This Town— That World

The Unforgotten Man — Joe Smith.

Sign on rear of a meat packer's truck: HIT ME EASY I'M FULL OF BOLOGNA.

SHOULD HAVE BEEN SIMPLE

Not long ago we were pestered somewhat by what you might call the advance man for a certain lady whose occult profession included a bit of fortune-telling and palm-reading for a livelihood. This swarthy gentleman insisted that a Lexington newspaper had a mat of a palm that we should get for his ad. We admit, we were a bit nettled by his persistence, so when we wrote the newspaper about getting the mat we suggested that if the mat was lying around handy to send it to us, otherwise to forget the whole affair.

This is the reply we received: "We are sorry but we have nothing of this nature in our services. If your man is clever he might be able to pull one out of his crystal ball."

Reader's Digest quotes from the Greatham Parish (England) Church magazine: "The bring-and-buy sale was rather like heaven. Many we expected to see there were absent."

INTEGRATION MOVE MADE

Palmer-Dunbar Seniors Go To Wheelwright Hi; Bus Transport Solved

Opening of the larger schools of the county Monday marked another step toward racial integration as the three Negro members of the senior class of Palmer-Dunbar high school were admitted to Wheelwright high school which hitherto had been for the use of white pupils only.

Freshmen, sophomores and juniors at Palmer-Dunbar will continue to attend their own school. But colored residents of Wheelwright had asked only that their seniors be transported to the white high school so that they could take classes in chemistry, typing, shorthand and one or two other courses that are offered there but not at Palmer-Dunbar. This, however, would have necessitated two bus runs daily to accommodate only three pupils, so a committee of 19 persons representing Wheelwright churches and civic groups studied the needs of the pupils, then recommended to the County Board of Education that the three colored pupils be permitted to attend regular classes with the white pupils.

Integration at Wheelwright in the transportation system was effected last year in a very natural sort of way. The school bus for colored pupils was scheduled to make the last run, of mornings. White pupils who wanted to catch a few extra morning winks rather than to rise earlier to catch their own bus began boarding the late bus for colored children. Before long, everybody was riding together, and that late morning bus was most heavily loaded of all.

Integration at Trum took place last year, with white children and their parents taking the lead in the change. On Little Paint Creek the one colored pupil there attended the school for white.

Keynoter Clement Slated As Allen Rally Speaker

UMW EXPECTS HUGE CROWD; PLANS TOLD

Senator Clements, Cooper Among Notables To Attend 11th Labor Day Program

The 11th annual Labor Day celebration of District 30, United Mine Workers of America, to be held on the Sandy Valley Speedway grounds at Allen Monday, will feature an extra added attraction—its principal speaker, Gov. Frank C. Clements, of Tennessee, who delivered the keynote address at the recent Democratic convention in Chicago.

Word of Governor Clement's acceptance of the invitation to speak before the huge gathering was relayed to The Times late Tuesday by Sam Caddy, Lexington, president of District 30, via Bert T. Combs, of Prestonsburg. He will be introduced by U. S. Senator Earle C. Clements, of Kentucky.

Preceding the introduction of Governor Clement, Mr. Caddy will speak.

Former U. S. Senator John Sherman Cooper has notified Floyd county friends he will attend the mammoth rally but not as a speaker—"just to meet the people." He is the G. O. P. candidate for Senator, opposing Former Governor Lawrence W. Wetherby.

As usual, the day's program will include several top specialty acts. Three high-wire acts are scheduled. An orchestra will provide music.

The day's program will get under way at 11 a.m., with the Martin high school band playing the national anthem. Following the invocation by the Rev. Clyde Layne, of Betsy Layne, and the salute to the flag, the contest which will name "Miss District 30 UMWA" will be staged. Community beauties who will vie for the beauty queen title are:

Miss Sparkle Gayheart, Garrett; Miss Katie Lee Caudill, Hardburly; Miss Mary K. Mullins, Elkhorn City; Miss Janice Newsome, McDowell; Miss Sandra Williamson, Pikeville; Miss Norma Dere Cole, Sergeant; Miss Phyllis Hall, Whitesburg; Miss Joan Leslie, Pikeville; Miss Eloise Reynolds, Whitesburg; Miss Betty

COURT HEARS SCHOOLS PLEA

Ratliff Asks For Aid In Schools' Campaign Toward Truancy End

"We do not believe one out of ten children should be walking the roads away from school," Wayne Ratliff, director of instructor of Floyd county schools told the Floyd fiscal court last Thursday. "I'm begging help of you," he added.

Ratliff, in a plea to the County Judge and magistrates for aid in eliminating truancy in the schools, spoke for ten minutes on many phases of the problem. He pointed out, as the attendance department of the county schools did last week, that truancy is costly to this county. Since the per capita of $80 is based by the state upon the average daily attendance, non-attendance or irregular attendance may cost this county $100,000 this year.

"Every time you see a boy out of school he is costing our school system a dollar a day," Ratliff explained. "The biggest loss is to the child and to future society where he can only say, 'Gimme, Gimme.'" Turning to Judge Henry Stumbo who presided Ratliff said: "If we bring a case to you it will be a chronic case that will be credit to you for curing."

The director of instruction also discussed school building care problems, said that some buildings were well cared for and a credit to the communities in which they stood but added that some were not. County Judge Henry Stumbo pledged his cooperation, as did Chief Deputy Sheriff W. B. Boyd, speaking for the sheriff's department. "Any time warrants are issued they will be served promptly," Boyd declared.

Prestonsburg Man Named By Ashland Policeman As One of 3 Assailants

Ashland, Ky., Aug. 24 — Preliminary hearings for three men charged with assaulting an Ashland policeman with intent to kill will be held September 5 in Ironton, Ohio, Municipal Court. Police Sgt. Harold Rush made the complaint against the men, claiming they attacked him last Friday night in Ironton. He said the attack apparently was because he twice had helped convict Beecher Wheeler, 38, Ashland, one of the suspects, on previous occasions.

Wheeler and his brother, James Wheeler, 35, Ashland, were arrested here Tuesday for Ohio authorities. The third man, Astor Meade, Prestonsburg, appeared in Municipal Court at Ironton today and was arrested.

Meade was released on $5,000 bond. The Wheelers are prisoners in Ironton City jail in default of bond.

Meade, a well-known Prestonsburg building contractor, was quoted here by a kinsman as saying he sought to keep down a fight between the Wheelers and Rush, who was out of uniform. The policeman turned on him, cursing him and calling him a vile name and he then struck Rush, this account of the incident said.

MAJOR SCHOOL DOORS CLOSED

Betsy Layne Hi Opening Deferred Till Sept. 4th To Fill Gaps in Faculty

One of Floyd county's 10 major schools — Betsy Layne's—failed to open for actual business this week, as scheduled, for the want of teachers.

The school had its registration of pupils and home visitation work by teachers, but after that there was not enough teachers on hand to do the job. So a recess was called till after the Labor Day holiday when, it is hoped, sufficient additions to the faculty will be made to carry on the full schedule of classwork.

There are three teacher-vacancies in the high school there, but one is certain to be filled within the next few days. The contract of Robert Dean Elkins with the "Wilderness Road" cast at Berea will end Saturday, and he will be available immediately thereafter to teach commerce at Betsy Layne. A son of Ned Elkins, he is a native of Harold. He has been a member of the "Wilderness Road" cast in both of its seasons. D. W. Howard, principal at Betsy Layne, said addition of Elkins to the faculty will still leave vacancies in the mathematics and social science departments. The school this year has already hit a record enrollment. Generally speaking, school enrollment is up over the county, and school officials will work hard to keep it that way. The $80 per capita is paid this year on the basis of daily average attendance, and the school systems of the state stand to lose money through truancy.

Health Department Lists Grade A Milk Suppliers

Product of six milk suppliers who are selling more than 90% of the approximately 3,000 gallons of milk sold in Floyd county per week has been declared Grade A by the Floyd County Health Department on the basis of tests over the six-month period ending July 31.

Firms receiving this rating are: Pet Milk Co., Hazard; Chappell Milk Co., Harlan; Guyan Creamery, Huntington, W. Va.; Borden Milk Co., Huntington; Daniels Dairy & Ice Cream Co., Paintsville; Foremost Milk Co., Big Stone Gap, Virginia.

Milk samples are collected each month by health department sanitarians and sent to the public health laboratory in Lexington for analysis. Regulations as to bacteria plate count, temperature, coliform count, butter fat and phosphates must be met, and to be classed as Grade A milk must not average during the last four consecutive laboratory tests more than 30,000 bacterial plate count.

OFFICERS FIND SECOND STILL

Bull Creek Man Slated For Federal Hearing; Thefts Reported Here

The second moonshine still destroyed by officers in the Left Fork of Bull Creek section in a two-week period was found Saturday morning, and later its alleged owner, Will Shepherd, surrendered here to Deputy Sheriff Silas DeRossett. U. S. Deputy Marshal Wince Trimble, Deputy Sheriffs Grant Akers and Wheeler Lewis joined DeRossett in the raid.

The first still was located a week earlier on the Conn Branch of the same fork. Its owner was not found.

When officers in Saturday's raid failed to find whiskey at the still, which was yet warm after a "run", they procured a search warrant and found two gallons and a pint of whiskey in the Will Shepherd home. He will be taken before the U. S. Commissioner in Pikeville, Saturday, Deputy Sheriff DeRossett said.

Offers Quick Action

Sheriff Gormon Collins said this week that in the event of trouble arising in any community in the county a telephone call to him at his office (Phone 6171) or at his home (Phone 2126) will result in deputy sheriffs being notified immediately by the new radio system, thus assuring quick official action. He added that genuine calls for officers' help may be made collect.

Officers this week were called to investigate two thefts. One of the offenses took place Saturday night when approximately 1,500 feet of copper wire were stolen from the site of the new REA substation on Middle Creek. The other was the theft of mine equipment from the Blue Grass Coal Company at Hippo.

Circuit Clerk W. W. Cooley, of the coal company, posted a $200 reward for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who took part in the coal company theft.

Jailed here within the week were:

David Lily and Daniel P. Shelton, charged with grand larceny; Luther Mullins and Mack Little, detaining a woman against her will; Ashland Lafayette, drunk driving.

McDOWELL DOCTOR SPEAKS AT WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS

Dr. Walter R. DeForest, Chief of Clinical Services, at McDowell Memorial hospital, was one of the principal speakers last week at the 89th annual meeting of the West Virginia Medical Association held at White Sulphur Springs. Other speakers were Dr. Athey R. Lutz, president of the West Virginia Medical Association and Dr. Dwight H. Murray, president of the American Medical Association.

Floyd Principal Finds Teacher on High Seas

Teachers in several fields may be scarce, but D. W. Howard, principal of Betsy Layne high school, demonstrated last week how, if you're desperate enough, to get a home economics instructor.

He picked up the whereabouts of a missionary returning from Africa, logged her on the sea and shore, intercepted her in New Jersey when she disembarked and offered her a job.

All of which is a brief synopsis of the Howard technique of employing a teacher. The story became several days ago when he went into a Pikeville bank to consult Irvin Lowe, former superintendent of Pike county schools. Lowe didn't know of any unemployed teacher but suggested that an associate, Mrs. June Fields, might help.

Mrs. Fields couldn't at first, but during the conversation she recalled that her niece, Mrs. Patty June Allen, was returning to America after nine years as a missionary teacher in Africa. She was on the high seas somewhere. Mrs.

Offer Blood Tests At Labor Day Rally As Health Service

The Floyd County Health Department and the Floyd County Medical Society will jointly sponsor at the Labor Day celebration at Allen Monday a campaign to strike out syphilis and to find unknown diabetics, it was announced this week.

Free blood tests will be given to all who wish to take advantage of the service offered. Both diseases which in their early stages are difficult to detect are discovered by means of blood tests.

The health department will have on the grounds a special bus where blood tests will be given. It urges all who attend the Labor Day rally to take advantage of this service which is designed wholly as protection of the public health.

9-CENT LEVY ACTION SEEN

Fiscal Court To Decide On Health Tax Question At Special Meet Tuesday

Still toying with the idea of submitting to the voters of the county an extra 20-cent general fund tax to meet increasing road needs, the Floyd fiscal court at its meeting last Thursday was unable to make a definite decision on the Floyd County Board of Health's proposal of a 9-cent levy for health purposes.

The court will meet again Tuesday of next week in special session, and a definite decision is expected at that time. The Board of Health will meet with the court.

In deference to the court while it was undecided, the Board of Health's request for the question to be placed on the ballot was not served on Judge Stumbo or the members of the court at last week's meeting. State law provides that if such request is served it is mandatory for the court to direct the county clerk to place the question on the ballot for a decision by the voters.

Mounting competition for services of nurses and other personnel as other counties and states offer higher salaries, as well as the need for school dental service and the services of a physician on at least half-time basis, have been pointed out this week that the loss of physicians by the county, with no new doctors in sight, makes necessary wider and more intensive public health work to guard against disease outbreaks particularly in more isolated sections of the county.

Conservationist Says 67,100 Trees Requested For Floyd-co. Planting

L. R. Johnson, soil conservationist, said this week that already 67,100 trees have been requested for 1957 planting in this county.

Requests for trees Mr. Johnson has received follow:

J. B. Clarke, of Brandy Keg, 10,000; Adrian Bentley, Huelyville, 10,000; R. C. Barnett, Martin, 10,000; C. H. Osborne, East-ern, 5,000; M. H. Bleivins, Lancer, 2,100; Arnold Hunter, Blue Moon, 1,000; Price Realty Co., Price, 25,000; Wiley Jones, Langley, 2,000; Daniel Akers, Amba, 2,000.

LAKE VISITORS FEWER IN '56

Dewey Lake Attendance Off in First 7 Months By 79,000, Is Report

The number of visitors at Dewey Lake during the first seven months of this year showed a decided drop from the total who were fishing, boating, picnicking, swimming, camping or just plain sightseeing there during the corresponding period of 1955.

The figures reflecting this loss were released this week by J. R. "Red" Weaver, Dewey reservoir manager, who said the data is accumulated by spot checks made at various points on the lake and by count of motor vehicles.

The total number of visitors fell from 388,260 during the seven months ending July 31 last year to 309,022 as of July 31, 1956. Losses also were reported in the number of fishermen, boaters, sightseers and in the autos counted.

Heaviest gain was in the number of swimmers, with a total of 19,895 this year as compared with 15,515 last year. The 1956 picnickers total 14,155 for a gain of 2,125 over the same period last year, and the number of campers this year stands at 9,040 for a gain of 520.

The number of fishermen dropped off this year to 25,360 from last year's 38,525, a loss of 13,165; boaters from 28,050 last year to 25,990 in 1956; sightseers from 285,485 in 1955 to 216,282 this year, and the car count showed only 77,238 this year as compared with 96,547 last year.

An unusually rainy spring and early summer is blamed for some of the losses reflected in the figures here shown, and a generally poor fishing season has cut into the number of anglers visiting the impoundment.

Poor fishing, however, has been reported in all Kentucky impoundments.

During the past week bass fishing at Dewey peaked up slightly with some catches reported on artificial lures, including flyrod poppers, and live bait.

DESCRIBE HOW COAL RALLIED

Francis, Moody, Pickett In Talks Tell Comeback From Dark Days of 1953

Three coal industry leaders, one from this area, told their audiences recently some of the past agonies of the business and then pointed with optimism to the future.

David L. Francis, president of Princess Elkhorn Coal Co., of David, in a speech June 4 to the Mine Inspectors Institute at Columbus, O., said that there is a bright horizon in the coal industry but he reviewed the recent depressed phase of the business when, he said, "the walls fell in on us." He went on to say, "The coal industry has emerged from these terrible beatings just as a fighter in a battle royal might come out the winner—bruised, with black eyes and bloody nose and somewhat punch drunk, but still ready to go."

Joseph E. Moody, president of Southern Coal Producers Association, too, reviewed the industry's recent ills in a speech at Charleston, W. Va., before that city's Rotary Club. "You remember the problems we were facing then," he pointed out. "Many mines were shutting down, coal consumption generally was declining and the producing mines in our members' District 7 and 8 sold 35,770,000 tons during the first quarter of 1953 for an average net loss of 13 cents per ton—or about $4,700,000." However, Moody said that now "I can report to you that coal's outlook is considerably brighter."

"Coal powered the industrial revolution which began a century and a half ago," Tom Pickett, executive vice-president of the National Coal Association, said in a speech Tuesday at Dallas, Texas. "Today another industrial revolution is sweeping the world, bringing with it as radical a change in the way of living as did the first. Nations all over the world are rebuilding after the war years, and are driving hard for higher living standards for their people. One might get the impression that there are such changes in the fuels economy that new sources of energy are to power this revolution. We hear of nuclear energy, fusion and solar energy. The fact is, however, that

State Fund to Floyd To Pass $1 Million

State Authorizes Suit Of Attorney's Widow; Negligence Is Charged

A suit asking $10,000 damages in the death Jan. 10, 1955 of Harry R. Burke, Prestonsburg attorney, was filed in circuit court here Aug. 21 by Burke's widow, Mrs. Dorothy Short Burke.

Permission for her to sue the Department of Highways and the Commonwealth was granted by resolution adopted at the last session of the General Assembly.

Mrs. Burke's petition, prepared by W. W. Burchett, Prestonsburg attorney, alleges gross negligence and carelessness on the part of the defendants. This, it is alleged, resulted in the bridge from which Burke fell at Bonanza to be in such a state of disrepair that it was dangerous for pedestrians using the state-maintained highway.

2 PASTORATES ONLY CHANGES

Community Church Here, Betsy Layne Affected; Rev. Stiltz Is Named

Ministerial appointments announced Friday afternoon at the final session in Wilmore of the 136th Kentucky annual conference of the Methodist Church saw only two pastor-changes in Floyd county.

The Prestonsburg Community Church was taken from the First Methodist Church here to form the Prestonsburg community station with its own pastor. The Rev. J. Baldwin Stiltz, of Lexington, was named its pastor.

The Rev. W. B. Garnett, of Ashland, was named pastor of Betsy Layne-Vogel Day Church to succeed the Rev. W. O. Patten who was transferred to Lawrenceburg, Ky.

Change in status of the Community Methodist Church here to that of a station with a pastor assigned especially to the work there was a result, it was said by the Rev. Harold W. Dorsey, pastor of First Methodist who has been serving the new church also, to the intensive effort of the laymen of Community Methodist Church over a three-year period.

The Rev. Mr. Stiltz recently completed his seminary training and

TURNER SAYS EXACT TOTAL YET UNKNOWN

Floyd System Is Among Five To Pass Million Chandler, Martin Say

Floyd county's is one of four school districts in Kentucky which this school term will receive in state aid under the Minimum Foundation Program more than $1,000,000, figures released last Wednesday at a joint press conference by Governor Chandler and Dr. Robert R. Martin, superintendent of public instruction, show.

The state funds allotted this county's school system total $1,384,595 for a gain of $47,379 allocated from the same source last year to the Floyd county district and the now-defunct the Prestonsburg independent district.

To this total will be added $349,330.27 in county school tax revenues. "All these state figures really are tentative," County Superintendent Virgil O. Turner said last Thursday. "The final and exact figures will not be known till next March 27 when all districts of the state have been audited."

Instructional salaries, for instance, cannot be known at this time, Mr. Turner said, because the teacher situation is in a state of flux, an other exact rankings are not fully known. "One imaginary figure in the present calculations, according to information supplied us," the county schools head remarked, "is the $1,147,486.03 set for teachers' salaries. This cannot be so definitely determined till all college work done by teachers across the state is fully known."

The information supplied Turner also showed that Floyd county will lose from the total announced as state aid $142,421, which will be deducted because of deficiencies on basic units. The average daily attendance and other factors also could reduce the total of state aid. The foundation for education will be financed this school term at a cost of $54,737,418 to the state—an increase of $20,000,000 over last year.

Tax revenue in school districts will bring the total cost of the program to $94,444,233.

Recent Bond-Burning Leaves Debt $84,000

As County Judge Henry Stumbo and members of the fiscal court burned last Thursday $66,000 worth of bonds paid off this year, Floyd county caught a glimpse of daylight beyond the shadow of the heavy bonded indebtedness that has hung over it for so many years. Retirement of these bonds left the county's bonded indebtedness at $84,000, and $30,000 of that amount doesn't count, since the county treasurer has on hand enough money to pay off that amount. Funding bonds totaling $54,000 will be left to be paid off, County Treasurer W. J. May said. The $30,000 in voted road and bridge bonds will be retired by next May with funds at hand, he added.

COLLINS CLAIMS HIS OFFICE NOT ASKED TO MAKE ARREST

Referring to an advertisement published last week in The Floyd County Times by State Senator Doug Hays in which the arrest of Commonwealth's Attorney Burnis Martin was discussed, Sheriff Gorman Collins this week declared that the statement claiming no officer other than Constable Johnny Caudill would arrest Martin is untrue. Said Sheriff Collins: "I am in the middle in this trouble and am not wanting to have any part in it, but I think it is only fair to myself and my deputies to point out that we were not asked to execute the peace warrant on Mr. Martin. If we had been, we would have arrested Martin and would have taken him before the proper judge or magistrate. I have questioned my deputies, and I have not yet found one who was asked to execute the peace warrant."

Sheriff Collins added that for his own protection he procured from the Attorney General's office last April a ruling on his duty in peace warrant cases. This opinion stated, he said, that the person accused should be taken immediately before the nearest judge or magistrate.

ANNOUNCEMENT
Hall & Music Insurance Agency

In last week's article in The Floyd County Times, some people did not read thoroughly or quite understand its meaning. This agency represents some of the largest and oldest fire and automobile companies in the U. S. A., and quite a few of our companies have been in the business over 100 years. We are noted for prompt payment of our claims, and have never refused to pay a legitimate claim.

The meaning of this article was that almost two years ago, we had two companies that pulled out of the state, and rather than let our policyholders go unprotected we paid personally for their policies with another of our companies. Agents like ourselves, all over the state, were in the same position, altho not all gave this consideration to their policyholders.

I am in the insurance business to stay, and I represent only the best of companies. Almost every policyholder I have, I know personally, and I am proud to serve them. Thanks to my many friends, our business has more than doubled in the past 12 months. I want to take this opportunity to thank you again for your business, and I hope to continue to serve you as long as you have a need for any type of protection. We sell all lines of insurance.

Within the next week we will have a company to write coal mine compensation anywhere in the state, and it is an old and proven company.

Yours Truly, BLAINE R. HALL

$200 REWARD
Reward of two hundred dollar ($200) will be paid upon the arrest and conviction of the persons who stole coal drill from Blue Grass Coal Company Mine No. 3 on the night of August 25 or 26 on Brush Creek at Hippos, Kentucky.

Miss Barbara Reed Becomes Bride Of Mr. Burke in Wedding on Aug. 19

Mr. and Mrs. Mark K. Reed, of Prestonsburg, announce the marriage of their daughter, Barbara Kay, to Mr. Harry R. Burke, Jr., son of Mrs. Harry R. Burke, and the late Mr. Burke, of Bonanza, Ky. The double ring ceremony was solemnized August 19 in the Prestonsburg Methodist Church in the presence of members of the family and close friends of the bride and groom. The Rev. Harold W. Dorsey officiated before an altar decorated with palms, white mums and lighted tapers. Mrs. Harold Dorsey, organist, and Miss Marion Maurer, soloist, presented a program of nuptial music. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street-length dress of eggshell white brocaded satin, which was fashioned with a cowl neckline and short sleeves. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid from which fell streamers with stephanotis. Mrs. Jack Dingus, of Martin, cousin of the bride, was her only attendant. She wore a street-length dress of shell pink organdy over taffeta, and carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations. Mr. Donald Compton served as best man. Seating the guests were Paul Stepp and Bobby Burke, cousins of the groom. The bride's mother wore an aqua linen dress with matching accessories. The groom's mother wore a beige taffeta dress with black accessories. Their corsages were white gardenias. A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Assisting were Mrs. Fred Dickerson, Mrs. John P. Sammons, and Mrs. I. E. Reed. When the couple left for a wedding trip to Florida, the bride wore a grey winter cotton sheath dress. Her accessories were black and her corsage was a white orchid.

It's a dear bargain to entrust your insurance program to an agent who writes only one or two lines of insurance, and who can give you only part of the protection you really need.

We have a hunch you'd rather BUY FROM AN AGENT who as an independent business man represents capital stock insurance companies with facilities to take care of all your insurance requirements.

That's how this Agency conducts its business.

Health Administrator Announces Regulations To Govern Food Selling
In response to many inquiries about health department regulations on food and drink concessions at the Labor Day celebration at Allen next Monday, Mountain Clark, county health administrator, said Tuesday that both state and county health regulations permit only pre-wrapped and packaged foods as well as only bottled drinks to be sold in the open.
Permission to prepare and serve foods at public gatherings such as this, fairs, carnivals, etc., entail quite a bit of expenditure, Mr. Clark said, adding that anyone interested further in this should call their health department.
The health administrator also said that county sanitarians will be on the grounds at the Allen celebration to render all possible assistance in promoting good sanitation in the protection of the health and well-being of the people. "This is our job," Mr. Clark said. "Help us to be able to do a good job in protecting you and your children."

here's why ELECTRIC HEAT is the most comfortable heat you can have Thousands of homeowners have found that for sheer comfort you can't beat Electric Heat. No matter how cold it is outside, an electrically heated house is warm throughout. Here are three reasons why this is so.
automatic individual room controls
Each room has its own thermostat to give you the temperature you like—no overheating one room to get another at a comfortable temperature. No need to heat that seldom used room.
gentle uniform heat
The whole room is warmed evenly whether you have wall, baseboard or ceiling units. No more cold floors, no more drafts.
instant heat
From the moment it's on you feel gentle warmth throughout the entire room.
Building a new house or remodeling your present one? You'll find Electric Heat economical for either. See an electric heating contractor or call us for more information.

Ben Franklin, of Wayland, Is Victim in Huntington Of Cerebral Hemorrhage

Ben Franklin, 53, of Wayland, died Tuesday of last week, at St. Mary's hospital, Huntington, of a cerebral hemorrhage. He was an ex-miner but was recently employed at Ypsilanti, Mich.

Mr. Franklin was a son of the late John and Polly Franklin and the husband of Flora Gibson, who survives. Surviving also are the following sons and daughters: Ben Franklin, Jr., and Delano Franklin, both of Wyandotte, Mich.; Mrs. Hayden Woody, Willow Run, Mich.; Mrs. Ted Parker, Inkster, Mich., and Mrs. Iveria Caudill, River Rouge, Mich. Two brothers and two sisters survive: Gayland Franklin, of Paintsville, Sam Franklin, in Ohio, Mrs. Vadie Gullett, of Paintsville, and Mrs. Julia Morgan, of Eastern.

Funeral rites were conducted last Sunday at the graveside in the Gibson cemetery at Raven, the Revs. Ed Moore, Russell Jacobs and Marion Chaffins officiating. Burial was under the direction of Turner-Ryan Funeral Home.

Some schools—notably, Allen, McDowell, Martin and Betsy Layne—are crowded by the influx of pupils. At Allen one room has 50 pupils. There is no immediate relief in sight there, it was said this week, but building projects now under way will afford more room at the other three schools.

The principal of the Allen school, Walter Frasure, transferred to Martin to become grade school principal, his place at Allen being taken by Philip Dingus, grade principal at Martin.

Flocculation and filtering are two of the principal methods in treating pond water, say Kentucky Extension Service agricultural engineers.

Last Thursday's bond-burning was a repeat of the 1955 performance when about $50,000 worth were redeemed and burned.

At one time the bonded indebtedness of Floyd county amounted to $949,000. Over the years payment of principal and interest have mounted well beyond the million-dollar mark. As late as June 30, 1941 the indebtedness stood at $692,000, Mr. May said.

The bonds burned last week included $48,000 of funding bonds issued in 1935 during the administration of the late W. L. Stumbo, $5,000 of refunding bonds issued in 1940 while Edw. P. Hill was County Judge and $10,000 in refunding bonds issued in 1953 during the administration of County Judge Henry Stumbo. Also included were $3,845 worth of coupons. The refunding bonds were issue to pay off old bonds which carried a higher rate of interest.

Commenting on the brighter prospect as to indebtedness, Judge Stumbo said last week: "The county is in a tight spot financially, and I don't see how we can do a lot of things that need to be done on our roads, but we're getting out of debt before long, anyhow."

The last of these bonds paid, the county will be clear of debt in all respects—for state law prohibits any fiscal court from exceeding its annual budget.

Floyd county forester, Roe Turner, of Drift, said Tuesday that the Division of Forestry will have Smoky the famous forestry bear with his message on forest fire prevention on the grounds.

Members of the UMW Labor Day committee said that ample parking space is available, and that parking will be handled by state police and the Wheelwright Boy Scout troop. Cooperation of the public was asked in parking, so that all cars may be parked in such a way that the owner may leave at any time he desires.

The usual crowd of 15,000 to 20,000 is expected, it was said.

BRIGHT IDEA
The New Haven (Conn.) Chamber of Commerce is working on plans to provide a child-parking center in order to bring shoppers back to the city. Now there's an idea—park your young'n, let somebody else take the whacks across the shins and listen to his laments while you shop for a teething ring for his own personal use when you get home to absorb the whacks and wails yourself. . . Now if they'll invent a bed with a built-in drain-board . . .

UNSOLICITED ADVICE

Some 3,000 youngsters were in high school in this county this week, and among them were many who were there for the first time. I had an idea I might have some advice for these children who may be feeling that "today I am a man," but I find that I've exhausted myself trying to point out to my own the importance of making time count. It has been said that these teenagers should realize that there is more to Latin than a literal translation of amo and that the X in algebra is something more than a symbol with which to seal a missive. Seriously, I would remind these youngsters that within the next eight years (if they continue on through college) they will learn about all they will ever get from textbooks. After that come experience and scattered bits of information by reading, but as for the basic things of education they will ever learn there are only a few short years for them. They'll never believe it—but time's a-wastin'.

COMBS TO HEAD SCOUT DRIVE OVER LONESOME PINE COUNCIL

Boy Scout leaders met Monday, Aug. 13 at the Allen golf course to plan the annual fund raising campaign. Represented at the recent meet were interested persons from the Pike and Jenny Wiley Districts of the Lonesome Pine Council. Bert Combs, Prestonsburg will head the council-wide drive.

No goal is usually set, according to Jim Owens, Scout executive, but the Council needs approximately $52,000 for the ensuing year. The Council is adding a fourth field man, he says.

District comprising the Lonesome Pine Council are Pike, Letcher, Jenny Wiley, Kentucky River, Jefferson Forest and The Breaks. L. B. Brashear, of Manton, heads the drive in the Jenny Wiley district.

"WILL ANTIQUE LANGUAGE RETURN?"

Many a modern who buys at a stiff price some bit of antique furniture or cloth or glass would probably have a stroke if I suggested a return to some of the antique ways we used to say things. I am not making any such suggestion, however, for the ways of people are past finding out. I am not ready myself to go back to English as she was spoke. But suppose we take a look at some of the antiques we might readopt, without going very far afield, either.

Not many weeks ago a perfectly good and honest man told me how he help his neighbor clear a new-ground. He was using the very words of Chaucer: "That hem have hopen when that they were seeke." A great many of my Fidelity friends used this old form regularly, though some of us smiled behind our hands when we heard this quaint old word and associated it only with people considerably below us intellectually and socially. Helped seems to have won out in the race; it is hardly likely that our children's will say that they help anybody.

For ages our language referred to an object or thing as hit. We had inherited that word, along with he and him and his. It was neither odd nor quaint; everybody, high and low, said it. May be it was our English tendency to make h's silent that led to the dropping of that initial h, though we kept it in other words. Of course, the word hit got mixed up with social customs and was branded as the usage of primitive or ignorant people. And society prevailed; if a respectable public man said hit today, we would accuse him of being a bad citizen; he would probably have to defend himself against wife beating and general cussedness.

One of the finest women I ever knew, one with a pretty good education in pre-Civil War days when she was young, regularly said clumb for the past tense of climb. Again we proper ones who had studied Harvey's GRAMMAR at the country school laughed privately about the old-fashioned pronunciation, little knowing that the funny word had formerly been the correct one and that there was a time when climbed was incorrect as known was and is. "In our simple ignorance," in Emerson's phrase, we laughed wrongly, as so many of us do when we do not understand. Climbed prevailed; clumb went the way of hit and help. It was neither better nor worse than the new word; it merely was not accepted by the right people. Like the old Ford car joke, which said that a Ford car could take you anywhere except into good society!

The words that I wish most to have a good social standing did not originate in old English but came in later, when they were needed: hisn, hern, urn, theirn. The oldest phase of our language my and thy did not exist; the words were mine and thine, just as the corresponding words still are in German. But these words soon developed two uses: in one use the n was left; in the other, it was lost; "my book," "The book is mine." This predicate use of mine gave rise to the words cited above. It became customary, in the 1300's, to say "his book," "The book is hisn." That is downright useful and should have been kept, along with some of the homely translation of Wyclif, where it and the other taboo words appear. Nothing so expressive has yet appeared in our pronouns, but society ruthlessly turned thumbs down on the words, and it would take a braver man than I am to resurrect them. Would you be willing to form with me an antique-word club and set up shop? Nay, verily.

Small Colleges Better for Students, Happier for Teachers, Writes Educator

The concern of small colleges with the individual makes them better for students and happier for teachers than big impersonal universities, writes Dr. D. Elton Trueblood in an article, "Why I Chose a Small College," in September Reader's Digest. He reports the small college has undergone a remarkable rebirth in the last ten years.

Dr. Trueblood, now professor of philosophy at Earlham College, Richmond, Ind., earlier was on the faculties of Stanford and Harvard.

Scientists, business leaders, and persons with distinction enough for Who's Who in America, Dr. Trueblood writes, are produced by small colleges out of all proportion to their size and resources.

"Of the first 50 institutions in America, judged by the scientific eminence of their graduates," reports Dr. Trueblood, "39 are small, privately supported colleges."

Of the 106 board chairmen and presidents of America's 66 billion-dollar companies 62.3 percent are graduates of such independent institutions.

Roger M. Blough, chairman of the U. S. Steel Corp., for example, is a graduate of Susquehanna University; Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors, of Ferris Institute; Robert E. Wilson, chairman of the Standard Oil Co., of Indiana, of Wooster College; Ralph J. Cordiner, president of General Electric, of Whitman College; John J. McCloy, chairman of the Chase-Manhattan Bank, of Amherst College.

Dr. Trueblood lists three virtues in small college life.

"First," he says, "is the affectionate, abiding concern for the individual . . . In a university with 10,000 or 15,000 students, a student can go through four years and until his commencement never even see, much less meet, its president. The professor in the small school has students in numbers small enough so that each, for him, is a person in whose welfare he can take an intimate interest."

"The second fact which works to the great advantage of the student is this: every student has the opportunity to find and engage in those activities which will develop his maximum capacities. In a student body of many thousands an individual is often lost in the anonymous mass. His role in the university's extracurricular activities is not that of participant but of spectator.

"The third and to me the most important of the small college is its concern, rooted in religion, for character development . . . I chose a small college because I wanted to be a part of a life where this character-developing influence is pervasive, where it is shared by all the students and promoted not only by professors of Bible and religion but quite as much by men in chemistry, biology and psychology."

Nearly half of the small colleges operated in the red last year but Dr. Trueblood reports an upswing in alumni giving and a rallying of industry and business to the small college's support.

"Many must have additional buildings and facilities," writes Dr. Trueblood. "But now the prospects are vastly improved as more and more Americans recognize what the small college contributes and how essential it is to strengthen and extend its contribution."

Dog Law Success Is Told In Review By Administrator

Dangerous dogs are disappearing and the livestock population is increasing, Wayland Rhoads, administrator of the 1954 Kentucky dog law, avers.

During discussion of progress under the law, Rhoads said the most aggravating problem is around the state line. Farmers near the Tennessee border are having their herds raided often. Complaints came mostly from Graves, Simpson, Fulton and Logan counties, he said.

"Not even the Ohio River is protection against dogs from other states," Rhoads said. "We constantly pick up strays dropped by owners who drive across the river from Indiana and Ohio. Maybe they think the river is the best guarantee the dogs won't come home," he said.

The 1954 law made provisions for cracking down on unlicensed dogs. It required payment of $1.50 licenses for all dogs and earmarked the revenue for hiring dog wardens and accumulating a livestock fund to pay owners whose stock is killed by dogs.

Since enactment of the law, 92,177 stray dogs have been humanely destroyed by dog wardens. Rhoads estimated another 50,000 have been killed by farmers.

Dog packs are no longer active in the state and with the enforcement of the dog law, unwanted strays are eliminated and the good dogs are protected.

Before enforcement of the dog law was started, sheep population was dropping steadily. This year, Rhoads said, sheep business will increase by about one million head. Rhoads estimated this would mean an additional three million to four million in farm income.

Dog licenses were sold in 100 counties last year as compared with 51 counties the year before, Rhoads said.

The state is paying $93,883 in claims from farmers whose stock has been destroyed. More than $130,000 has been paid into the livestock fund, the administrator added.

Ranier Buys Pike's Peak Race Winner For Try at Southern 500's Grand Prize; Wells Is Mechanic, Patterson To Drive

Back for their fourth and hoped to be their most successful try with a new racing car at the Southern 500 in Darlington, Va., Harry Ranier, of Prestonsburg, owner of the car, his mechanic, John P. Wells, and Johnny Patterson, driver, who will represent Kentucky's only chance to register in that meet.

For television viewers the car which Ranier will enter in the race will be familiar, since it is the same car which won the nationally publicized Pike's Peak race. The same Chevrolet was bought from the General Motors Corporation by Ranier for this race and is featured on billboards across the country.

Monday is the day in which all the cars begin racing on the National Association of Stock Cars track in Darlington. According to Wesley Howard, previous races have been won by Hudson (2), Oldsmobile (2), Ram Dodge (1), and Chevrolet (1). The Prestonsburg men feel very confident of their chances this year.

Car 38 is one to notice if radio broadcasts are available for stock car enthusiasts. It was noted that in 1953 the same driver, Patterson, in a Hudson came in second; in 1954, in a Mercury, fourth, and in 1955, in a Mercury, wrecked while avoiding a car which exploded. This year's car has a powerful Corvette motor. Flat car rules allow anything to be replaced or added to the cars as long as it is listed in the parts book. The race on Labor Day, is on a straight track which is one and three-eighths miles long. The first 75 cars having the best qualifying times are eligible for the race. The top qualifying time will take $500, and the first car to finish 363 laps around the track wins $14,000. Ten prizes are given for a total of $42,000 prize money to the first ten cars.

John P. Wells is serving as the mechanic, and John Patterson, who is well known around this area for his driving, will be trying for the fifth time at the Darlington Track. Patterson, it was said, is rated in the top ten drivers over the United States.

Pvt. Anderson Attends Special Marine Course

Camp Lejeune, N. C. — Pvt. Edgar L. Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Anderson, of Mare Creek, Ky., is attending a special training course with the 1st Infantry Regiment at the Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, N. C.

The four-week course includes all phases of combat training coordinated with the training taught in "boot" camp. Graduates will be transferred to permanent duty stations.

O.K. TO WEAR RED

Many hunters think that red clothing makes them too apparent to game. But Col. Townsend Whelen, famous big game hunter, writes in Sports Afield that this is not so because all animals (except men, apes and monkeys) are apparently color blind, and distinguish animate objects not by appearance or shape, but by movement, sound and scent.

SPORTS CHATTER

By GORDON MOORE

There will be 15 minor rule changes in the National Federation high school football rules for the coming season. They deal with the type of ball used during the game; who may call time out; the neutral zone; starting and stopping the clock; size of shoe cleats; touching a free kick, etc.

JAYCEES PLAN FOOTBALL PROGRAM

The Prestonsburg Junior Chamber of Commerce is planning to produce and edit an elaborate football program for all of the Prestonsburg Black Cats' six home football games.

Kentucky high school football teams needing to fill open dates might turn to the Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference teams to complete their 1956 football schedules.

Virtually every school in the loop has open dates and several has as many as two with the season slated to get under way next week.

Newcomers to football prep circles this season will be three high schools, M. C. Napier, Wheelwright and Leslie County, and all have at least one open date.

Napier Memorial, located in Perry county at the edge of the Hazard city limits, has September 28th and October 5 open, and Wheelwright, in the southern tip of Floyd, has carded only two games thus far.

Other loop teams have the following open dates available: Fleming-Neon, September 8; Belfry September 7 and September 28; Elkhorn City, September 14; Hazard, October 19; Whitesburg, November 2nd; Prestonsburg, August 31; and Pikeville, October 26.

GRID GOSSIP

Tom Lucia, ex-University of Louisville little All-American football star, has been named head football mentor at Louisa high school. . . Paintsville high school is in the process of completing new stands on one side of its field. To be completed before next week, the Johnson county stadium will seat 5,000 people. . . Two games the week-end of Friday, August 31, will open the '56 season in Eastern Kentucky. Fleming is at Whitesburg, then on Monday, September 3, Elkhorn City visits Pikeville and on Tuesday, September 4, Paintsville opens with McCell at home. . . The annual Eastern Kentucky grid clinic for officials and coaches was held in Pikeville last Thursday night, with a record attendance. . . M. C. Napier will use Hazard's field for all its home games. . . Wheelwright will use the baseball park there, one of the best fields and lighting systems in Kentucky. . . John Thompson, ex-Louisiana high school coach, will assist Denver Ball at Raceland during the season. . . Arthur Mullins, who will handle the football duties at Elkhorn City this season is the oldest coach in point of service at one school in Eastern Kentucky. This will be his 15th season. . . Buddy Fields, Whitesburg high school all-state halfback two seasons ago, reportedly will enroll at Morehead State College this fall. He played his freshman year with the University of Tennessee. . . Service Returnee, Donald Willis, will enroll at Morehead, September 1. He was a four-year fullback with Prestonsburg in his high school days. . . Three E. K. M. C. schools, Fleming, Pikeville, and Paintsville, are attending football camps outside the state. . . Hazard has just completed a six-day stay at Dewey Lake.

Order by Kiser Says "Dual Firms" Unable To Operate For State

Frankfort, Aug. 24 — Highway Commissioner Bert Kiser has issued an order barring firms that act as consulting engineers on road projects from bidding as contractors.

Kiser directed that firms accepting commissions for surveys and planning of roads cannot bid on construction.

The commissioner commented: "We do not propose to commission consulting engineers to represent our interests in the planning of highways and at the same time represent their own interests as contractors."

Chief State Highway Engineer Dwight Bray said a number of construction firms recently had established engineering divisions.

He added "this order was intended to forestall any complications that might arise if some firms sought to act as both consulting engineers and contractors."

Mills Resigns As Coach At Inez High School

Claude Mills, head basketball coach at Inez high school for the past four years, resigned last week to accept a teaching post in the West Franklin Elementary School, Columbus, Ohio.

Mills' 1954 Indian team won the Kentucky State high school basketball championship and completed an overall 33 and 2 record. His four-year record at the Martin county school was 96 wins against 24 losses.

The 29-year-old native of Inez, leaves a team of four regulars—one senior, two juniors and a sophomore. In addition, three transfer students are expected to make the '56 '57 team a serious threat for regional honors.

Mills earned an A. B. degree from Morehead State College, where he was a star outfielder on the baseball nine and later his M.A. degree from the University of Kentucky. His successor has not been named.

Pvt. Crum Completes Transportation School

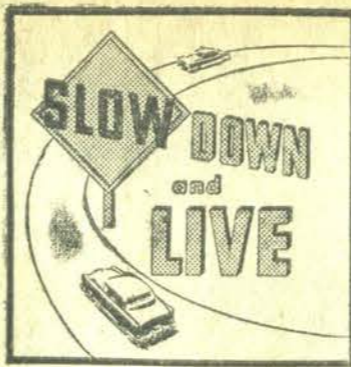

Fort Eustis, Va. — Pvt. John Crum, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Crum, of Lancer, Ky., recently was graduated from the Army's Transportation school, Fort Eustis, Va.

Crum completed the school's aircraft component repair helper course which trained him in general maintenance, engine repair, rotor blades, instrument and electrical systems in a aircraft hydraulics.

Crum entered the Army last March and completed basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

State Police Head Predicts Traffic During Labor Day To Kill 14 In State

"Let summer end on the calendar, not on the highway," Commissioner of Kentucky's State Police said today, as he reminded motorists in just three short days at this time last year, 15 persons lost their lives in Kentucky traffic accidents.

Commissioner P. A. B. Widener predicted 14 or more highway deaths in Kentucky will be killed in Labor Day week-end road mishaps unless all drivers remember to "Slow Down and Live."

Stressing the "speed kills" theme, Widener said excessive speed is "king" of highway killers. He said 15 persons were killed during Labor Day week-end last year.

All-time high for a Labor Day week-end in recent years was in 1954 when 17 persons died, he said.

"Labor Day marks for most people the end of summer's vacation period," Widener said. "Vacationists rush madly in search of a last-minute place to relax—and it's in such a rush that people get killed."

He advised Labor Day highway travelers to "relax pressure on the gas pedal, keep the car under firm control at all times and be prepared for emergencies—but don't create those emergencies."

FLOYD CIRCUIT COURT

Bank Josephine ..... Plaintiff
Vs. NOTICE OF SALE
Hager Manns &c ..... Defendant

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court rendered and entered at the June term, 1956, in the above styled case I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Courthouse door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on the 3rd day of September 1956, at 10 o'clock, A. M., same being the first day of the regular term of the Floyd County Court, upon a credit of six months, the following described property, to-wit:

Lying and being on the waters of Left Beaver Creek, Floyd county, Kentucky:

FIRST TRACT—Beginning at a chestnut oak on the Elkhorn Coal Corporation line; thence with the Elkhorn line to Carter and Spencer Martin's lines; thence down the ridge to the top of point with Martin Collins' line to the branch; thence up the branch to a marked rock on E. S. Martin's line; and up a drain with E. S. Martin's line to a marked rock; thence a straight line up the hill with S. S. Martin's line to the chestnut oak at the beginning.

SECOND TRACT—Beginning at the branch at the mouth of a drain on the left side of branch; thence running up the hill with M. C. Clouds' line to a beech marked; thence running up the hill with the point to the top of the said point; thence down the hill running a northwest course about 100 yards with the conditional line of E. Moore and Martin Collins partnership line; thence a straight line down the hill with same conditional line to a stake 100 feet of the center of branch; thence around the hill a distance of 155 feet to a marked stake; thence down the hill 75 feet to center of branch; thence up the branch to the beginning, and being the same land conveyed to first parties (defendants in this action) by Green Manns, Sofronie Manns, his wife, by deed dated the 29th day of December, 1953, which is duly recorded in Deed Book 155, page 587, Floyd County Court Clerk's Office, containing 70 acres, more or less.

Said property will be sold to satisfy a judgment against defendants in favor of plaintiff for the sum of $800.00 with interest from March 29, 1955.
For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or suteries, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.
Given under my hand, this 8th day of August, 1956.

Roads Council Names
Patterson Secretary

Frankfort, Aug. 24 (Spl.) — Malcolm Patterson, veteran newspaperman and former head of Associated Press news coverage of state government in Frankfort, was recently appointed executive secretary of the Kentucky Better Roads Council.
The announcement was made by Kean Johnson, president of the Council, after a meeting of directors at the Brown Hotel, Louisville. Named were four vice-presidents: Holmes Ellis, Murray; Burt St. Clair, Falls of Rough; K. J. Day, Pikeville; and Howard Pierce, Elizabethtown.
A number of civic organizations formed the council in July, to promote passage of the proposed 100-million-dollar bond issue in the November general election.
Approval by voters would give Kentucky money to match federal funds for constructing roads within the state. More than 18,000 miles of road construction qualify for aid under the new Federal Aid Highway Act.

Hunting foxes in wooded country is no cinch. The August issue of Sports Afield magazine reports that it's ten times harder to get a shot at a slinking coyote than getting one at a deer.

Approximately 6,000 acres of strawberries were grown in 60 Kentucky counties this year.

MILLION VOTES TO BE STOLEN
IF 1952 POLL FRAUD REPEATED

Over a million votes will be stolen in the forthcoming presidential election unless citizens are more vigilant than they were in 1952.

This prediction is based on a country-wide survey showing increasing election frauds reported by Jack Harrison Pollack in a September Reader's Digest article, "How Crooks Steal Your Vote," condensed from the National Municipal Review.

The Honest Ballot Association estimates that at least a million votes were stolen in the 1952 presidential election.
Samuel H. Still, veteran investigator of election campaigns for Congressional committees, told Mr. Pollack that about 50 public figures are now in offices they would not have won if the elections had been legally conducted. Election thievery is not confined to any area nor to any type of election, the survey finds.

Paper ballots, still used in two thirds of the United States, offer the greatest opportunity for fraud. They are easy to change, easy to fake, easy to stuff. "A favorite trick of the crooked ballot-counter," Mr. Pollack writes, "is to conceal a piece of pencil led (with wax to make it stick) under a fingernail or a large ring. While smoothing out the ballots before counting them, he will mark additional crosses before candidates' names—thus invalidating them."

Voting machines have helped reduce election frauds. But they are required in general elections in only six states. Desirable as they are, voting machines aren't 100 percent tamper-proof. Ballot thieves can wedge a matchstick, hairpin or metal clip under a lever to prevent it from registering. They can man-

Former P'burg Man, Dies
In Wyandotte, Michigan

Body of John Morgan Simmons, 60 years old and a former Prestonsburg resident, who died in Wyandotte General Hospital, Wyandotte, Mich., was returned here for burial in the Richmond cemetery, Aug. 17. Mr. Simmons died Aug. 14 of a heart illness.

He was a son of James and Callia Haywood Simmons, and was well-known in the county. He moved to Michigan four years ago. Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Lona Nelson Simmons, one son, Paul W. Simmons, Huntington, W. Va., three daughters, Mrs. Margaret Ackerman, Prestonsburg, Mrs. Ethel Marie Patton, San Diego, Calif., and Mrs. Callia S. Branham, Romulus, Mich.; a brother, Hargis Simmons, Coeburn, W. Va., and one sister, Mrs. Joe McGuire, Prestonsburg. He also leaves seven grandchildren.

Cline Conn, Floyd Native,
Killed Aug. 7 When Hit
By Car in Detroit, Mich.

Funeral rites for Cline Conn, 21-year-old native of this county who was killed Aug. 17 when hit by an auto in front of his Detroit home, were held Tuesday of last week at Dana where burial was made.

It was reported here that Conn, a carpenter, had alighted from a taxicab about 7 p. m., and started across the street to his home when an auto driven by a negro struck him. The driver of the auto was arrested and later released on bail. Conn died en route to a hospital.

Surviving are his parents, Willie and Bertha Boyd Conn, of Dana, his widow, Mrs. Sue Spurlock Conn, and one son, Michael, of Detroit, and five brothers and sisters, Donald, Raynold, Winfred and Ronnie Conn and Mrs. Betty Rose Newsum, all of Dana.

Officiating at the funeral were the Revs. Tack Hall, Lenna Boyd, Johnny Hall and Sam Thomas. Burial was under direction of the Carter & Callihan Funeral Home.

FARM NOTES

LATE GARDENS:
A late garden plot need not be an unsightly mess of weeds and dead plant stalks and vines. Below are some suggested plantings to keep your garden green through the winter:
Sow turnip greens, kale and rape for greens; turnips and winter radishes for fresh root vegetables; and Balbo-rye, small grain and vetch for cover crop. Set lettuce in cold frames.

STORING VEGETABLES:
Just before frost threatens, put into storage the vegetables that are worth storing. Store only sound vegetables. Under ripe vegetables are almost sure to shrivel; those that are overripe may no longer be palatable. Onions may be hung in small bundles in a cool place until the tops are completely wilted.
Potatoes should be stored in a cool moist place or if there is no place for them they should be left in the ground, and the soil turned up over the rows with a plow. Then cut a furrow to a depth below the potatoes on either side of the rows and heap dirt in a mound over the row allowing moisture to run away from the potatoes.

ulate the curtain release cord so that your vote does not register. Or they can take advantage of laws permitting assistance to handicapped voters to step inside the curtain with you.

Antiquated laws still encourage phony registrations of "ghost" voters listed as living in flophouses, office buildings, vacant lots, turkish baths, mental institutions and grave yards in whose names party workers can vote undetected. Or they may cast a vote in the name of a legally registered voter who plays hookey on election day. Signature identification of the voter, which permits comparison with his registration, is required in only 24 states. (Kentucky is one of the 24.—Editor.)
Absentee voting permitted in many states to accommodate sick persons encourages fraud when party workers are allowed to pick up the ballots.

You can foil ballot thieves by taking these precautions:
Vote early and don't let anyone interfere with you inside or outside the polling place. Mark paper ballots neatly, get a new ballot if you make a mistake, and watch to see that it is put in the proper box. See that the curtain is closed before using a voting machine and press the levers all the way down. Seal an absentee ballot with wax, mullage, or tape. If you are registered and cannot vote, you can be sure no one has voted for you by checking the registration book after the election is over. Report suspected frauds to election judges, your local newspaper, district attorney or a citizen's organization. Volunteer to watch at the polls for organizations like the Honest Ballot Association in New York which is working to improve conditions.

State Commission
Meets At Seattle

Frankfort, Aug. 14 (Spl.) — Kentucky's Legislative Research Commission is attending the ninth annual National Legislative Conference at Seattle.

The Kentuckians are headed by Lt. Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield, director and chairman of the Commission.

Waterfield is a leader of a workshop discussion "Legislative Research."
Other commission members attending the Aug. 30-Sept. 1 Conference are Senators E. W. Richmond, Owensboro, president; pro tem; William L. Sullivan, Henderson, majority floor leader; Wendell Van Hoose, Tutor Key, minority floor leader, and Representatives Thomas Fitzpatrick, Covington, House Speaker; Fred H. Morgan, Paducah, majority floor leader, and Charles W. Buchanan, Barbourville, minority floor leader.

The conference brings together legislators and legislative staff heads representing all the states and territories.

ERRONEOUS IDEA

The idea that you must instantly cut the throat of any animal to bleed it as soon as you have shot it is erroneous and out of date, according to Sports Afield. The butcher does it, but he stuns or brains a meat animal first, then hangs it up by its hind legs, cuts the throat deeply, and the blood pours out, insuring better meat. You cannot do this in the woods; besides, a modern bullet destroys so much tissue, the cavity fills with blood immediately, and the cutting of the throat would not help this blood to escape.

Miners' Retirement Sets New Welfare Pattern

Almost a billion dollars collected for the United Mine Workers Welfare and Retirement Fund has brought modern medicine and "a gift of mercies beyond the telling" to the Southern Appalachian hills.

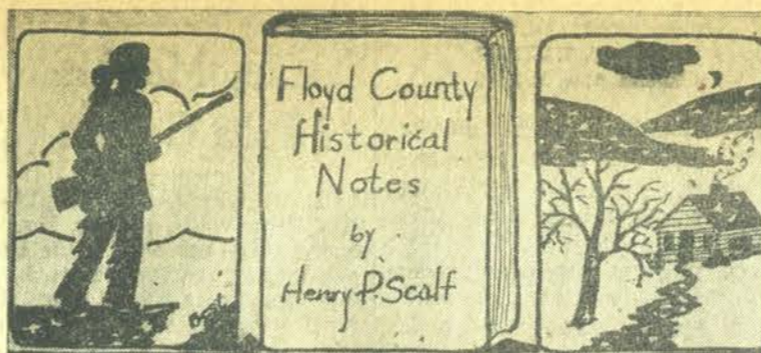

Ira Wolfert tells the story in his article, "The Miners' Fund—a Tribute to Good Management," in the September Reader's Digest.

Where 20 years ago, bitter strife and a death week in "Bloody Harlan" county in Kentucky, greeted attempts of the United Mine Workers to organize, today union and employers jointly administer a fund which made possible the recent opening of ten well-equipped hospitals staffed with 100 doctors. The hospitals are all located in an area 100 miles wide and 150 miles long in Kentucky and West Virginia.

In this hill country, the infant mortality and death rate for mothers were twice the national average; an investigation revealed 29 of 54 major operations performed had been mistakes because of faulty diagnosis; and such remedies as the blood of a black cat for shingles and wrapped-around-of copper wire for arthritis were common.

To John L. Lewis, union mine leader, this Fund offers the nation a pattern. He says: "Previously, care—such as it was—for the 65,000 men injured annually in the mines was passed on to the taxpayers regardless of whether they were consumers of coal or not. For that reason, the United Mine Workers believe they are setting a goal for others to follow to relieve the state of the necessity of caring for the extraordinary cost of industries which are particularly hazardous."

The Fund has spent as much as $10,000 on one man in its effort to rehabilitate the 12,645 amputees, paralytics and others crippled over the years in mine accidents, many virtually living dead. It provides lifelong specialist care, provides pensions of $100 a month at age 60, and numerous other benefits, all financed by a 40-cent a ton levy on each ton of coal sold.

My friend, Carter W. Friend, of Alexandria, Va., contributes a letter of information on the Friends again. He writes that the information he seeks is the following:

"1. The ancestry of Charles Friend, born 1763, married first Rachel Tackett on September 22, 1783, by Rev. John Alderson, Jr., of Linville Creek Baptist Church, Rockingham county, Virginia, possibly West Virginia, and later removed from Monroe courthouse, West Virginia to Kentucky, and, I understand, is the ancestor of the Friends in your area of Kentucky.

"2. The descendants of the above Charles Friend. (Mrs. Ida M. Mann, 250 Main street, Irvine Kentucky, supplied me with some information, but more complete data is desired, such as, short biographies, and local data).

"3. The relationship, if any, of the Friend family with those in other sections, such as, (a.) Banner Friend—His will is the first to be recorded in Hardin county, Ky., on December 24, 1793, leaving 274 acres of land on Nolin River to his sister, Elizabeth Stuart, and brother, Joseph Friend. (b.) Charles Friend, married Sarah (Sallie) Huss on November 19, 1804, and owned the farm in Hardin (now LaRue County, on which Abraham Lincoln was born. (c.) Andrew Friend married Miss Hoyt (Hyatt?), and had a son, John, born in 1800 in Bourbon county, Kentucky. John Friend married Elizabeth K. Fullen of Monroe County, Indiana, and he lived in Putnam county, Indiana."

A letter from The American Antiquarian Society, Worcester, Mass., asks for a copy of "Mountain Kinsmen Ride; A story of the James Family." The letter advises of a source of genealogical and historical lore that is available to persons engaged in research.

FERTILIZING STRAWBERRIES

For strawberry patches that are not showing the growth and vigor that they should this time of the year, an application of 500 pounds of 5-10-10 or 10-10-10 fertilizer per acre should be applied. This application of fertilizer should be applied before September 1, not to damage setting of fruit buds. Apply the fertilizer while the plants are dry and then brush the fertilizer off the plants.

STARTING A NEW PATCH

Fall planting of strawberries is not recommended because of the damage to the plants during the winter. Strawberries should be set early in the spring (March or early April) to insure good runner development. Many times the soil in Floyd county is too wet to plow during the early spring. To insure early setting the soil should be plowed in the fall except land subject to excessive erosion. Land that is turned in the fall is conditioned by freezing and thawing during the winter, and usually requires only a harrowing to put in shape for setting in the spring.

STRAWBERRY MULCH

To insure a good crop of clean strawberries next spring, it is essential that the plants be protected through the winter by a good mulch. Now is the time to prepare for mulching, by obtaining your mulching material, and storing it near your strawberry patch.

Straw has been proven to be the most satisfactory mulching material to the growers of Floyd county. The straw should be piled loosely around the patch early in the fall, so that it will soak up moisture and germinate the weed and crop seeds. If the straw is baled, the strings should be cut to allow moisture to enter the bale. It will require one to 2 tons of straw to mulch one acre of strawberries.

Love Shows Itself in Different Ways

Q. How does John define love?
A. "He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is love." (John 4:8).

Q. How did Ruth show her love for her Mother-in-Law, Naomi?
A. "Intreat me not to leave thee, or to return from following after thee; for whither thou goest, I will go; and where thou lodgest I will lodge; . . . Where thou diest, will I die, and there will I be buried." (Ruth 1:16).

Q. What did Elkanah say about his love for Hannah?
A. "Hannah, why weepest thou? and why eatest thou not? and why is thy heart grieved? am not I better to thee than ten sons? (I Sam. 1:18).

Q. What choice did Moses make that showed he loved the people of Israel?
A. "By faith Moses, when he was come to years, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter; choosing rather to suffer affliction with the people of God, than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season." (Hebrews 11:24-25).

Q. In what special way did Mary show her love for Jesus at the supper table at Bethany?
A. "Broke an alabaster box of very precious perfume and poured it upon his head." (Mark 14:3).

Q. In what way are we tested as proof of our love for Christ?
A. "If ye love me, keep my commandments." (John 14:15).

Q. What did Jesus say was the supreme test of one's love for his friends?
A. "Greater love hath no man than this, a man lay down his life for his friends." (John 15:13).

Trainer of Rin Tin Tin Chooses With Caution Dogs for Film Work

Lee Duncan, who is currently working in television with Rin Tin Tin IV, star of "Adventures of Rin Tin Tin" series, is a highly cautious man when it comes to selecting a dog for film work.

According to an article in the September issue of Sports Afield magazine, only five dogs from the hundreds bred have made the grade, including the present star's son, now being groomed for future stardom.

Two qualities that Duncan insists on in the pups he selects to train are spirit and lack of fear. If a dog has these qualities he may be considered for further physical screening. Dogs with dark blue eyes are preferred for screen work.

Duncan believes in beginning the dog's schooling as early as possible. "Keep it simple at first," he advises. "Nurture the dog's affection for you and develop the spark that makes a dog want to work. Sometimes we find dogs who simply don't want to learn. They'll do fine as pets, but they don't have the capacity to absorb the amount of discipline necessary in a film dog."

Most important in advanced training for movie work is instant and absolute obedience. When a dog is working in a film scene, there isn't time for him to look around after the command and see if it is going to be given again. The timing of the dog's actions must be in harmony with that of the actors, or the scene is ruined.

Still another difficulty is to get the dog to play to an actor and yet be aware of the commands of his trainer who is standing just out of the scene. Duncan tries to position himself as closely to the edge of the scene as possible.

"Probably more important than anything else in the training of a dog is mutual love and affection," says Duncan. "When a dog learns you're his friend, your problem is practically solved."

Foods listed as plentiful by the USDA include broilers and hens, beef, canned and processed beef products, milk and other dairy products, fresh bartlett pears, fresh plums, peanut butter, canned tuna in oil, and summer vegetables.

Vegetables cooked in a large amount of water for a long period of time lose much of their food value, natural flavor, color and texture.

Auxier Man, New Faculty Member At Pike College

Pikeville, Ky., Aug. 28 (Spl.).—Paul Dean Wells, Auxier, Ky., is among three more Pikeville College faculty members named today as preparations for the school's first opening as a four-year college neared completion.

Wells will be seventh and eighth grade teacher in the Pikeville College Training School, the college's laboratory grade-school, Dr. A. A. Page, college president, announced. Ben K. Patton, Jr., Lafayette, La., will teach education and psychology, and his wife, Marguerite D. Patton, sociology.

Wells, a recent junior-college graduate at Pikeville, has been teaching in the public schools of Floyd county.

Patton holds degrees of M. A. in philosophy from the University of Mississippi and B. A. in psychology from Louisiana State University, where he has also done further graduate work, it was announced. He has been an assistant professor of child development in the agricultural experiment station of L.S.U., instructor in psychology at Southwestern Louisiana Institute, and a research scientist in the extension-teaching division of the University of Texas.

Mrs. Patton, also holder of a B. A. from Louisiana State with a psychology major, has a University of Mississippi M. A. in sociology, Dr. Page said. She has been reference librarian at Stephens librarian of the L.S.U. library, and taught psychometrics in the bureau of testing and guidance of the University of Texas.

Pikeville College will open September 11 as a full-scale college, after some 40 years as a junior college and an expansion program which began in September, 1955.

According to the 1950 census, 47.8 per cent of the homes in the state were built before 1919.

Law Conference Scheduled At UK

Delegates from the Southeastern Regional Conference of Law Teachers, the Southeastern Chapter, American Association of Law Libraries, and the Fifth Appellate District, Kentucky Bar Association will register Thursday night for a three-day conference at the University of Kentucky.

Highlighting the program will be a joint banquet Friday night, (Aug. 24) in the Lafayette Hotel. Guest speaker for the banquet will be Dean F. D. G. Ribble, of the University of Virginia Law School.

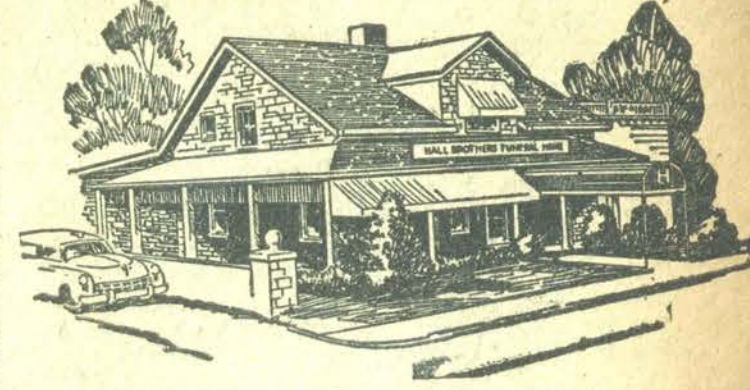

The teachers and librarians will hold separate sessions Friday and Saturday, and the District Bar group will convene Friday afternoon for one meeting. The southeastern section is made up of 25 colleges in 10 southern states and Puerto Rico—including UK and the University of Louisville School of Law, the conference hosts.

The best time to call foxes is at night.—Sports Afield.

Woodchuck—Friend to Rabbit?
Woodchucks are often defended as aids to rabbits, the chuck burrows providing cover for them. There is considerable dispute over this now—rabbits seem to be thriving where there are no woodchucks.—Sports Afield.

Three Things Are Required
Woodchucks require three things: succulent grasses for food; a locale where they can sit in the burrow entrance to see that the coast is clear, and sun themselves; and there must be water nearby.—Sports Afield.

Compared to conventional low to high efficiency rations

Purina Super-Efficient Laying Chows lowered the cost of producing a dozen eggs on thousands of poultry farms here in the East. These feeds go a long step beyond high efficiency, with the addition of more Pura-Fat, more corn, more protein, less fiber and a vitamin-mineral adjustment.

- It is just like pouring more feed into every bag—because there is more egg-making energy in each 100 lbs.
- Many poultrymen will lower feed cost as much as 2¢ to 4¢ a dozen.
- Test Purina and see for yourself. Give us a ring.

Illustrated GMC Model 450 is available with a 180 h.p. V8 engine or 160 h.p. six. It has oversize axles—7,000 lbs. front and 18,000 lbs. rear. It's rated for 25,000 GVW-50,000 GCW work.

They cut your costs down to extra-profit size!

It's no accident you're seeing so many more Blue Chip GMC's these days—breezing through all manner of tough, in-a-hurry jobs.

Truck users are buying them for just one reason: These trucks make them more money than comparable haulers.

Here's why: They haul bigger loads. They make more trips—or more mileage—a day. They're economical with fuel. And they can go up to twice as far between overhauls.

Credit belongs to a GMC's unsurpassed power-train combination: New short-stroke engines of ultra-efficiency.

Extra-capacity axles. Brawny transmissions that include Hydra-Matic,* a phenomenal time- and money-saver.

One of these combinations is made to order for your job—no matter what your kind of truck work. And our truck specialists are trained to give you the truck that's right for you.

But no matter which model you choose, you can count on getting Blue Chip performance. That's backed by the expert service work always available at this headquarters. Come in and talk it over!

*Standard on some models; optional at extra cost on others
