

THURSDAY

This Town— That World

Do you know what Whittler's Mother said? She said, "Now you sweep up them shavings!"

When I think of whittling, I invariably think of what Tom Wallace, former editor of The Louisville Times, once wrote on the subject. The gist of his statement was: A whittling man is carefree, thinking little; but show me a man who whittles and there you have a man who is thinking . . . thinking.

THE KIND OF FARMING I LIKE

I don't know how much thinking Jailer Prock Hayes has been doing, or what about, but he has whittling down to a fine art. He has a large collection of miniature plows and ox-bows—familiar objects in this section in his younger days—that he has fashioned with his knife. These he has painted, and they're pretty enough to beguile the interest of even the modern child.

He has some miniature plows that would have come in handy in the only days when I found farming interesting. Those were the days when, with the sun well down, children out in the country would lay off "fields" in the dust of the road, lay off corn "balks" and do their planting. A stick sufficed for a plow, and what we could have done with one of Prock's models!

Indeed those were the times for farming—a whipperwoilly evening, just before dusk; the lightning bugs just starting to blink, the heat of the day gone into the shadows; farm price supports forty years ahead; nothing to invade our "fields" except, perhaps, a stray cow-brute or a late-traveling wagon-team; nothing to do but to get to bed and sleep the sleep of the just at day's end—and not a worry about any drouth that might blight those broad acres we had just planted.

You know, a-body can get to thinking about such things and grow plumb sentimental. Also grow real sickening if he tries to put his thoughts into words.

JAIL GOODMAN IN GUN DEATH

Dwale Man Faces Charge As Slayer of Stapleton Wednesday at Paintsville

Sandy Goodman, 47-year-old Dwale man, is in the Johnson county jail at Paintsville facing a possible murder charge in the pistol-slashing late Wednesday afternoon of Charles Stapleton, 54, formerly of Allen.

Two bullets from a P-38 pistol which were allegedly fired by Goodman struck Stapleton in the abdomen. He died about four hours later at the Paintsville hospital.

The shooting took place at the home in the Southside addition of Paintsville of Goodman's former wife. When Goodman went there he found Stapleton at the residence. An argument ensued, terminated by the shooting, according to Johnson County Sheriff Winice Trimble.

Sheriff Trimble said this morning (Thursday) that his investigation of the slaying was incomplete. Goodman, he said, had not made a statement to authorities.

The woman at whose home the shooting took place had moved to Paintsville about three weeks ago, it was said.

Stapleton was a son of John and Melissa Rorer Stapleton and was a native of Grahn, Carter county. His body was taken to Olive Hill for burial.

STOP BOOZE SELLING HERE, MAYOR ORDERS

ASKS COUNCIL FOR HARMONY, COOPERATION

Police Force Is Told No 'Cooling Off' Time On Bootlegging Locally

A plea of harmony between Mayor and City Council and a flat declaration of war on bootlegging were voiced by Mayor Bill Napier in the second meeting of the year of the Prestonsburg City Council Monday night.

Terminating the bootlegging situation here "disgraceful," the new Mayor told Chief of Police Epp Laferty that "it is his job—his No. 1 job—to put an end to this bootlegging here." Calling for the cleanup to start "now" and to continue "until the whole mess is cleaned up," the Mayor commented on the report that the word has gone out "to lay low and wait till things cool off."

When he added, "Well I am here to say that things will never cool off as long as I am Mayor," there came a chorus of "amens" from the large gathering of citizens attending the meeting.

Failure on any officer's part to comply with the instructions given as suspension, Napier added.

First meeting of the new Mayor and Council was not marked by harmony, and in his opening remarks Napier sought to state his position and to urge unity of purpose. "I recognize the members of this Council as honorable men, and I like to think that the only thing any of us is 'out for' is to help Prestonsburg . . . If we differ, let us differ by . . . I doubt that any one of us will be right on every occasion, but do think we all should pray that we will be right — and working together — on the main issues that affect Prestonsburg and its people."

The office of tax collector-assessor remained unfilled after lengthy discussion. There were four applications for the job.

The Rev. M. Robert Regan, who had resigned the post of collector, was induced to remain at work till a successor can be named within the next few weeks. He was employed as delinquent tax collector and will collect taxes due for 1956 and preceding years on a commission of 25%. For his work as interim tax collector he will be paid at the rate of $100 a month.

On the bootlegging situation Police Chief Laferty remarked, "I can't do it all by myself." "I'm in favor of putting an officer at each bootleg joint if necessary," Mayor Napier rejoined.

CARL LAYNE DIES FRIDAY

Betsy Layne Minister, Church Group Founder, Victim of Pneumonia

Rev. Carl Andrew Layne, 54, of Betsy Layne, died at the Methodist hospital, Pikeville, at 7:48 p.m., Friday. He was a victim of complications of pneumonia and had been ill 16 days.

Rev. Layne, who had been in the ministerial service since 1940, was the founder of the Fellowship Baptist Church of Jesus Christ and at the time of his death was pastor of the Ivel church. His lay occupation was that of construction worker.

He was a son of the late Frank and Cella Dotson Layne and a lifelong resident of Floyd county. Since the organization of the Fellowship Baptist church several branches have been founded in Michigan and Rev. Layne interested himself in assisting the daughter churches there.

Surviving is his wife, Ollie Bush Layne; a son, Robert B. Layne, Marion, O.; and two sisters: Mrs. Lucille Whitaker, of East Point, and Mrs. Ruth Layne, South Williamson, Ky. Surviving brothers and sisters are Porter Layne, Troy Layne, and Mrs. Flora Hopkins, all of Harold, Pheneous Layne, Vinton, O., Mrs. Jennie Wright, of Mare Creek, Mrs. Bea Bates, Kona, Ky., and Mrs. Gypsy Ratliff, also of Vinton. Four grandchildren survive.

Engineers Tell Sandige P'Burg Flood Control Bids Asked Jan. 15th

Former Mayor Harry Sandige said last week he had received from the district office, U. S. Corps of Army Engineers, Huntington, W. Va., notification that work on the Prestonsburg flood control project was advertised for bids, Jan. 15, and that contractors' bids will be opened at 2 p.m., Feb. 20.

The flood control work here is not affected by the reduced civilian spending called for by the President's budget, and advertising for bids indicates actual work next spring.

POLIO MARCH SLATED HERE

Mothers To Stage March In Every-House Canvass; Needs of Stricken Told

The 1957 Mothers' march on Polio will be staged here between the hours of 6 and 8 p.m., Jan. 31, it was announced this week by Ray Howard, chairman of Floyd Chapter, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The Mothers' March is being planned and will be conducted by the Prestonsburg Junior Woman's Club, and an every-house canvass for funds will be made. Residents of Prestonsburg who would like to contribute to the fight on polio should leave their porch lights burning, the evening of Jan. 31, Mr. Howard said. Those who may not be at home at that time may mail their contributions to Mrs. Joyce Short Allen, Prestonsburg.

The polio fund drive, headed by Jesse Elliott, of Betsy Layne, extends through this month. Over the county at central points coin collectors and dime boards have been placed for the convenience of those who want a part in the continuance of the work being done.

Although the Salk vaccine has provided an effective means of preventing polio, Mr. Howard pointed out, Floyd county has 39 polio sufferers for whom the vaccine discovery came too late. These must be cared for, and are being cared for by Floyd Chapter, and their continued treatment is a costly matter, the chairman explained. The chapter pays the bills for doctors, hospitals and orthopedic treatment of those who have been stricken.

Council of Churchwomen Ask Newsdealers Censor Objectionable Literature

The Prestonsburg Council of Churchwomen met Wednesday of last week at the First Presbyterian church with representatives of seven churches present. The Constitution and by-laws were read for the first time and will be adopted at the next meeting. Mrs. Emma May and Mrs. Mary Lou Layne constituted the by-law committee.

The Council voted to send a letter to all the courts suggesting that they open each day's session with prayer.

Newsdealers will again be urged to clean-up objectionable literature on their stands and acquire the standards being observed nationally by dealers who comply with decency codes.

HEART DISEASE RATE LOWER IN THIS COUNTY

Special to The Times

NEW YORK, Jan. 13 — A look at the heart disease situation in Floyd county, in order that this because National Heart Month is just ahead, shows that the disease outranks all others as a cause of death.

Fully 41.6 percent of all deaths among local residents are due to some form of heart disease, according to the latest government statistics. All the other afflictions of mankind combined—including cancer, war, pestilence and accidents—take second place.

But high as the local toll was, it was not as high as that recorded for the United States as a whole,

PTA HERE TOLD SCHOOL HOPES

Bolen Says Evaluation To Reinstate P'Burg Hi Next Year As Accredited

School Principal James V. Bolen told a group of 68 persons attending last week's meeting of the Prestonsburg high school Parent-Teacher Association that he knows of no reason why the school should not be reinstated next year in the Southern Association of Secondary Schools, following an evaluation which will take place next month.

His assurances were made in reply to a question by Mrs. W. W. Burchett, P.-T.A. president, who asked if there is any equipment needed, any field in which the school is shy of Southern Association requirements or anything at all that the P.-T.A. can do help the school qualify.

Membership in the Southern Association indicates that a school has met certain standards in such fields as physical plant, teaching staff, library and laboratory equipment, and curriculum. P.-T.A. leaders pointed out this week that, although Southern Association recommendations are much the same as those of the state, actual attainment of membership requires a higher level of endeavor by the school toward a broader curriculum, higher teacher salaries, stricter control of athletic funds and better laboratory equipment.

Prestonsburg high school was dropped from the Association last

JUDGE JAILS EX-DEPUTIES

Tardiness of Witnesses In Ram Cases Penalized; Sheriff, Others Attacked

Irked by failure of witnesses to appear for the trials of liquor cases in which they had been summoned, Circuit Judge Edward P. Hill this morning (Thursday) fined two former deputy sheriffs $10, sent them to jail for 24 hours for contempt of court, and caused to be issued attachments for Ex-Sheriff Gormon Collins and seven ex-deputies.

The ex-Sheriff and deputies who had made liquor raids were listed as witnesses on circuit court indictments. All had been summoned to appear for the trials this morning, it was said. The court waited till 10 o'clock, and when none of the former officers had appeared court was dismissed.

But Judge Hill did not immediately leave the bench. In a few minutes, ex-deputies A. J. Reed and Chester Neeley, of Hueysville, entered the courtroom after the jury and others had left it. Asked why they had not appeared, they said they had had a flat tire.

Judge Hill quickly called the Jailor and announced their penalties. After he had left the courtroom a third ex-deputy arrived. He explained, court attaches said, that he also had had a flat.

Caney Alumni Seeking Signers On $8,000 Note; Dormitory Incomplete

The Caney Alumni Association this week was seeking 100 signers of an $8,000 note to cover the remainder needed to complete the boys' dormitory begun a few years ago at Knott county's famed Junior College by the Association.

Members have pledged contributions sufficient to meet the cost of the structure except for the $8,000 the Association seeks to borrow.

53.8 percent. Nor was it as high as that in the state of Kentucky, 53.3 percent.

The heart and blood vessel diseases are today's greatest threat to our national health, notes the American Heart Association. They take nearly 850,000 lives a year, despite all the progress that has been made by medical science. At the present time, some ten million Americans, including 500,000 children, are sufferers.

Many of these would not now be alive if not for the gains made in

Veteran Teacher Honored By Maytown Community

MRS. AMY BEGLEY

Langley, Ky., Jan. 20 (Spl.)—This community has acted to honor one of its veteran teachers while she is yet living.

Mrs. Amy Begley was honored at a silver tea Sunday afternoon, January 19, by the Maytown school faculty.

One of the oldest teachers in Floyd county, Mrs. Begley started her career in 1911 after taking a test and receiving a teacher's certificate. Her first teaching was at the Liberty School below the old May mill at Maytown. She and the late Mrs. Bertha May Allen taught one of the first two-teacher schools in the county; however, both teachers taught in one room, with all eight grades. Mrs. Begley taught various rural schools from the Mouth of Salt Lick to Dinwood on Right Beaver in the days when a school term was only five months.

Although Mrs. Begley is taking an indefinite leave of absence from school, she will be back soon to her real life and love, the classroom, and particularly the first grade. She has been in the Maytown school 29 years, most of this time starting first-graders. More than 3,000 children have had part of their school life with Mrs. Begley as the guiding spirit. She loves them and they love her.

RAIL EMPLOYEE TRAIN VICTIM

Salisbury Dies Monday After Leg Severed; Was Veteran C & O Conductor

Ted Salisbury, 56 years old, veteran C. & O. railway conductor, and well-known Martin man, died Monday shortly after his left foot was severed by a train and after he had suffered internal injuries.

The tragedy occurred at Price while coal cars were being shifted. Although there was no witness to tell exactly what happened, it is surmised that in stepping from a car Salisbury stepped onto ice or coal and slipped between the cars.

His left leg was severed, near the ankle, and he was rolled a distance of approximately 25 feet, it was said. The accident occurred at 12:35 p.m., and death followed within 15 or 20 minutes.

Mr. Salisbury had been an employee of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company 35 years, 25 years of which time he had been conductor. He was a son of Mrs. Fannie Halbert Salisbury, of Martin, and the late John A. Salisbury. He was a member of Zebulon Masonic lodge here and had many friends and relatives in this section.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Lucy Casebolt Salisbury, two sons, Ted Salisbury, Jr., of Martin, and Rodney Salisbury, Troy, O., a foster son, Douglas Martin, of Martin; three brothers and three sisters, Henry, John and Willie Salisbury, all of Martin, Mrs. Mary Stickler, Wyandotte, Mich., Mrs. Georgia Davis and Mrs. Rhoda Click, both of Martin.

Aged Handshoe Man Dies On Quicksand-Cr.; Burial Made Sunday

Werner Fannin, 92, of Handshoe, died at home on Quicksand Creek, Friday, of the infirmities of age. The names of his parents were unavailable. His wife preceded him in death some time ago.

Mr. Fannin had no surviving children, brothers or sisters. Funeral rites were conducted at home, Sunday at 10 a.m., and burial was made in the Handshoe cemetery under the direction of Turner-Ryan Funeral Home.

FREE CIRCUITS ADDED BY BELL

Telephone Firm Expands Long Distance Services; Expenditure Is $40,000

Long distance circuits from Allen, Martin, McDowell and Prestonsburg to Paintsville have been expanded, it was announced this week by H. D. Hayes, manager for the Southern Bell Telephone Company.

Mr. Hayes also announced that additional free service circuits have been added between Allen and Martin, McDowell and Martin, and Prestonsburg and Martin. Cost of providing these additional circuits amounted to approximately $40,000.

The new circuits will further improve and expand long distance and local service to meet requirements of the growing Big Sandy valley, Mr. Hayes said.

The number of long distance calls placed daily in Paintsville have been increased by 60% in the last ten years. The total number of calls placed daily is about 1,550.

OFFICERS FIND LIQUOR CACHE

Sheriff, Hall on Mission To Warn Man, Find Him With Bottle in Hand

Sheriff Hershell Warrens and Deputy Sheriff Bill Hall drove across Abbott Mountain Tuesday afternoon to warn a resident of that section they had heard he was bootlegging and to warn him he would be arrested if he did not desist, but it wasn't as simple as that.

When they stopped their car near the home of Raymond Joseph, on the Little Point side of the mountain, Joseph emerged from beneath the floor with a half pint of whiskey in his hand. Deputy Sheriff Hall stood guard while the Sheriff returned here for a search warrant. Result:

Joseph lodged in jail; 81 caps of beer, 11 half-pints of whiskey and 10 half-pints of gin taken from beneath the floor.

"I would prefer that everybody quit bootlegging," Sheriff Warrens said. "If they don't they will be caught."

A moonshine still of large capacity was found Saturday on the Bob Ousley Branch, near Allen, by Deputy Sheriffs George Hall, Jr., Earl Warrens, Hershell Lester and Lonnie Herald. Both worm and owner were missing.

When Charles Lee Maddock, of Middlesburg, O., was jailed here Saturday by State Trooper T. Wright and Deputy Sheriff Frank Crum on two traffic violation charges Beech Gilliam, former resident of Prestonsburg, now of Ohio, turned up for the rescue. He was booked at the jail soon afterward by State Detective Cornett for investigation. Two days later, he was claimed by Montgomery county authorities. He was booked at the jail here Monday on a cold check charge originating in Montgomery.

It was reported here that in Maddock's effects were names of persons to whom liquor and illegal fireworks had been delivered.

Others jailed within the week on charges of a serious nature and the arresting officers follow:

JOB THREAT CHARGE CAUSES CAPITAL ROW

Muskrats and Goose To Figure In Hearing Of Trapping Case Here

An old man charged with trapping for muskrats will be on trial in Floyd quarterly court Feb. 10 but the case of a younger and more prominent man named Governor Chandler and a "crippled" goose will figure in the hearing.

So said Bert T. Combs, attorney for 78-year-old R. D. Prater, of the Middle Creek section of the county, for whom three warrants have been issued. Besides claiming that he didn't catch any of the critters, the defendant will set up a defense "that a muskrat is more dangerous than a crippled goose," his attorney said.

Warrants sworn out by Conservation Officer Raymond Copley accuse Prater of (1) failure to report a trapline, (2) trapping without license, (3) failure to possess trap tags.

Prater, according to his attorney, said he tried to trap the animals to protect a few shocks of corn he had. It was also said that, because of his age, he has a lifetime hunting license.

JURORS VOTE 6 PEN TERMS

Bonds for 6 Forfeited As Defendants Missing; Only 2 Cases Dismissed

Six Floyd countians have drawn pen terms since last Wednesday at the hands of Floyd circuit court jurors.

Only two cases were dismissed within the week, and bonds of six persons who failed to appear for trial were forfeited.

Those sentenced to prison terms: Raymond Phillips, grand larceny, one year; Yancey Horn, breaking and entering, one year, Pervis Martin, plea of guilty to grand larceny charge, one year; Denver Coburn, Buster Steidman and Conrad Bentley, all of whom pleaded guilty to breaking and entering the service station of Hager Johnson at Garrett, one year each.

James Blackburn was convicted in his trial on a grand larceny count but escaped with a 30-day jail term.

Circuit Judge Edward P. Hill disqualified as trial judge in the cases of Cluett Messer, who is charged with obtaining money under false pretense and accepting a bribe as an officer. The case has been certified to the Court of Appeals for a special judge. The regular judge explained that it is widely known that Messer opposed him in the recent election and that he preferred not to give any opportunity for anybody to say that he was prejudiced as trial judge against the defendant.

Bonds forfeited were these: Chester Little, obtaining money under false pretense, $1,000 bond, case continued till Jan. 29; Dewey O. Butler, breaking and entering,

FLOYD WOMAN IN STATEMENT BEFORE HOUSE

Wells Denies He Sought To Influence Mrs. Hall By Threats To Fire Kin

Mrs. Ann B. Hall, State Representative from the 97th district of this county, created a furore in Frankfort Wednesday when she declared from the floor of the House of Representatives that Rural Highway Commissioner J. B. Wells had attempted to influence her vote by threatening to fire her brother.

Mrs. Hall was one of the Representatives who voted to open the Governor's budget bill for amendment. She said she was called from the House chamber last Thursday, was confronted by Wells and told to vote "right" or her brother, Jeff Butcher, of Paintsville, would lose his $180-a-month highway job. She added that she flatly refused to change her voting.

In a telephone conversation with The Times Monday, Mrs. Hall said Wells told her "to go down the line or her brother would not have a job."

The rural highway commissioner quickly denied the threat, adding that she "obviously was being coached by the other faction."

"It could be," Wells said, "that she is trying to put me in a position where we can't afford to release her brother. She surely knows that he might be in line for release. The department is cutting off unneeded employes wherever possible, you know."

Mrs. Hall also told The Times that Wells called her brother at Paintsville to threaten his job, but her brother declined to discuss the matter late Wednesday.

'AG' COUNCIL PLANS WORK

Farm Leaders Are Told Scope of Program Here; Study Committee Named

The well-attended meet of the Floyd Agricultural Council at the Prestonsburg high school Thursday evening of last week completed plans for a long range extension study program. Twelve areas of study were set up and heads of committees to lead in the fields were named.

The meeting heard Wilmer Browning, extension specialist of the University of Kentucky, discuss the objectives and scope of program planning. He was followed by R. H. Lickert, district extension leader, who acquainted the leaders present on methods to attack the problems stated. Others speaking were Robert M. Jones County Agent, and Dixie T. Higgins, Home Demonstration Agent.

November when it failed to reply to questionnaires in the prescribed time.

A program of music by 18 members of the high school band was introduced by Homer Wright, program chairman. The band is directed by Jesse Elliott, county music supervisor who comes to the school twice weekly.

Mrs. H. H. Wright, announced that a meeting will be held at 2:45 p.m., Friday in the high school bandroom in an attempt to form a band boosters organization looking toward employment of a band instructor. She pointed out that the school has "fallen behind" in its music department and that immediate work must be done if the school is to have a music instructor for the coming semester. Biggest job to be done is to raise by private subscription about $50 a month to supplement the salary offered by the Board of Education for such an instructor. Not only the parents of pupils who play in the band but all interested persons are invited to attend Friday's meeting, Mrs. Wright said.

Reports were heard at the P.-T.A. meeting from the Program, Membership, Publicity and Standards committees, and a new committee was named to look into the transportation problems of athletes who presently are forced to hitch rides home at night after practice.

Following the meeting, the school principal invited the 54 parents and 14 teachers present to visit the new school gym which is nearing completion.

Spaghetti Dinner Set To Raise Polio Funds

A spaghetti dinner is scheduled at the Prestonsburg high school cafeteria, Saturday evening, Jan. 25, from 5:30 to 8 o'clock for the benefit of the polio drive. It was announced by Mrs. Ora Howard, president of the David Woman's Club.

Mrs. Howard urges the public to attend and by this means contribute to the annual drive for funds in the polio campaign. Tickets will be sold at the door.

Kentucky Wesleyan's starting race lineup averages almost 6-4 per man. Regulars are Kelly Coleman (6-3), Norbert Puro (6-9), Hayward Hobgood (6-8), Warren Stephens (6-2), and Rogers Taylor (5-9).

The woman-legislator's brother is suffering from heart disease and a stomach ailment, she said. He was employed as timekeeper and night-watchman during the administration of Governor Wetherby and has been with the department ever since.

Seeking a link with "the other faction," Wells recalled Mrs. Hall's husband, Guilford Hall, was reared by the family of Mrs. Bert T. Combs, wife of the Prestonsburg man who opposed Chandler for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Judge Combs remarked here, upon learning of this statement, that he "supposed he ought to do like Happy and say he sent the boy through school."

The Floyd woman's row with the Administration brought Rep. John Breckinridge, of Lexington, to her side with a speech from the floor. The Lexington Democrat said it was regrettable that "this lobbying, this coercion," was imposed, not upon the Speaker, the majority leader, or some other member, but rather "upon the only lady in this House."

Breckinridge reminded the House of its Rule 61, which prohibits any person from lobbying for or against any measure, in any corridor, passage, or other part of the Capitol assigned to the use of the House. It provides that no registered lobbyist shall enter that part of the Capitol while the House is in session.

Breckinridge noted that Wells is a member of the executive branch of the Government who is entitled to go upon the floor of the House only at the House's invitation.

"This gentleman is not a registered lobbyist," Breckinridge said jellily. "He was not here to discuss a matter which he was entitled to discuss with the members. He was here concerning other matters."

Rev. John P. Carr, Mrs. Flora Gray, Mrs. Tincy Laferty, Mrs. Euna Laven, Mrs. David Louder and Bill Sexton were in Paintsville, Thursday night, attending a sub-district rally on evangelism in the Mayo Memorial Methodist church. The meeting was conducted to make plans and inform Methodists concerning the National Week of Visitation and Evangelism in all Methodist churches from March 2 through 9. During the campaign, Methodists will attempt to win at least 500,000 to Christ in America. Dr. Homer Moore, district superintendent, presided over the meeting, with a discussion period by the Rev. Thomas Ditto, pastor of the First Methodist Church, of Russell, and district secretary of evangelism. Three laymen of the South Ashland Methodist Church gave short talks. Special music was by the Rev. Orin Simmerman, of Greenup. A large crowd attended.

The Methodist Men of the Allen church held their regular monthly meeting in the church, Friday night, with a large crowd in attendance. The Rev. H. M. Wiley, of the Maytown church, was guest speaker. After the program a ham supper was enjoyed in the church dining room.

SOMETHING NEEDED

If the Department of Fish & Wildlife Resources doesn't do something about protecting the deer that have been released in the Dewey Lake game refuge, we're in favor of opening the area to hunters of small game. Maybe there would at least be enough real sportsmen in the bunch thus turned into the preserve to shoot marauding dogs and protect the deer.

Dewey Lake needs at least one conservation officer at work every day. There's everything from fish traps to poachers and dogs at work there to defeat all the elaborate plans made for the lake.

Something We Talk About— And Do Little About

The classroom teacher, generally speaking, is disappointed with the Governor's budget for education. A note of disappointment also is heard in a statement released this week by the Kentucky Education Association.

Mitchell Davis, president of KEA, sees the small increase asked for education during the next biennium as sufficient to provide some improvements in counties over the state but inadequate to hasten the day when desirable educational standards will be put into effect for all Kentucky boys and girls.

The average classroom teacher is disappointed because more money is budgeted for supervisors, school plant improvement, additional equipment and supplies but none to increase the basal salary of the teacher.

The problem of education is one that is easier to write about than to do something about. There is the state's Minimum Foundation program to be implemented, and the use of educational funds to do that cannot in due fairness be criticised. That program calls for more classrooms, fewer pupils per teacher, and, among other things, premium pay on teacher training and experience.

The weakness of the so-called Minimum Foundation Program is that it fails to increase basal teacher salaries. Its failure to raise the teacher's salary basically results in salaries being held below a living pay even after the teacher add degrees and years of experience. Thus Kentucky education continues to operate under insurmountable handicap as it needs more teachers and better teachers at a time when other states with the same needs offer them better teaching salaries and conditions.

By the same token, Kentucky has less with which to induce the better grade of students to enter the teaching profession.

This is talking about Kentucky education. To do something about it will require more money. Federal aid to education is apparently stymied except in the science field. Then Kentucky, if it is to meet competition for teachers and remain in the race, must have more money to meet teacher payrolls.

THE TIMES would like to see teacher salaries at a level which would attract the best minds to the teaching profession. It would like to see, too, enough such teachers that boards of education would have an opportunity to cull the list and hire the best and not have to continue the losing battle of trying to educate youngsters in classrooms over which preside incompetents and others whose thinking and living are foreign to precincts of the classroom.

After all, fine buildings and splendid equipment do not make a fine school. The teacher is the first great need there.

Indeed, Why Not Change A Meaningless Name?

THE TIMES joins GERALD GRIFFIN, of THE COURIER-JOURNAL, and THE PAINTSVILLE HERALD in wishing that Dewey Lake were known by some other name.

The name, Dewey, has everything—everything it should not have; ambiguity, flatness, banality.

It tells nothing, creates no sense of picturesqueness, has neither eye nor ear appeal. It creates only questions — Why? What does it mean?

Back of its naming there wasn't even the idea of the picturesque or romantic. It wasn't named for Admiral Dewey, the naval hero; it got his name, second-hand. The lake was named for Dewey, a tiny and now defunct postoffice that perhaps got its name from the Spanish-American War hero.

Dewey—the name stands out like the proverbial sore thumb or the stick in the mud alongside the euphoniously appropriate and historically meaningful names, Shawnee and Chatterawha, that have been given the Boy Scout and Girl Scout camps on the lake.

Then why not join our contemporary, THE PAINTSVILLE HERALD, and Mr. Griffin in urging that the name of the lake be changed to Jenny Wiley Lake? This is Jenny Wiley country. At East Point, near the dam that creates the lake, the pioneer heroine escaped her Indian captors. The Shawnees and Cherokees that raided the "settlements" prowled the valley that is now inundated by the lake. The name beats Dewey all hollow from any angle you view it.

We regretfully add, however, that we do not agree that what is now known as Dewey Lake State Park should be named Matthias Harman State Park in honor of the pioneer who built the fort at East Point. We dislike the idea because we do not like multiplicity of names. We think that if the name, Jenny Wiley, is to be adopted for the lake it should be continued in the name of the state park when and if the "park" becomes more than undeveloped lake shoreline.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

COAL ROADS AND PROPERTY RIGHTS CONTROVERSY CONTINUED

Editor, The Times.
Uncle "Cap" Layne, who lived and died at Bosco once told me that he had encountered three kinds of fools during his lifetime; namely, smart fools, foolish fools and damn fools. Unless I am of the latter class I can now claim the distinction of being the first Floyd countian to stir up a hornet's nest in January and bring the cheapest baloney in the United States on the market in one operation.

I can state my position in this controversy without laying down a smoke screen. I claim the farmers and home owners of Eastern Kentucky own every foot of land every where they have a deed for it and on which they pay taxes. To speak directly, it is theirs, not yours, Mr. Reed. And such money as there is in the county treasury belongs to all of the people, not just the coal operators. Therefore, when you, or any other man or group of men, tear up a road in order to mine coal for which you receive the money, then it is your obligation to repair that road, not the county's. Don't forget that the road would not have been torn up if you had stayed off it.

I have an old pick-up in which we can both ride, and there is a heater in it. So, since you have not seen any noticeable damage done by seekers of the Black Gold, come along with me for a day or two and I will show you free of charge. I would suggest a third person, too, to sort of represent the general public.

And let's get something else straight, too. You had me using the word "slave" as a noun in my recent letter. Read again, Mr. Reed. I used it as a verb, and if there is a more slavish or brutish labor in this world than these men do doubled up in coal which runs anywhere from 24" to 30" in height, you come right out and tell me about it. Neither of us would last an hour at this, and you know it just as well as I do. Not a man of them gets half as much money as he honestly deserves. Don't you agree?

You say you could not pay for the property you destroy without going down the drain financially; yet we have a magistrate here in this vicinity who makes it satisfactory with every person on whose property he operates a truck mine before he starts work. He just happens to be a strong believer in individual liberty. We also have another man who has four or five truck mines down the road on the same farm, but he went down and bought the farm before he tore it up. Neither of these men has an interest in any banks or big property holdings all over the county, yet neither of them has gone broke or gone hungry. How come? If you want names, you can get them.

If I thought what I have suggested would throw one man out of work which he needed, I would recant it all. But I know better, and I know you are wrong, and I know the Creed of Justice set forth in The Book of Life makes no provision for you, me or any other man to take over and destroy that which is not his; and, such being the case, little man that I am, I will fight such stuff as hard as I can and as long as I live.

URGES SOCIAL SECURITY FOR TEACHERS

Editor, The Times.
Teachers should have Social Security coverage in addition to their Kentucky Teachers Retirement System. When the State-Federal Agreement to provide Social Security coverage for employees of the State of Kentucky was passed, teachers were mandatorily excluded at that time because of the retirement system. Since that time the Federal Social Security Act has been amended and provides a process by which members of a retirement system, who were excluded from this coverage, may now obtain Social Security coverage. However, the Kentucky State Statute has never been amended.

Two steps are necessary before Social Security can be made available to teachers. First, the Kentucky State Legislature must pass proper enabling legislation. Second, a referendum vote be held to determine whether a majority of the members of the Kentucky Teachers Retirement System desire Social Security Coverage.

Social Security would not jeopardize the present Kentucky Teachers Retirement System. Teachers of Indiana and North Carolina have both and are well pleased with it. Under our present retirement system the dependents haven't any protection in case of the teacher's death. Under the present amendments being proposed to be added to the Kentucky Teachers Retirement System giving fringe benefits similar to Social Security, teachers need to reside and compare these with Social Security separate from the retirement system.

Under the survivors benefits proposed as amendments to the Kentucky Teachers Retirement System, a widow receives $40 per month; one unmarried child under 18 years of age $40 per month; two unmarried children under 18 years of age $70 per month; three unmarried children under 18 years of age $90

MEDICAL SCHOOL LAUNCHED—Ground was broken Dec. 10 for the University of Kentucky's proposed new Colleges of Medicine and Dentistry buildings in Lexington. First unit to be constructed will be a medical sciences building, followed by hospital (right half of picture), dental building (far left), ambulant patient building (left foreground), a power plant, and a small service building. Under tentative plans, first medical and nursing students will enroll in fall of 1959.

CONSERVING OUR SOIL AND WATER RESOURCES

By Martha Ann Burchett
(First Prize essay in the contest conducted by the Floyd County Soil Conservation District).

Water is man's greatest need. Without it he can live only a few hours, and his very life depends upon it every day. Uncontrolled or contaminated it can be his most dangerous enemy. It washes away his home, his land, his property and causes disease to strike him, his family and his livestock. Properly controlled and conserved it furnishes the magic ingredient that causes the soil to produce food and fiber for his health and comfort. Improperly managed it washes away the soil that furnishes his food, clothing, shelter, the comforts of life and the beauties of nature. It is natural to use soil and water in the same sense when we speak of resources. They are dependent upon each other. You can't have, and you don't need, one without the other.

The first settlers were given a fresh continent. Nature had worked out a well balanced program designed to conserve the soil and water resources. The hills and valleys were covered with mighty forests and the plains were protected with grass. The trees, grass and plants kept the water from running off quickly and caused it to soak into the ground right where it fell. This was water conservation at its best.

Along came civilization and man cut down the forests and plowed up the land in order to use the material things for his subsistence and comfort. With this universal destruction of nature's protective covering the top layer of soil was skimmed off the land in sheet erosion. In places gullies were gouged out of the sloping fields. "One crop" farming weakened the soil and caused it to be washed away. Over grazing of the pasture lands stripped the ground of its soil-binding grasses. Abuse of the woodlands by careless cutting, fires and tramping by livestock caused the water to run off and flood the bottom lands. This failure of the soil to absorb the water has not only affected its physical and chemical properties, but has caused unmeasured damage to property by floods. Homes, farms and businesses are damaged billions of dollars each year by surging rivers that overflow their banks and flood the countryside.

The objectives of a good water supply are numerous. A sufficient amount of the rainfall must soak into the soil to insure its greatest productivity. A supply of water of adequate quality and quantity should be available when and where it is needed for domestic and industrial use. It should provide a proper disposal of waste without undue pollution. No flood problems should be created.

How can these objectives be accomplished? We must use the land wisely and well. Careful and scientific methods of farming should be practiced so that the land will have a covering to absorb the water. Crops should be rotated and cover crops grown to keep the ground from being bare in winter. Efficient use of the cultivated lands by preserving the water and enriching the soil makes the land produce more and better quality crops. This is good business because it gives the farmer a greater income and makes his farm more valuable. Hillsides and steep slopes should never be plowed, but should be planted in trees and deep rooted grasses. Forests should be replanted and kept free from fire, harmful insects, disease, grazing and the careless axe. When a tree is cut for commercial purposes another should be planted to take its place. Reservoirs and dams are being built at strategic places to control the flood waters. Machinery is being built and installed to purify the refuse from the large cities along the rivers. Regulations are being made and enforced to prevent the pollution of streams by cities and industrial plants. People everywhere are being alerted to the dangers of filthy streams, and the advantages of having them clean and sparkling.

This problem is little enough to vitally affect the life of every person in the land, and big enough to destroy our national economy if it is not properly handled. Tenant farmers, big business men, and all the people in between, depend upon the soil and water for their food, clothing, shelter and their means of earning a living. The security of our government depends upon how well we handle this situation.

Congress has passed a law known as "The Watershed Protection and Flood Prevention Act" for the purpose of bridging a wide gap in watershed development between conservation work on individual farms and flood control work on large rivers. It has given the word "watershed" a new meaning. It simply means an area that sheds water into a given stream, pond or lake, but it bears upon the future well being of our vital soil and water resources. Regardless of its size, it is a natural area with common problems that concern soil and water resources. It is an area where people have common interests in the development of these resources for their mutual good. It is where they live and get their living, where they find recreation, education, religion and get in tune with nature and develop values that are satisfying.

These watershed projects have been successful because they are typically American. They provide a means for mutual action for a common cause. Their work is founded upon a widespread local understanding of a present need. They are free from outside control, but are able to obtain information, procure governmental and other services, and do many other things that they, as individuals working alone, could not do.

The American people have always arisen to meet any crisis. They have done it before and we will do it again. An informed public sufficiently aroused and properly guided will do whatever is necessary to save the soil and water for our posterity. For a very short time we are stewards of God's creation. We must be stewards and leave the earth and the water cleaner, purer, more abundant, more productive and more beautiful than it was when it came into our hands. Things should be a little bit better and a little bit brighter because we have passed this way.

Two Kentucky Wesleyan cagers have double-figure scoring marks. They are fresh forward Kelly Coleman (26.4) and soph guard Warren Stephens (13.0).

HARLAN'S LIFE IS STUDIED BY AMERICAN HISTORIANS

By Charles F. Hinds
Secretary-Treasurer, Kentucky Historical Society

On December 7, 1923, Gov. Edwin P. Morrow, then president of the Kentucky Historical Society, presided at the presentation of the portrait of John Marshall Harlan, associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States and native Kentuckian. The portrait was painted by a prominent Louisville artist, Miss Sophie DeButts Gray, for the Baldwin Law Book Co., of Chicago. Morrow had persuaded the company to donate the portrait to Harlan to the society to hang in its extensive museum in the Old Capitol Building.

It has been 46 years since Harlan's death. Historians are now beginning to study the life of this eminent jurist and to attempt to assess his place in American history. On the west coast, John S. Goff of the University of Southern California recently completed a study of Harlan which was published in THE REGISTER OF THE KENTUCKY HISTORICAL SOCIETY, the Commonwealth's official historical journal. Alan F. Westin of the Yale University Law School in Connecticut is writing a full-length biography of the justice.

Perhaps much recent interest can be attributed to the nomination of his grandson and namesake by Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1954 to Supreme Court. But this alone cannot account for the increased activity of professional scholars in re-visiting and re-appraising the life and career of Associate Justice John Marshall Harlan of Kentucky.

He was one of the first of a new breed of justices to consistently advocate "change with the times." His tenure of office extended from 1877 to his death in 1911, years of economic and industrial growth in America. Often as the lone or "great" dissenter, Harlan played a leading role in the formidable task of interpreting the Constitution of the United States to fit the special and changing needs of an industrial society. His famous dissents read like majority opinions of the present Supreme Court.

Before his appointment to the Supreme Court, Harlan was county judge of Franklin county, a colonel in the Union Army, attorney general of Kentucky, and unsuccessful Republican candidate for governor in 1871 and 1875.

Two Floyd Co. Students Receive Berea Degrees

BEREA, Ky., Jan. 20—Miss Camella Gwen Moore, daughter of Mrs. Artie S. Moore of McDowell, and Mrs. Sylvia Newsome Corey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Casey Newsome of Teaberry, were two of those receiving degrees after the first semester at Berea College.

Mid-term graduation ceremonies were held for the 28 graduates at 4:00 p.m., Sunday, Jan. 19, in Berea College's Gray Auditorium. Berea College President Francis S. Hutchins was in charge.

Mrs. Corey, who is a 1950 graduate of Betsy Layne high school, received the B. S. degree in home economics.

Miss Moore, a 1953 graduate of McDowell high school, received the B. S. degree in home economics also. She attended the Merrill-Palmer School in Detroit, Michigan for one semester, doing special study work in Child Development.

MRS. MAY'S BOOKLET

A letter from J. Winston Coleman, Jr., Lexington historian, to whom a copy of "A Short History of the First Methodist Church" by Mrs. Emma Wells May, was sent recently, Mr. Coleman, distinguished writer, regards highly Mrs. May's pamphlet.

"It is well written and interesting. It is just the thing that I am continually searching for to put in my collection. It is very much appreciated and I am very glad to add it to my Kentuckiana collection," Coleman wrote.

ARTHUR KROCK'S MOTHER-IN-LAW

Mrs. Alfred Hoyt Granger, 92-year-old Illinois resident and mother-in-law of the newspaperman, Arthur Krock, Washington correspondent of the New York Times, is seeking information about her family.

Mrs. Granger's mother, Belle (Arabelle) Turner Hough, was born in Pike county, April 1, 1838. She designates the place of Mrs. Hough's birth as "a community known as Missouri." Evidently she means the creek, Missouri, that is a tributary of Johns Creek at McCombs postoffice. It is a two-mile more or less little stream now owned mostly by the Blackburns, an old Johns Creek family.

Belle Turner Hough married Marvin S. Huhitt, one of the leaders of railroad building west of Chicago. He later became president of The Chicago and Northwestern Railroad.

Mrs. Granger doesn't know the exact burial place of her mother but believes interment took place in a cemetery or family burial plot near Pikeville. She would like to locate her mother's grave.

Belle Hough had a brother, James Madison Hough, but family records suggest he may also have been referred to as James Madison Turner. Mrs. Granger would like to obtain additional information about this uncle and his descendants, who, she thinks, still live in the Big Sandy.

Information about the Hough or Turner families may be addressed to Mrs. Granger at 890 North Sheridan Road, Lake Forest, Ill.

BROWN FAMILY

Mrs. E. B. Ramey, 2100 St. James avenue, Cincinnati 6, Ohio, writes relative to her ancestor, Thomas C. Brown, Revolutionary War veteran and early Big Sandy settler.

Mrs. Ramey, great-granddaughter of Thomas C. Brown, says that she knows he was born in Virginia and that he was a member of the Methodist church. "Thomas C. Brown was my great grandfather and Francis Asbury Brown, his son, was my grandfather," Mrs. Ramey said. "She also advised that Wallace Washington Brown, son of Francis Asbury, was her father."

Nathaniel and Thomas C. Brown, presumably brothers, came from Virginia in 1789 and settled in Fleming county. Later they moved to the Big Sandy, building homes opposite the mouth of Big Paint Creek, where he kept a ferry. Thomas C. finally settled in Prestonsburg where he died.

Nathaniel Brown's only known daughter, Sarah, married Samuel Auxier. Thomas C. Brown married Mary Brown in 1831. Besides Francis Asbury Brown, son of Thomas C., the Revolutionary veteran had another son, Daniel, who lived in Lawrence county, and a daughter, Sarah, who married an Auxier and resided in Fleming county.

Francis Asbury Brown conducted a general merchandise store in Paintsville, and was prominent in the affairs of Johnson county. Wallace W. Brown (1816-1900), a son of Francis Asbury, was an attorney, farmer and merchant. He lived and died in Paintsville. He served in the Kentucky General Assembly as Representative and Senator. He married Nancy Hill (1820-1881).

Thomas C. Brown was a veteran of several Revolutionary War battles and his applications for pensions with supporting affidavits are a matter of record in the national archives.

WELLS FAMILY

A letter from Judge J. W. Wells, Route 2, Burkesville, Ky., relative to the Wells family of Floyd and Johnson counties. He is compiling a book on the family, is in need of Floyd county marriage records with dates; wills with the parties named and the date of the instruments; and conveyances of real estate since 1789.

COL. RICE SPEAKS

The following excerpt from a speech by Col. Heber H. Rice, a native of Paintsville, Ky., was delivered before the national assembly of representatives of civic and historic groups convened by the Civil War Centennial Commission in Washington, D. C., Jan. 14.

It is a timely expression on the needed solidarity of our county at a time of crisis. The speech was inserted in a recent issue of the Congressional Record by Cong. Will E. Neal, of West Virginia.

"As a native son of Kentucky, in which State were born Abraham Lincoln, Civil War President of the United States, and Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederacy. It may be mentioned as an incident, that in my part of the State, Gen. James A. Garfield (later becoming President) and Gen. Humphrey Marshall commanded the Union and Confederate forces respectively in the minor local battle of Paintsville, my birthplace, and Prestonsburg, Ky., in January 1862. Being historically familiar with the situation on both sides, I feel that the centennial commemoration of the Civil War, sometimes referred to as the War between the States, should proceed in the spirit that it takes these two great sections of our country, acting as a unit, to make our Nation what it is today, which is many, many times more powerful for security and more effective as an instrumentality for peace and leadership in the world than either section could ever hope for, as a separate nation."

Funeral services were conducted from the Betsy Layne high school auditorium, Sunday afternoon with several thousand people in attendance. Revs. Vaughan Lynch, Dewey Fraley, Leven Burchett, Tack Hall, Bert Conn, Everett Adkins, Henry Parsons, Joe Smith and James Harmon officiated. Burial followed in the Ferguson cemetery at Harold under the direction of Baker Funeral Home.

Construction Firm Named Defendant In New Suit; DuRan Moore, Plaintiff

Coleman Trainor & Company was this week named defendant in a second circuit court suit asking damages it allegedly caused to buildings on Lake Drive here in using a heavy ball which, dropped from a height of several feet, broke up sidewalks in the laying of a water main last summer. In the new suit County Clerk DuRan Moore and his wife Kathleen Moore, ask $2,900 for damages allegedly caused to their building opposite the bus station. It is alleged that impact of the heavy ball on the sidewalk caused the walls and ceiling of the building to crack. A similar suit filed earlier by H. B. Ranier and Winston Ford sought $10,000 for damage which they claim, was caused in their building, which is adjacent to the Moores'.

First tract, known as the Bill Marsillett tract, on Buckeye fork of Middle Creek, Beginning on a beech near the branch; thence running up the ridge with Lewis Whitaker's line to the top of the knob to a chestnut oak; thence a straight line down the point to a black oak; thence down the point to a beech near the branch; thence with the foot of the hill down the branch to the mouth of a small drain; thence to the branch; thence up the branch to a beech; thence up the point to a beech; thence same course to a beech; thence up the point to the top of the knob to a chestnut oak to Jake Shepherd's line; thence running down the hill with a cross fence and the conditional (line) to the branch; thence across the branch to the beginning.

Second tract, known as the Solomon Prater tract, Beginning on a beech at Jasper Stone's line; thence up the hill to the center of the point; thence a straight line up the point to the top of the hill to a pine at Jake Shepherd's line; thence down the ridge to Jasper Stone's line; thence down the hill with said line to the beginning.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or sureties, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

Given under my hand, this 22nd day of January, 1958.

HARRIS HOWARD, Special Commissioner, Floyd Circuit Court

Cost of Adv. $21.75 1-23-3t.

FARM NOTES
By ROBERT M. JONES
County Agent

Jones pointed out that this county has 2,532 farms with a total of 124,840 acres. These farms are about one-third in crops, one-third in woodland pasture and one-third in woodland not pastured. He noted that 7,633 acres of the farms are idle.

"The present farm program in this county is the most important undertaking of the Agricultural Council," Jones said. "We must and can raise the income of people who reside on our farms. The average income per acre of crop land in this county is $12 and the average farm income is $168."

Jones said that 2,242 of the landowners have outside income from jobs in industry. The total annual income from farms in this county is $408,000. Jones stated the 1954 farm census showed:

Mrs. Higgins showed with a chart that 412 farm families have home freezers, 151 have telephones, 2,487 use electricity, 567 own television sets and 651 have running water in the homes.

Study committees with the following chairmen were appointed:

Housing, Mrs. W. H. May; sanitation, Mrs. John Conn and Mrs. Josephine Layne; clothing, Mrs. Ollie Robinson and Mrs. Virgil Smith; nutrition, Jack Hodge; forestry, Clayborn Bailey; beef cattle, J. B. Clarke; sheep, John C. Wells; hogs, Kermit Howard; poultry, Lloyd Wells; crops, J. L. Lafferty; soils, Virgil Smith; strawberries, E. B. May, Jr., and family food supplies, Henry P. Scalf.

The chairmen of the above committees will report, with full membership, at a February 6 meeting, it was planned.

Mrs. Pearl Parson, 54, Dies in New London, O.; Burial, Kidd Cemetery

Mrs. Pearl Parsons, 54, of New London, O., but formerly of Honaker, this county, died Thursday of last week at 3:30 a.m. at the New London hospital.

Mrs. Parsons was the daughter of the late James and Alice Bailey Harvey and the wife of Henry Parsons, who survives. One son, Earl Parsons, of New London, survives.

Surviving brothers and sisters are Joe Harvey and Mrs. Eddie Leedy, both of Honaker, Sid Harvey, in Michigan, Webster Harvey and Mrs. Susie Doty, both of New London, Nelse Harvey, address unknown, and Mrs. Valerie Casebolt, of Pikeville.

Funeral rites were held from the home of Joe Harvey at Honaker, Saturday at 2 p.m., the Rev. Wilburn Parsons officiating. Burial was made in the Kidd cemetery at Honaker under the direction of Hall Bros. Funeral Home.

Holbrook Assigned To Camp Honor Guard; Is Graduate Of PHS

Zama, Japan — Specialist Third Class Roger P. Holbrook, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Holbrook, Morgan City, Louisiana, is now assigned to the Honor Guard at Camp Zama, 35 miles southwest of Tokyo, Japan. He is a native of Floyd county, Ky.

Camp Zama is the site of Headquarters, U. S. Army Japan. Americans and foreign, military and civilian dignitaries of high rank who visit this headquarters inspect the Honor Guard as part of their visits. Men selected for the guard are picked for their appearance and military bearing.

Specialist Holbrook entered the Army in 1955, after being graduated from Prestonsburg (Ky.) high school. He attended the Army's Radar and Radio school at Fort Jackson, South Carolina, before coming to Japan in 1956. He was a member of the Far East Command Honor Guard in Tokyo prior to joining the Camp Zama Honor Guard last August.

Engineering Society Officers for 1958; Jopp Is President

The Big Sandy Chapter of the Kentucky Society of Professional Engineers elected A. H. Jopp as its new president for 1958. Jopp is district commercial manager of the Kentucky Power Company.

Jack Picklesimer was elected vice-president, and T. Bruce Elliott, secretary and treasurer. The Board of Directors consists of Edward Worland, Prestonsburg, C. P. Howard, Dunlap, T. S. Combs, Langley, and Frank J. Forsyth, Pikeville.

C. P. Howard, engineer of the Kentland Elkhorn Coal Company at Dunlap, is also chairman of the Program committee. Programs have been outlined for the year and the Chapter meets regularly on the second Thursday of each month. These meetings are open to all engineers.

Falls are the number one cause of accidents in the home, due to toys or other objects in the line of traffic, small rugs that skid, stairs without railings or lights, articles stored on stairs, or slippery floors.

FEEDER PIG
An area meeting on the proposed feeder pig sale was held in Morehead, January 12. The group from Floyd county was unable to attend due to icy roads.

The purpose of the meeting was to draw up the articles of incorporation. The group voted to use the name "North East Kentucky Feeder Pig Cooperation Association, Inc." Morehead was chosen as place of business, and Mr. E. M. Hogge as process agent.

The next meeting will be held January 24 at 10:30 a.m. EST at the courthouse in Morehead. At this meeting the Articles of Incorporation will be adopted and a board of directors elected to serve until the first annual meeting.

Dr. Singer said his department would assist in any way possible to help counties in Eastern Kentucky to meet health requirements. Getting pigs vaccinated against cholera could present a problem in Floyd county unless a state veterinarian can be brought into the area.

Bob Hager, Kentucky Department of Agriculture, said his division would sort the pigs free for the first year.

With the fine cooperation received by the groups, it looks as if the Feeder Pig Association will be a success.

STRAWBERRY PLANTS

Now is the time to order your strawberry plants. This year as in the past a committee of growers will combine all orders and place one order with a reliable dealer. This way plants can be obtained cheaper for each farm.

Several orders have already been placed with us here at the Extension Office. Anyone wishing plants can contact some of the strawberry growers in the county or the county Extension office.

Correspondence has been made with several plant producers. Prices this year may be some higher per thousand due to small number of people in the plant business. Plants ordered will be the Virus-free Tennessee-Beauty. The Tennessee Beauties have proven to be the most satisfactory variety for our conditions. The Tennessee Beauty is also the most desired by the housewife.

Outlook report indicated that strawberry prices should be some higher than last year. This year would be a good time to set a new patch. Most of the old patches will be going out of production after this picking season. Plants will have to be set in the spring to have a berry crop in 1959.

Farmers wishing to receive cost-sharing payments on conservation practices through the ASC must sign up between now and March 1. Farmers in the county should take advantage of the program in establishing cover for their land.

Some of the major practices on the establishing of meadows and pastures. All farmers with livestock can take good advantage of this practice, it will not only conserve the soil, but will supply pasture or hay which is badly needed on most farms.

This year there is more interest in the tree seeding practice. Much of our land needs to be returned to forest. This practice enables landowners to get the trees free and the only cost will be the labor required to set out the seedlings.

Mrs. Frances Moore, 37, Of McDowell, Is Victim; Internment At Weeksbury

Mrs. Frances Moore, 37, of McDowell, died at 7:50 p.m., Friday at the McDowell Memorial hospital. She had been ill six months, seriously so three months.

She was a daughter of the late Malon Johnson and Vasley Hall Johnson and the wife of Alvin Moore, who survives. A surviving son and daughter are James Alvin Moore and Nancy Sue Moore, both at home.

Surviving brothers and sisters are Bryan Johnson and Charley Johnson, both of Weeksbury, Tom Johnson, of Hi Hat, Mrs. Markie Moore, of McDowell, Mrs. Mountie Mullins, and Mrs. Martha Tackett, also of Weeksbury.

Funeral rites were held Tuesday at 10 a.m. at the Joppa Church at Melvin, the Revs. Troy Nickles and Jerry Hall officiating. Burial was made in the Tackett cemetery at Weeksbury under the direction of Hall Bros. Funeral Home.

Two Enlists

Two Floyd county youths, Curtis Cordell Johnson, of Melvin, and Eugene Counts, of Wheelwright, were recently enlisted in the Army, according to an announcement by Sgt. Ernest Morris, Local Army Recruiter.

Johnson who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dow Johnson, Melvin, and Counts, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Counts, were enlisted under a special army program, which permits qualified volunteers to choose their field of training before enlisting. Both of the young soldiers chose the transportation corps. They attended Wheelwright high school prior to enlisting. Both Johnson and Counts reported to Fort Knox, for initial processing and further assignment.

W. H. Nunnery Victim At Oak Hill, O., Home; Was Buffalo-Cr. Native

M. H. Nunnery, aged resident of Oak Hill, O., but formerly of Mare Creek, this county, died Tuesday morning at home. Mr. Nunnery had been ill some time but the cause of death was not learned. He was a farmer.

He was a native of Buffalo Creek, the son of Thomas and Rebecca Maynard Nunnery. His wife, Ora Cisco Nunnery, survives.

Surviving is one son, Curtis Nunnery, of Oak Hill, and a sister, Mrs. Loon Crum, of Louisville.

Funeral services were conducted today (Thursday) at 2 p.m. at an Oak Hill funeral home chapel and burial was made in Ohio.

Class Organization Postponed By College

The organization of extension classes scheduled by Morehead College at Martin Friday evening has again been postponed, it was said by Wayne Ratliff, director of instruction of the Floyd county schools. The classes were originally slated for organization last Friday, but inclement weather prevented it.

The new date picked to organize the classes has been seen on the evening of Jan. 31, Ratliff said. The meeting will be at the Martin high school at 6 p.m.

The change in meeting date was made, it was said, in order to accommodate all the teachers who might apply for classes.

James Carter Is Named To Board Of Directors Of Coroners Association

James J. Carter, Floyd County Coroner, attended the meeting of the Kentucky Coroners Association at Louisville last Wednesday and was elected as a member of the board of directors of the organization.

Carter is now serving on the legislative committee of the Association, having been elected to that committee some time ago.

North and South Dakota got their names from the Dakota Indians.

HUDSON REENLISTS

John Hudson, of Garrett, recently was reenlisted in the Army at the Army recruiting main station, Ashland, Ky. Sergeant Ernest Morris, Prestonsburg Army recruiter, announced today.

He is a graduate of Garrett high school and was employed as a butcher prior to enlisting.

Hudson reported to Fort Knox, Ky., for initial processing and further assignment.

Teams in the 5th annual All-American City Tournament at Owensboro, Ky., on Dec. 30-31 include Ohio University, Washington and Lee, Southern Illinois Univ., and Kentucky Wesleyan, the host team.

STORY OF STARVING, NAKED TOTS IN COUNTY TOLD BY SCHOOL MAN

There are children in this county who do not have a "single stitch" of clothing, have absolutely nothing to eat and are freezing in their homes. These little children, many of them of school age, are slowly starving.

So declared this week Walter Frasure, social worker with the Floyd county school system, and Earl Martin, attendance officer.

"I found two children at Ligon, stark naked, playing in the snow last week," Frasure said. "Investigation revealed these children had no clothes whatsoever. I found a home at Buckingham where a man had deserted his family and the mother had to take two of the children, one and two years old, to bed to keep them warm. Two of her children were naked and playing out in the snow. There was only one pound of flour in that home in the matter of groceries."

Frasure views the extreme poverty of many families in this county as an aftermath of the sickness of the coal industry.

"Most of these poverty-stricken families were once prosperous when the mines were working good," he says, "but now they have exhausted all their resources, including unemployment benefits. They are so destitute that many have moved to the heads of hollows to hide their condition."

Frasure and Martin, who have been soliciting clothing for indigent schoolchildren for several months now, call attention to the need for a concerted, organized effort to relieve child poverty. They have, with the assistance of several clubs, outfitted 200 children but have need now for clothing for more than 100 children.

"Manifestly, the job is too big for a few people or a single organization or two," the social worker says. "To even relieve the temporary needs of suffering children in this county will require a big effort on the part of a well-organized drive."

Detailing the needs of other families in widely-scattered communities, Frasure said that at McDowell there are about 15 children without clothing. There are destitute families at Drift, the head of Prater Creek, at Weeksburg and many other places.

The social worker displayed two of several letters he has received recently. One was from a Beaver Creek parent and the other, typical of others, was from a Mud Creek teacher.

"The reason my son is not in school is because he doesn't have proper clothing to wear," the parent wrote. "I have four children in school and I just get $11 a week to support them, buy food, pay off my debts and pay rent. Is there any chance that I can

Two Morehead Students To Do Practice Teaching At High School Here

Two Morehead State College student home economics teachers will be here next week, Monday through Friday, to do supervised teaching. It was announced this week by Hazel Hill, home ec teacher.

The student teachers, all seniors at Morehead, come here through an agreement between County Superintendent V. O. Turner and Adron Doran, Morehead president. They will return April 6 and stay through June 1, it is said.

The instrument of agreement between Turner and Doran sets out the reason for the use of student teachers here:

"The College profits by being able to provide its student teachers with a greater variety of teaching experiences and the Board of Education gains the advantage of reducing regular teaching load in some instances as well as new incentives and new ideas in working with a teacher training program."

College supervisor of the two student teachers coming here is Miss Patti Bolln, head of the home economics department at Morehead get a change of clothing for my children? If I can they will go to school every day."

The Mud Creek teacher attributed absenteeism in her school to unemployment.

"It is creating a serious problem in this locality," the teacher wrote. "I am wondering if you could give me a little insight as to where I might be able to pick up some used clothing at a reasonable price. Maybe some club or other organization may be able to help us."

"There is only one thing that will clothe the naked children in this county and one thing that will feed them, and that is the aroused conscience of our people," Frasure commented.

State Cannot Shoulder All The Responsibility For Services, 'Tis Said

Frankfort, Jan. 23 — "The responsibility for a total program for Kentucky's dependent, neglected and delinquent children cannot be placed upon the state," M. J. Clarke, director of children's institutions of the State Department of Welfare, pointed out to county judges this week.

"Most of the problems having to do with these children must ultimately be solved by the local community," Mr. Clarke said. "The facilities of state institutions are intended to take care of only a part of the problem and this part should represent only the most difficult cases," he added.

Clarke stressed that all local communities should provide suitable facilities for temporary detention, care and probation. Our state institutions, he said, can function best and give the greatest long term assistance if they are not overrun with cases that should be disposed of at the county level.

Among the types of children who should not be sent to Kentucky Reception Center, Lyndon, and Kentucky Village, Greendale, are the following:

1. Children who are mentally ill. They belong in state hospitals.
2. Feeble minded children as delinquents and epileptic cases.
3. Children with contagious diseases, or those who are in need of immediate medical treatment, including pregnant girls.
4. Delinquent children who are essentially dependents or who are only mildly delinquent or guilty of trivial offenses.

"In the past, out of humanitarian attitude, we have kept many of these children who are essentially dependents," Clarke said, "but under the statutes we are not obligated to accept them."

"The Reception Center is small and was established as a place for study, diagnosis, treatment and proper placement. It will accommodate about 65 children but we are receiving some 80 children per month from Kentucky's 120 juvenile courts," Clarke pointed out. "Such overcrowded conditions make it difficult for us to carry out an efficient program. Several counties are beginning a program and others must accept their responsibility," Clarke concluded.

Virus-Free Strawberries Have Higher Yield, Said; Comparisons Made At UK

Comparison of virus-free and non-virus-free strawberry plants in 1957 at the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station showed the virus-free much higher in yield.

C. S. Waltman, horticulturist, noted the virus-free type ranged from 108 24-quart crates higher per acre down to 64 24-quart crates in the test. Thus, a farmer with virus-free strawberries could have grossed as much as $648 an acre more than normal, due to increased yields figured in number of crates.

The various viruses cause plant-stunting, fruit-drop, and a slow-down plant growth, Waltman pointed out.

Tennessee Beauty topped the eight varieties tested. The virus-free TB's yielded 453 24-quart crates per acre, compared to 355 24-quart crates for the "virus-plants." The difference in yields was 108 24-quart crates per acre; these 108 crates, at approximately $6 apiece, would have meant $648 extra to the planter.

Other results: Sparkle, (the only red-stem resistant variety in the test), 339 crates for the virus-free, 249 for the virus plants, 90-crate yield differential; Catskill, 334 crates and 247 crates, respectively, an 87-crate difference; Pocahontas, 331 and 244, 87-crate difference; Tennessee Shipper, 329 and 258, 71-crate difference; Dixieland, 306 and 216, 90-crate difference; Blakemore, 252 and 195, 57-crate difference; and Fairfax, 251 and 187, 64-crate difference.

Waltman said the tests pointed out conclusively that use of virus-free plants is "money in the pocket for the strawberry grower."

Floyd Needy Received $68,225 Last Month In State Assistance

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 23 — Residents of Floyd county received $68,225 during December under Kentucky's program of public assistance to needy aged, dependent children, blind and disabled. The following payments were listed by State Economic Commissioner Vego E. Barnes:

Old age assistance, $528,995; aid to dependent children $30,721; aid to needy blind $3,176 and aid to the totally and permanently disabled, $5,333.

Total outlay for the month was $4,034,477 for the four categories of aid, with old age grants accounting for $2,257,168; dependent children grants of $1,403,160 blind aid, $130,476; and aid to the disabled, $243,673.

Coach Robert Wilson has called on the services of 16 players in Kentucky Wesleyan's first seven basketball games this season.

OBITUARY

The Death of Rev. Carl Layne "A Great Soldier Goes Home"

We were shocked and grieved beyond our power to express when we learned of the death of a devout Christian, a Minister of the Gospel, Rev. Carl Layne, of Betsy Layne, passing away.

His home going will leave a void. We all will miss him, but God in mercy said, "It is enough, come home," and we try to rejoice at the home going of a saint in these evil days which are hard for us all. How little words seem at an hour like this. Only the God of all comfort can bring peace and rest to our heart. He never makes a mistake; He doeth all things well.

I feel Christianity has lost a great man on earth and a real representative in the Glory. What a rejoicing it must have been for him to meet his Lord a few days ago. While saddening over his departure from our earthly scene we don't have to worry about his soul. He is in good hands and I feel quite certain he will merit our Saviours, "Well done thou good and faithful servant." He will be missed by a great majority of people. Only time and eternity can determine the harvest of the fruits of his labors. There is no doubt but that there will be many souls in Heaven to his credit (or many stars in his crown). He had the admiration and respect of all who knew him. He lived and died in the service of his God and his country. We must not question God in calling him alone, even though ministers like him are so much needed. I count him as one of the greatest men I ever knew.

The church has lost a champion. The pulpit has lost one of its best ministers—His influence has been felt in his community and various places—His love for souls at home is revealed by the fact that he labored and lived to make Christ known.

Our deepest love and sympathy to his family.
Della Stratton and Family.

TREE ORDERS NEAR 420,000

Shortleaf Pine Leads Orders By Landowners, Is Report By Johnson

Orders for forest tree seedling for planting by Floyd county landowners reached 419,875 this week, according to L. R. Johnson, of the local soil district. Orders for shortleaf pine led all varieties with a total of 199,400.

The trees are handled through the Agricultural Stabilization Committee office here on purchase orders or on direct order. The ASC will pay for cleaning the brush from the land intended for tree planting up to 80 percent of the cost and allow $9 per acre for setting the seedlings.

Ten varieties of trees are being ordered by Floyd county landowners, it was noted by Johnson. White pine seems to be second favorite with orders standing at 51,800. Several additional orders hadn't been tabulated Wednesday. Third place in volume of orders went to locust seedlings for which orders for 35,300 are placed.

Orders for other varieties now stand as follows:

Black walnut, 21,000, popular, 12,500, red cedar, 7,000, white oak, 6,000, loblolly pine, 5,500, Scotch pine, 3,800, and chestnuts, 2,000. The trees will be delivered either in February or March for spring setting.

Biggest single orders were made by Virginia Reffett, of Auxier, who asked for 25,000 trees, Wilson Stepp, Prestonsburg, who ordered 19,025 seedlings, Moss Dempsey, West Prestonsburg, requested 15,000 and James S. Wallace, of Garrett, 13,100. Bruce Shepherd later placed an order for 20,000. There were several orders in the 10,000-12,000 class.

The orders for tree seedlings were being taken this week by several persons or organizations interested in the farm program or in conservation. It will be necessary to close order taking in two weeks, it was said.

Tree planting was initiated in this county a few years ago and is rapidly becoming popular with the landowners. It provides against erosion and will ensure a timber crop in a few years as pine grows fast on typical Eastern Kentucky soils.

Deacons To Be Ordained In Special Service Here

At a special service Friday night at 7:30 Irene Cole Memorial Baptist Church will meet for the purpose of ordaining five of its members to the office of deacon. Those recently elected who are to be ordained are Delmas Saunders, Hubbard Francis, Jr., Pete Jarvis, Norman Allen and H. G. Sallsbury, Jr.

The service which is open to the public will include a charge to the deacons-elect by the Rev. J. B. Daley, pastor of the First Baptist church of Mt. Sterling, and a sermon to be delivered by Dr. C. R. Daley, editor of the Western Recorder, weekly paper published by the General Association of Kentucky Baptists. Dr. Daley was for several years pastor of the First Baptist church of Harrodsburg and prior to that time was associate professor of Bible at Georgetown College.

An ordaining council composed of deacons of the church, visiting ministers and laymen will meet at the church at 5 p. m. for the purpose of examining the candidates to be ordained. Following this meeting, supper will be served to the group in the church annex.

Rites For Jesse Clark Held In Columbus, Ohio; Was Floyd-Co., Native

Funeral services for Jesse Clark, 67, of Columbus, O., were held from the Grimes-Davidson Funeral Home, Columbus, on January 11, the Reverend Merrill Begley, of the Wesleyan Methodist Church officiating. Burial followed in the Union cemetery on Olentangy River Road, Columbus.

Mr. Clark, a native of Floyd county, and former resident of Drift, had been in failing health for several years preceding his death on January 8 at the Veterans Memorial hospital, Dayton, Ohio.

He was the son of Isaac Lee Clark and Lathana Smiley Clark, of Dana. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Eva Allen Clark, of Drift, two sons, Craden and Walter, of Columbus; six daughters, Mrs. Otellia Estep, Mrs. Lana Winslow, Mrs. Ruby Blackburn, Miss Lois Clark, all of Columbus, and Miss Love Clark, Oxford, O., Mrs. Imogene Caudill, Prestonsburg, and ten grandchildren.

Two sisters, Mrs. Melle Akers, of Dana, and Mrs. Martha Wallen, of Banner, survive as do two brothers, Jim Clark, of Columbus, O., and John D. Clark, Maysville, Ky.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of William Harry Gibson wish to express their thanks and gratitude to their many friends here for the many kindnesses shown them during the period they were here for his funeral on January 14. We will never forget them. Especially do we want to express our thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hill, Miss Hazel Hill, Mrs. Ollie Hill and Mrs. Ethel Akers Hall for the excellent meals prepared for us, the Rev. Harold Dorsey for his consoling words, the choir and Mrs. Dorsey for the beautiful music, and to all who sent floral tributes and anyone who in any way contributed to comforting our hearts in this sad hour from the loss of our dear brother. Especially do we thank Carter and Callihan for their efficient service and use of the chapel.

FASTEST KNOWN PAIN RELIEF FOR ARTHRITIC, RHEUMATIC VICTIMS—NOW AVAILABLE

Seven "Film-Coated" Ingredients Offer Positive Relief

The crippling, torturing, twisting pain of Arthritis and Rheumatism may soon be forgotten, thanks to an exciting new laboratory discovery named Ar-Pan-Ex.

Ar-Pan-Ex was perfected by a noted scientist of a world-famed university, working with all known facts about these crippling ailments. The result is a safe, easy to take tablet that promotes the fastest relief known from that stabbing agony.

Ar-Pan-Ex is compounded of seven active ingredients including a special new medicine to help provide longer lasting relief. Ar-Pan-Ex exclusively perfected to curb chronic, deep-seated pains.

Why AR-PAN-EX Helps
Ar-Pan-Ex does not dissolve uselessly in the stomach—avoids stomach distress. Ar-Pan-Ex is scientifically "Film-Coated" so that ALL the powerful, pain-relieving medicine is released only in the small intestine where it can be quickly carried by the blood stream to every pain-wracked muscle joint and nerve. Swelling, stiffness and soreness may seem to be miraculously eased when Ar-Pan-Ex helps the system throw off excess Uric Acid that can also aggravate pains.

Nothing Like AR-PAN-EX
Nothing ever offered before can bring results faster, more effectively or with longer lasting benefits than Ar-Pan-Ex. It may mean a renewed life of usefulness and pleasure to millions.

Ask for genuine Ar-Pan-Ex today at any drug store for the kind of relief no other product can claim to equal. If your druggist is out of it, he will be glad to order it for you.

HUTSINPILLER DRUG • Prestonsburg, Ky.

The wedding of Miss Wanda Faye Hicks, of Hippo, and Mr. Billy Ray Hayes, of Hueysville, was solemnized December 21 at 2 p. m. at the Hueysville Church of Christ. Miss Hicks is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hicks, and Mr. Hayes is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hayes.

Before an altar decorated with flanged candelabra, carnations and greenery, the Rev. Lawrence B. Price performed the double-ring ceremony. Preceding the wedding, Mrs. Jobie Click, Jr., pianist, presented a program of traditional wedding music consisting of "Because", "Always" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride wore a waltz-length gown of white velvet with full skirt and long fitted bodice edged with scallops matching the high scalloped neckline and long, tapering, pointed sleeves. Her head-dress was of matching velvet with partial veil held in place by tiny pearls. Her only jewelry was pearl earrings, a gift from the groom. She carried a white Bible which was topped by a white orchid with satin streamers.

Miss Edna Mae Hicks, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a pale pink sheath dress and a small matching feather hat and carried a nosegay of white carnations encircled with lace.

Mr. Honde Hayes served as best man. Ushers were Roy Ben-

Cunningham Slated By Foremen To Speak At Management Meet

The American orator and business leader whom the famous Dale Carnegie once praised as "superb, alive, exciting and dramatic," will be principal speaker at the January 24 meeting of the Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company Foreman's Club.

L. L. Cunningham, president of the Business Institute of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, is a speaker for The National Management Association, the parent organization with which the local club is affiliated.

The meeting will be held at the Prestonsburg grade school cafeteria, starting at 6:30 p. m. Club President Thomas Patrick said 50 to 60 will attend.

Cunningham has had a varied career in diverse fields. A native of Louisiana and veteran officer of both World Wars, he holds an advanced degree from Notre Dame University and has done graduate work at Colorado State Teachers' College. He served as coach, athletic director and commandant at two private military academies. He also served as director of physical education at Notre Dame when the late Knute Rockne was football coach.

Cunningham turned to selling and business and, for ten years, organized and taught throughout Wisconsin the Dale Carnegie course in public speaking, human relations, and leadership developed. He was employed in 1946 as a salesman for the Business Institute of Milwaukee and is now its owner and president.

John McKinney, 82, Amba, Victim At Home, Friday; Last Rites On Toler-Cr.

John McKinney, 82, of Amba, died at home at 9:15 a. m., Friday. He was a retired farmer. He was a son of Robert and Sally McKinney and the husband of Gracie Allen McKinney, who survives.

The following children survive: Banner McKinney, Hermon McKinney, Ad McKinney, and Mrs. Ollie McKinney, all of Amba, Garner McKinney, Romulus, Mich., and Mrs. Nolle B. Sexton, of Drift. A brother, Pete McKinney, of Amba, and a sister, Mrs. Louvanna McKinney, of Williamson, W. Va., survive.

Funeral rites were conducted Sunday at the Toler Creek schoolhouse, the Revs. Luther Conn and Mevin Conn officiating. Burial was made in the family cemetery under the direction of Hall Bros. Funeral Home.

ton Gearheart and Clell Hall, of Hueysville.

Mrs. Hicks, mother of the bride, wore a light blue wool jersey sheath dress with a high banded neckline. Her hat was a black felt calot with spangled sequins. Her corsage was white carnations etched in blue. Mrs. Hayes, mother of the groom, wore a slate blue wool dress with black hat with sequined veil. She wore a corsage of white carnations.

Immediately after the ceremony, a reception was held in the dining room of the church. The bridal table was covered with an imported white linen tablecloth. The decorated three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom was cut and served with punch. Assisting at the reception were Miss Edna Mae Hicks, Mrs. William Petrey, Mrs. Thomas Combs, Mrs. Jobie Click, Jr., and Miss Loyce Raye Hicks.

When the couple left for a wedding trip, the bride wore a light blue wool sheath dress with matching accessories. She wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet. Upon their return, they will reside at Martin.

The bride attended Morehead State College and is now employed by the First Guaranty Bank at Martin. The groom attended Morehead State College and is now teaching school.

"There's as much liquor sold here as there is in Hazard, and it's wet." He also advised that police crack down on speeding and to treat all alike. His suggestion for Third street parking on one side of the street only brought no action.

Councilman J. Y. Goble proposed an equalization of property assessments here, suggesting that outside equalizers be brought in to do the work. To this the Mayor agreed, and a motion that the City Clerk write the State Equalization Board for information on such outside help was approved by vote of the Council.

Request made by Herschell Tackett and Raymond Bradbury on behalf of the Youth Center resulted in the Council continuing its support of the Center with an appropriation of $50 a month.

Clifford B. Latta reminded the Council of benefits possible through the Urban Renewal Administration. The only Eastern Kentucky town that has to date taken advantage of this aid is Hazard. A long-range improvement program must be planned and approved, and in such cases the federal government bears two-thirds of the net cost of the program, with the state contributing to lessen the one-third left to the city. The program envisions slum-clearance and other improvements.

City Clerk Judith Archer was directed to write the Urban Renewal Administration and to ask it to acquaint the Council through a personal representative with what can be done.

Request of Fire Chief Amos Gray for employment of a man to relieve him one day a week was voted.

Stiff Fines Are Meted In Quarterly Court Here

Stiff fines were the rule rather than the exception in quarterly court Monday, with traffic offenders drawing the stiffest penalties of all.

When Charles Lee Maddox pleaded "law and facts" (guilty) before County Judge Henry Stumbo to charges of driving on the wrong side of the highway and having improper registration plates, he was fined $100 and costs on each count. He went to jail.

Gordon Garrett, who pleaded guilty, was fined $50 for operating a car without license and $100 for drunken driving.

Richard F. Dunn, who took his speeding case to trial, was fined $20.50 and costs. Bennie Blackburn, who pleaded guilty to the same offense, drew a fine of $10 and costs. Others given trial Monday and results of the hearing follow:

Curtis DeLong, failing to support children under 14 years of age, plea of guilty, 30 days in jail; James Burchett, following a truck too closely, plea guilty, $10 and costs. Most of the defendants had been arrested by state troopers.

prolonging the lives of victims of heart attack.

In addition to these humanitarian considerations must be added another economic aspect.

The dollar-and-cents cost of heart disease is staggering. At least 650,000 man-years are lost to industry each year because of it, according to the American Heart Association. The loss in earnings is set at more than $3 billion a year and the loss to the Government, in income taxes, $400 million.

A brighter side of the picture is seen by Dr. Paul D. White, the consultant who was called in to treat President Eisenhower. He says the high heart rate is due to the reduction in deaths from other causes, especially childhood ailments. The life span, therefore, has become longer, bringing a larger proportion of people to the ages at which heart ailments are most prevalent.

Among Floyd county residents, according to the federal report on vital statistics for 1955 just issued, out of a total of 258 deaths from all causes 107 were due to heart disease.

Two Women Serve In '58 Legislature

Frankfort, Jan. 21 (Spl.) — The two women legislators of the 1958 Kentucky General Assembly are Mrs. J. Harry Davis, of Grayson, serving her first term in the Senate, and Mrs. Ann B. Hall, of Bypro, a freshman representative in the House.

Mrs. Davis succeeds her late husband in the Senate and represents the 32nd district. She is owner of a Children Specialty Shop in Grayson and a former school teacher. A graduate of Morehead State College with an A. B. degree, Mrs. Davis is affiliated with the Christian Church. She is a member of the Eastern Star and the Grayson Woman's Club.

A petite burnette, Mrs. Davis says she visited the Senate often while her husband was a member. But this is her first time to take part in actual lawmaking.

The mother of a son, James Adair, and a daughter, Linda, Mrs. Davis' hobby is flowers, "when I have time for them."

Mrs. Hall is one of the two representatives from Floyd county serving in the House, and is the second woman to be elected to the House. She is in the retail merchandising and insurance business in Bypro and attended Caney Junior College. A southern Baptist, she is a member of the Daughters of National Association of Womens Clubs. Postmistress for four-and-half-years, Mrs. Hall is a member of the Democratic Party.

An attractive woman, Mrs. Hall has two sons, Morris Ray and Jimmie Joe. Her hobby? "Hard work is my hobby," she laughingly replied.

FOREST FIRES ON DECREASE

Blazes and Acres Lost Less in '57, Says Ranger; New Equipment Installed

Forest fires in the Magoffin-Floyd district are on the decrease; it was pointed out by Roe Turner, forest ranger, of McDowell. Comparing the 1956 record with last year's, he noted that there were 94 fires in the former year but only 71 in 1957.

Acres burned decreased, too, from 4,521½ in 1956 to 1,394 last year. Damage to forests in 1956 was $24,513.50, Turner said, but it had not been possible to figure 1957 yet. Last year chalked up a high number of summer fires, the forest ranger pointed out in saying there were nine such blazes. These fires are hard to check, he said.

The Division of Forestry prosecuted seven cases in court last year and had either convictions or the offenders were let off with paying the suppression costs. Convicted and paying fine and costs were Arley Johnson, of Ligon, $7.50 fine and costs; Isaac Fitzpatrick, West Prestonsburg, $10 fine and costs. Cecil Miles and Lory Bowns, both of Minnie, paid suppression costs on fires as did Woodrow Cole, of Martin, and Harris Brothers Construction Company, Prestonsburg, two cases.

"We have more fires in the spring than in the fall," Turner said, "but the number of acres burned in the fall is greater due to the prevalence of wind at that season of the year."

The forest ranger noted the progress being made in the physiographic equipment of the Division of Forestry's system in this district. A radio tower has been erected on Abbott mountain and three trucks installed with radio receiving and transmitting systems. A base radio is also in operation.

Turner, in his yearly summary, took the opportunity to thank the radio stations of the county and The Times for their cooperation in publicizing the forest fire prevention program.

"There is much still to do in protecting our forests," he said, "but we are gradually educating the public to the importance of preventing forest fires."

Francis Estate Put In Trust By Will; Children Benefit

The bulk of the estate of James D. Francis, former president and board chairman of Island Creek Coal Company, will be added to a trust established in 1931, probate of his will disclosed last week.

Francis, who was one of the leaders in the coal industry for more than 30 years, died January 8. He was chairman of the board of Princess Elkhorn Coal Co., David, Princess Coal Sales Co., Mallory Stores and the Powellton Coal Company.

Bulk of the estate is in stocks, although not mentioned specifically in the will, and this is what goes into the trust. No estimate of the value of the stock was available.

All real-estate holdings were left to his son, David L. Francis, and a daughter, Mrs. William Meacham, both of Huntington. His widow, Mrs. Permele Francis, will receive all remaining tangible property, which, upon her death, will go to the children.

Had the children preceded Francis in death, the real estate was to have gone to Pikeville College, of which Francis was a member of the first graduating class in 1903, and to the First Presbyterian Church, Huntington, which he served as an elder.

The will dated last February 7, gave no indication of the value of the coal operator's holdings, and the beneficiaries of the trust were not disclosed.

The two cases dismissed were cold check charges against George G. Alley and Frank Compton. Evidence was lacking in both cases, the dismissal orders indicated.

Raymond Phillips and Yancey Horn, two of those convicted within the week, were taken to the La-Grange reformatory Monday by Sheriff Hershel Warrens and Deputy Sheriff Earl Warrens.

Freewill Baptist Meet Scheduled At Cow Creek; Expect Large Gathering

The Johnson County Freewill Baptist Conference will convene Saturday at the Cow Creek Freewill Baptist Church for a business meeting. It will be the second time in recent years that the Floyd church has been host to the Conference.

The Conference is composed of 34 churches in five Eastern Kentucky counties. Four Floyd county churches, Mare Creek, Wonder, Endicott and Cow Creek, are members of the Conference. A large gathering is expected for the meeting, since each church is required to send delegates.

Presiding officers will be elected at the Conference.

Telephone Talk

by
H. D. HAYES
Your Telephone Manager

WHAT'S MY LINE? Have you ever wondered who keeps the telephone lines around here in working order? A telephone man, to be sure, the installer-repairman. And, when storm damage repairs or maintenance are necessary, cable splicers have to be "johnnies-on-the-spot." In all kinds of weather at any hour of the day or night they're at work—up poles, down manholes, out in the country, right on your street. And just being there isn't enough. They have to know what they are doing; which wires to join and how to join them. It takes know-how and a lot of hard work to keep telephone lines in order and our telephones ready to serve everyone, all the time.

"ISN'T IT ABOUT TIME WE GOT A PHONE FOR UPSTAIRS?"

BRRR, IT'S COLD! And did you know, the colder the weather the louder sounds are. In hot weather sounds are weaker, don't carry as far. As this applies to telephone communications, it was a problem that worried telephone people. Then the Bell Laboratories found an answer. It's the thermistor, an electronic device that controls the volume of voices on the telephone. It keeps them from being too loud in cold weather and too low in warm weather. It's so sensitive it can detect a temperature change to one-millionth of a degree.

Former Floyd Educators Scheduled As Speakers At Morehead Meeting

A dinner meeting of school board members and superintendents in the eastern division of the Kentucky School Board's Association was held at Morehead State College Monday.

John L. Vickers, State Department of Education director of transportation, Ishmael Triplett, director of free textbooks, and Monroe Wicker, director of school services at Morehead State College, addressed the group. Both Triplett and Wicker are former Floyd county educators.

Dr. Zell Walter, head of the Morehead State College Education Department announced that discussions were held on the implementation of the transportation formula under the Minimum Foundation Program, increasing the appropriation for free text books and consideration of the resolution recently adopted by the Eastern Kentucky Education Association.

Ivan Mason, a member of the Mason county school board, is chairman of the eastern division of the Kentucky School Board Association. Hubert Hume, superintendent of Mason county schools, is secretary.

The meeting was sponsored by Morehead State College and the Kellogg Foundation.

ASC NAMES 19 PRACTICES

Goble Releases List Of Approved Practices Under '58 ASC Program

A list of approved practices in the agricultural program were released this week by Elder Goble, office manager of the Agricultural Stabilization Committee here. Nineteen practices were named for the new year by the state ASC.

Some of the practices named by Goble as approved for the first period of this year are initial establishment of pastures and meadows, initial establishment of trees for forestry purposes, well drilling for livestock, improvement of tree stands, and the installation of tile drainage systems.

"Many other practices are available to the farmers to cover almost all conservation problems in the county," the office manager said. He pointed out that the deadline for signing up in the first period is May 1. "Farmers expecting to receive assistance in the first period must have their farm plan in the office here by May 1," Goble added.

Establishments of cover crops is a practice that is approved for the second period of this year. The ASC will handle on purchase orders for limestone, fertilizers, trees, well drilling and tiling.

Two thousand seven hundred farmers in this county are signed with the Agricultural Stabilization Committee in certain phases of the conservation program, Goble said.

Coal Industry Sets Record for Safety in 1957

Frankfort, Jan. 21 (Spl.) — A new safety record in Kentucky coal mining was achieved in 1957, James H. Phalan, chief of the Department of Mines and Minerals, has announced.

He said 1,228,500 tons of coal per fatal accident were produced in the State last year. This is the highest tonnage in relation to coal mine deaths ever recorded by the industry in Kentucky, Phalan added.

He said the previous high tonnage was attained in 1955 when 1,208,785 tons per death were produced. Phalan added:

Production last year totaled 74,940,000 tons. There were 61 fatal accidents. In 1956 production totaled 75,934,180 and fatal accidents 75, resulting in 1,013,456 tons for each coal mining death.

Fatal accidents due to falls of coal mine roofs declined from 47 in 1956 to 40 in 1957, a 15 per cent reduction.

Phalan said:

"The year 1957 has shown us that through concentrated efforts of all concerned, working together toward a common goal of better safety education that accidents can be reduced. Now 1957 is history but 1958 lies ahead as a greater challenge than ever before with the streamlined or modern methods of mechanical mining coming into their own. The mining industry is being confronted each day with new problems of safety in addition to the old ones."

Phalan extended special applause to the efforts of Supt. John Cover and employees of the Republic Steel Corp. mine at Elkhorn City which has completed 26 consecutive months of operation without a lost time accident. During that period 240 safety-conscious miners produced 1,786,500 tons of coal, Phalan said.

Miss Bingham Is Named Homemaker of Tomorrow

The Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow in Auxier high school is Patricia Litz Bingham, it was announced this week.

She received the highest score in a written examination on homemaking knowledge and attitudes, administered Dec. 3, to senior girls in the graduating class. Her examination paper will be entered in competition to name this state's candidate for the title of All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow and will also be considered for the runner-up award in the state. For her achievement, she received an award pin designed by Trifari of New York.

The billionth tree to be planted in the U. S. in 1957 was planted in December in Georgia. This exceeds by 200 million the previous record high for tree-planting in the nation.

Barkley's Widow Named To Fund Drive Group, UK Prexy Announces

Mrs. Alben W. Barkley, Paducah, widow of the former Vice-President, is one of 25 prominent Americans named to a national committee of sponsors for the 1958 Heart Fund drive during the month of February, according to Dr. Frank G. Dickey, president of the University of Kentucky and state drive chairman for Kentucky.

Serving with Mrs. Barkley, who is a board member and a former vice-president of the American Heart Association, will be such notables as General Mark W. Clark, famed World War II commander; former New York Governor Thomas E. Dewey; Adlai E. Stevenson; Winthrop W. Aldrich, former Ambassador to England; Mrs. Wendell Willkie; movie magnate David O. Selznick; and Charles E. Wilson, former Defense Secretary.

Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower is honorary chairman and Dr. Paul Dudley White of Boston, the President's heart consultant, is honorary co-chairman.

Both Mrs. Barkley and the late "Veep" were most active in the early days of the Heart Fund drive in this state "when we needed them most," Dr. Dickey said.

New Commission Providing Help For Alcoholics

Frankfort, Jan. 21 (Sp.) — A new state commission is telling the public that alcoholism is a disease and needs to be treated as such.

The Kentucky Commission for the Study and Treatment of Alcoholism, created by the 1956 Legislature, has as its immediate goal education of the people in this attitude and also in methods of prevention, treatment and cure.

That the commission can operate best in the field of education was pointed out in an interview with three of its members, recorded by the Department of Public Relations for release to about 45 Kentucky radio stations the week of Jan. 20.

The members on the recorded panel—Dr. Louis M. Foltz, Louisville, chairman; G. M. Pedley, commissioner of public relations, Frankfort, and J. Collis Ringo, Lexington—agreed that in many cases persons afflicted with alcoholism will respond to medical treatment. "It is no more disgraceful to be an alcoholic than a diabetic," said Dr. Foltz.

Prevention, treatment and cure of alcoholism can be better effected by the Department of Health, the medical profession, Alcoholics Anonymous and other groups working in the field if the public is informed on the nature of the affliction, the commission believes.

The commission is furnishing information on the topic to the public through pamphlets, moving pictures, letters, the press, radio and television.

The recorded discussion brought out that, based on studies, the cost of alcoholism to the Commonwealth in jail and police expenses, court costs, lost wages, lost taxes and medical bills is about 30 million dollars a year. It was also brought out that about 6 1/2 per cent of all persons who drink have trouble with the alcoholic problem.

DAVID CLUB TO AID POLIO FUND

The January 10 meeting of the David Woman's Club was held at the home here of Mrs. Raymond Bradbury. The business session was called to order by Mrs. Ora Howard, president.

BETSY LAYNE WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS

The Betsy Layne Woman's Club held its regular monthly meeting Thursday night, Jan. 16, at the home of Mrs. Beecher Hardwick. Mrs. O. J. Williams, president, opened the meeting. Mrs. Edward Lykins, program leader, presented a program, titled, "Fashion Sewing for Clubwomen". This program was planned in cooperation with the Vogue Pattern Service, covering the importance of sound wardrobe planning, the selection of style, fabrics, colors appropriate for various figure types and modern sewing methods. Mrs. Lykins set the theme of the program in her talk on wardrobe planning, in which she presented some of the simple, basic rules for being well-dressed. She was followed by a panel of two club members, Mrs. Glenn Blackburn and Miss Alice Williams, who discussed "Your Figure—in Fashion", analyzing basic figure problems in terms of clothes, coordination in clothing and discussed the modern pattern and its use in fashion-sewing. Each member received a wardrobe-planning booklet for her own reference.

Mrs. Williams presided at the business session. Mrs. Williams read a card from the family of Mayne Blanche Smith, expressing appreciation for the club's expression of sympathy. A letter from the chairman of the Garden Division, KFWC, was discussed, in which the chairman reminded the group that they should cooperate with the International Relations Department by contributing to CARE — the purchase of elementary tools through the Self-Help Section and contribute to the "Seeds for Democracy" program. It was noted that the Albee Burpe Company will double "Seeds for Democracy" orders if they are placed with their company, so clubs were urged to send their orders to the Burpee Company. The group voted to place such an order. The International Relations Department, KFWC, chairman's suggested projects, Meals for Millions, and others, were presented. The group voted to contribute to the Meals for Millions project.

straight talk... about electric heat

What is Electric Heat?

Electric heat is based on the same principle as your electric toaster. Built-in-wires or panels absorb heat from electricity and radiate it evenly throughout every square inch of room area. As pictured at the right, the wires or panels can be installed—easily and economically—in baseboards, walls or ceilings.

What are the advantages of Electric Heat?

Electric heat is as clean as electric light—odorless, dustless, noiseless. Electric heat eliminates drafts, cold floors, unevenly heated rooms. Electric heat provides a temperature control in every room. Electric heat eliminates fuel storage problems—electricity is always at your fingertips. Electric heat gives quick gentle warmth automatically.

Where can I get more information about Electric Heat?

Planning Group Seeks New Laws

The Eastern Kentucky Regional Planning Commission has adopted a resolution favoring amendment of existing state planning statutes to permit third to sixth class cities to join with their counties in forming joint planning and zoning commissions.

The Commission took the action during a meeting at West Liberty early last week. At present, only first and second class cities may join with their counties to form such joint agencies.

The Commission also urged by resolution the "early enactment" by Congress of the "Omnibus Rivers and Harbors Bill" and exhibited special interest in a section which would permit the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers to construct water storage facilities for augmentation of low-flow streams. Such facilities would be constructed without reference to a cost-benefits are widely diffused.

Commission Chairman B. F. Reed, of Drift, said impoundments of this type, if built in Eastern Kentucky, would help provide sufficient water for industrial purposes and for municipal water systems.

The Commission plans to hold its next meeting at Ashland, Feb. 3.

Spradlin-Br. School Has Three Winners In Essay Competition

Only one of the 15 Floyd county schools that had entrants in the soil conservation essay contest was a rural school, it was noted this week from a list of the schools submitting essays. The lone rural institution was the Spradlin Branch school on the Auxier Road, taught by Edgar Bingham.

The little school placed 13 entries and won three places in the grade contests. In grade six, Sandra June Howell took second place in the county and best in her school; Brenda Cager was honored with first place in the county in fifth grade; Douglas Fraley won second place in grade four in the county. Bingham's school has produced consistent winners for some time now.

Of the 3,097 entries in the soil conservation essay contest, which was won this year by Miss Martha Ann Burchett, 16-year-old Prestonsburg high school junior, top place in the number of essays entered went to Wheelwright high school and grades which had 666 essays. Prestonsburg high school had 325 essays for second place in the number of entrants, and Prestonsburg grades had, for third place, 276 entrants.

Other schools, with the number follow:
Martin high school, 260, Martin grades, 254, Wayland, 252, Maytown, 213; McDowell high school, 195; McDowell grades, 188; Allen, 157; Garrett, 146; Drift, 95; Weeksburg 30.

The essay contest is conducted by the Floyd County Soil Conservation district and is sponsored by the Louisville Courier-Journal, Louisville and television stations.

Winners of each district first place are automatically entered in the state contest. District prize is a $25.00 Savings Bond.

Miss Applegate, Mr. Thomas Wed

Miss Rosalyn Applegate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Henry Applegate, of Swainsboro, Georgia, and Mr. Karl Hunter Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hunter Thomas, of Wheelwright, were married December 28, at 3:30 p.m. at the First Baptist Church at Swainsboro.

The Rev. C. Otis Brooks, performed the double-ring ceremony in a setting of baskets of white chrysanthemums and similar flowers interspersed with lighted tapers.

A program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. Spurgeon Aaron, organist, and Mr. Donnie Kea, who sang "Entreat Me Not To Leave Thee", "Because", and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, was lovely in her wedding gown of bridal white patina satin. The fitted bodice was designed with a portrait neckline, featuring a deep yoke of exquisite reembroidered alencon lace, sprinkled with tiny seed pearls and iridescent sequins, and long molded sleeves, ending in calla lily points over the wrist. The very bouffant skirt was fashioned along princess lines with the inset panels sweeping into back fullness and flowing into a circular cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion, which was worn by her grandmother in her wedding, was attached to a coronet of pearls. The bride also carried a handkerchief used by her grandmother. She carried a crescent of white orchids, lily of the valley and gardenias fashioned onto a bow of ribbon, carried by her grandmother's bridesmaids.

Miss Gay Davis was maid of honor and Mrs. Well Wightman was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Sarah Youngblood and Miss Bunny Bishop. Miss Carolyn Ann Thomas, sister of the groom was junior bridesmaid and Mary Alice Applegate, sister of the bride, was flower girl.

The honor attendants and bridesmaids were gowned alike in ruby red velvet and taffeta. The short sheath dress of velvet was designed with a deep bateau neckline and tiny cap sleeves with draped folds accenting the empire waistline. Topping the slim velvet skirt was a very full floor length overskirt of ruby red taffeta over net, open to the waist in front and dipping to the floor in back. The junior bridesmaid was gowned in the same, while the flower girl was gowned in the white velvet and taffeta fashioned the same as the bridesmaids. They carried a cascade of gardenias.

Mr. Houston Nelson, Jr., of North Augusta, S. C., was best man, and ushers were Mr. Bobby Teasley, of Augusta, Ga., and Mr. Richard Tufts, of Wheelwright.

The bride's mother wore a mauve dress of silk chiffon over peau de soie, with matching hat. The groom's mother wore a dress of ceil blue peau de soie with a hat of matching satin. The grandmother of the bride wore a dress of black crepe with blue satin trimming and a black hat.

The reception was held in the church parlors. The bride's table was covered with white taffeta and tulle. A three-tiered wedding cake, silver candelabra holding an arrangement of tapers and white carnations, and a silver goblet were placed on the table.

Assisting in serving were Miss Midge Bowen, Miss Edith Brown, Miss Rosemary Harrison, Mrs. Richard Brown, Miss Deene Souly, and Mrs. Sudie Fulford. Miss Sallie Wicker kept the bridesbook.

For traveling the bride wore a toast brown suit with matching accessories and an orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The bride has been attending the University of Georgia, where she is a pledge of Delta Delta Delta Sorority. Mr. Thomas is attending the University of Kentucky.

The couple will live in Lexington, Kentucky where they will continue their studies at the University of Kentucky.

Three Floyd Students Named To Who's Who At Morehead College

Three Floyd counties, students at Morehead State College, have been named to Who's Who in Colleges and Universities in the United States, it is announced.

The honored students are: James G. Gibson, of Langley; Gordon Lee McCarty, of Martin, and Wendell Jones, of Langley.

Twenty-one Morehead students are listed this year in the collegiate Who's Who.

Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley J. Jones, is majoring in Business Administration. He is an active member of the Campus Club, the Vets Club and the baseball team.

McCarty is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry McCarty. He is a member of the Campus Club and the baseball team.

Gibson, who is a son of Mrs. J. S. Gibson is a Physical Education and History major. He is a member of the Vets Club, Les Courants, F. T. A., and the Student Council. He held the office of President of the Vets Club in 1956.

Cut-Shin and Hell-Fer-Sartin are names of two creeks near Dry Hill in Leslie county. Tradition is that when an early pioneer was coming through with the ox train he found one of the creeks swollen by recent rains. Attempting to drive his oxen over the stream, he cut his shins on a sharp rock; hence the name Cut-Shin. The following day he came to the other stream, more rugged, more swollen, and far more difficult to cross. Realizing his predicament he exclaimed, "Well, by Jeeminy, this is hell-fer-sartin!"

DISTRICT DRAWINGS

Drawings for the 58th District High School Basketball Tournament, to be held in the new Prestonsburg high school gymnasium, March 4-8, will not be made until two weeks prior to the tournament. All other preliminary plans have been made by the nine district coaches.

59th DISTRICT

The luck of the draw has placed the top three teams in the 59th district in the same bracket for the district tournament that will be played in the Paintsville gymnasium, March 5-8.

Paintsville drew gymless Blaine for its first game and Inez is matched against powerful Meade Memorial. Thus two of the three will be eliminated from the 15th regional tournament.

1958

Betsy Layne high won three games last week and scored 103, 85, and 107 points for a total of 295 points, or an uncanny average of 98.3 for the three games. Overall, the rangy Bobcats have chalked up 1958 points in 19 games for a 81.0 per game season average, one of the highest marks in Kentucky high school basketball.

RUMOR DEPARTMENT

Don Ratliff, Mullins high school's six-four sophomore center, will transfer to Pikeville high at the close of this semester. The 17-year-old scoring ace is currently averaging 30 points a game. The University of Alabama has offered Porter Powers, Auxier's free-scoring senior guard, a lucrative four-year scholarship.

Two Prestonsburg high school footballers will be named to play with the East team in this summer's East-West high school all-star football game.

Bucky Ellis, Maytown junior, is considering transferring to Prestonsburg high school.

Fleming's all-state football fullback, James "Red" Hill, will play his college football at Morehead.

BEARS DEFEAT BEREA, 98-75

Butcher Maintains Pace In Scoring As Pikeville Splits Two Road Games

Pikeville, Ky., Jan. 20 (Spl.) — The Pikeville College Bears, held to a split in their two road games last week, widened the gap between themselves and their opponents, the Mountaineers of Berea College, Saturday night by 13 more points while John Lee Butcher continued firing away at a 30-point-per-game clip.

The Bears were to host the Centre College Colonels in their first meeting at Pikeville's homecoming Monday, Jan. 20, with the coronation a surprise homecoming queen. The identity of the coed, chosen in student voting several days ago, was to be revealed at the homecoming festivities.

After a week's layoff for examinations, the Bears will take to the road again, going against Rio Grande College at Rio Grande, Ohio Tuesday and Transylvania College at Lexington, Ky., Wednesday (Jan. 28-29). Transylvania's Pioneers, who ate the Bears' dust twice last month, Dec. 16 at Pikeville and Dec. 22 in the finals of the Tug Valley Holiday Tournament, may be expected to have surprises in store for the Pikeville upstarts.

The Bruins bettered their standing in the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference by dropping the Berea College team at Berea for their second win in five conference starts and their 13th in 22 games this season. The previous night they had fallen, 97-87, to the Thorobreds of Kentucky State College at Frankfort.

Butcher, whose famed shooting eye was out of focus both evenings, scored only 20 points against Berea, although he led all scorers with 33 tallies at Kentucky State. With only eight fielders at Frankfort and nine at Berea, he hit 22 for 24 free throws Friday, but had only four chances Saturday—and missed twice that night.

The issue in both games was decided early, as the Bears led Berea all the way, pulling to an 11-point halftime bulge, 46-35, on their way to the 23-point final margin. Kentucky State took over to stay after the Bruins had been in front for the opening few minutes Friday.

Garret Mullins took scoring honors in the Berea game with 24 points on nine field goals and six for 13 free throws. The big pivotman with the one-two punch-rebounding and shooting—totalled 36 points and 38 rebounds in the two tilts.

John Waddell had scored in double figures for two successive games, his only two this season—14 points at Bellarmine and 11 at Kentucky State. He fell back into the single column with eight points at Berea, but turned in 18 rebounds to bring his week's work to 25 snatches in two games. Lloyd Mullins, after hitting for 12 points against Kentucky State, produced only a pair of field goals for 4 points Saturday.

Paul Setser, of Auxier, a freshman in his first varsity appearance, bucketed four field goals and one of two free throws for nine points against Berea. Doug Chaffins got six points and Millard Bevins five points Saturday, and in the two games R. B. Singleton and Jim Frazier totaled nine points each, John Will Hunt seven, Gary Caudill and Ken Maynard four apiece, and Charles Francis three.

Deputy Rescues Ice-Bound Deer On Frozen Dewey

George Hall, Jr., newly-appointed deputy sheriff of Magisterial district No. 4, got initiated into the extra-curricular activities of his job last week. He happened to be in the Sheriff's office when a call came from Hence Terry at the Dewey Lake boat dock for the services of a deputy sheriff. Hall went out on a "blind date."

Arriving at the boat dock, he was shown a deer on the ice in the middle of the frozen lake. It had been chased there by fox hounds. Every attempt of the animal to stand up resulted in another fall. It finally ceased trying to walk on the ice and lay still.

Hall examined the ice, found it would hold his weight, and approached the reclining animal with a boat paddle. A few whacks and a bit of prodding and the deer resumed its rise-and-fall progress to the shore. Regaining terra firma, it struck out for the woodland.

The deputy says that he does not know, of course, what other unusual jobs may fall to him as an officer but he has started off well by rescuing an ice-bound deer.

In their first seven cage tests, the Panthers of Kentucky Wesleyan scored a total of 562 points for an 86.3 average.

BETSY LAYNE HEAVY SCORER

Team Posts 17th Win; Pikeville Downs Hindman; Maysville Comes Visiting

Pikeville's inexperienced Panthers have moved into the 15th region scene, although John Bill Trivette's charges have won only four games in meeting the top teams in the state.

Thursday night, the Panthers clash with highly-regarded Oil Springs in the Paintsville Gymnasium in their first meeting of the season.

Pikeville registered its most important win of the season Saturday night in edging Hindman, 64-62, with a 35-point last half performance to overcome a five-point halftime deficit. The previous night, Pikeville fell before Breathitt County, 82-54.

Maysville in its invasion of the 15th region split two games, winning over Inez, 63-46, and losing to Paintsville, a 62-61 thriller. Woody Crum's unit led Inez all the way with stellar guards Jack Allison and Allen Smith registering 16 and 14 points, respectively. Kenton Fairchild tabbed 18 for Inez.

Paintsville led Maysville from one to two points at the quarter marks and held on in the final stanza for the thrilling victory. The four guards in the game stole the scoring show as Paul and Harry Williams hit 18 and 13 for the winners and Smith and Allison 23 and 16 for the losers.

Betsy Layne continued its destruction of 15th region teams in whipping Auxier, 83-58, and McDowell, 107-57, for victories Nos. 16 and 17. Veteran forward Ray Clark dropped in 62 points in the two frays, and senior Richard Reynolds was close behind with 59. Auxier's Porter Powers, the 15th region's leading individual scorer, made 28 in Auxier's loss.

Garrett (11-4) pulled a mild surprise in nipping Martin, 81-79, Saturday night as B. Holbrooks tallied 34 points for John Campbell's Black Devils.

In other games around the region that overcame the snow-laden highways, Morgan county edged Prestonsburg, 63-61; Sandy Hook downed Boyd County, 60-49; Meade Memorial overpowered Wayland, 93-66, and Garrett subdued Wayland, 75-49.

Caney College Students In Hamlet Presentation

Caney Junior College student actors presented Shakespeare's HAMLET last Thursday night to its students and visitors, and Friday afternoon to high school and upper grades pupils at Pippa Passes.

This is the fourth performance of what many consider Shakespeare's greatest play, in alternate years with other of his finest works.

The cast of characters was:

Prince Hamlet—Palmer Lowe, of Eastern; King Claudius—Paul Waddles, of Hindman; The Queen, Hamlet's mother—Lee Esther Perry; Ghost of Hamlet's father—Dennie Tuttle, of Topmost; Horatio—Pete Carroll, Vico; Laertes—Gerald Adkins, Garrett; Polonius—Earl Begley, Yerkes; Ophelia—Thelmaric Thornsberry, Pippa Passes; Marcellus—Ralph Howard, Hindman; Bernardo—Robert Smith, Hindman; Rosencrantz—Afton Bates, Kite; Guildenstern—Curtis Haddix, Kodak; Players—Darrall Smith, Hindman, Sherrill Boggs, Garrett, Tandy Moore, Garrett; Grave-diggers—John M. Corbett, Hindman, and Ray Rickerstaff, Whitesburg.

The major and most difficult role was, of course, that of the young Prince Hamlet, played by Palmer Lowe. Informed by his Father's Ghost that King Claudius had murdered to gain the throne, young Hamlet seeks to avenge his Father and make known the present king's crime. Earl Begley, in playing the part of Polonius, adviser to King Claudius, was thought by many to have stolen the show. His part was effectively and humorously done.

CARTER JOINS IN KNOTT SUIT

Frankfort, Jan. 21 — (We see by the papers that when it comes to whoppers Kentucky is still in the running.

"Hickory Bill" Simmons of Madisonville won honorable mention at a meeting of the Burlington, Wis., Liar's Club for this oblique approach to veracity.

Last summer it got so hot down here the lizards crawled into the fire to get in the shade of the skillet.

INDUSTRIAL ATTRACTION

Kentucky is proposing to establish what Lt. Gov. Harry Lee Waterfield calls a "little RFC" to aid in luring new industry into the Commonwealth.

With custody of one million dollars, the State Property and Buildings Commission under the proposal would act as a credit agency to underwrite up to half the amounts needed by communities to attract new industries.

WILDERNESS ROAD

Word comes from "Wilderness Road" headquarters that the outdoor drama will be continued this summer and "each summer for a number of years to come."

This year's presentation will be the fourth of the Berea College folk drama of the War Between the States.

Dates: June 28 through Aug. 30.

COUNTY JUDGES

The Department of Economic Security, through its divisions of public assistance, children's services and unemployment insurance, offers thousands of Kentuckians services closely allied with the duties of county judges. So a social service advisory committee has been appointed for each county with the county judge as chairman. These committees help counties with problems involving the aged, the afflicted, the poor, the totally disabled, the neglected child and the needy widow and orphan.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

That Kentucky government is news is indicated by clippings from the Commonwealth's newspapers.

The Department of Public Relations clipped 220,308 news stories on state affairs from papers during 1957.

The agency releases stories to the press on all phases of governmental operations.

NATURE NOTE

Here's an interesting item from the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources:

The most backward of all animals, the crayfish has its teeth in its stomach and its liver in its head.

AIDS SUBCOMMITTEE

H. V. Bastin, former superintendent of Kentucky State Reformatory and the Kentucky Children's Home, has been asked to assist in studies of a U. S. Senate subcommittee on causes and possible cures for juvenile delinquency.

He has asked Kentuckians to write him their ideas on the subject.

Bastin, of Anchorage, is a past president of the National Conference of Juvenile Agencies.

HOLIDAYS

All state offices will be closed Jan. 29 in observance of Franklin D. Roosevelt's birthday and Feb. 12 in observance of Abraham Lincoln's birthday.

STATE FORESTS

Kentucky has three state forests totaling 31,000 acres. These woodlands serve the Division of Forestry as a proving ground for various tree-management practices.

Scholarship Fund For Medical Students

Frankfort, Jan. 21 (Spl.) — Students planning to enter medical school this fall who expect to practice in rural Kentucky communities and need additional financial assistance may find the answer in the Rural Kentucky Medical Scholarship Fund.

Dr. C. C. Howard, Glasgow, chairman of the board of trustees of the fund, said that in order to be eligible for a loan, applicants must first be accepted by a Class A Medical School. Students accepting a loan under the basic plan agree to practice a year for each year a loan is obtained in a rural community acceptable to the fund. Interest rate and repayment plan are liberal.

A second plan made possible through the support of Gov. A. B. Chandler and the 1959 State Legislature is now in effect. Under this plan, any beneficiary of the fund who agree to practice in one of 10 Kentucky counties most in need of a physician will have one year of his loan cancelled for each year he practices in this county, Dr. Howard said.

The fund is not only designed to assist worthy students, but also to help provide adequate medical care in rural Kentucky counties. For additional information, prospective applicants for loans should contact the executive secretary of the fund, J. P. Sanford, 1169 Eastern Parkway, Louisville 17, Ky.

Slone Taxi Permit Under Consideration

Taxi permit application of Denver Slone, Prestonsburg, was remanded, for taking more proof, this week by the Department of Motor Transportation.

Assistant Commissioner Delmer Ison, issuing the statement, said, "Slone is seeking authority to operate one taxicab in Prestonsburg." Four local cab operators protested the application, Ison continued, and additional proof was deemed necessary before the permit can be issued.

ASHLAND OIL & REFINING COMPANY

State Treasurer Henry Carter joined Friday with Attorney General Jo M. Ferguson in asking that the state recover $66,960 claimed paid illegally to two Knott county trucking companies.

Carter is a co-defendant in the suits filed last month by Ferguson in asking that all agreements between the state and the two companies be declared illegal, and that he state be prevented from paying additional sums due the two firms.

The suits grew out of projects on 13 Knott county roads that were carried out by Highway Department forces with equipment rented from the Hall and C. & C. firms.

Hall and C. & C. rented the equipment from a third company and then re-rented it to the Highway Department at rates Ferguson claims are too high.

Carter's position in the case was stated in answers filed to Ferguson's complaints by Frankfort attorney John Hopkins.

The answers say that last July 12 Carter notified Clement Ritter, director of the Finance Department's Pre-Audit Division, that payments to the Hall and C. & C. companies appeared excessive.

Carter said he asked "that an investigation be made in connection with the basis and authority of such payments."

Carter's answer added that he was informed by Ritter that the payments "probably were for hauling and gravel."

The answer said Carter then examined the contracts and agreements on file in the Finance Department between the Highway Department and the companies. It said Carter determined in his own mind that the payments were too high.

It continued that Carter asked the attorney general to investigate the agreements with Hall and C. & C.

Ferguson's office investigated and advised Carter not to pay any more claims by the two Hindman trucking firms. The attorney general also advised Martin, who was then finance commissioner, and Oates, then Martin's deputy, not to process any more such claims for payment.

Franklin Circuit Judge William B. Ardery has named Squire N. Williams, Jr., as special referee to hear evidence in the two suits and report back to the court.

MASTER COMMISSIONER'S SALE FLOYD CIRCUIT COURT CR-1583

Prock Hays, Adm'r. . . Plaintiff
Va.: NOTICE OF SALE
Anna Reynolds,
Etc. . . . . Defendants

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Floyd Circuit Court rendered and entered at the October term, 1957, in the above styled cause I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Court-house door in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction, on the 27 day of January, 1958 at 10:00 o'clock, a.m., same being the first day of the regular term of the Floyd County Court, upon a credit of six months, the following described property, to-wit:

Lying and being on Turkey Creek, of Right Beaver Creek, near Langley, Floyd County, Kentucky.

Beginning at the County Road; thence running with S. B. Osborne's Heirs line, a west course to the chestnut oak at the top of the hill, to the corner of Ballard Martin's line; thence with Ballard Martin's line along the ridge to Kendall Hayes' line; thence with Kendall Hayes' line down the hill to the County Road; thence with the County Road to the beginning, containing 10 acres, no more or less.

Said property will be sold to satisfy an indebtedness of Turner-Ryan Funeral Home against the estate of Bee Hayes in the sum of $450.00 and the cost of this action.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved surety or sureties, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment with a lien retained upon said property as a further security. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

Given under my hand, this 2 day of January, 1958.

Harris S. Howard,

State Committee Named To Select Kentucky Mother

Frankfort, Jan. 21 (Spl.) — The committee to pick the 1958 Kentucky Mother will meet in Murray, March 4, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Woods, announced Mrs. Harry Peters, of Trenton, state chairman.

Members named are:
Mrs. Ralph H. Woods, Murray; Mrs. Edwin Richardson, Hopkinsville; Mrs. W. K. Morris, Hopkinsville; Mrs. William H. Houseman, Mayfield (1948 State Mother); Mrs. Elizabeth M. Posep, Henderson (1948 Mother); Mrs. Rebecca Lackey, Henderson; Mrs. Hugh Coke, Mrs. Luther Coke and Mrs. Emma Ewing Minor, all of Guthrie; Mrs. Kelly Thompson, Bowling Green; Mrs. Earl Rabold, Bowling Green and Mrs. John E. Kirksey, of Paducah;

Mrs. W. V. Sudduth, Winchester (1950 Mother); Mrs. Lillian Sprague, Lebanon (1953 Mother); Miss Lucy Jane Chadwick, Middlesboro; Mrs. Graham Egerton, Cadiz; Mrs. Margaret Sanders, Greenville; Mrs. Percy Kendall Holmes, Lexington, (1944 Mother); Mrs. Ernest Hillard, Clinton, (1957 Mother); Mrs. Clyde Ruby, Madisonville, Ky., and Mrs. Frank T. Linton, Princeton.

The citation of the American Mothers Committee will be conferred on the winner at the Kentucky Mothers Association meeting in Richmond during April, Mrs. Peters said.

Primary objective of the American Mothers Committee is to develop and strengthen the moral and spiritual foundations of the American Home.

State and National Mothers are chosen as symbols of ideal motherhood, Mrs. Peters continued, "to emphasize the importance of the role of Mother in the home, the nation and the world."

County Agent Reviews Sheep Program

An outstanding flock of Floyd sheep is that of Virgil Smith's near Allen. Smith's breeding ewes are Hampshire, Western and Western-Hampshire crosses. The Allen farmer is one of the leaders in promoting the sheep program here.

Robert M. Jones, county agent, reviewing the sheep program and situation in Floyd county this week, said that the farmers who had continued to operate with sheep had made money. He said that 17 farmers now have flocks of 20 ewes or more and 20 other farmers have smaller numbers.

"The major problems of sheep producers are inadequate hay, pasture and fencing," Jones says. "Dogs have not presented a big problem

Mrs. Shannon Named As Hall's Successor

Morehead, Ky., Jan. 21 (Spl.)—Mrs. Ernest E. Shannon, of Louisa, has been named to the Morehead State College Board of Regents to replace Dr. Paul Hall, of Paintsville, President Adron Doran has announced.

Dr. Hall resigned last week to accept an appointment as a trustee at the University of Kentucky.

Mrs. Shannon, who has long been a supporter of Morehead State College, is the first woman to serve on the Morehead Board of Regents since Mrs. Allie W. Young, whose term expired in 1942.

Mrs. Shannon is the widow of Ernest E. Shannon, who served on the Morehead Board of Regents from 1937 to 1941. He also was State Auditor from 1936 to 1940 and was State Treasurer from 1940 to 1944.

The new regent is a graduate of the Draughon Business College of Paducah and has done extension work at the University of Kentucky.

but that is one of the factors that keep many farmers from starting a flock," he added.

Jones set goals in the sheep program in this county for 1958 as follows:

(1) Purchase of two carloads of sheep. (2) Three production meetings. (3) Ten new farmers to start production. (4) Three sheep committee meetings. (5) Five major newspaper articles pertaining to sheep production plus radio promotion of the sheep raising program. (6) One sheep tour. (7) All producers using purebred rams. (8) Then farmers to increase size of flocks to make economical units. (9) Sixty head of sheep exhibited at Floyd county fair.

Scheduled to accomplish these goals, says Jones, are the county agents, sheep committee, University of Kentucky specialties and other leaders.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Do you want to make a sale now, but hesitate to do so because of the additional tax you would have to pay this year? Then consider selling now and reporting the profit on the installment basis. You can make the sale now, elect to report your profit on the installment basis and pay the tax on your profit as you collect the installments. If you make no collections in 1957, then you will have no tax to pay. In other words, don't pass up an opportunity to sell now at a profit. Make the sale and be sure that you collect 30 per cent or less this year. Then make your collection in later years and report and pay the tax on the profit as you collect it.

You can elect to report your profit on an installment sale in installments as you are paid if—

(1) It was a sale of real estate and the total amount collected in 1957 and was not more than 30 per cent of the selling price;

(2) It was a sale of personal property where—

(A) The total amount you collected in 1957 was not more than 30 per cent of the selling price;

(B) It was personal property not of a kind you would include in your inventory at December 31, 1957 if you still had it;

(C) The selling price was more than $1,000.

The total collected in 1957 cannot exceed 30 per cent of the total selling price. This includes the down payment and all later payments collected in 1957.

If all the requirements under 1 or 2 above are met, then you can report your profit each year as you collect it.

This is how it works.

Assume that you sold your home in 1957. This home cost you $10,000 in 1940. The selling price is $15,000. Your profit is $5,000. Under the long term capital gain rates you are taxed on only 50 per cent of this profit, that is, $2,500.

Assume that you collect down payment 10%—$1,500.

Your profit on this house is—
Selling price .....100% $15,000
Less your cost .....66.7% 10,000
Profit .....33.3% 5,000

Then you would report as your long term capital gain for 1957 $1,500 received; 33.3% profit—$500. This would be taxed at the long term capital gains rates, so that 50%, or $250 would be taxed. If you made no collections in 1957 nothing would be taxed.

Hybrid Corns Outyield Open-Pollinated Types UK Specialist Reports

Hybrid corn types out-produced open-pollinated types in several categories, including yields, in a comparison test in eastern Kentucky in 1957, reports Frank Loeffel, Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station grain specialist.

Hybrids and open-pollinated varieties (collected from farmers in Floyd, Johnson and Pike counties) were planted at two locations by Charles Derricksen (Quicksand Experiment Substation, Jackson, and the James Greene farm, Prestonsburg). Two "plant population" figures were used, 8,000 and 16,000 stalks per acre.

At the 8,000 stalk-level, the hybrids averaged 70.9 bushels per acre, 7.3 bushels per acre ahead of the open pollinated's 63.6 bushels. At the 16,000 stalk-level, the hybrids yielded 87.3 bushels an acre, 19.6 bushels ahead of the open pollinated's 67.7 bushels.

At the 8,000 stalk-level also, the hybrid's "erect plant" percentage was 98 per cent, the open pollinated's 90.8 per cent; the hybrid's ear height averaged 3.7 feet, the open pollinated, 4.6 feet.

At the 16,000 stalk-level the hybrids averaged 96 per cent erect plants, the open pollinated only 76.7 percent; in ear height, the hybrids averaged 3.9 feet, the open pollinated 4.8 feet.

The tests were conducted to see if the hybrids would maintain their reported superiority in these three factors. About 94 per cent of corn used in Kentucky now is hybrid, but in eastern Kentucky, only about 70 percent of the corn grown is hybrid type.

JOHNSON COUNTY FARMER WINS 1957 CORN DERBIES

Two Johnson county farmers, Lonza Reed of Flat Gap and Liss Chafin, won the 1957 Corn Derby, the Kentucky Agricultural Extension Service said this week.

Chafin won the one-acre contest with a 206.9 bushel-per-acre count. Reed won the five-acre group, with a 209.6 bushels-per-acre count.

Both men will be honored at the 46th annual Farm and Home Week program Jan. 28-31. They will receive watches and certificates for their accomplishment.

Chafin's top one-acre plot used 400 pounds of 5-10-15 fertilizer, he disked in 100 pounds of ammonium nitrate and also side-dressed later with 100 pounds of ammonium nitrate, and used a half load of manure. He turned under vetch cover at planting time, planted May 18 and used a commercial hybrid for his crop. He cultivated twice and contended with "too little rain during the growing season."

Reed had grass on his land in 1954 and 1953 and corn in 1955. He used 200 pounds per acre of 0-30-30 fertilizer and used five tons of poultry manure as a supplement. He planted on May 15, 1957, and cultivated twice. He also used a commercial hybrid. He added two tons of limestone per acre before planting the crop.

Second place in the five-acre division and the one-acre division also went to Johnson county farmers; in fact, Johnson county took the first three places in the one-acre division.

Behind Chafin in the one-acre group was Joe N. Stambaugh, Johnson county, with a yield of 193.6 bushels per acre; third place went to Hobart Vanhoose, Johnson county, with 191.1 bushels.

Cecil Creekmore, McCreary county, was fourth, with 190.7 bushels; Danny Reed, Johnson county, 194.5 bushels, fifth; Jesse Meade, Johnson county, 181.4 bushels, sixth; Quentin Castle, Johnson county, 197.7 bushels, seventh; Jim Calhoun, Boyle, 177.3 bushels, eighth; Joe Vanhoose, Johnson, 172.5 bushels, ninth, and Sammy Reed, Johnson county, 170.7 bushels, 10th.

Behind Reed in the five-acre division was Perry Vanhoose, Johnson county, with 166.3 bushels; Meadow View Farm, Hardin, 148.7 bushels, was third; Tommy Gooch, Lincoln county, 143.8, fourth; J. G. and G. F. Hanson, Lincoln, 143.7 bushels, fifth; George Depp, Lincoln county, 134.7, sixth; Chandler brothers, Lincoln, 133.9 bushels, seventh; Kennard Peden, Hardin, 133.4 bushels, eighth; Kinder Fox, Lincoln, 130.7 bushels, ninth; and P. F. King, Fulton county, 130.2 bushels, 10th.
