

This Town— That World

The people have spoken. Now if we can get what they said recorded.

You will recall that Lincoln pleaded that the people "bind up the nation's wounds" after the Civil War was past. Is there a Floyd county Lincoln to speak, now that our own little "civil war" is over?

THE CITY SLICKER COMES VISITING

The Chicago Tribune recently published a "piece" written by one Norma Lee Browning that has brought my blood pressure back up to or past normal. It is headed, "A Trip to Appalachia: Visit to Middle Ages", and it drips its dirt all over Eastern Kentucky, in particular.

For instance: This woman who came visiting us and who partook of our hospitality says our hills are not beautiful, instead are bare, washed-out slopes; that the "typical" home is a stripped shack, with a washing machine on the front porch to prove the owner's affluence; that our religion runs to snake-handling, etcetera, ad nauseam.

We try to take the charitable view about matters such as this, but an article of this sort is so manifestly unfair that we become almost inarticulate with disgust. Wonder where the Browning woman visited in Eastern Kentucky? Wonder what she was looking for when she came?

If I were a Norma Lee Browning—which, thank God, I am not—I would make me a trip to Chicago, and I would head straight for Skid Row and never leave it till I returned home. Then I would sit me down to a typewriter and I would write:

"The city of Chicago is one drunken orgy, a den of the world's riff-raff, one gigantic accumula-

HIGH SCHOOL CONCERT SET

100 Student-Musicians In Presentation Tuesday; To Feature Arnett Score

Prestonsburg high school will present its band and chorus with approximately 100 students participating in a concert at 8 p.m. Tuesday, June 4, at the grade school auditorium here.

The concert will feature an original composition for a girls' trio by Miss Lolita Arnett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Arnett, West Prestonsburg.

One of her original numbers, a composition for a girls' quartet rendered in the state high school music festival at the University of Kentucky, Lexington, received a rating of "excellent" from the judges.

The band, composed of about 30 concert pieces, will be heard under the direction of Jesse Elliott, Floyd, Floyd county high schools band director.

The 80-voice chorus is actually a three-unit group composed of a boys glee club, a girls glee club and a mixed chorus and can perform as separate units or as a whole. They will be under the direction of Mrs. Carlos Haywood, instructor of choral music at the school.

The girls' glee club and the mixed chorus were rated "superior" for their separate performances in the state music festival.

JC ROAD-E-O PLANS MADE

Annual Teen-age Event Slated Here Saturday As Safe Driving Test

The Prestonsburg Junior Chamber of Commerce announces this week that the annual Teen-Age Road-e-o will be held Saturday, June 1, at 2 p.m. at the Prestonsburg grade school playground.

The Road-e-o is designed to give the nation's young motorists an opportunity to prove and improve their driving habits and attitudes and to stimulate community activities in bigger and better high school driver-education programs.

The event is for any person of either sex who will not have reached 20 years of age by Aug. 15, last day of the national finals in Washington, D. C., has a driver's license or permit and has a clean record of no moving traffic violations in the past six months.

The national winners will receive scholarships totaling $4,500 ($2,000, $1,500, $1,000) and an all-expense paid trip to Washington, D. C., for the winner of each state Road-e-o.

The Road-e-o provides the opportunity for the teenager to demonstrate his acquired driving skill while showing the responsible citizens of the community the need for driver education classes, to impress safe-driving habits, knowledge and attitudes in the mind of the teenager.

Youngsters may enter the Floyd county contest by contacting Bill Goebel, Jr. or C. J. McNally before noon Friday, May 31.

REED SEES NO BIG CUT IN COAL MINE OUTPUT

An optimistic outlook on both national and area production in the bituminous coal field is held by B. F. Reed, secretary-treasurer of the Turner-Elkhorn Mining Company at Drift.

Mr. Reed, one of Eastern Kentucky's leading coal mining figures, expressed this view as the speaker at the first annual awards banquet of the Big Sandy-Elkhorn Coal Mining Institute, held in Pikeville, Saturday.

He said that, although the national output up until May 11 of this year was about 2.5 per cent off tonnage figure for the same period in 1956, the Big Sandy field was up approximately 5 per cent from the output for the corresponding period last year.

The national figures were 183,824,000 tons for the 1957 period and 188,593,000 tons for the period in 1956. The Big Sandy field figures for the corresponding period were 5,224,620 tons in 1957 and 4,961,770 in 1956.

Reed said he foresaw no drastic cut in tonnage and he attributed the decline in national production to "some letup in demand for

UF ANNOUNCES WARCO PLANS

Gas Company To Spend $1,350,000 on Changes To Modernize Station

To modernize its Beaver Creek compressor station, at Warco, one mile northeast of Maytown, the United Fuel Gas Company is planning several major changes which will cost approximately $1,350,000, it was announced in Charleston, W. Va., early this week.

H. O. Grady, supervisory engineer, said the following changes are planned:

1. Convert seven 1,000-horsepower gas pumping units from single stage to two-stage operation for increased operating flexibility and efficiency.

2. Replace the present piping with new piping and the present cooling system with modern aerial gas and jacket water cooling equipment.

Grady said the cooling system and gas piping were originally installed from 1927 to 1931.

Compressed gas and engine jackets of the station's nine engines are now cooled with an open water system which requires substantial daily additions of raw water from Beaver Creek. Grady said that because of the decline of the water table in the area,

Under the supervision of Helen B. Fraser, M. D., Director of the Division of Maternal and Child Health, community services for testing the mentally handicapped child and teaching parents better home care are to be enlarged in Kentucky. Dr. Fraser is scheduled to moderate a panel discussion by public health and medical specialists on what community resources are needed to provide these services. Represented on the panel will be the points of view of the pediatrician, the mental health nursing consultant, the parent, the psychologist, the teacher, and the psychiatrist.

To demonstrate the value of training programs for the retarded child an ungraded class from the Lincoln school, Louisville, will provide choral music at the Friday meeting of the conference.

POUND DAM AUTHORIZED

Big Sandy Tributary Reservoir To Affect 4 Counties in East Ky.

Army Secretary Wilber M. Brucker has approved the Pound River flood-control dam and reservoir in Virginia for "active programming" by the Army Corps of Engineers.

The Pound drains through the Levisa Fork of the Big Sandy, and its downstream flow affects Pike, Floyd, Johnson, and Lawrence counties in Kentucky.

Brucker's action places the Pound dam on the list of authorized river projects for which the engineers will later ask Congress to appropriate planning and construction money.

The action substitutes the Pound project for the Clintwood, Va., reservoir, which had been on the authorized list since 1938.

Under the terms of the 1938 authorization, the Army secretary was given discretionary authority to make the substitution if it proved feasible.

8 FLOYD SENIORS AWARDED SCHOLARSHIPS TO COLLEGE

Inland Steel Designates Three Floyd Graduates To Get College Benefits

The Inland Steel Scholarship Committee has awarded three scholarships to Floyd county high school students who are being graduated at the close of the present school year.

Two-year scholarships to Pikeville College, valued at $225 a year, were awarded to Miss Barbara Damron and Curtis Leon Bryant, Miss Damron, a graduate of the Wheelwright high school, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Damron, of Wheelwright. Mr. Damron is employed at the Inland Steel's Price Mine No. 1 as a timberman.

Bryant, a member of the graduating class of McDowell high school, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bryant of Hi-Hat. His father is employed as a brattice-man at the Price Mine No. 1. A scholarship restricted to boys entering the field of engineering was awarded to Kenneth Ray Mitchell, of Melvin, graduate from Wheelwright high school. He intends to study electrical engineering, and under the scholarship will go to the University of Kentucky with a grant of $400 a year for four years.

The factors considered in making the scholarship awards are the ability of the applicants based on their school records, the results of a competitive test, character, personality and need.

Distribution of Gas In East Kentucky To Change Hands

The Public Service Commission this week granted Central Kentucky Natural Gas Company the authority to take over the retail distribution of gas from the United Fuel Company in Eastern Kentucky.

The change means that United Fuel will become entirely a wholesaler of natural gas, a PSC spokesman explained. The companies are subsidiaries of the Columbia Gas System.

The Federal Power Commission must approve the transfer.

Central Kentucky would take over retail distribution of gas in Floyd, Boyd, Greenup, Knott, Lawrence, Martin, and Pike counties.

WAS IN RACE BUT SHE LOST

Candidate for Jailer Raided While Voting For Her, Others Done

All candidates for public office had their woes Tuesday but none had trouble to compare with Mrs. Dora Johnson, of Bypro, Democratic candidate for Jailer.

Floyd Sheriff's deputies raided Mrs. Johnson while the voting for her and 23 other candidates for Jailer was going on, and they confiscated 72 cans of beer and three half-pints of whiskey. She lost a race to the officers, and on the basis of incomplete returns was losing the election.

On the whole, primary election day was comparatively quiet, despite the usual bitterness, inflated values placed on votes and "election liquor" in sufficient volume to satisfy the thirsty.

Except for the stabbing of Bert Hamilton at Teaberry, violence was negligible. Hamilton was stabbed by his nephew, Herman Isaac, Deputy Sheriff Joe Wheeler Lewis, said.

Lewis said that when he arrived at the scene Isaac had fled to a neighboring county. Hamilton is in the Methodist hospital, Pikeville. He is described as "pretty bad cut".

Sheriff Gorman Collins said his deputies made 10 raids, beginning with last Friday and ending on election day, and that in nine of these whiskey or beer or gin, or all three, were taken.

Officers arrested 34 for drunkenness on election day.

The raids reported by the Sheriff, in which Deputies Wheeler Lewis, A. J. Reed, Edgar Patrick and John D. Martin took part.

Mrs. Herb Salisbury, Drift, 21 cans of beer; Tommy Salisbury, Betsy Layne, 34 cans of beer, two half-pints of whiskey; Yankee Wells,

13,779 BALLOTS CAST IN TUESDAY'S PRIMARY

"THE WOMAN" STAGES UPSET

Owens' Landslide Sweep For Appeals Court Clerk Termed Chandler Defeat

"The Woman" staged the biggest political upset in Kentucky's primary election this week.

Miss Doris Owens' apparent landslide sweep of the state over Administration-backed June L. Suter for the unexpired Clerk of the Court of Appeals term was seen as a major defeat for Gov. A. B. "Happy" Chandler. Miss Owens, a novice at the political game and without formal organization, had, with 60 per cent of the state's vote tabulated, a lead of 94,895 ballots.

Suter failed to carry Governor Chandler's home county, Woodford, and he lost the Governor's home precinct to Miss Owens, 115 to 64. He also failed to carry his own home county, Gallatin.

Although the defeated candidate had not conceded the election late Wednesday, the Governor apparently had. He said he was "surprised" at the vote and conceded that Miss Owens had been paid "a great tribute" by the people of the state. "When the people speak, I hear no other voice," he added.

The Administration also lost key leaders in the House and Senate. Of these losses he said, "If the ones who are losing want to blame me, I'll take the blame—I'm used to being the goat."

Miss Owens' main appeal to the voters was made through lawyer-friends who had known her during the many years she had been an assistant to the Clerk of the Court of Appeals.

In the first nine precincts of Floyd county that were tabulated "The Woman" had a 2 to 1 lead, and the county is expected to give her a substantial majority. On the basis of incomplete returns she was leading in every Congressional district in the state.

VOTE RESULT MAY BE DAYS DISTANT YET

Absentee Balloting May Be Questioned, Report; Dist. 1 Count Complete

The election is not over in Floyd county, and it may not be for several days yet.

Tuesday, there were 61 centers of interest in the heated primary as the voters streamed to that many voting places in the county. As this is written there is only one center of interest—the circuit courtroom here where the tabulation of returns is slowly being made and agonizingly watched by candidates and their friends. Several Democratic races may not be decided till the last precinct is counted observers hold.

One vote apart were Grover C. Holbrook, incumbent, and James Wesley Howard for the Democratic nomination for Magistrate in District No. 1. Count of the absentee vote will decide this race.

A total of 13,779 ballots were cast in the primary, on a crisp, sunshiny day. The voting, on the whole, was orderly.

The absentee ballots were not counted first, as planned by Sheriff Gorman Collins, and these may provide the biggest ruckus of the entire election. At Lackey precinct, said A. L. (Dock) Prater in an affidavit, his ballot had already been issued when he went to the polls and asked for his ballot. Mr. Prater stated he had not applied for an absentee ballot and had not authorized anybody to do so. He said later that several other absentee ballots had been issued in that precinct and that persons in whose names they were issued appeared at the election.

At Abbott precinct election officers failed to sign the first 19 ballots issued, it was said. "If no changes are made in the tabulating system, we'll not get through counting by Saturday night," County Clerk DuRan Moore said. Others predicted the counting may run into next Tuesday or Wednesday. If it does, it will be the longest "long count" in the history of Floyd county elections.

The County Clerk also commented on instances in which tabulators, quitting for the night, have stopped counting with precincts not completed. He said counted and uncounted ballots in these cases are put back into the boxes together, with only a piece of paper to separate them.

Starting Tuesday night, the tabulation continued till 3 a.m., Wednesday. Then Wednesday's counting (See Story No. 3, Page 2)

FLOOD LOSS, REGIONAL PROBLEMS REVIEWED IN REPORT TO CHANDLER

"In the five days between January 27 and February 1, 1957, over 12 inches of rain fell on parts of the mountainous area of Eastern Kentucky," a flood rehabilitation study by the state Department of Economic Development presented to Gov. A. B. Chandler begins.

"This enormous quantity of water, running off the thin soil of the rocky hillsides rapidly filled the narrow streams and valleys beyond flood stage," the interim report, submitted last week, continues. "Few dams and reservoirs were available to slow this torrent and it rushed down on three river valleys of the region in quantities greater in many cases than had ever been recorded in the history of this off-flooded region."

The study, directed by Gov. A. B. Chandler after a visit to the flood-stricken area in early February, is divided into five sections, four of them being an analytical diagnosis of certain problems. Studied were the region and its problems, the flood pattern and damage, economic prospects of Eastern Kentucky, and the action needed to prevent a recurrence of the disaster.

The flood not only had an adverse effect in actual dollar damage on the region, it posed the problem of how to induce industry to come to the area when most suitable locations for plants were inundated. Seven potential industrial sites were under water in January and these are now eliminated from consideration by industrialists and "speculative pressures on level lands considered safe from flood danger can be expected to increase."

The section on the regions points out that the Big Sandy River basin received the major damages because it was larger and more populated.

The Big Sandy River Basin (including Tygart's Creek, Little Sandy and Tug Fork) includes 34 percent of the total land area in the Eastern Kentucky region; 40 percent of the 700 thousand people in Eastern Kentucky live in the Big Sandy Basin which includes such cities as Ashland, Pikeville, Prestonsburg and Paintsville; 60 percent of the total flood damage in the January flood occurred in this river basin.

Detailing the damage to Eastern Kentucky, the report says 12 persons were drowned or killed; 532 persons were injured; 431 dwellings destroyed; 9,209 dwellings damaged; 464 other buildings destroyed and 2,823 others damaged; 11,943 families suffered losses. Over fifty million dollars in damage was inflicted upon the area, according to the Army Corps of Engineers figures accepted by the report.

Looking to the rehabilitation and the establishing of a healthy economy of the region under study the report lists several things that are deterrent, one being the decline in employment and which can be expected to accelerate as mine mechanization proceeds. Obstacles to industrial growth are given as (1) limited number of industrial sites; (2) limited reliable supplies of water; (3) difficulty of access; (4) community deficiencies such as inadequate streets, schools and other deficiencies; (5) flood danger.

Three important assets, though, were listed as probable aids to industrialization from the "long-range or medium-range standpoint. These were the existing raw materials of timber, coal, natural gas and clay; surplus of labor but of doubtful value as other sections of the country have better-trained and more skilled; and isolation. "The region's inaccessibility and rugged landscape may be useful in attracting defense industries which require caves or other protected locations." The report did not specifically state what sub-regions of the area had caves of sufficient roofness to lure industrial investors.

Three different types of action programs are indicated to improve Eastern Kentucky: (1) A program to minimize flood damage. This should include pro-fective structures. Insurance programs, guides for water and land use and emergency warning and relief measures.

(2) Programs to prepare for economic development. The improvement of human resources should be effected through programs in hospitalization and health facilities, public school and vocational training, unemployment and public assistance, community planning such as zoning and subdivision control, urban renewal and public housing, and construction financing.

(3) Economic development programs. This program should include the procurement of adequate industrial sites and this should have priority; expansion of the coal industry with an increase in employment; improvement of forestry and agriculture; and the increase of tourism; gathering and presentation of basic data on the region; and regional organization.

In conclusion the report says: "Eastern Kentucky's needs today are greater than were those of the Tennessee Valley 20 years ago."

Yes, that or worse is what I would write if I were a Norma Lee Browning, looking only for the unsightly, the sordid and the unbeautiful. But I shall not do this. I am only a little man on a small newspaper, I know. I also know that there are some mighty little people on big newspapers.

Two Americans who are celebrating Minute Man Month. Pretty typical citizens—maybe just like you or your next door neighbor—who started investing in America's future in 1941. How about you? What they did you can do, too. Start planning for your future with United States Savings Bonds.

"Back in May, 1941, my wife and I were just starting out. Money was pretty hard to come by, but we tried in our small way to help our country through Defense Bonds. Then war came and I was drafted. Since we were a 'family' now, each month I had a little bit of my pay salted away in War Bonds for the future. When the war ended, a friend and I opened a service station. And those Bonds we'd been saving helped buy our first house. My War Bonds were changed to Savings Bonds, but to me they still spelled 'future' and I started right in having a certain amount taken out of my pay check each month. Kind of figured here was a good way to make sure my kids get to college. And they'll graduate, too—because of U. S. Savings Bonds."

"It's easy for me to recall May, 1941, for that was the time I finally persuaded my husband to start thinking about our retirement. Defense Bonds seemed to just fit the bill. They helped our country and they helped us. During the war we kept building our 'Florida Bonus' with War Bonds. Actually the Payroll Savings Plan made it easy. We never missed the money and finally two years ago we retired to sunny Florida. Now we're having the time of our lives just loafing in the sun and spending lots of time with our children and grandchildren."

The Clintwood project is now shelved. As originally proposed, it would have been built several miles upstream from the site now chosen for the Pound reservoir.

Another dam and reservoir have been proposed on the Russel Fork near Haysi, Va.

The proposed Fishtrap dam is on the Levisa Fork of Big Sandy. Representative Carl D. Perkins, Hindman, has asked Congress to appropriate $250,000 for planning the Fishtrap and Pound reservoirs during the fiscal year that begins July 1. At present, the budget contains no money for this work.

Senator Cooper and Morton, members of the House of Representatives, State officials, and others have asked for planning money for Fishtrap and a restudy of other Big Sandy Valley flood control works.

Recently, the Corps of Engineers determined the benefit ratio of the pound to be $1.97 to each $1 of construction cost. The ratio is $1.13 to $1 for the Fishtrap expenditure.

The Pound dam would be 95 feet high and 500 feet long. Estimated cost would be $6,080,000.

The Fishtrap dam would be 161 feet high and 900 feet long. Its estimated cost is $28,300,000.

Two Brothers Killed When Tractor Overturns On Mason County Farm

MAYSVILLE, Ky. — Two teenage brothers, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Hunt, were killed instantly about noon Saturday when a tractor overturned, pinning them beneath it. A grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Hunt, James Wayne Hunt, 3 years old, riding with the boys on the tractor, suffered a broken leg and injuries about the body.

The victims were John T. Hunt, 16, and Jackie Lee Hunt, 13.

The father is a tenant on the Nick Colvin Farm on Possum Ridge in the Germantown community.

Deputy Sheriff Fred Kelsch, who investigated, said the brothers were moving hay when the tractor overturned on a hilly slope, pinning them beneath it.

The parents had gone to Germantown to purchase groceries when the accident occurred.

The brothers, who assisted their father in any way they could with the farm work, including milking of 12 cows, had been enthusiastic about mowing the hay and wanted to have it all done before their parents returned, Deputy Sheriff Kelsch said.

The lifeless bodies of the brothers were found when the overturned tractor was lifted by neighbors. The child was brought to the Haywood hospital here.

Deputy Mason County Coroner Edward Byron returned a verdict of accidental death.

Besides their parents, the victims are survived by several brothers and sisters.

The bodies were removed to the Pepper Funeral Home at Germantown, where arrangements are being completed for a double funeral service.

FARMER RESCUED
Harlan, May 28 — A searching party, guided only by tobacco grains and muddy footprints, yesterday rescued a farmer from an abandoned mine where he had been lost for 48 hours.
"Gee it's good to see the sunlight again," said Cantrell Owens, 50, after he was brought to the surface. Owens, who complained of hunger and a slight cough, said he entered the mine Saturday night seeking scrap copper and lost his way.

Elliott County Man Killed Building Road To Bradley Oil Lease

Carson Lewis, merchant and contractor at Isonville in eastern Elliott county, was killed Tuesday afternoon when crushed under his bulldozer, which he was operating for Smith Bradley, of Prestonsburg.

He was grading a road from an oil well to the site of another on the farm of John Woodridge. Apparently the bulldozer hit a stump, threw Lewis off, and then rolled over on him. Woodridge found the body about 2 p.m. Lewis operated a general store at Isonville.

He is survived by his wife, the former Elaine Mobley, who is Elliott county Bookmobile librarian.

The Civilized Jungle

Politics is a jungle.

It is a jungle wherein the shadows are predominant, where the dappings of sunlight are few.

There the law of fang and claw still rules.

It is a jungle wherein the lion's roar and the chirp of the timid things build up to bedlam, until the hearer does not know where danger lies or whither to go for safety.

Stealth is there in that jungle, and cunning. Back in the shadowy places forms move, each stalking his prey or moving to defend himself or scurrying for safety.

This is the primeval, and the law is the primordial Survival of the Fittest. The rule of life here is, move quickly, strike quickly before you are stricken, forget friendships, bury animosities if need be—but survive. And count the cost later.

This is the jungle where the outside world is little considered. This is the battle for survival, and there is no time to think of others. You coil, you crouch, you strike—or you run. Instinct dictates much; reason, some; selfishness, never.

The owl and the rattler occupy the same den, even as in this jungle of politics there are strange bedfellows.

Yes, politics is a jungle, and any who ventures therein does so at great risk. He may lose his way, his sense of direction, his perspective, his faith in the guide.

Man can emerge from the jungle fastness, and the jungle can be tamed. But new tools for its clearing must be found. Perhaps new hands.

How To Stop Senseless Slaughter

What can be done about America's mad race to the graveyard in automobiles? The Governor of Connecticut has given one answer, and it may indeed be the answer.

Governor Ribicoff became so disturbed over the horror of death on the highways that he could not with a clear conscience sit idly by and do nothing. So, first of all, he ascertained that the major cause of highway fatalities is nothing but speed and more speed.

Governor Ribicoff did not waste time talking, as so many do, about the need for less horsepower. He went into action. Already he had seen other measures tried and found wanting. He had seen dramatic attempts made to impress on motorists the urgent need for every safety precaution; he had seen even the comic warning given—and had seen all fail.

So, two or three days before Christmas, 1955, at a time when he knew thousands would be thronging Connecticut highways for Christmas parties, family reunions and other seasonal gatherings, he made his move.

He set a sensible speed limit, instructed every officer in the state to arrest any and all who exceeded that speed limit, and set the hard-and-fast rule that there would be no "fixes," that every driver would pay the same penalty: suspension of driver's license for thirty days on the first offense, suspension for sixty days on the second offense, and denial of driving rights for an unlimited period for the third.

And, better still, he stuck to his guns. Inside of two weeks an old friend who got caught informed him that he never expected to vote for him again. The vitriol poured down on his head. But this man Ribicoff, convinced by frightful loss of life that he was right, was not moved as lesser men are. The arrests continued; more and more drivers got "stuck".

And gradually the thinking of the people changed. The results began to be apparent. Church leaders took up the battle in his support. His mail changed from criticism to praise.

Best of all were the findings at the end of 1956, the first year the slower speed limits were enforced in Connecticut. During those twelve months 10,346 drivers' licenses had been suspended. Fifty thousand more cars and trucks were licensed in the state that year and 90,000 more drivers' licenses were issued. The state's motor vehicle drivers covered 390,000,000 more miles of road that year than during the preceding twelve months.

While all this was going on the United States as a whole had its worst year in the whole disgraceful history of highway carnage. Its death rate was up 5 per cent.

Yet Connecticut's was down exactly 11.7 per cent. That meant 38 people were living at the end of 1956 who would have been in their graves, had not Governor Ribicoff taken his courageous stand.

Those figures also mean that, had every Governor in every state of the nation had the same courage and had taken the same action, 10,000 persons who met death in 1956 on the country's highways would today be living.

What are 38 lives worth? What are 10,000 worth—or even one? Are they worth a little criticism from the unthinking, a little effort on the part of those whose effort would mean something?

Writing in GUIDEPOSTS, Governor Ribicoff says, "Attack the problem of killing on the highways through your churches—for if this is not God's work, then I do not know what it is."

He adds that at the last Governors' conference he laid his program before the other 47 Governors. He does not add that these others have done little or nothing about it.

If the people want lives saved and a crazy, senseless massacre stopped, they should write their Governor, and insist that the Ribicoff Plan be put into effect as quickly as possible.

LETTERS

TO THE EDITOR

SCENE OF ANOTHER CRISIS

Editor, The Times:

No doubt you people in Floyd county have read of the disaster, a flash flood, that hit this town, Lampasas, Texas, the night of May 12, 1957. Following continuous rains, a dike broke and the entire business district and many of the homes were swept away by a wall of water.

Since I spent some six weeks in your fine city with the Red Cross in February, and March this year and know first-hand what your town and county suffered, I thought you might like to know that the situation here is a very similar one to what happened to you good people. Again I am working with a community with the Red Cross in an effort to mend the homes as we did in Floyd county. I am reminded here so much of Floyd county in that the people here are giving us the same fine cooperation that you people did in Floyd county.

The people here have suffered very much, the same as you did, and just like you the merchants are digging out, getting back into business or establishing temporary quarters, and making a comeback to have a going community again. Homes are being moved back onto their foundations, being repaired, or rebuilt, and refurnished and many of them with the assistance of the Red Cross.

We are moving into the rehabilitation period very rapidly and last Friday had our first advisory committee meeting. As in Floyd county we have an excellent committee here, and without the assistance of the community leaders we could not do an adequate job. We expect that over one quarter million dollars will be spent here by the Red Cross, and I know that you people there are glad to know they are having a part in assisting their neighbors in Texas as your people have always supported Red Cross.

I hope that you will publicly express to our many friends in Prestonsburg and Floyd county our warmest regards and best wishes. We have two workers here that was in Prestonsburg, Mrs. Frances Turner and Mrs. Inez Weltmer, and just yesterday Mr. Dan Bachman, who was first to arrive in Prestonsburg during the flood, came in to assist with the job here. All these send their regards to their many friends there.

We shall not forget the fine treatment our organization and staff received in your county.

THE BATTLE OF MIDDLE CREEK

Col. James A. Garfield, later President of the United States, wrested control of the Big Sandy from the Confederates at the Battle of Middle Creek, Jan. 10, 1862. Confederate General Humphrey Marshall mounted cannon on top of the knoll shown in the center of the picture.

Garfield's troops, consisting mostly of Ohioans, waded across the creek in a frontal drive while other groups executed a flank attack on the left. Marshall was forced to retreat up Spurlock Fork and later to Martin's Mill on Beaver Creek.

Banking was a non-existent business in Big Sandy prior to the Civil War and for three decades afterwards, most of the banking affairs of the residents being transacted at Catlettsburg or Mt. Sterling. The establishment of the First National Bank at Prestonsburg in 1904 greatly facilitated commercial transactions in this area.

Mountains Bloom
For Laurel Fete

Frankfort, May 30 — The season is right . . . the mountains are in bloom . . . and Pineville is prepared for the biggest Mountain Laurel Festival.

Julian H. Golden and J. C. Helton, general co-chairman of the 26th edition of the Festival, say everything is ready for the gala affair.

Eighteen of the loveliest co-eds in the colleges of Kentucky begin competition Thursday night for the crown of laurel. Gov. A. B. Chandler will officially crown the new queen Friday afternoon.

Golden said for the first time in several years the reigning queen will not attend the festival. Mrs. Frank Wilson II, the former Miss Booker Andrews, is in North Africa with her husband in the U. S. Air Force.

Coronation of the new queen will be at Laurel Cove. A concert by the University of Kentucky band will be included in the activities of the afternoon.

Friday morning at 10 o'clock a parade of floats, bands and other marching units will proceed through downtown Pineville. Friday at 9 p.m., a grand ball will be given in honor of the new queen at the Pineville High School gymnasium. Buddy Blair and his Orchestra will furnish music for the evening.

Saturday at 11 a.m., Her Majesty's breakfast will be served at the Pine Mountain State Park lodge for the new queen. The remainder of Saturday's program will be devoted to the Laurel Princess program.

Gizmo Gimmick, fearful appearing robot constructed of tin cans, excited no little interest at the recent Morehead Science Conference.

Mr. Gimmick is here shown extending a metallic hand to his maker and master, Stephen Lee Meade, Prestonsburg fifth grade school pupil.

The monster talks (via an intercom system), moves its arms, and exhibits red glaring eyes. It is operated by a small electrical motor.

Dr. Wilson Wyatt, of the University of Tennessee, in commenting on the Meade boy's exhibit, said, "He showed a great deal of ability and ingenuity in constructing Gizmo." The robot was introduced on a panel discussion along with other "important guests."

Stephen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lee Meade, of Prestonsburg.

DETAIL PLANS FOR EAST KY.

Flood Control, Economy
Under Study by Planners;
Need of 65,000 Jobs Seen

Frankfort, May 30 — A vast plan for controlling floods and improving the economy of Eastern Kentucky was detailed here in a meeting of State department heads.

A six-week study prepared by a staff of professional community planners recruited from six states calls for a program that first would lessen flood danger, then lay the foundation for economic development and expansion of industry to provide an estimated 65,000 jobs now needed in the mountain region.

An interim report submitted to the department heads suggested that Eastern Kentucky can best achieve these goals through regional organizations and coordinating the activity with a single organization.

A final report on the problem is expected in mid-summer which will recommend model legislation to Federal, State and local governments and private groups.

Pointing out the many problems which must be solved to attain the best results the report stated, "This approach must be based on an understanding that it may take 20 or 30 years of sustained effort before a desirable balance between population and resources is achieved. There is no easy short-cut solution."

Economic Development Commissioner George W. Hubley, Jr., in submitting the interim report to Gov. A. B. Chandler said, "this report is being submitted to State and local officials and other interested persons in the expectation that their comments and criticism will enable us to prepare a comprehensive and final report by mid-summer."

WHAT ARE THEY UP TO? I know you've seen 'em around town—those neat, businesslike telephone trucks. Wonder what they do? Well, our folks who install and repair home and business phones use the smaller ones. The big trucks serve our linemen and cable crews, who not only install new lines but constantly check existing ones to be sure they're in good condition. You see, preventing trouble is a big part of our job—testing wires, cables and equipment and replacing if needed to avoid breakdown. It all adds up to telephone service you can depend on, every hour of the day, every day of the year.

FRIEND OF MINE SAYS breakfast in bed is his idea of really living it up. Let's face it—that's a luxury few of us can ever indulge. But having a bedside phone—even without the breakfast—is good living that's both practical and inexpensive. My friend was a bit surprised when I reminded him an extra phone for the bedroom costs about four cents a day. Saves running 'round the house at night or when you want to relax. Looks pretty too, in one of those smart decorator colors. And say, the lady of the house would welcome a handy wall telephone for her kitchen. Why not call our Business Office for more information?

School Children To State Capitol

Frankfort, May 30 — If school days are happy days, then the closing days of this term have been the happiest.

This has been proven by the joyous laughter which filled the corridors of the State Capitol here as hundreds of students, representing many sections of the Commonwealth visited the building recently.

"There have been as many as eight or nine schools registering here in one day, during the past weeks," E. C. Walker, tourist guide, reported.

Walker conducts the tours through the Capitol which includes visits to the executive offices of Gov. A. B. Chandler and Lt. Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield as well as the offices of other members of the cabinet.

The children are shown the Senate and House of Representatives chambers and are given history lessons as depicted by the pictures and statues in the dome of the building.

FOOD NOTES

By DIXIE TRAPP

Tribute will be given during June to MILK, June being Dairy Month. When you consider everything derived from milk, you will be ready to join the salute.

Milk is one of the easiest and best ways to get high value in a meal. There are fresh milks, cultured milks and the concentrated milks.

Various terms you will find on fresh milk labels are regular, homogenized, vitamin D milk, skim milk, and chocolate-flavored milk or milk drink. Regular is milk in which the cream rises to the top. Homogenized has the fat globules broken up and evenly distributed throughout the milk. Vitamin D milk has the vitamin D added to improve its nutritional level. Skim milk has no fat or vitamin A. Chocolate-flavored milk is whole milk to which chocolate syrup or cocoa is added and the chocolate-flavored milk drink uses skim milk.

Cultured or fermented milks are buttermilk and yogurt. These have their milk sugar changed to lactic acid.

Concentrated milks are: evaporated—over one half of the water is removed; condensed—concentrated milk with a large amount of sugar added to preserve it; and dry milk.

Smart shopping helps you drink more milk. Carry your own usually costs less than home delivered. Buy in large containers. Different forms, such as skim milk or buttermilk usually costs less per a quart than whole milk. Non-fat dry milk is even more economical. For best quality, milk needs 3C's and a D. Cool, Clean, Covered, and Dark.

Milk is a well stocked storehouse of vitamins. It is our most nearly perfect food. Adults should have one pint daily and children one quart daily. Everyone should drink milk of one kind or another.

Speaking editorially, the Paducah Sun-Democrat declares that Kentucky's "point system" for drivers of motor vehicles "is needed."

The newspapers says the program of State Safety Commissioner Don Sturgill "hit at the persons whose driving records were the worst, the ones who amassed several offenses. The stop sign runners can kill a pedestrian just as quickly as a drunken driver."

The "point-system" has been ruled illegal by Franklin Circuit Court. The ruling is going before the Court of Appeals.

The Sun-Democrats concluded: "If the courts rule that Mr. Sturgill does not have the authority to continue his program, we hope the State Legislature will give it to him."

TRUMAN AND THE POPE

In his book, "Kentucky Tradition," Lawrence Thompson tells of a Catholic priest touring the backwoods of Kentucky who stopped at the home of a Baptist minister for the night.

The priest was astonished to see over the minister's mantelpiece a lifesize portrait of Pope Pius X. The good father commented about this anomaly and the minister denied the portrait was the Pope's. The priest carried a small picture of the Pope and proved his point by showing it to the minister.

Whereupon the Baptist exclaimed: "That just goes to show you what some people will tell you to sell you something. The fellow who sold me that picture said it was Harry Truman in full masonic regalia."

RECOLLECTIONS

I recall when I went to school we had a five-month term. The boys sat on one side of the building and the girls on another. There was a recitation bench up front. There was no water within one-fourth mile of the school. Two boys would go after water; another would ask to pass the water to the class. One dipper was used by all. The last day of school was usually about Christmas, Santa would bring a treat. Myrnie Corns, Tollesboro, Ky.

I recall seeing a farmer traveling the Burkesville Road to and from Glasgow in a covered wagon. On cold days he would have a heating stove in the wagon and the pipe run out. The smoke rolled out as he traveled on.—Mrs. J. W. Davidson, Glasgow.

Escapes Decline At Kentucky Village

Frankfort, May 30—The number of escapes from Kentucky Village near Lexington has been reduced drastically, according to Robert Hammond, superintendent of the institution.

He said that prior to 1956 when he became superintendent, escapes averaged 35 a month, but since that time they have totaled 16.

Hammond said his program attempts to rehabilitate the delinquents in his care. The program offers vocational and academic school education, expert guidance, a recreational schedule and strict rules of behavior, he said.

The present population at Kentucky Village is 423, he said, with about 100 of these being girls. The institution is staffed by 130 employees.

Hammond said the boys and girls, ranging in age from 10 through 17, stay an average of 9 months. A planned program is arranged from 6 p.m. until bedtime at 8 p.m. each day.

The most effective part of the program, Hammond said, is the vocational section which offers training in farming, dairying, shoe making, service station work, automotive repair and carpentry. The girls are taught cooking, weaving, sewing, and beauty culture.

PIKE COLLEGE ENDS SEASON

Bears Baseball Mark Is 7 Wins, 5 Defeats; Lose Two To Ft. Knox

Pikeville, Ky., May 27 (Spl.)—The Pikeville College Bears laid down their bats for the season after falling twice, 3-1 and 16-0, to the Fort Knox Tankers in their last scheduled baseball games last week-end at Drift and Williamson.

The Bear's final season record stands at seven wins and five defeats, four by the Tankers and only one in a college game. They split with Concord College (Athens, W. Va.) winning 9-7 and losing 17-9, May 14.

Pikeville, victor over the Morehead Eagles and the Union Bulldogs twice each during the baseball season, will play next spring as a member of the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, Coach Joe Butcher said.

The Tankers, with a lineup of professionals led by Bill White, hard-hitting first baseman of the New York Giants, dominated the Bears, inexperienced under lights, and scored in five of the nine innings Saturday night at Williamson. They had taken their third decision of the year over Pikeville at Drift the previous afternoon, 3-1, on two home runs, including one by White with a mate on base.

Rattling 10 hits off loser "Tex" Thompson Saturday, the visitors tallied their first six runs before he was lifted in the sixth. Thompson had eight of Pikeville's 16 strikeouts, and gave up four of the seven Fort Knox walks.

BLACKCATS LOSE IN REGIONAL

The Prestonsburg Blackcats, victims of 11 errors, were eliminated in the first round of the eastern Kentucky regional high school baseball tournament last Friday as Breckinridge Training of Morehead overcame a 4-1 third inning deficit to whip the locals 11-5.

Paintsville, three-time loser to Prestonsburg during the season, bounced Breckinridge from the tournament semi-finals with an 8-2 victory and capped the championship game by edging Ashland 4-3 in the finals.

COACHING CHANGES

Doctor Taylor Ferrell, ex-Prestonsburg and Owensboro high football coach, will leave Lafayette high in Lexington at the close of the current school year to enter private business. Wilbur "Shorty" Jamerson, who guided all sports at Wheelwright last season, has been named head football coach at Glasgow.

GOLFING DATES

Dates for coming golf tournaments in eastern Kentucky are: Harlan Invitational, June 7-9; Hazard Invitational July 5-7; Kentucky open, Paintsville Country Club, July 12-14; Paintsville Invitational 26-28. Dates for the annual Wheelwright Invitational have not been listed as yet.

STEADY!

Two local gold opponents reached the 18th green even up. One had only to sink a tricky 10-foot putt to win. He lined up the putt, pulled back for the stroke when a sudden noise stayed his hand. A funeral cortege was passing by.

The golfer snapped to attention, whipped off his hat, held it over his heart until the last car disappeared. Then he calmly sank his putt.

"Congratulations," sighed his opponent grudgingly. "It took from nerve not to let that funeral procession flutter you into missing your putt."

"It wasn't easy," admitted the victor. "On Saturday, we would have been married 25 years."

Tornado Cancels Song For Class Graduation

Kansas City, May 25 — Graduation exercises were held last night for 174 seniors from the tornado-wrecked Ruskin High School.

There was one change in the program. The chorus had intended to sing the song, "Winds Across The Sky."

That song was omitted.

Cats Dropped by Breck In Regional Tournament; Close With 14-4 Record

Nine Breck Training hits and 10 Prestonsburg errors were enough last Saturday to defeat a sleepy Prestonsburg Black Cat baseball team at Grayson, 11-5, to open his regional tournament.

The loss ended a very successful baseball season for the Cats, whose record is now 14-4. This game also meant the end of a high school career for Capt. Buford Crager, Bruce Howard, Reuben Tackett, Melvin Stewart and Ronald Stricklen, all graduating seniors.

Paul Hughes started on the hill for the Cats and was doing splendidly until the 4th when the Baby Eagles scored seven runs on four hits, four errors and a base on balls. Pierce started and went the route for the Eagles, giving up 13 hits to the Cats as his teammates committed only two errors, both harmless.

Eleven-Year-Old Drift Boy Hurls No-Hitter In Little League Game

Eleven-year-old Harry Stumbo, showing early promise of adding to a family tradition and the prospect for brilliant baseball future on the mound, hurled a no-hit, no-run game Sunday while he and his teammates, the Doty Indians of the Drift Little League, defeated a Wheelwright team of youngsters, 6-0, in an exhibition game at Wheelwright.

Putting on quite an exhibition himself, the lad struck out 12 batters and walked three in six innings. "At the rate he was going," said Indian manager Denver Lee Collier, "I believe he could have kept pitching on and on—certainly nine full innings wouldn't have bothered him."

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stumbo, he is a distant cousin of the well-known pitching duo, Kit and Buck Stumbo, of the widely-publicized all-Stumbo baseball team of a few years ago at Drift and "kin to all the rest of the baseball-playing Stumbos," declared Collier.

The Indian boss was also high in praise of the performances of Harry's teammates, a lineup which includes three other Stumbos and is coached by Isom Stumbo, although Harry left them little to do except score runs, which they did in a handy fashion.

Grady Stumbo, shortstop and team captain, led the winning hitting attack with two safe swings in three times at bat. His triple in the fourth inning accounted for three runs sending leftfielder Tracy Stumbo, rightfielder Ronnie Stone and centerfielder Ronnie Carter across homeplate.

Catcher Rickie Sammons, who is credited with calling for the right pitches and contributing thusly to the pitching performance of his hurling teammate, collected a double, a triple and scored one run in the fifth frame.

The loop is now being readied for its third year of operation there, he said. It is composed of the Indians along with three other teams listed with their manager as follows:

Drift Cardinals, Buster Turner, manager; Drift Yankees, Jack Lawson, manager; and McDowell Stars, Ed Patton, manager.

A public meeting for those interested in the league will be held at 8 p.m. Sunday at the Drift office of the Elkhorn Coal Co., league officials announced. They stressed the importance of attending since the purpose of the gathering is to name new officers, make schedules and complete league organization for this season.

The schedule calls for a 24 game schedule to be played on weekdays and Saturday. All weekday games will start at 2:00 p.m. The playoff will begin the last week of August.

The Colts are in need of support of local fans and also financial help. If you wish to contribute, mail or give your contribution to Amos Childers or Rev. Harold W. Dorsey.

HEALTH NOTES
By Floyd County Health Department

A PERSONAL PROBLEM

Tuberculosis is a public health problem. As a contagious disease, measures for its control are a part of the job of every community's health department. The care of patients is a public responsibility and is paid for by taxes. Doctors are required by law to report cases they discover.

Federal, state, and local health officials, private physicians, and the voluntary tuberculosis associations have been cooperating for many years in the fight against this disease. Yet in the final analysis, the control of tuberculosis is a personal problem. This is the paradox of tuberculosis.

If the disease could be prevented by purely public health measures such as spraying and draining marshes, by compulsory isolation or vaccination, the individual could pay his taxes and forget about TB. Unfortunately, no simple measure has yet been discovered that will prevent the spread of the disease. Progress has been made in discovering cases and getting them under treatment promptly. However, there remains a reservoir of undiscovered cases spreading the disease in every community, and an even larger reservoir of infected persons who are potential victims of tuberculosis.

A vaccine of limited effectiveness (BCG) is available, but is not advocated for general use. Until such time as an effective vaccine or other preventive is discovered, it will be up to the individual to protect himself from TB. This means you and me.

Poor general health lowers resistance to TB germs. So each of us must guard his personal health. The rules of good health we learned in school haven't changed: cleanliness, sleep, proper food, fresh air, and exercise. If we follow the rules we have a good chance of defeating any TB germs that attack us. Another important personal step we can take against TB is to have a regular physical checkup and a chest X-ray. If TB is discovered early, there's every chance that it will be cured.

Says Rural Development
Is "Self Help" Program;
Cites Work in Counties

Senator John Sherman Cooper has urged the Senate to restore funds cut by the House of Representatives from the Rural Development Program for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1957.

The House had earlier cut the program by $2 million, or about 50 per cent below the Administration's request, and the House Appropriations Committee in effect urged that the program be discontinued.

Three Kentucky counties—Elmwood, Butler and Metcalfe—are among the 57 counties throughout the United States participating in the program as pilot counties. Cooper told the Senate Appropriations Committee that reports from the three counties indicated "remarkable" progress is being made already.

"Federal, State and local people are cooperating with a marked enthusiasm in the cause of broadly-based rural community programs," he said. "Their enthusiasm has spread out over adjoining counties. As one official told me, local initiative has been so stimulated that government agencies have to work to keep up, rather than vice versa."

Cooper expressed disappointment at the opposition to the program shown by the House. He noted that Rural Development was a "self-help" program. Rather than provide direct grants and subsidies, as other programs do, he said "it seeks to concentrate the educational, research, planning and other service efforts of several government agencies in a local area as a way of enlisting all available local resources in a long-term effort for improvement."

"I know of no program in the Agriculture Department that holds as much promise of substantial returns, in human terms and economic terms alike, as does the Rural Development Program," Senator Cooper told the Committee.

Cooper also urged the Senate to restore funds cut by the House for agricultural research, state extension services, the Soil Conservation Service, state experiment stations and for foreign agricultural attaches. He said the total appropriations requested for all these services amounted to less than 10 per cent of the Department's budget. But, he added, "these are the services which we can afford to support and improve, since they affect the daily operations and decisions of our farm people."

HUNDREDS TO ATTEND 4-H WEEK AT U. OF K.

Lexington, Ky., May 27 (Spl.)—Hundreds of fresh-faced Kentucky 4-H youngsters will turn toward the University of Kentucky June 3 for the opening session of the 34th annual 4-H Week.

For one of girls 4-H youngsters this June 4-7 session will mean a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago next December. This coveted prize goes to the dress revue winner.

For a limited number of other boys and girls, the sessions will result in state champion titles. These championships will go to teams or to individuals. Competition will be in such work areas as soil and water conservation; public speaking; bread-making; dairy foods; seed, feed and fertilizer work; and many others. Money prizes, ranging from watches to pen and pencil sets, are offered.

But the 1,200 youngsters won't be on an all-work and no-play schedule; in between their work sessions, they'll participate in group singing; tours; swimming; picnics; games; and similar activities.

Only four speakers are scheduled during the week-long affair. One is Governor A. B. Chandler who will address the entire group at 8:30 a.m. Thursday, June 6, in Memorial Coliseum.

Dr. Frank Dickey, U. K. president, talks at 8:30 a.m. Wednesday in the Coliseum; Dean Frank J. Welch of the U. K. College of Agriculture will speak at the same time and place Friday; and on Tuesday night, at 8:30 o'clock, Dr. William H. Alexander, Oklahoma City, Okla., Christian church pastor and authority on youth work and mental health, will address the groups.

Another highlight of the program is election of officers of the state group for the coming year. This occurs Thursday morning; results will be announced Thursday night.

Outstanding youngsters at the state meeting will be honored, too, by several University organizations. The University 4-H Club will give a trophy to the outstanding club member attending; recognition also will be paid to other outstanding youngsters by Farmhouse and Alpha Gamma Rho, both social agricultural fraternities; Alpha Zeta, mens' honorary agricultural group; and Phi Upsilon Omicron, womens' honorary home economics organization.

The schedule by days:

Alexander's talk, presentation of state champions, presentation of candidates for state officers.

Wednesday: Dr. Dickey's talk at the Coliseum starts the day's program; Throughout the day, individual and team demonstrations in various fields—bread-making, dairy foods, soil and water management, public speaking, etc.—will be held. The evening session includes a picnic at Coldstream farm, vespers, and a "bop hop" at the Students Union's Blue Grass ballroom and the Coliseum.

Thursday: Governor Chandler's talk opens the day's program; election of officers will be held at 11:30 a.m.; and team and individual demonstrations will be conducted.

The style revue winner will be picked and the winner at the evening program in the Coliseum. A talent show will be held and awards made.

Friday: Dean Welch's talk opens the day-long session. In the morning classes will be offered in "Four-Fold" development, citizenship and "Our 4-H Home in Washington." In the afternoon tours of the Bluegrass will be held. The evening session in Memorial Coliseum features vespers, the parade of champions, presentations of Kentucky National Campers; a talk on citizenship by Dean W. L. Mathews of the U.K. College of Law; and a candlelight service.

Road Projects Readied For Committee, Said

Frankfort, May 30 — A new list of proposed Kentucky road-improvement projects will be presented soon to the Governor's Advisory Committee on Highways for consideration.

The new projects will be in addition to the $85,000,000 federal-aid program approved April 29 by the committee for work during the 14-month period ending July 1, 1957. Engineers of the Automotive Safety Foundation and the department are studying the proposed projects.

The list of new projects should be ready for submission to the advisory committee by the middle of June or, at the latest, July 1, said Dwight H. Bray, chief state highway engineer.

The A.S.F. is a non-profit national engineering organization serving as consultant to the department in mapping the expanded highway program.

Bray suggested that the committee hold itself in readiness for a meeting to pass on the proposed new program as soon as the list is complete.

The $85,000,000 program's financing is independent of the state's $100,000,000 road bond issue voted by a 6 to 1 margin of last November's election. Money for the $85,000,000 plan kicking off a proposed 13-year, unprecedented highway building program in Kentucky is already in hand or in sight.

Some proceeds from the proposed road bond issue would be used to help finance the second list of projects if the bond issue's legality is finally upheld by the Court of Appeals.

The court is to conduct a hearing early in June in the bond test case. Highway officials expressed hope the final decision would be handed down late in June before the court recesses for its summer vacation.

TAG VANDALS?

Madison, Wis. — Climaxing a heated debate on the floor of the Wisconsin Legislature, Assemblyman Elmer Genzmer offered a tongue-in-cheek amendment to a bill which sets penalties for vandalism committed by children. Under Genzmer's proposal, a child would be exempt from damages if he wore a sign reading: "Beware of Wild Child."

Paintsville Boy Cops Prestonsburg JC Crown; Martin Lead Is Second

Harold Hilton Vanhoose, an eighteen-year-old Paintsville high school golfer, won the annual Prestonsburg Junior Chamber of Commerce tournament last week at the Paintsville Country Club. Vanhoose had a very hard time defeating David Lee Butler and Billy Cleo Hale. Butler is from Paintsville and Hale is from Martin.

At the end of the 36 hole medal play tournament, Vanhoose and Butler were tied for first place with Hale only one stroke behind in third place. On the 37th hole, Butler and Vanhoose both pored the hole and on the 38th Vanhoose had a birdie 3 and Butler had a bogie 5.

Vanhoose will represent the Prestonsburg Jaycees in the Kentucky Jaycee Junior Golf Tournament at the Greenville, Kentucky Country Club July 13 and 14. The Kentucky winners will advance to the National Tournament at Columbus, Ohio in August.

Don Sullivan, local chairman, says he feels Prestonsburg will be well represented at the state meet for the 36 hole medal play-off. Anyone who can fire a 71 for 18 holes at Paintsville is tough. The Paintsville course and Greenville course are similar in size and terrain.

Vanhoose will leave here July 12. He will stay at the Dan Dee Motel in Greenville.

"Uncle" John Vanderpool observed his 92nd birth anniversary Sunday at his home at "Baptist Bottom", Garrett, and was joined for the occasion by about 50 relatives and friends.

smashing a triple, the game's longest hit, in the eighth inning, relieved Pikeville's second pitcher, Ray Bailey, with no one out in the ninth. He disposed of the side with a walk, a single by White, and two strikeouts after Louis Culmone, St. Louis Cardinal third baseman, popped to Bailey, who had moved to short.

Bevins, a former Belfry high school star who was hitting .605 before the Tankers rolled in, scored the Bears' only run Friday with a homer in the seventh inning.

A single by Goebel Salyers in the third frame and a double by Pete Lewis in the seventh were Pikeville's only other hits.

Tanker pitcher Dan O'Connell, of the St. Louis Cards, who topped Thompson's one-hitter with a no-hitter in a previous meeting, allowed only two Pikeville hits Saturday, striking out 19 and walking six. Of the winners' 21 safeties, Lee Butz hit four on five official trips, and batted in four runs, and Ted Pate and White each hit three for five.

Frank Buckshon was the winning pitcher in Friday's game, fanned 11 and issued only one and allowing three hits. Jim Moss took the loss, as he also fanned 11 and issued only one base on balls, but gave up five hits. White, with a single and his home run, was the only Tanker to hit safely more than once.

Catchers for both games were Jim Reed, former K.M.I. star from Drift, for the Bears, and Jim Byrd, of the Washington Nationals, for Fort Knox.

Youth Panel Tells Men Parents Not Strict Enough With Children

"The average parent is not strict enough with his children," a panel of three Key Club members told the club's sponsoring group, the Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club, at last Thursday's Kiwanis meeting.

The three Key Club boys ranged in age from 15 to 17 years, and their views on various topics presented to Kiwanians what was recognized as a challenge to the older clubmen.

Other views expressed by the Club youths:

The present generation is not too different from the past. It would be better to raise the driver's license age requirement to 17 rather than to drop it to 15.

The Youth Center here was not as successful as it should have been because its activities lacked diversity.

Veterans' Wives Due More Benefits, Thought

Frankfort, May 30—Many widows of Kentucky veterans have failed to apply to the Veterans Administration for increased death compensation which may be due them, Director R. R. Thomas of the Kentucky Disabled Ex-Service Men's Board has reported.

He said the servicemen's and veterans' survivor benefits act provides such benefits will be paid retroactively to Jan. 1, if application is made by July 1.

Thomas added:

The applicant will be advised by the VA whether it is better to receive benefits under the new law or to continue to receive benefits under the old.

All widows of veterans who died in service or as a result of service-connected disability should file before July 1. The board will assist widows in applying for this benefit.
