

This Town— That World

After hearing two youngsters, Andy Blane and Jameson Jones preach, I've begun to wonder how a 26-year-old (give or take a year or so) can get that smart in such a short time while a guy twice that age (who won't give but will take all the years offered) can get so dumb.

A news-story in this week's Times tells us there's a postoffice called Frostproof, Florida. Now we're sure there's a Frostbite somewhere in these United States, but we've lost our postal guide.

DISPUTED DECISION

The news services report that a Yale senior has rejected a $300,000 trust fund, giving his reason for the rejection that he has "two hands and a head of his own." There are those who will say they're glad it's his head.

But the guy may be altogether right. To the guy that much money could be a blessing; to others, it could be a curse. He doesn't want it, he knows, or thinks he knows, what he needs and that money isn't it.

Certainly happiness isn't a thing money can buy, nor is it a thing you can hunt and run down. This is one Yale man who more than likely will never be a business success. But it's a pretty good bet that he'll never take a header out of a high window because he lost a lot of money.

SUDDEN CHANGE WAS TOO MUCH

The Rev. Bob Regan left this note on my desk this week, "Norman, we hope your luck does not change! We need you." Which had me wondering why the concern about my luck, if any, till I discovered the newspaper clipping beneath the note.

This clipping told the story of a Spanish gentleman, who always complained of his bad luck as a fisherman, and whose luck suddenly changed and it was a mite too much for him. When on this particular day the fish turned up their noses as usual to his bait he fell asleep, fishing rod beside him. He woke to find his rod

GRAND JURORS VOTE 34 BILLS

Jury Recesses Until Monday; 48 Persons Named in True Bills

The grand jury recessed Saturday till April 25 after returning 34 indictments against 48 persons in six days.

Seven of the indictments were returned last Wednesday morning, and were reported in last week's Times. Major indictments voted since that time follow:

Fada Tate, C. C. Rogers, Lark Hunt, Prichard and Mary Cecil, Agnel Jones and T. B. Akers, each charged with possessing alcoholic beverages for the purpose of sale; Virgil and Bert T. Moore, having an illicit still in their possession; Curtis and Franklin Carroll, breaking and entering; Ethel Ousley, John B. Mitchell, or Hall, Raymond Little, Isom Messer and Ora Blevins, each for child desertion; William Jarvis, James Henry Field and George Ciek, breaking and entering; T. A. Bates, carrying a concealed deadly weapon; Otto Horn, forgery; Ellis Crum, knowingly receiving stolen property; Cleveland Stone, false-swearing.

Select 8 Clinic Sites For Immunization

VACCINATION JOB TO START HERE APR. 25

Two Teams To Immunize Tots in First, Second Grades in This County

Floyd county is ready to put to work the Salk vaccine for the prevention of paralytic polio, and the first vaccination will be made Monday, April 25.

This was the announcement made by M. V. Clark, administrator of the Floyd County Health Department, late Wednesday after plans had been completed for eight vaccination clinics in as many Floyd communities.

Two or three weeks ahead of the date when the vaccine was declared effective and safe, local leaders for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, health, school and civic authorities had joined in organizing for the work they knew was ahead. Mr. Clark completed the planning job by arranging for the clinics.

As of Wednesday, 3,096 parental requests for vaccination of first and second grade school-children had been filed by parents with Miss Blanche Dingus, health coordinator for the county school system. There are about 3,600 pupils in these two grades enrolled in school, and parents have only until Friday of this week to send in their requests for immunization of their children. The requests will be sent to the State Health Department that day, and the number of these will fix the number of vaccine shots allotted to Floyd county.

Mr. Clark said the clinics were set up on the original plan of administering the vaccine in three shots over a period of four or five weeks. If Dr. Salk's recommendation is accepted, however, only two shots will be given during this period, with the third to come about seven months later as a "booster."

The clinics as announced by Clark: Prestonsburg No. 1 and Betsy Layne, April 25, May 2 and May 23.

Prestonsburg No. 2 and McDowell—April 27, May 4 and May 25.

Martin and Garrett—April 26, May 3 and May 24.

Wheelwright and Allen—April 28, May 5 and May 26.

Each clinic will begin at 8 a.m. (See Story No. 4, Page 3)

CENTER PLANS ARE APPROVED

Health Structure Cost To Be $85,000; Plans Altered To Fit Funds

Approval of plans by both state and federal agencies last week cleared the way for construction here of an $85,000 county health center.

With $25,000 contributed by the county, and the county through the county and city boards of education supplying the site on the grounds of the present Prestonsburg high school, the state will add $20,000 to the building fund, and the federal government will supply $40,000 more of Hill-Burton funds.

To get within the $85,000 thus made available for construction and equipping of the center, the plans were revised, reducing the size of the structure two feet in one direction and about four feet in the other, leaving dimensions 62 by 64 feet.

Consisting of a full basement and ground floor, the center will include 23 rooms, plus one private and two public toilets. These various departments are: In the basement—an auditorium 30 x 60 feet, two storage rooms, a model kitchen and a furnace room; on the main floor—the director's office, dental clinic, lounge, reception room, clerks' section, vital statistics department, sanitarians' office, public health education room, nurses' office, general clinic room, x-ray room,

Boys To Represent P'burg at Regional

Two boys will represent the Prestonsburg grade school in the Tri-State spelling bee at Huntington, W. Va., April 23.

The winner of the Prestonsburg bee, which was held Tuesday of last week, is 12-year-old Martin Douglas May, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lee May. A member of seventh grade class, he was in the Tri-State bee last year as the Prestonsburg runner-up. This year's runner-up is J. S. Sammons, of the eighth grade, son of Mrs. Charlie Rowe.

Young May won when his hottest competitor stumbled on "committee." May spelled that word and went on to spell the next, "acquaintance," and win the school spelling title.

FISCAL COURT RESCINDS CUT

In Farm Agents' Travel Allowance, Ups Budget For Health Department

The fiscal court amended its budget Monday to restore to their 1954-55 level the travel expenses of the county agent and assistant county agent for the coming fiscal year, and was saved to the county the services of Assistant County Agent Ervin C. Joseph.

At a previous meeting the court had reduced the travel allowance of County Agent Boggs to $700 and that of his assistant to $600 a year, which was below the minimum asked by the Extension Department as the county's contribution to the work. Monday's action, however, restored the allowance for travel to $900 a year for each.

At the same time the court increased its appropriation of $5,900 made to the Floyd County Health Department for the next fiscal year to $6,320, and earmarked $2,000 for the Bookmobile operation during the same period.

Increase of the appropriation to the Soil Conservation Service from $500 to $800 and to the extension clerk from $1,380 to $1,800 stood unchanged, but the miscellaneous expense item in the extension department budget was cut from $400 back to the previous $320 figure.

All these orders of the court were voted unanimously, but two others were not. Magistrate Grover Holbrook opposed the appropriation of $500 to the maintenance of the Betsy Layne fire department, and Magistrate Edgar Howell voted "No" (See Story No. 9, Page 5)

Two Floyd-co. Miners Are Seriously Injured

Joe Hunter, 37, of the May's Branch section here, was seriously injured in the No. 1 David mine of the Princess Elkhorn Coal Company, Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. A shuttle car struck him, fracturing a knee. He was brought to the Prestonsburg General hospital.

Monday of last week, J. C. Blackburn, 33, of Mare Creek, was critically injured by a loose mine car that panned him against the mine wall, fracturing three ribs and the plevis. He was an employee of Mine No. 101, of A. J. Dalton, of Pikeville. Taken to the Methodist hospital at Pikeville, he remained in a serious condition for several days. Relatives say he will recover.

2 NEWSOMES DRAW TERMS

Brothers Are Penned 21 Years on Charge In Franklin Court

The Newsome brothers, Casey and George, Jr., who last winter escaped jail at Frankfort and forced a college student to drive his car with them to this county in their getaway flight, were convicted Tuesday in Franklin circuit court and each was sentenced to 21 years' imprisonment.

But their conviction was not in the case which led into this county. They were on trial for the armed robbery of a taxicab driver. While awaiting trial on the armed robbery charge the brothers, former residents of this county, slugged Franklin County Jailor Johnny West, entered the car of a college student when it stopped at a Frankfort traffic light, and forced the student to accompany them to this county. He was put out of his car on Middle Creek, near here, and the brothers continued their flight. The auto was later found on Abner mountain, near Melvin, and the Newsomes later were arrested in Texas.

The taxi driver, Shirley Lester Roberts, accused the Newsomes and Vernon Merriman of taking about $9, a watch, and a cigarette lighter from him last summer after engaging his cab. Roberts said one of the trio held a knife to his throat during the robbery. The taxi driver added that they left him bound in the cab near Lexington.

Merriman last fall pleaded guilty to robbery and received a two-year sentence.

The Newsomes pleaded innocent. George Newsome admitted making the trip, but denied robbing the driver. Casey Newsome testified that he went to Lexington on a train.

61 ELIGIBLE TO CAST VOTE

In Tobacco Referendum To Decide If Support Of Prices To Continue

Tobacco growers of this county will decide with their ballots next Thursday, whether or not they want a continuation of the government's support program. Technically, the question to be voted is this: Are you in favor of or opposed to quotas with price support?

If one-third of the growers vote NO, the whole tobacco support structure is dead.

A new quota system was set up sometime ago by the Secretary of Agriculture, under recent legislation, and this re-determination of quotas called for a 25% reduction in acreage for the 1955 crop.

Floyd county grew 32.7 acres of tobacco last year with an average yield of 1,308 pounds. Total pounds produced on these acres was 42,778 and was sold for $21,116.73. The average price per hundred pounds was $49.36. The 1953 production was, according to figures released by the Department of Agriculture, 30,000 pounds.

Sixty-one growers are eligible to vote in the referendum in this county, it was stated at the local ASC office. Since the acreage of each farmer in this county is small, most plots being measured in tenths of an acre, no appreciable effect is envisioned upon the agricultural economy if the quota reduction is voted down. Danger, it was pointed out by one farmer, was that the small tobacco grower, anxious to get into a higher bracket of production, might vote the whole support program out. In that case, with unrestrained production, tobacco would pile up and a price war result that would benefit no one but the tobacco companies.

The three-man referendum committee to hold the election had not been picked by the local Agricultural Stabilization Committee as of today (Thursday). The referendum will be held at

JUDGE DENIES CASE RETRIAL

Hamilton Defense Says Women Jurors Separated; No Verdict in Click Case

Circuit Judge Edward P. Hill overruled, Wednesday morning, the motion filed by attorneys for Ira Hamilton, who was convicted Thursday and given a life pen term for the slaying of his kinsman, Bert Hamilton.

Defense attorneys contended that two women jurors were separated from other women—members of the jury when they walked across the street to a telephone. Testimony heard on the motion claimed they talked with nobody and were not approached.

The jury in the Hamilton case deliberated only 11 minutes before agreeing on a verdict. Commonwealth's testimony to the effect that his victim was unarmed and that he was shot three times after he had slumped to the ground accounted, it was said, for the ease with which agreement was reached.

Defense testimony, including that of the defendant, contended that Ira Hamilton sought to leave

DEPUTIES NAB PEN ESCAPEE

Guy Bates Recaptured In County; Police Here Figure in Three Cases

Guy Bates, an escaped convict from the state reformatory at LaGrange, was captured Saturday on Left Beaver Creek by Deputy Sheriffs Willie and Green Johnson. At the time of his escape Bates was serving a two-year term for stealing copper wire.

Released on $1,000 bond was Wid Hatfield, who was jailed by the same officers on charges of drunkenness and assault on a child.

Prestonsburg police figured in the arrest last week of three persons charged with major offenses.

Robert Baldrige, who faces a robbery charge at Paintsville, was arrested by Chief of Police Epp Laferty and was later claimed by Johnson county authorities. The prisoner, described as dangerous man, was manacled before being taken from the jail here. Laferty also found here some of the loot from a Martin store which allegedly had been broken into by Jimmie Wallen. Wallen was arrested by Martin Policeman Hershel Lester. The third local case was that of Otto Horn, who was arrested by Laferty and Policeman B. L. Sturgill for uttering a worthless check. Horn had been sought since a hotel cash register here was looted, about two months ago.

Two men accused of drunk driving drew heavy fines in magistrates' courts. General J. Case, who had been arrested by Deputies Grant Akers and W. H. Hall, was fined $114.50 by Magistrate Edgar Howell.

He was brought to jail here by the officers but an order from the Magistrate for his release

New Polio Vaccine Declared Effective

Pictured wearing the army's new dress uniform is M. Sgt. Glenn R. Walke, of the local recruiting service. Seen for the first time in Eastern Kentucky, perhaps the first time in the state, it underwent many tests for design and Sgt. Walke was designated to test it for the wearing quality of the materials. The design was adopted last August by the army.

The new uniform, the coat of dark blue and the trousers in royal blue, has plenty of gold braid. Sgt. Walke began wearing the new uniform last week and when asked how it feels to wear it, replied: "I feel like a well-dressed man."

The army's local recruiter is a native of Oak Hill, O., has spent 14 years in the service, 27 months of that overseas. Married, with one son, he lives at Paintsville, but has been stationed here three years.

Princess Elkhorn Head Discusses Coal Outlook

A gathering of 185 which included supervisory forces of two of the section's largest coal mining operations, coal company officials, guests and their ladies Saturday evening heard David L. Francis, president of the Princess Elkhorn Coal Company at David, report on his company's record for the preceding year and express his views as to the future of the coal industry.

The occasion was the annual President's Night which was sponsored by the Pecco Foreman's Club, Princess Elkhorn supervisory personnel organization, and held at the Paintsville Country Club. The meeting was a joint gathering of the Pecco Club and the Foreman's Club of the Inland Steel Company at Wheelwright.

"Princess Elkhorn," Mr. Francis reported, "came through last year, one of the worst in the history of the coal industry, with flying colors." And he looked on the year ahead with confidence, although not unmindful of the multiplicity of problems faced by the embattled industry. He credited modernization of the company's No. 2 mine and the efforts of employees to pulling it back from "the ragged edge" where it hung 18 months ago. New coal-cutting equipment has been installed there, with the result that three units are now doing the work previously done by four, and the loading system was changed. The same program is being started at the company's No. 1 mine.

"These are moves to hold down the cost level, and that leaves the matter of price level the main source of worry. 'But we believe we'll hold our price level and that our fine sales organization will sell our entire production,' Francis commented. He added that Princess Elkhorn coal is now being burned in 75,000 American homes.

"We feel that our long-range future is very good," he optimistically noted. "This is the first time in 30 years that the coal business has had a friendly government." Helpful to the industry, he said, are these developments:

1. Formation of a coal executive group designed to get industry leaders to forget sectional differences and to work out common problems.

2. The Fleming Report which presents these developments: (See Story No. 7, Page 5)

"You folks have been accustomed to a good health department so long that I doubt if you fully appreciate the fine work your health department is doing," one member of the field station staff said. "I've seen a lot of health departments, and Floyd county's is one of the best."

At present several areas in Floyd and Letcher counties are coming in for intensive study. Approximately 550 households are under particular scrutiny, with an average of 2,500 persons being visited monthly. More than 400 specimens are examined bacteriologically each month, and to date 2,700 specimens have been cultured in search of the diarrheal-causing organism.

Records compiled from information supplied by householders showed that 15% of children under five years of age have had diarrhea since last September, with the incidence of the disease

LONG QUEST FOR VACCINE FINALLY ENDS

Final Approval Made Tuesday; Serum Held Up to 90% Effective

The long search by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis for a definite polio preventive ended Tuesday morning when the Salk vaccine was declared safe, effective and powerful in preventing paralytic polio and was officially licensed for public use.

The vaccine in mass tests last year proved its ability to prevent up to 90 per cent of paralytic polio, and Dr. Jonas Salk, brilliant young Pittsburgh scientist who developed the serum, declared the vaccine is now far better than that used in tests last year and can theoretically do a 100 per cent prevention job.

Dr. Salk, at a recent news conference, gave newsmen a laboratory glimpse of how the vaccine is made and explained how it works. This is the story:

The virus is captured in the bodies of persons ill with infantile paralysis. The virus is chemically prepared to return to the human blood stream. There it encourages production of disease killing antibodies.

The antibodies are substances in the human body which fight infection. The trouble is antibodies sometimes are produced too late to offset a serious attack of disease.

The Salk vaccine causes the human body to produce these antibodies in large amounts.

Only 71 children were paralyzed by polio last summer, out of those vaccinated. But 445 children were paralyzed among the 1,400,000 surveyed who didn't receive vaccine.

A total of only 113 youngsters were stricken by polio—paralytic and nonparalytic types—among

WHICKER SUIT ASKS $50,000

Sheriff and Deputy With Sureties Sued In Dec. 9th Slaying

A suit filed in circuit court here today (Thursday) by Mrs. Flo Whicker, widow of Reedy Whicker, who was killed here Dec. 9 by Deputy Sheriff W. L. Rice, asks for her and her five children $50,000 judgment against Rice and his bondsmen, B. K. Akers and Arnold Robinette, and against Sheriff Gorman Collins and his surety, the Aetna Casualty & Surety Company.

The complaint lists as plaintiffs, in addition to Mrs. Whicker, her children, Bobby, Lorene, Rita Sue, Mac Doug and Allen Reed Whicker; Claude P. Stephens who, led the prosecution in the trial of Rice at Louisa recently, is the attorney in the action.

Damages to the estate of Whicker in the amount of $30,000 and further vindictive or punitive damages of $20,000 are asked.

The suit describes the slaying of Whicker as "wanton and malicious" and "not in his (Rice's) self-defense or apparently necessary self-defense." It also claims that Sheriff Collins acted "in utter disregard of his trust" in appointing and keeping the defendant, W. L. Rice, as deputy sheriff, "in that he knew, or should have known, the reputation for peace and violence of the said defendant, W. L. Rice, and knew that his previous conduct as a peace officer was such as to endanger public safety."

A jury trial is asked. In another action filed this week B. L. and Walter H. Porter sue the State Highway Department and Floyd county for $10,000 damages which allegedly resulted from a change made in the course of Cow Creek through their farm near Emma during construction of U. S. 23. The complaint was prepared by W. W. Burchett.

Records compiled from information supplied by householders showed that 15% of children under five years of age have had diarrhea since last September, with the incidence of the disease

dropping progressively during the winter till a low of 3% was reached in December. Incidence of diarrhea in all age groups was less, ranging from a high of 4 per cent in September to 1%
in December.

Further studies this summer will give more complete seasonal information.

One of the most mystifying finds made by the field station was the discovery that two groups of diarrhea-causing bacteria—the salmonellas (a relative of the typhoid germ) and the singellas—were absent from the many specimens examined, although in other parts of the country one or the other has commonly been found. Tests are now being run for less well-known bacteria, and arrangements are being made to examine the specimens for viruses.

Infestation with internal parasites in these two counties is far more common than the average nationally. Examination of 158 Floyd county first-graders revealed that 63% were infected with one or more kinds of worms.
The large roundworm was most common, its presence being found in 24% of these children. In some sections of the country from 44 to 80% of the population has been found to have some intestinal parasite infestation, roundworm being present in from 12 to 60% of the cases. Threadworms, whip worms, hookworms, tapeworms and pinworms are also encountered.

Early results of the Cumberland Field Station's studies support conclusions reached after studies have been made in other parts of the country: that infestation with worms, and probably with diarrhea, too, is generally the result of swallowing food or water contaminated with ineffective wastes from a person who has the disease, and that areas with the poorest sanitation facilities have the highest rate of infestations.

Such factors as unprotected, inaccessible or uncertain water supplies, handwashing and bathing habits and facilities, flies traveling between privy and kitchen, and poor excreta disposal facilities are under careful study to determine the importance of each in the spread of the various filthborne diseases.

Testing of water supplies for contamination is done as a matter of routine in the study areas.
Public supplies are usually found to be satisfactory, either because the water is treated or because it is derived from deep-drilled wells. Individual supplies are almost always found to be contaminated, it was said.

Although doctors and nurses are on the staff, the work of the field station does not include treatment of individuals.

Victory — But What of Those Who Lost?

Once the polio virus was isolated, victory over the disease was inevitable, and now comes word that that victory is in sight. A few years hence, and infantile paralysis will have joined diphtheria, smallpox and those other diseases which have before the forces of medical science lost their power to kill or even to terrify.

The research genius whose name the Salk vaccine bears will join those immortals whose works have added to the sum total of human existence. Comes now the drudgery; no "Eureka!" of discovery, and no exultation other than that which will come to those workers who know that their labors will prevent over the years the crippling or the death of untold thousands. The doctors and nurses and unprofessional workers who will assist them, will perform the unromantic chores that will make the word, "Salk," mean deliverance from one more disease.

Yet polio is not wiped out as if by magic. There will be those who will refuse to accept the protection the vaccine will afford, and,
more tragic still, are all those children now in hospitals over the country, crippled before a defense against the disease was discovered.

Money must be raised next year and for years after that to defray the cost of treating these who already have been stricken. Let us who have by the grace of God been among the fortunate and never had one of ours to suffer from polio shun the selfishness that might cause us to declare that we have no further obligation to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis which still must have money to pay for the reclamation of those twisted bodies.

Good Work by the Court

THE TIMES happily notes
this week that the fiscal court has amended its budget to make possible the continuation of the work of the county agent and the assistant agent, meanwhile increasing appropriations to the soil conservation work
and the Floyd County Health Department.

All these are departments that are vital to the welfare and progress of the county.
If cuts in expenditures must be made anywhere at any time, they should be on less important departments of governmental service.

Now that all these agencies are established for the next fiscal year, the court should make every effort to find enough money to return to this county a home demonstration agent.

All these departments render the finest of services and at the lowest cost. Their cooperation with each other will mean much in the future to the economy, happiness
and health of many families, and any influence that might disrupt them or make their work with the family at home less effective is a bad influence.

all those vaccinated.
But a total of 750 were felled by polio among the nonvaccinated.

No dead among the children who took the full series of shots.
But 15 dead among those not vaccinated.
There was one death from polio in a child—not named—who had taken only two shots and had a tonsillectomy during an epidemic of polio in his community.

Brothers and sisters were spared when polio virus insidiously struck down one member of a family. Only one of 233 vaccinated children developed polio from contact within the family. But eight out of 244 getting the dummy shots, picked up the nerve-destroying virus this way.

The vaccine reportedly is incredibly safe and amazingly free from the kick of reactions which always affect some people, no matter what the drug is.
"These items in the report bore
that out:

Just 931 slight reactions among the vaccinated children.
Only 939 slight reactions among some 210,000 who received the dummy shots of a completely inert watery material which was harmless.
Just nine major reactions—"not clearly attributed to the inocula-tions"—among the vaccinated ones.

But 13 major reactions among those getting the dummy shots.
Absolutely no evidence that the vaccine itself caused any infection.

Absolutely no evidence that paralysis—in the few cases when it did come—tended to localize in the left arm which received the inoculations.

Trial of Ray Click, charged with the slaying on Stephens Branch of Otis Blankenship resulted Tuesday in a "hung" jury.

Four men were in a small room at the time of the shooting of Blankenship. Otis Blankenship was seated across a table from Click, Lloyd Click stood nearby, and Everett Slone was seated in a corner. The light went out, and a shot was fired. Blankenship was fatally wounded. That was the situation described by the testimony.

Ray Click testified he had no gun in his hands. The gun from which the fatal shot was fired was on a shelf at the left of a door leading into a back room.
Everett Slone, the only other eyewitness to testify, said he saw no gun in Click's hands.

The jury stood nine for acquittal, three for conviction, it was said.

Two child desertion cases resulted in one-year pen terms. Defendants were Harold Jones, whose probation on Jan. 6, 1953
was set aside, and Izel Turner.

Orders were entered during the week forfeiting the bonds of five defendants when they failed to appear for trial. Hatler Conn, charged with false pretenses,
$1,000 bond; Parley Howell, grand larceny, $500; Alfred Bradley Calhoun, child desertion, $1,- 000; Ishmael Little, assault and battery, $500, and for rape $1,000.

BOYD-CO. JURY
TO HEAR TRIAL

Of Damron in Pikeville
For Torso Murder; Trial
May Begin Next Monday

About 150 prospective jurors from Boyd county will be brought to Pikeville next Monday in an effort to seat a jury to hear the "torso-murder" case.

The second murder trial of Wilard "Catfish" Damron, scheduled for Wednesday of this week,
was postponed by Circuit Judge F. P. Keesee to allow time to bring in an outside jury. Earlier, the judge denied Damron a motion for a change of venue.

Damron, a poolroom operator from Boldman, had contended he could not receive a fair trial here.
His first trial last December ended in a jury disagreement.

Sheriff Alex Blackburn, of Pike county, said he would begin issuing summonses for prospective jurors in Boyd county today (Thursday).

Damron is charged with slay-ing former Tennessee Clyde Jack Clements, who fled from the Pike county jail in May, 1953. A body, minus head, hands, and feet,
found on a farm near Pikeville in March, 1954, was identified as that of Clements.

Testifying as to his innocence, Damron said at his first trial that he "never killed nobody."

Combs Committee Here
Slates Weekly Meets;
Group Chairmen Picked

The Floyd county campaign committee for Bert T. Combs for Governor has set up a schedule of weekly meetings on Friday evenings, it was announced this week.
At an organization meeting last Friday evening chairmen of the several committees were named,
but all members of the committees have not yet been named.
These will be announced within a few days, County Judge Henry Stumbo, campaign chairman,
said.

An active women's organiza-

AREA PROBE AT PIKEVILLE

Hears Miner and Others From Floyd-co; Neely Says State Suffers Most

Thirteen witnesses appeared before Senator Matthew Neely's Senate sub-committee on unemployment at Pikeville Tuesday and pictured the economic distress of the section. One of these witnesses, Cletis Turner, of Wayland, told the committee of the unemployed miner's condition. Turner, father of 15 children, said fewer than 100 of an original 1500 miners are now employed at Wayland. He said there was no hope for employment there and that the men wanted work, not commodities. Other Floyd countians testifying were State Senator Doug Hays and Greenville Spradlin, Floyd county welfare director.

Neely, a West Virginia Democrat, conducted a similar hearing at Williamson, W. Va., yesterday (Wednesday).

Declaring that Kentucky is suffering more from unemployment than any other state, Senator Neely explained that the purpose of the hearing was to determine the cause of unemployment. Then he hopes to recommend to Congress ways and means of alleviating the situation.

Close behind Kentucky in distress, he said, is his own state of West Virginia.

Thirteen witnesses, including Congressman Carl D. Perkins, Hindman, took part in the three-hour hearing at Pikeville. Just about all of them traced the economic plight of the area to the decline of the coal industry.

A supporter of legislation to limit the important of residual fuel oil, Senator Neely pointed out that such waste oil was rapidly replacing coal in this country until recently when the "cartels took warning and drastically reduced the flow."

Congressman Perkins testified that the dumping of 450,000 barrels of residual oil into this country each day has had an impact on the coal industry.

Eastern Kentucky's coal-mining area must receive special consideration, Perkins declared, because more men are unemployed in at least four coal counties than there were in the depression years of 1929 through 1933. He said that only four men are now employed in the once-thriving coal community of McRoberts, in Letcher county, and that practically all men over 45 in the entire district are unemployed.

First witness Tuesday was Mrs. Durie B. Mullins, Pikeville office manager of the Division of Employment Service, who said that almost half of the unemployed in Pike county have exhausted their unemployment relief. Her report covered the counties of Floyd, Harlan, Johnson, Letcher, Perry, and Pike.

She said employment in these counties had dropped from 49,747 in 1950 to 31,517 in June, 1954.

Speaking for the coal miners, Sam Caddy, Jr., Lexington, told Senator Neely that half of the mines operating during 1949 in Kentucky have now shut down. Of the 22,000 miners employed in 1949 in District 30 of the U.M.W., he said less than 10,000 now have jobs.

"We have witnessed usurpation of the fuel market in Kentucky," he declared, "by foreign residual oil, extending unemployment and its accompanying ills to vast numbers of Kentucky miners, and the curtailment of a basic industry necessary to the protection and development of our country."

He quoted figures from the Kentucky Department of Mines and Minerals to show that coal miners employed in Kentucky dropped from 76,821 in 1949 to 46,780 in 1953, with the number of coal mines shrinking from 5,041 to 2,214 during the same period.

"The disaster to our economy," he said, "has been eased by the distribution of surplus government commodities and unemployment compensation has provided a temporary relief."

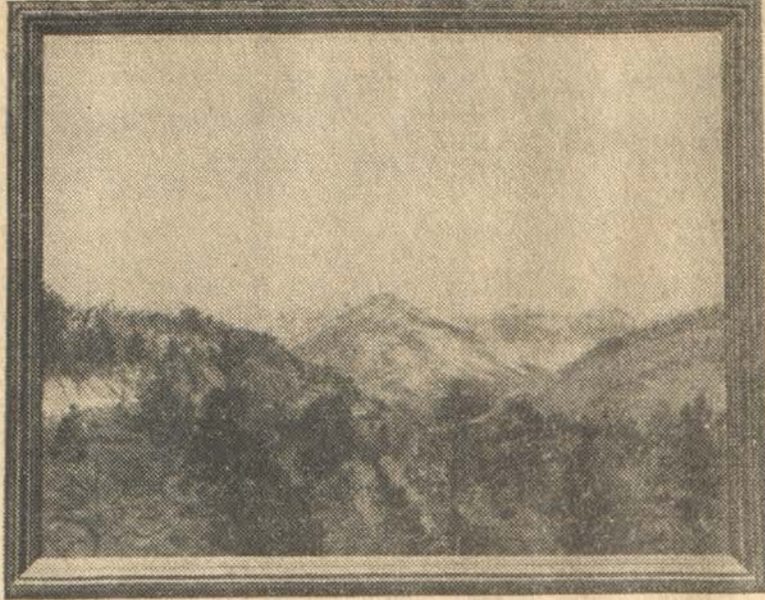

"One of the worst cases of unemployment in the United States is right here," Sam Caddy, Sr., declared. "And it is an unnecessary, uncalculated-for situation." He is president of District 30.

O. S. Batten, Pikeville engineer and president of the Eastern Kentucky Economic Council, said $90,000,000 a year is being lost by coal miners in wages because of the oil imports, and that American railroads are losing $100,000,000 a year for the same reason.

Pike County Resident Who Confessed Murder Found Dead in River

The body of Leo Justice, of Pikeville, was found Monday in the Russell Fork of the Big Sandy River, just north of Elkhorn City.

Lit Adkins, of Pikeville, found the body just before state police were to drag the river for Justice. He was reported missing Sunday but was last seen alive March 28 in Elkhorn City. He had fled from a policeman in Elkhorn City two days before.

Justice, 29, was one of several persons who confessed to the slaying of Muriel Baldrige here in July, 1949. The confession was disproved.

State Police Sgt. E. L. Cornett and Constable Charles Cantrell, of Elkhorn City, said there were no marks of foul play evident on Justice's body when they dragged it from the river. An autopsy Tuesday failed to indicate death by violence.

Among Justice's survivors are his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Elswick Justice, and a brother, Magistrate Taylor "Doc" Justice, of Garden Village.

Teaberry Resident Fined For Setting Forest Fire; Burchett Issues Warning

Willis Hamilton, of Teaberry, paid a fine and costs totaling $34.50 in circuit court here last week for starting a forest fire. The offense, committed last spring, was burning garden trash and weeds before the legal hour of 4:30 p.m. The forest fire occurred when the flames escaped to the nearby woods.

Forrest Burchett, forest warden of this and the two adjoining counties of Johnson and Magoffin, said that he also obtained a conviction in the Magoffin county court last week. This Magoffin case was the first prosecution for setting a forest fire in that county.

This year has seen only three small fires in this county, Burchett said, and these were put out immediately after they were started. He has initiated a system of "flying squadrons" that has been copied by the state organization, and these teams get to a fire much more quickly than under the old system.

"The burning of garden trash at this time of the year is one of the best ways for a careless man to set out a forest fire," Burchett said. He issued a warning that violators of the forest fire prevention laws would be prosecuted, whether it was accidental or not. "These fires, destroying our timber resources, must stop," he added.

Surviving sons and daughters are Willie Conn, Harley Conn, Mrs. Pearl Sammons, Mrs. Gracy Kilburn, Mrs. Mary Conn, Mrs. Melster Maggard, all of Martin, Douglas Conn, of Martin, Miss May and Verlie Conn, both at home. Surviving brothers and sisters are Emmett Conn and Columbus Conn, both of Martin, Mrs. Gracie Akers, of Betsy Layne, and a half-sister, Mrs. Lou Boyd, of Dana.

Funeral rites were conducted last Sunday at the Arkansas Creek schoolhouse, the Revs. Henry Parson, Estill Hughes and Webb officiating. Burial followed in the John Lee Adkins cemetery on Arkansas Creek under the direction of Hall Bros. Funeral Home.

The Prestonsburg clinics will be held at the health department offices; elsewhere, they will be at the school in each community designated.

Operation of two clinics on the same day is made possible by the organization of two regular teams, one headed by Mr. Clark and the other by John Milton Stumbo, of the health department. Each team will include, in addition to its administrator, a physician, two nurses, two clinic aides and a recorder. Dr. John Sizemore, of the health department, will work with one team; a doctor from the community where the clinic is held, with the other. Auxiliary help will be recruited at the various clinic sites, and the Woman's Clubs of these communities already have designated an auxiliary chairman to be responsible for providing any local help needed.

Cooperating in the vaccination work is the Cumberland Field Station at West Prestonsburg. Mr. Clark said the Station has volunteered the services of two nurses, one clerical helper and vital equipment. Dr. Don Wysham, of the field station, also will be available for help if needed during the second and third vaccination rounds.

The clinic dates were set in accordance with plans of the supervisor of school buses for the county board of education. The supervisor has arranged for each teacher to be responsible for getting her pupils to and from the clinic, or if the teacher cannot do this to name a resident of the district who will be responsible. He will notify the teacher or other person acting in this capacity the place and hour at which the children will be picked up by school bus and transported to the nearest clinic.

The Salk vaccine will be flown to Pikeville, and from there will be distributed to the counties of this area.

COMBS CAREER SHOWN ON T-V

For First Time, TV Film Being Used in Campaign For High State Office

For the first time in the political history of Kentucky, a television film was used Monday in behalf of a candidate for public office.

The film depicted the life of Bert Combs, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor.

The 15-minute film was telecast to this section over WSAZ-TV, Huntington, W. V.

Scenes in the show were filmed at Manchester, where Combs was born; in Prestonsburg, where he lived before becoming a member of the Court of Appeals; in Lexington, where he lives now; in Frankfort, where he worked before entering the University of Kentucky and where served on the Court of Appeals.

Combs' early home life, his war service, his career as an attorney, public official and judge, and his family life are shown.

This film will be used not only on TV but will be available for use at political rallies throughout the state.

A narrative program, based on this film, will be broadcast over every radio station in the state. The radio schedule is not complete.

The March 29 opening of state campaign headquarters for Judge Combs, attracted the largest crowd ever seen at such an event in Kentucky.

With Combs on hand to greet the crowd, political observers said the opening in the Seelbach Hotel, Louisville, brought out more people than the kick-off last fall of Senator Alben W. Barkley's campaign.

The hotel management reported the crowd was the largest to visit the hotel within recent years in connection with any event. It was reported also that city fire inspectors on two different occasions halted the surge of visitors to the headquarters as a safety measure.

Facilities of the hotel were over-taxed as crowds jammed the lobby waiting for elevator service to the seventh floor headquarters.

Lieutenant Governor Emerson Beauchamp said the crowd was the largest he has ever seen. Gov. Beauchamp has attended openings for more than 30 years.

It was estimated that a total of 4,500 persons stopped in at the headquarters during the day. More than 2,900 persons actually signed the signature book for visitors. Approximately one-third of those going to the headquarters did not register.

Combs-Ponsetto Wedding Solemnized

The marriage of Miss Vyvan Combs, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Combs, of Prestonsburg, and Mr. Louis Ponsetto, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ponsetto, Leechburg, Pa., was solemnized at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, March 9, at the Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church here. The pastor, the Rev. Ira McMillen, Jr., officiated at the single-ring ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, C. Kilmer Combs, of Prestonsburg, wore a gown of nylon tulle and chintilly lace. The molded bodice of lace was fashioned with short, shirred sleeves and a portrait neckline detailed with seed pearls and sequins. Shirred tulle mitts extended into points over her hands. The billowy skirts of tulle and lace was worn over multiple hoops and crinolines and was accented by a sequin-studded hip flounce and continued to form the cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of imported illusion was held in place by a lace crown touched with iridescent sequins and pearls, and she carried white orchids and lilies of the valley.

The matron of honor, Mrs. C. Kilmer Combs, wore a gown of aquamarine blue silk taffeta fashioned with a petal-shaped strapless bodice, worn with a detachable fichu of matching taffeta. The sweeping skirt of tulle over taffeta was styled with a polonaise draped apron of taffeta forming a bustle at the back. She wore a head-dress of tulle petals touched with pearls.

The bridesmaids, whose dresses were identical to that of the matron of honor, were Miss Toby Jo Spradlin, of Prestonsburg, Miss Jacqueline Theobald, Grayson, Ky., and Miss Carol McGinnis, Greenup, Ky. The matron of honor carried deep pink camellias, and the bridesmaids' flowers were pale pink camellias.

Mr. George Glenn, of Leechburg, Pa., served as best man. Ushers were George Fugate, Lexington, Ky., James Cooper, Salyersville, Ky., Jack Llewellyn, Lexington, Ky., Richard Firestone, Versailles, Ky., and Ed Sensor, Leechburg, Pennsylvania.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church annex.

sented the problems of the industry to the President. One item cited by the speaker in this report was the fact that the cost of transporting coal from this field to Newport News, Va., is $4.30 a ton, whereas the cost of transporting a ton of iron ore from Newport News to Middletown, O., the same distance traveled by the coal shipment, is only $3.30. Such figures deeply impressed the President, Francis said. The Fleming report asked:

That natural gas prices be permitted to seek their own level. For 15 years these prices have been held down, creating an unfair competitive problem for coal and oil.

That the importation of residual oil be reduced.

That freight rates on coal be revised downward.

That the government's buying policy be corrected.

Concluding his talk, the speaker called on each of his hearers to attend church. "The Church, with education, is basic, and on these depend the hope and salvation of this valley," he declared.

Walter Crace, president of the Pecco Club, presided, and Frank Music, program chairman, acted as toastmaster. A highlight of the program was the singing of the David Teen-Agers under the direction of Mrs. Chalmer H. Frazier, of Prestonsburg.

Of this group Mr. Francis said, "This is one of the finest groups I have ever heard. There must be some proud parents here tonight." The Teen-Agers are members of families connected with Princess Elkhorn.

BELL STRIKE IN FIFTH WEEK

Agreement Is No Nearer Than Day Workers Quit, Local Union Head Says

Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Company employees are in their fifth week of strike, and Fred A. James, president of local 3317, Communications Workers of America, said here this week the company and its employees apparently are no nearer agreement now than the day workers quit.

At the same time Mr. James commented on "incidents" reported from other states and other sections of Kentucky in connection with the strike. "We absolutely do not condone cable-cutting, and our orders are not to destroy property of any kind," he said.

James expressed the belief that sympathizers with the union, those of the more rabid sort, may be responsible for some of the trouble. "We have cable trouble here when there is no strike," he said. "Some people shoot through the cables. But of course I can't speak for those of other sections."

Picket lines are being maintained at both the Paintsville and Pikeville offices of the company, and the office here was picketed one day. Except for a minor scuffle or two and a bit of egg-throwing, the strike has been on the quiet side in this section.

Local telephone service has been maintained, but long distance calls are on occasion almost impossible because of the failure of an operator to answer.

Mrs. Pearl Lewis Clark, Age 53, of Endicott, Dies; Burial on Buffalo Creek

Mrs. Pearl Lewis Clark, 53, of Endicott, died at home, Thursday of last week. She was a victim of a heart condition.

Mrs. Clark was a daughter of the late George and Mahala Sparks Lewis, of Mare Creek, and was married to Tom Clark, who survives. Surviving also are the following sons and daughters: James and Douglas Clark, both of Endicott, Rutherford Clark, of Hazel Park, Mich.; Mrs. Uel Lyons, of Guilmore, Pike county; Mrs. Amos Blackburn, of Endicott; Mrs. Howard Goble, of Lancaster, Miss Ruby and Jackie, both at home. Two brothers, Milton and Ballard Lewis, both of Betsy Layne, survive, and also 16 grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted at 11 a.m., in the Clark cemetery, on Buffalo Creek, the Revs. Forester Prater and Carl Layne officiating. Burial was made under the direction of Moore Funeral Home.

RESEARCH STEPPED UP
 During the decade of progress just ending, the American Cancer Society sponsored 2,025 grants in aid, 297 institutional research and special purpose grants, and 513 research fellowships and scholar grants to accelerate the search for a cancer cure.

American Cancer Society statistics show that more than 800 Americans die of cancer daily.

Elliott Prater, Age 49, Former Floyd Coroner, Is Heart Attack Victim

Elliott Prater, 49 years old, former Floyd county Coroner, died of a heart attack recently at a Kenton, O. hospital. He was stricken at his home on Route 2, Kenton, and died shortly thereafter.

A son of the late Nelson and Mary Prater, he was a native of this county. He had resided on the farm near Kenton about 10 years, and was employed as a crane operator for the Marion Steam Shovel Company.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Josephine Tackett Prater and 12 children: Charles Prater, Mrs. Wanda Lee Hicks and Mrs. Audrey Fern Mosley, all of Lima, O.; Mrs. Billie Jean Whitten, Frostproof, Fla.; Mrs. Kathleen Holbrook and Mrs. Betty Lou Holbrook, both of Ada, O.; Pfc. Wayne Prater, of the U. S. army, stationed in Germany; Elliott Prater, Jr., Myrtle Irene, Christine, Geraldine and Edward Prater, all of Kenton, O., R. 2. He also leaves one brother, Muncie Prater, of Lackey, and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Napier, of Lackey, and Mrs. Ida Sexton, of Lexington.

Burial was made at Kenton, Ohio.

CUTS GROCERY BILLS

Mrs. Emery Hook of Carlisle county estimated that their grocery expenses were cut in half after they bought a milk cow and a home freezer.

bending and jerking like mad, and up he came with a conger eel just shy of 10 pounds. After pinching himself soundly to make sure he wasn't dreaming, he threw in his line again and in quick succession landed 13-pound and 16-pound eels.

His body was found sprawled over his catch. Doctors said he had suffered a heart attack.

Well, his bad luck still held, I suppose, but at least he must have died happy.

In Norwich Conn., a Mrs. Annie Sudd was fined this week $1,000 for dragging a man's body lashed to the rear of her car over seven miles of road and then dumping the corpse into a lake. Said she did it in a state of panic after the man dropped dead in her home.

And folks say screwball verdicts are written in Floyd county courts!

Civics Class Is Conducted On Tour of Local Offices

The Martin high school's freshman civic class was conducted on a tour of the local government offices here two weeks ago by its teacher David Leslie. Visits were made to all the courthouse offices and were conducted through the publishing plant of The Floyd County Times. The trip from Martin to Prestonsburg was made by bus.

FARM NOTES

By O. E. BOGGS
 County Agent

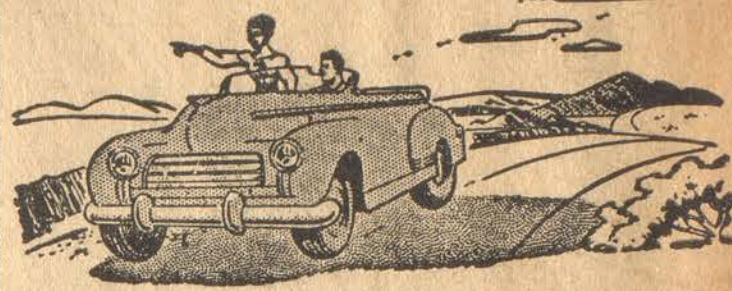

Farm operators, beginning with 1955, are compulsory covered under social security just as is any other self-employed business man, and they will, therefore, pay their social security tax along with their income tax return for 1955 by April 15, 1956. If the farmer does not have a social security account number, he should secure one from the nearest social security district office before his first tax return is due. If he needs tax information he should contact the nearest district office of the Internal Revenue service.

Many more farm workers are also covered under social security for the first time beginning with 1955. Farm workers who met strict regularity-of-employment tests have been covered since January 1, 1951. Now the new law brings into the system any farm worker who receives at least $100 cash wages from a farm employer in one year. No specific number of days will have to be worked.

Farm hands who do not have a social security account number card should secure one right away. Any farm employer or employee should check with his nearest social security office to learn just what his rights and responsibilities are under the new social security law.

Mentally Retarded Group Is Legislative Subject
Introduced in Congress

Bills have been introduced in the 84th Congress which are very important to all friends and parents of the mentally retarded. This legislation falls into two categories and provides benefits to parents and guardians of mentally and physically handicapped persons who are totally disabled or unable to engage in remunerative employment.

First category would grant additional tax exemption to a taxpayer supporting a dependent who is blind or otherwise disabled permanently (included retarded). The second category would amend Title II of the Social Security Act, to provide for the payment of child's insurance benefits to certain individuals who are over 18, but unable to engage in regular work due to above disabilities. At present this insurance is paid for a dependent only to age 18. If these bills become law, it means that any person who is entitled to Social Security benefits may receive extension of the same benefits for his retarded child, even tho the child be past 18. If a person covered by Social Security should die, his wife or spouse will be entitled to additional benefits for the retarded person over the age of 18, as if the dependent was actually a child.

Bill H.R. 4278 provides an additional exemption of $600, or a total of $1,200 on federal income tax for the parent or guardian of a permanently disabled retarded child.

Congressman Frank Chelf, of the Fourth Kentucky district, has introduced H. R. 2569 which is also along these lines.

Floyd county residents are being urged to contact or write their Congressmen and ask for active support of these bills.

"Every Floyd countian with a heart for the future of the retarded child in our midst ought to sit down and at once drop a card or a note to his or her Congressman asking full support of any and every measure that will lift the heart-breaking load from the retarded child and the parent," Mrs. Charlotte Martin, of the Floyd Council for Retarded Children, said.

Letcher Businessmen
Buy 200 Miners' Homes
At Millstone and Seco

WHITESBURG, Ky., April 4 — Four Whitesburg businessmen have purchased about 200 miners' homes in nearby Millstone and Seco from the South-East Coal Co., it was disclosed today.

Harry Laviers, of Paintsville South-East president, said the transaction was closed Saturday for approximately $80,000.

The buyers were D. W. Little, William Conley, Herman Hale and Melvin Adams. They were represented as the Millico Company.

Laviers said, "We just decided to stay in the coal business instead of real estate." The company obtained the property years ago to enable employes to live near the workings. Laviers added that the holdings became unnecessary as transportation and highways improved.

The houses probably will be resold, with present occupants having the choice of buying or vacating.

A few officials' homes, not included in the deal, may be sold at a later date, Laviers said.

Would Reactivate
Local Bar Units

Louisville, Ky., April 5 (Spl.)—A program to reactivate County Bar Associations is at the top of the agenda for the State Bar organization for the ensuing year, it was declared here by Seldon Y. Trimble, IV, Hopkinsville, new president of the State Association.

There are only 55 functioning local units throughout the state now, and it is contemplated to have a complete set of local bar associations in 120 counties during the next year.

"We realize that the way to have a strong State Bar is for equally strong local bar associations," Trimble said. "The chain is no stronger than its weakest link. If we expect a virile, healthy State Bar Association it must, in turn, be supported by equally healthy local bar associations."

Mr. Trimble was inducted as president of the State Bar Association at its annual session in Louisville last week. Lorimer W. Scott, Newport, was installed as vice-president. The strengthening of local bar units will be undertaken by both Trimble and Scott, and other members of their staff during the coming year.

Among those from the Prestonsburg Bar Association area in attendance at last week's sessions of the Association, according to H. H. Harned, secretary, were: Bert T. Combs, Fred G. Francis, Joe Hobson, Harris S. Howard, J. W. Howard, C. Kilmer Combs, Paul C. Combs, Barkley J. Sturgill, and Robert S. Wellman.

HOTTEST BUICK IN HISTORY
No wonder you see so many '55 Buicks on the highways — they're rolling up bigger sales than ever before in history — topping the popularity that has already made Buick one of the "Big Three" of America's best sellers.

Today's the day to "Join The Test Pilot Club" and see what a thrill you get when you try Variable Pitch Dynaflo®

We're not kidding.

When you try a '55 Buick with Variable Pitch Dynaflo, you'll feel like a pilot does when he heads his plane down a runway for take-off.

For you, in the driver's seat, are doing what that pilot does—you're changing the pitch of your propellers—one way for instant response on getaway—another way for better gas mileage in cruising.

Your propellers are whirling in oil, deep inside the Dynaflo unit. When you press the pedal in the normal way, you hold those propellers in their economy angle—and you enjoy plenty more miles from your gasoline.

But when you want instant acceleration—for quick getaway, or for a sudden safety-surge of emergency power—you just press the pedal way down, and—with absolute smoothness—you get the action you want, and split-second quick.

It's the thrill that's the talk of the industry — performance unlike anything you have ever known before on the ground.

And so many folks have been asking to try it that we Buick dealers across America have set up April as "Test Pilot Club" Month. All it takes to join the "Club" is a test drive at the wheel of a new Buick. That's all.

So we cordially invite you to win your "wings"—to try the spectacular performance of Variable Pitch Dynaflo—and to feel the mighty V8 power that puts the whip to these gorgeous new Buick beauties. Drop in this week.

*Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Demonstration Seed Due in Two Months

S.H. Phillips, field agent in agronomy, of the Extension Service, notified O. E. Boggs, county agent, recently, that in two weeks growers of hybrid seed corn will supply farmers here with all the varieties of the grain with which to make a demonstration. The variety test is in the plan of work of the extension service, it was said.

The corn will be in four pound packages and ready for distribution as soon as received, Phillips said.

WHO WASN'T ON THE SPOT?

Plant Grower Thought He Was; Floyd-co. Group Was Equally Worried

Several months ago the Floyd County Strawberry Association in optimistic mood optioned half a million plants from the Mullins Plant Farm, in Tennessee. It sounded easy at the time, but as things developed getting rid of that many plants was no "snap." A few times the committee despaired, beat their pillows till the wee, sma' hours.

Near the end of the struggle, Mullins complained of a shortage, began to beg the Association to substitute varieties, offered a price reduction, eased up considerably in terms, which put the Association in a position to purchase the plants. Finally a check for $2,192.12 went out to Mullins from the Association, completing the Floyd group's obligation.

Then Mullins wrote the Association expressing his appreciation: "We are grateful for your co-operative spirit in helping us out of a tough spot. We trust some day we can return the favor."

It may be news to Mr. Mullins, but he wasn't alone on the tough spot.

HAT-MAKING

The hat-making project is one "to make use of for years to come," in the opinion of homemakers in Southern Madison-Rockcastle counties.

INCOME RISE

Approximately 39 out of every 100 families in the nation expect to be making more money in another year, while 6 per cent expect a drop in income, according to a report by the Federal Reserve Board. The survey also showed that the buying public plans to spend more for houses, furniture and appliances in the coming year. Fewer families plan to buy new cars, but they expect to pay more for those they buy.

Moore Announces For Senator

E. M. (Earnest) Moore, of Topmost, Knott county, Kentucky, seeks Senatorial seat in 29th Senatorial District composed of Knott, Floyd, and Martin counties.

I take this opportunity to announce my candidacy for the office of Senator of the 29th Senatorial District and to state my position on a few of the major issues that I feel should receive serious consideration by the people of our state. These issues are as follows:

I shall use all of my ability and energy to fight for repeal of the very unfair "Old Age Assistance Lien Law."

I shall use every honorable means at my command to see that the Minimum Foundation Law is fully financed.

My conscience directs me to feel very strongly that we should show our appreciation to our boys who fought and bled for us and finally brought us victory in World War II and the Korean War. I shall introduce a bill and work with all my prayer for its passage that will give these boys a long overdue State Soldiers' Bonus.

These and other issues will be discussed by me from time to time as the campaign progresses.

KENTUCKIAN TO BE PICKED

State's Young Farmer To Be Given Honor By Ashland Jaycees

The outstanding Young Farmer of Kentucky is to be named and honored at the annual convention of the Kentucky Junior Chamber of Commerce, at Ashland, April 27, 28. The search for the young agriculturist to be singled out is now being conducted throughout the state as a part of a nationwide program aimed at honoring the four Outstanding Young Farmers of America.

The national program is co-sponsored by the United States Jaycees and the American Petroleum Institute Committee on Agriculture, and the top four young farmers to be feted at a special banquet in Minneapolis, June 2.

The Kentuckian who is selected will receive complete expenses for his trip to attend Ashland convention and the Minneapolis banquet, according to Wendell Ford, of Owensboro, Kentucky Jaycee president, who announced the program in Kentucky. The four who are selected for national honors will receive valuable prizes. Young farmers to be eligible for nomination for the award must be between the ages of 21 and 35, inclusive, and must earn a major part of their living from their farms in addition to having made contributions to agricultural progress and community life.

Deadline for filing nominations is April 18, Ford said, pointing out that nomination blanks may be obtained by writing Frank Savage, Kentucky Jaycees Executive Vice President, 317 Fincastrle Building, Louisville, Kentucky. Information about the program may be obtained also from Jaycee Vice President, John Whisman, Division of Publicity, Frankfort, who is directing the Kentucky phase of the selection program, or from James Stagg, Paris, Ky., state Jaycee Agricultural Committee chairman.

Cpl. Arthur Boyd, Jr., In Ft. Knox Operation

FORT KNOX, KY. — Cpl. Arthur Boyd, Jr., whose wife, Geneva, lives in Wayland, Ky., is a member of the "Aggressor" force which will take part in the Army-Navy maneuver, Exercise High Tide, in April at Camp Pendleton, Va.

The exercise is an amphibious operation involving 6,000 men. It is designed to develop close inter-service teamwork in operational and logistical planning.

The "Aggressor" force, composed of elements of the 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment from Fort Knox, Ky., will provide opposition for the main units.

Boyd, a cook in the regiment, entered the Army in April 1953. His parents live in Manton.

Day Law Still Valid On Race Integration

Frankfort, Ky., April 12 (Spl.) — Kentucky would not institute action for violation of the Day Law if a school district should decide to integrate white and Negro pupils next school year but the state would have to prosecute if a local citizen objecting to integration should bring suit.

That is the opinion of J. D. Buckman, Jr., State attorney general, who pointed out that the Day Law, which prohibits integration of pupils, has not yet been declared invalid by the United States Supreme Court. Buckman said that, undoubtedly, the Day Law will meet the same fate that other states' segregation laws have met at the hands of the court but that until that happens he is bound by his office to enforce it when asked.

Bookmobile Training Set June 13, July 12

Frankfort, Ky., April 12 (Spl.) — Bookmobile driver-librarians will be among those to receive training at a librarian workshop at the University of Kentucky June 13 to July 12. The course is to be sponsored by the University, the State Division of Library Extension and the State Department of Education.

The workshop will be divided into two sections. One will be for librarians on the Bookmobiles and the other will be for librarians in schools and public libraries.

A $1,500 scholarship fund has been provided by Mrs. Rena B. Martin, Lexington, for the use of Bookmobile librarians and heads of small public libraries. The fund is in memory of Mrs. Martin's husband, the Rev. M. Arthur Martin.

Why Millions Call Him "HOLY FATHER"

Catholic loyalty to the Pope is the cause of never-ending amazement to many non-Catholics.

They wonder how an exclusively spiritual leader can command the devotion of nearly four hundred millions of people. They cannot explain why this vast religious family... representing every race, color, language and political belief on the face of the earth... lives and grows through the ages, while man-made empires have their day of glory and then disappear.

What is there about this one man that causes people to speak of him in a hundred tongues as "Holy Father"?

We find the answer, of course, not necessarily in the holiness of the man himself, but in his Christ-given office. The answer is found by tracing the history of the Catholic Church... the history of 262 successive Popes... back through nearly 2,000 years to Christ Himself.

We know as a matter of historical fact that Christ did establish His Church... that He commissioned the Apostle Peter as its first head... that He sent His Apostles forth to reach men to observe all things He had commanded.

We know from the New Testament that the Church was actually organized... that it was governed by the Apostles under the leadership of Peter... that it was teaching Christ's truth far and wide, long before the last book of the New Testament was written and the books of the Bible were collected into one volume.

Christ's purpose in organizing a Church was to make certain that the good news of Redemption would be preached to all men... to accomplish this with fallible men, required that He establish a Church—divinely protected from error in transmitting His teaching through the centuries.

The Catholic Church traces its unbroken history back to the Apostles—back to Christ. And Catholics today call Pope Pius XII "Holy Father" because he is the lawful and historical successor to Peter, the first Pope. He is in our time... as Peter was in the first century... the Vicar of Christ on earth.

Would you like to know more about the Pope... why the promises made by Christ to Peter and his successors make the Pope the most important man in the world? Then write today for a pamphlet which we shall send you free and without any obligation. Ask for Pamphlet No. KY-1.

SPORTS AFIELD

"A wilderness area may be defined as a country of solitude where Nature is at its best, a country free from destruction wrought by man and the sights and sounds of modern civilization. In few regions of the world are found such varied and priceless retreats and masterpieces of Nature as lie along the crests of the Appalachian Mountains in our East, and the Cascade, Sierra Nevada and Sierra Madre Mountains in our West." So claims Col. Townsend Whelen, campaigning editor of Sports Afield magazine.

"Along the trails that traverse these, the lovers of the unspoiled outdoors can wander, pitch their little camps and open up their sleeping bags under pine trees, in view of gorgeous peaks, in crisp air, in solitude and silence except for the singing of the birds, the tinkling of running water, and the swish and hum of wind through the trees." And all this is free to all of us, with no taint of commercialism, no license, no guide's charge. Our only obligation is to keep this country clean and unharmed.

The Appalachian Trail is a footpath extending for 2,050 miles from Mount Oglethorpe in Georgia to Mount Katahdin in Maine. It crosses the wilderness area along the crests of the Great Smokey, Blue Ridge, Allegheny and Catskill Mountains, through the Berkshire Hills, the Green and White Mountains, and finally the lake and mountain country of Maine.

This trail is a volunteer recreational project. It is supervised and maintained by the Appalachian Trail Conference with headquarters at 1916 Sunderland Place, N.W., Washington 6, D. C. On receipt of 35 cents in coin the Conference will mail a pamphlet, "Suggestions for Appalachian Trail Users," which gives general information and lists other helpful books.

The Pacific Crest Trailway extends from Canada to Mexico for a total of about 2,156 miles, passing through many national forests and parks, and skirting the most famous mountains—Ranier, Adams, Hood, Shasta and Whitney. It passes through Sequoia and Yosemite Parks. It has been built and is maintained by the U. S. Forest Service and the National Parks Service.

It is not a trail for picnic parties; it is a wilderness trailway for expert backpackers—a "true nature trail." To publicize it the Pacific Crest Trail System Conference was organized with headquarters at Pasadena, Calif. The Sierra Club 1050 Mills Tower, San Francisco, 4, has done much to bring public attention to the trail. Both publish numerous bulletins and books on the trail.

Floyd Honor Students Among Those Invited To Annual Honor Fete

Pikeville, Ky., April 11 (Spl.) — Eight Floyd countians have received invitations to Pikeville Junior College's annual Honor Banquet, Saturday night.

The occasion, held annually to salute those making honor grades at Pikeville, will be highlighted by the presence of the full executive committee of the National Council of Women's Organizations of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A.

Only 83 of Pikeville's nearly 300 students will be guests at the affair, which honors those who have made average grades of "B" or better at the two-year school. Dr. A. A. Page, college president, said today. Including freshmen, sophomores, and part-time students, they represent six Eastern Kentucky counties and four other states. Also included is Pikeville's only foreign student, He-Bong Kim, of Seoul, Korea.

Other honor students, determined on either their grades last semester or all their work at Pikeville to date, come from Pike, Letcher, Martin, Johnson, and Harlan counties, Kentucky; Mingo, Logan, and Wayne counties, West Virginia; and the states of Ohio, Michigan and Minnesota.

Floyd county honor students expected at the banquet are Helen Akers, Grethel, Adrianna Hayes, Lackey; Betty Meade and William R. Smith, Weeksbury; Douglas Smith, Allen; Jack D. Stephens, Huysville; Grady Wallace, Mare Creek; and Patsy Ruth Webb, Auxier.

The executive committee of the National Council of Presbyterian Women, which is scheduled to be present in a body, includes Mrs. J. R. Salisbury, Kansas City, Mo., council president; Mrs. Glen G. Avery, Scottsbluff, Neb.; Mrs. E. Lansing Bennett, Salisbury, Md.; Mrs. R. G. Carl, Enid, Okla.; Mrs. Lelilyn M. Cox, Wausau, Wis.; Mrs. A. R. Jewel, Inola, Calif.; Mrs. Charles W. Olds, Duluth, Minn.; Mrs. Stuart D. Taylor, Vineland, N. J.; Mrs. Harold R. Tolliver, Pittsburgh, Penna.; and Mrs. Howard D. Washburn, Kentland, Ind.

Head Coach Blanton Collier, of the University of Kentucky football team, came to Prestonsburg, a school which has supplied two of his team's outstanding grid prospects, to help the Prestonsburg Athletic Association and Kiwanis Club do honor last Thursday to the school's athletes of 1954-1955 and their coach, Doc Ferrell.

"When and if the time comes that I have to leave the University of Kentucky," Coach Collier said, "I hope I can leave with the goodwill that you people have for Coach Ferrell." He added that he may, in a way, be to blame for Prestonsburg losing Ferrell to Owensboro. "The Owensboro people asked me what I thought of him. I told them, and I don't know if they hired Doc because of what I said or in spite of it."

One part of Collier's address was that of straight football coach; another was that of philosopher and psychologist. Turning to the theme of Dr. Norman Vincent Peale's "The Power of Positive Thinking," he pointed out that the ability of each individual player depends on his thinking and his attitude toward the game and life itself.

The banquet began with Coach Ferrell expressing his appreciation for the fine treatment he has received here. Thanking many groups for their encouragement, he said he "couldn't have made a finer choice of a place to start coaching".

Ferrell's great record here was cited by Collier. Since he came to Prestonsburg Ferrell's grid teams have set one of the greatest grid records in the state, winning 49 games while losing only 16, meanwhile winning two Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference championships and one Big Sandy Conference title. Two of his teams went through their regular seasons undefeated.

Lowell Hughes, junior all-state quarterback, carried off enough awards to stock a trophy room. He and Bert Dixon, all-state end, received the football awards, then Hughes was awarded trophies for excelling in these basketball departments: free shot, most rebounds, best field goal percentage and best all-round player. Ronnie Goebel was awarded the basketball trophy as most valuable player to his team.

PREVENT FOREST FIRES

TREES GROW AND REPLACE THEMSELVES: Millions of new trees spring up in the woods every year from seed.

TREES NEED PROTECTION: Forest industries and other tree farmers spend millions of dollars a year to protect timber crops from fire and pests. You can help by always being careful with fire.

TREES ARE A CROP: Like other living things, trees grow, mature and eventually die. When old trees die and decay in the woods, everyone loses. Tree farmers harvest timber like a crop, and grow new crops of trees. Forest industries and other woodland owners grow timber crops as a business like farmers grow corn, wheat or cotton.

Void Highway Authority Act Leaves Kentucky
With Fuel Needs, Said

The biennial meeting of five county Petroleum Industries committees in this area was held at Herald hotel, Paintsville, Monday night. Members of Floyd, Johnson, Magoffin, Martin and Morgan counties Petroleum Industries committees attended.

Ellis Whitt, chairman of the Johnson county committee, presided, and Herbert L. Clay, state executive secretary of the Kentucky Petroleum Industries Committee was the principal speaker. Mr. Clay said that the voiding of the Highway Authority Act by the Court of Appeals leaves Kentucky with the unsolved problem of securing funds for the much needed quick completion of our state arterial highway system. With the revenue bond plan "out of the window" it seems necessary that a bond issue program be submitted to the voters so as to complete our main highways in four or five years and repay the bonds during the next 20 to 25 years from current highway revenue.

Clay said that Kentucky, with the highest gasoline tax in the nation, would be unable to bring our main highways up to adequate standards in less than 20 years at current expenditure rates, and some form of borrowing appears to be the only answer to this grave problem.

The speaker called for greater public interest in promoting highway safety which is the No. 1 objective of the oil industry in Kentucky. He commended enforcement officers and the courts for increased vigilance and punishment of willful traffic violators, but called for even greater efforts to enforce moving traffic laws.

The committee endorsed as targets for the next two years the following:

1. To promote highway safety.
2. Tax gasoline fairly (Kentuckians now pay a 40% state and federal tax on gasoline.)
3. Plan future highways so as to secure the maximum road value for every dollar expended.
4. Assist public officials to prevent evasion of gasoline taxes.
5. Continue to work for the repeal of the federal gasoline tax.
6. Work for fair and equal taxes on all business in Kentucky cities.

At the biennial election of officers held at the same meeting, the following were elected to lead the Floyd County committee:

Marvin Music, Gulf Refining Company distributor, Prestonsburg, chairman; Henry Mullins, Ashland Oil Company dealer, Hueysville, vice-chairman; C. R. Marshall, Standard Oil Co., Weeksbury, secretary.

154 ACCIDENTAL DEATHS
 Accidents in the United States during 1954 killed 91,000 persons and injured 9,200,000. The estimated economic loss was nearly $10,000,000,000. Automobiles were responsible for 36,300 of the deaths—a reduction of five per cent from the 28,300 motor fatalities in 1953 and the lowest total since 1950. The all-time record high was 39,909 in 1941.

FASTEST KNOWN PAIN RELIEF FOR ARTHRITIC, RHEUMATIC VICTIMS—NOW AVAILABLE

Seven "Film-Coated" Ingredients Offer Positive Relief

The crippling, torturing, twisting pain of Arthritis and Rheumatism may soon be forgotten, thanks to an exciting new laboratory discovery named Ar-Pan-Ex. Ar-Pan-Ex was perfected by a noted scientist of a world-famed university, working with all known facts about these crippling ailments. The result is a safe, easy-to-take tablet that promotes the fastest relief known from that stubborn enemy.

Ar-Pan-Ex is compounded of seven active ingredients including a special new medicine to help provide longer lasting relief. Ar-Pan-Ex exclusively perfected to curb chronic, deep-seated pains.

Why AR-PAN-EX Helps
 Ar-Pan-Ex does not dissolve uselessly in the stomach—avoids stomach distress. Ar-Pan-Ex is scientifically "Film-Coated" so that ALL the powerful, pain-relieving medicine is released only in the small intestine where it can be quickly carried by the blood stream to every pain-wracked muscle joint and nerve. Swelling, stiffness and soreness may seem to be miraculously eased when Ar-Pan-Ex helps the system throw off excess Uric Acid that can also aggravate pains.

Nothing Like AR-PAN-EX
 Nothing ever offered before can bring results faster, more effectively or with longer lasting benefits than Ar-Pan-Ex. It may mean a renewed life of usefulness and pleasure to millions.

Ask for genuine Ar-Pan-Ex today at any drug store for the kind of relief no other product can claim to equal. If your druggist is out of it, he will be glad to order it for you.

DISTRICT OFFICERS MEET
 The W.S.C.S. district president, Mrs. Harold Schmauch, of Ashland, and Mrs. Ross Scott, of Platwoods, Ky., secretary of the Status of Women, and members of the Prestonsburg, Martin and Allen Societies met with the Maytown W.S.C.S. Thursday evening. Mrs. Jones Talent and Mrs. Frank Stewart were hostesses. A short business meeting was held prior to the program. The officers and committees gave their reports. It was voted that the W. S. C. S. purchase a new piano for the church.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Henry L. May presented the program, "The Unity of Faith." Members taking part in the program were Mesdames Elizabeth S. Allen, Raymond Hopson, Thurmial Click, Thomas Patrick, Howard Ramey and James Allen.

Mrs. Schmauch and Mrs. Scott gave a short, interesting talk and Mrs. Schmauch dismissed the meeting with prayer. A fellowship hour was then enjoyed in the church basement. Refreshments were served to 12 members from Allen, 11 from Martin, three from Prestonsburg, 15 from Maytown and guests, Mrs. Schmach and Mrs. Scott. The next meeting will be at Mrs. Arnold Cassady's home with Mrs. Henry L. May, co-hostess, and Mrs. Frank Stewart, program leader.

Mr. and Mrs. Dial Salisbury, Judy, Fred and Bill, of Lucasville, Ohio, have been visiting their daughters, Mrs. Ed Stewart and Mrs. Claude Webb, and families.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurmial Click, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ramey, Glennis and Stannie were visitors in Lexington, Wednesday.

Misses Janette Manuel, Alice Jean Gibson, and Ronda Rowe, who are employed in Columbus, spent the Easter holidays with their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Hicks, Jr., and children, of St. Mary's Ohio, spent the week-end with his parents.

Mrs. Judson Hayes and Steve, of Zionsville, Indiana, spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. Amanda Patton.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stewart had as their dinner guests, Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Heinisch and Terry, of McDowell, and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Webb and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurmial Click and Jim B. Click were business visitors in Huntington, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Z. Presley, and Mrs. Lena Dudley were visiting relatives in Virginia, Easter Sunday.

RESOLUTION

ON THE LIFE OF
HARRY R. BURKE

WHEREAS, God in his infinite wisdom has seen fit to call from our midst, the Hon. Harry R. Burke, late a member of this Bar,

THEREFORE, BE IT REMEMBERED:

1. That in the passing of our beloved Colleague the Floyd County Bar Association has suffered the loss of one of its able, industrious and conscientious member.

2. The large number of clients to whom he rendered legal service in this section of Kentucky have suffered the loss of an able and energetic advocate of their cause; his neighbors and friends, a loyal and faithful advocate of upright and fair dealing; his family a kind, frugal and faithful husband and father, zealous of their welfare and protection.

3. That as a further mark of respect to our deceased Colleague that a copy of this resolution be entered upon the order book of this Court, and by proper entry upon the records of this association, and a copy be sent to the family, and one printed in the Floyd County Times, and one sent to the Kentucky State Bar Association to be published in the Kentucky State Bar Journal.

Respectfully submitted,
 J. B. Clarke, Chairman

Pfc. Sizemore Takes Part In Exercise Apple Jack

Fort Lewis, Wash. — Pfc. Willard Sizemore, of Orkney, Ky., is among 26,000 soldiers slated to participate in Exercise Apple Jack, during May, at the Yakima Firing Center near Fort Lewis, Wash.

Apple Jack will test the efficiency of infantry and support units in mountains and desert terrain. The simulated use of atomic weapons will be one of the conditions of the exercise.

Sizemore is a wireman in Headquarters Battery of the 2d Infantry Division Artillery at Fort Lewis.

A former employe of the Western Builder Co. in Dayton, Ohio, he entered the Army in January, 1954, and received basic training at Fort Knox.

Paid Recreation Leaders Needed In Appalachians, Regional Meet Announces

Young men and women who wish to go to college and prepare for a life of service may expect to find paid positions as recreation leaders according to reports at a southern conference held recently in Atlanta, Georgia. The meeting was sponsored by the Southern Regional Education Board and the National Recreation Association, and the participants from many agencies included representation from the Council of Southern Mountain Workers, a group concerned with 250 mountain counties in nine states of the Southern Appalachian region. The Council provides recreation leaders for pilot projects in cooperation with local sponsors, and is interested in recruiting trainees in this area.

The need for recreation leaders to serve in communities, mental hospitals and voluntary youth-serving agencies of the South, is growing more rapidly than college-trained workers can be provided. More than 4,200 full-time recreation leaders are now employed in the South and employers expect to nearly double this number in a five-year period, according to a two-year study just completed on the recreation leadership and training needs. The potential employment in the field is estimated to exceed 10,000 positions. Fourteen southern colleges and universities participating in the study reported far fewer graduates in recreation annually than are needed to meet the requirements of the expanding recreation field.

The report of the study published in book form under the title "Recreation As A Profession in the Southern Region," is the first to bring together detailed information about employment opportunities in the broad areas of recreation service. These facts have a double importance to mountain areas. They show opportunities for employment for Appalachian young people and they indicate ways in which communities can better serve their youth. The publication which interprets the present status of recreation leadership and analyzes the future possibilities may be secured from the National Recreation Association, 8 West Eighth Street, New York 11, New York.

WHY I Am FOR BERT COMBS for GOVERNOR

I talk to you as an average Floyd county citizen.

I haven't the slightest notion that, whoever is elected Governor of Kentucky, I will be asking him for any favors. I have no pet projects to further, no political ambitions, no yearning for political power or influence.

In short, I am just a private citizen with the ordinary desires of an ordinary man to see good government in our state, with the usual likes and dislikes and with the loyalties common to most of us.

I am for BERT COMBS for Governor, because I know him intimately, know of his great capacity and ability for service, his brilliance of mind and strength of character and the native honesty of the man.

If the people of Kentucky could before the August primary election come to know Bert Combs as I know him, I am convinced there would be no doubt of his nomination and election.

I know that some have said they would vote against him because the State Administration is supporting him. But let me ask this question: Is there anybody so naive that he thinks Happy Chandler would not have been glad to get the support of the Administration? And another question: Have you ever found a candidate supported only by the people you like?

If my memory serves, Mr. Chandler gladly accepted the support of a State Machine that functioned in high gear when he opposed Senator Barkley.

In this election I am for Eastern Kentucky's Bert Combs for yet another reason. He is a Democrat. In the weeks and months of the Presidential campaign between the Truman-Barkley ticket and Thomas E. Dewey, when most of us thought the Democratic cause was hopeless, and while Happy Chandler's newspaper at Versailles was actively supporting the J. Strom Thurmond Dixiecrat ticket, while Mrs. Chandler was helping to get Thurmond's name on the ballot in Kentucky, and while Mr. and Mrs. Chandler were royally entertaining the Thurmonds when the latter came to Kentucky—during this time Bert Combs was active in his support of Kentucky's own Barkley and the party's leader, President Truman. Bert Combs stood fast while others deserted what they thought was a sinking ship.

Again, I am for Bert Combs because I am a Floyd countian. For years now I have been arguing, and when not arguing have been agreeing with the argument, that the finest people in the world are in Eastern Kentucky, that our boys and girls are as bright as any in the world, and that Eastern Kentucky has been neglected too long. Most of us have argued that Kentucky should have a Governor from our section.

Now we have a chance to elect one. And I am for him.

May I add this: If I thought Judge Combs were not qualified and that he did not have those high qualities of mind and heart and soul that a Governor should have in order to serve all the people of every section of the Commonwealth, I could not in good conscience vote for him. But I know that Bert Combs will make Kentucky a great Governor and be a credit not only to the section of his birth but to the state as a whole.

Master Commissioner's Sale OF REAL ESTATE (Dewey Lake Area)

On Monday, April 25, 1955, at the hour of 1 p.m., at the front door of the courthouse in Prestonsburg, Floyd county, Kentucky, I will offer for sale at public outcry the real estate hereinafter described, on a credit of six months, purchaser to execute a sale bond bearing interest at 6% per annum, with good sureties acceptable to the commissioner, which bond shall have the force and effect of a judgment, upon which at maturity execution may issue, sales under which shall be for cash and without stay. This sale is being made obedient to a judgment of the Lawrence Circuit Court in case No. 1569-E, an action in which Laura Vires et als are plaintiffs and J. D. Nunery et als, defendants; and the sale is made for the purpose of effecting a settlement of the estate of James Nunery, deceased.

TRACT I. A tract of land on the waters of Johns Creek, Floyd county, Kentucky, consisting of the unsold portion of a boundary of land acquired by James Nunery by deed from Wm. Crider of date March 4, 1896, and of record in Deed Book "U" at page 226 in the office of the Clerk of the County Court of Floyd county; by a second deed from Wm. Crider of date June 15, 1893, of record in Deed Book "W" at page 373; deed from J. D. Fraley of date November 3, 1916, of record in Deed Book 47 at page 144; deed from Henry Taylor of date April 29, 1917, of record in Deed Book 49 at page 369, but excepting therefrom a certain tract of land conveyed by James Nunery to Lena Nunery Steele by deed of date April 2, 1934, of record in Deed Book 100 at page 16 of the aforesaid Clerk's office, leaving unsold approximately 175 acres to be the same more or less; and excepting therefrom all the Oil and Gas in and under the land so to be sold. Further excepting therefrom a certain portion of the land above mentioned which was taken by the U. S. Government in connection with the Dewey Reservoir project described as follows, to-wit:

"A tract of land situate in the State of Kentucky, County of Floyd on Bear Branch, a tributary of Johns Creek approximately 17.0 miles above the Dewey Dam and more particularly described as follows:

Beginning at a cross mark on a rock on the left descending bank of Bear Branch near the edge of a farm road approximately 1100 feet upstream from the intersection of Johns Creek and Bear Branch, said rock being a point in the line dividing lands of Lena Nunery Steele and the subject owner; thence, with and along the lands of said Steele,

N. 14 deg. 05 min. W 55 feet to a point in the said dividing line, said point being at or near the 690-foot contour above mean sea level as determined by a survey made by the Corps of Engineer in 1940; thence leaving the lands of said Steele and running upstream along the right descending bank of said branch, following generally the meanders of the said 690-foot contour and severing the lands of the subject owner as follows:

N. 51 deg. 29 min. E. 202 feet, N. 44 deg. 03 min. E. 270 feet, N. 45 deg. 30 min. E. 179 feet, N. 64 deg. 28 min. E. 105 feet to a point where the said 690-foot contour again intersects the line dividing lands of said Steele and the subject owner; thence with and along the said dividing line, S. 68 deg. 30 min. E. 58 feet to a point in the center of said Bear Branch; thence upstream along the center of said branch and continuing with the lands of said Steele, N. 22 deg. 20 min. E. 225 feet, N. 34 deg. 15 min. E. 117 feet to a point where the said 690-foot contour intersects the center of said branch, said point being in the line dividing lands of said Steele and the subject owner; thence leaving the center of Bear Branch and the lands of said Steele and running downstream along the left descending bank of Bear Branch following generally the meanders of the said 690-foot contour and severing the lands of the subject owner as follows:

S. 20 deg. 50 min. W 240 feet, S. 15 deg. 00 min. W 135 feet, S. 53 deg. 12 min. W 152 feet, S. 40 deg. 35 min. W 216 feet, S. 38 deg. 00 min. W 243 feet to a point in the line dividing land of said Steele and the subject owner; thence leaving the said 690-foot contour and with and along the lands of said Steele, N. 17 deg. 30 min. W 50 feet to a marked poplar, N. 17 deg. 30 min. W 20 feet to a point in the center of Bear Branch; thence downstream along the center of said branch, N. 87 deg. 00 min. W 130 feet, S. 68 deg. 53 min. W 55 feet; thence leaving the center of said branch and continuing with the lands of said Steele, N. 14 deg. 05 min. W 25 feet to the place of beginning, containing 3.44 acres, more or less, and being a part of the same land as that described in the following deeds:

Deed from William Crider et us, to James Nunery & Heirs, dated March 4, 1896 and recorded May 20, 1896 in Deed Book U Page 226. Deed from William Crider et al. to James Nunery & Heirs dated June 15, 1898 and recorded November 18, 1898 in Deed Book W, page 372. Deed from J. D. Fraley et al. to James Nunery dated November 3, 1916 and recorded November 11, 1916 in Deed Book 47, page 144. Deed from Henry Taylor to James Nunery, dated April 29, 1917 and recorded June 20, 1917 in Deed Book 49, page 369. The above deeds are in the records of Floyd county, Kentucky.

In addition to the above-described land, there is included herein all mineral except "oil and gas" underlying the adjacent land in a 200-foot barrier beyond elevation 690 feet (mean sea level), and being a part of the same land as described in the above-mentioned source deed (s)."

TRACT II. A tract of land on Tom's Branch, a tributary of Buffalo Creek in Floyd county, Kentucky, which was conveyed to James Nunery by Taubee Maynard by deed of date February 1, 1910, of record in Deed Book 42 page 8 in the office of the Clerk of the County Court of Floyd county, Kentucky, and described as follows:

"Beginning on two beeches on the bank of the branch below John Clay's garden; thence running a straight line to a black oak standing on top of the ridge between the Short Fork and Main Toms Branch; thence running with Emily Collins line to Wes James line; thence with Wes James line to a black locust corner, standing on top of the knob on the east side of Wes James branch; thence running with the calls of a deed that Poke Bevins made to W. M. Taylor and Elijah Maynard back near the mouth of the Solomon Fork to a dogwood and beech; thence a straight line down the Solomon Fork to the opposite side of Toms Branch to the old Haul road; thence with the calls of a deed that Poke Bevins made W. M. Taylor and Elijah Maynard back to two beeches, the beginning corner."

But excepting therefrom all the Oil and Gas in and under said land to be sold.

TRACT III. A tract of land on the waters of Johns Creek in Floyd county, Kentucky, which was conveyed to James Nunery by Jasper Turmire by deed of date October 1, 1913, and of record in Deed Book 49, page 367 in the office of the Clerk of the County Court of Floyd County, Kentucky, but excepting therefrom that certain portion which was taken by the U. S. Government in connection with the Dewey Reservoir, described as follows:

"Situate in the State of Kentucky, County of Floyd, on Coperas Creek, a tributary of Johns Creek, approximately 12.5 miles above the Dewey Dam, and more particularly, described as follows:

Beginning at a post corner common to the lands of L. J. Music Elsie Crider, and the subject owner; thence with the lands of said Crider, N. 77 deg. 00 min. W 123 feet; N. 86 deg. 02 min. WAYLAND

MRS. TURNER, GUEST-SPEAKER

On April 4, a program on Kentucky poets and writers was given by Mrs. M. M. Collins.

"Poetry is one of the oldest arts and one of the most persistent," said Mrs. Collins in her preliminary remarks.

The origin of poetry was traced from primitive to modern times. It was emphasized that poetry is meant to be heard as well as read; that each age makes its own poetry; poetry is not all in books. Only, it must be heard.

Mrs. Collins referred to several outstanding Kentucky poets and writers, and in so doing, introduced the guest-speaker, Mrs. V. O. Turner, as one in the Kentucky Hall of Fame.

Mrs. Turner read from her own compositions written at different stages in her life.

Her narrative poetry is predominantly Biblical; however, there is a trace of elegiac poetry as well. Her numerous characterizations are also outstanding. To hear them all read by the writer is a rare treat for any group.

Members were asked to list a favorite. Among them were: "Lot's Wife," "Christmas," "She Slept First," "Fountain Land" and "Dedication to Mildred."

During a short business session, Mrs. R. F. Vinson volunteered to take charge of the Polo drive.

A dessert course was served by Mrs. R. F. Vinson, assisted by Mrs. James Fleming to 19 members, the guest speaker, and Mrs. Wm. Pettrey of Prestonsburg.

TEACHER APPRECIATION LUNCHEON

The faculty members of the Lackey, Garrett, and Wayland schools were complimented with a luncheon on April 7 by the Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club. This activity was a slightly belated tribute planned for Teacher Appreciation Week.

All club members helped to prepare the food. The following members served: Mesdames N. D. Howard, J. T. Spillman, Fred Hall, L. B. Price, J. E. Miller, A. E. Quinlan, Delbert Stone, Clarence Turner, Milton Trusty, James Fleming, and Gordon Collins.

A program meeting was held at the Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club House, March 28. As a phase of Fine Arts, Mrs. Thomas Hatcher, program leader, chose for her subject, "How to Make an Art of Daily Living."

"As a nation, we Americans always had so much that we have scarcely bothered to ask how to get the most out of what we have," quoted Mrs. Hatcher from the House Beautiful magazine of March, 1952. The leader pointed out that it is quite interesting to note that just recently Allan Trout defined a hillbilly, or ridge runner, as being a person who makes the most out of what he has. Quite unknown to the rest of America, we here in the mountains are blessed with real artists!

"To make an art of daily living, one should not make the mistake of copying somebody else's idea of what is artistic. If one's personality is not expressed in one's home, garden, clothes, etc., then the result will be a dull and uninteresting life," was quoted from an article prepared by Mrs. Paul Johnson.

Such simple living examples of art cited were the proper setting of a table, sewing together of quilt pieces, caring for children, building of a stone wall and numerous others. "In other words, daily living is an art in itself," concluded Mrs. Hatcher.

An appropriate devotional, "Christ, the Master Builder," was given by Mrs. J. T. Spillman.

In a business session that followed, 20 members indicated they would go to Wheelwright, April 16 to a dinner in honor of their "Mother Club."

Mrs. L. B. Price was appointed chairman of luncheon arrangements for members of the Lackey, Garrett and Wayland faculties on April 7.

A dessert course was served by Mrs. L. B. Price, hostess, to 18 members.

U. S. LIVESTOCK

The total value of livestock and poultry on farms in the nation in January was estimated at $11,381,356.90, compared with $11,904,859,900 in 1953 and with $14,848,980,000 two years before. Only two regions—the West North Central and the West—showed increases over a year earlier in cattle numbers each with a three percent upturn.

BAN SOVIET PAPERS

Acting under a legal opinion from the Justice Department, Post Office Department officials have been confiscating and destroying copies of the Soviet publications Pravda and Izvestia, as part of a program designed to choke off the flow of Communist propaganda into this country. Only those having "official status," such as Government agencies and educational and research institutions may now receive copies of these publications.

GROUP NAMES EATON

Dr. Clement Eaton, author and professor of history at the University of Kentucky, has been elected president of the newly-formed Tennessee-Kentucky chapter of the American Studies Association. The national association is concerned at the integration of different disciplines of learning such as history, literature, architecture, painting, economics, and philosophy.

On April 4, a program on Kentucky poets and writers was given by Mrs. M. M. Collins.

The origin of poetry was traced from primitive to modern times. It was emphasized that poetry is meant to be heard as well as read; that each age makes its own poetry; poetry is not all in books. Only, it must be heard.

SPEAKER AT ALUMNI BANQUET

Claude "Monk" Simons, graduate of the University of Kentucky and one-time All-American football player at Tulane University, was the principal speaker at the UK Alumni Association's annual banquet for the basketball team and coaches.

SOIL CONSERVATION

By L. R. JOHNSON

I know there are a lot of people interested in the Dogwood Trail, because of the questions that come to me.

The dogwoods will help hold the shoulders of the highway, thus conserving the soil besides helping beautify the Trail.

All the trees needed for the roads in Floyd county can be found locally. Several people have asked me about ordinary trees. Here are addresses and prices of dogwoods:

White flowering dogwoods, 2 to 3 feet, $15 per 100, $125 per 1000; 3 to 4 feet, $25 per 100, $175 per 1000. Pink flowering dogwoods, 2 to 3 feet, $120 per 100.

ALABAMA HISTORIAN IS LECTURER

The American people were charged with a "loss of zeal for free government" by a visiting historian who spoke this week at the University of Kentucky as Blazer lecturer. The speaker was Dr. Frank L. Owsley, professor of history at the University of Alabama. He discussed "Self Imposed Restraints and the Survival of American Democracy."

GIRLS HONORED AT UK

Approximately 200 women leaders at the University of Kentucky were recognized this week at the school's traditional "Stars in the Night" program. Girls were honored for both scholarship and leadership achievements. The "Star in the Night" affair was started in 1929.

SUB-STANDARD TUTORS FEWER

Floyd-co. Has Highest Number of Emergency Teachers, Report Shows

Kentucky's public school system for the current year includes 2,334 emergency or sub-standard teachers—fewer than for any year since 1941—a study completed today by the Division of Teacher Education and Certification of the State Department of Education has disclosed.

School districts with emergency teachers ranged from none in some districts to 84 in Harlan county and 85 in Floyd county.

The study, made under direction of Miss Louise Combs, director of the division, showed that despite the fact that 20,868 teachers are now employed—or 1,055 more than a year ago—the number of emergency teachers—those with less than the minimum legal requirements to teach—fell from 2,408 to 2,348 for the year.

That the problem is still serious is illustrated by the fact that 1,903 emergency teachers are included in the 14,197 teachers employed in the elementary systems, while 481 of the 6,671 high school teachers are so designated.

"It is significant to keep in mind that until 1956 only 64 hours of college training are required for regular elementary certificates," Miss Combs said. "Kentucky along with 35 other states has accepted the fact that college graduation is the minimum level for beginning teachers. This standard will apply beginning in September 1956."

"If Kentucky applied that standard at present, the number of emergency teachers employed would be much larger. Research shows, however, that over a period of years the high standard approach offers a solution to teachers shortage. High standards attract while low standards repel top flight young people."

Miss Combs expressed the hope that a fully-financed Foundation Program of Education would do much to provide great incentive for high level teacher preparation, with salaries being more commensurate with the preparation required.

Kentucky Fire Losses Wins National Award

Kentucky's fire losses were down in 1954—both in number and cost—justifying the national award to Kentucky for its 1954 Fire Prevention Week campaign and illustrating the success of increased fire prevention efforts, it was reported this week by State Fire Marshal J. T. Underwood, Jr.

There were 76 fewer fires in 1954, 6,532 compared with 6,608 for the preceding year, while fire losses totaling $16,302,384 in 1953 were cut to $13,377,003 for last year, a reduction of 17.9 per cent. The nationwide drop was 3.6 per cent.

More than two-thirds of the 6,532 fires and more than half the total loss was in homes. There were 4,685 dwelling fires with a loss of $7,080,523.

Next on the list of structures most frequently involved in fire were barns. There were 341 barns damaged for a total loss of $707,849.

Lightning headed the list of causes with 1,202 fires. Misuse of electricity—faulty wiring—was second with 817. Careless use of matches and smoking was third with 663. For 1953, matches and smoking was the number one cause, misuse of electricity second and lightning third.

Principal loss reductions were noted in fires of unknown origin. Among fires of known origin there were fewer fires caused by explosion, exposure, hot ashes and coals, incendiary, matches and smoking, open lights, rubbish, sparks arising from combustion, spontaneous combustion, stoves, furnaces, boilers and pipe.

There was an increase in fires caused by electricity and gas (both artificial and natural) petroleum products, hot irons, lightning and sparks on roof.

Be sure your '55 V-8 has all these advances

When it comes to ordering a V-8, it stands to reason you want a proven V-8. And both Ford's 162-h.p. and 182-h.p. Y-block V-8's are just that... backed by Ford's 23-year experience building more V-8's than all other makers combined.

Unlike other V-8's on the road, Ford brings you Trigger-Torque power... power that can obey four times faster than you can wink! And only Ford has the years-ahead look of the Thunderbird... the smoother riding of Angle-Poised Ride... the gas-savings of the Automatic Power Pilot. Why not come in for your Test Drive today?

Ford Try Trigger-Torque and you'll buy Trigger-Torque

FLOYD MOTOR COMPANY - Prestonsburg, Ky.

ONLY YOUR FORD DEALER HAS USED CARS AND TRUCKS

Extra-deep, Y-shaped block

Ford's deep-block construction provides a more rigid support for the crankshaft to help the engine run smoother... last longer. Only Ford in its field uses this construction.

Short-stroke, low-friction design

With Ford's modern, short-stroke design, pistons travel a shorter distance for a given amount of car travel. This results in less friction, more available power from gas, longer engine life.

Highest torque in the low-price field

Torque is the twisting force that turns the rear wheels of your car. The greater the torque, the faster your engine responds to your commands. And the torque in Ford V-8 engines is the highest in its field.

Automatic Power Pilot

Exclusive to Ford engines, this completely integrated carburetion-ignition-combustion system works automatically to assure that the right gas mixture is ignited at the right instant and burned completely, to give you the most "Go."

Turbo-Wedge Combustion Chambers

The wedge shape of Ford combustion chambers causes faster, more complete combustion and more efficient conversion of gas into usable power.

Full-Flow Oil Filter

Unlike filters used in other low-priced cars, Ford's oil filter cleans all of the oil in your engine all of the time... for greater protection of vital parts.

18mm. Spark Plugs

These totally new plugs, exclusive with Ford in the low-price field, have an extra-wide gap between plug core and shell, which makes them resistant to formation of deposits up to three times longer.
