'Something Better To Throw than Rock' Says Secretary of Boston Boys' Clubs

"We give a kid something better to throw than a rock," says Arthur Burger, executive secretary of the Boys' Clubs of Boston. "We give him a basketball. His reward is the yell of his pals as he makes a basket. . . More fun than busting a street light. Character is caught, not taught. If a boy doesn't catch it from his parents, it rubs off on him from other boys and club leaders."

More than 425 Boys' Clubs throughout the United States, with over 400,000 members, are providing basketball, baseball, boxing and other sports, woodworking, drawing, stamp-collecting, checkers, pingpong, and libraries—as substitutes for rock-throwing and other teenage mischief and crime.

In a February Reader's Digest William L. White emphasizes that while the Boys' Clubs successfully salvage problem boys every day, the boys who are "bad" form only a minute percentage of total membership. The 400,000 youngsters whom the Boys' Clubs keep

Basketball Talk

Basketball teams are strangely the victims of injuries which break out in epidemics, or at least the folks at Betsy Layne believe so. Boasting one of their finest teams in years, the injury jinx began with their fine center, Bevins, who broke his collar bone. Last week-end, during the Paintsville Invitational, Spears, an up-and-coming guard, torn a cartilage in his knee which may require an operation. During one game this season three of the Betsy Layne performers were flat on their backs, seemingly unconscious as a result of freak accidents.

If this seems like "woe week"—well, it is. Take the case of the Prestonsburg mentor, Bill Goebel, Jr., who has lost two boys who say that practicing in the old high school, now converted into a gym, is too hard on them. With the two subtracted from the squad, Bill has nine for practice, not enough for scrimmage.

It seems that practice is hard for a very simple reason. The "gym" is never warm. The air is freezing. The boys cannot run hard in their practice clothes and breathe properly. Prestonsburg players have been subject to colds all season, which has certainly hindered any progress towards that all important goal of "being in shape."

And let's give some credit to a willing coach who has the odds attacked against him. Goebel inherited last year a squad that had no gym. This meant, from the outset, that all games would be played on the other team's court, giving at least eight to ten points a game. What does this cost a team in spirit to lose the close ones over the season when, if they were playing at home, they would undoubtedly get their share of the wins? And what does it mean when you haven't got your home folks backing you? And what does it cost a group of boys who have had no gym to play in and therefore haven't had proper opportunity to absorb the fundamentals? Well, Bill has attempted to teach the boys the fundamentals this year while practicing in a gym where it hurts to practice.

Star Guard Lowell Hughes was quick to defend his coach when the squad was accused of being ill-conditioned. "We run as much as any team in Eastern Kentucky," Lowell said, "and it does not seem to do any good. It kills you to run in here with all the cold air coming in while you're hot." Lowell, incidentally, is no stranger to rigorous exercise, playing football, basketball, and baseball the year around.

"I just can't get into shape," he complains.

Bill bears it all in good-natured fashion, saying, "We're enjoying basketball. We have good boys who just haven't found themselves. We're going to keep trying and trying; that's all we can do."

While we're passing out garlands to coaches, let's place one on the cranium of Denzil "Boss" Halbert whose Martin five staged a tremendous comeback against the Paintsville Tigers in the Paintsville Invitational to scare the Tigers out of their stripes. The Purple Flash blinded the Tigers with the scoring brilliancy of Thompson, the unerring foul shots of Forward Click and a clutch basket by David Grigsby.

If a Purple Flasher had not fouled in the closing seconds, it might have been two Floyd county teams in the finals of the Invitational. However, there was a foul and the Tigers tied it up. The Purple Flash lost star performer Thompson in the first overtime period in which they managed to tie Paintsville 68-66. Jobie Click, who rarely shoots but connects often, missed in a "sudden death" second overtime and the ball was recovered by Paintsville. Kennard's goal killed the Floyd countians' hopes for Martin's victory.

But it was an example of how a team can fight from 12 points back with four scant minutes to go and give gray hairs to the opposing coach. Hats off!

CARD OF THANKS
We gratefully acknowledge every act of kindness on the part of neighbors and friends upon the death of our son, Joe Stephens, and would especially thank the ministers for their comforting words and the Carter & Callihan Funeral Home for its efficient services.

FOOT SAVING EDUCATION

By H. C. Francis

Why are children's shoes so expensive? The correct answer to this question amuses some people, angers others and doesn't help the budget a bit. It might save a pair of feet if Mom can use it to convince Dad that shoe prices are not bad.

The real reason that shoes are expensive is because we have to have TWO of them. When we look at a pair of five dollar shoes we should think of them individually as twenty-five each. That is how the manufacturer must look at them when he figures his cost of material and labor.

A single shoe at two-fifty, three or three-fifty is a far better value than a hat, a purse or a necktie at the same price. The shoe must withstand grinding on sandstone and yet not blister little feet. It wades through puddles, kicks cans, shinnies up trees and comes up smiling with a little polish.

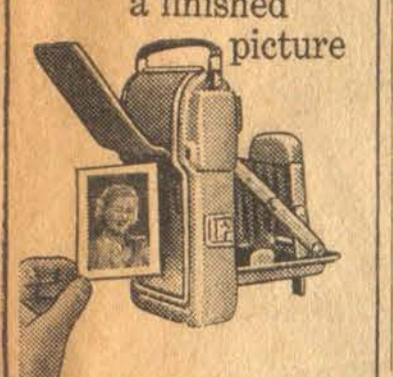

With the exception of glasses, nothing that we buy for a child can affect his future happiness as much as the footwear that protects the very foundation of bodily health.

IT'S A GOOD WORLD

(The views expressed herein do not necessarily reflect the views of The Times.)

The Governor could not have made a wiser choice for the State Board of Education than H. D. Fitzpatrick, Jr. His family, on both sides, has stood for the best in everything. It is said the Mayors in Floyd county, his maternal relatives, have produced more outstanding leaders and educators than any other family.

No parent or teacher should miss the January Reader's Digest article: "Are European Children Smarter Than Ours?" It is the crux of our educational problem. The U. S. program emphasizes children's getting along with people and adjusting well socially. The European program stresses learning. Experts say fewer high school graduates here every year can carry higher math and sciences, the very subjects on which national safety depends. Last summer the personnel director of a large university said they send home over four hundred freshmen every fall, because they cannot do the work, though most of them made grand records in high school and many were star students. He said he saw no hope of a return to emphasis on subject matter in the U. S., a plea he had publicly made previously.

Jesus, Paul, the disciples, many major and minor prophets had so much difficulty getting along with people that most of them were put to death. Will future wars be won on ability to get along, or on technical knowledge, efficient leadership, intelligent followers, and other factors?

Plans have been announced to teach Remedial Reading in many high schools. Numbers insist classes in Remedial Arithmetic, Spelling, and Grammar are equally needed there. Teaching remedial work on grade school subjects, in high school, will consume time needed for higher courses; moreover, it will only treat the symptoms of the problem. THE CAUSE must be removed before permanent improvement is POSSIBLE.

Promised action against the sale of intoxicants in clubs is to be commended, even if late coming. Many wonder why professed Christians retain membership and office in organizations that violate the law. One young man said, "No more club dues from me. I can't take my wife there, so I'm through." Another said, "There is a big difference between the clubs here and those down south, where I was."

There is a trend not to resist evil, but to ignore it. When Christians cease to oppose evil with all the power at their command, a majority gradually weaken, and often become victims of the evil they decline to fight.

Jesus was not noted as a psychologist, for he paid only two compliments in his lifetime. He was militant, despite his meekness and humility. He made a scourge of cords and drove the moneychangers from the temple. He called Herod a fox. He called many vipers and hypocrites. He looked on some with

War Veteran's Death Heart Attack Result, Opinion Voiced Here

Joe Stephens, 46-year-old World War II veteran who was found dead on May's Branch, near here, early Wednesday night of last week, was the victim of a heart attack, it was said by Coroner James J. Carter after an inquiry was made.

The coroner did not conduct a formal inquest. Examination of the body disclosed no bruises or indication of foul play. The victim, a son of the Rev. Alex Stephens, well-known United Baptist minister, was found by Eugene Gray in the road, near the home of Bascom May, about 6:45 p.m. He was breathing at the time, but Gray was unable to load him into his car. Gray drove on to the home of Stephens' brother-in-law, Joe Hunter, and they quickly returned to where Stephens lay. He was dead when they arrived.

A native of Dock, the victim was an Air Force sergeant in World War II, and was employed as a miner by the Music Coal Company at Bonanza. He was widely related in the county.

Surviving are his parents, the Rev. Stephens and Mrs. Emma Johnson Stephens, one son, Pfc. Billy Joe Stephens, of the Marine Corps, Clarksville, Tenn., two brothers, Henry Stephens, Jackson, Mich., and William Stephens, Chelsea, Mich., and six sisters, Mrs. Mary Bradley and Mrs. Dora Bradley, both of Munith, Mich., Mrs. Julia Hunter, of Cliff, Mrs. Betty Hunter, of Martin, Mrs. Bertha Ousley, of Dock, and Mrs. Nola Stumbo, of West Prestonsburg.

Funeral rites were conducted from the home of the parents Saturday morning, the Revs. Wallace Calhoun, Paris Music and Bert Conn officiating. Burial was made in the family cemetery, the Carter & Callihan Funeral Home directing.

State Soil Essay Winner Is Breathitt-co. Student; Will Receive $100 Bond

A 12-year-old Breathitt county student has been named state winner of the 1955 soil conservation essay contest.

Miss Verna Lee Hornbeck, of Jackson, will receive a $100 U. S. Savings Bond for her essay on the subject "How Forest Conservation Can Benefit My Community."

Her entry was judged best from 22,941 essays from 116 Kentucky Soil Conservation Districts, the largest participation in the contest's twelve year history. Prizes total $3,275.

Second prize of a $75 bond will be awarded to Robert W. Thomas, Jr., of Stricklett.

Tying for third place are Misses Doree Adams, Lexington, and Linda Huffaker, of Monticello. Both will receive $50 bonds.

Floyd county again led the states in the number of essays submitted.

Announcement of the winners was made by Barry Bingham, president of The Courier-Journal, The Louisville Times, WHAS and WHAS-TV, Robert R. Martin, State superintendent of public instruction, and A. Threlkeld, president of the Kentucky Association of Soil Conservation Districts.

The contest was sponsored by the newspapers and radio station in co-operation with the conservation group and the State Department of Education.

In addition to their bond prizes, the four state winners will be guests of honor at the annual Farm Awards Luncheon, in Louisville, Saturday.

Soil conservation districts with the largest participations were Floyd 2,955; Jefferson, 2,016; Letcher, 1,704; Pike, 1,213; Caldwell, 1,040 and Monroe, 782.

Miss Verna Gearheart, of Hueysville, was the Floyd county district winner. She received a $25 Savings Bond award and a certificate.

A Bet Is a Bet—So Why Not?

Governor Chandler is determined that the state tax on winnings of bettors at Keenland racetrack shall be eliminated.

The State Legislature apparently is committed to compliance with the Governor's wishes.

Inasmuch as it is not a tax on Keenland itself and applies only to winnings at the track, the only benefit visible to us as a result of this action is to make betting more attractive there.

Nobody in particular appears to be opposed to this plan to favor Keenland and to make racetrack betting more attractive. So we have a plan for all and sundry to consider:

Let's have a state lottery, so that every man, woman and child in the Commonwealth will have a chance to get in on the winnings (and losses), and so earn a lot of money for any number of causes.

The Youth Center

Although the Youth Center proposed for Prestonsburg youngsters cannot meet all the exacting requirements of modern-day youth, the young people it is intended to benefit should accept it gratefully inasmuch as it represents earnest effort on the part of interested parents and groups and a commendable generosity on the part of the City Council.

In short, the Youth Center represents the best of the sort that can be expected here for the present. And so The Times hopes that the youngsters will show their appreciation of the thinking and the work back of it, that they will join seriously in planning its operation and conduct, and make of these facilities something worthwhile to them and the community.

As these boys and girls enjoy the privileges of the Center, under adequate adult supervision, we trust they will be thinking, too, of another phase of youth activity which will take them off the streets and take their minds off the things of the streets. We refer to church and Sunday School and the varied youth activities connected with both wherein boys and girls will find wholesome entertainment as well as training every individual, rich or poor, needs a life full of stern realities.

Protect Humans First

This newspaper's sympathies with the foxhunter date way back—back to the days when its editor was one of those who ranged the distant ridges in exuberant enjoyment of the sport—but that sympathy does not blind us to a situation wherein considerations greater than a sport or love of dog must be given priority.

We refer to the threat of rabies spreading through the fox population of the county and from the foxes and other wild animals on to domestic animals and humans. The lives and well-being of people must be given first consideration.

We do not suggest hasty action, but we do insist that it is the duty of authorities to make a serious study of the situation. Then, if an impartial, objective study does show that human lives and the property of citizens are threatened by rabies from this source, it is the duty, we contend, of these authorities to see that the necessary steps are taken in time to assure the protection the lowliest citizen has a right to expect.

Youth Work is Active In Floyd: Mrs. Roberts Organizes New Clubs

This week (January 22 to 29) is National Y.M.C.A. Week.

Indicated in 1844 by Sir George Williams in London as an Association of young men for their spiritual growth, the Young Men's Christian Association is one of the oldest and largest youth organizations in the world and as "The Right Arm of the Church" has been carrying on its purpose to build Christian character and a Christian society.

Since 1878 the Kentucky State Y. M. C. A. has been carrying on its program of Christian character building for the youth of the State and today reaches 100,000 boys and girls with its program. This program includes the annual Youth Assembly at Frankfort, a model legislative assembly at which 600 high school boys and girls participated last year; the annual Youth Day and Cheerleaders Clinic at the University of Kentucky, at which 3,000 high school students and leaders from 200 high schools participated in 1955; Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs, Christian character-building clubs in high schools; Teen Talk and Grap-Talks, discussion courses for high schools and grade schools; Speaking to Youth program in which four outstanding community leaders challenge high school students to meet the problems of the community and other activities.

Geo. D. Wheeler, associate state secretary, with headquarters in Winchester, is in charge of the work of the State Y.M.C.A. in the Eastern Kentucky district.

Floyd county has been especially active in this program. Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs, under the leadership of Mrs. E. Dick Roberts, have taken a very active part in the annual Youth Assembly at Frankfort, and in 1953 Franklin Conley, of Prestonsburg high school, was Youth Governor. Other club members have served in other important offices of the Assembly. New clubs have been organized in the county. Prestonsburg has always had large delegations to the Youth Assembly, and sent one of the largest delegations of cheerleaders and other students to the Youth Day and Cheerleaders Clinic on "Sportsmanship", held at the University of Kentucky.

The high school life problem discussion course was used in a number of Floyd county high schools, and the grade school course was used in all grade schools.

URGES LEGISLATION

Oscar C. Hamilton, 41, of Patriot, O., but formerly of Banner, this county, died in Veterans hospital, Huntington, at 9:50 p.m. Sunday. He was a victim of hardening of the arteries. He had been hospitalized 37 days.

Mr. Hamilton, a veteran of the World War II navy, was a son of T. P. and Bessie Crisp Hamilton, both surviving. He was a member of the Freewill Baptist church.

Surviving, besides the parents, are four sons: Norman, Billy Scott and Curtis J., all at home, and Charles Ray, U. S. Army, Wilmington, Del. Also surviving are the following brothers and sisters: Bill Hamilton, Millbury, O., Junior, Otis and Harry L. Hamilton, and Mrs. Susan Akers, all of Banner, Mrs. Evelyn Lowe and Mrs. Hazel Renfro, both of Indianapolis, Ind.

Funeral rites were conducted Wednesday at the Regular Baptist church on Prater Creek, the Revs. Bert T. Conn and Carl Layne officiating. Burial was made in the Hall cemetery at Banner under the direction of Carter & Callihan Funeral Home.

New Clinch River Plant
To Have Initial Capacity
Of 450,000 Kilowatts

Plans for the construction of a major steam-electric generating plant in western Virginia by the Appalachian Electric Power Company were announced today by Philip Sporn, president of Appalachian and its parent company, American Gas and Electric Company. The plant will be known as the Clinch River Plant, will have an initial generating capacity of 450,000 kilowatts, and will cost an estimated $55-million.

The plant will be located on the south side of the Clinch River at the village of Carbo in Russell county, Va., midway between the villages of Cleveland and Carterton and approximately eight miles west of Lebanon. The 105-acre site is adjacent to the Clinch Valley Division of the Norfolk & Western Railroad.

Mr. Sporn, in commenting on the new plant and its significance, pointed out that the continuing growth and development of the seven-state American Gas and Electric System by 1958—and particularly the four Upper South states in which the plant will be centered: Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee—will require the additional electric power that Clinch Valley will provide.

Simultaneously with construction of the plant, three new 132,000-volt double-circuit transmission lines will be erected to feed the plant's production in as many directions. A 26-mile line will be built eastward to Appalachian's Saltville (Va.) Substation, midway between Abingdon and Tazewell, interconnecting at that point with other major transmission lines serving the entire Appalachian system. A 51-mile line will be built northward to Kentucky Power Company's Beaver Creek substation, at Hi Hat, which will tie in with that utility's power transmission network. And the third line, of 32 miles, will be directed southward to join Kingsport Utilities' power system. Together, the three lines will total 108 tower miles or 216 circuit miles.

bloodstained and remarked, "That's the sweetest smelling blood I ever smelled."

Defense Attorney Joe P. Tackett argued that Azzie Newsome, who is under a two-year pen sentence for rape, killed Akers in the darkness, thinking that he was stabbing Mitchell in an effort to help his good friend Akers.

Defense testimony admitted that Mitchell owned a knife but that he left it with his work badge in the pocket of his overalls which he had placed in a suitcase at the home of his sister. The defendant claimed that when he and Akers got out of the car his sister asked him if he was going to her home with his wife to spend the night. When he said he was, Akers declared, "You're not going anywhere—somebody will go under the yellow dirt." Akers then swung at Mitchell, defense testimony claimed, and the two fell to the ground, Akers on top. Mrs. Blankenship and Newsome then ran in, and she claimed she tore Akers' shirt in trying to pull him off her brother.

The defense questioned eight witnesses, including those used to assail Newsome's reputation.

Commonwealth's Attorney Burnis Martin was assisted in prosecution of the case by his brother, Knott County Attorney Dan Martin.

the FORD V-8

Just look at these official registration figures for the first 11 months—January through November, 1955

	Car Sales	Ford Sales Leadership
FORD V-8	1,241,742	.....
Car C—V-8	634,376	..... 607,366
Car P—V-8	262,870	..... 978,872
Car C—Six	845,153	..... 396,589
Car P—Six	334,540	..... 907,202

Here's why!

People just naturally go for 8 cylinders in the FORD package! And to a world record extent! Just think, in the first 11 months of 1955 alone, 344,496 more people bought Ford V-8's than the two other low-priced competitive eights combined! Of course, the reason the Ford V-8 is the largest selling eight-cylinder car in the world is that more people like its brand of performance—the kind that comes with the car! These people aren't amateurs in judging engines. Nearly 24 years of building Ford V-8's to supply their demand is convincing proof of that. And the Ford V-8 of today is the best yet... by a country mile! Smoother and quieter—you can scarcely hear it, even with the hood up!

Sassier—just ask the highway patrol officer who drives one. He knows it takes a Ford to catch a Ford! And, for the very practical question of durability—ask a Ford cab driver. He knows how Fords take it days on end. So, if it's performance that you want—and wrapped like a gift—the '56 Ford V-8 is your baby. Come in... try it today!

State Coal Production Is Up, Estimate Shows; Fatal Deaths Increase

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 23 (Spl.) — Kentucky coal production for 1955 totalled an estimated 7,315,915 tons—or 12,693,309 tons more than for the preceding year, the State Department of Mines and Minerals reported today. Production represented the highest output since 1951 when 73,950,000 tons were mined.

Meanwhile, there were 57 fatal accidents from all causes, three more than 1954, and 49 fewer than the 1951 total.

Percentage wise, the fatalities represented an average of one for each 1,251,141 tons of coal produced, the best record in history. In 1949 the total production represented one fatality for each 1,121,177 tons produced.

There were four fatalities last month, one each in Pike, Bell, Clay and Harlan counties.

Chief Mine Inspector James H. Phalan paid tribute to the entire coal industry, operators and workmen alike, for the "great strides in the past few years toward the promotion of safety."

"Credit for this success story was not written by any one individual, but by the combined contributions and efforts of many," he said. "The miners, supervisors, safety directors, inspection agencies, operators and owners, and various other organizations have contributed a worthwhile chapter to a wonderful story—a good safety record."

ONLY FRACTION OF CHILDREN ELIGIBLE GET POLIO VACCINE

Most Kentucky parents are not aware that polio vaccine is available.

This was announced today by U. Pentti Kokko, M. D., director of Local Health Services for the State Department of Health. Dr. Kokko based his statement on the report of Kemper and Associates, independent market-research organization, which just completed a study of the polio programs in 14 counties for the Department of Health.

The Kemper study covered 35,571 children eligible to receive the polio vaccine. As of December 1, only 18 per cent of these children had had their initial inoculation. Forty-five per cent of the 540 parents interviewed stated they were not even aware that vaccine was available for their children.

Fear of the vaccine was given as the reason for not immunizing their children by 24 percent of those interviewed.

The study contacted 634 families with 1,030 eligible children. 677 of whom had received no inoculation. Only 124 had received the first vaccination, while 299 had completed the two-shot series. At the time the study was made, during November and December, children one through nine years of age were eligible to receive vaccine.

The report says that the lack of awareness on the part of the parents did not indicate distrust of the vaccine itself, or any criticism of the way in which the distribution of the vaccine was being done.

The distribution program, recommended and approved by the Kentucky State Medical Association, gives counties three alternate methods of handling the vaccine. First free vaccine, sent from the State Department of Health to the local health units, can be administered solely by local physicians. Second, the inoculations can be given through the local health departments, or, third, a combination of these two plans may be used. Each county board of health was free to select one of these immunization procedures.

The method of distribution was not considered in the selection of the 14 counties covered by the study. The Kemper group chose the counties on the basis of socio-economic similarities and on the results of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis' immunization program last April. One county reporting a good coverage in April, when only first and second grade children were vaccinated, was paired with another county reporting poor coverage.

The counties included in the study were: Carlisle, Fulton, McLean, Edmonson, Simpson, Monroe, Owsley, Clay, Lawrence, Magoffin, Boyle, Madison, Bath, and Menifee.

The Kemper study indicates that an intensive educational campaign should be begun to inform Kentuckians of the availability, effectiveness, and safety of the vaccine. The report suggested that such a campaign might best be carried out through schools, and the report stressed the need for more forceful, local-level promotion by the local health departments.

Dr. Kokko stated that lack of leadership in many local health departments in Kentucky has impeded polio immunizations as well as other public health activities. "Where there is active leadership, provided by either medical or non-medical administrators, it has been clearly demonstrated that polio inoculations and other public health work is progressing satisfactorily," he said.

"The 14 counties in the study are not necessarily representative of local health departments throughout the entire state. And among the 14

SECOND PLACE WINNER GIVES REPORT ON 4-H PROJECTS

By Reba Joyce Salyers

(Miss Salyers is a second place winner of the annual Kentucky 4-H Club home achievement contest and the following report was submitted by her in the state-wide competition.)

I am now in my seventh year of perfectly rewarding 4-H Club experiences. I have carried many projects, but number is not so important as the experiences I have had in completing these projects. Because I have enjoyed and profited from these projects, I am a home economics major in college so that I can continue my projects on a larger scale. Among my projects have been the following: clothing, foods, junior leadership, housekeeping, farm labor, canning, good grooming, and room and home improvement. In addition to these I have tried to enrich my life by participating in activities such as: public speaking, citizenship, conservation, music, recreation, health improvement, and safety.

In housekeeping I have worked approximately 6,000 hours. Since I am the oldest in a family of seven children, the majority of this has been at home. But during one summer, I stayed at my grandparents' home and did all the housekeeping and cooking. I have learned faster and easier ways of doing routine things around the home. I have carried this four years.

In home improvement I papered all the rooms in our home by myself. I painted the inside of my grandmother's home. I made several articles for the rooms such as cushions, curtains, spreads, etc. I carried this project three years.
In good grooming I learned how to have better personal grooming and how to practice it constantly. I learned many new things about myself, and how to show my better points and hide my poorer ones.

I haven't done as much in my canning project as I would like to have done. I have canned only about one hundred quarts. I usually get the food from the garden and prepare it while my mother cans it.
There is always so much to be done around the home that I usually do other chores such as preparing meals, cleaning, etc.

I carried my farm labor project for one year. During that time I did general chores around home such as mowing, working in the garden, carrying water, feeding chickens and cleaning yard. I applied myself to learn easier and more enjoyable ways of doing these. Of course, some chores aren't very enjoyable regardless of the new methods and easier ways applied to them. I had 500 hours in this project.

My clothing project is now in its seventh year. I have made clothes for members of my family and for myself. I have altered several garments. I have learned how to use machine attachments to the best advantage. I have learned many ways of doing things faster. I have made 150 garments, sewed on 550 buttons, and altered 40 garments.
I have served as a junior leader in clothing.

My foods project has probably provided more sorrow and pleasure to my family than any project. I have cooked 2,000 meals and about 3,700 dishes. I have cooked for my family for long periods of time, and I have cooked for others. I have served as a foods project leader. I delight in trying new foods and new recipes.

My junior leadership project which I carried three years, has given me a tremendous amount of personal satisfaction. I have led a club of my own in addition to several small project groups. Two years I had 100 percent completion.
I have spent approximately 500 hours on this project. Seventy-six of ninety-four members have completed projects under my leadership.
One might say I "learned by doing" how to get 100 per cent completion.

I have been star and medal camper at district camp. I have won county championships and medals in clothing, housekeeping, junior leadership, food preparation,
home improvement, public speaking,
achievement, dress revue, foods judging, canning judging, and clothing judging at various times during my 4-H career. I have almost a hundred ribbons, the majority being blue or purple, which I have won in county and district rallies and achievement days, county and state fairs, and at camp.

I have served as president, secretary-treasurer (2 years), recreation leader and song leader of my club.
I have been president of the Floyd County Association of 4-H Clubs and Vice-President of the Floyd County 4-H Club Council. I have been for three years and am now a member of the Floyd County 4-H Club Council.

During the summer of 1953 I entertained an International Farm Youth Exchange from Germany in my home.

I attended district camp four years and state 4-H Week in Lexington three years.

I have helped with exhibits at local field days, county field days, county and district achievement days, county fair, and at county rally days.

One of the greatest things that has happened to me in 4-H is receiving the Danforth award as the outstanding 4-H square girl in the county. Another great thing that I worked for and dreamed about, was my 1953 trip to 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. As long as I live I don't think I'll ever get over the thrills of such a wonderful time. I won my trip in achievement for which I spent a glorious week in Chicago.

I'm a sophomore at Berea College now and I'm still a 4-H Club member. I dread facing the day when I can't be a 4-H member any longer.
This year I'm carrying foods, clothing, and housekeeping. My 4-H work has had a savings of time, energy, and money for me, my family, and community. I may not have gone as much in the past as I could have, but on the basis of what I have done, I can contribute more to the security of America through emphasizing better living for myself and others.

A Story of Progress that Benefits Everyone

The past year has seen booming growth all through the South—in business . . .
industry . . . housing . . . personal income. Telephone development has surged ahead, too. Since the telephone means so much to everyone, you might like to know some of the ways Southern Bell answered Dixie's call in 1955 for more and better service.

Last year we:

- Increased operator dialing of Long Distance calls straight through to the distant numbers.
- Converted many exchanges to the new nation-wide numbering system, which will eventually make it possible for you to dial your own Long Distance calls.
- Added many thousands of miles of new Long Distance circuits and TV network routes.
- Installed a bumper crop of new rural telephones, with the aid of newly-discovered technical developments and construction methods.
- Carried out history-making tests proving that new-type rural service can be powered by the Bell Solar Battery, which harnesses the sun's energy for the first time.

- Changed many more telephones to dial service.
- Made widely available new and improved equipment such as telephones in color . . . volume-control phones . . . dials that light up in the dark . . . the Speakerphone, which lets you talk and hear without lifting the receiver . . . and many more.

ANSWERING KENTUCKY'S CALL...

In Kentucky, we added 22,500 new telephones in '55. This involved construction of buildings and equipment amounting to over 15 million dollars. In all, we have spent over 115 million dollars to expand and improve service in the State since 1945.

In step with Kentucky's progress, we plan to spend about 26 million more in 1956 on construction to provide Kentuckians with the kind of service they want and need.

This large expansion program makes telephone service more useful and valuable for everyone. And the millions of dollars for construction, plus more millions we pay in wages and taxes, contribute vitally to the State's economy.

Two Floyd-co. Students End College Work Today

Willa Dean Prater and Robert L. Connors, Floyd county students at Morehead State College, are among 17 seniors who are expected to complete degree requirements at the close of the current semester today (Thursday). It was announced by Linus A. Fair, registrar. They will receive their diplomas at spring commencement exercises in May.

Miss Prater, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Prater, of Risner, is a candidate for the bachelor of Arts degree with an area of concentration in elementary education. At Morehead she has been active in the Home Economics Club and the Future Teachers of America. She is a 1952 graduate of Prestonsburg high school.

Connors, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Connors, of Estill, will receive a bachelor of Arts degree with an area of concentration in social science. While at Morehead he has been a member of the Open Forum Club, Vets' Club and Student Council. He was graduated in 1949 from Wayland high school.

CARD OF THANKS

There are no words sufficient to express our thanks for the services rendered during the illness and death of our husband and father, G. Lee Spradlin. Especially the singers, Rev. Ted Greene, and the courtesy extended to us by the flowers. May we just say "God Bless you all." Mrs. Lee Spradlin and Children.

Reed Presents Tarleton with Statuette

B. F. Reed, of Drift, presents G. O. Tarleton (center) with a statuette for leadership of the Council's 100 Club as S. M. Cassidy looks on.

Under the aggressive leadership of G. O. Tarleton, chairman, the 100 Club of the Lonesome Pine Council has grown to a membership of more than 80 members. This, according to Council Finance Chairman B. F. Reed, has given the Council more financial stability than it has had for several years.

At a recent 100 Club banquet, G. O. Tarleton, of Jenkins, was presented a statuette for his leadership of the 100 Club by B. F. Reed. Mr. Reed stated that without the able leadership given by Mr. Tarleton the growth of the 100 club during the past year would have been impossible.

Several new members of the 100 Club were presented with statuettes. It was the opinion of the group that only the surface of potential membership has been touched. The resolution was made that goal be set for a substantial increase in membership for 1956.

Reed stated that without the able leadership given by Mr. Tarleton the growth of the 100 club during the past year would have been impossible.

Legislation Proposed To Give Med Licensees Right to Fully Qualify

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 23 (Spl.) — Persons now holding "limited" medical licenses would be given full rights to practice medicine upon proof that they had practiced two full years and completed certain academic studies, under terms of legislation proposed in the Senate by Senators Wendell Van Hoose, Tutor Key, and Doug Hays, McDowell, and in the House by Reps. Ralph O. Stith, Guston, and Morris Weintraub, Newport.

Repeal of the mandatory fair trade markups on wholesale and retail whiskey transactions was also sought in a bill offered in the Senate by Senator Hays. The law requires that wholesalers mark up their product at least 15 percent above the cost price, and that retailers' markups be a minimum of 33 1/2 percent.

Establishment of a nursery for the propagation of blight-resistant chestnut-tree seedlings, and providing it with an emergency appropriation of $30,000 for the remainder of the present fiscal year, was offered in the House by a group of Representatives.

Sponsors included these Representatives from this section: Harry M. Caudill, Whitesburg; John B. Reed, Canada; Goebel W. Newsom, Elkhorn City; David Martin, Jr., Hi Hat; Roy H. Grigsby, Hardbury; Banjo Bill Cornett, Hindman; Lynn Jennings, Paintsville.

VISIT RELATIVES

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

By GORDON WILSON, Ph.D.
Western Kentucky Teachers' College Bowling Green, Ky.

THE FOLK AND MONEY

It is the first of the year; among other things to expect at this time are the reports of the various banks. Certainly these reports look good; our area is prosperous, judging by the bank deposits. But not even the banks can report all the money, for there are still many people who are afraid to risk banks or any such thing. I wonder how much money is handed in a single county for which there is no very obvious record.

I can remember when a check was a rare thing in many homes. If anyone were to be paid, it must be in "spot cash," preferably silver, for there were still some left-over fears of paper money, fears engendered by the financial chaos that resulted from the Civil War. Old-timers used to tell—and quite accurately, too—of having to give almost two dollars of paper money for one hard coin.

If a bill was suspect, a check was ever so much more so. In my own experience I have had many a handy man working around the place who would not accept a check. He seemed to feel that that little piece of paper was worthless and would probably get him into trouble when he presented it at the bank. Most checks, probably are cashed, anyway, at the corner grocery or some other trading place. That is handy, and it might push the big bad wolf a little farther away from the holder of the original check.

The superstition that regards a two-dollar bill as unlucky is widespread, though I have never known how it arose. Though we had lots of folk things at Fidelity, I do not recall having heard of that superstition there. In fact, the earliest record of it that I have was 1913. When my wife and I were starting away on our wedding journey, I bought our railroad tickets and got back, among other change, a two dollar bill. A man who was standing next in line to get his ticket warned me about the danger waiting for me. Just what they were he failed to specify. Whatever calamity was brewing seems to be taking its time. Many times after that instance I heard about the danger of accepting a two-dollar bill. Then I got my surprise. Once when a colored man was working for me, I had only a two-dollar bill to pay him; I felt, somehow, that he would not take a check. Imagine my surprise when I asked him whether he would take a two-dollar bill; he replied, smiling: "Shore, boss, as many as you can give me."

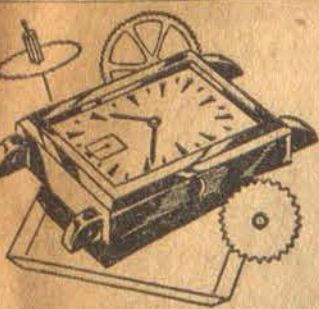

The fear of banks has caused some pathetic tragedies that I have known about. Every year that I can remember there has been someone who lost his money by having it burn up in some hidden corner of the house or be carried away with some trash or stolen by someone. Almost the whole of the life savings of an elderly couple went up in flames; I learned that the two old people were afraid of any bank. They had read of banks "busting" and felt that their money was safer in their own little cabin. Unfortunately, none of the ashes could be identified sufficiently for the old couple to get some of their money back from the government.

Back when payrolls were often heavy affairs, with silver dollars making up most of the burden, an acquaintance of mine was troubled about his money, for he was working in a tough lumber town where a fellow might get, conked on the head easily. He worked out a private bank that served him for the months that he was employed there. He slipped out after dark to a pile of tin cans, put his dollar inside one, and placed the can, rusty and unprepossessing, in the pile. He was careful to keep an eye on the can and never went to his bank except after dark. He knew that no civic pride would cause any disturbance of the pile of cans. He kept his dollars from harm, avoided being robbed, and fairly soon found work elsewhere, for he was still fearful that his bank might be robbed or he overtaken by thieves.

Among with the annual reports of the banks, wouldn't you like to know how many secret hoards are still intact? I would.

NON-DETERGENT REGULAR
Here's proved power loss measured on the same Dynamometer when harmful engine dirt from non-detergent gasolines builds up as you drive, robs you of engine power mile by mile. This actual power loss was measured with the engine developing maximum power, operating at a constant speed.

Paintsville Tigers Win Tourney, Edging W'wright

Paintsville high school, Virgie high and Kelly Coleman remained in the 15th region cage picture over the past week-end of action as all continued their impressive showings. Jim Wheeler's Tigers copped the fourth annual Paintsville Tournament with a 72-68 conquest of Wheelwright in the finals Saturday night before a capacity crowd on their home floor.

Virgie's Eagles, after losing seven of their first eight games, have come back strong to win in succession with Inez their latest victim, 78-61. Six-foot center Ralph Tackett has been the big gun in the string with his all-round play. His 29 points against Inez was the big difference.

Wayland's Wasps played their second and third games of the week on Friday and Saturday nights, and the games were their 16th and 17th wins of the season. McDowell was a 91-54 victim and rival Garrett fell, 60-61. Coleman, somewhat wilted after a 52-point spree Friday, hit only 31 Saturday night. He connected on only 2 of 16 charity tosses and missed 23 shots from the field.

John Bill Trivette's Pikeville Panthers upped their season's record to 9-5 with an overtime decision over Clay County, 44-43. The score was tied, 10-10, at the end of the first period. Pikeville took a 26-22 lead at halftime and then the count was knotted 35-35 and 42-42 in the next two rest stops before Pikeville won, 44-43, in the extra period.

Feds Creek, leader in the 57th district, dropped its third game in bowling, 88-82, to Hellier. Seven players hit in the double figures in the wild-scoring melee. Ronald Francisco, Jimmie Gibson, and Larry Lawhorn tallied 29, 21, and 22 respectively for Hellier and Don Dotson, Edgar Tackett and Bill Carroll racked up 25, 21, and 15 for the losers.

Paintsville avenged its only loss of the season, in bumping Wheelwright in the finals of its tournament. Three weeks ago, the losing Maroons had whipped the Tigers, 84-62, at Wheelwright.

Paintsville gained the finals by edging Martin, 70-68, in a double-overtime first-round win. After blowing a 15-point lead midway the third period, the Tigers fell behind, 64-62, with three seconds remaining, and forward Tommy Daniels was fouled as the game-ending horn sounded. Daniels calmly sank the two tying free tosses, and each team scored twice in the first extra period for another tie, 68-68. The center, Franklin Kennard, uncorked a 10-footer in the sudden-death period to ice the win.

In the semi-final round, Meade Memorial fell before the Johnson countians, 48-43, in a cautiously played tilt.

Wheelwright had gained the final round by romping over Warfield, 90-63 in the opener, then edged by rangy Flat Gap, 61-59 in the semi-finals.

In other games in the eight-team affair, Meade Memorial eliminated Prestonsburg, 76-61, and Flat Gap bounced crippled Betsy Layne, 81-65.

Betsy Layne lost the services of its second regular in three weeks. Senior Guard Thomas Spears seriously injured his knee mid-way the game and will undergo an operation this week. He, along with 6-4 center Charles Blevins, is out for the season.

Jumping, one-hand shooting guard Phillip Estep was the point-getter for Paintsville in the final game with 33. Diminutive guard Charlie Hall pitched in 18 while center Bryan Hall and Franklin Kennard controlled the boards.

In other games, Raceland stopped Louisa 79-46, and Auxier stopped Maytown, 72-62.

SPORTS CHATTER

By GORDON MOORE

CURRY LEADS

Chet Curry, Wheelwright's flashy center, paced the individual scorers in the Paintsville tournament with 75 points in three games for a nifty 25-point-per-game average. Paintsville's junior guard, Phillip Estep, was next in line with 60 for three games; however, his 33 in the final game was the highest total for any individual in a single game.

Eight other players averaged 20 or more points per game including Floyd countians Lowell Hughes, Homer Osborne, Delmar Thompson and Gary Daniels.

The Floyd county drawings will not be conducted until mid-February.

PIKE AT FLORIDA

Ex-Prestonsburg cager, Charlie Pike, is a starting guard on the University of Florida cage team as is Ashland's Bob Emerick.

MAY BE BEST

According to various reports from state fish experts, fishing at Dewey Lake this spring should be the best since the lake was impounded. Their basis for this prediction is, once a lake has been lowered, plus a previous poisoning operation, fresh water from the refilling procedure keeps the fish active and on the move. In other lakes where these practices have taken place, fishing in the following year has been highly productive.

LOOK FOR FIRST WIN

Hazard high school, 1955 state high school basketball champs, has not won a game in ten starts this season.

SECOND LOSS

Betsy Layne suffered another severe loss on its fine basketball team when senior Guard Thomas Spears injured a knee in the Flat Gap fray last Thursday. An operation may keep him out for the rest of the season. Thus he joins regular center, 6-4 Charles Blevins, who is out with a broken collar bone.

Golf Club Members Honor Mr., Mrs. A. H. Mandt

Members of the Beaver Valley Gold Club held a dinner Saturday night to present trophies to winners of the 1955 golf tournament. Sixty-seven members attended, more than had ever been together at any other meeting. After dinner had been served and trophies had been awarded, members surprised Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Mandt with a beautiful sterling silver ice bucket. It was given in appreciation for Mr. Mandt's untiring work with and for the club during his time as its president.

The Mandts are moving to Middlesboro, Ky., where Mr. Mandt will be in charge of a large mining operation. "Floyd county will really miss them," was the comment widely heard at the golf club meeting. Mr. Mandt was and is very active in Boy Scouting and he and Mrs. Mandt have taken leading part in Red Cross drives, the Retarded Children's program and many more civic and charitable movements.

If your husband had to do this...

he'd buy an electric clothes dryer

Drying the family wash is really a man-sized job, so why not let your husband do it—at least once? It's about the quickest way we know to get that electric clothes dryer you've been longing for.

After lugging heavy baskets of clothes, and bending and stretching to hang each piece, he's bound to think of an electric clothes dryer. There's nothing easier for you... nothing better for your clothes.

Just toss a washer-load of clothes into the dryer, turn a dial, and within an hour your clothes are not only dry—but sparkling clean and bright. No soot can dirty them, no sun can fade them.

Let your husband hang your next wash, and you'll be seeing your appliance dealer within a week!

She received the highest score in a written examination which tested the homemaking knowledge and attitudes of senior girls in the graduating class. She will be entered in competition to name this state's candidate for the title of All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow and will also be considered for the runner-up award in the state. She received a golden award pin designed by Trifari which was presented by Mr. Ottis Spurlock, principal, at an assembly program, Tuesday.

Each state Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow will receive a $1,500 scholarship and an educational trip with her school advisor to Washington, D. C., colonial Williamsburg, Va., and Philadelphia. A $500 scholarship will be awarded the runner-up girl in each state. The school of the state winner will receive a set of the Encyclopedia Britannica.

The 50-minute written examination, designed and judged by Science Research Associates of Chicago, which was given to all participants in this national search, consisted of questions which tested the students' attitude and knowledge in the major areas of homemaking.

Each girl who took the test received a homemaking guide that will assist her in pursuing the career of homemaking.

SPORTS AFIELD

By TED KESTING

"After a lifetime of fishing, and studying such matters, I have found but one reliable way to determine how well fish are biting—go out and fish." So says Jason Lucas.

As angling editor of Sports Afield Magazine, Lucas gets lots of mail from readers who write that the fish they catch often have empty stomachs. Some recent experiments tend to show that fish frequently, before taking a bait or lure, disgorge the contents of their stomachs.

And two readers who fish in exceptionally clear water, in different parts of the country, have recently written of seeing bass disgorge after taking a plug—instantly perhaps telling them they could fight better on empty stomachs. So if you catch a bass with no food in him, it doesn't necessarily mean that he hasn't eaten.

Intelligence of fish also brings lots of reader comment. The past few years several universities have been experimenting with this. But Lucas feels that all experiments with fish in tanks must be regarded with great caution, since they have little bearing on what wild fish will do. Still, analyzing them properly, they can be interesting to fishermen in helping to determine comparative intelligence of different species.

Not only in different species, but in individual fish of one kind, intelligence can vary enormously. This explains why some very big fish may be found in hard-fished water; they were born smarter than the rest, and so live longer and grow bigger.

Then, there's the question of how long individual fish can remember being hooked. With one other an hour, a week, a year—or perhaps a lifetime, though this is doubtful. Nor will a fish lose caution all at once; he will lose it gradually. Thus, when he's lost only part of it, he stands a good chance of being caught by a smart angler who is expert at fooling fish, though he'd be quite safe from a beginner.

Advisory Group Makes Proposals to Reform State Court Procedure

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 23 (Spl.) — The non-partisan selection of judges, an extension of the "friend of the court" procedure in family problem cases and enlarged use of the appellate procedure was proposed to the General Assembly as among desirable judicial reforms by the Advisory Committee on the Judicial System, set up to assist the Legislative Research Commission make a study of the System.

The committee was headed by Circuit Judge Ira D. Smith, Hopkinsville, and included Charles S. Adams, Covington; Judge Matt Blackard, Versailles; Robert T. Caldwell, Former Gov. Simeon Willis, Ashland; Maxey B. Harlin, Bowling Green; State Senator A. W. Grafton, Prospect; Rep. Paul E. Young, Russellville; Rufus Lisle, Lexington, and James T. Fleming, Frankfort.

Also recommended was an overhaul of the magisterial district court system, and that further study be given to the possibility of establishing specialized courts to handle particular problems. Among recommendations of the committee were:

That the study undertaken by the committee be continued by resolution of the 1956 General Assembly, with an increased effort being made to co-ordinate workings of all interested agencies.

A flexible law to make it possible for the Court of Appeals to retain the present procedure or adopt techniques designed to lighten its present workload.

That an intensive study be undertaken in preparation for a general redistricting of judicial districts by 1962, pointing out that the present districts vary in population from 30,000 to 92,000. Redistricting has been piecemeal without regard to statewide conditions.

Circuit judges should be reimbursed for out-of-pocket travel expenses while away from home, and salaries of all, ranging from $7,500 to $8,400 a year, should be equalized.

Judges should be chosen in non-partisan primaries and elections, without designation of party affiliation.

Changes in the garnishment laws, especially as they affect wage exemption, should be considered with a view providing much needed improvement in the judicial system.

Fiscal courts should be authorized to appoint a "friend of the court" to assist the circuit court in family problem cases.

Concern for Watersheds Is Held by Commissioner; Acts Thought Inadequate

Concern over the inadequacy of existing and proposed federal legislation relating to small watersheds in Kentucky was expressed this week by Conservation Commissioner Leban P. Jackson.

"The Hope-Aiken Bill providing for federal assistance to local flood control projects offered great hope to those interested in flood control and prevention. However, due to the interpretation given this law by the Secretary of Agriculture, who is charged with its administration, its benefits are practically unavailable to Kentucky. Only the rich areas can receive any benefits since the chief criteria used by the Secretary in selecting areas for flood control projects is the ability of the local area to purchase or pay for the federal aid.

"The federal government receives nine and one-half dollars tax per gallon on Kentucky whiskey and the total tax on tobacco amounts to one thousand and eight hundred dollars per acre. These two principal products produce more than 4% of the national budget, therefore, I do not hesitate to state that the federal government owes the citizens of this Commonwealth substantial financial as well as technical assistance in our watershed program.

"As Commissioner of Conservation, I am determined that our state receive its equitable share of the flood control benefits from the Federal government. We now have 139 applications for watershed projects submitted to the federal government for approval," Jackson stated.

"The amount of money available in the locality applying for benefits should not be criteria for approval of the project, but rather the overall benefits to be derived must be the determining factor. Kentucky must refuse to allow flood control protection to be sold to the highest bidder, it must go to the neediest.

"Flood control is a national welfare program comparable to war and polio and must be recognized as such by all phases of government.

"Immediately upon my appointment as Commissioner of Conservation a complete review of applicable laws was undertaken by the personnel of the Flood Control and Water Usage and the Soil and Water Resources Divisions. This study is now complete and the necessary remedial legislation is being drafted for presentation to our Kentucky Delegation in Washington."

Mr Advertiser:

The above space is the exact size of a two-cent postal card that business establishments sometimes use for advertising their products.

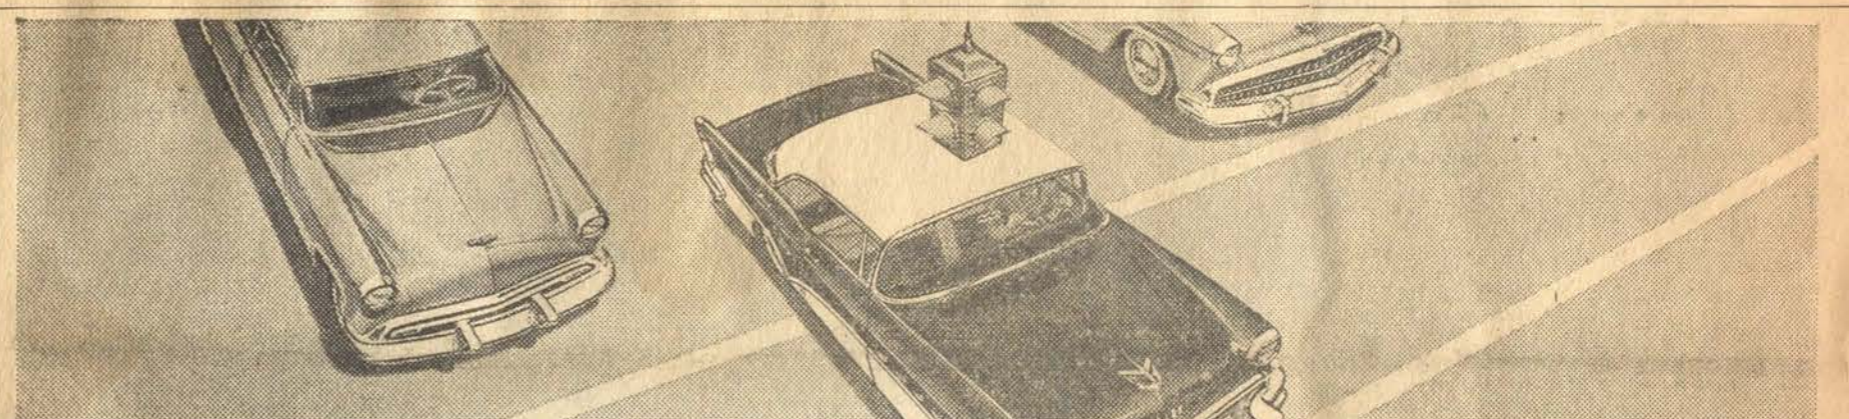

An ad this size in THE FLOYD COUNTY TIMES is seen by at least 12,000 people and at a cost of only $6.50 to you.

If postal cards were mailed to 12,000 people it would cost you, the advertiser, $240.00 for the cards alone plus the cost of printing and handling.

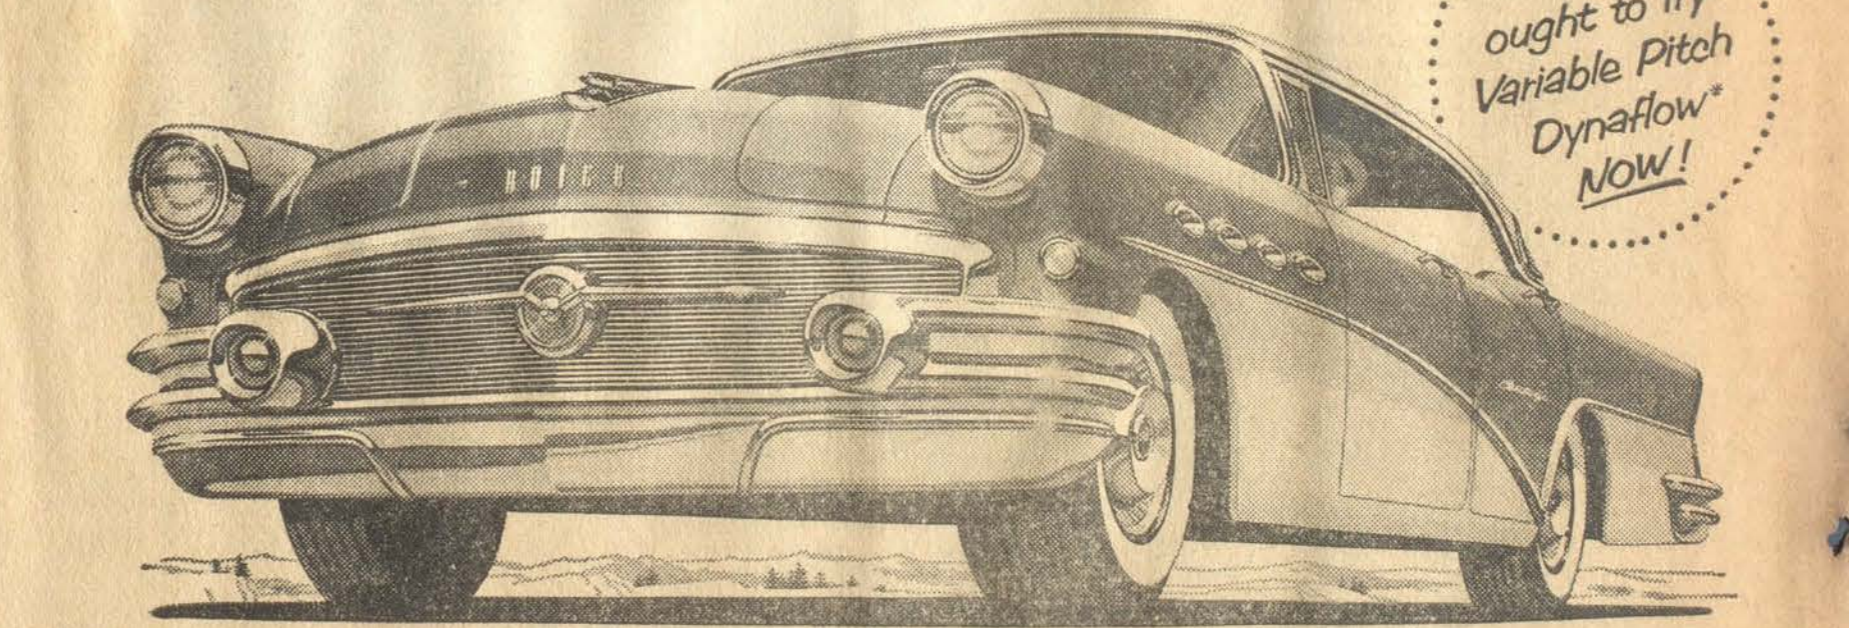

THROUGH NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING YOU CONTACT THE SAME NUMBER OF PEOPLE AND AT A SAVINGS OF MORE THAN $280, besides saving the work of addressing and mailing cards.

Newspapers Lead In The Advertising Field

In a survey made of the advertising practices of department stores in all sections of the country, it was found that the typical store allocated 80 per cent of the advertising dollar to the newspapers, 9 per cent to television, 4 per cent to radio, 3 per cent to direct mail and 4 per cent to other media. Newspapers have been and still are the advertising leaders.
