This Town— That World

Yes, the race goeth to the swiftest, but the one who gets there fastest is a Pale Rider who needs no car or plane.

That alleged "classic" at the Indianapolis Speedway is a case in point. The sensational Vukovich had won two of these 500-mile Memorial Day races in a row and was leading the pack last Tuesday when he was overtaken by the ancient rider. . . They say this annual spree of speed serves the great purpose of testing cars, making them safer for the nation's drivers. We doubt that. Why, then, do auto manufacturers pay high salaries to their own test-drivers and put their cars over gruelling test courses? Besides, the figures on this year's race do not indicate that the cars are getting any safer: one dead, four injured.

Just call it a thrill spectacle, to which the thousands flock to see speed piled on speed, and whose neck gets broken as well as to see the winner come in. Just because we don't happen to like that "sport" doesn't make it a thing that should be discarded, but as a sport we would compare it to the ancient arena out of which somebody usually was carried, feet first.

Heard last week about a citizen whom I would call the laziest man in the world. He waited all spring for his wife to dig up a lettuce bed so he could get worms for fishing purposes.

Speaking of fishing: After dunking, and seeing dunked, errant golf balls in the river where the fairway on one of those Paintsville golf course holes crosses the Big Sandy I would recommend that fishermen not use white lures at that point. The fish won't strike, thinking it's just another golf ball.

SHERIFF PICKS WAYLAND MAN

Mullins Named Head Of Collins' Deputies; Radio System Studied

Sheriff Gorman Collins reorganized his office this week and appointed Troy Mullins, veteran Wayland policeman, as chief deputy. Mr. Mullins assumed his duties the first of this week.

Sheriff Collins, in explaining the new set-up, said that Mullins would have the over-all responsibility of supervising the deputies' work and would be responsible to him. "I'm trying my best to enforce the law and I think this little reorganization will make for a more efficient force of deputies," Collins said. "The enforcement of the law is a never-ending task and the deputies, under my direction are trying to do that," he added.

Collins told of recent moves to install the two-way radio system, long contemplated by his office and the fiscal court. Since the county has been short on money for some time, Collins asked a group of businessmen to study the matter of donating the system to the county. A committee of these men have been considering it and if they find the system feasible or worthwhile, which Collins thinks they will, they will pay one-half the installation cost.

Technical cooperation between the Floyd county Sheriff's office and officers of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company has been explored, Collins said.

GROUP OKEHS SITE ON LAKE OF 4-H CAMP

Poll Follows Claim Some Not Satisfied; Early Work Is Seen

Ratification of the action of the Site committee which recently selected the upper Dewey Lake area as the location of a regional 4-H Club camp was voted by the Camp committee as a whole at its meeting Tuesday in West Liberty.

The vote ratifying the Floyd site came after some dissatisfaction had been expressed from a few counties and after Morgan county representative had pressed for a poll. From the 14 counties represented came a vote heavily favoring the Site committee action. There are 19 counties in the area to be served by the camp.

County Agent O. E. Boggs, who with Assistant Agent Irvine C. Joseph represented Floyd county at the meeting, said the poll of members of the committee as a whole clarified the issue and left members satisfied on the whole with the site selected.

The bare possibility exists, Mr. Boggs said, that the Dewey Lake site may become a camp serving not only the 19 counties in this area but also 20 other counties. A meeting is being held in southeastern Kentucky this week to study the location of a camp for that area, and nearness of the location to the Floyd site could result in the consolidation of the two areas.

Work on the regional camp is planned for this summer, and a committee is to visit the site early next month to study it from the viewpoint of possible needs 100 years hence. The study will consider the location from physical, operational, health and legal standpoints, and at the same time the committee will determine the acreage needed and select sites of structures to be built.

Members of this committee are: Earl Welch, of the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky, as engineer; M. V. Clark, of the health department, as health representative; Boyd Wheeler, field agent in 4-H Club work, College of Agriculture, representing the clubs;

County Agent O. E. Boggs, representative of county agents; Home Demonstration Agent Betty Powers, of Johnson county, representing home agents of the area; J. B. Clark, Prestonsburg, legal work; N. R. Elliott, of the University of Kentucky, as landscape specialist.

Another action taken at Tuesday's West Liberty meeting was the drafting of articles of incorporation for the chartering of the East Kentucky 4-H Club Camp Association, Inc. Although detailed plans for installations at the camp are far from complete, these are expected to include separate housing for club boys and girls, housing for an adequate camp staff, shelter for crafts, vespere services and other activities, a dining room to seat a minimum of 250 and a kitchen. Total cost of installations was originally estimated at $500,000.

There are approximately 68,000 4-Hers in Kentucky and of these more than half are in the eastern part of the state, County Agent Boggs said. Only 6 per cent of this

FIRM AWARDS SCHOLARSHIP

Two Wheelwright Grads, Pikeville Boy Recipients Of Inland Steel Awards

The Inland Steel Company, Wheelwright, last Thursday night awarded three college scholarships to high school graduates of this area in continuance of its long-established scholarship program.

Announcement of the scholarship awards was made by George F. Leatherman, of Inland's scholarship committee, at commencement exercises of Wheelwright high school.

Two of the awards — two year scholarships to Pikeville College, each worth $225 a year — went to two members of the Wheelwright graduating class: Mis Lou Ann Colvin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Colvin, of Weeksbury, and Aubrey Darryl Woody, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Woody, also of Weeksbury. Miss Clara Wallen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wallen, Wheelwright, was named an alternate.

The third award, a four-year engineering scholarship to the University of Kentucky, worth $400 a year to the recipient, went to Darrel Dean Preston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forster Preston, of Pikeville. Forrest Preston is a brakeman at Inland's Price mine.

HALL VICTIM IN CAR WRECK

Auto Leaves Highway Sunday on Abbott Mt.; Perry Critically Hurt

An automobile wreck on Abbott Mountain, near here, which claimed the life of one man and left another in a critical condition tragically climaxed a Memorial Day weekend which saw Floyd county highways traffic-clogged and accidents of a less serious nature numerous. Dewey Clifford (Tip) Hall, 28 years old, of Auxier, Joy-loader operator for the Princes Elkhorn Coal Company at David, was almost instantly killed when the auto of William Perry, of Detroit, formerly of Auxier, left U. S. 23 on the Little Paint Creek side of Abbott Mountain and plunged down the hillside. Perry suffered a fractured skull and remained unconscious Tuesday afternoon, with his recovery doubtful. He is in St. Mary's hospital, Huntington.

Hall's skull was fractured, and his neck may have been broken, it was said. Both men were thrown clear of the auto, a Buick convertible, which was reduced to a mass of wreckage. The wreck occurred just after the auto had left a curve as it traveled downhill and entered a straight stretch, apparently out of control.

Hall was a veteran of the U. S. Marine Corps, and was well-known in the lower section of the county. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Betty Wells Hall, two children, Melba Kathlene, 6, and Karen Jean, 3; his father, Perry Hall, of Auxier; his mother, Mrs. Opal Wells McCormick, Laynesville, O.; three brothers and one sister, Bill Perry Hall, of Detroit, Truman Dalton and Thomas Wendell Hall, both of Laynesville, O., and Mrs. Melba Belle Cline, Sabina, Ohio.

Funeral rites were conducted Wednesday from the Auxier Free Will Baptist Church, the Revs. S. C. Honeycutt and others officiating. Burial was made in the government cemetery at Auxier under direction the Carter & Callihan Funeral Home.

COAL PRICES ON UP-TREND

Mines of This Section Pass National Average, Production Data Shows

The resurgent coal business was promised another shot in the arm this week by Carlton R. Mabley, Jr., vice-president of the Island Creek Coal Company, Huntington, W. Va., who told the National Association of Purchasing Agents in New York that the price of coal "will most surely trend upward" over the remaining months of 1955.

Mabley said: "After a year which saw the production of bituminous coal decline to a level approximately equal to 1939, the first 4 1/2 months of 1955 have witnessed a strong comeback."

"This year's output through May 14 has reached approximately 162 million tons, over 16 per cent ahead of the same 1954 period. A sustained demand for 1955 should bring the output for this year very close to the 1953 total of 457 million tons."

Mabley declared that the downturn in industrial coal prices actually ended in August of last year. The week ending May 14 saw mines of this section exceeding that 16 per cent national production increase in bituminous coal as they had an increase of 20.38 per cent over their 1954 production. At that time East Kentucky mines had produced 4,026,260 tons of coal, as compared with 3,344,570 tons for the same period last year. The average days worked per week had jumped from 3.57 in 1954 to 4.04 this year, and the mines had upped their average of total days worked from 58.22 to 75.34.

Actually the big loadings gain was reflected in the work of captive mines and those that are not members of the Big Sandy-Elkhorn Coal Operators Association. The captive mines increased production from 12,505 50-ton cars at this time last year to 16,805 cars, while other non-member mines produced 20,304 cars this year—about 6,000 more cars than were loaded last year as of May 14.

The 24 mines of the Association that are operating now had as of May 14 brought their production up

TB CASES FOUND ANNUALLY IN FLOYD COUNTY NUMBER 46, HEALTH ADMINISTRATOR SAYS IN URGING CHEST EXAMS BY X-RAY UNIT

The average number of new tuberculosis cases found in Floyd county annually over the last five years is 46, and during the same time an average of 15 persons died of the disease each year, said M. V. Clark, Floyd county health administrator, this week in urging residents of the county to take advantage of the chest X-ray services to be offered by the mobile X-ray unit of the Kentucky Tuberculosis Association when it comes to the county next week.

The unit will be in Prestonsburg, June 7, 8 and 9; at Martin, June 10; Estill, June 14; Wheelwright, June 15-16; Harold, June 17. At each place the hours will be from 9 a.m. till 12 noon and from 1 p.m. till 3 p.m.

Other data released by Mr. Clark in pointing up the need for chest X-ray examinations follow: There are 6,500 known cases of tuberculosis in Kentucky. Approximately 5,000 more have TB and don't know it. Don't be one of these unknown cases. Get a chest X-ray and be sure.

Tuberculosis is caused by a germ. It is not inherited—the disease is spread from person to person. Tuberculosis is easiest to cure when it is found in an early stage and treatment is begun immediately.

Tuberculosis has no outward symptoms in its early stages. A chest X-ray can detect early TB. Modern community-led and group X-ray surveys are making valuable contributions to the prevention and control of tuberculosis in this country.

An annual physical examination, including a chest X-ray, is a good way to prevent tuberculosis from getting the upper hand. Tuberculosis attacks people in all walks of life, all races, all physical types, and all economic levels.

A tuberculosis patient does not have to travel to any special climate to get well. He can best be treated in a tuberculosis hospital near his home and within visiting distance of his family and friends.

Tuberculosis has a long, symptomless onset. The way to find unknown or unsuspected cases is to X-ray the chest of apparently healthy people.

Last year in Floyd county 35 new cases of tuberculosis were found. One year from now, 110,000 people who are healthy today will have tuberculosis. Don't be one of these. Get a chest X-ray and protect the health of yourself and your family.

The average cost of one case of tuberculosis is estimated at $15,000. TB leads all diseases as a cause of death in the age group from 15 to 35.

Prestonsburg Youngster, Curious About a Barrel, Receives Severe Burns

Featuring the accident news of this week was the odd one that severely burned Claude Richard Price, son of Frank Price, of Westminister street. Young Price noticed last Sunday afternoon that gas was escaping from a 25-gallon oil barrel in the back yard. He ignited the gas with a match.

The resulting explosion caused second degree burns of the face and scalp. Hospitalized at Prestonsburg General hospital, he was said to be convalescing. No explanation for the formation of the gas in the barrel could be offered except that it was from carbide which forms acetylene gas when exposed to a liquid.

EIGHT HURT IN MISHAPS

Wrecks During Week-End In County Are Numerous; Asks Curve Be Eliminated

Numerous vehicle wrecks and accidents featured the last few days in this county. Four were car accidents, one resulting in a man being injured critically, one was a motorcycle mishap and another a bus collision.

Hensley Ward, of Dayton, Ohio, was critically injured last Sunday at 2 p.m. near Salisbury, when a car he was driving left the highway and plunged over an embankment. Jack Brown, a passenger with Ward, was not injured. Ward was taken to St. Mary's hospital, Huntington, by Hall Bros. Funeral Home ambulance.

Struck by an automobile in Martin was Johnny Hall, Jr., 7, when he walked into the street in front of a passing automobile. He suffered head injuries. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Hall, of Martin.

A motorcycle left the highway on a curve at Salisbury, near Printer, with Jackie Whitt and Don Little passengers Monday and injured the two, one severely. They were treated at the Beaver Valley hospital.

Jack Carr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Carr, of Allen, was seriously injured in a car wreck near there, Saturday afternoon. Details of the accident were unavailable. Young Carr was hospitalized at Prestonsburg General hospital.

Arthur Thornsberry, of Kite, and his son Eugene, 8, were hurt when a car he was driving collided with another, driven by Muriel Martin, of Bypro, at Wheelwright. The accident occurred last Saturday afternoon. The elder Thornsberry was uninjured but his son suffered minor bruises.

A bus collision at the Cow Creek bridge resulted in injuries to two women passengers. It was said that a Sparks Bros. bus was driving behind a Greyhound bus when traffic caused the Greyhound to stop suddenly. The Sparks vehicle crashed into the rear of the other.

The two recent highway accidents at Salisbury prompted State Senator Doug Hays, of McDowell, to write the State Highway Department for the second time in regard to the dangerous condition of the road existing there.

Senator Hays, in directing his letter to Mr. Rye, of the Highway Department, said, in part: "There is not another piece of road in the state of Kentucky, as I

ADVANCEMENT TO BRADBURY

Veteran Safety Director At Inland Steel Named Assistant To Manager

Arthur Bradbury, safety director of the Inland Steel Company's mines at Wheelwright, has been appointed assistant to the company's manager of coal properties, it was announced this week.

A native of England, Bradbury has been associated with the coal industry since his boyhood. He went to Wheelwright in 1941 as safety inspector.

In addition to his new duties, Mr. Bradbury will continue as the company's safety director. Harry O. Zimmerman is manager of coal properties.

Bradbury is a past president of the coal-mining section of the National Safety Council and a former president of the Big Sandy-Elkhorn Coal Mining Institute.

BANNER FIRM BID, LOWEST AMONG FIVE

Awarding of Contract On Big Structure Here Awaits Sale of Bonds

Lowest of five contractors' bids on construction of the gymnasium-annex to the new high school building here is that of Akers & Akers, of Banner, contractors who are now nearing the completion of the huge school structure on North Lake Drive here.

Akers & Akers' bid on the overall project was $266,000—$101,000 less than the high bid of $367,000 submitted by Cassel Bros., Kingsport, Tennessee.

The bids were opened Monday by the Prestonsburg City Council, which act as fiscal agent for the Prestonsburg Board of Education.

Contract on the big building job will not be formally awarded till bonds voted by the Prestonsburg independent district are sold. Letting of the contract is slated within 20 days.

Members of the City Board of Education were in Frankfort today (Thursday) seeking approval from the State Department of Education of issuance of the bonds.

The low bid submitted is still $40,000 in excess of the amount of money authorized under the bond set-up but the hope was expressed that this amount may be realized over a period of years through surplus funds. Taxes collected on the voted bond issue amounted last year to more anticipated originally, and the increased returns from this source is expected to result in favorable sale of the bonds.

The fireproof gymnasium will be 174 by 132 feet and without roll-away bleachers, included in the plans for installation on the stage will seat 3,095 persons. Bleachers would seat another 400.

Other bids offered on the project were: Homer Adams, $349,000; Press Building & Supply Co., Pikeville, $349,502.39; W. B. Fossum & Son, $388,300.

Five alternates to the plan, which would omit the bleachers, auditorium, storage space and other items, would reduce Akers & Akers bid by about $12,000.

It Can Happen
Anywhere

The Floyd County Health Department offers one of the most comprehensive immunization programs presented in Kentucky, yet there always is present the imminent danger of an outbreak of preventable diseases.

The Department works mainly with school children and infants, fighting against outbreaks of typhoid, smallpox, whooping cough, diphtheria—all potential killers. This immunization program has been so effective that the incidence of these diseases has been greatly reduced and the mortality rate so whittled down that a new danger has been created. This is the danger of the public becoming lulled into a sense of false security.

The same services were available in Meade county, although apparently on a more limited scale, yet there have been thirty-eight cases of diphtheria in Meade since last October and eight children have died of the disease.

The death-producing potential of diphtheria is greater than that of polio; a safe and time-tested preventive is available for every child—yet there are diphtheria epidemics and there are diphtheria deaths. The truth is evident: strong defenses left unmanned do not make a press.

Overly, bad roads and lack of transportation are named most for the Meade county situation, but lack of health education must bear some of the blame. And never forget the natural apathy of humans until the storm actually breaks about their heads. Every American capable of reading or hearing and thinking knows that the awful threat of nuclear attack is certain, some day, to become reality, but all the warnings go unheeded, all the pleas of Civil Defense authorities are answered by only an infinitesimal fraction of the population. "It can't happen here" is the enemy of those who would strengthen defense against disease as well as those who would protect against enemy attack.

That, then, is the point of attack for health education, and this very weapon is too often left to rust. The pity is, it is not the children who must be educated. It is their elders, those who neglect to learn, many of whom do not care to learn.

The Legion Can Serve
In a Great Way

THE TIMES is pleased to learn that Floyd Post, American Legion, is again seriously considering construction on its lot here of a Community Building which would serve as a meeting place for civic and service groups as well as a place for Post meetings.

We trust these plans will be developed to include room for a library to be operated in connection with the county's Bookmobile.

Success of the Bookmobile service is assured. In the few months of its operation interest in reading has reached an intensity never before experienced in this county. Nobody doubts the value of this movement which literally carries good reading out to those living in isolated spots a whole new world of fact and fancy.

But the Bookmobile is operating under a heavy handicap here at headquarters. It is cramped for storage space, and there is no room where books and magazines may be enjoyed in the quiet atmosphere of a public library. The truth is, "headquarters" is a misnomer for the emergency facility established.

The Legion Post owns its lot, has a substantial sum to invest in the building. If an adequate library can be included in its building plans, surely help from private contributions will be forthcoming.

JUDY PRICHARD

The Sandy Valley Girl Scout will open its second season of establishing camping at Camp Chatterawha, June 26, it was announced this week. Two sessions of two weeks each are planned, the first starting on June 26 and ending on July 9, and the second session starting on July 10 and ending July 23.

The staff, headed by Mrs. Zella Archer, executive director of the Council, as camp director, has announced plans for this year's activities. Included is outdoor cooking, arts and crafts, folkdancing, badge work if desired, swimming, canoeing and senior lifesaving instruction for advanced swimmers. Edmund Burke, Prestonsburg, will again serve as waterfront director, and Mrs. Dortha Allen, Home Economics director at Martin high school, will be food supervisor. Other trained staff members will be announced with one counselor for each eight Scouts.

The cost of the camp is $10 per week, $18 for two-week session for girls registered with the Sandy Valley Council. The cost is $12 per week for girls registered in another Council or non-Scouters. The last session of camp will have a special unit for senior Scouts.

Registration may be made with the Girl Scout office, Pikeville. Applications may be obtained from local troop leaders, Judy Prichard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Prichard, Paintsville, and the first Scouter registered this year for camp. Judy is 12 years of age and in the seventh grade.

Sandy Valley Girl Scout rally day was held at Camp Chatterawha, May 21, with 199 Scouters and 51 adults attending.

The troop display of work done during the year and telling the best Girl Scout story was won by Wheelwright Intermediate Troop No. 11, and McDowell Brownie Troop No. 18. In the nature hunt contest first place was a tie between Troops 19 and 12, Pikeville. The flag ceremony, closing the day's activities, was conducted by Wheelwright.

Contractors Begin Work
On Big Ford Structure
Fronting on Lake Drive

Winston Ford, Prestonsburg contractor, this week began construction of a brick business building which will occupy remainder of the former Harkins lot fronting on Lake Drive, opposite the bus station. The other part of the lot will be occupied by the DuRan Moore building which will house a hardware store.

The Ford building will front 63 feet on Lake Drive and extend back 70 feet, and is designed for the addition of a second story if desired later. It will provide one of Prestonsburg's largest single business rooms, but could be divided into two rooms. Cost of the undertaking will be around $30,000, it was said.

Scott Craft is contractor, with Astor Meade sub-contracting the job.

CHILD HAS SURGERY

BY WILMAY

A godly preacher says, in effect, he often sees, in public, women who are wearing too few clothes for decency. May the Lord bless him and give the world millions like him. A recent issue of HERALD HIS COMING states that illegitimate babies born to teen-age girls have doubled in fifteen years, and blames exposed bosoms as the major cause of the increased percentage. Yet millions of church members delight in watching worse indecencies on TV and at shows, etc.

And a McCall magazine article asks: "Is Our Religious Revival Real?" It does this WHEN crime mounts daily, graft increases constantly, delinquency climbs hourly, the U. S. spends more for comics than for all other reading matter combined, more for liquor or tobacco than on education and Christianity. Mr. J. Edgar Hoover begs for genuine religion, for real character; and scientists join theologians in saying Christianity is the only hope if mankind survives, since the world today rests on a powder keg. But gaiety, pleasure, amusement and frivolity reign, from coast to coast. The Bible contains more passages against vanity, excess pleasure, revelry, worldliness, etc., than it does about salvation. Still, keeping up with the Joneses, worshipping the Almighty Dollar, kneeling to the goddesses of Fashion and Society are chief aims of millions of church members, many leaders.

One writer says the church has the most members in history. True. But he adds that its greatest influence and power have been felt when it was numerically weakest. Spiritual strength lies not in quantity but in quality, which has been sadly overlooked. This explains the irrelevancy between the mounting increase in both church membership AND crime, divorce, etc., simultaneously. As the old darkey says, "The two jest don't jive, brethren. Sump'n is wrong in Denmark!" Charles Spurgeon said give him a half dozen red-hot members, on fire for God in preference to thousands of mere professed believers.

Floyd county has people today who are hungry, some almost starving. Many lack bare necessities. Numerous church members live in luxury, many of them gambling, drinking, squandering huge sums on evil, wholly indifferent to the suffering here. Fine homes, cars, jewels, furs, are taken for granted by wealthy members who insist they cannot afford to tithe! And they give the Lord less time than money. The majority of all progressive churches in this county receive outside aid, to exist, despite the great wealth of our county. We are a noted mission field.

The Floyd County Council for Retarded Children can use thousands yearly but the small school to open for these children soon would not be possible had outside funds not been provided. What the county wastes on tobacco and liquor would put every retarded child here on Easy Street for life. How many Christians have sent a donation for this school and work to the treasurer, R. V. May, Prestonsburg?

One author writes, "The Church's progress is impeded with half-dead, half-hearted Christians! Why they ever claim to be Christians nobody will know. Churches today are cluttered with good-for-nothing Christians. They contribute absolutely nothing to the spiritual life and power of the assembly. They never win a soul to Christ. They never weep for souls. How can the church stagnate become the church militant, or the Church static become the Church dynamic? (Clipping on file.)

A young woman who wished to be a Christian told an evangelist she was worried about her influence as one, since she could never give up cards, dancing, shows, etc., which she dearly loved. He replied that he saw no cause for concern, because she would not HAVE any Christian influence unless she did give up worldly things.

Jesus chased the money-changers from the temple, called Herod a fox, and, according to Mark, was angered by the hard hearts of the Pharisees. He went straight to the point of any issue, never riding the fence. When enough preachers do the same no one will have to ask if the religious revival is real. The results will speak for themselves and not contradict claims. Jesus opposed many things, differing boldly and fearlessly. He was persecuted, hated and despised, told his followers they would be. He was the essence of love but preached oftener on sin than love, giving thirteen sermons on hell and one about heaven. He said, "He that is not for me is against me." Revelations tell us to be hot or cold, as God despises lukewarmness. Christ was militant, but militant public opinion in the U. S. is a thing of the past. Standards and conventions, respected and honored for centuries, have been swept away, and we are paying the inevitable price.

Time in Saturday at 9:30 to hear Mrs. Bob Martin tell about the Retarded Children's Program and again at 9:45 to hear the monthly Bible Quiz on your Good World Hour. Only one in thirty Americans can name the Four Gospels.

Mrs. Pollard, following her address, Mrs. Kathleen Moore introduced Mabel Hall Combs, wife of Bert Combs, as the next first lady of Kentucky, and Mrs. Combs said she hoped she would be as hospitable in the Governor's mansion as the many people present had been to her on this occasion. Mrs. Combs, who was born and reared in Knott county, said, "I am glad to be home again among relatives and friends."

Mrs. Olna Hamilton, Combs' chairwoman in this county, ended the program by giving thanks to all who helped to make the occasion a success.

CUMBERLAND FIELD STATION
OFFERS PARASITE CONTROL

The U. S. Public Health Service's Cumberland Field Station, West Prestonsburg, in conducting a survey of parasitic and diarrheal disease has found a very high rate of infection with roundworms in this area, and as a result of this finding the station has been cooperating with the Floyd and Letcher county health departments in offering treatment for roundworms in several mining camps of the two counties.

To date, 50 adults and children in Auxier, Manton, and Hemphill, all of whom were infected with roundworms, have been treated. The result of treatment, as determined by follow-up examinations, have been excellent. The treatment has been found to be about 90 percent effective, and those who are not cured are given a second course of treatment.

The towns of Weeksbury, Wayland, Wheelwright and Drift are to be examined during the month of June and all those infected with roundworms are to be treated, if they wish. Treatment will be organized in clinics held in public buildings in the towns. Weeksbury is the first of these, and the program for stool examinations has been in progress there this past week.

Unfortunately, treatment can be offered only to those individuals who offer a stool for examination and who are found to be infected with roundworms, a field station representative said. Only about half of the people in the towns where treatment has been offered thus far have been interested in contributing specimens for examinations, so half of the persons with roundworms in these towns are not being treated. If the harmful effect of infection with roundworms is to be eliminated from a community, it is important that all of the people in the town be treated; otherwise, re-infection will continually occur, it was pointed out.

CARD OF THANKS
We are deeply grateful to the doctors and nurses at the Beaver Valley hospital, to the Turner Funeral Home and to our many friends and relatives for flowers and all the acts of kindness extended to us during the recent illness and upon the death of our dear wife, and mother, Lettie Shannon Hopkins. We shall always remember how wonderful everyone has been.
W. J. (Jack) Hopkins and Family.

way, you get ice at a substantial reduction.

The Davis family sold the water system with its 270 customers, in 1929 to E. S. Mayes, of Springfield, Kentucky. Mayes was water system broker, who bought and sold such business. He owned the Pineville system, perhaps others. Sept. 5, that year, John C. Hopkins signed a release of the "Reservoir Rental Contract."

Mayes sold to the city of Prestonsburg in 1941, and the present system, operated by a commission, has acquired an area near Lancer on which to install the proposed expanded installation. Forty-five years ago, a few barrels of water supplied the needs of Prestonsburg. Today, the new system envisioned to supply Prestonsburg will have a daily capacity of approximately 100,000 gallons.

Since the hotel line ran through the town, homeowners began to hook on and soon nearly all of them adjacent to the line were getting water from the small line. Davis prospered with his trio of business interests—water, lumber and custom grinding. Slowly, as his water system expanded, he discontinued the lumber and corn-grinding.

Now a rising man in local business, Dave entered politics on the city level, ran for council, was elected with his whole slate. They picked Nathan Y. Beavers for Mayor. Politics brings controversies, and Davis heard rumors of threatened installation of competitive water works systems. He built an ice house near his sawmill, cut ice from Big Sandy in the winter months, stored it, waited for the hot, summer months to bring customers. Ice wasn't too high, either. It sold for 75 cents a hundred pounds.

In 1917 Davis formed a company, composed of several business men, including John C. Hopkins, George P. Archer, W. A. Dingus, Will H. Layne, H. D. Fitzpatrick, and others to set up an ice plant in connection with the water system. Called the Home Ice and Water Company, it cost $20,000. Davis sold the stock in one evening while downtown.

Francis (Frank) Hopkins had a unused water tank on the hill back of town, that originally was to supply water to his home on Second Avenue, but didn't. He leased it in 1922 to Davis for use in the expanded system. Later Davis bought the site from Elijah Goble. One requirement of the lease exacted of Davis by Hopkins was that "he will keep all gates closed."

Davis died, March 24, 1927, at the age of 41. An old issue of The Prestonsburg Post said of him upon the occasion of his death: "He loved his town and his people and its interest was his interest. He not only labored for himself but was always ready to give his time to any project that seemed worthwhile. He was generous to a fault and there were few, if any, who came in contact with him who have not been the beneficiaries of his generous nature." His survivors learned only after his death that no needy widow or church had ever been asked, or paid, a water bill.

His son, Ralph, assisted by his mother, Mrs. Ollie Davis, took over the operation of the water system. It was still primitive by our present-day standards—had no meters and filtration system. Ralph, only 22 years old, established, without an engineer's aid, the first modern filtration system. It is still in use. Dick Davis, Grover's nephew, who lived with the Davis family through his high school years, has been manager of the water system for years.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Davis recall now the bad time cold weather would give them. Since no one had meters, most people got water from a hydrant in the yard. To keep these from freezing, householders let the water run when the weather turned cold. Everybody was paying a flat rate of $2 for a hydrant and $3 for bathrooms and water in the house. But if the householder didn't worry, Davis did. He and his wife patrolled the water lines, turned the water hydrants off. If the night was cold, the plumbers had a busy time, come morning.

A feature of the Davis ice business was shipping it to the coal towns on Beaver Creek. Ice in volume was hauled to the depot, loaded in the baggage cars of the passenger train. Many a Beaver Creek youngster of the day had as a daily chore to watch for the passenger train and the welcome chunk of ice. Most Prestonsburg homeowners bought a ticket book for $3.75. That group of loafers at Harlowe McCoy's store. One of the men on the store porch roused from his lethargy long enough to call at Grace as he rode by on a mule: "Get down, Uncle John, tell us a big one." "Can't do it, boys," Uncle John replied as he rode on. "Big Andy McCoy died last night. Have to hurry right over." By the time he had finished saying that he was too far down the road for the loafers to elicit further information.

Soon the story spread that Big Andy McCoy was dead, but it took only a few inquiries to establish the fact that, as Mark Twain said, "the story was greatly exaggerated." Big Andy was much alive, promised all and sundry that he would live for a while yet. The loafers took Uncle John to task for his false report, but he rose in high dudgeon to his own defense. "You fellows asked for a big'un. I told you what you asked for. Now shut up."

MURDER DID NOT OBTAIN
The Times thought there might be a story in it, maybe another torso case. But when the sheriff got there the junk man had the body.

It began, the story does, when rumors spread that a red automobile had been parked on the Buffalo road for several days. It had Michigan tags. No one seemed to know who the owner was, or why it should have been parked there so long. Rumors multiplied. We were told you had to hold your nose when you passed the red auto, the odor from the trunk was so offensive. Sheriff Collins sent a deputy to investigate. He brought back the facts, after finding the car in Horn Bros. junk yard.

A Michigan man on a visit to Buffalo Creek had run out of gasoline, tried to use diesel oil instead, inasmuch as service stations are non-existent along that road. Result was, he fouled up his motor, had to park the smoking vehicle beside the road. Since the car wasn't too valuable anyway, he sold it to Horn Brothers. The junk men delayed going after it and the rumors grew.

No body, no mystery. To us the whole thing smelled.

VISIT RELATIVES HERE

Especially we are thankful to the ministers Will Fraley and Ollie Sammons, for their consoling words, and Hall Brothers Funeral Home for their kind and efficient service.

It is a group for young men, he said, who desire to help their community and develop traits of leadership. Jim Justice, a past president of the Pikeville Jaycees, emphasized that the immediate assignment of new members to responsible jobs within the organization retains most new members.

People Can Do Anything!

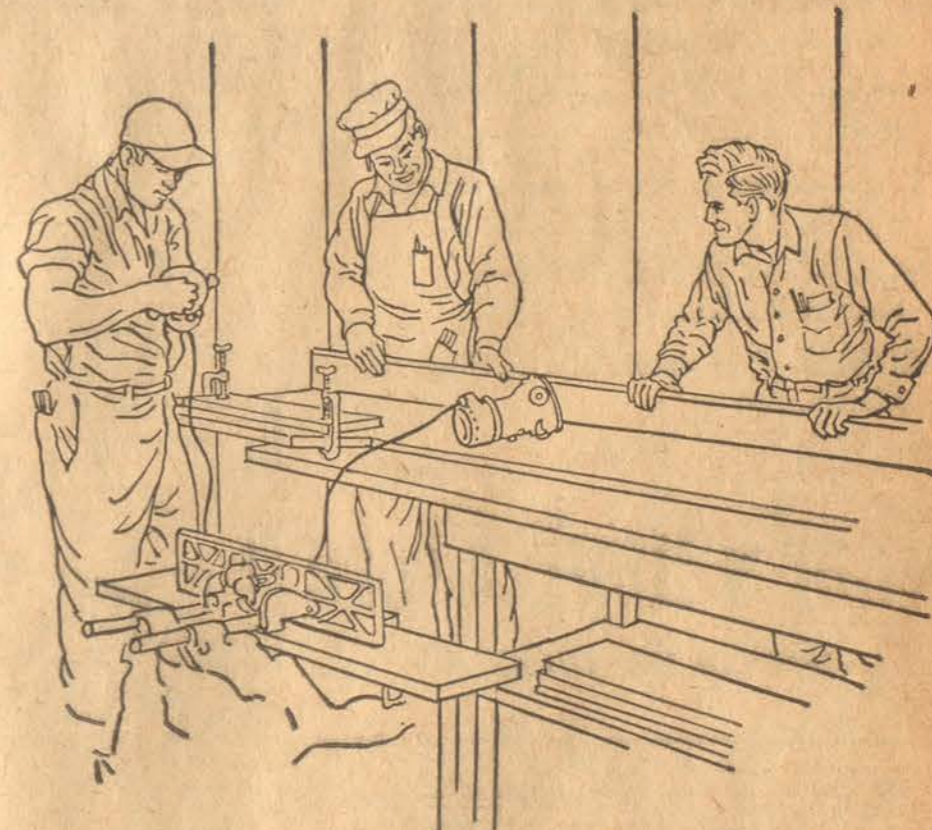

BILL ACKERMAN'S IDEA GAVE JOBS TO 8 PEOPLE

Almost always, when a man thinks up a money-making idea, other people make money from it, too.

Take Bill Ackerman, for example, in Prestonsburg. Most of his life he had worked for somebody else. In 1951 he started a wood-working business of his own. He couldn't handle everything so he hired some people and trained them himself. Today his business employs eight workers. Eight jobs—eight skills—that didn't even exist until Bill Ackerman got the idea of starting his own business. That's just about the whole story. They make windows, doors, fancy trim work, custom-made kitchen cabinets, church pews, boats, gun cabinets and custom interiors for stores and restaurants. And the business is making money for everybody connected with it—employees and suppliers. The line of products will grow as time goes by. And, just as important, more and more people will be paid to make them.

This is the fifth in a series of advertisements by the Kentucky Power Company in the interest of the area it serves.

WHAT A SWIMMING POOL TAUGHT THE PEOPLE OF WHITESBURG

For years the kids of Whitesburg used to swim in the Kentucky River. Some still do. But nowadays most of them spend their summer days around Whitesburg's big, new municipal pool. And the town is better for it.

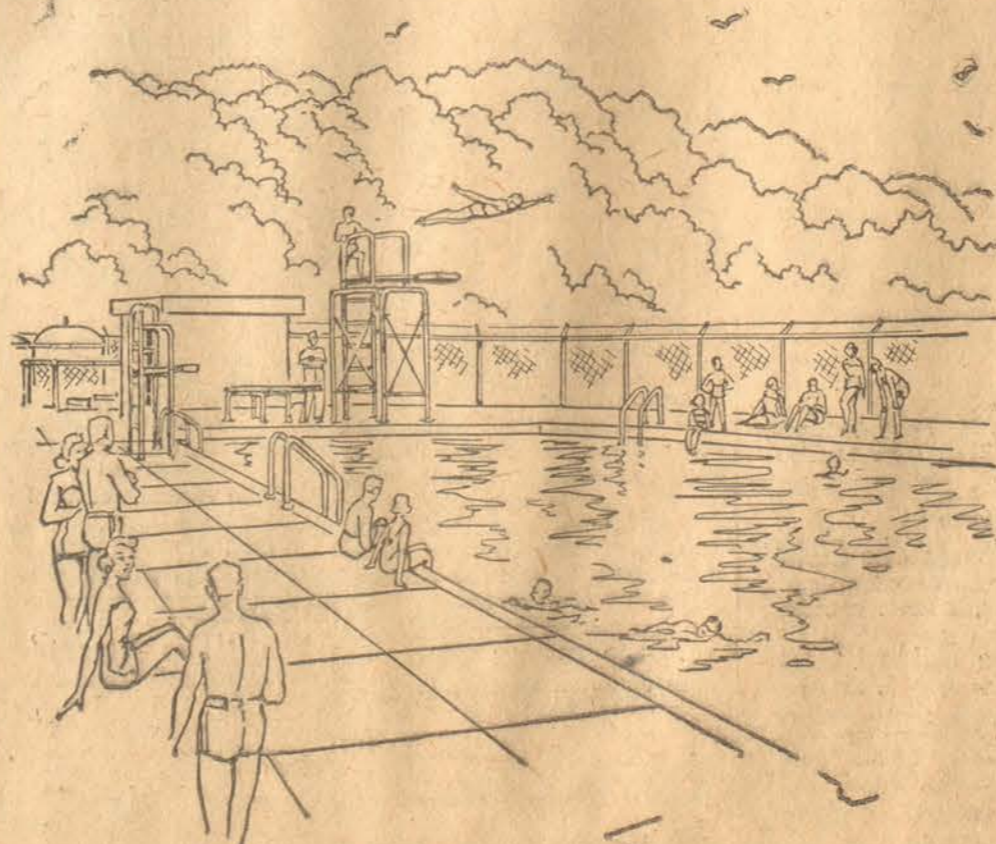

People around Whitesburg had wanted and wished for a swimming pool a long time. But what could be done about it? Nothing. And that's exactly what was done until 1952 when somebody got a different idea. The idea spread and this community of 2,000 people raised $40,000 and built themselves a pool.

So what's the difference if the kids swim in a pool now instead of the river? The big difference is that folks in Whitesburg proved to themselves they could get together and do something worthwhile. Something to benefit the town... and, in time, to benefit themselves.

They know now they can make life better for themselves. Who can say what will be next?

Ideas like these—once put to work—are helping this area. If you have such an idea, give it a chance to do some good. Tell it to the editor of this newspaper... or write to us, the Kentucky Power Company.

Eastern Kentucky will improve only as its people improve it—

Record Crowd Attends Betsy Layne Exercises As 82 Are Graduated

"The day of our emancipation is near and the place of examinations shall know us no more," said Jimmy Brooks, salutatorian of Betsy Layne high school, Thursday evening of last week when a record 82 were graduated from the school. Originally, only 80 were slated for graduation but two GI students appeared for examination the last week. "It's red letter day in Betsy Layne," declared D. W. Howard, principal.

The commencement program was offered by the seniors themselves. Featuring the presentation were the musical numbers of Jackie Roop Jimmy Daniels and the band which played "Stormy Weather."

Listening to the oration of Ballard Hall was the largest crowd that had ever appeared at a Betsy Layne high commencement. The auditorium, largest in the county system, was filled with scores standing. Senator Hall spoke on "Is It All Worth While?". Reviewing the years of work in school he said he knew he spoke for all the seniors when he said he thought it was.

'FUGITIVE' FROM ASHLAND TB SANATORIUM SENTENCED TO JAIL TERM, LATER RELEASED FOR TREATMENT IN HOSPITAL AT LEXINGTON

A "fugitive" from the state TB sanatorium at Ashland was jailed here last week, sentenced to six months in jail for refusing to take treatment, and later was released by County Judge Henry Stumbo to the Lexington state TB sanatorium. The prisoner, King Helton, a man of about 50, was taken of the Ashland hospital about a year ago from the county jail where he had been held for drunkenness, a jail attaché said. Released on the first drunk charge, he informed the jailer he would be back that night, and was. It was after that that he was committed to the TB sanatorium.

At that time he weighed 112 pounds. When he returned for a visit last Christmas he weighed 175 pounds, and up on his return last week he apparently retained that weight.

Others jailed within the week: Allen and Luther Johnson, destroying private property, arrested by Deputy Sheriffs Amos Gray and W. B. Of Books and Such

By Laura Virginia Roberts

It was an entertaining movie for the ordinary fan, but it was a rare experience for the lover of Shakespeare. Taken from the recent biography of the same name, PRINCE OF PLAYERS, the life of actor Edwin Booth, stars Richard Burton, Raymond Massey and Maggie McNamara. You will remember Burton as Marcellus in THE ROBE, and McNamara as the scatter-brained heroine of THE MOON IS BLUE. Booth, considered the greatest Shakespearean actor of his day, and one of the greatest of any day, was the son of another great, Junius Brutus Booth (played by Raymond Massey) and the brother of another, and infamous, Booth, John Wilkes (John Derek).

PRINCE OF PLAYERS is in technicolor, wide screen, with stereo, phonic sound. There are several high-light scenes from the Shakespearean plays and there is no describing them for beauty and skill. Maggie McNamara is far from a slouch in this serious part, and Burton must be every bit as good as Booth was, or as Maurice Evans is. (I have just gone out on a limb for Burton.) He does an evil RICHARD III, a brooding, beautifully conscience-ridden HAMLET, and the entire balcony scene from ROMEO AND JULIET with Miss McNamara is superb.

Last week I recommended Jane Austen's novels for pleasant, good reading. Someone else has a reading suggestion for relieving the tensions of our days. I suppose that the choice depends on many things — on taste, on interests, on moods perhaps. Anyway, from one man's point of view, Henry David Thoreau's WALDEN is a good companion almost any time. I should imagine that a nature-lover would find this especially true. Perhaps if you try either, or if you have some favorite which you turn to, you might let us know.

"Beauty is truth, truth beauty," — that is all Ye know on earth, and all ye need to know.

—Keats

When so much concerted effort is being devoted destruction and misery, it is something, in this world, to find creators of beauty. Many found an array of beauty at the Reba Mayo art exhibit at the First National Bank, April 22 through April 29.

From Kentucky University At 88th Annual Program; 15 from Floyd Included

A total of 857 students received degrees at the University of Kentucky's 88th annual commencement program held Monday morning at Memorial Coliseum in Lexington.

Improvements Made By Estill Family

The progress made by Mr. and Mrs. Sheridan Berryman, of Estill county, in the Farm and Home Development Program is reported by Fred Brockman, area agent for the University of Kentucky.

The kitchen has been remodeled for convenience, a bathroom added and other rooms refinished. Further improvements to the house include covering the outside with shingles, redecorating inside and installing a deep freeze.

On the farm, fences have been relocated and rebuilt and fields fertilized. An effort will be made by Mr. Berryman to have 12 cows that average 8,000 pounds of milk in 1956, a half-acre of strawberries this year plus an acre next season.

Building improvements planned doubling the capacity of the chicken house and a new milk parlor for Grade A milk.

WAGE RISE TOPS COST

London—The cost of living in Britain climbed 4 per cent in 1954. Wages rose 4½ per cent.

Boyle Farmers Plan More Feed

About 2,000 acres of bluegrass in Boyle county were top-dressed with ammonium nitrate, according to UK County Agent John C. Brown. Six hundred acres also received an application of muriate of potash. About 100 pounds an acre of each of these materials were used.

Boyle farmers also planned to spray for the bluegrass plant bug. Brown said spraying and fertilizing would probably double seed production.

Droughts and pasture shortages have created interest in sudan grass for pasture and hay. Brown observed. Seeding sudan was stressed in pasture improvement meetings.

Spring seeding of alfalfa this spring was about double that of 1954, judging from the sale of seed. Practically all farmers sowed the Atlantic variety.

Agent Tells Farmers About Milk Production

To help Lewis county farmers decide whether they want Grade A or Grade B Milk routes, University of Kentucky County Agent Mike Duff made the following statement: "It would cost $1,500 to $2,000 for equipment, an equal amount to buy cows and some expenses in building up pastures, or a total of about $5,000 for a farmer in this area to produce Grade A milk. This might be considered a rather large initial investment.

"To get a Grade B milk route, the investment per farm would be only something like $37. Then farmers could grow into the milk business. Any farmer who then decided he didn't want to go into the milk business could drop out without going bankrupt. Moving on up into Grade A milk production would be a natural step."

Read Label Before Using Insecticides

It is important to read the label before using an insecticide, says "How to Control Common Garden Insects," a circular published by the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

Directions for controlling all the common garden pests are given, including dusts and sprays that usually are already mixed and require a simple equipment to apply.

Briefly discussed is the one-package, all-purpose dust that controls about all insects. A one-package dust containing 3-percent Methoxychlor, 4-percent malathion and 5-percent captan will not only control aphids and mites but Mexican bean beetles, cabbage worms, blister beetles, fleabeetles, leafhoppers, cutworms, corn earworms and thrips.

See a county agent or write to the college at Lexington for Circular 479, "How to Control Common Garden Insects."

Experiment Station Calf Losses Studied

A study of calf losses in the University of Kentucky Experiment Station dairy herd from 1928 to 1952 shows an average loss of 14.43 per cent over the 24-year period. A total of 1,067 calf births were included.

Principal causes of losses are listed as abortion and calves born dead. Scours and pneumonia were the main causes of death after the calves were born.

When considering the calves that were born alive, 52.6 percent of them that died did so before they were 28 days old and 84.2 per cent before 56 days of age.

Calf losses were highest in January of each year and averaged 7.6 per cent greater during the six winter months than during the rest of the year.

The report is published as Experiment Station bulletin 622.

No pillar or post

for this wide-open beauty

It's the new kind of hardtop—The 4-Door Riviera!

THERE seems to be some confusion about what a hardtop really is, and we'd like to set the matter straight.

A hardtop is a car that looks like a Convertible with the top up—but has a solid steel roof overhead—and no center posts in the side window areas.

Up until just recently, it could be built in volume only with two doors—not more—because it would take wholly new structural principles to hinge another set of doors without floor-to-roof center posts.

But Buick came up with those new structural principles and is now building—in volume—hardtops with four doors.

You see one pictured here. It's the 4-Door Riviera. And it's taking the country by storm...

Because here, at long last, is an automobile with the sleek and sporty styling of a true hardtop—but with separate doors for rear-seat passengers, plus the added room of a full-size Buick Sedan.

On top of that, this beauty is all Buick—with the buoyant ride of Buick's all-coil springing—the walloping might of Buick's record-high V8 power—the whip-quick getaway and sizable gas savings of Buick's spectacular Variable Pitch Dynaflo.*

And it's available in Buick's two lowest-priced Series—the budget-tagged 188-hp SPECIAL, and the high-performance 236-hp CENTURY, illustrated here.

Come visit us for a first-hand meeting with the 4-Door Riviera—and see how quickly and how easily the last word in automobiles can be yours.

*Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Crack Hi Golf Team Wins Regional Meet

Paintsville high school's crack golf team won the first regional golf meet in Eastern Kentucky sports history at Paintsville, Thursday afternoon and qualified as a team to enter the state golf meet at Fort Knox this week.

Led by 15-year-old ace Bryan Hall, who was the medalist with a 10-over par 150 for 36 holes, Paintsville posted a team-total of 655. A team-total of 688 was necesary to qualify for the state tournament. Others on the winning Tiger team were Dave Butler, 163, Bill Hall, 169; Harold Vanhoose, 173. Johnny Cook, Prestonsburg, was individual runner-up with a 160-total, and was the only member of the Prestonsburg team to qualify. Ashland, Wheelwright, and Martin high schools failed to qualify a member.

Bryan Hall shot a 77 in the morning round on the par 70, 6,176-yard Paintsville Country Club course, and came back in the afternoon for a 73 after 12 one-putt greens.

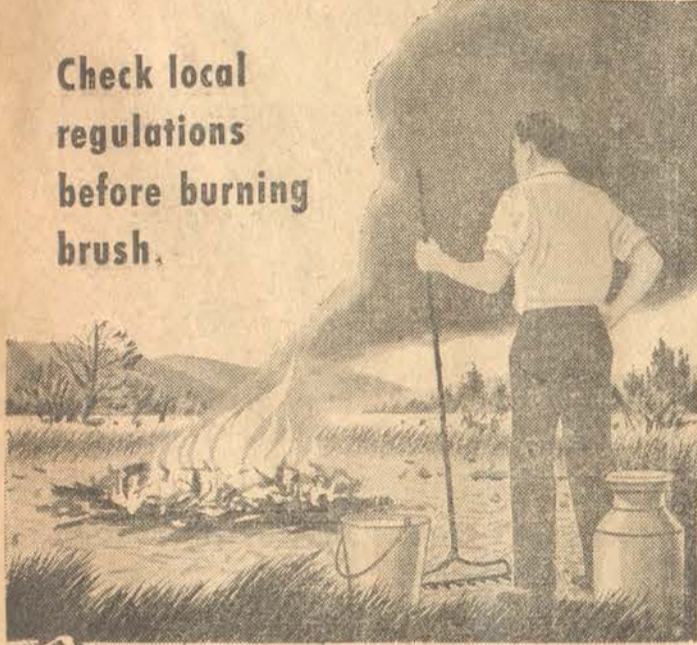

The victory was the sixth of the season for the Tigers, and their only setback was at the hands of Huntington, West Virginia, East High.

The Kentucky state amateur golf tournament will be played on the same course here, June 13-20.

ASHLAND WINS GRAYSON TILT

Wheelwright Team Loses Regional Crown, Friday After All-Single Hits

Wheelwright lost its regional crown to Ashland as the Maroons dropped a hard-fought game, 8-7, Friday afternoon at Grayson.

Last year's regional champions submitted when Ashland infielder Robert Wright singled with the bases loaded in the last of the seventh to score a team mate with the winning run. Wheelwright, in losing their chance to represent the region in the state tournament at Louisville, outthit the Ashland team 13 hits to 8. However, all the Maroon hits were singles, while the Ashland nine connected for a double and a home run.

Bob Newsome, Wheelwright lefty, who handed out nine passes, made his exit in the seventh and J. Hall came on in time to serve the game-ending pitch to Wright.

SPORTS CHATTER

By Gordon Moore

Donnis Butcher, ex-Meade Memorial high school ace, won the Kentucky Outstanding Player Award in the Bluegrass boys' triumph, 77-61, over the West Virginia all-stars in Ashland, Saturday night. The all-stater flipped in 32 points and controlled the rebounds for the Kentucky team.

In the Friday night game in Huntington, West Virginia, Butcher scored 11 points in the losing cause as the West Virginians won 62-51.

At the close of the summer all-star season, Donnis Butcher will have played in nine of the events, with possibly the Kentucky-Indiana series the most popular one.

Ashland high school won its first regional baseball tournament in seven years by coming from behind in the last inning to whip defending Wheelwright, 8-7, last Friday.

HELPFUL HINTS

Practically all landing nets are coated with a waterproof substance, but it is well to preserve the mesh by special treatment off and on during the season. The best method we know of is: Soak it thoroughly in linseed oil, shake it, and hang up in the sun to dry. Shake off the drops of oil as they collect on the net until dry.

To loosen the tight joints of a fly rod heat them with a lighted match or cigarette lighter. But be sure to make a straight pull when disconnecting rod sections.

If for some reason you desire to change the color of your casting line follow these instructions: To dye blue, soak in indigo water; the stronger the dye, the deeper the color. To dye green, soak in a strong concoction of green tea. To dye brown, soak in strong coffee.

W. S. Tinton, of Whitesburg, Letcher county, furnished us and David Allen with several excellent Whir-away lures, which he manufactures. He prides himself on spinners for casting rods and spinning outfits.

His small Dalton special baits are made from pieces of red cedar fence rails that a farmer near Morris-town, Tennessee, claims his grandfather split out as a young man more than 100 years ago.

GOOD NEWS AGAIN!

SANDY VALLEY SPEEDWAY TO OPEN THE FIRST SATURDAY NIGHT IN JUNE

This is a trial run, to see if the good people of this area are going to get behind the grand sport in spirit and support, or whether most of them will go upon the hill to watch.

Folks, no sport or enterprise can be operated without money and if a lot of people are going to sit upon the hill that means the difference of the track operating and not operating.

I have brought this wonderful sport and past-time to the people here that they may have this fine entertainment close at home, whereas many otherwise would never have had the opportunity of seeing the hair-raising event by having to go a hundred or more miles away to see it, and putting out the cost of travel and time.

It doesn't look so bad to see children lined up on the mountain-side to see the show, but when grownups go up there in their big automobiles and strain their eyes to see the game and pinch their pocket-books, perhaps to save the next payment on that fine car and at the same time rob the country of something we all so dearly need, the excitement, entertainment, relaxation of mind from work and worry—I think, and many other things, it is a pure shame. I hope these people will come down and help us to keep the drive wheels rolling, and maybe we can add on some other interesting things.

I want people to know flat and sure that no one is getting rich at this. It takes a lot of money to put on a race, the drivers can't risk their necks for nothing, neither can they keep a good car in the ring for nothing. Insurance, track maintenance, labor and other expenses are not got for nothing.

Therefore, Folks, if you are going to see the races please take thought and realize we need your help to make this possible. Come in buy a ticket, get a ring-side seat, enjoy the show and go home relaxed, looking toward another big event, knowing that you are one making these races possible in the Big Sandy valley. I will do my utmost to put on the best racing to be had. We have the best track in the country. Now that we have the fine entertainment here, let's keep it here.

A lot of people up and down the valley have been after me to open the track, the drivers from other areas have been on to me to open the track, so I am for a run or two to see if the people are going to cooperate and try to help out instead of knocking.

I very kindly appreciate the cooperation of those who attended the races we had before.

Let's all get together for fun and frolic, and make the Big Sandy Valley an interesting place to live.

By Jove, I thank you. See ye at the races Saturday night, June 4th. I'll have a hot one to put on for you.

Troop 27, of Cliff, received its first Eagle Scout award at a recent Court of Honor held at the Community Methodist Church in the Porter addition, Prestonsburg. The recipient was Johnny Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Jackson.

The Eagle award, which is the highest rank that a boy can attain in Scouting, was presented by E. B. May, Jr., Scoutmaster, at an impressive investiture ceremony. It was the first such award to be presented in the three-year-old troop at Cliff. Z. S. Dickerson, institutional representative of the church, sponsor of Troop 27, commended both the boy and the Scoutmaster for their work in the troop and the church.

After he had received the award Johnny presented Mrs. Jackson with an Eagle necklace as a token of the parents' part in making Scouting possible for him. Johnny, who is an excellent swimmer, had been held up on his advancement since last summer because he had not passed Lifesaving Merit Badge. His parents and the Scoutmaster were so interested in his advancement arrangements were made for him to travel to Morehead State College and qualify for the Merit Badge in the indoor pool. There, under the supervision of a qualified instructor, Johnny worked for four hours on the requirements for the Merit Badge, without any opportunity to practice. The instructor said that he was one of the best natural swimmers he had ever seen.

Announcement was made this week that plans are now complete for the American Legion's big show in Kentucky, the annual convention, which this year is being staged on July 4, 5 and 6 in Lexington.

The vanguard of the 1,500 or more Legionnaires and Auxiliary members will begin arriving in the convention city on July 2, and the 40 & 8 Society, the fun-making and hard-working organization within the Legion, will hold business sessions on Saturday and Sunday, July 2 and 3.

On Monday morning, July 4, The American Legion and the Auxiliary will hold a joint meeting which will officially open the three-day convention. In the afternoon there will be staged what is expected to be the largest parade seen in years, with floats, bands, drum and bugle corps, and hundreds of Legionnaires marching in observance of Independence Day.

Following the big parade, there will be a fast and exciting baseball game between two outstanding American Legion Junior Baseball Clubs. The game is scheduled to be played at Legion Field. Following this will be the annual championship contests to determine the outstanding musical organization, color guard, and drill team in the state. This event is one of the most colorful and exciting events of the entire convention, for there is a great deal of competition between these units.

Business sessions for both The America Legion and Auxiliary will get under way Tuesday, July 5; however, there will be some committee and caucus meetings Monday evening to iron out last minute details.

The annual Department Commander's ball will highlight Tuesday evening, when Legionnaires and Auxiliary members, together with their guests will gather for an evening of dancing and entertainment. This is the event which normally draws more attendance than any other single event during the convention. This year's ball is scheduled to be held in the air-conditioned ball room of the Phoenix Hotel.

Wednesday morning, July 6, will be the final business session, with the annual election of officers for the year of 1955-56.

All business sessions for both organizations will be held in the Phoenix Hotel, with that hotel serving as convention headquarters for The American Legion. The Lafayette Hotel will serve as headquarters for the Auxiliary.

WESTERN KENTUCKY IS FOR BERT COMBS, TOO!

Editorial from The Hopkins County Times, Madisonville, Kentucky, February 17, 1955.

"JUDGE COMBS IMPRESSES FULTON COUNTIANS"

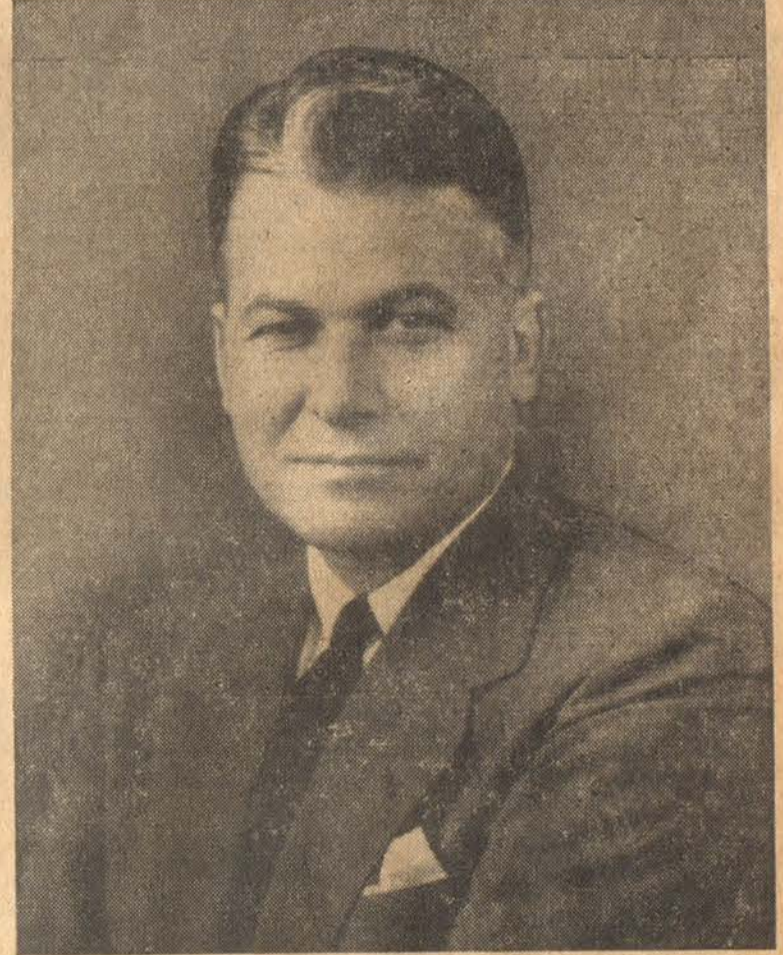

"Last week, Judge Bert T. Combs, a candidate for Governor in the August primaries, visited Fulton and Hickman and a good crowd of interested citizens turned out to meet him. His visit to the County was not one of fanfare and ballyhoo, just one of a candidate wanting to meet and talk informally with people whom he hopes will become interested in his campaign.

"But then there's no fanfare or ballyhoo in anything that Judge Combs does. He is a quiet, sincere and affable man who is going to make an awful lot of friends in West Kentucky by vote-casting time this summer.

"To meet Judge Combs on first acquaintance is to meet a man whose greeting and conversation is so markedly honest and so genuine that it is difficult to realize how this man can be the target in a bitter campaign to be waged by a ruthless opponent with only victory a forethought.

"But Judge Combs will stand up head and shoulders with sound facts and he will prove them, and he will gain your respect and your influence while doing so.

"If the public is interested in having a young person of good morals and good mind, who is personally and intellectually honest, who has a fine, though brief, public record, which is unscarred, and who is in the political moral field, then Judge Combs will have no trouble, none at all, being the Democratic candidate for Governor in August.

"Judge Combs will come back to Fulton County many times before the election. Each time he will gain new friends who will tell their friends of his good program, his political stability and his honesty. The day of voting for a big laugh, a big splash, an ambitious candidate is over. Good qualifications is the yard-stick these days, and Judge Combs will fill the bill."

When Chandler opened his campaign in the Second District, only 2,500 people were present. When Bert Combs opened his campaign headquarters in one County of this same District—Logan County—6,000 people were present. If Western Kentucky can give such support to Eastern Kentucky's Bert Combs, then certainly we can do the same.
