THURSDAY

This Town— That World

You, of course, have heard the plea of the motorist who turned in mid-traffic, got banged up in a collision and wound up in court for failing to signal the turn. Said he, and not without reason: "Three candidates for office were standing at the curb, and I was afraid they would yank my hand off if I stuck it out the window."

SUGGESTION

William R. Sullivan, of Los Angeles, Calif., writes his idea on how to cure some of our reckless drivers, and he may have something there. Says he:

"Fines do not seem to be the answer to our traffic violations. Perhaps better results could be obtained by impounding the car from one to thirty days. If we had to do without our cars for a few days each time, maybe we would wise up."

WEEKS AND WEEKS

If you think the weeks are too few as well as too short, it might interest you to know that there are no less than 13 "Weeks" in October, and some of them are dillies. Read the list, if you will:

National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week, National Letter-Writing Week, National Pharmacy Week, Oil Progress Week, Wine Week, Bible Week, Pass, the Laugh Week, United Nations Week, Popcorn Week, Apple Week, Hat Week, Flower Week, Honey Week.

AND ANOTHER

We would suggest they have a National Pass the Hat Week, but folks are doing pretty well in that department every day without benefit of official proclamation.

SEE THE HILLS, EN ROUTE

Folks traveling from north to south to spend the winter should not avoid this Big Sandy section because of those bad stretches of U. S. 23, for if you had at this time of the year they will be missing one of the nation's greatest delights to the eye as the hills burst into their annual riot of color.

For three-fourths of the year—spring, summer and fall—the region known as the Kentucky Mountains is as beautiful as I care to see in this vale of tears. But we'll have to admit it gets mighty dreary in winter when the trees stand bare on the hills and there's no snow to dress them up. For that season we console ourselves with the thought that this short, drear period provides contrast and makes the others all the more enjoyable.

IN THE MAIL

Judge Ed Hill writes us from Ormond Beach, Fla., that we've failed to get his paper to him. "I don't want to come back home till Spring," he writes, "but I'll have to cut my stay short unless I can get The Times."

If conditions were more favorable with me, I'd deliver Judge a paper in person, Florida fishing being what it is.

WEATHER PROPHETS

Out in Pennsylvania they're predicting a bitter-cold winter. They say the "wooly bears"—wooly worms, to us—are black from stem to stern this year, and (See Story No. 1, Page 4)

GROUP MAKES TOUR OF LAKE TO PLAN PARK

Lakeside Road, Cabins Talked; Jackson Tells Governor Park Neglect

Departments of state officials who joined representatives of Floyd county groups in a tour last Wednesday of Dewey Lake took back with them to Frankfort for consideration by Governor Chandler the improvements asked by interested local groups for Dewey Lake State Park. To these requests will be added their own recommendations, it was said.

The Governor at a meeting in Frankfort several weeks ago promised a delegation of Floyd men that he will make the money available when a definite plan for park improvements is submitted. It was at that earlier meeting that October 10 was set as the date for the lake tour.

The first recommendation agreed on was the construction of a highway skirting the lake from the present road leading from the dam through Hager Gap to the dock site in Brandy Keg Cove.

Next was the construction of 30 vacation cottages with cooking facilities. The plan in its present stage does not call for a lodge.

No survey has ever been made on the proposed scenic route along the lake. This involves the State Highway Department, and its approval of that part of the plan will be necessary.

Next, it was pointed out, if the Governor's emergency fund cannot finance the building of cottages—and it is doubtful that it can—financing of the project must be done in one of two other ways: by appropriation voted by the General Assembly or by the issuance of financing bonds.

And if bonds are to be issued, bond firms will require reports on the feasibility of the undertaking.

CORN DERBY FINISH TOLD

Daughter Beats Father, Grandfather, In Annual Production Competition

J. L. Lafferty, Jr., of Cliff, will surrender the corn derby trophy he won last year to his daughter, Barbara, at the scheduled Achievement Night here in November. She grew 129.5 bushels on an acre from 16,343 plants, while her father did second best with 120.8 bushels from an ambitious 19,602 plants.

The Lafferty girl defeated her grandfather, J. L. Lafferty, Sr., also in the annual corn production race. The grandfather came off fourth best with 116.9 bushels from 19,602 plants on an acre. Third prizes went to Billie Merritt, of Bonanza, who grew 118.8 bushels with 17,484 plants. Fifth (See Story No. 7, Page 4)

Aromatic Weed Crop, First in State, Sold

The first aromatic tobacco auction in the state was held Tuesday at Paintsville when Floyd and Johnson county growers sold the products of their pilot fields.

It was probably the first tobacco auction in the state, too, at which there was only a single bidder. The purchaser was Joe Few, president of Southeastern Aromatic Tobacco Company, Anderson, S. C., who wanted to judge the product himself.

He paid high prices to the three Floyd farmers who engaged in the production of the tobacco on an experimental basis, all agreed. Rufus Sturgill received $88 per hundred, Ronald Frasure got $78 and Garland S. Martin's tobacco brought $87 per hundred pounds. One Johnson county grower received slightly under a dollar a pound for his tobacco. Usual price of burley is around 50 cents per pound.

Attending the state's first sale of aromatic tobacco besides growers and the buyers, were Frank Borries, Ira E. Massie, Russell Hunt, Dr. H. B. Price, and Dr. Webster, all of the University of Kentucky, and several county agents from the section.

The array of experts all agreed that the tobacco, which is used

DOZEN BITTEN ARE TREATED

Mad Dogs, Foxes, Cats Reported in Outbreak During Last 10 Days

At least a dozen residents of this county are receiving anti-rabies treatment and two others may within the next few days begin treatment after having been bitten or scratched by mad dogs, foxes or cats.

Reporting the new outbreak of rabies in the county within the last 10 days, M. V. Clark, administrator of the Floyd County Health Department, said hydrophobia apparently is centering this fall in Knott county, spilling over into the neighboring Right and Left Beaver Creek sections of this county.

Six of those receiving treatment were bitten by a dog which was tossed from a car at Buckingham last week. An attempt was later made to warn owner of the dog that he or members of his family may be in danger of infection, but if the warning was received health authorities have not been told.

Another child at Buckingham began receiving anti-rabies treatment this week.

One of the 12 being treated is three-year-old John Salyers, of McDowell, who was bitten by a fox, Oct. 8. Laboratory tests showed the fox to have been rabid, and the tot (See Story No. 8, Page 5)

BLAZE LEVELS TURNER BLDG.

Two Fire Departments Called To Driit; Loss Estimate Unavailable

Fire of unknown origin destroyed a two-apartment dwelling owned by W. J. Turner at Drift shortly before noon Sunday. Also lost were practically all the belongings of the tenants, Mr. and Mrs. William Ward and Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart.

The Martin fire department was summoned to the scene of the blaze but was able only to confine it to the dwelling and prevent its spread to nearby structures. Acting Fire Chief Donald Hutchinson said the Martin fire department is inadequately equipped, and for this reason the Wheelwright fire department was called to help fight the blaze.

No estimate of the damage was available. It was said Mr. Turner carried insurance but that it covered no more than half the loss. The building was constructed about five years ago to meet needs of the Beaver Mining Company.

Also damaged were the "company building" formerly used (See Story No. 9, Page 7)

Reed, Combs, Brashear, Spurlock, Floyd Countians, in Leading Roles As Boy Scout Fund Drive Started

Floyd countians are playing an unusually heavy part in the finance drive activities of Boy Scouts this year.

First of all, B. F. Reed, of Drift, is state chairman of the Scouts' 1956 drive. Mr. Reed also is chairman of Lonesome Pine Council's finance committee.

Bert T. Combs, of Prestonsburg, is chairman of the Council-wide finance drive.

Byron Brashear, of Manton, is chairman of the drive in the Jenny Wiley district of the Council.

And Burl Spurlock, president of the First National Bank here, is Prestonsburg chairman of the drive.

The finance drive kickoff was marked locally by an Early Bird Breakfast at the B & W Cafe, Tuesday morning. Mr. Spurlock called about 40 workers together for the meeting, and outlined for them plans which are designed to effect a more thorough canvass of the community than has ever been made in a Scout drive for funds here.

Earl Wiley, 64, Dies

Burial at Martin; Funeral at Paintsville

Earl Wiley, 64, of Betsy Layne, a retired miner, died at the Beaver Valley hospital, Martin, at 5:35 p.m., Oct. 3. The cause of death was not given.

Mr. Wiley was a son of B. Wiley and Anna Castle Wiley, natives of Johnson county, and was married to Donna Owsley Wiley, who survives. Sons surviving are Ray Wiley, of Estill, Oliver Wiley, Emmett, W. Va., Carl Wiley, Detroit, Ernest Wiley, of Betsy Layne, Harold Wiley, Ypsilanti, Mich. Step-children surviving are Robert Owens, of Harold, Mrs. Clara Little, and Charles C. Owens, both of Ypsilanti, and J. T. Owens, of Hazard.

Funeral rites were conducted Oct. 6 at 10 a.m. at Ivel, the Revs. Green Boyd, Carl Centers and Robert Owens officiating. Burial was made at Paintsville under the direction of Turner-Ryan Funeral Home.

14-Year-Old Pig-Chain Member Takes Top Prizes Here And At Paintsville

Jackie Howard 14-year-old Dwayne boy who is a Prestonsburg 4-H Club member, after copping several prizes in the recent Floyd County Fair, with his Duroc pig-chain exhibits, went to the Johnson County Fair held at Paintsville and topped his prize winning here.

His gilt won the grand champion award and a sow exhibited also emerged as the grand champion. A boar, offered by the club boy, received a blue ribbon.

He lost only on the aged boar exhibits. "I'd have won that but we couldn't load him in the truck," Jackie says. He is resigned, though, since he took $52 in prize money.

The pig-chain, directed by the Floyd County 4-H Council, of which the Dwayne boy originally became a link, when it was promoted here, gave three pigs to 4-H members at the recent fair. The Council has four more to place with eligible club members before the first of the year, it is said.

Former Allen Merchant Victim in Huntington After 3-Year Illness

John Patrick Laven, 64, of Allen, former merchant and salesman, died at 1 p.m. Wednesday last week at St. Mary's hospital, Huntington, of a kidney ailment. He had been ill for three years, seriously so two weeks.

Mr. Laven was a son of the late George Laven and Minta Banks Laven, who survives. He was married first to Lillian Beatrice Lemaster Laven and to this union were born two sons: George and Russell Laven, both of Allen. He next married Daisy Hammond Laven, who survives. Two sisters, Mrs. Johnny May, of Allen, and Mrs. John Bingham, of Stone, survive.

Funeral rites were conducted Friday of last week at the Allen Baptist church, at 1 p.m., the Revs. Isaac Stratton, John P. Carr and Childers officiating. Burial was made in the Riley Hall cemetery under the direction of Hall Bros. Funeral Home.

LIST WINNERS IN LIVESTOCK

Exhibitors of Sheep And Swine Get Awards; Prize List Incomplete

Names of winners in the livestock competition at the recent Floyd County Fair were released this week by Anne Garrett, Fair Board secretary. Others winning in the Fair will be released later when the names are compiled, she said.

For the best ram exhibited Ward Allen took first place, Johnny Wells, second, and Virgil Smith, third. Five best lambs were exhibited by Greeley Dotson, Virgil Smith and Delores Smith, with first, second and third places in that order. For the five best black-face ewes the winners were Ward Allen, Virgil Smith, and Miles Whitaker. Best five aged Western ewes were exhibited by Virgil Smith, Wade Blackburn and Billy Merritt. Wade Blackburn and Billy Merritt presented the best pen of five yearling lambs. Don Neeley had the best FFA Chapter exhibit of sheep.

Store Moves To New Site After Fire On Court St.

The Leader store will re-open for business in the Harlowe building on First Avenue in about ten days, according to Dan Nessler, manager. When repairs are completed the Leader will re-open on Court street.

Dry-Cr. Native Dies At Bevinville Home; Had Resided in Ohio

Mrs. Martha Thornsburg, 40, Willard, O., but formerly of Dry Creek, died Oct. 2 at the home of a brother at Bevinville of cancer.

Mrs. Thornsburg was a daughter of Bill and Rebecca Tuttle who survive. She was married to Joe Thornsburg, of Willard, who also survives. Surviving children are Don, Howard, Ivan, Mander, and Mabel, all at home, and Mrs. Mavis Kemberlin, of Willard. Brothers and sisters surviving are Abel Tuttle, Henry Tuttle, Mack Tuttle, and Mrs. Lonnie Stone, all of Topmost, and A. L. Tuttle, of Bevinville.

Funeral services were conducted the following Friday at the home of her brother, Revs. Johnny Jones, Ellis Moore, Sherman Stone and others officiating. Burial was made in the Dry Creek cemetery under the direction of Turner-Ryan Funeral Home.

SUIT ATTACKS BUSINESS TAX

Martin Men Say Act Fixing Tax Illegal, Request Injunction

An attempt by the town of Martin to enforce an ordinance imposing a business and occupational tax of $15 a year here is the subject of a suit filed in circuit court Tuesday by two Martin businessmen.

The plaintiffs, John Coburn, merchant, and J. D. Adams, barber shop owner, claim the ordinance fixing the license fee is void because it purports to raise revenues for the general fund of the city and also provides that licenses may be revoked by the City Council at its discretion.

Plaintiffs say the city demanded the license fee of each of them, that they refused to pay and that the city then caused warrants to be issued against them. The suit names Police Judge Kessie Akers and the City of Martin as defendants. It asks that Akers be enjoined from issuing warrants for them; that the city be enjoined from collecting license fees from them, and that the ordinance be adjudged void.

The ordinance, which was enacted last Feb. 10, provides that the City Clerk may charge a fee of $1 for issuing each license. Violation of the ordinance is a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $10, each day of violation to constitute a separate offense.

The plaintiffs are represented by Atty. W. W. Burchett.

The license ordinance applies to all who operate a business in Martin, or follow a trade, occupation or profession including physicians, dentists, public accountants, attorneys, chiropractors, optometrists, engineers, architects and veterinarians.

PACT AVERTS STRIKE HERE

Gas Company, Workers Agree on Wage Increase Minutes Past Deadline

At 15 minutes past Monday midnight—14 minutes past the strike deadline—a one-year contract was negotiated between the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company and its employees.

The workers were ready to strike, and the company had braced for that development, with supervisory personnel assigned to key posts to keep vital operations going. But hope was glimpsed as midnight approached, and the negotiators continued their parley while the strike order was withheld.

The new contract provides for a general wage increase of 10 1/2 cents an hour for 263 employees of the gas company, members of Local Union 10-510. Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers' International Union, AFL-CIO. Other benefits won by the employees included:

An increase of vacation time from three to four weeks for 25-year employees.

Sick benefit increases of 40 hours. A shift differential increase from 4c to 5c per hour on the evening tour; from 6c to 10c for the morning tour.

Overall seniority of regular employees.

The company also agreed to employ by Jan. 1 15 regular employees instead of having them in the former temporary classification.

Negotiations for the new contract began Sept. 4, resumed on Sept. 26 and continued from time to time through October, with the parleying being uninterrupted since last Wednesday.

Party Nominees Talk Election Issues Here

Both sides of the Kentucky campaign for U. S. Senator were heard by voters here last week as U. S. Senator Earle C. Clements, Democrat, and Thurston B. Morton, Republican Senatorial nominee, spoke at the courthouse.

Congressman Carl D. Perkins, of Hindman, preceded Senator Clements at the courthouse Democratic rally last Wednesday night. The Congressman discussed social security and veterans' benefits, and pointed out how the Democratic party gave birth to the idea of social security, fought for it and made these and other benefits possible.

Senator Clements turned quickly to the canalization of the Big Sandy, reminding his hearers that he and his Democratic colleagues succeeded in getting restored to the last session's Appropriations Bill funds to complete a new survey of the river and also to start the Buckhorn reservoir work after these funds had originally been omitted.

"I might as well, however, be honest with you folks, and some of the things I will say may sound harsh," the Senator said. "The Big Sandy valley will never be industrialized until your waterway is developed."

Waterway development and development of other natural resources, he said, will be done by Democratic Senators and Representatives. Clements paid high tri (See Story No. 3, Page 7)

Two Active TB Cases Found by Mobile Unit In County High Schools

A total of 2,789 chest examinations were made by the mobile X-ray unit during eight days of work at five Floyd county points, Oct. 2 to Oct. 11, M. V. Clark, administrator of the Floyd County Health Department, announced this week.

As a result, two active pulmonary tuberculosis cases have been discovered among the county's high school seniors. The full report on all tests has not been received here.

The total number of X-ray tests at each place visited:

Prestonsburg, three days, 952; Martin, one day, 541; Wayland, one day, 285; Wheelwright, two days, 744; Harold, one day, 268.

Deputies on Raid Told Wearer of Badge Set Rate for Protection

The Sheriff's office here was told this week that a man posing as a deputy sheriff has been calling on Floyd bootlegging places to offer protection for $10 a week.

Deputy Sheriff Joe Wheeler Lewis told Sheriff Gorman Collins he learned of the "payoff" proposition while he, Deputy Sheriffs Grant Akers, Green Johnson and John D. Martin were making a raid Saturday on the place operated at Melvin by Junior Yonts. He said he was told by Wade Little that a man wearing a deputy's badge had been proposing protection for $10 a week. He added that he was not told if the $10 was paid.

Little was quoted as saying he did not know the man. He described him as tall, of dark complexion and (See Story No. 11, Page 8)

$250,000 AID OFFERED CITY ON FLOOD JOB

U. S. Corps of Engineers Places P'Burg's Expense At $10,000, Sewer Line

Prestonsburg was offered this week a solution to its floodtime backwater problem at a cash outlay not to exceed $10,000 plus the cost of a sewer change.

The proposal, made by representatives of the Huntington district office, U. S. Corps of Engineers, provides for construction of a levee and other installation at a cost to the federal government of $250,000.

Cost to the city would arise from property easement purchases, if any are necessary, and laying in of a diversion sewer line.

Mayor Harry Sandige, other city officials and interested citizens who attended the meeting at the Municipal building Tuesday afternoon greeted the Corps of Engineers' offer with enthusiasm. Mayor Sandige said the City Council will probably meet next week to enact a resolution accepting the offer.

The plan, as outlined by J. N. Barnes and J. H. Guthrie, of the staff of Col. H. J. Skidmore, chief of the Huntington district office, provides for a levee to elevation 636, providing backwater protection against all floods of record except the 1862 flood which was the highest recorded.

In addition to the levee, which would be built across Trimble Branch, paralleling the present Second street fill there, and located on the river side of the fill, would be these installations:

A new culvert with flood gate through the levee; a pump station at Trimble Branch to dispose of interior runoff and sewage during floods; a gate well and a flood-gate on the 36-inch sewer near the sewer outlet at the foot of Ford street; a diversion sewer along South Lake Drive from a new gated manhole at Westminster and South Lake Drive to the outfall of the existing sewer at Trimble Branch; and the raising of the low portion of Branham street approximately a foot, or the construction of a low concrete wall across the low portion of street, whichever is cheaper.

The diversion sewer South Lake Drive would be only part of the undertaking, would be done at city expense.

Property-owners on which portions of the levee and installations would be constructed are H. D. Fitzpatrick, Mrs. F. D. Dingus and Claude P. Stearns.

The engineers told the City Council at the Municipal building survey work here has been completed and that a crew will be here next week to make drawings in planning the type of structures to be used.

A similar project has within recent months been completed at Russell, Ky.

DEFECTIVE ACT BARS CONTROL

Taxicab Act Revision Necessary To Comply With State Statutes

Defects in its recently enacted ordinance prevented the City Council here from setting to work Monday its new controls over taxicabs.

Effective date of the ordinance was Monday. The Council met Monday night, and was all set to receive applications of cab owners and operators for new licenses. But Paul E. Hayes, attorney for the drivers, protested that the ordinance was in violation of the state Constitution in that for the offenses of both falsifying and for transporting whiskey in a taxicab it provided a fine of $19.50, which is lower than the minimum set by Kentucky statute. The cab drivers also claimed no provisions were made by the ordinance for a hearing before the Council on their applications for licenses.

Councilman Watt Hale, who sponsored the ordinance designed to curb bootlegging, immediately announced that the ordinance will be revised and submitted again to the Council at its next meeting.

The Council session drew one of its largest crowds in months, with (See Story No. 6, Page 7)

Let's Favor The Public More

The Times is pleased to learn that Don S. Sturgill, acting commissioner of public safety, plans to give full publicity to those cases wherein drivers are convicted of drunken driving and the trial judge later reduces the crime to a lesser offense.

We are not interested in the decision merely as a source of news; we think the publicity will have a wholesome influence on those judges who might be inclined to "favor" the drunks who make every highway a deadly gauntlet, and that it will serve to keep the public better informed on the question of where lies much of the responsibility for disrespect for the law.

The Times does not know of any Floyd judge extending clemency in order to win back for the errant driver his license to operate a motor vehicle. We hope none has succumbed to the persuasion of friends or the appeals of those convicted. We prefer to think that they have fought the admittedly strong temptation to do another human being a favor by remembering those who have been killed or who have been maimed by drunken drivers.

Except in a few cases where changing conditions create new demands, Kentucky already has enough laws to govern its people and protect the common welfare for a hundred years or so. The trouble lies not in the law; the weakness lies in the enforcement of the law.

5 Floyd Band Members Qualify In Auditions; Jesse Elliott, Director

Pikeville, Ky., Oct. 15 (Spl.) — Five band members from high schools in Floyd county qualified in district auditions at Pikeville College Saturday for the All-Kentucky Band which will play Nov. 29 and 30 at Bowling Green, Ky.

Two of the students selected are from Prestonsburg high school, two from Wheelwright high school, and one from McDowell high.

The tryouts were for students in District I of the Kentucky Music Educators' Association, a 27-county belt reaching from the Ohio River to the Tennessee line. Held on the morning after several featured football games in the area, they drew band members from only five high schools in Floyd, Johnson and Magoffin counties.

Up to 28 instrumentalists from each district, making up a complete band in themselves, were to be chosen from each district of the state in the auditions. The entire group will play at the annual instrumental-music clinic to be held in conjunction with the music-educators' convention at Bowling Green next month.

Jesse Elliott, Floyd county supervisor of school music, was director of the session, the second annual audition for the All-Kentucky Band. William A. Richardson, Pikeville College band and chorus director, was judge of brass instruments, and Walter P. Nance, Pikeville music dealer and former band director at Pikeville high school, judged woodwinds and drums.

Other high schools represented among the players accepted are Salyersville, which will send seven students to the All-Kentucky Band, and Paintsville, which will send four.

Floyd students selected for the state group are: Katherine Roberts, clarinet, and Harold Cooley, cornet, both of Prestonsburg high. June Hall, clarinet, and Steve Mullett, snare drum of Wheelwright high, and Phyllis Stewart, clarinet, of McDowell high school.

Fishing Derby Is Won By Herndon (Ky.) Man; Top Winners Announced

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 15 (Spl.)—Roll out the wreath of roses, boys, the new champ is in the winner's circle.

A. N. Buchanan, of Herndon, Ky., staging a brilliant stretch drive, has won the "Kentucky Afield" grand prize fishing derby. Competing with anglers from all over the Commonwealth to see who could catch the largest largemouth in Kentucky waters between the start of the derby in May and its finish in mid-September, Buchanan slipped into the winner's circle with a 7-pound, 9-ounce largemouth taken out of Kentucky Lake. The grand prize derby was staged by the Kentucky Department of Fish & Wildlife Resources and major sporting goods manufacturers in an effort to stimulate interest in Kentucky fishing.

Buchanan, in winning the grand prize derby, barely nosed out B. M. Dossett, of Calvert City, and Earl Carrico, of Muldraugh. Both men caught largemouths that went 7½ pounds.

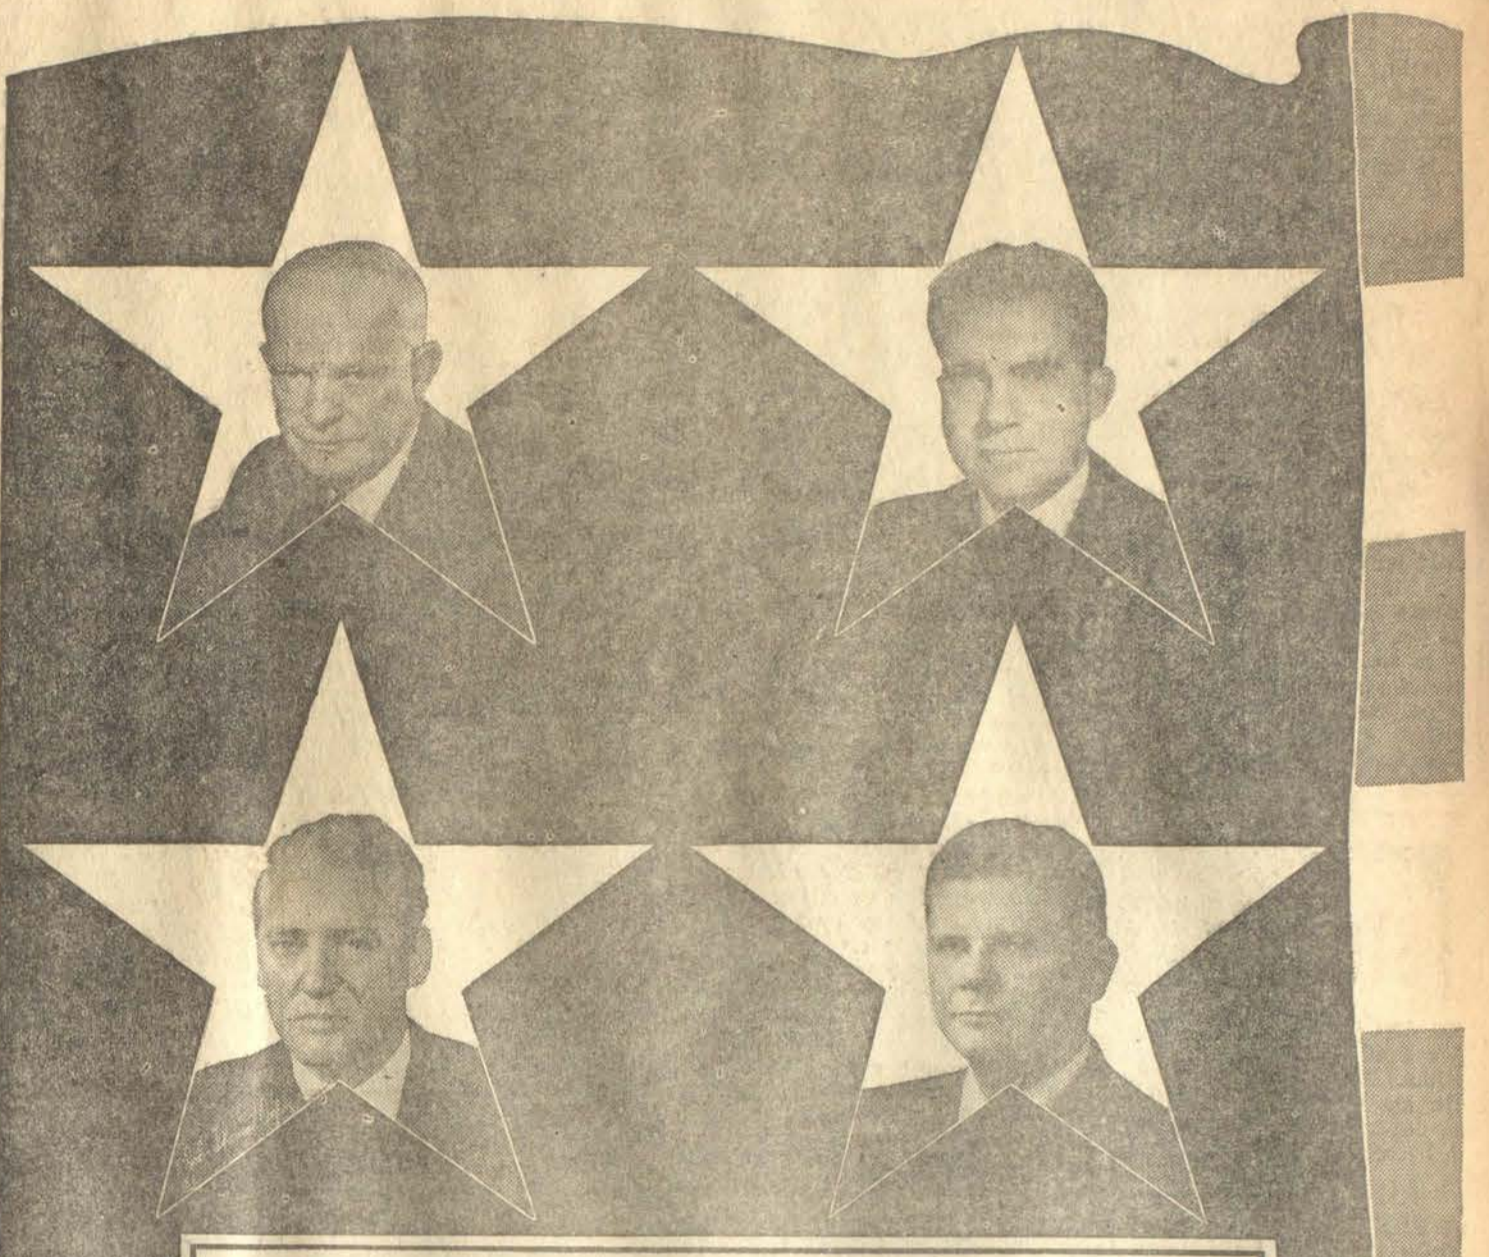

Buchanan's ability to produce in the waning weeks of the Derby won for him one of the nation's outstanding fishing outfits; an Evinrude 10 hp "Sportswin" motor, a Richline "Challenger" 14 ft. aluminum boat, a Holsclaw S-50 boat trailer, an Airex "Larchmont" spinning reel and an Airex tubular glass spinning rod.

Six runners-up were also announced in the Grand Prize Derby—each to receive outstanding rod prizes contributed by Silaflex, True Temper, Phantom-Rods and Betts. They were: B. M. Dossett, Calvert City, with a 7½-pound largemouth from Kentucky Lake; Earl Carrico, Muldraugh, with a 7½-pound largemouth from Dale Hollow; Preston Harris, Hardin, with a 7-pound largemouth from Kentucky Lake; William Peary, Lebanon, with a 6-pound, 11 ounce largemouth from Herrington Lake; B. E. Sweazy, Springfield, with a 6-pound, 8 ounce largemouth from Kentucky Lake; Dan Maggard, Hazard, with a 6-pound, 4-ounce largemouth from Herrington Lake.

A quick run-down of the select list shows four of the top eight bass came from Kentucky Lake, two from Herrington, and one each from Lake Cumberland and Dale Hollow.

Local Brownie Troop Camp at Chatterbox

On October 5 Brownie Troop No. 15 camped at Chatterbox on Dewey Lake. Rev. Harold W. Dorsey acted as director and Mrs. Dorsey served as first-aid and leader. Those enjoying the camping, withering of fire wood, popping corn and cooking biscuits on a stick were Elizabeth Lynn Frazier, Brenda Hicks, Kay Lemaster, Laura Lemaster, Betty Carolyn Moore, Sally Horn and Harriet Sandige. Cochran Dorsey was a guest.

ELECT THE FOUR STAR TEAM

- ★ President Eisenhower
- ★ Vice President Nixon
- ★ John Sherman Cooper
- ★ Thruston B. Morton

★ FOR PEACE...
Shortly after President Eisenhower was elected in 1952 he ended the Korean War and no American boy has been killed or wounded in battle since 1953. Ike's Team is pledged to a policy of future peace with honor to America! Let's strengthen that team by electing Morton and Cooper as Senators from Kentucky.

★ FOR PROSPERITY...
Kentucky and the whole country are prosperous — all walks of life are enjoying true and solid well-being under the sound economy of the Eisenhower Administration. Taxes are lower — the value of our dollar has been stabilized. Elect Cooper and Morton as United States Senators — Ike needs their experience and leadership to carry on the good work!

★ FOR FULL EMPLOYMENT...
More than 67,000,000 Americans are employed today in the United States — more jobs than in any time in our history. And under the able leadership of the Eisenhower-Nixon Team "take-home" pay rates of all working American individuals is at an all-time high. Elect Kentucky's star senatorial candidates — Ike needs Morton and Cooper on his Team.

★ FOR KENTUCKY FARMERS...
Both John Sherman Cooper and Thruston Morton have long experience, working in Washington for the "grass roots" interests of Kentucky Agriculture. Kentucky farmers can trust their talents and leadership qualities. Vote for the G.O.P. team!

For the best interests of Kentucky and ALL Kentuckians

NOTICE

Dona Mitchell has filed application with the Floyd County Court for roadhouse license in the operation at Ligon, Ky. of Mitchell's Grocery. DuRan Moore, Clerk Floyd County Court that's a sure sign of trouble ahead.

If anybody has taken a "reading" on the critters in Floyd county, let us know. Failing that, send us a Barker's almanac.

BOY SHOWS THEM HOW

A member of our staff went into the sheep business several months ago and liquidated soon thereafter with the aid of stray dogs, broken fences, intestinal parasites and a forced sale. All of which evokes no nostalgic memories. That is to say, nothing about it does but the remembrance of Lightning.

Lightning was the purebred Hampshire ram bought from Miles Whitaker. When first purchased he was a beauty. But neglect and worms caused his beauty to fade. Liberal doses of phenothiazine helped his appearance a little, but sudden interest in sheep therapy doesn't do much when the cause is of long standing. Our staff member sold the whole flock to a Prestonsburg auto salesman. He had grave doubts Lightning would survive, for he had an idea an auto salesman would be no better as a shepherd than a newspaperman.

But he reckoned without an Auxier school boy. Came the Floyd County Fair and the former owner of the sheep poked around the livestock pens, saw a fine Hampshire ram. Shades of Lightning! But if that ram wasn't dead by now from whatever ailed him, he certainly must be hidden on some man's farm, lingering with whatever affliction that beset him.

But a check with County Agent Boggs revealed it was indeed Lightning. He had been acquired by Johnny Wells, small son of John C. Wells, of Auxier. Dosed and cared for as only a boy who loves a pet can, and which most auto salesmen and newspapermen neglect, to do, he was now a picture out of a stockman's book. On his pen hung a second prize ribbon.

ALLEN

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Stambaugh were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Frazier and Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Gray, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Bingham have returned to their home at Stone, Ky., after having been called here by the illness and death of Mrs. Bingham's brother, Johnny Laven.

Tommy Carole Laven spent Friday through Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Snyder in Jenkins.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church met in the church Thursday night of last week for its October meeting, with Lucy Kinzer as hostess. The chairman, Mrs. Tincy Crisp, presided over the meeting. Report of officers was given, and plans were made for observance of the Week of Prayer and Self-Denial, October 25-31. Mrs. Nancy Louder and Mrs. Edna Mae Callison will be in charge. Mrs. Crisp presented past president pins to Mrs. Maude Snodgrass and Mrs. Flora Gray, and several business items were discussed.

Mrs. Maude Snodgrass was in charge of the worship program, "With Humble Hearts," with the following taking part: Lucy Kinzer, Edna Mae Callison, Eula Williams, Euna Laven, Tincy Crisp. Refreshments were served in the dining room by Mrs. Kinzer, assisted by Mrs. Nellie Laferty. The room was decorated in the Halloween motif with jack-o'-lanterns. Enjoying the refreshments were Rev. and Mrs. John P. Carr, Maude Snodgrass, Tincy Crisp, Flora Gray, Pearly Kinzer, Jewell Allen, Peggy Sexton, Edna Mae Callison, Eula Williams, Euna Laven, Nancy Louder, Nellie Laferty, Gwyndolen Laferty, and a guest, Mrs. Chandler. Mrs. Nellie Laferty will be hostess to the November meeting, with Mrs. Iva Carr program leader.

The Society conducted a study course, "Southeast Asia," in the church last week, with Mrs. Flora Gray in charge and several members of the society taking part.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Laferty were business visitors in Warren, Ohio last week.

place winner was William Layne, of Betsy Layne, who gathered 104 bushels from 15,136 plants on an acre of land.

Only William Layne, fifth place in the derby, had less plants on an acre than the top winner. A coincidence of the derby was that J. L. Lafferty, Jr., second place, had an identical number of plants on an acre as did his father, J. L. Lafferty, Sr., who took fourth place.

Mrs. Lucy B. Branham, 78, Of Auxier Road, Succumbs At Home of Mrs. McGuire

Mrs. Lucy Burchett Branham, 78, of the Auxier Road, died at the home of a niece, Mrs. Hobart McGuire, Saturday at 4:45 a.m., with whom she had resided several years. She was a native of this county, the daughter of Jesse P. Burchett and Louisa Bevin Burchett.

Mrs. Branham suffered a stroke on the Saturday preceding her death but she had been ill three years. One sister, Mrs. Octavia Akers, of Prestonsburg, survives.

Funeral rites were conducted Monday at the Auxier Methodist church, the Revs. S. C. Honeycutt, W. H. Horn and Baldwin Stiltz officiating. Burial was made in the Auxier cemetery under the direction of Carter & Callihan Funeral Home.

Secret Balloting Names Flower Show Winners

With the teacher, Mrs. R. H. Messer, of Garrett, disqualifying her entry from competition, winners of the flower show held at the First National Bank here Friday were selected by secret balloting of 128 persons who were among the several hundreds who viewed the exhibits.

Mrs. Rex Osborne was awarded a blue ribbon for her Eclipse yellow roses in a triangle arrangement in a brown wooden casket.

A red ribbon was awarded Mrs. Troy B. Stungil for her vertical arrangement, using a blue, flat bowl with orange canna leaves and pyranthia, with red colors as a background.

Mrs. E. P. Hill received the white ribbon for her Fashion roses in a flat glass container, in triangle arrangement.

Mrs. Messer's entry, a special church arrangement with a black background, white gladioli as a spire and mums as the target, drew the largest number of votes.

Twenty of her pupils entered the exhibits which attracted much interest.

Rev. Pearson, E. R. Burke Attend Presbytery Meet; Local Pastor Leaving

The Rev. Orville Pearson and E. R. Burke represented the First Presbyterian Church here at the fall meeting of Ebenezer Presbytery, held Tuesday and Wednesday at Cawood, Harlan county.

At the congregational meeting at the local church last Sunday following the morning worship service, the congregation reluctantly released Rev. Pearson as pastor as of Nov. 1 to permit him to begin his duties in a new pastorate at Princeton, Ky. To procure a new pastor a committee composed of Ray Howard, W. V. Bunting, W. C. Rimmer, Mrs. Marvin Music and Glen A. Anderson, Jr., was named. The congregation also named the Rev. Charles H. Moffett to moderate its session until a new pastor is found. The Rev. Philip Bembower, dean of Pikeville College moderated last Sunday's congregational meeting.

Local Schoolboy Patrol Given New Uniforms

Prestonsburg's Schoolboy Patrol is again functioning this year, and the boys are working in new uniforms as a result of the interest of the Junior Woman's Club which provided uniforms at a cost of about $50.

The patrol is on duty every school-day, both morning and evening, at street intersections.

What put the magic in the new kind of FORD?

The new Ford Fairlane 500 (118-inch wheelbase). Longer, lower, larger than many medium-priced cars, yet lower in price than most of them!

The roof got lower. And it's designed to let you make the easy entries and graceful exits you've always known.

The body got quieter. It's the strongest body built for a low-priced car. No car in Ford's field has such generous sound-proofing.

The room got bigger. There's head room to spare for a tycoon-type hat. There's real stretch-out leg room, too.

The lines got sweeter. They have the Touch of Tomorrow. Each graceful contour says, "Let's go!"

The style got smarter. With this new-look Ford you have a car that belongs anywhere! All Fairlane models look like hardtops. The value got greater... the price is still Ford-low.

Ben Kilgore, director of the Division of Parks, were impressed by the beauty of the lake and surrounding scenery. Both expressed confidence that the proposed improvements would result in a fair return on the funds invested.

Joining them on the tour were Tom Nelson, state parks planner, Pete Fulmer, of the U.S. Corps of Engineers, Huntington district office, and representatives of the following groups: the county's three Kiwanis Clubs and nine Women's Clubs, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Prestonsburg Ministerial Association, Daughters of the American Revolution, the Floyd County Fish & Game Club and the Floyd fiscal court.

In a memo to Governor Chandler Mr. Jackson recommended the three and a half miles of road requested and suggested a feasibility report on other installations, if bonds must be issued to finance construction. "It is felt," Mr. Jackson wrote, "that this area has been neglected and that a day use area with picnic tables and grills, cottages, a fenced-in swimming area and a few other necessary measures would be very helpful."

He added that his department is proceeding with fencing in of the beach at Stratton Branch.

four years and the administration only three-and-a-half years.

"The truth of the matter is—and I believe in telling the truth—that in order to canalize the Big Sandy, members of both political parties will have to cooperate in Washington. Kentuckians will have to work together because there are people in both parties against us.

"Most important, we will need the support and co-operation of the national administration, which we know is going to be President Eisenhower's administration. I can best get that administration to help Kentucky. The record speaks for my effectiveness with the administration. I have been a part of it. Those who will run it for the next four years are my political friend and not any political opponents."

Turning to coal, Morton said, "My opponent has also claimed credit for helping coal people around here. The fact is that this administration, of which I was a member, has done some real good along these lines and has the right plans for the future. One of our strongest weapons is to increase exports of coal, which we have done."

Two children of Andy Shepherd on Bull Creek; a Ligon child, attacked by a rabid cat last week; Mrs. Martha Rose, of Prestonsburg, who was attacked by a mad fox a few weeks ago.

Albert Stephens, of Blue River, was bitten a few days ago and Kelly Layne, of Betsy Layne, was exposed to infection by the slaverings of a dog, but laboratory findings have not been received here yet.

The last two series of clinics held in the county for the inoculation of dogs and other pets against rabies drew little attention.

"I CAN'T AFFORD TO VOTE REPUBLICAN!"

ONE THING SURE, the prosperity of this country is based on the number of dollars in the pocket of just ordinary folks—not on the big incomes of a favored few. The Republicans haven't been for the average farmer, the small business man, and the wage earner. The Republican candidates today are pledged to a continuation of the same old policies—including Benson's farm policies. The only way to spread prosperity so all of us get our share is to get Benson and the rest of the present Republican policymakers out of office at Washington."

UNDER THE REPUBLICANS

91% of tax relief went to corporations and the wealthy. The rest of us—92% of all Americans—got only 9%. Both Republican candidates for the Senate voted against tax relief for low and middle income families.

Average person's take-home pay increased only 8%, while corporation stockholders' income rose 24%, or three times as much as the rest of us!

Farm income fell 26%
Prices received by farmers fell 18%
Parity has been below 90% now 82%

The small farmer has been discriminated against in the whole farm program. Benson has tried to cut the small Kentucky tobacco grower out of the picture.

Total national income rose 10% during the last three Republican years. The Republican platform offers no help for the future.

UNDER THE DEMOCRATS

Democrats in Congress proposed raising personal income tax exemptions to give tax relief for everybody. The Republicans voted down tax relief. Both Democratic candidates for the Senate favor $800 tax exemption.

Average person's take home pay increased 20%, stockholders' income rose 20%—the same for both of us. Under the Democrats all the people prosper.

Farm income rose 15%
Prices received by farmers rose 15%
Parity was always above 100%

Democrats have fought to restore firm 90% supports. Kentucky Democrats have protected tobacco farmers against Benson.

Total national income rose 39% during the last three years of the Democratic Administration. The Democratic platform is pledged to help all the people.

THAT'S WHY I'M VOTING THE STRAIGHT DEMOCRATIC TICKET NOV. 6

STEVENSON KEFAUVER CLEMENTS WETHERBY

To The Parents and Voters Of Educational Division No 5

We earnestly solicit your help in electing a man to the Floyd County Board of Education who will put our children, their education and welfare first.

We beg you not to allow any other consideration to enter into your decision.

We want to free our schools and teachers of political domination. Our children will benefit enormously from this freedom.

Before you decide which candidate to support, ask yourself which one is most likely to work hardest for our schools.

Find out which candidate is endorsed and backed by politicians. If he is backed by politicians you can be sure it is not in the interests of our children or our schools to vote for him.

Only one candidate was persuaded by parents and parents alone to run for election.

He has two good reasons for accepting. Those reasons are his own two children.

He will not wait four years to begin to make improvements.

He will start immediately after taking office.

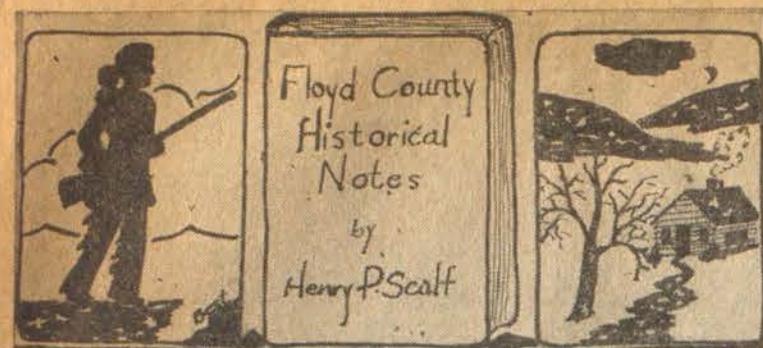

There are many who will be doing everything in their power to prevent his election. Be on the lookout for their tactics. Find out all the facts beforehand and don't let last-minute attacks alter your decision.

We are depending on the parents and good citizens of our district to elect James Arville Duff to the Floyd County Board of Education.

Ask for your school ballot Nov. 6, and vote for James Arville Duff. He is the parents' choice.

VERY INTERESTED PARENTS

(Adv.)

Et cetera of the mail is a letter from Mrs. Sam Redde, Route 1, Meridian, Texas, who inquires if the story in The Times, in re the James family, had any data on the genealogy of Jesse James.

"Some of the oldesters in our family think we were related to Jesse James, the outlaw, and I am interested in tracing his genealogy. My great-grandmother was a Magee or McGee and she asserted we were relatives of Jesse James. I do know from family records that two of the McGee boys married Jameses. Does your story contain anything about the McGees or McGees?"

The story in The Times had no data on this family but Mrs. Redde's letter points up just how deeply the Jesse James story has become an integral part of American folklore.

R. B. Caudill, Blackey, Ky., writes in regard to Jessie Caudill, who served in the Confederate army, and on whom there is a dearth of information.

"Col. Ben F. Caudill was in the bunch captured at Gladeville, Va. He had a brother in this battle who was captured also. He was Capt. Jesse Caudill, who after the war left this county and went to Carter county. He was born in 1839, died in 1907, had no family as I ever learned. He never came back to this county. He was bron in 1839, died 1907."

This is, of course, the wrong Jesse Caudill. The Jesse Caudill, on whom

Young Voters Hear Ballot Importance Talked At Meeting

Speakers representing each of the major political parties discussed the topic, "How To Spend Your Hard-Earned Vote," at last week's meeting of the Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club. Guests of the club were seniors of Garrett and Wayland high schools who are 18 and are eligible to vote this year for the first time.

The speakers—Frank Harmon, Wayland Republican, and Don Combs, Pikeville Democrat—told the young voters of the importance of their exercise of the ballot and explained the platforms of the two parties. A question-and-answer period modeled after television's "Youth Wants to Know" followed the talks.

Hostesses at the meeting were Mrs. Charles Hornsby and Mrs. Noah Howard. Mrs. Howard was program leader.

STATE HAS OPPORTUNITY

Kentuckians have a golden opportunity at the Nov. 6 election. By approving the proposed $100,000,000 road bond issue they can enable the state to speed up much-needed road construction in the next few years.

New right down to the wheels it rolls on—that's the '57 Chevrolet!
By now you know it's new in style. You can see that Chevy's longer, lower—and every inch a beauty.
But Chevrolet's new in lots of ways that don't show up in our picture. It's new in V8 power options that range up to 245 h.p.* Then, you've a choice of two automatic drives as extra-cost options. There's an even finer Powerglide—and new, nothing-like-it Turboglide that brings you Triple-Turbine take-off and a new flowing kind of going. It's the only one of its kind—the newest, sweetest, smoothest automatic of them all!
Come see the new car that goes 'em all one better—the new 1957 Chevrolet!

The new Bel Air 4-Door Sedan—one of 20 striking new Chevs.

Floyd 4-H Members Win In West Liberty District Competition

The 4-H District Achievement competition at West Liberty last Thursday saw three Floyd county club members, two of them county champions, emerge as winners. They were Palmer Lowe, Claudena Lowe and Reba Joyce Salyers, all of the Maytown 4-H Club.

Palmer Lowe won in strawberries, Claudena Lowe in frozen foods, and Reba Joyce Salyers was awarded top place in citizenship. Champions attending from this county were Palmer Lowe, in strawberries, conservation, and poultry; Claudena Lowe, champion in clothing, frozen foods, and junior leadership; and Julia May Lumpkins, champion in gardening, grooming, and canning. All three were from the Maytown club.

The district meet at West Liberty was attended by club members from seven counties besides Floyd. Attending from this county besides club members were Mrs. Arnold Lowe, of Eastern, club leader, and Donald Claypoole, assistant county agent.

Frankly expressing his resentment at the "war party" tag placed on the Democratic party by the Republicans, the Senator said, "Show me one Republican who would have done differently after Pearl Harbor, or after the sinking of the Lusitania in World War I."

An estimated 275 persons heard his address. Preceding his speech, Senator Clements and Congressman Perkins attended a coffee hour sponsored at Democratic headquarters here by the Floyd county Democratic women's organization. About 200 attended the coffee.

C. B. Latta, Jr., Floyd Democratic campaign chairman, presided at the courthouse rally. State Senator Doug Hays introduced Congressman Perkins, and Joe P. Tackett introduced Senator Clements.

Each Friday, the Division of Fish & Wildlife releases its weekly propaganda report about the fine fishing ahead in Kentucky's major lakes for the upcoming week-end. Last week-end was no exception. Despite favorable weather conditions, fishing at Lake Cumberland was very poor and yours truly can vouch for that fact, with only 21 little bass to show for three days' fishing effort. Being skeptical of our ability—fishing-wise—along with our esteemed editor, we checked with 19 anglers on Cumberland and found that our catch was tops for that period.

POOR FISHING

The biggest attraction in the Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference will be reeled off in Pikeville, Friday night, when the undefeated schools of Pikeville and Paintsville clash on the gridiron. Walter Brugh's Tigers have been the surprise of the loop in romping past seven opponents. Pikeville rolled over six, but has been tied, 6-6, by the Prestonsburg Black Cats.

The victor of the fray will still be in the running for the loop title along with Hazard, and a loss for either team would eliminate it from the league race.

Whitesburg and Fleming also renew their heated rivalry in Fleming, but the outcome will have little effect on the conference standings.

PAINTSVILLE, HAZARD TIE FOR LEAD; CATS WIN, 6-0

Paintsville's undefeated Tigers moved into a first-place tie with unbeaten Hazard on the Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference high school football front last week-end, and Pikeville stayed closely on the heels of the leaders with a one-point victory over Fleming.

Underdog Jenkins outscored Whitesburg, 33-28, in the highest scoring game of the season in the area. Although Lloyd Hodge, second leading scorer in the state, tallied three touchdowns and three extra points, Coach Nick Diachenko's Cavaliers rolled in front 27-21, at halftime and held on in the final minutes for this most-cherished win of the season.

Belfry evened its season late at 3-3 with a 46-0 romp over Elkhorn City as halfback Johnny Maynard and Arnold Bevin tallied at will. Paintsville's Bowl-bound Tigers had easy sailing over beginning M. C. Napier, 42-0. Little Frankie Patton added two tds and three extra points to up his season's total to 114 markers. Jimmy Wells romped for three six-pointers and sophomore fullback Joe Rapier and eighth grader Maurice Minix one each.

Thus, the Paintsville-Pikeville fray Friday night at Pikeville will leave the victor in the race for the loop crown along with Jim Caudill's Hazard Bulldogs.

Pikeville's undefeated but oncedited Panthers found rough going with Fleming before chalking up a 7-6 win, its third in league play, and the loss dropped Fleming from contention.

Prestonsburg stepped outside the loop and squeezed by Louisa, 6-0, in the final three minutes on a 60-yard march. Quarterback Paul Phillip Hughes plunged over from the 1-yard stripe with 2:04 left in the game. Without the services of injured fullback Buford Crager, the Black Cats took to the air for the most part, and used a stout defense to stop three Louisa scoring threats inside the 20-yard line.

Brownie Leaders Invest New Members, Monday

Brownie Troop No. 15 met on Monday, October 15 at 3:45 p.m., in the basement of the First Methodist Church to invest nine Brownies. The leaders, Mrs. Harold Dorsey and Mrs. George P. Archer, welcomed the guests. The group gave the pledge of the flag and responded with "America". Members of Troop 15, Elizabeth Frazier, Brenda Hicks, Kay Lemaster, Laura Lemaster, Betty Moore and Harriet Sandige lighted their candles from the leaders. Those that were invested gave the Brownie Promise, received pins and added a candle to the one already lighted. These new Brownies were Sally Horn, Marthan Archer, Janet Blackburn, Mary Lynn Combs, Betty Jo Greer, Ruth Carol Hunt, Bonnie Jo Meade, Jayne Miller, and Barbara Nunery. The Troop had a song fest led by Mrs. Archer while cakes were served. The traditional Friendship Circle was formed with each mother by her daughter and taps was sung.

Guests were Mrs. B. F. Combs, Mrs. Paul Combs, Steve Combs, Mrs. W. E. Hunt, Mrs. Byron Nunery, Mary Elizabeth Nunery, Mrs. Lloyd Miller, Mrs. Adrian Blackburn, Mrs. Thomas Lemaster, Jeanie Lemaster, Mrs. Astor Meade and Sharon Cross Meade.

Lewis said several new liquor spots have opened up in the last few days and that he believes the protection offered by the impersonator may be responsible. Five such places have opened in the upper section of the county, he said.

The officers confiscated five half-pints of whiskey and several cases of beer at the Yonts place. On the same day they took 56 large cans of beer from the premises of Willie Hall at Jacks Creek.

 Survivors include a brother, Joseph Porter, of Pikeville, and Mrs. Nana Catherine Steele, of Boldman.

U. S. "Term" Insurance To Pay First Dividend In Period of 25 Years

The first dividend in 25 years will be paid in 1957 to policyholders of 5-year "term" U. S. Government Life insurance, which originated in World War I, Harvey V. Higley, administrator of Veterans Affairs, has announced.
 Mr. Higley also said a $25,000,000 increase in the regular annual 1957 dividend for some 5,000,000 policyholders of National Service Life Insurance (NSLI) which originated in World War II will be paid. He said this dividend will amount to $210,000,000, compared with $185,000,000 for 1956, and that policyholders will receive proportionately larger sums.
 The first dividend in 25 years to USGLI "term" policyholders will be paid out of the total 1957 USGLI disbursement of $26,000,000 for both term and permanent plan policies. The term policyholders, numbering about 20,000 will receive approximately $1,000,000, and the permanent plan policyholders, numbering approximately 330,000 will receive the remaining $25,000,000.
 Mr. Higley said the last dividend paid to USGLI term policyholders was disbursed in 1932. Up until recently the mortality and disability experience among these term policyholders has not been good enough to warrant the payment of a dividend. However, the continuing good trend of recent years has made it possible to pay a dividend on this plan for the first time in 25 years, he explained. Any such future dividend will depend on a continuation of a favorable mortality rate, he added.
 Mr. Higley said the dividend will amount to an average of 2 percent of the premiums these 20,000 USGLI term policyholders are paying at present. He said each term policyholder is being notified by letter.
 The total $26,000,000 dividend to be paid in 1957 to both term and permanent USGLI policyholders is $2,000,000 higher than the $24,000,000 disbursement for 1956. With $1,000,000 of this increase allocated to the term policyholders, the remaining $1,000,000 increase for the permanent plan policyholders will result from the normally higher payment that accrue to permanent plan policies of longer duration. Otherwise, he said, the 1957 USGLI dividend rates for permanent plan policies will be unchanged from the 1956 rates.
 The regular annual NSLI dividend of $210,000,000 for 1957 represents a 13 per cent increase over the 1956 dividend of $185,000,000 and therefore will result in an average 13 percent increase in dividend payments to both term and permanent plan policyholders, Mr. Higley said.
 Some NSLI policyholders, he said, will receive an increase of more than 13 per cent in their 1957 dividend checks, while others will receive less than 13 per cent. The higher age groups will get the bulk of the over-13 per cent increase, while the lower age groups will get most of the under-13 per cent increase.
 Mr. Higley stressed that both the NSLI and USGLI dividends are regular annual dividends, not special dividends. He said payments will be made during 1957 on or about the anniversary of each policy, beginning in January and ending in December, 1957.
 He requested policyholders not to inquire in advance about their dividends payments so as not to delay the processing time.
 The only GI insurance policyholders who will not share in the 1957 dividends are those who have the nonparticipating post-Korea NSLI term and permanent plans. The law under which these policies are issued prohibits the payment of dividends.

All of Carver's Prices $1.07 on 107th Birthday

Corbin, Ky., Oct. 8 — Today was bargain day at Robert A. Early's workshop.
 "You can buy anything you want for $1.07," said Early, "because it's my 107th birthday."
 Age has slowed the knife with which he carves various articles from wood, but Early's eye for business is still sharp.
 "It's a fitting and proper thing to turn an honest penny any time," he said, "and my birthday is no exception. People always buy more than."
 Early turned to woodworking after a "heap o' living" as a schoolteacher, carpenter, mail carrier, and storekeeper. The 12 years he spent as police judge here earned him the nickname, "Judge."
 It was Early who surveyed and laid out Corbin's present Main Street. And it was Early who built most of the earlier, important buildings here—two Methodist churches and the Masonic and Odd Fellows Hall, a Baptist and a Christian Church, and the Wilbur Hotel, still one of the city's largest.
 Born in Whitley County, Early married twice. Seven of his 10 children are still living. He makes his home with one of them, Police Chief William D. Early.
 Early still writes his other children, keeps a diary, and smokes his pipe "once a day—from the time I get up until I go to bed."
 Although somewhat hard of hearing, his sight is good and he can read newspapers without wearing glasses. He is chiefly interested in political news.
 "It seems like I've been a Republican for a hundred years."

Missing Girl and Dog Found at Whitesburg, Returned To Lawrence

Miss Hattie Moore, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Moore, of Adams, Kentucky, who had been missing from her home for more than two weeks, was located Tuesday of last week at Whitesburg, Kentucky.
 Whitesburg officials said they found the girl and her dog "Tootsie" wandering on the streets, and immediately started an investigation. They contacted Lawrence County officers and Sheriff M. E. Sparks went to Whitesburg and returned the girl and her dog to Louisa.
 The parents, according to reports, had made no effort to locate their daughter. Whitesburg officials said they broadcast over radio a description of the girl for several days hoping to locate her family. They said she finally told them her postmaster's name, and it was through that channel officers finally made contact with county officials here.
 Sheriff Sparks said the girl told him that she walked most of the distance, which is around one hundred miles, from Adams, her community, to Whitesburg. She told him she caught an occasional ride.
 After being questioned by officials the girl and her dog were returned to her home at Adams.

Ignorance and Superstition
 Q. Is there any relationship between superstition and the Christian Religion?
 A. None whatever. As light has no fellowship with darkness so the Christian Religion has no fellowship with magic and superstition.
 Q. What condition did Paul find in the city of Athens and how was he affected by it?
 A. "His spirit was stirred in him, when he saw the city wholly given to idolatry." (Acts 17:16).
 Q. What did Paul say to the men of Athens as he stood in the midst of Mars' hill?
 A. "Ye men of Athens, I perceive that in all things ye are too superstitious." (Acts 17:22).
 Q. What visible affects did Paul's preaching have upon the people of Athens?
 A. "Many of them also which used curious arts brought their books together and burned them before all men; and they counted the price of them, and found it fifty thousand pieces of silver. So mightily grew the word of God and prevailed." (Acts 19:19-20).

Two-Year Enlistment Plan Is Announced

Young men between 17 and 26 years of age who have not had any previous military service can now enlist in the U. S. Army for a period of two years, according to an announcement by M/Sgt. Glenn R. Walke of the local U. S. Army Recruiting Station.
 Persons who desire to enlist under the two-year program will be sent to Ashland for examination, and those who qualify will be sent to Fort Chaffee, Ark., for the required basic training, Sgt. Walke said.
 Complete information concerning the two year enlistment program in the U. S. Army can be obtained by getting in touch with Sgt. Walke located in the Postoffice building, Prestonsburg.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

SAYS CURFEW WOULD HELP
 Editor, The Times:
 Recently there have been numerous dispatches from all over the country of towns and cities imposing a 10 o'clock curfew on teenagers under 18. This is a sensible way of combating juvenile delinquency.
 Prestonsburg's mayor and Councilmen should put into effect the same ordinance. Only a few days ago, a service station was entered here late at night and cigarettes stolen — apparently by youthful thugs. A 10 o'clock curfew would have prevented this.
 City Fathers, an ordinance of this nature would be commendable.

Here! New Task-Force 57 Chevrolet Trucks!
Performance-proved in a history-making test on the ALCAN Highway to Alaska

The Alcan Highway is the road where trucks grow old before their time. The road where gravel endlessly sledgehammers the life out of trucks. Where a fog of superfine dust chokes engines, and vicious ruts subject chassis to months of wear in a few hundred miles.
 Six new '57 Chevrolet trucks, representing light-, medium- and heavy-duty models and heavily loaded with cargo, roared north from Dawson Creek, B. C., through 1,520 miles of mountains and mire, rain and hail to Fairbanks, Alaska. Running around the clock, they made this tortuous trip—normally a 72-hour run—in less than 45 hours. The fleet made normal stops along the way, and maintained safe and legal speeds. As a special test during the run, two of the trucks went the entire distance without once having their engines stopped!
 It's all down in the AAA record book. And more besides! Never before has a new truck been so thoroughly proved. Come in and see how well these new Alcan champs measure up to your job.

Alcan fleet gets up to 18.17 miles per gallon! That's the mileage reported by the Cameo Carrier, with Thriftmaster 6 and extra-cost Overdrive.

FIRST WITH THE MOST MODERN FEATURES!
 New 283-cubic-inch Taskmaster V8 delivers 160 high-torque horsepower. Standard in Series 5000, 7000 and 8000, optional in Series 6000 at extra cost. Horsepower ranges up to 210 in Chevrolet's complete line-up of modern V8 and 6 truck engines.
 Revolutionary Powermatic Transmission — exclusive with Chevrolet trucks! This six-speed automatic, designed specifically for heavy-duty hauling, is an extra-cost option in Series 5000 and 6000 and all heavy-duty truck models. Hydra-Matic is offered in 3000 and 4000 Series models at extra cost.
 New 1957 work-styling gives Chevrolet trucks an even fresher, fleetier appearance. There are three different and distinctive styling treatments.
 L.C.F. models outdate the C.O.E. because they're lower, handsomer, easier to get into and out of, and save time in routine engine maintenance. Yet they offer all the traditional C.O.E. advantages.
 Heavyweight Champs with Triple-Torque tandem are rated at 32,000 lbs. GVW, 50,000 lbs. GCW. And Chevrolet's advanced tandem axle unit offers a built-in three-speed power divider—plus a unique "self-steering" action that reduces tire wear and increases handling ease.

All the way in DRIVE range! This Powermatic-equipped 10000 Series tractor traveled the entire Alcan Highway in a single forward-speed range!

Workers Needed In State Health

Frankfort, Oct. 15 (Spl.)—Three field representatives are needed by the Kentucky State Department of Health for general disease control work, John M. Henninger, supervisor of the Department's merit system, announced recently.

Field representative travel throughout the state promoting blood testing in selected areas and interviewing patients with general disease. They investigate contacts of known general disease patients and help make arrangements for their examination and treatment.

Beginning salary is $280 a month plus travel expenses. After a year's experience, the workers become eligible for employment with the U. S. Public Health Service at $375 a month.

Applications for the merit system examination may be made at any county health department. Applicants must come to the Merit System office, 620 South Third Street, Louisville, to take the examination. The Merit System office is open 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m. (CST) Monday through Friday.

Antibiotics are now being tested for control of fungus and bacterial plant diseases.

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE
By GORDON WILSON, Ph.D.
Western Kentucky Teachers' College Bowling Green, Ky.

'YOU'LL NEVER RAISE THAT CHILD'

Recently a famous folklorist and I were discussing our rather puny selves as children. We did not know each other then or until lately, but each of us had had the same experience: visitors in our homes sometimes said to our mothers, in a slightly lowered voice: "You'll never raise that child." I cannot recall what my own mother said after this reassuring remark by a well-wisher, but I will remember the depressed feeling I had for a time afterwards. And maybe I decided to live anyway, to prove the bad judgment of the gossipy neighbor.

Puny children used to be quite common. Many of us had rickets, we were cradled in malaria, we were rarely without a cold, and our little bones almost stuck through our skins. Tonsils were bad because that was the way it was foreordained; adenoids served the sole purpose of making us talk through our noses and this became sources of merriment for other children and grown people, too. And all the classic children's diseases just had to be lived through, as a mark of being human beings. Of course, we puny ones ate like starved animals, but no amount of food seemed to fill out our body bodies. No wonder well-intentioned visitors felt that our life expectancy was slight. Many of my playmates and acquaintances died young, most often of tuberculosis. Some of the brightest boys and girls I have ever known were laid to rest in Fidelity Cemetery before they had attained to full-grown manhood and womanhood.

But some of us tough customers lived through it all and managed, in mature life, to get round and plump, and all this was without eating half as much as we used to or adopting any sort of sedentary life, either. Just how we did it is beyond me; maybe there is a tough streak in even the puniest boy or girl. Maybe the way to get strong and plump is to be a starveling child, pitted by all those who have meat on their bones.

These free remarks about puny children were a part of a whole series of acts that should have had the attention of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

Three From County Enrolled at Centre

Danville, Ky., Oct. 11 (Spl.)—Three Floyd county residents are enrolled for the fall-winter semester at Centre College which has begun its 137th school year here. Centre's total enrollment of 455 resident students this fall is 40 more than the 415 total enrollment here last fall.

The three Floyd countians enrolled at Centre are Ann Parker, Albert Burchett, and William Malone.

Miss Parker, daughter of Mrs. John T. Parker, of Wheelwright, is a graduate of Virginia Intermont and enrolled at Centre as a junior. She is a science major and member of the Centre A Cappella choir.

Albert Burchett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe W. Burchett, Prestonsburg, is a graduate of Prestonsburg high school. A sophomore, enrolled in the pre-medical program, Burchett is a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Malone, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Malone, of Allen, entered Centre as a freshman. A graduate of Kentucky Military Institute, Malone had the highest scholastic average of his class during his sophomore, junior and senior years.

Centre's freshman class this year is the first in the school's history required to take the Scholastic Aptitude Tests of the College Entrance Board as a condition of acceptance by Centre. The aptitude tests are nationally-standardized. Last fall Centre became the first college or university in Kentucky to adopt the College Entrance Board tests.

NOMINEES O. K. BOND ISSUE

State Party Leaders Help Form Non-Partisan County Groups for Bonds

LEXINGTON, Ky. — All four major-party nominees for the U. S. Senate in Kentucky have said they favor the state's proposed 100 million dollar road bond issue.

The proposal will be voted upon by Kentuckians at the Nov. 6 election. Proceeds from sale of the bonds would be used to match federal highway construction funds.

Democratic nominees Earle C. Clements, seeking reelection, and Lawrence W. Wetherby, former governor, said in letters Oct. 9 they would vote for the bond issue. They wrote to Robert Van Meter, president of the Bardstown Road Improvement Assn., who had asked their stand on the bond issue.

Clements said, "improvement of our roads and highways has always been one of the major objectives of my entire career," and added he was proud of having played a leading role this year in enactment of the new federal act increasing aid for highway.

Wetherby said "the policy of issuing bonds to finance needed public improvements and paying for them as the public utilizes and enjoys them" was followed "in many instances" during his term as governor.

Republican senatorial nominees Thurston B. Morton, who is running against Clements for a six-year term, and former Sen. John Sherman Cooper endorsed the bond issue, Sept. 18. Cooper and Wetherby are competing for the remaining four years of the late Democratic Sen. Alben W. Barkley's term.

State committees of the Democratic and Republican parties recently endorsed the bond issue. Sen. Robert Humphreys, Democrat serving until after the November election, and John Fred Williams, Republican and former state superintendent of public instruction, are co-chairmen of an organization forming bipartisan county committees to work for approval of the bond issue. This organization is cooperating with the Kentucky Better Roads Council, a nonpartisan agency seeking passage of the bond issue.

Lonesome Pine Council Starts Fund Campaign; 1,470 Leaders Sought

This week Lonesome Pine Council, Boy Scouts of America, launched its annual campaign to raise $50,000 to carry on the program of Scouting in this area for another year.

The funds raised will enable the Council to work toward an objective of 4,075 boys to register in 215 Scout units by 1959. The Council has an available annual boy crop of 19,551 boys between the ages of 8 and 17.

The long-range plan of Scout growth calls for the recruiting and training of 1,470 volunteer Scout leaders, as compared to 918 adult leaders now registered. The Finance campaign now under way will go a long way toward achieving the goals of the long-range plan. Funds received in the current campaign will also pay the cost of maintenance of Camp Shawnee on Dewey Lake, Camp Black Pine, located at Ary, Ky., and other outpost camps for week-end camping. Other important items in the budget are the training of Scout leaders, field service of professional Scout workers, maintenance of the Council office, and the extension of Cub Scouting for younger boys, 8, 9, and 10 years of age, Explorer Scouting for boys over 14 years of age, as well as the program of Scouting for 11, 12 and 13-year-old boys.

FULL PUBLICITY PROMISED FOR SENTENCE REDUCTIONS

Full publicity will be given in the future to drivers whose conviction for drunken driving is reduced to a lesser offense by the trial judge, Don S. Sturgill, acting commissioner of public safety, announced in Frankfort last week.

The stake in these reductions is mandatory return of the motorist's driver's license by the Department of Public Safety, Sturgill explained. He gave this picture of the situation:

1. Surrender of his driver's license is compulsory upon a motorist's conviction for drunken driving. The license is sent to the Department of Public Safety in Frankfort.
2. At some future date, say two to three weeks, the trial judge will advise the department that he has amended the original conviction to some lesser offense, such as reckless driving, speeding, and such.
3. It then becomes the legal duty of the department to return the offender's license, inasmuch as drunken driving is the only offense for which the license must be surrendered.
4. These reductions in offenses have been averaging around three a week.

When these notices of reduction reach him in the future, Sturgill said, he will release the pertinent details to the press in general; and to the offender's hometown newspaper in particular.

Sturgill announced his new policy after Attorney General Jo M. Ferguson advised him that judges have the unquestioned legal right to amend charges to lesser offenses after conviction.

The opinion, written by Assistant Attorney General Earle V. Powell, stated further:

1. The judge of a court of fixed terms may reduce the charge at any time before the term expires.
2. The judge of a court of continuous session has 60 days after conviction in which to reduce the charge.
3. When a judge reduces the charge of drunken driving, the Department of Public Safety has no legal choice but to return the driver's license, provided the judge has acted within his time limits.

Sturgill also revealed that his department is working on a point plan by which drivers frequently convicted will be subject to suspension of license.

Coal Mines Claim 58 Kentuckians

Frankfort, Oct. 15 (Spl.) — Fifty-eight fatalities have occurred in the coal mines of Kentucky during the first nine months of 1956. In the same period last year, only 46 deaths were recorded.

James H. Phalan, chief, Department of Mines and Minerals, said 65 percent of the fatal accidents are caused from roof falls. He attributes the fatalities to, "someone didn't take time to make sure."

"Safety is a time-tested product but one which is not being used by enough people. Somewhere along the line someone has not done a good job selling his fellowman this worthwhile tool which is essential in the pursuit of health and happiness," Phalan said.

Fatalities by district through September as listed by Phalan are: Western Kentucky, 5; Big Sandy-Tug River, 26; Cumberland Valley, 15; and Kentucky River, 12.

State Officials Entertain Press

Frankfort, Oct. 15 (Spl.) — Gov. and Mrs. A. B. Chandler were hosts recently to approximately 250 publishers, editors and newspaper people of the state, at an executive luncheon.

After the luncheon approximately 200 of the group attended a mammoth three-hour press conference in the House of Representative Chamber where the cabinet members and state officials were arrayed for cross-examination.

The press conference was held at the Governor's invitation in conjunction with National Newspaper Week. Acknowledging the many personal thanks from the visiting newsmen, Governor Chandler said he would be willing to have similar meetings, three or four times a year if they are wanted.

Questions by the visiting editors concerned a variety of fields including education, law, school desegregation, fishing, highways, road bond issue, aeronautics, finance, engineering and whiskey taxes.

Area S.B.A. Chiefs Get More Authority

Washington, Oct. 14 — The Small Business Administration today authorized its 15 regional directors to approve small-business loans on their own authority up to $100,000 if a bank is putting up at least 25 per cent of the money.

S.B.A. Administrator Wendell B. Barnes said the action was taken to speed handling of loans to reduce a backlog of applications resulting from a sharp increase in loan requests.

Previously, regional directors had authority to approve loans with bank participation only up to $50,000, and direct loans — those without bank participation — up to $20,000.

Collective Bargaining Just a Term

(The Lexington Herald)

Most Kentucky coal operators learned what they will have to pay in increased wages and other benefits from reading the newspapers last week. This was quite a departure from the old days when "collective bargaining" was in effect and representatives of the operators and the unions met and discussed their problems and tried to arrive at some solution commensurate with production costs on the one hand, and living costs and living conditions, on the other.

All these "old fashioned" ways went by the board when two men met, discussed the matter and came up with a program calling for higher wages and, subsequently, higher prices for coal. John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers of America, and Edward Fox, representing a few giant coal companies, were the two men, and when they announced their decision it meant that other coal producing firms would have to meet their terms or close up shop. The public, it appears, was not represented at the closed-door session, and as a result the consumers of coal will just have to pay the higher prices or switch to other fuels, if they can.

What does this new increase mean to the mining industry of Kentucky and to the thousands of miners employed today?

First, it means fewer miners will be employed. In order to compete in the present-day coal industry, mines must be highly mechanized. The smaller mines which are not fully mechanized either must install the proper equipment for mass production or close down. There is no middle ground. Where conditions are favorable, many of these mines may turn to strip-mining, which also immediately cuts deeply into the number of employees. The employee rolls are cut drastically when mechanization becomes necessary, in some instances the labor being cut as much as 75 per cent. This simply means that the new $2.40 daily wage increase obtained by Lewis will not become the daily base wage of $22.25 for thousands of Kentucky miners who hailed the settlement with joy. They will not have a job.

Lewis apparently has placed his stamp of approval upon the great mining combines. They are able to save great sums of money in operation, he says, and this means greater benefits to the few miners who will be employed. "That is modern operation," Lewis was quoted as saying in Cincinnati last week. "That condition is one which I think the industry now in its major sense is dedicated to continue." In other words, Lewis, having built up his labor organization big enough to enforce his terms, now wants to see the operators combine to a point where they can control production and fix not only the price of coal but the price that will be paid for its production. This means the speedy elimination of the small or marginal operator, and the dumping of his labor force onto the labor market.

There is one point that we wonder whether the Lewis-Fox combine took into consideration when it made its agreement: Will the coal consumers pay the additional price for coal that will be necessary under the new scale, or will they switch to other fuels? On this hinges the future of the industry, and only time will tell whether the Cincinnati agreement was for the best interests of a great industry.

SPORTS AFIELD
By TED KESTING

The most desired of all fresh-water game fish, the biggest and most difficult to come by, is the musky. He's no respecter of time or place, ability or experience. They say that when J. J. Coleman, of Evansville, Indiana, caught his former world record 60½-pounder at Eagle Lake, Ontario, in 1939, he was just idly casting a plug from the dock for practice. So it can happen to anybody. But it usually doesn't.

A musky needs an area some 200 feet square to get enough to eat. When he finds a suitable area with the right cover, he'll adopt it as his own and drive out all competitors.

It's the weedy, rather listless-appearing lakes that hold the best promise for big muskies—lakes with many shallow bays rimmed by sedge, rushes, pads and arrowhead. Streams where the current is sluggish, rather than swift, are a natural preference. The spot should have many weedy indentations and deep pools in the eddies below rocks or sunken logs. That's where your musky will be lurking. He'll be in 4 to 8 feet of water where such cover is present.

Muskies are carnivorous and will take almost anything alive or moving. Suckers, redbreast, whitefish and game fish are the natural prey, but they've been known to take frogs, mice, baby muskrats, ducks, squirrels, water snakes and even mud turtles.

Your approach to a musky hide-out must be a stealthy. When he takes your lure, be sure you set the hook sharply, not once but several times. For the cartilage around his mouth is tough. Once the hook is set and the battle begun, never let the fish have an inch of slack line. According to an article in Sports Afield magazine by Jack Connor, fully three-fourths of all lost muskies won their freedom by throwing the bait when they got some slack.

The best days for musky fishing? Some guides won't wet a line unless the water is glassy smooth with the sun bright and the air hot and muggy. Others want an overcast sky with a slight ruffle on the water. Some won't go out before a storm and some won't go out after one. This man fishes only from 4 to 6 a.m. and from 4 to 8 p.m. That one wouldn't waste his time casting for muskies except from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

I guess only a musky could tell you what's best.

Boy Scouts to Get Out the Vote

The nation's 4,175,134 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorers and their leaders, in cooperation with Freedoms Foundation of Valley Forge, are busy in a nonpartisan Get-Out-the-Vote campaign. One and a quarter million of these posters are being placed on display to remind citizens to register and vote. Just before Election Day, November 6, the Scouts will place Liberty Bell hangers on the doorknobs of 35,000,000 homes urging every citizen to vote.

Outdoor Writers Hold Fall Meet

Frankfort, Oct. 15 (Spl.) — The Kentucky Outdoor Writers Assn. held its fall meeting at Camp Earl Wallace on Lake Cumberland, Oct. 6.

Joe Davidson, a representative of Sporting Arms and Ammunition Manufacturers' Institute, spoke to the group about controlled shooting. These pay-as-you-shoot places where the operator raises his own pheasants, ducks or other game birds, releases them on posted land, and charges so much a day or a bird to shoot are the coming thing and the best thing for hunters today, Davidson said.

"The hunters of today," he said, "don't have the stamina or the opportunity that hunters of two generations ago had to go out and hunt in the field."

There are several controlled shooting grounds in Kentucky.

Larry Gale, director of the Division of Game in the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, also addressed the group concerning the archery and gun season and limit for deer.

A project of marking Lake Cumberland with more than 30 signs to assist fishermen and boaters was approved by KOWA members.

At the close of the meeting, these persons were elected new officers: George Reynolds, Lexington Herald, president; John Murphy, news director, WCKY, vice-president; and Ronnie Rhody, Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, secretary-treasurer.

Former Announcer Killed in Car Crash

Theodore "Ted" Kauffmann, 37, former announcer for radio stations WLSI in Pikeville, and WCMI in Ashland, was fatally injured in a car crash near Salem, Va., Tuesday night, last week. He had been employed in Salem by a tent and awning company.

Kauffmann is survived by his wife, the former Evelyn Mullins of Elkhorn City, two daughters, and a son.

Grave Find Scars Man Too Late

Newark, Ohio — A Newark man digging in his back yard to install a septic tank found the spot he had selected already was occupied.

The "occupant" was an Indian, buried there "well over 100 years ago and possibly in prehistoric times," in the opinion of Dr. Raymond Baby, curator of the Ohio State Museum.

Ray Seaman summoned police when he found the bones. Quipped Dr. W. E. Shrontz, coroner, after a glance at the bones:

"These are no concern of mine. They were put in the ground long before I took office."

Dr. Baby said it was possible the site of the find was at one time an Indian village. It is near the north fork of the Licking River.

Farm Pond Fishing Winners Announced

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 11 Spl. — Winners in the Kentucky Afield Farm Pond Fishing Derby were announced today by the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources.

The "champs"—men who could catch the right fish at the right time in the state's numerous farm ponds—came from Paducah, Munfordville and Frankfort.

Preston Mansfield, of Munfordville, took honors in the bass category with a 6-pound, 4-ounce largemouth caught out of a Hart county farm pond.

Kelsie Travis, Jr., of Paducah, won the bluegill race with a 9-oz. battler taken from Utzel's Pond near Wickliffe.

And John True, of Frankfort won in the catfish category with a 6-pound, 2 ounce catfish caught in a Shelby county farm pond.

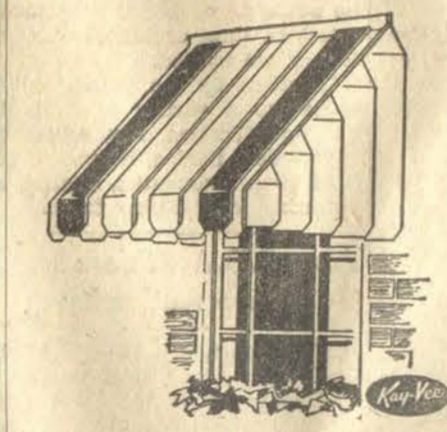

Mansfield's bass won him a Phantom-rod 7' tubular glass spinning rod and a Zebco spinning reel; Travis gets a Phantom-rod 9' tubular glass fly-rod; and True annexed a Great Lages catfish rod and Penn "leveline" reel.

The Farm Pond Derby was the last in a series of fishing derbies run by the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources to stimulate interest in fishing in Kentucky.

CAB OWNERSHIP CHANGE RECEIVES APPROVAL

Frankfort, Oct. 11 (Spl.) — Approval of transfer of a taxicab certificate from Bennie Branham to Denzil Whitten, Prestonsburg, was granted this week by the Department of Motor Transportation. The cab will operate within the city of Prestonsburg.

Whether Dead or Alive, Adolf Hitler
Crops Up in Photos and Records

By BILL DILLINGHAM
In The Courier-Journal

BONN, Germany — Is Hitler still alive? Many Germans think so. Some even make a business of the question.

All over West Germany, it is possible to buy phonograph records bearing a voice alleged to be Hitler's. It's too risky just yet for him to make a personal appearance, record sources say, so Hitler is using this means to speak to his followers. It is said that he will emerge from his hiding place when conditions are more favorable.

The ordinary edition of these Hitler records costs 20 marks (about $4), and the deluxe edition, containing old Nazi hymns, is just double that price.

Many people consider this a mere selling stunt. Many others fully believe they are listening to the genuine voice of Adolph the leader.

One record, the first, says: "I continue lying, in good health and near to you all. Shortly, you will hear my voice again; but for the moment, I want to say that the traitors to our country, already found in both East and West, will be severely punished when our country regains its true independence and national dignity."

Irritated, the Bonn Government has labeled the entire business a fraud.

Photographs of Hitler can be bought in most of the cities throughout Germany. The latest is a signed series dated 1955. Adolf appears to have a sun tan in one such set.

Aside from the commercial angle of selling photographs and records, certain German interests hope that these tactics will aid the cause of Nazism. Numerous organizations have sprung up during the last few years supporting the Hitler ideals. Records of the former chief's voice are exactly the kind of material appealing to many followers.

Some people claim to have spoken to Hitler, others claim to know his whereabouts, and a few have even appointed temporary successors in his absence. None, yet, have produced proof of such claims.

A newly created magazine in Germany, trying to stir interest, was stopped from running an issue that was scheduled to contain a long statement by Hitler himself, photo included.

KECK DENIES LEWIS CLAIM

Judge Says He Is Not
Holding Back Decision
In Elliott Court Case

(Elliott County News)

Jesse K. Lewis, Lexington attorney, asked the Court of Appeals this week to order Carter county Circuit Judge John A. Keck, Sandy Hook, to hasten determination of a law suit to recover for Elliott county some $81,000 from county officials between 1950-54.

In his petition for a writ of mandamus against Judge Keck, Lewis charged that delays in the case have been contrary to rules of civil practices.

Lewis also charged that Judge Keck "is the acknowledged leader of the political faction in Elliott county to which the defendant office holders . . . are members."

Lewis was quoted as saying that " . . . because of the close political connection of the respondent (Judge Keck), with these defendants, respondent appears to be very reluctant, as shown by the record, to comply with the mandatory provisions of the rules . . . and, in effect, the taxpayers of Elliott county are being deprived of a speedy trial."

Keck was reported as saying he was "surprised" to hear of Lewis' action and was quoted as saying that "this is the first time I have heard Mr. Lewis mention politics in connection with this case as far as the court is concerned."

Keck said he had handled the case "as expeditiously as possible," and called Lewis' charge of political favoritism as "absolutely untrue."

Lewis' petition noted that the recovery suit was filed in February, 1955, and was followed by an amended suit in May, 1955. The petition by Lewis cited what he termed unwarranted delays on the part of Judge Keck.

Lewis is representing Orville Fannin, justice of the peace, in whose name the recovery is sought for Elliott county. The list of the charges is that the county officials misappropriated, misapplied and exceeded the legal budget between 1950 and 1954.

The total of the original suit and the amended suit is included in the $81,000 sought to be recovered.

Several county officials are named as defendants in the action.

In answering Lewis' charge, Keck told The Elliott News Monday afternoon that "This matter has been handled as expeditiously as possible. Several months of delay was necessitated due to Mr. Lewis' disbarment from practice, and I took no action until he was reinstated to practice."

Judge Keck confirmed the following answer he gave a newsman early this week concerning Lewis' charge:

"Last month I overruled Mr. Lewis' motion for a summary judgment. But all of the evidence has not been transcribed. I do not have the complete record. I could not render any judgment until I was in possession of evidence in the case and had studied the record.

"As any able attorney knows Lewis did not at any time request me to vacate the bench.

"This case has been pending for over a year. Various motions and pleadings have been made. This is the first time I have ever heard Lewis mention politics in connection with this case as far as the court is concerned. His charge is absolutely untrue.

"When the suit was first filed, Lewis had heard that I was going to disqualify myself which I had never considered as I didn't know anything about the case or any political connection that would prevent me from rendering a fair and impartial judgment.

"Nevertheless, he requested that I remain on the bench.

"When evidence has been given to me I will render an opinion that I believe to be correct according to the law and the evidence.

"Either side can appeal to the Court of Appeals if they are not satisfied with the judgment that may be entered."

Floyd Coal Company Named In UMWA Suit

Washington, D. C. — The Trustees of the United Mine Workers of America Welfare and Retirement Fund have received a report from Val J. Mitch, counsel, that suits to collect more than a half-million dollars in welfare fund royalties have been filed against 27 bituminous coal company in seven states in the past two months. The court cases seek collection of $502,524.01 in delinquent royalties owing to the Fund.

Of the 27 cases, judgments totaling $149,391.79 have been obtained against six companies in favor of the Fund. Another five coal companies against which suits were filed some months ago have been ordered to pay a total of $79,336.59.

They are: Quality Coal Corp., Brazil, Ind., $41,583.46; Natali Coal Co., Gallatin, Pa., $25,313.99; Bee Branch Coal Co., Glen Daniels, West Virginia, $6,992.24; and Superior Smokeless Coal Co., Indiana, Pa., $6,040.90.

Among the 27 companies are these from Kentucky:

Sandlick Coal Co., Whitesburg; Hall Coal Co., Harold; Eben Coal Co., Hazard; Blue Ridge Mining Co., Hazard; Black Diamond Coal Mining Co., Drakesboro.

Mitch reported that judgments already had been obtained by the Fund against the following Pennsylvania companies, among the 27: Marco Coal Co., Appollo, $49,545.60; Red Hot Coal Co., Saxenburg, $8,589.92; Charles E. Campbell Coal Co., Bridgeville, $24,579.06; Sarver Coal Co., Tarenum, $43,509.06; L.C.S. Colliery, Inc., Johnstown, $18,002.70; E. & S. Coal Co., Indiana, $5,174.55.

Dept. of Health Lists Fires Rules

Frankfort, Oct. 15 (Spl.) — Last year, 143 Kentuckians were killed by fire.

Unfortunately, most fires are caused by human carelessness and neglect. Dr. Russell E. Teague, commissioner, Department of Health, said.

As an aftermath of Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 7-13, the State Department of Health urges all Kentuckians to observe these rules for safety throughout the year:

1. Keep wiring in good condition. Don't string wires under rugs, over hooks, or in exposed places.
2. Keep fireplaces screened.
3. Keep matches away from small children.
4. Don't smoke in bed.
5. Check your heating system annually. Keep stove pipes at least 18 inches from walls, or burnable materials. Keep chimneys clean and in repair. Never use kerosene or gasoline to kindle a fire.
7. Watch where cigarettes are thrown. Have conveniently-placed ash trays wherever necessary and advisable.

The addition of the juice of one lemon to frozen orange juice concentrate gives more vitamins, variety, and flavor appeal.

MILK PRODUCTION TOLD

Frankfort, Oct. 11 — During September, eight dairy herds at institutional farms operated by the State Departments of Welfare and Mental Health produced 642,618 pounds of milk for patients and inmates according to Albert O. Davis, dairy specialist.

Illegal Taxicabs To Be Abolished

Frankfort, Oct. 15 (Spl.) — Persons operating unauthorized taxis in Kentucky communities where the Department of Motor Transportation authorizes a taxicab permit can expect trouble.

Commissioner C. M. Blackburn said, "This agency will make a special drive to force any unauthorized operations to be discontinued in areas where we have recently issued a permit."

The commissioner called attention to Crab Orchard where a new permit has been granted Maurice G. Howard for operation for the Lincoln Cab Co. The Commissioner said law enforcement representatives from the department would investigate the Crab Orchard area for taxis operating without permits. If such taxis are found, whatever corrective steps are necessary to discontinue them will be carried out, he said.

EARLY BIRD BREAKFAST SET TO LAUNCH SCOUT FUND DRIVE

During the past week, the civic-minded community leaders from Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, Jaycees, and other organizations including churches, P. T. A.'s, Woman's Clubs, V.F.W., and American Legion, have been recruiting workers for the Boy Scout Finance Campaign launched Tuesday.

In a majority of the towns of Eastern Kentucky and Southwest Virginia "Early Bird" Breakfasts were held. Breakfast were at Paintsville, Prestonsburg, Pikeville, Hazard, Whitesburg in Kentucky, in Pennington Gap, Big Stone Gap, Norton, Wise, Coeburn, Lebanon, Clintwood, and Grundy in Virginia.

This all-out effort is for the purpose of raising $50,000 for the operation of the Lonesome Pine Council during 1957. Judge Bert Combs, of Prestonsburg, chairman of the fund drive, says that the campaign will give four thousand different boys an opportunity to be Scouts during 1957.

In his talk before different groups in recent weeks Judge Combs has stressed the great need for Scouting in training for good citizenship, the character building value of the movement, and importance of the great national program of the Boy Scouts, "Onward for God and My Country." He also cited the National Good Turns that Scouts have engaged in in recent weeks including the distribution of thousands of posters for civilian defense, the distribution of many thousands more posters urging people to register and vote and the planned distribution of door knob hangers to every home in America urging people to exercise their right and privilege to vote in the national election, November 6.

Another great National Good Turn engaged in by the Scouts of the Lonesome Pine Council is conservation. Scout executive John Dean reported that during the Spring of 1956 more than 90,000 trees were planted by Scouts registered in ninety-five troops.

The Thrill of Bonefishing Causes Much Enthusiasm

Sometimes even experienced fishermen, both in salt water and fresh, are apt to wonder why there is so much enthusiasm these days for bonefish.

According to an article in the September issue of Sports Afield magazine it can be doubted that all the bonefish furor stems from his talent to cause monofilament or tapered line to disappear with such speed from a spool — though his talent along these lines is certainly well developed. Nor is the bonefish hard to hook once the barb is set back in that hard mouth.

Where then is the thrill of bonefishing? One angler has perhaps summed up the matter with these words: "It combines the excitement of hunting and fishing. The weapon is a rod, but the technique used in bonefishing is that employed in stalking big game."

The cast and hope technique is futile even in a bonefish paradise such as Fresh Creek on Andros Island or the famous Islamorada flats of Florida. Casting bait or lure comes after the bonefish is spotted. In some cases this is accomplished after the school or single is trailed. Stalking more often takes place when a fisherman, either from his poled boat or while wading, spots his prey as it is on the move.

Despite his readiness to take off like a silver streak at the sight or sound of anything unusual, a bonefish has his share of curiosity and frequently permits the approach of man or boat to within 20 feet. But this can be counted on by the stalker. More often than not, a bonefish 50 feet from the angler will dash away with the first movement of the rod.

This salt-water sprinter is found in most parts of the world where the water is warm. He favors the Bahamas, Florida waters, the West Indies, Hawaii and South Africa.

Kentucky Employs Zoning Assistant

Frankfort, Oct. 15 (Spl.) — Stephen Sussna, an attorney and former faculty member of New York City Community and Brooklyn colleges, is the new assistant director of the Economic Development Department's planning and zoning division.

Prior to teaching, Sussna, 31, was employed by the New York Housing Authority and before that as a public administration intern with the state of New York.

The division advises and works with smaller Kentucky communities in developing planning programs and assists new industries in solving plant-location problems.

STATE TO HEED EXPERTS' ROAD RECOMMENDATIONS

Gov. A. B. Chandler and Highway Commissioner Bert Kiser have given assurance they will follow recommendations of highway experts in deciding what state road projects will be built with state money which would be available if the proposed $100,000,000 bond issue is approved by Kentucky voters Nov. 6.

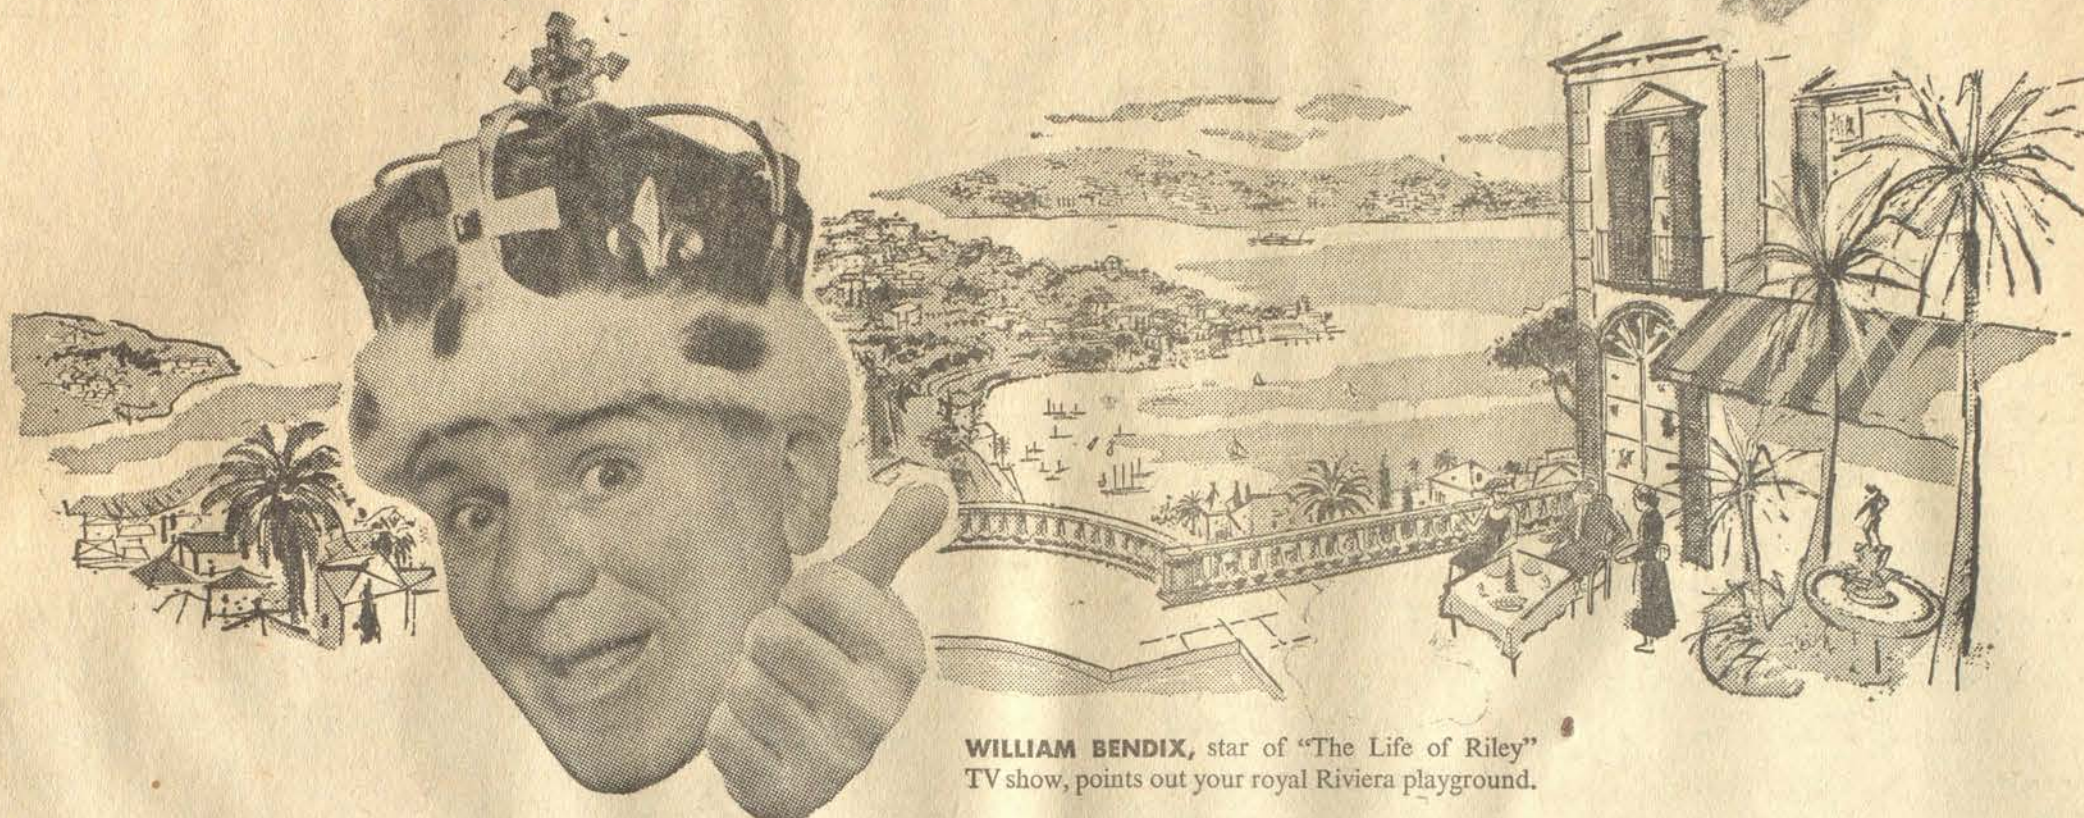

The officials said in a letter to Robert E. Hatton, Louisville attorney and chairman of the governor's 3rd District Committee, that the recommendations of the Automotive Safety Foundation would be the basis of the proposed highway program using state funds.
