This Town— That World

SO WHAT? Vol. XXX, No. 1—see it over there in that right-hand "ear" of this page this week?

To us that means that THE FLOYD COUNTY TIMES is observing this week its 30th anniversary. To most of you, quite naturally, it has little significance.

We almost let this birthday slip up on us. The fact is, birthdays come around so quickly these days that the less said about them, the better for the peace of mind of us who wane as we wax old.

Time was when, every year at this time, our old and now-departed "Printer" Goble would stroll in and casually remark, "My son, did you know that we're having another birthday?" Such occasions in those days were more or less dismissed with a shrug of the editorial shoulders, but when Aaron Duff, our linotype operator, came in to remind me this year I somehow took the matter a bit more seriously.

For one thing, 30 years is a mighty long time, and if you don't believe it try a newspaper for such a spell. For another, as you grow older, you're a bit more prone to reminisce.

You think of folks you've worked with, people you've met and enjoyed as friends. You think of the few good things you've done and—horrors!—of the boners you've pulled. If you stop long enough you begin thinking on how your thinking has changed, how times have changed.

Most of all, you think of how tempus fugit.

It doesn't seem that long when we wrote all the copy for that first

FLOYD TO GET BOOK CENTER

Regional Library Here To Serve Five Counties If Plans Are Unchanged

Lt. Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield announced last Friday that Region 3—Floyd, Morgan, Magoffin, Johnson and Martin counties—has tentatively qualified to participate in the regional library development program as an extension of the Kentucky Bookmobile movement.

Headquarters of the region would be in Prestonsburg.

Floyd county qualified as headquarters for the regional library when the Floyd County Board of Education and the Floyd fiscal court gave the state full assurances of cooperation.

The library headquarters will be located in the old Prestonsburg high school building.

Under the program four regional libraries will be set up each year until 15 have been established in the state. Kentucky will receive $137,000 in federal funds this year under the Library Services Act to set up the program.

The regional libraries will serve as headquarters for smaller, local libraries. Books in the regional libraries will be circulated among counties in the regions. The program will also supplement work of more than 100 Bookmobiles.

FAIR CHAIRMAN HAILS EXHIBITION BACKERS

NEXT WEEK'S EVENT FIFTH ANNUAL FAIR

Schools, Farms, Industry Pool Efforts To Make County Fair a Success

Jesse Elliott, chairman of the Floyd County Fair board, in greetings and a welcome to exhibitors expressed his satisfaction this week with the splendid effort being made by farmers, businessmen and the schools to make the fifth annual post-war fair a success. The exhibition, scheduled to open formally Thursday of next week, will be held at the city playground.

Elliott noted the gradual improvement of exhibits over the years. "Past success was due to the constructive and friendly spirit of the exhibitors and I am sure the fair this year, termed an agricultural, educational and industrial exhibition, will be the best yet."

The note of optimism expressed by Elliott was being reflected in the efforts of interested persons and groups to improve their showing over last year. Cost of the fair is being borne chiefly by Floyd county businessmen, and their support was reflected in the generous amount of advertising they bought in the 36-page fair bulletin which was distributed to teachers this week and was being rapidly given out to farmers and businessmen by the local Extension Service and others.

One show that will be added attraction this year is the poultry exhibit by members of the poultry chain initiated here by the Sears, Roebuck Foundation. The chain was started by the foundation when it gave out to 4-H Club members 100 chicks to each of ten boys or girls and each to contribute 10 pullets or cockrels to the exhibition here and these are to be auctioned off Saturday afternoon, Oct. 4. The proceeds will be used to expand the chain next year. Prizes in this

TO DEDICATE HEALTH BLDG.

Plans Laid Saturday For Dedication Oct. 5 Of Floyd Health Center

Plans for the dedication of the new Floyd county Health Center were laid at a meeting held here Saturday, and the dedication date was set for Saturday, Oct. 5.

The building, which was completed only recently at a cost of $120,000, and its appointments comprise one of the most modern health centers in the state. "There is no need for any person in Floyd county to go without medical care," M. V. Clark, administrator of the Floyd County Health Department, said at Saturday's meeting.

The dedication program, as planned at the meeting, follows: Invocation by the Rev. Ira McMillen; addresses of welcome by Judge Bert T. Combs, and B. F. Reed; addresses by Russell E. Teague, Kentucky commissioner of public health, a representative of the State Division of Hospital Services, and County Judge Henry Stumbo.

The building will be open from 10 a.m. till 4 p.m., and the dedicatory service will be at 2 p.m. Refreshments will be served and visitors from 1 till 4 p.m. it was announced.

Represented at the planning meeting here were Women's Clubs of the county and the health department. Miss Neil Music, president of the Allen-Martin Woman's Club, was named chairman of the refreshment committee, and she suggested that each club send two representatives to assist on dedication day. Mrs. Ben Martin, of the Drift Woman's Club, was asked to contact each club not represented at the planning meeting and to solicit their help.

Senator's Race Ballot Provides Perplexities; Separate Ballot Seen

County Clerk DuRan Moore this week faced a dilemma, either horn of which is sharp.

He must decide—since the Attorney General has declined to do so—if the names of candidates for the unexpired term of the late State Senator Doug Hays shall be printed on the regular election ballot or on a separate ballot.

The County Clerk sought the Attorney General's advice when it became apparent, he said, that if the names of Senatorial candidates go on the regular ballot the ballots cannot be printed in time for any voter in school, the armed forces or elsewhere to vote by absentee ballot. This situation arises from the fact that the last day for filing for the office is only 10 days before the election.

The Attorney General wrote, in response to Moore's inquiry, that it might be "more practicable" to print a special ballot for the special election but that this is a matter for him to decide.

Names of state and district candidates were certified to the County Clerk last week by the Secretary of State and a day later the name of Jerry Fonce Howell, of Price, Democratic candidate for the unexpired Senatorial term, was certified. This certification did not specify, however, that his name must be placed on the regular election ballot or on a special ballot, Mr. Moore said.

The Clerk indicated Tuesday that a special ballot will be printed for the Senatorial race, since the statute requires him to send out absentee ballots upon proper application.

"I, of course, would much prefer not to be put in this position of having to make a decision," County Clerk Moore said. "That is why I asked the Attorney General for a specific opinion."

The only announced opposition to Mr. Howell is Commonwealth's Attorney Burnis Martin.

Mr. Howell, as the Democratic nominee, would prefer to appear on the regular ballot with the other party nominees. His opponent as an independent candidate would, on the other hand, like a separate ballot.

TOT INJURED, FATHER CUT

Cousins in Knife Fight After One Hits Other's Child With Automobile

Herman Isaacs, 23, was jailed here on at least three counts and is held for grand jury action this week after he had allegedly struck and critically injured a 4½-year-old child on Little Mud Sunday and later attacked and cut the child's father, Ermel Isaacs.

In the knife fight, which reportedly took place at the Ermel Isaacs home, Herman Isaacs himself was slashed deeply over his kidney.

The little son of Ermel Isaacs is in Memorial hospital at McDowell, suffering from internal injuries.

Herman and Ermel Isaacs are cousins. It was said at the county jail here that the former said he remembered nothing of what happened until he was placed on a hospital operating table where a surgeon sewed up his knife wounds. Ermel Isaacs' wounds were less serious.

Father of the child came here Monday morning. Obviously in a rage, he requested of Jailer Prock Hayes permission to see Herman Isaacs. The Jailer refused him admission.

The jailed man was named in warrants accusing him of assault

Frasure Says Poverty Cause Of Absenteeism

Schools Social Worker Estimates Truancy Cost $15,000 in Last 2 Months

"Three-fifths of the cause of absenteeism in the schools is poverty in the homes," says Walter Frasure, social worker with the county school system, "and absenteeism cost Floyd county schools $15,000 the last two months. The state penalizes a school system 80 cents a day for each absent pupil."

Frasure is inviting civic clubs, welfare organizations and representatives from any interested group to visit him in any of the educational districts and see the evidence of poverty themselves. "That is the only way I know to get people to believe such poverty can exist in these prosperous times," he says.

One teacher in this county has spent $1,400 from his own salary in the last two years to feed, clothe and aid destitute children. He has headed clothing and fund drives but has made little dent in the overall problem in his community. Teachers in other schools are very cooperative with attendance problems arising chiefly from poverty but the needs are just too big for an individual to cope with, the attendance department points out.

Herbert Prater and Earle Martin, attendance officers, say they find from three to five families a day that are destitute and in one day they found 12 families without food or adequate clothing. Chief causes are unemployment,

4 CITY RACES ADD INTEREST

W'Wright, Prestonsburg, Martin, Wayland Tickets Filed for Final Election

Politics will be a trifle hotter than usual, if possible, in four of the county's incorporated towns during the November election campaign, since each has its own city election at stake.

An oddity in the registration of candidates became apparent with the filing of Police Judge Earl Blackburn, of Wheelwright, for re-election and that of A. L. Hall 13 days later for the same office, on the same ticket and under the same device. Both are seeking the office on the Peoples Party ticket and under the Handclasp device, but the law provides that the first candidate to register will hold his place with the other required to select another or to have the County Clerk to select one for him. Council candidates at Wheelwright, all on the Peoples Party ticket, are Charlie Stancil, Arthur Bradbury, H. M. Wilkinson, Sr., Hobert Smith, and Steve Benedict.

Three candidates for mayor have filed in Prestonsburg. In the order of their filing they are: Henry Howard, Economy ticket; Bill Napier, Independent ticket; Harry Sandige, the incumbent, Capital V ticket.

Council candidates here are filed on five slates. In Prestonsburg proper the line-up is:

Economy ticket—W. M. "Bill" May, Denver D. "Denney" Sammons, Bill Hunter, Willie Hicks, Darwin Rose, Grade Hubbard; Capital V ticket—William O.

HOME ENTRY SHOW WINNER

Flower Show Exhibits At Maytown Praised; Winners Are Listed

Marked improvement in the flower arrangements was commented on by all who attended the Seventh annual Maytown Fall Flower Show at Langley, Saturday. Those giving most encouraging comments on the quality of arrangements included the judges provided by Morehead State College, Henry C. Hagan, Dr. William Owens and W. D. Patton.

The outstanding arrangement of the show was a modified vertical of purple dahlias against a background of Chrysanthemum in a black rectangular container having one line which complimented the purple shade of the dahlias. Mrs. Irma Tallent, of Langley, received an engraved loving cup for this winner.

An engraver wall plaque was presented to the second place winner, Mrs. Dolly Messer, of Garrett, for her arrangement in Nature's Harmony. It included an orchid sea fan, driftwood and purple asters in a sea shell arranged with a background of purple draping. The judges commented on the restful atmosphere created by the likeness of this arrangement to the peacefulness of the ocean.

SHELL JAILED FOR SLAYING OF 'FRIEND'

Cliff Slays Second In County Within Week; Victim Unarmed, Claim

The slaying Friday night, near Cliff, of David Kelse (Tobie) Vaughan, 29, may have been a case of mistaken identity, it was said here following the jailing of his slayer, Jerry Shell.

As a result of the Vaughan slaying the grand jury which reconvenes here today (Thursday) has two homicides to investigate. The first to occur in Floyd county in 22 months—that of Ballard Little by his wife, Mary Jane at Wheelwright Junction—preceded the Cliff case by less than a week.

Vaughan, a milk truck driver for the Spurlock Food Service, died almost instantly of a shotgun charge fired at close range into his stomach and chest.

The shooting took place at the home of Tom Stephens, on the road from Cliff on the north side of the Big Sandy river. Officers were told Shell, intoxicated, had gone to the Stephens home and, finding Mr. and Mrs. Stephens away at a church in the neighborhood, sought of their daughter, Mrs. Douglas Snyder, entrance. Refused admittance, this version of events leading up to the shooting says, Shell threatened Mrs. Snyder. Alarmed, she fled the house and told her parents. The Stephens car was blocked at the church, and Vaughan was asked to drive Mr. Stephens home.

Shell was still at the home when Stephens arrived and in an ensuing argument and fight Shell

RADIO SALE TO HELP TOTS

Novel Plan Evolved To Help In Financing Classes for Retarded

The first radio auction ever to be held in the county will be staged Oct. 2, 3 and 4 over Radio Station WPRT, Prestonsburg, as a novel way of raising funds for the school for retarded children. Time of the auction will be from 4 to 5 p.m. on each of the three days.

To be sold at auction will be a great variety of items contributed by citizens and business firms of the county. Merchandise contributed for the auction is being displayed here in the former quarters of the DuRan Moore Hardware, opposite the bus station.

And still other contributions are being sought for the auction, said Bert T. Combs, head of the Floyd Council for Retarded Children. "Only through the generosity of our people who are fortunate can funds be raised to help these children who are unfortunate," he said.

The fund-raising drive was planned to make the Floyd Council eligible to share in funds derived from the radio-television Crusade staged recently in Louisville by WHAS, The Courier-Journal and Louisville Times.

On one of the three days of the auction the broadcast will originate from the new remote facilities established by WPRT at Martin. Cooperating in the fund campaign are women's and civic clubs and others.

Two classes are in operation at Martin for retarded tots. The educable group is being taught by Mrs. Gaynelle Begley in a special building made available by the Floyd County Board of Education on the Martin consolidated school grounds. The trainable group is taught by Mrs. Esther Sammons, the class meeting in the basement of the nearby Baptist Church.

Transportation of these youngsters presents the most perplexing and costly problem to the

ONE COMMISSIONER WALKS OUT ON POLL OFFICIAL SELECTION

Naming of the 244 Floyd counties who are to serve Nov. 5 as officers at the election to be held in the 61 voting precincts of the county was marked last Thursday by the walk-out of Woodrow Fitzpatrick, of West Prestonsburg, a Democratic election commissioner.

Fitzpatrick left the meeting of the commission when Circuit Clerk W. W. Cooley, new chairman of the body sided, with W. B. Boyd, Republican member, in naming one or more officers.

Both Cooley and Boyd said they selected both Democrats and Republicans from the list supplied them by the county chairmen of the two parties and that they sought for election officer service only the best citizens available from those lists.

Mr. Cooley was named to Both lists of party picks for election officers may have been filed late, it was said. The Democratic list was filed in time but not with the chairman, and the Republican list was not filed till last Wednesday.

Each region will receive $20,000 for books the first year of the program and $12,000 the second year, Waterfield said.

The remainder of the federal money will be spent as follows: $10,000 for staff in the four regions and $17,000 for equipment for the four regions, staff, supplies, and operating expenses of the Library Extension Division.

The state allotment of $50,000 for aid to counties for libraries gradually will be integrated into the program. About 100 counties now receive this state aid.

Waterfield said counties not in the four regions will continue to receive state money and books for their Bookmobiles.

Each of the regions must have at least five counties that apply and meet requirements. To qualify, a county must guarantee local financial support and necessary shelves for books.

A county that has a headquarters library must put up 6 cents for each $100 of assessed property valuation. A county that takes part in the plan must allot 3 cents for each $100.

The Library Extension Division, which will supervise the program, has already bought $23,000 worth of books for the regional libraries. Distribution should begin around October 1, a spokesman said.

A statement from the Governor's office said Chandler has hopes the Legislature will increase the $50,000 state-aid appropriations for rural libraries.

The statement quoted Chandler as saying:

"I have backed the Bookmobiles and have favored a fund for the purchase of new books for them. Rural Kentuckians should have the same opportunity the city folks have for the best in reading and up-to-date informational material.

"Bookmobiles are not worth much if they run around without a reserve of good books, without trained personnel to supervise them, and without an adequate income to support them."

"I would like to solicit and would welcome any help from any organization that can contribute to the needs of impoverished children of this county," Frasure continued, "I invite these civic or charitable organizations to travel with me to the various communities and let me show them these deplorable conditions in many homes."

The attendance department urges that clothing be furnished these poverty-stricken children of school age and if any one wants to help they are requested to contact Walter Frasure, Earle Martin or Herbert Prater of the county superintendent's office. The donations of clothing will be picked up and delivered to the needy.

physical disability of the family wage-earner, social security payments that reduce living to a bare subsistence level and in many cases only a meager old age assistance check.

One mother told Mr. Frasure she couldn't send her children to school because they usually got no breakfast or if they did it was an egg or other bite scrounged in the community sometime later in the day. The family would concentrate on getting food, preferably beans, for supper. That would be their chief meal of the day.

When the question was asked why the poverty-stricken parents did not receive surplus commodities, it was pointed out the county is unable to deliver these foods to the homes. Procurement is up to the recipient and if he can't arrange transportation of them to the home he does without these basic foods donated by the federal government.

The attendance department cites a case where the father deserted the mother and six children several weeks ago. That family has had no money from him since July 13. Four of those children are of school age. Two of the boys, age 12 and 14, do errands and odd jobs in the community and the mother washes and scrubs for others. She went to court but courts are slow, she pointed out to representative of the school system.

Consolidated schools in this county are carrying a heavy burden in feeding children free lunches, Frasure says, but they can't possibly feed every indigent child because finances are insufficient.

"Many schools that have lunch programs have exhausted their finances and are operating in debt due to giving so many free lunches," Frasure noted. "The schools are doing a magnificent job as far as finances permit but there are many pupils attending school right now that don't have the small price of a good lunch."

"I would like to solicit and would welcome any help from any organization that can contribute to the needs of impoverished children of this county," Frasure continued, "I invite these civic or charitable organizations to travel with me to the various communities and let me show them these deplorable conditions in many homes."

Our rural roads are being neglected. I understand that the money for these roads is supposed to be divided equally in proportion to the population of each county. It is a fact we don't get our share. Alabama and Kentucky are the only states in the Union that have not paid a soldier's bonus. I am an ex-soldier and will do everything in my power to right this injustice.

5-Point Program Offered Teachers By Sam Thomas, Candidate for Representative, District No. 97

The next meeting of the Kentucky General Assembly will be an important one for teachers and education, and will mark either advance or delay in implementing fully the Minimum Foundation Law. Your Representative should be a man with sufficient educational background to enable him to envision the needs of the teaching profession. I know what it is to struggle along on an inadequate salary for teachers, for I was at one time one of you. I have two sisters and a host of relatives teaching now, dedicating their lives to the instruction of our children. As your representative at Frankfort I assure you that I will do all that is in my power towards advancing education in Kentucky. I offer you this 5-point program:

1. Support of the Kentucky Education Association's program. I endorse the work and goals of that loyal group of teachers and will merge my efforts with theirs.
2. The Minimum Foundation Law for Education must be fully implemented with financial support to insure its fullest success and to enable Kentucky to march forward with sister states that are making great strides forward.
3. Appropriations for free text books are inadequate, and additional funds should be allotted by the next Legislature for this great need.
4. Amendments to the teachers' retirement laws should be made to provide for survivors' benefits equal to the benefits under the national social security laws.
5. The teacher's retirement system should be kept actuarially sound in order to provide for the security of our aged teachers.

I have ever been in favor of Labor. I belonged to the UMW when the Pike-Floyd Coal Company was in operation, and if elected I will do everything in my power to advance this great cause.

Our rural roads are being neglected. I understand that the money for these roads is supposed to be divided equally in proportion to the population of each county. It is a fact we don't get our share. Alabama and Kentucky are the only states in the Union that have not paid a soldier's bonus. I am an ex-soldier and will do everything in my power to right this injustice.

On the basis of this program I solicit your support.

CLUB MEETS

The Allen-Martin Woman's club met September 3 at the home here of Mrs. T. J. Allen. In the absence of the president, Nell Music, Mrs. John Sherman presided.

Each member present paid annual dues of $2. All members were appointed to collect donations for the school for retarded children. The new year books were given to each member present. The second meeting of the month was held September 16, 1957 at the home of Mrs. James Davis. The president, Nell Music, presided. The program was, "Safety in the Home," conducted by Mrs. John Sherman, who showed examples of sources of danger, such as poor wiring, overloaded circuits, old medicine left in medicine cabinets, unprotected stairways, etc. Each member took part by telling what the danger was in each demonstration and how to prevent it. A short business meeting after the program resulted in the decision to enter the community achievement contest which is open to all Woman's Clubs. A project was considered but was not decided upon. Plans were discussed regarding trying again this year to organize Future Teachers and nurses clubs in Martin high school. It was decided that the Martin and Allen members would again sell candy and Christmas cards as fund-raising projects.

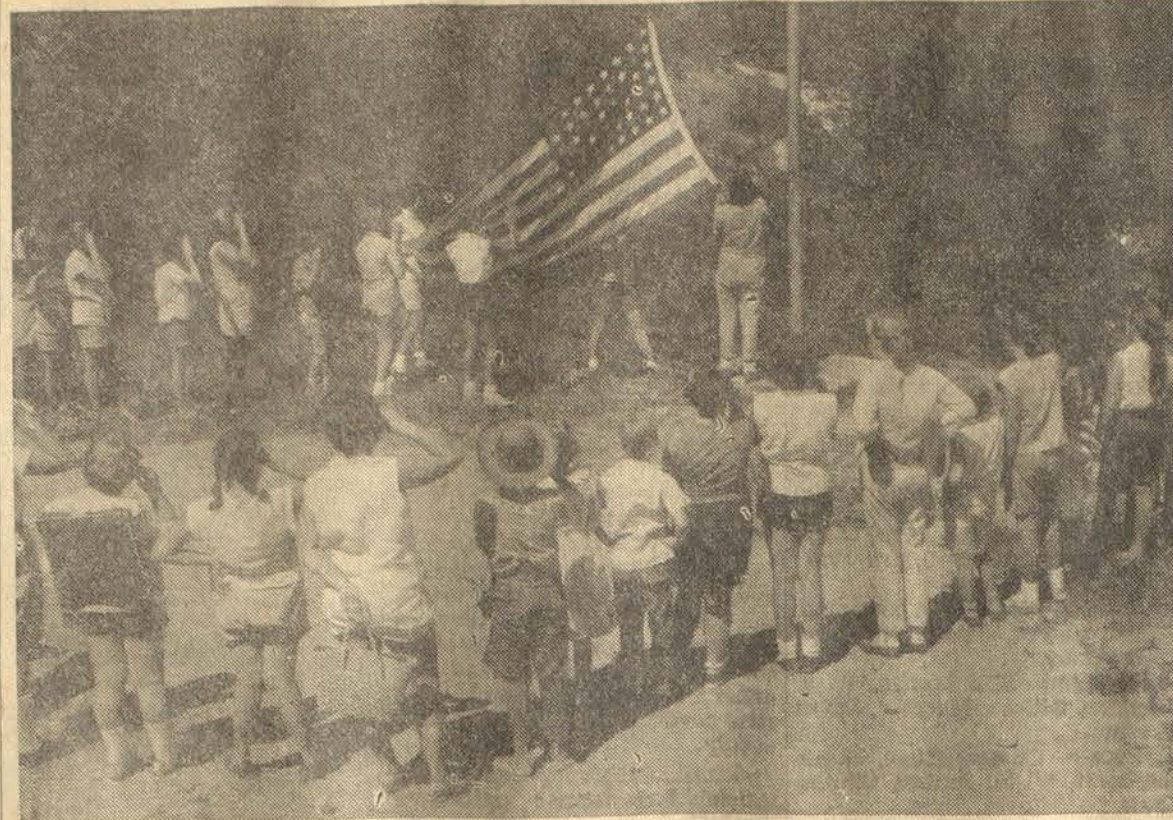

Miss Music read a letter from Mrs. Lloyd Stumbo, thanking the club for the $25 donation to friends of Kentucky libraries. This was the amount given to the local club by the women's clubs of the state as flood relief. A dessert course was served by Mrs. James Davis.

On October 2, 3, and 4 there will be a radio auction for the Floyd county program for retarded children.

ANNUAL GIRL SCOUT DRIVE FOR $10,000 NEARING CLOSE

A daily event at Sandy Valley Council's Girl Scout Camp at Dewey Lake is the raising and lowering of the flag on the point in front of the main lodge. Here girls attending this summer's day camp lower the flag at the end of the day's activities.

The annual fund drive being made by the Sandy Valley Girl Scout Council which covers Johnson, Floyd and Pike counties, drew near its close this week. The goal is $10,000.

Money derived from the drive will go to provide funds for running the council activities such as leadership training and program course, operating the office in Pikeville with a full-time executive director and a part-time secretary and for improving and maintaining the permanent camp on Dewey Lake. At present camping fees in the summer barely cover the cost of the program, staff and girls room and board.

In the past year, 777 girls under the council jurisdiction earned the Second Class rank, 19 became First Class Scouts, and 13 earned the Curved Bar, the highest rank in Intermediate Scouting. Intermediate scouts last year earned a total of 502 badges. Two troops in the council traveled to Washington, D. C., others participated at the Senior Scouting level in the Senior conference, World Camp training and civic improvement projects such as maintaining bookmobiles in two Pikeville hospitals.

The Scouting personnel in the Council consists of 642 girls from the ages of 7 to 18 years of age and 203 registered adults serving as volunteer leaders and committee members. Approximately 30 volunteer adults make-up the Council organization along with the executive director, Mrs. Zella Archer, of Prestonsburg. President of the Council is Oscar Harm, of Pikeville. There are 316 girls in Brownie Scouting, aged 7-9 years old; 259 in Intermediate Scouting, and 67 in Senior Scouting. The badge work is the program for Intermediate and Senior Scouts, and is divided into ten different program fields and four ranks beginning with the Tenderfoot and progressing through Second Class, First Class and Curved Bar. Senior Scouting takes over when the girls reach high school age.

MOORE for COUNTY CLERK

Dear Friends and Fellow Voters:

I am very thankful for the kind interest that you have shown me in the past. I will greatly appreciate you and your support in this election.

I have always conducted my political campaigns on a high level. I have always been aware of the feelings of my opponents and their friends and their loved ones. I have never knowingly wounded anyone's feelings, or spread unkind gossip about any of my opponents or their loved ones. It has always been my nature and desire to be kind and considerate of others.

I have always tried to live a good clean life; to do my level best for the good of My County and My Country.

I have faith in humanity, and I have always tried to see the good that there is in everyone, and to help them achieve success and happiness in this life, and hope for a better world in the Great Beyond. Never will I lend my thoughts or my conduct to the tearing down or the destroying of the good that there is in the life of anyone whether they be my colleague or my adversary. I firmly believe that no man can build himself up by tearing down his fellowmen. I will always work for that which is good, right and noble and honest.

Your County Clerk's Office has been well kept in the past. I have tried to secure and to keep the very best help that I could find. We have worked long and hard and been faithful and true to your trust. We will do our best to serve you well during the next four years. Your interests will be our interests, and your welfare will be our welfare. We desire to serve you well. We will be honest and faithful, and strive to save you money and time when you have business to look after in the County Court Clerk's Office. No task will be too large or too small. It will be a pleasure if we can please you. When you are pleased with our service we will be happy.

May God be our keeper and our guide in this and in the future.

Please go to the polls on Tuesday, November 5th, and vote to make Floyd county a better place in which to live. I will appreciate your kindness. PLEASE DON'T FAIL TO VOTE. Let's show our love for our country and our great American way of life.

Your friend, was knocked down. He left, and Stephens and Vaughan went inside. They were joined there by Will Stephens, a brother of Tom. Sometime later, Shell called from outside the house for help with a car, authorities were told. Vaughan volunteered to go outside, saying he and Shell were friends. Will Stephens accompanied him.

Shortly after Vaughan and Stephens walked outside the single blast from the shotgun was fired.

Shell was found that night by Sheriff's deputies at the home of his father, Jim Shell. He feigned sleep. Deputy Sheriff Frank Blackburn said, but roused quickly upon being pulled from bed. Officers said he thought he had shot Tom Stephens.

John Stephens was quoted by Deputy Sheriff Blackburn as saying that when he and Vaughan stepped outside the Tom Stephens home Shell called to them to ask where a Craft boy who had accompanied him there had gone. Vaughan replied and had no more than spoken when the shot was fired.

The victim was unarmed and was described as a young man of excellent character and habits.

A warrant was issued by County Judge Henry Stumbo, Monday afternoon, charging Shell with murder on the basis of an affidavit procured by County Attorney Hollie Conley. Bond of $10,000 was asked for Shell's release, and he waived examining trial.

The shot victim was a son of Jeff and Nell Harris Vaughan. Besides his parents, he is survived by one brother, George, of Cliff, and a sister, Mrs. Mary Nell Bingham.

The funeral was conducted Monday from the Freewill Baptist Church at Cliff, of which the victim was a member, and burial was made in the Vaughan cemetery at Cliff under direction of the Carter & Callihan Funeral Home.

New York — The nation's total assets — including houses, cars, farms, goods and inventories, federal properties, public utilities and factories, mines, oil wells, and the like — are estimated at 1.6 trillion dollars. show will total $80, and the trophy for the best exhibit will be given by the Bank Josephine. Another show improvement will be in the pig chain exhibit started in this county a few years ago among 4-H Clubs. The chain, sponsored by local businessmen, has heretofore been showing one ring, but this year will require four rings to adequately exhibit the porkers, now prized specimens of hogs, including boars, gilts and sows.

The school exhibits, which will be under the supervision of Blanche Dingus, of the county superintendent's office, is expected this year to surpass the interest of last year as pupils and teachers are preparing a great diversity of exhibits to earn hundreds of ribbons. Last year's school exhibits were an extravaganza of color, with paintings, improvised devices, specimens of school work and casual art work predominating. The Floyd and Johnson county school departments of education are exchanging judges in the educational field this year, and the judges from here will look over the Paintsville exhibits tonight (Thursday) as the Johnson county fair started Monday.

Chairmen of the various committees responsible to the fair board for the success of this year's exhibition are Burl Spurlock, location and grounds, finance, and commercial exhibits; Franklin Moore, entertainment; Virgil Smith, livestock; J. L. Laferty, crops; Mrs. Winnie F. Johns, women's exhibit; Mrs. Glenn Brickley, flowers; Blanche Dingus, school exhibits; Mrs. Alma Lowe, 4-H Club exhibits; Lloyd Wells F. F. A. department; Hazel Hill, F.H.A. department; and Jimmy Owens, Boy and Girl Scouts.

The exhibition will be open until 10 each evening and all exhibits are to be on display until 8 p.m. Saturday. No entry fees will be charged, it was noted.

Fair week will really begin Monday when the Gooding Amusement Company will open its variety entertainment of rides and other amusement features.

Service Academy Exams Scheduled

A civil service examination for young men interested in entering one of the Service Academies will be given Nov. 18. The examination is for men interested in the Air Force and Merchant Marine Academies, as well as West Point and Annapolis.

Congressman Carl D. Perkins said that he would be glad to arrange for all interested persons to take the exam and to supply them with a list of sample questions.

According to the Civil Service Commission announcement, "the purpose of the examination is to aid Senators and Representatives in the selection of appointees for the classes entering Academies in July of 1958."

Those interested in taking the exams should write to Congressman Carl D. Perkins, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. before October 18, 1957. The tests will be given in Ashland, Hazard, Lexington and Paintsville, as well as in many other cities throughout the country.

and battery with an auto and cutting and wounding. A peace warrant was also issued for him, and he was booked at the jail for hit-run driving.

The father of the accused man said Isaacs was driving Ernel Isaacs' car, that all were drinking and he thought his son attempted to run over Ernel but the latter dodged and the car hit the child instead.

Authorities said Ernel Isaacs told them his cousin came back to his home and attempted to kill him after driving the car over his son.

edition of The Times, down there on Court street, with pencil, without benefit of desk or dictionary. Surely it hasn't been that long since a fire wiped out the newspaper, look, stock and barrel, and cleaned out yours truly who had been married only a short time and had some pressing obligations such as payments on furniture and an odd grocery account or two.

Since those days the paper has passed through a World War and before that a depression that rightly merits a capital D. You didn't worry about having a new car in those days. If you were editing The Floyd County Times, you had no car. And a lot of other things, besides. You were satisfied to keep your most salient feature, your nose, above water. But you had youth and a certain enthusiasm. Printer's ink still smelled sweet and good to you, and you looked on just about everything you wrote as something so classic that it belonged on paper finer than newsprint and in form more permanent than any mere newspaper. And dreams—boy, did you have them!

That is why 30 years ago look so attractive to me, now, if any youngster isn't satisfied just to be young, even if he does want a lot of things that he can't have, send him around and let me lull him to sleep telling him as earnestly as I can that I would trade any material blessings I may have for his youth.

Which, I suppose, is a rather commonplace observation. Matter of fact, there's a lot of the commonplace about this newspaper business. The truth is, youngsters, the romance of journalism is a fiction—pure fiction. It's grubbing for news, writing news, reading proofs, worrying about deadlines, answering the telephone, hearing complaints, getting the paper out—then starting all over again toward getting the fool thing out again. Daily or weekly, it amounts to just about that.

It's a job, no sinecure, if you like it, go to it. If there's any doubt about your liking it, and if you're bitten by that Romance-of-Journalism bug, shy away from it as if it were a rattlesnake. You'll never be a Croesus, neither will you be any knight in shining armor.

Well, I started out to write something about our 30th anniversary, and I've wandered far afield. And still this piece just scratches the surface as it talks about that old codger, The Floyd County Times.

It doesn't tell anything of the fun we've had, of the dark days and the sad, the little incidents (such as could be told) that enlivened the routine, the weaknesses we've discovered in people and the greatness we also have found in human beings. It doesn't tell, either, anything of our ideals as newspaper people—but if they aren't apparent to those who know us (and they're the only ones who count, anyway), my recounting them would be more wasted space.

Incidentally, if this isn't ended here and now, we'll be running over into National Newspaper Week or perhaps competing with Kentucky Cornbread Week—and that I do not want to do.

Thirty—just think!

ROAD DEPT. SEEKS BID

On Road Improvements Of About 75 Miles For Oct. 4 Letting

Frankfort, Sept. 24 (Spl.)—The Kentucky Department of Highways is seeking bids on additional road improvements totaling approximately 75 miles.

These bids will be opened at the department here at 10 a.m., (CST) Oct. 4.

The early October bid opening will raise to about 800 the total mileage upon which road-improvement bids have been requested in recent weeks, starting in August.

The total includes many rural highway and farm-to-market road projects, involving much black-topping. Projects on the interstate and primary highway systems also have been included.

For cost of interstate projects, the federal government provides $9 for each $1 put up by the state. On federal-aid primary and secondary roads, the federal and state governments divide the costs evenly.

Meantime Highway Department officials have termed "quite successful" their new right-of-way buying plan tried as an experiment at Catlettsburg recently.

Under the plan, the state carefully obtains at least two appraisals of property needed for right of way, reviews the appraisals and then establishes the average as the fair, market price. This is the price offered property owners. Should they refuse to accept, the state then starts condemnation proceedings, letting the courts decide the price.

In the Catlettsburg test, most property owners accepted the state's offers for most of the property needed for an improvement on US 23. Highway officials now are considering use of the new plan on other projects in the state.

SPENDS FURLOUGH HERE

He left Wednesday for Ft. Devens, Mass., where he will receive further special training. Pfc. Napier attended Prestonsburg high school before entering the army last July.

BLACK CATS, JENKINS MAR SPOTLESS RECORDS

The Jenkins Cavaliers and the Prestonsburg Black Cats eliminated two of Eastern Kentucky's high school football teams from the unbeaten ranks over the past week-end of play.

By virtue of its convincing 19-0 triumph over Fleming, Jenkins is the undisputed leader of the 10-team Mountain Conference. Prestonsburg rolled over previously undefeated Elkhorn City, 27-0, in becoming the first team to score on the Cougars.

In the other conference fray, Hazard topped city rival M. C. Napier, 28-0, and in non-loop games Paintsville edged Louisa, 8-0; Whitesburg bounced Cumberland, 26-0; Belfry overpowered Burch, West Virginia, 38-0, and Pikeville lost to Raceland, 26-6.

Nick Diachenko's Jenkins eleven pulled into a 13-0 halftime margin on touchdowns by Gary Harrison and Frank Hodges. Then in the final period, Hughes whipped a payoff aerial to rangy Nicky Dann.

Prestonsburg, which travels to Jenkins Friday night, whipped Elkhorn City with apparent ease after a close first half. On the final play of the first period quarterback Paul Phillip Hughes scooted around end for a six yard t.d. after halfback Tom Harmon had bounced on an Elkhorn City bobble on the 20 and fullback James Allen had run to the six.

Halfback Joe Jack Harris set up Prestonsburg's second marker in the third period by going 40 yards to the Elkhorn City one, from which point Allen scored. Four plays later Allen grabbed Delbert Justice's pass on the 50 and went the distance for the counter, Hughes added the final touchdown in the fourth on an eight-yard run, Allen booted three points after touchdowns.

Jim Caudill's Hazard Bulldogs upped their record to 2-1 with a win over M. C. Napier. Quarterback Kenneth Cobb climaxed a 47-yard first period drive by piling over from the one, and Astor Sizemore added the extra point.

In the third, and with Hazard leading, 7-0, Cobb hit end James Baker for a 31-yard touchdown pass play and Sizemore's kick ran the count to 14-0. Halfback J. Hardy then got in the act and ran up the final touchdown on runs of 27 and 18 yards, with Sizemore and guard Jim Crutchfield adding the extra points.

Belfry marched to its third successive triumph by trouncing neighboring Burch. In the first three minutes, halfback Bob Hamlin grabbed a Burch punt on his own five and scampered 95 yards for the end zone. Then Belfry ran the halftime count to 18-0 on a 31-yard six-pointer by halfback Max Hinkle and a three-yard jaunt by Hamlin.

In the three touchdowns last half, Harry Smith, Harold Sullivan and end Ireland Smith each tallied a score.

Raceland's 116-pound halfback Jimmy Stephens proved too much for the Pikeville Panthers as he raced for two touchdowns and gained 238 yards on the ground. Max Butcher, who returned to the line-up for his first action this season, was the offensive threat for the Panthers and posted their only marker.

Big Ones Caught At Dewey Lake

Last Sunday his fishing partner, Charlie Ferguson, caught by the same method a fish of the same weight. They trolled a bomber. On the same day their big fish were topped by a 5-pound, 12-ounce bass caught trolling by Ray V. Short, of Louisa, who used a tadpole spook to lure the big one.

The water temperature at Dewey is about 76 and with cooler and longer nights should soon be low enough to produce better fishing. Some bass are being taken on flyrod poppers in the early morning or late afternoon.

P'BURG IN 3rd AS RACE ENDS

Blaine Finished First, Paintsville 2nd in Loop; Merchants Down Blaine

The Prestonsburg Merchants Baseball team finished the 1957 regular season in third place in the Sandy Valley League, one-half game behind the leader Blaine and second place Paintsville. However, last Sunday at the Drift Baseball Park, the Merchants defeated Blaine 8-5 in the first game of the playoffs.

Adrian Blackburn, Merchant pitcher, allowed Blaine only eight scattered hits. Clark, Blaine's ace, was ripped for 14 hits, including a home run by Ursal Ray Wilcox and a triple by Charles Dotson.

East Kentucky Loans After January Flood Totalled $6,659,116

Disaster loans totaling $6,659,116 were made by commercial banks and the Small Business Administration to 856 businesses and individuals in 10 Eastern Kentucky counties hit by floods last winter. Officials of the S.B.A. reported the total last week to the Kentucky Bankers Association.

The report said 17 banks in the flooded area are lent 60 percent of the total, $4,101,490. The remaining 40 percent, $2,557,626 represented direct loans by the S.B.A. Loans made in the 10 counties averaged $77 each. Bank loans averaged $869 and direct Government loans averaged $668.

John A. Pucel, Cleveland, financial specialist for the S.B.A., said the Kentucky record of bank participation was the best yet in any disaster area since the Government's disaster-loan project began late in 1955.

Pucel credited the bankers' association with expediting the handling of loans in temporary offices set up at Hazard, Barbourville, and Pikeville, almost before the floods receded.

CAGE CLINIC

The 15th regional basketball officials' and coaches' clinic will be held in the Pikeville high school gymnasium, Tuesday, October 8, at 9 p.m. (E. S. T.). Under this year's Kentucky High School Athletic Association rules, attendance is required of all basketball officials and head coaches. Before an official works a 1957-58 basketball game, he must have attended one of the 16 clinics held in the state.

BRIGHT FUTURE

James Buford Crager, ex-Prestonsburg high athlete and 1957 winner of the Prestonsburg Junior Chamber of Commerce Reatherford-Salyers Award, appears to have a bright future with the Morehead Eagles. In Morehead's 12-0 conquest of Maryville last Saturday night, Crager made the longest run of the game—an elusive 73-yard trek—but it was nullified by an off-side penalty. Although only a freshman, Crager played almost the whole game.

GOOFED RATINGS

The weekly Kentucky high school football ratings, which appear every Tuesday in the big city daily are about as informative and newsworthy as a dead mackerel. This week, for instance, Jenkins, possibly the best team in the mountains and one of the leading ones in the state, is ranked 41st, behind Fleming (34th) and Paintsville (38th). In the past two weeks the Jenkins eleven whipped Paintsville and Fleming, yet they drop in the ratings. Belfry, loser to Fleming and conquerer of weak Pikeville and two other West Virginia schools, is tabbed as the best in the mountains and is in 13th position, statewide.

Prestonsburg was 38th, then whipped previously unbeaten Elkhorn City 27-0 last Friday and has now dropped to 51st by virtue of that victory.

PLAYER OF THE WEEK

Last week's victory over Elkhorn City produced two winners for the Black Cat Player-of-the-Week Award. Sophomore fullback James Allen and senior center Wayne Dixon shared the decision of the secret five-man selection committee.

Allen scored two touchdowns and booted three extra points and did an excellent defensive job. Dixon turned in his best performance of the season, as did guard Henry Hughes.

HAYES ASKS SUPPORT FOR BURNIS MARTIN FOR STATE SENATOR

On November 5th the voters will be faced with the problem of two Democratic candidates for State Senator. Burnis Martin, Commonwealth's Attorney, has constantly worked in the interests of Floyd County Taxpayers and for honesty in government at all levels. He fights in this campaign for the RIGHT OF THE VOTERS, not the Kremlin in Frankfort, to select a representative of the people. Mr. Martin's opposition so far has been handpicked by Lt. Governor "Happy" Lee Waterfield, but the Democratic leaders throughout the county, with whom I have talked, have almost unanimously voiced their support for Burnis Martin. Here are their reasons, and mine, for supporting Burnis Martin for State Senator:

1. Burnis Martin, to my knowledge, has always been a loyal Democrat. I cannot say the same for his opposition who to my personal knowledge in the U. S. senatorial campaign of 1954 walked out on Senator Barkley and spoke and campaigned against this great Democrat whose immortalized last words will forever be remembered. "I would rather be a servant in the house of the Lord than sit in the seat of the mighty". No—the friends of Senator Barkley must not forget; good Democrats must never forget.

2. Every nominee on the Democratic ticket must admit that Burnis Martin is the strongest candidate for this senate post and his opposition knows that the Democratic party is best represented by the Strongest Man. But—here's the rub—Burnis Martin will not be a "bossed" State Senator. He will not be a rubber stamp for the Administration's program of more and higher taxes and more and rottener road scandals.

We in Floyd county have seen the independent, forceful action Burnis Martin has taken in behalf of good government. In the last few days we have read how the tax-hungry ring in Frankfort ignored Burnis Martin's request for a primary. We have read of Burnis Martin's magnanimous gesture to the Lt. Governor supporting a member of the late Senator Hays' family to fill out the unexpired term, and who again yesterday suggested to the Democratic Campaign Manager that both candidates for State Senator withdraw in the interest of party harmony and allow a member of the late Senator Hays' family the honor of filling out the short term.

The dictatorial action of "Happy" Lee Waterfield's hand-picked candidate secretly meeting with two pressured road employees, and brazenly picking himself as choice of the democratic voters of three counties, and having the Secretary of State certify him at the Democratic nominee has shocked the conscience of the electorate, and is unprecedented, especially since there is no special statutory authority for this conduct where the regular and special election coincide.

While I will strongly support all Democratic nominees who won in the recent primary, I do not propose to allow the Kremlin in Frankfort to select my representative in the state senate in this special election. I propose to support Burnis Martin, whose party loyalty and independence of action on behalf of the people will make him a great state senator. This is your fight as well as mine. Your liberty and your right to select your representatives are at stake in this special election. Will you allow your freedoms, swathed in the blood of your ancestors, and more recently made sacred by many in our armed forces, to be crushed under the heels of the Kremlin in Frankfort? Join me in this fight if you love your liberty and value your right to vote.

Modern Sewage Disposal Methods Can Restore Poisoned Rivers

Damage by polluted rivers costs America at least a billion dollars a year but new legislation and modern sewage disposal methods are bringing many rivers back to usefulness.

So reports Peter Farb in an October Reader's Digest article, "Let's Clean Up All Rivers," condensed from National Municipal Review.

The new Middlesex County Sewage Authority in Northern New Jersey has built a 30-million dollar pipeline and sewage disposal system that will allow the Raritan River to flow clean next year for the first time in nearly half a century. The new system will take care of waste from 19 municipalities and nine industries—about 100 million gallons of sewage per day.

The scrubbing given the Raritan is being duplicated across the United States. In the last seven years Kansas has built or contracted for 200 new sewage-treatment plants, and almost all the rivers in the state are washed clean. In Illinois, 95 per cent of the sewage systems are now the modern disposal type. The beautiful Willamette River in Oregon is being cleaned up, and salmon are running by the millions again. Even the grimy Ohio River is getting a bath.

Because water is industry's most-used raw material, many firms have joined the fight. The chemical business alone is spending 40 million dollars each year to control its wastes.

Some Old Saws About Weather Forecasting Based On Fact

"Rainbow at night, sailors' delight; rainbow in the morning, sailors take warning."

It's true. And Duncan Enrich explains why in his October Reader's Digest article "Come Wind, Come Weather!" condensed from The Journal of Lifetime Living.

Rainbows can only be seen in the morning or in the late afternoon, when the low position of the sun in the sky is reflected against the clouds. Since our weather normally comes from the west, a rainbow in the late afternoon ("at night") when the sun is setting in the west means that the clouds and storm causing it are in the east, and have passed over. A rainbow seen in the morning, on the other hand, will be in the west—since the rising sun from the east against the western clouds makes it possible; the weather—the rain and storm—will thus be moving eastward toward you.

Other weather folklore also is based on scientific observation. For instance, old-timers believe the cobwebs on the grass are a sign of fair weather. They also believe that: "When the dew is on the grass, rain will never come to pass."

Both the belief and the proverb are true, Enrich says. Cobwebs can be seen only when there is dew on the ground. And dew cannot form unless the skies are cloudless and there is no wind. A cloud-sheet would prevent the radiation which caused the loss of heat and resulting condensation on the grass. A windless night is necessary lest warm air passing over the ground prevent it from cooling.

The weather Bureau does not draw upon such proverbs for its scientific reports, but its chief, F. W. Reichelderfer, is not dogmatically negative about them. Some of the omens prove out with remarkable accuracy.

To The Voters Of The 29th Senatorial District Composed Of Floyd, Knott and Martin Counties

Following the loss of my friend and neighbor of many years, the late Senator Doug Hays, I was chosen by the Senatorial District Committee to be the Democratic nominee for State Senator to fill the unexpired term.

I never requested the nomination, because I had no desire to be a candidate for any office. Convinced, however, by my friends and party leaders that because of my past experience and my relationship with the present State Administration I could be of service to the people of Eastern Kentucky, I agreed to accept the nomination.

My name will, therefore, appear on the November ballot as the Democratic nominee. I humbly ask your support.

STATE POLICE UPHOLD TROOPER IN PIKE FRAY

Kentucky State Police this week reported results of their investigation of a Friday night chase which ended with one man fatally shot and two others wounded by a state trooper.

The report said the trooper, Perry Taylor, of the Pikeville post, fired only after being shot at by one of the pursued men, and opened fire a second time as two of the men rushed at him.

The report emphasized no shots were fired by the trooper until the chase ended with wrecking of the pursued car.

The shooting took place just over the state line at Delorme, West Virginia, after Taylor and Pike county sheriff's deputy Ed Dotson chased the three men out of Kentucky at what they called "tremendously high speed."

Killed was Mose Ray Dotson, 25, Coleman, Ky., who the state police report said was shot by Taylor as he and Bobby Stump, 25, Coleman, advanced on the trooper after their car was wrecked on a curve on the road. Stump was wounded.

Also wounded was Dotson's 30-year-old brother Floyd, of Phelps, Ky., who the report said was holding a pistol in his hand when taken from the wrecked car. The report indicated deputy Dotson took no part in the shooting.

West Virginia authorities said Saturday they would file murder and maiming charges against Taylor and deputy Dotson, who was a cousin of the two Dotsons involved.

The state police report was based on an investigation by Maj. Charles Crutchfield, sent to the scene by State Police headquarters to investigate.

The report said several persons in the Peter Creek, Ky., area reported a car driving recklessly shortly before the chase began. Taylor and deputy Dotson also observed it as it passed Taylor's cruiser on Ky. 95 near Phelps.

The report said they pursued the car with the cruiser's red lights and siren going full blast and signaled the car to pull over. Several shots were fired from the car, one hitting above the cruiser windshield, one smashing into the hood above the grillwork, and one going into the grillwork, the report said.

The chase continued at high speed with the pursued car in the center of the highway, forcing oncoming cars to pull off the road, according to the report. Taylor said it appeared the fleeing auto was going to wreck.

The autos crossed a bridge over the Tug River into West Virginia at Delorme, and by that time the report said, what had started out as a traffic violation had become a felony. The officers were in "hot pursuit" and their pursuit was legal, it added.

Just beyond the bridge, about 75 feet on the West Virginia side was a curve on which the pursued auto wrecked. The police report emphasized that until then Taylor had not touched his shotgun. He then pulled his shotgun from its holster in the cruiser, got out of the car and called to the men in the other auto, "Come on out boys and let's not have any more trouble."

His warning was followed by a shot from the wrecked auto. The bullet passed close to Taylor, who thought he was shot. He fired four rounds from the shotgun, wounding Floyd Dotson in the arm.

Then the other two men advanced on Taylor and refused to stop as he ordered, the report said. They ran toward him, and he shot both with his service revolver, killing Ray Dotson and wounding Stump.

The police report added that a 44-caliber revolver was recovered from the scene, apparently the one held by the wounded Dotson.

Taylor went to a business place to call the West Virginia State Police, but friends of Taylor, and another party of friends of the Dotsons had followed them across the bridge. Some were drunk and others were armed, according to the report, and feelings were "running high."

To avoid further trouble Taylor was reported as saying he thought it best to leave the scene. He later got in touch with state police in Kentucky.

MICROFILMING WORK BEGUN

Project Is Intended To Save Space, Money In Preserving Records

Frankfort, Sept. 24 (Sp.) — To save space and money is the purpose of a microfilming project now underway in the Secretary of State's office.

Upon completion of the project, all data by the secretary of state since Kentucky became a state in 1792 will be filed in two small cabinets. This includes corporation charters, executive orders, deeds and other records. The microfilming is expected to be completed early in 1960.

The documents formerly were photostated at a cost of 30 cents each. It costs a tenth of a cent to microfilm one of the records, Mrs. Thelma Stovall, secretary of state, said. She initiated the project. Gov. A. B. Chandler appropriated $3,060 from his emergency fund to start the undertaking.

From the initial outlay came the cost of two viewers, an enlarger for making copies, film, plastic jackets to hold microfilmed copies, and rental for one year of the microfilming machine at the rate of $285 for six months.

Mrs. Stovall is enthusiastic about the project which she had under study for about a year before it was undertaken. "Everybody said it couldn't be done," she said.

She added that required file space will be reduced by 85 per cent. The estimated 40,000 corporation papers and countless other documents are filed in 67 cabinets in the secretary's office and in the Capitol basement. Two microfilmed copies are made of each record. A third copy may be made for storage in a bomb-proof temperature controlled vault.

Besides saving money and space, Mrs. Stovall said, microfilming will add to the convenience of using the documents.

TO THE DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

Numerous articles have been appearing in the local paper showing the large registration of Democratic voters over the Republican voters. We realize this is true to some extent, but the figures don't disclose the thousands of voters who pride themselves in our local county races in voting for the man they feel will do the best job for all the people, and many thousands of these registered Democratic voters also register Democratic in order to participate in the Democratic primary. A good many of these voters did this in the last Governor's race when we had a local man as candidate for that office. My daughter, for one as an example, registered Democratic in order to vote for our local Floyd county man.

The Sheriff's office is important in any state race, since he is chairman of your Election Board. His support for any of our local men who aspire to a state office will have considerable bearing on the outcome in Floyd county. I now pledge my support, if elected your Sheriff, to support any local county man who may become a candidate for a state office, whether Democrat or Republican. You won't find me catering to the whims of the Chandler forces in supporting the Administration hand-picked candidates in order to get a few jobs.

You Democratic candidates for Sheriff in the primary were clearly shown who nominated my opponent. It was Chandler's Road Workers and Job-Holders. I don't believe in any State Administration taking part in a primary for county offices. It is unfair and undemocratic in every respect.

The Chandler Administration's job holders and road workers are stressing my opponent's election over every Democratic nominee. Their slogan is "Save the Sheriff Above All Others"—he was our man in the primary, and will stay with us two years from now in the Governor's race.

You can see what means and tactics they will resort to in getting their man elected.

A Democrat vote for me will be appreciated, and I assure you that I will support and work for any local candidate from Floyd county who makes a state race while I am your Sheriff.

A look into the future for High School Boys and Girls

Today, there are many excellent opportunities for people who are educated in the fields of science and engineering. Our country's rapid advancement in industrial and technological developments calls for more professionally trained men and women than ever before. This great advancement is expected to continue for a number of years, bringing with it a continued shortage of trained people.

If you are a high school student, and have a liking for mathematics or other scientific studies, it might be worth your while to prepare now to specialize in some branch of engineering, science or physics when you enter college.

The electric utility industry offers many opportunities for trained people. In the past ten years the demand for electric energy has more than doubled. This growth is expected to be duplicated during the next several decades, to be accompanied by an increased requirement for engineers and technically trained people.

We suggest you consult the student adviser of your school. He is qualified and ready to help you select required courses of study. If you would like further information about the opportunities available in the electric utility industry, contact your nearest Kentucky Power Company office and a company representative will be glad to help you.

KY. CHAMBER BACKS CHANGE

Endorses Amendment As Step To Remove Office From Politics

The recent Kentucky Chamber of Commerce board endorsement of the so-called School Superintendent Amendment was hailed last week as "a fine step which puts this matter in its proper light for Kentucky voters."

The statement was made by William C. Embry, Louisville, chairman of the Non-Partisan Committee for the School Amendment. The amendment will be voted on at the November 5 election.

"This representative group of Kentucky businessmen," Embry said of the chamber's board, "is obviously considering the long range benefit this constitutional change can bring into Kentucky's educational picture. They are plainly not worried by any fears that the change might increase our taxes, as a few spokesmen have charged. And they apparently are convinced that the change will clear political considerations out of the field of public instruction at the State level."

Embry said the Kentucky C. of C. endorsement backs up previous endorsements by the Kentucky Education Association and the Kentucky Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Principal provisions of the amendment are those establishing a nine-member constitutional State Board of Education which will appoint a Commissioner of Education to handle the duties of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, now an elective office. Backers of the amendment point out that the "staggering" of terms of the board members as provided in the proposed law will prevent any succeeding Governor from gaining control of a majority of board appointments.

An application and charter fee of $2 is charged each club and is good as long as the club maintains a continuous year-to-year existence in the same school. Individual memberships are $1 a year.

It is not required, but the school library should be a subscriber to the state historical journal, The Register of the Kentucky Historical Society.

Each club must have a local historian and a history-teacher for sponsors. At least one of these two must be a member of the Kentucky Historical Society. Each club above the sixth-grade level must, in addition to the history sponsors, have an English teacher advisor.

PIKE BOY SCOUT RETURNS HOME FROM TRIP TO JAPAN, KOREA

Scout Bruce Weddle, of Pikeville, returned recently from a trip half-way around the world as a guest of the U. S. government. Having been selected as one of five Scouts from the states of Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky, he was a member of an "Explorer Air Lift" that took a live exhibit of American Democracy and Scouting skills to the youth of Japan and Korea. The Scouts traveled via U. S. air military transports on a month-long trip from August to September, and arrived home in time for the opening of school.

After a week of orientation, and living with the Air Force Cadets, which included 15 shots that inoculated them against various diseases, the plane left Travis Air Force Base in California and flew to Hickman Field, Honolulu, Hawaii. The next stop was Wake Island. From Wake to Tokyo, Japan, and on to Seoul Korea.

In Korea, Weddle said his party was accorded the attention of visiting dignitaries. Six days were packed with tours, meetings, and dinners. The Scouts visited the Commander and Chief of Staff of the Korean Air Force and Army. Everywhere they went they had a military escort, and was treated as VIP's. They stayed in the homes of Korean Boy Scouts. Most of the Korean boys could speak English, and write it, but found it hard to understand Weddle's Southern accent.

Bruce Weddle was the only Southern Scout in the group. He gave a little Confederate flag as a souvenir to Sigmund Rhee, president of Korea. The Scouts saw almost all members of the Korean government and were given parades and keys to the cities of Seoul, Taegu, and Pusan. They went to the front lines along the demilitarized zone visiting American fortifications and saw Communist territory through telescopes from American lookout posts and saw Communist lookouts observing them. They went to Inchon Harbor, scene of the famous American landing. The only meal they had in the homes in which they stayed was breakfast where they received American fare. However, most of the big dinners to which they were feted were of Korean cuisine in the typical Korean meal according to Weddle were "too much, too hot," being highly seasoned.

The group inspected camporees of Korean Scouts in Seoul, noting that most of the Scouts had army equipment, homemade patches and a tremendous enthusiasm about their Scouting. After seeing the front lines they returned to Seoul for a picnic with Korean Girl Scouts. Most of the girls looked to be about 15 or 16, and to the boys amazement were found to be freshmen and sophomores in college. Weddle was amazed to find the Korean boys and girls looking so young and having such beautiful voices in that the Scouts, girls, and people in general sang for them wherever they went.

At the Camporee, Korean Scouts had a campfire, did stunts, and sang just like the American Scouts do, the songs sounding very pleasant to the ear but with the distinct flavor of the Orient.

Weddle was most impressed by the splendid hospitality which the Koreans showed to him and to the others of his group, plus the great Scouting spirit of the Korean Scouts. He was also impressed by the friendliness of the army and government of Korea.

Miss Calton Is Bride of Mr. Reed

Miss Shelby Jean Calton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hargus Calton, of Martin, was married September 15 to James Lee Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Reed, of Drift.

The Rev. Ira McMillen, pastor of Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church, Prestonsburg, performed the double-ring ceremony at the Lancer Baptist Chapel. The church was arranged with baskets of white gladioli against a background of palms and greenery. The ceremony was performed before a white satin kneeling bench.

Miss Rebecca Conley, pianist, played traditional wedding music, and Mrs. McMillen sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white waltz-length gown of hand-clipped Chantilly lace and pure silk over faille. The scoop neckline of lace had long sleeves ending in calla points over the hand. The princess style dress of silk was worn over hoops. Her veil of silk illusion was fastened to a crown covered with tiny seed pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and surrounded with a shower of stephanotis and satin streamers.

Mrs. Barbara Williams, friend of the bride, was her matron of honor. Miss Shirley Reed, sister of the groom, and Miss Frances Rasnick were the bridesmaids.

Mrs. Williams wore a white ballerina-length gown with a pink sash which formed a bow with streamers which hung to the hem of dress in back. She wore a matching headpiece and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. The two bridesmaids wore ballerina-length gowns with yellow sashes and the same style as the matron of honor. They also wore matching headpieces and carried bouquets of yellow carnations.

Her only flower girl was Miss Betty Jo Greer, cousin of the bride. She wore a floor-length gown of white silk. The scoop neckline was outlined with a blue nylon band which tied in a bow and formed streamers down the back. She wore satin ballerina shoes and matching headpiece, and carried a basket of red rose petals which she scattered on each side of aisle.

Julius Martin served as groom's best man, and ushers were Franklin and Ronald Turner.

The bride's mother chose a ice-blue lace sheath dress with black accessories and a corsage of white roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a moss pink dress with matching accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception was given by Mrs. Shannon Greer at the B. & W. dining room. Assisting were Mrs. Pat Dingus, Mrs. H. D. Blackburn, and Mrs. Adrian Lafferty.

When the couple left for their honeymoon, the bride was wearing a tan sheath dress trimmed in lace with matching accessories and a corsage of yellow rose buds.

Mrs. Reed is a graduate of Martin high school and attended Pikeville College last fall where she was a member of several clubs.

KY. MARCH OF DIMES NETS $660,174 IN '57

The March of Dimes in Kentucky raised $660,174.34 last January for the 1957 battle against polio and the huge task of restoring its disabled victims to productive living. Dr. Frank A. Rose, state chairman of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, announced here today.

Dr. Rose said an important part of the funds has been earmarked for polio rehabilitation. He added that the 1958 March of Dimes, starting January 2, will also emphasize the help urgently needed for the many thousands still afflicted by the crippling after-effects of polio.

He explained that 29 counties in the state had this year received a total of $117,675.00 in additional aid from the National Foundation's headquarters.

Dr. Rose said he wished to thank the people of the state on behalf of the National Foundation and local chapters for their generous assistance given last January.

He said that the lowered incidence of polio had made it possible for chapters to give greater attention to post-polio rehabilitation.

"In recent years, rehabilitative medicine has taken important strides forward as a result of modern research sponsored by the March of Dimes organization," he said. "New methods of orthopedic surgery, vocational and physical therapy and allied sciences are reclaiming many lives for society. These are lives that might otherwise have been spent in helplessness and idleness in hospitals or as burdens to family or community."

"We know there are many residents of our state who had polio who can be further benefitted by the new techniques. Right now our chapter volunteers are compiling a census to find what needs to be done. Our pledge to aid polio victims will never be fulfilled until we have brought to them the very best in treatment and care and extended their recovery as far as our doctors are able to do so."

Notice To Taxpayers

TURKEY-EATING RECORD MAY BE SET IN '57

Fargo, N. D. — Americans may set a new record in turkey eating this year, according to a poultry-marketing expert.

"Every American will eat nearly 6 pounds of turkey, if the prospective increase in the 1957 crop is used up during the year," said Lloyd M. Forness, North Dakota Agricultural College poultry-market agent.

To the People Of Prestonsburg

After several weeks of talking with many of the good citizens of the town, and after weighing the matter carefully even prayerfully, I have decided to make the race for Mayor of Prestonsburg at the coming November election.

I propose to make this race not out of any particular personal ambition of mine but out of a desire to help our community become a better place to live in and a more decent, law-respecting and law-abiding city.

From time to time in coming weeks I will frankly state my position on the several matters that should be of interest to us all.

I will be on the ballot as a candidate who will fight and fight hard to win but who will oppose others in a spirit of goodwill, with my main purpose to be of service to the place I live in and to the people among whom I live and work and make a living.

Your support and the influence you can use in my behalf will be deeply appreciated.

TROY MULLINS RESIGNED-- HE WAS NOT FIRED

Since Mr. Collins persists in trying to degrade the County Patrolman, I want to take this opportunity to defend him; and to remind Mr. Collins that his opponent for the office of County Judge is HENRY STUMBO, not TROY MULLINS. . . although, I am sure he could serve in that office as ably and honestly as he has in every position he has ever held. You see, I've known Troy Mullins for 25 years; he's my father.

If you will recall, Mr. Collins, I was living in Knott county with my Dad when you practically camped on our front steps, inducing him to be your Chief Deputy. He's the same man, Mr. Collins, he hasn't changed, and neither have you—he just found you out. And if you recall and care to admit it, he RESIGNED from your force . . . he was not relieved. His reason being that your force was no place for an honest man . . . this he told you in no uncertain terms.

Thank God for men like Henry Stumbo who will back and defend honest peace officers when our county is over-run by deputies who are a laughing stock. They go in droves and it's an insult to anyone to be arrested by one of them.

Troy Mullins does not need to be defended to anyone that has ever had dealings with him. He has lived on Right Beaver for 30 years and his record stands . . . even the little children speak of him with respect.

I have been reared to think for myself and come to my own conclusions, which are:

- (1) Mr. Collins is using the lowest form of campaigning—that of mud-slinging, which people who have nothing to hide and who have an honest record do not need to do.
- (2) Mr. Collins is not capable or good enough to criticize or try to degrade a man with a record for integrity, honesty, and capability as a peace officer, as has Troy Mullins.
- (3) HENRY STUMBO is the man for the office of COUNTY JUDGE, because he has the courage and foresight to see that our county has at least one honest, upstanding man as a peace officer. For this reason, I and my family will support and cast our votes for him.

HOW DO YOU LIKE THE MACHINE?

The Republican voters at the Primary Election voted for and nominated GORDON COLLINS for County Judge.

But look who's running—GORMON COLLINS.

Was the rank and file of Republican voters consulted? Or did the Machine go to work after the Sheriff had managed to stay on the County Election Commission through the Primary, and then hand-pick himself for the final election instead of his brother?

Sheriff Collins speaks of me taking the Fifth Amendment. Is he taking the Fifth Amendment and refusing to answer my question in the Floyd County Times of September 5, which read:

"To what court has all this whiskey, gin and beer that you have confiscated been taken? The law provides that such illegal liquors shall be turned over to a court of law."

The people have a right to an answer. Why is it not given?

The people themselves would do well to make some honest, searching questions in these and other matters of this sort.

DAUGHERTY, LAWYER 55 YEARS, LOSES NONE BY DEATH PENALTY

By GERALD GRIFFIN,
In the Courier-Journal

A HOMESPUN mountain lawyer with a glint in his pale-blue eyes, Pikeville's 78-year-old W. A. Daugherty's, conceivably could hold some kind of a courtroom record.

He has been defense counsel in more than 600 murder cases during his 55 years of practice in the mountainous corner of Kentucky, Virginia and West Virginia; and not one of his clients ever was executed. Only one of them was sentenced to death. But "Judge" Daugherty induced the Governor of West Virginia to pardon that one.

Besides the murder cases the veteran trial lawyer has defended, he has acted as special prosecutor in many others. In one of these the defendant, given a death sentence, was electrocuted in Virginia.

Given the honorary title of "Judge," although he never held an elective office, Daugherty—the pronounces it Darty—is one of the best-known attorneys in his area. He is known up all the creeks and hollows as well as in the towns.

With Irish blood in his veins—his great-grandfather came from Ireland — Judge Daugherty, stalwart despite his age, loves to tell stories on himself. When court is not in session, for a little while each afternoon, he can be found holding a small audience of his cronies spellbound in a little soft-drink stand across the street from his office.

One time, he said, relatives of a man charged with murder paid him a $1,000 fee in advance for defending him. Just before the trial was scheduled to start, the relatives came to see him again. They had a unique proposition. They would pay the lawyer an additional $500 if he would guarantee to get the defendant off scot free.

Of course, that was Judge Daugherty's idea all the time, if he could accomplish it. But he wouldn't take the money. Not then. Making no promise at all, he advised the relatives to bring the extra $500 to the trial. The man was acquitted. The relatives paid the $500, and Daugherty took it.

Then there was the time a client called on Daugherty at his 50-acre farm 3 miles north of Pikeville. The client was leaning over the well wall while Judge Daugherty was reeling up a bucket of water. The man leaned over a little too far, and a pint bottle of whisky fell out of his inside coat pocket into the well.

"Now that's just too bad," the old lawyer sympathized. "There's no way to get it out." The judge waited until the client had gone before he retrieved the bottle with a hoe.

Like many Kentucky lovers of his generation, Judge Daugherty never had seen the inside of a law school when he first began the practice of law in 1902. He borrowed books and read law while teaching school for five years. Later, realizing that his legal preparation was not enough for him to accomplish what he set out to do, he attended the University of Richmond, in Virginia, completing the two-year law course in one year.

Born in an isolated area on the head of Knox Creek in Buchanan County, Virginia, Daugherty grew up on a scrawny hillside farm. He managed to get the equivalent of a common-school education. The first class he attended was in a primitive schoolroom rigged up in his father's barn. There were no seats or desks—just three rails nailed to posts driven into the dirt floor.

Even before he finished his rudimentary formal education, young

Daugherty was marred and teaching school himself on Pond Creek in Pike County, near the West Virginia line. His first salary was $15 a month. But he had to take half of that in trade at a general store owned by the school trustee. That was in 1898.

After completing his college law course, Judge Daugherty returned to Grundy, Va., to take up the practice of law where he had left off a year before.

But long before that he had built up a strong body working on his father's farm. He recalls that, as a boy, he broke and used yokes of oxen to haul "saw logs" over the mountain. The first dollar he ever made was by driving ox teams, five or six yokes at a time, hauling big logs. Most of the tri-state corner was covered with virgin timber at that time.

"I loved that work," he mused. "I'd rather drive those oxen than eat."

Daugherty has taken part on one side or the other, in many celebrated mountain murder cases. His services have been so much in demand that at one time he was defense counsel in 28 separate murder cases which he "cleared up" in 60 days. He has no record of how many acquittals he has won, but knows that his "average of clearance has been very high."

But he wasn't so fortunate in his murder case. The man he defended, over in Virginia, got a six-year sentence for killing the sheriff of Buchanan County.

The first time he ever prosecuted a murder case, the defendant was executed. That was the last death verdict he ever got as a prosecutor. It has to be an awful crime before a mountain jury will agree on a death verdict. It must be more than just an ordinary murder.

But that was a gruesome affair, and Judge Daugherty convicted his man purely on circumstantial evidence. Robbery was the motive when Howard Little went to the home of Hiram Justice, in Buchanan County, one night 50 years ago. When he left, three adults and five children had been slain. But he didn't find the $600 which he believed was in the house.

One of the most spectacular cases in Judge Daugherty's keen memory was the celebrated Joe Jack trials of some 30 years ago. Daugherty defended Joe Jack through five trials and retrials before he managed to win an acquittal at Catlettsburg, where the fifth hearing was held on a change of venue.

In two of those trials, the defendant, charged with murder in an insurance-fraud case, was sentenced to life. But the Court of Appeals reversed one of them and the other was declared a mistrial in Pike Circuit Court.

Joe Jack was sentenced to two years in each of the other trials. But again Daugherty won new trials.

That was the case in which two bodies were found after an explosion in a Pike County coal mine. One of the men was identified as Bill Turner, a mine electrician, the other as his helper.

But suspicion arose when it was found that Turner's wife, who was Joe Jack's sister had insurance policies totaling $85,000 on her husband's life.

She collected it, too, and that might have been the end of the affair if Turner, who wasn't dead at all but hiding in Austria, hadn't become impatient for his share of the insurance money. He wrote a letter to his wife. A postmaster, recognizing his handwriting, turned the letter over to the authorities.

Then it turned out that the bodies found in the mine were "prepared bodies." Judge Daugherty said. They had been obtained from a hospital in Detroit by Joe Jack's sister.

In the meantime, Joe Jack, whose father had come to this country from Austria, was being tried for murder. He was accused of deliberately blowing up the mine and killing the men whose "prepared bodies" were found in the rubble.

Judge Daugherty received a $10,000 fee for his service in defending Joe Jack, who was brought back from Austria to face trial.

"I might have got more," he chuckled, "but the insurance company got there first."

Although he already had spent a lifetime in the practice of criminal law, the tale-telling old attorney has no idea of ever retiring. He loves his work, and wouldn't be satisfied just loafing.

Although usually in high humor, Judge Daugherty was a little downhearted when the January flood of Levisa Fork washed away his barn and the muddy water reached a depth of 5½ feet in the six-room house where he lives with his wife, who has been blind for 18 years. Just about all his furniture was destroyed.

When the flood came up he took his wife "way up the hollow," where they found refuge in another mountain home, along with two other refugee families. They were a "mite-crowded" there for a couple of days while waiting for the waters to recede.

The Judge and his wife are back at the farm now, just the two of them and a mule. When he sold off all of his farm animals long ago, he sold his mule, too. But only recently he got so doggedly lonesome for that old mule that he went out and bought himself one, just for company.

A philosopher with a deep respect for the law, Judge Daugherty said he "certainly had a wonderful time as a lawyer." And, he continued, "it has been just as natural for me to grub grubs and plow the land when I was a boy. If it's not in a fellow to be a lawyer, you just can't put it in him."

Lacking a few months, the celebrated mountain lawyer recalled in his third-floor walk-up office at Pikeville, he had practiced law for an even half-century without ever receiving a censure from a court.

But then it came. A circuit judge somewhere in his area—he won't tell who — tarnished the old man's fine record by ordering him to take his seat.

"I only wish," he moaned, "that the judge had waited a few months before he did that."

Then he thought of another funny story on himself popped his suspenders and told it.

Telephone Talk

by
H. D. HAYES
Your Telephone Manager

HOW BIG IS A BARGAIN? A Kentucky housewife studied the value of her telephone service. She found that telephone rates, in terms of what her dollars will buy, have actually gone down and the service is better than when she was a bride 15 years back. And the real cost of telephone service is down compared to other goods and services you buy. Food costs, for example, have gone up nearly twice as much as phone service. And it's a smaller item in the family budget. Before World War II, over 2 per cent of family income was spent for local phone service; today, less than 1 per cent. To put it another way, the cost of a day's service is less than the price of a loaf of bread, a pack of cigarettes or a quart of milk. Pretty big bargain, wouldn't you say?

MAN-MADE MOON—Sometime next spring, a powerful three-stage rocket will zoom into the stratosphere. About 300 miles up and at a speed of 18,000 m.p.h., the rocket will release a small, shiny sphere: the world's first man-made moon. Inside the satellite will be a product of Bell System research and manufacture—a special kind of transistor. Pioneered and developed by Bell Laboratories and Western Electric engineers, the tiny transistor will enable the artificial moon to send data by radio back to earth. So you might say that telephone research is really "out of this world."

WHEN TRAFFIC GETS HEAVY on telephone lines between cities, we build new voice highways to take care of your calls. These super-highways for phone calls have over four times the capacity of ten years ago. That means your Long Distance calls go through fast, especially when you call station-to-station and call by number. You save up to ½, too, on calls between points in Kentucky.

For example, you can call from Prestonsburg to Frankfort station-to-station for just 65¢; the person-to-person rate is $1.30. And during Bargain Hours—nights after 6 and all day Sundays—you may talk four minutes station-to-station for the same two-minute daytime rate. Yes, anywhere, anytime, station-to-station is your best bargain.

RUMOR NO. 1

The first big rumor that needs to be cleared up is to the effect that I personally obligated myself to Mr. Bill Hall in exchange for his support in the primary election.

It is true that Mr. Hall supported my candidacy in the primary and moreover, it is true that I am sincerely grateful to every person who saw fit to give me their support including Mr. Hall.

I have never discussed or questioned Mr. Hall's reasons for this support and can only assume that he felt I would make a good Sheriff. I am sure that he credited me, from past experience, with being a good, loyal Democrat.

I wish to assure the people of Floyd county that I have never, nor will I ever, compromise my principles or the office of Sheriff in order to get support.

My campaign was, and will continue to be, based upon the pledge of honest, conscientious service rendered personally to all the citizens of our County.
