This Town— That World

A pedestrian, we are told, is a man who thought one car was enough for his family.

TIT FOR TAT It isn't often that we publish poetry, and we aren't sure we're doing that even now, but this seems so appropriate (and it can be turned around next spring): Tired teachers were in clover Last springtime when they gave Those impish youngsters over To mothers worn and grave; But now their facial features Are rather solemn, for The time has come for mothers To even up the score!

Squirrel-hunters may get back at us fishermen, after all. If this drouth persists, the river may get so dry a-body won't be able to slip on the fish.

DEFERRED PAYMENT This has something to do with a newspaper editor and religion, so it should be news.

There was the subscriber, an unbeliever, who wrote this editor a letter for publication. And this, in effect, is what he wrote:

"I plowed my ground on Sunday, planted my corn on Sunday, hoed it on Sunday, cut it on Sunday, pulled the corn and hauled it into the crib on Sunday. And this October I have the fullest crib in the county. Now what do you say about a man paying for his sins?"

The editor wasn't noted for his faith, but in publishing the letter he wrote this note at the bottom: "The Bible doesn't say anything about God settling His accounts in October."

LONG DROUTH EXACTS TOLL

Late Corn Crop a Loss, Pastures Hard Hit, Says County Agent in Report

The weeks-long drouth which this week's rain not only failed to break but also fell shy even of denting, has taken its toll of Floyd county's farm crops and gardens, County Agent Robert Jones said this week.

"Early corn has done pretty well, but late corn is whipped," Jones said. Pastures, he added, are badly dried up, but fall rains—when and if they come—will bring them back.

The potato crop was well toward "making itself" before the dry weather struck, yet it isn't up to par. Potatoes didn't grow off well from the start this year.

The lone aromatic tobacco crop growing in the county—the approximately half-acre grown by Garland Martin, of Eastern—is doing well, however. His tobacco is looking better than last year's crop, the County Agent said. Burley tobacco in this section and in the Blue Grass as well has suffered heavily from the drouth.

But one of the heaviest losses on farms of this section came along before the hot, dry days of August. Last April's frosts almost completely wiped out the Eastern Kentucky fruit crop. County Agent Jones said one Johnson county commercial apple-grower said his was the worst failure in 35 years.

GRAND JURY INDICTS PIKEVILLE ATTORNEY

HALL CLAIMS MONEY USED BY LAWYER

Deputy Sheriffs Accused Of False Arrest; Breaks Followed by Indictments

Of approximately 60 indictments returned by the grand jury before its recess Monday, 45 were of a serious nature and among these was the indictment of a well-known Pike county attorney on an embezzlement charge. The attorney, Kenneth Howe, of Pikeville, was accused of converting to his own use $5,668.31 in checks and currency acquired in a suit in which he represented Wayles Hall against the Clear Branch Mining Company and its surety, Lloyds of London. The offense, the indictment stated, was committed June 14, 1956.

Howe was indicted this year by the Pike circuit court grand jury in a similar case. A former Floyd deputy sheriff and two who are now deputies were also named in grand jury bills. Chester Neeley, who no longer is a deputy and who has been committed to a Lexington hospital, was accused of armed robbery, Marion Yates alleging that Neeley took his personal property on May 4. Deputies A. J. Reed and Joe Wheeler Lewis were charged with unlawful arrest in the arrest of David Derosssett, 17, at Estill. The indictment pointed out that they accused Derosssett of possessing liquor for the purpose of sale when he had committed no offense.

Charlie Nelson, of Paintsville, was named in a voluntary manslaughter indictment growing out of the death of a child, James Craft, on Little Paint when struck by Nelson's truck, June 13, 1956. Norman B. Hamilton, of Banner, was indicted on an armed robbery charge in connection with the hammer attack on Homer Borders at Allen and the robbery of a fruit market there where Borders was employed. Most numerous of major indictments voted were those alleging breaking and entering, grand larceny and robbery. Indicted for this offense were:

He was a member of the Pentecostal Church.

A native of Magoffin county, he was born Oct. 22, 1880, the son of William D. and Nancy Richardson Dotson. His wife, Eva Joseph Dotson, preceded him in death three years ago. JURORS HEAR MOORE STORY

Clerk Says His Report On Absentee Balloting Is Voluntarily Given

County Clerk DuRan Moore said Monday that he had voluntarily appeared before the grand jury after learning that Circuit Judge Edward P. Hill had advised the jury to investigate the handling of absentee ballots at the August primary election. At the same time he announced that any records or any employee of the Clerk's office are available to the grand jury.

"It is time the people know the truth about the absentee ballots . . ." Moore said in a statement he had prepared for the grand jury. He said he had not previously made a statement because the election was in litigation "and I thought the people would rather have a finding by the courts than a personal statement from one of the participants."

His statement pointed out that two special judges have found no irregularities sufficient to invalidate the absentee ballots and that their judgments have been affirmed by the Court of Appeals. "Still," he added, "there are those who would have you believe that my wife and I are guilty of gross misconduct in handling the absentee ballots."

He listed as "facts you may now know":

- 1. That there were only 301 absentee ballots cast out of a total of 14,080 Democratic votes and that this was a very small percentage of absentees in comparison with other counties.
2. That at least one other candidate received more absentee votes than he, Moore, did; that another received only seven fewer than he did, and that Judge Hill's absentee vote was only 13 less than his.
3. That in practically every county in the state the incumbent clerk received a higher percentage.

WIDOW OF FEUD VICTIM IN 1890 SUCCUMBS AT HOME NEAR HERE

A Floyd county woman into whose home came the stark tragedy of the Hatfield-McCoy feud of the 1890's died last Thursday.

The victim was Mrs. Martha Jane Baisden Wright, 87. She died at her home on Bull Creek, victim of a stroke and a heart condition following an illness of several weeks.

The famed mountain feud claimed the life of Mrs. Wright's first husband, John S. Baisden, whose slaying is said to have resulted from the fact that two of his sisters married McCoy's.

Harry Baisden, son of Mrs. Wright and her first husband, was seized by Hatfield partisans, while a mere babe and about the time his father was killed but the child was recovered by the family after he had been left by the roadside as dead. His father met death in a shooting affray at the Baisden home in Mingo county, West Virginia, near Lenore. Harry Baisden now resides at Oak Hill, Ohio.

A daughter of Hiram and Katherine Massie Wills, Mrs. Wright was born in what was at the time Carroll county, Va., but which is now Raleigh county, W. Va. She came with her family to Kentucky in 1879 in a wagon train. She was married to John S. Baisden in 1885 at the age of 15, and moved with her husband to Lenore, W. Va.

Soon after her husband's death, and against the advice of other members of her family, she returned to this county by horseback, bringing with her her son

MARTIN URGES OPEN PRIMARY

Candidate Also Says, Selection of Senator's Kin Would Be Approved

Commonwealth's Attorney Burnis Martin, of Prestonsburg, who last week became a candidate for State Senator to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Doug Hays, of McDowell, Tuesday wired Governor Chandler, asking that an "open primary" be called to select the Democratic nominee. "It is no secret," the telegram said in part, "that you control the Democratic executive committee in this district, and since you have repeatedly and consistently advocated that Democratic nominees be selected at an open primary rather than by political bosses, it is my opinion and the opinion

J. F. HOWELL IS NOMINATED

Democratic Committee Selects Floyd Chairman As Senatorial Candidate

Jerry Fonce Howell, Price merchant, Floyd county Democratic party chairman and former State Representative, Tuesday night was named the Democratic candidate to fill the unexpired term of the late State Senator Doug Hays.

His nomination was made by the district committee composed of the Democratic chairmen of the three counties in this Senatorial district—Mr. Howell from Floyd county, General Fugate from Knott and E. B. Mollett, of Martin county.

Commonwealth's Attorney Burnis Martin announced today (Thursday) that he is a Democratic write-in candidate for that office.

Governor Chandler Tuesday called a special election coinciding with the November 5 general election to choose a successor for the two-year unexpired term of the late Senator Doug Hays, of McDowell.

Under state and party law, it will be left up to the political committees of the three-county district whether to name their candidates by convention or primary. In past situations of this kind, they always have nominated by convention.

It is believed that Howell is generally favored to receive the nomination. He is a veteran of the House and was majority leader in 1946.

WOULD LIMIT HEALTH TAX TO 9 CENTS

Other Counties Vote Support, Board Says; Dedication Date Set

The Floyd County Board of Health last Friday adopted a resolution calling on the fiscal court to direct the County Clerk to submit to the voters via the November general election ballot the question of a health tax for Floyd county.

A majority vote for the tax would authorize a tax of not more than 9 cents on each $100 assessed valuation. This is the same maximum voted by Pike county last fall. Perry county voted the health tax to support and expand the services of its health department two years ago. Breathitt and Martin counties will submit the question to their citizens this fall.

M. V. Clark, administrator of the Floyd County Health Department, said the tax needed at first would not exceed 7 cents.

The fiscal court will meet Thursday, and it is expected at that time to adopt a resolution calling on the County Clerk to submit the question on the November ballot.

The question will read: "Are you in favor of establishing a public health taxing district for Floyd county which shall have the authority to impose a special ad valorem tax for the maintenance and operation of the Floyd County Health Department, provided that such special tax shall not exceed 9 cents on each one hundred dollars of the assessed valuation of all property in the district?"

The County Board of Health would be the fiscal authority for the district if the tax is voted.

The Board of Health at Friday's meeting also called on the State Board of Health to sponsor a fourth public health nurse for a period of seven of the nine months she would be employed. The health department has sufficient funds to pay the nurse's salary for two months, but will require state aid the remaining seven months of the period. The board recommended that Mrs. Jane Wal-

HARRIS BROS. IN NEW BUILDING LOOK BACK 11 YEARS

The three Harris brothers and their employes are photographed in front of their new building.

When the Harris Brothers Construction Company moved into its new building on South Lake Drive here a few weeks ago the brothers, Bascom, Irvin and Fred—looked back on 11 busy years since the day they opened in a little building down the highway that now serves as a small restaurant.

When the brothers began their business in those days immediately following World War II they—these three and a fourth brother, Floyd, who since has gone into other business—owned between them one model '41 truck. They borrowed some tools from the Kentucky & West Virginia Power Company, picked up eight or nine men and went to work.

"It was a shoestring proposition," they admit. They also will tell you that the business has been no get-rich-quick proposition. "There wasn't any splurging, we managed to stay out of debt and we developed as we could."

They haven't splurged, these brothers, but they have this new 30 by 80-foot brick-and-block building housing their offices and equipment, eight modern trucks with complete mechanical department to maintain this rolling stock, and also a full complement of all the equipment needed to cut right-of-way, sink holes for power and telephone poles, string electric transmission and distribution lines, install transformers, and make line repairs over a huge mountainous section of Kentucky and West Virginia.

As of this week, exactly 50 men were working for Harris Brothers. That includes the brothers, each of whom does his full share day after day. Bascom, eldest of the three brothers, manages different crews at varying points and jobs. Irvin plans the work, handles materials and keeps things moving. Fred, youngest of the three, runs one of the three "hot" crews. A "hot" crew is a gang of workers that handles the big stuff—lines bearing 6,900 volts of electricity and up.

The Harris Brothers have moved steadily, even cautiously, and yet they are one of the largest private employers in Floyd county.

The brothers work together harmoniously, and this is the spirit that pervades the whole organization. Their oldest employe, Lindsay Griffith, who had been working with them since 1946, retired two months ago. Majority of their employes have been working for them from six to 11 years. All these employes are local men. Bart Compton handles all the office work. "All these are good men," their employers emphasize.

The brothers got into the construction business because they had worked all their adult lives in that field and finally decided to strike out on their own. Floyd Harris, J. E. Harris and Forrest Burchett first formed the firm of Harris, Burchett & Harris, and the brothers took over from them, with Floyd Harris in the new firm. Their first job was the construction of a seven-mile power line for the Inland Steel Company to its new preparation plant at Price. Now the company does all line construction for the Kentucky Power Company in eight Kentucky counties, Floyd, Pike, Knott, Magoffin, Johnson, Morgan, Breathitt and Letcher, and for the Appalachian Power Company in McDowell and Mingo counties, West Virginia, and a Picture of the Christ Leads to Man's Arrest

Recognition here of a picture of Christ some five hours after the 7 p.m. Sunday burglary of the Raymond Joseph home, on Little Point Creek about three miles north of Prestonsburg helped to identify the guilty and solve the crime.

Loot of the Sabbath Day break-in included a television set and the picture which lights up electrically and sits atop the set as an ornament.

After discovery of the robbery, the Joseph family left home to visit relatives at "Joseph Flats" here. And that is where the guilty was almost caught flat-footed if not red-handed.

Near midnight a car drove up in front of the home of Mrs. German Saltsbury, an aunt of Joseph, and a man alighted offering to sell a television set "real cheap"—for only $20.

The television set was in the back seat of the car and so was the picture. Mrs. Joseph recognized the picture and the set. She grabbed the picture and accused the man.

During an exchange of words, others ran to get Mr. Joseph who was asleep a few yards distant at the home of some other relatives. The man suddenly terminated the verbal exchange by knocking Mrs. Joseph down as he leaped into his car and escaped with the set still in the car but with Mrs. Joseph still hanging onto her picture of Christ.

The Josephs immediately notified police who conducted a search for the escaping car. Mrs. Joseph and other members of the family told police they were positive of identification of the man who tried to sell the set and were certain that the set and picture were the ones taken from their home.

These figures were compiled as of September 1, 1957, which shows by registration on the books a Democratic majority of 5,181 in District One. Must Everybody Approve?

Racial integration in the schools is now a law of the land, confirmed by the highest court in the land. So is our income tax law.

The latter is unpleasant, and sometimes it and other taxes seem almost confiscatory. Yet there has been no revolt against it.

But this law of racial integration involving equality of human rights is revolting to a part of the county, and so there is rebellion against the authority of the United States.

If the turmoil that has arisen in the South, particularly in the state of Arkansas, is Communist-inspired, Red Russia has perhaps done its most effective work in this country. For the situation creates a dilemma for the President of the United States which threatens, if force is exerted to enforce the law, civil conflict which could clear the way for Red conquest of a divided nation; and which threatens, if force is not brought to bear and the Governor of Arkansas is permitted to exercise his authority in the name of state's rights and in conflict with federal law, to set a precedent for every other Southern state to follow.

Let us suppose that by action of the national Selective Service Act those National Guardsmen of Governor Faubus were to be called via the draft for Army service—would the rebellious Governor and his armed forces invoke the doctrine of state's rights, simply because they prefer to stay home, and refuse to obey another federal law?

We deeply sympathize with some Southern communities in the present crisis. We know that their problems are greater than are readily realized, inasmuch as the Negro population in some parts of the South far exceeds the white, and that for this reason some of the opposition of Southerners to integration is not motivated by racial hatred but is regarded as a necessity.

We know also that much of the so-called interest in the Negro race is far from simon-pure idealism. We know that this is a political issue, because there is a heavy Negro vote, and this knowledge is emphasized by the fact that the American Indian and his plight is little-discussed. Perhaps a study of the Indian, his low living standards, lack of educational facilities and the fact that he is shunted off into reservations would disclose the fact that here is, indeed, the most down-trodden people in all America. Interest in the Indian does not mount so high because he has fewer votes.

Yet the sins against the Indian do not erase those against the Negro. The matter of human rights is still there, and on this freedom and this equality America will over the long haul stand or fall.

of many of your supporters in this district that you should recommend to the executive committee that an open primary be called to determine the will of the people in regard to filling this vacancy."

In a letter Monday to Lt. Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield Mr. Martin suggested that the "old mountain custom of allowing a member of a deceased official's family to fill out their unexpired term" be followed in filling the vacancy. He added that he had in mind Senator Hays' son, Wickliffe, or his son-in-law, Willard Johnson — "either of whom," he wrote, "would add distinction to the office of State Senator."

And, he added, if neither of these relatives of the Senator is named, "I have a feeling that the Democratic voters of this senatorial district . . . will demand an open election where every qualified voter may express his preference."

The Times was told last week that the word "straight out of Frankfort" is that the primary will be open, with any and all who desire to run to be given an opportunity.

U. S. Farm Loans
Up $48,008,000

Washington—Agriculture Secretary Benson has announced that farmers borrowed $356,800,000 from the Farmers Home Administration in fiscal year 1957. This compares with $308,392,000 in the previous year.

About 51 per cent of the funds was used to pay operating costs, 30 per cent financed the purchase and improvement of farm real estate, and 19 per cent helped defray emergency expenses. The FHA extends credit to farmers who cannot obtain it from their local sources.

Approximately 200,000,000 people in the world today depend largely on the ocean for their everyday food, says a Twentieth Century Fund report.

FARM NOTES

By Robert M. Jones
County Agent

September is considered the best month to sow grass seed in the lawns. This applies both to new and old lawns.

On old lawns that don't have a good stand, sow ½ pound of good bluegrass seed per 1,000 square feet. On bare spaces scratch the ground with a rake, and tamp the soil after seeding. On grassy areas sow the seed on top of the grass. It will work into the soil.

Crabgrass is maturing seed now. Continue to clip the grass, and rake off the clippings to remove as much crabgrass seed as possible.

Plan now to fertilize your lawn in November. By this time crabgrass will be dead, and bluegrass will be starting to grow.

Every September, lawns should be seeded with bluegrass seed. Lawns have no chance of reseeding themselves, and will eventually die out if not reseeded.

New lawns should have an application of a complete fertilizer or lime before seeding. These should be raked into the soil along with 2½ pounds of rye grass per 1,000 square feet. Rye grass will come up fast, and provide a covering this winter. It will also provide a green lawn next spring. It will die out next year, as the bluegrass becomes established.

Make a seed mixture of five parts bluegrass and one part of redbud, and sow 2½ pounds of this mixture to 1,000 square feet. This should be sown on top of the lawn after the fertilizer and rye has been raked in. Don't rake the bluegrass but roll the lawn, this will put the seed in the soil.

If you have special problems with your lawn, you can call the County Agent's office for further information.

Next week all extension agents will be in Lexington attending our annual Extension Workers Conference. At this conference we are brought up to date on new methods and procedures enabling us to be of more service to you. Our Secretary, Ann Garrett, will open the office each day for your convenience.

LOOKING AHEAD

While I am on the subject of religion—and why shouldn't I be?—there is another story that is told. It has to do with a church wherein considerable jealousy and downright animosity had arisen, with one or two members actually fighting for church office and covertly threatening the pastor and just about everybody else who might oppose them.

Finally, one member of the congregation espied an old and honored brother who had served faithfully over the years at whatever job he was assigned to but who had never held church office. So, hoping on some agreement as to this one man's election, he presented him for office.

Whereupon the old Christian set his more ambitious brothers to shame by declaring: "No, never mind me, I'm not backing for a raise just now. The Raise I'm looking toward will come later."

WORK OF THE SUPER-RACE

The week's news from Little Rock and Nashville and other points where racial tension is causing the world to wonder if you have to have a pedigree to be an American recalls to mind the indignation expressed recently by a World War II veteran over such a situation.

"Every time I think of any human being suffering at the hands of another I think of the little Jewish boy I ran into in this village we were occupying," he said. "One or two others and I went into the village right immediately after the Germans fell back, and as I drove into the outskirts I saw this little boy running toward me as fast as he could run. His tongue was almost literally hanging out, he was so exhausted."

"I halted him and asked him what he was running from, and he said 'The Nazis.' In the few German words I knew I made further inquiry, and he took me to the burgomeister, or mayor of the town, and then I learned why the child was so terrified. The burgomeister took us out to the edge of town to a sort of dumping-ground, and we saw . . ."

"The Nazis had forced nine or ten Jews, men and women, to dig a trench, then they had assigned one to knock the others in the head. By doing this, the executioner was permitted to live longer. And they were all buried, or half-buried, there. Feet and hands stuck from the ground. The bodies were still warm . . . No wonder the poor child was running for his life."

"Now," he concluded after the usual number of interruptions from his listener, "whenever I think of one race mistreating another or hear folks arguing against equal rights between one person and another, I can see a little boy running, all out of breath, his life almost scared out of him."

A WOMAN'S REPLY TO ATHEISM

Editor, The Times:
This was written by Mrs. Joan Young Wilson, formerly of Allen, now of Lexington. She wrote it after hearing the name of God abused, and a denial of His existence voiced.

"Who doesn't believe in God? The beautiful blue skies, the green, green grass, the blue running brook, the flowers with colors more radiant than the rainbow, the sparkling snow on a winter night, the sweet smell of the earth after an April shower—

Oh, so much beauty to behold! Who doesn't believe in God?

"Life can be wonderful if we look for the good, Life can be sad if we look for the bad side, Life is given to us by God—why should mortal man destroy this life that is so precious to Him? He says, Honor thy father and mother and thy days will be long upon the earth, so also honor thy Father in heaven and we shall live our eternity with Him."

Stumbo Answers

It seems that my opponent is unable to read the public records of our Courts and interpret their meaning. His great "to-do" concerning the Gas & Water System purchase is nothing new. It's entire transaction has been properly presented to the courts, both State and Federal, and on each occasion nothing has been brought out that was not already a matter of record in the County Court Clerk's office as to the purchase and the manner in which the transaction was handled. All these facts have been gone into, the attempt to void the bonds by Circuit Court action was dismissed and no appeal taken. Then the recent litigation in Federal District Court at Pikeville, was publicized in the local paper and this case was decided in favor of the County. That decision definitely set out that the County is not liable for the payment of the bonds and interest, that only the water and gas system properties and their revenues can be liable for same.

Mr. Collins does not read the news well either, as The Floyd County Times only recently published the fact that the recent rate increase was fixed by the Federal Court and a Receiver appointed. This is a matter of record in the District Court Clerk's Office in Pikeville, only a short 30 miles if Mr. Collins desires to take a look at the record—or does he want to know the truth of any of his purported writings of fiction?

I might add as to the value of each particular system that Mr. Collins might ask his brother-in-law, George Evans, if the Glo system was priced too high, as he was one of the owners at the time of the sale. The records show who the sellers were, and the price for each system is set out, and if Mr. Collins wants to go to the record in the County Clerk's Office, it is public, has been on record since 1953, and he can publish all the record if he wishes. Yet he has never taken time to read this or bothered to become the so called "champion of the people" until he asks something in return—a vote. In fact, if it were not for election time the "great common people" would be completely ignored by my opponent, as he seems to take to their interest only every four years. I am sure the records will not disclose that I at any time ever received one dime by reason of the purchase of the Water & Gas System and my every act in the matter was made of record and appears on the Fiscal Court Order Book.

Mr. Collins would have you believe someone put $5,000.00 into the Water & Gas System just before this election to have it show a profit. If you recall, suit was pending in the Federal Court at election time and had been for some three months and I am sure no one did or would put up $5,000.00, since the amount in default, as set out in the litigation, as you will recall, was stated in the Floyd County Times as $11,500.00. Just another "misstatement."

The County and Fiscal Court were made a party to the Federal suit, and counsel was employed to assist the County Attorney in the matter. Had we not defended the suit, then Mr. Collins would have a right to complain, but since it was properly defended and the County was absolved from all liability, then surely Mr. Collins should not complain that for $1,500 the County was adjudged not to owe—according to his figures—$409,950.00. Don't you think on his own statement that he would be straining a point, and had he been County Judge would he have sat idly by and not employed Counsel. The rate increase and operation of the Water & gas System is out of the hands of the Fiscal Court and is being operated by Receiver under orders of the Federal Court, and I am sure neither Mr. Collins nor myself will be so foolish as to suggest what will be done. I believe in recognizing the orders of the Federal Court.

Mr. Collins took great pride in propounding questions in one issue of The Times concerning my appointing one or two County Patrolmen. I have the same right to appoint to this office that he has to appoint Deputy Sheriffs. Have you ever heard of me questioning his appointments? You know I have always found it best to let each elective officer run his own office and if his acts fail to meet the approval of the public, election time will usually tell, and I am sure this November will be no exception to the rule, as I believe the voters are well-informed on matters, not just a few weeks before the election but all through the terms of the office-holder.

One county Patrolman appointed by me had a fine recommendation from Mr. Collins and I hereby submit Mr. Collins' own letter as evidence:

Mr. Willie Johnson

Ligon, Kentucky

Dear Sir:

In regard to your retirement on your Social Security, as of the first of June, you will be replaced as district deputy, you will be retained as fee deputy that you may be of service to your friends and neighbors as you have in the past. We of this office appreciate the fine work you have done as district deputy and hope that you will continue through the remainder of our term in office.

We realize that no officer in this county is ever compensated in full for the great service he does for our people. You have many friends that you have accumulated in the past that you have stood between them and harm. We want you to continue doing the good that you have in the past and to help our new district deputy who will be appointed in the first of the month. You will continue to keep in your possession the radio, shotgun, and parafanalia that will become the charge property of the new deputy until he is installed.

Your friend

GORMON COLLINS
Sheriff, Floyd County

He has also had the other County Patrolman as Chief Deputy Sheriff, and certainly he must have selected each for his fitness for the office.

PHONE STRIKE SET MONDAY

200,000 CWA Workers, Including Kentucky's, May Stay Off Jobs

Washington, Sept. 11 — The Communications Workers Union today called a nationwide strike of telephone workers for Monday morning. The union said 200,000 persons would stay off their jobs. The Communications Workers of America (CWA) said 54,000 of its members who make and install telephone equipment voted overwhelmingly to walk out in a dispute over wages and the length of a new contract.

Joseph A. Beirne, CWA president, said picketing of exchanges in major cities would keep about 146,000 other workers, including operators, from their jobs.

Bierne expressed hope the walk-out could be averted through negotiations before the Monday deadline.

The threatened strike, against telephone companies affiliated with the Bell system, was scheduled for 6 a.m., local time, Monday in all states except Maine, Vermont and New Hampshire.

Federal Court Suit Asks $121,941 Total Of Pike Coal Company

Combs & Combs, Prestonsburg law firm, and Reese & Willard, of Wellston, O., represent the McNally Pittsburgh Manufacturing Corporation in a suit filed in U. S. district court at Pikeville this week to recover from the Eastern Coal Corp., of Stone, Pike county, $121,941.10.

Of the total demand, $91,679.06 is represented by 55 notes executed Jan. 3, 1956 by the defendants in payment of balance due on a coal cleaning plant the plaintiff furnished and erected for the coal company at Stone. A purchase money conditional sales contract executed by the coal company provides that all the notes become due upon default of payment of any one. The petition alleges that defendant has failed and refused to pay any part of the notes.

The remaining $30,262.04 of the total sued for is claimed for "Dry-close" centrifugal dryers and other related equipment and accessories sold to defendant.

THREATS AGAINST HAPPY REPORTED FROM MOREHEAD

MOREHEAD, Ky., Sept. 11 — "Some special precautions" in the way of police protection were taken Monday prior to Gov. A. B. Chandler's address at the Morehead State College Field House, Chairman W. E. Crutcher of the arrangements committee disclosed today.

Chandler's appearance before a crowd of more than 5,000 was billed as a major policy speech.

Crutcher, a weekly newspaper editor who introduced the governor, charged Monday night that a planned 23-station radio network broadcast of the talk was "sabotaged" by someone who loosened a wire in a terminal box only moments before the scheduled air time.

He disclosed today that the broadcast failure was not the only unusual sidelight to Chandler's appearance. Speaking for the arrangements committee, he said, "We received notice three times Sunday of threats against the governor."

"You are sort of used to hearing things like this because 'Happy' Chandler is a controversial figure, loved by his friends and hated by his enemies," Crutcher said. "But one telephone call of warning came from a right prominent and level-headed citizen of a nearby town in Eastern Kentucky."

"We then went to Capt. Vernon Saunders, head of the district State Police at Morehead. He said he had also heard about the threats and that some people were coming to Morehead prepared to raise hell."

Saunders stationed eight plainclothes state detectives in the Field House near the speakers' platform, Crutcher said.

The captain said he didn't want to put uniformed men inside the building because "Happy never liked anything like that."

"We did have eight uniformed men on the outside, ready to move on any word from a walkie-talkie which we had inside the building," Saunders said.

There were no untoward incidents in the Field House during the program.

Only the last 7½ minutes of Chandler's 45-minute talk got on the air and even that portion only to a few stations, Crutcher said. He reiterated today that he felt there had been "sabotage."

"There simply were too many coincidences," he said.

Crutcher said there were several calls to the effect that crowds would be sent to Morehead to "tear up" the meeting. There were no threats against the governor's life, the editor added.

He said the precautions were taken because some people in neighboring areas are "pretty roused up" over rights-of-way purchases for relocating U. S. 60.

By Way of Introduction

I am JOYCE SHORT ALLEN of Prestonsburg, Ky., Republican nominee for County Court Clerk. I was born on Right Beaver Creek at Langley on November 6, 1930.

My mother is Theckley Osborne Short, daughter of Mary Ratliff Osborne or "Aunt Mary-Milt," as she is known to many friends and relatives throughout the county and the late J. M. "Milt" Osborne, of Eastern, Ky.

My father was the late Kenneth Short, who came to Floyd county in 1927-28 on construction of the compression stations at Warco and Goldman and was widely known in this county, especially among the gas company personnel and their families.

You, the voters, have been asking about the "Short" of my name and as stated above it was my maiden name which I retained as part of my name after my marriage to JAMES P. ALLEN, of Harold, Ky., son of James "Jim" Allen and Lillie Sturgill Allen, also of Harold, Ky. After my marriage, I became aware of at least two other Joyce Allens in Floyd county and therefore decided to write my name JOYCE SHORT ALLEN as a matter of record.

I sincerely hope I will have the opportunity to personally meet and talk with you but if I cannot, I wish you would inquire among your relatives and friends as to my qualifications for clerk.

Sincerely yours,

JOYCE SHORT ALLEN

DEMOCRAT DEPUTIES

Our deputies have been working for our present sheriff, Gorman Collins, for sometime. Incidentally, he is a Republican and we are Democrats, we are also for a better Floyd county. The reason for our still working under the strain of threats, no cooperation in some of our courts and no backing from some of our elected officials—are "we have always been instructed to do the right thing at all times. We have been told to enforce the law especially as to bootleggers and drunken driving."

We know that our sheriff has worked harder than any previous Sheriff and under a greater strain physically and mentally. He has spent much of his own money to give you better protection. He has given you a radio system, the first in Eastern Kentucky—with the help of the people in this county who believe that our county should advance. They bought the system with their contributions. Your County Judge has not seen fit to even insure this $6,000.00 worth of your equipment even though he and the Fiscal Court have been asked to do so. Two of these sets were blown up. One in Sheriff Collins' car, one in a deputies car, Silas Derossett. Sheriff Collins had to pay for the repairs out of his own pocket. Do you know that Sheriff Collins pays a maintenance man for this system $50.00 a month and repair parts for these sets out of his own pocket. Do you know that the County Judge and the Fiscal Court has not appropriated one cent for this system and not one cent on repairs, insurance, or anything else in this system. Your County Judge has done very little for law enforcement in this county. We have stayed with our present sheriff because we believe in him and know what he stands for. He has never deviated from his ideals. He is the same man you elected four years ago. We have stuck with him at a sacrifice to our families and ourselves, and will stick until his term is finished—regardless of the County Judge's private police force, and whether or not he helps in enforcement or cooperation. We must comment upon last week's disgraceful slur made about one of our fellow officers regarding the case of Cora Weddington for drunkenness. His remark: "Dismissed, Deputy Sheriff fails and refuses to appear in court to testify against defendant." This is not true. We have never refused to testify against anyone who is brought into court. We have worn out two or three automobiles coming to the court where the case will be laid over until an officer can't be in court. In this same article he states 17 cases were dismissed, 26 continued. This is the 26 that he has continued as he has many others. When the officers have to be out serving papers or making arrests and can't appear then this 26 will be dismissed. Judge Stumbo, WE KNOW SO WELL WHOSE TEAM YOU ARE ON. Surely not on our enforcement team.

A warning—all laws will be rigidly enforced even with an election approaching. There is just one issue in this election. ARE YOU FOR OR AGAINST LAW ENFORCEMENT?

ANDREW J. REED, D. S.

Toyko, — The Tokyo City government claimed Thursday that the Japanese metropolis has become the largest city in the world passing New York and London.

The metropolitan office said Tokyo's population reached 8,518,622 August 1.

A special census conducted in New York last July put that city's population at 7,771,509, a drop of 120,448 from the 1950 federal census standard.

Reference works put "greater" London's 1956 head count at 8,270,430.

18 SCHOOLS ENROLL 9,192

Grade Gains Heavy, High School Slight; Three Schools Lose

The younger, the Young Idea, the more numerous he is becoming, school enrollment records gathered since the larger schools of the county began their terms last week indicate.

This is shown in the totals which have grade school children gaining in enrollment over those of last year by almost 400 while there appears to be only 85 more in high school this year than in 1956.

The figures are not definite for Auxier and David grades, but those made available show that there are 6,425 enrolled in the grade departments of the 18 schools which recently began their 1957-58 sessions. In the 10 high schools 2,767 are enrolled.

The enrollment, countywide, shows only a small gain, but all except three of the larger schools have increased enrollments; it was said at the County Superintendent's office. Only Wheelwright had losses in both the grades and the high school. Allen and Bosco grade school lost slightly.

The total enrollment reported from each school follows:

Allen	344	355
Auxier	203	200
Betsy Layne	802	745
Bosco	109	116
David	157	152
Drift	291	264
Dwale	110	127
Garrett	580	504
Harold	194	180
Martin	795	770
Maytown	611	540
Melvin	337	320
McDowell	1,000	899
Palmer-Dunbar	94	91
Prestonsburg	1,500	1,383
Wayland	638	618
Weeksbury	255	231
Wheelwright	1,172	1,205

REV. WRIGHT ENDORSES STEPHENS FOR Ct. CLERK

I wish to take this means of endorsing Henry Stephens, the Democratic nominee for Circuit Court Clerk. He is not only honest but has the endorsement upon the records of the Circuit Court as being one of the best and most efficient Clerks in the state of Kentucky.

Henry is a first cousin to my first wife, Nancy Ousley and I have known him for many years and his record as an official is one of the best and no one can say otherwise and tell the truth. He knows all people serve the same God and that there is only way to eternal life. It makes no difference with Henry whether you are a Republican or Democrat, he treats all humanity alike. A man of his type is justly entitled to our support and vote, and you might say solely on his qualification alone, if nothing more.

I was born and reared very close to where Henry was reared. He has been a man who spent a great part of his life in helping others in time of need. You can't go wrong when you support men of his ability and you may rest assured that you will receive honest consideration and an office well filled.

I am respectfully yours
REV. M. C. WRIGHT
(Pol. Adv.)

CARD OF THANKS
We acknowledge with deepest gratitude every kindly act and consoling word, the beautiful floral offerings and all personal services rendered by so many friends upon the recent passing of our loved one, Doug Hays. We are especially grateful to the ministers, the Rev. Jerry Hall, of Ligon, Jerry Hall, of Drift, Mack McCloud, Frank Hopkins, Mitchell Chaffins, M. C. Wright and Banner Manns for their comforting words and to the Hall Brothers Funeral Home for its efficient services.

Caney Alumni Meet Is Scheduled Sunday; Dorm Funds Needed

A general meeting of the Caney Alumni Association will be held at Pippa Passes, Sunday, it was announced this week by Charles Clark, of Garrett, Association president.

"We hope to make this the best meeting we have ever had in the three years the Association has been functioning," Mr. Clark said. One of the items of business to be discussed is the raising of funds to complete the boys' dormitory under construction as an Alumni Association project. A $10,000 incentive gift will become available when enough funds are raised to make that $10,000 the last amount needed for the building.

Registration of alumni will begin at 11 a.m. A basket dinner will be spread on the sub-floor of the incomplete dormitory building, and the business session will follow.

Among those invited to the meeting is Joe Creason, Courier-Journal writer. Mr. Clark urged that every alumnus of the Caney Creek school attend.

Floyd county Homemakers held their landscape project leader training meeting September 3 at the Health Center, Prestonsburg. Dr. N. R. Elliott, landscape architect, University of Kentucky conducted the lesson. Present were 16 project leaders representing five homemaker groups and one Homemaker Club.

Three goals were set for this fall: Clean up the surroundings of the home, seed a good lawn and use shade trees to "frame" the house. Every homemaker is being urged to take part in the project, which is the beginning of an 18-month program. Each group will have a leader who will work with the project.

FLU VACCINE PLAN SOUGHT

Floyd Medical Group, Others Urged To Prep For Immunization Job

The Floyd County Medical Society and other similar groups over the state, working with local health officials, were urged this week by the Kentucky State Medical Association to develop and put into operation plans for immunizing against Asian flu, said Dr. Richard R. Slucher, of Buechel, president of the Association.

At present, the supply of vaccine is limited. It will be available in increasing quantities each month, with an adequate supply anticipated by late winter. Until there is ample vaccine, the Association recommends the following priority for giving the vaccine:

1. Medical service groups (those who serve the sick).
2. Those rendering key public service (including firemen, policemen, transportation workers, food handlers, utilities people and school teachers).
3. Special risks (including those who have TB, heart conditions, the very old, and infants), and school children (because school premises might become a breeding ground for the disease, it was urged that school children receive the shots as soon as available).
4. All others.

Dr. C. C. Howard, Glasgow, chairman of the KSMMA Public Health Committee which developed the Association's program for Asian flu, urged the public to continue to take precautions against other types of flu with regular flu vaccines. He emphasized that regular flu vaccines could be taken at the same time as the Asian flu vaccine without harm.

Dr. Russell E. Teague, state commissioner of health, who has just returned from a national meeting in Washington dealing with Asian flu, said the incubation period for the disease was from one to seven days, and that the attack rate was 20 per cent and up. He stated the symptoms are high fever, aching and chills. Those allergic to eggs should not take the vaccine. The disease, he said, spreads more rapidly in cool weather, and if we have an epidemic, it is not expected until fall or winter.

The pharmaceutical industry and the U.S. Public Health Service have worked out a system of allocating the vaccine on the basis of population, Dr. Teague said. The vaccine will be made available to the medical profession as soon as the drug industry can expand its facilities to manufacture the vaccine.

There have been approximately 800 cases of Asian flu in Kentucky since June 1, and with the coming of fall rains and colder weather the disease may quickly spread to endemic proportions, it was said this week by the U. S. surgeon general.

The current population of Sweden is about 7,341,122.

FROM THE SIDELINES

By QUENTIN ALLEN

I hate to say it—but I told you so.

Not long after I got the words out of my typewriter expressing the thought that Lowell Hughes would prove by performance that he is the most capable quarterback on the University of Kentucky team, the same Mr. Hughes proved me so right by brilliant play Saturday in an intra-squad game.

All that Lowell "Split T" Hughes did was to pass for two touchdowns, score three himself, and playing admirably on defense. Couldn't ask for any better, could you?

Tommy Harmon, senior half-back on the Prestonsburg Black Cats, is termed a hardnose—and that is different from being a hard-head. What he lacks in talent he makes up in hustle and determination. So far, Tommy has ended up the second best man in point of performance in each of his team's two games. Two of his teammates have barely edged him out for the layer-of-the-week selection—but, if you add up all the second place awards Tommy is getting, he might wind up the most valuable player of the year.

Baseball is dying, its season on the wane. But two of Prestonsburg's players have found renewed stimulation from their performance this past season. Johnny Ellis has turned himself from a weak All-American out to a real blaster. A change of stance, he says, and Don Sullivan, who used to turn his beefy shoulders into a ball with nill and null effectiveness, has zoomed his average into the upper .400's. Now, I am experimenting with holding my mouth different while writing. A change of stance, you see.

A sad thing. At least it is sad for sport fans who like their basketball played with color and excitement. Kelly

Coleman says he is not returning to college. Personally, if I wanted to make a good business investment, I'd like 10% of Kelly's earnings if he played pro basketball after attending some college. As one coach said at a summer session of school at the University of Kentucky, "He's the best I've ever seen."

Wheelwright last week continued to suffer football misfortunes, losing to Paintsville, 39-0. It's still a case of inexperience against experience, so experts in this area are saying. Everyone expects Coach Ray Bracktt of Wheelwright to bring around a fine squad next year.

And a reminder to fans who rant and roar that The Floyd County Times is only a "Prestonsburg paper." We want box scores of all games from high schools over the county and have made personal appeals and written several letters to that effect. Still, we receive little response but much griping. So, if you, as a fan, have a news item, send it to us. Muchly appreciated.

And report the losses as well as the wins, too—Ed.

P'burg Merchants Rally In Last Innings Sunday To Sweep Doubleheader

The Prestonsburg Merchants pulled two Frank Merriwell finishes in a doubleheader with Paintsville Sunday at the local park in coming from behind in the last inning to sweep the twin bill by identical scores of 5-4 in each game.

Paintsville played an excellent fielding game in committing only two errors. Prestonsburg erred a total of 11 times in both games and only air-tight pitching prevented Paintsville from running up a large score.

Adrian Blackburn, versatile Merchant first baseman, outfielder, pitcher, and catcher, not only pitched well the first game but smacked a home-run in the second game, Hensley, of Paintsville, held the Merchants to seven hits in losing.

The Merchants won the first game in the last of the ninth, trailing 4-3, when Harris struck out, May popped out to first, Bill Goebel, Jr., lined a double to right field, Dotson tripled to left-center, and Paul Hughes scratched a single through shortstop. Goebel, who had been pitching for the Merchants in the first game, gave up only five hits in his effort.

The second game was won in a similar fashion when, trailing 4-3 in the last of the ninth, Dotson walked, was forced on grounder by P. Hughes, Childers was safe on a grounder, and Ray Wilcox doubled to center to count both runners.

In the first game Blackburn followed a line single of Johnny Ellis' by picking the first pitch for a home-run.

HUGE THROG

Letcher county football fans turned out en masse Saturday night to watch E.K.M.C. favorite Jenkins edge Hazard, 6-0. The 3,640 fans represented one of the largest regular season crowds ever to watch a high school game in the mountains.

The host Cavaliers boast one of the biggest teams in the state. Seven of the eleven starters weigh more than 180 pounds and fullback Bill Elkins and tackles Randall Chandler and Tommy Brush tip the scales at 215 pounds.

Jenkins has an active Boosters Club that has completed several projects for the school. A new fence has been built around the field, new uniforms purchased for the band and informative 32-page football program has been initiated by the Boosters.

The front cover of the program displays a portrait of Robert Collier, former Jenkins ace, who will co-captain the 1957 University of Kentucky football team and start at one guard position.

BULLDOGS TO WITHDRAW

Hazard's veteran grid coach Jim Caudill, states that Hazard will withdraw from the Eastern Kentucky mountain Conference next season unless his school can schedule the necessary six football games to be eligible for the loop crown. This season marks the third year for the Bulldogs in the Conference and they have been unable to line up a sixth opponent. Although all of their games count in the loop standings, they are not eligible for the league championship, even if their record should merit the title.

Paintsville and Pikeville refuse to play Hazard, Elkhorn City indicated last season that they would this year, but declined to do so, and Belfry already has a full schedule.

PLAYER OF THE WEEK

The second Player-of-the-Week award went to Rudolph Allen, 17-year-old senior guard who was the defensive and offensive stand-out in the Black Cats' 27-6 conquest of Raceland.

PLAY HAZARD FRIDAY

Prestonsburg's Black Cats will meet their sternest test of the young season Friday night, when they tangle in the Perry county seat with Jim Caudill's Bulldogs. This will be the big conference test if the locals are to stay in contention for the E.K.M.C. race. Prestonsburg fans might also note the new concrete stands on one side of the field, which was paid for by Perry county donations. Not one penny of tax money went into the project. Floyd county school officials should take immediate action to provide a suitable field for Prestonsburg's future teams. It's a disgrace for visiting teams, as well as our own, to play on a "field of concrete."

JENKINS, PAINTSVILLE WIN; 4 TEAMS HEAD EKMC LEAGUE

Jenkins and Paintsville increased their stock in the Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference high school football race over the past week-end as both recorded one-touchdown victories.

Jack Hall's Fleming Pirates stepped outside the loop to throttle Cumberland of the C.V.C., 45-0, and M. C. Napier nudged Leslie County, 14-6, while Prestonsburg rolled over Raceland, 27-6, in another non-loop affair.

Playing before one of the largest season crowds in the history of Eastern Kentucky high school football in Jenkins Saturday night, Nick Diachecko's heavily-favored Cavaliers eked out a 6-0 win over the Hazard Bulldogs.

In the hard-fought battle of defensive lines, Jenkins managed the game's lone touchdown midway the second frame, when quarterback Frank Hodge whipped to six-foot-five end Nicky Dann for 15 yards on the 21-yard marker, then Dann spotted fullback Bill Elkins and lattered to him, and Elkins promptly went the remaining distance.

Hazard had stopped a Jenkins drive on the one-foot line in the first period as tackles H. Petrey and Fred Stidham kept speedster halfback Gary Harrison and bruising fullback Bill Elkins from registering a vital fourth down scoring threat.

Both teams threatened once in the final half, but failed to complete their passes after both lines kept the ground attacks to a minimum.

Paintsville's Tigers and the Whitesburg Yellowjackets staged a real thriller before the Tigers won out, 12-7 on long runs by halfbacks Mike Minix and Jim Wells.

Although limited to six offensive plays in the first quarter, Paintsville jumped to a 6-0 command by sending freshman Minix off-tackle for a 61-yard touchdown. On the ensuing kick-off, the vastly improved Yellow Jackets moved 70 yards in 11 plays for the tying marker.

Halfback Tommy Fields skirted end from the five following a key 21-yard pass from quarterback Darrell Stidham to end Bert Combs. The same combination connected for the extra point and a 7-6 Whitesburg lead.

With four minutes remaining in the first half, halfback Jim Wells reeled off a 65-yard scoring trek and the extra point attempt was again missed. Throughout the final half neither team could muster a serious scoring threat.

John Griggs' Prestonsburg Black Cats overcame a 6-0 first period deficit to post a 13-6 halftime lead over the Raceland Ramblers. Senior halfback Joe Jack Harris raced six yards for one marker and Paul Hughes seven for the other, with fullback James Allen adding the point after.

Hughes, who is gradually gaining the passing ability of brothers Lowell and John Delmar, whipped to end Glen Anderson for another six-pointer, and Harris picked up the final tally on a six-yard jaunt.

The big game of the week will be played in Jenkins Saturday night, when the Letcher countians entertain Paintsville.

Chandler Gives Marine Medal To Hero's Wife

Frankfort, Sept. 9 (Spl.) — The late Staff Sgt. Stanley S. Barczuk, husband of Mrs. Margaret Barczuk, personal secretary to Kentucky's Secretary of State, has been awarded the Navy and Marine Corps Medal for "heroic conduct" in which he lost his life.

The presentation of the posthumous medal to Mrs. Barczuk was made by Gov. A. B. Chandler for the President of the United States and the Secretary of the Navy.

Sergeant Barczuk was the son of Mrs. Rose K. Barczuk of St. Paul, Minn.

The citation accompanying the medal read in part: "For heroic conduct in attempting to rescue fellow Marines who were in danger of drowning in waters off Okinawa Shima, Ryukyu Island, on 5 September, 1956. Serving as acting platoon leader... Staff Sergeant Barczuk immediately organized and supervised the rescue operations to save several men in his company from drowning when they were carried out to sea by a sudden and treacherous undertow. Knocked down by the increasing large waves and drawn out into deep water by the undertow, he sacrificed his own life while attempting to save the lives of others. By his outstanding courage and selfless efforts throughout, Staff Sergeant Barczuk upheld the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service."

Barczuk had previously been awarded the Silver Star and Purple Heart for action in Korea.

Asphalt Waterproofed Ark and Moses' Basket

Cairo—Asphalt, now used to protect roofs and to surface roads, is one of the world's oldest known minerals. It was used for waterproofing Noah's Ark and for waterproofing the basket of reeds in which Moses was found. It served as cement in the building of the Tower of Babel and as waterproofing for the walls of the Hanging Gardens of Babylon.

One advisory organization, Railroad Insurance Underwriters, New York City, was admitted to Kentucky during the month, Thurman said.

CHILDREN'S DEATH TOLL CLIMBS IN KENTUCKY

Frankfort, Sept. 9 (Spl.) — Kentucky highway traffic killed 69 children, 14 or under, in the first eight months of this year, compared with 73 during the entire year of 1956.

Commissioner of Public Safety Don Sturgill revealed these facts. He called on all motorists to compensate for children's heedlessness with their own good judgment.

"Nationally, traffic accidents kill about 2,300 children between the ages of five and 14 annually," Sturgill said.

Frankfort Sept. 9 — Lt. Gov. and Mrs. Harry Lee Waterfield and State Safety Commissioner Don Sturgill had tickets on the winning "horse" in Lexington's recent Plug Horse Derby.

The fleet draft horse, Flowers, won the garland of carrots, paying 10 cents on the dollar to win. As Waterfield remarked, the Plug Horse Derby is a good way to win—it's for charity.

And besides, he got to kiss the Derby Queen.

A PLEA

A soldier's wife has appealed to Gov. A. B. Chandler to publicize her husband's plea for 2x2 colored slides to show his buddies overseas. The governor's office passed her request on to this column.

Mrs. Mildred E. Radeline, 1306 South Westlake, Ove., Los Angeles, writes:

"If we can get people throughout the United States to contribute colored slides they no longer need, or duplicates of what they have, he (her husband) is planning to show them to groups of servicemen overseas—at absolutely no cost to them.

"These slides need not be of any historical or 'tourist' interest—just ordinary scenes of various cities and towns and surrounding countryside—such as street scenes, schools, buildings, parks, pools, hills, streams, rivers, which will bring 'home' to the men overseas."

Mrs. Radeline says her husband is SP-1 Wilbur F. H. Radeline "who originated the 'Mail from Home' campaign for servicemen overseas" and also "the man who refused to accept the title of 'count' and an inheritance of over $360,000 because he would have had to give up his American citizenship."

ANOTHER REQUEST

This column has been asked to help locate a photograph of Col. Abraham Owen, after whom Owen county and Owenton were named. He was an early settler, prominent in the War of 1812. Colonel Owen was killed in the Battle of Tippecanoe. If you have a picture of the gentleman that you would like to give away or lend, notify Clayton Roland of the News Herald, Owenton.

Census To Collect Employment Facts

Facts on employment and unemployment will be collected from a number of local families during the week of September 15 in the Current Population Survey, according to Supervisor Robert A. Yerkey, of the Census Bureau's regional office at Cincinnati, Ohio, which will participate in the survey. Information collected locally is combined with facts obtained in other parts of the country to provide national statistics.

The Current Population Survey, conducted on a sample basis for more than a decade by the Census Bureau, provides up-to-date national estimates on employment and unemployment and also related population characteristics—information such as the number of persons who are not working because they are in school, retired or unable to work; the availability of manpower for both defense and civilian production, and similar facts. Industry, labor and government are constantly using this information in planning various programs and in measuring the general level of business activity.

STATE SEEKS DELINQUENTS

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 6—The State Revenue Department started Monday cracking down on delinquent income-tax payers, particularly Kentuckians who work for out-of-state employers but who do not withhold Kentucky taxes from their wages.

Commissioner James E. Luckett said the new drive will open first in Northern Kentucky, where many Kentucky residents are working across the Ohio River in the Cincinnati area.

Luckett said his department receives fewer state income-tax returns each year than does the federal collector of Internal Revenue at Louisville—although the requirements for filing both state and federal income-tax returns are the same.

A special field staff of six revenue agents will join the 11 regular Revenue Department employees of the Covington district office to make the checkup.

"This special staff will use all available sources of information to discover delinquent taxpayers," Luckett declared.

Daniel Boone Festival Dates Are Announced

Frankfort, Sept. 9 (Spl.) —The date for this year's annual Daniel Boone Festival at Barbourville has been set for Oct. 11-12, Earl Cole, general chairman, announces.

Now in its 10th year, the pioneer festival commemorates Daniel Boone and his colonial frontiersmen in the settlement of the New West. Each year a delegation of Cherokees from the Qualla Indian Reservation, Cherokee, N. C., attend the festival and sign the Cane Treaty.

Under the direction of Dr. Leonard Roberts, college square dance teams have been invited to participate and compete in the Friday evening dance which takes place on Court Square. Dr. Roberts is president of the Kentucky Folklore Society and chairman of the Division of Languages at Union College.

Events include on Friday evening the annual feast, the Indian pageant and square dancing, and on Saturday, the Kentucky hog rifle contest, archery and blow-gun matches, story telling, and the annual pioneer parade with high school bands.

Each year more than 10,000 people attend this spectacular frontier re-enactment of the settlement of Kentucky under the leadership of Daniel Boone.

EIGHT DEATHS IN YEAR ATTRIBUTED TO RABIES

Chicago — The American Medical Association reports that eight Americans died of rabies in 1956 and one other death was attributed to the disease, but was not confirmed by autopsy. Four of the confirmed deaths occurred in Dallas, and one each in Austin, Tex., and in Alabama, Indiana, and New Mexico.

One hundred Intermediate Girl Scouts from the Sandy Valley Council area and neighboring communities attended Camp Chatterawha on Dewey Lake this past season. This was the largest number of Scouts accommodated at the camp during any four-week season since the camp opened. Mrs. Zella Archer, executive secretary of the Sandy Valley Council, served as camp director.

Five different badges were offered in the varied program featuring crafts, outdoor camping and cooking, swimming and boating. They were the Adventurer and Star from the out-of-doors program, Life-saver, Swimmer, Canoeing from the Outdoors sports area. Sixty of the campers completed the Adventurer badge, 34 finished the canoeing, 31 the Swimmer, 13 the Star, and five the Lifesaver and Red Cross Junior Life Saver test. As yet the camp has not had a sufficient number of girls entering the program that are old enough to pass the Senior Lifesaving program. As soon as there are it will also be offered in the waterfront program.

FLOYD COUNTY IS DEMOCRATIC

The following information was compiled during the month of August from the clerk's office of the Floyd County Court, showing the number of registered voters in each of the four Magisterial District of Floyd County:

District No. 1—Democrats—6616	Republicans—1435
District No. 2—Democrats—3949	Republicans—609
District No. 3—Democrats—5911	Republicans—1083
District No. 4—Democrats—3197	Republicans—1045

Making a total of all voters of 23,845, with a Democratic majority of 15,501. It is conceded that a number of voters of both parties should be purged, some being dead and several others have moved away. There are 61 precincts in the county and no precinct shows a Republican majority by registration. We will give you later, precinct by precinct in each Magisterial District, showing the majority in each.

Telephone Talk

by
H. D. HAYES
Your Telephone Manager

BACK TO SCHOOL! If you have youngsters attending college this fall, I'd like to remind you of a nice way to keep in touch with them. You know, keeping up home ties is mighty important especially for first-year students. So let me suggest you arrange for your son or daughter to call you station-to-station at a regular time each week. It's fast, and saves you up to 1/2 the cost of a person-to-person call between points in Kentucky.

For instance, you can call station-to-station from Prestonsburg to Lexington for just 65c—half the person-to-person rate. And nights and Sundays you can talk four minutes station-to-station for the same two-minute daytime rate. Why not arrange now for regular voice visits by Long Distance?

HERE'S A TIP for homemakers around town who'd like to take the "run" out of running the home. You know, easy living calls for telephones where they are needed most—phones in smart decorator colors to add touches of beauty. Well, we have a plan to tailor your telephone service to your personal needs, to make it even more a part of good living. Whether you have four rooms or eight, one of these plans will give the ideal telephone arrangement for your family. And the beauty about it is, you can actually have several extra phones for less additional cost than you pay for the main telephone! If you'd like to know more about tailor-made telephone service, give us a ring.

...Look First in the Yellow Pages

MORE WIDOWS MAY BENEFIT

New Law Liberalizes Definition of 'Widow' With More Eligible

An estimated 250 Kentucky widows of veterans may be eligible for Veterans Administration benefits because of a recently enacted law liberalizing the definition of "widow."

Public Law 35-209 provided the change, Ray A. Adams, manager, VA Regional Office announced.

Under the new law, the date of her marriage to the veteran will not disqualify a widow of VA benefits if a child was born of the marriage or, if no child was born, the marriage existed for at least five years.

Most laws providing for widows' benefits from VA contain a marriage cut-off date as an element of entitlement, with many different dates for varying benefits and periods of service.

The new law does not alter the existing cut-off dates, but provides uniform qualifying alternatives if the marriage dates are not met.

Under certain circumstances the new law also authorizes payments to a woman who married a veteran without knowing that a legal impediment to the marriage existed, even though she is not the veteran's legal widow.

Under the new law, if the purported marriage was entered into in good faith by the woman, VA may consider it to have been a valid marriage provided:

(a) It would have been valid had the legal bar not existed;

(b) The couple had resided together for five or more years, immediately prior to the veteran's death; and,

(c) No claim for VA widow's benefits has been filed by a legal widow of the veteran.

Economists at U.K.
See Better Prices
For Feeder Cattle

Kentucky Experiment Station economists expect prices for feeder cattle this fall to be $2 to $4 per hundredweight higher than for the same period of 1956.

Buel Lanpher, economist, in his bi-weekly outlook letter, said there is an increased demand for feeder cattle. This is due to large supplies of low-priced grain; and anticipated higher profits in 1957 cattle-feeding operations. He noted an uptrend in price during most of 1957, with prices ranging $2 to $4 above a year ago.

Grain production in 1957 in the western corn belt — one of the main areas for feeding cattle — has increased, he said. This situation strengthens the outlook for more demand for feeders. Lanpher said present conditions in the U. S. also forecast a good outlook for feeder cattle operations in 1958; this also influences demand for feeders.

In the near future, prices for feeders could decline slightly from recent weeks' levels, Lanpher said. Last year various types of feeders dropped from $1 to $2 a hundredweight between August and October; and there is a possibility that large numbers of feeders will hit sales rings in mid-fall. Receipts at yards were light in August, he said, which may have been caused by producers' desire to hold back feeders until more gain was available on improved pastures.

In Kentucky, feed and pasture conditions have ranged from very poor to good. Some feeders have been sold early and in poor condition because of this, but some farmers may be holding off until better pasture conditions occur.

Lanpher said grass-fat feeders could hit a temporary price weakness a little later; western feeders are carrying more flesh now due to better pasture conditions there. He anticipates a strengthening of feeder prices however, in late fall or early winter. Heavy seasonal sales of feeders will have been completed then.

Fed-cattle prices may move upward, Lanpher's letter says. Receipts for fed cattle may be relatively heavy until late fall; this is based on the larger number of cattle on feed as of July 1, 1957. Market receipts in July and August did not reflect the large numbers on feed.

Kentuckians may profit by holding feeder cattle, especially grass-fed ones, and feeding them grain, he says. Profits are probable from three sources: (1) Cattle prices are expected to have some general rise in the late fall or winter; (2) farmers could raise grade quality of fed cattle by feeding grains; and (3) cheap feeding grains are likely.

Example: A 550-pound calf of high quality might sell at 22 cents a pound; the average farmer would require from 20 to 22 bushels of corn and around 100 pounds of protein for 200 pounds of gain. Feed costs would have been $30.40 for the 200 pounds of gain, if corn was worth $1.20 a bushel, and protein, $4 a hundredweight. If the selling price stayed at 22 cents a pound, the 200 pounds of gain would be worth $44, leaving $13.60 per animal to pay for other costs.

To the People Of Prestonsburg

After several weeks of talking with many of the good citizens of the town, and after weighing the matter carefully even prayerfully, I have decided to make the race for Mayor of Prestonsburg at the coming November election.

I propose to make this race not out of any particular personal ambition of mine but out of a desire to help our community become a better place to live in and a more decent, law-respecting and law-abiding city.

From time to time in coming weeks I will frankly state my position on the several matters that should be of interest to us all.

I will be on the ballot as a candidate who will fight and fight hard to win but who will oppose others in a spirit of goodwill, with my main purpose to be of service to the place I live in and to the people among whom I live and work and make a living.

Your support and the influence you can use in my behalf will be deeply appreciated.

UMW FUND
PAYS OUT
142 MILLION

Washington, Sept. 3 — The United Mine Workers welfare and retirement fund Tuesday reported payments of nearly $142,000,000 in benefits in the year ended June 30.

An annual report showed an unspent balance of $145,321,221.85 as of June 30, compared with a balance of $130,172,370.58 on June 30, 1956.

The report said 97.2 per cent or $138,018,257.17, of last year's outlay was paid to 215,702 beneficiaries. Administrative costs, including those of the Washington headquarters and 10 area medical offices, accounted for the other 2.8 per cent.

The fund is supported by tonnage royalty payments by mining firms, but is operated independently of the union or the firms. The report said 63,000 retired miners were receiving $100 monthly pension payments on June 30, in addition to Social Security payments or any other income. Pension payments totaled $75,002,584.12 during the year.

Spending of $59,584,594.13 was reported for hospital and medical care — providing 1,631,144 days of hospitalization for 93,679 fund beneficiaries.

Funeral expense and widows and survivors benefits for 9,260 widows, orphans, and other survivors of deceased miners totaled $3,353,870.94.

Additional payments of $77,207.98 in mine-disaster benefits went to families of 251 miners killed or seriously injured during the year.

ROAD PROGRAM SPEEDED

Washington — During the first year of the new multibillion-dollar federal highway-building program, ended June 30, Government funds obligated for preliminary engineering, rights of way, and construction totaled $2,223,000,000, or $223,000,000 more than the total of federal funds authorized for the year.

Homecoming and Dinner
At Bosco Church, Sept. 15

A homecoming service and basket dinner reunion will be held at the Bosco Church of Christ at Hueysville on Sunday, Sept. 15.

The service will begin at 10 a.m. Evangelist W. L. (Bill) Ford, of Ford's Branch, Ky., will conduct the morning service. His father, the Rev. Alvis Ford, will conduct the afternoon service. He will be remembered as the evangelist who held a revival 30 years ago at this church and baptized 30 persons.

The Bosco Church of Christ is a community landmark and the mother church in that area. It was built in 1911 by the Rev. D. M. Allen, who furnished the timber and sawed it at his mill. Green Allen, son of G. J. Allen, hand-planned the huge timbers which support the center of the church. During the recent remodeling and repair of the building these timbers were left intact. The members of the church and their families contributed to the construction of the church. Some donated their labor. Others cooked for the laborers. The land on which the church was built was given by Susan Allen Hayes, a sister of D. M. Allen. Rev. Allen was pastor of the Church until his death in 1942.

Members of the church extend a cordial invitation to everyone to attend. All churches are invited to bring singing groups, as special singing is being arranged. Pack a basket dinner and plan to spend the day.

WILL THE JUDGE TAKE THE FIFTH AMENDMENT?

These are questions for Henry Stumbo to answer if he will and can. The taxpayers and water and gas users of this county have a right to answers to these questions. They are honest inquiries about the gas and water deal. I ask them in the interest of good government. I ask them in the interest of decent, honest administration of our affairs.

1. Who originated the idea of the county buying the water and gas districts from private holders at huge profits?
2. Who set the price of $230,000 with an interest rate of five percent with the bonds going to the big money men at a 10 per cent discount, thus saddling this county with an indebtedness of $230,000 plus total in interest of $179,950 or an overall total of $409,950?
3. Who bought the Wayland water and gas system for $22,000 from the Elkhorn Coal Corporation, sold the water system for $5,000 and later the Judge agreed and bought it for Floyd county at $67,500?
4. Who got the big profit out of the Wayland deal and did he get out of town with most of it?
5. The Allen-Dwale system was offered to a Floyd county business man for $12,000 before the county got interested through you. You bought it for the county at $45,000. Who reaped the big profit there?
6. The Garrett-Bosco system sold at one time for $2,400 and later for $10,000. The county bought it through you for $45,000. I ask you, Henry Stumbo, to name the profit-takers here.

The Weeksbury water works sold for junk to a couple of men for $824. They tried to salvage the scrap iron in it and failed. The county bought it for $22,500. Who took their profits here?

8. Now Judge Stumbo answer this one. Who put $5,000 in the water and gas system to make it show a paper profit of a few hundred dollars just before the election?

9. Who suggested to you that the rates be raised the last time? Name these men. The people who pay excessive water and gas rates are entitled to know.

10. Why were you and the members of the fiscal court sued on this water and gas deal and you took $1,500 of the taxpayers money to hire a lawyer to fight your case?

The whole water and gas systems are now officially declared bankrupt by the Federal Court and a receiver has been appointed. One more question, Judge:

Do you propose to raise the water and gas rates again to save your big money friends?

Kentucky Query Is: Who Killed Chief Tecumseh?

By Charles F. Hinds Secretary-Treasurer, Kentucky Historical Society

Frankfort, Sept. 9 (Spl.) — The old Northwest Indians under Tecumseh were defeated at the Thames in 1813. They had received a severe blow earlier at Tippecanoe, but the death of their great chieftain, Tecumseh, marked their subjection to the white man and the opening up of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, and Ohio for settlement.

Tecumseh became the symbol of their defeat. Most of those who participated in the battle were Kentuckians under Col. Richard M. Johnson of Scott county. Therefore one of the burning questions of Kentucky history has been: WHO KILLED TECUMSEH?

There has been no want for claimants. Johnson himself, when running for vice president in 1836 told about his fact-to-face struggle with an Indian chief. Wounded four times, Johnson received yet another wound from this chief, who advanced on him with uplifted tomahawk. Johnson said that he took careful aim with his pistol and killed the Indian. When one audience cried out, "That Tecumseh fell," Johnson replied that he didn't know it was Tecumseh at the time.

Col. William Whitley, the leader of the "forlorn hope" advance guard, was killed at the Thames by an Indian chief, who was shot and killed simultaneously by the Lincoln County veteran.

Most reputable Kentucky historians have chosen between Colonel Johnson and Whitley, with the weight of evidence in favor of the latter.

Johnson's victim was partially skinned by Kentucky soldiers the following day. But the Indians with Tecumseh in the battle told in later years that, not only was the body not mutilated, but it was removed during the night and secretly buried. Witnesses from the American camp early on the battlefield the next morning reported that the Indian Whitley had killed had been removed during the night. This seems to indicate to many historians that Whitley killed Tecumseh.

But after 44 years, the evidence is far from conclusive. It is more likely, since Tecumseh was wearing the simple dress of a brave, that the bullet which entered his heart and the butt which crushed his skull were governed by two separate, yet unidentified soldiers in Johnson's command during 15 long minutes of confused fighting, shooting and grappling desperately for their lives.

HOME-OWNERS RECEIVE PAY

Firm Makes Payment For Damaged Property Where Coal Removed

Pittsburgh, Sept. 7 — The world's biggest commercial coal producer is setting out to make friends with thousands of homeowners who live above the mines where it digs its coal.

In the past Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Company has had complaints from persons whose homes settled and cracked after the coal had been removed from beneath them.

The spread to suburban living caused huge housing developments to rise on old farms and timberland where Pitt-Consolidation owned mineral rights. This brought new complaints of homes settling and cracking.

Last month the big coal company announced that it would guarantee safety from settlement to property-owners above still-to-be-mined coal if the owners would pay for coal left as supporting pillars.

Selling coal pillars was not new. Some homeowners in the past have paid the coal firm to leave pillars. But the added guarantee is entirely new. The firm announced:

We propose to supplement our present policy by agreeing with individual owners to whom support is offered and who elect such support that our company will pay any structural damage to their homes . . .

The added investment in property will not be small. Considerable amounts of coal will have to be left unmined to prevent cave-ins.

The cost to an individual homeowner will depend entirely on the type of coal above which he is living. Rough estimates by the coal firm range from $1,000 to $3,000.

Pitt-Consol said it will be selling coal below cost even at those prices.

Because of the large amount of money involved, the coal firm also offered to sell supports on a time-payment basis which it said could be extended over a period of years.

It will mean leaving several hundred tons of coal unmined to support a single house.

Coal firms usually buy only the underground mineral rights which permit them to mine the coal and let the original owners retain the surface property.

The coal firm feels it has been unjustly blamed for the damage to homes. Henry C. Rose, president of Pittsburgh Coal Company, operating division of Pitt-Consol, in announcing the guarantee policy, said:

Although ownership of the coal and mineral rights carries with it the right to mine coal without regard to the effect on the surface owners, Pittsburgh Coal Company has voluntarily chosen to follow a course that would not disregard the welfare of homeowners.

Rose said that in most instances, where a settlement problem occurred there was evidence that the home owner's deed provided adequate legal notice of the limitations but the home-owner neglected to investigate the actual facts with respects to the coal ownership.

Rose said that a check of the limited number of home owners who in the past paid to have coal supports left under their homes shows no record of any dwelling being damaged by settlement.

Some of the old agreements that did not carry a guarantee date back as much as 14 years. Coal men say most of the damaging settlements occur shortly after the coal had been removed.

NEW WALL PANEL HAS CORE OF FOAMED PLASTIC

St. Louis — A promising new building-industry development is a wall panel with a core of foamed styrene plastic. It is said to be rigid, light in weight, and to have good insulating properties and excellent water-resistance qualities. "NECK AND EARS"

One of my long-time friends has reminded me that I have not as yet reviewed the old-fashioned practice of washing the neck and ears. He declared that he did not know this process had to do with three organs rather than one! It all sounded like one—"neck'n'-ears." I recall that I have often mentioned, sometimes rather nostalgically, the week-end bath in the washpan, but I suspect that this ablution was in no sense adequate enough. I am sure that my own washing myself in a washpan failed to dislodge many layers or areas of dirt. The operation called "washing the neck and ears" was done, in our family, by Big Sister, a thorough finder and chaser of dirt. Old Dutch Cleanser could easily have used her picture to illustrate the slogan now long famous. Sunday morning was the time for this sacrifice, one of the most severe ones I have yet made. Big Sister got a pan of hot water and a washrag made of the ribbed ends of long-handle winter underwear. These ribs can act somewhat like sandpaper; what the first wave of ribs does not dislocate, the next wave will catch. When my sister would bend my neck over into her lap and rub my neck the wrong way, I would howl like something dying in agony; I feared that my very blood would ooze out after the weekly ordeal. Though I squealed every time, I got no mercy; big sisters are pretty thorough executioners sometimes. But after the auto de fe was over, I was shining and red for Sunday School; maybe that is the reason my neck still sweats all the time, summer and winter; the doctor thinks it is the goitre; I prefer to believe it a left-over from old-time scrubbing in my early youth.

There were other phases of this week-end sacrifice to respectability. Sometimes the same Big Sister put an apron around my neck and cut my hair or such odd tags of it as seemed most to mar my youthful beauty. And that same unruly head had to be spruced up for Sunday School, to match the scrubbed, shiny neck and ears. My locks were parted away down near the ear; the rest of the hair was "roched" over the top of the huge dome I have always had to carry around. At least before the rough-house started in church after the lesson was over, my plastered hair remained in place and my shiny countenance resembled what we read about on the faces of saints. I cannot be quite so specific about my looks later, for some bad boy might deliberately run his hand over my head and wreck all the plastered hair. I should have hit him in the nose, Sunday School or not, but I did not and am sorry, more than a half century later. I suspect that I found most of my refuge in tears and clinging to my two older sisters.

When I was six, a broomsedge photographer set up his tent in a broomsedge field near Fidelity and took pictures of all sorts until after frost. No get-rich-quick scheme ever drew more people. And I, the baby of the big family, had to be photographed, alone,
