VOTING MACHINES The Floyd fiscal court has contracted for voting machines, which we think is a good move.

TEACHER APPRECIATION This—did you know?—is Teacher Appreciation Week. Special Weeks and Days have their place, since most of us have to be reminded of our obligations to others, but the truth is, teacher appreciation is something that should not be confined to any one week in the year—it should be a continuing thing.

INDEED, WHY? The subject of griping to and about the teacher is reminiscent of the letter an oldtimer is supposed to have written to the teacher of his young Tommy. It went something like this:

Dere sur, yu whupped my boy tom, and i aim to whup yu the next time i run across yu, tom aint no genyus, ner his ole man aint nuther, but yu caint beat brains into him, even if he did hit that yungun with a Rock. I thang i want yu to tel me, why dont yu lern these childern to spel?

TRIAL JUDGE NAMING SET

Stumbo To Appoint Aide At April 1st Court Meet; Squires May Get Pay

County Judge Henry Stumbo said this week that he will appoint trial judge at the April 1 meeting of the fiscal court.

The appointment will be made to relieve the County Judge of the tremendous work-load that has piled up since Magistrates have been prohibited from the hearing of criminal actions and to give him time to attend to more of the fiscal affairs of the county.

He said that County Judge Ervin S. Prewitt, of Pike county, already has appointed two trial judges.

Soon, however, the county's four Magistrates are certain to try criminal cases as salaried officials. This has been made possible by the recent legislative action providing salaries for Magistrates and thus removing them from the list of officials who are paid by fees. The fact that they were fee-paid court officers was the basis for the Appellate Court decision prohibiting them from the trial of criminal cases from which they collected fees.

The Kentucky House of Representatives reversed itself and voted the bill to make magistrates salaried officials eligible to hear criminal cases. The bill as finally enacted included an amendment made by Representative Ann B. Hall, of Bypro, which made payment of salaries.

COURTHOUSE TO CLOSE FOR SEARCH OF RIVER

FRIDAY SET FOR SEARCH BY OFFICIALS

National Guard, Others In 22nd Day of Searching In Vain for Seven Bodies

The courthouse here will be deserted, every office closed, Friday as officials and all those who work in their offices join National Guardsmen and volunteer workers in the search of the Big Sandy river for the bodies of seven children yet missing after the Feb. 28 school bus tragedy, ear Lancer.

This announcement was made Tuesday by County Judge Henry Stumbo. Officials and male office employees will spend the day in boats on the river. Female employees will stand watch on the river from various vantage points.

Judge Stumbo said the day's work will start from the Armory at 8 a.m., and he invites all interested persons to join him and others there at that time.

Their services will be in cooperation with National Guardsmen and volunteer workers who as of Wednesday were in their 22nd day of fruitless search of the river. Bodies of two were recovered March 4, and since that time the river has kept its secret well-guarded. High water, a swift current and bad weather have hampered the search, but it has never halted.

Personnel of the 452nd Armored Field Artillery battalion continues inch-by-inch probing and dragging of the river and its shoreline. The 201st Engineers installed a new net at Auxier and will install soon a new and better net at the West Prestonsburg bridge. Meanwhile, the 138th Field Artillery battery maintains powerful illumination of these nets and the one at Paintsville by night.

Twenty members of a special rescue squad from Greenville, Tenn., were here again last week-end, and these split up into two sections of 10 men each, one section patrolling the river from Auxier to Louisa, the other from Louisa to Catlettsburg.

Sixty men from Morristown and other Tennessee towns will be here this week-end to lend their special training to the search.

It was estimated this week that services of National Guard units here since the tragedy has cost $150,000—all payable out of Governor Chandler's emergency fund.

NATIONAL GUARD TO LEAVE

Col. Duvall, of the National Guard, announced Thursday afternoon that all Guard units would leave Prestonsburg Friday. The search for missing bodies will be continued.

SIX JAILED HERE FOR HOLDUP OF 80-YEAR-OLD DRIFT WOMAN

A young Prestonsburg woman, two men and three juveniles were jailed here last week for the early-morning holdup and robbery at Drift of an 80-year-old woman last Thursday.

All six admitted having had part in the robbery of Mrs. Doll Gibson, widow of Dan Gibson, although their stories agreed that only three of the party entered the Gibson home.

Their haul was described as "five dollars and some change."

Jailed were Lucy Jo Craft, 18, Prestonsburg, Sgt. Raleigh Mills, of the U. S. Army, formerly of the Auxier road; Billy Gene McCoy, 21, of Little Paint Creek; and the juveniles, Tommy Collins, James Tackett and Cline Mullins, all of the Drift section of the county.

Mrs. Gibson was bound and gagged, and officers said Miss Craft removed the money from the bosom of her dress. The aged woman was alone at the time, and in the ensuing struggle with Miss Craft, McCoy and one of the juveniles who was described as "a little, dark-skinned boy" she was scratched about the face. McCoy also bore the marks of battle, having scratches on his face and hands, Deputy Sheriff Jarvis Allen, who led the investigation, said.

When Mrs. Gibson resisted the robbery attempt a blanket was fin-

Sheridan F. Kozee, 66, Dies At Wabash, Ind.; Was Floyd-Co. Native

Sheridan F. Kozee, 66, of Wabash, Ind., died there Friday. The cause of death was not given. He was a former resident of Watergap, this county, but had resided at Wabash the last eight years.

Surviving is his wife, Lucy Hall Kozee, and two sons and a daughter, Ed Kozee, Charles Kozee, and Mrs. Essie Dale, all of Wabash. Funeral services were conducted Monday at the Eddingfield mortuary chapel at Wabash, the Rev. Guy Mowery officiating. Burial was made with Masonic rites in the Falls cemetery.

Attending the funeral from this county were Manuel Hall and Ver-vie Ellis of Watergap.

MAN CHOKED GIRL, CLAIM

High School Junior Hospitalized, Tells Of March 18 Attack

Lola Ann Hackworth, 17-year-old Prestonsburg high school junior, is in the Prestonsburg General hospital suffering from shock after having been attacked by an unidentified man at her home at Bonanza, Tuesday afternoon of last week.

Mrs. Lucina Hackworth, mother of the girl, said this week that although her daughter was improving from shock continued hospitalization was advised because of another ailment.

The girl had been at the home of a neighbor at Bonanza on the day the attack was made because she had missed a school bus. The mother works in town and the two live alone. Sometime around 2 p.m. the girl went home and as she approached the door she thought she detected the presence of some one but continued on into the house.

Her attacker leaped from behind a door, put a hand over her face and with the other hand choked her. Miss Hackworth couldn't see any part of his body except his feet. He wore dirty, brown shoes, she said, and had a black thumb or fingernail.

Regaining consciousness, Miss Hackworth screamed and attracted the attention of a passing neighbor who assisted in bringing her to the hospital here.

No clues exist, it was said, as to the attacker's identity, except the brown shoes and black thumb or fingernail. Mrs. Hackworth said her daughter had no enemies and could offer no explanation for the attack.

14 ARE FINED WITHIN WEEK

Five Defendants Waive Cases To Grand Jury; Court Session Held

Fourteen defendants have been fined since last Saturday by County Judge Henry Stumbo, with most of the fines having been imposed at the quarterly court session here Monday.

Five cases were waived to the grand jury and bonds were set for the defendants. These were: George Ernest Howell, breaking and entering, $2,000 bond; Harold Jones, striking and wounding, $1,000; Billy Powers, selling mortgaged property, $1,000; Harry V. Horn, forgery, $1,000; Earl Lucas, child desertion, $1,000.

Those convicted: Harry Coleman, charged with drunk driving, charge of driving without an operator's license dismissed; Lucille Prater, drunkenness, $20; Steve Smith, drunk and possessing beer for the purpose of sale, $10; Estill Newsome, drunk driving, plea of guilty, $100 fine, license revoked for period of six months; Russell Isaacs, drunk driving, $100; Tivis Colley, drunk driving, $125; Howard Cecil, drunkenness, $10; Clyde Vaughan, drunkenness, $30 and 30 days in jail; Ruben Hale, drunkenness, plea of guilty, $10; Jackie Wireman, drunkenness, plea of guilty, $10; Thelmer L. McClanahan, drunk driving, charge reduced to reckless driving on motion of County Attorney, $100 (state police did not appear as witnesses); Tiny Hall,

PLANS MADE ON RECOVERY

Graham Burchett To Head Operations to Recover Bodies of Schoolchildren

Graham Burchett, of Emma, accepted the job as Director of Operations for the Prestonsburg Schoolchildren Recovery committee this morning. He stipulated he will not accept compensation for the work.

Bradis Goble, dam tender and ranger with the Corps of Engineers at Dewey Reservoir, who was being considered as director of operations to recover the bodies of seven schoolchildren still in the Big Sandy river after the Feb. 28 tragedy near here, officially declined the offer Wednesday.

After consultation with my superiors they feel that due to the pressure of work at the reservoir and the new recreation program scheduled at Dewey it is well-nigh impossible for me to take any extended leave of absence to serve the Recovery com-

HEAVY BLAST CAUSES LOSS

United Fuel's Station At Warco Is Damaged As Gas Line Explodes

Heavy damage was inflicted on the United Fuel Gas Company's Beaver Creek compressor station at Warco early Tuesday morning by the explosion of a 20-inch pipeline and the resultant blaze.

The blast, which occurred just outside the fence enclosing the station, was heard over a wide area. No estimate of the damage was made at the Charleston offices of the company. Nobody was injured.

The line rupture came at 3:45 a.m. Escaping gas ignited and was not extinguished till almost four hours later. Cause of the explosion is not known, nor was the extent of damage to piping and the dehydration plant.

The station was shut down all day Tuesday but was expected to be restored to at least partial operation Wednesday. There was no interruption of gas service to Kentucky consumers.

The blast blew out a crater five feet deep and 17 feet wide. Biggest part of the gas supply was turned off in an hour and the flames were gradually extinguished.

The new 50-foot contractors used for removing moisture from gas were extensively damaged, several small construction sheds and their contents—all owned by J. F. Pritchard & Co., Kansas City, Mo., contractor on a big modernization program at the plant—were destroyed, as were four trucks. Exterior and wiring of a small pump house also suffered damage.

One of the trucks which burned was owned by United Fuel, one by a United Fuel employee and two by the contractor.

For several months United Fuel has had under way at the station a modernization program which will cost an estimated $1,650,000.

Piping and valves in the vicinity of the line rupture will be tested within the next few days, a company spokesman said.

REED SAYS U. S. MINE BILL WOULD CLOSE SMALL MINES

"No question about it—the bill would destroy Floyd county."

In such strong terms B. F. Reed, Drift coal operator and a man who is not a professional "viewer-with-alarm," referred Tuesday to the legislation now pending in Congress to give the federal government control over safety measures at small coal mining operations and require these mines to make costly installations.

Mr. Reed left Wednesday for Washington, D. C., where he will testify at committee hearings on the bill. George Evans, Estill coal operator, planned to accompany him.

Proponents of the legislation have already been heard by the committee.

"Here in Eastern Kentucky men with shovels must mine seams so thin that machinery cannot be used—if it is to be mined at all," Mr. Reed said.

He pointed out that these small operations cannot reach enough coal to justify the spending of the large amounts of money that would be needed to comply with such federal regulations.

CLINIC SERIES SET IN APRIL

34 Rabies Clinic Sites Listed by Health Dept.; 80 People Are Treated

The Floyd County Health Department announced this week that a series of rabies clinics will be held in this county through April. Dr. Beecher Scutchfield, of Martin, will conduct the clinics, it was said.

Dogs will be immunized against rabies at 34 locations between April 7 through April 29. John M. Stumbo, sanitarian, said. He urged all dog owners to avail themselves of the services of Dr. Scutchfield to have their animals vaccinated.

"The Floyd County Health Department submitted 24 animal heads to Lexington laboratory last year and the reports show that 12 heads were diagnosed as positive for rab-

FISCAL COURT ENTERS CONTRACT TO PURCHASE VOTING MACHINES

SURE ENOUGH IT WAS FOUND

Whiskey Comes Pouring Down, Barley Missing Raiding Party Member

One deputy in a party of four who went looking for whiskey on the premises of Sol Bradley at Estill Monday night almost got it—right in the puss.

Two deputy sheriffs were at the front of the house, two at the back. When Bert Nickles, one of those at the rear, looked up it was just in time to step aside as a woman smashed two jugs together, spilling the proof.

The officer returned here, but was told later by Jarvis Allen, chief office deputy, that they should return to Estill and make an arrest. He contended that destruction of whiskey in the presence of officers does not destroy proof that it was whiskey and in somebody's possession.

Four other places have been raided by Sheriff's deputies since last Friday night, but whiskey was confiscated in only one of the four. This was on the premises of Freddy Newsome at West Prestonsburg where two cases of beer, a half-pint of whiskey and the same quantity of gin were found. Newsome was not at home.

The raids were set off Friday night with a search warrant for the premises at Drift of Mrs. Doll Gibson after six persons had been accused of robbing her and some of the six had told of buying whiskey from her. No intoxicants were found, however.

Nor was any whiskey found in raids on "Joseph's Flats" here or James Paulson's premises at Drift.

Three men were booked at the jail last week-end on drunk driving charges. They are Walker Hall, James Prater and Dezard Allen.

Drift Miner Victim Of Slate Fall, Friday; Was World War II Vet

Lloyd Daniel Sprinkle, 33, of Drift, was killed instantly by a slatefall in the Kathryn Elkhorn Mining Company's mine there Friday. He was a veteran of the Navy in World War II.

A son of W. R. (Dad) and the late Effie Hewitt Sprinkle, he was married to Ruby Sykes Sprinkle, who survives. Two children, Ricky Lee and Danny Thomas, both of Drift, also survive. Surviving is a brother, William Dewey Sprinkle, of the Air Force, and a sister, Mrs. Hazel Sexton, of McDowell. A half-brother, Billy Jones, of Drift, survives.

Funeral rites were conducted Monday at the Freewill Baptist church, the Rev. Green Boyd officiating. Burial was made in the Drift cemetery under the direction of Hall Bros. Funeral Home.

RELIEF GROUP MAKES MOVE

Legion Building Is New Headquarters for CIA; Frasure Tells Needs

Headquarters of the Citizens Improvement Association, organized here several weeks ago to aid needy families, was moved Tuesday to the American Legion building on North Lake Drive. The DuRau Moore building formerly occupied by the Association had been given, rent-free, for the last two months and the American Legion post here offered its hall also without rent.

Rev. Ivan Jones, pastor of the Assembly of God Church, West Prestonsburg, will continue to work at headquarters and a secretary will assist him also as was done at the Moore building.

"The Association needs money rather badly," it was said this week by Walter Frasure, social worker with the school administration who is also vice-chairman of the relief group. "The school bus tragedy took our minds off of our work to assist needy families with children in school but there are people still hungry and in need," he added.

Frasure pointed out that one teacher reported a tubercular with a large family who had been reduced to eating parched corn. Another family which the Association has been aiding, has been sending some of the children to school in the morning, and shoes were exchanged at noon so others of the family could attend.

$2,398 SAVING YEARLY SEEN IN MACHINES

Precinct Consolidation To Determine How Many Machines To Be Bought

The Floyd fiscal court contracted Wednesday morning for the purchase of 30 voting machines—more or less, depending on requirements later to be determined.

So nears the end in the county of the days of the long "count" on voting returns, the use of the old stencil and the long vigil kept by guards over the ballots.

The machines were purchased from the Shoup Voting Machine Corp., New York City, at a cost of $1,648 each. Payment will be in installments over a 10-year period.

Costs of two elections—one comparatively light in expense, the other heavy—were compared with what the same elections would have cost if voting machines had been used, and these figures showed that machines would have resulted in a saving of $8,578.20. Seeking to establish an average cost per year by using figures for the 1956 November election, a comparatively light one in cost, and the expensive May, 1957 primary, the court felt safe in using these figures to determine approximate annual saving through use of machines.

The payments per year over a 10-year period for 30 machines would be $6,180. On the basis of figures used, this would leave the county a surplus of $2,398 "saved" by using machines.

Voting machines, it was explained, eliminate tabulators and cards, reduce the cost of printing supplies between 70 and 75 per cent, cut election commissioner pay to one-fourth the former figure and reduce rental of voting places by half.

Excluding some fixed charges which are not affected by either voting system, the total cost of the November, 1956 election and the May, 1957 primary was $13,565.40. Had voting machines been used, it was pointed out, the cost of the two elections would have totaled $3,767.26. This figures a saving of $9,798.20, but loss of $1,220 from the state because of the reduction in precincts brings the estimated saving by use of machines to the $8,578.20 figure used in the study made by the court.

The voting machines will not be available in time for use at the coming May primary but will be ready for the November election, the court was assured. The seller

CLARK HEADS BEAVER GROUP

Organization To Fight Floyd System Gas Rate; Meet Held at Garrett

Charles Clark, principal of Garrett schools, was elected president of an organization effected at a meeting at Garrett Monday night to spearhead a fight against what residents there describe as excessive gas rates.

Other officers named at the meeting, which was attended by approximately 175 persons from Garrett, Estill, Bosco and Wayland,—all of which are served by the Floyd County Gas & Water System—are: Joe Hicks, of Wayland, vice-president; Mrs. Edith Patrick, of Bosco, secretary-treasurer.

Directors are Columbus Jacobs and Ed Frazier, of Bosco; Eddie Bentley and Harry Martin, of Garrett; Cluett Messer and Marlin Combs of Estill; Denzil Hicks and Virgil Combs, of Wayland.

The directors will meet Saturday night to plan a course of action, select a name for the organization, and possibly agree on one or more attorneys to represent it.

Mr. Clark said the group plans to hold public meetings regularly. It also hopes to incorporate, he said. He added that the directors will circulate a petition, signers of which will subscribe to a statement

SCHOOL BOARD ISSUES NEW BUS REGULATIONS

No child will be permitted to stand on a school bus according to a new regulation issued by the Floyd County Board of Education.

"In other words a 60-passenger bus is to carry only 60 passengers on any given run," the board order says, "and a 48-passenger bus is to carry only 48 children."

V. O. Turner, county superintendent, in writing principals, bus drivers and others recently said: "I call your attention to the importance of having all bus emergency doors in good working order so that they can be opened from outside or inside the bus. The Board of Education is determined that every possible safety measure must be taken to remove all hazards of whatever kind and nature insofar as possible to students, employees and the general public."

Minutes of a recent meeting of the Board show these instructions to all school personnel were voted: "No bus is to be driven over bridges at Bosco, Goose Creek, Mare Creek or Spurlock on Middle Creek while students are on the bus. The buses are to pull up to these bridges and stop. All buses will then be unloaded and students will proceed across the bridge by walking. After the children have reached the other side of the bridge, the bus driver will bring the bus across and again load the children. James Salisbury, bus supervisor, is instructed to contact the principals and bus drivers before the opening of school in the morning to inform them of this policy. The vote for the motion was unanimous.

"No padlocks (shall) be placed on any doors used for exits at any time while school is in session, or at any time when buildings are being used for school or non-school functions.

"No children (shall) be permitted to ride school buses more than the necessary run to get from home to school, or from school to home. In other words, children should not be permitted to ride any unnecessary distance on the bus.

"Principals (are required) to submit a list of reserve bus drivers to the Board of Education, and when approval is given by the board for the use of these drivers, that they should also have completed physical examinations before entering upon their duties.

"Principals and bus drivers are instructed that school buses are to haul only students and employees of the Board of Education, and under no circumstances to haul anyone else."

Legislation That Might Destroy Small Coal Mine Operation

Now in Congressional committee for hearings is a bill which could be ruinous to small coal mining operations and to the economy of Floyd and other counties which depend heavily upon such mining ventures for their economic existence.

This is the bill which calls for federal control and costly safety measures in small mines.

THE TIMES certainly has no objection to every possible safety precaution that would mean the saving of human lives. Mining at its safest is a hazardous occupation, and surely nobody would deny the men who work underground whatever protection that is feasible and economically possible.

Yet, viewing the safety record of the so-called truck mines with that of the larger operations, and considering the financial inability of the smaller mines to meet these proposed federal requirements, we seriously doubt the wisdom of the legislation offered in Congress.

In the first place, no disaster has ever occurred in a small coal mine. (The original federal mine safety law was enacted in the hope of preventing disasters which still continue to occur.) Last year, 47 per cent of the state's coal miners were employed in small operations. Yet only 42 per cent of the fatal accidents occurred in small mines. Over a nine-year period the record shows that 40 per cent of mine labor was employed in small mines but that only 31 per cent of mining fatalities took place in them.

Proponents of this legislation counter these facts by using the yardstick of production and showing the loss of life per tons of coal produced. But we are talking here of human lives—which this law is supposed to protect—not tons of coal.

One wonders about the need of federal legislation, particularly the kind that may destroy an important part of a great and vital industry and plunge this and other areas into economic depression so utter and bleak that the word, "recession," would be too pale to describe it.

Can a single safety code be made to work for a great, sprawling industry such as coal mining is, with the financial standing of mine-owners varying from mine to mine? The federal government itself cannot maintain uniform safety standards for its own employes. It cannot at all times give men in the same company of soldiers anything approaching assurance of equal chances of survival or escape from injury.

We trust we are not being selfishly provincial in our view of this matter; we realize how easily we may be, since we are writing about a matter on which the economic well-being of business here at home and of people around us depend so heavily. But if this legislation has all the serious implications it is reported to have for this type of small business, we cannot easily dismiss from our consideration those individuals who have invested all present resources, and in many cases all foreseeable resources, in the mining business.

Nor can we dismiss from our thinking all those thousands of men who, too old or physically unacceptable for employment in large, mechanized mines, have found work in these mines that might be closed by such legislation.

For we are aware that these men and their families must eat, too.

Kiwanis Club Thanks Searchers For Bodies

As a civic organization interested in Prestonsburg and the people of Floyd county we wish to thank all who have helped with the recovery operations here since Feb. 28, date of the school bus tragedy. Including the National Guard and special rescue squads, literally hundreds of persons have worked at great personal sacrifice without thought of commendation or reward, and all such as these deserve our lasting gratitude.

KIWANIS CLUB OF PRESTONSBURG

MAYTOWN

MRS. BORDERS HOSTESS
The Maytown Woman's Club held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Paul Borders last week. Mrs. Borders introduced Mrs. Dixie T. Higgins, county home demonstration agent. Mrs. Higgins showed a movie, "Spring Fashions for 1958," which was supplied by Sears, Roebuck. She narrated the movie and commented on some of the latest styles which will probably be shown in the club's Spring Fashion Show. At the close of the program, Mrs. Jones Tallent presided over the business meeting. It was reported that the Club gave $10 to the School Bus Disaster Fund. The treasurer reported that the Club still helps buy milk for the first graders at the school. A motion was made and carried to send $5 to the Heart Fund drive.

After a member of the Club explained the needs of a student, the Club voted to make the girl one of its projects. It was suggested that each member bring a gift, either a personal article or cash, to the next meeting so a package can be made up for her.

The nominating committee—Mesdames James Allen, David Reed, and Ed Stewart nominated the following persons who will take office at the May meeting: President, Mrs. David Reed; vice-president, Mrs. Frank Stewart; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Roland Burchett.

The April meeting will be with Mrs. Edward Robinson on Thursday, April 17.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Borders served a dessert course to the following members: Mesdames John Ison, Ed Stewart, Jones Tallent, Roland Burchett, James Allen, Miles Gibson, Jr., Theodore Gibson, Frank Stewart, David Reed, George Patton and guest, Mrs. Higgins.

Mrs. Savage Cooley spent a few days last week visiting Miss Duna Verich at Eastern State College in Richmond. Miss Verich accompanied her home and spent the week-end here with the Cooleys.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Patton, David and Babs spent several days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Crisp and family in Maloney, Ky. They were accompanied by Mrs. Patton's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Crowe, of Covington, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Sutton. They were accompanied home by Miss Vicky Sutton who has spent the past week here with her grandparents.

Several young people from here attended the MYF sub-district meeting at the Methodist Church in Prestonsburg, last week. A district workshop meeting was held in the educational plant of the church at the same time. Adults attending were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ramey, Mr. and Mrs. George Patton, Mesdames Fletcher Gayheart, Baisden Osborne and Thomas Patrick, and the Rev. H. M. Wiley.

Dr. J. H. Allen attended the meeting of the school board, Wednesday morning in Lexington. He was accompanied by Stevie Allen and Eucky Ellis. They attended the basketball tournament while there.

Some of the others from here who attended the state tournament were Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Frasure, Herman Halbert, Ernest Hayes, Ed Stewart and Ray Hensch.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Rowland, of Oak Hill, Ohio, are here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Rowland, for an extended visit.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Cogger, of Weston, W. Va., spent several days last week with their daughter, Mrs. L. E. Roberts and family.

Red Cross Thanks All Who Helped

We cannot begin to list all the individuals and groups who have cooperated with us in so many services following the tragic school bus wreck. Nor can we express to these the fullness of our appreciation of such a splendid spirit of helpfulness. For the help of all here and in other communities we are most grateful.

MONEY, TIME HELD LACKING

Right-of-Way Buying Delayed, Holding Up 4 Highway Contracts

Four promised rural highway construction jobs in this county are awaiting the purchase of rights-of-way—but that matter of buying these rights is a problem that will take some solving, it was said.

First of all, said County Attorney Robert S. Wellman this week, Floyd county has only $316 in its right-of-way fund. Where the money is coming from for rights-of-way is one part of the problem. Then, again the business of carrying on right-of-way negotiations has been slowed up by two factors: 1. The school bus tragedy; 2. the huge volume of office work dumped on County Judge Henry Stumbo by the Appellate Court ruling which held that Magistrates may not preside in the trial of criminal cases, with the result that Magistrates now handle little business outside of fiscal court sessions.

In the hands of the county since December have been rights-of-way deeds prepared by the Rural Highway Department following surveys, and Rural Highway Commissioner J. B. Wells has promised that as soon as the deeds are executed and returned to him bids will be asked on these roads:

From Bonanza to Whitaker (popularly known as the Jenny's Creek road), the Bill Hall Branch to Hamilton Branch route, the Frazier's Creek and Spewing Camp roads.

All but four deeds to right-of-way have been procured on the Bonanza-Whitaker road, and condemnation actions may be required on these, it was said.

Promise of this road work was made to State Senator Jerry F. Howell, H. D. Fitzpatrick, Jr. and Lon C. Hill.

County Judge Stumbo said, soon after the work was promised, that acquiring of rights-of-way is a "must," and that funds to pay landowners must somehow be found. His plan at that time was to clear up one route at a time and get the deeds into Frankfort for an early letting of contract.

The U. S. 23 alternate route via the Prestonsburg-Auxier road is scheduled for letting in May, and 23 condemnation actions already have been instituted by the state on rights-of-way for that road.

Survey work has been done on the proposed road skirting Dewey Lake from Stratton Branch to Hager Gap. No right-of-way problem exists there, but it is not known when the project will be advertised for bids.

The Association is seeking to procure funds with which to buy garden and truck seeds for some of the families. Many indigent families, particularly from the ranks of the more recently laid-off from employment, are anxious to produce food but have no funds with which to buy seeds, Frasure said. Over 200 families have been aided by the Association since its organization, it was said.

ALLEN

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lafferty, were business visitors in Pikeville, Thursday.

guaranteed the machines for 10 years, covering the full installment payment period on them. Normally, the guarantee period is for only five years.

The contract between the court and the Shoup Voting Machine Corporation provides that two representatives of the company will come to this county to help with initial operation of the machines and education of voters.

One of the tasks facing the court is to consolidate precincts with a view to cutting the number to 30 or thereabouts.

aries to magistrates permissive instead of mandatory. The Senate bill, sponsored by Sens. Jerry P. Howell, of Price, and Dr. J. E. Johnson, South Williamson, authorized magistrates to handle criminal cases and required counties to pay them salaries. The Senate later concurred in the amendment proposed by Mrs. Hall.

The measure sets up this pay scale for magistrates:

In counties having a population of 30,000 or less, $1,200 a year; in counties of 30,000 to 60,000, $2,400; counties from 60,000 to 250,000, $3,600.

All monies collected by the magistrates would be paid to the Circuit Court Clerk for proper distribution to county and state. Floyd magistrates' salaries will fall in the $2,400-a-year bracket.

mittee," Goble said. In this Howard Osborne, reservoir manager and Pete Fullmer, of the Corps of Engineers, concurred.

This left the Recovery committee, which met Wednesday afternoon, the job of finding a competent man to direct operations on the river in the eventuality that the Kentucky National Guard moves out. The committee scheduled a meeting today (Thursday) to confer with others whose services are sought.

The Floyd County Board of Education met Thursday and authorized the employment of a director of operations in the recovery effort. Payment for such services is to be made by the board from maintenance funds.

V. O. Turner, County Superintendent, in pointing out where the money was coming from, said: "School supplies and maintenance will suffer but it is much more important to get those little children out of the river."

The National Guard units here are being steadily reduced in number, it was said Wednesday. One move of the Guard in the near future that is being considered is to release all cooks and kitchen personnel and feed the men at restaurants. This would not materially alter the efficiency of the Guard's operations and would release some men from their units to go home, it was said.

Col. Leon Reed, of Lexington, who was in command here last week, drew up a recovery operation plan to set in motion in the event the Guard is withdrawn.

Reed's plan calls for a director of operations, two men at the boat dock in charge of equipment, six boats with two volunteer boatmen each, a mechanic and two men at the armory to service supplies for other duties.

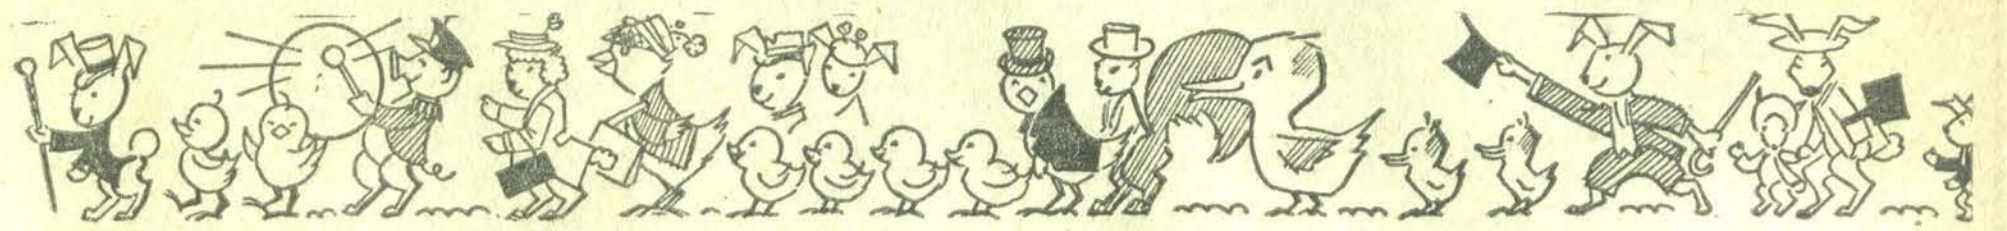

This minimum recovery operation would cost an estimated $150 per day, it was thought. Such a skeleton force could maintain only river surveillance, Reed pointed out.

Col Reed said that up to Thursday of last week recovery efforts had consumed 2,448 gallons of gasoline and 48 gallons of oil. Motor repairs, which had been billed at one-half price, were set at $242.50 for the ten days between March 10 and March 20. He said the six boat crews suggested in the skeleton force would use about 100 gallons of gasoline daily.

The Wednesday afternoon meeting of the Recovery committee at the courthouse made plans to confer with Gov. A. B. Chandler this week-end. A motion to incorporate the committee was voted.

THIS HAPPY FAMILY "SINGS" PRAISES FOR MODERN ALL-ELECTRIC LIVING

Mr. B. F. Coleman, A Chemical Company Department Head:

"In our new home electricity has taken over most of my chores. Now I have plenty of time to relax and watch TV. And that electric heat pump, it beats anything I ever heard of for year-around temperature control. Reasonable to operate, too."

Mrs. Coleman:

"When it comes to putting out the family wash, it's no trouble at all. Just toss the clothes into the washer and change them to the dryer—nothing to it! This means a lot, since we live about 15 miles from town, and I do all the housework myself."

Billie Ann enjoys electric cooking—says it's cleaner and faster. "Food even tastes better."

Mrs. Coleman "hangs out" the family wash while sitting down, just one convenience provided by her electric clothes dryer.

Billie Ann Coleman:

"I'm sold on electric cooking. Mother and I do more cooking and baking than ever before, but our kitchen never gets hot or stuffy. We don't have greasy or sweaty windows anymore, and everything stays cleaner longer. All of our electrical appliances save us time and effort."

"Buddy" Coleman:

"All-electric living is sure okay by me. If you want my opinion, I'd say it is a downright pleasure. With so many electrical appliances around the house, about all I have to do anymore is cut the grass and burn the trash. I'm sold... just like the folks."

ies." Stumbo said "Of the 24 heads sent to the laboratory 16 were dog heads, six cat heads, and there was one deer head and one squirrel head. Eighty citizens were given anti-rabies injection in this county last year.

Stumbo gave advice to persons who think their dogs may have been attacked by rabies. He noted that there were two kind of rabies—the dumb and furious type. Animals having the dumb type show little irritability, will get down in his hips and refuse to eat or drink. The animal with the furious type will behave wildly, roam about and a chief symptom is saliva dropping from the mouth.

"If a dog is suspected of having rabies it is best to pen him up for at least 14 days," Stumbo advised. "Shooting a suspected mad dog is a mistake made by many people. If the dog has the disease he will get worse and die anyway but if he doesn't have rabies he will most likely recover. If the dog is killed diagnosis of rabies is difficult because the disease may not have advanced far enough for the negri bodies to show up in the brain. Thus the test may be negative although the animal actually had rabies."

boys and put it under the seat. Deputy Sheriff Allen said he was told that the Craft girl had declared at the Gibson home that she was the "head of the Prestonsburg Gangsters' Club."

Mills was released under $1,000 bond to appear for hearing April 14. The others remained in jail Tuesday. The three juveniles face possible Youth Authority sentences after having confessed guilt before Juvenile Judge Henry Stumbo. Miss Craft and McCoy may waive preliminary hearing, and if they do will probably remain in jail till the grand jury investigation of the case early next month.

As a result of the robbery, the six arrests and statements made by those accused, a search warrant was procured for Mrs. Gibson's premises. Search of the place last Friday failed to produce any intoxicants, however.

NOT DEAD -- JUST MOVED

Recently the coal miners have become very important people to some of our so-called friends. They even go so far as to say we are being mistreated by our own hospital plan—the same one that was so grand in the beginning, "everyone got a fat cut then." When it closed in 1948, they said Santa Claus had died.

Today, Santa is very much alive with headquarters at McDowell, Ky. There they give the best service found anywhere in the state.

Our friends, a doctor and a member of the House of Representatives, stated last Friday at Frankfort that Sam Caddy, president of District 30, had called a meeting to be held at David, Ky., Oct. 26, 1957 to discuss our hospital plan but got cold feet and didn't show up. Now they never attend meetings of our local, so how would they know?

The meeting was to have been a membership rally, as had been the case in other places.

No cold feet, dear friends. Don't worry, boys. Santa isn't dead—just doesn't go there any more.

NO TOURNAMENT FEVER
Age has its compensations, my young friend. While you were fretting and fuming about tickets to the state basketball tournament, and cut classes, played hookey and so on to get to Lexington at least one of your elders would not have gone if free ticket, free ride, room and board had been available.

He's too worried about when he can go fishing.

MAKE IT PLAIN 'TISICK'
One of the readers of this column wrote recently to point out that 'tisick' isn't spelled "phthisis." Well, it is in my dictionary. Also "phthisis." Don't argue with me about the more acceptable form—I prefer plain 'tisick.

COLUMNS AND COLUMNS
Speaking of columns, The Publishers' Auxiliary recently gave a lot of space to a guy because he had written his 200th column. If it's numbers they're looking for, I can boast at least 2,000. Of course the matter of quality might creep into consideration, in which case I would have nothing whatsoever to say.

We're plumb sorry that the General Assembly got so busy ripping (Henry Carter) and tearing (at each other's throats) that it failed to get around to sound legislation like the school bus, absentee voting, small loan bills and others.

And here we stop. We were determined to get tragedy and references to it out of the column this week, and so this is it.

PROCLAMATION

By The
GOVERNOR Of The

Commonwealth of Kentucky

To All To Whom These Presents Shall Come:

WHEREAS, education is essential to democratic government, to national survival, and to the health, happiness, and prosperity of the people in any community, state, or nation; and

WHEREAS, the teacher is the central factor in any program of education; and

WHEREAS, there is a shortage of well-qualified teachers in Kentucky; and

WHEREAS, the increase in the number of young men and women in training for teaching is not adequate to meet the need caused by the increase in the school population in Kentucky, and the teacher shortage will become more acute unless immediate attention is given to this problem; and

WHEREAS, the Kentucky School Boards Association recognizes the urgent need to retain our teachers and to attract young people to teaching as a career:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, ALBERT B. CHANDLER, Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, in order to promote an appreciation of the great contribution our teachers are making to the Commonwealth of Kentucky, do hereby proclaim the week of March 23-29, 1958, as and ask that appropriate steps be taken by all of our citizens, as individuals and in organized groups, to show their appreciation by appropriate programs and activities honoring our teachers. Local Boards of Education are urged to increase the salaries of teachers as much as possible with the funds available, considering the other necessary services and facilities that must be provided for their schools. Local school boards and the citizens of the Commonwealth are urged to encourage capable young people to enter the teaching profession and to recognize the contribution of men and women now teaching.

Done at Frankfort, Kentucky, this 3rd day of March in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and fifty-eight, and in the year of the commonwealth, the one hundred and sixty-sixth.

ALBERT B. CHANDLER

THELMA L. STOVALL
Secretary of State

Harry J. Wallace, son of Mr. and Mrs. O.K. Wallace, of Garrett, is a senior at Morehead State College. While in high school he participated in various clubs and organizations.

Wendell Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley J. Jones, of Maytown, is a senior at Morehead State College. He is majoring in Business Administration. While in high school at Maytown, he was active in athletics. He is a member of the baseball team, the Campus Club and the Vets Club at Morehead.

Gov. Wickliffe, Duke Of Wickland

Charles Anderson Wickliffe, 13th governor of the Commonwealth, was known as "the Duke" because of his haughty bearing in the presence of those he considered to be his social inferiors. In spite of his disdainful attitude toward "the commoners," he was a successful politician for more than 50 years.

Perhaps psychologists would characterize such superciliousness as a cover for a Kentucky-homestead background and the hard life on the frontier it represented; and they probably would not be far wrong. According to several sources available to the general historian, Governor Wickliffe was born in 1788 to Charles and Lydia Hardin Wickliffe in a pioneer homestead near Springfield, Ky. He received very little, if any, formal schooling until he was seventeen or eighteen years of age, when he enrolled in a grammar school in Bardstown.

His rise was rapid, nevertheless, and in 1809 he was admitted to the bar and began a law practice in Bardstown in competition with such outstanding lawyers as John Rowan, John Pope, Ben Hardin, and John Hays. Before or soon after his 25th birthday, as a promising young fledgling, Wickliffe was elected to his first office as representative of Nelson county in the Kentucky Legislature.

He served in the State House, 1812-13, 1822-23, 1833-35; in the United States House, 1823-33 and 1861-63, and as governor, 1839-40. In President Tyler's administration, he served from 1841 to 1845 as postmaster general of the United States.

While in his last term in Congress, he was permanently crippled when thrown from a carriage and was handicapped with loss of his eyesight the last few years of his life. He died in 1869 and was buried at Bardstown.

His Georgian home, "Wickliff," not far from "My Old Kentucky Home," was also the residence of two other governors: Robert Charles Wickliffe, a son, governor of Louisiana, 1856-60, and J. C. W. Beckham, a grandson, governor of Kentucky, 1900-07.

THE PLIGHT OF THE ELECTION OFFICER

Not many people stop to consider the position of an election officer. If they did, not many people would be willing to serve. Not only is it a hard and tedious job, but a man puts his life and liberty in jeopardy.

Election officers serve continuously under a mental strain for eleven hours for very meager pay. They could work half as long at almost any other job and receive more pay.

But that is not the bad part. In an ordinary election, such as the one just passed, more than three thousand names must be written. The name of the voter is written twice on the front of the ballot, and the name of the election officer is written on the back.

If any of the election officers, by mistake or oversight, get the wrong name in the right place, or the right name in the wrong places, or fails to sign a ballot, then all the election officers are subject to indictment and face a trial and maybe a prison term.

A man may serve as an election officer as part of his civic duty, and some dissatisfied, disgruntled or defeated person may have him indicted. He will be out his time and money defending his case, ridicule and humiliation and he might be tried and sentenced to the penitentiary. This could all happen because he made an honest mistake as an election officer.

Think about this and decide what should be done about it.

OUR RESOURCES OVERDRAWN THROUGH EXPLOITATION, SAID

By RUFUS M. REED

What are the most valuable natural resources of our mountain region? These are our trees, coal, oil and natural gas, our soil, our wild game, our song and game birds, our beautiful flowering shrubs and wild flowers and perhaps deposits of ore—many kinds of which we are not yet aware.

As Americans this country over, and as mountain people in particular, we have been downright wasteful and destructive of our natural resources of every kind and description. We have all been like a man with a fat bank account, who began writing checks indiscriminately and never putting any money back in the bank. Then one day, his banker calls to tell him: "Your account is overdrawn."

We have overdrawn our account in the great bank of Nature and today we are paying the penalty. We paid it heavy last year in misery and suffering when we were overwhelmed with one of the most disastrous floods in our history.

Some sixty years ago, there were great stands of yellow poplar (tulip trees) and virgin white oak that covered our mountain slopes and river bottoms. But men built great splash dams across the creeks; they cut all these great stands of trees, hauled them with ox teams and dumped them into the creeks above the dams. Then they caught up big "heads" of water, opened the dams and splashed the logs out of the rivers. They rafted them together and floated them down to the timber markets at Catlettsburg. Our once great forests of oak and poplar have built the towns and cities of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and other states.

Much of our virgin timber was also wasted by the pioneer farmers. It was so abundant then they gave little thought to its conservation. The supply would last forever, so they thought. Our forefathers cleared out big "new-grounds" for raising corn and potatoes and beans. They had "log-rollings" and men would gather to roll the logs into great heaps. Fire was applied to the logs and they went up in smoke. Millions on top of millions of dollars worth of timber has been burned up during the early history of our region!

Where are our once great stands of virgin timber today? Gone! With our forests depleted and no trees left to form a leaf mold to protect the soil and check the rainfall, we have placed our region in perpetual danger from floods.

We have also been careless and extremely extravagant in the use of our soil. I can remember when our mountain lands would produce crops to equal that of overflowed river bottoms. But we cannot grow fine corn on our hills! Where is our virgin soil? It is now enriching the farms along the Ohio and Mississippi valleys; much of it is sunk in the Gulf of Mexico. We have not tried to conserve our soil and we have been steadily losing it through the years!

The wild turkeys were once abundant in our region but you never see one now. They were ruthlessly slaughtered by the early settlers. I can also remember when the gray squirrels were leaping and playing in almost every roadside tree. They have been slaughtered until today they are almost extinct in many sections. Not even our game laws are sufficient to bring them back in any numbers.

Once you could hear the ruffled grouse drumming like thunder on the wooded slopes of our region. One seldom hears a grouse drumming now. They have been relentlessly hunted and pursued by the gunman until they are in danger of becoming extinct.

The mourning doves once cooed from every hilltop. You are lucky now to hear one or two during the season.

Our wild ginseng was once so plentiful in the woods that sale of its roots furnished a supply of food and clothing for many families. But the diggers felt no need of conserving it. They dug it even when its berries were about to ripen and thus they destroyed its power to multiply. They felt no need of conserving it and today it is so scarce it would be impossible for any herb digger to earn a livelihood by digging wild ginseng.

The passenger pigeons were once seen in our region in such great numbers as they darkened the sky when they flew over and the noise of their wings was like the roar of a hurricane. Many years ago, it took the wild pigeons three days to make their flight over any given place. Alexander Wilson, the father of American ornithology, once reported seeing a flock of passenger pigeons so great it was 240 miles long and a mile wide; he estimated the number in this one flight to be almost two and one-half billions! Today not a single passenger pigeon is in existence! They were slain by the multiplied thousands! Men would go to their roosting places and set great nets to capture them. In the big markets like New York and Chicago, one hundred barrels of dressed pigeon were sold every day during the season. Men thought the supply of passenger pigeons would never be exhausted but "the bank account was sadly overdrawn!"

If we would preserve our region from destruction and make it safe for the rising generations, we should at once adopt the following practices and procedures, and laws should be enacted to see that they are carried out:

1.—All the old clearings and unused mountain land should be planted in trees like black walnuts, black locusts, shortleaf and loblolly pine and species of oak. Black walnut and locust trees are fast soil builders and they are easily grown from seed or seedlings. They quickly enrich the soil and hold it from washing. You will usually find rich, black soil under walnut and locust trees.

2.—All lumber companies now operating in our region should be required to reforest the mountains they are depleting of timber. Some lumber companies have now adopted this practice and it should be followed by all.

3.—Contour farming should be carried out on all sloping land and cover crops should be sown to protect the soil from winter erosion.

4.—There should be a closed season for at least five years on our game birds like ruffed grouse, doves, pileated woodpeckers, and others, which are in danger of becoming extinct. There should also be a closed season on some of our game which has been ruthlessly slaughtered, like gray squirrels, for a period of five years, or more.

5.—All strip mining on our steep mountain land should be prohibited by law.

6.—Farmers should be required to fill up all gulleys on their farms with brush and stones, so as to check erosion.

CARD OF THANKS

It is difficult to express our feeling of appreciation to the many people who have tried in every conceivable way to help us bear our burdens since Feb. 28. They are too numerous to list here. But to all who shared with deeds or sympathetic words—Our many thanks.

WHEELWRIGHT

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS

The Wheelwright Woman's Club held their March meeting in the Woman's Club room. Mrs. Boone Hall, program chairman, introduced Mr. John Patrick, the Wheelwright high school band director who brought two of his pupils, Janet Blevins, who gave a sax solo, "Tonight We Love" by Tschakovsky, and June Hall, a clarinet solo, "Minuet in G" by Paderewski. Mr. Patrick sang "Where're You Walk," by Handel.

Mrs. Hall then introduced the Wheelwright high school principal, Boone Hall, who gave a very interesting talk on "Basic Importance of Education." The three most important factors in obtaining an education, he stressed, were home, school and church. He presented three of his high school students and they discussed the vocations they might study in college.

The club voted to donate $20 to Caney College.

Officers for 1958-59 were elected:

For president, Mrs. Steve Clark; vice-president, Mrs. Earl Willis; corresponding secretary, Cora McHone; recording secretary, Mrs. Leon Porter, and treasurer, Mrs. Geo. Leatherman.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Harry Zimmerman and Mrs. Ralph Bowles. They served delicious refreshments to nineteen members and guests, Alice Clark, Mrs. Harold Conn, Janet Blevins, June Hall, Charles Crawford, John Patrick, Boone Hall, and Ronnie Terry.

Fewer Home Loans Made in '57

Chicago — The nation's 6,000 savings and loan associations paid out 10.3 billion dollars in home loans in 1957, a drop of $300,000,000 from the 1956 figure.

Road Contracts Already Double Last Year's

Road-improvement contracts awarded by the Kentucky Department of Highways this year have reached a total of $5,661,505.35.

This more than doubled the total of $2,373,508.19 for the first three months of 1957.

The $5,661,505.35 total was achieved March 18 this year when six contracts totaling $813,453.21 were awarded.

Last year, the first bid opening was not held until March 15.

This year, to accelerate the highway development program of Gov. A. B. Chandler and get an earlier start on work, bids were received in February and March.

Some of the contracts awarded this year were on bids opened late in 1957. Last year there had been but one carryover bid from 1956 on which a contract was awarded. The other contracts were awarded on bids opened in March, 1957.

The largest contract awarded this March 18 was for $590,546.79. It went to Lovell & Hart, Inc., Lexington, for grade, drain and bituminous concrete surfacing of 4.1 miles of the High Grove-Bloomfield Road in Nelson county.

The previous day Terry & Wright, Inc., Louisville, got a $1,019,633.89 contract for grade, drain and bituminous concrete surfacing of about two miles of the Newburg Road in Jefferson County. Greer Bros. & Young, London, that day received a $764,869.71 contract for grade, drain and bituminous concrete surfacing of 4.1 miles of the London-Corbish Road (U. S. 25) in Laurel County.

Kentucky has 1 1/2 million acres of eroded, worn out or idle land that could be planted in trees, state forestry officials say.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this means of expressing our grateful thanks for the kindness and sympathy shown us upon the death of our son, James E. (Jimmy) Carey, Feb. 28, 1958. We thank each minister who visited our home and for their prayers; The Turner and Ryan Funeral Home, for their thoughtful and efficient services, to all who sent flowers and food, the rescue workers, the men from Dwale for their services, for the many cards and letters of condolence, and Mrs. Chalmer H. Frazier and the choir.

We especially thank the Rev. Eugene E. Reese for his comforting words in our hour of bereavement. Our humble thanks to all.

MR. and MRS. JAMES E. CAREY

COLORADO PRODUCT

Denver — Petroleum products were worth more than uranium to Colorado last year. Crude oil and gas output in 1956 had a gross value of $166,867,778, while uranium production was second at $124,500,000.

SPRINGTIME COLORS: It's the season for the buds on some of the trees and bushes around here to begin to show their colors. Right in tune with Nature are the new extension phones in delicate pastel shades: aqua blue, rose pink, light beige, light gray, and white. (We still have cherry red, yellow, moss green, and ivory, too!) They're all pretty as they are practical. Even the cords match! And since a lot of you will be painting and papering come spring, why not select extension phones in lovely springtime shades to match or contrast with your new decorating colors. For further details, just call our Business Office.

HANDWRITING EXPERT: Seems like everywhere you look today machines are getting almost smarter than people. Right now at Bell Laboratories they're developing a little machine—bout as big as a portable typewriter—that can read and identify handwritten numbers. One day we'll be using it right here in our telephone office to record Long Distance numbers automatically. That'll mean saving a lot of extra work and cutting down costs. It's nice to know little machines like this are constantly being developed by telephone folks to help keep costs down and speed up service. It's one way we help keep your telephone the big bargain it is today.

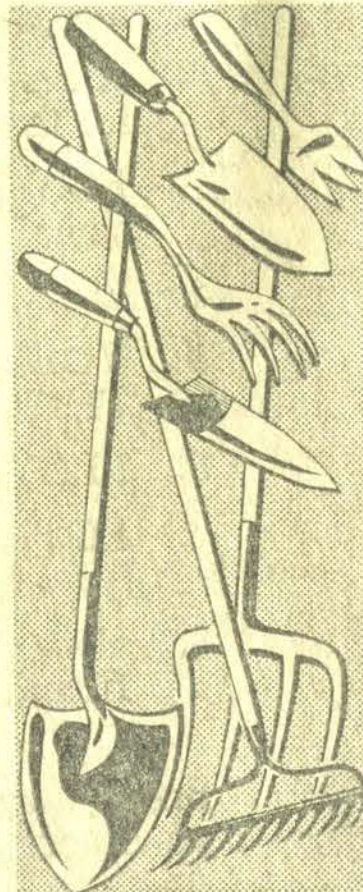

LOVE THAT PHONE... Proud as a two-year-old honey child should be, isn't she? Answering the phone for the very first time. Whether you're going on two or half past forty, your telephone brings a heap of pleasure and satisfaction. (There's even something exciting about its ring!) For fun, for friendship, and for more good livin' than you can shake a stick at—just reach for your phone.

FLOYD COUNTY WAR VETERANS

This is the third and last installment in the series of articles listing the veterans of all wars of Floyd county as compiled by the American Legion here several years ago.

Pvt. Samuel Fraley, Co. H, 14th Ky. Inf., enlisted at Prestonsburg, 1861, died August 7, 1900, Spradlin cemetery on Johns Creek; Jack Auxier, 14th Ky. Inf., Warrens Meeks farm on Johns Creek; Shade Hatfield; Samuel Hatfield; David Coburn, born Dec. 13, 1808, died March 12, 1895, Sutton cemetery; John Richmond, served in regular army of Scotland, Richmond cemetery on Johns Creek, family headstone; W. J. Steele, enlisted Oct. 19, 1861, Co. F, 13th Ky. Regiment Cavalry.

William T. (Sic) Hall, Civil War, Toler's Creek; Taylor Thompson, Toler's Creek; John Wicker, World War veteran, Tackett cemetery at mouth of Toler's Creek; Tom Salisbury, Civil War, Toler's Creek; James Wright, Co. A, 39th Ky. Inf., died 1930, private, head of Spurlock Creek; Pvt. Jacob Bradley, Civil War, enlisted May 15, 1863, Co. F, 13th Ky. Regiment Cavalry; Jimmy Yates, Civil War, Little Paint Creek; Jack Yates, no headstone, Yates cemetery.

Thomas Spradlin, Civil War, born March 24, 1838, died Sept. 10, 1914, Fitzpatrick cemetery; Pvt. Joseph R. Langley, born 1836, died 1910, family stone; Joseph R. Langley, Sr., born 1799, died 1879; Thomas Osborn, Civil War, enlisted Oct. 14, 1862 at Prestonsburg Co. F, 13th Ky. Regt. Cav., Fitzpatrick cemetery, Right Hand Fork of Middle Creek; Jonathan Skeens, Co. H, 14th Ky. Inf. U. S. headstone, Fitzpatrick cemetery.

Pvt. John Patton, enlisted Oct. 14, 1862, Co. F, 13th Ky. Inf.; John Patton, enlisted Oct. 14, 1862; James Hall, Oct. 14, 1862, Hall cemetery, no headstone; Thomas Orsborn, Oct. 14, 1862; Fitzpatrick cemetery; Capt. James C. Walker, enlisted Oct. 10, 1862; David Allen, Fourth Sergeant, enlisted Oct. 14, 1862; Martin Shepherd, enlisted Sept. 13, 1862, Co. B, 13th Regt. Cav., private; Capt. D. F. Strange, enlisted Oct. 21, 1861, Co. E, 14th Ky. Inf., died 1864.

William Hale, enlisted March 1, 1863, Co. F, 13th Ky. Cav.; Hansford Wallen, enlisted Aug. 24, 1863, Co. F, 13th Ky. Cav.; Andrew Bailey, Oct. 14, 1863; Robert Salmons, Nov. 1, 1862, Co. C, Second Battalion Mounted Rifles; Jack Frazier, Civil War veteran; Holly P. Nickell, First Lieutenant, Civil War, Fifth Ky. Inf., Co. A, enlisted Dec. 16, 1861, Middle Creek; Sid Salisbury, Private First Class, 48th Inf., 20th Division, died Dec. 22, 1923, government headstone, Salisbury cemetery, Left Fork of Toler's Creek, Amba, Ky. (End of list).

As said in earlier installments of this series the list as printed here is incomplete and highly inaccurate as several worked on the compilation. Several sheets of the notebook containing the names seem to be missing. However, it is hoped, that the list as published will serve as an indication of the places of burial of some of the veterans and may also prompt some organization to compile a full and complete list.

SPARKS GENEALOGY

A card from Paul E. Sparks, 155 North Hite Avenue, Louisville 6, advises that the Sparks Quarterly, a genealogy of the family, has been completed.
"The Sparks Quarterly has just been completed after five years and is being published. The Quarterly is indexed, and runs to 300 pages. Interested members of the Sparks family or any descendant may contact me."
Mr. Sparks, a native of Lawrence county, is principal of one of the Louisville high schools and is well-informed on the lore and history of the Big Sandy section.

STILL WANTED

This column needs pictures of historical scenes or personages from the Big Sandy area for publication. They will not be injured in any way and will be returned within a few days. One recently sent by Mr. and Mrs. Burnis Rice, of Estill, is of a mule-drawn wagon hauling mining equipment across the mountain from the headwaters of Kentucky River to Jenkins before the railway was completed to that town. Another one, loaned by Henry D. Hatfield, of Lancer, is that of his grandparents, Anderson (Devil Anse) Hatfield and his wife, Levica Chaffins Hatfield, taken in 1909.

Wanted very much are scenes of towns, pictures of prominent personages, river craft, logging operations, railway building, schoolhouses, churches, ministers, teachers and any other that will depict the history of the area. These pictures will be used in the Floyd County Times in the near future.

Aged Minnie Resident

WHEELWRIGHT

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

The Girl Scouts of Wheelwright began their observance of Girl Scout Week Saturday, March 8. The week, March 9-15, was in celebration of the 46th anniversary of the founding of the Girl Scouts of the United States.

To start the week's activities, there was a parade on Saturday. On Sunday, March 9, the Girl Scouts attended church services as a group. There was a large turnout.

Monday, the mothers and girls attended their annual Mother-And-Daughter box supper at Community Hall. Mrs. Sara Hall was program chairman. A program was presented by the girls honoring Juliette Gordon Low, who organized the first troop of girls in Savannah, Ga., March 12, 1912.

Jonell Hall, one of the senior Scouts presented the Juliette Low contribution to Mrs. Irene Thomas, the Juliette Low Council Chairman. Guests for the box supper were: Mrs. Archer, executive director, Mrs. L. B. Jesse and Mrs. Fraley who have started Girl Scouting in Weeksbury. More than 150 mothers, girls and their leaders were present.

On Tuesday, the following attended the Council meeting and dinner at Martin Methodist Church: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bradbury, Prof. and Mrs. W. I. Gilbert, Mrs. R. L. Hall, Mrs. Sara McQueen, Mrs. Sam Ballew, Mrs. Elmer Nemet, Mrs. Virgil Blevins, Mrs. Minor Pace, Mrs. Roy Souleyrette, Mrs. Hunter Thomas and Miss Frances Petry.

Friday, the annual Cookie Sale was staged. The girls worked hard, and the sale was a success. The Wheelwright Girl Scout troops have had their hand-work on display in the Inland Store window all week.

The Girl Scout organization here and troop activities follow: Troop 30—Leader, Mrs. Stanley Logan; assistant leader—Mrs. Sylvia Sparks. This troop has 17 girls. They have finished making wall plaques and weaving pot-holders. They are now starting to make octopus dolls. Soon they will begin preparing for the "fly-up" ceremony.

Brownie Troop No. 18—is a new troop with most girls only seven years old; was registered in November with Mrs. Delbert Davis, leader. Mrs. June Horn and Mrs. Hazel Ferguson, assistants. There are 15 registered girls. These Brownies have made Brownie lapel pins, "sit-upons" valentines, Christmas cards and painted boxes for scissors, crayons, pencils, etc.

Brownie Troop No. 37 is under the leadership of Mrs. W. G. Gilbert and Mrs. Lillye Hood, assistant. There are eight girls in this troop. Activities including games, outdoor activities, parties, drawing, and simple crafts. Housekeeping is done in the troop room.

INTERMEDIATES

Troop No. 33 has 24 girls, and meets each Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. in the Community Hall. Its leaders are Mrs. R. L. Hall, Mrs. Steve Benedict, Mrs. Ellsworth Collins and Mrs. Virgil Blevins. This troop has been using the patrol system of government this year which has not been used before with any success. These patrols are Beavers, Golden Oaks and Clover. The program this year has been: Having fun and earning badges. Second class, music, dramatics and cooking. Doing this, they have made patrol banners, many good recipes, and instruments for a band. The girls planned the program for the mother-daughter banquet.

Troop No. 16—Leaders, Mrs. J. B. Fields, Mrs. Branham and Mrs. McQueen. The girls have completed several badges that were begun in 1957. The troop gave a party for the children under five years of age. This completed their hospitality badge. At the last meeting two girls became First Class Girl Scouts. In May, three girls will receive the Curved Bar award. Four girls will finish second class rank in April. The troop made candles in various shapes for Christmas gifts, molded and painted wall plaques, and painted wooden plates.

Troop 14—Leader, Mrs. Sara McQueen; assistant—Miss Hazard. In art this troop has etched aluminum trays and painted wooden plates. Five girls are working on the Library Aide Bar, under the direction of Mrs. D. Conley and Mrs. McQueen. Three girls are working on their five-point pin. In May, the troop will have a "graduation exercise" in honor of two of its girls. This troop sent $14 to the Floyd County School Bus Disaster Fund.

Doctors Take New Look At Alcoholism

The pronouncement that alcoholism is a disease by the American Medical Association was a long step forward toward eventual solution of this baffling health problem.

It changed the classification of the alcoholic as a willful moral degenerate to the category of a sick person.

When this is generally accepted by both physician and patient, a more normal atmosphere will be created. The physician will be more prone to accept alcoholic patients and the alcoholic will be more likely to accept and seek help.

Dr. Robert Strauss, professor of medical sociology at the University of Kentucky, in an article in the January, 1958, "Animals" of the American Academy of Political and Social Science, points out the changing attitudes toward alcoholism in the last 20 years.

Dr. Strauss emphasizes that alcoholism as an illness is not treatable as simply as the conditions with which the physician is accustomed to dealing in ordinary medical practice.

"Alcoholism presents no well defined diagnostic or therapeutic picture; there is no common etiology, no consistently characteristic course, no accepted method of management. . . . Alcoholism is a problem which involves many aspects of human behavior. It is a social problem, an economic problem, a psychological problem and its moral aspects must also be considered."

Dr. Strauss pinpoints the fact that most alcoholic patients are a nuisance, are non-cooperative and unmanageable, annoy other patients and frequently do not pay their bills. In the past many physicians did not consider the treatment of alcoholics as medically respectable. This attitude is changing.

Again quoting Dr. Strauss: "Many observers believe that the remarkable effectiveness of Alcoholics Anonymous and the substantial help which lay therapists have provided for some alcoholics are made possible in great measure by sympathy, understanding, and a positive interpersonal relationship."

It is the belief of the Kentucky Commission on Alcoholism that a satisfactory solution of the alcoholic problem is dependent on the acceptance of both the professions and the public of alcoholism as an illness, either mental or physical.

WAYLAND

The Willing Workers Homemakers Club met for their March meeting in the home of Mrs. N. D. Howard, of Wayland. The meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. J. T. Spillman. Mrs. Carl Stewart was in charge of the devotional. Mrs. Spillman gave the landscape lesson for the month. The roll was called and 10 answered present. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The lesson project of hat making was taught by the Home Demonstration agent Dixie T. Higgins. Ten hats were started. They will be finished at the April meeting, and this meeting will be held at the Woman's Club building at Wayland. Mrs. W. T. Hatcher will be the hostess.

A covered dish luncheon was served to Mesdames J. T. Spillman, Buford Rollins, Johnnie Wells, Carl Stewart, Harry Sherman, W. T. Hatcher, M. M. Collins, Delbert Sloan, J. C. Wells, and Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Howard.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Spillman visited their daughter Ginger at Morehead College, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burnett and Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Adkins spent Sunday visiting relatives in Elliott county and with Miss Phyllis Burnett, a student at Morehead State College.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Savage, of Oklona, Miss., have been visiting Mrs. Gypsy Vinson and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Vinson for a week. While here they also visited in Greenup county with Mr. and Mrs. Shannon Vinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fraley and daughter, Mary Beth, spent Sunday visiting relatives in Louisa.

High Farm Income Is Maintained By Kentucky

Frankfort, March 24 (Spl.)—The State Department of Economic Development says "more diversified production" was a major factor in carrying Kentucky farm income in 1957 to the second highest mark in five years despite a sharp decline in tobacco receipts and decreased regional and national marketings.

U. S. Department of Agriculture figures, cited by the agency, place cash receipts from Kentucky farm sales last year at $558,091,000, up $2,842,000 from 1956 and more than $16,000,000 above the 1953 total. Marketings in 1957 were the highest of the past five years, with the exception of 1954 when sales reached $558,000.00.

By contrast, farm sales last year fell below 1956 by 1.2 percent in the nation as a whole and 6.9 percent in the 16 states comprising the South Central regions, according to the development department. Nationwide, marketings in 1957 were more than $1 billion, or 3.3 percent lower than 1953.

"The most significant feature about Kentucky's increasing farm income is that it has been accomplished in the face of a steep reduction in the dollar volume realized from tobacco marketings," stated Frank Lebus, head of the agency's agricultural development division. Lebus said cash receipts from Kentucky tobacco sales in the 1957-58 crop year came to only $219,736,000, a drop of about $24 million from the previous year as well as from the 1954 total when the last highest farm income was reported.

$90 Million In Road Projects Is 1958 Hope

Frankfort, March 24 (Spl.)—State officials hope to let contracts totaling $90,000,000 to $95,000,000 this year for road-building projects in Kentucky, more than double the 1957 total.

This was reported by Highway Commissioner James W. Martin at the recent 10th annual Kentucky Highway Conference at Lexington. The conference is sponsored by the University of Kentucky and State Department of Highways.

Severe damage suffered by Kentucky roads because of freezes this winter, the worst in 22 years, will make more maintenance necessary, Martin said.

But, unless an unforeseen snag is hit, he said, contracts will not fall below $90,000,000. They will cover reconstruction, reconstruction and some maintenance.

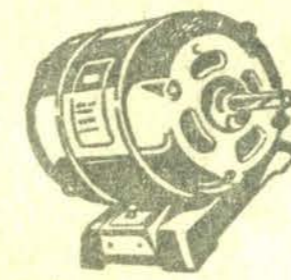

Contracts let during 1957 totaled slightly more than $40,000,000.

Martin called on more than 400 local-government officials and engineers and members of his agency at the conference to help in planning and executing a long-range, road-building program.

The program he urged is "for six years ahead" and combines engineering and financing plans. If most of the construction can be programmed and scheduled in advance under sound budget controls, he said, "each construction dollar can go farther than otherwise would be the case."

W. O. Snyder, executive secretary of the Kentucky Association of Highway Contractors, said the state's road-builders are "ready, willing and waiting" for the state's proposed increased volume of road work.

Harold L. Plummer, chairman of the Wisconsin Highway Commission, told the conference a good public relations program is especially important in a successful highway development plan. The program, he said, must be long range, and should build and maintain a good reputation.
