This Town— That World

OUR BEST WISHES

Elsewhere in this edition our valued colleague of several years, Henry P. Scalf, announces his moving on to a new field of work. We regret this change and wish for our friend success in whatever he attempts to do.

If water-control dams aren't built, the main surveys made in Eastern Kentucky will be when they survey the damage.

DOCTOR WITH A HEART

Folks are so quick to lay the blame on a group or class with a heavy brush, making no exceptions. When that doctor recently made a heavy charge for attending the child who was rescued from a well, there were those who unjustly branded the whole medical profession as leeches, misers, and so on.

But what of a case such as this that follows? You will recall that Sheriff George Little of Wolfe county was seriously wounded by a machine gun bullet several months ago when he routed robbers in a bank at Campton. Since that time he has been undergoing treatment at Lexington, and only his plea for state help in paying his doctor bill was rejected as unconstitutional.

This letter to the Sheriff from his physician, Jr., John B. Floyd, Jr., of Lexington, is self-explanatory.

"I appreciate your letter so very much stating that you will pay your bill. Personally I have no bill for you. I had a bill for the people in whose protection you were injured, namely, the general public.

"Since it is the Attorney General's feeling that public funds can not be used to compensate you for your injury in the line of duty, then let us say that my work for you was in the line of public safety, or service, too."

WATER PLANT COMPLETION SET DEC. 10

Engineer Says Plant Will Serve Community Adequately in Future

The new water plant in construction here will be completed about December 10, Frank Phelps, field engineer for Howard K. Bell, Lexington consulting engineer, said this week.

Phelps said it was hoped that the work which includes both the piping and plant installation, will be completed and that the plant will be in full-scale operation before the deadline date.

The plant, with a maximum output of 1,000,000 gallons a day, will be capable of furnishing the water needs of Prestonsburg for many years to come, Phelps said.

He added that all plants designed by Howard K. Bell have the feature of doubling their capacity by the addition of two filters and a settling basin to the original plant. The plant here could with such supplements supply 2,000,000 gallons of water a day.

He said that he had served in a similar position while constructing Paintsville's water plant. Phelps added that Harrodsburg although had a water system similar to Prestonsburg's.

He noted that Harrodsburg has had several industries to enter the town. The additional demand for water has not put any strain on the water plant at Harrodsburg, he said.

The water will be treated with the usual chemicals and the new tooth preservative, fluoride. He said the fluoride has proven particularly helpful in preventing decay of children's teeth.

Total cost of the system, he said, will be $419,320.34. This includes the cost of pipes, plant, and a new storage tank.

The tank was contracted from the Chattanooga Tank and Boiler Company for $23,000.

The building housing the water plant measures 53 by 43 feet.

Safe Driving Program Initiated By Kiwanians; Don Sullivan In Charge

The Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club, in an effort to lessen the hazards of driving and reduce highway fatalities, began a safety campaign on July 4 that will run through Labor Day.

Driver education, safety bumper strips and publicity on the dangers of driving while under the influence of alcohol are to be emphasized, it was said. The whole Kiwanis club has resolved itself into a committee of the whole with Don Sullivan, public relations committee chairman in charge.

The bumper strips, with slogans of six different messages, will be furnished by an insurance company, with such admonitions as "Drive Safely," "Don't Drink While Driving," and "Speed Kills."

A series of articles on safe driving are scheduled by the Kiwanians in The Times.

SCHOOL MEN ASK U.S. AID

Martin and Dodson Ask Congressmen from Ky. To Back School Bill

Two of Kentucky's top educators urged the state's congressmen this week to vigorously support the Kelley bill for federal school aid.

A three-page open letter was signed by Dr. Robert R. Martin, state superintendent of public instruction, and J. Marvin Dodson, executive secretary of the Kentucky Education Association.

It made no mention of Governor Chandler's outspoken opposition to federal aid at the Governor's Conference recently in Williamsburg, Va.

Chandler had told a press conference he didn't blame Dr. Martin for favoring federal school aid because all professional educators are for it.

Martin and Dodson based their plea on needs for school building within Kentucky. They said the state must have 10,000 new classrooms—7,500 to replace unsafe ones, 1,500 to relieve overcrowding, and 1,000 to handle increased enrollments anticipated in the next five years.

"Kentucky at both local and state levels is making tremendous efforts to meet these needs, but it becomes increasingly apparent that these efforts are not sufficient to solve the problem," the letter said.

It was pointed out that the State Department of Education has approved plans for 2,053 new classrooms at a cost of $25,000,000 the past year.

"But the truth is that our districts have reached or are rapidly approaching the limit of their ability to bond themselves," the letter continued, "and the large number of classrooms already indicated are still needed. Even with the aid provided by the Kelley bill, the task of providing

New Facilities Planned By Bell At Paintsville

The Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company plans to spend approximately $68,000 to improve and expand its facilities in Paintsville, H. D. Hayes, local manager for the company, announced this week.

Work got under way July 10 on a $20,000.00 addition to the Southern Bell Telephone building on the corner of Third and Court street, Paintsville. The building addition is scheduled for completion about September 1.

The new addition to the present building will make room for seven more positions of switchboard and additional central office equipment which will cost approximately $48,000. The installation of this equipment will be completed in December, 1957.

Mr. Hayes said the addition to the present building and the additional central office equipment is another step in Southern Bell's program to expand service in Paintsville, and to help take care of expanding telephone service in the Big Sandy valley.

SUIT BLAMES STATE POLICE

Jones Alleges Trooper Caused Wreck, Claims $30,000 Total Is Due

Agnes Jones, in a damage suit filed in circuit court here last week, blames State Trooper Delmar Lafayette for the wreck of his auto at Garrett and his serious injury last June 2.

He asks a total of $30,000—$25,000 damages and $5,000 hospital and medical expenses.

The wreck originally went into state police records as a chase of a car and of the driver of the fleeing car losing control. The Jones auto failed to negotiate a curve in Garrett, smashed into a dress shop, righted itself in the highway and was smacked into by the pursuing police car, first reports of the crash said.

In the suit Jones alleges such careless, reckless and negligent operation by Lafayette of his auto as to cause a collision in which he suffered a broken right leg and arm and other injuries. As a consequence, it is pointed out, Jones "was prevented from transacting his business."

This action against a member of the state police followed by a few weeks a suit filed in circuit court here by the Department of Public Safety, seeking to recover from William J. Hunter $600 for damage done to a state police cruiser driven by Marvin Jennings.

HALL SOUGHT IN SHOOTING

Father and Baby Wounded By Shotgun Blast, Sunday; Few Details Known Here

A Knott county is sought as the man who last Sunday fired a single shotgun blast which wounded a Jack's Creek man and his infant daughter.

Named as the man who fired the shot is Vermin Hall, about 20, brother-in-law of Addison Collins, the man who was shot.

Collins, a man of about 35 years, was struck in his left arm, and his baby was wounded in both legs. Both are at the Miners Memorial hospital, McDowell.

Little was officially known here of the shooting. County Judge Henry Stumbo said he had heard only reports, and that nobody had appeared here to swear out a warrant. Sheriff Gorman Collins said some of his deputies had investigated the shooting, but he had not received a full report from them.

One report received here says that the two men quarrelled over differences between Collins' and his wife, who is Hall's sister. The same report says the shot was fired as Collins was giving the baby its bottle.

Farm Irrigation System Field Day Demonstration On Smith Farm at Allen

An irrigation system, set up and working, will be one of the attractions at the Farm Family Field Day next Wednesday at the Virgil Smith farm near Allen.

The system will demonstrate to Floyd county farmers what can be done for crops where there is deficient rainfall or drought. It was offered for use on Field Day by Wigglesworth Farm Service, at Cynthia.

Other attractions farmers will find on the tour are purebred sheep, an alfalfa hay field, good pastures, strawberries, excellent garden and a poultry flock. The ladies will have an opportunity to learn much about home lighting, house power, and flower arrangement.

4-H Club members have scheduled an exhibit of handicraft work done at the district 4-H camp at Flat Gap, Johnson county, recently.

Judging will be done on breeding ewes, fat lambs, canned goods, flower arrangement and seed identification.

The meet gets underway at 9:30 a.m., according to Robert M. Jones, county agent. Persons planning attendance are requested to bring lunches, Jones added.

$18,500 PAID AS DAMAGES

Widow of Kash Holbrook Accepts Co-op's Offer In Agreed Settlement

The $100,000 damage suit of Nevada Holbrook, widow of Kash Holbrook, and executrix of his estate, came to a rather abrupt end Wednesday after attorneys for the Licking Valley Rural Electric Co-op had offered a cash settlement.

The $18,500 settlement offered was accepted by Mrs. Holbrook's attorneys, Bert T. Combs and Paul E. Hayes, of Prestonsburg.

The suit was the outgrowth of fatal burns suffered by Holbrook, prominent Magoffin county Democratic leader, when a drilling rig he was moving on Mason Creek, Magoffin county, came in contact with a live wire.

The REA co-op settled out of court for a reported $4,000 the damage suit filed by kin of Thomas Caldwell, young employee of Holbrook who was electrocuted and almost instantly killed at the time Holbrook was burned.

Woods Is Named Sec'y of Alumni

Carl N. Woods, assistant professor of history and political science at Morehead State College, has been named executive secretary of the Morehead Alumni Association. President Adron Doran announced last week.

Woods, who was graduated from George Peabody College in 1951, has been at Morehead since 1956.

The newly appointed executive secretary was in the Floyd county school system for 17 years as a teacher, principal and supervisor and taught at the University of South Carolina for four years before coming to Morehead. A native of Prestonsburg, Woods is married and has two children.

"I know Carl will do an exceedingly good job as executive secretary of the Alumni Association as we are continually expanding," said President Adron Doran.

Bob Warnock, president of the Association, said "Carl has always been a faithful, hard working member of the Alumni Association and I know he will continue the fine job his predecessor, John Collis, did."

PROBERS QUIZ COLLINS' PAL

A court of inquiry conducted here Wednesday morning by County Judge Henry Stumbo and County Attorney Hollie Conley at the request of relatives of the victim failed to uncover conclusive evidence that Virgil Collins, whose body was found Saturday in Beaver Creek, near Wayland, met with foul play.

A sister and a brother of the victim were here, and they expressed a desire to see all puzzling angles of the case cleared up.

After testimony of three persons had been heard the inquiry was continued till Friday at 9 a.m., when others will be questioned.

Dale Bradley, bosom friend of Collins, was the last of those questioned. He said he left Collins, in

Two Mine Accidents Injure Castle, Martin; Auto Mishap Hurts Blair

Two men were injured in Floyd mine accidents, and one of these, S. W. Castle, of Prestonsburg, is in serious condition at the Miners Memorial hospital, McDowell. The other, Sherman Martin, who was injured Monday morning when "rolled" by a mine motor, was less seriously hurt. He also is at the McDowell hospital.

Seriously hurt here last Sunday morning was Danny Blair, of Barnett's Creek, Johnson county, when an auto driven by Claude Napier, of Prestonsburg, left the highway at the Ball Alley curve. Blair, a serviceman on furlough, suffered a spinal injury, fractured arms and ribs. He was taken to Veterans hospital, Huntington, by the Moore Funeral Home ambulance. Young Napier and a Dixon boy suffered minor hurts.

Mr. Castle was injured last Friday morning by a slatefall in the Drift mine of the Turner-Elkhorn Coal Company. Two fellow-workers escaped injury. The Prestonsburg man suffered a crushed pelvis, broken ribs and chest injuries. His condition was slightly improved Wednesday morning, it was said.

One of Six Men Raided Facing Federal Charge; Prisoner Exchange Made

One of six men on whose premises whiskey or beer, or both, was found by Floyd officers in raids beginning last Friday was taken before the U. S. Commissioner at Pikeville. He is Amon Mature, of Big Mud Creek, and Deputy Sheriff Joe Wheeler Lewis and others found four gallons of moonshine at his place. Others raided and liquor confiscated by officers:

Jim Brogley, of Abner Fork, six cases beer, four half-pints of whiskey; Taylor Watson, Melvin, 54 cases beer; Jack Gayheart, McDowell, two cases beer, 15 half-pints whiskey, seven half-pints gin; Johnny Thornsby, Melvin, 27 cans beer; Chuck Justice, McDowell, three cases beer.

Floyd and Pike counties effected a prisoner exchange this

PRO RATA PAY OF DEBT SLIM

Three Magistrates Vote To Pay Full $12,000 Debt 'Secured' by Their Note

The Floyd fiscal court met last Thursday to pro rate the $7-to-$8,000 fund remaining for payment on old debts, and with that small amount was faced with the task of trying to satisfy creditors with what amounted to mere token payments.

The court had about $20,000 available for this purpose till the court meeting of July 11 when by a split vote it paid the First National Bank $12,000 on old debts to the Ranier Construction Company which were secured by a note signed personally by members of the court.

Magistrate Grover Holbrook and County Judge Henry Stumbo voted against the payment. Advising against it, County Attorney Hollie Conley told the three Magistrates voting for payment, John May, Ellis Martin and Edgar Howell, that if interest on the note were included in the payment he would sue to recover for the county.

Magistrate May explained this week that he, Martin and Howell voted to pay the $12,000, because all three will not be in office after their terms expire this year and that they did not want to have the note obligation hanging over their heads.

These old debts were incurred about four years ago when work and services were rendered the county and were not paid for before the fiscal year ended on June 30 because there were not sufficient funds.

Collins was a son of Mrs. Mousie Combs Collins, of the Wayland vicinity, and the late Ervin Collins. The body had been in the water three or four days.

Surviving, besides his mother, are his widow, Mrs. Grace Collins, a son, two daughters, three brothers, Lawrence, Raymond and Ervin Collins Jr., all of Ohio, and one sister Mrs. Eva Ambersie, of Ohio.

TALK PIONEER SHRINE, RESTOCKING OF DEWEY

A state-backed business-credit agency to encourage industrial expansion in Eastern Kentucky and diverse other plans which include Dewey Lake restocking and restoration of the original blockhouse at Harmon's Station, across the river from East Point—these were recommended last week by a professional study group at Frankfort.

The credit corporation would provide low-cost loans to promising firms that could not qualify for bank financing.

Acting Governor Harry Lee Waterfield said the Legislative Research Commission was well along in a study of the credit plans. It would provide equal benefits throughout Kentucky. Present plans call for introducing enabling legislation in the 1958 General Assembly.

Waterfield also said efforts to bring new industries to Eastern Kentucky were already showing results, with some "big" announcements expected in the near future.

The credit plan would give the state an added selling point in its efforts to induce industry to come to Kentucky.

This arrangement, already tried successfully in other parts of the nation, was suggested for Kentucky "in view of present difficulties in marketing community industrial-revenue bonds."

The recommendation was contained in a 92-page final report that

SEPTEMBER 21 DATE SOUGHT FOR POLLING

Claim 521 Sign Petition Asking Election; Court To Take Action on Date

A petition purporting to bear the names of 521 Prestonsburg residents was filed at the County Court Clerk's office Monday afternoon, calling for a local option election to be held here Friday, Sept. 21.

The petition requested that the vote be taken on the question, "Are you in favor of the sale of alcoholic beverages in Prestonsburg, Floyd county, Ky.?"

The number of petitioners, it is claimed, is more than the number required to get the question brought to vote. The number of signers on such a petition must equal or exceed 25% of the total number of votes cast in Prestonsburg at the last general election.

Dry forces indicated the petition and each name will be given careful scrutiny before County Judge Stumbo acts on the requests for the special election.

Anti-liquor leaders here also said they propose to publish in The Times next week all names appearing on the petition asking the election.

Floyd county voted dry in 1946, and in each subsequent local option election dry forces have won local elections.

Sunday To Mark Homecoming, 50th Anniversary of Church

Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church will conclude Sunday a week of revival with homecoming marking the 50th anniversary of the organization of the church.

The church was organized in 1907 by the Rev. Charles Martin, of Paintsville, with seven charter members. A year later, the Rev. W. H. Sledge, now a resident of Florida, held a great revival meeting in the church, and he and his singer remained here a year, he as pastor.

With the destruction by fire of the church building here in 1942, the church saw trying days but in recent years has enjoyed a resurgence that has seen the congregation greatly increased in numbers and the physical plant of the church enlarged by the acquisition of two additional buildings.

Expected to be ready for Sunday's services is the new central air conditioning system now being installed in the church.

All members, former members, their families and friends are being invited to the homecoming, the pastor, the Rev. Ira McMillen, said. One or more former pastors of the church are expected to take part.

Each family is being requested to bring a basket dinner sufficient for its own meal and enough

OAK DISEASE HUNT OBJECT

Floyd Ranger Announces Woodland Law Education To Be Stressed This Year

One case for violation of the forestry laws was settled out of court this week when Woodrow Cole of Buck's Branch, near Martin, paid the suppression cost for a fire with which he was charged, according to Roe Turner, forest ranger. Two other cases are pending, Turner said, and will probably be settled the same way. These were spring fires, he added.

The two-way radio system being installed by the state Division of Forestry for use by its personnel in this county is nearing completion with the tower on Abbott Mountain awaiting only equipment to put it in use. The Division's trucks have already been installed with radios and are in use now locally, being powered by batteries.

Turner, in discussing a planned educational program in the schools, said that the work was particularly effective in the Middle Creek section last year where there had been a rash of fires. Violations of the forestry laws declined significantly there after the schools, pupils and landowners cooperated on an educational program.

the additional 10,000 classrooms needed will be difficult; without such aid, the job will be well-nigh impossible.

Martin and Dodson took exception to opponents who have argued that federal aid will bring federal control of schools. They said federal money spent on schools in the past, including much under the old Works Project Administration program, failed to result in federal control.

"Each year," the letter said, "the National government collects an increasingly greater per cent of all tax revenues. It returns to the states a portion of its collections to aid other important undertakings. Even in the face of overwhelming popular support for federal aid to schools, the national government has continued to discriminate against public education."

Why We May Not Accept Flood Protection

It may sound preposterous, even unbelievable, but there appears to be a possibility that Prestonsburg may not accept a floodwall largely as a gift from the federal government, after all.

It isn't because we're averse to getting something for nothing, or a lot for a little; it's because some of those who in the past have suffered most from floods have not yet decided how the responsibility shall be shared.

Everybody knows the old story of flood and property damage. It has been repeated here almost annually, sometimes semi-annually. Everybody also knows that only one flood-control reservoir is now even in the planning stage for the Big Sandy. Three such dams are needed. We are told. Present planning means that when the Pound reservoir is completed we shall have only one-third the protection that we need or could get from such man-made barriers and lakes. Crest of the river in the future floods will be a little lower than before, but not much lower.

And so, if Prestonsburg is to escape future disasters, if it is to be known as a community that is pretty well removed from peril of flood, its main hope lies in this floodwall that has been offered it.

Knowing that the community's most immediate and perhaps most effective protection lies in a floodwall, then who shall assume the local expense of such a project?

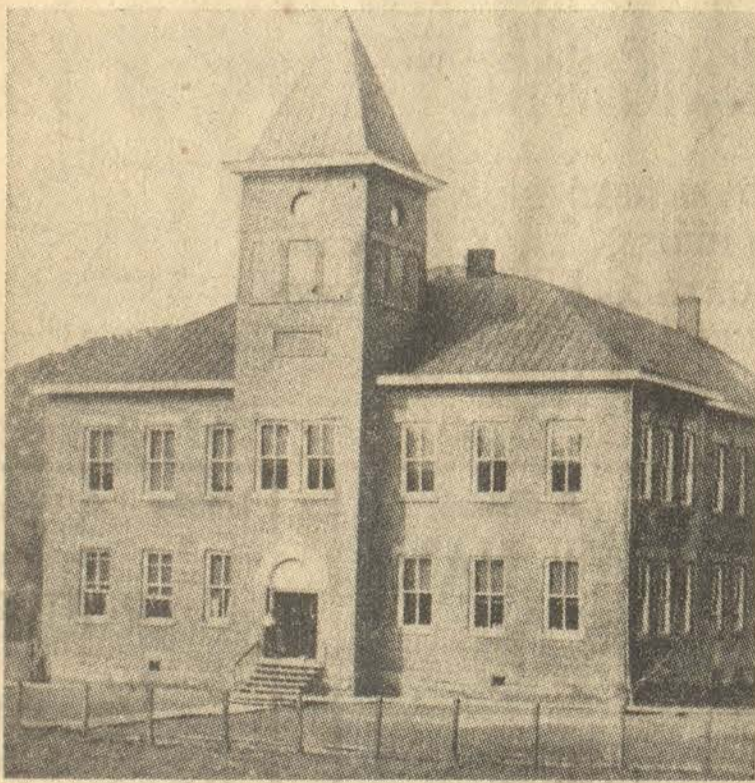

It must be admitted that a flood which affects a part or parts of a community affects in greater or lesser degree all the community. To that extent, then, we should say, the city government of Prestonsburg as an agent of all the people should contribute something toward the local contribution on the floodwall project.

But the main financial burden, as pertaining to the local contribution, should be borne by the owners of property that is affected by flood. And here there must be considerable progressive thinking and unselfish action if there is to be any agreement and harmony of thought and effort toward getting the job done.

Thinking right and moving in the right direction now, in July and August, could save Prestonsburg many hundreds of thousands in January and other rainy months to come.

(No. 13 in a series)

PRESTONSBURG BAPTIST INSTITUTE

The Prestonsburg Baptist Institute, standing on the present site of the grade school, grew out of the establishment of the Eastern Kentucky Normal School by Prof. Walter M. Byington in 1901. The red brick structure housing the institution was completed in 1903. The school was sold to the Baptist Educational Society of Kentucky in 1908, the movement to purchase being led by the attorneys, W. H. and A. J. May, who had been converted under the preaching of the Rev. W. H. Sledge. The school was renamed the Prestonsburg Baptist Institute.

Rev. Sledge served as principal four years. The Baptist Educational Society sold to Rev. A. C. Harlowe in 1918. It was subsequently conveyed by Rev. Harlowe to the county and city. The county sold its interest to the city in 1927. The original building, shown above, was torn down in 1940 and the Prestonsburg grade school building erected on the site.

The First National Bank was founded shortly after the establishment of what later became the Prestonsburg Baptist Institute. Our school system and the First National Bank have grown side by side the last half century, the officers and directors of the banking institution ever seeking to advance the cause of education and progress.

Three intakes will be located in the river for optional uses at different levels, according to the river sediment. Two 15-horsepower motors will be used to pump the water to the plant and two 50-horsepower motors will be used to pump the processed water to the storage tanks. Only one motor will be used at a time, but two motors are kept ready in case one fails to function.

Two tanks will be used to store and distribute water—the 400,000-gallon reservoir at Lancer and the tank in Prestonsburg of about 200,000 gallons capacity. The tank is slated for delivery sometime in September, Phelps said. The foundation has already been laid for it. Both tanks can be filled, he said, by the plant pumping four hours a day.

Plans have been made to salvage the usable parts of the old plant and sell them after the transition to the new plant has been effected, Phelps said.

Brown was sought on two forfeited bonds and he also faces a charge of selling mortgaged property, Sheriff Blackburn said.

Among those jailed within the week on the more serious offenses were:

Charles Hamilton, charged with breaking and entering, jailed July 22 by State Trooper Williamson; Sam Crawford, drunk driving, no operator's license; Roy Gayheart, drunk driving.

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

Western Kentucky Teachers' College Bowling Green, Ky.

"FIFTY YEARS AS A TEACHER"

By the time this essay appears in the newspapers that use my column, I will have celebrated fifty years as a teacher. Among the piles of old composition books in which I kept a diary for so long I recently found the one that recorded my first day as a school-teacher, July 1, 1907. Apparently I did not regard that day as anything to write expansively about; I seemed to have no theories about what an important date that was in my life. In the midst of a few sentences about the weather and the wild flowers that were then in bloom, two sentences record the momentous day. In my lifetime fondness for putting things down in words, I named the six boys and four girls who constituted the first day's attendance. Then I added, with all the aloofness of a general surveying a great battlefield: "We got all the classes organized and the wheels started to turning." And then away in my diary to thistles in bloom and corn tassels appearing. No other day of that first six months of my career as a teacher seems to have fared any better, maybe because I did not know what to write. I do remember that I was scared half to death when those ten youngsters faced me. I noted at the end of the day's record that I read the first Psalm. Maybe that familiar passage of exquisite beauty reassured me and helped me start the wheels.

There is no doubt about it; I was there that day, I was the eighteen-year-old teacher, I was determined to do things in a worthy way. But I cannot remember a thing about it all. My diary, written that night, is all I have to prove that I had such a day. What happened that first day long ago blended with other similar days, and time has smoothed off some of the raw edges of it all. The whole school year seems to have occurred in some pre-existence of mine, or even it seems to be something I may have heard or read about. Only a few of those ten children have ever crossed my path in later life; all of them now living may be great-grandparents, for even the smallest one is now fifty-six. Only last year I taught the nephew of one of those small children and learned that the uncle, a pink-cheeked boy of ten when I had him as a pupil, died many years ago. And the school itself disappeared years ago, too, consolidated with others near by. Fifteen years ago I tried to find the exact place where the building had stood but was unable to do so. I stood where I supposed it to have been and tried very hard to bring back some of the happenings of 1907 that might make it seem like a part of my life. Since I lived in that school district only a year, and since my only means of locomotion was my feet, I was somewhat limited to an area a few miles wide, an area, by the way, so changed as to roads and buildings that I could not find my way around.

Fifty years after the event, I cannot help wondering why I wanted to be a teacher. As far back as I can remember, I had had no other ambition, at least, not for more than a day or two at a time. I have kept that same strange feeling to the present day. There has never been a temptation to leave the schoolroom, even though I could have made more money elsewhere and much more reputation. That little one-roomed building, inadequate, and dirty with the accumulated dirt of years, looms like some sort of scared shrine in my life. It was mine for a year only, but no change of time, no rolling up of years can take it away. Though the events of the years now seem dreamy and unreal, they still are and were mine. And by my teaching that one-roomed school I became a part of a long tradition that is now passing swiftly. And your little school, too, must have been like mine, a quaint memory of a long, long time ago.

of trees infected by the disease, which has Kentucky forestry officials "concerned, but not alarmed."

The survey, expected to take a week, will cover a uniform 25 per cent of the state's area, said Harry Nadler, Frankfort, associate director of the Division of Forestry in charge of forest management.

Foresters and their aides from the division's nine administrative districts coordinated plans at a Frankfort conference with the aid of Tom Jones, oak-wilt specialist in the Central State Forest Experiment Station of the United States Forestry Service at Columbus, Ohio.

District foresters engaged private commercial planes for the survey. Each plane carries two observers and a mapper besides the pilot, Nadler said.

The disease is easily spotted from the air, Nadler said. Each plane will fly a series of straight-line courses four miles apart at altitudes of 500 to 1,000 feet. This will give coverage a mile wide, Nadler said. One mile in every four will be covered.

The wilt, which kills red oaks within a year and white oaks in three to five years, was first noted in Kentucky in 1951 in Greenup County.

Nadler emphasized that the disease is slow-moving and should not cause hasty cutting of oak timber. He said the State was controlling it on a 25-square-mile tract in Breathitt county.

DRIVE SAFELY

(One of a series of articles sponsored by the Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club)

Immutable natural laws govern your conduct on the highway. Death knows these laws—do you?

The first safety precaution is to never drive while drinking and if you must drink, stay out of your automobile.

0.6cc absolute alcohol per kilogram of bodyweight equals danger.

This little formula means that just three ordinary highballs make you a menace on the highway. Exhaustive tests by leading universities have proved that an average person weighing 150 lbs. is a dangerous driver after taking three drinks. Aside from the use of good judgment, there are four factors which must operate at a high point of efficiency in order to permit you to drive safely. These are:

1. Ability to concentrate.
2. Coordination between mind and muscle.
3. Muscular reaction.
4. Selective reaction to stimulus—power to make a decision.

It has been established that within forty minutes after imbibing three highballs, the efficiency of the four vital driving factors are reduced in the following percentages:

1. Concentration—35.3%.
2. Coordination—59.7%.
3. Muscular reaction 17.4%.
4. Selective reaction—9.7%.

"The drinking driver causes more accidents than the drunken driver."

HEALTH NOTES

TRAVEL AND TB

Travel is broadening, they say, but it may also broaden the tuberculosis problems for Americans. Experts predict that globe-trotting may increase our chances of getting TB, unless world-wide control of the disease is effected.

Great progress has been made against TB in this and a handful of other countries. The death rate has declined sharply and should continue to be low if TB control programs are continued at the present rate. In the past, it is believed, most Americans became infected with TB germs when they were young even though those who broke down with the disease did not do so until later in life. Infection rates in children have been declining in recent years as efforts have increased to find and hospitalize adults with "open" TB. If this trend continues and the national standard of living remains high, there should be fewer new cases in years to come.

Against this trend, however, stands the fact that Americans are increasingly likely to travel in parts of the world where TB is more prevalent.

In the service of government or business some live for considerable periods in parts of Asia, the Near East, and other places where the disease is endemic. Many of today's children may grow up without meeting TB germs until they are exposed to the disease in foreign lands. So, in the end, they may suffer from the disease in spite of our nationwide TB control program.

What is the answer to this problem? Americans of today and tomorrow aren't going to stay at home. We all want to see the world. The only answer is world-wide control of tuberculosis. The United States can't be an island of safety in this small world. The World Health Organization works to improve standards of TB control. The UN Children's Emergency Fund actively assists nations whose TB problems are acute. Your local tuberculosis association, through the National Tuberculosis Association, is a part of the International Union Against Tuberculosis and contributes to the increase and spread of knowledge about TB throughout the world.

OHIO CRITIC OF EAST KENTUCKY SAYS "DIDN'T LEARN EVERYTHING"

By Henry P. Scalf

Early this spring a lady, Alma Skiles, traveling with a battered suitcase, deficient funds and a wealth of good intentions for shut-ins, came down to the Kentucky mountains to offer them comfort. She visited Caney Junior College at Pippa Passes and several towns and hamlets in the area, went back to her home town of Mendon, Ohio, wrote of her experiences for the Daily Standard of Celina.

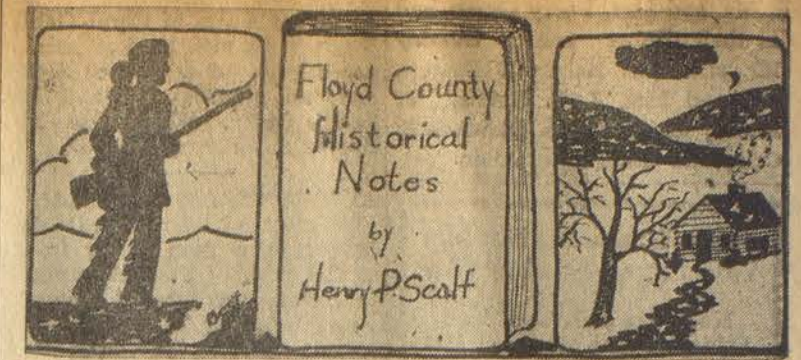

Unquestioned mountain hospitality may have suffered an irreparable blow from her report in the Ohio newspaper for while our people fed and housed her, watched over her with deep solicitude while on the road and gave her courtesy, a cook at Caney Creek fed her cold gravy for breakfast.

Caney College was found to be a bit of shut-in itself. Mrs. Lloyd, our Ohio visitor says, "is nearing 80, hates and fears the modern world, fights all efforts to modernize the school." The shut-in missionary was given a room in one of the Caney buildings that was reached by a flight of steps. She had to climb those steps, had, actually and physically to lift up her legs and climb step by step, while a boy carried the battered suitcase. There was no escalator, not even a primitive elevator.

That food at Caney was terrible for an old lady used to the delicacies of Northern chefs. It is a wonder that the hundreds of boys and girls who attended Caney and afterwards marched away to become lawyers, teachers and doctors ever survived the ordeal of those cold gravy and cold biscuit breakfasts.

We'll let Miss Skiles describe the horrors of Caney: "The sun sinks behind the mountains in mid-afternoon (That's about 3 p. m., you know) and a fire must be built in the fireplaces. Some boys did this for me. The plumbing consisted of a bucket of cold water, a wash basin and another bucket in the corner. (She didn't say for what use the bucket in the corner was intended.) I found a battered teakettle and placed it in the fireplace to get hot water.

"A girl came to take me to supper. We stood behind our chairs and sang a blessing. Then we sat down and the food was passed. I was embarrassed to find I could not eat it—it was so extremely unpalatable. I soon noticed that no one was really eating and before we had hardly sat down all jumped up and ran out of the building. (Jumping up and running out of the dining room and other buildings is an old Caney custom as alumni will tell you.)

FINIS

This is the 135th column of notes on Floyd county and Eastern Kentucky history—and the last. Ye columnist is going to another field of endeavor and reluctantly the word "Finis," is written as it seems the only appropriate heading.

The column was born nearly seven years ago when the editor of The Times was given an assortment of local historical notes to do with whatever he thought desirable. The next issue of The Times carried the items appropriately headed, Floyd County Historical Notes. It was accepted as a good name. Several years later Mrs. Frankie Best, teacher and artist, designed the picture heading under which the column became more easy to identify in the paper. The engraving made from the Best drawing now becomes a cherished souvenir.

Approximately 115,000 words have been written to fill the column in the last several years and there would have been more but space limitation indicated that live news should have priority. In addition to this column scores of historical features were published by the Times. Much of the original sources of the column and the features do not now exist. The flood carried away much of incalculable value in the way of historical records, especially in family archives.

Many readers have made scrapbooks of the column and features as has my wife who found time and pleasure in the job. Ours fill seven large books and are promised to the University of Kentucky Library at Lexington, the obligation being entered into with Dr. Hambleton Tapp, Kentucky historian and assistant to the University president. Delivery of the scrapbooks to the University of Kentucky will be made, according to Tapp's stipulation, whenever this columnist feels free to part with them. Anyone doing research and who desires to read any of them again will always find the files of the Floyd County Times available, or, if more convenient, the scrapbooks may be consulted at the University of Kentucky library.

Hundreds of letters have been received from other sections, either as inquiries or with contributions of history or genealogy. Bulk of the mail come from the Middle West where so many Floyd countians emigrated in past decades. As to naming an individual state from which the most inquiries came it was, without doubt, Texas. The Lone Star state drew much in the way of sinew and culture from the Big Sandy. Many of the descendants of the Kentucky pioneers there have an inherited nostalgia for the land of their fathers.

Many items of historical and genealogical lore published in the column were taken from rare memorabilia or almost unknown sources. Thus they are a contribution in a small way to the preservation and presentation of our Eastern Kentucky history. Too much of our written records has disappeared since that long ago when our people were warding off the Indians, fighting the implacable wilderness and building cabins in the cane brakes of the Big Sandy bottoms.

We are indebted to these forebears for the settlement and development of the Shawanese Land of Great Mystery. It was a pleasure to write of them but Finis is written with reluctance.

ist may have read a crystal ball every day up in Cleveland and could thus tell exactly when her grandchildren were getting barefooted down on Beaver. The spiritualist said her son-in-law would "have to dig his way through many circles of misery before he reached a circle of peace." Maybe that was what the son-in-law was trying to do while he was digging in the corn around his mountain farm.

So the little lady was happy now. She had found a congenial Ohioan and rode to Ashland with her, chatting along the way, discussing chiefly the future fate of the poor Beaver Creek farmer who had to do so many "circles of misery to find peace."

Miss Skiles, in addition to the suitcase, had a shopping bag crammed with "things" and when she left the bus at Ashland she barged into a red-headed, one-legged man whom she asked to look after it for awhile. She figured he would not run away with it as he was on crutches. Wandering around the railway station she found what she thought she wanted and entered. It turned out to be the men's room and emerging with a red face she fled across the waiting room, retrieved her shopping bag from the red-headed man on crutches, and in her mad desire to get out of sight, burst the bag wide open. A cake of soap fell out and skidded under a bench where she couldn't reach it.

She left Ashland in a dither, because of the soap and the bursting bag. No one would give her a bag. She begged all the way to Ohio for a bag. The mountain folks are anxiously awaiting the lady's return to Kentucky but in the meantime she intends to devote some time writing advice to the Greyhound Bus Lines. She may suggest extra bags for nice old ladies who burst theirs with too much soap and "things."

Miss Skiles — we call her "Miss" because if she had been married her husband surely would have come down to Kentucky with her for protection—admits quite frankly that there was much she didn't learn while here. "I did not see everything nor learn all that I should have learned," she told the readers of the Ohio daily. She is coming back, she says, but not to Caney or Beaver Creek. She is going to visit Menifee county.

Menifee residents should watch over her carefully and be sure she doesn't break her neck at Broke Leg Falls.

Disabled Workers Have Till July, '58 to File For "Disability Freeze"

A long-disabled worker now has until the beginning of July, 1958, to file an application for the "disability freeze" and still have his social security earnings record protected as of the date he actually became disabled, it was said this week by Thomas B. Thompson, manager of the Pikeville Social Security office. He said the law now permits a veteran to receive compensation from the Veterans Administration for service-connected disability without any reduction in the amount of his disability insurance benefits under social security.

The purpose of the "disability freeze" is to prevent those years during which a severe and indefinite disability keeps a person out of work from counting against him on eligibility for benefits or on the amount of his benefits. A person cannot qualify for the "freeze" unless, in addition to meeting disability requirements, he has worked for at least five years under social security and for about 1½ years during the 3-year period just before his disability began.

Until the recent change in the law, a period of disability could not be determined to have begun earlier than 12 months before application for the freeze, unless the application was made before the end of June 1957. For this reason a disabled person who failed to make his claim before the end of June, and who had become disabled before January 1, 1955, would have lost his right to have his social security record frozen because he could not possibly meet the work requirements. Moreover, without the "freeze" he might have lost future rights to any social security benefits for himself or his family, because at the time he dies or becomes 65 he may not have the required work credit. The law, as now amended, gives those who were disabled before January 1, 1955, until June 30, 1958, to file an application for the disability freeze to protect their rights to old-age, survivors, or disability insurance.

The amendment relating to disabled veterans modified the "offset" provision in the law so that a social security disability insurance benefit will not be reduced because of compensation payable to a veteran by the Veterans Administration for his service-connected disability. Thompson pointed out that the offset continues to apply in cases involving veterans' pensions which are paid on account of nonservice-connected disability.

Civil Aeronautics Board Approves Hazard Airport, Dewey Daniel Announces

A $2,000,000 airport to serve counties in the area of Southeastern Kentucky has been approved by the Civil Aeronautics Authority and the State Aeronautics Commission, Dewey Daniel, Hazard banker has announced.

Site of the airport will be at Halls Fall, a plateau in Perry county near Viper. The area was inspected last month by C.A.A. and State officials as a possible location for an airport.

Daniel said the C.A.A. has approved the location and estimated the cost of the field at $2,000,000. Half of this amount, according to Daniel, will be provided by the C. A. A. The remaining $1,000,000 must be raised either through county, state, or Federal sources. Daniel said the estimated cost includes a 5,000-foot runway, a terminal, and hangar facilities.

According to the Hazard banker, the airport will serve more than 500,000 persons in this region including Floyd county, who now travel to Lexington, London, Huntington, W. Va., or Bristol, Tenn., to make plane connections.

Daniel's announcement climaxed more than a year of intensive work by local, state, and Federal officials to win C. A. A. blessings for an airport in this region. Plans, drawings, and a list of prospective sites for an airport were first prepared a little more than a year ago by Henry Spaulding, a Hazard engineer.

It was Spaulding, according to Daniel, who came up with the selected site. Daniel said that so far as he knows, it is the only mountain-top location in Southeastern Kentucky where an airport can be feasibly constructed.

E. KENTUCKY PLAN OKEHED

Water, Fuel, Mineral Study Gains Approval; Prelim Work Is Begun

Commissioner George W. Hubley, State Department of Economic Development, has announced a program to step up the survey of mineral, fuel, and water resources of East Kentucky.

Hubley said the plan, submitted at his request by the U. S. Geological Survey, has been approved and preliminary work is under way.

To finance the project, $25,000 was made available last February by Gov. A. B. Chandler from his emergency fund. State money will be matched by federal funds.

Hubley said the plans call for completion of this phase of the program during the 1958 fiscal year. The work is being carried on with the federal government and coordinated through the Division of Maps and Minerals.

A summary of the plan calls for:

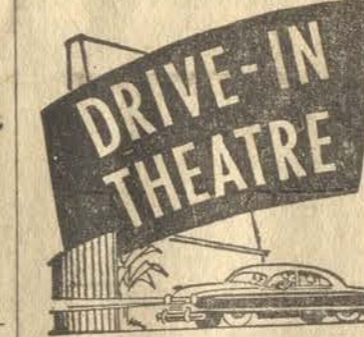

1. Completion of three coal reports.
2. Establishment of a coal resources data file at the Kentucky Geological Survey in Lexington.
3. Augmentation of the existing program of work on refractory clay.
4. Geologic mapping for coal and clay resources and reserve data.
5. A study and report on the quantity, quality and availability of ground and surface waters of the region.

Hubley said the plan "is a sound one offering maximum benefits for the money expended."

John R. Hutchins, acting director of the Maps and Minerals Division, explained that the data compiled in the survey will have a continuing value to any long range programs involving economic and social studies of the region.

The first Indianapolis Motor Speedway race was held in 1909 over a dirt track. Because of numerous accidents, it was paved with brick for the next race.

READ THIS STARTLING FACT

5 out of 10 smaller cars wear a Pontiac price tag — yet none gives you any of Pontiac's advantages

PONTIAC GIVES YOU UP TO 8.9% MORE SOLID CAR PER DOLLAR!

Not one of the smaller cars can give you the heavy-duty construction, the road-hugging lift and solid security that surround you in every Pontiac. Yet Pontiac's the nimblest heavyweight you ever managed—and your Pontiac dealer can show you more than six dozen advanced-engineering reasons why! Pontiac has gone all out to make this genuine big car the best behaved beauty that you ever had the pleasure of bossing. You'll find Pontiac's exclusive Precision-Touch Controls make steering and braking the surest, easiest you've ever experienced! Park it, cruise it, try it in stop-and-go traffic... this is driving the smaller jobs can't duplicate.

PONTIAC GIVES YOU 4 TO 7 INCHES MORE WHEELBASE!

The small cars extend bumpers and fenders to look big—but Pontiac puts the extra length where it counts—between the wheels! Pontiac's longer stride brackets the bumps instead of riding on them. And this extra length shows up inside, too, in stretch-out space for six footers. Add to Pontiac's bonus in length its all-new suspension system and you have an exclusive Level-Line Ride no car at any price can surpass... and a built-in sense of direction and security that will spoil you for the smaller cars forever!

PONTIAC'S PERFORMANCE TOPS THE BEST THE SMALL CARS CAN OFFER—BY A WIDE MARGIN!

Not one of the smaller cars can measure up to Pontiac Performance. Whether you judge a power plant by engineering statistics or on-the-road performance, Pontiac's Strato-Streak V-8 stands head and shoulders above anything in the low-price field. Your Pontiac dealer will be happy to show you a complete facts-and-figures comparison—then an eye-opening test drive in traffic or out on the highway will supply all the heart-lifting proof you need that Pontiac has separated the men from the boys when it comes to performance!

—AND PONTIAC HAS ALWAYS BEEN FAMOUS AS ONE OF AMERICA'S TOP TRADE-INS!

Maybe it comes as a surprise to you that so much more car can be yours at the same price you've seen on the smaller cars. But there's the fact! And Pontiac is a wonderful investment, too! As you know, it has always commanded a top trade-in. So why not step out of the small-car class and into a Pontiac... there's nothing in your way. Your Pontiac dealer has the keys and an eye-opening offer waiting for you right now!

So why not look and feel like a million—instead of a million others?

NOW! If you want the ultimate in both economy and extraordinary performance, new Tri-Power Carburetion is available at extra cost on over the lowest priced Pontiac models! It's America's newest power advance and exclusively Pontiac's at so low a cost!

FARMERS DUE REFUND OF GASOLINE TAX

As a service to the farmers of Kentucky the Louisville Chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants submits the following information relative to the filing of claims for the refund of federal gasoline taxes.

The federal excise tax on gasoline, diesel fuel, and special motor fuel was increased from 2 to 3 cents a gallon, effective July 1, 1956. Provision was made, however, for the Internal Revenue Service to refund this tax in case of motor fuels used for farming purposes. Claims must be filed with the District Director of Internal Revenue, Louisville, Ky., not later than September 30, 1957. Farmers should file claims on Form 2240.

Two cents can be claimed on each gallon of gasoline purchased after 1955, but prior to July 1, 1956 and 3 cents on each gallon purchased on or after July 1, 1956, but prior to July 1, 1957. A claim can be filed by the owner, tenant, or operator who buys gasoline for use on a farm. If the owner of the farm and a tenant thereon share the cost of the gasoline 50-50, they each may claim a refund based on one-half the gasoline. If a farm is operated by a partner, the claim should be made in the name of the partnership and signed by a member. A claim by a farm corporation should be signed by an officer. Refunds are limited to motor fuels and gasoline which were consumed on the farm during the one year period July 1, 1956 through June 30, 1957.

Last year a total of 1,250,000 farmers filed such claims, and refunds averaged $20.00. The Internal Revenue Service estimates that almost 2,500,000 claims will be filed this year. A guide book entitled "Farmers' Gas Tax Refund" is available at the office of the District Director of Internal Revenue, Louisville, or at one of the many field offices of the Internal Revenue Service throughout Kentucky. This booklet will assist farmers in the preparation of refund claims for excise tax on gasoline bought after 1955 and used for farming during the period of July 1, 1956 to June 30, 1957.

Although the federal excise tax on gasoline, diesel fuel, and special motor oil was increased from 2 to 3 cents a gallon, effective July 1, 1956, provision was made for the Internal Revenue Service to refund this one-cent increase in the case of motor fuels used otherwise than in a registered highway vehicle.

In general, those who qualify (other than farmers) must file a claim on Form 843 during the three-month period from July 1, to September 30, 1957, in order to obtain a refund. Farmers should file a claim on Form 2240. All claims originating in Kentucky must be filed with the District Director of Internal Revenue, Louisville, Kentucky. Refunds are limited to motor fuels on which the increase in tax has been paid and which were consumed in non-highway use during the period from July 1, 1956, to June 30, 1957. Any claimants having questions regarding this refund procedure should contact the office of the District Director of Internal Revenue, Louisville, or one of the many field offices of the Internal Revenue Service in Kentucky.

Army Recruiter Here Follows His Own Advice To Others—He Reenlists!

An old adage that a salesman must sell himself before he can sell a prospect was clearly illustrated this week when Master Sergeant Glenn Walke, an Army recruiter assigned to the Army recruiting Main station in Ashland, reenlisted for three years.

A veteran of over 17 years of Army service, Sergeant Walke has recruited in the Prestonsburg-Pointsville area since his assignment to the Ashland station in 1951. He was Ashland's leading recruiter last year when he tallied 124 enlistments.

Sergeant Walke is a combat veteran of World War II, and served with the 34th Infantry Division in Africa, Sicily and Italy.

The sergeant's decorations and awards include the Combat Infantryman's Badge, Bronze Star, Purple Heart, Distinguished Unit Citation, European Theater, Good Conduct and Victory Medal.

The sergeant is a graduate of Oak Hill (Ohio) high school and is married to the former Betty Rice, of Jackson, Ohio. Sergeant and Mrs. Walke are the parents of a 13-year-old son, Ronnie, and make their home in Paintsville.

Draft Quota Cut To 8,000

Washington—The Army, today cut its draft calls to the lowest level in more than a year, but hastened to say this did not mean the draft would be ended in the near future.

The call for next September—8,000 men, compared with 11,000 in the August call—is in line with the 100,000 man reduction of the armed forces announced by the Pentagon a week ago. The Army's portion of the cut is 50,000.

Not since April, 1956, has a quota been so low. From January through April of that year the monthly quotas were 6,000.

Food Service Fifth Largest in Nation, Said; Publication Is Offered

When measured in terms of retail sales, the food service business is the fifth largest business in the nation. It is estimated that all sources of prepared meals serve on an average 78,000,000 meals per day. The health and well being of millions of people who eat in restaurants every day is affected by the food served. The industry is, therefore, in a sense a great public enterprise with serious obligations to the customers and communities it serves.

According to Robert M. Luckey, manager of the Field Office of the Department of Commerce, a revised 255-page edition of the publication titled "Establishing and Operating a Restaurant" has just been released as an aid to this growing industry.

Compiled with the assistance of some of the most successful restaurant operators in the business, the publication covers such important subjects as menu planning, food purchasing, record keeping, food cost records, time tables for cooking, and purchasing guides, to mention just a few.

The publication is designed to assist the beginner as well as the large and small restaurant operator.

A traveling salesman was Harry G. Blowe,
Who could sell ice cubes to an eskimo,
But he fell for a fine slicker than his,
From a new car salesman—wow! what a whiz!
The car had style—years out of date,
The features were new—back in '48!
Harry's still smiling, the tears hardly show,
But how he wishes he could get back his dough!

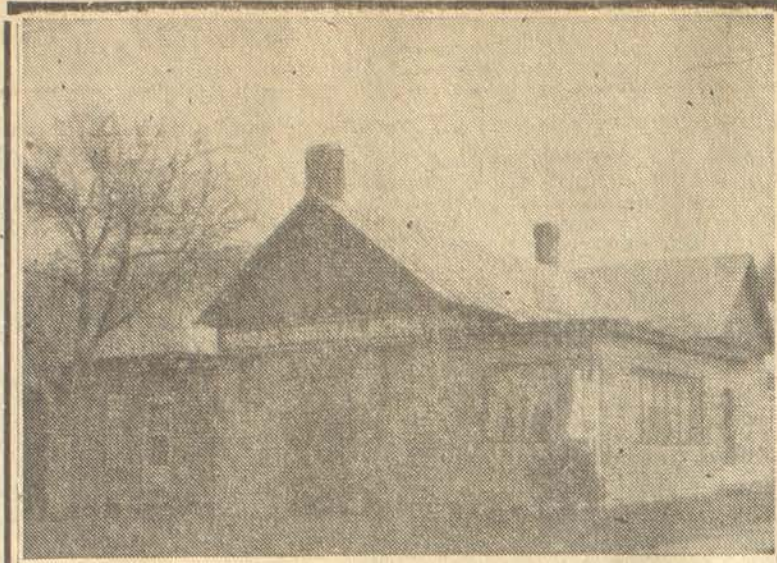

Moral: Don't get "bargain-talked" into yesterday's styling and features!

Like a lot of people, Harry was looking for a "good buy" in a new car. But no car is a bargain if it's outmoded before you drive it a mile. For the same money, Harry could have stepped up to a dashing Swept-Wing Dodge—so new it actually obsoletes other cars in its field. Obsoletes their high, boxy design with the low, low look of tomorrow. Obsoletes their old-fashioned features with such advances as Torsion-Aire Ride, Push-Button TorqueFlite and Total-Contact Brakes. So don't do what Harry did—please. See your Dodge dealer today.

Join the swing to the Swept-Wing Dodge!

On and after this date I will not be responsible for any debts incurred by anyone other than myself.

Licenses Required Of Pest Controllers

Frankfort, July 22 (Spl.) — Field agents of the State Agriculture Department are arresting termite exterminators who violate the Kentucky termite and pest control law by operating without licenses.

Agriculture Commissioner Ben Butler said the law requires that each firm engaged in pest control work must:

- Be licensed with the state.
- Furnish evidence of financial responsibility.
- Either pass an operator's examination or have at least a year of experience in the business.

Thomas Willett was the first English speaking mayor of New York, 1865-67.

Veterans Advised On G. I. Home Loans

Frankfort, July 22 (Spl.) — A veteran who sells his home purchased by "G. I. Loan" to take a better job in another city may be entitled to new loan eligibility, Director R. R. Thomas of the Kentucky Disabled Ex-Service Men's Board advised.

Thomas said a "better job," according to the Veterans Administration, usually means one that will increase the veteran's income or give him greater opportunity for advancement. The director added:

Restoration of eligibility formerly was made only if the job change was involuntary or beyond the veteran's control.

The new ruling also applies to veterans moving to a different city following retirement.

No loan entitlement can be restored unless the V. A. is relieved of liability on the old loan. This generally is accomplished by payment of the loan in full either by the veteran or the new purchaser.

Other circumstances under which a veteran may be entitled to new loan entitlement occur when the property was taken by a governmental agency for public use, destroyed by natural hazard, or disposed of for reasons of health or reasons beyond control of the veteran.

Representatives of the board will assist in applying for restoration of GI loan eligibility.

General Hume's Collection Now On Exhibition

By Charles F. Hinds
Secretary-Treasurer, Kentucky Historical Society

Frankfort, July 22 — Turn to the right as you enter the senate room of the old State House and you will see a bronze bust of Gen. Edgar Erskine Hume and an aluminum wall case of historical items associated with his illustrious military career.

General Hume was born in Frankfort in 1889. When he died in 1952, the General Assembly adjourned in his memory. He was equally honored as a scholar, author, surgeon, diplomat, administrator, and army officer.

He studied to be a surgeon, graduating with brilliant records from Centre College, John Hopkins, the University of Munich and the University of Rome.

In World War II Hume served on Eisenhower's staff in North Africa and on Clark's and Truscott's staffs in Italy as chief of military government and assistant chief of the Fifth Army.

After the war, he was chief of military government in Austria, chief of the reorientation branch of civil affairs, and chief surgeon of the Far East Command.

In the Korean War, Hume was director-general of medical services of the U. N. Command on Gen. Douglas MacArthur's staff. He was one of the most decorated American soldiers of all wars.

Hume's writings in history, biography, sociology, and medicine, were published under some 400 titles.

Among items displayed in the Hume wall case are: A Persian riding crop with concealed sword given to him by President Franklin Roosevelt, a whip with 24 tails found at the German concentration camp at Ebensee, Mussolini's personal flag, a Gurka knife made famous by Indian troops in North Africa, a pennant from the King of Italy's car (WWII), a lacquered Korean box given by the president of Korea, and a spun glass boat given by Prime Minister S. Yoshida of Japan.

Frankfort, July 22 — The dedication recently of 25 new tree farms in Carter county brought this editorial comment from The Lexington Leader:

"Kentucky has many acres of land that are not suitable for regular crop farming and for livestock, but could be used profitably for timber. Some counties have very large acreage of this kind of land, and nearly all the counties have at least some sections of poor soil."

"The increasing demand for construction lumber and the spreading use of such products as plywood and charcoal are quite likely to boost Kentucky's new tree-farm program into an important source of income for the people of areas which for many years have been depressed."

The tree farm program in Kentucky is sponsored by the Kentucky Forest Industries Committee in cooperation with the State Division of Forestry.

THE NEWCOMER

One individual close to state officials circles doesn't give a fig about the welfare of the Commonwealth.

This fellow, indifferent to affairs of state, spends most of his time drinking or sleeping. Sometimes he kicks up his heels and makes a great outcry.

Ask him of some matter of great import to the Commonwealth and he'll laugh in your face, yawn, double up his fists, or turn red in the countenance and storm. His ideas on state government aren't very profound.

Persons close to the acting chief executive minister to this fellow's every want as if he were a little dictator, even if a bottle and entertainment are demanded at 2 a.m. In fact, to persons of his ilk, a midnight revel is not distasteful.

To this fellow, political ethics are unheard of. He pays no taxes, performs no useful service for the Commonwealth, yet his voice is likely to be heard at any time and he's welcome in the lieutenant governor's presence at all hours, sans appointment.

He's sentimental about women and likely to protest if one is long out of his sight. He basks in the ladies' admiration and prizes their affection above the state's progress. He dispenses favors widely without regard to votes and refuses to say whether he's Democrat or Republican.

He's rather an upstart in state circles as he hasn't been around long.

In fact, he was born July 15, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hardy. Mrs. Hardy is Rose Gayle, eldest daughter of Acting Gov. and Mrs. Harry Lee Waterfield and Mr. Hardy is the former University of Kentucky football star.

HERE'S A THOUGHT

A magazine called "Vital Speeches of the Day," which announces that it publishes "the important addresses of the recognized leaders of public opinion," carries in a recent issue the text of a talk by Gov. A. B. Chandler.

The national magazine chose for publication an address on economic development delivered by Chandler recently at the annual banquet of the Association of State Planning and Development Agencies at Louisville.

Here's a thought from the address:

"Let us (the states) not fall into deadly rivalry over the estimated $33 billion American industry will spend for new plants and equipment. Rather, let us provide a structure of necessary services which will enable businesses and areas to help themselves grow."

MENTAL BREAKDOWN LINKED TO TALLNESS

London, — A doctor who investigated relationships between physique and mental breakdown in young adults reports in the British Medical Journal:

"The tall men, especially those with a higher score for fat than for muscle, are more likely than other men to be advised by their doctors to see a psychiatrist, while the muscular builds are at least likely to do so."

PFC. HOWARD ON OKINAWA

Fort Buckner, Okinawa — Pfc. Willis Howard, whose mother, Mrs. Zella Prater, lives in Hueysville, Ky., recently arrived on Okinawa and is now a member of the 22d Antiaircraft Artillery Battalion.

Howard, assigned to the battalion's Battery C, entered the Army in January, 1956, and completed basic training at Fort Bliss, Tex.

Trappers Capture More Furs in '57

Frankfort, July 22 (Spl.) — Kentucky trappers caught more fur animals but received less money for them during the 1956-57 season than in the preceding season, a game official said.

Arnold L. Mitchell, game division director of the State Fish & Wildlife Resources Department, said the fur harvest increased nine percent in number of furs but decreased 15 per cent in total value.

He said the information was obtained from reports of 155 licensed dealers. The number of fur buyers has been practically the same for the past several years with a slight drop last year, Mitchell added.

Muskkrat furs, he said, topped the list in total numbers this year, followed by raccoon, mink and opossum.

PAINTSVILLE OPEN THIS WEEK-END

The 15th annual Paintsville open invitational golf tournament will be staged this week-end, with some 200 golfers from three states expected to compete.

In size, the Paintsville affair is the biggest golfing event in Eastern Kentucky, and the field is expected to outnumber the Kentucky state open tournament, which it has done for a number of years.

Several of the past year's winners will be on hand for this year's event: they include Joe Turner, 1955 state amateur winner; Jack Peck, of Logan, W. Va.; Authia Meeks, who grew up on the Paintsville course; and among the pros will be Al "Joker" White and George Hoffer, Huntington, W. Va., and Dan Atcher, Lafollette, Tennessee.

SNYDER LEAVES IMPRESSIVE RECORD

Charlie Snyder, who resigned at Catlettsburg high this week to replace ex-Prestonsburg coach "Doc" Ferrell as head football coach at Lexington Lafayette high, leaves one of the best won-lost football records in the state. Snyder, a native of Catlettsburg and a former football star there and later at Marshall College, tutored football teams for nine years in the Gate City schools, and they won 70 while losing only 12 games. Five times they won the Northeastern Kentucky Football Conference title and in 1953 won the Big Sandy Bowl after an undefeated season.

WHEELWRIGHT SEEKS GRID TEACHER

Wheelwright high school is still seeking a football coach for the coming season. One applicant was to be interviewed this week for the vacancy created by the resignation of "Shorty" Jamerson.

LITTLE LEAGUE TOURNAMENT

A good crowd was on hand for the opening session of the Little League play-offs in Prestonsburg Monday. They saw plenty of hitting by the Martin all-stars as they blasted five home runs in eliminating Pikeville, 8-2. Prestonsburg fell before Paintsville, 9-8, in eight innings.

NEW FLOOR

Martin's gymnasium will have a new look next cage season with a re-painting job inside and out and a reconditioned floor. Betsy Layne's flood-riddled gym is also to be renovated this week.

PRESTONSBURG MERCHANTS DIVIDE DOUBLEHEADER HERE

The Prestonsburg Merchants amassed 23 runs while winning the first game of a double header with Blaine, Sunday, at the Prestonsburg baseball field beside the Floyd county high school.

The visitors struck back in the nightcap to win 3 to 1 while Frasure, a righthander, held the first-game sluggers to seven hits while striking out 11.

Paul Hughes, Merchants shortstop, scored six times in the opener, and centerfielder Ray Wilcox counted for five runs. Junior May homered to deep centerfield to strike the longest blow of the game.

Righthanders Bill Goebel and Julian Campbell virtually snuffed out any attempts for basehits by Blaine in allowing only four hits and six runs. Blaine shortstop Sturgill led his club with two hits. Patrick was the loser while Goebel collected the win.

In the second game Prestonsburg hitters gave a weak exhibition of curve ball hitting as the pitch-bending Frasure wound the Prestonsburg batters around his fingers. Johnny Ellis, Merchant catcher, and third-baseman Wendell Childers were the only Prestonsburg batsmen to solve Frasure's slants. Together they collected five of the team's seven hits. Childers also drove in the lone Prestonsburg run.

Roadblocks Cut Highway Deaths

Frankfort, July 22 (Spl.) — Kentucky's Department of Public Safety is striving to block the highway death toll with mobile roadblocks.

"The roadblocks," says State Safety Commissioner Don S. Sturgill, "are set up at strategic traffic locations at varying times and places."

Manned by Kentucky state troopers, the new mobile roadblocks occur at unannounced times and places.

"Purpose of the system is to make spot checks on persons who may be driving without a driver's license, driving on revoked license and, of course, driving under the influence of alcohol," Sturgill emphasized.

Pro Football Player Shot To Death, Sunday

Pro football player Roy Barni had signed and mailed his contract for another season with the Washington Redskins only a few hours before he was shot to death in San Francisco last Sunday night. His contract arrived in Washington yesterday. Meanwhile police have charged Barni's slayer, James D. VA-DEVELOPED TREATMENT REHABILITATES VETERANS

A new dynamic treatment developed by Veterans Administration for aged veteran-patients is rehabilitating many severely disabled oldsters who had seemed destined to spend the remainder of their lives in hospitals, VA said today.

At the VA hospital in Fort Howard, Md., for example, 50 of a group of 60 aged patients receiving rehabilitation treatment overcame their disabilities sufficiently so that they were discharged from the hospital.

At the VA hospital in Minneapolis, Minn., 25 of a group of 130 left the hospital and took jobs, 40 others were discharged to their homes, and all except 10 of the remaining 65 showed worthwhile permanent improvement.

At the VA center in Bay Pines, 114 of a group of 385 returned to their homes, 80 went into the VA domiciliary home at Bay Pines to live, eight went to nursing homes, and many others received enough benefit so they can live happier, more active lives within the hospital.

Dr. A. B. C. Knudson, director of the physical medicine and rehabilitation service at VA central office in Washington, D. C., said the oldsters in these and other VA hospitals were victims of strokes, hardening of the arteries, arthritis, multiple sclerosis, and other conditions.

They were placed in special rehabilitation wards for the aged at the hospitals after they had received maximum benefits from specific medical and surgical treatment, Dr. Knudson said.

Some at first could not get out of bed without help, he said, others could not propel themselves in wheelchairs, and a number were too confused to be able to get about the hospital alone.

Dr. Knudson said an individual program of rehabilitation was planned for each, under guidance of a psychiatrist who is a specialist in physical medicine and rehabilitation.

Physical and corrective therapists used exercises to build the aged patients' strength and coordination, and taught them to walk and get about and perform activities of daily living on their own, he said.

Braces were fitted for patients who had lost use of limbs, Dr. Knudson said.

Participation in arts and crafts, under guidance of an occupational therapist, improved the elderly veterans' performance and ability to adjust emotionally, he said. Visits of volunteers from the community helped the oldsters gain interest in living and in making friends.

"Nurses, social workers, and others members of the hospital staff team also played an important part in the rehabilitation process," Dr. Knudson said.

HOW TO START A FLOOD

It may seem hard to believe, but a burning cigarette tossed carelessly from your car can start a tragic flood, destroying millions of dollars worth of property—even costing lives! By setting brush or timberlands afire, this cigarette can destroy valuable watersheds. Rain and snow waters run off burned-over areas 100 times faster than they flow from forest floors. In addition to causing floods, this water is not stored in the ground naturally for future use.

So use the ash tray in your car. Help prevent forest fires which annually destroy nearly 10,000,000 acres of valuable timberlands. Nine out of 10 of these fires are caused by someone's carelessness.

Remember - only you can PREVENT FOREST FIRES!

Dog's Day in Court Clears His Owner

Williamsport, Pa. — A dog named Blackie appeared as a witness in Criminal Court here. His silence helped get his owner acquitted on charges of keeping a vicious dog.

Blackie was led into the courtroom on a leash and let go. He scampered over to his mistress, wagging his tail. There were no barks. Acquittal came less than an hour later.

Defense witnesses said other dogs attracted to Blackie's home had been responsible for most of the barking neighbors complained about.

Telephone Talk

by
H. D. HAYES
Your Telephone Manager

NEWEST DRIVE-IN CREATION—It's really something, this growing trend toward drive-in service. You can shop, you can bank, go to the movies, even have your car washed while sitting comfortably behind the wheel. Our telephone engineers are making field tests to add still another convenience to this motorized age—the drive-in telephone, that will let you make calls without leaving your car. We've selected two cities as test sites. If folks like drive-in phones, you'll probably see 'em one day wherever you go on streets and highways. It's still another way we're working to put telephone service in arm's reach of everybody, everywhere.

MISS SOMEONE OUT-OF-TOWN? Why not enjoy the warm satisfaction of a "voice visit" by Long Distance? It's fun, it's easy, and it costs so little especially when you call station-to-station. Just give the operator the name of the city and the number you want.

If you don't know the number, give her the name the phone is listed under and tell her you'll talk with anyone who answers. You save up to 1/2, you know, on station-to-station calls. And you get extra values nights after 6 and all day Sundays. Then you can talk station-to-station between Kentucky cities for four minutes at the same daytime rate. For instance, you can call Henderson for just 80c, Frankfort for 65c. Isn't there someone you'd like to call tonight?

MORE THAN YOU SEE—The telephone in your home is just one small part of the equipment that makes it possible for you to call anywhere, any time. Behind it are miles of wire and cables, complicated switchboards and electronic gadgets—and 69,000 Southern Bell folks, all working together to bring people closer together.

Cages for Ostriches? No Parking Garage

New York — A million-dollar garage that will look more like a bird cage than a place to put automobiles is going up at Eighth Avenue and 45th street. Instead of walls, the reinforced-concrete building will have open sides, with steel cables stretched horizontally and vertically as safety barriers.

The garage to be opened in September, will have a capacity of 255 cars and a system of automatic cranes and elevators to move cars up, down and sideways.

ASC Plans Payments To State Corn Growers; Farms To Be Checked

Roy C. Gray, chairman of the Kentucky ASC Committee announced recently that on August 15 commercial corn counties will start making payments to producers under the 1957 Acreage Reserve program. He further stated that payments in the non-commercial corn counties started at an earlier date.

Gray reminds farmers that, even though they receive payment prior to the end of the year 1957, they must carry out all the provisions of the 1957 Acreage Reserve Program.

State and county ASC personnel will continue to perform their usual spot-check on these farms to see that the producer is carrying out all requirements of the program. When a producer violates his 1957 Acreage Reserve agreement by willfully and knowingly grazing or harvesting a crop from the designated acreage or harvesting a crop in excess of his permitted acreage, he will be liable for a civil penalty.

REPORT TO THE PEOPLE

The public is entitled to a statement of the platform upon which every candidate for office stands before the people. More than that, though, if a candidate has held public office and seeks another office, or reelection to the same one, the public is entitled to a report of his stewardship.

I am a candidate for County Judge and, since it is one of the most important offices in the county, I solicit your support upon my record as your sheriff.

The office of Sheriff is never a popular one. You must make arrests, serve search warrants, round up the drunks, confiscate whiskey and apprehend the drunken drivers. This, of course, receives the applause of all good citizens but many, some with personal animosity and others with political intentions, fall upon these things to discredit a man sworn to uphold the law and do his duty.

The record of my stewardship in the Sheriff's office has been written by an administration devoted to carrying out all the duties of the office. I have tried to serve you well. To enforce the law and to take the drunks off our highways is almost impossible unless the County Judge cooperates with the Sheriff. It is wasted time to arrest a drunken driver if the County Judge is going to turn him loose.

I am running upon my record and I want my opponent to do the same. The Floyd County Times has been full of the stories of arrests, whiskey seizures and confiscations made by my office, but only the docket book of my opponent reveals how he has turned more than three-fourths of the whiskey sellers and drunken drivers loose. Your County Judge has an obligation to the public to run upon his record. I am running upon mine.

In the future I will have articles that will show how my office has been run in the interest of law and order. Also I will have articles showing how my opponent has sought to undermine and discredit the law enforcement machinery of my office at every turn of the way.

I ask you now to keep an open mind and in the meantime inquire about whom the bootleggers are supporting. And in future articles I'll tell you why.

Despite Protests Hanging Is Done on Schedule

A 22-year-old laborer was hanged for murder today despite efforts by parliamentary and religious groups to prevent Britain's first execution since August, 1955.

John Wilson Vickers, Carlisle, went to the gallows in Durham jail for killing 72-year-old Miss Jane Duckett, a grocery-store proprietor, during a robbery.

Vickers was the first person executed under the new British homicide law, which provides capital punishment of murder, in a manner similar to the American code.

In 1922 the U.S. Hospital for service men at Outwood, near Dawson Springs, was completed.

Cow Creek Resident Dies At Prestonsburg General; Last Rites Held Sunday

Miss Mabel Woods, 42 years old, of Cow Creek, died at the Prestonsburg General hospital last Thursday afternoon, victim of complications caused by a ruptured appendix.

Miss Woods, who had been in ill health for years, became acutely ill about two weeks before her death. It was said her appendix had ruptured three or four days before she was taken to the hospital.

She was a daughter of Mrs. Mary Lowe Woods, of Cow Creek, and the late Henry Woods, surviving are her mother, four brothers and one sister, Bob, Willard, Jesse and Earl Woods, Jr., all of Emma, and Mrs. Myrtle Edna Garrett, of Michigan.

Funeral rites were conducted Sunday afternoon from Benedict Chapel on Slick Rock by the Rev. Ira McMillen, and burial in the family cemetery was directed by the Carter & Callihan Funeral Home.

Many Americans Lost

In World War II there were 360,810 American servicemen who died from battle wounds or illness.

The commission, with a fulltime professional staff, would recommend procedures to be acted on by local and state governments as well as citizens of the area.

Waterfield said three public hearings would be held next week on the question of whether the commission should be appointed. If there is no objection, Waterfield said, the members will be appointed soon, with emphasis on getting the strongest possible commission.

The hearings will be conducted by Former Governor Simeon S. Willis at Catlettsburg, Wednesday, by former Governor Flem D. Sampson at Hazard, Thursday, and by the Rev. William Hule at Corbin, Friday.

Along with the credit corporation the report recommended that the Economic Development carry out these proposals for industrial development in Eastern Kentucky.

1. Co-operate with communities in conducting an intensive survey to identify promising growth firms.

2. Work with regional and local groups in getting adequate highways and access roads.

3. Assist the planning commission and communities in expanding or locating new industries, including information, procuring financing, and developing new markets, products, and sources of raw materials.

4. Bring up to date the 1953 state-wide facilities guide to help identify the types of equipment and products that can be manufactured by each plant in the state.

Manufacturers and local and state governments were advised to work out a co-operative arrangement to train potential workers in industry.

The report said manufacturing expansion appeared brightest in the fields of small market-slanted plants (bottling works, bakeries, and concrete-block making) and resources-slanted plants (clay refractories and sawmills).

Noting that the coal industry now operates at 60 per cent of capacity, the report foresaw a further decline in coal mining in the face of stiff competition from other types of fuels and low-cost strip-coal mining.

"Although continuing efforts to expand Eastern Kentucky's coal market are necessary, it is of serious concern that relatively little attention has been given to trends in coal employment. It is the number of jobs, this year and next, in the coal industry which vitally concerns the region."

A minerals-research laboratory at the University of Kentucky was recommended, to conduct a concentrated, scientific investigation of the present potential uses of Kentucky minerals.

Discussing agriculture, a marginal operation in Eastern Kentucky, the report said the conversion of small farms into competitive units producing poultry, truck-garden vegetables, or other specialties "may be feasible in some instances."

For improving forestry, the report suggested State action to spur federal acquisition of certain potential forest lands to protect river watersheds and lure wood-using industries; expanded reforestation, and possible revision of tax laws.

The report reiterated its recommendation for a division of tourism as a governmental agency to conduct research and promote the growth of tourism.

The division could help develop plans for tourist attractions through expanded State parks, including the restocking of Dewey Lake, the report said, adding.

"The site of the first settlement in Eastern Kentucky at Harmon Station in Johnson county near Dewey Dam offers possibilities for erection of a shrine or restoration of the original blockhouse as a tourist attraction."

The report also repeated the most important aspects of a flood-damage-prevention plan, listing them as protective structures, insurance programs, guides for land and water use, and emergency warning and relief measures.

As prerequisites to economic development, the report said improvements must be made in human relations, communities, and the region as a whole, including communication and transportation.

Unless Eastern Kentucky can achieve better health, housing, nutrition and education for its residents, it cannot provide the desirable labor forces to attract new industry and commerce, the report added.

It said Kentucky should press for federal aid to education and consider submitting to voters a revenue-bond issue for necessary school construction that will require $350,000,000.

"If the recommendations in this report are carried out, many concrete results can be achieved in a relatively short time. Other results will take longer to achieve.

Short range results that can be achieved were listed as these:

1. Lessening of the flood peril by the adoption of flood-plan zoning and improved flash-flood predictions and warning by the use of radar and other techniques.

2. Community improvements by use of planning and zoning, slum clearance and housing rehabilitation and construction of modern low-rent housing.

3. Improvement of public services, such as education, health, and vocational training by means of the foundation programs; introduction of new health facilities, and extension and improvement of public-assistance programs and employment services.

4. Improvement of the economic base of the region by developing new industrial sites with urban-renewal funds, expansion of many existing types of manufacturing, extension of needed business credit by a state-financed credit corporation, wider application of scientific techniques in forestry and agriculture, and the opening up of new areas for a profitable tourist industry.

Tracing population trends in relation to the declining employment in Eastern Kentucky, the report said the area lost 91,900 of its 703,100 total population during 1950-56. The report added:

"The cause of the region's economic distress can be found in a comparison of man-power and employment trends. Between 1950 and 1957 the region lost 30,000 mine and farm jobs and gained back only 7,000 manufacturing and service jobs.

"Nineteen thousand Eastern Kentuckians were listed as unemployed in April, 1957. At the same time, an increasing number of young people, products of higher birth rates, are reaching working age.

"There is an identifiable gap of 65,000 between available jobs and persons available for work."
