

This Town— That World

I believe I have noted here that my young son has a pet rabbit. I hasten to add that it's nice for children to have pets till the pets start having children.

PROOF

Illustrating how unfair it often is to quote a speaker out of context, Senator Ervin of North Carolina told the story of the preacher who looked on with dismay years ago when the female hair-do ran to top knots. One Sunday the parson took as his text what, according to him, was an injunction straight out of the Bible: "Top Knot Come Down." And he went to town on the subject.

After the service one irate top-knotter protested that no such text was to be found in the Bible. Whereupon the preacher confidently turned to Matthew 24:17 and read: "Let him which is on the house top not come down to take anything out of his house."

HIS SYSTEM FOR SAVING

London tax officials thought they had Bill Hughes dead to rights when they charged him with book-making and failing to pay taxes on the proceeds. The 50-year-old shipyard worker admitted having saved $16,800 on his $56-a-week salary.

NAME RATLIFF DEFENSE HEAD

Two Aides To Be Named To Work With Director; Meeting Held Tuesday

A committee composed of County Judge Henry Stumbo, Mayor Harry Sandige, of Prestonsburg and Mayor Denzil Haubert of Martin, has named Wayne Ratliff, director of instruction with the Floyd County Board of Education, to head the Civil Defense effort in this county, was announced this morning (Thursday).

Mr. Ratliff accepted the responsibility of the post, and two assistant directors, representing both sexes, will be appointed soon.

His selection to head Civil Defense in the county followed a meeting of county and city officials and interested citizens here Tuesday evening at the office of the State Department of Economic Security. The state has re-emphasized the program and intensive work will be undertaken in every county not only toward establishing an effective organization to function in case of enemy attack but also to awaken the people from a sense of false security in time of peace.

Speakers at Tuesday's meeting included the Rev. Harold W. Dorsey, Fred A. James and Loreda Jamandre, a 4-H director from the Philippines.

The minister pointed out that Floyd county is in an area near enough to Cincinnati, Lexington, Oak Ridge, Charleston and other centers to suffer from atomic bomb fallout if and when an enemy attack does come. Mr. James, a telephone company employe, stressed the need to be prepared. He explained that a 10-cent pair of clipper could cut telephone wires and throw into confusion the communications system of the entire county.

STEEL STRIKE CLOSES MINES AT W'WRIGHT

Some Small Operations Hit by Inland Stoppage; Export Business, Good

Miners returned from vacation Monday, and some resumed work that night while others waited till Tuesday. But for many the wait will be longer.

Operations of the Inland Steel Company, a "captive" operation, closed this week at Wheelwright and Price because the nation's steel strike had temporarily eliminated all steel mill need for coal.

Perhaps a thousand workers at Inland will be idle as a result, and suspension of operation of the Wheelwright mines and the company's big tippie and preparation plant at Price will probably affect a dozen small mines which have been selling coal to Inland.

The Unemployment Division of the Department of Economic Security here was prepared to register for unemployment pay all from this county who are employed by Inland and by other smaller mines whose operations are affected by the Inland shutdown.

Yet the picture was not altogether gloomy at the county's coal mines this week, despite the steel strike. The export business is good, and this is helping keep coal production going. Still other mines have a strong domestic market.

If the strike lasts no longer than six weeks, the mine unemployment situation outside Wheelwright is not expected to reach the critical stage, one coal operator said. But if it does, the effect on the coal industry could be paralyzing.

Steel wage talks were slated to be resumed today (Thursday) with a U. S. mediator sitting in on the parley, but there was little hope for an immediate settlement.

FUGATE GETS HIGHWAY POST

Gov. Chandler Appoints Former Knott Sheriff From Eighth District

General Fugate, a former Knott county sheriff, was one of eight advisory highway commissioners named by Governor A. B. Chandler last week at a $7,200-a-year salary each.

Fugate, now a Hindman merchant, will represent the Eighth highway district, composed of the counties of Floyd, Knott, Johnson, Magoffin, Lawrence, Pike, Martin, Breathitt, Perry, Leslie, Clay, Laurel, Bell, Harlan, Letcher, and Knox.

The commission, created by the 1956 Legislature, is a duplicate of the arrangement during Governor Chandler's first term 20 years ago.

Other commissioners named: First Highway district — Ralph McCuiston, Murray, construction engineer and farmer.

COOPER SEEKS SENATE SEAT

Will Oppose Wetherby For Barkley Post; Hailed As Boost for Ike in Ky.

A few days before it was announced that his recent bout with serious illness will not deter him from being a candidate for reelection to the Presidency, President Eisenhower made a strong bid for the Kentucky vote by successfully urging John Sherman Cooper to oppose former Governor Lawrence W. Wetherby for the U. S. Senate post left vacant by the death of Alben W. Barkley.

Cooper's announcement that he would accept the nomination was made to the state Republican convention in Louisville Saturday. Wiring the committee that he had agreed to accept the nomination if it was offered, he explained that the President had urged him to be the party's candidate.

He was quickly placed in nomination by James Park, the nomination was seconded by the Rev. Elmer Gabbard, and the weeks-long hopes of the G. O. P. in Kentucky were realized. Mr. Park and the Rev. Gabbard had both been prominently mentioned as possible choices of the convention if Cooper did not run.

President Eisenhower's decision to stay in the race for re-election was made Tuesday.

Trimble Branch Home Destroyed By Fire

A small residence on Trimble Branch owned by Andrew Gobie into which his daughter, Mrs. Parley Hunter, had moved part of her household effects and in which she, her baby and her sister were sleeping was destroyed by fire at 3:45 a.m., Tuesday.

Mrs. Hunter said the interior of the house was aflame when she awakened. Nothing was saved from the building. It is believed the blaze was caused by defective wiring. The gas service to the house had not been reconnected, Fire Chief Vernon Blackburn said.

COLVIN KILLED IN CAR WRECK

Police Sergeant Told By Driver That Victim Caused Loss of Control

Kentucky State Police this week quoted Ronald Paul Brafford, 21, of Shelby, driver of the car which wrecked near Shelby Junction Monday, fatally injuring Gilbert Colvin, 41, of Weeksville, as saying that the wreck resulted when Colvin put his arm around Brafford's neck in an attempt to force him to drive to Wheelwright.

Relatives of the victim were quoted, however, as saying the wreck resulted from a blow-out.

Colvin, a miner, died at Methodist hospital, Pikeville, of head injuries, a few hours after the wreck. The car plunged over an embankment, about eight miles south of Pikeville. Brafford's condition was described by hospital attendants as "fair".

Sgt. Chester D. Potter said Brafford told him he was driving south on U. S. 23 when two cars in front of him stopped at Shelby Junction, forcing him to stop also. Colvin, who was hitchhiking, opened the door of Brafford's convertible, got in the back seat and asked to be taken to Indian Creek. Brafford said Colvin then told him to take him to Wheelwright instead.

Brafford refused to obey Colvin, he told Sgt. Potter, adding that the passenger then put his arm around the driver's neck, causing him to lose control. State police said a second youth, who was not identified, verified Brafford's story.

Colvin was thrown out of the car which then struck him, it was said.

Victim of the wreck was a son of Mrs. Mary Lou Kestner Colvin and the late Sam Colvin. Besides his mother he leaves his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Colvin, one daughter, Miss Lou Ann Colvin, of Detroit, also two brothers and two sisters, Leonard Colvin, Roysville, La., Woodrow Colvin, Dunham, Ky., Mrs. Robert Shay, Detroit, and Mrs. Orville Oney, of Whitaker.

Funeral rites were conducted Wednesday afternoon from the Church of Christ at East Point, and burial was made in the Hager Hill cemetery, the Hall Brothers Funeral Home directing.

RURAL SCHOOL OPENING SET

Enroll Pupils July 30; Consolidated Groups Set To Start Term August 27

Floyd county's rural schools will open Monday, July 30, it was announced this week by County Superintendent, Virgil O. Turner. Teachers should check out books by the schedule which will reach them during the week preceding the school opening, he added.

Monday morning will be used to enroll children. The teachers meeting will be held at Martin at 1:00 p.m., the same day. Consolidated schools will begin their 1956-1957 term on August 27. The same procedure for enrolling and scheduling in the morning, with a group meeting at 1:00 p. m. is being planned.

"We are using this procedure to avoid a Saturday meeting and to preserve our average daily attendance which is now highly important," Mr. Turner explained.

HIGH RATING TO HOSPITAL

Prestonsburg General Is Issued Provisional Accreditation Recently

Provisional accreditation of the Prestonsburg General hospital was made July 2 by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals, Chicago.

The 50-bed Prestonsburg hospital is the only such Floyd institution to gain this rating. A subsequent survey will be made to establish its possible full accreditation.

The rating by the Joint Commission was made on evaluation of the survey made of the hospital here last May by Dr. T. A. Nordlander, field representative of the Joint Commission. Before full accreditation can be gained the hospital medical record library must be in operation for a full year. This added facility of Prestonsburg General was placed in use only a short time ago by Dr. George P. Archer and Dr. John G. Archer, owners of the hospital.

Accreditation of a hospital depends on how well it meets minimum requirements in these divisions in which inspection is made: Physical plant, administration, medical staff organization, medical records, clinical laboratory, X-ray department, nursing service and dietary department.

"Accreditation," according to Robert S. Myers, administrative assistant, American College of Surgeons, "is the 'sterling' on silver of the hospital world, but a strange and unknown word to the general public." It is strange to the public, he added, because of the conservatism of the medical profession, which shuns publicity. It was also explained that such a rating by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals is not a money-maker for either hospitals or doctors but a high standard set for the benefit of the patient.

SUIT CHARGES DIST. OFFICER

Commonwealth's Attorney Asks $1,000 As A Penalty Against Floyd Constable

Commonwealth's Attorney Burnis Martin filed Monday in the name of the Commonwealth against Constable Johnny Caudill, of District No. 3, a suit seeking $1,000 judgment as the penalty for alleged drunkenness of the officer while in the discharge of his official duties.

The suit was filed under Section II of the Criminal Code, and the petition points out that the offense is one which is punishable only by fine. It alleges that on Saturday, July 7, Constable Caudill while in the vicinity of Jack's Creek and while in the discharge of the duties of his office "became intoxicated or unable, incompetent or disqualified to discharge the duties of his office by the use of spirituous, vinous or malt liquors."

Farmers, wishing to sign the "soil bank" agreement, must do so on or before July 20, it was pointed out by Elder Gobie, office manager of ASC here.

Parts Of Human Skeleton Found This Week In Cave Near Harold

Parts of a human skeleton were discovered near Harold Monday by two young boys while exploring the recesses of a deep cave. They were brought to the sheriff's office here by Deputy Sheriff Joe Wheeler Lewis, of Mare Creek, who obtained the bones from the finders Monday afternoon.

While most of the bones were broken in many pieces, one, presumably of the right arm, seemed to be intact. Ten teeth, scattered among pieces of the skeleton, were in good condition. All showed evidence, to amateur observers, of great age.

The skeleton parts were sent by a member of The Times staff to the University of Kentucky for examination. A report is expected within a few days. It is possible, it was pointed out, that the bones may be part of an Indian skeleton, which had been lying in the cave for an indeterminate length of time.

COURT ORDER CLOSES CLUB

Miners Club at Hunter Is Closed Six Months; Second Set For Hearing

The Miners' Club at Hunter was closed by order of the Floyd circuit court Tuesday for a period of six months following a hearing on the suit filed last week by County Attorney Hollie Conley to effect its closing.

A hearing on a similar suit filed against the Steak House at East Point was continued till July 21 on motion of defense counsel.

Testimony against the Miners' Club was supplied wholly by Floyd deputy sheriffs who told of intoxicating times during raids on the place. Sam Salsbury, who said he was hired to operate the club, was the only defense witness. Asked how much he was paid for his services, he said $8 a day. This he was paid out of earnings of the club, he said. Urged by Judge Edward P. Hill to explain the source of these earnings, he said they were from the sale of cigarettes. The judge's closure action followed.

Paul E. Hayes, attorney for the Steak House, said in asking continuance of the case that he will file an intervening petition. He claimed one party-defendant in the case was not named in the suit filed against the Steak House last week.

TIPSY DRIVER CASE PROBED

Man Arrested Sunday In Virginian's Truck; Others Are Arrested

Alleged driving violations have within the week resulted in the arrest of seven Floyd countians.

One of those arrested, Lewis Edward Powers, is being held in jail here while authorities investigate the circumstances under which he acquired control of a Virginia man's truck. Powers told officers here that the truck was owned by a Virginian whom he met in Columbus, Ohio. The owner asked him, he said, to drive the truck home. He claimed he was en route to Virginia when he was picked up Sunday by Deputy Sheriff Willie Johnson, Sheriff Gorman Collins learned that the truck is properly registered in Virginia under the name of the man whom Powers identified as the owner, but the owner had not been located Wednesday.

Others booked on driving offenses: Moses Combs, reckless driving, arrested by Deputy Sheriff Kelly Frasure; Eddie Lawson, drunk driving, jailed by Deputy Sheriff Ed Ambury; Ezra Marsillett, drunk driving, resisting arrest and possession of moonshine whiskey, jailed by Prestonsburg Policemen Bill Potter and B. L. Sturill; Val Strahan, Jr., drunk driving, arrested by Deputy Sheriff Frasure; Merlin Hall, drunk driving, booked by Deputy Sheriff Johnson; Darwin Hall, drunk and reckless driving, jailed by Deputy Sheriff Troy Mullins;

"Soil Bank" Program To Aid Few in Floyd

There seems little possibility more than a few farmers in this county will be able to participate in the "soil bank" program, according to information released by the local Agriculture and Stabilization committee. Only tobacco, wheat and corn growers are eligible to put their land in a "soil bank" and then only if they are under an acreage allotment.

Farmers, wishing to sign the "soil bank" agreement, must do so on or before July 20, it was pointed out by Elder Gobie, office manager of ASC here.

Death Comes To Floyd Countian, Few Minutes After His Baptism

Wilburn Hall, 71-year-old Floyd county farmer and merchant, died of a heart attack Saturday, a few minutes after he had been baptized in the water-hole he himself had fashioned a few days earlier near his home at Osborn in preparation for his immersion.

There was no proof, however, that administering of the rites of the church caused his death. He had been ill two years. An old tradition of this section says that immersion, even in freezing waters, has never caused an illness. The ordinance was administered by a minister of the Regular Baptist Church.

Mr. Hall was a son of Tipton and Polly Ann Hall. He was twice married—first to Arminia White, and after her death to Mary Young. He is survived by his widow, one daughter, Mrs. Lizzie Hamilton, Lorain, O., and seven step-children: William Paris Young, Kennis Young and Miss Midge Young, all of Osborn, Mrs. Ruth Orfanas, Hammond, Ind., Mrs. Opal Blankenship, Detroit, Mrs. Matilda Hall, Ypsilanti, Mich., and Mrs. Mildred Moore, River Rouge, Michigan. He also leaves four brothers and two sisters, Butler, Joe, Bill and Johnny Hall, Mrs. Margaret Salsbury and Mrs. Lily Akers, all of Amba.

Funeral rites were conducted Wednesday from the residence, and burial was made in the family cemetery under the direction of the Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

Twice-Crippled Betsy Layne Miner Manufactures Patented Invention

Bert Layne, 68, retired Betsy Layne miner, exhibits a patented wheel-masking device he and his wife manufacture in their home on Coldwater Branch. It was invented by his brother, LeRoy Layne, who died in Detroit two years ago.

By HENRY P. SCALF

The Social Security Board discontinued benefit payments last year to Bert Layne, twice crippled Betsy Layne miner, because he was exceeding the allowed earning amount for retired persons. He had started his own business at 65 and pushed it, last year in partnership with his wife, to $7,000 gross.

Layne manufacturers a slip-on wheel cover used by painters to protect the tire and wheels of an automobile while a new coat is being applied. Most garagemen use an improvised burlap covering or newspapers. The Layne invention is a boon to hurried workmen as it can be thrown on in a matter of seconds and used over and over again.

The story of Sta-Zon, the trade name of the patented device, begins with the near-success of its inventor, LeRoy Layne, only brother of Bert, who left here a few years ago and went to Detroit. LeRoy was mechanically inclined and found employment in a plant where he saw the need for something better for wheel and tire covering than burlap and newspaper. He fell to and came up with what he patented as Sta-Zon.

Layne knew how to promote things, too. At first he placed it in shops in Detroit and got repeat orders. In a short while orders came in from nearby sections. Finally he entered the mail order business. Orders began to arrive from many

Terms of Employment Cited As Certificates A 'Must' for Teachers

Employment of 79 additional teachers by the Floyd County Board of Education has completed, with only a few exceptions, the full staff of teachers for the coming school year, it was said this week.

Again the County Superintendent's office emphasized these points in announcing the new teachers employed: 1. Teachers are being hired with the understanding that they must have a certificate or emergency permit by the time school opens.

2. Any Emergencies listed are subject to approval by the State Department of Education of the hiring of emergency teachers and the issuance of permits for them. 3. All high school teachers should check with the principals of their schools, since the Superintendent and the Board will not assume responsibility for the emergency status of any teacher created by scheduling.

MARTIN THEATRE TUESDAY

Dora Auxier, of Prestonsburg, bought needed materials and began to make Sta-Zon in their home. Orders coming to the Detroit shop were relayed to Betsy Layne.

Layne, now 68, had retired the year previous to his brother's death on Social Security benefits and planned only to supplement that money by manufacturing Sta-Zon. He got started in September, 1954, and business boomed. It was the next year that the Social Security Board took a look, chalked up his $7,000 gross and cut him off.

Layne makes his own paper cartons needed for parcel post shipments on a machine in a back room of his new home which profits from the Sta-Zon business helped build. His wife sews the drill cloth into the circular wheel-making device on the home sewing machine. The steel hoop is then inserted and a few more minor operations and the cover is done. Packed in cartons of 50 each, Layne takes them to the Betsy Layne postoffice.

He still keeps the name, LeRoy L. Layne Co., in deference to his brother, the inventor. Orders are now coming in, according to the books, from every state in the Union, and he looks forward to a continuance of his own social security program.

These are welcome after-years to a life in the mines in which he struggled through the depression of the '30's and two accidents, one in 1921 and the other in 1937 when the same leg was fractured each time.

Largest Sheep Shipment Arrives, Allen, Tuesday; Two Cars had 447 Head

The largest single shipment of sheep to the Big Sandy valley was unloaded at Allen, Tuesday. The two double-decked railway cars contained 447 head of Columbia and Rambouillet yearling crosses from Colorado which were loaded at Colby Kansas.

The sheep were consigned to the Floyd County Sheep Growers Association as purchases made through that organization materially reduce the freight rate. Purchasers of the two cars were growers from this county, Johnson, Magoffin and Pike.

"It is hoped that Floyd county farmers will be able to buy another car of these yearlings as they were priced right," said County Agent O. E. Boggs this week. "It may be that we can procure for our farmers a car of lambs also this fall. Right now some good money is in the offing for purchasers of lambs who will rough them through the winter for breeding purposes next year."

STATEMENT BY BERT COMBS

To those of you who took the time and trouble to attend the county convention I want to express my gratitude and thanks. Many of you attended the convention at the sacrifice of your own affairs and some of you even at the sacrifice of your health, with no hope or thought of reward. You should take comfort, however, in the knowledge that you were willing to stand up and be counted for what you believed in.

Realizing that politics sometimes makes strange bedfellows, those on our side hold no resentment or bitterness toward anybody who considered it necessary to stand on the opposite side. It is our hope that no one on the other side has cause to hold any resentment or bitterness toward any of us.

The advisory commissioners will draw salaries of $7,200 a year each, plus expenses. They will have no legal voice in final decisions, that being vested solely in the commissioner.

Without exception, Governor Chandler paid high tribute to his appointees as political friends of many years standing.

"As a matter of fact," he said, "it will be charged that you are political appointees. But that charge will be made by politicians who are mad that you are not on their side. If you are on their side, you are a great public servant. If not, you are a pernicious politician."

"These same critics charge we used State employes to control the county conventions last Saturday. Isn't that a sad thing? Hasn't that ever happened before?"

"Do you for a minute think Mayor Broadus didn't use City employes to control the district conventions in Louisville? Do you think Dick Moloney didn't use City police to control his convention in Lexington?"

"It all depends on whose ox is gored. We simply had the longest horns last Saturday, and we did the most goring."

His advisory commissioners, the Governor went on, will be expected to render these services:

1. Keep in personal touch with the highway and bridge needs of their respective districts.
2. Meet with fiscal courts and delegations with the view of keeping abreast of public sentiment.
3. Keep the commissioner of highways advised on the first two points.

This Conservation District Leads State On Enforcement Percentages; Only 3 Cases Lost In Five Months

For the first five months of 1956 the Seventh conservation district again led all Kentucky districts in the ratio of convictions to the number of persons arrested for violations of game laws.

Thirteen officers in the Seventh district, which includes Floyd and other counties of this section of the state, during the five-month period ending May 31 arrested 188 persons accused of violations, and of these 185 were convicted for a conviction percentage of 98-plus per cent. The same officers during that time checked 4,273 licenses.

Nearest to the Seventh in point of conviction percentages was the Sixth district which ran far behind with 80 per cent. Eighteen officers in that district made 200 arrests, but lost 39 of these cases as compared with only three cases lost in the Seventh.

John W. Redwine, Seventh district supervisor, ascribed the high percentage of convictions in this district to two factors:

1. To the interest of the courts
2. To the type of conservation officers in this district; officers who make arrests only for sound and just reasons, and who hold the respect of the courts and the people.

ary, but said he had done it this way: Never ate candy, never smoked, never drank, never went out with women, shaved with his brother's razor blades, charged his grandmother 12 percent interest on money she borrowed, worked a night shift and borrowed his father's shoes while the latter slept to save shoe leather, went 13 years without buying a new suit, never bought a single flower, limited his lifelong movie-going to one picture, ate everything on the table even if he didn't want it, patched everything, including his underwear, never took a holiday trip that cost more than 56 cents.

What's in a name? A Miss Fish won every girl's swimming event in her division this week in Huntington. And they say a certain baseball player is due to wear the mantle of greatness.

MORE ABOUT NAMES
Speaking of names, I have a hard time calling the Cincinnati ball team anything but the Reds. I note, however, that since the Commies have become so menacing the Cincinnati are known as the Redlegs. Wonder what ever became of the Moscovs in this country? We are reminded in this connection that if a parent were to name his offspring Judas, the boy would have his old man's scalp as soon as he grew old enough to realize what his father had done to him.

Henry Fitzpatrick threatens to have a picture of that goat done in color. We hasten to add that that is one picture we shall not reproduce.

CARD OF THANKS
From the depths of our souls we acknowledge with grateful appreciation the presence and kindness of our many friends, neighbors and people of God during our recent awful bereavement due to the tragic accidental death of our darling little son, Columbus Edward Kiser. We will never, so long as our memory lasts, forget the attention and care of our beloved dead by John Hall, of Hall Bros. Funeral Home, and the consoling words of the ministers and every one that lent a helping hand in our hours of distress. May the Lord bless every one. Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Kiser.

Fourth Exchange Youth Coming Here, July 16, Guest of Lowe Family
The fourth foreign youth in as many years will visit this county, July 16, through Aug. 1, as part of the International Farm Youth Exchange program. It was announced by the University of Kentucky's 4-H Club Department. He is Alois Rohrmoser, of Germany and he will be a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Lowe, of Eastern. Following his visit here he will spend two weeks in Clark county.

A surprise meeting of Roger Doeste, of Campbell county, and Rohrmoser took place in Washington, D. C., at the National 4-H Club Camp recently. The unusual feature of the meeting was that Rohrmoser is scheduled to spend three months in Kentucky this summer, his first host family being young Woeste's near Alexandria.

The University of Kentucky sponsors the IFYE program in this state and the young German farmer was brought to the United States under the auspices of the 4-H Club Department.

Drift Cadet, Student At ROTC Summer Camp

ROTC Cadet Carl Little, of Drift, a student at the Eastern Kentucky State College, of Richmond, arrived at Fort George C. Meade, Maryland, this week to attend six weeks of ROTC Summer Camp.

Cadet Little, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Little, is one of over 1600 cadets from 40 colleges and universities who will be at Fort Meade from June 23 to August 3 receiving General Military Science training.

During the summer camp period, the cadets will receive practical training in the various military subjects which they have studied in the school classrooms. The training will qualify the men for appointment in the Army Reserve or the Regular Army and for service in the Active Army after they graduate.

In 1955, 13,000 farm residents were killed in accidents—and 1,100,000 others injured. Of the dead, 1,100 were killed in tractor mishaps.

COUNTIES GET POLIO VACCINE

Rate of Distribution Increases, Says Teague; 33 Stricken During Year

More polio vaccine was distributed in Kentucky during June than in any other month previously, according to Russell E. Teague, M. D., Commissioner of Health, Kentucky Department of Health. During June enough vaccine for 93,447 injections was sent into various Kentucky counties, Teague reported.

"The rate of distribution seems to be improving," Mr. Teague said. "This is encouraging in that many more persons under 20 years of age and pregnant women have yet to receive their first injection. Up to June 1 only about 28 per cent of the Kentuckians under 20 had received vaccine, according to our records. A polio epidemic is still possible with such a low percentage of community protection."

Polio cases in Kentucky since January number 33. Counties have 1956:

- Anderson, 1; Daviess, 6; Estill, 1; Fleming, 1; Fulton, 1; Garrard, 1; Harlan, 1; Harrison, 1; Jackson, 1; Jefferson, 4; Jessamine, 1; Kenton, 2; Lewis, 1; Lyon, 1; McCreary, 1; Madison, 1; Mercer, 2; Owsley, 1; Perry, 1; Whitley, 1. Fort Knox has also reported two cases.

Parents are being urged to check with their family physician and follow the plan adopted by the medical profession in their localities for the administration of the vaccine.

KILL WEEDS

Alkanolamine salts of dinitro-ortho-sec-butylphenol can safely be used to kill weeds in soybeans the first week or two after planting.

Gets Princeton Grant

David F. Dean, of Pikeville, was recently notified of an award of an academic scholarship by Princeton University for the 1956-1957 school year. The award includes a grant of $800 and a workshop of $400 in the University dining hall. Dean is an Eagle Scout and the son of Mr. and Mrs. John I. Dean. His father is Scout executive of the Lonesome Pine Council. Dean was graduated from Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., in June, when he received a four-year scholarship. He plans to take a pre-medical course at Princeton.

Two-Year Study Shows Poor Eating Habits

Frankfort, July 2 (Spl.) — A two-year study of food habits of Kentucky children released by the State Department of Health showed seven out of 10 children interviewed were eating enough protein foods, about 4 out of 10 were eating enough vitamin C foods and only about a third were drinking enough milk.

The survey, among 3,102 children in 15 counties and 37 schools, also showed less than one-third were eating enough green and yellow vegetables and slightly more than half were eating enough other fruits and vegetables.

In addition, the surveys revealed one in every five children interviewed ate no green or yellow vegetables and approximately one in six ate no vitamin C foods. In three schools, 352 pupils missed 158 meals during a three-day survey period. The counties covered in the survey were: Barren, Breathitt, Christian, Clark, Graves, Henry, Larue, Johnson, McCracken, Mercer, Metcalfe, Morgan, Pike, Rowan and Todd.

MEDICAL FOUNDATION JOB JUST BEGUN, WATKINS SAYS

"We're on first base, but we've got to get around to home plate." So said J. Stephen Watkins, president of the Kentucky Medical Foundation, at a meeting in Lexington recently of the Foundation's Board of directors.

Establishment of a University of Kentucky medical center will soon become a reality, Watkins said, but there still is opposition to it. "Now we want to sell those of the medical profession who are skeptical about the new center," he said.

The Foundation is not "going to let" the UK unit "hurt the University of Louisville, but make it help UL," Watkins declared. The Foundation, he said, supported the recent increase in funds to the Louisville medical school, and will continue to urge appropriations for the school. The organization also will continue, he said, to inform Kentuckians of medical education needs "so funds will be provided for the University of Kentucky and for the enlargement of the University of Louisville."

As to the future assistance to the University of Kentucky medical unit, Watkins said, the Foundation might:

1. Seek grants from private Foundations.
2. Recruit outstanding students for enrollment.

TWO COMPLETE TRAINING AT LACKLAND AFB

Daniel V. Turner, 19, son of W. H. Turner, Wheelwright, and Henry H. Bonar, Jr., 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Bonar, of Emma, are completing their Air Force basic military training at Lackland Air Force Base, the "Gateway to the Air Force." Their Lackland training is preparing them for entrance into Air Force technical training or for an Air Force duty assignment. The course includes a scientific evaluation of his aptitude and inclination for following a particular career field.

3. Raise scholarship funds, if needed.

Watkins added that he felt the Foundation "should be a permanent organization." Another speaker expressed hope that the Foundation "will become a permanent organization to promote better medical care." Dr. Donovan praised the past work of the foundation, saying he felt it "was largely responsible for bringing the medical school into existence." He noted that Governor Chandler also is due a lot of credit, but said the school perhaps could not have been established at this time if it had not been for the support mustered by the Foundation.

It's a Great Time to Buy a Buick

(And at the Best Buy Yet!)

WHAT'S IN IT for you — if you step out and buy yourself a 1956 Buick right now? Well, first of all — the time is right.

Right now, your present car is at its peak worth.

And, with the whole summer and almost half of '56 still ahead of you, you'll get more enjoyment out of a spirited new Buick this year — if you buy now.

Second, there's the matter of how much more automobile your money buys in the best Buick yet.

We tell you flatly that nowhere but in a '56 Buick can you get so much bounty for so little booty.

It's one big reason why Buick now ranks in the top three of America's best-selling cars. Yet, you'll find it priced right close to the well-known smaller cars.

That sure makes Buick a whale of a lot of car for the money. And look:

Nowhere but in a '56 Buick can you get the absolute smoothness and the electrifying performance of Buick's terrific new Variable Pitch Dynaflo.*

Nowhere else can you get the obedient responsiveness of Buick's big and mighty new 322-cubic-inch V8 engine. Or Buick's matchless new handling ease and ever-level ride buoyancy — or Buick's bold new sweep-ahead styling, and solidity of structure, and stretch-out roominess.

Add it all up and the answer comes out the same, any way you figure it: Now's the time to buy your 1956 Buick.

Will you come in — before another sun sets — and get set with your best buy yet?

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century — optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

3-YEAR PEAK HIT BY COAL

329,850 Tons Shipped During Week of June 16; Steady Climb Is Noted

The best week in coal production chalked up by the Big Sandy-Elkhorn Coal Operators Association in three years ended June 16, according to a report of the operators group. Total of cars loaded was 6,597 of an average 50 tons each, representing a tonnage of 329,850.

That bright picture may be dimmed, however, by the nation's steel strike—especially so, if the work stoppage runs over a period of weeks.

This production exceeded the corresponding week last year over 16 percent, or 908,500 tons. This increased tonnage was reflected from a total work week of slightly over five days.

Coal production has been steadily climbing in the field represented by the Association, figures released at Pikeville show. There was a temporary recession in production for the week ending June 2 but that was due to Memorial Day observance. Yet production that week was higher, percentage-wise, than the week ending June 16, the increase over the corresponding week of last year being over 18 percent.

The most recent report, which covers the week ending June 23, shows 6,247.6 cars loaded, or a 15.87 percent increase. This increase represents a total tonnage of 979,180. There was a slight recession, however, in days worked as the average was only 4.92. While no report is available for production the week ending June 29 it is noted that the annual vacation period of the miners began June 28 to continue through to July 9, and production will be off at last one-fifth, since there was no work last Friday.

Featuring coal production the last several weeks was the steadily mounting production of the truck mine operators. Production of the truckers was 85.8 cars the week ending May 26, the tonnage going up each week thereafter until it stood at 221.4 cars of an average 50 tons, week ending June 23, which is the highest in several years. The truck mine operators have only a rated daily average production of 72 cars, their increased production now being triple their original rated capacity.

Meat Consumption
Increased per capita consumption of meat by Canadians has caused that nation to become an importer of beef.

FLOYD MAKES BUSINESS GAIN

County's Retail Sales In 1955, $17,728,000 Sales Management Says

Special to The Times

NEW YORK, June 26 — Significant business gains were made in Floyd county in the past year as its residents, enjoying relatively good incomes and a high rate of employment, expressed their strength in large-scale buying in the local retail shops.

This is brought out in a copyrighted study of business in the nation's cities and counties, released in Sales Management's new buying power survey.

The high tempo of activity in Floyd county is seen in the amount of retail business recorded. It added up to a $17,728,000 year for the local merchants.

What was the direction of the bigger spending? The extra money available was used to buy the things that make for a better standard of living. People equipped themselves with more of the modern devices that add to comfort and convenience. Electric refrigerators, washing machines, better homes, fancier cars and the many other items that were once pure-luxury have become musts for more people.

The ability to spend more is made possible by better earnings. The data shows that, despite certain soft spots in the local economy, the net disposable income among families in Floyd county came to $32,827,000 last year.

Divided by the number of local families, it amounted arithmetically to $3,492 per family as compared with $3,334 in 1954.

The improvement which amounted to 4.8 per cent was better than was achieved generally. The gain was 3.5 per cent for the United States.

The ratio of how much is actually being spent in each community, as compared with its full capacity, is shown in the survey by a "buying power index." This weighted figure is based on such factors as income, sales and population. It lists Floyd county as able to produce .9142 per cent of the nation's retail business. Since a smaller amount was done last year, .885 per cent, it is evident that considerable sales potential is still available.

State Finances To Receive Boost, Board Discloses

Frankfort, July 9 (Spl.)—Two recent transactions of the State Department of Economic Development than three-quarters of a million dollars to the state's bank account.

This was disclosed by W. F. Foster, Mayfield, in making his final report as chairman of the A&ID Board. Foster was later commissioned by Gov. A. B. Chandler to be chairman of the new department's Industrial Development Board and chairman pro-tem of the Agricultural Development Board.

Foster said the Department of Economic Development has returned $175,000 to the general fund and expects to relinquish $65,000 more by September 30. The money is the remainder of $3,000,000 appropriated since 1949 to make topographic maps of the state.

Completed this year, the mapping program, which costs nearly 6 million dollars including matching Federal funds, will require a small amount of money annually to keep it up to date. Foster said Kentucky is now the only state in the nation which can furnish modern, large-scale maps of its entire area. Topographic maps are used widely in plant location surveys, agricultural planning and other resources development work, he said.

Foster said the A & ID Board was responsible for the sale of 278 acres of the Eastern State Hospital Farm at Lexington to International Business Machines Corp. Announced recently, this transaction, when completed, will provide the Department of Mental Health with $367,000 additional funds for capital improvements, he said.

"These two transactions total about $800,000, or more than four times the $198,000 appropriation the Department of Economic Development will have to work with during the next fiscal year," Foster said.

His Last Switch in Motor Cars!

We have no way of knowing, of course, how many different makes of motor cars this gentleman has owned through the years.

But we're willing to bet that he has now made his last switch in motor cars!

For this time it's a Cadillac! And it is historically true that once a motorist makes the move to the "car of cars", he is usually a Cadillac owner for life.

What are the reasons for this great devotion and loyalty? Well, let us count them off.

First of all, there are the things which everyone recognizes in Cadillac. There is its great beauty . . . its matchless luxury . . . and the unquestioned respect which the car commands the world over.

Then there are those qualities with which anyone who has ever driven a Cadillac is familiar.

There is its marvelous comfort and ease of handling . . . its magnificent power and performance . . . and its wonderful balance and agility.

And, finally, there are those things which only Cadillac owners themselves can fully appreciate. There is the car's remarkable economy of operation and upkeep—its incredible longevity—and its marvelous resale value.

Incidentally, you will find that we have recently made two additions to this list of things you get when you make your decision for Cadillac.

We're talking about prompt delivery and a generous trade-in allowance!

Better come in while the circumstances are so favorable—and make your last switch in motor cars!

Hazard Fisherman Tops Largemouth Bass Catch In Lake Angling Derby

Frankfort, Ky., July 7 (Spl.) — A Hazard angler with a yen for big fish rallied in the stretch after a late start to top big bass honors in the "Kentucky Afield" Lake Cumberland fishing derby.

He's Dan Maggard, whose 6 pounds, 4-ounce largemouth caught out of Lee's Ford Dock won the largemouth category in the four-week-long fishing derby staged by the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources and WAVE-TV.

The crappie crown was won by Evelyn Joyce Akin, of Louisville, who netted a 2-pound, two-ounce crappie, also fishing out of Lee's Ford Dock to take honors in that category.

And Dr. E. J. Howson, of Somerset, paced all comers in the race for the largest smallmouth with a 5-pounder taken out of Conley Bottom Dock.

Three Counties of Area Opened to Deer-Hunters

One area of this part of the state will be opened to deer-hunting this fall, it was announced last week by the Department of Fish & Wildlife Resources, Frankfort.

The Robinson forest reserve in Knott, Breathitt and Perry counties will be open to deer-hunters three days, Nov. 8-10, it was said. Deer there are plentiful. Other counties where deer may be hunted these three days are Rowan, north of U. S. 60, Pulaski, McCreary, Lewis, Greenup, Fleming, Carter, Metcalfe, Cumberland, Barren, Hart, Edmonson, Nelson, Harlan, Breckinridge, Meade, Bullitt, Hopkins, Hancock, Trigg, Lyon, Livingston, Caldwell and Christian.

Only buck deer with as many as two points on one antler may be taken. Shotguns using shells which will hold only one slug; long bow and arrows and rifles which use center-fire cartridges of not less than .243 caliber may be used. In addition to the regular hunting license, a $5 deer hunting permit will be required and the deer may be hunted from 7 a. m. to 4 p. m. Central Standard Time, on the days designated. Residents of Indiana are barred from the hunt due to the provisions of the reciprocal law.

Again this year the squirrel season will be divided into two parts, the first season opening on Aug. 15 and closing Oct. 15. The second part opens on November 19 and continues through Dec. 16. The limit is six per day with 12 permitted after two or more days of hunting.

The quail, rabbit and ruffed grouse seasons will open on Nov. 19 and continue through January 17. Limits per day are 10 for quail; eight for rabbits and two for ruffed grouse. Double this amount will be permitted as possession limit after two or more days of hunting.

Seasons and bag limits for waterfowl and doves are determined by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service and will not be announced for several weeks.

The managers noted that the all-star team roster was limited to fourteen boys. They told Commissioner Mack Harmon that there are many boys who deserved to play in the games but not everyone could be picked. The 14 who were named to the all-star team are:

Chuck Tackett, Indians, Kermit Baldridge, Indians, Jim MacDonald, Indians; Roger Dobart, Dodgers; Sherd Bailey, Cardinals; Dixon Nunney, Cardinals; Palmer Hobson, Dodgers; J. D. Sammons, Yankees; Cackie Sparks, Dodgers; Frank Burchett, Yankees; Ronnie Robinson, Yankees; Bill May, Yankees; Walter Taylor, Cardinals; Gordon Young, Indians.

SPORTS AFIELD

By TED KESTING

No matter how good or how expensive the rest of your tackle, it's that little hook out there on the end that holds and lands your fish. Or doesn't hook him because of poor design. Or breaks or bends because of poor material.

Anglers should be most particular about trout-fly hooks. Because of their small size and necessarily light wire, they must be of very good steel, with the right temper. Hooks on most lures, being larger and of heavier wire than those used with flies, can be and usually are of somewhat lower quality, but they still serve well enough for practical fishing purposes if they're correctly designed. For regardless of good steel and proper temper, if a hook is inefficiently designed it's bound to cause unnecessary misses. So let's see what is an efficient design.

Jason Lucas, angling editor of Sports Afield Magazine, thinks that artificials (including flies) you'll land most fish with a hook having what comes closest to a plain round bend. It's hard to buy such hooks, but you can generally alter them so they'll be as effective as if originally made round. Hooks on nearly all lures are soft enough so that you can easily reshape them with a small pliers. Hooks on better-class flies are much harder, but can usually be reshaped without breaking. Remember that for practical purposes, a bend that's somewhere nearly round will serve just as well as one that's perfectly round.

The most important point about a hook is—the point. There are three types. A "rolled-in point" is curved inward so that it points toward the eye of the hook. It is best for some large hooks, especially in deep-sea fishing, and some fishermen like it on smaller hooks for use with natural bait.

On a "parallel point" the outside of the point is parallel to the shank. Hooks of this type are used on nearly all fresh water artificials, including flies.

A third point is the "outpoint" where it is turned outward, away from the shank. With fresh-water artificials, and especially with the small hooks used for trout flies, a slight outpoint will hook and land a much higher percentage of your fish than will a point of any other type. Every wiggle a fish makes while you're playing him must drive that outpoint in deeper and deeper.

43 Floyd Students Enroll for U.K. Summer Session

Lexington, Ky., July 9 (Spl.) — Forty-three students from Floyd county are among 3,018 persons who are attending summer school at the University of Kentucky.

Dr. Robert L. Mills, University Registrar, has reported that the enrollment of 3,018 represents an increase of 15 per cent over last summer's figures. This total does not include students who will enroll later in the summer for special workshops, short courses, and seminars.

Floyd county students who end their work for the summer on August 4 are:

SPORTS CHATTER

Next week-end July 20-22, is the annual Paintsville invitational golf tournament, which has grown in recent years to one of the biggest summer golfing events in the state, if not the largest. For the past two seasons, the tourney has outdrawn the Kentucky State amateur open. In addition to being held on one of the finest courses in the South, the club also is a gracious host on the 19th hole.

It would be well for all Floyd county golfers to get their entry fees in now, as pre-tournament registrations indicate that a record-breaking number will participate.

DEWEY LAKE BOATING

Stricter regulations from the U. S. Corps of Engineers as to the speed of the large boats and motors on Dewey Lake should be enforced on week-ends at the lake. With the tremendous crowds now trekking to the lake on Saturday and Sunday in seeking relief from the heat, major tragedy may be prevented if something is now done.

The Patrol rangers, although short in number, do an excellent job, but with so many people now taking advantage of the water it is hard for them to cover all 18 miles of water adequately.

Statistics from various boating companies reveal that the majority of people who use a boat and motor fail to observe the necessary safety precautions, and that appears to be true every Sunday on Dewey Lake as the larger craft zoom by the smaller boats at full speed.

JAYCEES PREPARE LAKE BROCHURE

The Prestonsburg Junior Chamber of Commerce will have available next week a four-page brochure on Dewey Lake and all its related facilities, long with some interesting facts about the City of Prestonsburg.

WHO'S RESPONSIBLE?

The Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife and WAVE-TV (Louisville) and the major sporting good manufacturers are sponsoring a state-wide fishing derby, supposedly to include all of the lakes in Kentucky. . . . Yet, Dewey Lake wasn't included. We are still wondering why. Aren't we good enough fishermen here in the mountains to compete with the rest of Kentucky?

The money from our fishing licenses also goes to pay the expenses of the Fish & Wildlife Department.

ROUGH FISH YIELD PROFIT

Commercial Fishermen In Kentucky Last Year Netted Over $1,000,000

A phase of Kentucky fishing which undoubtedly is being overlooked from a financial standpoint is that of commercial fishing, Minor Clark, assistant commissioner and director of the Division of Fisheries of the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, reported in announcing that a survey conducted during the past year revealed that financial returns to these fishermen amounted to well over one million dollars.

The commercial fisherman, he pointed out, is the person who uses nets, lines, etc. to harvest rough fish which are sold as a live-hood by those engaged in this type fishing. Clark declared that the harvest of this type is far below the potential and that many more millions of pounds of rough fish could be harvested from the lakes and streams without causing damage to the population.

Clark, with the help of the Conservation Officers throughout the state, questioned commercial fishermen to determine the amount of fish that was harvested and the average price received for the fish.

It was pointed out that last year 2,089 commercial fishing licenses were sold, of which number 1,873 were residents of Kentucky. A total of 199 residents of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois purchased commercial licenses for the Ohio River only and 17 non-residents bought Kentucky commercial fishing licenses. It was explained by Clark that many of the residents who bought this type license fished only occasionally and that perhaps only about half the number engaged in commercial fishing as a full time project.

His report showed that last year 2,761,800 pounds of rough fish were harvested and sold at an average price of 40 cents a pound. This nets the figure of $1,104,720 received by those fishermen for their catch.

Clark declared that more of this type fish are dying from old age than are being harvested. Also, he said, the more rough fish that are taken from the lakes and streams the better will be sport fishing as this removal will provide more food and room for the game fish.

Famous American Names Found on USS Randolph; Herbert Hoover, Gunner

Herbert Hoover, Ty Cobb, Henry Ford and "Rocky" Marciano have forsaken their civilian occupations for the lives of sailors aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Randolph.

In addition, Phil Harris, Wayne Morris, George Murphy and Robert Ryan are welding swabs and standing watches aboard the Randolph instead of starring in motion pictures.

All of the people mentioned are sailors with names similar to those of the more famous and better paid civilian personalities.

Herbert C. Hoover, a gunner's mate third class from Pittston, Pa., will probably never become president, but he does a fine job in the ship's gunnery department.

Tyrus R. Cobb, of Dallas, Tex., never achieved a batting average of .367, but he's happy as an airman aboard the Randolph. As a commissaryman first class, Henry W. Ford, of Franklin, Tenn., will never make a million dollars, but his talents in the ship's gallery are appreciated by the crew.

And "Rocky" Marciano, really Joseph R. Marciano, of Baltimore, Md., is a good man to have around the Randolph's operations department even though he's not likely to win the world's heavy-weight boxing championship.

Mine Payroll Clerk Embezzles $23,000.00, Perry Attorney Says

Hazard, Ky., June 30 — County Attorney Tolbert Combs said last night that a 25-year-old payroll clerk for Blue Diamond Mining Company had been charged with embezzling $23,000 of the company's script.

Combs said the company preferred charges against Jack Everett Dotson after an audit Wednesday night at its office at near-by Leatherwood disclosed the shortage.

The company uses the mining script, coinlike metal pieces bearing the company's name, to make advances to its employees against their pay checks. The script is good at the company's stores.

The County attorney said Dotson, who denied the charges, had been released under $5,000 bond posted by a friend.

The company said the audit showed the script had been removed in various amounts during a five-month period.

State Seeks Acceleration Of Federal Aid Highway Construction, Kiser Says

Frankfort, Ky., July 2.—Kentucky wants to "accelerate" construction of federal aid highways authorized under the bill signed Friday by President Eisenhower so it can build $230,000,000 worth of roads in the next three years.

This was announced today after a closed meeting of State and United States highway officials. Afterwards Highway Commissioner Bert Kiser and Joseph J. Leary, Frankfort attorney and political adviser to Governor Chandler, gave newsmen this picture:

1. The new act of Congress allots to Kentucky $137,020,000 in federal-aid highway funds for three fiscal years, starting yesterday.

2. To receive this money, Kentucky must put up $66,650,000 of its own funds during the three years.

3. If Kentucky had the $66,650,000 this fiscal year it could "accelerate" the three-year program by starting most of it this year.

4. The only way Kentucky can have this much matching money this year is for its citizens, at the November 6 general election, to authorize a $100,000,000 highway bond issue provided for by the 1956 legislature.

Leary sat in on the meeting between the state and the federal officials. He acted as chief spokesman at the news conference.

For a moment, reporters thought they were going to get some detailed road-building plans. Mack Galbreath, former federal district highway engineer here who now works for the state, started to discuss details of projects to be built.

Leary interrupted to say "We don't want to identify the projects by name at this time."

Galbreath, consultant to Commissioner Kiser who will supervise a major portion of the new federal-aid program, said Kentucky hopes to award some construction contracts this fall and others next spring. He said two or three years of engineering work has already been done on some projects.

Is Kentucky in a position technically to undertake this vast program in view of its loss of 100 highway engineers in the past six months?

"We will have to go extensively to consultants. We might as well admit it," Galbreath said. He added that it was hard to say whether use of outside engineering firms and consultants to design and locate roads would be more costly than using State employed engineers.

"The laws that limit the salaries we can pay won't let us compete for engineers with private consultants," Galbreath said.

State Tax Collections Breaking All Records

Frankfort, July 2 (Spl.)—General Fund collections are exceeding all expectations and breaking all records, according to officials of the State Departments of Finance and Revenue.

At the end of May, General Fund receipts amounted to $93,330,571. Corporate and individual income taxes and the production tax on distilled spirits are chiefly responsible for the upsurge in revenue, officials said. Corporation income taxes have risen to a new level of approximately 12 million dollars returned in refunds.

Road Fund taxes for the same period reached $61,822,423, an increase of more than 5 million dollars over the same period last year. Spokesmen for the departments attributed this increase to heavier consumption of motor fuels with receipts from this source reaching $45,897,551 as compared with $41,684,898 for the eleven-month period last year.

URGE CAREERS IN MEDICINE

State Youth Challenged To Enter Medical Field, Watkins Tells Principals

A program designed to challenge Kentucky youths to seek careers in the field of medicine has been inaugurated by the Kentucky Medical Foundation.

According to J. Stephen Watkins, president of the Foundation, the program was initiated with discussion with high school principals and class advisers at a recent meeting at the University of Kentucky.

Watkins said the program has as its objective the advising of the youth of the state of the "new opportunities for medical education which will be available upon the opening of the new medical, dental and nursing schools at the University."

"We feel that many Kentucky students, when informed of the opportunities available, will want to concentrate their efforts on finding a rewarding career in this field of medicine," Watkins noted.

The Foundation president added that "any student graduating from high school this year who is interested in becoming a physician, dentist, pharmacist, nurse or medical technician will find that training is available at the University of Kentucky."

Interested parents and students were invited to contact the Kentucky Medical Foundation, 202 Radio Building, or the University of Kentucky registrar.

In stressing the need for encouraging medical careers, Watkins pointed out that the state's engineers have "for several years conducted an active program to encourage high school students with good grades to enter the College of Engineering and seek a career in that field."

Much depends on the guidance and counseling of parents, he concluded, adding that students "should be guided by their parents to accept the challenge of good scholarship to they will be prepared to enter fields that require highly technical training."

PERKINS QUOTES DR. MARTIN TELLING NEEDS OF SCHOOLS

"The crisis has been on us a long time," Congressman Carl D. Perkins, Hindman said in a speech to the House of Representatives last week on Federal aid to education proposals.

"We have seen it mount each year," he continued. We know that there are not enough schools being built each year. We know each year more and more youngsters are ready for school. Facing a situation of this kind we must recognize that the classroom shortage has become so great that it is a federal responsibility to aid states and localities.

Perkins said he wanted to tell the Congress about Kentucky's great need for additional classrooms. Quoting Dr. Robert Martin, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Frankfort, he explained that many local boards of education are looking forward with hopeful anticipation to passage of the proposed federal legislation.

"According to Dr. Martin, a comprehensive study of Kentucky's need for school facilities has been completed recently. He reports that this study shows that by 1960 we will have an estimated need of 10,600 new instruction rooms as additions to present buildings or as a part of more than 400 new school centers. In addition to these instructional spaces, the new buildings in each center will need heat, indoor toilets, sewage disposal, lunchroom and fixed handwashing facilities. The survey shows that in the old buildings of the state, more than 200,000 children now attend school in buildings with no central heat and with no inside toilets. More than 175,000 children attend school in buildings with no handwashing facilities available."

"Superintendent Martin points out further that the cost of needed school building facilities by 1960 will be approximately 350 million dollars. The total amount that could be raised in this state for this purpose from local districts' funds, under the laws in force at the time the study was completed, was approximately 162 million dollars. That left a deficit of approximately 188 million dollars, to be supplied from some other source. The last session of the Legislature provided for capital outlay purposes approximately 5 million dollars annually from state sources as a part of its appropriation to support the Foundation Program of the state. It would take some forty years for this sum to provide facilities so badly needed today.

"There is an issue which is obstructing the path and has no place in this legislation. I see no reason for an amendment guaranteeing that no federal money would go to states with segregated schools. It is not needed because the Supreme Court's decision has said what the law of the land is on this subject. The court also recognized the complications surrounding integration when it provided in the decision that the Federal Court system would oversee the integration process. The decision announced that integration should take place with deliberate speed. This language did not mean integration overnight. It could easily mean over a period of years depending upon the facts in different sections of the country. We don't need to have other federal legislation concerning integration. We certainly do not need any other legislation in this bill. I for one have confidence in the Supreme court decision. These decisions guarantee to every individual affected equal protection of the law."

You Are Lucky To Be Married, Divorcee Says

Do you think it wonderful to be free? To come home when you like; to eat when you please; to be free from nagging; to indulge yourself generally?

Well-known writer Paul Gallico, divorced three years ago, reports in the July Reader's Digest that this freedom "is the bunk... You don't know how lucky you are to be married."

The disadvantages of the unmarried, particularly in middle life, far outweigh the delights, Gallico states. "You learn for the first time how loud silence can be in an empty home. The loneliness and silences close in when the rattle of one's key in the door initiates no answering sound."

In this freedom no one really cares what happens to you—whether you are sick or well, happy or miserable, alive or dead. Friends do not closed the gap once filled by wife or husband. For women, such freedom can be particularly harrowing. The divorcee who longed for release will find that the places she can enter alone are limited, and that she has become that drug on the social market, the extra woman, free not to be invited where once she was welcome.

Freely organizing his own life, with never a voice raised in protest, approval, warning or advice, Gallico has found such non-interference and non-sharing unbearable. "One of the great and little-recognized joys of marriage," he notes, "is to have someone with whom to plan and anticipate."

Success can be empty when not applauded by the mate whose joy is equal to yours; in failure or tragedy you need, above all, the comfort and sympathy of the only one who can truly share your loss.

Forfeiting this joy of sharing, the "free" forfeit the joy of living, the author concludes. "For how alive is anyone who exists without bestowing or receiving human love at some portion of each 24 hours?"

Now-GMC gives you

a bonus of up to 3 gallons in every tankful!

Talk about low-cost GMC ownership! With its new high-ratio cruising axle, a Blue Chip GMC pickup now gives you up to 17.8% better gas mileage. That's 3 gallons' worth of bonus miles in every filling!

And you get far better road speeds, too, from an easy-stroking, unstrained engine. In short, from a mere $10.50 axle option, GMC now gives you the advantages of a $125 overdrive.

Add this new gas-stretching ability to the super-efficiency of a GMC 180 hp V8 engine—to the moneysaving advantages of Hydra-Matic Drive*—and an important fact is clear:

The operation and maintenance savings of Blue Chip features can bring the overall cost of a half-ton GMC down to the level of—or below—the cheapest stripped-model truck on the market.

Of course, you'd always have preferred a Blue Chip GMC to any other truck. But now—with cost so strongly in its favor—there's no need to step down. Come in and tell us what colors you want on your GMC.

*Optional at moderate extra cost
