

This Town— That World

This newspaper work is plumb exasperating. You work all week to get the writing and the typesetting and the printing done, and then you turn around and "kill" the whole thing.

WHEE!

Well, husbands and wives have been wrecking furniture, objects of art, china and crystal and miscellaneous items over the years when blood pressures ran high, but this woman out in Mesa, Arizona has us all beat. She kissed her husband, and simultaneously the whole house went boom. Could it have been the poor slave's chain reaction?

TOOK HIS OWN MEDICINE

Doc Allen must have taken some of his own fishing serum. He went to Center Hill Lake in Tennessee last week, he, his daughter, son-in-law and a fourth whose name isn't coming to mind readily. Anyway, they cleaned up, Eighty bass, 16 of which ranged between three and four pounds, and unnumbered crappie.

Would go to Center Hill myself, but I have considerable regard for other folks, and I hate to put an end to the good fishing there.

CROP VALUE IS $5 MILLION

Butler Predicts Prices Of Berries To Remain High Despite Acreage

Frankfort, April 29—Kentucky strawberry growers have prospects of a five million dollar crop in Kentucky this year, Agriculture Commissioner Ben J. Butler predicted today. This prediction was based upon reports that show the total acreage of berries has increased over last year, while at the same time an increase in yield is anticipated.

C. Harold Bray, director of the Agriculture Department's Division of Markets, estimates the 1957 yield will approximate 100 crates per acre. In 1956, the average yield was 72 crates per acre. Kentucky growers produced 6,700 acres of strawberries in 1956—this year's production will be taken from 8,500 acres. Bray stated that an excellent crop is in prospect for this season, but indications are that the bearing season will commence two or three

FLOYD COUNTY'S EIGHTH ANNUAL POST-WAR BAND FETE SET HERE

Floyd county's eighth annual post-war band festival will be held here Saturday, and a colorful parade of beautiful girls as candidates for Festival Queen is scheduled.

Bands from six high schools will enter, Jesse Elliott, county music director, said.

The bands will assemble at 8:30 a.m. at the grade school campus, stand inspection 30 minutes later. The parade will start at 10 a.m. it was announced. Line of march is from the grade school south on

FIELD STATION CLOSING SEEN BY JULY 1st

Lack of Funds Decides Fate of Public Health Study for This Section

The Cumberland Field Station, West Prestonsburg, will close by July 1, it was announced this week by D. J. Schliessmann, chief. All field work will terminate at the end of this month, he said.

The station, a section of the Atlanta Communicable Disease Center, United States Public Health Service, was set up here in April, 1954, to study diarrheal diseases. Its work was concentrated in several communities of the area.

Lack of funds to pursue the work here was given by Schliessmann as the reason for discontinuance. The station employed 20 local persons and had a high-point employment at one time of 26 persons, he said.

The station chief explained two phases of the projected work here. The first phase, now completed, was the determination of the relative effect of sanitary facilities on the prevalence of diarrheal diseases. The second phase, not undertaken because of lack of funds, was the projected demonstration of the effect of environmental improvements on enteric disease reduction.

The scientists working at the station isolated a bacterial causative agent, the Manchester strain of Shigella flexneri 6, which had heretofore been unreported in the United States. The Manchester strain of the agent represented 40 percent of the total Shigella infections here, Schliessmann said.

Since the Cumberland Station's finding a report of isolation was made in Ohio.

Schliessmann was well pleased with the work of the West Pres-

IMMUNIZATION SUCCESS TOLD

3,530 Polio Shots Given In Fifteen April Clinics; Others Slated for May

The new series of free polio immunization clinics being sponsored by the Floyd County Health Department is meeting with success surpassing that of any previous series, M. V. Clark, health department administrator, said this week.

Fifteen clinics held during April saw a total of 3,530 Salk vaccine immunizations given, he said. Other clinics are scheduled at schools of the county throughout May.

Largest single clinic was Wheelwright's where 596 individuals, mostly children, received "shots". The clinic held at Martin was next with 470.

Although a shortage of Salk vaccine has been reported elsewhere, Mr. Clark said the supply for Floyd county is adequate and that he has experienced no trouble to date in procuring additional serum.

Next week's polio clinic schedule follows: David, May 6; McDowell, May 7; Wayland, May 9; Maytown and Buck's Branch, May 10.

The series of rabies clinics will start in the county, May 13.

District Rally Days Set for May and June

Several 4-H district rally days have been set in the state for May or June, the 4-H Club department of the Kentucky Agricultural Extension Service has announced.

Rally dates for counties of this section are:

May 16, at Paintsville—Floyd, Morgan, Magoffin, Pike, Martin, Lawrence, and Johnson counties.

May 14—London; McCreary, Whitley, Bell, Harlan, Letcher, Knott, Breathitt, Wolfe, Powell, Estill, Jackson, Rockcastle, Laurel, Clay, Knox, Owsley, Leslie, Perry and Lee counties.

May 15—Morehead; Mason, Robertson, Nicholas, Bath, Menifee, Rowan, Elliott, Carter, Boyd, Greenup, Lewis, and Fleming counties.

CD FUNDS AID STREET REPAIR

Bids on Floodwall Here May Be Asked Soon; New Water Lines Reach Town

Civil Defense funds have enabled the city of Prestonsburg to begin repair of damage to the Second street fill which badly sagged and became almost impassable after the January flood.

Two hundred fifty yards of earth are being used to restore the fill to its former level, and this will be surfaced by gravel. Also included in the job is the clearing away of flood-made and man-made debris at the fill. The City Council will attempt to put a halt to further dumping of debris there.

The Council in a meeting this week discussed the proposed flood protection work under study by the U. S. Corps of Engineers, and members of Council later learned from a contractor who expects to bid on the job that bids will be asked soon.

Laying of new water lines as a part of the big water system project here had reached mid-Prestonsburg this week. Part of the line from the new plant is of 12-inch pipe, this branching off at Horn street with 8-inch pipe to the old water plant and Riverside in one direction and with the same size line down Lake Drive.

As quickly as possible the new line to Lancer will be tied onto a 12-inch line at the old water plant to afford Lancer more water and heavier pressure, it was said.

The Council at this week's meeting agreed to contribute $50 a month toward cost of utilities of the new Floyd County Health Center here. The Center will be ready for final inspection, it is hoped, in two weeks. J. Y. Goble, of the Home Appliance Company, contractor on the building, said The Floyd County Health department may move into the new structure about June 1.

Holbrook and Howell Not at Court Meeting When Attorney Hired

Magistrate Grover Holbrook said last week, in commenting on the recent fiscal court move to employ a Pikeville attorney to assist in legal action against Circuit Clerk W. W. Cooley and Former County Judge Alex L. Davidson, that neither he nor Magistrate Edgar Howell was present at the time the vote was taken on the matter.

Several organizations, each with a diversity of interests, all had a common aim Friday when they met on the grounds of the Prestonsburg high school. It was Arbor Day and they were there to plant trees.

Having planted the first trees with appropriate ritual and ceremony, many members of the groups continued to set dogwoods along U. S. 23 as a memorial to the county's war-dead.

PICK MATTHIS FOR NEW POST STUDY FIXES FLOOD LOSS

UK Graduate Is Named Successor to Straton Who Moves to West Va.

Effective May 6, Gene Matthis, director of industrial engineering for the Princess Elkhorn Coal Company, David, will become general superintendent of the company, it is announced by David L. Francis, president.

Mr. Matthis will succeed John Straton, who has been transferred to work with Irvin C. Spotte, formerly of the David operation, at the Boone county, West Virginia mining installations of Princess Elkhorn.

Succeeding Matthis as director of industrial engineering will be Raymond Bradbury, formerly of Wheelwright, who has been his assistant. John Nyaver will move into the industrial engineer post held by Bradbury.

Mr. Straton began work with Princess Elkhorn in 1950, shortly after having been graduated from West Virginia University. Mr. Matthis, a native of Harlan, came to David in 1953. He holds a degree in mining engineering from the University of Kentucky.

HEART ATTACK KILLS SALYER

Paintsville Dentist Is Victim, Tuesday; Was Magoffin Native

Dr. Gorman Patrick Salyer, 54 years old, prominent Paintsville dentist, died at the Paintsville hospital at 9 p.m. Tuesday, victim of a heart attack suffered five days earlier.

Dr. Salyer was stricken ill shortly after his wife's mother, Mrs. Maude C. Nunnery, was removed, critically ill, from his home last week to a hospital.

A native of Magoffin county, he was a son of D. B. and Maude Patrick Salyer. He had lived in Paintsville the last 20 years, during that time practicing dentistry there. Dr. Salyer was a member of the Mayo Memorial Methodist Church, Paintsville, and of the Elks.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Margaret Rose Salyer, formerly of Prestonsburg, two sons, Daniel Boone and William Lynn Salyer, both of Paintsville, two daughters, Mrs. Hans H. Frey, Cincinnati, and Mrs. John E. Chandler, Havelock, N. C. He also leaves one brother and five sisters. H. Glenn Salyer, Cleveland, O., Mrs. R. R. Hoover and Miss Myrtle Salyer.

AUTO BUYING IS HEAVY HERE

Consumer Study Shows Floyd Car Expenditures At $6,014,000 Per Year

Special to the Times

NEW YORK, Apr. 29—Among residents of Floyd county, the automobile continues to hold a place of great importance in the family budget. The local picture, according to a nationwide study of consumer spending, shows expenditures for cars, other automotive equipment and supplies to be running at the rate of $6,014,000 a year.

The size of this outlay, locally, shows how necessary the car has become in everyday life. It represents 33.4 percent of the total amount spent in all the retail stores.

This compares with only 28.8 percent in the United States as a whole and with 29.4 percent in the State of Kentucky.

Increasingly, people have come to rely upon the car to get them to work, to school and to the stores. In the suburbs and in rural areas, even more so than in the cities, it has become almost indispensable. Frequently, it is the only mode of transportation available.

The expanding use to which it is being put has benefited business in Floyd county. Just how much it adds up to locally is seen in data released by Standard Rate and Data Service for the fiscal year ending July 1, 1956.

Sales of new and used passenger cars, motorcycles, motorboats and accessories came to $4,287,000 in the year. The receipts at filling stations for gas, oil, repairs and incidentals were an additional $1,727,000. The grand total, $6,014,000, is exclusive of truck sales, which were not reported in the survey.

In terms of the individual family, the average amount spent in the year, determined by dividing the dollar total by the number of local families, was $590.

State's Two Senators Announce Howes Meade To Get Housing Job

Senators Cooper and Morton announced last week that W. Howes Meade, Paintsville and Lexington, will be sworn in May 6 as commissioner of Zone 3 of the Federal Housing Administration. The appointment was made by F.H.A. Administrator Norman T. Mason.

Meade, a former Republican Congressman from this district, will have jurisdiction over a zone that includes Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia, North Carolina, Florida, Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, and the Panama Canal Zone. His headquarters will be in Washington. There are six zones in the F. H. A.

Accord Reported In Road Dispute

A solution to the dispute over which route Ky. 7 will follow down Salt Lick Creek to connect with Ky. 80 was seen this week as a spokesman for one of the two opposing groups agreed to a plan which would serve both.

The plan to which this group is now reportedly agreed provides for Ky. 7 to follow its present route through the town of Bosco and connect there with Ky. 80, with a second road being constructed by the Rural Highway Department to connect West Garrett with the Low Gap section, across Beaver Creek from Bosco and Ky. 80. This second route would include a bridge across Beaver Creek at West Garrett to connect the "spur" road with the main highway.

The plan is expected to be submitted to highway department officials in Frankfort next week.

2 MEN FACE RAPE CHARGES

13-Year-Old Girl Accuses One of Attempt; Another Faces Second Conviction

One Mud Creek man was in jail this week in default of $5,000 bond after he had been accused of the attempted rape of a 13-year-old girl, and another was jailed for parole violation and rape of a woman.

Andy Ratliff was accused by the 13-year-old girl. She said she had lived in this county since the January flood, and that on the night of April 23 Ben Rowe and a man whom she later learned was Ratliff came to her home. She claimed both men were drinking and that after they learned her mother was working in Pikeville and that only younger children were with her at the home the two men left, later returning with beer. The girl said they poured beer down the children and that a 11-year-old boy was almost intoxicated. The rape attempt by Ratliff followed, she said. The girl told County Judge Henry Stumbo she fled the house and told neighbors of the incident. Deputy Sheriffs Joe Wheeler Lewis and Eugene Hall were summoned, and they arrested Ratliff.

The alleged rapist is Azzie Newsome, who already was under parole after having been convicted of rape. His accuser said he, Wheeler Hamilton and Bill Hall came to her home April 27 and asked her to go with them to the home where Jake Hamilton lay dead, explaining that they were planning to attend church services there. She said in her affidavit that she and Hamilton had been "going together" and that she got in a car with them after they had told her they would Prestonsburg high school musicians earned three top places in the vocal section of the State Music Festival at Lexington last week. About 100 vocalists from Prestonsburg, Maytown and Wheelwright high schools joined other survivors of the Pikeville regional festival in the state competition.

The Prestonsburg superior ratings were won by the girls' chorus, the mixed chorus and the 15-voice ensemble. All three groups were trained by Mrs. Arthur Hayward.

Loita Arnett's original composition, first to be entered in the State Music Festival from this section, was rated excellent. Two other student-composers in the state entered original works.

The glee club from Wheelwright high school and an ensemble from Maytown high entered the State Festival.

The instrumental section of the State Festival will compete May 10. Schools which won places in the May 10 meet by their performances at the Pikeville festival are McDowell, Wheelwright, Prestonsburg and Martin.

Grandpa's Lump of Coal, Unused "On a Cold Day," Is Preserved

By HENRY P. SCALF

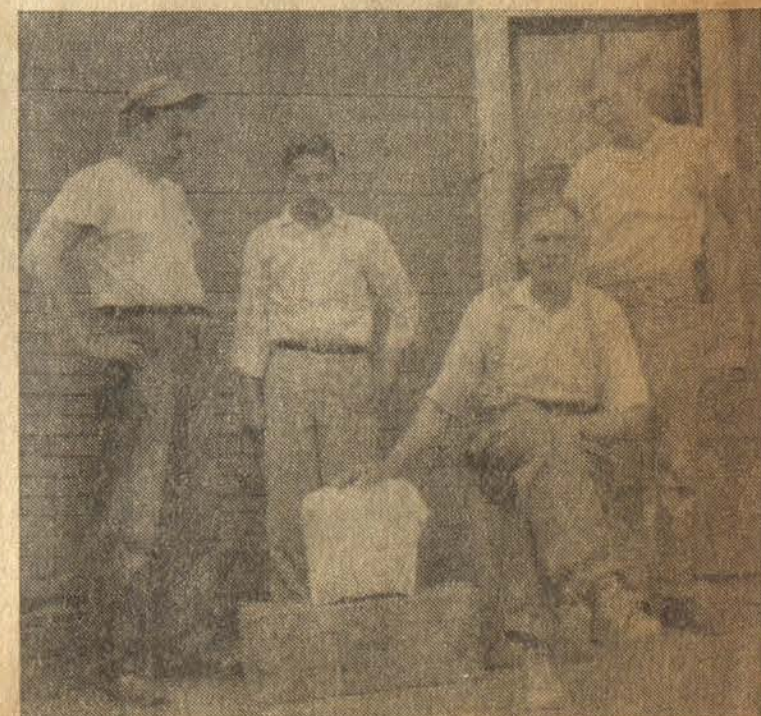

The old minister carefully picked up the lump of coal and as the three young men watched placed it on the back of the porch against the house wall. There, protected by a white preservative, it would resist the weather and years.

It was Grandpa's Lump of Coal, they said. It had lain 22 years near the gate of his home on Mare Creek where he died. It had been placed there by old Alex Hunt, the preacher's father, two years before he died.

Alex Hunt, father of Rev. Pem Hunt and grandfather of the boys, had hauled the coal to his coal house when he was well and hearty. He shoveled the sled empty, threw the big lump aside in the building, remarked to his grandsons:

"We'll save that one for a real cold day and have a big fire with it."

Perhaps no group of boys ever had a more interesting granddad than the sons of Rev. Pem Hunt and Lindsay Hunt. The old man chased them a bit, now and then,

In the rapidly changing pattern of modern living, homemakers need an up-to-date, reliable source of information that will help them in solving problems of the home and community, says Miss Viola Hansen, chairman of home economics Extension programs at the University of Kentucky.

TO THE GOOD PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY:

I am a candidate for the first time in life, because I want the job of being your Jailer, and I also need the job. Because I have one son and four daughters in school and their education depends on your vote.

I am a disabled coal miner. I have worked 30 years in the coal mines. I am a member of Local Union 5895, U. M. W. of A.

If elected, I will administer equal Fairness to all prisoners and visitors alike. A telephone will be at your service at all times.

Please give me your support.

HOME DEMONSTRATION AEGNT TELLS OF PROGRESS OF WORK

Homemakers meeting at the home of Mrs. Ethel Johnson at Allen recently are Mrs. Violetta Wright, Mrs. Cora Martin, Mrs. Blanche Collins, Mrs. Lucretia Spurlock, Mrs. Pearl Watts and daughter, Sue, Mrs. Gertrude Burkett and Mrs. Sam Wallen.

protection facilities can be installed in Prestonsburg at a cost not exceeding $4,000,000 which makes such work possible without Congressional appropriation. This is the undertaking that has been under study for several months to provide protection of Prestonsburg from all but the most calamitous floods. Work is expected to start this summer.

Senator Cooper told the gathering that an appropriation of $140,000 will be sought to cover the cost of planning the Fishtrap reservoir. Two other reservoirs in the headwaters of the Big Sandy or its tributaries are being urged to make complete flood protection for the valley.

Senator Cooper pointed out that, despite the extensive federal and state assistance available for local development efforts, the success or failure of this important regional development activity will depend "on the continued initiative, patience and determination of the hundreds of local citizens in the area."

Representing Floyd county at the Hazard meeting Marvin Music, chairman of the Floyd County Flood Control Association, H. D. Fitzpatrick, Jr., Rev. Harold W. Dorsey, Burl Spurlock, Sheriff Gorman Collins, Mayor Harry Sandige of Prestonsburg, County Judge Henry Stumbo, N. M. White, Jr., and U. S. Marshal Curtis Clark. Governor Chandler said:

"In your area of the state of beautiful mountains, rivers, and historical sights, natural resources, and wonderful people, there is a cancerous stagnation in your economics, you do rely on coal, apart from the vicissitudes of the recent flood, which makes your economic well-being insecure and gives great concern to all.

"Income has dropped 14 per cent since 1950 while payroll income, state-wide, has grown 40 per cent. Idle coal miners cannot eat coal.

"It is not right that some Kentuckians be stricken down economically while the rest of the state generally enjoys relative prosperity. Annual wage losses of $160,000,000 cannot continue to be tolerated."

Continuing, the Governor said, "Only about half as many miners are required to mine coal today as there were in 1950. Your water resources, directly needed, come in irregular supply—often they are wasted by floods causing great additional damage.

"I propose," the Governor said, "that the University of Kentucky place economic specialists in key points to assist your county agents to bring about better methods."

1. Continued appropriations

Five Homemaker groups have been formed in this county and others are expected to be organized soon, it was said this week by Dixie Trapp, home demonstration agent. Ground work for the club program was initiated by Miss Trapp soon after duties as agent here last November.

The five organized groups have held at least one meeting, she noted, and are at Estill, East point, Langley, Tram and Allen. The Estill women have named their group the Willing Workers. These groups will be organized into Homemaker clubs soon.

The Homemaker program will require a Homemakers Advisory Council, the demonstration agent pointed out. This is usually composed of the county officers, presidents of the clubs, county project leaders and others.

"Since we do not have a council yet," Miss Trapp said, "I want them to advise what kind of work they would like included in the program. I realize this will be inferior to a plan made by an advisory council but as soon as a council is organized it can improve on plans."

for Buckhorn reservoir on the Kentucky river.

2. Complete construction of flood-control protection and facilities at Middlesboro and Barbourville as soon as possible.

3. Complete services by the Corps of Engineers of the Kentucky and Big Sandy valleys as early as possible, for power and navigation purposes as well as flood control.

Cooper said he is urging federal appropriations this year for a revised survey by the Corps of Engineers for the Upper Cumberland River Valley.

The senator said he favored the construction of local airport facilities in Eastern Kentucky.

He said he also wanted to expand federal-state construction of the inadequate highway system throughout Eastern Kentucky.

He wants to establish tree nurseries in the area.

He wants to promote greater use of soil-bank acreage reserve and conservation reserve for better use of forest and farm production.

He wants to use the facilities and co-operation of the United States Department of Commerce to assist local communities in making detailed surveys of local resources and facilities as means of planned local development programs desired to attract new industries.

He wants to expand the domestic and foreign use of coal. One immediate prospect, he said, is through planned expansion of power facilities for Tennessee Valley Authority, one of the country's largest consumers of Best wishes from President Eisenhower went this week to the nation's women participating in National Home Demonstration Week, April 28-May 4. The President said: "As you learn new homemaking practices, and share your skills with your neighbors, you help build better homes and communities across the land. And by demonstrating the latest findings of home economics research in America, you show other countries the standard of generous living made possible through a democratic way of life."

Schedule of meetings of the five organized groups is as follows:

Allen, May 3, 7 p.m., at home of Mrs. Otis Spurlock; East Point, May 8, 1 p.m., home of Mrs. Clifford Baldrige; Estill, May 14, 1 p.m., home of Mrs. Katherine Morgan; Maytown, May 15, 1 p.m., home of Mrs. Ralph Spencer; Tram, May 7, 1 p.m., Mrs. Maxie Rasmussen.

coal. Cooper has sponsored a bill on this subject.

Senator Morton told the rally he is doing everything in his power to develop a market in Florida for East Kentucky coal.

Morton said he is doing all he can to get better roads, schools and air transportation for Eastern Kentucky.

Representative Carl D. Perkins, of Hindman advocated keeping open the locks and dams on Kentucky river.

Civil Service Exams Are Slated for Men Seeking Appointments

A Civil Service examination for young men interested in entering one of the Service Academies will be given July 15. The examination is for men interested in the Air Force and Merchant Marine Academies as well as West Point and Annapolis.

Congressman Carl D. Perkins said that he would be glad to arrange for all interested persons to take the exam and would supply them with a list of sample questions.

According to the Civil Service Commission announcement, the purpose of the examination is to aid Senators and Representatives in the selection of appointees for the classes entering the Academies in July, 1958.

Those interested in taking the test should write to Congressman Carl D. Perkins, House of Representatives, Washington, D.C., before June 20. The tests will be given in Ashland, Hazard, Lexington, and Paintsville, as well as many other cities throughout the country.

My Friends of Floyd County:

May I ask you to please give my brother, DURAN MOORE your kind consideration in his race for County Court Clerk.

He is a good young man and I feel that those of you who have had business transacted at the County Court Clerk's office during his service to us realize that he and Kathleen and his fine help of assistant clerks have been doing a good job.

He has a heart of service and tries to run the office for the welfare and benefit of the people. We all have our important records on file there. He works for the orderly preservation of those records. During floor or storm or disaster, we can rest assured that DuRan will be on the job, day or night, taking care of those things we have filed and recorded in the Clerk's Office and entrusted to him.

He tries to see that we all benefit by reason of his service. Good helpers in the office with reasonable pay who give to us good and kind and courteous and efficient service have been his desire, and these things will continue to guide his actions as County Court Clerk in the future if you good people will help re-elect him.

Please vote for DuRan if not obligated to some one else. He needs your help. He will repay your kindness.

We understand the pleasure of helping those with whom we come in contact through our daily walks. We have experienced a long and hard struggle through this life. DuRan was raised mostly on a small hillside farm. He rode a mule five miles to high school. Improved roads and the School Bus had not reached our community at that time. He finished. I did not. I quit out during the last year to drive a mule team and later a truck so that I could help our family. We had a brother-in-law in school at that time.

I appreciate my many good friends. Let us all work for the benefit and welfare of our good county and state.

Your friend,

MASON MOORE

SPORTS AFIELD
By TED KESTING

Air-drive boat motors of all makes are increasing in popularity with the boating public. These engines, which propel a boat with a big blade whirling in the air, rather than a small blade turning underwater, were placed on the national market only two years ago. Since that time more and more sportsmen have discovered a variation of water travel that is tops in the shallows, says Willard Crandall, boating editor of Sports Afield Magazine.

Air power on the water got its start in areas where the water was broad but shallow. It was there that local boatbuilders first attempted to cope with this troublesome situation.

Until recently the closest most people came to an air drive boat was watching one whip past on a motion picture screen, flattening the tall grass of the Florida Everglades. But, Crandall assures us, superior speed is one thing these fan boats cannot boast. It is now evident, he says, that the speed of air-drive craft as compared to conventional boats of equal horsepower varies from about the same to considerably less.

The real advance in air-drive motors—from the average sportsman—came two years ago with the advent of the air-drive out-board. There are no longer the false claims of superior speed as the outboards are all under five hp. And they are now reliable types of engine.

The air-drive outboard clamps onto the transom as does any outboard motor, and it is just as easy to put on and take off, if not easier, says Crandall. It weighs approximately the same as any motor of the same power.

ALLEN

For

County Court Clerk

I am a Republican candidate for County Court Clerk and as such would like to introduce myself.

I am Mrs. Joyce Short Allen, of Prestonsburg. I am 26 years old, married to James P. Allen, whose father and mother are James and Lillie Allen, of Harold.

I am the daughter of Theckley Short and the late Kenneth Short, of Prestonsburg, and the granddaughter of Mrs. Mary Osborne, of Eastern, and the late J. M. (Milt) Osborne. I am presently employed as a medical stenographer at the McDowell Memorial hospital, at McDowell.

I trust it will be possible to meet and talk with you before the Primary in May but if I cannot, I sincerely request you will acquaint yourself and your neighbors as to my qualifications for Clerk.

Sincerely yours,

TO ALL THE VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

It is highly important that we all lay aside sympathy and exercise discretion in selecting a Circuit Judge. We have carefully considered the merits and qualifications of the two candidates, and have concluded that Judge Edward P. Hill merits our support for re-election for these reasons:

- (1) All agree he is HONEST.
- (2) He is ABLE.
- (3) He has had nearly 12 years experience.
- (4) He has the necessary patience.
- (5) He will not hold PREJUDICE.
- (6) He does not believe in REVENGE.
- (7) He will do his duty to enforce Liquor Laws.
- (8) He is strictly sober, a teetotaler for some time.
- (9) HE WILL OPPOSE ORGANIZED RUM RUNNING AND BOOTLEGGING.
- (10) He is the same every day.
- (11) He will listen to all and do right.
- (12) He conducts a dignified court, respected by the attorneys all over the State.

We pledge our HONOR, upon the truthfulness of these reasons. In the name of law and order, decency and justice we submit this recommendation for your consideration.

Collins-Cadenhead Vows Solemnized at Pikeville

In a quiet ceremony Mrs. Elizabeth Allen Collins, of Prestonsburg, and Mr. Thomas R. Cadenhead, Wabasso, Florida, were united in marriage at 1 p.m., April 29, in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church, Pikeville. The Rev. A. R. Perkins officiated.

The double-ring ceremony was exchanged in the presence of a few relatives and friends. Mrs. Clyde Bracy, niece of the bride, was her only attendant. Mr. Bracy served Mr. Cadenhead as best man.

The bride wore a powder blue nylon jersey dress, with fitted bodice and full pleated skirt. Her shoulder corsage was of white rosebuds tied with white and blue tulle. Her hat of white straw was trimmed with tulle and white rosebuds. She wore white shoes and carried a white leather bag. Mrs. Bracy wore a pink linen dress and pink chiffon hat with beige accessories.

Mr. Cadenhead is a prominent merchant and real estate broker in Wabasso, Florida. After a week's honeymoon at Daytona Beach, Florida, they will go to their new home in Wabasso, where they will reside.

Among those attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Newton L. May, Miss Martha Sue May, Mrs. Jo. M. Davidson, Mrs. Ruth D. Sowards, of Prestonsburg, Mrs. Arthur Fields, Mrs. Lillian Hatcher, Mrs. Ann Thornsbury, Miss Penny Beth Whitten, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bracy, of Pikeville.

Collins, Honor Student At U.S. Naval School

Great Lakes, Ill. — ETRSN—David Collins was graduated from the U. S. Naval School Electronics technicians, Class "A", March 29 as an honor student with a 90.96% final average.

The electronics course is designed so the student may gain a thorough understanding of the theory and operation of all naval electronics equipment. This includes radar, sonar, loran and all communications equipment. The 26-week electronic technician's course is the longest service school offered by the Navy.

Collins enlisted in the Navy, May 28, 1956. He finished recruit training at Bainbridge, Md., Aug. 10, and has been stationed at Great Lakes, Ill., since August 26.

Collins reported for duty aboard the USS Canberra, April 30. The guided missile cruiser Canberra is scheduled for a South American cruise in June. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tilden Collins, of Prestonsburg.

The Office Of Magistrate Is Important

Floyd county is a county rich in resources and people. It is to us the most important county in the state. Its officials should be men who will CONSECRATE themselves to the task for which they are elected and to do the job the people EXPECT and DEMAND.

You can't do a good job as an elected public official by giving part time to it. It requires full time and a whole-hearted devotion to the job. I HAVE CONSISTENTLY PLEDGED THAT I WILL BE YOUR MAGISTRATE SIX DAYS A WEEK, NOT JUST AS A SIDELINE TO ANOTHER JOB.

Full time at the job will build roads and save money for the taxpayers. One of our urgent problems is road building. A county moves forward, makes modern progress on its road system. Too long we have been bound by the inadequacy of our roads. FULL TIME WORK BY MAGISTRATES FOR A TERM OF OFFICE WILL BRING US OUT OF THE MUD.

Magisterial District No. 1 is the largest district in the county, larger than many counties in the state. Our road machinery should give it adequate coverage, not diverted almost wholly to other sections to our neglect through a part time magistrate.

I PLEDGE YOU, IF ELECTED, FULL TIME AT THE JOB AND A GOOD JOB WELL DONE. I CANNOT OFFER YOU MORE NOR SHOULD YOU ACCEPT LESS.

Sincerely,
R. T. ALLEN

KIWANIANS ASK CANDIDATES FOR FUNDS TO REMOVE SIGNS

The three Kiwanis clubs in this county are asking candidates for office to pay for the removal, after the election, of all posters and signs erected in the campaign. B. A. Reed, of Drift, chairman of the sign removal committee, wrote all candidates recently suggesting that they donate to the Boy Scouts who will do the removal job.

Cooperating in the effort to remove pictures and signs are the Beaver Valley Martin and Prestonsburg Clubs. Contributions asked are $25 each from all county-wide candidates with the exception of jailer candidates who are asked to pay $10 as are candidates for magistrate. Candidates for constable are requested to donate $5 each.

Committeemen appointed by the three Kiwanis clubs to receive contributions from the candidates are Kilmer Combs, Prestonsburg, Steve Clark, Wheelwright, Ray Allen, of Martin, and Alvin Reed, Drift. Names of contributors will be published in The Times, May 16. All contributions are requested to be sent by May 14.

Reed, in a letter to all candidates, wrote:

"After each election we find election posters of all types all through our county. After we have had our election, we should be allowed to put it aside and forget about it. One thing that would be of great help would be the elimination of all the election posters and signs throughout the county.

"There is a practical and inexpensive way to accomplish this and at the same time be of benefit to our boys who will soon be voting and maybe running for office themselves.

"The Kiwanis clubs of Floyd county have undertaken to get this job done and are asking each candidate to contribute a small sum which will be turned over to the Boy Scout organization and the Scouts will in turn remove the election posters as promptly as possible after the election.

"We are sure that all candidates for office in Floyd county will be proud to take part in this civic enterprise."

DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF LEGISLATIVE DISTRICT 97

LET'S GET ACQUAINTED

Denzil Halbert, your candidate for Representative, is a native-born Floyd countian, having been born at Printer on Left Beaver Creek, the son of Wess Halbert and Ada Martin Halbert, grandson of the late John D. and Mary Dingus Halbert and Jobie and Julianne Martin. My grandparents were among Floyd county's first settlers.

I am 34 years old, married to Coraine Slade, the daughter of E. C. and Lula Elliott Slade, and we have four children—two boys and two girls. I graduated from Kentucky Wesleyan College in 1947 after having my education interrupted by thirty-nine months of service in World War II. Fourteen of my thirty-nine months of service were spent overseas in North Africa, China, Burma, and India.

For the past 10 years I have taught school and coached all athletic teams at Martin high school. I have served on the City Council of Martin, Kentucky, six years and at present I am serving my second year as Mayor of Martin. I belong to the Masons, Shrine, American Legion, Amvets, and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

My platform consists of four points; namely:

1. Maximum Foundation School Program.
2. Equal distribution of road money.
3. Beneficial laws for veterans, widows, and dependents.
4. Secure flood control and water impoundment projects.

Now is the time for the people of Floyd county to elect officers who will serve everyone. Don't be satisfied with the second best available; vote for a candidate who is BEST qualified by experience and education to represent you at Frankfort.

I entered this race with the sole intention of winning and that I will do, so contrary to all other beliefs with the help of YOU who want the best I will win.

Yours, in service,

for he was stern and exacting at times but mostly he was a jolly old fellow who told them stories of his life, how he cut and rafted timber to Catlettsburg, drove ox-teams in the woods. He recalled, too, bits of local history for them, like the time Gus Finley shot his brother Jim at Harold and went to the gallows for it. The boys grew more and more fond of their grandfather as the years went by.

Uncle Alex, as everybody but his family called him, took ill in the field, was carried to the house by his sons. He lingered several months from a stroke, died at the age of 73, in March, 1937.

While he was ill fires were built by members of his household, and coal was hauled by either his sons or grandsons. Many times the fuel supply in the coal house was slim but nobody touched the big lump of coal in the corner. The grandsons, remembering the old man wanted to save the big chunk for a real cold day, had already named it Grandpa's Lump of Coal.

His widow, Artie Stratton Hunt, survived in the home ten years, living with her son, Willie. Both were ill a lot, the place took on a bit of decrepitude, the coal house tumbled down. In a few years all evidence of the building was gone. But Grandpa's Lump of Coal was placed beside the road. In the winter, when it would have made a good fire, it lay there covered with snow. In the summer weeds grew up around it and the grandsons would press them down to see if it was still there. Many of the younger ones never had seen the old man but they heard the story from others and wanted to see it.

It was in 1947 that Artie Hunt died and was buried on a point overlooking the house, beside her husband. Inmates of the house now were her son Willie and his wife, and often a grandson or two. Willie was ill a long time, died three years ago. There were times when the grandsons and others had to hunt for fuel. But nobody touched Grandpa's Lump of Coal.

When Willie died his widow left the old house untenanted. Weeds began to thrive in the once neat yard and grew up, completely covering the big chunk of coal beside the road. The grandsons and others of Alex Hunt's family decided to preserve it. It was beginning to slack and would soon perish in the weather.

Preservation plans for several months were contingent on the arrival of grandsons from West Virginia and Ohio, but it was at last decided it would be impossible for everyone to be present.

Last Sunday noon, several of Alex Hunt's descendants gathered at Rev. Pem Hunt's house. The big lump of coal was brought there, given a coat of white preservative and carefully placed in a secure place on the front porch.

Nobody laughed or joked at such an unusual ceremony for they were preserving Grandpa's Lump of Coal and it was a precious memento of a cherished old man.

The first tree was planted at 11 a.m. on the high school grounds by the executive committee of the Woman's Club, assisted by L. R. Johnson, district soil conservationist. The dogwood was in commemoration of the recent flood and as an addition to the several thousand trees set three years ago to start the Dogwood Memorial Trail in honor of Floyd county's war-dead.

Mrs. H. L. Ley read the legend of the Dogwood, and prayer was led by Mrs. R. V. May. Continuation of the dogwood plantings was carried on by Lloyd Wells' FFA members. Trees planted were provided by the Senior Girl Scouts, FFA boys and others.

Governor A. B. Happy Chandler, in a recent proclamation, declared last Friday Arbor Day, urged citizens and groups to plant trees and otherwise observe the day.

Civil Functions Group Is Scheduling Hearings On River Projects Fund

The Civil Functions subcommittee of the House Appropriations committee will hold hearings on the President's budget recommendations for funds for all Kentucky projects for flood control and navigation at 10 a. m., May 8, Congressman Carl D. Perkins said this week.

"The time is limited, and the Army Engineers must be given an opportunity to personally present their recommendations," he said. "I will make every effort to schedule the personal appearances of as many witnesses as possible and see that all prepared statements are entered in the record."

He added that in the event any citizens in the county desire to appear in person or submit a prepared statement, he will be glad to request time or get the statement in the record.

TIMES WANT ADS REALLY GET RESULTS!

To My Friends and Relatives of Dist. No. 1

I have decided to run for Constable, I fully realize it isn't a very high or profitable office, but we have it just the same, Legally and Lawfully. I also know someone will be elected. For the last several years some people have made a joke and mockery out of small offices. (Just to have a little fun) such as Judge Bush and others, but I think it is high time that we quit joking around on matters like that. Ask yourself one question—Is he safe to turn loose on the streets, and in the country with a big pistol? We never want to elect a man that might be unsafe among our people. Do you think it wise to ignore the facts and just elect anyone? No, no, I think you should elect a man that exercises a reasonable judgment to deal with his fellowmen, treating him as he would want to be treated. I don't believe in abuse in any respect. I don't believe in meddling, deceiving, or mistreating any body, (I'm just like Popeye, I am what I am and can't be anything else). When I am your Constable, you can go out for a little drive or a little recreation. You won't have to keep an eye out for fear of me pulling you over, shaking you down, and possibly arresting you on some fake charge. I don't doubt but what I will be nominated, and I don't intend to make a living alone by constabulary. I will work as I have always done. I have been working for Ford Motor in Michigan for the last four years, but I have moved back to the old home place where I was born and raised. I am appealing to all my friends and relatives to vote for me, as I have never in all my life voted against one of my relative and regardless of the outcome of this election, I never will. I have always tried to make a habit of voting for some local boy or man in county-wide elections. That's why I am always on the loser side. I was on the loser side in the last Governor's race, but I would do the same thing again if there was a local boy involved. I volunteered for the army right after war broke out in World War II and was in combat for several months. I have decorations for meritorious achievement against the enemy, and also for gallantry in action. (I represented my home on the battlefield.) Would it be asking too awfully much to represent you all as your Constable?

Thanking you all in advance,
Respectfully

EASTERN KENTUCKYK AUTHOR GOING PLACES IN HURRY

By James W. Patrick (Courier-Journal)

Seldom has a writer anywhere come along so fast. Billy Curtis Clark of Catlettsburg had to go fast to get where he now is in only 28 years. He has had two junior books and a novel accepted for publication in less than six months. And he has another junior book ready for submission to his publishers. Several of his poems and short stories already have been printed.

Billy has done a lot of living in his 28 years. His childhood was full of work and hard times and rugged going. Nothing came easy. And he served in the Army, and he attended college whenever he had the money. And he always wrote.

Now he can sit at a typewriter, and the words appear on paper as fast as he can hunt and peck.

FOR SALE—One 4-room stucco with bath and 5-room frame with bath, recently redecorated, both in New Allen; 10-room brick in Old Allen. See John R. Clifton, Dwale, Ky., or call Allen 2031. 5-2-2t.

HENRY STEPHENS
Circuit Court Clerk

Born in a log cabin on a rough mountain farm on the Caney Fork of Middle Creek. I have lived all my life in Floyd county. I was a farmer, coal miner, school teacher, merchant, postmaster, Director, Cashier and President of the First National Bank and an Assistant Cashier of the First Guaranty Bank of Martin.

I have the endorsement upon the records of the Circuit Court by the State Examiner and Inspector as one of the most efficient and best clerks in the state of Kentucky. My record as Judge of this District is an outstanding one in the Court of Appeals of Kentucky. Ask any lawyer about my qualifications and you will thereby be convinced. I make this race upon my record and it speaks for itself.

I am a member of the Baptist Church, a member of the Masonic Lodge, Chapter, Knight Templar, Shrine, an Elk and an I.O.O.F. These organizations are nonpolitical but evidence of honesty and moral fitness to serve others. When you cast your vote and support me you don't have to guess about my qualifications and honesty in or out of office.

I have never in all my life received so much loyal and down to earth support and I desire your continued support, and there will be no question about the outcome.

I won't need flowers, kindness, help or goodwill after I am gone. These things are for the living rather than the dead. The world will little note or long remember what we say here but it will not forget what we do here. Let our acts and deeds be above reproach and we will profit thereby. Give me a chance to serve you in an honest and efficient way and you will be rewarded with service and a job well done.

With best wishes and a fair and honest deal for all. Remember me on the Democratic Primary election day, May 28th, 1957.

Preaching the Bible as it is to men as they are

MAY 6-13
Enjoy your Welcome at this Warm Hearted Church

The Adult Fellowship of the Methodist Church met in the church basement, April 23 at 6:15 p.m. for their covered dish dinner. Mrs. Robert McKenzie presided in the absence of the president. Plans were discussed concerning future programs and other activities.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Fitzpatrick, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. Lon Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Combs, Mr. and Mrs. John Straton, Mr. and Mrs. Norris Boggs, Mr. and Mrs. Don Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bradbury, Mrs. David McAllister, Mrs. Robert McKenzie, Miss Marion Salisbury, Miss Charlotte Salisbury, Barkley Sturgill. Hosts were: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Arbor Jones, Miss Elsie Stephens and Miss Linda Stephens.

On Dec. 5, 1929, a Marine aviator, Captain Alton N. Parker, became the first pilot to fly over the Antarctic Continent.

pick up two more girls to accompany them. They drove, however, to Buckingham on Left Beaver, and there the men left the car. Newsome returning to the car and raping her, according to the woman's affidavit.

Others jailed here within the week on major charges: Ollie J. Bentley, drunk driving; Joe Eddie Bentley, bastardy, held for Pike county authorities; Samuel Lackey, destroying private property; Jack Compton, attempting to cut and wound Deputy Sheriff Joe Wheeler Lewis; Freeman Duff, fishing without license; Charlie Maggard, drunk driving and possessing a moonshine still; Dillie Ramey, child desertion; Robert Stumper, a. w. o. l. from armed forces; Tommy Vinson, striking and wounding.

When Lieutenant Alfred A. Cunningham received orders for duty involving "land flying" on June 1, 1916, he became the first Marine Corps aviator to be assigned this type of aviation training.

If creative writing is a talent which can be inherited, Clark comes by it honestly. He is a second cousin of famed Jesse Stuart of Greenup county who has established himself as one of the greats in prose and poetry. Clark's grandmother was the sister of Mitchell Stuart, father of the Greenup County author.

"It might be a coincidence that Jesse and I lived only about 20 miles apart, and I did not know he was my cousin until about five years ago when my mother told me," said Billy.

Clark's stories border somewhat on the autobiographical, with an occasional touch of fantasy. He has drawn heavily upon his own struggle and determination to make a career for himself. His first book, scheduled to come from the presses of G. P. Putnam's Sons, New York, in May, is "The Trail of The Hunter's Horn." It will have 96 pages with illustrations or decorations on every page by Veronica Reed, a New York artist.

"The Trail of The Hunter's Horn" has a dramatic sequel in Clark's second book to be published by Putnam either this fall or next spring, "Moon-Eyed Hound." Clark says it is a complete story in itself, although it is a continuation of the story of a boy's faith in his hound.

Scheduled for publication in August is Clark's 112-page, lavishly illustrated "Song of the River" by Thomas Y. Crowell Company, also of New York. This book is in the adult field, but like the other two, its author feels it will have general appeal for all ages. He has created a moving story about the Big Sandy River. The publisher calls it "a small masterpiece", created out of the elements of classical simplicity—an old man, a river and a great elusive catfish, Scapiron Jack.

"Miracle At Summers Creek" is the tentative title for the young Catlettsburg man's fourth book, which he feels is equal to his best work yet. He wrote it in 10 evenings and over one week-end last February. It is an intriguing and often-hilarious tale of a boy who is promised a miracle by a talking muskrat in bringing peace to the valley where mythical Summers Creek snakes it way.

Clark's early years were hard. He was the youngest boy in a poor family of four boys and four girls. He has two younger sisters. He was born at Catlettsburg in a house at the mouth of Catletts Creek.

His parents, Mason and Bertha Hewlett Clark, had only a third grade education. It was a meager living that his father was able to provide the large family from his shoe-mending trade. He made a few extra dollars by fiddling up and down the Big Sandy, and young Billy often traveled with him from "the time I was big enough to carry a guitar."

As a little boy, of 8, he would walk a 14-mile trapline—seven miles on either side of the creek—every morning before school running the traps with a flashlight. From the sale of pelts, and by hiring out in the summer to plant and hoe corn in the river bottoms, Billy became his own source of livelihood. He stayed in school.

When he was 13, Clark left his home and "because of the goodness of Mayor Erwin Rice," he was permitted to become a volunteer fireman of Catlettsburg, thus having the privilege of living on the third floor of the City Building. This made it possible for him to attend high school.

Besides receiving $3 for each fire call and $1.50 for fire drills, he earned $1.50 a month for winding the clock in the City Building's Tower. He kept up his hunting, trapping, frogging and fishing. He recalls:

"To me, the summers were the two rivers, mostly the Big Sandy. I knew the color of the water and what it meant. I could swim across both rivers. I owned a jockey boat and paddled it across the Ohio early in the morning when the water was covered with fog and you had to know the direction of your boat by listening to familiar hums against familiar snags along the bank. I oared to the Ohio shore, where I worked corn crops for 50 cents a day."

He graduated from high school in June, 1947—the only member of his entire family to achieve that—and in 1948 he enlisted in the Army, serving in the Far East.

He was at the University of Kentucky three years. When his G. I. Bill time expired, he had to leave. He returned to Catlettsburg and managed to work to save enough money to go back for one more semester in 1955.

Back in Catlettsburg again, he stayed for a while with a married sister, Mrs. Curtis Vanatter, and wrote three books, one of them his "Song of The River." The other two, he said, were "too youthful." He did the writing in the cellar of the Vanatter home, and it was so damp, he recalls, the typing paper softened.

Billy would like to return to the University to get a degree in English and realize a life-long ambition of teaching school. But eventually he wants to devote all of his time to writing.

Dr. Adron Doran, president of Morehead State College, will deliver two high school commencement addresses in this county, it was announced Friday. He will speak at Wheelwright, May 22, and at Wayland, May 31.

Ten other May commencement addresses are also scheduled in May by the Morehead educator, Ray Hornback, director of publicity, at Morehead, announces.

Dr. Doran and Dr. Carl Woods, formerly of Prestonsburg, but now at Morehead State College, were in Prestonsburg, Wednesday, after having visited Caney Junior College, at Pippa Passes.

Dr. Doran's other speaking dates are at Blaine high school on May 9. Breathitt County, May 16; Frenchburg, May 17; Letcher high school at 2 p.m., May 20; Fleming-Neon at 8 p.m., May 20; Springfield, May 21; Monticello, May 23; Flemingsburg, May 24; Cynthiana at 10 a.m., May 29; Somerset at 8 p.m., May 29.

days later this year. Harvesting is scheduled to start in the Paducah area on Monday, May 6th. Bray stated that the Division of Markets is providing grading and inspection service to all of the organized marketing associations in Kentucky. The conventional federal grades will be observed again this year with U. S. No. 1 and U. S. No. 2 and Unclassified. The Division is also providing supervisory service in grading for interstate shipments. All grades shipped interstate must be graded and labeled as to variety and by whom packed.

Bray is of the opinion that, despite a 20 per cent increase in acreage harvested and a 25 per cent increase in yield per acre, the prices of strawberries will remain about the same. This has been brought about by two factors: 1. Our strongest competitive market, the southern United States, expects a 12 per cent decrease in production; 2. Better quality berries will mean that more of the crop can be graded into the fresh market channels.

The principal commercial strawberry producing areas of the State are Bowling Green, Paducah, Bedford, Somerset, Franklin, North Kentucky, Upper Kentucky River at Morehead, Hazard, and Paintsville.

A total of 81,729 farm families reported having adopted ideas and practices suggested to them last year through their homemakers clubs. Almost 35,000 non-farm families in 112 counties also receive help, and 31,000 urban families in 64 counties.

The Kentucky Agricultural Extension Service personnel office said this week that a county agent will be assigned to Owsley county as of July 1, this year. Owsley has been without an agent since July 1956.

FLOYD NATIVE REALIZES DREAM OF TOUR ABROAD

Miss Stumbo in her Michigan classroom tells pupils of old world places she visited.

When Sylvia Jeane Stumbo was a student at McDowell her English teacher, Pauline Hall Allen, made England so real to her that she decided someday she would see Europe for herself.

Now a teacher in Milan, Michigan, she has realized her dream and is setting about to fire the interest of her pupils just as that teacher at McDowell did years ago.

She decided, while she was planning her tour, that her experience would be more than just a "grand tour" of the continent. She knew that in the limited time she would have, and as a member of a conducted tour, she would have little opportunity to become friendly with Europeans, but she felt that every contact—even with a shopkeeper—could be a friendly one.

Her trip by train from Detroit to Quebec, where she embarked on the Italian Liner, the Homeric, proved exciting when she found herself surrounded by persons speaking, as she put it, "in a multitude of tongues." The car was filled with persons returning to their homelands—among them, Hungarians, Poles, Frenchmen, Czechs, Germans, Italians and natives of various South American countries. She became acquainted with some of them and was fascinated by the interesting stories they had to tell.

One of her fellow-passengers was returning to Hungary after an absence of 30 years. Coming to Canada during the 1920's, he had expected in a few years to send for his wife and three-month-old son. The depression cost him the fulfillment of that wish and World War II coming close upon the ending of that depression engulfed Hungary and made it impossible to obtain his family's release. Six years ago his wife finally joined him, but the son, now 30, remains behind the Iron Curtain. The desire to see him led the father to risk his own freedom by visiting Hungary.

Another traveler was en route to East Germany to make arrangements for a relative to return with her to this country. She herself had been a captive of the Russians when their army poured into Berlin during the war.

A third acquaintance, a German professor in a Canadian school, had tales to tell of the war also. He was captured by the Russians and spent three years in a Russian prison. His father and two brothers were killed on V-E Day. These stories and many others from many persons contributed to the excitement of her trip.

Miss Stumbo visited most of the usual tourist spots abroad, using her camera as she went and obtaining colored slides which she plans to show her pupils. Her favorite spot was Venice, seen by gondola. Rome was another city which entranced her. She found Monaco full of excitement by the recent news that the royal family was expecting an heir. Every shopkeeper, when they learned she was an American, gave her the news—and the further explanation that now they would not have to pay taxes to France.

In London the group learned too late that at 11 p.m. all public conveyances stop running. That hour found her and four companions 3 1/2 miles from their hotel, a lengthy walk through darkened streets.

A visit to the American military cemetery near Heidelberg, Germany and to the grave there of General George S. Patton impressed her anew with the utility of war particularly after she had visited the German cemetery a mile or so away with its thousands of war dead.

She found the cleanliness of Holland and Switzerland almost unbelievable. Paris, she found beautiful but the people, she asserted, showed their dislike of Americans by insolent service in the shops and exorbitant prices to the tourist.

The return trip was exciting, not because of the fellow-passengers, most of whom proved to be just returning tourists like herself, but because of an incident which happened at its close.

A dense fog shrouded the harbor at Quebec as two tugs towed the Homeric into port. With visibility almost zero, the tugs thrust the bow of the Homeric into the side of another ocean liner, the Aroca Sun. The accident coming soon after the crash of the Stockholm and the Andria Doria, the Homeric's passengers were filled with momentary panic. The ship was able to proceed to its pier but the Aroca was much more severely damaged.

Miss Stumbo plans to keep in touch with some of her new friends, among them a resident of South Africa, a nurse in Genoa, Italy, and the passenger who was determined to bring her relative from East Germany to America.

Miss Stumbo hopes to see the continent again soon on her own, without benefit of a tour.

been to Pippa Passes for a visit with Mrs. Lloyd. It was Dr. Doran's first; for Mrs. Woods it was a return to old, familiar scenes. If Mrs. Lloyd could have heard the wonder in Dr. Doran's voice as he spoke of her and her school, she would be even more pleased that he called.

I have two places in mind to go visitin', some day—Caney Creek and Washington, D. C. My education, as many have already discerned, has been sadly neglected.

PASS THE PIZEN, PAPPY
 A visitor to this office came today bearing a sure-fore cure for alcoholism. Said he:

"Just get yourself bitten by a black widow spider, and, brother, your drinkin' days are over."

He explained that even a bottle of beer gives him the miseries all over. Said he had been a bit reluctant to pass on to others his experience; but since he had found a Beaver Creek man who also had been bitten by a black widow and now has the same allergy to alcohol, he decided that sure enough there's something in the widder's bite that's good for the craving for fire water.

The man said he proposes to write the AMA about it.

If this works, I have an idea the black widow is going to become standard equipment in a lot of homes.

THEY CONTINUE TO SUFFER
 State and federal governments are interested, as they should be, in handicapped persons. They are interested in employment for such people, for their return to normal life and such-like matters.

Yet they are forgetting some of the handicapped. What about the arrested case of tuberculosis?

We were discussing this matter at a meeting of the Floyd County Tuberculosis Association, the other day. There I learned of one government employee who no longer has t. b., but cannot get back the job he lost when the disease hit him. A man of keen intellect, excellent character, this, but one who cannot find employment because his government shies off from him because he once was sick—and because other employers hesitate to hire him.

Then there is the case of the young married woman who was described as lovely, but whose spirit is so sorely tried, and so often, by those who learn that she once had t. b. She finds folks edging away, once they learn she has been a tuberculosis patient. It matters none that she is recovered and now perfectly healthy—they still draw back. "I've quit going near a baby, as much as I love them," she told an acquaintance. She quit after solicitous mothers had by their actions given her to understand that they feared her.

Who are more handicapped than such as these? Who needs help more? They have had a hard fight with a deadly killer, withstood regimentation of their lives in hospitals and at home until they are well again. And even yet they are having to face up to and live under economic and psychological handicaps that they should be spared. And there are so many like them.

The Floyd County Tuberculosis Association is talking plans to help. But the public can do more than any Association, if it will only react sensibly.

Somehow, it should be arranged so that human beings who have won one of the toughest of battles against disease should not have to fight all their lives to live normal lives.

Full publicity would allay many fears that are as baseless as witch-tales. If those who are cured of t. b. are not to be helped as handicapped, they should not be handicapped by the ignorance of the public.

JUST A FEW OF THE MANY REASONS WHY JOE P. TACKETT IS THE MAN FOR THE JOB

Born in a double log house on Beaver Creek of poor but Christian parents. One of 14 children.

Plowed and hoed corn on the hillsides, barefooted, days without number.

Living the religious faith he learned at his mother's knee around the family fireside by the dim light of that old wood fire.

Educated the old-time hard way when children had to do the farming first and go to the country log school house later.

Taught a country school two years and studied law by correspondence at night. Admitted to the practice of law in 1916.

Left a wife behind and went through World War One, receiving a serious wound in the bloody Argonne Battle while fighting as an enlisted man.

Returned from the war after nine months in hospitals in France and the United States and then went to college where he obtained a Bachelor of Laws degree.

Located at Prestonsburg in his native county where he has practiced law continuously since. As a lawyer and service officer of Floyd Post 129, American Legion, for 17 years, he has always been the one person to whom all veterans and their dependents could, and have, gone for advice and service in prosecuting their claims against the government. No charge has ever been made for this service.

Reared a family of five sons and one daughter. All five sons are veterans of World War Two, and he and Mrs. Tackett rejoice in the fact that every one loves and respects their children.

Served four years as County Attorney and four years in the Kentucky Senate, leaving a record of public service of which he is justly proud.

The above are a few of the reasons why he will make for Floyd county a better servant than either of his opponents. Take, for instance, his 35 years' experience in our state and federal courts as a member of the Floyd County Bar. This, standing alone, is sufficient proof of his better qualifications to serve us. In addition to his experience as above set forth, and to our mind, the best qualification he has is the fact that he is an honest, fine Christian gentleman.

We herewith submit to you, the voters, the "Peope's Choice" for County Attorney, our own beloved, Joe P. Tackett.

George S. Owsley Post No. 295 of the American Legion will hold its regular meeting Friday, May 3, at the Draughn Radio & TV Service building at 7:30 p.m. All members, former members and eligible veterans are urged to attend. The Post is completing its 1957 membership drive. At the first meeting a month ago the Post had only eight members, but now after two meetings it has a 59 member total. While the quota for 1957 was set for 200 members by Department officials, the Post does not expect to reach that mark but would like to reach at least 75 or perhaps 100.

The recent Big Sandy and Kentucky River flood dramatically demonstrated to stricken communities that their American Legion Posts were their aces in the hole in times of disaster. Not only were American Legion clubhouses converted immediately into emergency relief centers where food and clothing were issued and refugees were housed, but Legionnaires everywhere were the first in hipboot service on the waterfront. Most American Legion Posts are community hubs for disaster-relief and civil defense organizations. The Legion sent into the Hazard area more than 2,000 gallons of fresh milk, 3,350 gallons of fresh water, 165 new blankets, 900 gallons of fruit juices, and supplies of canned goods and baby food. The expenses incurred are as follows: Dairy products $1,464.00; groceries $2,585.60; fruit juices $926.70; Blankets $469.33; hauling $443.07; publicity $10, telephone calls and mileage, $283, for a total of $6,181.70.

Immunization Week In State Announced For May 5th to 11th

An immunization inventory for all members of every family in the state, especially children, was urged this week by Dr. C. C. Howard, Glasgow, as he announced "Immunization Week in Kentucky" to be held next week under the sponsorship of the Kentucky State Medical Association.

May 5 to 11 has been set aside by Governor A. B. Chandler for observance of immunization week and a period in which special efforts shall be made to acquaint Kentuckians with the importance of protection immunizations afford.

Dr. Howard, chairman of the medical association's Public Health Committee which has directed Kentucky's immunization week each year since 1954, stated there was still far too many people who have not taken advantage of the insurance against diphtheria, tetanus, typhoid, smallpox, polio and whooping cough which immunizations provide.

"Each of these diseases except smallpox were responsible for unnecessary deaths of Kentuckians during the past year", Dr. Howard said. "Undoubtedly the compulsory smallpox vaccination law has been a factor in preventing deaths from that cause."

"The fact is there are many persons in our state who do not have immunity to these killers. All adults should check their own immunization status, especially with reference to polio, typhoid and tetanus. In addition to these, it is important that all children have protection against diphtheria and whooping cough."

"Immunization of pre-school age children is especially important", Dr. Howard continued. "Since most whooping cough deaths occur under the age of two years and diphtheria under the age of five, parents are taking a serious gamble with their child's life if they wait until school entry before they give him this protection."

George Kelly Spears, 78, Veteran Valley Teacher Dies at Greenup-co. Home

George Kelly Spears, 78, native of the Johns Creek section of Johnson county, died last Thursday at his home at Argillite, Greenup county.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday at the Danielton Chapel Missionary Baptist Church by the Rev. Cecil Hall. Burial was made in Rose Hill Burial Park in Ashland.

Mr. Spears was born December 15, 1878, in Johnson county, a son of the late George W. and Matilda Clark Spears. He taught in Greenup, Johnson and Floyd county schools from 1901 until his retirement in 1946. Mr. Spears was Circuit Clerk of Greenup county from 1926 to 1934.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Julia Spears; one son, Prof. Woodridge Spears of Georgetown, Ky.; six grandchildren and one great-grandchild. He was preceded in death by a son, Beveridge Spears.

Strawberry Growers Warned of Mulch Cost Unless Planning Done

Planning ahead often saves us time and money, and with wheat straw selling at a dollar a bale, you strawberry growers stand to save yourself one expense this year if you will grow your own strawberry mulch. Normally it will take a ton of straw to adequately mulch a half acre of berries. The average bale will weigh around 80 pounds, which means that you will have to fork over $12.50 for the straw you will need.

A quarter of an acre of Sudan grass sown early this month should produce enough straw by this fall to mulch a half acre of strawberries. The grass should be allowed to grow until it begins to head out, and then cut before the seed forms. After cutting it should be allowed to cure. Then it can be stacked alongside the patch to await spreading.

When sudan grass is grown for mulch it should be sown at a rate of 30 pounds per acre, on ground which has been turned and disked. It is highly recommended that 30 pounds of actual nitrogen be broadcast when the seed is sown. The requirement can be met by applying 100 pounds of ammonium nitrate or 150 pounds of nitrate of soda. After the seed has been made, the ground should be dragged.

Certified Piper is the variety most recommended for this area. An outlay of $6.40 should cover the cost of seed and fertilizer. This is a saving of at least $13.00 for mulch for an acre of strawberries in favor of growing sudan grass for mulch instead of buying baled straw.

FARM FACTS

We are all concerned about the difficulties, due to the high capital requirements of modern agriculture, that confront young men in becoming established in farming. The same financial problems, however, confront young men who want to go into any other productive or merchandizing business. In either case one cannot start as an owner-operator unless he has had the good fortune to inherit a going business.

Possibly more young farmers should consider climbing the ladder to farm ownership just like he would have to do if he wanted to operate a grocery or department store, a garage or any other business.

He would first get a job working for a successful owner, then in line with his abilities, he would have an opportunity to become, progressively, manager, partner or lessor, and then owner. Ownership, however, either in the business of farming or otherwise, is not essential to success.

Many good operators, both in the city and on the farm, find it preferable to let someone else furnish the capital for ownership while they furnish the managerial ability and the tools of production. Efficient young farmers may find better futures for themselves in operating someone else's good farms than by struggling to own a mediocre one themselves.

HENRY STUMBO

COUNTY JUDGE

When Judge Stumbo took office Bonded Indebtedness of the county was $522,000.00
Bonds retired during past 7 1/2 years 468,000.00

Outstanding bonds now $ 54,000.00

During the past 3 1/2 years the tax rate has been reduced 20c on the per hundred valuation.

This huge reduction has been made in the county's indebtedness at a time when the road building and right of way expenses were the greatest of all times.

By 1960 under the administration of Judge Stumbo all the bonds will be retired and Floyd county will be debt free.

All of this has been accomplished without any increase in the tax rate.

Get Floyd county out of debt and keep it out—Continue the Road Building Program.

SCORING RECORD FALLS IN BLACK CATS WIN

The Prestonsburg Black Cats baseball team may have established a record baseball score Monday as they walloped a good Fleming-Neon high school squad 43-4. The Black Cats previously beat the Pirates 13-3.

The Cats scored 17 times in the first inning and again in the fourth.

Melvin Stewart pitched the entire game for the Black Cats which was called at the end of 4½ innings by mutual agreement. Stewart allowed only five hits as he picked up his first win of this season. He has lost two tough games.

Coach Jack Ray Hall, of Fleming-Neon used six pitchers in trying to quieten the Black Cats' booming bats.

Bears Triumph Again At Drift Ball Park. Winning Double Bill

Pikeville, Ky., May 1—The unbeaten Pikeville College Bears took their third and fourth wins of the season from the Union College Bulldogs, 6-5 and 8-3, Saturday at Drift.

Four-hit pitching in the nightcap by freshman fireballer Jim Moss, who fanned nine without a walk in the seven innings, checked the Union artillery while Coach Joe Butcher's nine was making eight runs out of six hits and six passes issued by Bob Van Horn, Pikeville second-sacker Gobel Salyers stole three bases, two on the same trip around the paths, and one by Jim "Tex" Thompson, who pitched and won the opener.

Thompson's first pitching win of the season was nulled down by two reserve pitchers, Shortstop and sometime pitcher Millard Bevins singled home another reserve chucker, Ray Bailey, who spent Saturday in left field, for the winning run with none out in the bottom of the seventh. Bevins got a triple and Bailey a double as each reached three hits with four trips to the plate for the day's best woodwork.

A double play by catcher Jim Reed and third-baseman Don Willis, with two runs in, two men on and none out in the first inning of the afterpiece erased the visitors' last threat.

The Bears next outing will be a pair of exhibitions against the powerful Fort Knox Tankers, Friday and Saturday (May 3-4) at Fort Knox, Ky. In their next "home" game, set tentatively for Johns Creek high school's field, they will entertain Clinch Valley college Tuesday (May 7).

SPORTS AFIELD

By TED KESTING

Polls reveal that bass are the favorite game fish of American anglers. Pan fish come next on the list, with trout running third. But, says Jason Lucas, angling editor of Sports Afield Magazine, the term "pan fish" in meaningless, for it includes totally unrelated small species caught by entirely different methods.

In place of pan fish, Lucas lists crappies. In fact, he says, in the sections of the country where they're plentiful, they might even rate a first place.

Crappies are the ideal fish for anglers who haven't the time—or perhaps the desire—to study the more intricate aspects of fishing necessary for catching bass. Also, says Lucas, crappie fishing is ideal for the family outing. It is often possible to catch six nice crappie during the same time required to catch one small bass.

Crappies vary in the fight they offer an angler. Sometimes they give practically no resistance, while on other occasions they will fight like tigers. And nobody knows the answer to their inconsistency.

The best way to fish for crappies is by using a fly rod. Playing a fish on this light tackle seems to make big ones out of little ones. The most sport is derived by using small poppers on the surface. These, however, are generally successful only rather late in the evening. Begin with one on a No. 8 hook, and then see if a little larger one will do better. Remember that crappies have small mouths.

Perhaps most important is the retrieve. A crappie will rarely take anything moving fast. The slower you retrieve, the more you'll catch, says Lucas. Let the lure lie there, twitching it only enough to form tiny ripples.

Crappies may not be the gamest fish in the world, but coming hot off the skillet, coated with cracked crumbs, they take high place for good eating among our game fish.

DISTRICT TOURNAMENT OPENS MONDAY

The five-team Floyd county district high school baseball tournament will open play Monday, May 6, in the Drift park, with Martin high as host school.

The Pike-Floyd combined district was changed last week after Martin Coach Denzil Halbert asked the Commissioner's office to make Floyd county a separate district, as it had been for the past five years.

Wheelwright's Maroons are the defending champions.

EAST-WEST SERIES

The eighth annual East-West high school basketball series will be played in June, according to an announcement made by the Pikeville Senior Scouts, sponsors of the series.

Whitesburg will be the scene of the first game, June 11. The second game is carded for Pikeville, June 13, and the final game in Lexington, June 15.

Roy Adams, Eastern high mentor, will coach the West unit and Pikeville coach, John Bill Trivette, will tutor the East.

Selection of players will be announced soon.

BACK TO LEXINGTON

In a surprise move, principals of Kentucky's 436 high schools have voted 234-175 to move the 1958 Kentucky state high school basketball tournament back to Lexington. Thus Kentucky's high school children can again call the tournament their own.

Advance warning—Now is the time to make your hotel reservations if you plan to attend the '58 tournament... Dates... March 19-22, 1958.

JUNIOR GOLF

All Floyd county youths, ages 12 through 18, interested in the annual Prestonsburg Junior Chamber of Commerce gold tournament, should bring a birth certificate to Don Sullivan, Jaycee chairman, before May 4.

This year's tournament will be held at the Paintsville Country Club May 20, 21, 22, 23.

Merchants Down Grassy Here Sunday Afternoon; Play Blaine Next Sunday

The Prestonsburg Merchants opened their Big Sandy Baseball League season here last Sunday afternoon with a rather easy 10 to 2 conquest of the Grassy entry from Morgan county.

Julian Campbell, winning moundsman, allowed two runs on three hits during his six-inning stint, and Jimmy Nelson finished up with shutout ball.

Prestonsburg hit Bowens, Grassy hurler, safely 11 times, with Dixon, Wilcox and Ellis hitting homers in the second, fifth and ninth innings, respectively.

The Merchants go to Blaine Sunday for a game with an all-Negro team.

Black Cats Avenge Losses In Defeat of Wheelwright

Prestonsburg high school's Black Cats avenged previous losses when they trounced the powerful Wheelwright Maroons here Tuesday afternoon, 10-2.

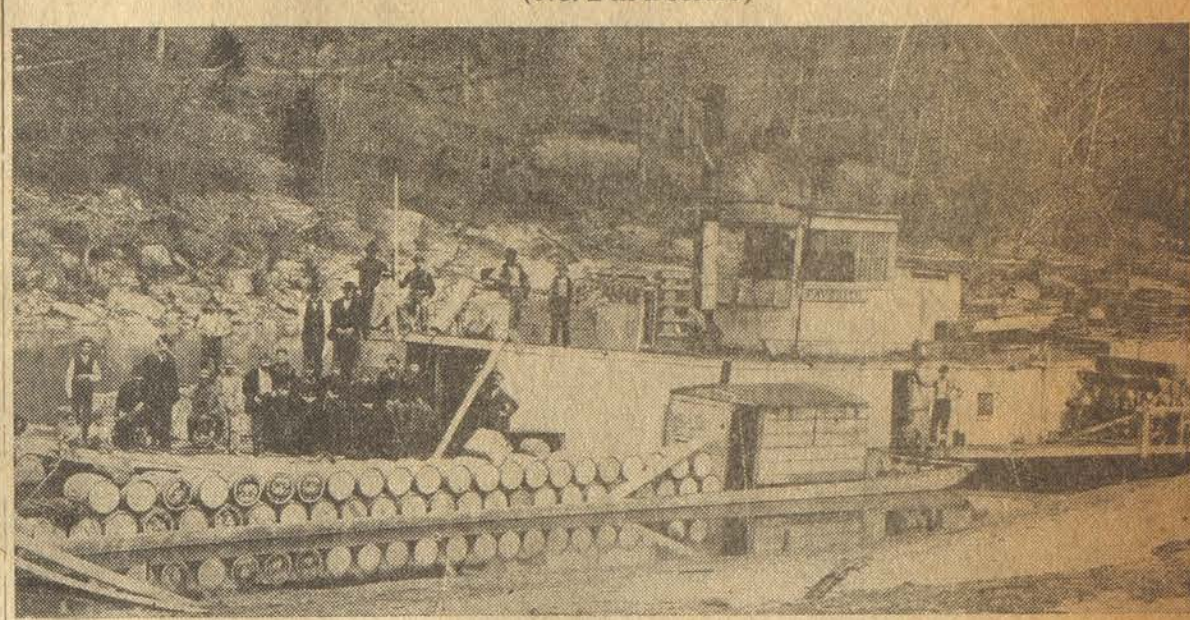

Dixon hurled a three-hitter for Prestonsburg, allowing only one extra base hit—a homer by Cole in the second. The Cats had eight safeties, one a double by Dotson. They scored two runs in the third, four in the fourth, one in the fifth and three in the sixth.

Each team had four errors, and it was walks and errors, combined with timely Prestonsburg hits, that won the game for the Cats.

Historic Floyd County

(No. 2 in a series)

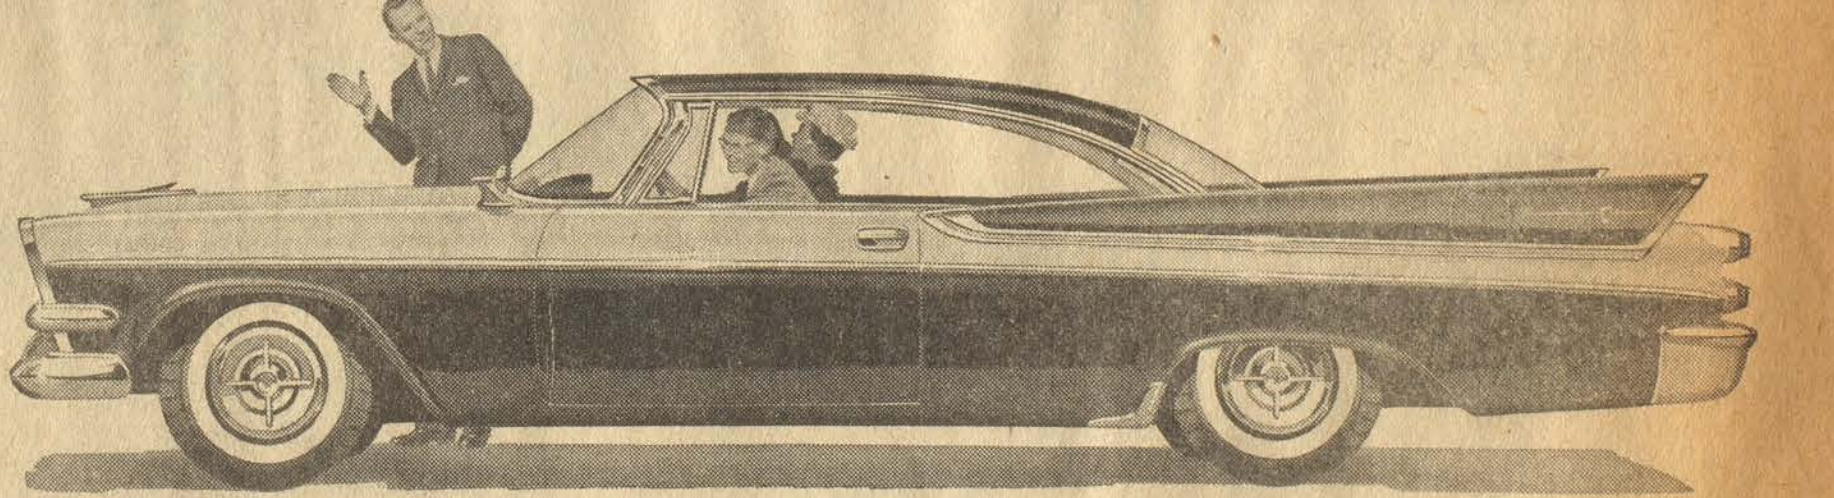

The Favorite, one of the most popular of Big Sandy steamboats, was built in 1870 at South Point, Ohio. It was designed by Tom Parks, an engineer, and was officially listed as 103 feet long, 14.8 feet wide and with a draught of 2.2 feet. It was a successful boat from the beginning, being a "favorite" with shippers and raftsmen who were returning to the upper Big Sandy from Catlettsburg. It sank at the mouth of George's Creek after striking a snag in the swiftly rising river.

The Favorite is shown unloading barrels of flour, salt and other merchandise on a pushboat at Rockport Landing, at the north end of the present First avenue at Prestonsburg. The picture was taken a few years before the railway was built to Prestonsburg.

The First National Bank, of Prestonsburg, organized in 1904, when the steamboats were yielding valley transportation to the railway has contributed greatly since those steamboat days to the progress of Floyd county.

Most Meat To Be Frozen
Some authorities believe that by 1960, housewives will be buying one-fifth of the meat purchased in frozen form.

"Melody of Flowers" Exhibit at Wayland To Be Held May 12th

Theme of the flower show to be staged at the Wayland hotel May 12 from 2 to 7 p.m. is, "Melody of Flowers," and various arrangements will bear the names of well-known melodies.

For instance, said Mrs. R. H. Messer, of Garrett, "You Are my Sunshine" will be an arrangement of yellow flowers in a brass or copper container; "Wearing of the Green," an arrangement in tints, tones and shades of green, using fresh-cut plant material, and "Ave Maria" will be an arrangement using a madonna.

Other melodies to be represented in arrangements are "The Time of Roses," "Am I Blue?" "Crescent Moon," "One Alone," "Desert Song," "South of the Border," "Sea Dreams," "Just an Old-Fashioned Garden," "Song of the Island," and others.

The show will be sponsored by the Lackey-Garrett-Wayland Woman's Club.

Competition is open to the public but exhibitors will be limited to one entry to a class. Blue ribbons will be awarded for first prizes, red for second, yellow for third, and white for honorable mention. One tri-color will be awarded in the competitive arrangement class. A sweepstake rosette and ribbon will be awarded the exhibitor winning the largest number of ribbons. Entries must be in place by 9 a.m., Sunday, May 12.

REPUBLICAN Or DEMOCRAT???

MR. ROBERT WELLMAN, you are asking the people to vote for you as the Democratic nominee for our party.

As a Democrat I would like to have you answer some questions:

When did you, or have you become, a real Democrat?

We have information that you were a registered Rowan county Republican and that the record proves this.

Did you support Cooper against Barkley?

Did you support the Republican Party last fall?

The Democratic party is entitled to nominate a real Democrat and not a Pretender. Please give them the facts.

A Loyal Democrat,
JACK POE

DEAR FRIENDS AND FELLOW VOTERS:

When I came back to the United States from over there, I knew that here in America I had a right to take my wife and settle down, make a home, witness the birth of my first child, cast my first vote and even run for office in a neighboring county to my place of birth. You know that I traveled halfway around the world during World War II. I saw a lot of places and after it was all over, I selected Martin, Ky., as my home. I am sorry that either of my opponents wish to question my right to have done this. I have meant to have worked no hardships upon anyone. I guess that Kathleen and I just had Floyd county in our blood.

You know, her grandfather was Copper John Campbell, son of Daniel Campbell and Louise Branham Campbell; that he was born and raised on Bull Creek in Floyd county; that he married Liza Wicker and moved over in Knott county, raised a large family and that most of his children moved back to Floyd county; my grandfather, William (Wid) Moore, was born and raised on Left Beaver above McDowell. He was married to Susan Mosley, who was born and raised in the same section of Floyd county. That is where my father, Marson Moore, was born and raised. He migrated across the county line and married my mother, Minnie Jones. Mother's paternal grandfather and grandmother, Jonathan Jones and Elizabeth Draughn Jones, moved all the way from North Carolina to Knott county, and her maternal grandfather and grandmother, Nelson Craft and Eliza Reynolds Craft, moved from Letcher county to Knott county.

So on and on it goes here in America. God has been kind to us. We have a lot to be thankful for in this country. You know we can just work and live wherever we like best. I am proud that I chose Floyd county. I love it and I love the people who work and live here. The native-born Floyd county people as well as those like myself, who migrated from other counties and other states—we all make up one big, fine Floyd county.

Kathleen and I have many fine friends and relatives throughout Floyd county. We appreciate your kindness to us during this campaign.

We appreciate the fact that so many people are working hard for me in this race for the Democratic nomination for County Court Clerk.

I feel that you have always felt free to come to the office since I have been there and transact business and visit with us. We have been glad to serve you and be of help to you. We will be glad to help you in the future. Our every act and desire will be for your best interests. We have tried to save you time and money, and we will do so in the future. I am very grateful to everyone of you and will always do my very best both in office and out.

Please give me your kind consideration. I will sincerely appreciate your vote and influence and I will do my best to make you happy that you helped me. May God be with us all, now and forevermore in the future.

Your friend,
DuRAN MOORE

PROCK HAYES

Has Been

A Good Jailer

Re-elect him for another 4 years.

When a County Official stands for re-election he must stand or fall on his record of service to the people.

Prock Hayes as your jailer has a record of service to the people of Floyd county of which he and his many friends can be justly proud.

The record does not have to be checked in county record books, it can be seen. We have seen the cleanliness of the courthouse and grounds, the upkeep of the jail and the manner of Prock's service to the county. Many of us have eaten at the jail, we know the quality of the food and the fine manner in which it is prepared.

Naturally, no one enjoys being in jail, but those who have knows that the prisoners have been treated with all courtesy due them, and most of all have lived in clean surroundings with good, sufficient food. As it should be, no special favors, nor partiality has been shown to any prisoners. In addition, Prock Hayes, has been very faithful in attending court and has been helpful to the Court and to all the people with whom he has come into contact.

All in all, we think Prock Hayes has made the best jailer we have ever had.

We recommend him for another four years.

Re-elect Prock Hayes jailer.

Signed:

FRIENDS OF PROCK HAYES

Teaberry Man Victim
Of Cancer; Burial Made
In Newsome Cemetery

Morgan Newsome, 41, of Teaberry, died Sunday at 4 p.m. at home of cancer of the throat. He had been ill a year, seriously so two weeks.

Mr. Newsome was a son of Mrs. Cinda Hall Newsome and the late Bert Newsome. His wife, Tilda Paige Newsome, survives. Surviving also are six sons and daughters: Ermal, Ernie, Sharil, Douglas, Jackie and Jimmie, all at home. Brothers and sisters surviving are Green Newsome, Pocatello, Idaho, Dewey, Andy, and Curt Newsome, all of Teaberry, Noah Newsome, of Betsy Layne, Mrs. Verdie Riley and Mrs. Lizzie Flagg, both of Ypsilanti, Mich., Mrs. Nannie Newsome, of Teaberry, and Mrs. Minta Hall, of Clyde, O.

Funeral rites were conducted Tuesday at the home, the Revs. Milford Adams, Evan Hamilton, Jonah Isaac and others officiating. Burial was made in the Newsome cemetery at Craynor under direction of the Hall Bros. Funeral Home.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Elliott L. Hicks wishes to express to all friends and relatives sincere thanks for every courtesy extended to him during his illness. We thank friends and relatives for the flowers and other expressions of love and sympathy upon his passing. We are grateful to Revs. Ed. Moore, Bert Howard, M. C. Wright, Willard Akers, Banner Michans, and M. F. Blanton, for their consoling words, and to the Turner and Ryan Funeral Home for its efficient services.

FARM NOTES

By ROBERT M. JONES
County Agent

Farmers are now in the process of making up orders for a car load of western sheep. This is earlier than the usual ordering date, but a good buy has been located in the west. A rancher in New Mexico is being forced to sell 600 yearling due to the drought in the West. The yearlings are Columbia-Rambouillet crosses, which farmers are now using. The guaranteed minimum weight of these ewes is 90 pounds. They will make good size ewes by breeding time.

"The price of these ewes, though a little higher than last year, will probably be the best this year" so says R. C. Miller, Extension Specialist in Sheep Production. The slight increase in price is due to heavy demand of these ewes, and the short supply.

Anyone interested in obtaining any of these ewes, can contact us at the county agent's office by 9:00 o'clock Saturday morning.

COMMERCIAL FERTILIZER

A corn crop removes considerably plant food from the soil. A 100 bushel crop will remove 140 pounds of nitrogen, 40 pounds of phosphate and 120 pounds potassium. If you are trying to produce a high corn yield, this amount of plant food will have to be available in the soil. The first step to insure proper fertilization is to base the fertility program on the result of a soil test. Once the amount of plant food in the soil is determined, the balance needed to produce the crop can be supplied with commercial fertilizer.

The method of applying fertilizer is determined by amount used, type of soil, and crop rotation. If only a small amount of fertilizer is to be used, say 300 pounds to the acre, drill it in the row. Make sure it doesn't come in direct contact with seed. Larger amounts should be broadcast and disked into the soil. On sandy soil it would be best to side-dress this nitrogen when corn is knee high.

Remember it takes the first 35 bushels of corn per acre to pay for the cost of production. Unless a high yield is obtained, there will be little profit.

VEGETABLE PLANT

A report from the south says the late blight is now widespread on tomatoes and potatoes in the southern area where most tomatoes transplants are grown. For this reason stay away from imported plants; if possible buy locally-produced plants. If large numbers of infected plants are imported and weather conditions are suitable for the disease during the growing season, an epidemic could develop.

There is a wide-open market for locally produced plants here. Not only would it be a profitable project for someone, it would be a big service to the gardeners here in the county.

Ligon Minister Charges
Witnesses Imprisoned

Charging that Soviet officials "may perhaps be found fighters actually against God," a strongly worded letter of protest from officials of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, legal governing body of Jehovah's Witnesses, has been sent to Premier Nikolai A. Bulbanin of the U. S. S. R.

R. L. Mathews, presiding minister of the Ligon congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses in this country, in announcing the contents of the letter, cited the wholesale arrests and mass movements of Jehovah's Witnesses to slave labor camps in Siberia.

The letter was written to accompany a composite petition that had been adopted over a period of nine months by a total of 462,936 of Jehovah's Witnesses, meeting in 199 assemblies throughout the world. It called attention to the 7,000 Jehovah's Witnesses known to be in slave camps in the Soviet Union and, requesting their release, proposed that a delegation be permitted to proceed from the Society's headquarters in Brooklyn, N. Y. to Moscow.

At Home of Daughter

Steve Sherman, 82, of Dema, died Wednesday of last week at 10:45 a.m. at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Lucy Martin.

Mr. Sherman was a son of Elliott and Amanda Pelphey Sherman. His wife, Belle Burchett Sherman, preceded him in death. He was a native of this county.

Surviving, besides Mrs. Martin, is another daughter, Mrs. Amma Day, of Prestonsburg; a half-brother, Willie Sherman, Greenup county; 14 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted Friday at 10:30 a. m. at the Free-will Baptist church at Auxier and burial followed in the Relocation cemetery under the direction of Hall Bros. Funeral Home.

State Health Dep't
Personnel To Hold
Workshops in May

Kentucky State Department of Health personnel will participate in a workshop on proper construction and maintenance of water systems, community and rural, being held in 13 Kentucky towns during the month of May.

The program will consist of practical demonstrations for county agents, rural electric association officials, home demonstration agents, and area and local sanitarians.

Ralph C. Pickard, director, and other members of the Division of Engineering of the Kentucky State Department of Health will speak on construction, chlorination, and protection of local water supplies. Planning for sewage disposal will be discussed by Harvey McAndrews, director, and other members of the Division of Sanitation.

ATTENTION, YOUNG VOTERS!

We, the undersigned, students in the Floyd County School System, of voting age urge all other young people throughout the county to support Judge Henry Stumbo for re-election to the office of Judge of Floyd county. We invite all voters to look into the record of Judge Stumbo. His administrations as our County Judge have been devoted to the best interests of the county and the people as a whole. His handling of juvenile matters, which is of particular significance to our age group, has been characterized by wisdom and understanding.

We do not have to rely on statements made during a political campaign to know that Judge Stumbo has the interest of us young people at heart. He went on record as far back as November 3, 1955 when, in a letter to the editor of the Floyd County Times, he solicited the support of voters to the passage of the Constitutional amendment granting 18 year olds the privilege to vote. His letter on that date is as follows:

"Editor, The Times:

This is to call to the attention of the people Constitutional Amendment No. 1 which is to be voted on at the election next Tuesday. A "Yes" vote means that we are in favor of permitting those who are 18 years old to vote.

All of us are mindful of the services by the youths only 18 years old in the armed forces, and all should be grateful to them. I urge support of the amendment for the reason that I am convinced that any youth who is old enough to wear his country's uniform, carry a gun and undergo the hardships and dangers of a military life is certainly capable of stamping a ballot and doing it as well as those who are older.

May I urge the voters not to overlook Amendment No. 1 on the right-hand side of the ballot."

HENRY STUMBO,
County Judge."

We think that Judge Stumbo's consideration of us in 1955 merits our consideration now, for without Judge Stumbo and others like him we would not be privileged to cast our ballot in this election.

Home Demonstration Work Is Contributor Toward Better Living

Home demonstration work contributes, in the Agricultural Extension Service program, toward better living and improved human relations. The family can learn ways of effective living and working with others.

What is effective living? A life that has power to produce desirable results. The person with this type of life is usually energetic, industrious, keen and alert. In other words, with some get-up-and-go and some know-how, one can have what he wants or needs that is worthwhile.

The family provides the "get-up-and-go" and Extension through home demonstration work can provide, along with church and schools, the know-how.

Approximately 4,000 home demonstration agents, associates, and assistants give professional leadership to the program. Nearly 700,000 women serve as local leaders in carrying on the educational program.

Home demonstration work is an established function of the land-grant colleges in the 48 States, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico. More than six million women took part in the program in 1955.

Families from one end of Floyd county to the other are offered the services of home demonstration work. They can receive them through homemakers groups, 4-H clubs, garden meetings, visits in their homes, letters or any other rational ways. Education is the Extension Service's role.

Will you benefit from it? You should—it is yours for the asking!

STATE JOINS OBSERVANCE

Home Demonstration Week Being Observed With Special Events

Kentucky will join other states in observing Home Demonstration Week, April 28 to May 4, when attention will be called to the importance of a program that is planned by and for homemakers, the Agricultural Extension Service cooperating.

In the rapidly changing pattern of modern living, homemakers need an up-to-date, reliable source of information that will help them in solving problems in practically every phase of the home and community, says Mrs. Viola Hansen, Chairman of home economics Extension programs at the University of Kentucky.

Home demonstration work meets that need, she says, as information developed through home economics research is given in practically every phase of homemaking.

Plans for the week will be developed in the various counties, and will include tours to note accomplishments of members, exhibits in store windows, demonstrations, open houses, and special programs. Newspapers, radio, and television will tell of achievements in some of the 119 counties having home demonstration agents.

A total of 81,729 farm families reported having adopted ideas and practices suggested to them last year through their homemakers clubs. Almost 35,000 non-farm families in 115 counties also receive help, and 31,000 urban families in 64 counties.

Miss Hansen attributes the success of home demonstration work to several factors: the subjects to be studied in a county are chosen by the homemakers to meet their particular needs and wants; two members of each club attend a training school as volunteer leaders, and are given specific information through demonstrations and discussion by home economists; and finally, the leaders teach their fellow club members what they have learned.

Much of the satisfaction of home demonstration work is in the development of individual women as leaders in their communities, according to Miss Hansen.

Working with Miss Hansen in the state are 145 graduated home economists: nine are district leaders of home demonstration and 4-H work; 126 are home demonstration agents, and 12, specialists in the field of clothing, home furnishings, foods and nutrition, home management, buying, family relations, safety and health.

Mrs. Vaney Frances Akers, Aged Banner Woman Dies; Was Native of Galveston

Mrs. Vaney Frances Akers, 89, of Banner died at home at 7 a.m. Saturday. Infirmities of old age was given as the cause of death.

Mrs. Akers was born at Galveston, this county, the daughter of Eli and Matilda Clark Sturgill. Her husband, Noah Akers, whom she married 70 years ago, survives. She was a member of the United Baptist church 58 years.

Surviving sons and daughters are Elvie Akers and Mrs. Bertha Hall, both of Banner, Mrs. Emma Compton, of Cliff, Mrs. Verda Jones, of Banner, Mrs. Coosie Ennis, Vinton, O., Clifford Akers, of Allen, Earl Akers MacArthur, O., and Homer Akers Madison Heights, Mich.

Also surviving are 40 grandchildren among whom is Mrs. Florida Smith, Marrow, O., who was reared by Mr. and Mrs. Akers, 57 great-grandchildren and seven great-great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted Monday at 10 a.m., at the home, the Revs. Isaac Stratton, Bert Conn, Sam Thomas, and Johnny King officiating. Burial was made in the Hall cemetery at Banner under the direction of the Carter & Callihan Funeral Home.

Wayland Lions Club Host at Ladies Night; Planning Little League

The Wayland Lions, their ladies and several guests enjoyed "Ladies Night" at the Wayland hotel last Thursday evening. Approximately 50 persons enjoyed a good program, highlighted by music by the choir of the Wayland Methodist Church.

Lions President Jack Lyon served as master-of-ceremonies. The Wayland Lions Club, in its effort to create sufficient interest for the organization of a Little League baseball league, comprising teams from Garrett, Lackey, Estill and Wayland, held a second meeting in the Wayland theater building Saturday. Attending this meeting were 40 boys, 12 years of age or under, and approximately 20 interested adults, mostly from the Wayland area. Two teams are expected to be formed from this group.

Another meeting is scheduled for Saturday, May 4, at 1:00, in the Wayland theater building, for further discussion of organizational plans. It is hoped interested persons and boys from Garrett and Lackey will attend this meeting. Several from Estill attended the meeting Saturday the 27th. It is hoped necessary sponsors and boys for the other needed teams will be on hand at this Saturday's meeting so that at least four teams can be organized, with full team managing personnel, so scheduled play of games may begin by June 1.

It is not expected this "Little League" organization will not become federated with the national organization until next year; however, the rules and procedure will be followed this first year as closely as possible.

Mrs. Matilda W. Branham, Aged Bull Creek Resident Victim At Home Of Son

Mrs. Matilda Webb Branham, 91, of Watergap, succumbed to the infirmities of age at the home of a son, John Branham, Saturday. She was one of the section's oldest women and was a native of Floyd county.

Mrs. Branham was a daughter of Bill and Jane Crisp Webb and the widow of Dee Branham who died 25 years ago. Surviving sons and daughters, besides John Branham, are Mrs. Anna Mayo, Sam Branham, Richard Branham and Harry Branham, all of Martin, and Jay Branham, Chelsea, Mich. Surviving also are 55 grandchildren, 30 great-grandchildren and six great-great-grandchildren.

Funeral rites were conducted Monday at 10 a.m. at the home of her son John, the Revs. Robert Martin, Frank DeRossett and Floyd Lafferty officiating. Burial was made in the family cemetery at Watergap under the direction of Moore Funeral Home.

TO THE VOTERS AND TAXPAYERS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

When it comes time to cast your vote for a candidate for County Judge, there are a number of things that you should take into consideration. The County Judge is the presiding officer of the Fiscal Court, and as such is in charge of the finances of the County. For this job you want a man that has the proper training and experience in business to properly look after the interests of Floyd county. There is one candidate for this office that is qualified for this job and has demonstrated by the way he has handled his own business that he is a good business man. That man is Dewey Roberts.

You want a man that has the time to devote to the duties of his office—a man that is not engaged in the coal business to take his time away from the duties of his office. The County Judge should be in his office and on the job every day in the week every week in the year. It should not be necessary for a long wait or a return trip to transact business with the chief business officer of the county. If you want a man that will be on the job every day and will have nothing else to do except look after the business of your county — vote for Dewey Roberts for County Judge.

If you want a County Judge that will look after the taxpayers money and will make sure that none of it is spent illegally and that the County receives full value for every penny that is spent; a man that will publish a complete audit in the County Newspaper each year showing to whom, for what purpose and the amount of each and every cent of money spent by the County, then elect Dewey Roberts. He will do these things.

If you want a man who has the ability, energy and "know how" to keep your roads and bridges in repair and to build more and better roads in all parts of the County, Dewey Roberts is that man.

If you want a County Judge that will be on the job and can and will look you in the eye and discuss your problems with you, and will not be looking after some other business when you want to see him; a man that will be working every day for the interest of you and Floyd County, then elect Dewey Roberts County Judge. You will always be proud you did.

Boss Clive Has Started His Drive!

Boss Clive has now revealed the tactics by which he expects to coerce the good people of Floyd County into keeping him in office for a full 20 years:

Does he explain why he has neglected his office for the past 16 years? Not at all! Does he explain why it has been necessary to pay extra for work done in his office which should have been done by him? Not at all! Does he explain why taxes are so high in Floyd county and why the county's credit is so bad it can't buy a keg of nails on time? Not at all? Does he apologize for devoting his time to his coal business when he should have been looking after his office? Not at all! No—his strategy is quite different.

Boss Clive has already had three good Floyd County citizens fired from their jobs on the Highway for no reason except they were not strong enough for him in this election. If you doubt the truth of this statement we suggest you talk to men the themselves. They are Bert Nichols, of Wayland, Frank Warrix, of Prestonsburg and Andy Conley of Garrett.

Boss Clive has set out to make every Highway employee in the county not only to work for him in the election but also to display a Clive Akers sticker on his automobile. If you doubt this you have only to look at the vehicles parked around the state Highway garage at Allen.

Boss Clive has already forced every Highway employee in the county to donate to the campaign "Kitty." He will now be calling on many of the big taxpayers to "kick in" some money or take the consequences.

BOSS CLIVE IS THE BIG "APPLE KNOCKER" IN FLOYD COUNTY; STAND BACK FOLKS: GIVE HIM ROOM: BOSS CLIVE HAS STARTED HIS DRIVE.

If you believe in honesty in public affairs; if you believe in fair and equal assessment for all property. If you believe in giving the little man a chance to live too, vote for Manis Conley, your next Tax Commissioner.

Get Safety Check On Automobiles, Official Advises

Frankfort, May 1 (Spl.)—“Don't gamble with your life. Check your car for safety,” State Director of Accident Control Charles B. Jones has advised motorists.

He noted, “Many persons who figuratively wouldn't be caught dead in a gambling casino have literally been caught dead in unsafe cars.”

Jones is Kentucky coordinator for the national vehicle safety check program for communities, sponsored by the State Department of Public Safety. National sponsors are Look Magazine, the National Safety Council and the Inter-Industry Highway Safety Committee.

Committee representative Marshall Davis recently met with Jones and other State safety officials to set-up Kentucky's 1957 safety check campaign. Jones pointed out that response to the program from Kentucky cities indicate a record number of communities may participate this year.

The program is part of the nationwide “Back the Attack on Traffic Accidents” campaign which is emphasizing the moral responsibility of the driver as its spring theme.

Jones said many of the vehicles involved in fatal accidents last year were in need of mechanical repair at the time of the accident. “The persons who were killed in these accidents all gambled their lives—and lost!” he emphasized.

“The only way you can be sure your car is in good mechanical condition,” he said, “is by having it safety-checked periodically by a competent mechanic.”

Jones said motorists may have this check made at safety check lanes located in communities which cooperate in the program.

Almost eight per cent of the 500,000,000 tons of coal mined in the United States in 1956 was produced in Ohio where total state tonnage was 39,500,000, the Keystone Coal Buyers Manual reports.

Only 60 working days were needed to build the new 110-mile coal pipeline in Ohio, between Cadiz and Eastlake. The line will carry coal from mine properties of Hanna Coal Co., to generators of the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co.

Capitol Notebook

Frankfort, April 29 (Spl.) — Boyle county authorities have created a special office to combat youthful delinquency—the post of deputy sheriff in charge of juvenile work.

This, says the Community Relations Newsletter of the State Department of Economic Security, "may prove to be a pattern for use in numerous counties throughout the Commonwealth in the attempt to combat the juvenile delinquency wave."

The post has been filled by appointment of Zeke Dexter, a Danville high school gridiron ace of the early 1940's.

The state agency newsletter says:

"Dexter's job . . . will not be merely to seek out and arrest youthful offenders, but he will be primarily concerned with helping Boyle county youngsters stay out of trouble . . . The newly-appointed sheriff . . . has approached his work from the viewpoint that most boys run afoul of the law in their attempts to escape boredom . . . In addition to keeping the youngsters busy with energy-sapping sports, Dexter also will serve as counsellor to first offenders."

A CONFEDERATE MEMORIAL

The Old Confederate cemetery at PeeWee Valley near Louisville is being renovated for re-dedication ceremonies June 3, Confederate Memorial Day.

Commissioner George W. Hubley, Jr. of the State Economic Development Department, says the repairs are being made at the request of Gov. A. B. Chandler who will re-dedicate the rebel burial ground. Hubley describes it as the "only official state cemetery for Southern veterans in Kentucky."

State Welfare Commissioner Charles Allphin says the labor of restoring the cemetery is being performed by prisoners from the State Reformatory, LaGrange. The burial plot is on Kentucky Welfare Department property.

Hubley will contribute a Confederate flag for the 25-foot flagpole that has been erected.

Allphin says the repair work consists of ground leveling and removal of weeds, plowing and re-seeding, raising of sunken graves, straightening and cleaning of headstones, installation of new signs and a new fence, and construction of a road.

MOON OVER MIAMI

Speaking of Confederates, this invitation has been received by friends of three men who describe themselves as "displaced Kentuckians":

"Y'all invited to fo'get Appomatox and come have a mint julep."

The party is set for the afternoon of Kentucky Derby Day, May 4, in Miami, Fla. The invitation is signed by "Colonels Davis, Sells and Hardwick."

Our informant on this matter is Michael W. R. Davis, ex-Louisvillian, Miami Daily News staff writer, and Miami correspondent for Business Week and Kiplinger Florida Letter. Others of the trio are Arthur M. Sells II and Robert C. Hardwick.

Davis writes "We are all traditionalists and believe in carrying the best of our home state to areas not so fortunate."

Revenue Director Warns Taxpayers to Keep Data; Three Years Suggested

A reminder to Federal income taxpayers to retain their copies of returns filed in the recently closed tax filing period was issued today by District Director W. M. Gray of the Louisville office of Internal Revenue Service. Records of income and expense used in preparation of the return also should be kept, he said.

"Tax records must be retained for at least three years from the deadline date, April 15," Mr. Gray said. "There is always the possibility that a taxpayer may be called upon to furnish proof of his income and deductions. Keeping copies of returns and records will help both him and the revenue service in such cases."

"Beyond this requirement, taxpayers should find that retention of their copies of returns will help them in filing next year, especially if there is no major change in their financial status. In addition, the Revenue Service urges that all records of 1957 expenditures—cancelled checks, receipts, notations of contributions, state and local taxes, interest payments and other deductible items—be retained for reference in computing 1957 Federal returns."

Mr. Gray pointed out that district and local offices of the revenue service are glad to provide information throughout the year, preferably by telephone.

"All we ask is that the taxpayer have the facts and figures relating to his problem correctly in mind," Mr. Gray declared.

EXPERIENCE COUNTS!

TROY B. STURGILL FOR SHERIFF

Last week I discussed two of the major problems of law enforcement. I want to discuss two other problems which are vital to our County; Breaking and Entering and Juvenile Delinquency.

Breaking and Entering: Is an ever increasing problem, primarily because it is often times a young person who commits this crime and because of the severe nature of the crime. Breaking and Entering is a felony and is punishable by imprisonment from 2 to 10 years. All violators should be given the law at the hands of the Court. This crime has a tendency to happen over and over in the same area, once it has been committed. The full force of the Sheriff's Office should be alerted to investigate until justice is done. I promise that the full force of the Sheriff's office will be exerted in stopping Breaking and Entering.

The State Police, since its re-organization, can cooperate with the Sheriff's office in major crimes. They have trained men and methods to help catch these violators. I assure you that we will cooperate and see that justice is done in every instance of Breaking and Entering.

I promise you that we will give the people the full protection they rightfully expect and deserve.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY: This problem is most important because it involves our Young People and their future. I have always been vitally interested in Young People. It has been my privilege to help hundreds of Young People get started on the right road. I shall always help Young People.

I have served on the Board of Directors of the National Sheriff's Association, and worked long and hard on a study of Juvenile Delinquency. This was good experience for me. I deeply believe that there are no really bad children. Every mother and father knows that children sometimes get into trouble and do not realize the consequences.

What children need is ADVICE, GUIDANCE, AND COUNSELING. If given the proper advice and help they will make better citizens, and that is what we all want. The Sheriff needs to be a man who, with the help of parents, ministers, and the Court, can give the ADVICE, AND GUIDANCE needed.

There has been created a YOUTH AUTHORITY in Kentucky. Its primary purpose is to help delinquent children get started on the right road. It has been very successful and no doubt a step in the right direction to solving Juvenile Delinquency. I promise that I will give both, the court and the YOUTH AUTHORITY, full cooperation. Together we can do much to stop Juvenile Delinquency. I know that in this way we can combat this problem and make fine useful citizens of our YOUNG PEOPLE.

These are my pledges. I have had the experience necessary to fully understand these problems of law enforcement. I want to be of service to the people and make my EXPERIENCE COUNT. I ask your support and together we can make Floyd County a better place in which to live.

Your Friend,

TROY B. STURGILL

Annual Reports Must Be Mailed State Auditor

Frankfort, April 29 (Spl.) — Very few city and county treasurers have complied with state law in filing published itemized statements, State Auditor Mary Louise Foust reports.

The law requires local officers to publish annual statements showing collections and disbursements of public funds in county newspapers with largest bona fide circulation and to file the newspaper copy with the State Auditor on or before Aug. 31.

Only 13.33 per cent of county sheriffs have filed their reports as compared with 71.66 per cent of county boards of education, Miss Foust said.

"Treasurers of city education boards are second highest with an average of 57.14 per cent reporting," the auditor continued, "with treasurers of cities or towns in fifth or sixth class averaging 31.77 per cent, while county treasurers' percentage is 44.16."

Miss Foust cited an opinion by the attorney general which stated, "the annual financial statements . . . should include a detailed financial report of the operation of a municipally owned utility such as light plant or a water works."

Notices were sent by the auditor's office Jan. 2 to all public officials handling monies reminding them to file an itemized published statement for the close of last fiscal year.

Failure to comply with this law can result in fines of not less than $50, or more than $500 on each count, the auditor added.

EAST KY. SHEEP TOUR SLATED FOR MAY 9th

The sheep industry in eastern Kentucky will get a close look from persons attending the 20th annual Kentucky Sheep Day at Lexington, May 7, and other parts of the week-long observance.

R. C. Miller, Kentucky Agricultural Extension Service sheep specialist, this week released the schedule.

The schedule for Thursday, May 9:

Separate tours start at 8:30 a.m. (EST) for inspection of flocks in Morgan, Floyd and Johnson counties. The three tours merge at 11 a.m. at the Henry Holbrook farm one mile west of Paintsville, and proceed to the Paul Young farm in Lawrence county for a lamb barbecue and an afternoon program.

Carl Sinclair, Morgan county agent; Robert Jones, Floyd county agent; and Claude Christian, Johnson county agent; will lead their respective tours. The Morgan tour will start at the West Liberty courthouse; the Floyd and Johnson county tours at the post offices in Prestonsburg and Paintsville.

J. F. Moore, Louisa farmer will direct the afternoon program. Miller will talk on the mountain sheep pilot-project. Eleven area residents will be on a panel on place of sheep on Eastern Kentucky farms. Five prominent western ranchers and livestock brokers, who also appear on the Lexington program, will discuss "Western Ewes and Ewe Lambs for Eastern Kentucky," and Miss Rita Campbell, nutrition department director for the National Live Stock and Meat Board, will speak on "Lamb as You Like It."

The day will end with a trip to the George Hall farm nearby for discussion of sheep, cattle and pasture by UK specialists, James Pierce, George Pendergrass, and M. J. Vinson, assistant state commissioner of agriculture.

Panel members are James Allen, G. Dotson and Virgil Smith, Floyd county; Al Cecil, Wolfe county; John Cundiff and C. A. Fugate, Morgan county; Mrs. T. W. Greer and George Hall, Lawrence county; Emory Hamilton and Henry Holbrook, Johnson county; and L. C. White, Elliott county. Ellis Boggs, Morehead, is panel leader.

Other features of the sheep industry "Open House Week" are the Sheep Day at UK Tuesday, May 7; a tour of central Kentucky flocks Wednesday, May 8; and a tour of ewe-producing flocks in Bath, Clark and Mercer counties, day, May 10.

Site Leased For Camp For Crippled Children

Frankfort, April 29 (Spl.) — The Kentucky Society of Crippled Children will build a camp on 106 acres recently acquired in General Butler State Park, near Carrollton.

The land was leased by the State for 25 years to the KSCC for one-dollar with option to renew for another 25 years.

"In behalf of the people of Kentucky, I am most pleased to make this land available to the Kentucky Society of Crippled Children," A. B. Chandler said as he presented the contract to representatives of the Society.

"I am informed the Society plans to develop the State's first special resident camp for physically handicapped children," the Governor continued, "I congratulate the Society on this splendid humanitarian undertaking and wish it great success."

Sidney Rosenblum, Louisville, chairman of KSCC camp committee said the camp was a "long time dream come true. It will be wonderful for our crippled children."

An Appeal To The Voters

Since my announcement some time ago for Jailer of Floyd county I have been so deeply impressed I want to thank each and everyone of you from the bottom of my heart for the courage you have given me in this campaign. I feel this is your campaign. I realize it is you, the voters who are the ones to make the choice, and I believe the way you have responded you will give me the nomination.

They say I can't win by not being well known by the people of Floyd county. I want you, the voters, to check the background of each candidate. Weigh them in the balance and if I meet your approval, then cast your vote for me. I am not a politician and am not sponsored by any group. I have been a member of the Regular Baptist Church for over 25 years.

I am at present employed at Stephens Elkhorn Coal Co., as a tippie man, a job I have had since 1943. So you know I am a laboring man, have worked hard all my life. I am 65 years old and have never asked for public office at the courthouse.

Not knowing what may be published, I want you to all know I am in this race to win and will not let you down. As I have said before, I will put my wholehearted attention to the welfare and care of those placed in the custody of the Jailer, and you fathers and mothers who have sons who are unfortunate enough to be brought to jail I want to say they will not be deprived of their rights and privileges as prisoners but will be treated with impartial treatment. I earnestly beg you to give me the nomination and elect me as your next Jailer and I will put forth with all the strength and energy in my body to make you one of the best Jailers you have ever had.

The best of good-will to all of you,

ELECT BANNER MEADE for County Court Clerk You will find me in your office ready and willing to serve you. Honest, Sober & Accommodating

AMOS GRAY The Kind of Man Clive Akers Is

For SHERIFF

A Graduate of International Detective School of Washington, D. C. Class of 1947, No. 5860 (A Son of Buck Gray and Lona Ousley Gray)

If you will go to the polls, nominate and elect me your Sheriff on the Democratic ticket I pledge I will give you four years of honest law enforcement to the big and little fellow, rich or poor. I have never been a hero but I did serve my country four years in the Army, two years of that in the South Pacific. Since I came home from the war I served my county faithfully for eight years as an officer and never hurt any one. I have taken many chances on my own life to keep from injuring or killing any one while serving as your officer. I feel quite well experienced and qualified to serve you as Sheriff, honestly and faithfully for the next four years if you will give me the chance.

I haven't any money to put in this election so when elected I will know it will be your honest vote and in return I will serve you honestly.

My wife is the former Marguerite White, daughter of Hughes and Elizabeth White. We have two sons.

I will have no deputies paid by commission. Your friend, AMOS GRAY

Bake a Batch of Banana Bread. Better than a dinner bell—that first whiff of fresh-from-the-oven, fragrant banana bread.

Crusty brown outside, light and moist-with a fine cake-like texture through and through. Banana breads stay moist and fresh for as long as a week at room temperature or in the refrigerator. Keep them loosely wrapped in wax paper or aluminum foil-not in an airtight container.

Wrap and seal tight for the freezer. These breads keep their fine texture three to four months when frozen. Ready for quick serving.

Banana quick breads make good eating anytime of day-or any occasion. Serve it as toast for breakfast. Or how about banana nut bread with a cup of tea or coffee or as an after-school snack?

Banana Quick Bread Sift together—1 3/4 c. sifted all-purpose flour 2 3/4 t. baking powder 1/2 t. salt Cream—1/3 c. shortening Gradually add—2/3 c. sugar. Beat until light and fluffy. Add—2 slightly beaten eggs Beat until thick and lemon colored. Add alternately—Flour mixture 1 c. mashed bananas (Fluffy ripe) Blend thoroughly after each addition.

Grease bottom only of loaf pan. Turn batter into pan. Bake at 350° F. 60 to 70 minutes. Let cool in pan 20-30 minutes before turning out. Cool thoroughly before wrapping for storage.

More information concerning bananas and quick breads is available at the Extension Service Office.

I'm just a poor man and don't amount to much but I want to tell the people the kind of man Clive Akers is.

I was a Chandler man from the start and still am. I did everything I could do for Chandler.

After the election I was given a job on the Highway and was making a living for myself and my family.

Recently I was told I had to be for Clive Akers or else. I told them I would go along on everything else but I couldn't be against my own blood, Manis Conley. Because of this Clive Akers had me fired and now I have no way to support my family.

Good people, don't let Clive Akers fool you. He is not the little man's friend. He is only for the big man. He will let the little man's children starve just to help himself. I want my friends to vote for Manis Conley.

ORDNANCE NUMBER 97 OF THE CITY OF MARTIN, KENTUCKY

An Ordinance relating to the annexation of certain lands adjoining the Southern Corporate Limits of the City of Martin.

Be it ordained and enacted by the Council of the City of Martin, Floyd County, Commonwealth of Kentucky, that:

1. The City of Martin, Kentucky, take the necessary legal steps to annex as part of the City the following described tract of land.

Beginning at a point on the Western Limit of the right of way for State Route No. 80, a corner to the property line between the lands of J. W. Halbert and Lora K. Stephens, which forms a boundary to the Southern Corporate Limits to the City of Martin, Floyd County, Kentucky, and thence along said property line and Southern Boundary of the Corporate limits a Westerly direction and with the fence presently enclosing the property belonging to said J. W. Halbert, to a point on the said Highway Right of Way South of the point of beginning and thence North along the Highway Right of Way to the point of beginning, so as to include all of the enclosed property of J. W. Halbert adjoining the City of Martin containing 1/4 Acre, more or less.

2. This ordinance is severable and should any part thereof be held invalid by a Court of competent jurisdiction, the remaining parts shall be severable and continue to be of full force and effect.

3. This ordinance shall be deemed to be in addition to and supplementary to, and not in conflict with, nor a repeal of the existing ordinances of this City, but shall be an additional provision for the annexation of this particular territory. However, all ordinances or parts of ordinances conflicting with the provisions of this ordinance are hereby repealed, insofar as the same are affected by this ordinance.

4. This ordinance shall be in full force and effect following its posting and publication according to law, as provided in KRS 81-210.

Boone and Wife
Were Reburied
In Frankfort

By Charles F. Hinds
Secretary - Treasurer,
Kentucky Historical Society

Daniel Boone, Kentucky's best known pioneer, and his wife, Rebecca, are buried in Frankfort cemetery, overlooking the Kentucky River which winds its way through the state capital.

The Boones died and were buried near Marthasville, Mo., Daniel in 1820 and his wife in 1813.

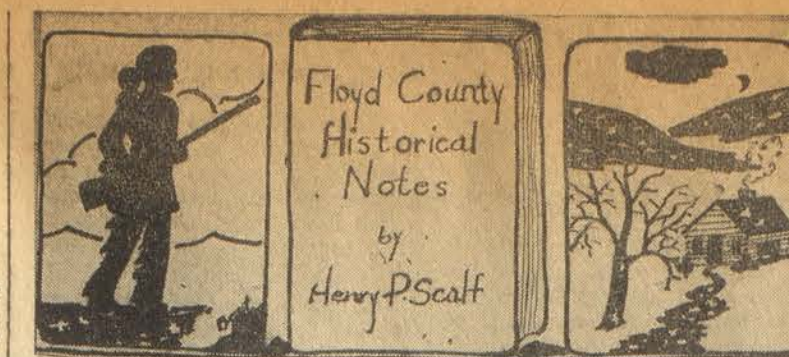

In February, 1844, a group of leading Frankfort citizens received permissions from the state legislature to construct a 32-acre cemetery on a beautiful plot known as "Hunter's Garden." It was the wish of this group that Kentucky's pioneers, led by Daniel and Rebecca Boone, be reinterred in Frankfort cemetery. Gov. William Owsley and many others wrote Capt. Nathan Boone, a son living in Missouri, in the successful effort to have the bodies removed to Frankfort. The letters of that correspondence are in the State Archives, a division of the Kentucky Historical Society.

In Missouri the Kentucky delegation found the bodies upon removal from their graves to be in a poor state—the coffins rotten and the smaller bones reduced to powder. The remains arrived in Frankfort July 29, 1845, by steamboat and were taken to the front hall of the Capitol Building where the bodies lay in state. The funeral and reburial on Sept. 13 attracted some 17,000 visitors.

Among the pallbearers were such distinguished early settlers and Kentuckians as Bland Ballard, the old pioneer and Indian fighter; Col. William Boone, the oldest surviving nephew of Daniel Boone; Gen. James Taylor, a United States quartermaster general in the War of 1812; and Richard M. Johnson, a War of 1812 hero and Vice-President of the United States, 1836-40. U. S. Senator John J. Crittenden, who four years later became governor of Kentucky, delivered the funeral address.

Missourians wouldn't be Missourians if they didn't have to have everything proved to them. Consequently, many of them contended in recent years that Daniel Boone is still buried in Missouri. The records in the State Archives prove that he is buried in Frankfort, but that is another story.

HATTON FAMILY

A letter to Mrs. Evelyn Salisbury, from Olive Hatton Parkington, of Missouri, finds its way to this column.

"Have you any records on Adam Hatton, Virginia Revolutionary soldier, who settled in Fayette county, Kentucky, and whose name appears on a petition for a division of the county which later became Bourbon? Adam Hatton was born in 1728 and died Feb. 8, 1831, aged 103, according to the Hatton Bible record and also according to the Kentucky Historical Society which says, "A Hatton of Clark county, Kentucky, died in 1831, as listed in the Estill county death lists." He also was listed in the 1830 census of Estill County, Ky., as 100 years old and upwards.

"I am trying to establish relationship of him and Ephraim Hatton, born 1784 in Pennsylvania. It is possible they are father and son. The Hatton Bible was printed in Philadelphia in 1827."

"Ephraim Hatton married Mar. 8, 1808, Susannah Howard, Clark county, Ky. They remained in Clark until 1808 when Estill was formed. I picked him up there for awhile. He isn't in the 1810 census and I can't locate him again until the 1830 census of Montgomery county, Ky. I would like to locate him from 1809 to 1830.

"In the early history of Pike county there is a Joseph H. Hatton. His uncle, Allen Hatton, was a steamboat man and named his boat the Joseph F. Hatton. That is recorded in the Hatcher Hotel lobby at Pikeville. If you ever get any information on Adam Hatton, Ephraim Hatton or George Washington Greenberry Hatton, born in Kentucky in 1808, advise."

HENDERSON FAMILY

Another letter to Mrs. Salisbury, dated April 2, from Mrs. Alberta Baker, 14814 Ross Moyné Drive, San Jose 24, California, inquires about the Henderson family of Kentucky.

"I am in search of an ancestor in Kentucky who died about 1890. I know there was a will settled about 1916 at Harper's Ferry. I found Harper's Ferry in Henry county but no record of my ancestor there. From another source I was told the property was on Green River at a place called Steamboat. The only place with a name even similar is Steamport, Webster county. I have written there several times but no answer.

"I have read quite a bit of history on Eastern Kentucky but find nothing on Andrew Jackson Henderson, my ancestor. I am sure if I could find his will it would reveal the information I am seeking. I find that Kentucky has a host of Hendersons, many

GRATEFUL To the Red Cross

At this time, upon the eve of a drive by the Red Cross to procure funds in this county it is but proper that we evaluate correctly what that organization meant to us in the aftermath of the recent flood.

We are deeply grateful to the Red Cross for its aid. To that unselfish organization there can be never enough praise offered for its work here. But there is something else that dictates, besides generous gratitude that we contribute liberally to the Red Cross drive. That is our own self-interest as there will be other times of disaster, either here or somewhere else in the land where suffering and distress will need to be relieved. In the event of such a need, and God grant it never happens again, but if it does the Red Cross will stand stalwart with us as it did two months ago.

I, like you, saw much human suffering after the flood. Homes were washed away, people were hungry and wet, many who had few worldly goods even before the flood were looking forward to a bleak future. Everywhere was mud, wrecked homes, and businesses.

It was then the Red Cross came to our valley, bringing the first ray of hope and cheer since the inundation. They gave our people food, clothing, bedding, and furniture. It repaired our homes and businesses. It spent $453,000 in Floyd county alone. From the depths of our heart we are grateful.

The Red Cross now wants the small sum of $10,145 from Floyd county in its annual drive for funds. If we contribute the full quota, and I'm sure we can and will, that sum would be but one-fortieth of what it spent here in six weeks of this year.

Let us remember gratefully and contribute cheerfully.

Sincerely,
J. S. REYNOLDS,
Allen, Ky.

UK Horticulturist
Says Moss Riddance
Possible in Two Years

What to do about moss that is taking over shady areas in the lawn, particularly where the soil is wet and poor, is a question with many home owners this spring.

Prof. N. R. Elliott, horticulturist with the University of Kentucky, says that the moss may be easily raked up with a steel garden rake, exposing the bare surface. The soil then should be loosened slightly, and grass seed and fertilizer scattered. Repeat if necessary, to hold the moss in check.

In heavily shaded areas, it may be necessary to fertilize rather heavily at least three times a year in March, late June and again November, said Elliott. If the plan is faithfully followed, the moss will be controlled within a two-year period, he said.

THE HIGH COST OF BAD ROADS

During this political campaign I have talked to many working men, and one of the questions I have been asking them is, "How much did bad roads cost you last winter because you could not get to your work?"

As best I can gather from their answers, these men have lost an average of $200 each because of time lost at work and as a result of roads over which cars cannot be driven in bad weather.

These are the men who earn and spend their money here in Floyd county. The $200 each of these lost amounted to a lot of money for this county of ours. On their welfare depends much of the progress of Floyd county.

It is not only these men who work that we must consider. There are their children. And they, the youth of this county, need, besides good parents, good schools and churches and good roads so that they can reach them. Let us not forget that.

We must have roads up the creeks—roads that can be travelled safely and in comfort the year round. Such roads will mean dollars for every dollar invested, they will mean better citizens.

Elect me your County Judge, and I will build such roads. I know the needs of the people, and I will work to meet these needs.

Sincerely,

Rate Adjustment Made for Phone Users in State

The Public Service Commission has granted Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company a rate increase for intra-state telephone service of $3,370,700 a year. This is $1,337,100 less than the company's petition requested, PSC officials said.

The rates became effective immediately for toll and non-recruiting charges. Residence service will increase 20c to 30c a month with business phone increased from $2 to $2.25 a month.

The PSC said the new rate schedule is designed to promote not only the widest development of telephone service possible within the state but to reduce extra mileage charges, at a saving of $285,663 to users.

The intra-state toll rates, a member of the Commission said, have been revised for this class of service in light of modern telephone equipment and operating techniques. This will enable subscribers to talk at lower cost on station-to-station calls and will induce more of this type of calls, thus preparing the customers for toll dialing when it becomes accessible, the commission said.

The new toll schedules will also reduce the long standing and much criticized differential between intra-state and inter-state charges, the PSC said.

Construction expenditures outlined by the company are approximately $54,000,000 for the years 1957, and 1958 and $100,000,000 within the 1957-1960 period. This will reach into each and every exchange where the company serves the state, and will furnish better service in the industrial areas of the Commonwealth, the commission said.

The PSC said it is very insistent this program of expansion and improvement of telephone facilities be carried out as soon as possible.

VOTE FOR THE BEST MAN

A quotation from the great philosopher, Plato, says: "THE PENALTY GOOD MEN PAY FOR INDIFFERENCE TO PUBLIC AFFAIRS IS TO BE RULED BY EVIL MEN."

No truer philosophy could be applied to Floyd County as long as many of our best moral citizens fail in their duties to their fellow man by their reluctance to go to the polls and cast their vote for men whom they know or have reason to believe are honest and trustworthy. To these people I would say that your failure to conscientiously cast your vote for the best man available has the same end result as casting a vote for organized professional politicians who strive constantly to control elections by fraud and theft.

Many people express the opinion that politics is just naturally tainted with corruption and dishonesty. However, this can only be true if good people fail to take the proper interest in public affairs and allow people to be elected to office who do not honestly fulfill the duties required.

Bootlegging, gambling and lawlessness can only exist when ignored, condoned or protected by public law enforcement officials. If you do not care about these things then perhaps it doesn't matter to you whether you vote or how you vote, but if you are interested in honest, conscientious law enforcement for the good of Floyd county, then I think you will agree that you should go to the polls and vote for the man you believe to be the best candidate for Sheriff.

I am seeking this office with the firm belief that I can and will make Floyd county the best Sheriff it has ever had.

ALLPHIN ASKS GROUPS TO FIGHT DELINQUENCY

Frankfort, May 2 (Spl.) — Welfare Commissioner Charles Allphin has recommended that local advisory committees on juvenile delinquency, composed of representatives from civic, business and social organizations, be founded.

Allphin urged that county judges, mayors, police chiefs, school superintendents, ministers, or other official or civic leaders take initiative in organizing.

The commissioner said the size of the community, the number of its civic, business and social clubs and the nature of its juvenile population would determine the size, work and number of advisory committees needed.

Commenting upon the need to check juvenile lawlessness, Allphin said "Some method must be found to do this kind of preventive work at community level."

He declared that emphasis in the treatment of juvenile delinquency "will have to be placed on prevention rather than on diagnosis or corrective therapy."

The commissioner said "The biggest gap in our treatment of delinquent children is our failure to get into the maladjusted home before serious problems have developed. School authorities, probation, police, family case workers and neighbors are often aware of these situations, but frequently they do nothing about them because of apathy or because there appears to be no particular way of entering the picture until some drastic official action must be taken."

The advisory committees could dispel this apathy and take steps in certain situations where the individual could not, Allphin said.

We recommend David B. Leslie for Sheriff. We feel that he has the ability and leadership to help Floyd county and solve many problems. The chairman of each of these committees, which are now supporting David B. Leslie for Sheriff, are:

- Teachers Committee—Norman Crider.
- Students Committee—Russell Stratton
- Baseball Committee—Togo Harris
- Veterans Committee—Walter Frasure
