

This Town— That World

THE ANTIDOTE

I have a sneaking suspicion that the weather is getting ready right now to mess up any fishing plans I just might have happened to have for Friday or Saturday. Last week I was in near-lyrical mood, with blue skies overhead and everything but the election and Sputnik seeming so right with the world, and I hinted in this space of those feelings. It rained and turned cold, next day. Maybe the glum outlook I'm taking now will bring a turn for the better for this week.

OF EXCUSES, THE FLU AND SUCH

Have just been thinking what I could have done a few years back with this threat of a flu epidemic. You know, at that time I was in all probability the most accomplished liar of a certain type that ever hit these parts; I mean, I had an excuse for everything, and I just could not get out of every public gathering, every meeting, every invitation, every everything, without calling on the old imagination pretty often.

Had I had the advantage of Asian flu I could have worked a hundred variations. One time, I could have expressed the fear that I was coming down with it; another, that one of the children or the wife looked like the bug had bitten them; or that I had been warned to stay away from

LIBRARY ORGANIZATION TO HEADQUARTER HERE

GROUP BOARD IS SELECTED BY LEADERS

Wallace, Floyd Librarian; Named To Regional Post; Book Shipment Scheduled

The regional library program to serve Floyd and four other counties of this section with a combined population of 118,000 came into existence last Friday. The regional organization, which will have its headquarters in Prestonsburg, became a reality with the compliance by the four counties with all state requirements. The other three counties in the program are Johnson, Martin, Magoffin and Morgan.

Library boards of each of the five counties named the superintendent of schools in each of the counties to the regional library board. Members of the regional board are Virgil O. Turner, Floyd county; Sheldon Clark, Martin county; Verne T. Horne, Johnson; Roy Marshall, Magoffin; Walt Jones, Morgan.

The regional board met here Friday and named Robert Wallace, of Prestonsburg, regional librarian. Mr. Wallace who has been driver-librarian of the Floyd county Bookmobile since the program began here three years ago, will continue to operate one of this county's two Bookmobiles, it was said.

An initial shipment of 3,600 books is in Frankfort awaiting removal to the regional library center here, Mr. Wallace said. Under the Library Service Act the federal government will supply the regional headquarters with $32,000 worth of books in the next two years, Mr. Wallace said.

Floyd county's two Bookmobiles have a store of about 8,000 volumes accumulated in three years for circulation in Floyd county communities and schools. Mr. Wallace was a member of a panel which last week discussed at the Paducah meeting of the Kentucky Library Association the topic, "The Bookmobile and the Public Library."

COLE JAILED IN OHIO CASE

Former Floyd Countian Said To Have Admitted Slaying of Policeman

Wounded as he fled police after he allegedly had shot and killed an Ashtabula, Ohio policeman Monday, Arthur Lee Cole, 47, formerly of this county, faces a charge of first degree murder in the officer's death.

When the policeman, Eino Toivo, 38, father of two, opened the front door of the Cole home to investigate a family quarrel a shotgun blast struck him in the head. Other police routed Cole from the house, and one of the officers felled him with a bullet in the knee after a fence-leaping chase.

Cole, a railroad worker, was

FLU THREAT MOUNTS HERE

Yet Definite Diagnosis Of Asian Type Lacking; Teacher Absences Grow

Influenza, Asian and otherwise, posed a serious threat to Floyd county this week, with cold-type illnesses increasing, yet as of Tuesday afternoon there had been only one case reported to the Floyd Health Department as possibly Asian flu. This lone case was reported from Allen.

Asian flu diagnosis requires laboratory tests of blood and throat samples, and for this reason definite diagnosis cannot be readily and definitely made. One doctor said, "The patient usually is well before he knows exactly what's wrong with him."

Besides the appearance of flu-type illnesses over the county, there was the rapid spread of what has been declared Asian flu south from Huntington and other cities to create fearful expectancy of an epidemic here soon. At Paintsville 400 school pupils were reported absent. Fifteen thousand cases of flu have been recorded in 34 Kentucky counties. Some schools were closed.

In Floyd county schools illness of teachers was causing the greatest concern at present, County Superintendent Virgil O. Turner said. Four teachers were out of the Prestonsburg schools Tuesday, four were out at Maytown, one at Dwayne, two at Martin and one at McDowell. The superintendent's office was scraping the bottom of the barrel for substitutes.

Prestonsburg high school's football team was reported to have three of its players ill Tuesday. Not many pupils had been absent this week because of sickness, but the overnight spread of flu at any school or in any community could make the situation more serious.

Teachers Ill

Mrs. Norah J. Sealf, Graham street, Dwayne grade teacher, who has been ill three weeks is improving. Mrs. Joan Hatfield, also a teacher at Dawle, is ill this week at home.

FLOOD FUND RAISED HERE

Corps of Engineers Get Necessary Contribution; Set Advertising Dec. 4

A certified check in the amount of $22,000 was delivered Monday to the Huntington district office, U. S. Corps of Army Engineers, bringing to a satisfying climax the local effort, made last week to reach the total contribution required of the community before the Corps of Engineers would advertise the local flood control project for bids.

The check and easements also required by the federal government were delivered by C. B. Latta, attorney acting for the city in the flood control move, and Burl Spurlock, Prestonsburg banker. Only minor details remain to be cleared up before the December 4 advertising date.

Date of advertising the project was delayed because the Engineers themselves are 12 days behind in the work of drafting complete plans and specifications for the Second street dike, pumping installations and other work necessary.

During last week's fund-raising drive, which was led by Dr. George P. Archer, pledges exceeded $21,000. About $20,000 was actually contributed, and other contributions are expected. The difference between cash on hand and the $22,000 required was supplied by the city from a special flood control fund recently created by the City Council. It is expected that the city's contribution will not be more than $1,000 when all pledges are made good.

With advertising set for Dec. 4, it is expected that work on the project will begin around Feb. 1.

A second condemnation suit to acquire a major easement was dismissed last week when Mrs. Rebecca Dingus and others members of her family accepted the $1,500 valuation set by appraisers.

HEALTH WORK IS REVIEWED

Broadening of Service Is Envisioned by Clark If Health Tax Approved

Some services of the Floyd County Health Department could be trebled in their scope and effectiveness, others more than doubled, if the proposed county health tax is voted to provide sufficient funds, it was said this week by M. V. Clark, administrator of the health department.

This statement was made after a review of health department activities had been compiled for the period, Jan. 1 to Oct. 1.

"We perhaps could not double or treble the scope and effect of our services in each of the various public health phases we already are working on, but our work would be broadened and the overall service would be at least doubled," Mr. Clark explained. He added that physical examinations would be trebled, that chronic disease control and home visits would be more than doubled, and that pre-natal and baby care would be increased 200 percent.

Work of the health department for the nine-month period covered by the report follows:

Immunizations—1,757 diphtheria, 23,745 typhoid, 621 smallpox, 1,757 whooping cough, 6,641 polio, 1,757 tetanus; maternal and child health—109 visits to clinics by mothers-to-be, 17 clinic visits by new mothers, 767 infants and pre-school children examined at clinics; school

FIRM SETS $89,000 AS COST OF PROPOSED SWIMMING POOL

Arden Lambert, chief engineer of Pascal P. Paddock, Inc., Oklahoma City designers and contractors, said here last week that his company will construct a swimming pool for Prestonsburg, complete with all appointments, for about $89,000.

The pool proposed at that figure for Prestonsburg is larger and has a greater capacity than the pool already in operation at Paintsville.

Although the bond issue to be voted on here at the Nov. 5 election calls for an amount not to exceed $175,000, it was explained that that figure was arrived at by way of estimate at a time when no chance was being taken of failing to raise enough money for the projects. Only bonds to raise the amount needed can be sold, however.

The Paintsville swimming pool has an area of 4,200 square feet over-all, with a shallow section of 60 feet and a deep area of 40 feet and an "in attendance" capacity of 314. The pool proposed for Prestonsburg, which would be of the so-called mushroom or modified-T shape, would cover approximately 4,660 square feet and would have a capacity of 373 in attendance.

"In 'attendance' capacity, it is explained, includes bathers in the pool and sun-bathers.

The Oklahoma City firm proposes completion of the pool here, if a favorable bond issue vote is given, by next Memorial Day.

The reduced cost is made possible, it was explained by Mr. Lambert, by using plain but serviceable materials in bathhouse construction. That structure would be of light weight or standard concrete block, with non-slip concrete floors, dressing rooms, clothes checking space and a concession stand area. A roof deck on the bathhouse would serve for an orchestra area when the patio adjacent to the pool is being used for teen-age dancing. At other times the roof deck would serve as a spectators' area and the patio would be used by sun-bathers.

The pool shell itself would be,

Martin Council Asks State Police Return

The town of Martin recently enacted an ordinance repealing its ordinance of last July in which it withdrew its invitation to State Police to exercise their duties there.

Effect of the new ordinance, which was enacted October 7 is to invite the State Police back into Martin. Official notification of the new action was received in Frankfort Monday, and State Police will be reassigned to Martin after agreement forms have been signed by both the city and the state.

No explanation of the ordinance closing Martin to State Police or of the new ordinance inviting them back was given.

SECOND CHILD ILL OF POLIO

Mud Creek Community Hit By Disease; Vaccine To Be Given This Week

A second polio case from the Mud Creek section was reported this week to the Floyd County Health Department as 15-month-old Michael Hamilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Hamilton, of Beaver was ill of the disease.

The child was admitted Sunday to the McDowell Memorial hospital where its illness was diagnosed as polio. Its condition was described as "fair."

The Hamilton baby was a direct contact with the infant son of Hays Vance, of the Beaver section, who was stricken by infantile paralysis earlier in the month. Neither had had the Salk vaccine. M. V. Clark, administrator of the Floyd County Health Department, expressed the belief that, had the Hamilton child been given the vaccine even after its contact with the other child, the attack might have been prevented or the polio would be at least not have been in paralytic form.

After the Vance child was stricken first shots of the Salk vaccine were given children and expectant mothers in the Beaver section by nurses of the health department. Mr. Clark said that a nurse is being sent there again this week to offer second shots, although the first were administered only three weeks ago.

PERVERT GETS YEAR IN JAIL

Williams Pleads Guilty To Perversion Charge; Johnson Jails Phillips

John Williams, was given a one-year jail sentence Monday when he entered a plea of guilty before County Judge Henry Stumbo to a charge of contributing to juvenile delinquency.

Williams was accused of sex perversion, with a six-year-old Drift boy the victim.

Judge Stumbo said the warrant charging Williams with contributing to juvenile delinquency was written by Magistrate Ellis Martin and that 12 months in jail is the maximum penalty on this count.

After entering his guilty plea, Williams said, "God knows I'm innocent, but there's nothing else to do. I've got no witness."

Mrs. Williams, who sat in on the private hearing, said her husband had mistreated other boys. The child said Williams threatened him.

Jailed here this week by County Patrolman Willie Johnson was Raymond Phillips, who allegedly did a double job of theft. The officer told jail attendants Phillips was accused, first, of stealing a check from Wade Holbrook, then of taking it to the drugstore of Dr. W. D. Osborne at Bypro and while Mrs. Osborne was cashing the check, to which endorsement had been forged, of stealing cash, other checks and the Holbrook check from the cash register while her back was turned.

Harold Prater and Harrison Reed were booked on a breaking and entering charge by Deputy Sheriffs Al Patton and Delmar Laferty. They were accused of theft from House & Prater, well-drilling and truck mining firm at Huesville.

State Trooper Fyffe booked Lytle Sword this week on a drunk driving charge, and the same charge was made against John W. Pigman, who was jailed last week by State Trooper Wright. Robert Wilcox was jailed by Trooper Jennings on a charge of driving without operator's license. Clarice Newsom was jailed here last week by Constable Oje Lykins on a child desertion charge.

15th FISH FRY DRAWS CROWD

Club Officials Praise Exhibition by Ranier; Contests Are Features

Shooting before a big crowd for the first time, Pvt. Bobby Ranier, formerly of Prestonsburg, now in the Army at Ft. Knox, Ky., last Sunday gave fellow Floyd countians attending the 15th annual fish fry of the Floyd County Fish & Game Club a superb exhibition with shotgun, rifle and revolver. Club officials were highly pleased with his performance.

The fish fry, largest and oldest event of its kind held in this section, was staged at Dewey Lake State Park for the first time, and the usual big crowd attended. The club was favored by perfect fall weather, and the fish fry activities were staged against a backdrop provided by a mountain bedecked with trees in their richest fall colors.

In addition to Ranier's exhibition, John Nichols, of Pineville,

PARLEYS END WITH STRIKE OF WORKERS

New Hydrocarbon Plant Closed; Wages Not Only Issue At Stake, Is Claim

With negotiations toward a new contract broken down, the 283 union employees of the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company went on strike Saturday, and this week there appeared no probability of an early settlement of company and union differences.

Picket lines are operating at the company's Prestonsburg headquarters and at points in Floyd, Martin, Knott, Magoffin, Johnson, Pike, Perry and Letcher counties.

The strike forced the shutdown of the new Maytown plant of the Kentucky Hydrocarbon Company, a subsidiary of the gas company. The plant extracts a variety of chemicals in liquid form from the gas and pumps these to Institute, West Virginia.

No disorder of any kind was reported from any place being picketed. The striking workers are members of Local 10-510, Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union (CIO-AFL).

Kentucky West Virginia supplies gas directly for residential use in the Prestonsburg, Paintsville, Maytown, Wheelwright, Allen, Dwayne, and Melvin areas, and wholesale to distributors in Louisville and Pittsburgh.

Home users are not affected however.

Pickets patrolled the pumping stations at Tomahawk, Martin county; at Maytown, Drift, and Dwayne, Floyd county; at Right Beaver Knott county, and at other points in these counties and Magoffin, Johnson, Pike, Perry, and Letcher counties.

Vice-president W. C. Bomhoff of the corporation said in Ashland that the union has rejected an offer of a 12-cent-an-hour increase.

Lawrence Ketterhagen, of Prestonsburg, secretary of the local, said, however, that wages were not the major issue.

He said that among others, three provisions in the contract that the union wants to change have to do with supervisors doing the work of union men.

James W. Wilson, of Cincinnati, of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, and Wesley Danover, of Ashland, representative of the union, participated in conferences with company officials preceding the strike.

ALLEN P.-T.A. LEADING DRIVE

For Indigent Children Not Attending School; Stumbo Warns Parents

Last week the drive of the attendance department of the school system got off to a start on its program to supply indigent schoolchildren with clothing so they could attend school.

The Allen Parent-Teachers Association, after hearing Walter Frasure and others of the school system spell out the needs of many children, resolved to sponsor a clothing drive.

Results of the drive put on by the Allen parents and teachers resulted in the gathering of a large amount of children's clothing suitable for those of school age. It was stored and will be distributed from Allen.

Earl Martin and Herbert Prater, of the attendance department, pointed out this week that other groups in the county were taking an interest in the non-attendance problems that is costing Floyd county considerable sums of money from the state as all allocations made are on the basis of the average daily attendance. The Betsy Layne Woman's Club has indicated its willingness to aid in the drive to procure clothing for the non-attending pupils.

County Judge Henry Stumbo, after being appealed to by the personnel officers of the superintendent's office, sent notices recently to the parents of many explain ... how your back aches after you hang out the wash ... bend and straighten ... bend and straighten ... over and over and over again.

explain ... the nuisance of keeping up with clothespins, wiping clotheslines clean and tightening them when they sag.

explain ... how much smoother and fluffier each piece is when it comes from the dryer ... that some pieces such as towels don't even have to be ironed, and all can be ironed without sprinkling.

WESTERN KENTUCKY GETS FLOOD FUNDS

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 18 — Fifteen Western Kentucky counties will share in emergency federal appropriations to restore flood-damaged farm land and drainage systems.

Officials of the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee said Friday $100,000 had been allotted for the area, bringing the state total to $185,000.

In Western Kentucky, $80,000 has been earmarked for cost-sharing rehabilitation projects. The remainder will put in reserve to be distributed after a more intensive survey is completed.

Previously $85,000 was set aside for 16 counties in Eastern Kentucky hit by floods last January. An A.S.C. spokesman said restoration practices are well under way in Eastern Kentucky.

The programs are administered by local A.S.C. committees which handle conservation programs. Allotments so far in Western Kentucky include Ballard County $6,640; Caldwell, $2,560; Calhoun, $4,640; Carlisle, $6,560;

Crittenden, $2,080; Daviess, $8,640; Fulton, $6,000; Graves, $10,320; Henderson, $6,880; Hickman, $1,760; Livingston, $5,120; McCracken, $6,880; Marshall, $4,160; Ohio, $5,280; and Webster, $2,560.

Funds previously approved in Eastern Kentucky included Bell County, $5,700; Breathitt, $5,700; Clay, $4,700; Floyd, $6,300; Harlan, $2,000; Johnson, $6,600; Knott, $1,400; Knox, $1,700; Lee, $4,300; Leslie, $6,500; Letcher, $2,300; McCreary, $7,300; Magoffin, 7,700; Perry, $12,000; Pike $3,500; and Whitley, $7,300.

A new tomato powder for use in sauces, soups, juice and dry mixes will be available commercially in the near future. The powder mixes with water, and can be stored in its powder form indefinitely without refrigeration.

Ground, dry corn cobs make excellent insulation for a new or remodeled laying house, Iowa State College has found, when put in walls.

Coal tows on inland U. S. waters frequently extend for as much as 1,170 feet, a length greater than that of the ocean liner Queen Elizabeth, which is 1,031 feet long.

The Tennessee Valley Authority has reported that its coal stockpile at the end of the latest fiscal year, June 30, 1956, was 3.1 million tons, or sufficient coal to operate for 62 days.

American Waterways Operators, Inc., reports that 71,461,178 tons of cargo, of which more than half, or 38,000,000 tons, was coal and lignite, moved on the Ohio River in 1956.

Of the 18 new deep coal mines opened or placed in development in 1956 a total of 12 were in West Virginia, the nation's leading producer of bituminous coal.

The 1957 crop of timothy seed is expected to be about 33 1-3 million pounds, 29 per cent above the 1956 figure.

About 15 cents of the family food dollar goes for beverages, a USDA survey shows. About two-thirds of this percentage is for fresh fluid milk, a quarter for coffee, a tenth for bottled and canned soft drinks and about four percent for tea.

Soil Conservation Essays Are Sponsored in Schools

The State Department of Education and the Kentucky Association of Soil Conservation Districts are helping sponsor an essay contest for grade and high school students on "conserving our soil and water resources."

The Courier-Journal, the Times, WHAS and WHAS-TV, all of Louisville, are offering $3,250 in savings bonds as prizes in the contest.

By writing an essay of 1,000 words or less, students are encouraged to appreciate the importance of natural resources. Benefits of the small watershed program are emphasized in a teaching unit suggested for use in classrooms.

Essays must be sent to school superintendents by Dec. 7 and district judging must be completed by Dec. 31.

The education department has stated that it considers the soil conservation essay contest a very important program and urges wide participation in it.

Toivola went to the house and was hit by the shotgun blast as he opened the door.

Other police, summoned by a member of the Cole household, surrounded the house, but Cole refused to come out.

Police Lt. James Cline and Patrolman John Benedict called for reinforcements and tear gas.

Cole jumped from a window and ran, pursued by Clint and other officers. After chasing him over fences and through yards in the dock area, Clint caught up with Cole and ordered him to halt. Cole stopped but then ran again and Clint shot him in the knee. The bullet was removed at city hospital.

"When I shot, I knew a policeman had been killed," said Clint. "I felt strange aiming low, but I couldn't do anything else."

Cole, who has two children, moved to Ashtabula six years ago from this county.

A STATEMENT FROM THE ECONOMY TICKET

I, and the members of the Economy Ticket, are small property owners here in Prestonsburg and we do not want to lose this property through higher and higher taxes. Recently a bond issue was passed that raised the taxes here in town and now the present city administration with the exception of Watt Hale is asking for another bond issue for a swimming pool adjacent to Dewey Lake. They have the nerve to ask for these luxury "big deals" when the sewers are about to stink th people out of town.

There is only one issue and that is if the average taxpayer is going to be able to continue to live in this town and pay taxes or will he have to move out. (And you car owners, have you noticed the raises in your taxes lately?)

If the people do not band together in this town for their own protection and put up a fight there is a good chance of their property or car being put on the auction block. You people can help by voting for the Economy Ticket and thereby help yourself and your town.

WE ARE AGAINST:

1. We go on record as being opposed, wholeheartedly, to the waste of thousands of dollars on the new water works, which has us in debt very near the limit.
2. We are against waste of our city funds.
3. We are opposed to progress when the cost is being paid by the "little man."

WE ARE FOR:

1. Good law enforcement.
2. Good sewers and streets. of city government.

V. A. Smiley and Family Deserve Your Support

TO THE VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

We, the members of the Committee that has recently been formed for the purpose of promoting the election of V. A. "Varney" Smiley for Jailer of this County, take this means of letting the people know who he is, how he stands as to Honesty, Sobriety, Morality and all the assets required of a good citizen in the community in which he lives.

The best way to find out about any man is from his neighbors and the people who know him best, and that is what we want you to do in this case. We feel that it is the duty of every citizen to make a diligent inquiry about any candidate before casting their vote and in this case we have no doubt but that you will gladly vote for Varney Smiley. We have known Mr. Smiley and his wonderful family for a number of years and know of no one who NEEDS and DESERVES the office more than he. Many of you people do not know Varney personally for the reason that you do not have the opportunity to see him often, because you will either find him at home with his family or at his work, for he has no time to loaf.

We doubt if there has ever been many men in this county who have asked the people to vote for them for office that have borne the hardships and obstacles that he has encountered. He has never been a strong man physically, has had several major operations, but some way or other he has managed to rear and educate this family of sixteen children. Varney has always conducted himself in such a way that whenever he needed help he had no trouble getting it. It is the intention of this committee to do our best to acquaint the people with the facts in this case and that is what we intend to do between now and the election. We do not think that politics has any bearing whatever in this case, for we know when the good people of this county make up their minds to do a thing, they always do it and LET'S NOT FAIL THIS GOOD MAN.

It would be fine if you all could visit his home and see how mannerly and neat all the children are and the cleanliness of the house, and have the pleasure of meeting and talking to his good wife. We know that you wonder how they have managed to get along, but his wife will be able to enlighten you on this. We have noticed that the boys will be selling papers, shining shoes or doing any kind of work that is honorable as soon as they are large enough to do so in order to help the rest of the family. But bear in mind that this is done before and after school hours. They have never neglected their education. They have all made top grades from kindergarten through college. This family is loved and respected by all who know them.

Varney was born and reared in the Prater Creek section of the county, is the son of the late A. L. Smiley, and his mother was an Akers. He is related to most all of the families in the Mud Creeks and eastern part of the county and many of his relatives are scattered to all parts of the county. His wife is the daughter of Sherrid and Cordelia Stewart Spradlin who both reside in Prestonsburg. Her grandfather was the late Henry Stewart, her grandmother was a Martin and her great-grandmother was a Turner from Left Beaver Creek. You can see that the relationship of this fine couple numbers in the thousands and live in all parts of the county. But we do not ask you to vote for this good man because of this fine relationship. We ask you to vote for him for what he is, what he has meant to this community and county and for the fine example that he and his family have set for the future of your boys and girls.

We beg you to make a thorough investigation of this matter before casting your vote, and go to the polls and cast a vote that you will always be proud of, knowing that you have done something to make things just a bit easier for this good man and his family. DO NOT FAIL AT THIS OPPORTUNE TIME.

Entered as second class matter June 18, 1927, at the postoffice at Prestonsburg, Kentucky, under the act of March 3, 1879.

For Amendment No. 2

There is no reason for voting against something just to be perverse, or to be cantankerous, or because we are suspicious of anything suggesting change.

The people most vitally interested in educational progress in Kentucky, and those who are equally interested in the state moving forward economically and on all fronts, are recommending to the voters Amendment No. 2 which provides for an end to the old method of electing a State Superintendent of Public Instruction under a political device and which proposes to supplant him with a Commissioner of Education chosen by a nine-member State Board of Education.

The interest of people such as this draws us toward support of the change.

Then there is the matter of representation which the voters should consider, and it appears that if this amendment is adopted great improvement will be made there. As the state board now exists, working with a State Superintendent elected on the Democratic or the Republican ticket, it is composed of seven members appointed by the Governor. Two of these present members are from Louisville, two from Lexington, the others scattered about the state. Under the present system, all seven could conceivably be residents of the city of Louisville. As the board is now composed, if there were agreement between the cities of Lexington and Louisville other parts of the state with their three members could whistle for their supper.

Amendment No. 2 proposes to change all this. Eight districts would be established, even as our Congressional districts are formed, and one member of the state board would be from each of these districts, with the ninth member coming from the state-at-large.

Yes, this new nine-man board would be, at the beginning, a "Happy Chandler board," if you care to state it thus. But the seven-man board also is a Happy Chandler board. And, as time passes, with one member's term expiring each year, the groundwork is laid by the Amendment for future boards never to be dominated by any Governor.

They tell us this would be the means of getting the office of the highest education official in the state out of politics. We like that dream, but we make no such promises. It does offer hope, certainly. If anything can be got out of politics in politics-ridden Kentucky, it would appear that the Amendment eventually would approach that high ideal.

We like this idea of representation for every section of the state, of a board which eventually will be clear of "packing" by any single Governor, of a step toward giving the top man in Kentucky education longer than four years in office, if he is worthy of such trust, of a system which would encourage competent men and women from this and other states to enter the field of education administration at Frankfort without fear of political throat-cutting or retaliation immediately following every state election.

There are some weaknesses in the plan, perhaps. We are not naive enough to expect it to be perfect, since men will be in charge, but we do think it is a plan that deserves a trial and our vote at the November election.

Sgt. York Declares He's Broke; Hopes Tax Claim Fades Away

PALL MALL, Tenn., Oct. 23—The old soldier of Wolf River says he lives in hopes that though an $85,000 federal tax claim against him may never die, maybe it will just fade away.

At least, it appears Uncle Sam may have more trouble collecting from Sgt. Alvin C. York than York had in killing 25 Germans and capturing 132 more to win the Medal of Honor in World War I.

For one thing, York says he is virtually broke cash-wise and, as he put it, "what they want is money."

What's more, he says a four-year illness plus his 69 years have left him too feeble for travel to a tax court hearing.

The tax claim, now seven years old, grew out of proceeds York got from a motion picture of his life.

The government contends that during the two years after the film was released in 1941, York received about $150,000 and failed to pay all taxes due.

York, who suffered a stroke four years ago, says the money is all gone now, exhausted by doctor and hospital bills.

"Oh, we may have $25 or $30 in the house, but that's all," Mrs. York told an interviewer.

York said the tax claim against him stems from the fact the government viewed his proceeds from the movie as regular income rather than capital gains.

The suit has been scheduled for hearing several times in tax courts at Knoxville and Nashville, but always has been continued by the government.

Now it is set for airing at Nashville on Nov. 8 and though by his consent the hearing could go on without him, York says he has no intention of giving it.

York owns a 395-acre farm but he says his chief means of support is a $60-a-month disability pension plus an additional $10 as a Medal of Honor winner.

Turkey growers are expected to send 4 percent more turkeys to market in September than the same month last year. Similar increases occurred in July and August.

Chimney Rock, Sharktooth Rock, and Candlestick Rock are among the most interesting of the Pine Mountain State Park's geologic formations.

America's export trade dollar volume rose 22 per cent in 1956 to a record high of $518.9 billion, led by offshore shipment of coal, which had a 29 per cent gain over 1955.

JAKE PINSON, IN 'BLACK MOOD,' FOUGHT 20 FEDERALS ALONE

By HENRY P. SCALF

Few Kentuckians ever engaged in a more desperate or more misguided affray of blood and death than Jake Pinson, the Southern sympathizer, who fought alone a Federal contingent of 20 men or more.

Little is known of Jake Pinson except that he was from Kentucky, had married Mary Belcher prior to the Civil War and moved to the Middle Fork of Blue Creek on the Kanawha River. It is almost a certainty that he was from Big Sandy as the Pinsons and Belchers intermarried in early Floyd county, both branches to the marital union representing the first settler families. His descendants in West Virginia know little of his Kentucky origin. They only know that he came to Blue Creek in 1861, after marrying Mary Belcher in Kentucky and to this union were born 11 children, two of them dying under Union guns to be buried with him in unmarked graves in a Kanawha River cemetery.

He was a bearded, violent man, addicted to black hoods, bitter tongue, subject to whims and passions, disliked by most everybody. One writer says he was as "brave as a panther and a dangerous man to cross." In contrast his wife was a meek, kindly soul who bore patiently her role as his spouse. She was liked by all her neighbors.

We are chiefly indebted to a story a few years ago in the Charleston (W. Va.) Daily Mail by Forrest Hull, for the episode of horror in which the Kentuckian with the "black mood" decided deliberately to fight all the Unionists who might come his way. Hull gathered the story from Pinson's descendants and others on the Kanawha who remembered him.

The story follows as the West Virginia Journalist told it:

The outbreak of the Civil War found Jake Pinson a bitter Southern sympathizer, but he never owned a slave. When the Union army came up Kanawha and fortified Gauley Bridge and Federal patrols in blue came up the creeks and hollows and questioned him, Jake's innate sense of freedom asserted itself. Jake didn't like it. When a prominent Rebel agitator from Malden came up the creek every Sunday and made speeches to the creek people, urging the formation of a company of bushwhackers to fight the Federals, Jake was always present and gave a bitter talk.

Most of the creek people attended and much liquor was drunk and big threats made, but it is a question that the mountain people really entertained the idea of opposing the Union troops with direct action.

But Jake Pinson meant business! Pinson went to Cannelton and made a deal with a Mr. McAnnany, storekeeper, for guns and powder. He had seven muskets in his house on the fatal day.

On a Saturday Jake Pinson crossed the hills to Cannelton where the canal coal mines were, and went to McAnnany's store. He bought some necessities with the produce he had brought, then he asked for some "Yankee bait." He meant ball cartridges. There was a laugh from the loafers as Jake departed. But one man did not laugh. This man went at once to Gauley Bridge and reported the treasonable remark. The U. S. army commandant immediately issued an order, for the arrest of Pinson.

Soon after Pinson had left for Cannelton, his wife, Mary Belcher, became alarmed at the war-like preparations of her husband. She told her people, the Belchers, who were pro-Union in sentiment, about it. Her brother, Bill, went to Gauley Bridge and made his report. That settled it, Jake Pinson was on the spot and did not know it.

In the meantime, Jake was wending his way home from Cannelton on the Kanawha. As he topped the rise to Blue Creek he stopped at the mountain farm of Uncle Lorenza Hill. Uncle Lorenza was at the gate and remarked to Pinson that the sky was red and presaged a pretty day "Yes," said Jake, "but it'll be redder than hell by tomorrow!" Jake kent on home in a black mood so familiar to his family.

On Sunday morning, Jake Pinson attended church services at a log church at Bell creek. After church he walked home with some of his neighbors, all members of the "bushwhacking" recruits. As they walked along a man came up and told Jake that there was an order out for his arrest for opposing the national government. Jake flew into a rage. "I'll kill every damn bluebelly that comes up the path to my house!" he cried. His friends were alarmed. Said Uncle Berry Proctor, "Jake, you'll get us all killed or sent to Camp Chase!" They scattered and went to their respective homes. But a tragedy was under way.

Jake Pinson was eating his dinner alone. His frightened family stood off, knowing he was in one of his black moods. A neighbor, Mrs. Wills, stood in the doorway of the cabin, talking to Mrs. Pinson. Suddenly she cried out "Oh Mister Pinson, look at the Yankees coming down the mountain!" Jake took one look, then grabbed up two muskets and climbed into the upper story of the house. He knocked out holes between the logs and took aim. A young officer came into the yard and Jake shot him dead with a bullet between the eyes. The soldiers at once deployed behind hog pen, stable, and fences and poured a murderous fire into the cabin. They thought they had contacted a strong Rebel ambuscade.

When the Union detail (legend says twenty) left Gauley Bridge, two local preachers volunteered to lead the party. But on top of the ridge between Bell and Middle fork these men, knowing Jake, refused to go farther. They stayed on the ridge.

The fire of the Yankees lasted for some time. A ball came through the crack of a stone chimney and killed little Phil Pinson, a child. Another ball killed small Bythe Pinson. In the loft Jake continued to fire at the invaders, unmindful of the screams from below. Finally valiant Mrs. Wills, the real heroine

Books and Such

By Laura Virginia Roberts

Last Christmas I asked Santa Claus for an idiot's cook-book. By that I meant a cook-book written with the assumption that the user knows absolutely nothing about cooking. Ideally, this cook-book would include such directions as:

Break the eggs on the side of the bowl. Put the eggs in the bowl and the shells in the garbage.

If peeling potatoes, take a potato in your left hand and a knife in your right hand. Peel. However, if you're left-handed take the potato in your right hand and the knife in your left. Peel.

The cook-book Santa brought me wasn't quite this bad, or good, however you may regard such a thing, but it's almost that good; and I'm getting ready, as our Editor would say, to haul off and recommend it. Betty Crocker's Picture Cook-Book, it is, and I know anybody can cook with its help, because I can. Most amazing.

It is difficult to know where to begin listing its many features. It is a beautiful thing, certainly, with color photographs and drawings, and its sturdy attractive cover lies flat when open because it has notebook ring binders. Early pages are devoted to Special Helps, such as meanings of cooking terms, how to measure correctly, tables of measurements and substitutions, table setting, meal-planning and various general helps.

Each section is perfected with a short bit on, for instance, cakes in general, or vegetables in general; sometimes including the history of the food. At the beginning of the Cakes section there are several picture-illustrated pages explaining the cake-baking process — measuring, mixing, kinds of pans, etc.

Here and there are little explanatory notes which catch the eye and are helpful. For instance, in a box on the page with spaghetti recipes is the explanation that spaghetti and macaroni double in size when cooked. This is something the old hand can ignore, but it will save the new cook's having every available bowl, dish, and pan in the kitchen filled with spaghetti!

Or turn to a vegetable; carrots, say. (Well, just take them for example; you don't have to eat them.) The book lists the different ways carrots are usually served, and tells how to just plain cook them.

Then it gives several variations. All this does not mean that the Betty Crocker book is only for new and/or stupid cooks. It has a complete index in the back, besides the colorfully indexed main sections, and it is quite suitable for any cook. The extra features and the clearness of the direction is what recommends it to the inexperienced cook.

Besides its practical value this charming book is as readable as a novel, in many cases telling the story of where a food or a recipe came from, or why certain foods are called by certain names. I found it interesting to know that Southern hunters camping out used to quiet their howling dogs by throwing them left-over corn cakes and calling, "Hush, puppies!" and was even more amused to find that waffles are said to have originated when a medieval soldier wearing his suit of armor came home after a hard day slaying dragons or whittling and sat down heavily in a freshly made oat cake his wife had set out for cooling. They ate it any way and butter stayed so nicely in the depressions made by the armor that, so the story goes, the wife made him put on his armor and sit on the oat cakes every week thereafter.

Reasonably priced surprisingly so, for such a value) the Betty Crocker Picture Cook Book (ordinarily bound, or with ring binders) is a good idea for wedding and Christmas gifts.

SAYS PUBLIC BUSINESSMEN FED UP WITH FUND DRIVES

By Gordon Moore

One of the biggest headaches of virtually every Prestonsburg business man has resulted from continued and ever-increasing fund drives.

No one questions the merits of the majority of these campaigns. We are confident the money is needed, in most cases. But there has to be a halt sometime, somewhere, else the public will lose confidence in these organizations and refuse support.

A major drawback in a small city like Prestonsburg is that the number of good volunteer workers — mostly club leaders and housewives—are called on time after time each year. It is embarrassing for them to constantly solicit.

Recently, one of the most active and talented persons in Prestonsburg asked us for a contribution to what we know is a worthy cause. We gave. He left, with these words: "Thanks, but this is the last time you will see me. I'm through with these drives from now on."

He was disgusted, as are both solicitors and solicited.

Business places here are the favorite target, but residents are rarely missed as promoters in New York, Washington and other large cities, highly qualified in such matters, pass on information, and pressure, to get every possible dime.

Surely, the national chairmen of these organizations must begin to realize they are killing the goose that lays the golden egg.

It's time for Prestonsburg's leaders, civic clubs and businessmen to unite in an effort to consolidate these drives into one, and only one, campaign.

The general idea would be similar to a community chest—to enroll the good workers of our community in one big effort. People would be asked to make their contribution in one large lump and do away with these month-by-month solicitations. It would be called the United Fund Drive or any other suitable name.

In 1825, Taylor, making a journey over US 31 W to Mammoth Cave, heard the story that steamboat captains subdued unruly members of their crews by threatening to send them up Salt River among the rowdy saltmakers. Thus originated the phrase, "up Salt River."

Camp Rick Robinson near Bryantsville in Garrard county was the first Federal recruiting station established south of the Ohio River. It was opened in 1861 over the protest of Beriah Magoffin, then governor of Kentucky.

Pvt. James L. Lafferty Completes Course

ABERDEEN PROVING GROUND, MD. — Army Pvt. James L. Lafferty, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson Lafferty of Cliff, Ky., recently completed the ammunition re-education course at the Ordnance School, Aberdeen Proving Ground, Maryland.

The seven-week course trained him to disassemble, inspect, test and renovate ammunition and explosives for re-use.

Lafferty, a 1954 graduate of Prestonsburg high school, entered the Army last April and completed basic training at Fort Knox. While a civilian, he worked at the Prestonsburg Drive-In Theater.

Names Two Coal Group As Officers

Hazard, Ky., Oct. 18 — Two new officers of the Kentucky Coal Association were elected by the group's executive committee at a meeting held in Hazard Thursday. Fred B. Bullard, Hazard, was named executive secretary, and C. D. McDowell, Harlan, was elected treasurer. Bullard is also executive secretary of the Hazard Coal Operators Association, and McDowell holds the same position with the Harlan County Coal Operators Association.

The two men were selected to fill a vacancy created by the death of George S. Ward, Harlan, on September 21.

Ward was one of the organizers of the Kentucky Mine Owners Association, which was reorganized in 1948 as the Kentucky Coal Association. Ward served as secretary-treasurer of the organization until his death.

The executive committee unanimously adopted a resolution expressing appreciation and gratitude for the many years of service that Ward rendered the coal industry in Kentucky.

The Kentucky Coal Association serves the coal industry in public relations and governmental affairs on a State level. B. F. Reed of Drift is president of the organization.

Forks of the Elkhorn is a village at the forks of Elkhorn Creek, a small river draining the central area of the Blue Grass. This river was named because its two forks resemble the branching horns of an elk.

Production of bituminous coal for their own use by the four leading steel companies in 1956 was nearly 42.5 million tons, or almost nine per cent of the year's total output of 500 million tons by all producers.

A new plant of the Ohio Power Company uses only 0.65 pounds of coal to generate one kilowatt-hour of electricity, a far cry from Thomas Edison's first plant, which used 10 pounds of coal to the same job.

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

By GORDON WILSON, Ph.D.
Western Kentucky Teachers' College Bowling Green, Ky.

"THE LADY WITH THE RAKE"

One of my former teachers used to tell an excellent story about a wealthy old lady at Mobile who dared public opinion in very stiff times by taking a long-handled rake to her home on the street car. My future teacher, then a very proper teen-ager asked her, "Would not the store send the rake up?" "I don't ask," curly replied the old lady. "Aren't you afraid of what people will think of you?" "I know who I am," replied the old lady in closing the conversation. Evidently this brave old soul died before it became quite the thing to "tote" one's own purchases; she should have lived to see the democracy of the supermarket of today.

I was invited out to dinner at the home of one of my pupils. It was an elegant home, with just about every modern convenience; the dinner was tops, too. But my hostess spoiled it all by apologizing a dozen times or so because she had to serve me food that she had cooked. You see ladies that were ladies just did not stoop to such menial services as bending over a hot stove, even when preparing food for the stiff young school teacher. Or, at least, that was supposed to be the style, often violated. I had grown up in the kitchen, where I had helped Mother since I was big enough to put stovewood into the stove or fry bacon. Somehow the lady's protestation failed to impress me very much, even though I can still remember it for its value as a passing institution.

It is easy for me to understand the scruples of the proper young boy, for I am not too many years younger than he and can remember when it was almost disgraceful to be caught with any sort of bag or box in one's arms. Such a thing would have branded you as being poor or boorish or cheap. Objects, however small, were delivered to everybody who was anybody. About thirty-five years ago I helped for a few days of my vacation in a bookstore that was rished with schoolbook buying. This store had no delivery service. A boy of a third-rate family came in to buy a small bit of penmanship paper and refused to accept the purchase after I had put it into an envelope because he did not want to be caught carrying a parcel like a servant or a hired person. I was sorry to have made his life miserable, even for a minute. Along about that same time I bought two coal scuttles; the store offered to send them by their next delivery on my street. Wishing to be brave and slightly contrary, I said that I would just carry the scuttles myself. You should have seen the looks given me as I slung those buckets along! You would have thought I was an escapee of some sort. You see, my town like yours, was a very proper place in the late teens of this century. And folks that were just did not carry bright, shiny coal scuttles along the street. Since I had nothing to lose, it made no difference.

In our part of the world this same haughty attitude prevailed, somewhat weakened after cars came in, until chain stores appeared. And then as I by some sort of magic, the whole structure broke down. Imagine a lady or a gentleman now who would be ashamed of being seen with an arm full of bundles! When the first chain store opened in my town, I was away in graduate work. When I got back at the end of the summer, imagine my surprise at seeing people who had bank accounts carrying bags of groceries. I suppose that we could ascribe to the automobile many of our leveling tendencies now. Imagine a horse-drawn vehicle, no matter how elegant, trying to compete with cars on the roads. Imagine hearing someone brag about having the finest horse-drawn vehicle in town. And imagine such a vehicle with a liveried driver trying to escape certain wreck from scared though aristocratic horses when the veriest Tin Lizzie thundered by!

When I was teaching my second public gatherings; or that I was set against exposing anybody else to all these germs I knew I was carrying around, and on and on.

This is not written to suggest excuses to folks. Rather, it's to head them off. I am reminded that some college students already have suffered three attacks of flu this semester. These attacks coincide with those occasions when classes are cut.

After writing this, I wonder who will believe me when and if I do get thrown for a loss by this unwelcome visitor in these parts.

One fellow claimed it was so dry this summer in his neighborhood that every time he watered his lawn a big bass came up from the creek to be hosed down.

CASE OF ABSENT-MINDED BASS

Then there is the story of the bass that learned to breathe with his mouth open, escewing the time-honored gill-breathing of the genus pisces. This fish was a seven-day wonder at the bass school and he would pop to the surface, gulp himself in a great mouthful of air, return below and cavort around till time to go aloft again. They were thinking of running him for headmaster or something, he was so popular, but one night he forgot to crawl out in shallow water and lie on his back to sleep. He went to bed with the other fish, started snoring away and drowned.

THANK!

We are so helpfully remembered sometimes by friends in distant places. Not long ago it was Henry McCowan, formerly of Prestonsburg, who sent us from Michigan clippings of a newspaper telling of the deaths of two former Floyd countians. This week it was Marvin Music, of Prestonsburg, who remembered us with an item from Lexington. They do not know how much telephoning they saved us. We appreciate such thoughtfulness.

REMEMBERED AGAIN

Then there was R. L. Slone, formerly of Dock, now of Mishawaka, Ind., who was in Chicago recently and remembered us with the "Angler's Writ of Absolution," complete with seal, and conferring on me the honor of membership in the Honorable Order of Expectant Bait dunkers.

THEY LIKE IKE

Speaking of fishing, the bass began striking over the week-end at Dewey Lake. Dave Marrs, of Martin, brought in three Sunday—one a four-pounder—and Monday R. E. Mann, of Prestonsburg, showed up with two—one of three pounds, 12 ounces, the other weighing half a pound less.

A black-and-white Lazy Ike was credited with at least a part of these fish.

The river continues to yield good catches — scrappy small-mouth that also like Ike.

To the dozen endorsements of the health tax that had already been given were added this week those of the Prestonsburg Kiwanis Club, the David Parent-Teacher Association, the Allen-Martin Woman's Club and the Betsy Layne Woman's Club. Previous endorsers of the health tax were principals of Floyd county schools, the Martin Kiwanis Club, the Wheelwright Parent-Teacher Association, the McDowell Parent-Teacher Association, the Floyd County Medical Society, teachers of the Prestonsburg grade school, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Prestonsburg, the Wayland Parent-Teacher Association, the Beaver Valley and Our Lady of the Way hospitals at Martin, the McDowell Memorial hospital and Prestonsburg General hospital.

it was explained, of monolithic-poured concrete with a nine inch-structural wall and an additional interior coat of silicite or marbellite finish plaster, the monolithic pour to be specified and provided to eliminate any possibility of leakage, either present or future, and also to eliminate maintenance expense of the common expansion joint. Sufficient glazed tile trim at the waterline would be used to remove the necessity of "bathtub ring" maintenance in the future.

The Oklahoma firm's prospectus also includes complete sub-grade drainage, permitting the pool to be left empty or full in winter; continuous semi-recessed slum gutter or overflow trough, and ample walks around the pool for access to it by bathers or sun-bathers. Other features would include filtration and purification equipment, a pump-room building, a chain-link fence around the entire area, both overhead and submarine lighting, diving and lifesaving equipment.

The Prestonsburg Junior Chamber of Commerce this week spearheaded the drive for the swimming pool bond issue. It argued that the railroad, power company, telephone company, other corporations and large businesses will pay an estimated 60 per cent of the total cost of the project and that the remaining $36,000 would be paid over a period of 25 years.

who were not attending school for no valid reasons. Stumbo's notice, among other things, said: "Under the Minimum Foundation Program for Education the county school system loses 80c every day a child is absent. This loss is a heavy burden to our schools and of course the pupil is losing an opportunity to receive an education."

Six notices have been sent out and one parent, John Crace, of Water Gap, had a warrant issued for him by Stumbo. Crace was not yet arrested, the attendance officers say.

Frasure was exhibiting one response to his clothing appeal that is typical of many letters he is getting since the plight of indigent children was revealed in The Times three weeks ago. It was from a woman in Springport, Mich., and said:

DO MORAL QUALIFICATIONS COUNT?

You, the voters of Floyd county, will be deciding in the very near future who will be serving as your Sheriff for the next four years. We who have known HERSHELL WARRENS throughout his life feel that we should submit a few points for your consideration.

HERSHELL was brought up in a Christian home, the son of God fearing parents. He was taught from early age that honesty and consideration for his fellow man are the most important virtues a man can possess. His daily living testifies to his belief and adherence to these principles. We think the best recommendations that could be given him are the votes of people in communities where he has lived and worked. You may remember the votes he received in these communities when he was little known in other parts of our County.

There have been some so-called issues brought up which were intended to create doubt in your minds. It is our opinion that these were created and circulated by chronic lawless elements interested only in personal gain through the diversion of justice.

We feel that a man of honest guiding principles can do much for the good of Floyd County and our law abiding citizens. It is with humble belief in these principles that we ask your favorable consideration of HERSHELL WARRENS in this race.

Sincerely,

(Pol Adv)

United Mine Workers... ARE YOU GOING TO HOLD STILL?

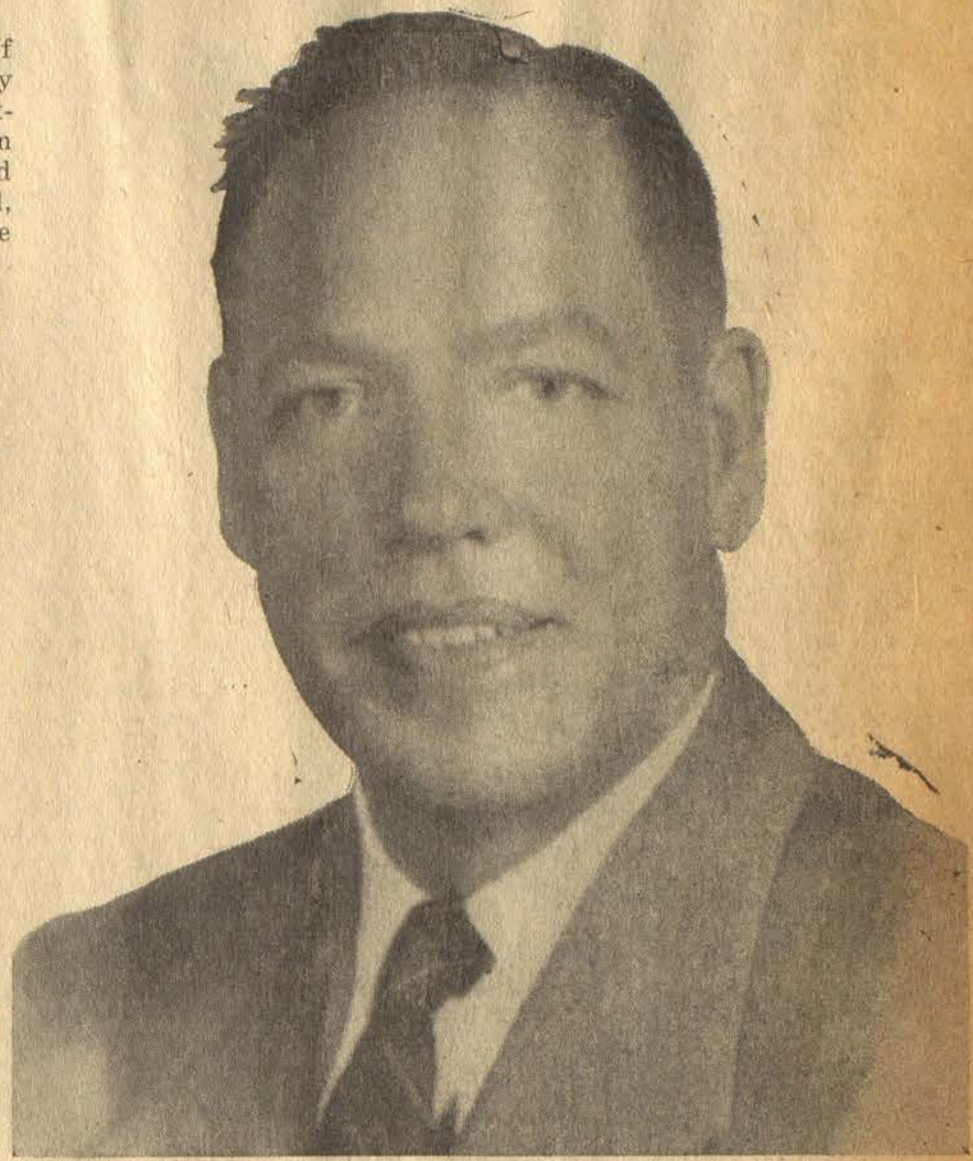

In 1946 as floor leader in charge of the miners compensation bill, Jerry Fonce Howell must have been thinking about what the old colored man said to the wriggling cat-fish. "Hold still, little fish," the old man said, "I'm not going to hurt you much. I'm just going to gut you."

Telephone Talk

by H. D. HAYES
Your Telephone Manager

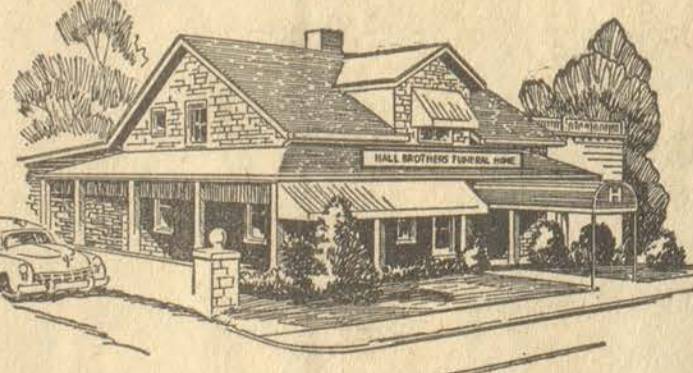

TRICK OR TREAT. It won't be long 'til we'll all be hearing this familiar greeting from our small friends and some of them will probably be all excited about Halloween parties. Just for fun I jotted down a list of ways the telephone could help in planning a Halloween party, or any other party. The list of calls went something like this: invite the guests—maybe a dozen or more; order refreshments; order extra ice; have the cleaner pick up my best suit; call around to see who has Halloween decorations—and so it went. It's really surprising how such a list can grow. Just goes to show how much we all rely on the telephone to get things done quickly. You try it sometime. Make a list of things you do each day by phone, and you'll see what I mean.

FALL IN FOR DECORATING. The nip in the air has stirred a lot of activity around here—fall housecleaning, painting, repairing and the like. Seems to me it would be just the time for folks to give their rooms a "new look" too—with some bright color phones to harmonize or contrast with new color schemes. Extra color phones are a joy to have and to use in bedrooms, kitchen or den—wherever you find most convenient. And you can have several for less total additional cost than you're now paying for your main phone. Our Business Office will be glad to give you any further information you desire.

TV IS ON THE PHONE. This is truer than you think. Whenever you watch a television show coming from New York or Hollywood, the picture and sound are brought to you over Bell telephone system communications. Our scientists tells us that eventually TV will probably be on the phone. Then you'll be able to telephone a friend and see him while you're talking to him. That should be a real pleasure — next best thing to a personal visit.

Pfc. Scott Participates In Exercise "Deepfreeze"

MEDITERRANEAN—Marine Pfc. John H. Scott, son of Mrs. Lenora Adams of Wheelwright, Ky., took part in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization exercise, "Deepwater", with the Reinforced 1st Battalion of the 6th Marine Regiment.

The exercise was held during September 24-28, and included an amphibious assault landing on the beaches of the Saros Bay Area off the Thracian Peninsula of Western Turkey.

One of a series of regular exercises, "Deepwater" was designed to test and train the military defensive capabilities of the land, sea and air forces of the participating NATO nations.

The battalion departed from Camp Lejeune, N. C., Aug. 29.

WHEELWRIGHT STUDENTS ON CLUB PROGRAM

The Wheelwright Woman's Club held its October meeting in the Woman's Club room, with Mrs. Arthur Bradbury presiding in the absence of Mrs. Mary Ellen Wilson.

Miss Stella Elkins, history teacher at Pikeville College, introduced two Pikeville College students who presented an international relations program.

Alice Louise Moffett, daughter of a long-time missionary to India, and a junior at Pikeville College, described how she and her family lived in India for 15 years.

Isci Sami, a native Iranian, played several numbers with his accordion. The students answered questions asked by the club members.

The club voted to extend an invitation to the 7th district to hold the convention at Wheelwright next year.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Geo. Leatherman and Cora McHone to Mesdames Arthur Bradbury, Herbert Gillis, Virgil Blevins, Roy Souleyrette, C. R. Tankersley, H. O. Zimmerman, Steve Clark, Alvis Johnson, Leon Porter, Mrs. Willis, Giltford Hale, Georgia Cantrill.

CENSUS SEEKS ADULT EDUCATION INFORMATION

Comprehensive national statistics on the number of persons attending adult education classes will be available for the first time as the result of special questions to be asked in the October Current Population Survey, according to Supervisor Hobert A. Yerkey of the Census Bureau's regional office at Cincinnati, Ohio, which will participate in the survey.

Questions on regular school enrollment will also be asked in the October survey as well as the usual monthly inquiries on employment and unemployment.

hTe special questions on adult education are being asked at the request of the U. S. Office of Education. The major aim of the questions is to obtain an accurate count of persons participating in education programs which provide opportunity for adults and out-of-school youth to further their education, regardless of their previous educational attainment. A secondary aim of these questions is to obtain an estimate of the types of adult education and the types of institutions and agencies conducting them.

Questions on regular school enrollment will also be asked in the October survey as well as the usual monthly inquiries on employment and unemployment.

why you're money ahead

this first of the '58's

Because the Edsel is the first of the 1958 models to be introduced, its first year's depreciation is well over 12 months away. You get extra months of full-value driving in an Edsel.

Moreover, an Edsel Dealer can offer you a better trade-in on your present car. Edsel Dealers have no '57 models to sell at clean-up prices. And remember this: any amount you may have been told you will save on a '57 model is wiped out the minute you buy it. Any '57 you buy will be one year old in a matter of days—yet 24 months from now your 1958 Edsel will still be only a one-year-old model.

Come in and let us give you the first-hand facts about the first and finest of the '58's—the world's newest car—the Edsel.

Sightless Man 'Master Farmer'

Frankfort, Oct. 21 (Spl.) — A blind farmer of Livingston county has been awarded a master conservationist award by the State Soil Conservation Committee.

He is I. R. Brandstetter, of Smithland, who lost his sight in a hunting accident as a youth. He was presented the award on the recommendation of the Livingston County Soil Conservation District board of supervisors.

Brandstetter was the sixth farmer of some 750 cooperators in the district to receive the award which was presented for completion of 90 per cent or more of the recommended conservation practices on a 50-acre farm he owns. Another farm—the 451-acre home place—also is almost ready to qualify for the award.

Brandstetter is quick to admit that he's had a lot of help from his family in the turning of his rundown acreage into a producing farm.

Frankfort, Oct. 21 (Spl.)—Kentucky's Legislature Research Commission is the staff arm and housekeeper of the General Assembly. It performs services that the Legislature would do for itself had it the time and resources. Here are some of the chores of the Commission, under the chairmanship of Lt. Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield:

The study of important subjects expected to come before future legislative sessions; research and publication of reports on the effects of legislation; drafting of bills to be submitted to the Legislature; continuous improvement in the form of the statutes; filing and publication of the rules of state agencies; studies of laws of other states and their relationship to Kentucky's welfare; liaison between Kentucky and the governments of other states; publication of laws enacted by the General Assembly; keeping a printed record of all the Legislature's activities.

YANKEES WERE OBSTINATE

Gov. A. B. Chandler, who says his grandfather was shot at Shiloh, "shooting for the South," tells this joke about the superiority of the Confederate soldier over the Yankee:

"I was told as a boy that we could have whipped the Yankees with cornstalks. Only trouble was, the Yankees would never agree to fight with cornstalks."

RECOLLECTIONS

I recall as a child my Dad telling us that when we heard a decayed tree fall in the forest when it was a still time, to be on the lookout for plenty of rain. So just a few hours before the recent drouth through here was quenched, I heard the loud noise of a tree falling and crashing to the ground. Then my memory of the saying of my Dad was renewed. I am a reader of the Floyd County Times—Mrs. Hans Rasmussen, Tram, Ky.

GOOD WALNUT YEAR

This appears to be a pretty good walnut year in Kentucky if the heaps of walnuts placed on country roads by ingenious lads and lasses is any indication. The wheels of passing autos do a pretty good job of hulling the nuts.

One of the eye-catching booths at the recent Floyd County Fair was that of the American Legion Post here. Shown, left to right, are Paul Seyffert, field representative of the Legion, Jay Salyers, sergeant-at-arms, W. G. Africa, adjutant, and Tom James, chaplain. While at the fair they processed claims for veterans and offered information in the field of Legion activities.

"The cardinal purpose of the American Legion is the care of the wounded and disabled and their dependents," says James. "That's why we spent our time at the fair. We were able to help many and that made our time well spend."

Water Problems Get Attention

The Department of Conservation and the State Citizens Water Policy Committee are conducting a county-by-county inventory of learn about the Commonwealth's water problems.

Conservation Commissioner Laban P. Jackson said 1,500 questionnaires on local water problems are being mailed to members of each county committee, which will gather data through mass meetings and return it to Frankfort. Chairman of the Floyd group is County Judge Henry Stumbo.

Once the problems are pinpointed, Jackson said, they will be examined for legal, administrative and economic implications.

The commissioner said a law is needed to control Kentucky's water resources and, at the same time, protect the water rights of individuals and municipalities. Even with Kentucky's abundance of waters, certain areas still suffer dry periods because "we don't know what we've got nor what shape it's in," Jackson said. He is chairman of the citizens committee on water. Robert Lee Bolin, director of flood control and water usage, is the committee's executive secretary.

The local committees will study and send to Frankfort data on: All important water shortages; excessive water due to stream overflow, high-water table, lack of proper drainage and outlets; recent expansion of enterprises resulting in inadequate quantities or impairing quality of local water supplies; and competition and disagreement over uses of water.

Mines Reduce Fatality Rate

Frankfort, Oct. 21 (Spl.) — Kentucky's mining industry is to be congratulated on its safety achievements during the first nine months of this year, James H. Phalan, chief of the Kentucky Department of Mines and Minerals has stated.

The period ending Oct. 1 saw 13 fewer fatal accidents in Kentucky mines than in the first months of 1956, Phalan said. He added:

The industry failed to achieve its goal of "no accidents during September," but reduced the number of mine fatalities from seven during the month in 1956 to three during the month this year, a reduction of 57 per cent.

"For the first nine months of 1957, there was an overall reduction in fatal accidents of 22 per cent, compared with the same period of 1956," Phalan said.

He added that on July 1 a national campaign to prevent injuries from roof falls in mines was initiated to continue until June 30, 1958. The objective is to reduce roof fall injuries by 50 per cent, Phalan said. During the three months of the campaign, the fatality rate from roof falls has been cut 54 per cent, according to Phalan.

"Seven fewer roof fall fatalities over a period of three months," said Phalan. "From cold figures this does not appear to be an outstanding achievement, but realizing the impossibilities of placing a value on human life it is truly a magnificent contribution."

CARTER FOR CORONER

FRIENDS AND VOTERS

I want to take this opportunity to solicit your vote and support in the coming election. I campaigned extensively in the primary, but due to a broken right leg I haven't been able to get around as I should have liked. I'm trying to see all my friends and supporters, but a broken leg does slow me down, so to speak.

You all know my record since I have been your Coroner, that I have conducted the office as it should be and that I will continue to do so, that I am qualified, capable, and available, and that most of all I have the experience necessary for the office.

If your neighbor needed a helping hand, you would offer it if you could, wouldn't you? When your friend wanted the loan of something, did you not try to accommodate him? As my neighbors and friends, won't you please help me by giving me your vote? Only by your confidence in me and your support of me can we come through to victory in November.

Sincerely,

JAMES J. CARTER

BLACK CATS, BULLDOGS TROUNCE OPPONENTS

The Prestonsburg Black Cats and the Hazard Bulldogs served notice on future grid opponents in Eastern Kentucky last weekend as they romped over Belfry and Somerset.

John Griggs' Floyd countians displayed vicious blocking and offensive finesse in stopping Belfry's six-game winning streak as quarterback Paul Hughes, halfbacks Joe Harris and Tom Harmon and fullback James Allen repeatedly reeled off long gains in pasting Belfry, 18-7.

Halfbacks, J. Handy and Astor Sizemore teamed with fullback Bill Stewart to shutout Somerset, 32-0, for Hazard's fifth consecutive victory since losing a 6-0 opening decision to powerful Jenkins.

Paintsville's Tigers bounced inexperienced Pikeville, 40-0, as five backs entered the scoring act. Fullback Joie Rapier tallied the first from ten yards out, then Mike Kelly ran the score to 14-0 on a 60-yard dash. Diminutive Jim Wells grabbed a Minix pass and reeled off 30 additional yards to the double markers before the half ended. In the final period Mike Minix added two touchdowns on runs of four and five yards, and Dallas Vanhose scampered for a 30-yarder. Kelly registered two extra points and John Vanhose one.

Jack Hall's Fleming Pirates sent all-state halfback James Hill across for three touchdowns in beating bitter-rival Whitesburg, 26-6, to keep their conference hopes alive.

Belfry and Prestonsburg battled to a scoreless first period deadlock after Prestonsburg had been stoped on the Pirate 5-yard line. With three minutes gone in the second frame, quarterback Paul Hughes, who played his best game of the season, sped 65 yards around end to pay dirt. Quarterback Bob Hamlin blocked Allen's attempt for the extra point, and the Black Cats led 6-0 at the halfway point. Midway the third quarter, following a Belfry punt, Prestonsburg marched 51 yards in nine plays, with fullback James Allen doing the damage with 40 yards in the drive before Hughes scooted over from the five.

Belfry narrowed the gap to 12-7 on the next series of downs when fullback Harry Smith uncorked a 43-yard trek to the Black Cats 20-yard stripe from which point Max Hinkle and Harold Sullivan drove to the two. Then Bob Hamlin plunged over for the marker and James Smith kicked the point after.

Following an exchange of fumbles and kicks, J. Allen and T. Harmon picked up 31 yards in three tries to the Belfry 20 and J. Harris went through the middle for the decisive touchdown.

Jim Caudill's vastly improved Bulldogs walloped Somerset with little difficulty as halfback J. Handy started the rout with a 40-yard-six-pointer in the first quarter, the Bulldogs ran the halftime margin to 26-0 on Astor Sizemore's 89-yard jaunt to pay dirt, then fullback Bill Stewart hit Sizemore with a pass on a 22-yard scoring play, and Stewart added another score on a two-the majority of the second half. J. Handy scored the only touchdown in the last half by running over from the 15-yard line.

In the other game of the abbreviated week-end, M. C. Napier and Cumberland tied, 13-all. Wheelwright and Leslie County postponed their meeting until a later date since flu had riddled both squads.

Belfry's defeat left idle Jenkins in the driver's seat in the Eastern Kentucky Mountain Conference, and a win over Belfry for the Cavaliers this Saturday night would give Nick Diachenko's unit the crown.

GOOD SEASON

The Black Cats' surprising 18-7 victory over Belfry last Friday assured Prestonsburg of its best grid season in the past three years in winning six games. In his first full season at the Black Cat helm Coach John Griggs has done a highly commendable job with a limited number of athletes.

With Whitesburg and Paintsville yet to be met, possible victories would return Prestonsburg to a high level on the state grid scene, which it held for a number of years under the tutelage of Doc Ferrell.

Prestonsburg, now 3-2 in the E. K. M. C. and 6-2 overall, looked most impressive in stopping Belfry's six game winning streak. Defensively, center Wayne Dixon, Curtis Holbrook and Bobby Howell were outstanding while in the offensive picture the entire backfield of Quarterback Paul Hughes, Halfbacks Tom Harmon and Joe Harris and Sophomore Fullback James Allen looked as polished as any previous quartets of Black Cat backs, Allen, who appears to have one of the brightest futures of any player, came through with the necessary yardage at crucial points in the game.

PLAYER OF THE WEEK

The Black Cat Player-of-the-Week award for the Belfry game went to center Wayne Dixon, who has twice won the award. His play merited all-state consideration as he continually tossed the heavier Pirate backs for losses, recovered two fumbles and was a demon on downfield blocking. The 220-pound four-year senior letter-winner should have several college scholarship offers awaiting him upon graduation.

COLEMAN IN NEWS AGAIN

West Virginia's suspension for one year by the N.C.A.A. came as little surprise to many high school fans who knew of the activities involving Wayland's Kelly Coleman.

Last summer, a N.C.A.A. representative spent considerable time in Floyd county and Charleston, W. Va., checking and securing information on Coleman's relations with the West Virginia school.

But the turning point came in September, when West Virginia denied Coleman entrance to the Morgantown school. Their chief reason was that he did not have the proper scholastic standing, although the previous summer he had been provided a job, etc., and had his tuition paid to attend Greenbrier Military School.

No doubt, West Virginia knew that the N.C.A.A. was investigating its status in the matter and was leary of forthcoming action by the N.C.A.A., and tried to salvage its standing by refusing him entrance.

The big question involving West Virginia now is, who reported them to the N.C.A.A.? We have a good idea, and it was not the University of Kentucky.

New Battery Fluid Put End to Winter Starting Problems

MIAMI — Every motorist at one time or another has been plagued by "battery trouble."

Nothing is more annoying or frustrating than to climb into your car, turn the key, only to have a slight burring and then - nothing.

It's exasperating. And especially if you are heading for work or on your way to an important appointment.

Such annoyances may be a thing of the past, thanks to a new miracle chemical called VITALYTE.

This newly-developed non-acid liquid electrolyte is expected to have a far-reaching effect upon the entire transportation industry.

Vitalyte, which replaces the harmful and dangerous sulphuric acid in wetcell storage batteries, will extend the life of such batteries from four to ten years.

For the uninformed, wetcell storage batteries are those used in cars, boats and planes in addition to many other types of machine engines.

According to Vitalyte inventors—Gus DeMaio and George Peteler, both of Miami — an ordinary battery with a 12-month guarantee will not last five years. A battery with an 18-month guarantee can last up to 10 years.

One of the most remarkable features of the new chemical is its dependability and amazing recuperative qualities.

For instance, if a driver, in attempting to start his car on a cold, wet morning, finds his battery "run down" without enough "juice" to turn the engine, all he has to do is wait five minutes and the Vitalyte-filled battery re-charges itself sufficiently to start the car.

Tests also show that this liquid revitalizer will eliminate corrosion, provide longer spark plug life and will dissolve and suspend sulphation. Sulphation is the major cause of all battery failures.

Such claims for the new product may sound like an advertisement, but more than two years of testing Vitalyte in cars, planes, and boats under all types of weather conditions firmly testify to the success of these claims.

Social Security Benefits Passed up by Kentuckians, Says Extension Service

Eligible farmers in Kentucky are passing up a good thing in the U. S. Social Security system by not checking into benefits of the program, says the Kentucky Agricultural Extension Service.

For instance, an eligible farmer or participating farm landlord who does not make Social Security tax returns is: Failing to provide payments of up to $200 a month for his family in case of his total disability between 50 and 65 years of age; and payments of up to $162.80 a month for worker and wife in case of retirement or old age; and not guaranteeing payments of up to $200 a month for himself and dependents upon reaching his retirement age.

This lack of understanding, say Extension specialists, applies to about 44 percent of the farmers in Kentucky of retirement age. Participation by all eligible farmers in the state would bring in about 29 million dollars annually here.

Under the Social Security law, too, farmers who earn $400 or more per year are required by law to make Social Security tax payments that provide them the benefits of social security.

Dry, canned or frozen peas will be in generous supply on the October markets, says the USDA.

Look of the future on newest highways calls for concrete.

The highway ride of 1975 is here!

New-type, sound-conditioned concrete for your new Interstate System of super-roads

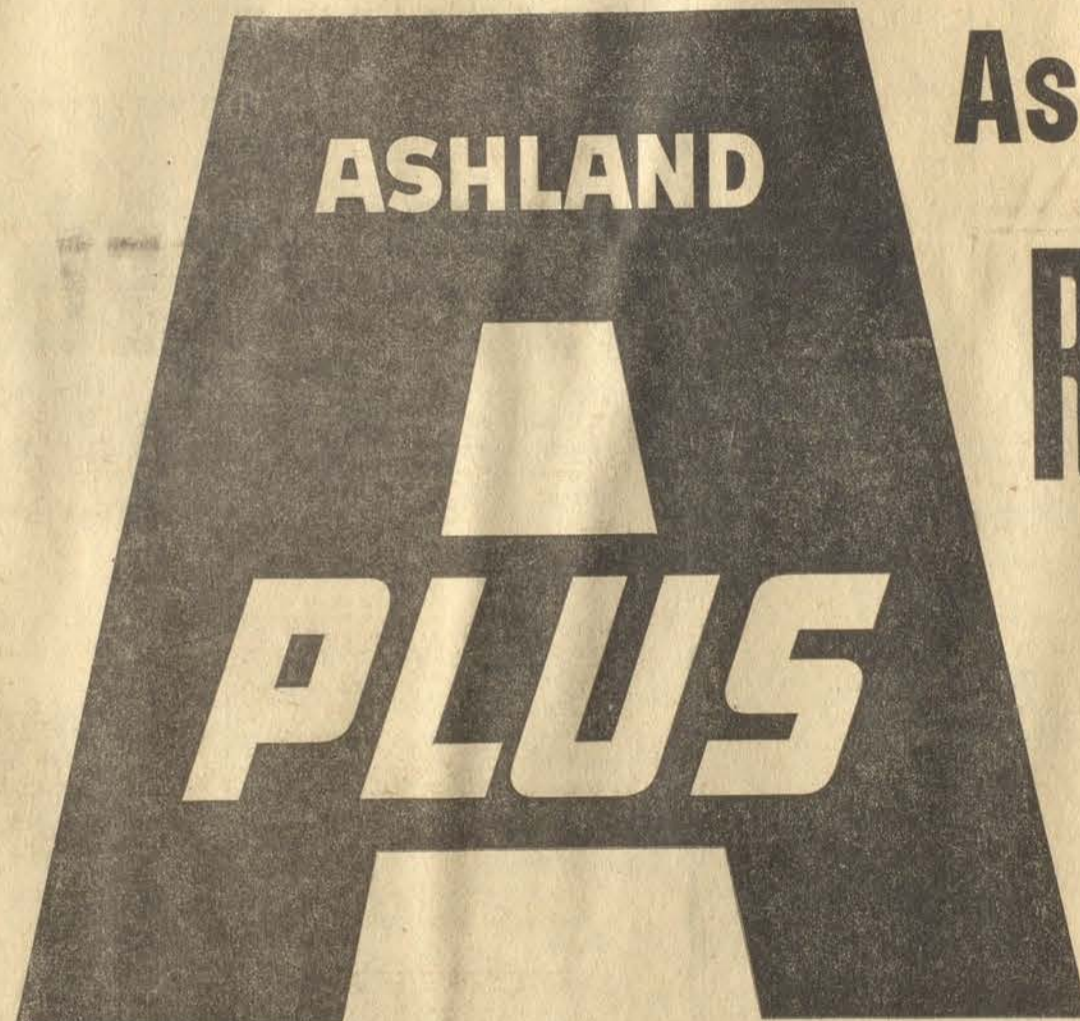

There's not a "thump" to be heard when you drive this continuous-laid concrete. Almost like riding above the pavement, instead of on it. You'll say this new-type concrete gives you the smoothest, most quiet ride ever.

It's laid without interrupting joints. Then only the tiniest cushion spaces are sawed into the surface. You never feel or hear them. Freezing, thawing and de-icers can't hurt new-type concrete. What's more, it's laid flat . . . stays flat . . . serves 50 years and more.

Sound reasons why new-type concrete is the preferred pavement for the new Interstate System.

Built to cost
Kentucky taxpayers less
Only concrete can be engineered to match expected traffic loads, serve 50 years and more. Its first cost is moderate. New-type concrete roads save taxpayers' dollars on maintenance . . . which will be up to 60% less than for asphalt.

DuRan Moore is my husband, we have two small children, I am a member of the Baptist Church, and October 2, we were married 13 years.

After DuRan came home from overseas he borrowed the money and built us a home which is still carrying a G. I. Mortgage. Together we have worked and planned for the things that everyday life requires for a home and the rearing of children.

Our greatest desire as a mother and father is that we may be able to educate and guide our children in a manner that would be pleasing to God. Our greatest desire as custodian of your County Court Clerk's office is that we may ever be kind and courteous to you. We know your records are in our trust and that trust we have safeguarded even through flood and unjust attacks by those who would seek to injure our hearts and character for their own political gains.

Because you have given DuRan your vote showing your confidence in his ability, I have had the privilege of helping to serve you as a Deputy Clerk.

DuRan and I have tried very hard to run your Clerk's office so as to give efficient and courteous service, and to make you feel welcome in the Clerk's office. I think everyone will agree that we have worked hard and that the office is capably and efficiently run.

DuRan has never campaigned on a low mud-slinging level. He does not believe this is the way to build a better community in which to rear your children and ours, a community in which we can fellowship with our fellowman before, during, and after election. It is my firm belief that a candidate who campaigns or allows anyone to campaign in their behalf on a low level, injuring the feelings of their opponents and spreading false and malicious untruths, is committing a sin against God, is demoralizing our Christian Nation and is not worthy to be trusted with the important deeds and records of your County Court Clerk's office.

I have never publicly made a statement in the paper, but the article in last week's Times about the absentee ballots was false and the excerpts were taken from a case in Monroe County and were intentionally misleading and slanderous; therefore in justice to myself and my family I feel compelled to make this statement.

I PERSONALLY issued upon the sworn affidavit of the absentee voter his ballot for the recent primary. DuRan was busy campaigning and naturally could not be in the office. Because I was familiar with the absentee voting law, it was my DUTY to issue these ballots. The law is complicated and hard to administer, but I did my best to follow the law and I was kind and considerate of every voter.

After the Primary the false rumors were spread. I will always be thankful that neither the Two Special Judges, nor the Court of Appeals, nor the Grand Jury here in Floyd County found any fault with the handling of the absentee ballots by the Clerk's office. I would also like to point out that DuRan did not receive any big majority of the absentee votes. Several other candidates received about the same number as did DuRan, namely: Judge Hill, Hollie Conley, and James Carter.

I would like for DuRan's opponent to give you voters some reason for you to vote for her and to show her qualifications, because I do not feel that because she is a woman entitles her to your vote.

DuRan not only has proven to you his qualifications for your clerk, but he also has a WOMAN and two small CHILDREN needing your help.

DuRan and I both came from large families. We both know the meaning of hard work. Along with many of you, we suffered financial loss during the recent flood and owe obligations which make it necessary for us both to work. Because of this DuRan needs your vote.

PLEASE GO TO THE POLLS ON NOVEMBER 5, and vote for DURAN, he needs your help and has proven that he is qualified to serve you.

Your friend, Kathleen Moore.

MRS. MOORE MAKES STATEMENT

Garrard Relics Are On Display

By Charles F. Hinds
Secretary-Treasurer, Kentucky
Historical Society

James Garrard—soldier, farmer, Baptist preacher, politician—was the only governor of Kentucky to be selected for two consecutive terms, 1796-1800 and 1800-1804. Only three other governors have been popular enough to be elected for two terms: Isaac Shelby, 1792-96 and 1812-16; James B. McCreary, 1875-79 and 1911-15; and Albert B. "Happy" Chandler, 1935-39 and 1955-59.

Garrard's old home place, "Mt. Lebanon," built in 1785 or 1786 located two miles from Paris on Stoner Creek, is still in the family. They have carefully husbanded the Garrard relics and papers. It is not surprising, then, to find few museum and archival items in public repositories in the State.

The Kentucky Historical Society does have some important Garrard public papers and portraits. These include executive papers and journals. One of the portraits, by Harold Collins of Frankfort, is in the governor's gallery in the Senate of the Old State House. The other, by Will T. Hundleigh, of Woodford county, is on loan to the Old Governor's Mansion, present home of the lieutenant governors of Kentucky and first occupied by Governor Garrard in 1797, the year it was finished.

Garrard was born in Stafford County, Virginia, in 1749. In 1769, he married Elizabeth Mountjoy of the same county. They had 12 children, seven born in Virginia, and five in Kentucky, where the family moved in 1783.

Garrard vacillated between religion and politics. He helped organize Cooper's Run Church and other Baptist churches, serving as pastor of the former. While governor, however, Garrard fell under the influence of Harry Toulmin, his secretary of state and a Unitarian, and attempted to introduce Unitarian views on his Baptist friends. Garrard was dropped from his own church and from the Baptist Association in 1803.

Meanwhile, he represented Fayette county in the Virginia Legislative and Fayette and Bourbon counties in the Constitutional Conventions for Kentucky statehood. Following two terms as governor, he retired to "Mt. Lebanon," without seeking further office.

Garrard died in 1822 and was buried on his farm. In 1833 the Kentucky Legislature erected a monument in his honor at "Mt. Lebanon."

Suits Asks $10,000 In Auto Wreck Case From Two Defendants

Damages of $10,000 were asked this week in a suit filed by Barbara DeLong who named Bill DeLong, of this county, and Lowell Howard, Columbus, O., as defendants.

She claims she was permanently injured in a collision of DeLong's and Howard's cars near Greenup, Ky., Dec. 30, last year. The plaintiff's petition alleges that DeLong, with whom she rode as a passenger, operated his auto so carelessly and negligently that it struck the car of Howard who had negligently parked his auto on the highway while making repairs.

happier sunset years

THANKS TO WOODMEN...

THE "SUNSET YEARS" are happier years for retired grocer W. G. Thornton, 75, Paducah, Ky. Though taken by ambulance to a St. Louis hospital early last year for treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis, he was back home six months later in improved health and enjoying visits from fellow Woodmen.

The cost of his treatment was nearly $2,000, yet he paid nothing. Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Society footed the bill. Now it pays for his out-patient treatment.

Free treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis is another non-contractual "plus" benefit of Woodmen membership. More than 5,000 Woodmen have benefited from this service.

It is an example of the true fraternal regard the Society has for each of its members... and of a great service unparalleled in the insurance industry.

The $64,000 Question

Gormon Collins, the Republican candidate for County Judge, wants to engage in a question and answer campaign. The following list of questions and answers was taken from an actual case against a former deputy sheriff on trial in the Floyd Circuit Court on a charge of accepting a bribe. This is an actual court record of a trial on November 26, 1956.

"TESTIMONY OF WITNESS NO. 1:

"Q-15 Go ahead.

A- We came down to _____ place, more or less a bootlegging joint, and we went in the back; she had a little room in the back where she sold beer and stuff, and he told us that he wanted to explain what protection we would get and that Gormon Collins sent him out and he told us if we didn't believe he was the kind of man he was saying he was, and we all decided that he was all right."

"Q-25 Did you get what was promised you, protection?

A- Yes, sir. I never was bothered by the county sheriff."

"Q-114 I want to ask you one further question. You tell the jury that as you went along bootlegging there, on up, maybe, a year or a little over a year, or something like that without being bothered. What happened there? Did you finally quit bootlegging or what happened?

A- No, I was still in the business. Something went wrong some way. _____, he told me that _____ said _____."

TESTIMONY OF WITNESS NO. 2:

"Q-17 What did he say to you?

A- He wanted to know if I wanted in on the pay-off and I commenced talking to him and I told him I did not understand it, and he told me then that Mr. Collins had them out collecting for him; that it wasn't going to him but was going to Mr. Collins and he told me, he said: "Looks like you can pay as much as $10.00 a week and sell on and if you don't, you will have to quit," and he said: "If you pay as much as $10.00 a week you can sell on and if you don't, you will have to quit."

"Q-20 Now, did you get that protection?

A- Well, I got it up until the first Monday after Christmas.

"Q-21 Did something happen then?

A- The man that was collecting, he said he wouldn't be around anymore.

"Q-29 Did you pay _____?

A- Yes, sir. He said he would put my name down so Mr. Collins would know who it was coming from."

TESTIMONY OF WITNESS NO. 3:

"Q-3 Tell the jury what connections you had along that line, if any.

A- Well, I paid the defendant $20.00 a week to operate my place of business at East Point.

"Q-9 Why did you pay him $20.00 a week?

A- Well, he just said it would furnish protection from the sheriff's force.

"Q-10 Well, did it?

A- Well, I never was bothered by the sheriff's force after that.

"Q-11 Was that in Floyd county, Kentucky?

A- Yes, sir."

TESTIMONY OF WITNESS NO. 4:

"Q-7 What was the line of his conversation?

A- The only time that he ever had any conversation was the first time and he just told me if I stayed in business I would have to pay off, and the other times was when I would stop and buy gas off of him."

It is in order for Mr. Collins to answer these questions for the people of this county:

1. Who hired the attorneys to defend this former deputy?
2. How were these lawyers paid?
3. Why did you, Mr. Collins, advise with this man and consult with him and his attorneys during this trial?
4. Why would you be interested in this man if he had made false statements about you?
5. Where did the money come from that was used to defend a deputy for killing a man on the streets of Prestonsburg?

When you were a candidate for sheriff, Mr. Collins, you said this in the Floyd County Times on September 10, 1953.

"The taxpayers of this county have been paying a big price for the results they have been getting. The Sheriff's office pays enough money in fees for collecting taxes and fees for all other services that it performs to be able to maintain a good force of officers and pay them a fair salary. It pays enough to give the people good law enforcement and still be able to turn money back into the county treasury."

1. How much money have you turned back into the County Treasury?
2. How much did the Sheriff's office cost you?
3. How did you get this money back?

The past Grand Jury in its report dated September 27, 1957, had this to say about the way you conducted your office.

"We have questioned some 225 witnesses and returned approximately 142 indictments and during our investigations we questioned numerous witnesses, including deputy sheriffs and find that there is still a great deal of law violations and bootlegging going on in Floyd county. During our investigation we discovered that the Sheriff of Floyd county has in his possession a large quantity of alcohol beverages and we believe that since the law requires an officer to execute a search warrant to seize and take possession of the articles found and deliver them unto the Court, issuing the search warrant and this failing to have done, we feel that this Court should see that the said liquor and beer is legally disposed of."

What is your answer to this charge by the Grand Jury?

The people want to know, Mr. Collins. They are looking for your answers to these questions.

CORN FIELD DAY

A meeting will be held on the farm of Jimmy Green, at the Forks of Middle Creek, Tuesday, October 29, at 1:00 p.m. This meeting is being called to view the results of a corn variety test carried out on Mr. Green's farm this summer by the University of Kentucky.

The test includes twenty-five different varieties, both open-pollinated and hybrids. The test will give a very good comparison between our home grown open-pollinated varieties and hybrids. The results are not known yet.

Dr. F. A. Loeffel, Associate Agronomist and Shirley Phillips, Extension specialist, both from the University of Kentucky will be here October 28 to start harvesting and will have it completed by the time the meeting starts.

We hope the test will show a difference in yields and stalk lodging. Every farmer interested in increasing corn yields will want to attend this meeting.

Farmers from adjoining counties are also invited as the result of this test will be valuable to farmers from all of Eastern Kentucky.

SHERIFF'S OFFICE: A REPORT

For The Past Three and One-Half Years

This report was taken from the booking record of your County Jailer and does not include cases taken to the four magistrates of the county, which would not be on jailer's record.

- 3,328 arrests on drunkenness.
- 340 drunken driver arrests.
- 1,929 Miscellaneous arrests.
- *30 Moonshine stills cut.
- *50 Arrests for moonshine sales.
- 350 Arrests made on whiskey search warrants.
- 6,017 Total cases brought before this county's court.

The above record does not contain juvenile cases or arrests made on peace warrants.

On May 23, 1957, Circuit Court Clerk, Mr. Cooley, had printed on Page 4, Section 4 Floyd County Times from docket book of 1956 that 78% of drunken driver cases was dismissed. In other words, 78 out of each 100 cases dismissed from court, 77% of all whiskey cases were dismissed, 77 out of each 100 dismissed.

I and my deputies now have 12 suits filed against us in Floyd County Courts, (the 12th one filed this past week for $10,000), for a total of $70,000—all, I claim, instigated by some local politician.

SOCIAL WORKER DISCUSSES NON-ATTENDANCE PROBLEMS

Walter Frasure, social worker with the Floyd County school system, released a statement this week on the pupil non-attendance problems. His analysis follows:

"There are many boys and girls in our county who for one reason or another fail to attend school regularly and there are a few who, as yet, have failed to enroll in a school.

"We, of the attendance department, are exerting every effort to promote an increase in attendance and an increase in the Average Daily Attendance Record. We realize that many others are also doing everything possible to help in our effort and should like to take this means of expressing our appreciation to the teachers, civic organizations, and to the many interested citizens of our county for their efforts and the splendid cooperation they have shown and are continuing to show in helping us to bring about this increase in attendance and thus a great saving financially to our county school system.

"By way of explanation, we should like to again call to your attention the fact that Floyd county is losing money each and every day a pupil is absent from school.

"Tax money for school purposes is placed in the hands of the State Department of Education. The State Department of Education in turn distributes or allocates to each county school system, money on which to operate, on the basis of Average Daily Attendance. Those counties having the largest Average Daily Attendance record receive the largest amount of money for operating those schools and those counties having the lowest Average Daily Attendance records receive the least amount of money for which to operate their school systems.

"For each and every day a child attends school, the state allocates 80 cents; thus, for each and every day a child is absent from school our county loses 80 cents.

"Due to poor attendance, your school tax money shall be going to help to educate boys and girls of another county; likewise, by good attendance, tax money from the other counties shall go to help to educate the boys and girls of our county.

"Many children of our county are unable to attend school because of a lack of necessary clothing and lunch or the money with which to purchase lunch. This means that if these children continue to remain out of school, they will become men and women who have no education, no jobs, and no earning power sufficient to insure the obtaining of those things we term necessities of life.

"Men and women without education are usually without jobs. The poorly educated have the largest families. Large families and no employment mean poor living conditions and poverty. Poverty necessitates help or aid from the Federal government, State government, county government, local and private help; thus a burden to everyone—concerned or unconcerned. These conditions bring about continued and increased taxes.

"Our point is this: Now is the time to make a move to clear up and attempt to wipe out these poor conditions as much as possible. The best place to begin is at home and in our schools. By better educational opportunities, through increased attendance, we may be on our way. Help the needy now that they may help themselves later."

BETSY LAYNE

Woman's Club Meets

The Betsy Layne Woman's Club held its regular monthly meeting, October 17 at the home of Mrs. O. J. Williams. A letter from the Floyd county Health Department was read, in which the club was thanked for its participation in the dedication of the new Health Center. The program on Education was under the direction of Mrs. Beecher Hardwick, who presented the guest speakers, Earl Martin and Herbert Prater, directors of student personnel, Floyd county schools.

Mr. Martin and Mr. Prater discussed the problems facing Floyd county schools. Among other things, the Minimum Foundation Program was explained. They stressed the importance of all children being in school and noted that much absenteeism was due to lack of clothing, proper food and unemployment. Club members offered their cooperation in helping get children in school and in any other way that they could help. The club will collect clothing for needy school children. A question-and-answer period followed. Mrs. Hardwick expressed the club's appreciation to the guests for their informative talks.

The 39th annual meeting of the Seventh District, KFWC, was announced. Delegates named were: Mesdames Edward Lykins and T. S. Salisbury, with Mrs. Beecher Hardwick and Miss Alice Williams, guests Mr. Martin, Mr. Prater and Mr. O. J. Williams, and the hostess Mrs. Williams.

At the close of the meeting a salad plate was served the following: Mesdames Edward Lykins, Glenn Blackburn, E. P. Davis, T. S. Salisbury, Beecher Hardwick, Miss Alice Williams, guests Mr. Martin, Mr. Prater and Mr. O. J. Williams, and the hostess Mrs. Williams.

The next regular meeting will be held Thursday night, November 21, at the home of Mrs. Edward Lykins, with Mrs. T. S. Salisbury, program chairman.

FLOYD GAME SURVEY PROMISES GOOD HUNTING COMING SEASON

Floyd County Conservation Officer Raymond Copley predicted good hunting prospects for local sportsmen as he pointed to the opening of the 1957 Kentucky hunting season on November 20.

Copley said game surveys in Floyd county indicate a good local hunting season. State-wide prospects, according to wildlife biologists in Frankfort, are very good.

November 20 signals the big end of the 1957 Kentucky hunting season. The waterfowl season opens on November 7, followed by the kickoff of the small game season on Wednesday, November 20.

Copley reminded local residents that hunting licenses are required for all hunters except land-owners hunting on land they own and on which they live; Leases or tenants hunting on land they have leased and on which they live, or persons over 65 years of age, also are exempted. Hunting licenses are on sale at the county clerk's office, and in or near all communities in Floyd county.

IS IT REALLY REVENGE-- OR ANOTHER STATE JOB?

For public consumption, "Hogback" Burnis Martin, professes to be a Democrat, pretends to fight for the "people's interests", and disclaim any desire for political revenge.

Such claims are necessary in order to fool the voters and mask the real motives behind his vicious campaign of smear and abuse.

Martin's real trouble is a state job for his brother Fred. During the present state administration brother Fred has held two good state jobs—as manager of Dewey Lake Boat Dock and with the Highway Department—and was dismissed from both of them.

Jerry Fonce Howell, the Democratic nominee for State Senator, had no part in the firing of Martin from his state jobs. He merely happens to be on good terms with high officials in Frankfort and, because of his experience and ability in the legislative field, was named by the senatorial committee of Floyd, Knott and Martin counties as the Democratic nominee.

Martin really wants revenge from Frankfort—not from Jerry Fonce Howell. But in order to get his revenge, or perhaps another job for Fred, he must fool the voters and discredit Howell. Do not be deceived by this self-seeking joker. For sincerity, honesty and ability vote for

SGT. WALLE WINS DECORATION BY RESCUE OF AUTO VICTIM

Sergeant Glenn R. Walke, former army recruiter stationed here but now assigned to the recruiting station at Ashland, was awarded, Oct. 11, the Army Commendation Ribbon for helping to save Gordon Sturgill, an auto crash victim at Larkslane, Knott county, on January 23.

Sergeant Walke was traveling between Hazard and Prestonsburg, when he came upon the scene of an automobile accident. As the sergeant made his way toward the wrecked vehicle, he noticed that one of the passengers was lodged under the front wheel and was slowly choking to death as a result of the pressure caused by the wheel forcing the victim's neck against a rock.

The citation for Walke's meritorious achievement continued: "Despite the danger of the car, which was perched at a precarious angle, might roll on him Sgt. Walke held it back and at the same time dug dirt and rock from around the victim's face until help arrived and the injured man could be safely extricated." Sturgill, who is the son of Mr.

and Mrs. Pearl Sturgill, of Larkslane, is now fully recovered.

Sergeant Walke, a veteran of over 17 years of Army service, has been with the Ashland Army Main Station since 1951, and has served in Jackson, Ohio, and Paintsville and Prestonsburg.

The sergeant's decorations and awards include the Combat Infantrymen's Badge, Bronze Star, Purple Heart, Distinguished Unit Citation, European Theater, Good Conduct and Victory Medal.

A native of Oak Hill, Ohio, Sergeant Walke is married to the former Betty Rice, of Jackson, Ohio. Sergeant and Mrs. Walke are the parents of a 14-year-old son, Ronnie, and reside in Paintsville.

Autopsy Is Performed To Determine Cause Of Death Of Baby

An autopsy performed by Dr. E. T. Thorsness, Pikeville pathologist, on the body of 11-month-old Virginia Isaacs, of Teaberry, who died Sunday of an undiagnosed illness while enroute to the McDowell Memorial hospital, revealed that the baby was the victim of an acute upper respiratory infection, Coroner James J. Carter was told Tuesday.

The autopsy was recommended because of the child's sudden illness and death soon after the onset of the illness. The fact that a sister, Lois, 8, had been ill and was in the McDowell hospital also emphasized the need for an autopsy.

Coroner Carter said he was told there is no danger of infection or contagion to contacts with the child. The sister's condition is improved.

The sisters are children of Milford and Nancy Hall Isaacs. Surviving the victim, besides her parents and sister, are two brothers, Oney and John. Funeral rites were conducted Tuesday from the home of an uncle, Reuben Isaacs, the Revs. Bill Martin, E. V. Hamilton, Bill Hall and Milford Adams officiating. Burial was made in the Hollybush cemetery at Teaberry, the Carter & Callihan Funeral Home directing.

UNUSUAL SPOT

One never would have supposed that Kentucky is noted for its fossils. But amateur naturalists and geologists interested in fossilized remains have been advised by a national magazine to go to Louisville.

The October "Ford Times" says colonies of coral that lived a billion years ago can be seen in fossil form near Louisville when the Ohio River is at low stage. It seems that these creatures, dying in a prehistoric tropical sea, created a reef across the bed of the river, which causes the rapids known as the Falls of the Ohio.

ADVANCING EDUCATION IN KENTUCKY

By Robert R. Martin
Superintendent of Public Instruction

The State Board of Education by authority granted under Kentucky law, requires that health and physical education be included in each pupil's program of daily learning and living in the school.

Physical education and its function in the modern school curriculum is no less important than any other phase of the public school program. In many ways it offers a most significant contribution to the mental and physical growth of Kentucky boys and girls and toward the development of mature understandings of cooperation and fair play.

Our kind of society has granted severe pressures on emotional and nervous stability. To live fully today one must be able to get along with others. One must be able to control his emotions and find outlets for self-expression. In addition to that the shorter work week has given to many Americans more leisure time to pursue relaxing and recreational activities. For these and other reasons educators have recognized for many years a definite need for sound and realistic physical education instruction.

Not too many years ago physical education was offered only in high schools and even those programs were not all they could and should have been. Today we have recognized that not only is physical education necessary to the educational well being of boys and girls in high school, but that it is of equal value in the elementary program. Standards for health and physical education under the Foundation Program

Law require that elementary school pupils shall receive a minimum of two hours per week of supervised physical education activities. In the elementary physical education program emphasis is placed upon participation in selected activities which younger children thoroughly enjoy. These might include such things as rhythmic activities, story plays, mimetics, relays, skills, stunts and games. It should be emphasized, however, that these activities are always supervised. Also, they are not meaningless or without purpose. The objectives of elementary physical education are not only to develop physical fitness but are also geared toward the development of valuable social attitudes. Physical education in both elementary and secondary schools can be of vital importance in aiding youngsters to gain new measures of self-respect and respect for their classmates.

Our American society has been built by the resourcefulness of individualism. Individuals who possess vigor, strength, and character are in normal times a great resource to our nation and in times of emergencies these qualities have risen to meet every challenge. Physical education then is merely a means through which we can continue to produce responsible citizens with a full understanding of the importance of fair play, team work, and individual ability.

The child is an active being. He experiences needs as old as the world for physical activity. We are convinced in Kentucky that the physical education program is absolutely necessary to the well rounded development of our future citizens. Its inclusion in the total school program is essential to the program of advancing education in Kentucky.

VOTE AS YOUR CONSCIENCE TELLS YOU

When I announced for Circuit Court Clerk I was aware of the fact Floyd county has a plurality of Democratic registration but I was not deterred by that fact. I thought then and I am thoroughly convinced now that the vast majority of Floyd County voters does not vote a pre-arranged ticket but carefully selects the men they elect to serve them.

They demand honesty of all their officials. They are expected to be an example for others to follow in every aspect of our ordinary life. Then, too, I have noted public servants are expected to make wise use of the opportunities once given them. If they eat the bread of wickedness or drink the wine of violence, the good people of this county are concerned and will long remember.

I have during all my adult life tried to conduct my personal and public life in such a manner that I could without reservations or apologies ask members of both of our great political parties to vote for me, and that I am begging you to do now.

I assure you that if I am elected I will remain the same common Dick Spurlock you have found me to be when I visited your homes, met you on the streets or at your place of work.

I have greatly enjoyed this campaign and win, lose or draw, I will hold no ill will toward any man. It has been a pleasure meeting old friends and gaining new ones and hearing so many of them assuring me of their support. I am not asking Floyd county to make me rich or keep me in office for a long period of time. To me it is a privilege that thousands of Floyd county citizens are entitled to and I assure you that I have no intentions of overstaying my welcome. So vote your convictions.

THE WOMAN

SPEAKS

I would like to clarify the misunderstanding as to the "unsigned article" that appeared in the Floyd County Times with the heading, "Did Mr. Moore Meet His Responsibility?" The article was put in the Times by my campaign committee which consists of friends and supporters. The Times erroneously omitted the signature of the persons submitting the article.

My husband and I were both born in this county and since our marriage have both worked to make a living here. My mother, as many of you know, has worked to support herself and me since the death of my father in 1945.

Someone started the rumor that I was "proud" and felt above others. I have only one thing to be proud of and that is my mother. I am proud of her for raising me to consider myself equal with, not above, the next person.

Being a Woman does not entitle me to any special privileges but as an individual I have equal rights with anyone.

Therefore, I would like to urge every voter to go to the polls and cast their vote for the candidate they sincerely feel will do their best for the County as a whole, not the individual candidate.

Sincerely,

HAYS FAMILY SUPPORTS HOWELL

The present age, like each preceding one, has its fair share of critics. They are around about us on every hand. Some are skillful in judging the qualities and merits of various classes of things. They are called constructive critics. Others are of a disposition to operate with a CHIP ON THEIR SHOULDER; to criticize, to censor, to carp, to belittle, to quarrel, to fight, to undermine for the sole purpose of destroying anything and everything not in accord with their selfish aims, plans, and pet schemes. They are the so-called destructive critics.

An article in The Floyd County Times implied that members of our family had been offered the Senator's nomination. We were never contacted by anyone and had no desire to accept the position. We feel that our beloved father would want us to support the Democratic ticket.

Although our father and Jerry Fonce Howell did not see eye-to-eye on all political issues, we nevertheless know that he and Jerry Fonce Howell were personal friends. While Jerry and our father were serving in the Kentucky Legislature they drove to Frankfort together, roomed together and ate together. No longer than eight days before our father died, he, Jerry Howell, Clive Akers, and Judge Stumbo went to Frankfort together in the interest of Floyd County. We feel that our father, if living would want and advise us to vote the Democratic Ticket, of which he was a staunch supporter. Jerry Fonce Howell is the Democratic nominee, therefore we are asking all our friends and father's friends to elect Jerry F. Howell State Senator.

Yours for a more progressive and less confused government in the 29th Senatorial District.

1957 FARM INCOME NET NEARS 1956 AVERAGE

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 18 (Sp.)—The average net farm income for Kentucky farmers is expected to be about the same for 1957, as for 1956, says the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station's economics department.

State farmers' average net income in 1956 was $1,734 per farm, says Economist Buel Lanpher in his bi-weekly outlook letter. This is only 3 percent below the all-time high of $1,789 in 1951.

The 1956 figure, Lanpher said, was 12 percent above the 1955 figure. He attributed this jump to increased livestock production and excellent crop yields, among other factors. Government payments also were higher in 1956 by $10 million, he said.

For 1957, he estimates, there are a number of favorable income factors. Livestock prices are higher; the number of livestock on farms has increased; and prices of cattle and hogs probably will be above 1956 levels throughout most of 1957. Government payments, through the Soil Bank, also will have considerable effect. In addition, the number of farms probably has continued to decline during 1957, he says.

Unfavorable factors include, however such things as higher production expenses and lower crop production in 1957. Value of 1957 grain crops, for instance, probably will be down sharply as production and prices have dropped in the period. Burley tobacco production in 1957 is down about 6 percent also, according to October 1, estimates, which will cut total value of this valuable crop — unless prices rise enough to offset the lower production. If this happens net farm incomes could be slightly higher than for 1956.

Nationally, the net farm income was $2,337, 35 percent higher than Kentucky's. However, Lanpher noted, "there has not been the drop in Kentucky's net farm income that has occurred in U. S. net farm income in the last few years. The 1956 U. S. net farm income was 20 percent below the $2,911 average of 1951."

Recent jumps in production expenses nationally have had less effect in Kentucky, too, than nationally. Production expenses in Kentucky have been about equal to "about one-half of gross farm income throughout the 1949-1956 period; however, on all U. S. farms, the proportion of gross income taken by production expenses has been rising and was equal to almost two-thirds of gross income in 1957," he noted.

Production expenses are relatively less important than nationally, he thinks, because the state has smaller farms; a high-labor crop in tobacco; less mechanization than national averages; and probably less high-priced hired labor on Kentucky farms.

Lanpher predicts, "very little additional rise" in production costs through the first half of 1958. Prices for many basic raw materials for industry have declined considerably; and further wage increases during the next 9 months "likely will be limited to the extent that productivity increases," Lanpher said.

The general level of business has remained practically stationary all year and there are indications it may weaken in the next few months. One indication is that new orders for durable equipment has dropped sharply.

Prices paid by U. S. farmers have risen 6 percent since December, 1955, while prices-received figures have risen 10 percent in the same period. The parity ratio has risen three points since December 1955 (from 80 to 83), but U. S. net farm income "probably has risen more than that," Lanpher said. "Volume of production per farm has been increasing because of new technology and expansion in size of farms as farm folk moved out of agriculture."

Hampshire-Southdown Breeding Is Promising, Specialists Announce

When Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station sheep researchers bred Hampshire and Southdown rams to two groups of ewes, they found that a Southdown ram used on Texas ewes had the earliest lambing date.

This combination was 17 days earlier than the next combination, Patch G. Woolfolk, researcher, said this week.

Animals used were a group of Texas-born Suffolk-Rambouillet ewes, and Idaho-born Suffolk-cross-ewes.

The Southdown ram-Texas ewe cross produced lambs whose average birth date was January 15. A Hampshire ram used on Texas ewes produced lambs averaging a Feb. 2 birth date. Southdown rams covered with the Idaho ewes averaged Feb. 3 as a birth date, while the Hampshire ram-Idaho ewe cross averaged Feb. 12.

The Texas ewes raised 135.00 percent of their lamb crop, Woolfolk said, the Idaho ewes, 133.33 per cent. The average of all groups was 134.04 percent.

Woolfolk said the Hampshire ram-Texas ewe cross lambs had the highest dollar value ($21.64) at market time. The Hampshire ram-Idaho cross was second highest at $20.99 per lamb, the Southdown-Texas ewe cross, $20.46; and the Southdown-Idaho cross, $18.29. However, Woolfolk said, the variance in price may be attributed to different marketing dates.

In carcass grades, the Southdown-Idaho cross was best, with 8 prime and 7 choice. In dressing percentage three groups were around 52 per cent; the Hampshire-Idaho cross was low, with 50.95 per cent.

Stamping Ground in Scott county got its name because of the great herds of buffalo who came here for water and stamped down the soil for a great distance around the lick.

McDowell Band Group Participates In Event At Morehead College

The McDowell band, under the direction of Mrs. Olive T. Hall, participated in the Band Day celebration at Morehead college, Saturday. Twelve hundred students in 22 bands from West Virginia, Kentucky and Ohio took part in the colorful event. The groups paraded on College street prior to the Morehead-Murray football game.

Each band parade marched into the football stadium individually and joined in field formation on the gridiron. Fred Morgan, director of the Morehead college band, with the assistance of directors of all the other musical organizations, directed the bands in the National Anthem, "Officer of the Day," and "Ringling Brothers' Grand Entry" marches.

The McDowell high school band consists of ten majorettes and a drum major. Both the high school and grade school bands of McDowell have been invited to participate in the Big Sandy Bowl game at Paintsville November 8.

AN OPEN LETTER TO JERRY FONCE HOWELL:

I notice in the paper that Happy Lee Waterfield has told you that the Administration needs you in the Senate as Floor Leader because of your ability as a leader. If what Paul Hayes said about you making speeches for a Republican against our late beloved Senator Barkley is true, then it seems to me that your ability as a leader is quite limited. As I recall, Barkley won by over 70,000, in spite of your efforts against him.

I am a poor man with a wife and nine children, seven of them and one grandchild, together with my wife and myself, live in a three room house on the head of Prater Creek, in the same neighborhood where you grew up. Notwithstanding the fact that you are a distant cousin of mine and grew up among my people, yet, when I had a little old road job with the state by which I was able to at least keep the wolf from the door, you, Happy's "Hatchet Man" in Floyd County, had my job taken, leaving my family to live on charity, or actually starve. During the Fall campaign for the Administration outfit, you told me and many other State employees that if we would contribute and work for Happy Lee's ticket, that we would keep our jobs. Well, we did just that, but did you keep your promise to us? Nay, a thousand times, NAY.

Now COUSIN! I am a disabled veteran of World War II, with this large family, among which are two sets of twins and surely, with my loyalty to your CROWD, I was entitled to keep this road job. Not only me, but the many others whose heads has bounced under your "Hatchet Style", are determined to help abolish this deception and TYRANNY. Where were you when I was wearing ncle Sam's uniform and fighting for my country? I left a wife and two babies to go to war. You had no babies to leave and you too, were eligible and within the age for service. How did the Draft dodge you? Tell us veterans this before you expect our vote or support. I borrowed the money I donated to your bunch, but just how you expect me to repay, I do not know.

I invite you COUSIN to come up home any Sunday and have dinner with us (Such as we have) and then look into the faces of these hungry members of my family and explain to them, if you can. If you have the GALL to ask us veterans to vote for you, then I suppose the hungry, gnawing stomachs of my family would be no bar or even embarrassment to you in facing them. What about it Jerry Fonce? Will you come for that LEAN Sunday dinner sometime?

You say to us that Happy Lee needs you and boast about how close you are to his Administration. Now OLD COUSIN! If you are so close and powerful with the Frankfort CLIQUE, answer me this. Why, out of the millions of dollars that have been spent for roads within the past year, is it that our good old county of Floyd has seen no new roads being built when other local counties are getting their share? What have you been doing with all that influence which you are supposed to have with them? Of course, you only became a candidate recently, and no doubt, had you been contemplating becoming a candidate earlier, you would have been getting our share of road building. You and your Happy Lee crowd love us only when you need and can use us, otherwise, we become members of that large segment of humanity known as "The Forgotten Man." We may be forgotten, but mark you well, we will not be forgetful on November 5th when we will remember too well, and remembering, we will mark our ballot for BURNIS MARTIN.

(s) Ernest Boyd;

Your cousin and disillusioned, disabled WORLD WAR II VETERAN

DEMOCRATS and REPUBLICANS

Reward Good Citizenship With Your Vote

I am 70 years old and have been a strong Democrat all my life. I have only a few times departed from my political convictions in state or national elections. In county and local races, however, when practically every deed in the lives of all candidates are known to almost every voter, the important thing is to vote for the best citizen. The very least that we voters can do to encourage and reward good citizenship and good morals is to vote for those candidates who have lived good, clean lives.

My son-in-law, Richard (Dick) Spurlock, is the Republican nominee for Circuit Court Clerk. He did not ask for my advice before getting into this race. I did not encourage him to get into politics, nor did I try to discourage him. In his own quiet, determined way he made up his own mind.

His lifetime honesty, sincerity and friendliness has earned him many good steadfast friends in both parties. He has made many other friends while campaigning all over Floyd County this summer and fall. Reports from all sections of the county are very favorable and I believe Richard Spurlock has a better than even chance to win. He will make the people of Floyd County a good Circuit Court Clerk.

I would like to ask all my friends and relatives, who are interested in good government and good citizenship to vote for RICHARD SPURLOCK in the coming election.

PENN FITZPATRICK,

School Lunches Gain in Numbers, According to Report

About 5½ million more school lunches were served last year to Kentucky school children than were served in 1955, according to records of the United States Department of Agriculture. In the nation as a whole, there was a gain of 9½ per cent when nearly a half billion noon lunches were served.

The value to the school child in stronger bodies, in better health and in improved study habits would be difficult to over-estimate, say nutritionists at the University of Kentucky.

A part of the food for the lunches is purchased locally, the national total cost being $97,923,344. In addition, a considerable quantity was received from the USDA for use in the program.

For example, nearly a third of the cases of canned tomatoes bought by the government this year will be used in the South-eastern states, Kentucky receiving 12,002 cases.

During the past year, 12,573 schools in the southeastern states participated in the school lunch program, compared to 12,204 the year before.

The number of noon school lunches served in Kentucky last year was 46,595,312 compared to 41,128,877 in 1955.

The characteristic taste of an orange, or any other fruit, is really due to volatile materials it gives off, its "smell."

97 Floyd Students Are Enrolled at UK

The University of Kentucky has reported that 97 students from Floyd county are among 8,794 men and women attending the institution during the current semester.

This figure represents an increase of 699 students over the record of 8,125 set last year, according to Dr. Charles F. Elton, UK dean of admissions and registrar.

Leading in students enrolled at UK is Fayette county with a total of 1,345. Jefferson county is second with 735 students.

Students from Floyd county include:

Melvin Akers, Winnifred Akers, David Allen, David Donald Allen, Peggy Allen, Quentin Allen, Robert Allen, Rosemary Allen, William Allen, Richard Anderson, Joe Arnett, Donnie Bates, Robert Bowling, Marcella Bradley, William Brashear, Elizabeth Burchett, James Burchett, Joe Burchett, William Burke, Hugh Cannon, Donald Capelli, Donald Claypool, Walter Collins, William Cooley, Doyle Dingus, Helen Dingus, Charles Elkins, Otto Fannin, Fred Francis, Roland Frasure, Donald Frazier, Larry Gibson, John Goble, Ronald Goebel, Robert Goodman, David Grigsby, Janice Grigsby, Silas Halbert, Irvin Hall, Jerry Hall, Jesse Hall, Ralph Hall, Joseph Harkins, Jackie Hewlett, John Hill, Rose Hill, Clyde Hoover, Garland Howard, Helen Howard, William Howard, Lowell Hughes, Arlan Isaac, Fred Jarrell, Berlin Johnson, Grayson Johnson, David Leslie, Ronald Leslie, Donald Lowe, Mary Madison, Betty Martin, James Martin, John Martin, Julius Martin, Sam Martin Jr., William Martin, Barbara May, Frederick May, Kenneth Mitchell, John Moore, Lloyd Moore, Robert Mullins, Robert Prater, Mikell Preston, Charles Reed, Garr Reynolds, James Rice, Shirley Roberts, Fred Salisbury, Clarence Salyer, Vyrion Smiley, William Spradlin, Burl Spurlock, Myrna Steele, William Steele, Linda Stephens, James Stepp, Paul Stepp, Melvin Stewart, Ronald Stricklin, Virginia Sturgill, Karl Thomas, Cassandra Tingle, Billy Triplett, Gabriel Wallace, Charles Wiechers, Phyllis Wilson and Jesse Wright.

QUEENS FOR A DAY ARE ENTERTAINED AT KENTUCKY PARK

Frankfort, Oct. 21 (Spl.) — "Queens for a Day," Esther Eykerman and Frances Walker of Korbogo, French West Africa, found Kentucky a delightful and hospitable vacation-land during their recent visit at Kenlake Hotel. The all expense trip, courtesy of Kentucky Division of State Parks, was one of the prizes awarded them as winners of the Jack Bailey radio and television program.

Miss Eykerman of Paris, France, and Miss Walker, a native Californian, who have devoted the past ten years of their lives rearing abandoned native children, are in the United States with a two-and-a-half-year old African girl for examination and observation of a hip deformity.

The missionary-nurses met in Paris while Miss Walker was studying French prior to her assignment at a Baptist mission in Africa. Friendship resulted in both girls going to Korbogo, where they built their own home with faith that the Lord would provide a way, and help of native labor.

"The Nest" as their home is affectionally called, is maintained by funds from interested friends and groups who know their story. Here they take babies whose mothers died in childbirth and who are thus branded as "evil spirits" by native superstition. Rather than let the babies be destroyed as is the custom, these girls give them a home with love and care. The oldest girl Ruthie is now nine-years-old and the baby three months.

During their visit at Kentucky Lake, the visitors were entertained at Paducah, Murray, Benton, Hopkinsville, Fairview, Cadiz and Mayfield. They visited Murray College where they spoke to the freshmen nursing class. Appearances were made by the missionary-nurses at television and radio stations in the area and they were feted and dined by local citizenry.

Moore Met His Responsibility

In answer to the question by my opposition, "Did Mr. Moore Meet His Responsibility?", published in the Times last week by an unsigned writer and under the picture of my Republican opponent, I am able to state that as Floyd County Court Clerk these responsibilities were met by me, and the Courts of our great COMMONWEALTH have voiced their approval of the conduct of the Floyd County Court Clerk's office. If the writer of this unsigned article had wanted to be fair with me and with the people he or she could have gotten the record from the Floyd Circuit Court Clerk's office and from the Court of Appeals of Kentucky. There are 120 Clerks and there were at least 120 absentee ballot boxes in Kentucky. No one can honestly say that I, the Clerk of Floyd County, am responsible for what the woman clerk in Monroe County did.

A recent report from a Floyd County Grand Jury tells the fair and impartial story of the Floyd County Absentee Ballots as far as your County Court Clerk and the Clerk's office is concerned, to-wit:

"We have questioned over a hundred witnesses in regard to the wide spread rumor concerning the Absentee Ballots. Among the witnesses were the Clerk, Election Commissioners, and various Candidates, during the last Primary Election including one of the other Candidates for Clerk and for our investigation. We failed to find any evidence where the County Court Clerk, DuRan Moore, or any of his office Deputies violated the Absentee Ballot Law, but we do believe that there were some irregularities in the handling of the Absentee Ballots by persons other than the County Court Clerk and we feel that the next Grand Jury should continue to investigate this abuse. In regard to the Absentee Ballot Law, we believe the Law itself needs to be changed, so as to permit only service personnel and students away from home, the privilege of voting absentee.

"Nothing further having come under our observation we beg to be finally excused.

Respectfully submitted,
/s/ PERRY GREENE, FOREMAN"

Judge M. J. See had this to say about Floyd County in the recent election, to-wit:

"The Court is of the opinion that no fraud sufficient to invalidate the integrity of the ballots in the absentee ballot box as a whole has been shown, and it is now ordered and adjudged that the plaintiff's complaint be and the same is hereby dismissed. . ."

In a recent court action regarding the ballot to be used in the special and general election, Judge Marion Rider had this to say about your County Court Clerk, to-wit:

"The importance of this case is to the people of the County, rather than to the parties to this action. We have a situation which is extremely complicated, and it is little wonder that we find the Clerk in the dilemma which this record evidences as to the proper method of the preparation of the ballot to be used in the election. The concern indicated by the Clerk as to the proper solution of this complicated problem evidenced his sincere interest in the proper performance of his duties, and entitled him to the commendation of the people of the County, for that which he has done is in the interest of the people and their rights rather than that of the litigants."

I drove all night in order to go to Frankfort to see if the Attorney General could tell me how to have the ballots printed. County Attorney, Hollie Conley, was my official representative and attorneys for each of the senatorial candidates went with me. I am not a lawyer but I want to do everybody right and be just and honest toward all.

It has never been my intentions as a candidate nor as a citizen to unjustly criticize or stir up strife and hatred among the good people of Floyd County. Kathleen and I have worked hard and long in order to do the right thing for one and all. We have been honest and faithful to the trust you have given us.

Three Circuit Judges, the Grand Jury and the Court of Appeals have spoken the truth since the primary. They all have found our conduct clean and honest. DON'T BE FOOLED BY OPPOSITION. It is easy in an hour of desperation to cry WOLF! WOLF! when there is no WOLF.

The County Court Clerk's Office contains your most priceless records. They have been well filed, recorded, and kept by us and our good office help. As long as we are there you can expect and will always receive kind and courteous service.

We appreciate your help in the past and hope you can vote for me on November the 5th. May God be with you now and forever in the future.

Your friend,

DuRAN MOORE,

DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE for COUNTY COURT CLERK.

FOOD NOTES

By Dixie T. Higgins

Hallowe'en time! Many parties are being planned to enjoy the special occasion. Parties will be given by and for young people throughout the year.

Basic ingredients needed for successful parties, whether Hallowe'en or otherwise, good food and interesting entertainment.

Combine these ingredients by planning your party from beginning to end, but not minute by minute. An overall plan should answer the following questions:

What kind of a party are you going to have? A Saturday night get-together? After-the-game sock hop? Class weiner roast? This is easy to decide.

Whom are you going to invite? Try to invite the number your home can hold comfortably.

How will you decorate the "stage"? Several of your friends can help here.

Where will your party be held? Empty a hall closet so there will be space for guests' coats. Roll up the rugs if games are to be played.

What food will you serve? How will you serve the food? Plan to have one or two friends help with the serving.

What entertainment will you have? Plan more games than you can possibly play so that, if the guests don't enjoy one, you can change to another. As host or hostess it is your duty to see that everyone enjoys himself.

Who does the cleaning up afterward? You do, of course, with the help of some of your friends. Plan to clean house right after the party. Get everyone to help as much as possible, then you finish up completely after all the guests are gone.

Part of the "Good Food" might be caramel apples for the Hallowe'en Party.

Stick wooden sticks into the stem end of six medium red apples. Combine 1 cup sugar, 3/4 cup dark corn syrup, 2 tablespoons butter and 1/2 cup cream. Cook over low heat until sugar dissolves and mixture comes to a full boil. Add 1/2 cup cream. Cook to very-hard-ball stage (254 degrees) without stirring.

Remove from heat. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla. Dip apples into syrup. (Work fast) Roll in coarsely chopped nuts, if desired. Place upright on well greased cookie sheet to cool. This recipe will make six caramel apples.

The Drift Homemakers held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Adrian Hall Thursday, October 10. The lesson for the day was "Choosing Color and Fabric for Suits, and Coats." Mrs. Fred Zuspan and Mrs. Glen Burton taught the lesson.

Mrs. H. D. Hewlett, president, presided at the business meeting. There was a discussion of dues and the Homemaker Federation program. This was completed at the meeting in the home of Mrs. Glenn Burton, Monday evening.

Utility consumption of bituminous coal in 1956 rose more than 10 per cent to a record total of 155,018,000 tons, according to a compilation by Keystone Coal Buyers Manual.

Huntington, W. Va., a leading inland waterway coal port, was one of six Ohio River ports to handle more than one million tons of water borne commerce in 1956.

LONESOME PINE SCOUTMASTER RECEIVES NATIONAL AWARD

Kedric Roberts, a Scoutmaster of Troop 19, Shelbyana, Pike county, was recently granted a national scholarship by the Rural Scouting Service of America to take Scout training at the big 127,000-acre Philmont Scout Ranch located at Cimmaron, New Mexico.

The committee selecting Roberts for the award said that he typified the rural Scout leader of Eastern Kentucky, with his family. His wife, Mrs. Kedric Roberts, is a den mother, and has eight Cub Scouts in her den. His son, Leland, 11, is a Scout in his troop.

Mr. Roberts was one of ten Scoutmasters selected from across the nation and represented Region Four of the Boy Scouts of America which includes the states of Kentucky, Ohio and West Virginia. He is an electric appliance servicemen.

The Lonesome Pine Council, which he represented, is the most rural Council in America. Ninety per cent of the population, which includes ten counties of Eastern Kentucky and five Southwestern Virginia, live in communities of 2,500 population or less. Sixty per cent live in communities of less than 1,000. The total population of the area is around 400,000. At present, about 2,700 boys are enrolled in Scouting in 150 Scout units.

HODGEN BUILDS MILL

Robert Hodgen erected a mill on his land in Larue county about 1789. In addition to operating the mill and farm, he ran a tavern or "ordinary," where many notables were entertained including the French botanist, Michaux, Louis Phillipe and his brothers in 1797. After Hodgen died in 1810, the settlement which had sprung up around his tavern was named "Hodgenville" in his honor.

Total world production of uranium metal in 1956 was estimated to be between 14,000 and 15,000 tons.

IN ANSWER TO A QUESTION

Answer to Question No. 5 Testimony of Witness No. 4, "The $64,000 Question," published in this paper Oct. 3, 1957:

Since this involves our father, W. L. Rice, we would like to answer the question, Where did the money come from we used to defend our father? The entire amount was what little money we had and small donations from our relatives and friends of law-abiding citizens of Floyd county. Now if this Committee is trying to use our father to help their ways of winning an election, we believe this is poor politics. Our father was a peaceable man and did his best to uphold the laws of Floyd county for fifteen years as a Police Officer. And we believe the good citizens of Floyd county will back up this statement. This so-called citizen must have been ashamed to state his name. Since we now live in California we do not want to be involved in your election. We merely wanted our name left out of your mud-slinging. We remain natives of Kentucky.
