

And the most tragic part of this shameful waste is that 9 out of 10 of these fires were preventable! Fire reports show that 90% of all our woods fires are caused by everyday, well-meaning people who were careless for a fatal moment with cigarettes, matches, campfires, brush and trash fires. Make sure your fires are out—dead out! Break your matches before throwing them away and use your ashtray for cigarettes.
