

THURSDAY

PRESTONSBURG, KENTUCKY

SEPTEMBER 5, 1957

This Town— That World

I have sat here for at least ten minutes staring out the window in search of an idea for this column. And the only thing that has occurred to me is that the window needs washing.

THEY HAVE OUR SYMPATHY

The squirrel-hunters began stragging in this week, and they made about as sorry a picture as yours truly or any of his ilk ever presented on their return from an unsuccessful fishing trip. One threw up his hands, shouted, "I'll confess!" and admitted to killing three. Another stood up under stiff grilling, including arm-twisting, before finally breaking down and squeaking something about killing two.

The dry weather. Of course, fellows—I know. Just like the moon and the wind and the signs and the dratted fish.

Well, what do we expect the poor things to do—come looking for us?

BEAR TALE

Speaking of hunters and fishermen and their trials and tribulations, we note that three youngsters from Prestonsburg recently were hunted while doing some fishing on Fontana Lake. They made the mistake of catching a few fish, and the bears moved in to their camp that night.

The boys—Ronnie Goebel, Cloyd Johnson and David Allen—returned to Kentucky a day ahead of schedule and well ahead of the last bear they saw.

When they arrived they told of their experiences in a breathless sort of way. It made you wonder if maybe they were still trying to hold their breath as they did in their tent one night while Br'er Bear went through their ice box and other belongings.

PUPIL TOTAL AT NEW HIGH

1,500 Registered Here In High, Grade Schools; Both Show Heavy Gains

Fifteen hundred youngsters returned to school here this week. Enrollment at Prestonsburg high school hit a new high Wednesday with the registration of sophomores, and the increase over the 1956 registration may exceed 50, James V. Bolen, new principal at the school, said.

The enrollment by classes: Freshmen, 214; juniors, 150; seniors, 131; sophomores (last to register), an estimated 200.

The grade school enrollment was 804, Woodrow Allen, principal, said. This was an increase of 104 over last year's registration.

Approximately 645 were registered at the high school last year. With about 695 already enrolled this year, the number may within the next few days pass the 700 mark, it is believed.

Mr. Bolen said the school has a full complement of teachers, although the Commerce department does not have an instructor who has majored in that field.

He indicated that registration and preparation for regular classroom work have moved along smoothly. "With the cooperation of the parents of our pupils, our teachers and I as principal will strive to give the people a good, fruitful school year," the principal said.

FLOYD, FIVE OTHERS TO GET OVER MILLION

STATE FUNDS FOR SCHOOLS $1,434,622,000

Tentative Aid Figures Show County To Get $62,320 over '56 Fund

Floyd county is one of six school districts in Kentucky to receive more than $1,000,000 this year from the state under the Minimum Foundation Program, it was announced in Frankfort last week.

This county's allotment for this school term is $1,434,622—$63,320 more than was allotted last year, the first year of the foundation program in the state.

The total outlay of the state for the year in carrying out the program will be $57,102,233—an increase of $3,000,000 from last year, Dr. Robert R. Martin, state superintendent of public instruction, said.

These allotments, however, are tentative, and the final allotments will be made by next March 1.

The other districts slated to receive more than $1,000,000 from the state are:

Louisville, $3,315,712, an increase of $68,576.

Jefferson county, $2,730,952, an increase of $393,648.

Pike county, $1,809,833, an increase of $82,514.

Harlan county, $1,650,473, an increase of $54,437.

Floyd county, $1,434,622, an increase of $62,320.

Perry county, $1,022,792, an increase of $47,606.

Here is how some neighboring counties and independent districts fare under the 1957-58 finance plan:

Johnson county, $433,394, increase of $27,395 from last year; Paintsville independent district, $117,549, increase of $13,510; Van Lear, $39,071, up $641; Knott county, $570,176, loss of $6,674; Magoffin county, $305,139, gain of $3,022; Martin county, $355,245, increase of $30,490.

The school districts will be required to raise at least $41,915,271 in local tax revenues as their share of support, an increase of $1,924,107 over last year.

The foundation law was enacted in 1954 and fully financed by a $20,000,000 increase during the 1956-57 school term. It guarantees to each school district at least $80 per pupil in average daily attendance of the district's per capita

VETERAN KY. SENATOR HEART VICTIM AT 80

Doug Hays, veteran State Senator from this district and Democratic stalwart in Eastern Kentucky politics, died at the age of 80 of a heart attack Saturday night at his home at McDowell.

Senator Hays was stricken while alone at his home. A stepdaughter, Mrs. Esther Sammons, attracted by a light in the home, found him pacing the floor of his room, in intense pain, when she arrived from her nearby residence. A son, Wickliffe, of Mare Creek, was called and the stricken man's removal to a hospital was delayed at his request, while the son's arrival was awaited. He died at 11:15.

Senator Hays had been in his usual state of health, and his passing came as a shock to hundreds of relatives and friends over a wide section of Kentucky.

Born April 23, 1877 in Letcher county, he was a son of Lewis and Margaret Everidge Hays and was a member of a family that was for many years prominent in Knott county politics. He was first married to Lula Martin, and after her death to Lizzie Tackett Hamilton, who survives. He was a descendant of the quarter-stock Cherokee Indian, Golden Hawk, and was wont to remind relatives that they and he were members of the "Golden" set.

Mr. Hays was in his fourth term as State Senator. He was first elected in 1943. Known as "Saw-Loggin' Doug Hays," he wore even more proudly the sobriquet of "Mr. Floyd County Democrat." Although he was

3,066 Floyd Residents Receive Chest Exams At Free X-Ray Clinics

A total of 3,066 Floyd countians took advantage of the free services offered recently by the mobile X-ray unit which came here under the auspices of the State Board of Health and the Floyd County Health Department.

Of this number at least 90% were adults, M. V. Clark, health department administrator, said. Heretofore the proportion of youths and adults has been about 50-50, he said. The number receiving chest examinations this year topped the total in 1956 by 277.

Clinicians said that, even though this year's new location at McDowell fell a little short of the 300 goal set for it, they will recommend McDowell for a re-

ALMOST SEATED ON GRAND JURY, IVEL MAN LOSES PLACE AS RAIDS ON HIS HOME TOLD BY OFFICER

An unusual situation arose in circuit court here Tuesday morning as the grand jury was being empaneled.

The name of Mack Hunt, of Ivel, was called as one of those whose names had been drawn from the jury drum. He was seated with the other jurors.

But, once the panel was completed, Judge Edward P. Hill paused before delivering his instructions. Then he remarked that a member of the jury had had a bootlegging case dismissed against him at a previous court term and had been the object of Sheriff's raids.

As he questioned the juror's right to serve and at the same time recalled the law which provides that a citizen to be eligible for jury service must be sober, honest and discreet and not convicted of a felony, Hunt started to leave the jury box.

But Hill told him to resume his place until a decision was reached. Sober? "Do you drink much?" he asked Hunt. The juror told him, "I don't drink any at all."

Honest? The juror's honesty hadn't been questioned. Discreet? Hm-m.

Finally Judge Hill called Deputy Sheriff Frank Blackburn and asked the officer under oath if he had raided Hunt's premises. He had. And he had found liquor.

So the man who might have sat in on deliberations relating to bootlegging was "excused" from jury service.

Assistant County Agent Begins Work Here

Taking the place of Don Claypool as assistant agent on the staff of County Agent Robert Jones is David Gillespie, of Burnsville, North Carolina. Mr. Claypool resigned recently to do post-graduate work at the University of Kentucky this year.

Mr. Gillespie was graduated from Berea College last May and for the last two months has been working with the extension service in Breathitt county. He is unmarried.

MARTIN MAN HANGS SELF

Coroner Holds Death Of Mayo In Pike Jail Monday Was Suicide

Three hours after he was lodged in the Pike county jail Tuesday by Kentucky state police, 42-year-old Jacob Mayo, Martin war veteran, was dead—hanged by his own belt from a bar in the jail, Pike Coroner John G. Call said.

Mayo was arrested Monday morning by state police on charges of drunken driving and hit-run driving which involved damage to a police cruiser. At 12:30 p.m., he was found hanging by his belt from an upper bar in the window of his second-floor cell where he had been confined alone. He apparently had been dead 15 to 20 minutes.

The victim, a veteran of World War II, was a son of Miles and Ann Branham Mayo, of Arkansas Creek, near Martin. Surviving, besides his parents, are one brother, Charlie Mayo, of Martin, and a sister, Mrs. Minerva Davis, of Russell.

Funeral rites were conducted Wednesday afternoon from the First Baptist Church, Martin, the Rev. Guy Dean officiating. Burial in the family cemetery on Arkansas Creek was directed by the Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

HEART CLINIC FOR INDIGENTS

September 13 Is Date For Area Clinic Here; To Be First in Section

Invitations to participate in a one-day consultative heart clinic for medically indigent children and adults at the new Health Center here, September 13, have gone to all physicians in Floyd, Johnson, Magoffin, Martin, and Pike counties, according to M. V. Clark, health administrator for the Floyd County Health Department and director of the clinic.

(The Times erroneously gave the clinic date last week as Aug. 31).

The clinic will be conducted by Dr. Joseph A. Little, director of the Kentucky Children's Heart Clinic, Louisville, and associate professor of pediatrics at the University of Louisville Medical School.

A private physician may either bring or refer any medically indigent patient to the clinic for an examination, Clark said. Purpose of the clinic is to provide a diagnostic service for the patient, along with recommendations for treatment and management of the case, but the clinic also serves to

The others, all indicted for rape, include:

Phillip Smith, 23, Coleman; Harold Dotson, 22, Freeburn; his brother, Thurman Dotson, 18; Frank Norman, 18, Freeburn; Dawson Abshire, 22, Phyllis, and two 15-year-old boys.

All are held in the county jail here after having waived examining trial before County Judge Ervin S. Pruitt, August 24. They were held to the special grand jury.

The charges stemmed from an alleged mass rape of Mrs. Gladys Spurlock, 19, mother of two children, and her sister, 15, on a road near remote Freeburn, between midnight and 3 a.m. August 18.

Everett Spurlock, 23, had stopped his car to repair a flat tire while on his way with his wife, two children, and sister-in-law to their home at Grundy, Va.

They were beset by the men who drove up in a car soon afterward, and twice beat Spurlock, forcing him to flee when he resisted, Spurlock and the women told police.

Plans to close four more small postoffices in this section of Kentucky were announced in Washington last week. The offices are at Kerz in Johnson county, Spider in Knott, Burr, in Rockcastle and Lothair in Perry. Lothair will be converted into a contract rural station.

Postoffices closed in the last two years in Floyd county include Alpharetta, Sloan and Woods.

The senate last week confirmed for postmaster nominations, including that of John C. Hicks for the Hindman postmastership.

JUDGE ADVISES JURY TO PROBE BOOTLEGGING, RECENT ELECTION

SENATE SEAT IS AT STAKE

How Hays' Successor To Be Named, Problem Widely Discussed Here

Death of Senator Doug Hays and the resultant Senate vacancy pose an interesting political situation in the 29th Senatorial district which is composed of Floyd, Knott and Martin counties.

At first it was believed here that the Democratic chairmen of the three counties would nominate a candidate from the party in power in the state and that the Republican party would follow the same procedure if it cares to enter the competition. (The district is heavily Democratic with Martin county rockribbed Republican but badly outvoted by Democratic Floyd and Knott.)

This theory of the procedure to be followed would have had a special general election set, its date possibly to coincide with the regular November election.

But The Times learned Tuesday night that word out of Frankfort is that there will be a special primary and a special final election to name Senator Hays' successor. A special final election, in that case, would not coincide with the regular November election, because there would not be time to hold the primary and have the nominees certified the required 45 days before the November election, it was said.

NINE INDICTED IN RAPE CASE

Two 15-Year-Old Boys Named in Gang Offense Against Virginia Women

Pikeville, Ky., Sept. 3 — Seven young men, one of them still at large, and two juveniles were indicted by a special Pike county grand jury Tuesday for the mass rape of two teen-age sisters last month.

Additional indictments for malicious striking and wounding were returned against two of the accused, Carl Farrell, 22, Freeburn, and Elmer Blankenship, age and address not listed.

The others, all indicted for rape, include:

Phillip Smith, 23, Coleman; Harold Dotson, 22, Freeburn; his brother, Thurman Dotson, 18; Frank Norman, 18, Freeburn; Dawson Abshire, 22, Phyllis, and two 15-year-old boys.

Club's Annual Kids Day Set at Drift Ball Park

Kids Day, the annual event sponsored by the Beaver Valley Kiwanis Club, will be held at the Drift ball park this year on Saturday, Sept. 14, beginning at 1 p.m., it was announced this week by Rex Gearheart, chairman of the Club's Boys' and Girls' committee.

School buses will make regular runs to serve pupils of Left Beaver Creek schools, starting their schedule at 11 a.m. A varied athletic program will be offered, and refreshments will be served. All children of the Left Beaver Creek section are being invited.

AID TO TOWNS IS DISCUSSED

Speakers at Paintsville Tell How State To Help With Planning and Zoning

How the state can aid towns and what it has to help them with in planning and zoning projects were explained last Thursday in a meeting at Paintsville of business and civic leaders from 13 Eastern Kentucky counties.

Speaking at a meeting sponsored by the Kentucky Chamber of Commerce's area-development council was Walter Shouse, Frankfort, of the State Department of Economic Development.

The conference was the fourth in a series of five in the state on programs for obtaining new industry. The final meeting will be Friday in Lexington.

Other speakers, included I. J. Warren, Huntington, W. Va., of the industrial department of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway; Fred Bullard, president of the Hazard Coal Operators Association, and J. C. Zimmerman, Louisville, industrial-development director for the state chamber.

Zimmerman and Bullard discussed unionization and its effect on new industry coming into the state.

Blankenship has not been arrested.

The others, all indicted for rape, include:

STUMBO'S ORDER VOIDS LOCAL OPTION PETITION

The move to legalize the sale of intoxicating liquors in Prestonsburg was lost last week "without the firing of a shot" as County Judge Henry Stumbo held an order in county court dismissing the petition filed by the Wets calling for an election.

The petition was under fire from Dry forces on the grounds that it lacked the required 25% of the "constitutional" voters of Prestonsburg, that a large number of the names on the petition were in the same handwriting and that 84 of those whose names appeared on the petition reside outside the corporate limits of Prestonsburg.

It was noted by Judge Stumbo in his order that a number of those whose names appeared on the petition later filed written requests asking that their names be stricken from the petition.

Wet forces were given until last Friday to make answer to the attack made on the petition by the opposition to the sale of in-

HILL BLASTS CLUBS, FRAUD IN BALLOTING

Promises Fair Hearing If Vote-Buyers, Sellers Are Brought into Court

Circuit Judge Edward P. Hill called on the grand jury of the Floyd circuit court to crack down on election fraud and bootlegging as he instructed the jurors as to their duties Tuesday morning, the first session of the September court term.

The judge bore down on both offenses. Of bootlegging he said it is "one of the most serious, most undermining influences on our society." He said that honest elections are the very foundation of our democratic system of government but that we have strayed so far from that ideal that if an individual "doesn't belong on the inside, in the organization, and doesn't have his pockets full of money, he doesn't have a chance."

Speaking of bootlegging activities in the county, Hill hit hardest at clubs and fraternal organizations. "They ought to be worked on," he declared. "We've fiddled around here and done nothing much for some time." He noted that considerable liquor-selling is done from taxicabs and autos but that other bootlegging is on a bigger scale—"well-organized, more vicious and they do more damage than the little fellow who sells a pint to feed his family."

Judge Hill also noted that three such places have been closed after suits had been filed but that one of the three opened before time for its reopening.

PLEA IS MADE TO TEACHERS

For Amendment Support At November Election As Martin Meet Held

Floyd county teachers were encouraged at their meeting at Martin Friday to support the Constitutional amendment which will change the method of naming the state superintendent of public instruction.

The speaker urging support of the amendment was H. D. Fitzpatrick, Jr., of Prestonsburg. If the amendment is adopted by the voters of the state, the state superintendent will be named by the State Board of Education rather than by popular vote.

The Martin meeting followed registration of pupils in the county's larger schools and was a prelude to the beginning of actual classroom work this week. County Superintendent Virgil O. Turner presided.

Heart Condition Fatal To Perdue organ, 73, Abbott Creek Resident

Perdue Morgan, 73, of the Abbott Road, died at the Paintsville hospital Saturday after suffering from a heart condition the last four years.

He was a son of H. I. and Kit Martin Morgan. He is survived by his wife, Jennie Stone Morgan, three sons, Bill, of West Prestonsburg, Kermit, of Cliff, and Calloway, Vanlou, O., two daughters, Mrs. Mabel Howell, Dayton, O., and Mrs. Moma Clark, Newport News, Va., and one sister, Annie Howell, Prestonsburg.

The funeral, held Monday at the home of Bill Morgan on the Abbott Road, was conducted by the Revs. Alex Stephens and Paris Music. Burial was made in the family cemetery on Abbott Creek under the direction of the Carter and Callahan Funeral Home.

BOARD SETS WORK LIMITS

Maintenance Workers Restricted to Areas; Mrs. Stumbo Employed

Greater part of Tuesday's meeting of the Floyd County Board of Education was devoted to discussing and planning the reorganization of the maintenance force employed for the upkeep of school properties.

As a result certain workers were assigned to each of the five educational divisions of the county, and they are not to go beyond the limits of their divisions. This was done, it was explained by Superintendent Virgil O. Turner, to save travel time and expense.

Mrs. Anna Sue Stumbo, wife of Lloyd Stumbo and a teacher in the McDowell school, was employed as supervisor of schools. She takes the place of Woodrow Allen who began his duties this year as principal of the Prestonsburg grade school. Mrs. Stumbo is a veteran teacher and is a member and secretary of the Floyd County Library Board.

Several teachers were employed, but their placement had not been effected Tuesday. Superintendent Turner said that the teacher situation apparently is better than that of last year.

The board purchased 600 seats on bids—300 from Central School Supply, 200 from Dependable School Supply and 100 from West Virginia Seating Company.

The Community Methodist Church here was the scene of the marriage of Miss Toy Anne Sammons, daughter of Mrs. Cleo Rowe, to Mr. Chester Shepherd, son of Mrs. Wilce Shepherd, on August 18.

The church was decorated with two candelabra, white gladioli and palms. The Rev. J. Baldwin Stiltz, pastor of the church, performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her grandfather, Mr. Seymour Gray. She wore a white satin ballerina-length, torso dress, which had layers of nylon netting covering the full skirt. Her mitts and veil were an illusion of nylon netting and her slippers were white satin—all matching her scoop-necked bridal dress. She wore the traditional string of pearls and carried a white Bible covered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Rowe, mother of the bride, wore a beige dress and hat. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Attendants were Mrs. John Thomas Hill and Miss Betty Shepherd, the groom's sister. They wore pink and blue dresses of polished cotton, halo-like hats, and carried colonial style bouquets of white carnations.

Miss Elizabeth Florence Rowe, sister of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a white satin dress and white accessories. She carried a basket of pink rose petals, which she strewed down the aisle.

Mr. Fred Dickerson was best man. The ushers were Messrs. Jay S. Sammons and John Thomas Hill.

The pre-nuptial music was by Mrs. Chalmer H. Frazier, and Miss Phyllis Sue Wilson sang, "I Love You Truly." Included in the nuptial music was another solo by Miss Wilson, "The Lord's Prayer."

After spending a week in the Smoky Mountains, the Shepherds are at their residence on Highland avenue.

CLASS ENTERTAINED

Intangibles Won't Buy Food— But They Might Help

Two years ago the Kentucky Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards appointed a committee to study the question, "What is happening to teachers in Kentucky?" R. E. Jagers, a member of that committee and a prominent educator, compiled the results after ninety county school systems and 83 independent districts had sent in their answers to the question.

In brief, this is what was learned:

One of every six teachers employed in the 1954-1955 school year did not return the next year to the school system she was in during the previous year.

Forty-six of every 100 teachers—in all, 1,600 teachers—quit the teaching profession.

Fifty-four of every 100 teachers, or 1,816, took posts in other school systems. And 54 of every 100 of this group who shifted to other teaching positions left the state altogether and went into school systems of other states.

These are statistics that are pretty well-known to educators but which are little known to the parent or the pupil. They are interesting, just as a river that could wash away your home is interesting.

But another item commands attention:

Forty-five of every 100 teachers who went into other school systems did so for higher pay.

This is a situation that is not difficult to understand. It involves the simplest and most basic of economics. The prescription for the cure is simple, too—more money. The prescription being what it is, it's the hardest of all to fill, however.

But for the devotion of teachers to their native counties and state and people, the situation in Kentucky would be much worse than it is. Those who remain at home are a Spartan band who adjust to meet the circumstances which low pay forces upon them; and it is to their greater credit that most of them hold the line in the face of rising costs of living, higher taxes and a general pinch of the pocketbook. While labor demands higher pay and employers call for higher prices, these who have the important job of training the minds of Kentucky's children must either stand their ground and stand the gaff, or leave. They have no unions to represent them.

If the loss of a good teacher were not a tragedy in the lives of all the children she is teaching or might teach, the situation would not be so dark. But the sad truth is, whenever a good teacher leaves Kentucky a good replacement is not always available. As a consequence, the gap is filled with the material at hand; children are taught by individuals who themselves need teaching, and so young minds are pinned down by the limitations of these substitutes.

What can be done? We may continue to improve the financial picture for the teacher, but we apparently are losing the salary race to other and richer states. So we must deal in intangibles until the time comes when we shall have at hand the material things good teachers should have from us.

We can begin, now, to give good teachers the credit and the honor they deserve. We can begin, now, to appreciate the minds and hearts that have constrained women and men to pass up the opportunities of big money, easy jobs, comfortable living and places of power in the industries or professions.

Private and public recognition of good teachers is needed. Perhaps even more, private recognition of teachers' needs should be made, and those personal gifts and courtesies that go to ministers and others we love and respect should also be bestowed on every member of the teaching profession who is deserving.

What more can we offer until the day when these who serve are paid their due? Can we afford to offer less to these who by unselfish service so richly deserve more?

To the People Of Prestonsburg

Turning to the election, he said that he has heard criticism of the County Clerk on the absentee voting, and he described this as a "serious accusation you should look into pretty thoroughly." He also commented on the spending of money in elections. "I have always wondered which is worse—buying or selling. Both are violations. We're never going to improve the situation till we make some indictments. When you do I guarantee they'll get impartial treatment in court here."

The judge suggested that preceding each election citizens would do well to hold a mass meeting, organize and then send out watchers to the precincts, armed with cameras to record any illegal activities that might take place.

The carrying of concealed deadly weapons was the third major offense the judge cited for the jury's attention.

John Stephens, of Water Gap, former Superintendent of Floyd Schools, was named foreman of the grand jury. When Mr. Stephens deurred that he had never in his life served on a grand jury and suggested that perhaps some other members of the panel who has had more experience should be named. Judge Hill reminded him, "You'll never learn any younger."

Only 21 of the 32 petit jurors called from the list of names drawn from the jury drum were present, and the panel was completed by turning to the jury drum again.

To the People Of Prestonsburg

After several weeks of talking with many of the good citizens of the town, and after weighing the matter carefully even prayerfully, I have decided to make the race for Mayor of Prestonsburg at the coming November election.

I propose to make this race not out of any particular personal ambition of mine but out of a desire to help our community become a better place to live in and a more decent, law-respecting and law-abiding city.

From time to time in coming weeks I will frankly state my position on the several matters that should be of interest to us all.

I will be on the ballot as a candidate who will fight and fight hard to win but who will oppose others in a spirit of goodwill, with my main purpose to be of service to the place I live in and to the people among whom I live and work and make a living.

Your support and the influence you can use in my behalf will be deeply appreciated.

IF I HAVE A BOOK
By Bertha Ellen Hayes Steitz
Library Division Chairman,
Lakeland, Florida

IF I HAVE A BOOK:
I may be lonely, yet have company and entertainment;
I may be isolated, yet know great cities;
I may be lame or bed-ridden, yet travel through the far-off lands;
I may be ignorant, yet gain great knowledge;
I may be poor, yet share the luxury of kings in their palaces;
I may be obscure, yet touch the minds of the famous and the experience of the adventurous;
I may be unskilled, yet learn the arts from great masters;
I may be ill, but gain health from printed pages;
I may be blind, yet touch the earth below and the stars above with my fingertips;
I may be grief-stricken and despairing, yet receive comfort and hope from great philosophers;
I may be confused and puzzled, but find guidance.
I may be cynical and despondent, yet find new faith in the character of man and in the beneficent purpose of the universe. I may attain a deeper understanding of all things, and come to know my GOD, IF I HAVE A BOOK.

To My Many Friends and Relatives Of Floyd County:

My son, Dick Spurlock, is the Republican nominee for Circuit Court Clerk of Floyd county. He has never asked for any County office and I am making this appeal through our county paper to you for your support and vote. I am disabled and am unable to see you personally, and I shall appreciate it if you will take this message as a personal talk to you. Dick promises you a SOBER, HONEST and A COURTEOUS administration and I will stake my reputation on this.

It would please me very much if you could come to see me at any time.

Always your kinsman and friend
B. M. SPURLOCK

FLOYD COUNTY IS DEMOCRATIC

The following information was compiled during the month of August from the clerk's office of the Floyd County Court, showing the number of registered voters in each of the four Magisterial District of Floyd County:

District No. 1—Democrats—6616	Republicans—1435
District No. 2—Democrats—3949	Republicans—609
District No. 3—Democrats—5911	Republicans—1083
District No. 4—Democrats—3197	Republicans—1045

Making a total of all voters of 23,845, with a Democratic majority of 15,501. It is conceded that a number of voters of both parties should be purged, some being dead and several others have moved away. There are 61 precincts in the county and no precinct shows a Republican majority by registration. We will give you later, precinct by precinct in each Magisterial District, showing the majority in each.

"The primary will be a wide-open thing," this source said. There are aspirants to the Senate post a-plenty, and the Democratic party may be in for an "extra added attraction" before the nomination is decided.

There was no indication when the primary date will be set.

Already this week one candidate for the Senate post had announced. This candidate is Commonwealth's Attorney Burnis Martin whose term of office as prosecutor ends with this year. Mr. Martin did not announce his candidacy on either the Democratic or the Republican ticket.

Asked if there isn't a strong possibility that the nominees will be named by committee action, he said, "I'll guarantee you my name will be on the ballot."

The basic foundation program actually will cost the state $49,851,471. The other $7,250,762 of the school fund assures each district the $80 per capita guarantee.

Most of the $3,000,000 increase will be used to pay teachers, Dr. Martin said.

He estimated that 1,000 new teachers will be employed this year. Last year, public-school staffs totaled 22,996.

Dr. Martin predicts that the quality of instruction will improve this year. Many teachers, he added, improved their training by attending summer school.

Dr. Martin also anticipates other improvements in public schools this year:

1. More adequate school centers will be provided, and fewer one-, two-, and three-teacher schools will be operated. The amount available for capital outlay from state and local sources will increase from $8,532,380 to $9,042,440.

2. More classrooms will be available through new buildings, renovation, and rental property.

3. More instructional supervisors will be employed, and more special units of music, art, library service, guidance service, and other specialized services, will be offered.

4. Cost of pupil transportation will increase $265,920, and will provide a more adequate and safer system.

"THE NEW CENTURY DICTIONARY has advantages found in no other unabridged or larger English dictionary. . . In its definitions, and in the number of new terms, the text is thoroughly scientific and modern." — DAVID H. STEVENS, Director of Humanities, Rockefeller Foundation.

"The most convenient general dictionary!" — HENRY N. MACCRACKEN, Former President, Vassar College.

"For ready reference, both for form and matter, I find I am using it more frequently than any other." — CHRISTIAN GAUSS, Dean Emeritus, Princeton University.

"As a newspaper editor and writer, I find THE NEW CENTURY DICTIONARY most useful. Its large type is easily and quickly read, and the definitions are in understandable, everyday English, often made more explicit by quotations from examples from modern authors." — DAVID LAWRENCE, Editor, U. Elder E. Hawk Moore, 69, Veteran Preacher, Dies

Elder E. Hawk Moore, 69, of Wayland, a preacher in the Regular Baptist Church for 36 years, died at 8:28 p.m. last Thursday at the McDowell Memorial hospital, victim of a cerebral hemorrhage. His death came as a shock to many residents of this area. Besides his church work, he was active in the United Mine Workers. The son of the late Harrison and Mandy Collins Moore, he was a retired miner of the Elkhorn Coal Company. He had been ill the last five years of his life and seriously ill for the last six months.

Surviving are his wife, Samantha Chaffins Moore, three sons, Curt, Alton (Jack), and George, all of Marion, Ohio, five daughters, Dortha Moore, Wayland, Mrs. Crevie Stumbo, McDowell, Mrs. Mary Layne and Mrs. Freda Turner, both of Marion, Ohio, and Mrs. Ida Conners, Waynesville, Ohio; four sisters, Mrs. Ida Moore, Garrett, Mrs. Cora Beverly, Wayland, Mrs. Minnie Moore, Columbus, Ohio, Mrs. Vina Stewart, McDowell. He also leaves 72 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted by the Revs. Bert Howard, Troy Nickels, Ellis Hopkins, Hawley Warrens, Savel Combs, and others from the Steele's Creek Baptist Church. Burial was made at the Preston Terry cemetery at Dema under the direction of the Hall Bros. Funeral Home.

Goines, retired miner of the Turner Elkhorn Mining Company, was the son of the late Van and Sarah Ellen Clark Goines.

He is survived by his wife, Mary Ann Gool Goines, Drift, two sons, James C. and Denny, both of Ashtabula, O., one daughter, Mrs. James Mosley, Willard, O., one brother, Otis Goines, Jasonville, Ind., a sister, Mrs. Jessie Copeland, Chicago, Ill. and seven grandchildren.

Funeral services, conducted by the Rev. Bill Amburgey at the Martin Freewill Baptist Church, were held at 2 p.m. Tuesday. Burial was made in the Ivel cemetery under the direction of the Hall Bros. Funeral Home.

From the Sidelines

By Quentin Allen

Wheelwright's football team this year has weight, power, and talent, but no experience, so said John Griggs, coach of the Prestonsburg Black Cats after the Prestonsburg-Wheelwright fray Friday night. Several observers said that the Wheelwright team looked unaccustomed to football play. They were slow in executing plays, uncertain on pass defense, and, being green and unconfident, didn't play with the abandon necessary to good football. But, as Coach Griggs said, "look out in the next few years. When those big boys get some experience, they'll make things rough."

Lowell Hughes, Prestonsburg's representative on the Kentucky Wildcat football team this year, has given notice (by his outstanding play) that he's determined to play a lot of football for U. K. In spring practice this year, Hughes displayed fine running talent and a good pitching arm. Prediction: Look for Jerry Eisaman and Hughes to keep returning senior quarterback Robertson to the bench. If Lowell and Eisaman (preferably Lowell) do the job, and if Glen Ed Shaw comes through at halfback at a promising All-American clip, and a few sophomore linemen live up to their freshmen promise, then look for U. K. to snow under any and all S.E.C. opponents.

Joe Jack Harris, frail but fleet halfback who crossed the goal-line three times for Prestonsburg Friday night, is actually a strong cuss. Last year, in playing baseball, Harris hit four homers for the high school team and leveled out three for the semi-pro team while hitting close to .300. Of course, though, he hauls back so far when he swings that it looks as if he's going to throw the bat into centerfield.

The bricks are starting to pile up faster at the Prestonsburg gymnasium—so much, in fact, that you can tell that it is being built. The reason, though, for little evidence showing that the building was being constructed lies in the fact that concrete stands had to be poured before outside brick could be laid. Then it didn't help when concrete dealers found themselves without concrete as a result of a strike. According to one workman, the roof can be added quickly as soon as the bricks are laid to the roof. But first, he said, the concrete stands had to be poured. Work can continue through the early winter months as soon as the roof is on, and, he also said, those roof men work mighty fast. January is still the completion date.

Coach John Griggs fears that his team is too cocky over Friday night's victory over Wheelwright. "With the kind of attitude the team has at present, we can't win," he predicted pessimistically.

Teen-agers are angered over the lack of concern among adults in Prestonsburg for recreational facilities for this group. One complained that there's nothing to do. "No swimming pool, no baseball field, no equipment, no volleyball, tennis . . . nothing," he concluded sadly. "What gets me" he said, "is that nobody cares if we stand on the streets all night—just as long as we don't bother anyone." The boy was right and, actually, both girls and boys need an outlet for their energies beside speeding or premature flings at vice. The gist of the teen-agers' cry seems to be, "Doesn't anybody care about us?" . . . I wonder.

P-BURG TEAM LOSES THREE

Merchant Batting Attack Subdued by Tight Hurling; ouisa Team Beaten Twice

Over the past two week-ends the Prestonsburg Merchants came short on winners in dropping three out of five games to Blaine, Louisa and Wheelwright, the last team taking two games Monday at Wheelwright.

The five games found results as follows: Prestonsburg 1, Blaine 4, at Blaine; Prestonsburg, 4, Louisa 1, Prestonsburg 10, Louisa 6 at Louisa; Prestonsburg 10, Wheelwright 3, home; Prestonsburg 3, Wheelwright 8, at Wheelwright.

Only in the final game of the doubleheader with Wheelwright was a large score, 8-3, compiled against the Merchants. In the first game against Blaine, August 25, Clark, a righthander, held the Merchants to six hits, winning 4-1. The Merchants, on the week before, had enjoyed their biggest spree of the year in belting Grassy for 31 hits and 29 runs. Grassy catcher Stevens hit the big blow of the game when he homered in the third inning, later adding two more singles to his hits.

Little throttled the Merchants 8 to 6 at Wheelwright August 29 in allowing only five hits. Bunny Setser was almost as stingy as he doled out only six hits to the Wheelwright team which made the most of Prestonsburg errors and walks. Ray Wilcox's two-run single highlighted a Prestonsburg rally in the sixth inning. Later, on Sept. 1, Wheelwright threw Rogers against Prestonsburg and the Wheelwright flinger held the Merchants to five hits. Setser gave up 13 hits in this game as Ray Wilcox was the leading hitter on Prestonsburg's attack with three hits.

Pitcher Julian Campbell put Prestonsburg back on the winning side by holding Louisa to 7 hits and only one run as his team-mates pounded out 13 hits for a 4 to 1 victory. Don Sullivan led the team with two doubles and two singles in five times at bat. Campbell struck out 11 batters in the game.

Adrian Blackburn pitched a four hit, four run game to win, 10 to 4, while Don Sullivan collected a single and a triple to lead the Prestonsburg batting attack against Louisa. Prestonsburg's big inning came in the first when the first five men, Petrovich, Sullivan, Childers, Wilcox and Dotson got base hits. Then came an out on Junior May, Ellis singled, Harris forced Ellis, and another three base hits followed as Petrovich, Sullivan, and Childers got their second hits of the inning. Sullivan and Childers tripled and singled once in the up-rising.

were raped "12 to 15" times, while a crowd that had been attracted by the disturbance, stood by.

Spurlock finally got word to state police, and four suspects were arrested at the scene.

The two 15-year-olds pleaded guilty to charges of juvenile delinquency, August 24 before Judge Pruitt. They said they had been forced at gun's point to assault the women. Pruitt said he would decide the course of prosecution in their cases September 28.

The suspects will appear in court at a later date to learn whether they may be granted release on bond.

Outstanding Safety Mark Demands 100 Cooperation, Coal Operator Are Told

Coal mine operators throughout the three-state mining area of Tennessee, Virginia and Kentucky are wholeheartedly supporting the seventh annual "Remember September—No Accidents" safety campaign, according to James H. Phalan, coordinator of the program and chief of the Kentucky Department of Mines and Minerals.

Cooperation of the mines comes through such organizations as the Southern Appalachian Coal Operators Association, with headquarters in Knoxville, Tennessee; Harlan County Coal Operators Association, Harlan, Kentucky; and the Virginia Coal Operators Association, Norton, Virginia.

"Members of our organization will give their best cooperation in this campaign," said E. H. Robinson, secretary of the Virginia group, "and we hope the results will be outstanding. We must strive to achieve a safety record in September that will set a high standard of accident prevention for the entire year ahead."

"We must all cooperate to make this important campaign a success," declared H. S. Homan, executive secretary of the Southern Appalachian Association. "Mine operators, state and federal agencies, the unions and the insurance underwriters—all working together — can accomplish much in this program to help save lives and reduce human suffering."

"We are with you 100% in this outstanding safety program," said George S. Ward, secretary of the Harlan County Operators. "All our members have been alerted and are using the Halt Accidents, Safe Lives posters, bumper strips and cap stickers furnished through the cooperation of the Bituminous Casualty Corporation. If everybody cooperates, everybody benefits, and this month-long extra concentration on accident prevention cannot help but pay dividends to the entire mining community."

In addition to posters and literature, the month's program will include special safety meetings and first aid and mine rescue contests sponsored by the various mining institutes.

Youth-Led Revival Slated at Martin Church

Young people of the First Baptist Church at Martin are paving the way for the first youth-led revival there, Sept. 10-19.

The committees and workers are: Prayer, Judy Hays, Hunter; Linda Hagan, Langley; Visitation—Doty Gay Martin, of Martin; Publicity—Mary Francis Osborne, Joyce Hays, Hunter; Special Nights—James Adkins, Dennis Mayo, Hite; Ushers—Tommy Collins, Ronald Shelton; Drift; Music—Andy Moore, Martin, Glenda Osborne, Hunter; Fellowship—Shirley Fannin, Martin, Sue Hazans, Langley; Meals—Patty Cochran, Hunter, Jeraldine Allen, Maytown.

The revival services will be led by the Rev. James C. Hefley, at 7:30 each evening. Rev. Hefley is pastor of the Pontchartrain Baptist Church, New Orleans, Louisiana. He has had wide experiences in the South in many youth meetings. He has conducted radio broadcasts in New Orleans and transcribed to other stations in the South. He is a contributing writer to the Moody Monthly, Chicago, Ill., largest Christian magazine, and the Radio Revival News of Natchez, Mississippi. For all this experience, he is a young man of only 27 years. He is a graduate of Ouachita College and the New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary, and founding pastor of the Pontchartrain Baptist Church.

Songleaders during the revival will be Frank Conrad, of Owensboro, Ky., a junior in the Daviess County high school. The Martin young people invite all to come to the youth-led revival.

MAYOR

The older citizens and taxpayers of Prestonsburg who remember the good that A. C. Carter did as Mayor, such as paved streets, sidewalks, etc., urge him to run for Mayor again.

We pledge our full support if he will run and we will do all we can to see that he is elected.

Books and Such

By Laura Virginia Roberts

A seamstress named Casey is sure she knows why gals today don't die of love as they used to. It's miracle drugs, she says. In golden days the girls fell in love and moped around. They stayed inside, out of the fresh air and sunshine, and didn't eat their vegetables. Naturally, living as they did in damp, drafty castles, they contracted tuberculosis and died. Today, with miracle drugs, a girl just never gets the chance to die of love. Busybody doctors and cure her and she has no and relatives, etc., get all excited choice but to get well. There goes romance.

When I meet new people I try never to mention exactly what it is I teach, because it generally turns them against me immediately. I won't mention it here, now, either, but I want to make it clear that I am not criticizing this newspaper or any of its staff when I say that a line was left out of the last limerick in that last crazy group a couple of weeks ago. Now this in itself doesn't make a tad of difference, except that it caused the verse not to be a complete sentence. In the business I'm in the greatest sin is an incomplete sentence and I have to defend myself by saying that originally it was a complete sentence.

It went like this:
 And though I deem it close to sin
 And quite unfair to ladies' men
 To treat them so . . .
 We generally go
 And fall in love quite soon again.

Now the stanza has a subject and verb. Anyone like to diagram it? Be my guest. A handy yo-yo goes to the one who can do it. Just mail your entries to me at Nicholasville high school. (They are sendin' a bunch of us Floyd counties as missionaries to the Bluegrass, you know.) I don't know whom I'll get to judge the correctness of your diagrams, but I'll find some capable one. Don't look at me. I'm reaching for my grammar book right now and that that my former students hold me responsible for, anyway, is the subject and verb, and that, I hope I'm taking care of right now.

Two from Floyd Make All-A U. of K. Standing

A total of 128 University of Kentucky students achieved an all-A standing during the summer session, dean of the various UK colleges announced.

The University's largest division, the College of Arts and Sciences, placed 43 students on the honor list, while the College of Engineering reported 41 and College of Education 30.

All-A students from Floyd and adjacent counties:

Arts and Sciences—Bobby Childers, Elkhorn City; Lon Hill, Jr., Prestonsburg; Clyde Wicker, Mousie, Engineering — Frederick May, Prestonsburg.

RETURN TO LOUISVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sparrow and Mrs. Rapier, who have been houseguests of Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Salisbury, have returned to their homes in Louisville.

of that was enough, and he returned to Knott county, where he bought two yokes of oxen on credit and began his lumbering operations.

Two years earlier he had watched William Goebel win the Democratic nomination for governor in a turbulent session where almost every delegate was armed with a weapon "as long as your arm."

Goebel was shot and killed from ambush seven months later.

Lumbering, however, occupied Hays between conventions and he cut timber wherever it could be found.

In 1928 he bought his home at McDowell, where Storehouse Branch empties into Frazier Creek. He cut the timber from the land and replaced an old log house with a modern frame one.

Later he branched out into coal mining, but politics remained his first love. In 1943 he was elected to the State Senate, carrying all but two of the 630 votes in his home precinct. He failed, however, when in 1948 he ran for Congress.

As a legislator he attempted repeatedly to establish a state liquor monopoly and, when defeated vowed always to keep trying.

Senator Hays once wished there had been a law "to make me plant a tree for every tree I've cut down in my lifetime."

Some of the hardwood lumber from those trees went into home-made coffins and for that lumber Hays never charged. Other free lumber went to churches and schools—enough, he once remarked, to have made him rich "but not satisfied."

"I believe," he explained, "that every man on this earth is put here to make it a little better place to live. I've tried to do my part."

He was a member of the Regular Baptist Church.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Lizzie Hays; two sons, Army Col. Stanley Hays, Washington, and Wickliffe Hays, Pikeville, and a daughter, Mrs. Willard Johnson, Carr Creek; one sister, Mrs. Rachel Stidham, of Jackson, and a brother, Johnny Hays, of Vest.

Also surviving are four step-children. They are Mrs. Richard Sammons, Mrs. Ray Heinisch, and Eugene Hamilton, all of McDowell, and Henry Hamilton, Jr., Allen.

His funeral, which was held Tuesday morning at 10 from the McDowell high school gymnasium was attended by an estimated 300 to 1,000 persons. Officiating ministers were the Revs. Frank Hopkins, Ellis Moon and Mack McCloud. Other ministers of the Regular Baptist church took part in earlier services at the home. Burial was made in the Burke Turner cemetery at Drift under the direction of the Hall Brothers Funeral Home.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank everyone for their many kindnesses and floral tributes upon the passing of our beloved husband and father, Herbert Goines. We also wish to gratefully express our appreciation of Rev. Bill Amburgey for his consoling words and to the Hall Brothers Funeral Home for its efficient services.

TIMES WANT ADS REALLY GET RESULTS!

WILL THE JUDGE TAKE THE FIFTH AMENDMENT?

These are questions for Henry Stumbo to answer if he will and can. The taxpayers and water and gas users of this county have a right to answers to these questions. They are honest inquiries about the gas and water deal. I ask them in the interest of good government. I ask them in the interest of decent, honest administration of our affairs.

1. Who originated the idea of the county buying the water and gas districts from private holders at huge profits?
2. Who set the price of $230,000 with an interest rate of five percent with the bonds going to the big money men at a 10 per cent discount, thus saddling this county with an indebtedness of $230,000 plus total in interest of $179,950 or an overall total of $409,950?
3. Who bought the Wayland water and gas system for $22,000 from the Elkhorn Coal Corporation, sold the water system for $5,000 and later the Judge agreed and bought it for Floyd county at $67,500?
4. Who got the big profit out of the Wayland deal and did he get out of town with most of it?
5. The Allen-Dwale system was offered to a Floyd county business man for $12,000 before the county got interested through you. You bought it for the county at $45,000. Who reaped the big profit there?
6. The Garrett-Bosco system sold at one time for $2,400 and later for $10,000. The county bought it through you for $45,000. I ask you, Henry Stumbo, to name the profit-takers here.

The Weeksbury water works sold for junk to a couple of men for $824. They tried to salvage the scrap iron in it and failed. The county bought it for $22,500. Who took their profits here?

8. Now Judge Stumbo answer this one. Who put $5,000 in the water and gas system to make it show a paper profit of a few hundred dollars just before the election?

9. Who suggested to you that the rates be raised the last time? Name these men. The people who pay excessive water and gas rates are entitled to know.

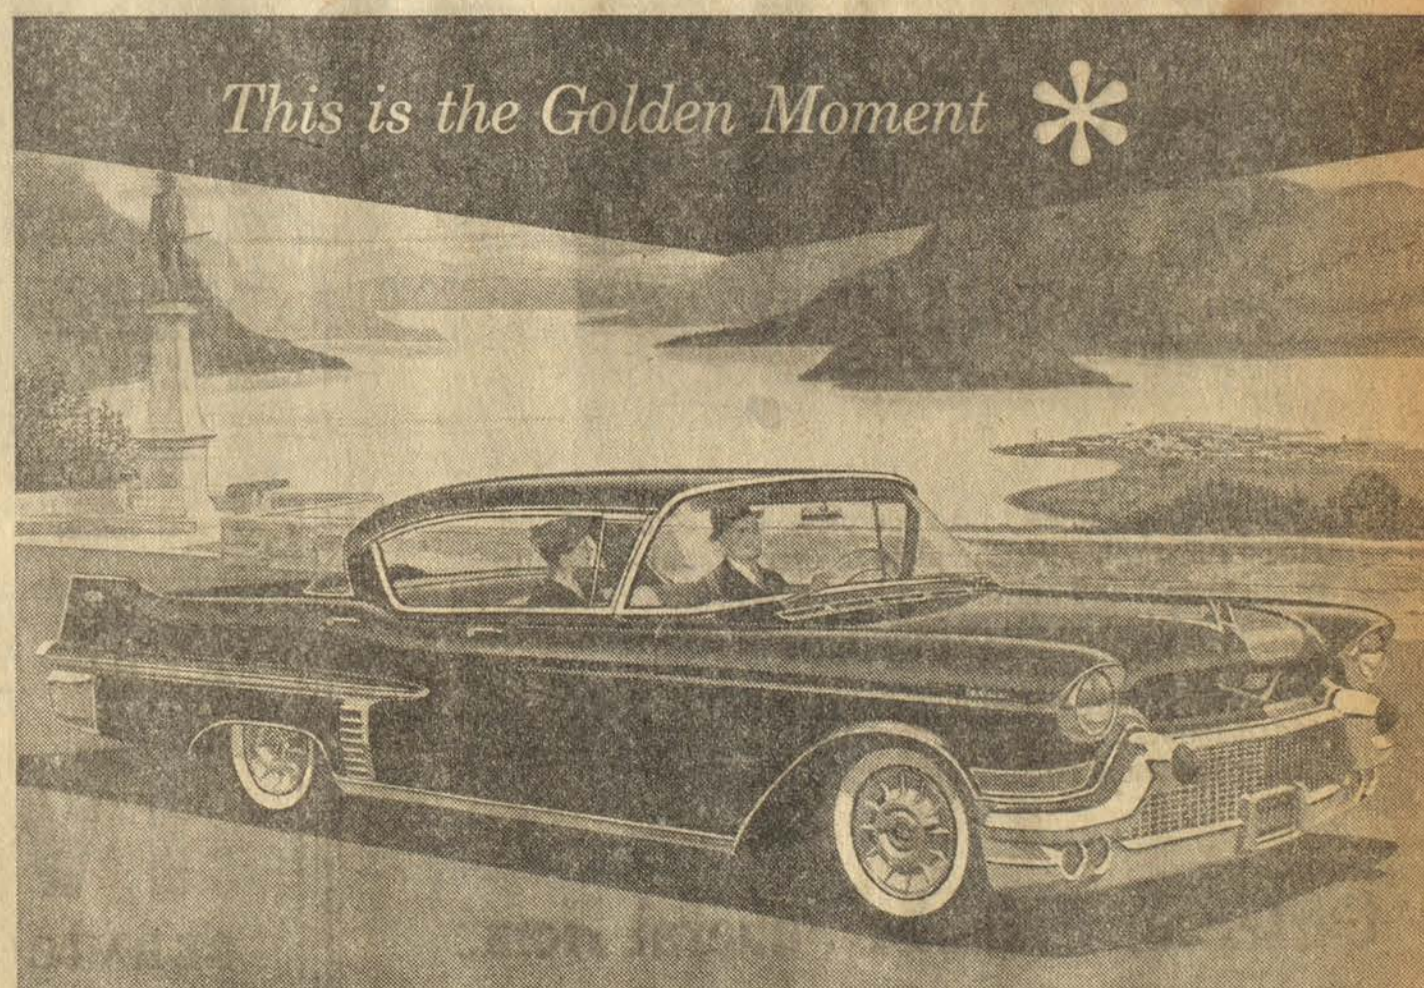

10. Why were you and the members of the fiscal court sued on this water and gas deal and you took $1,500 of the taxpayers money to hire a lawyer to fight your case?

The whole water and gas systems are now officially declared bankrupt by the Federal Court and a receiver has been appointed. One more question, Judge:

Do you propose to raise the water and gas rates again to save your big money friends?

Lees Junior To Begin 73rd Session, Sept. 9th

Lees Junior College will begin its 73rd school year Monday morning, September 9. Special arrangements have been made for a record enrollment, and it is hoped that expanded dormitory and academic facilities will make it possible to accept all qualified applicants.

The college dormitories will be open for students to move in at 1:00 p.m. Sunday, September 8. The first meal will be served to dormitory students that evening at 5.

A three-day orientation program for freshmen and transfer students will begin on Monday at 8:00 a.m., in the Administration building. The freshmen "Get Acquainted Party" will be held Monday evening at 7:00 in the Van Meter building. Sophomore students will register at 8:00 a.m. Tuesday, with orientation activities continuing for freshmen.

A gala "All College Party" Tuesday evening will be the climax of the social activities of orientation week. Freshmen students will complete their registration on Wednesday. Classes will begin September 12.

New Pastor Arrives For W Wright Work

REV. AND MRS. STEWART

Members of the Pilgrim Holiness Church at Wheelwright heard their new pastor, Rev. John T. Stewart, formerly of Leslie county, in his first sermon Sunday evening, Aug. 25, on "The Voice of God" before a near-capacity congregation.

Mr. Stewart was pastor of the McIntosh Church near Wootton, Ky., for three years before accepting the call to the Wheelwright church. Mr. Stewart is a native of Chattanooga, Tenn., and his wife, of Greensboro, N. C.

The services are: Sunday School at 10 a.m. and evangelistic service at 7 p.m., each Sunday. Prayer service Thursday at 7 p.m.

FLOYD COUNTY COURT

In Re: Petition seeking the calling of an election in regard to the sale of alcoholic beverages in Prestonsburg Kentucky.

ORDER

This cause having been set for hearing on this date, Friday August 30, 1957, same was called for hearing on the petition herein filed, and although W. B. Boyd, Office Deputy Sheriff and Silas Derossett, Field Deputy Sheriff for Gorman Collins, Sheriff names appear on the petition seeking an election on said question, they nor any of the petitioners appeared in support of said petition.

The opposition to said petition appeared by J. B. Clarke, and a large number of citizens and residents of the town, and announced ready for trial.

The Court upon examination of the record finds the allegations of the petition have been duly controverted by the opposers of same and the burden is in the petitioners to substantiate their allegations that they had 25% or more of the constitutionally qualified voters of the City of Prestonsburg as signers of said petition; that there appears to be over 500 names on same; that an examination of the signatures disclose a large number are in the same handwriting and it is alleged by the opposition and not denied by the petitioners that 84 of the names appearing on said petition live outside the corporate limits of the City of Prestonsburg.

It further appears that a large number of those whose names appear on the petition have filed a written request that their names be stricken from the petition and not counted.

Considering the record as a whole, the Court is of the opinion that the petitioners have failed to meet the burden imposed upon them by the Statutes, and it is the duty of the Court to deny the application.

It is therefore ordered and adjudged by the Court that said petition be and the same is hereby dismissed.

If the three are like the one I am best acquainted with, I have my doubts about the lid being on that jelly, to start with.

Most newspapers are careful to withhold from publication the names of juveniles involved in crime. Do you think those two 15-year-olds who had the effrontery to plead that they were forced at gun's point to rape two women in Pike county should be given such consideration? How ridiculous we become when we play nabby-pamby with such youthful bestiality!

Isaac Shelby, First Governor Of Kentucky

By Charles F. Hinds,
Secretary-Treasurer of the Kentucky Historical Society Frankfort, Sept. 3 (Spl.)—The portrait of Isaac Shelby, first Governor of Kentucky, 1792-96, and again governor, 1812-16, hangs in the Governor's gallery in the Senate of the Old State House, along with paintings of all of Kentucky's Governors. Beneath Shelby's portrait is that of his wife, Susanna
Hart Shelby, daughter of Capt.
Nathaniel Hart of Boonesboro. Both portraits were given to the Kentucky Historical Society in 1953 by Miss Susanna Hart Preston Gibs-
by, a great-granddaughter of Shelby.
Governor and Mrs. Shelby were painted by outstanding artists, the former by Matthew Jouett, the latter by Henry P. Davenport.

The Kentucky Legislature commissioned Edward C. Nock in 1850 to paint a full-length view of Shelby which hangs on the east wall, flanked and opposed by the Governor's gallery.

Shelby was born in Maryland in 1750, and lived later in Virginia, North Carolina and Kentucky. He was the son of Evan Shelby, prominent landowner, army officer, and statesman. One of Isaac's prized possessions, now owned by the Society, was his father's razor, first carried in the French and Indian War and used later by both father and son.

At 24, young Lt. Isaac Shelby served with gallantry in his father's company at Point Pleasant (1774).
In the American Revolution, he is best remembered for leadership and heroism at King's Mountain (1780). He carried away a British rifle known as the "Brown Bess" as a souvenir. That rifle is now on display in the state museum.

From 1783 to 1792, Shelby played a prominent role in the Virginia district of Kentucky. In 1792, he helped frame Kentucky's first constitution and was elected first Governor.

After his first term, Shelby retired to "Traveler's Rest," south of Danville. In 1812 he was recalled to lead Kentucky in the War of 1812. For his role, Shelby was presented a gold medal by Congress, replicas of which are in the museum.

Gen. Andrew Jackson and Shelby were commissioned in 1818 to acquire the "Jackson Purchase" from the Indians. The Society owns the peace pipe given to Shelby by the Chickasaws.

He died in 1826 and was buried at "Traveler's Rest," presently a state shrine. The Society has Shelby's gold watch, inscribed shortly before his death: "I. Shelby, 12th Nov., 1824."

Junior champion was Bolden N.
Rowe, 12, Magoffin county, whose yield per acre was 148.2 bushels.
He is the son of Mrs. Lela Rowe.

Young Porter, also a winner in one of the Corn Derby divisions, used the variety Kentucky 103, a recommended hybrid. He netted $182.75 after expenses of $103.30 were deducted from his crop costs. He used a 10-10-10 fertilizer in quantity, plus phosphate and several tons of manure.

Young Rowe used the hybrid variety 523-W on his crop. He netted $115.15 after deducting crop expenses of $81.85. He applied 960 pounds of 10-10-10 fertilizer, and 320 pounds of 50 percent potash.

Other high-rankers in the senior division were Donald McCoy,
Trimble county; Lee Holtzclaw,
Lincoln; Harold Isbell, Fulton;
Bobby Todd, Pulaski; Dave Mill-
gan, Ohio; Raydean Smith,
Greene; Jack Duncan, Wayne;
Willis Turner, Fleming; Charles
Owen, Simpson; Dale Reeves, Mc-Cracken; Richard Smith, Hopkins, and James Cunningham, Anderson. Each of these lads got a blue ribbon on their crops.

In the junior division, high placers were Roger Osburn, Hopkins; Gerald Romans, Hardin;
Fred Carter, Ohio; Tom Thomas,
Campbell; Donald Wilkerson,
Bourbon; Gayle Dobson, Graves;
and Marney Nunnally, Barren.
They also got blue ribbons.

E. E. Fish, district 4-H agent, conducted the judging. He said ribbon awards to the winners and high rankers will be given at the October district 4-H achievement meetings.

Ants Easily Controlled With Chlordane Spray

Lexington, Ky. — When ants make a sudden appearance in the kitchen, reach for a chlordane spray, say Extension home management specialists at the University of Kentucky.

A 2-per cent oil base chlordane spray is easy to apply and sticks to walls and other up-and-down surfaces where ants often crawl in a regular line of march. The spray dries to an almost invisible coating, and is less likely to stain, spot or streak than other sprays.
It is particularly recommended for household use by the U. S.
Department in Washington.

If preferred, you may brush the spray on with a small paint brush to get it exactly where you want it, and also avoid any danger of drifting-spray mist.

Chlordane is effective out-of-doors, too, and is the only insecticide recommended for general use against ants in the vegetable garden. An application there will kill the ants quickly, and prevent reinfestation for several months.

Chlordane may be bought in the form of a spray, drench, dust or granules in hardware, drug or department stores. Before buying, check the label to be sure you are buying one that contains chlordane.

Emerald Mine In Blue Ridge To Work Again

Little Switzerland, N. C. —
"Green Fire" may be dug again
from the Blue Ridge Mountains.

A corporation headed by W. B.
Tweat, Augusta, Ga., has announced plans to reopen an old emerald mine near here, one of the few places in the United States where emeralds have been found. The mine was discovered in 1885 and was operated by the American Gem and Pearl Company, of New York until 1904. It was reopened for testing in 1919, 1935, and 1942.

Three shafts have been sunk into a mountainside, but only one to a depth sufficient to hit an emerald pocket.

Most of the world's emeralds are mined in the mountains of Colombia, South America.

FASTEST KNOWN PAIN RELIEF FOR ARTHRITIC, RHEUMATIC VICTIMS—NOW AVAILABLE

Seven "Film-Coated" Ingredients Offer Positive Relief

The crippling, torturing, twisting pain of Arthritis and Rheumatism may soon be forgotten, thanks to an exciting new laboratory discovery named Ar-Pan-Ex.
Ar-Pan-Ex was perfected by a noted scientist of a world-famed university, working with all known facts about these crippling ailments.
The result is a safe, easy to take tablet that promotes the fastest relief known from that stabbing agony.

Ar-Pan-Ex is compounded of seven active ingredients including a special new medicine to help provide longer lasting relief. Ar-Pan-Ex is scientifically "Film-Coated" so that ALL the powerful, pain-relieving medicine is released only in the small intestine where it can be quickly carried by the blood stream to every pain-wracked muscle joint and nerve.

Swelling, stiffness and soreness may seem to be miraculously eased when Ar-Pan-Ex helps the system throw off excess Uric Acid that can also aggravate pains.

Nothing Like AR-PAN-EX
Nothing ever offered before can bring results faster, more effectively or with longer lasting benefits than Ar-Pan-Ex. It may mean a renewed life of usefulness and pleasure to millions.

BOSTON, DETROIT STORES FEEL PINCH OF NEWSPAPER STRIKES

Stores accustomed to splashing news of their wares in newspaper columns were baffled August 9 when 300 mailers — men who prepare the papers for mailing and distribution — struck in Boston.

The presses were halted at Detroit's three dailies last Monday when about 160 printers walked off their jobs.

Radio and TV stations have tried to fill the vacuum by increasing their news broadcasts. Suburban papers and dailies from other large cities are at a premium.

A spokesman for Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce said business is becoming jittery over how much longer the strike there will last. In Detroit, one major firm said sales were off 20 per cent this week.

The Christian Science Monitor has resumed deliveries in Boston because of the impasse in the strike.

The Monitor had refused since the walkout began August 9 to permit circulation of its papers within 30 miles of the city in order not to "take advantage" of the strike. It was the only one of the seven dailies in the city not affected by the strike.

Last Alfalfa Cutting Due Six Weeks Before Frost

Lexington, Ky.—The last cutting of alfalfa in Kentucky should be made about six weeks before the normal time of the first killing frost, says Harold Miller, fertility specialist.

This last-cutting time is due to several reasons. One is that as alfalfa is cut, it draws on food reserves stored in roots to nourish young shoots; unless the plant can replenish this food before being harvested again or killed by frost, the plants are weakened and many will be winter-killed.

After the alfalfa has been frozen, it can be cut without injury to the stand, Miller says. In fact, the dead growth should be removed after freezing. This improves quality and reduces disease dangers in the first hay cutting the next spring.

Miller emphasized that alfalfa, a most important hay crop for Kentucky, must be properly fertilized and properly managed to produce the maximum. One of the important factors in keeping good stands is maintenance of good reserves in the soil.

Inez in Martin county was slated to be called Eden when the postoffice was established there. When it was found there was already a postoffice in the State by that name, the postmaster at Louisa named the town in honor of his daughter, Inez Frank.

NAMED FOR WASHINGTON

Georgetown, Scott County, was incorporated by the Virginia Legislature in 1790 and named for George Washington. The town obtains its water supply from Royal Springs which produces 20,000 gallons of water an hour. The Springs were discovered and named in 1774 by Col. John Floyd, a pioneer adventurer and surveyor.

FARM NOTES

By Robert M. Jones
County Agent

We certainly hate to see Don Claypool leaving our Extension Staff. Don has been in Floyd county one and a half years and became acquainted with a lot of people in the county. He has worked very successfully with the 4-H program, and many accomplishments can be attributed to his efforts. Don is going to the University of Kentucky to work on his Master's degree. We wish him the very best of luck.

While we are sad with Don's leaving, we are equally happy to see David Gillespie join our staff. David comes to us from Berea College. He more recently has worked in Breathitt county as Assistant County Agent.

HOWARD FAMILY

Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Howard, of Dwale, gave a dinner last Friday night in honor of Don Claypool, who is leaving, and David Gillespie who has joined our staff. Of course, Jack Friar and I were also along. Mrs. Howard certainly can prepare a wonderful meal. Their son Jackie gave us a lesson in hog management. His 4-H Pig Chain project has grown until it would rank with the best in Kentucky.

Mr. Howard presented Mr. Claypool with a nice pen, given by the 4-H Council in appreciation of his work with the 4-H Clubs in the county.

FALL GARDENS

Our soils are extremely dry, but a late fall garden is still possible. The ground should be extremely disked to cut up weeds and work them into the soil. A fertilizer application of one pound of 10-10-10 or 12-12-12 fertilizer to 40 square feet should be applied. The seed can be broadcast, followed by a light raking. You can sow rape (Dwarf Essex), Spinach (Bloomsdale or Norfolk), winter kale (Siberian) and turnip greens (seven top), a mixture of these should yield a good supply of greens throughout the winter.

Radishes and turnips can be sown from now to October 1. These are little trouble to grow, and will supply many enjoyable meals.

To make money with hogs, it is necessary to look to the future and plan your operation accordingly. Agricultural Economics report that next June and July hog prices should reach their peak. Sows bred in the next two months will farrow between mid-December or mid-February. A good producer can have hogs topping the market in six months. This would be June or July. Except for local trade, practically no hogs are sold as fat hogs here in the county, but the same principles will apply if you are selling feeder pigs.

Old Talbot Tavern, on the court house square of Bardstown, has been in continuous operation since 1778. The Louis Philippe Room contains several oil paintings by Louis Philippe, Duke of Orleans and later King of France, painted while he was staying at the famous old Inn.

TO THE GOOD PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY

My Republican opponent for the office of County Judge has set out on a campaign to blast me personally instead of basing his appeal to the people on his own qualifications, ability, integrity and desire to do a good job in the service of Floyd county.

I have never resorted to such tactics in any election. In the recent primary I had honorable men as my opponents, and I said no word about any of them that would prevent us from living in peace and good will as next door neighbors. I do not believe in viciousness in any form, or in any individual, but I must, as you will surely agree, defend myself.

Next week I propose to answer in detail the questions and insinuations made by my opponent who is your present Sheriff. This week I should like to ask him a few questions of my own:

1. Why do you, Sheriff Collins, in your raids on bootleggers take the liquor but fail to arrest the person who handles it? You complain of the courts—what about you? Could it be that you merely are HEAD-LINE HUNTING, rushing out on a raid, then rushing back to get the news spread over the county—but leaving the bootlegger behind to bootleg as openly as before?
2. Why have you and your deputies failed so consistently to appear at the trial of these liquor cases? You raided them and you found their whiskey and beer—why not testify to the fact? Witnesses are necessary, you know.
3. To what court has all this whiskey, gin and beer that you have confiscated been taken? The law provides that such illegal liquors shall be turned over to a court of law.
4. Are you blaming Judge Hill and Commonwealth's Attorney Martin for all the cases dismissed in Circuit Court? They did dismiss some liquor cases, just as I have, you know.

Let's be fair, Sheriff. Hoodwinking the people is a job no man should undertake. We all are only human and subject to error.

I have made mistakes, I know, but I am sure I am not alone. You have made yours, and if you insist I will cite a few.

I ask the people of Floyd county to weigh the issues in this campaign carefully and not be influenced by sensational letters, handbills and advertisements which consider only one side. I am perfectly willing to rest my case in your hands, for I have a deep respect in the good sense of the people.

Sincerely,
HENRY STUMBO

Ewes on Bluegrass Conceive Faster in Test

Lexington, Ky. — Ewes grazing all season on bluegrass pasture conceived (settled) about three weeks earlier than those grazed all season on such legumes as ladino clover and birdsfoot trefoil pasture, says H. H. Pierce, UK Extension Service pasture specialist.

Pierce said checks were run in Ohio on the different types of pastures. The ewes on bluegrass pastures tended to have an earlier heat period, he said; 66 per cent of these ewes lambed on the first service, while only 41 per cent of the ewes on the ladino clover lambed on first service.

When workers checked the ewes on ladino clover and birdsfoot trefoil, they found what they call "estrogenic activity," in these animals. This activity makes it a little more difficult for the ewes to conceive.

Monticello in Wayne county was named for the Thomas Jefferson estate and settled prior to 1800.

ROD, RULE, ROCK AND REIGN

Dear Readers:

I am coming to you with four big "R's". First, I would like to explain the picture which is an exception to the rule. My rod of iron is to represent Jesus Christ and the Holy Spirit. There is a picture of Governor A. B. Chandler and one of my first born son, Foster Meade, his wife and their only daughter, Eva Carole Meade. Beside me is Karen Behymer, age 8. She is the daughter of Edward and Bonnie Behymer, of Latonia, Kentucky. Bonnie is also my first born. Her father is Levi Hall. I know Karen is my granddaughter because her mother is my daughter.

Grandmother is mentioned once in the Bible. (2nd Timothy Chapter 1, verses 1-5). When the picture was made we were standing on the sidewalk. In the background you can see the tall corn in my "Dedicated Garden".

Our first governor, Joseph, was the first-born of his mother, the favorite wife of Jacob, worked fourteen years for the one he loved best. Joseph, his favorite son, had only one whole brother Benjamin. After Joseph made himself known to his brothers and talked rough to them to prove them, he gave Benjamin five times more than the others. (Genesis chapter 45, verse 22).

Our Governor of Kentucky is visiting the Holy Land and I held up my rod and his picture to ask a special blessing on him and Mrs. Chandler while they are away.

Now this is a serious year! Men and nations must get right with God and each other if they want peace and prosperity. I am doing all I know to do to please God and if truth and justice doesn't please men my work will stand, anyway. My Bible says if a man's ways please the Lord, He will make his enemies at peace with him. That stands good for women, too. It is time for qualified men and women to stand up and be counted.

Rod of Moses (Exodus Chapter 4); Rod of Aaron (Numbers Chapter 17 and Hebrews Chapter 9, verse 4); Budded and blossomed over night (Isaiah chapter 9, verse 6 and chapter 11, verses 1 and 2); Rule the nation with a rod of iron (Revelations Chapter 19, verse 6). This is speaking of Jesus Christ's rule. He that rules over men must be just ruling in fear of God. (2nd Samuel Chapter 23, verse 3 and Colossians Chapter 3, verse 15); built Church on rock (St. Matthew chapter 16, verse 8 and Isaiah chapter 17, verse 10). For if by one man's offense death reigned by one; much more they which receive abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousness shall reign in life by one, Jesus Christ. (Romans Chapter 5, verse 17). So, you see, it is not the church nor politics that saves, it is the blood of Jesus Christ. God bless America to forget foolishness and names such as Democrats and Republicans, Catholics and Baptists, and pull together like a team of white horses and go on conquering.

I am a crucified Christian and the Lord's free woman. I am deeply interested in a great spiritual awakening among leaders in high places. I am sure if I could get cooperation Kentucky and Floyd county (especially Floyd county) would be a better place for our grandchildren to live.

Sincerely and Prayerfully
EVA MEADE HALL
(Adv.)

Dr. Rose To Head Next March of Dimes

The 20th Anniversary March of Dimes in Kentucky, scheduled for January 2-31, will be headed by Dr. Frank A. Rose, Lexington, president of Transylvania College. Dr. Rose was state chairman of the polio campaign last January which raised $675,000.

The 1958 March of Dimes marks 20 years since Franklin D. Roosevelt, himself severely stricken by paralytic polio, organized the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis to "lead, direct and unify" the fight against polio. In these short 20 years money given by the American people to the March of Dimes financed an all-out scientific effort to control the dreaded crippler and resulted in the development of the safe and effective Salk vaccine.

People who can easily pay any price say:

"Pay more... what for? Ford's the buy!"

Why? Because this 1957 Ford gives you the advanced features, the solid ride, the effortless handling that you once expected to find only in expensive cars. And when it comes to looks, where can you find fresher styling than in the sculptured-in-steel lines of this new Ford?

Ford's superiority is evident in many places. In the vital rear axle, the pinion gear that turns the rear wheels is straddle-mounted... supported between two anti-friction bearings instead of being "overhung" from a single bearing. This makes operation quieter, smoother and longer-lasting. It's a feature that Ford shares with only one other car maker in the world—Rolls Royce.

Or consider Ford's famous V-8 engine. No other manufacturer in the industry today electronically balances every V-8 engine, while operating under its own power, the way that Ford does. This means you get a smoother-running engine—the finest V-8 in Ford's 25 years of V-8 leadership.

These are only a few of the important hidden values that are yours in Ford. But they indicate why so many people who can pay almost any price for a car—people who have driven expensive cars for years—are buying Ford today. Action Test this great performing car at your Ford Dealer's just once and you, too, will ask, "Pay more... what for?"

State Advises Needy Persons On Home Budgets

Frankfort, Sept. 3 (Spl.) — The state is providing public assistance recipients a consultant service in home economics, according to Commissioner V. E. Barnes of the Department of Economic Security.

Barnes said, "In our Children's Services Division we have, in addition to social workers, a trained home economist. These work closely with the Division of Public Assistance which administers the State's grant-in-aid programs — old age assistance and aid to the needy blind, dependent children and the totally disabled."

The commissioner added, "We can't supply more than just enough to meet the bare necessities of the needy and we don't pretend to police their use of the assistance grants provided them. We can and are, however, offering counseling services to many such needy families."

Barnes said "recipients of state aid are recognizing the practical values of this new consultant service in stretching pinched family budgets to meet basic needs. The new service has economic and social values to the recipients, their communities and the state."

Barnes explained that the consultant aids a needy family by advising in the drafting of its budget, making shopping tours with family members and counseling on grocery buying methods. The consultant advises on food values and diet balance and teaches the family how to do certain things for itself in order to live on limited funds, Barnes said.

DISABILITY VETERANS TO GET PAY INCREASE NEXT MONTH

More than 40,000 disabled veterans in Kentucky will get higher compensation checks for service-connected disabilities, starting with checks mailed out at the end of October, 1957, Ray R. Adams, manager of the VA regional office in Louisville said this week.

Public Law 85-168, signed by the President on August 27, authorizes the increased payments, Adams said.

Veterans already on VA's compensation rolls need take no action to get the raise, he emphasized. It will be paid automatically.

Also increased will be the special allowances for dependents paid veterans whose service-connected disabilities are rated at 50 percent or more. With a few exceptions, the increase will be approximately 10 per cent across the board, except for totally disabled veterans rated at 100 per cent, whose boost from $131 to $225 per month amounts to 24.3 per cent. Unchanged are three statutory rates, two of them at $47 each, involving the anatomical loss, or loss of use, of one part of the body, and the third, at $67 as the minimum rate for arrested tuberculosis. These rates may be payable in addition to the percentage of ratings for service-connected disabilities.

Compensation rates payable to veterans whose service-connected disabilities were suffered during peacetime service under non-extrahazardous condition are 80 percent of the new wartime rates. Peacetime service disabilities suffered under extrahazardous conditions may be payable at the wartime rates.

Not affected by the increase are the compensation rates paid survivors of veterans whose deaths were service-connected, not pensions paid wartime veterans or their widows or children for non-service-connected disability or death.

Following are both old and new wartime rates of compensation paid to veterans for service-connected disabilities:

Service-Conn. Disability	Old Wartime Rate	New Wartime Rate
10 percent	$ 17	$ 19
20 percent	33	36
30 percent	50	55
40 percent	66	73
50 percent	91	100
60 percent	109	120
80 percent	145	160
90 percent	163	179
Total disability	181	225

KENTUCKIETTE

Legend records that Thomas Metcalfe, a Kentucky governor and U. S. Senator, once won a race riding two horses.

The feat, the story goes, was in response to a challenge by a Virginian who came to Nicholas County with a mount that he boasted could outrun anything on hoofs. Kentucky pride responded and the local gentry declared a barefoot lad of the community could ride two horses at once and still beat the Virginian. This lad was Metcalfe.

During the race, one of Metcalfe's horses had to leap a stump, upsetting the future governor's equilibrium somewhat, but he was not thrown. He overtook the Virginian and finished a full length ahead.

RANDOM BITS

In its war on undulant fever, Kentucky is spending $400,000 a year to combat its source—brucellosis in cattle.

The first project in Kentucky's new system of federal superhighways will be construction of a six mile stretch from the Kentucky Turnpike terminus at Elizabethtown south to the Nolin River.

Kentucky's Division of Fisheries is handling more than 8,000 applications from farmers a year to stock ponds with fish.

Kentucky's school buses transport 277,333 pupils a total of 150, 181 miles a day.

The Kentucky Historical Society has a full-length portrait of Lafayette, painted by Kentucky artist, Matthew H. Jouett, as a memento of the French hero's visit to Kentucky in 1825.

ALCOHOLISM RANKED MAJOR ILL WITH 5,000,000 VICTIMS IN U.S.

Washington, June 30—Alcoholism today claims nearly 5,000,000 victims in the United States. It ranks with heart disease, cancer and mental illness as one of four major health problems.

America is spending millions to curb the other three diseases—and is getting results. But we have yet to launch an effective national fight against alcoholism. The number of alcoholics is growing at a rate of at least 100,000 a year.

These are some of the findings of a United States Press survey into the status of the long-promised "counter-attack" against alcoholism. The survey showed heartening progress in some areas—notably in new treatment techniques which today offer the alcoholic a bright prospect of recovery if he seeks competent help.

But it also showed that only a small percentage of alcoholics are receiving the treatment they need. There are still vast gaps in our knowledge about this affliction. And, in the words of Dr. William C. Menninger, the famous psychiatrist, "only a pittance of money is being devoted to changing the picture."

The present scope of the alcoholism problem—and our comparatively feeble efforts to deal with it—are demonstrated in the

COST IS HIGH

Washington, June 30—Americans spend more than 10 billion dollars a year on alcoholic beverages—approximately the same sum that they invest in education.

Last year they consumed 234,932,922 gallons of 100-proof distilled spirits; 90,697,911 barrels of beer; and 509,156,342 gallons of wine.

Consumption of distilled spirits has increased about 23 per cent since 1950. Beer consumption has gone up about nine per cent, and wine about 260 per cent.

Following facts, supplied by the American Medical Association, the National Council on Alcoholism, the Yale Center of Alcohol Studies, the National Institute of Mental Health and state alcoholism agencies:

If you drink alcoholic beverages—and well over half of all American adults do—the statistical odds are one in 15 that you will become an alcoholic.

Medical science no longer draws the distinction that was popular a few years ago between "problem drinkers" and alcoholics. It now applies the diagnosis of alcoholism to any drinker who depends on alcohol to meet the ordinary demands of living and who after alcohol has begun to cause him serious problems at home or at work.

Alcoholism, thus defined, is increasing in all parts of the country, in all segments of society, and at all age levels from 20 to 65. The number of women alcoholics is growing especially fast. Before prohibition, only one out of 25 alcoholics was a woman. Today, the ratio is at least one out of five—some authorities say much higher.

It is easy to underestimate the incidence of alcoholism because it is an "iceberg" problem—90 per cent hidden from sight. For every Skid-Row type of alcoholic, whose deterioration of mind and body has become too great to be disguised, there are nine "hidden alcoholics" who are in the early or middle stages of this progressive disease.

These "hidden alcoholics" are still able to keep up appearances. They continue to function, at least part time, as wives and mothers, or as business and professional men. The vast majority of them will not acknowledge, even to themselves, that they have lost control over their drinking and have become addicted to alcohol.

The real cost of alcoholism can not be measured, because no one can put a price tag on a broken home, a brilliant career down the drain, a human life that turns into a nightmare of hangovers, black outs, broken promises and uncontrollable cravings.

But a minor part of the cost can be estimated. Wage losses attributed to alcoholism amount to $432,000,000 a year. When you add in higher crime and accident rates, law enforcement and medical expenses, authorities consider one billion dollars a year a conservative figure for the direct, countable cost of alcoholism.

And what are we spending to combat this menace? The one-word answer suggested by the survey is "peanuts."

Thirty-three states and the District of Columbia now have official alcoholism programs. Some of them exist mainly on paper. Others operate clinics and hospitals, and conduct research and public education services.

For the support of all of these programs, state legislatures last year voted a grand total of $3,923,100.

The number of patients treated by all state-supported facilities in 1956 was 22,906—or less than one out of every 200 of the nation's alcoholics.

The research picture is equally bleak. A check of major federal state and private agencies turned up a total annual outlay of less than $700,000 for scientific studies of alcoholism. This is only one-fifth as much as the Agriculture Department spends each year for research on foot-and-mouth disease in cattle.

The need for a much broader research effort has long been recognized by scientists. Seven years ago, the National Research Council announced, with considerable fanfare, the appointment of a special committee on alcohol problems. It was stated that this committee would act as a central coordinating body, directing a nationwide scientific assault on the unsolved problems of alcoholism.

The committee's principal activity to date has been to parcel out modest research grants from funds provided by the licensed beverage industries. During the 1956-57 fiscal year, it supported 14 projects totaling $38,400. The committee has not met for more than a year. It has at present no chairman, no staff, and no plans for the future.

There is, however, another privately-supported organization which shows promise of doing for alcoholism what the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has done for polio, and what the National Heart Association has done for heart disease.

It is called the National Council on Alcoholism, Inc. Its national headquarters are at 2 East 103rd Street, New York, and it has 51 local affiliates in all parts of the country. Its directors include many of the top physicians and psychiatrists in the nation who have been actively interested in alcoholism.

The council's avowed goal is to "rouse public opinion and mobilize it for action" against alcoholism. With a very limited budget, it has so far had to confine its activities primarily to public education.

But it is now seeking to expand its work to include research and treatment facilities. It hopes to raise $500,000 from private contributions this year, and more in the future.

'Hot' Material Handled With Aid of 31D TV

London—English scientists can handle radioactive materials more than half a mile away through a novel television arrangement that gives a three-dimensional picture. The cameras provide right-and-left-eye views, which are superimposed. Wearing polarized glasses, the scientists see a composite view in 3-D and can carry on their work better with master manipulators that handle the distant radioactive materials.

American Spending In Europe Climbs

Washington—The Commerce Department reports that foreign expenditures of American traveling abroad show that Europe has become the principal foreign travel market. Expenditures there by American travelers rose to $473,000,000 in 1956 an increase of $43,000,000, or 10 per cent, over 1955. Expenditures in Canada and Mexico were about 6 per cent higher.

"A remarkable new automobile joins the Ford family of fine cars"

There has never been a car like the Edsel. It is a magnificent automobile. Behind it lie all the resources of Ford Motor Company, all of the experience and engineering skill. The results: The Edsel is powered by the newest V-8 engines in the industry—the Edsel 400 and the Edsel 475. Specifications: 400 and 475 foot-pounds of torque; 303 and 345 horsepower; 10.5 to 1 compression ratio. The Edsel's big, safer brakes do not need periodic tightening.

They adjust themselves automatically in the course of your day-to-day driving.

The Edsel shifts itself. With Teletouch Drive, you just touch a button on the steering wheel hub. Teletouch Drive does the rest—smoothly, surely, electrically.

The Edsel's list of available new features includes contour seats; a warning light that flashes when you exceed your pre-set speed limit; another that flashes when oil is one quart low; a release that lets you open the luggage compartment from the driver's seat. There are many things that make the Edsel different from any other car you have driven. More exciting, more sure, more safe. What does an Edsel cost? Prices range from just above the lowest to just below the highest. You can afford an Edsel. And you can choose from four series, 18 models.

Stop in soon at your Edsel Dealer to see and drive the newest car in the world: the Edsel.

COUGARS WIN FIRST IN SERIES

Elkhorn City football fans were in a rejoicing mood Monday night following the school's first football triumph over Pikeville in the history of the Pike county rivals.

In registering the 12-0 verdict, Arthur Mullins' charge could have won by a much larger count, had not so many penalties been inflicted. Pikeville, looking far from defending E.K.M.C. champs, made only one serious scoring threat and that came after two successive 15-yard penalties by the over-zealous Cougars.

CATS PLAY RACELAND

On previous schedules, Prestonsburg was listed as having an open date this Friday, but school officials have carded Raceland for a game in the Greenup county city Friday night. Raceland, now down to a squad of only 14 players, lost its opening game to Catlettsburg, 26-0, last Friday.

GYM COMPLETION BY JANUARY 15

Prestonsburg's basketball team will play the first half of its 1957-58 basketball schedule on the road, but Coach Jack Frost Wells has been assured by the contractors that the gym will be ready for use by the second semester of school, around Jan. 15. Hindman, Belfry, M. C. Napier, Elkhorn City, Valley High, Fleming-Neon and other schools in addition to Floyd county schools will appear in the new playhouse.

PLAYER OF THE WEEK

Joe Jack Harris, senior 145-pound halfback, was named Black Cat Player-of-the-Week in Prestonsburg's 40-0 conquest of Wheelwright last Friday.

The agile speedster scored three touchdowns, one a 54-yard jaunt, and gained more than half of the Black Cats' ground yardage. His picture is now on display in Francis Stores, as will be each week's selection throughout the season.

LIVING COSTS RISE IN JULY

Costs Establish Record For 11th Month in Row Is Government Report

Washington, Aug. 22—The cost of living rose in July and for the 11th straight month set a new record, the Government reported Thursday.

The July increase was a half of a percent, raising the Labor Department's consumer-price index to 120.8 per cent of the 1947-49 level. A Department spokesman indicated that no great decline was expected for August.

The latest jump means a wage increase for some 1,300,000 workers whose salaries are tied to the index. The increases will range from one to 6 cents an hour, with the bulk of the workers getting an additional 3 cents.

Most of the workers whose pay will go up are in the automobile, farm-equipment, and electrical industries. The Big auto makers announced an increase of 3 cents for 700,000 hourly workers, and increases for 188,000 salaried workers.

Smaller groups in local transit, metal industries, and trucking are due to get raises. About 120,000 are in Westinghouse electric plants.

Average spendable earnings of factory production workers went up 15 cents a week in July, the Labor Department said, but the increase was canceled out by price rises.

The July average spendable pay for a worker with three dependents was $75.46 and for a worker without dependents $68.05. Considering the price increases, purchasing power of these workers declined by three tenths of a per cent as compared to June, but was still 1 1/2 per cent above a year ago.

The Labor Department pointed to food as the villain in the latest price rise—particularly the breakfast staples, bacon, eggs, and fresh fruit.

Food makes up about 30 per cent of the Government's price index and its price rose by a full per cent, on the average.

The 70 percent of the items that make up the rest of the price index showed an over-all increase of only a fifth of a percent. Apparel was the only major item that showed a decline over the month.

Prestonsburg's Black Cats opened their 1957 football in impressive manner last Friday night as they downed the inexperienced Wheelwright Maroons, 40-0 before some 2,500 fans on the local field.

It took the Black Cats only four minutes and six seconds to register a 6-0 lead. Starting on their own 40-yard stripe, quarterback Paul P. Hughes, who excelled in hitting his receivers on nine of 12 attempts, pitched to Joe Harris for a ten-yard gain. Halfback Tom Harmon rolled twice for long gains to the 1, and Hughes skirted end for the marker.

After holding the Maroons on downs in the next series, Hughes whipped to end Glenn Anderson in a 32-yard pass scoring play and fullback James Allen booted the point after for a 13-0 lead with eight minutes playing time elapsed.

The invaders, showing promise for the future in freshmen Bill Cee and Bob Smith, failed to make the first down after the kickoff and Prestonsburg took over on their own 40. Hughes promptly tossed to Harmon, who romped 50 yards to the 10 and on the ensuing play Harris picked up the t. d.

Prestonsburg ran the count to 26-0 before halftime as center Wayne Dixon grabbed a Wheelwright fumble on the Maroon's 32-yard stripe. Sophomore James Allen, operating from the fullback post, went 15 yards to the 13. Then Hughes flipped to end Bobby Howell on the seven from which point Harris took Hughes' handoff for the score.

With Coach John Griggs substituting freely in the last half, Prestonsburg showed mid-season form in presenting a well balanced attack, although they only crossed the goal line twice, a five-yarder by Tom Harmon and a 54-yard elusive trek by J. Haris. Allen was successful on four of six extra point attempts. Prestonsburg will play Raceland in the Greenup county city this Friday night.

Enforcement Is Called Best Toll Deterrent

Atlantic City, N. J.—Strict enforcement of "adequate" driver laws is one of the greatest deterrents to automobile accidents, according to the president of the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators.

C. H. Lamb, who also serves as Virginia's commissioner of motor vehicles, said safety-education campaigns and appeals to the motoring public have failed to reduce traffic accidents.

"It has often been said," Lamb declared, "that an adequate driver-license law, competently administered and enforced, is the best advice available for accident prevention."

Lamb's comments were made at the 36th annual meeting of the Eastern conference of the Motor Vehicle Administrators' Association.

In his speech, Lamb urged extension of driver improvement programs to every state and Canadian province.

The Eastern region is composed of 11 states, the District of Columbia, and six Canadian provinces.
