SPEAKING OF AND FOR FLOYD COUNTY

THURSDAY

PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY

NOVEMBER 8, 1956

This Town— That World

The election is over — and now Armistice day. Such timing!

The Solid South, if any, is badly cracked. Not mentally, Republicans will emphasize.

Democrats around here say mare's milk is too weak. Mule Stupefier is in strong demand.

WELL, GOODIE!

Things will improve, now that the election is over. For one thing, a-body can now go home, shed his shoes, find a comfortable seat, and set his eyes in his characteristic vacuous stare on his television set and not be shaken out of his mental vacuum by the sight of a baby in its birthday suit flashing onto the screen and the sound of somebody yapping about Bernie or some other joker who needs all the votes he can get.

Sometimes newspaper advertising during political scraps gets mighty, mighty low, but for sheer asininity I'll stack television's contribution to the general confusion against anything man has yet conceived.

HE'S OUR PRESIDENT

The United States is the greatest nation on earth. It can take a national election in stride and the people come up—well, maybe, not smiling, but accepting the verdict calmly and, as good Americans, loyal to their government and its leadership.

Men of good will everywhere will now remember the President of the United States in their prayers. He has the toughest job on earth, and even the next few days ahead may be among the most momentous in the history of mankind.

U. S. still spells "US"

AND MORE TROUBLE

To get away from politics and such troubles, and to pick up new ones, I am just now reminded that my home telephone number will be changed again within the next few days. And I had just reached the point where I knew the one I had.

DEER REFUGE IS NOT OPEN

Conservation Supervisor Warns Dewey Lake Area Still Protected Section

"The Dewey Lake refuge is definitely not open for deer hunting," John R. Redwine, Seventh District conservation supervisor, said this week. Redwine pointed this out to sportsmen, fearing a few might think the deer hunting season applied to the refuge here.

Only the three counties of Breathitt, Knott and Perry are open in this section to deer hunters. Nov. 8-10, Redwine said. The Robinson forest there of several thousand acres is overstocked with deer, and the state is allowing hunters to kill one buck each in order to decrease the population. It is the first official deer season in Eastern Kentucky in 25 years, Redwine said.

Permits to hunt in the three-county area will cost $5, in addition to a state-wide hunting license.

The deer population is increasing in Lawrence, Magoffin and Johnson counties, it was pointed out, several of those in Lawrence drifting in from West Virginia. Deer have fared well in the Dewey Lake refuge, but opening of that area to hunters is an event of the future.

Robinson forest is open only for deer hunting, Redwine said.

FLOYD CIRCUIT COURT DOCKET WELL-FILLED

Special Cases To Feature Certain Days; Cases Set For Hearing Number 214

Docket of the Floyd circuit court, well-filled with 214 cases, designates what could be called special "days" for certain types of offenses.

Opening day, next Monday, for instance, could be termed "Child Desertion Day," for 34 defendants are booked for trial then. The actual number of trials will be a mere fraction of that total, however, for many of those accused are not officially "before the court" and others will be continued.

And Nov. 15 could be called "Liquor Day," for 39 of the 63 persons accused of violating the dry laws of the county are scheduled for hearing on that date. Most of the other liquor cases are set for Nov. 30.

Nov. 27 shall be nameless, for three of the six rape cases on the docket are set for trial on that date, and the three other offenders booked for trial that day are accused of sex offenses.

FIRE DISTRICT AID IS LEGAL

Attorney General Advised Betsy Layne Man In 1951; Holifield Opinion Quoted

James A. George, secretary and treasurer of the Betsy Layne fire department, this week offered an Attorney General's opinion in support of the contention that contributions by the fiscal court of Floyd county to the fire department are legal.

Mr. George's statement, printed at length in another part of this edition, was made in reply to a news-story appearing in The Times last week in which Assistant Attorney General M. B. Holifield was quoted as saying fiscal court contributions to the Betsy Layne fire department and to Boy and Girl Scouts are without legal authority.

The opinion quoted by Mr. George was written July 16, 1951 by M. B. Holifield, the same assistant attorney general who was quoted last week in the more recent opinion. In the 1951 opinion Holifield cited the provisions of Section 75.050 of the Legislative Supplement to the Kentucky Revised Statutes pertaining to fire protection districts. The assistant attorney general in that opinion held:

HOWELL HELD FOR SHOOTING

Moore, Shot in Head, In Serious Condition At Pikeville Hospital

David Moore, 20, of Orkney, is reported in critical condition at the Methodist hospital, Pikeville, as a result of head and face wounds caused by a shotgun blast fired Monday by Earl Howell, 30.

Howell was jailed the same day by State Trooper Taylor.

The shooting took place in the yard at the home of Moore's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Moore, County Judge Stumbo said he was told. Moore was playing marbles when Howell appeared, an argument followed and Howell had Moore on the ground when Moore's father came out and stopped the altercation, the version of the trouble received here says. Witnesses, including the mother of the wounded man, told Stumbo Howell left, saying he would get his gun and return.

He did return shortly thereafter, and fired from his car at short range.

Howell was first booked at the county jail on a drunk driving charge. A warrant accusing him of shooting and wounding with intent to kill was issued by Judge Stumbo, Tuesday afternoon.

Home Brew Possession Charge Puts 2 In Jail; Drunk Drivers Are Fined

Two men were booked at the county jail Saturday on charges that are reminiscent of Prohibition days.

The two, Millis Little and Conley Mullins, were charged with possessing home brew. Two others, who had been jailed a week earlier on drunk driving charges, were fined $100 by Magistrate Grover Holbrook, who revoked their drivers' license. They are B. F. Brown and John S. Ward. Booked over the week-end as drunk drivers were Earl Osborne, James W. Shepherd and Earl Howell.

Arresting officers in the cases were Deputy Sheriffs Chester Neeley, A. J. Reed, Grant Akers and Ed Amburgey and State Troopers Armitage and Taylor.

FALL MEETING OF VFW SET

Post Here To Entertain Kentucky Department Here Over Week-End

Prestonsburg will host this week-end to the members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars from all parts of Kentucky. This is the second time in a period of five years that Walter Karr Bowling Post here has been so honored.

This year, the VFW Post here has the unusual distinction of being the home post of both the Department commander and the Department auxiliary president.

Ellsworth H. (Ted) Stumbo is the state commander of the VFW, having advanced from local post commander to the highest office in the state. He was a prisoner of war in Germany and after his return to civilian life became a state representative. He currently operates a service station at Allen.

Anna Ruth Toosey assumed the office of Department auxiliary president in July at the state meeting in Louisville. She is the widow of a soldier lost in World War II and is employed as administrative interviewer at Mayo State Vocational School, Paintsville, where she resides.

T. C. Connell, Killeen, Texas, will represent national headquarters at the meeting here. He will attend in his capacity as chief of staff of the V. F. W. He will fly his own plane here and stay over to participate in the all-Veterans Day parade scheduled to be held in Louisville, Monday.

Lt. Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield has been invited to the convention here but it was not known Tuesday if he will be able to attend.

Walter Karr Bowling Post is one of the largest V. F. W. posts in the state and is currently engaged in a membership drive.

25 Eligibles Miss Chance To Vote As Draft Result

Unless they used absentee ballots, and it's doubtful that they did, 25 young Floyd countians missed their chance to cast their votes in Tuesday's election through no fault of their own.

These composed the group of 22-year-olds who had received the familiar and sometimes dreaded "Greetings" a few days earlier, with the date for their departure set for Election Day. They left here by special bus early Tuesday morning, and it is doubtful if any had time to vote before leaving home to make bus connections here.

Four of the 25 left for induction. They are:

Virgil Little, Melvin; Perry Hall, Halo; Tillsman Holbrook, Jr., Halo, and Arnold Miller, Garrett.

The others went to Ashland for pre-induction tests. Among these were the following volunteers: Marcus Dairl Gibson, Estill; Clyde Newman, Hi Hat; Ballard Bryant, Hi Hat; Woodrow Spurlock, Printer; Clayton Blankenship, Craynor; Henry Johnson, Jr., Halo; Jimmy Burke, Halo.

CHURCHES GET CURB PROMISE

Legislation Designed To Regulate Taxicabs Planned By Council

Representatives of eight churches appeared at the Monday night meeting of the Prestonsburg City Council to throw their support behind legislation designed to govern operations of taxicabs in Prestonsburg and to cope with the bootlegging situation here.

Although the Council did not enact an ordinance, the delegation was assured that such legislation will be passed at the next Council meeting. The delay, it was explained, was caused by work being done to remove any possible technical defects from the ordinance to be submitted for vote. Councilman Watt Hale, of West Prestonsburg, introduced the original ordinance which was approved by the Council, but the legislation was quickly declared defective.

Represented at the meeting were these churches: Assembly of God, Pilgrim Holiness, Nazarene, United Baptist and Irene Cole Baptist, all of Prestonsburg; Grace Chapel, Martin; Community Church, Spurlock, and Free-Lance Methodist.

The street between and paralleling North Lake Drive and Central Avenue was officially given the name, Scott Court. It was so named by the Council at the request of residents there and in honor of Scott Craft, Republican candidate for Congress. Naming of the street was without political implications, however; it was explained that Mr. Craft built most of the homes on the street.

Paul C. Combs, member of the Council, was directed to draft resolutions commending the Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph Company for its decision to remove telephone poles from Central Avenue private property.

James Is Elected Head Of Young Democrat Club To Succeed Sturgill

Fred James was elected president of the Floyd County Young Democratic Club at a special meeting of the club Friday. He succeeds Barkley J. Sturgill.

Other officers elected are: David Hereford, first vice-president; Bessie Draughn, second vice-president; Fred Hayes, third vice-president; Edith Stratton, fourth vice-president; Kathleen Moore, secretary-treasurer.

The state meeting of Kentucky Young Democratic Clubs will be held at Frankfort, Nov. 17, and delegates from this county will be named by the new president.

Rate Americana Exhibit Of Floyd Girls as Best

A woven rug entered at the Senior Girl Scout Roundup in Michigan last July by Troop 33 of Wheelwright has been adjudged one of the "most outstanding" pieces contributed to the Roundup's Americana Art Exhibit.

Moreover, wrote Mrs. Robert Murphy, arts and crafts advisor, Program Development Division, Girl Scouts of America, in a letter to Mrs. Ray Howard, Prestonsburg, Sandy Valley Girl Scout Council president, the Wheelwright girls' exhibit will now become part of a permanent exhibit to be used by the national Girl Scout organization to promote and encourage a good creative arts program in all councils of the nation.

Selection of the hooked rug produced by the Wheelwright Girl Scout troop as an outstanding contribution to the Americana Art Exhibit was made by three noted authorities—Dr. Howard Conant, chairman of the Art Education Department, New York University; Margit Varga, assistant editor of Life magazine, and Louise Condit, supervisor of the junior mu-

Condition of Mrs. Ball Remains Critical, Said; Daughter Will Recover

Condition of Mrs. Mavis Ball, who was injured Oct. 26 in a car wreck at Hager Hill which claimed the life of her husband, Leifon Ball, remains critical at the Paintsville hospital. She is still unconscious, relatives said this week.

Her daughter, Cheryl Lynn, 10, still suffers from shock but is conscious and will recover, doctors said. William Alley, who at the time of the wreck was driving toward Prestonsburg with the Balls for his marriage to their daughter, Alice Payne, was expected to be able to walk about the hospital on crutches this week.

STUDENT POLL ELECTION TIP

School's Mock Election Actual Vote Barometer; 589 Register, 520 Vote

How faithfully does young America reflect the political sentiments of the country? Comparison of the voting in Prestonsburg high school Monday and of the results of the next day's election will answer that one.

Anyway, 520 pupils who voted there gave President Eisenhower, Senator Earle C. Clements, John Sherman Cooper, Appellate Judge Astor Hogg and the Road Bond issue the lead.

The mock election, conducted by the Social Studies department of the school, registered the "voters" last Thursday and Friday. A total of 579 registered. Sample ballots were procured from the printer, and the County Clerk was called on to help simulate an actual election. The school was divided into two wards, and election officers were named for each. The voting was followed by careful tabulation of the returns by selected tabulators; And these were the results.

Table with 2 columns: Candidate/Issue and Votes. Includes Stevenson-Kefauver (228), Eisenhower-Nixon (283), For U. S. Senator (Earle C. Clements 266, Thurston B. Morton 238), For U. S. Senator (Lawrence W. Wetherby 248, John Sherman Cooper 259), For Judge, Court of Appeals (Astor Hogg 264, Robert E. Bird 242), For Referendum No. 1 (Road Bond issue) (Yes 421, No 13).

SMALL MINES YET PLAGUED

Royalty Demands Hit Ramps and Few Quit Some Mines at Work

A gradual return to work in the "truck" coal mines of the county was reported early this week, but a new threat to the industry was seen as at least two heavy buyers of coal closed their tipples or ramps to operation.

Closing of one ramp may affect a dozen or more small mines, and within the last 10 days tipples of the Imperial Coal Co., on Buck's Branch, and the Harold Fuel Co., Harold, quit operation.

They quit, it was reported here, under union pressure for them to guarantee collection of the 40-cent-per-ton royalty on coal mined by small producers and loaded over their facilities.

Ramp owners say there is nothing in the contract existing between the operators and the United Mine Workers that requires them to collect for the union the royalty on coal produced by other mines and loaded into railway cars over their ramps.

It was not determined this week if the demand for royalty collection in this manner has been extended to all ramps.

One Floyd mine that had been inoperative since a destructive tippie fire several weeks ago is now back in operation. This is the Liberty Elkhorn Coal Company mine on Johns Branch, near Maytown, which is owned by the Reed interests. A new tippie was constructed, and work was resumed there about 10 days ago.

Damage caused by the Johns Branch branch, origin of which has not yet been determined, was placed at $50,000. The fire idled about 250 miners.

Social Security Date Of Visits Here Changed

A change in the date of visits to Prestonsburg of representatives of the Pikeville district Social Security office was announced this week.

The new date is Thursday of each week, at 10:30 a.m. In the past the Social Security representative has been here on Tuesdays. The representative will be at the State Unemployment office, as before.

Shot from 'Unloaded Gun' Breaks Floyd Boy's Leg

Leon Blackburn, 15-year-old Endicott schoolboy, is in St. Mary's hospital, Huntington, W. Va., his leg broken by a shot fired from an "unloaded" gun by a playmate, Eddie Ray Burchett, 11.

"I didn't know the gun was loaded," the smaller boy was quoted as saying. Young Blackburn, owner of the gun, had returned from a hunting trip and was said to have remarked when he put the gun down to ride his friend's bike that the weapon was not loaded.

On the bike, he began pedalling about the school playground. "I'm going to give you a punctured tire," Eddie said, pointing the gun.

It may be necessary to amputate the boy's leg, relatives said.

THREE RETAIN BOARD PLACES

Campbell and Stumbo Win in Hot Campaign; Osborne Is Unopposed

Administration forces won handsily in two hotly contested school board races in this county at Tuesday's election, and in a third were unopposed.

John M. Stumbo, Jr., incumbent of the Floyd County Board of Education, was re-elected over Jack Branham, Jr., in Educational Division No. 3, 1,520 votes to 1,063.

In Division No. 5 John E. Campbell, incumbent, polled 1,086 to 835 for James Arville Duff.

Dr. W. D. Osborne was unopposed for board member in Division No. 4.

The vote by precincts:

COOPER WINS; OTHER RACES NOT SETTLED

Floyd County Polls Record Vote Tuesday; State in GOP Column

Tuesday's national election saw the reelection of Dwight D. Eisenhower to the Presidency by a vote of, or near, landslide proportions.

The tremendous Eisenhower sweep of votes which carried even five states of the Solid South and the Democratic border states of Kentucky and West Virginia was reminiscent of the personal appeal of Franklin D. Roosevelt at the height of his popularity.

As the vote was only partially counted at noon Wednesday, Eisenhower had 57.8 per cent of the vote cast, the lead in 41 of the 48 states and had apparently corralled 457 electoral votes. That left Stevenson, the Democratic standard-bearer, only 74 electors.

As Kentucky fell into the Republican column in the Presidential race John Sherman Cooper, G.O.P. candidate for the unexpired Senate term, piled up a lead of 27,895 votes by Wednesday noon over his Democratic opponent, Ex-Governor Lawrence W. Wetherby. And the race between Senator Earle C. Clements, Democrat and Thurston B. Morton, Republican, was touch-and-go. With approximately half the state's precincts counted Clements' lead stood at 2,416.

Fighting for the lead after trailing a surprisingly strong Republican opponent, Scott Craft, for the Seventh district Congressional seat, Congressman Carl D. Perkins still found the going rough Wednesday afternoon. Leaders of both parties here indicated they expect Perkins to win but admit the final margin may be close, certainly closer than at any time in recent years.

In the Presidential race Eisenhower apparently has won in Louisiana, Texas, Tennessee, Virginia and Florida—all in the so-called "solid South".

The Democratic party maintained its edge in both houses of Congress. Taking advantage of ideal fall weather, Floyd countians flocked to the polls Tuesday in unprecedented numbers as a total of 14,788 persons cast their votes.

MOORE VICTIM IN CAR WRECK

Son of Former Judge Fatally Hurt in Crash Near Wayland Saturday

Melvin Moore, 21, son of Former Knott County Judge Ernest M. Moore, was fatally injured Saturday night in an auto wreck on Ky. 8, four miles above Wayland.

His brother, Wesley Moore, was injured but has been dismissed from Our Lady of the Way hospital, Martin. Melvin Moore died en route to a Huntington hospital.

State Police Trooper Delman Lafferty said the wreck occurred when a car driven by one of the men ran off the highway on a curve about 8 p.m., Saturday, then ran some 200 feet along a ditch and overturned, throwing Melvin Moore out of the vehicle.

Trooper Lafferty estimated the car was going about 80 miles an hour when it left the road.

A second Knott county wreck occurred about two miles south of Sassafras on Ky. 15 when a car driven by Millard Lucas, 24, ran off the road and hit a tree.

Lucas was admitted to Mount Mary hospital, Lexington, suffering from a broken left arm and other injuries. Emmett Kiser, 17, a passenger in the car, also was admitted to the hospital for treatment of a broken right arm and other injuries. The third victim, Erroll Adams, 22, was treated for cuts and bruises on his head and thigh and was released.

BERSERK MAN JAILED HERE

Veteran Assaults Two, Burns Home of Slone; Will Face Sanity Test

A sanity hearing was scheduled here Wednesday for Junior Cross, 25-year-old army veteran who went berserk at Ligon Monday.

In rapid succession he attacked two men, burned a home and terrorized a school, County Judge Henry Stumbo said.

First of all, according to Judge Stumbo, he struck his step-father, Will Slone, on the head with a bottle. Next, he broke the nose of Jerry Hall Mitchell, 22, with a brick. Then he burned the home of his step-father.

Members of the Slone family were away from home when the residence burned. They said all contents of the building, including about $2,000 in cash, were lost.

When Cross appeared on the Ligon school grounds, teachers herded the pupils inside the building and locked the doors.

Cross was brought to jail here by Deputy Sheriff J. D. Martin.

The Kentucky State Medical Society was organized in 1851.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

SAYS SHERIFF WAS RIGHT

Editor, The Times:
There's something wrong. Why would any man not want to pay our Sheriff his money for stamps he used in sending out tax notices because he put the little slips of paper, "Stick with Ike", in the letter—when this was the best and greatest advice our Sheriff could give to any man on business affairs?
Our Sheriff will be able to wear an extra star in his crown in the Judgment for telling mankind the right thing to do. I voted one time for two of these men who did not want to pay the Sheriff, and they are real good men, but are both nearsighted and can't see far-off as our Sheriff, Mr. Collins, wanted them to see.
So it's O. K. anyway, Sheriff, Ike is in by a landslide.
I am a friend to the greatest people on earth—Ike and the people of Floyd county, Ky. Our boys are at home and not in a bloody police action. Stick with Ike!
J. D. PAYNE,
Martin, Ky.

ANOTHER OPINION ON COURT DONATIONS

Editor, The Times:
To avoid any misinformation according to the two items on page one of last week's Floyd County Times, I quote from a letter dated July 16, 1951, written by Assistant Attorney General M. B. Hollifield:
Dear Sir:
"We have your letter of July 12, 1951 with respect to the validity of a contract or agreement between the Fiscal Court of your county and your Volunteer Fire Department."
"We call your attention to the provisions of Section 75.050 of Legislative Supplement to the Kentucky Revised Statutes which provides as follows:
"Any fire protection district created as provided in KRS 75.010, and any fire protection district or fire prevention district hereafter created pursuant to present or future law, and any municipal corporation, volunteer fire protection unit, may, through its governing body, make and enter into contracts with any other fire protection district, fire prevention district, municipal corporation, volunteer fire department, volunteer fire prevention unit, or volunteer fire protection unit, whether within the same county or within an adjoining county in an area adjacent to the boundary line between the counties, for the furnishing or receiving of fire protection services for all property within the confines of the area included in and covered by the contract or contracts, where such fire protection is not otherwise provided by some division of government or governmental agency. Similar contracts may be made and entered into between any and an adjoining county, or between any county and any one or more municipalities or districts, departments or units of the character above mentioned, located either within the county or within an adjoining county in an area adjacent to the boundary line between the counties. The personnel and equipment of a contracting party, in going to and returning from a fire, or in answering and responding to a false fire alarm or call, and while endeavoring to extinguish fire within the area covered by the contract, shall be deemed and hereby is declared to be engaged in the exercise of a governmental function."

"Under the provisions of the emphasized parts of this section which repeals, amends and re-enacts Section 75.050 Kentucky Revised Statutes, your county Fiscal Court can now enter into agreements with and make appropriations to volunteer fire units and other county or volunteer fire protection units adjacent to the county boundary for fire protection to the property of the county when it has no fire protection facilities of its own, and no contract for fire protection of its county property with any municipality of the county or a municipality of another county adjacent to its county boundary."

"All opinions of this department heretofore based upon Section 75.050, Kentucky Revised Statutes, are hereby withdrawn, and this opinion based upon said section as amended and as it is disclosed in the 1950 Legislative Supplement to the Kentucky Revised Statutes is substituted in lieu of the former opinions of this department."

What a shame that anyone would try to take advantage of those who put other people and their property ahead of their own lives—the few who have so fervently worked and contributed their money and time to build a fire Dept. who have never received one cent pay for their services, yet are willing to brave the cold of the mid-night air to try to save lives and property of others.

Betsy Layne Volunteer Fire Dept. is the best rural fire-fighting equipment in the state. To date the cost of the department is between eight and ten thousand dollars: county donations two thousand, Betsy Layne and nearby communities thirty-five hundred, and the few men who have put their effort into this department have paid the balance. Yet someone whose share of the $500 donated each year by the county amounts to less than one mill, or one-tenth of one cent, would try to say we obtained illegal donations from the Fiscal Court. I feel sure, now that they understand, they will feel differently.

In case of fire, day or night, call Betsy Layne 303 or 640. There will be no charge, however. Any donations to the Department will be greatly appreciated.

AROUND THE TRACK WITH GRANDPA

I have always heard about the joy of grandchildren, and I agree that they are wonderful. But did you ever try chasing one down hill, then uphill, then have to make a quick turn as he darted around you and somehow get those two left feet of yours entangled?

I rode herd on our One-Man Demolition Squad for a while on a recent afternoon, and felt right spry for a time. But on the fifth lap around the track I got a bit winded and began threatening, between gasps for breath, to use a switch. In fact, I armed myself with a reasonable facsimile of such a weapon and made threatening gestures. This served to drive the rampaging youngster back to safer ground, so I tossed it away. Then here he goes again, with Gramps in hot pursuit, vowing he'll have his ears for this one.

And what does the innocent—oh, dear!—baby do?

He reaches over and hands my switch back to me. Then he gives the stern, old disciplinarian a fleeting glimpse of his stern as he sails off downhill again.

To top it all, a friend who also has a grandchild reminds me that "we just live for our grandchildren." Which is alright. But what I mind is dying for them.

Kit Carson, the West's greatest trailmaker and Indian fighter, was born in Madison county in 1809.

Miss Patton, Mr. Ankebrant Wed

Officiating minister congratulates groom following recent Patton-Ankebrant wedding ceremony.

Marriage of Miss Patricia Diann Patton, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Harris Patton, Chicago, Ill., formerly of Prestonsburg, and Mr. Dale Ankebrant, son of Mrs. Laura Perez, of Chicago, was solemnized at 4 p.m., Oct. 20 at the home of the bride's mother.

The double-ring ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Noble, minister of the Presbyterian Church. Mr. Richard Stromberg served as best man, and Mrs. Marilyn Hapencamp was matron of honor.

For her wedding the bride wore a royal blue dress with black velvet trim and white accessories. Her bouquet was of white angel leaf and bridal fern, centered with a white orchid.

The bride's mother wore a grey dress, with brown accessories. Mother of the groom was dressed in medium blue with navy accessories. Both wore orchids.

The matron of honor wore a black sheath dress with yellow accessories. Her flowers were yellow tea roses.

The nuptials were witnessed by about 20 members of the two families, and the reception following at the home of Mrs. Patton was attended by 50 or more persons.

The newlyweds are now at home at 3419 Greenview ave., Chicago.

The bride attended Prestonsburg high school and was graduated from Lake View high school in Chicago. Mr. Ankebrant also was graduated from Lake View high, and is now attending mechanic school in Chicago.

More than 2,900 children of deceased Kentucky veterans are expected to be eligible for the Government grants to further their education, it is estimated.

Hallowe'en Vandals Captured By Sheriffs; Search on For Others

Vandalism on Hallowe'en and the preceding night at the new high school building here resulted in the capture by deputy sheriffs of two high school boys and a search for a third, Ottis D. Spurlock, principal of the school, said this week.

Two deputy sheriffs who had been employed to stay inside the building to protect the property identified two of the boys. The youths denied they were guilty.

On the first night, "Tick-Tack," the flag rope on the school ground was torn down, highway signs were collected and deposited on the grounds, and fresh concrete was poured at the front entrance to the school.

Next night, according to officers, two boys knocked out a door-glass and broke in the wooden panel of a door, using a piece of tile and a highway sign. They also broke out an overhead light, it was said.

The officers were blocked from immediate pursuit of the boys when they ran into a crash door which had been left locked.

The volunteer fire department of Betsy Layne, sponsored by the Men's Club, has received fiscal court help under this provision as it serves a fire district extending from Boldman to Ivel, it was said.

It was also said here this week that the Girl Scouts have never received any fiscal court contributions.

NEXT TO TOP HONOR TAKEN

By Gas Company's Fleet In 25th Safety Contest; 1,332,346 Miles Covered

National honors for outstanding driver safety performance were won by the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company as a result of participation in the 25th annual National Fleet Safety Contest conducted by the National Safety Council.

The Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company fleet of 75 vehicles was awarded second place in the Gas Industry Division of the contest at ceremonies in the La-Salle Hotel in Chicago, October 25.

Kentucky West Virginia operates over Floyd and neighboring counties of this part of Kentucky—an area which presents unusual road hazards.

The award was based on the company's performance from July 1955 through June 1956, a period during which it operated 1,332,346 miles and achieved the outstanding accident rate of only 0.67 accidents per 100,000 miles of operation.

Under contest rules, all accidents except those occurring when the company vehicle is properly parked, must be counted. Before winners are finally determined, their records are personally inspected by an auditor appointed by the National Safety Council.

More than 1,800 fleets operating in excess of 229,000 vehicles and traveling 4,887,000,000 miles competed in the contest, largest of its kind in the world.

Fire, Engulfing Valley's Forest, Fought by United Community

By HENRY P. SCALF

The first evidence that a big fire was loose came one night in late October when most of the farmers and loggers of the watershed area of Buffalo, Mare Creek and Caney were thinking of retiring for the night. The first observer saw a faint glow on the Buffalo ridge. It emanated from the Clark Branch where it heads against Ivy Creek.

It had been dry for weeks, the creek beds as dusty as the beaten road. To drop a match or build a fire outside to boil water for the family wash was to risk a woodland conflagration. If there was a sudden puff of wind no amount of hurried effort could stamp out the multiple little fires in the grass, in the fence corners and at the edges of the woods. The wind-borne sparks would light a blaze that would engulf fields and fences for miles.

The residents of the watershed area who gazed at the incipient glow over the Buffalo Fork ridges in late 1914 gave little thought to either timber or game preservation. Objects of their concern were the fences encircling the hill pastures and fields. Those long, zig-zag lines of split rails shielded their sheep from escape and guarded their crops from stray animals.

Farmers went to bed that night worrying about the morrow, wondering if the wind would rise, calculating how many hours or days would elapse before their fences would be endangered. Many got up in the night, stared at the demarcation between ridge and sky, saw that the glow now was a bit higher and brighter. Few slept well that night.

Day came and men went to their usual tasks, unless they lived in the Clark Branch section. Jim Henry Burchett owned several hundred acres of land there, almost completely surrounded by those split-rail fences, many of them made of yellow poplar by his father years ago. Those rails were "light as a feather" now and lay in beds of leaves. Burchett gathered up a tenant or two, called to his sons and neighbors and, with rakes, pitch-forks, hoes and an odd assortment of farm tools, climbed the hill. They did not know it then but many of them would not return, except for water or food, for days.

They climbed the hill, strung out in Indian file, throwing the leaves from a wide swath. Slowly they worked toward the ridge crest. Reaching that, they deployed right and left, chopped off dead tree branches and rolled decaying logs aside. An elderly man lagged behind the lengthening ring and fired the north side. The blaze erupted quickly, moved downhill, the burned area becoming a protective shield against "wild-cat" fires in the rear of the men ahead.

But you can "back fire a ring" just so far, because inevitably you near other property lines and the blaze you set to protect yourself will destroy a neighbor's fences, maybe a barn or other buildings. The Burchett crew stopped this procedure after a few hundred feet, began to clear out a ring toward the bottom so as to seal off the burning woods. Having done this, they rechecked the mountain, moved the ring east along the ridgecrest again. Their work was nearing an end as they expected to quit somewhere up Buffalo, near the Boyd farm.

Suddenly one of the lead men looked out into the smoke-filled air, stared intently toward the valley bottom. Others stopped their tasks, looked and listened. They could see a deep gray billow of smoke, rising and mushrooming below them. There were faint noises from crackling wood as it burned. All coming up under them from far down the mountain-side, "Great God!" a man ejaculated. "They've raked a ring around their fences and are firing above it. They'll burn us up."

Slow-moving action of a moment ago became fierce effort now as each man dug in at his work. The ring moved along and men, completing tasks behind, ran ahead to another. Suddenly a billow of smoke swept across the ridge and in a moment there was heard the rush of a mighty fire that created a propelling wind as it expanded and heated the air. No one spoke now, none looked up. They raked and chopped and dug. The ring was moving faster now and in a few moments they were far enough east of the on-rushing fire to stop. When they did there was a great wall of red flame that swept up and died on the ridge.

Landowners from farther up Buffalo Creek now joined the Burchett crew and some of the latter went home to eat and bring back food and water to the others. A man went down to the road, walked up the creek, seeking help and begging the farmers to rake a ring around their hill fences. Twilight came, and a man reappeared on the mountain with water and food. Sitting down on the ridge, leaning against giant trees, they ate. There was no water with which to wash. Many rubbed smoke-filled, red eyes with grimy hands.

After dark, relief came. News had spread in the bottom that the men from Clark Branch had raked a ring up the ridge to their section.

Bob, Jim, John and Beh Scalf, Golden Adkins, Ireland Thompson and others arrived with rakes, hoes and axes. At midnight a few of the oldesters of the original crew, urged by their fellows, went home. The ring reached the Nunery Fork. Here the widowed Rebecca Nunery lived. Her son, Sherman, joined them.

To protect the Nunery Fork farm, a ring was raked down a point to the creek. All were thinking of going home now. The fire was practically sealed off on lower Buffalo Creek. They climbed back to the ridge, intending to "walk the ring," to find danger spots or break-overs. Pausing to wind on the high ridge they saw a red spot in the woods farther up the creek. It grew bigger and moved out in all directions. How the fire had been ignited no one could say. Maybe a hunter with a bent to enjoy a forest blaze. Maybe it was a carelessly thrown match. No one knew.

They deployed in Indian fashion again, stringing along the ridge-crest and according to a quickly formed plan, took the ring around the Nunery farm and off to the creek again. Daylight came, then noon and evening again. Aunt Becky Nunery sent food and water. They were beyond the last fire now and had passed the Paw Paw Fork.

Eating there on the high mountain, they talked and rested. The fire had swept over to the far side of Buffalo Creek. They sat for an hour or more, a few dozing on the hard ground, one or two talking of fox-hunting, a few of crops. Several, mute and quiet, wanted only to rest before starting home.

But many demurred at going home. If they did the fire would move into Mare Creek, destroy the fences of their kinsmen. Debate broke out in snatches, each speaking a piece in a desultory fashion. Nothing had been decided when they saw a lantern bobbing up and down along the ridge several hundred yards away.

Half an hour later the lantern-bearer came into view followed by three residents of Mare Creek. They joined in the argument, begged for help to take the ring on up Buffalo. The Mare Creek landowners won. No matter how tired a man might be he couldn't resist an appeal to help save a lot of fence.

It was past midnight when they stopped again. Beh Scalf, who was to die a few weeks later in an Argentine wheat field, was sent to Mare Creek for water and food. The crew, now numbering a dozen men or more, fell down on beds of leaves just under the summit of Bedstead Mountain. Nearby was the evergreen-crested top of Pine Knob.

The ring stretched out west from where they sat, snaked along the ridgecrest for several miles. They argued over how long it was. Some said five miles, another affirmed they had raked, side rings and all, a protective path for eight. They hushed finally, a few fell asleep. All were waiting for water and food.

Soon perfect silence reigned on the little cluster of fire-fighters as they lay in the leaves. How long they lay there, every muscle and nerve weary with the struggle, no one remembered. A man yelled and they rose to their feet, groggy and leaning on their hoes and rakes. All eyes turned to stare at a sudden shower of wind-borne sparks coming from the other side of Buffalo.

Many thousands of those bits of fire sank into the deep canyon-like valley but others were carried almost to the feet of the watchers. It was but a question of time now until the whole mountain where they stood would be a blazing inferno. Quick consultation and they started to rake again, talking intermittently of the absolute necessity now of continuing the ring around the head of Mare Creek and through the Courtney Gap of Harmon's Branch on the river. They moved out around a great flat, under the smoke-crowned tops of Pine Knob and Bedstead Mountain.

Intent on their work no one saw the initial spark that set the upper reaches of the mountain afire. When they looked it seemed as if there must have been some giant explosion. Flames were sweeping up the mountain, carried by the rising wind. Each paused to watch, glimpsing through the flames and smoke at giant trees that soon toppled with showering balls of fire. Swiftly the red wall moved toward the crest of the mountain, the noise of exploding rocks at times like distant thunder.

It was the miracle of the capricious wind that saved them from continued effort. No one can anticipate its vagaries in a section ringed by mountain forest fires. It shifted, blowing almost at right angles to its former course. The fire came to a sudden stop in its mad sweep around the steep sides of the hill. Almost simultaneously with the change of wind every man sank to the ground. Now and then a squirrel, and a raccoon or two, scampered by, fleeing the holocaust behind.

Down in the bottom, Beh Scalf and two young boys he had recruited, started the long climb up Bedstead mountain. Each carried a miscellaneous assortment of food-filled buckets and jugs of water. Beh had two jugs in a sack thrown over his shoulders. His left hand carried a bucket, he swung a lantern with his right. The two youngsters tagged along, stumbling in the path, enjoying the adventure of dark places and sudden falls.

Beh and the two boys found the men asleep, curled up in grotesque and awkward positions in the leaves. All grumbled fiercely when they were awakened. They ate lustily, drank loudly from the gurgling jugs. The two boys scampered about on the outer edge of the group, chased each other in the deep leav- es. One heard an animal squeak, found a chipmunk seared and dying.

"You know I think it's going to rain," said Beh, peering at the sky. "No such luck," a man rejoined. They all stared through the tree tops. There was a cloud scudding hurriedly from the west.

"West winds bring rain," a man affirmed quietly. "Yep," and his voice rose a bit, "it's going to rain." The clouds thickened and from the outer ring a man observed quietly: "This is one that ain't going around."

Bob Scalf sat propped against a tree, humming a bit in a deep bass. "Sing us a song, Bob," a Buffalo neighbor urged. Others added to the request.

Bob fumbled slowly in his pockets, brought out a tuning fork. He always carried it with him, sang at parties and "stag" gatherings. He tapped the fork against a stone, listened to the vibrations. "What are you going to sing, Bob?" a man asked. There was no reply. The old singing master was listening to his fork.

Slowly the deep bass notes of "Rock of Ages" wafted on the mountain. Many joined in a moment, others hummed the ancient tune for all knew the words.

The song ended, and no one spoke until the magic of the old hymn faded a bit.

"You know what I think?" one said. "I think we are going to get wet."

They picked up their tools wearily and prepared to leave. Beh and the two boys retrieved the buckets and jugs. The first rain drops pelted the dry leaves. "You know," a man said proudly, "nary a farmer lost a rail of fence." "Not a rail has burned," a companion agreed. As he spoke, a native pheasant rushed across the bench and disappeared in the darkness. "You know, though, somehow I think these big fires make the huntin' bad."

There was a crash upon the mountain and a billow of smoke and sparks as a tree fell. "I think, too, there's an awful lot of timber wasted," he added. "Quit worrying about the timber," he was told. "There'll be timber when we ain't around. But I'm like you about the huntin'. There just ain't much game for a long time after a big woods fire."

They were breaking up now, some going back along the flat to take the ridge home, others moved cautiously in the pale light down the steep slope of Bedstead Mountain.

Doctors To Offer Free Diabetes Tests, Week of November 11

Lives of over 800 diabetic Kentuckians have been saved for happy, normal living as a result of the free diabetes tests offered by physicians members of the Kentucky State Medical Association. It was reported this week by Carlisle Morse, M.D., Louisville, K.S.M.A. Diabetes Committee chairman, as he announced plans for the state's sixth annual diabetes detection drive to be held from November 11 to 17.

During the drive, which is held as a part of National Diabetes Week in cooperation with the American Diabetes Association, every doctor of medicine, hospital or laboratory in the state is asked to give a free urine sugar test to all persons requesting it.

"Approximately 160,000 diabetes tests have been given free during the drives since they began in 1951," Dr. Morse said. "The tests re-assured the great majority of these people that they did not have diabetes. Slightly more than one out of 50 were advised to have further checks made because the individual test showed they might have the disease."

"Some of the persons whose subsequent tests showed they definitely had diabetes included people who had previously been diagnosed as diabetic," he said. "After exclusion of these, it was found that 806 new cases of diabetes had been discovered. With effective, simple control measures now available, these people can live virtually normal lives."

"Because the unknown diabetic is the one usually in greatest danger, we urge all Kentuckians to take the free tests during the week of November 11 to 17."

Ground hay is not recommended for dairy cow rations. A fat test of milk dropped sharply when cows were on all ground roughage. Apparently the ground hay moves too fast through the cow's system.

For out of the corporate funds of the City by monthly payments into the Revenue Fund the same as other income and revenues of said combined and consolidated public project, and shall then be apportioned as other income and revenues thereof are required by the ordinance to be apportioned among the various funds.

SECTION 10. That said City hereby covenants and agrees with the holder or holders of the bonds herein authorized to be issued, and any of them, that it will faithfully and punctually perform all duties with reference to said combined and consolidated public project required by the Constitution and laws of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, including the making and collecting of reasonable and sufficient rates for services rendered and facilities afforded, and will segregate the income and revenues and make application thereof into the respective funds, as provided by this ordinance; and the City hereby irrevocably covenants, binds and obligates itself not to sell, lease, mortgage, or in any manner dispose of the ownership of said properties, including any and all extensions and additions that may be made thereto, until all of the bonds herein authorized or permitted to be issued shall have been paid in full, both principal and interest, and the City further covenants and agrees with the holders of said bonds to maintain in good condition and continuously operate said waterworks and sewer system as a combined and consolidated public project, and to charge and collect such rates and charges for services rendered and facilities afforded thereby, so that the gross income and revenues will be sufficient at all times to make the prescribed payments into the several special funds, as hereinbefore provided, as well as to pay the costs of operation, repair and maintenance of the same and sufficient to produce and maintain net annual revenues (as hereinafter defined) equal to at least one and one-half times the maximum amount required in any fiscal year to pay maturing principal of and interest on all outstanding bonds; and, further, that said City will not at any time reduce its rates and charges for service if (a) the existing rates are producing net annual revenues equal to less than one and one-half times such maximum annual principal and interest requirements of said outstanding Waterworks Revenue Refunding Bonds dated August 1, 1944 and of the bonds herein authorized or ranking on a parity with the bonds herein authorized in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance; or (b) if the proposed reduced rates, in the written opinion of an independent consulting engineer or firm of consulting engineers of national reputation, will produce net annual revenues less than one and one-half times such maximum annual requirements.

The City further covenants that so long as any of the bonds herein authorized to be issued, or bonds ranking on a parity therewith in accordance with this ordinance, are outstanding and unpaid, the City will continuously require that all property owners in the City owning improved properties located on streets served by sewer lines constituting a part of the combined and consolidated public project shall either be required to connect such properties to said sewer line and pay the applicable sewer charges or to pay such charges as long as such sewer lines are available to be connected to such properties even though such property holders may fail or refuse to connect thereto.

SECTION 11. The bonds authorized and permitted to be issued hereunder and from time to time outstanding, shall not be entitled to priority one over the other in the application of the income and revenues regardless of the time, or times, of their issuance, it being the intention of this City Council that there shall be no priority among the bonds authorized or permitted to be issued under the provisions of this Ordinance, regardless of the fact that they may be actually issued and delivered at different times.

Said City hereby reserves the right and privilege of issuing additional bonds from time to time payable from the income and revenues of said combined and consolidated public project, ranking on a parity with the bonds herein authorized in order to pay the costs of further extensions, betterments and improvements to said combined and consolidated public project, provided that before any such additional bonds ranking on a parity may be so issued, there shall have been procured and filed with the City Clerk a statement by an independent State-licensed Certified Public Accountant not in the regular employ of the City, reciting the opinion, based upon necessary investigation, that the average net annual revenues of said combined and consolidated public project for twelve consecutive months out of the eighteen months preceding the issuance of such additional bonds, including the amount of increased net annual revenues by reason of the extensions, betterments and improvements to said combined and consolidated public project, the cost of which is to be paid through the issuance of such additional bonds, was equal to at least one and one-half times the maximum amount that will become due in any fiscal year thereafter for both principal and interest with respect to the bonds then outstanding and also the additional bonds then proposed to be issued; provided further that prior to the issuance of such additional parity bonds, contracts for the immediate construction or acquisition of such extensions, betterments and improvements shall have been entered into. The interest payment dates for any such additional bonds shall be semi-annually on May 1 and November 1 of each year, and the principal maturities of such additional bonds shall be November 1 of any year in which any such principal is scheduled to become due. "Net annual revenues" as herein used are defined as gross revenues less operating expenses, which shall include the salaries, wages, cost of maintenance and operation, materials and supplies, pumping costs and insurance, as well as all other items which are normally and regularly included as operating expenses under recognized accounting practices, exclusive of allowances for depreciation. The amount of gross revenues aforesaid shall be adjusted for the purpose of the foregoing computations, to reflect any revision in the schedule of rates and charges being imposed at the time of the issuance of any such additional bonds and also to reflect the amount of additional estimated net annual revenues to be realized through the extensions, betterments and improvements financed through the issuance of such additional bonds, such adjustments to be based upon certification by an independent consulting engineer or firm of independent consulting engineers of national reputation. So long as any of said Waterworks Revenue Refunding Bonds dated August 1, 1944 are outstanding, the annual payments required to be made for account of said bonds shall be included in making the foregoing computations.

The additional parity bonds (sometimes herein referred to as bonds "permitted" to be issued), the issuance of which is restricted and conditioned by this section, shall be understood to mean bonds payable from the income and revenues of said combined and consolidated public project ranking on a parity with the bonds herein specifically authorized, and shall not be deemed to include other obligations, the security and source of payment of which from the Sinking Fund, are subordinate and subject to the priority of the bonds herein authorized or permitted to be issued hereunder.

SECTION 12. It is hereby covenanted and agreed that so long as any of the bonds hereby authorized are outstanding, the City will carry for the benefit of the holders of the bonds adequate fire and windstorm insurance (with extended coverage) on all buildings and structures of the said combined and consolidated public project which are subject to loss through fire or windstorm, and will carry adequate public liability insurance, and will carry for the benefit of the holders of the bonds, insurance of the kinds and in the amounts normally carried by private companies in the operation of similar properties in Kentucky. All moneys received for losses under any of such insurance policies, except public liability, shall be paid into the Depreciation Fund of 1956 and such payments shall not reduce the amounts otherwise required to be paid into said Fund. Disbursements of such proceeds shall be made in the same manner and for the same purposes as are other disbursements made from the said Depreciation Fund; provided further that if, following any such insured loss, any principal or interest payment is due and there are no other funds available for such payments, such insurance proceeds must be first applied to the defaulted payment or payments.

SECTION 13. That any holder of said bonds, or any of the coupons, may either at law or in equity, by suit, action, mandamus, or other proceedings, enforce and compel performance by said City and its officers and agents of all duties imposed or required by law or this Ordinance in connection with the operation of said properties, including the making and collecting of sufficient rates and segregation of the income and revenues and the application thereof in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance.

If there be default in the payment of the principal of or interest on any of said bonds, then, upon the filing of suit by any holder of said bonds or of any of the coupons, any court having jurisdiction of the action may appoint a receiver to administer said combined and consolidated public project on behalf of said city, with power to charge and collect rates and charges for the services and facilities provided by said combined and consolidated public project sufficient to provide for the payment of any bonds or obligations outstanding against said project, and the interest thereon, and for the payment of the expenses of operation and maintenance, and to apply the income and revenues in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance, and of the applicable statutes of Kentucky.

SECTION 14. The City hereby covenants and agrees that it will cause proper books and accounts adapted to the combined and consolidated municipal waterworks and sewer system to be kept and will cause the books and accounts to be audited annually by an independent firm of Certified Public Accountants and will make generally available to the holders of any of the bonds the balance sheet and the profit and loss statement of the combined and consolidated public project as certified by such accountants. The holders of any of said bonds shall have the right, at all reasonable times, to inspect the combined and consolidated public project and the records, accounts and data of the City relating thereto. The City also shall prepare and furnish to any bondholders requesting same, to said fiscal agent of the City in the issuance of the bonds herein authorized, and to the original successful purchaser of the bonds, monthly earnings statements of the combined and consolidated public project.

SECTION 15. It is hereby determined, based upon construction bids received, upon the recommendations of the Engineer and the Fiscal Agents, that it is necessary to offer for public sale at this time the entire $560,000 of bonds authorized by this ordinance. That the Mayor and the City Clerk are hereby authorized and directed to reasonably advertise in The Courier-Journal, a newspaper published in Louisville, Kentucky, and of general circulation throughout the state of Kentucky, the public sale of said $560,000 of bonds, such publication to be made at least once not less than seven days prior to the date specified in the "Notice of Bond Sale" which date will be the date of a session of this City Council to be duly held. Said "Notice of Bond Sale" shall require bidders to bid not less than face amount plus accrued interest on the $18,000.00 of bonds numbered 1-18, maturing 1958-63, and also to bid not less than 95% of par (face value), plus accrued interest, on the remaining $542,000 of said bonds numbered 19-560 and maturing 1963-91, and to stipulate in their bids one or more interest rates of their own choosing in multiples of 1/4% only, not exceeding 2 3/4% per annum on said $18,000 bonds numbered 1-18 and not exceeding the legal maximum net interest cost to the City of 6% per annum on the remaining $542,000 of bonds numbered 19-560. No more than four different interest rates may be specified. The right to reject any and all bids is expressly reserved.

SECTION 16. The City Treasurer shall be bonded with regard to his responsibility of issuing checks drawn upon the "City of Prestonsburg Combined and Consolidated Public Project Construction Account of 1956", by a surety company qualified to do business in the State of Kentucky, in the amount of at least $50,000.00, and the expense of said bond shall be regarded and paid out of said Construction Account, as a part of the construction cost; provided such bond may be discontinued upon the Certification of the Engineer having charge of the supervision and construction to the effect that the extensions, betterments and improvements have been completed, provided any balance then remaining in said construction account has been transferred to the Sinking Fund. Said $50,000 bond shall be in addition to any other bond of said City Treasurer required by law.

SECTION 17. The provisions of this Ordinance shall constitute a contract between the said City of Prestonsburg and the holders of the bonds herein authorized to be issued, and after the issuance of any of the bonds, no change, variation, or alteration of any kind of the provisions of this ordinance shall be made in any manner except as herein provided until such time as all of said bonds issued hereunder and the interest thereon have been paid in full.

SECTION 18. That all ordinances, resolutions and orders, or parts thereof in conflict herewith are, to the extent of such conflict, hereby repealed, and it is hereby specifically ordered and provided that any proceedings heretofore taken for the issuance of other bonds payable or secured in any manner by all or any part of the income and revenues of said combined and consolidated public project, or any part thereof, and which have not heretofore been issued and delivered are hereby revoked and rescinded and none of such other bonds shall be issued and delivered; provided that nothing in this Ordinance shall be construed to impair in any way the vested rights and priorities in favor of the outstanding City of Prestonsburg 3 1/2% Waterworks Revenue Refunding Bonds dated August 1, 1944.

SECTION 19. If any of the officers whose signatures appear on the bonds or coupons cease to be such officers before delivery of the bonds, the signatures shall nevertheless be valid for all purposes the same as if the officers had remained in office until delivery, as provided in KRS 58.040.

SECTION 20. It is hereby certified that the management of the municipal waterworks and sewer systems of the City are and will be vested in the Utility Commission of the city so long as any of the bonds herein authorized or ranking on a parity herewith, are outstanding.

SECTION 21. If any section, paragraph, clause, or provision of this ordinance shall be held invalid, the invalidity of such section, paragraph, clause, or provision shall not affect any of the remaining provisions of this Ordinance.

SECTION 22. That this Ordinance shall take effect from and after its passage, approval and publication as provided by law, and the City Clerk is hereby authorized and directed to file a certified copy of this Ordinance with the aforesaid municipal Commission having jurisdiction over the waterworks and sewer systems of the City. (6) The City shall pay the cost of securing bonds for Commission members from a surety company qualified to do business in Kentucky, and said members shall execute bond in the amount of $5,000.00, conditioned upon the faithful performance of their official duties.

(7) Each member of the Commission shall qualify by taking the oath provided for by Section 228 of the Kentucky Constitution.

Changes in such time and place of meeting shall be made known to the public as far in advance as practicable. Any special meeting may be called by the chairman or by any two members of the Commission but if such special meeting is called, written notice shall be sent to all members of the commission by the chairman. Except as otherwise specifically provided, the Commission shall establish its own by-laws and rules of procedure.

SECTION 5—(1) After the Commission has been appointed and qualified and said City shall have issued its Water and Sewer Revenue Bonds dated November 1, 1956, or a subsequent date, the Commission shall thereafter have charge of the general supervision and control of the operation and maintenance of the said combined and consolidated public project of the City, the municipal gas system and all other utilities of the City for the use of which service fees or rentals will be charged. The Commission shall employ a utilities system superintendent (herein called "superintendent"), who shall be qualified by training and experience for the general superintendence of the acquisition, improvement and operation of said project and of said other utilities. His salary shall be fixed by the Commission and the cost thereof shall be allocated equitably by the Commission to the combined and consolidated public project and to the other utilities of the City. The superintendent shall be removable by the Commission for inefficiency, neglect of duty, misfeasance or malfeasance in office. He shall be required to execute a bond, in a sum to be determined and approved by the Commission, conditioned upon the faithful performance of his official duties. The cost of the bond may be charged as an expense of the operation of the system.

(2) Within the limits of the funds available therefore, all powers of the City to improve, operate and maintain said project and utilities and all powers necessary or convenient thereto shall be exercised on behalf of the City by the Commission and the superintendent, respectively. Subject to the provision of applicable ordinances, bonds or contracts, the Commission shall determine programs and make all plans and determinations as to improvements, rates and financial practices, and may establish such rules and regulations as it deems necessary or appropriate to govern the furnishing of water, sewer, gas and other services.

The superintendent shall have charge of all actual construction and operation of the said public project and of the various other utilities systems and the enforcement and execution of all rules, regulations, programs, plans and decisions made or adopted by the Commission.

(4) The superintendent shall appoint all employees and fix their duties and compensation, subject to and with the approval of the Commission. The title to all property purchased or acquired shall be taken in the corporate name of the City.

(5) The superintendent shall let all contracts, subject to the approval of the Commission, but may without such approval obligate the various utilities systems on all purchase orders up to an amount to be fixed by the Commission, not to exceed $500. All contracts shall be in the corporate name of the Commission and shall be signed by the superintendent and attested by the chairman of the Commission. The superintendent shall make and keep or cause to be made and kept full and proper books and records, subject to the supervision and direction of the Commission and the provisions of applicable ordinances, bonds and contracts.

(6) That the Commission shall keep a complete and accurate record of all meetings and actions taken, and of all receipts and disbursements, and shall make reports of the same to the City Council at stated intervals, not to exceed one year. SECTION 9—That if any section, paragraph, clause or provision of this ordinance shall be held invalid, the invalidity of same shall not affect any of the remaining provisions of this ordinance.

SECTION 10—That all ordinances, resolutions, orders, or parts thereof, in conflict with the provisions of this ordinance, but only to the extent of such conflict, are hereby repealed.

E.K.M.C. MEETING

Officials of the ten-team Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference will hold their annual fall meeting in Pikeville, Sunday, November 18, at 1:30 p.m. The main topic will be the selection of the all-Conference football team, awarding the championship to Pikeville and scheduling the basketball games for loop contests.

CAMPBELL NAMED HEAD

"Copper-John" Campbell, Wayland's basketball coach for the past nine years, has been elected president of the Floyd County Coaches Association for the 1956-57 school year.

COLEMAN GONE AGAIN

"King Kelly" enrolled at Eastern State College in September to cast his basketball fortunes with the Maroons, who were counting on him as a freshman guard, but last Monday the ex-Wayland all-time scoring great packed his clothes and left the Richmond campus. Rumor has it that a N.C.A.A. representative had questioned Coleman considerably about West Virginia U.'s alleged aid to him while in high school.

WE GOOFED

In last week's column we stated that the 1957 58th district tournament will be held in the Betsy Layne gym, but this is incorrect for the present. It is Auxier's turn for the tournament under the rotation method used by the Floyd county school system.

It is Auxier's decision to hold the tournament where it sees fit since it is the host school.

NOVEMBER 24th

In answer to several queries, the Kentucky-Tennessee football game is set for Knoxville, Saturday, November 24th. And tickets are still available at the U. K. ticket office, or at least they were last week.

SCHOOLS SET FOR NET PLAY

1956-57 Hardwood Slate In Region Is Under Way; Wayland Defends Title

The majority of non-playing football schools in the 15th region have already opened their 1956-57 basketball seasons, and the remaining few will hit the hardwood next week-end.

Coached changes have been plentiful. One new school Mullins, high in Pike county, will enter competition for the first time, and another Falher-Dunbar in this county, has given up the sport.

Betsy Layne, runner-up in the 58th district last season, has already recorded an 85-69 win over Hellier in its remodeled gymnasium, and Prestonsburg, gymless for the past four years, will have to wait another season for its 4,000-seat, $270,000 structure.

Warfield is sitting out a suspension from the Kentucky High School Athletic Association until January 1, and three early-season tournaments are scheduled to get under way soon.

Johns Creek high in Pike county expects to have its new gymnasium ready for season games, and Mullins high will use the Pikeville College floor for its home games.

The nine-team Floyd county pre-season tournament will open in Maytown, November 27, and run through December 1. "Copper-John" Campbell's Wayland Wasps are defending champions of the pre-season affair as well as the 58th district and the 15th region.

On the coaching scene, the 59th district had the biggest turnover. Ira Adams has replaced Claude Mills at Inez; Paul Watts is the new mentor in Louisa; Johnny Marcum fill in for Clyde Copley, who has been elevated to the principalship, an d'Van Lear has Howard Ramey for the departed Billy Conley.

In the 60th District, Shelby Linville, the ex-U. K. forward, has moved over to Sandy Hook from Vanceburg to fill the shoes of Tom Adkins. At Oil Springs Rusty Yates was hired after Herman Bolin moved to Millersburg Military Institute.

The 59th district had three changes. Prestonsburg and Auxier high switched coaches, with Jack Frost Wells moving in from Auxier and Bill Goebel, Jr., going to Auxier. Wells' team at Auxier last year won 18 games, the greatest number in the school's history.

In addition to handling football and baseball Wilbur "Shorty" Jamerson will also be the basketball tutor at Wheelwright high. He succeeds Hugo Miller.

Belfry will have a new mentor in Jim Hutchinson, ex-Lafayette and Transylvania College ace, since Zeb Blankenship has moved down-state.

DOG'S COAT

A dog's coat reaches its best texture about September 21, and is heaviest in the latter part of December. It begins to shed in April, reaching its shedding peak in the summer.

Pikeville Wins EKMC Title; Paintsville Mauls P'burg

Pikeville's Panthers successfully defended their Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference high school football crown by dropping Jenkins 19-6 in their final loop game last week-end.

Bobby Phillips' team finished league play with five wins and one tie, while nearest rival Paintsville trailed by five points under the Dickinson system of rating which the conference uses in selecting a champ.

Pikeville has one regular game left next Friday night with the Corbin Redhounds at Corbin.

In other season finals, Hazard and Fleming battled to a 7-7 tie; Frankie Patton, who scored three touchdowns and three extra points, and the Paintsville Tigers mauled Prestonsburg 34-6 in their 31st meeting; and Williamson, West Virginia, outlasted Belfry, 26-20.

Jim Caudill's Hazard Bulldogs sent halfback Aubry Combs over from the three-yard line in the third period to tie Fleming, 7-7, after Fleming had taken a 7-0 first half command on Donnie Skaggs touchdown and James Hill's point after.

By virtue of the tie, Hazard nosed out Fleming for third spot in the final league standings. All-state halfback H. L. Justice, quarterback Larry Phillips and Buddy Elkins each registered a six-pointer in Pikeville's eighth year. They have lost one and tied one.

Paintsville's Bowl-bound Tigers completely mastered their arch-rivals in their 31st meeting as Patton, quarterback Jim Conley and defensive whiz Jim Cyrus were the stars. In winning by the most convincing margin in the past ten years, Paintsville broke a seven-year drought against the Blackcats, who closed their first losing season since 1950 in winning three, losing 5 and tying one.

Following an exchange of fumbles in the first three minutes, the Tigers went to work as sophomore fullback Joe Napier and Patton reeled off 46 yards in 6 plays to the two-yard stripe from which point Patton dived over. Jim Wells plunged for the point after and a 7-0 lead.

On the ensuing kick-off, end Paul Sheets recovered the first of three Prestonsburg fumbles on the Blackcat 20. Conley then whipped a 15-yard aerial to Wells on the five, and Patton jaunted for a 14-0 Tiger margin.

The Blackcats came soaring back midway the second period on a 13-play 65-yard march spearheaded by the passing of freshman quarterback James Allen to Lowell McKenzie, who teamed for four completions and a 30-yard six-pointer in the drive. Then on the first play after the kick-off, J. Conley zipped around end for a 61-yard trek and a 20-6 halftime lead.

In the final half the Tigers added insult to injury as Patton and Wells scored on runs of 10 and 9 yards respectively and each gathered in an extra point.

Prestonsburg suffered from an injury epidemic in the face of the strongest team Paintsville has produced in years.

Friday, three of the loop's ten teams will be involved in "post-season" Bowl games.

Peak years for grouse hunting are those ending in 1 and 2, and the bad years are those ending in 6 and 7.

The eyes of Central and Eastern Kentucky high school football fans will center on Paintsville, Friday night, where two of Kentucky's leading prep teams, Madison-Model and Paintsville, will clash in the sixth annual Big Sandy Bowl.

Aside from the "Bowl" game itself, the Paintsville Junior Women's League, sponsors of the gala post-season attraction, has also scheduled parades, band festivals, beauty contests and other pageantry throughout the day.

Both participating teams have won nine games, but the Tigers dropped a 12-7 decision to Pikeville, three weeks ago. Roy Kidd's eleven breezed through the Central Kentucky Conference for its first league championship.

Madison Model has romped over Cynthia, 25-14; Frankfort, 13-7; Mt. Sterling, 40-0; Irvine, 39-20; Danville, 19-6; Lancaster, 38-0; Nicholasville, 40-0; Elkhorn, 44-6, and Versailles, 27-19. The Purples have racked up 285 points for 31.5 points per game, and has limited the opposition to 72 points.

Paintsville, enjoying its best season in seven years is making its first appearance in the Bowl. Walter Brugh in his first season at head coach has seen his charges overrun: McKell, 32-0; Whitesburg, 32-14; M. C. Napier 42-0; Elkhorn City, 53-0, and Prestonsburg, 34-6.

The Tigers have piled up 298 markers, good for a 29.8 per game average, and have held the opposition to 58 points. Thus both teams appear about even "paper-wise" on offense and defense.

Each team has a scoring wiz in a halfback, Allen Hughes of Model and Frankie Patton of the Tigers. Patton, the leading scorer in all Eastern Kentucky, has reeled off 21 touchdowns and 10 extra points for a total of 136. The five-foot, five-inch senior, weighs 150-pounds and is lightning fast.

In addition to Patton, Brugh will start Jim Wells, a 5-5, 155-pound junior at the other halfback spot and sophomore Joe Napier, a 150-pounder, at fullback.

Jim Conley, touted as the best all-around quarterback in the mountains, is the biggest back on the squad at six-foot-two and 185 pounds. He is a capable passer, kicker and ball handler. Although hampered by a bruised right arm midway the season, Conley returned to top form last Friday in leading his mates past Prestonsburg.

The Paintsville line will average about 170 pounds with defensive guard Jim Cyrus the heaviest at 275 pounds. Cyrus, a three year regular, has been the mainstay of the defense throughout the season.

Other starters in the line will be ends Paul Sheets, 150-pound senior, and Gerald Hitchcock, 170 pound senior; tackles, Bill Hensley and Paul Pelphrey, who tip the scales at 200 pounds; Roy Conley, 210-pound sophomore, and Stanley Knight, 190-pound senior alternate on offense and defense.

Late Justice To Be Honored

Frankfort, Nov. 5 (Spl.) — The 100th anniversary of the birth of one of Kentucky's and the nation's most brilliant jurists will be observed at Louisville this month.

The late U. S. Supreme Court Justice Louis D. Brandeis was born in that city Nov. 13, 1856.

Chief Justice Earl Warren, Justice Stanley Reed, a Kentuckian, and Former Justice Sherman Minton have been invited by the University of Louisville to attend the observance on Brandeis' birthday.

The Kentuckian was appointed to the Supreme Court by President Woodrow Wilson and served 23 years.

The centennial of Brandeis' birth has been honored by celebrations across the United States — several of them at the Harvard Law School and at Waltham, Mass., the site of Brandeis University.

His relentless logic and vision distinguished the Supreme Court. Most of his pronouncements while on the high tribunal were written as minority opinions, but he lived to see many of his ideas become the law of the land.

Sawdust Mulch Is Best In UK Raspberry Test

Sawdust as a mulch produced the highest yield of Lathan raspberries in a UK Agricultural Experiment Station horticulture department test this year.

The yield was 43.44 pints average per plot for the sawdust. Ground corncobs as a mulch came close, producing 42.63 pints average. Straw produced 38.94 pints per plot and the unmulched plot, 34.50 pints, the testers said.

The experiments noted that ample rainfall in the right period and mid-June through July, "minimized the benefits which usually come from a mulching practice."

The world's record bluegill was caught in Alabama in 1950. Weight 4 pounds 12 ounces.

Honors Extended Three Kentuckians

Frankfort, Nov. 5 (Spl.) — Three Kentuckians have been honored by the State Association of Rural Electric Co-operatives.

Cited for their outstanding contributions to the rural electric co-operative program in Kentucky were the late Ben Kilgore, former executive secretary of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation; Barry Bingham, president of The Courier-Journal, The Louisville Times and WHAS, and James B. Kelly, professor of agricultural engineering at the University of Kentucky.

Mrs. Kilgore, director of Kentucky's State Parks, was presented the plaque paying recognition to her husband.

County Farmers Receive $411.30 Soil Payments

Wm. Hicks, chairman of the Floyd County ASC Committee, announced this week that they had made payments to county county farmers of a total of $411.30 in 1956 acreage reserve soil bank payments.

Mr. Hicks said that all farmers who anticipate entering the 1957 Acreage Reserve or Conservation Reserve Programs should contact their local County ASC Office well ahead of their 1957 crop year farm planning operations so that they may secure all the benefits of the programs that are available.

Tarpon average 60 pounds in weight, but 300-pounders are on record.

SHOP TALK

By Mrs. Eleanor Gesner Goble

"We have put the best ten years of our lives into the McLean County News and its services to McLean county. We are much older, much grayer, much slower and more worn-out than when we came here. The high ambition and hope we had when we came are burned out and gone. A little of it wrapped up in each paper you have read and cast away."

"We had hoped that the years of urgent day-and-night effort would find us nearer to our goal for McLean county and the McLean County News."

"Instead we find that indifference, selfishness and ugliness have defeated us many times. There is still a great deal to be done—if we can find courage and strength for another ten years."

—McLean County News, Calhoun

"Newspapers get blamed a lot for the unfavorable publicity they print. But I wonder if these folks who complain have ever stopped to think that it isn't the newspaper's fault, any more than it is the mirror's fault when you see something there that you don't like. A newspaper is a mirror of the community and the world. Usually a fellow should blame himself and not the newspaper when he gets in trouble."

CONGRATULATIONS AND GOOD WISHES

The Providence Journal-Enterprise is now in its 55th year. Editor and Publisher J. L. Bradley bought it in 1929. Three times it has been voted "best all-around weekly in Kentucky" by the Kentucky Press Association. The Providence Enterprise was established in 1902; consolidated with The Dixon Journal in 1943.

The Shively Newspaper has been bought by Leonard T. Bean, Elizabethtown. Mr. Bean owns the Bean Publishing Company which publishes "Inside the Turret", a Fort Knox newspaper, which has its office and plant in Elizabethtown.

The Kentucky-Virginia Post, Whitesburg, has ceased publication.

Mrs. Overton Williams, Louisville, has subscribed to The Elizabethtown News for more than 60 years.

ON THE LIGHTER SIDE

Editor Jack Hord of The News-Journal, Campbellsville, fussed and fumed when a new baby girl presented herself to Linotype Operator Dick Shaw and wife, Carla, on a Tuesday.

"It's too hard on us all to have you or anybody off on Monday or Tuesday, and nobody can ever take time off on Wednesday," Editor Hord declared.

Guess when Editor Hord's appendix decided it wanted out. Yet—the emergency operation was performed on Wednesday—press day.

And who pulled the "fowl" trick on Adair County News Editor Louis DeRosett, Columbia? While he was away one evening, a character or characters snuck a couple of hens and a duck into his basement. Next sun-up he waked to the tune of cackles and quacks—and he's been getting a number of phone calls asking the price of eggs.

4-H NEWS

By ROBERT M. JONES Ass't County Agent

October 31 ends the 1956 club year, and to sum things up, the final act is the collection of project record books, and turning them into the county Extension office to be judged and recorded.

Of the total enrollment of any one club it is usually expected about 10 per cent of the enrollment will actually complete and turn in record books on their project at the end of the club year. To have all members of a club turn in their record books is an unusual thing.

Mrs. Mitchell Dotson and her small club of eleven members at Rough and Tough did this year. Each member not only completed his project, but submitted a record book. This is certainly a commendable achievement for a club, especially since this was the first year they had done 4-H Club work in that school.

Mrs. Dotson is teaching Arnett school this year, and because of her excellent leadership it is expected that the Arnett school will do some outstanding work in their 4H Club this year.

The Association's program of work for the year was planned and committees were appointed for the different activities for the year. Recreation followed the adjournment of the business meeting.

Stop In and See Us About Your Insurance Problems

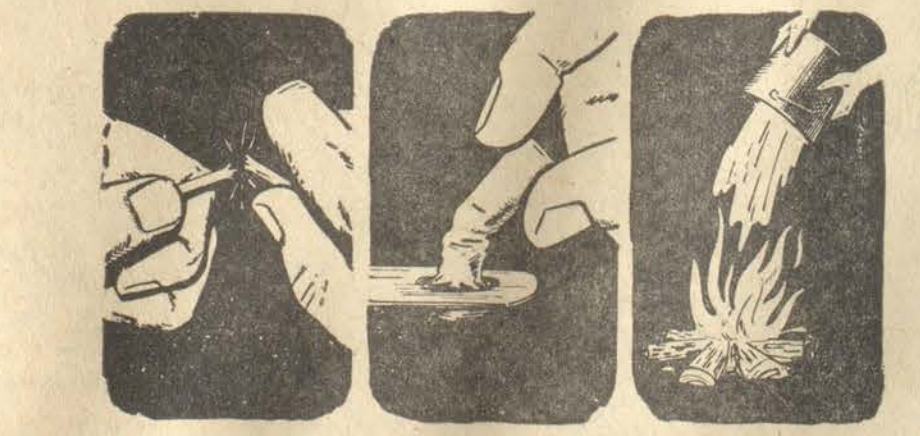

Take a REAL Look at WHAT FOREST FIRES COST YOU!

1. TIMBER? Of course, this is a major loss. And last year alone almost 10 million acres were burned—an area larger than the states of Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island combined—comprising enough board feet of lumber to build 50,000 five-room homes!

3. DOLLARS? It costs money to fight fires—especially those in remote areas. Last year the nation had to spend 70 million dollars to fight forest fires—9 out of 10 of which were preventable.

5. THE CAUSE? 9 out of 10 forest fires—and last year we had an average of nearly 500 per day—are started by well-meaning but careless people who just plain didn't think. So please—any time you're out of doors, be extra careful with matches, smokes—any fire. Use your ash tray when driving. Drown your fire when camping. Make sure every spark is out—dead out!

2. WATER? Yes, surprising as it may seem, forest fires destroy water! Tree leaves and natural humus of the forest act as sponges, soaking up water and releasing it gradually. In burned areas, most of the water is lost in flood runoff—endangering property and lives.

4. RECREATION? Forest fires blacken our landscapes, clog and pollute good fishing streams, kill off wildlife and ruin beautiful vacation spots.

Airlines Must Improve Service Official Says

Frankfort, Nov. 5 — Three major airlines were criticized on certain aspects of their commercial air service in Kentucky at a Civil Aeronautics Board hearing held recently in Washington, D. C.

State Aeronautics Commissioner John A. Diskin told the board that American, Eastern and Trans World airlines could definitely improve air service in the Commonwealth from Standiford Field, Louisville, Greater Cincinnati Airport, in Boone county, and Blue Grass Field, Lexington.

During the "Great Lakes - Southeast Service" case, Diskin said limited or non-stop service should be increased from these key Kentucky airports to such cities as Cleveland, Detroit, Buffalo, Toledo, Fort Wayne, as well as dozen cities in the Southeast, including Knoxville, Atlanta and Miami.

Diskin asked for improved and more direct single-plane service from Ashland-Huntington, to such important cities as Chicago, Cleveland, Columbus and Detroit. At present, Ashland passengers must use connecting service at Cincinnati, Charleston, W. Va., or Pittsburgh.

Delta, Northwest, Capital and National have applied to enter Greater Cincinnati Airport.

Lexington's increasing industrial and commercial growth, evident by the new Reynolds, IBM, and Square D plant, will require substantial improvement in air service, Diskin pointed out to the C. A. B.

Europe Will See Television Film About Kentucky

Kentucky's government will be the subject of a television film to be shown by the British Broadcasting Co. and other European telecasters.

The film, one of a series called "Report on America" being produced by the National Broadcasting Co., will depict the Commonwealth's civic affairs as typically representative of state government in America.

NBC is producing the film series for the United States Information Agency.

Gene Wyckoff, NBC television writer, visited Frankfort recently to arrange a film story and set up a shooting schedule for a camera crew which is expected to begin work Nov. 12.

Joseph C. Harsh, NBC commentator and Washington correspondent of the Christian Science Monitor, will be the narrator on the 30-minute film.

Spoken sequences in the film will be translated into Polish, French, German, Italian, Spanish and other languages for widespread showing abroad under auspices of the Information Agency.

Producer and director of the series is London-born Don Cash, who lives in New York. "As an Englishman my aim is very simple," he says. "It is that all peoples of the world may understand and appreciate America and Americans as much as I do."

The British press and public have given the series warm welcome, NBC reports.

Hunters Big Factor Now In Fire Safety In Woods

Autumn weather produces fire hazards in woods, particularly in extended dry spells and with hunters roaming the forests. O. O. Davenport, UK Experiment Station forester, points out that dead leaves form a mat underfoot and are an excellent fire-starter or prolonger.

"Be careful while smoking in forests," he says; "drown or cover with earth all cooking or warming fires; extinguish all matches, cigarettes, pipe dottle or cigars."

"In Kentucky, these fire hazards increase daily from the dry weather and the fact several hunting seasons are near," he added.

If your husband had to do this . . .

he'd buy an electric clothes dryer

Hanging clothes up to dry may look easy to your husband but let him do it for awhile, and he'll start thinking about getting you an electric clothes dryer.

"There's no sense in doing a lot of unnecessary hard work," he'd probably say. "Why carry heavy baskets of clothes, and bend and stretch to hang each piece? With an electric clothes dryer you can dry clothes almost as fast as you wash them... just by tossing them in and turning a dial."

And you could tell him how much less ironing there would be, and how you wouldn't have to worry about bad weather spoiling your washday. Why not see your electric dealer today?

ADVICE TO WOMEN: Please let him think that getting an electric clothes dryer was his own idea. Then you'll both be happy.

Kentucky's Plan For Health Told By Gov. Chandler

Frankfort, Nov. 5 (Spl.) — Kentucky is embarking upon a vast public health project, designed to put the state "second to none in the United States."

Announced recently by Gov. A. B. Chandler and Health Commissioner Russell Teague, the project includes:

1. A foundation program of public health services, which will cost about 4 1/2 million dollars annually when fully operative in four or five years. It will mean employment of 14 additional officers, 297 public health nurses, 32 sanitarians and other related personnel.

2. Construction of community health buildings in 76 counties lacking them. Estimated cost is four million dollars in a four-year period, with the state putting up one fourth, the community one fourth and the federal government half of the money.

(Floyd county's health building already is under construction and may be ready for occupancy in January.)

Chandler referred to the program as the third of major importance his administration has undertaken to elevate Kentucky. The others, he said, are financing the foundation program for education and the 100-million-dollar highway bond proposal.

Work is expected to start this year on health buildings in nine counties which have their share of funds available.

Counties and the cost of their buildings are: Franklin, $70,000; McLean, $5,000; Fayette, $120,000; Bracken, $50,000; Clark, $60,000; Kenton, $100,000; Magoffin, $50,000; Trimble, $50,000 and Larue, $40,000.

Chandler said $250,000 would be allocated during each of four fiscal years, beginning this year, as the State's share of putting up the buildings. He added that he would contribute $75,000 from the governor's emergency fund to launch the health foundation program.

Health officials said $2,260,153 is being spent this fiscal year for the public health program. This includes $912,000 in local funds.

Road Department Will Reorganize By January 1st

Frankfort, Nov. 5 (Spl.) — A thorough reorganization of the State Highway Department has been announced by Commissioner Bert Kiser.

He said the program, expected to be completed by Jan. 1, would save the State "a tremendous amount of money."

Reorganization plans were announced following a report by Griffenhagen and Associates. Its recommendations included:

1. Shifting of functions from highway districts to zones.
2. Relieving the commissioner from the necessity of dealing with visitors interested only in personnel and employment.
3. Employment of a high-level engineer to deal with urban highway development.

Martin Reports On Integration

Frankfort, Nov. 5 (Spl.) — Kentucky "has made substantial progress in compliance with the U. S. Supreme Court's ruling" banning racial segregation in the nation's public schools, Dr. Robert Martin, state superintendent of public instruction, said recently.

A study by the Bureau of Instruction, State Department of Education, he said showed:

Ninety-two public school districts have integrated "white and Negro pupils and 17 districts have plans for integration. Sixty-eight districts have taken no action on integration.

Forty-four districts have no Negro children of school age. In the remaining 177 districts, there are 44,442 Negro and 581,163 white school children. In some of the districts that have abolished compulsory segregation, no Negro children have applied for admission to white schools.

Martin said his understanding of the court ruling is "that it is a law to be obeyed, but that compliance can only come by considering local conditions."

Your Social Security — 1956 Model

Questions and Answers by Cost Accountants

Do you know and understand your social security rights? As an individual you should know about your rights and benefits and how to make the most of them because they may be worth thousands of dollars to you and your family. Few people realize that this much money is involved.

This is the fourth in a series of articles containing questions and answers on the new 1956 Social Security law, prepared by the Louisville Chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants as a public service in answering some of the questions on the latest changes in the Social Security law.

Q. How does the 1956 law help disabled workers?

A. Disabled workers are the major beneficiaries of the new plan. A whole new system of coverage is provided for workers already disabled and those that will be disabled in the future. Thousands of disabled workers will benefit from the new changes.

Q. How old must a disabled worker be?

A. Under the 1956 law, a disabled worker can start collecting social security benefits at 50 years old or older. Under the old law he would have to wait until age 65.

Q. How large will the pension be for the disabled worker?

A. The same as if you had reached retirement age. The actual amount depends on earnings while covered by Social Security.

Q. How long will the pension continue?

A. As long as the worker is disabled. If the worker is still disabled at age 65, he will draw the pension for life.

Q. Do benefits start as soon as a worker is disabled?

A. No. He has to wait 6 months.

Q. Will wives and children of disabled workers draw benefits too?

A. No. There are no benefits for the dependents of a disabled worker until he reaches retirement age, which is 65. Disability benefits are payable only to disabled wage earners, or to the disabled child of a deceased or retired worker.

Q. When will payments to disabled workers start?

A. July, 1957.

Q. When can a presently disabled worker start his 6 months waiting period?

A. The waiting period cannot begin before January 1, 1957, nor more than 6 months before you reach age 50.

Q. When is a worker considered disabled?

A. A worker must be totally disabled. It will be necessary to have a doctor's certificate for proof of disability. This will not be a simple procedure and no doubt will involve a lot of red tape.
