This Town— That World

If you want to see a man with the Forward Look, just watch me negotiate an icy street.

The Russians have their Sputnik and have us up in the air, too. They've had a dog higher than a kite. They even claim they invented the game of "beezbol". But their science isn't too far advanced. Khrushchev is as bald as an onion, and they can't do a thing about it.

DIDN'T SAY WHERE

American newspapers usually cover the story pretty thoroughly—at least answer the who, where, when, why and how. But our English cousins are noted for their reticence, and this caused an American much concern when on a visit to London he read an item about a Mr. Smathers being a patient in a certain hospital after an elephant had stepped on his foot.

This puzzled the Yank greatly. Where would a Londoner get stepped on by an elephant in London? Not in dear, old Piccadilly, surely. After a few days of nail-chewing he could bear it no longer; so he wrote the newspaper to inquire where this Mr. Smathers ran afoul of an elephant.

Bank came the reply: "At the zoo—dash it!"

FLOYD WOMAN TO ASK BONUS

Woman Representative Plans Vets' Bonus, 2 Bills for Education

Floyd county's Ann B. Hall, the second woman ever to sit in the state's House of Representatives, said last Friday that she proposes to introduce this week three bills, one affecting veterans, the other two involving education.

One of the measures Mrs. Hall proposes is a bonus for all veterans of World War I, World War II and the Korean War to be paid concurrently. The legislation she proposes provides that the bonus be paid by issuance of bonds, these bonds to be amortized by replacement of the Keeneland race track tax and levying a tax of one cent per bottle or can of soft drinks.

Another bill she proposes provides that teachers be hired by boards of education in all the counties of the state not later than March 1 of each year. "I feel," Mrs. Hall said, "that uncertainty as to their employment and the politics played is a big cause of teachers going to other states or professions."

The third bill Mrs. Hall proposes would make it mandatory that all monies of boards of education be deposited in banks on interest.

The first woman to serve as Representative in Kentucky was the late Mary Elliott Flanery, who was elected from Boyd County.

PERKINS SAYS BUDGET FAILS VALLEY NEED

Fishtrap, Haysi Omitted, Pound Reservoir Planning Fund Cut To $150,000

Congressman Carl D. Perkins expressed keen disappointment Monday at President Eisenhower's failure in his budget message to Congress to recommend sufficient funds to complete planning and designing of the Pound, Va. reservoir by 1959 and to ask funds for similar work on the Haysi and Fishtrap dams.

The three dams have been urged as means of controlling the Big Sandy river and preventing a possible repetition of last January's destructive inundation of the valley. The President called for only $150,000 for "continued" planning of the Pound reservoir and asked for nothing for the proposed impoundments of Haysi and Fishtrap. Congressman Jennings, of Virginia, and Congressman Perkins had asked for $375,000 for Pound in order to get all preliminary planning done by June 30, 1959, and had asked funds for planning the other two dams.

"At this rate it will be two more years before Pound will ever be ready for actual work," Congressman Perkins said. "I sincerely regret this in view of the valley's dreadful loss in last year's flood."

Perkins said the cutback on civilian projects does not affect the flood control installations planned for Prestonsburg, and Senator Cooper pointed out that a 1955 act of Congress permits the Army Corps of Engineers to continue work on projects that can be completed at a cost of less than $400,000 each.

In a telephone conversation with The Times Perkins said he will join Congressman Jennings and others in continuing before the House Appropriations committee in a fight for funds for the three Big Sandy flood control projects.

Senator Morton (R.) said he was deeply concerned about the Kentucky projects. He noted, however, that the President said last week that in the light of national security needs new public works projects might have to be delayed and other projects continued at below-maximum pace. He added that it is quite possible "certain ad-

"No Favoritism," Says New Sheriff

Moonshine Still Taken Near Lambert, Sunday; Knott-Co. Claims Bates

Sheriff Hershell Warrens' official move against the illicit liquor business in this county came Sunday night when he led a party of four of his deputies in the capture of a moonshine still near Lambert, on Clear Creek.

One hundred twenty gallons of mash were poured out, but operators of the still were not found. Deputies in the raid were Bill Hall, George Hall, Jr., Hershell Lester and Earl Warrens.

Joe Bates was jailed here last Thursday by Deputy Sheriff Hershell Lester on a child desertion charge from Knott county, and was claimed the following day by Knott Sheriff Jake Huff. Others jailed within the week on offenses of the more serious type:

PLANS VIEWED ON KY. PARKS

Dewey Development Seen From Two Sources, Said; Waterfield Outlines Plan

Lieutenant Governor Harry Lee Waterfield's outline of plans for state parks, made in Frankfort last week, does not clearly define the plans for Dewey Lake State Park, it indicated here this week.

Waterfield indicated that the Floyd county park is not in the state "package plan" for parks and is to be developed only through the sale of revenue bonds. But H. D. Fitzpatrick, Jr. of Prestonsburg, member of the 24-man committee for Kentucky State Parks, said only $105,000 is proposed for Dewey from the $3,188,420 revenue bond issue and that funds through so-called "package plan" will be made available for Dewey.

Amounts allocated the various parks from the proposed revenue bond issue are figured on the basis

SHELL METED 10-YEAR TERM

Cliff Man Is Convicted For September Slaying Of David Kelse Vaughn

A Floyd circuit court jury deliberated less than 45 minutes last Friday before agreeing on a 10-year pen term for Jerry Shell, 30, of Cliff, for the shotgun slaying there last September 20 of his neighbor, David Kelse Vaughn.

Shell was taken Tuesday to the state reformatory at LaGrange to begin serving his sentence. He was given trial on a charge of murder but this was reduced to voluntary manslaughter when he was sentenced.

The Commonwealth, represented by Commonwealth's Attorney Hollie Conley, and Joe P. Tackett, offered testimony of seven witnesses. Burden of this testimony was that Shell went at night to the home of Tom Stephens where Mr. Stephens' daughter, Mrs. Douglas Snyder, was alone while her parents were at church. There, according to this testimony, Shell used insulting language, and Mrs. Snyder went to the church and told her father what had happened. Mr. Stephens' car was jammed in a parking tangle, and young Vaughan drove him home.

When Shell asked Stephens to help push his car out of a mud-hole, Stephens and he engaged in a quarrel which ended with Stephens striking Shell two or three times. Thereupon, this evidence claimed, Shell left, went home, got a shotgun and returned. He fired at a distance of about 25 feet, the charge striking Vaughan in his side.

Two state troopers testified Shell later admitted that he went home and got his shotgun. The statement signed by Shell and attested to by one of the troopers, who signed the statement as a notary public, was effectively attacked by defense counsel, For-

COUNTY RELIEF ROLLS AT 6,787 BUT RISING

The number of persons certified to receive government commodities in this county stood at 6,787 persons for January, according to G. R. Spradlin, head of the distribution program in this county, but the number is climbing through January, he said, and the rate of increase is up about 1/3 over December.

Increased unemployment is one of the basic reasons for much of the rising number on relief rolls, Spradlin said. Many persons have returned from outside the state and have exhausted unemployment benefits thus throwing them on the rolls of his office.

The six thousand-plus figure given by Spradlin as being eligible to receive commodities, while thought to be high, is only about one-third of what the figure stood at one time about two years ago. Then 17,000 persons were listed as eligible to receive food but a trimming of ineligible drastically reduced the number. All were cut off in May last year in order to simplify and standardize build-up of needy cases being re-certified.

Spradlin remarked this week that he could see the result of unemployment and the lack of food on the faces of his applicants. A year ago applicants did not show the signs of malnutrition but today, the same applicants are, as he said, "showing signs of slow starvation."

Members of the fiscal court certify to each applicant's need for food, it was pointed out by Spradlin and no one gets on the rolls except by this method.

The amount of income each person may have and receive commodities must not exceed $45 for one, $70 for two and $10 for each person in a family, with a $130 limit on each family.

Beans have been dropped from the list of commodities as the government has determined there is no surplus of this food. However 14,000 pounds has heretofore been a typical distribution. Other figures for each month of distribution are rice, 7,000 pounds; dried milk, 375 dozen boxes; meal, 6,385 five-pound bags; flour, approximately 5,000 ten-pound bags, and cheese, about 15,000 pounds.

Mrs. Betty Rorer, Prestonsburg, was employed by the fiscal court as clerk-typist in the commodity distribution office.

'NOT ENOUGH,' SAY TEACHERS

Of Governor's Budget For Education; Davis Of KEA Not Jubilant

"Not enough for the teacher, only more for supervisors, buildings and equipment." That was the local reaction to Governor Chandler's recommendation of a small increase for public education for the next two years. He asked for $11,000,000 for education during the biennium.

Reaction of Mitchell Davis, president of the Kentucky Education Association, likewise was tinged with disappointment, although he expressed appreciation for all help offered. He sees the recommendation as asking for enough money to provide some improvements in the school districts of the state, of course, but inadequate to hasten the attainment of desirable educational standards for all the girls and boys in the state.

It appears that the extra money required to provide salary increments for additional training and experience will be furnished, and additional units for increased enrollments, and possibly a reduction in the pupil-teacher ratio in some instances, a KEA news release says.

It is the thinking of school leaders that the overall educational improvements in prospect for the next two years, according to the budget, will be limited to better working conditions for the pupils and teachers because of plant improvements, additional equipment and supplies, and fewer pupils per classroom in some districts.

Other educational legislation pertaining to teacher retirement, textbooks, and transportation will be presented at the earliest possible date.

William H. Brown, 65, Prominent Motel Man, Is Heart Attack Victim

William H. Brown, 65 years old, owner of the Brown Motor Court here and widely known as a hotel man, died at the Prestonsburg General hospital at 2 p.m. last Friday, victim of a heart attack suffered about five hours earlier.

Mr. Brown's death was unexpected and it came as a shock to many friends and relatives over the area. A native of Prestonsburg, he was a son of the late J. J. and Sophia Nesbitt Brown. Former owner of the Brown Hotel here, he built in 1952 motor court which he and his wife, the former Lena Sellards, operated at the time of his passing. Before entering the hotel business he was employed by the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company.

Mr. Brown was a member of the First Methodist Church here and

FLOYD SOLDIER ADMITS GUILT

Daytime Robbery of Bank At Fort Campbell Told; Sentencing Is Deferred

Pvt. Frank R. Parson, Betsy Layne soldier who robbed a Fort Campbell (Ky.) branch bank Tuesday of last week of $6,657, pleaded guilty Monday in Federal District Court. Sentence was deferred until March.

Parsons, a member of an airborne division in training at Fort Campbell, was a patient at a base hospital when he held up the bank at gun point. Only the manager of the bank was in the building at the noon hour when the hold up occurred.

Parsons escaped through a military police roadblock but after ordering an automobile from a dealer in Nashville and paying $5,000 in cash for delivery in three weeks was taken by State Police at a roadblock at Tintown, Ky.

The 23-year-old soldier has been seriously injured in two accidents recently, each time suffering a broken thigh. The second

LEGION MEET IS HELD HERE

Veterans Are Requested At Tenth District Meet To Enlist New Members

The Tenth District of the American Legion met here Sunday at the home of Floyd Post No. 129 on North Lake Drive. Post Commander Homer Wright called the meeting to order and following an invocation by Hershell Tackett the group was led in song by Mrs. Tom James of the Ladies Auxiliary.

The District meeting was turned over to Beady Phillips of Seco, who is commander of Tenth District. A roll call was made of posts present and each accounted for its membership and Commander Phillips called on each post to exert more effort to secure additional members.

Paul Seyffrit, Department of Kentucky field representative, encouraged each post to participate and co-operate with Department headquarters in securing permanent, rather than temporary, charters. Kenneth Fern, Department Vice-Commander, encouraged the group to put more men on the job that is needed to be done in each community.

Harry Schaeffer, National Field Representative, Cincinnati, Ohio, pointed out the many programs of the Legion and urged each

Martin Install Officials Notwithstanding Contest; Depositions Being Taken

A new set of city officials was installed at Martin Jan. 6, despite the fact that election of Bee Hive candidates who now control the Council is being contested.

Ex-Magistrate W. J. Reynolds was named police judge, succeeding Charles Hunter; EX-Sheriff Taylor Stumbo, chief of police, succeeding Hershell Lester; Mrs. Myrtle H. Dingus, city clerk; Gardez H. Dingus, treasurer.

Depositions of witnesses in the Martin contest suit are being taken here, and as early as last Tuesday it was said that about 40 witnesses had been called by the contestants. Failure of the election clerk in one of the two precincts of the town to sign ballots is the prime target of contestants.

BEGIN BUYING RIGHT-OF-WAY

US 23 By-Pass Purchases Made, Others Are Sought; Job May Begin in Spring

Purchase of rights-of-way for the Prestonsburg-Auxier by-pass of U. S. 23 has begun, preparatory to an expected contract on the $800,000 road-building project next spring, it was said here this week.

Some checks already have been delivered to landowners. Legal action will be necessary in some instances to clear titles; in others, to arrive at the figure to be paid.

Meanwhile, State Highway Department engineers continue work on the survey of the Dewey Lake road from Hager Gap to the boat dock. Building of this route may entail the expenditure of $500,000, it has been estimated. The survey was begun a few weeks ago and is expected to require three months of completion.

The Cow Creek-Buffero road has been widened from the end of the blacktop at the foot of the mountain on Cow Creek to the German bridge. It was reported that this type of work will continue to the end of the existing road down Johns Creek (Dewey Lake) to dead-end at Coppers Creek. Ditch lines also are being cleared. Letting of this route to contract for blacktop surfacing has been promised as another spring project.

'No Funds' Condition Delays Claims Payments By Floyd Magistrates

When the magistrates composing the new Floyd fiscal court met Saturday for their first business session they found not enough funds to do much business. A few claims were paid, some were "continued" till funds are available, and only 25% of others were paid.

The court voted at that meeting to designate The First National Bank here as depository of all county funds, thus transferring the funds from The Bank Josephine. Voting for the change were Magistrates Zeb Osage,

PLANS TO HIT LIQUOR CITED BY WARRENS

'Big Fellows' To Receive Attention Given 'Little'; To Ask Ky. Police Help

"I intend to do everything in my power to stop bootlegging in this county, and there will absolutely be no favoritism played, for all law violators look the same to me."

So declared Hershell Warrens, new Floyd county Sheriff, this week in a declaration of his plans for law enforcement and for the conduct of his office.

Sheriff Warrens said "We may start a bit slowly, since the court is keeping us busy just now serving bench warrants and other processes, but I expect to get the job done."

He added that his deputies are constantly looking for ways and means of catching any person who may be bootlegging. "We will not catch the little fellow and let the big one go, either—all look the same," Warrens declared.

"I'd be glad to see the bootlegging cleanup started in Prestonsburg and continued from here on out to every part of the county," the Sheriff continued. He said he expects to confer soon with Mayor Napier, of Prestonsburg, and to offer him the cooperation of the Sheriff's office.

Commenting on the activities of various clubs, he said he has told such interests that they may operate without interference only as long as they comply with the law. He added that he already has warned one club and that others will be closely watched.

GRAND JURORS TAKE RECESS

Adjourns Till Jan. 29 After Voting 34 Bills; Man Named in Car Death

Thirty-four indictments were voted by the Floyd circuit court grand jury before adjourning Saturday after six days of work. The grand jury will return Jan. 29 for an additional three days.

Among the indictments were one alleging voluntary manslaughter, one accusing a defendant of striking and wounding with intent to kill and five for grand larceny.

Ed Wright, Jr. was named defendant in the voluntary manslaughter bill as a result of the death last Nov. 28 of 16-year-old Terry Osborne, who was a passenger in an auto driven by Wright. Virgil Hunt was named in an indictment accusing him of striking and wounding Edward Stone with a blackjack or some metal instrument.

The grand larceny bills returned by the jury are:

DEWEY FISHING REPORT BY CARTER FAVORABLE

Special to The Times

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 10—Dewey Lake, the baby of the Kentucky bass fishing world, is getting along very well, thank you.

So says Bernie Carter, chief biologist for the Kentucky Division of Fisheries.

Carter completed a special population study on the lake this week. Working in near-zero temperatures, he hoped to determine survival rates of young of the year bass in that eastern Kentucky impoundment.

Back in the warm offices of the fisheries laboratory here in the Capitol City, Carter summed up his findings with, "Dewey had good survival this year. We found nearly 20 young of the year bass to 200 feet of shoreline, a high rate of survival throughout the lake."

What does this mean in terms of fishing at Dewey? "Hard to say at this point," says Carter. "The study shows bass are producing and surviving. Young of the year bass, of course, won't show up in the fishing this spring. The lake has plenty of food—studies also show that. But whether or not we'll have good bass fishing depends upon variable conditions, some of which we can't control. The picture, however, looks pretty bright."

Fisheries experts, under the direction of Carter, have been working on Dewey since its impoundment in 1951, and have been doing intensive management work since 1954 in an attempt to provide top-flight angling for Eastern Kentucky residents. Plans call for intensive management work to continue this year.

WOMAN - REPRESENTATIVE GETS SPECIAL AID FOR NEEDY PUPILS

Mrs. Ann B. Hall, State Representative, is greeted at Weeksbury by School Principal Marcus Owens as she arrives with her auto loaded with additional foodstuffs for indigent pupils.

The Weeksbury school will have more than a school lunchroom project as the result of work of Mrs. Ann B. Hall, State Representative from the 97th district of this county, in conjunction with Marcus Owens, principal of the school, and women of the Parent-Teacher Association there.

School children there who are unable to pay for their meals at the lunchroom will be provided, free of charge, a complete breakfast as well as lunch.

A number of children, it was said, have been coming to school without breakfast. At lunch time they have failed to go to the school cafeteria because they had no money. Asked why they did not go home for lunch, some said, "There's no use; we have nothing to eat at home."

Mr. Owens, the school principal, has been paying out of his own pocket for lunches of many children for more than a year now.

When Mrs. Hall sat beside Thomas A. Lewis, director of the Division of Commodity Distribution, State Department of Agriculture, at a recent function in the state capital her thoughts reverted to the sad plight of these children and to the personal sacrifice the school principal has been making for many months. She told Mr. Lewis the story and asked for help.

As a consequence, the new State Representative returned home last week-end, bringing in her automobile additional surplus foodstuffs marked especially for children whose parents are unable to pay for their meals. And more is to come, she has been promised.

Enough to be certain that no child goes hungry, she said.

Weeksbury, once a thriving mining community, has been particularly hard-hit by unemployment.

Mrs. Hall said the school principal has been asked to supply a list of every child who is unable to pay for a meal at the school lunchroom. That done, women of the P.-T. A. will prepare their breakfasts for them, then at lunch time they will receive the noonday meal along with other pupils.

mer Commonwealth's Attorney Burnis Martin and Paul E. Hayes, who established the point that the trooper was not a notary.

Shell, the only defense witness, claimed he sat in his car after having been hit by Stephens, drank some more whiskey and saw two men approaching him in the darkness. When one yelled, "Get away from there," he said, "I just hauled off and shot." He said he did not know until officers arrived the next day that he had shot Vaughan. He claimed he had brought the shotgun with him because he needed some money and his brother-in-law Les Baker, had refused to make him a loan and he had intended to pawn the weapon. Shell claimed the men were a distance of 40 to 50 feet distant when he fired.

Kenneth Lamb, who was convicted Tuesday on two breaking and entering counts, was taken to the state reformatory by Sheriff Hershel Warrens and Deputy Sheriff Bill Hall at the same time Shell was transferred to the reformatory. He has two one-year terms to serve, neither to run concurrently.

Raymond Philips drew a one-year term Wednesday when he entered a plea of guilty to breaking and entering.

Kelly M. Hamilton was acquitted Tuesday upon his trial on a manslaughter charge in connection with the death of a three-year-old boy during a fight between Hamilton and another man. The child, Garney B. Hunter, was knocked over an embankment, and his jugular vein was cut by glass or some other sharp object. Herbert Salisbury, with whom Hamilton was fighting, was given trial last September, fined $500 and sentenced to a year in jail.

Edgel Golden also won an acquittal Tuesday on his trial on a conversion charge.

The only murder case remaining on the court docket, that of Mrs. Mary Jane Little, of Bypro, who is charged with the slaying of her husband, has been set for trial Jan. 27.

Only five cases have been dismissed to date during the court term. These are:

Robert Newsome, child desertion, dismissal rider marked, "parties agreed to live together"; Louise Johnson and Rosmond Singleton, each for child desertion, reason given for dismissal of case, "proof insufficient . . . defendant not responsible for support," John W. Blackburn, escaping jail; William Glenn Helton, seduction, dismissed on recommendation of prosecuting witness.

Trials of 65 persons have been continued—many of them because they were "not before the court." Alias bench warrants have been issued in such cases. Four of these defendants failed to appear for trial and their $1,000 bonds were forfeited. These defendants are Ernest Sowards (Sword) charged with child desertion; Elmer Patton, who was indicted on a charge of selling mortgaged property; Bill Hubbard charged with destroying private property, and Martha Borders, who is accused of aiding another to attempt to escape jail.

Several of the cases continued have been set for trial later in the month. Help of state police not only will be invited, it will be urged by him Warrens said. "I don't want to have any more deputies myself than absolutely necessary, and at the same time I feel that the people up the creeks deserve as much protection as those on the main highways and in town. The state police can help us do a good job."

But, after all, the Sheriff and all other enforcement officers must have the cooperation of the citizens if bootlegging and other violations are to be eliminated as far as humanly possible, Sheriff Warrens commented. Said he:

"I invite the good citizens of this county to help in this move. I will need search warrants to be able to enter the places where bootlegging is carried on, and here is where those who believe in law and order come in. I feel that those people who have neighbors in the bootlegging business and who have sufficient information to obtain a search warrant or make an indictment owe themselves and their county the duty of coming forward with such information. Certainly they should not protect the bootleggers by withholding such information from the Sheriff and the courts."

Is Sputnik To Hit The Big Sandy Hardest?

Because of Sputnik we may be asked to make sacrifices but it is doubtful if any part of the United States will be asked to make the particular kind of sacrifice that has been asked of the Big Sandy valley.

Submitting his budget message to the Congress, President Eisenhower this week may have doomed the Big Sandy to two more years of planning before a shovelful of concrete is poured to build the flood control dam at Pound, Va., while the other two reservoirs planned to control the river were left in the limbo of things dreamed of.

We know that this country must tighten up its belt and face the threat of Russian superiority in science and armaments, and for that reason it is obvious that civilian improvements cannot go on as in normal times; yet we fail to see why a neglected area such as ours should have to continue to live under constant threat of destruction by natural forces while others that have never suffered have their locks and dams, their canals, their reservoirs and all those other things that have made them great.

It is particularly difficult for us to accept the pittance represented by $150,000 for "continued planning" of the Pound reservoir for two years more and nothing for Haysi and Fishtrap, in view of the fact that during normal times, during all those years before Sputnik and the ICM, the Big Sandy and its thousands of inhabitants have been relegated to the role of a forgotten people economically, and now even physically.

Two more years of planning, three years for construction of one dam . . . five more years of constant threat from a river that last January dashed the hopes of many, inflicted property losses running into the millions and branded the area as one undesirable to industry because of that threat. That is the picture without undue pessimism adding over-sombre tones.

Prestonsburg will have its so-called flood-wall, and for that Prestonsburg is thankful. But what of Pikeville and Pound and all those other towns and all the hundreds whose homes were invaded by devastating flood a year ago and what of all that will be left defenseless for years to come?

All will pay the price of national defense, and we all should, but we of the Big Sandy may pay a price that will be not only costly but also awesome and mortally fatal to the hopes of a potentially rich section of America.

mishap occurred almost immediately after his recovery from the first accident. He was convalescing from the last accident when he held up the Fort Campbell bank.

An army nurse, who arrived at Fort Campbell about a week previous to the holdup, is credited with helping the FBI crack the case quickly.

Lt. Joan Graziano, a physical therapist from Dunbar, Pa., just before the holdup, deposited her Army pay in the small branch of Planters Bank & Trust Co., located inside the hospital.

"I gave the teller eleven $20 bills and retained two for myself," she explained. "I didn't hear about the robbery until two hours later. Then I realized the bandit must have gotten some of the money I deposited."

She said the currency appeared to be new and she later noticed that the serial numbers of the two bills she had kept ran in sequence.

"I thought maybe the numbers on the stolen bills ran in the same order with mine, so I notified authorities."

The FBI said the serial number in one of the $20 bills spent for a new auto by a man identified as Parsons was one digit higher than the number of one of Lt. Graziano's bills.

Parsons, charged with violating federal bank robbery statutes, is being held in default of $25,000 bond at Bowling Green.

man will be remembered longer and with great affection for his quiet, simple devotion to God, his loyalty to his church and his support of those things that mean more than money and coal mines and material progress.

At his funeral last week Mr. Francis' pastor told a story which stands as a tribute to him.

During World War II a conference of coal mining executives and United Mine Workers of America leaders was held at the White House. Mr. Francis was one of the industry representatives; labor was represented by John L. Lewis and others. They conferred on a Saturday with President Roosevelt but did not complete their work, which was of an urgent nature.

So FDR suggested they meet again on Sunday morning.

What would you have done if the President of the United States had suggested to you that you meet him and others on an important matter, on Sunday morning? What would I have done?

Said Mr. Francis, "I am sorry; I can't be here."

Taken aback, FDR expressed surprise. Then Mr. Francis quietly explained:

"I have an appointment of long standing to worship my Lord in His church tomorrow morning."

Author of the following isn't known. All I know is, I didn't write it.

DO YOU KNOW?

Where a man can buy a cap for his knee?

Or a key for the lock of his hair? Can you call his eyes an academy because there are pupils there? In the crown of your head, what jewels are found?

What travels the bridge of your nose?

If you wanted to shingle the roof of your mouth

Could you use the nails in your toes?

Can you sit in the shade of the palm of your hand?

Or beat the drum of your ear? Can you eat the corn that grows on your toe?

Well, why not grow corn on your ear?

Can the crook of your elbow be sent to jail?

If so, just what did it do? Where can I sharpen my shoulder blades?

I'll be darned if I know, DO YOU?

IN AND OUT

For no good reason we record one of the oft-told tales of the region about the oldtimer whose wife, a devout Christian, was interested in his conversion.

This particular denomination to which she belonged believed that one has an experience such as having a vision, without which there was no conversion. A revival was in progress at her church. She took her husband along, without result, and, walking home, she urged on him good and sound reasons why he should make a profession of faith.

The tough oldtimer insisted he had not seen any vision, and for that reason could not profess faith. The nights passed and on each occasion the same subject arose. Finally, the oldtimer—perhaps in self-defense—started his wife with the declaration, "I see the vision!"

That settled it. He was eligible to join the church, and next night he told of his "experience" and was quickly accepted.

But the old fellow's conscience troubled him, and before long he penitently told his wife that he had lied, that he had not seen a vision.

"Back to church for you, mister, and you stand up and tell them all that you lied." She was disconsolate.

Next night the errant husband stood up in church and confessed that he not only was an old sinner but was a black liar. He hadn't seen any vision, he had only tried to satisfy his wife.

Upshot of the matter was, he was excluded from the church as fast as he was taken in. Then, after a few moments' rumination, the oldtimer stood up again and asked permission to say a few more words.

"I just want to remark, friends, that this is a funny kind of church to me," he said. "You take a feller in when he lies to you, and when he tells you the truth you kick him out."

of each park's present ability to amortize through its earnings the amount spent on it. Mr. Fitzpatrick pointed out that this does not do justice to Dewey Lake State Park, since larger parks have been developed through use of state funds and the facilities already established give these parks the ability to have greater revenue-producing power than undeveloped Dewey.

He expressed the hope that help from the Governor's emergency fund will be made available to Dewey after the road from Hager Gap to the boat dock is completed.

The $250,000 earmarked for state park construction envisions in a decade a park site within 60 miles of every Kentuckian, Waterfield said.

From the long-range point of view, the recommended $250,000 endorses the package plan of 10 park sites proposed by an organized group of legislators and others from the affected areas.

The group asked Chandler last October to support a legislative appropriation of $2,000,000 to develop seven new park sites and expand three old ones.

Waterfield said the state would spend taxpayers' money on the 10 park sites as they become ready for development.

The $250,000 for parks would come from the $20,000,000 capital-construction outlay, which is that part of general-fund spending excluded from revenue estimates for the biennium starting July 1.

Waterfield said no parks should be built entirely with money from the general fund. They should be made to exist, in his opinion, through general fund spending, then — with actual parks as collateral — be financed further from the sale of revenue bonds.

Waterfield said Kentucky's parks program, as now conceived, is the "greatest forward step" in park-building since 1946.

Waterfield said construction should start by next spring on the bigger parks to be expanded with money derived from sale of a revenue-bond issue.

Of those in the package plan, he added, priority will be given to these sites—Pine Mountain, Bell county; Big Bone, Boone county; Kincaid, Pendleton county; My Old Kentucky Home, Bardstown, and Bunker Hill Island, Pulaski county, in that order.

Waterfield explained, however, that the priority would be juggled when deemed necessary from the viewpoint of readiness.

Present plans call for expansion of facilities at Pine Mountain State Park and construction of an amphitheater at the Bardstown shrine. The other existing park in the package plan—Greenbo Lake, Greenup county—would also be expanded.

Other proposed sites that the state would help develop are Falls of The Rough, Breckinridge county; Boonesboro, Madison county; Buckhorn, Perry county and Cruises Creek, Kenton county.

The federal government is in the process of building dams at Buckhorn, Boonesboro, and Falls of The Rough. For them, the need for state funds could be two years or more way, Waterfield said.

Kentucky's bigger state parks, as well as smaller ones such as Dewey Lake, Floyd county, are slated for expansion through the sale of a $3,188,420 revenue bond issue. They have not yet been offered on the market.

RECORDS KEPT BY HARLOWE VERITABLE 'BOOK OF DREAMS'

By Henry P. Scalf

It was but a book of blank pages that Rev. A. C. Harlowe picked up nearly half a century ago. Soon, however, after the writing down of names for the record it became a book of dreams.

Into the register of classes for the Prestonsburg Baptist Institute in 1910 went the names of teachers and students. Prof. Harlowe, for he was "Professor" then and he remained so with hundreds for decades, was dreaming of offering educational opportunity to students of the middle Big Sandy. His "scholars" were dreaming, too, of the wider horizons education would unfold.

Thumbing through the half-century old records kept so meticulously by the president of P. B. I., we find the names of teachers who devoted themselves to long service. All are gone to their reward. Many of the pupils still live, serving their state in business and the professions. To many, the living and the dead, their dreams came true.

The book is just one of the many tokens of the legacy of Harlowe who came to Salyersville in 1905 and founded the Magoffin Baptist Institute. He was a native of Charlottesville, Va., graduate of the University of Virginia, at Richmond. Five years before coming to Salyersville and ten years before coming to Prestonsburg, he was ordained a minister of the Baptist church. He remained a minister and teacher "all the days of his life."

Prof. W. B. Ward, one of the instructors of P. B. I. whose name Mr. Harlowe inscribed in the book, was one of Eastern Kentucky's great. A native of Martin county, a land that offered little in the way of educational, economic or professional opportunity, he was able by innate intelligence and a liberal helping of aggressiveness, to rise in the educational field. He was importuned to speaker. He edited significant inspirational magazines. Dying suddenly in a jeep on a Martin county road he, too, left a legacy. Many past the prime of life in speaking of their early teachers, say fondly: "I went to Prof. Ward."

Other teachers were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Beach, Mrs. J. A. Beam, and Miss Eva Gardner now Mrs. W. B. Gatewood, of Huntington. Mrs. Beam, was the wife of Rev. Beam, later a teacher of P. B. I.

Under them, in the 1911-12 term were enrolled 275 students.

The registration pages, where the students signed and added their parents' names is a study in the art of graphology. Many wrote with sure, precise and highly legible hands, others painfully drew the letters as if writing was something they expected to learn. Beryl B. Beam heads the 1911 spring term list with a clear stroke of the pen. Ruth Archer and Anna Harmon correctly shaded the characters like good Spencers. S. A. Leslie and Otto P. Hatcher affixed their signatures as neatly and artistically as a jeweler doing an inscription. Many signatures of the students of P. B. I. today still sign their names with little change from the day they registered with Harlowe.

Several of the postoffices listed by the students have been effaced in the half-century that has elapsed. Gone are Bob, Edgar, German, Middle Creek, Fed, Ordway and Grist. Bob and Grist have been discontinued, Edgar and German were casualties resulting from the building of Dewey dam, Middle Creek has become West Prestonsburg, Fed was renamed Hi Hat to the dismay of the patrons, and Ordway on the Licking River, was swept away in the flood of 1913.

The Rev. Harlowe's pupils came from the immediate section, mostly from Floyd, but many arrived to study from Johnson, Lawrence, Rowan, Pike and Magoffin counties. There were pupils from Virginia and West Virginia. The two Beaver creeks contributed a heavy share of "scholars". Prestonsburg naturally furnished the most.

Most of the parents listed on the enrollment pages are now dead but a few remain in time. The late O. C. Hall, later Commonwealth's Attorney, gave only his mother's name as his father was then dead. Lucy Hall, too, is no longer living and a cemetery, named for her, has become a place of interment at McDowell for the old families in that section. Oriole Gormley designated L. H. Gormley as father. It was Gormley, Pennsylvania native, who explored and aided in the initial development of the oil industry in Big Sandy. Oriole later married Dr. Willard R. Jillson, historian and geologist, of Prestonsburg and Frankfort. S. C. Ferguson's son, Ben, attended. Mr. Ferguson, now Prestonsburg's city attorney, is said to be the state's oldest practicing lawyer. Mrs. Ada Mayo, mother of

Booklet Aimed At Increasing Timber Sales

A booklet aimed at increasing the volume of timber marketings in Kentucky is to be published under sponsorship of the Department of Economic Development. The booklet, to be largely a "buyers' guide", will list purchasers of timber by counties, together with the types of timber wanted for their specific products. It also will provide information of a general nature on categories of timber markets in Kentucky and bordering areas. Illustrations of types of timber and maps of market locations will be included.

Economic Development Commissioner George W. Hubley, Jr., said Kentucky has not been taking maximum advantages of available opportunities in the fields of timber marketing and use of timber products.

He cited South Carolina as one state where there has been "tremendous success" in developing the timber industry. Hubley noted that although there is a similarity in timber acreage, "South Carolina farmers, in 1956, marketed timber products with a value of $3.6 million, while in Kentucky the volume of sales was only $7.7 million."

WHILE CAR PRICES WENT UP THROUGHOUT THE INDUSTRY, THE PRICE OF THIS CAR WENT DOWN
Here's good news: Ford has priced many of its '58 models lower than corresponding 1957 models! Ford Custom 300's are priced as much as $50 lower than last year. This is based on a comparison of manufacturers' suggested retail delivered prices.

Who'd ever guess it's the lowest priced of the low-price three

In case you haven't yet gotten around to pricing this elegantly styled '58 Ford Custom 300, put your mind at ease. When you compare manufacturers' suggested retail delivered prices, you'll find that this Ford is priced lower than any sedan in its field. State Mother

Nominations for the 1958 Kentucky State Mother must be in February 1, Mrs. Harry Peters, chairman, of Trenton, announced. Application blanks are still available as the search for the model mother continues.

State winner will compete with contestants from each of the other 47 states, the District of Columbia, Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico for the national title.

The 1958 American Mother will be given a trip to Europe, flying via Sabena Belgian World Airlines to Belgium in May. She will deliver a special message from America to all mothers at the World's Fair in Brussels, Belgium.

This is the first time, since the beginning of the organization in 1935, the National winner has been given a trip to Europe, said Mrs. Clifton Rogers, regional chairman of American mothers of Southern States.

The winner will be announced at the opening day of the Annual Mothers Conference May 6 at the Waldorf-Astoria, New York, Mrs. Rogers continued. State winners as well as the national winner will be especially honored at a luncheon to be given in the grand ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria, Friday, May 9.

It is customary for the winning contestants, Mrs. Rogers added, to be presented at the White House during the week immediately preceding National Mother's Day. The next week, she will leave Idlewild Airport for Belgium, accompanied by Mrs. George P. Abel, Sr., Lincoln, Neb., 1957 American Mother.

FOOD NOTES
By DIXIE T. HIGGINS
Home Demonstration Agent

Food prices are generally upward this month. The poor growing conditions in the south have cut produce supplies. Meat prices will remain at high level for some time yet. During the next three or four weeks, fryer prices will be slightly higher.

The wise Homemaker still will find ways to provide taste variety and menu variety in her menus and stay within her budget. Variety meats will fit the bill.

Variety meats are not just a meat, they are a group of meats. Included in the group are such items as heart, tongue, sweetbreads, brains, tripe, and kidneys. You could serve a variety meat every day for more than a week and not serve the same one twice. If you add the many, many ways to serve variety meats to the several kinds you can buy, you come up with menu variety galore.

You get all this variety at very pleasant cost-per-savings. With the exception of tongue, the variety meats are buy a pound, serve a pound items.

Three of the variety meats are classed as tender variety meats—liver, sweetbreads, and brains. These are adaptable to dry heat cookery such as par-boiling. They also mix well with other types of meat. Calf liver has most delicate flavor, pork has the most pronounced.

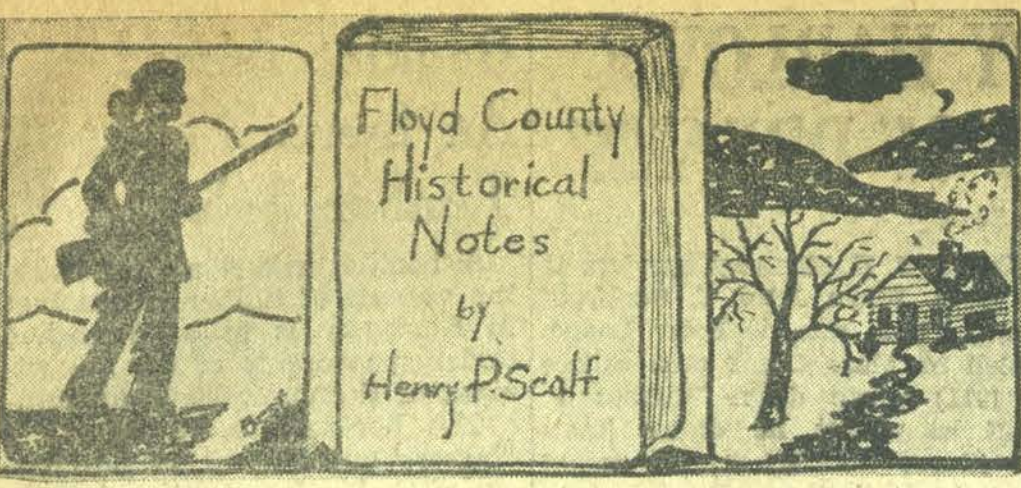

This recipe for Liver-Beef Loaf is one your family may like to try with a menu of Liver-Beef Loaf, Baker Potatoes, Pineapple and Cottage Cheese Salad, Biscuits, Butter, Honey, and Milk.

LIVER-BEEF LOAF
1 pound ground beef.
2 slices bacon.
1 medium onion.
2 eggs.
1 tsp. salt.
Dash of pepper.
1 cup dry bread crumbs.
1½ cups liquid.
½ cup catsup or tomato soup.
Cook liver slowly for 5 minutes in water to cover. Save the liquid. Put liver through food chopper with bacon and onion. Add ground beef, beaten eggs, seasonings, crumbs and liquid. The latter may be the liquid in which the liver was cooked, plus milk, tomato or tomato soup. Mix thoroughly. Pour the catsup in a well greased loaf pan. Pack meat mixture over the catsup. Bake in moderate oven, 350° F., for 1 hour. Serve 8.

CONLEY AND DAVIS FAMILIES

A few months ago E. F. Conley, an orchardist of Wenatchee, Wash., who left Abbott Creek in this county 48 years ago, westward bound, returned to hunt up his relatives in this section. They were widely scattered or dead and he appealed to this column for aid.

It wasn't a very difficult matter to locate his relatives and after that was done Mr. Conley requested the preparation of a short resume of his family history as he wanted to give it to some of his grandchildren who would perhaps never visit Kentucky. Since his grandmother was a member of the Davis family he wanted a synopsis of that family's genealogy also.

The brief history of the Conley and Davis family as written for Conley follows:
The Conley, or Connelly family originated in Ireland and in the year 1689 Thomas and Edmund Connelly came from County Armagh to old Albermarle Point, S. C. These two, brothers, dealt extensively in real estate, much of it embracing the present site of Charleston.

Descendant of one of the above was THOMAS CONNELLY who dealt also in real estate and traveled to the North where he was supposed to have married a Dutch woman in Pennsylvania. Her name is not known. One son was CAPTAIN HENRY CONNELLY who served in the Revolutionary War and afterwards settled in Magoffin county, Ky. He was born in Chester county, Pennsylvania, May 2, 1751, and lived three years in Montgomery county, Virginia, then in Guilford County, N. C., where he enlisted in the state troops of that state. He had a contingent of men under him and it seemed their chief business was to keep the Tories down in North Carolina.

He was at the Battle of Colson's Mills where he was wounded, participated in the Battle of Cowpens. He was also in the Battle of Guilford Courthouse. He was discharged in Virginia. The title of Captain was conferred upon him by Gov. Burke of North Carolina. He received a pension for his Revolutionary services after he settled in Magoffin county, then Floyd county.

CAPT. HENRY CONLEY, as this manuscript will spell the name hereafter, lived at the head of the State Road Fork of Licking River in what is now Magoffin county. He married Ann MacGregor, also called Langley. He died some time after 1865. His second wife was Temperance Hitchcock, but it is not known whether his ten children were by both unions or not.

His sons and daughters were Edmund, married Lydia Joynes; THOMAS, married SUSAN JOYNES; Peggy, married Henry Cantrill; David, married Polly Howes; Rachel, married James Spradlin, Sr.; John, married Leah Joynes; Henry, Jr., married Mrs. Polly (McCarty) Jackson; Elizabeth; William; and Joseph.

Thomas Conley, who married Susan Joynes in North Carolina, lived for awhile in that state where several of his children were born. His wife, Susan, was a sister to his brother, Edmund's wife, Lydia. Thomas moved to Kentucky with his father, Capt. Henry Conley, and first settled at Indian Bottom, Letcher county, Ky. One son, Henry, was born there. Later Thomas and Susan moved to the present Johnson county, Ky., living, after a short period, a few miles from Paintsville. His wife died in 1875. Their

Thurman Mentions Unlicensed Firms

C. P. Thurman, commissioner of Kentucky's Insurance Department, has called attention to several companies which are doing business in Kentucky without licenses.

Unlicensed companies doing business in Kentucky through the mail, he said, are Mercury Life Insurance Co., San Antonio; Old American Insurance Co., Kansas City; National Bellas Hess, North Kansas City; American Family Life Insurance Co., San Antonio; Automobile Owners' Association, Kansas City, and Illinois Commercial Men's Association, Chicago.

Reports to the department say the Jefferson Insurance Co., Pine Bluff, Ark.—unlicensed to operate in Kentucky—has been writing business around military posts in the State, Thurman added.

Other companies, Thurman said, which are not licensed in Kentucky, have requested permission from Port Knox authorities to write business on the post. These companies include Universal American Life Insurance Co., Little Rock; All Services Underwriters, Pine Bluff, Ark., and Clarksville, Tenn.; World Wide Life Insurance Co., Morilton, Ark., and American Armed Services Underwriters, Inc., Montgomery, Ala.

Eight insurance companies were issued licenses during November and December by the State Department of Insurance. Thurman said the companies had been thoroughly checked before being admitted to do business in Kentucky.

The companies admitted are Atlantic National Insurance Co., Miami; Consolidated Insurance Co., Indianapolis; Globe and Republic Insurance Co., of America, Philadelphia; The Hartford Mutual Insurance Co., Bel Air, Md.; Lutheran Brotherhood, Minneapolis; North American Life Insurance Co., of Chicago; Consolidated American Insurance Co., Columbia, S. C., and General Life Co., of America, Seattle.

Phone Company At Hindman Lets Improvement Job

Robert Thacker, president and general manager of the Thacker-Grigsby Telephone Company of Hindman, Saturday announced the awarding of a contract for improvement of telephone service in this area.

The contract went to the Leich Sales Corporation, Chicago, for installation of central office equipment in the company's three exchanges. They are at Cody, Hindman, and at Mousie, all in Knott county.

Equipment for the three exchanges, Thacker said, cost more than $58,000. Staking and surveying of telephone lines, he said, would begin this week.

Working Time Lost In Kentucky Near The Nation's Low

Working time lost in Kentucky because of work stoppages due to industrial disputes is second lowest in the nation. Commissioner Oscar J. Coke, Kentucky Industrial Relations Department, cited the figures from recently published national statistics.

Gov. A. B. Chandler, in his message of Jan. 7 to the General Assembly, credited Kentucky's recent growth of industry to the Commonwealth's favorable and friendly climate to industry. He said, "One of the contributing factors . . . has been the fact that we have had the greatest measure of peace between capital and labor that we have known in this generation."

Coke said Kentucky's latest annual record of total percentage of working time lost was .07.

Other states listed with Coke included Virginia, .04; New York, .23; Ohio, 1.4; Indiana, 6.3; Illinois, 5.3; West Virginia, 1.8; Missouri, 1.3 and Tennessee, 1.3.

Recommendations to curb law breaking by juveniles are being discussed in legislative circles here.

One is a bill to provide a fine of $15 to $100 for all persons under 21 convicted of buying alcoholic beverages. This proposal is being drawn by the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board.

Another, recommended by State Safety Commissioner Don S. Sturgill, would subject drivers 16 and under to the same fines or jail terms as all other drivers who break the traffic laws.

RECORD HIGH

The Economy Security Department received 2,600 claims for unemployment compensation benefits Jan. 6, a record high number for a single day. This was reported by John Duvall, supervisor of the Benefits Section.

HISTORICAL DUDS

By order of Circuit Judge William B. Ardery, clothing worn by William Gobel Jan. 30, 1900, the day on which he was shot by an assassin's gun, will be preserved by the Kentucky Historical Society at the Old State House.

The clothing was part of the court exhibits in the trials of several men indicted in connection with the killing.

HANDY BOOKLET

Those keeping tabs on Kentucky legislative action will find a booklet recently released by the Kentucky Department of Public Relations a handy source of information. It is the 1958 Legislative Directory, which was ready for distribution at the opening of the 1958 session of the General Assembly. The booklet includes a picture and brief biographical sketch of each lawmaker.

OUTDATED LAWS

Every now and then the Legislature cleans out its attic and throws away a few outdated laws. When the lawmakers dust off the ancient laws this year, Agriculture Commissioner Ben Butler, says, they will be asked to junk a law that requires the Agriculture Department to report what it is doing to encourage foreigners to move to Kentucky. Butler says the Commonwealth has done very little lately to encourage foreign immigration, although the State used to send commissions to Europe to bring back settlers.

ANOTHER PROPOSAL

Butler says other changes sought in legislation will include making tobacco warehouse operators, as well as weighman at the market, responsible for accurate weights.

MORALITY CODE

Welfare Commissioner Charles Allphin has recommended a children's morality code as a New Year's resolution for the state's young people. In outline, the code includes laws of self-control, good health, kindness, sportsmanship, self reliance, duty, reliability, truth, good workmanship, team work and loyalty.

In 1852 this was Smith's Station; the name was changed to Pee-wee Valley because of the great number of phoebes or pee-wees in the region. Annie Fellows Johnston, author of Little Colonel stories, wrote most of her books here and many of the characters portrayed were neighbors.

What Car Has The Best Brakes?

Read this

"After testing a 1958 CENTURY, one of four Buick Series (all but the SPECIAL) equipped with new deeply-finned aluminum front brake drums, it is our agreeable duty to report that these are the best brakes on a Detroit sedan by far that we have tested, and that they are, conservatively, a 100 per cent improvement over conventional Detroit brakes."

Direct quotation from the new issue of SPORTS CARS ILLUSTRATED in a report entitled: "THE SPORTS CARS ILLUSTRATED 1958 AWARD IN RECOGNITION OF OUTSTANDING ACHIEVEMENT AND SIGNIFICANT CONTRIBUTION IN THE AUTOMOTIVE FIELD PRESENTED TO THE BUICK MOTOR DIVISION GENERAL MOTORS CORPORATION, FOR MAJOR ADVANCES IN BRAKES."

Every window of every Buick is SAFETY-GLASS

NOW—more than ever—When better automobiles are built Buick will build them

22 emergency stops from 60 mph—and Buick's brakes still effective!

As a result of this grueling brake test, SCI stated: "We find it the rule for Detroit sedans to brake quite efficiently for the first few stops, but then they deteriorate rapidly." But here's what happened in the Buick Century: 22 "crash stops" were made from 60 MPH, and afterwards, the brakes were still fully effective. Says SCI: "This was by far the most severe test we ever have submitted a sedan's brakes to, but after it was over the Buick's brakes functioned perfectly . . . Buick has done it, has achieved a much better product, and has set a new standard of brake quality for Detroit."

*"Crash Stop"—fastest full stop possible for a car traveling at a given speed.

Reporting Procedure On Social Security For Farmers Cited

"Farmers should be aware of the reporting procedures that will assure them of the Social Security benefits that they may be entitled to for themselves and their families," said Thomas B. Thompson, manager of the Social Security Administration District office in Pikeville, recently.

Because the amount of the Social Security benefits is based upon the farmers reported earnings in each taxable year, it is very important that the farmer accurately compute the gross earnings (total cash income from his farm operation) and his net earnings (profit after deducting the proper business expenses). Thompson pointed out that such items as rental income where the landlord does not "materially participate" in the operation or management of the farm property he rents out to someone else should not be included in the gross income. Also, the farmer should be careful to deduct such items as taxes and depreciation on equipment before figuring his net income from farming for social security purposes.

Once the gross earnings and net income have been figured, the farmer is in a position to determine whether the options available to farmers for social security tax returns apply in his case. Unlike other self-employed persons, who can only report the exact amount of their net earnings, farmers have certain options as to the amount of income they will report when they file their Social Security tax returns in conjunction with their income tax returns. If the gross income from the farm is not more than $1,800, the farmer has option of reporting either the true net income or 2/3 of the gross income. If the gross income from the farm is over $1,800, and the net is less than $1,200, the farmer has the option of reporting either the true net income or $1,200. However, if the gross income is greater than $1,800 and the net is greater than $1,200, the farmer has no option and must report his true net income.

"By accurately figuring their gross farm earnings and net farm income and utilizing the options when they are available, farmers will build up Social Security coverage even in years which show poor cash dividends," concluded Thompson. "The Internal Revenue Service can aid the farmer in any question he may have concerning the proper procedure to be followed in preparing both Social Security and income tax returns."

The First Governor To Win And Lose

By Charles F. Hinds
Secretary-Treasurer, Kentucky Historical Society

The first governor to win an election on an issue as well as on a military record was Governor Joseph Desha, Kentucky's eighth Governor (1824-28).

Kentucky had not known material progress since the beginning of the War of 1812, but by 1820 and Adair's administration, the Commonwealth was in the throes of a long and serious depression. Debtors were the first to feel the effects of the slump, followed by the creditors. In 1815 the debtors were given relief under the Replevin law of that year which allowed a maximum of one year to settle their obligations. Since a twelve-month moratorium provided little actual relief, the effect of this pernicious law was to ruin the creditors as well or, at least, to hamstring business.

Governor Desha now enters the picture as the leader of the Relief Party, dedicated to the relief of the debtor class. In opposition was the Anti-Relief Party. In 1823 Desha was elected Governor by a majority of 10,000 votes, thus giving Governor Desha an apparent mandate from the people in favor of the debtors.

The Kentucky Court of Appeals, in the election year of 1823, had ruled the Replevin Law of 1815 unconstitutional. Whereupon, with the aid of Governor Desha, the State Legislature in December of 1824 abolished the Old Court in favor of a new one, more amendable to the relief cause. Sides were taken quickly, the Anti-Relief now called the Old Court, and the Relief Party, the New Court. Both courts held sessions and received considerable support until December, 1826, when the Old Court finally emerged as victor. In the meantime, the prestige of Kentucky and of Governor Desha declined. The Governor's popularity reached an all-time low, perhaps, in 1827 when Desha pardoned his son, Isaac Desha of a murder-robbing conviction. In the following year, Isaac was arrested in Texas and charged with another murder, but probably died before a trial could be held.

Governor Desha retired in 1828 to his farm in Harrison county. He died and was buried in Scott county in 1824. Later, one of the Legislatures provided for the monument which now marks his grave.

The population of Argentina is 18,928,563, last figures recorded in 1954. This is double the 1914 population report.

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

By GORDON WILSON, Ph.D.
Western Kentucky Teachers' College Bowling Green, Ky.

"THE OLD ORDER CHANGETH"

In one of the most memorable passages in Tennyson's "Morte D'Arthur," the dying king says,

"The old order changeth, yielding place to new." Though this sentence might be taken as a sort of motto for the whole series of articles, it got a fresh meaning yesterday afternoon. I was waiting for the plane that would bring my wife from Portland, Oregon, where she had spent a short summer vacation with our daughter. Several people whom I knew were waiting to welcome members of their family or expected visitors. But there were also more than a hundred others who were not going anywhere or expecting anybody; they had come to see the Eastern Airlines plane land and take off, and they stayed through the show. Practically the whole parking area was full of cars, and every car was full of people, from great-grandmothers to tiny babies. And I hope that every one got his money's worth. After all, airlines are still so new to us that they excite wonder, especially when they show that they can land without crashing and can rise with all their weight, as gracefully as a Turkey Buzzard. Though I saw the people in cars and heard them discussing newer and ever newer models of cars that they hoped to own, I actually was seeing horse-drawn vehicles and hearing horse-and-buggy-days conversation, for I was back at the railroad station of a generation or two ago. The old order changes, but human curiosity lingers on.

In my early days away from home I often went away to school on a Sunday, for that day was easiest to get me to the railroad station. Consequently, I always think of a train ride in terms of Sunday afternoon, when a large percentage of the town or village turned out to see the train come in and a few fortunate ones get on or off. The black smoke, properly laden with cinders, rose in great masses, the whistle shrieked, and there was a tingle in every nerve of the people who had come to see the train. And away went the train into the unknown, far beyond anywhere that most of us had ever been. But the next Sunday the same crowd was assembled, trying not to get nervous while waiting to hear the whistle or see the black smoke as the train rounded the curve. "Them was the days!" The very important ones who got on or off the train knew their importance, even though their eyes might be smarting from cinders and their clothes pretty soiled from the same source. Abraham setting out for the Land of Canaan was probably no more envied than these world-travelers, who had probably come from thirty or forty miles away.

Some five years ago I went back to my county seat town to a national meeting of folklorists. People had come from a dozen states or more. One prominent author and folklorist had come all the way from New York City, but he could not arrive by train, for passenger trains had been discontinued on the line that runs through my native county. He had to fly to a good-sized town near by and come by bus to the meeting, since the town did not have at that time an airport. How times have changed! Now, if that meeting had been held fifty years ago, the prominent author, who is a bit theatrical, could have shown his ability as an actor when he alighted from the train, handed his bags to the fellow who ran the bus uptown, and climbed up the steps into the plush-seated vehicle and watched the world go by as the matched horses did their best to trot along the slightly paved streets. As it was, he had to come into town like a commoner, on a bus, which takes no account of rich or poor and leaves you at the station without any black smoke or loud shriek of a whistle. What next? I record events that have happened, not prophetic ones. And unlike the sun dial, with its quaint motto, I record some events that have a sad or gloomy side, for "grow we must," says Holmes, "even if we outgrow all we love."

There are about 100 islands in Hawaii, but only seven are inhabited.

Sahara Desert gets its name from a primitive word meaning "wild land good only to be crossed."

Nickel is the third most magnetic element after iron and cobalt.

The electric-razor industry now sells more than $135,000,000 worth of razors a year.

Census Bureau To Count Household TV Sets

Up-to-date national figures on the number of households having television sets will be provided through special questions to be asked in the April 1957 Current Population Survey according to Supervisor Robert A. Yerkey of the U. S. Census Bureau's regional office at Cincinnati, Ohio which will participate in the survey.

Similar questions asked in the April 1957 Current Population Survey revealed that four out of five households in the United States had one or more television sets at that time. In 1950, the first time that a question on television was included in a census, only 12 percent of all households had television sets; this compares to 67 percent for June 1955, 73 percent for February 1956, 76 percent for August 1956, and 80 percent for April 1957.

The television questions will be in addition to the usual inquiries on employment and unemployment which are asked each month in the Current Population Survey. The information will be collected locally during the week of January 20 by Mrs. Wilma Taulbee of Malone, Ky.

Del Stumbo, Spectacular Delaware (O.) Halfback, Set Flock Of Records With Olentangy Braves

Del Stumbo, Floyd county native, who is a bit spectacular in Delaware, Ohio athletics as a back on the Olentangy Braves, was the subject of a columnist's remarks in the Delaware (O.) Gazette, Dec. 13. Viewing Sports with Paul Keller says that Stumbo is one of the best backs in Delaware County grid history.

Keller's remarks follow: Before the football season is put away in moth balls, this writer would like to pay tribute to one of the best halfbacks in the history of Delaware County Athletics. Del Stumbo of the Olentangy Braves.

Stumbo has completed his fourth season for Coach Robert McFarland and set a flock of school records in the process.

As a freshman, Del saw little service as he subbed for the capable Don Viers. However, his 63 yards gained in only eight tries, for an average of 7.8 yards per crack, gave indications of greater things to come.

As a sophomore, Stumbo played first string halfback and chalked up 860 yards in 92 carries for 9.3 yds. per try. He scored 11 touchdowns and 4 extra points to tally 70 points that season.

Stumbo had his best season statistically-wise as a junior. Running behind a strong and experienced line the Braves' speed merchant averaged better than a first down every time he carried the ball. In 109 rushes, Del racked up 1,248 yards for the fantastic average of 11.4 yards a carry. The rushing, yardage also constituted a school record that figures to stand for a long time.

In the scoring department, Stumbo counted 20 times from scrimmage (another school mark) and ran across 8 extra points for 123 marks. tops in the short history of Olentangy football. He completed 5 of 12 passes for 78 yards and a pair of touchdowns.

Stumbo set a couple of other school records in the 1956 season. Against Scioto Valley he rushed for an amazing 327 yards and crossed the goal line on six occasions, a rather busy night's work, to say the least.

This season was a good one to test Stumbo's greatness. McFarland led his entire line from the 1956 squad with the exception of guard Dave Jackson.

There were many Olentangy fans who were anxious to see how the green Olentangy line would affect Stumbo's running. They found that his running efforts weren't hampered to any great degree. He gained 107 yards from scrimmage and 112 tries on an average of 9.7.

His four-year totals read impressively 3248 yards gained on 321 carries for an average of 10.1 yards per try, perhaps the best four-year average in the Buckeye state.

Other career totals are: Touchdowns, 50; total points, 329; carries, 319, and 19 extra points. All except the latter, are school records.

Stumbo is a veritable will-o-the-wisp as his numerous long touchdowns runs clearly indicate. No less than 26 TD's have been recorded on runs of longer than 40 yards. His longest run was 92 yards.

This adds up to a touchdown run of 40 yards or more for every 12 times he carried the ball. And this doesn't take into account the many "short" runs of less than 40 yards. All told, Stumbo scored six points every six times he tucked the pigskin under his arm. Certainly one of the most amazing records in all high school football.

Stumbo was the only junior on the 1956 Mid-Ohio all-league team. He again gained league honors this season and also was placed on the Central District first team. His top honor is a halfback position on the South all-star eleven that will face the North all-star next summer in Canton's Wawcett Stadium.

The only other Delaware County player to make this all-star squad was Delaware Willis' Joe Reed in 1951.

In spite of these honors, Stumbo has never lost his modesty or his appreciation to his coaches and teammates for their help during these four productive years of football.

An example of this was given by Stumbo at the Olentangy football banquet this fall. For the second straight year, Del had been voted the Braves most valuable player by his teammates. A beautiful trophy goes with the honor. When the speedy halfback rose to make what everyone thought was going to be an acceptance speech, he refused the award and asked that it be given to Mickey Clipper. Clipper is the other half of one of the most potent one-two punches in Ohio football.

Stumbo, having won a similar trophy in 1956, felt that his halfback buddy should have this one. It was a wonderful gesture from an outstanding youngster with an excellent future in the pigskin sport.

On many occasions, the writer has thrilled at the ease and grace with which the Braves' ace romped through enemy defenses and across opposing goal-lines. One thing for sure, he's going to be missed by those who have followed his sensational high school career.

His next step will probably be a central Ohio college or university and a good many people in this area hopes his decision will be Ohio Wesleyan. On more than one occasion Coach Glenn Fraser of the Battling Bishops has drooled at the sight of Stumbo racing another 60 yards of so for an Olentangy touchdown.

There is no doubt that Stumbo can be topflight back in college football. However, it will take a complete adjustment on his part to make the tremendous change from small school football to the grid sport as it is played in the Ohio Conference or in similar conferences. Coach McFarland feels Stumbo can make that adjustment and Stumbo's many friends and followers feel the same way.

Bears To Meet Centre, Jan. 20; Drop Two Games

Pikeville, Ky., Jan. 14 (Spl.)—Pikeville Bears will host the Colonels of Centre College at 8 p.m. Jan. 20 in the first meeting between the two teams. It will be the Bears' last home appearance this month, and the last but three this season.

On the road, meanwhile, they will return the visit of Kentucky State College's Thorobreds Friday at Frankfort, and will try to improve their 1-3 standing in the Kentucky Intercollegiate Conference against the Berea College Mountaineers Saturday at Berea.

The Bears, now 12-8 in all games, brought home one scalp from their three-game road trip last week end, but dropped both their matches with rivals in the KIAC.

They edged their newest foe, Central State College of Wilberforce, Ohio, 91-58, but fell before hundred-point attacks by the two KIAC leaders, Bellarmine and Georgetown. The Bellarmine Saints topped the Bears, 107-93, after the Bruins had clawed their way to within five points of the top near the end of the game, and Georgetown made it four in a row over Pikeville in two seasons as the Tigers rolled, 105-78.

Winning or losing, John Lee Butcher carried off point-making honors in all three tilts. He tallied 28 against Central State, 31 against Georgetown and 33 points against Bellarmine to average 30.7 points per game for the trip and 30.5 in the entire season. He hit some 50 per cent of his shots from the field and exactly 75 per cent of his free throws—six for eight—in the three games.

The Bears outshot Bellarmine on field goals, 39-36, Saturday, but converted only 15 of 23 free throws while the Louisville eagles were cashing 37 of 47. The charities came on 17 fouls called against the home team and 33 against the Bears.

Butcher's 15 fielders on 30 shots, all from outside, and three for three free throws gave him his best performance in the last two weeks. R. B. Singleton had his second-highest scoring evening this season, dropping in 20 points as he sliced his way through the Saints for nine field buckets and sank two of four free throws to take second scoring honors for the Bears.

John Waddell hit the double figures for the first time this year with 14 points on five field goals and four for five charities. John Jill Hunt registered eight points, Charles Francis seven, Lloyd Mullins six, Garrett Mullins three, and Doug Chaffins and Ken Maynard one point each.

Against the Wilberforce five Butcher, who suffered an injury to his shooting hand early in the game, was blanked on free throws and had to fall back on 14 field goals to save scoring honors from the Ohioans' Jack Conyers, who netted 26 points. Four of the Bears' starters Friday scored in double figures as Garrett Mullins and Lloyd Mullins hit for 14 points each, with six field goals and a pair of charities each, and dragged down 14 rebounds each. Singleton registered 13 points, Francis 8, Hunt 6, Gary Caudill 4, and Waddell and Millard Bevins two each.

Georgetown's Tigers also put Butcher to the test, with the famed Corky Withrow pouring in 28 points but missing three of his five free throws. Butcher sank 14 fielders to the Georgetown star's 13, then dropped in all three of his charity chances to finish as the Thursday games best with 31 points. Lloyd Mullins contributed 13

15th REGION'S BIG FOUR CONTINUES GAME WINS

The Big Four of 15th Region high school basketball—Oil Springs, Martin, Betsy Layne, and Virgie—continue to add victims to their current winning skeins.

Johnny Benedict's Virgie Eagles breezed through the first annual Johns Creek Invitational tournament with victories over Maytown, 102-74, in the quarter finals; over Belfry, 86-62, in the semi-finals and over 57th district leader Elkhorn City, in the finals, 69-51.

Robert Damron, five-foot, 11-inch senior forward, paced Virgie's wins with 41, 17 and 24 points for a three game total of 83 points. Running mate Bobby Osborne, junior guard, flipped in 67 in the three games.

Auxier, the smallest school in the 15th region, copped third place in the 12-team event with a 63-50 consolation victory over Belfry. Porter Powers, Kentucky's leading individual scorer, scorched the cords for 106 points in three games for Auxier. Then on Saturday night, in his fourth consecutive night's play, Powers registered 46 points in leading Auxier to a 89-53 win over Wayland. Thus the agile senior scored 152 points in four successive nights to up his season's output to 436 points in 12 games for a nifty 36.3 per game average.

Denzil Halbert's Martin Purple Flash bounced fourth-ranked Breathitt County, 76-69, in an overtime period Saturday night, after having whipped Wayland, 93-67, a night earlier. Martin failed to stop 6-6 Breathitt center Doug Cundiff who dropped in 33 points. Phillip Dings, Frank King and Edge Click scored 19, 18, and 17 points, respectively, for the victors, with all of Click's tallies coming in the last half.

Rangy Oil Springs avenged a last season's regional tournament defeat in pasting Paintsville, 72-57. The win boosted their record to 14-2, the game as Betsy Layne's.

Betsy Layne had little difficulty downing Wheelwright, 98-61, as Ray Clark tallied 27, Dave Hinchman 21 and Palmer Frasure 21. McDowell split with Garrett and Johns Creek, losing 66-67 in an overtime to John Campbell's Black Devils and turning back John's Creek, 64-39. High-scoring Bobby King hit 61 in the two games to total 394 for 15 games.

Olive Hill, of the 16th region, again recorded wins over Pikeville and Inez, two teams they had previously beaten at home. Jack Fultz's Comets jumped into a 39-26 halftime lead over Pikeville and staved off a last-quarter rally to win, 75-70. Then on Saturday night the Carter countions drubbed Inez, 73-58, on center Bert Green's 28 points. Guard Kenton Fairchild posted 33 for the losers.

Powers was named the best offensive player in the meet, and Elkhorn City's Ron Scott as the best defensive player.

Dewey Lake . . . Fishing has been at a complete standstill for the past two weeks at nearby Dewey Lake as the cold weather caused the entire lake to freeze hard. In the boat dock area several boats were frozen in ice, and it will take several days of warm weather for the lake to thaw out.

Contractors on the Prestonsburg gymnasium have assured Prestonsburg high school coach Jack F. Wells that the mammoth structure will be completely finished by February 10th. No games will be played in the gym before that date.

Louisa's suspension by the Kentucky High School Athletic Association was lifted January 10th. Betsy Layne and Oil Springs have the best won-lost records in the 15th region with identical 14-2 records. Denzil Halbert's Martin Purple Flash have won 14 games, but have lost five times.

High-ranking Maysville, of the 10th Region, will invade the Big Sandy Valley this week-end. Friday night Woody Crum's unbeaten unit will meet Inez and Saturday night move over to Paintsville.

SPORTS AFIELD

By TED KESTING

Farmers, sportsmen's organizations, conservationists, state game and fish authorities and other groups and individuals now have an unequalled opportunity to protect and increase our game and fish resources, say Michael Hudoba, Washington Editor of Sports Afield Magazine.

Due to important changes and new interpretations of regulations covering Soil Bank Conservation Reserve for 1958, farmers and other cooperators also have considerably more incentive to participate in such programs. At the same time, both parties will be able to reap current benefits while building for the future.

Advantages to sportsmen's groups from these cooperative programs—financed to a large degree by the Federal Government—can be many and varied. These include greater numbers of wildfowl and upland game, better protection for game animals and birds, more feed for the increased numbers, better protective cover and nesting areas, and fishing in areas where the sport is not now available.

The Soil Bank Conservation Reserve is a long-term program, designed to retire from production general cropland that is not now needed, and to help conserve soil, water, forestry and wildlife resources. All farmers, whether or not they have "acreage allotments," can participate in the program and earn two types of payments. (1) a cost-share payment (ranging up to 80 per cent of cost) for establishing the retired land in good Conservation Reserve contract is in force; (2) annual acre-payments (10 nationally) for each year the Conservation Reserve contract is in force.

Through this program, any farmer can make a sound long-term investment for better land use and wildlife protection and, at the same time, help reduce general crop surpluses. The payments made under the program are to help maintain net income for the land shifted from cultivation to conservation. Dividends for the future accrue from the benefits of the soil, water, forestry or wildlife improvement.

HOMEMAKERS MEET

Drift Homemakers held their January meeting at the home of Mrs. Anna Huffman. Mrs. H. D. Hewlett presided at the business meeting. The regular meeting date was changed to the 4th Thursday of each month.

Mrs. Shirley Jones and Mrs. Belle Turner, project leaders, taught the lesson for the day, "Planning Family Meals." They urged members to check their menus to see if their families are receiving well balanced diets—even though the family varies in age, activity and often the time they eat varies. They are to check the day's menus with the "Basic Seven".

Next meeting will be held at Mrs. Roe Turner's home, February 27, at 7:30 p.m. The lesson, "Selection and Use of Accessories," will be taught by Mrs. Isabel Reed and Mrs. Ruth Reed.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Do you have stock market losses? If so, then consider selling the stocks now and using the loss to reduce your tax.

Warning. Do not purchase like or similar stock within 30 days before or 30 days after the sale. If you do, the loss is not allowable.

Here is how to figure capital gains and losses. If you have held the asset for more than six months the gain or loss is "long term" and if you have held the asset six months or less the gain or loss is "short term".

Short term gains are treated the same as ordinary income but only 50% of long term gains are taxed so it is easy to see that long term gains are advantageous from the tax standpoint. Also, if your taxable income is over $18,000 for a single person or $36,000 for a married couple you should use the alternative tax computation for capital gains and pay only 25% of the total amount of your capital gains as tax.

You add all your long term gains and deduct all your long term losses. Then add all your short term gains and deduct all your short term losses.

If you have a long term gain and a short term gain you compute the tax on each separately.

If you have long term losses and short term gains, you deduct the long term losses from the short term gains and include the remainder as ordinary income.

If you have more losses than gains, or only losses, then you can use the loss to offset income up to $1,000.

Capital losses, either long or short term, are deductible in full from other capital losses. They are deductible up to $1,000 from ordinary income in any one year. If your loss amounts to more than $1,000 it can be carried over and treated as a short term capital loss in succeeding years. You can deduct $1,000 each year for the next five years, if your loss amounts to that much.

Your loss can be deducted in full from capital gains in any year that you have capital gains.

In California, a community property state, separate returns can be filed by a married couple splitting income and $1,000 deducted by each. Medical expenses present great opportunities for switching expense from one year to another.

As you no doubt know, medical expenses are deductible to the extent they exceed 3% of your adjusted gross income, but not more than $2,500 per personal exemption and not more than $5,000 on a separate return or more than $10,000 on a joint or head of household return. Exemptions for old age and blindness do not count. If you or your spouse are over 65 years old the 3% provision does not apply to you.

Now suppose that you have large unpaid medical expenses this year and will have even more in 1958. Well, you do not pay any of these this year. Wait until 1958 and pay them all in that year. This way you will have the advantage of the full deduction instead of losing 3% of your income this year as well as 3% of your income for 1958. This works the other way too.

Suppose you paid medical expense of over 3% of your adjusted gross income and will have a deduction and you still owe medical bills which you plan to pay in 1958. If you pay those bills before the end of the year they will be a deduction this year. You won't have to use them to make up 3% of your adjusted gross income for 1958 before you can start deduction again. If you do not have funds readily available it might be wise to borrow the money.

Let's see how that would work. Suppose you borrow $500 from a bank and repay in twelve monthly installments. Your cost for such a loan would be about $35. Now suppose you take this $500 and pay deductible bills with it. If you are paying taxes at the lowest rate, you will save $100. Your net profit on the transaction will be about $65.

Remember too, that any interest paid on borrowed money will become a deduction next year.
